HIGH SCHOOL'S LARGEST CLASS GIVEN DIPLOMAS ON THURSDAY EVENING

Closing Exercises for 38 Seniors Follow the Baccalaureate Address of Rev. H. G. Whitfield

Bringing to a climax their high school activities, 38 seniors, composing the largest class ever graduated from Northville high school, received their diplomas last night in the auditorium of the Wayne County Training school.

The Seniors have brought to a close the final week of occasions and they will now depart to spend their summer vacations in different paths. Some will enter college in the fall and others will begin on their life's work immediately. All, however, will remember the message delivered to them by the speaker at the exercises last Sunday.

"Respect your elders; don't run away from issues; do not be satisfied with life's second best," was the strong appeal made by Rev. H. G. Whitfield to the graduating class in his baccalaureate address last Sunday evening at the Presbyterian church.

A full house was in attendance at this significant service when proud parents and friends watched with admiration those 38 seniors march to their places in the pews reserved for them.

Mr. Whitfield congratulated the faculty on sending forth so fine a class, the class on having "put it over" the faculty and getting through and praised the parents for their sacrifice in giving their sons and daughters this chance for education.

Though himself not many years removed from school days, the speaker felt old enough to give three bits of counsel as they graduated to the school of life.

Despise not the counsel of your elders, he urged. In spite of the tendency of youth to ridicule the previous generation as "old fogies" and "back numbers" much of their present success is built upon the achievement of those who preceded them. In his own experience the speaker said that the truths longest remembered by himself came from those with wealth of experience won by age.

Face crises boldly. Do not dodge issues nor "skulk in life's protected areas". Do not paddle around in shallow water where it is warm and comfortable but launch out into the deep, urged Mr. Whitfield.

Illustrating his third injunction with the story of the eagle set free to the upper air for which he was made the preacher stirred his young hearers to be satisfied with nothing less than the best for which he was made. A hush fell over the senior class as the earnest speaker reached his dramatic climax in the story of the master musician, Mendelsohn, who was reluctantly allowed by the organist to play on his instrument and he closed with appeal to these young folks to allow the Master hand to bring forth the true purpose of their lives.

A vocal solo by Carl H. Bryan and a violin solo by Mrs. Harry Blake rounded out beautifully this impressive service.

The invocation was made by Rev. R. O. Thompson, the scripture was read by Rev. W. Roscoe Barbour and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Wm. Richards. These three ministers were peculiarly connected with this graduating class, each having a daughter in its number, Miss Joyce Thompson, Miss Mary Ellen Barbour and Miss Miriam Richards.

Owing to the fact that The Record goes to press Thursday afternoon, a complete account of Commencement exercises will be deferred until next week's issue of the paper.

AUTO CRASH ON TUESDAY INJURES 8

Mrs. Fox and Mrs. Hanchett and Children are Victims

Eight persons were injured in an automobile accident which occurred Tuesday morning at the intersection of Ten Mile and Telegraph roads.

The injured are: Mrs. Walter Fox who lives on the Ten Mile road just outside of Northville, received internal injuries; her baby, Charles, is in a critical condition having suffered a skull fracture and being cut severely by flying glass; a daughter, Irene, was slightly bruised and shaken up; another son, Walter, Jr., escaped without injury; Mrs. Owen Hanchett of the Ten Mile road suffered a sprained wrist; her son Ronald had his eye badly cut by flying glass and two other children, Buddy and Irene, were badly bruised.

The two families were going to the Zoo just outside of Detroit for a day's outing. As they approached the intersection of the Ten Mile and Telegraph roads the car containing the two families, driven by Mrs. Fox, and another car containing three men collided. Both drivers say that they were unable to see each other. The cars were completely wrecked and the injured were immediately taken to the Receiving hospital at Redford where they received medical treatment.

The three men driving in the car which struck Mrs. Fox's car were injured although neither the extent of their injuries was determined nor were their names learned.

BAPTISTS WILL "BROADCAST"

The Baptist Sunday school postponed its Children's day exercises until next Sunday evening on account of the baccalaureate exercises. A very unique program has been planned which will be a "peace pageant" rendered as a radio program. Don Miller and his son, Roger, will "tune in" on various stations when television will also be introduced. Before the audience will appear many nations in native garb. Beautiful lighting effects will add to the realistic scenes. A large audience is anticipated.

First Editor

Samuel H. Little set up his printing shop in Northville in 1869 and here published Northville's first newspaper, The Record. For 15 years Editor Little served his community with his newspaper, and even found time to sponsor the building of a local opera house. Upon the death of his wife he moved to Lansing.

ROTARY CLUB HAS FLAG DAY PROGRAM

Rotary club of Northville, on Monday, held an entire program in honor of Flag Day which fell this year on Sunday, June 14.

The program was under the direction of Percival Angove, assistant superintendent in charge of education of the Wayne County Training school, who arranged the placing of a number of flags of different countries on the table in front of each member's place. Pinned to each flag was a small piece of paper on which was typed the name of the country to which the flag belonged, the area of the country, its population, the number of Rotary clubs in the country and the date that the first one was founded.

Each member read to his companions and the informal ceremony added greatly to the respect and appreciation each member has for the vast organization to which he belongs. Rotary has clubs in 65 countries of the world and has approximately 250,000 members who meet once a week for a period of good fellowship and discussion.

Included in the occasion was a short talk by Mr. Angove on the proper way to pledge allegiance to the flag. Short readings taken from famous writings on the flag were given by members.

President Elton R. Eaton, Father Joseph Schuler and Edward Langfield spoke on the history of the flag and each told something of the loyalty and the sacred esteem that each individual owes to the country under whose protection he lives. Ray Richardson pronounced the date of entrance into the Union for all of the 48 states and Charles Schoultz gave a talk on the proper display of the flag.

Leslie G. Lee spoke on "The Meaning of The Flag" and Thad J. Knapp gave a reading on "The Name of Old Glory." Fred J. Cochran gave a reading on "Old Flags" and E. H. Lapham gave a brief talk on the relationship of the flag to the country.

The program was brought to a close by the singing of "America, the Beautiful."

Ray Van Valkenburg sang a beautiful solo just previous to the readings, "Your Flag and My Flag" which won the enthusiastic applause of his audience.

Announcement was made that Ladies' Night will be held next Monday evening and the entertainment will consist of a dinner to be served at the Presbyterian church at 6 o'clock p. m. promptly.

ORLOW G. OWEN TO TAKE BOY SCOUTS TO EAST TAWAS JULY 4

Scoutmaster Orlow G. Owen will take 20 Boy Scouts with him on an outdoor hike to East Tawas on the Fourth of July. The boys will leave early on the morning of July 4 and will be gone four days during which time they will visit points of interest on the road and at their destination.

The Scouts are in need of pup tents, steel cots and a truck for transportation. Anyone having tents, cots or a truck which could be borrowed for the trip is asked to get into communication with Scoutmaster Owen who declares that anything loaned will be returned in good condition.

Legion Gives Flag to Record

Presentation of a beautiful American flag, with standard, by the Lloyd H. Green post of the American Legion came as an impressive climax to The Northville Record's "open house" last Saturday.

Led by Commander Chas. Schoultz, bearing the national emblem, a group of the local Legionnaires, in uniform, filed into The Record office at 7:30 and the veterans were soon surrounded by the other visitors in the building.

Halting before the editor, Chas. F. Murphy began an eloquent speech. In very fitting words, emphasizing the close relation between patriotism and the press, Mr. Murphy presented this beautiful flag to the new Record office expressing the wish that it be the first to be unfurled to the breeze on Monday, officially observed as Flag Day.

Deeply touched by this act of the Legion Mr. Baldwin pledged anew his allegiance to his flag and to his community closing with the familiar ode to "Your flag and my flag."

(Note: the editor set his alarm clock so as to be able to be up early enough Monday morning to keep his promise to have this flag first in Northville to be unfurled.)

MUSIC STUDENTS IN FINE RECITAL

Their first appearance upon a platform was tremblingly but successfully made by a number of Northville young folks at the high school auditorium last Friday evening when the annual concert was given by the music students of Leslie G. Lee. The object of this concert, stated their director, was not to offer to the public a program of artists but to give these embryonic musicians a chance to appear before others as a part of their education.

The large and appreciative audience who came to hear their sons and daughters or nephews and nieces make their debut in concert work were heartily surprised at the fine manner in which each took his part, for Mr. Lee had planned the program to include many of the fine old songs with which music lovers should be acquainted and these were especially enjoyed. Much talent talent was in evidence and Mr. Lee is to be congratulated upon his tactful methods in encouraging young folks to develop their talents in music.

One of the "hits" of the evening was the Girls' Glee club which was heartily applauded when they marched in wearing their pretty green uniforms. They sang especially well.

Throughout the program the girls were accompanied by Miss Gertrude Ferguson and the boys by Richard Shipley.

EXCHANGE CLUB NAMES OFFICERS

Members of the Northville Exchange club at their luncheon Wednesday noon picked Clifford B. Turnbull as their president for the next six months, and paid an unusual tribute to Rev. William Richards by continuing him in the office of secretary, which place he has held continuously for the past eight years.

Other officers chosen to serve for the next half-year are: First vice president, Orlow G. Owen; second vice president, Dr. A. H. Steele; third vice president, Dr. T. P. Brennan; treasurer, Harold Bloom; members of board of control at large, Dr. H. I. Sparling and Roy Crowe; representatives to Detroit council, Samuel W. Wilkinson; marshal, D. B. Bunn; song leader, Nelson C. Schrader.

Rev. Wm. Richards gave a very interesting review of the programs of the past six months.

Next Wednesday, June 24, will be observed as Past President's day.

BEG YOUR PARDON

The Record has been informed that the statement in the "New Home" edition last week saying Dr. Stewart, of Novi is an osteopathic physician is an error. Our informant declares that Dr. Stewart is not registered in the state of Michigan.

Mr. Lee expresses his appreciation for the fine spirit of cooperation shown by the parents and students with whom he has worked during the past year.

W. S. Martin Wins Degree

Among the graduates of University of Michigan is William S. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Granzow of Novi, Michigan. Dr. Martin graduated from Northville high school in 1923 and attended Alma college in 1923-24 where he was a member of Zeta Sigma fraternity. He then attended the University of Michigan for six and one-half years and is graduating with honor to receive the degree of Doctor of Medicine. After graduation he will reside in Saginaw, Michigan where he has accepted a position on the surgery staff of the Saginaw General hospital.

Editor 29 Years

Many of the readers of The Northville Record will recognize above the face of Frank S. Neal for 29 years the editor of this newspaper. His long and honored career was sketched in our "New Home" edition last week. He linked his name indelibly with the history of Northville and will be long remembered for his many fine qualities and the great work he did for his home community. He was the fourth owner of this newspaper.

CHILDREN'S DAY OBSERVED SUNDAY

Last Sunday was Childrens' Day in the Presbyterian and Methodist churches when the little folks had their turn in taking part in the activities at the morning services.

At the Presbyterian church, which was made lovely with plants and flowers, the children of the Sunday school marched in a procession to their places in the front pews preceded by a white bassinette wheeled in by two little girls in which sat two lovely babies, Patricia Coleen McKinney and Patricia Alice Johnston. Later in the program the members of the cradle roll who were able to walk toddled upon the platform and the little babies were held in their mothers' arms. During this effective scene Mrs. Sterling Eaton softly sang a lullaby. The youngest baby in this group was little Betty Helene Whitfield.

Songs and recitations made up the interesting program rendered by the following: Mrs. Hills' class of young women, Miss Schrader's class: Katherine Stevenson, Betty Wintersteen, Frances and Louise Alexander, Marjana and Shirley Condit, Margaret McCandlish, Margaret Chase, Alice Eaton, Constance Burgess, June Denne, Leona Coe, Marguerite Daugherty, Frances Cousins, Margery Hills, Betty Jean Schrader and Gwendolyn Jones. The three Duguid children sang as did the primary department. A large class of boys gave responses. Recitations were given by the following young children: Don Humphries, Eileen Brennen, Billy Johnston, Louis Babbitt, Mary Ellen Babbitt, Yvonne Taylor, Roger and John McClain, Mary Hester Gow, Dorothy Congo, Marilyn Cavell, Arlene Blake, Juanita and Eugenia Stanford, Phoebe McCandlish, Marie Becker, Ruth Parmenter and Betty Rowlings.

The Sunday school orchestra accompanied the singing.

The exercises at the Methodist church were in charge of Mrs. Leslie G. Lee who planned and carried out a program assisted by Mrs. Geo. Lockhart. Mrs. Wm. Richards had decorated beautifully the chancel for the occasion and the music, directed by Roy Clark, was unusually good.

The program was composed of songs and recitations. Recitations were given by the following children: Betty Greer, Laura Bolton, Dorothy Ebersole, Mary Gotts, Dick Regula, Mary Tesch, Dorothy Frid.

MRS. ROSE MOYER ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Police were called to the Alexander apartments about 9 o'clock Sunday morning in response to reports that someone had attempted to commit suicide.

When he arrived at the apartments Chief of Police Wm. Safford found that Mrs. Rose Moyer had slashed the back of her hands, her wrists and her throat with a razor blade.

Other tenants, attracted by Mrs. Moyer's loud screams, called the police and Chief Safford took her to a local physician where her cuts were treated.

It is believed that Mrs. Moyer was temporarily insane when she made the attempt on her life. Supervisor Willard A. Ely and Chief Safford took Mrs. Moyer to Eloise hospital for convalescence and medical treatment.

HUNDREDS OF VISITORS INSPECT NEW HOME OF THE NORTHVILLE RECORD

Guests See Machinery of Newspaper Making and Job Printing in the New Neal Building

Literally swamped with hundreds of visitors from Northville and vicinity and other places, The Northville Record plant, now at home in the new Neal building, donned its finest and was on exhibition Saturday afternoon and evening.

Myriads of exclamations at the wonders exhibited by the mechanical fingers of the presses, the linotype, and the other miracles of the modern printing shop, testified to the fact that many people learned for the first time what happens "behind the scenes" in a newspaper plant.

As far as possible it was explained to the visitors how the "slugs" from the linotype are placed together to make columns of type; how the columns are placed in steel forms, locked up tight and placed on the large press whence they print page after page of the newspapers that get into your homes and business places. The job presses and the Kelly automatic were also centers of attraction.

Following the short tour of the premises, the visitors were treated to punch prepared by Mrs. Editor and her daughter, Ruth. Philip Baldwin spent a busy afternoon and evening handing out white, pink and deep red carnations.

The Record office was all cleaned up early Saturday morning in anticipation of the large crowds who, having perused the 32 pages of the "New Home" edition, were curious to see the inner workings of the organization. No fewer than 1,200 people, and probably more, came through the doors of The Record office Saturday afternoon and continued to form a steady line until 10 o'clock in the evening.

The plant is completely outfitted with all new equipment and ready to do business.

Despite all the work of moving, The Record has this week completed the printing of The Paladium, the high school annual and the book has been placed on sale at the schools and around town. This was printed on the new automatic press which is the last word in machinery of this kind.

A traveling man who knows the newspaper offices of the state said to The Record this week: "You have the finest office of its kind in the whole state at least I have seen nothing any better."

Any who have not yet been able to stop and see the new building and equipment are cordially invited to come in at any time and be shown through the office and composing and press room.

MOTHER AND SON INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Mrs. D. D. Himes and Samuel Himes Victims of Collision

Two were seriously injured when a car driven by James D. O'Bannon, Detroit, collided with that of Mrs. Denzil D. Himes of Wixom at the intersection of the Novi and South Lyon roads Wednesday afternoon.

Nine-year-old Samuel Himes suffered a concussion of the brain and his mother, Mrs. Himes, received deep lacerations below the left knee. Riding in the same car with Mrs. Himes were Mrs. Ralph Carr of Northville, bruised, an infant which escaped unhurt and a small girl who was bruised and shaken up.

In the car with O'Bannon was Anthony Sleyskal, 17215 Lamont, of Detroit. Both men were National Guardsmen attached to the 125th infantry, headquarters division.

O'Bannon and his companion were traveling west on the South Lyon road, they say, and were unable to see Mrs. Himes' car. Both drivers declare they were driving with the green light but O'Bannon also states that the light at the crossroad is defective.

O'Bannon told police officials from Farmington and Northville that he came to a stop under the light while Mrs. Himes just ticked his front fender enough to overturn her car.

Mrs. Himes, although in a highly wrought up condition, asserts that O'Bannon's story is not true and that she had the green light. Upon examination it was found that the light was defective on the west side of the road although it was working perfectly on the sides toward which the two cars were approaching.

Mrs. Carr, who was taken home after receiving medical treatment, lives at 116 Pennel avenue, Northville. O'Bannon gave 13486 Moran street, Detroit, as his address.

NORTHVILLE CHIEFS WILL PLAY MONROE

The Northville Chiefs' base ball club were defeated at Rochester last week, 7 to 4. Sunday the Chiefs will journey to Monroe for a game with the Monroe Merchants, a very strong team of that city.

CLARK AGAIN HEADS WAYNE CO. CARRIERS

Last Saturday evening the Wayne County Rural carriers met at the annual meeting in Dearborn at which Northville was well represented. A big picnic supper in which the ladies' auxiliary joined them in a pleasant social gathering was a pleasant feature of the occasion. Following the supper the Rural carriers held their election of officers in one room of the City library while the ladies cast their ballots in another room. The men's election proved to be a peaceful reelection of their already satisfactory officers who are: President, Roy G. Clark; vice-president, A. B. Schuman, Dearborn; secretary, Arthur White, Plymouth; treasurer, C. Nicely, Plymouth.

How They Looked in 1890

Forty-one years ago this group of young men were gathered in front of their rendevouz, the village livery stable, when the photographer happened along. "Come on, boys," said someone, "seeing we are all togged up, let's have our picture taken." Here they are just as they looked that day.

Gridiron Heroes of 1900

A CURE FOR DEPRESSION

The world can't be going to the "bow-wows" after all. In riding around lately we have been impressed by the marvelous flowers that folks are raising in and around Northville. Years ago you saw few flowers out on the farms—the farmers' wives were too busy making butter and feeding farm hands to think of posies and as for the farmer himself, there was "no money" in raising flowers. Today you see great patches of color from flowers that men, women and children are raising—in town and country. It is sentimental business, of course, but this old world needs a lot of sentiment. A walk among the flowers is about as fine a tonic as one can find for depression or any other ill.

IT'S A BOOMERANG

The other evening at the dinner at the Methodist church house, Malcolm W. Bingay, editorial director of The Detroit Free Press, said one thing that keeps bobbing up in our mind. It was something like this:

"He who sets out to harm some one else will in the end harm himself."

What a sermon from a newspaper man who has been in many corners of the world!

He who tries to do ill will hurt himself. He who sets out to "get even" only finds his suspicions, his ill will, his hatreds coming "home to roost." How eternally true.

The reverse of this, then, must be true. He who tries good will to his neighbors, his competitors, must find good coming back to him. He who sets out to help others must in the end find himself made happier and better.

"He who takes the sword shall perish by it."

"Cast your bread upon the water and after many day it shall return unto you."

o—o—o

THE WAY TO WIN

Here, Northville high school graduates, is a formula for success in life as you go out to face an indifferent world: It is so simple, yet so hard to work out, that there will be no great competition in putting it into effect.

It is just this:

Have the ability to do something well and then do it so effectively and reliably that once a task is put in your hands, your "boss" can go off and forget it. If you learn this, you will advance—if you don't you will find the going pretty hard for there are too many easy-going workers nowadays and too few who can be "counted on".

We got to thinking about this after watching a lot of carpenters, laborers, painters, electricians, plumbers and painters work the past few weeks, while the new Neal building has been going up. We have noticed that some men have to be watched while others can be trusted to go ahead with the task and complete it. The one who is dependable and who leaves no little detail left undone is the one who is the success.

So graduates, if you want to "click" along the pathway to success learn to do your work so well that men will entrust real jobs to you. If they have to wonder how you do the task and if you have to be watched, you will stick with the crowd.

o—o—o

FOLLOW HOOVER

Amid plenty of gloom and grief, the nation may well be cheered by the address of President Hoover at Indianapolis Monday night in which he gave a clarion call to the country to "snap out" of the depression and pessimism that has been falling like a blanket around us.

The people of the United States may indeed be grateful that so safe and wise a leader has been at the nation's helm during this unprecedented depression. Things have been bad but they might have been much worse if Hoover had not been our leader. History will write him down as one of the world's wisest counsellors and leaders of this very trying period following the World war.

Our president, from his national and international viewpoint, tells us that the United States will soon embark on an "Era of prosperity greater than ever before." Hoover would not have said that had he not belived it. He is in the best position of perhaps anyone in the world to say what will happen to this country in a business and economic way in the days and months ahead. If he says that great times are ahead we should at least weigh his words. If we all show the courage he asks of us and show the confidence toward each that we should, we should soon be on the road to a recovery of national faith and prosperity.

Let us follow our president as he leads us out into a new day.

o—o—o

"COME AGAIN"

This is Monday morning in The Record office and for the first time since the present management took charge on February 1, something like "normalcy" prevails around the place. The new building is done—no more looking after the hundred and one things that we had on our mind for weeks. The new equipment is set and running like a "million dollars"—no more "experts" with whom to carry on a joint debate every day. The "open house" is over and all is peaceful—as much as it ever gets around a country newspaper office. Well it seems good to have the "tumult and the shouting die." Now for work.

All of The Record force feels deeply grateful for the hundreds of expressions of good will and confidence that came to us last week, both on the occasion of our dedicatory dinner and the "open house." We are deeply touched by the outpouring of friendliness and co-operation. It has been nothing short of remarkable. Northville has a "heart big enough to jump around in." For all of this we are deeply grateful. We just hope that we can measure up in some way to all these hopes and ambitions for Northville's home newspaper.

Saturday many people were in The Record office and for the first time in their lives saw the inner workings of a newspaper. It is our hope, as we have said before, numerous times, that our readers will remember that this is their newspaper and that any help at any time will be deeply appreciated. Any constructive criticism will be welcomed, any suggestions will be given kindly attention.

To all who were in last week to see the new building and the equipment, we say: "Come again and often." To those who have not yet "looked us over, we say, "Come on in."

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

What is the best kind of vacation?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

HER PRIVILEGE

(Groff River Reporter)

A Lansing woman, about to commit suicide, hesitated long enough for a police car to drive up and take her away from the bridge. Another case of a woman changing her mind.

WHAT A STATE!

(The Michigan Bell)

Michigan is a great state! Great in extent and in scenic beauty. Great in its natural resources and its industries. Great in history, its traditions, and the character and spirit of its citizens.

Consider its mines and forests, its fertile fields and its productive orchards and vineyards; think of its beautiful lakes and streams; its diversified industries and its splendid educational institutions.

Michigan is a good place in which to live! Here Nature is kind. We are not visited with flood, drought or other disasters to any degree. Nowhere else can people work more profitably nor under better conditions than in Michigan.

Any one state has more to offer to the tourist, whether from outside or within the state, than has Michigan. Our Company, through the advertising columns of the Michigan press, has steadily called attention to the advantages of Michigan as a vacation land.

We hold that it is in the interest of every concern and every individual in Michigan, first, to contemplate and appreciate the privileges and advantages of working and playing in Michigan and, second, to call the attention of others, both in and out of the state, to those facts, continuously and by every proper means that will contribute to the pleasure and profit of every individual, every business and every community.

Michigan is a great state to live in and a great state to visit!

SOME ADVICE TO MR. NAGEL AND OTHERS

(Redford Record)

Grand River avenue is the Heaviest traffic artery in Michigan. Grand River avenue is the busiest highway in Detroit.

Grand River Avenue is a street that starts somewhere, let's say Detroit, and goes some place, let's say Lansing, Grand Rapids, Muskegon.

All expert surveys show Grand River avenue should be widened. Funds have been allocated to permit this widening.

Now John Nagel, president of the Common Council, and a majority of his co-workers, have decided to ask the state to transfer $2,750,000 from its $16,000,000 widening contract from Grand River avenue to Livernois. This transfer would help pay the bills of the Livernois widening. Livernois is a nice, wide, city street, but goes no place in particular. The traffic on it no way approaches the 240,000 motor miles driven daily on Grand River avenue within the city limits of Detroit.

The transfer of funds is recommended on the idea that Grand River avenue never will be widened. It probably won't, if such jugglng tactics are permitted to continue.

The constant transfer of funds is one of the things that is wrong with Detroit. Money is thrown into a jack-pot and hauled out whenever needed, the thing that has the most insistent momentary ballyhoo apparently getting the cash. Funds should be used for the purpose appropriated.

Some genuine thought should be put upon the problem of traffic relief for northwest Detroit. Grand River avenue is as much a state highway as it is a city street and should be so regarded.

All of Grand River avenue should be turned over to the county road commission forthwith and that body permitted to spend such gasoline taxes as it can spare, from paving the cornfields about the outer edges of Wayne county, to improving a highway that needs it in the worst way.

Meanwhile, we suggest that Mr. Nagel and his associates ponder the Grand River avenue problem in relation to traffic needs, rather than in relation to the taxation problem that affects property holders in the Livernois area.

The Grand River avenue widening and improvement problem has been buffeted about far too long now.

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER

BY MRS. EDITOR

WHO WOULD GO BACK TO GIRLHOOD?

Commencement in the air! June roses, song birds in maple trees, the flutter of white dresses and processions of black caps and gowns. This is June and it always brings back poignant memories of the days when we were a "sweet girl graduate". We had reached our goal, we "knew it all" and proudly received the sheepskin (which has since lain mustily rolled up with that of our class mate and life-mate in an old trunk.)

Under an elm tree in front of the library we sat down and mingled our tears with those of our college chum. It was all over and "the glad, wild days of our school girl days

Are things of the long ago."

We were sure that the best of life was over. If only some one wiser could have told us that the best was yet to come. We were only at the "commencement" of life. What woman would exchange all that life has brought to her in the years between that day and this for perennial girlhood?

Our father has often told us the fable of the old gray bearded man who exclaimed:

"Oh for one hour of youthful joy.
Bring back my childhood days,
I'd rather be a barefoot boy
Than reign a gray-beard king."

and a fairy, overhearing, said, "What you would be a boy forever? Two wishes you may make before I grant the desire." The old man pondered a moment and remmebered that he would be leaving behind the partner of his pathway and said, "I'll take my precious wife." The fairy replied, "What, a man would be a boy again and be a husband too!" Then as his second wish the old man said, "And I'll take my girls and boys". "What, a man would be a boy again and be a father too!" asked the fairy and when the old man realized that youth would rob him of his most precious treasures he preferred to remain in his present state and recalled his wish to be a boy again.

Now and then the burdens of maturity do become irksome and we sigh, "Oh for one hour of youthful joy—without any of these worries", then abruptly we take it all back realizing that the richness of experience far outweighs that paradoxical state of happy-misery in courtship and youth.

Time alone has taught us to be happy and "await occasions" and that all will be well after a while. Hectic hurry is replaced by serene assurance.

Dry your tears, sweet girl graduates. It's better farther on.

PERE MARQUETTE ORGANIZED IN 1857

The Flint and Pere Marquette railroad was organized June 22, 1857 for the purpose of building a railroad from Flint to Pere Marquette Lake which has an outlet into Lake Michigan at Ludington. The Flint and Holly railroad was organized at the same time to build a line from Flint to Holly with the understanding that the Flint and Holly line would be leased to the Flint and Pere Marquette and at that time an arrangement was made whereby the Flint and Pere Marquette could operate into Detroit over what was then called the Detroit and Milwaukee, now known as the Grand Trunk Western.

In 1870 the Holly, Wayne and Monroe railroad was completed from Holly to Monroe and also was leased to the Flint and Pere Marquette and at the same time an agreement was made whereby the F. & P. M. could operate trains into Toledo over the old Lake Shore and Michigan Southern lines. This connection with the former F. & P. M. of course, crossed the entire state from Ludington to Toledo. In 1872 the Holly, Wayne and Monroe was consolidated with the Flint and Pere Marquette. At the same time the Flint River railroad running from Flint to Otter Lake and the Saginaw and Bay City railroad running between those two cities, were taken into the Flint and Pere Marquette system.

In May, 1899 the Pere Marquette railroad was organized by consolidating the Flint and Pere Marquette, Detroit, Grand Rapids and Western and the Chicago and West Michigan railroads. The organization called for a $28,000,000.00 stock issue with shares at $100 par each and since that time several other small lines were acquired and absorbed into the present Pere Marquette system and by acquiring certain trackage rights at Chicago and Niagara Frontier, the system was developed into one of the major systems of the country. In the development of the Pere Marquette, Northville has played its part and has grown with the Pere Marquette and is one of the consistent feeders for the system.

Robert Phillips of Birmingham was in town Monday calling upon friends.

SENIORS RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

The largest class ever graduated from the Northville high school, consisting of 38 seniors, received diplomas last night in the auditorium of the Wayne County Training school.

The climax of four years of effort was reached when Superintendent Thad J. Knapp handed out the diplomas as friends and relatives looked on and applauded.

JOURNALISTS WRITE LAST COLUMN FOR THE YEAR

This is the last issue of the "Orange and Black" for the year.

The writers wish to thank everyone who has read the column. They appreciate the interest thus shown by the townspeople.

Next fall work will be resumed. It is hoped that those who interested themselves in this section of the paper this year will do the same next September.

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS ELECTED

Last Wednesday the annual student council election took place. All the members of the four high school classes were allowed to vote.

The results were as follows:

Mayor, Howard Beach; secretary, Geraldine Ferguson; treasurer Gertrude Deal.

The old officers were:

Mayor, Alex Johnson; secretary, Geraldine Ferguson; treasurer, Francis Sprenger.

It is interesting to note that Geraldine Ferguson has held the secretary's position since she was a sophomore.

DID YOU NOTICE

Everybody doing some "last minute" studying?

A few juniors eating an ice cream cone? This warm weather is terrible.

The novel idea carried out in the class-night program?

How sad the seniors are looking? "School Days Are Over" seems to be their theme song.

The summery-looking clothes everyone is wearing?

How tired our students look? 'Tis the old spring or summer fever.

The senior girls' graduating dresses? They actually created them at a cost not exceeding five dollars.

What a well-dressed senior boy wears on class night? His outfit includes a dark coat, light trousers, white shirt and blue tie.

That we have two extemporaneous (Who said I couldn't spell? Or is it incorrect?) speakers? Alex Johnson and Frank Hinchman were called upon to speak last Wednesday. But that's nothing, surely two athletes can toss a few words around.

Who won the watches? No, we're not going to tell you. Scout around a little and find out.

All the people who attended the concert last Friday? The performers and their instructor are to be congratulated.

That Mr. Amerman wishes students (seniors excluded for once) to register for next year?

That red has become a popular color?

ATHLETIC LETTERS ARE AWARDED IN THREE SPORTS

At the regular assembly held last Wednesday many athletic letters were presented by Coach Ruggles.

The golf letters were the first to be given. Those receiving them were Captain Kerr, Louis Campbell, Jack McLoughlin, Ned Junod, Charles Riffenburg, captain-elect.

The track team members were next to receive their letters. Those who received track letters were Captain Hinchman, Charles Dusenbury, captain-elect; Heinz Hilger, Melvin Mitchell, Darrell Bulman, Elden Biery, Ted Cavell and Charles Meinzinger.

The following received baseball letters: Captain Berendt, Alex Johnson, Leo Kohler, Forrest Lemon, captain-elect; Charles Dusenbury, Ted Cavell, Ray Westphall, Elmer Westphall, Duncan Fry, Wendell Dickinson, Charles Meinzinger and Manager Martin E. Sommer.

The "N" club elected new officers for the 1931-1932 season. Marvin Tibble was elected president, Elden Biery secretary and treasurer.

END OF THE YEAR

This is our last column of the "Orange and Black" for the year. During this week we have been writing examinations and Friday school is over.

It is interesting to let our thoughts go back to the events of our past year. In the fall we were all very ambitious and ready for work. The football season came and went. Then we had Thanksgiving.

Our basketball team furnished us with many thrills. Maybe they didn't finish first but we're proud of them, nevertheless.

In the spring both the band and glee club won honors. Then came the spring sports, baseball, golf and track. This year all our teams made fair showing.

Examinations are now in order. The results are by now known. Some failed to make the grade while others passed with flying colors.

A long, glorious vacation lies ahead. In the fall the juniors will return as seniors, the sophomores as juniors and so on down. The seniors of this year will not be back, but their interest in the school will remain. Graduation can never sever all the ties that bind them to the school.

CLASS NIGHT IS DECLARED SUCCESS

The Class night of the 1931 senior class of the Northville high school was declared a real success. It was attended by a large group at the high school last Thursday.

Eunice Cousins opened the program as class salutatorian. She was followed by Wayne Preston, president of the class who gave a very interesting speech. He pointed out that the class of '31 was one of the few classes which have passed the four years without criticism and the largest class that has ever graduated from Northville. He also represented the class in giving the juniors ten bottles of vanilla, which they may sell at leisure.

Alex Johnson then gave a very interesting class history, tracing the seniors from the time that they entered high school until now.

Hazel Cordukes gave the class prophecy. She gave the seniors and their friends somewhat of an impression of their future. Through her crystal investigation we found our seniors in all walks of life.

Howard Christensen gave a class will. He willed senior handsome faces, curly hair, personalities and talents to the other members of the high school.

Ted Cavell provided the seniors with appropriate gifts. Among them were roller skates, lolly-pops, alarm clocks and towels.

The setting of the evening was quite unique. The class was shipwrecked on a tropical island and there they willed their talents and prophecied their future.

GRADE NOTES

In Mrs. Reng's room the 2nd grade people are making circus booklets containing all the circus animals and clowns. The booklet is filled with free-hand drawings.

Last Friday night Mrs. Reng entertained the 2nd grade boys at her home at 216 Thayer Blvd. This is a farewell party to all of her pupils that she has taught this semester.

The fifth grade people in Miss Reinke's room have completed their Thomas A. Edison booklets.

The fifth and sixth grades plan to play their final game of baseball next Monday.

Tony Bender has been quite unfortunate for the last couple of weeks. He started with the pink eye and now has lye in his eye.

The following people have not been absent nor tardy this last semester or for the whole year:

Harold Hubbard, Ruth Parmenter, McArthur, Max Coe, Julius Nagy, Richard Parmater, Earl Sessions, Harold Schoutt, Clark Armstrong, Lloyd Clark.

Donald Kinnard, William Widmaier, Thomas Widmaier, Maxine Coe, Gladys Clark, Dorothy Jane Conger, Jean Ann Fry, Ruth Mary Millis, Beatrice Judson.

Laurel Garnet, Mary Hollis, Marian Hubbard, Shirley Mussille, Dorothy Van Valkenburg, Charlotte Green (present all year), Donald Armstrong, Lucile Lapham (present all year), Eva Mae Goodale, Doris Tewksbury.

Bennie Duguid, Catherine Berry, Russell Sears, Fred Van Valkenburg, June Denne, Essie Nesser, Ida Altman, Marguerite Daughty, Margaret Reice, Betty Lou Hollis, Melna Earehart and Carlos Mann.

Last week Mr. Lee, the music instructor met his music classes for the last time this year.

Miss Reinke's room gave a special program for him. Jean Robinson was chairman of the committee. The program consisted of vocal duets, trios and group songs. The program closed with all singing America.

PLYMOUTH GIRLS PLAY NORTHVILLE

Wednesday, June 10, at four o'clock a series of games began between Plymouth girls and Northville girls.

The seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth and eleventh grade girls played baseball, contesting with girls of the same grades from Plymouth. The seventh, eighth and twelfth grades won from Plymouth but the ninth, tenth and eleventh grades lost.

The field was quite a sight of activity with two games being played at once.

FAREWELL TO NORTHVILLE HIGH

By George Greenlee

Farewell to dear old Northville high,
You have been our trusted guide.
You have helped us on our ways
To prepare for future days.
We leave you with a timid heart,
For in the world we must depart.
Alone henceforth to make our way,
And so the seniors wish to say,
That in their sacred memories
They will oftimes think of thee,
Dear old Northville high.

NOVI NEWS

Dorothy Tyler is spending the week with her aunt, Mrs. Earl Betz in Detroit.

The Misses Patricia and Jean Gaffney returned from Adrian last week, where they have been attending school the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eno and little daughter of Williamston were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Maggie Thompson of Portsanilac visited her cousins, Mrs. Jean Huffman Purdon and J. O. Munro this week.

Mrs. Fay Partridge of Lansing was a guest of her niece, Mrs. Vern Hardy, Sunday. Mrs. Hardy's grandmother also visited here.

The Memorial service of the Rebekah and I. O. O. F. lodges will be held this Friday evening at the school house. The public is invited and Rev. Johnson of Farmington will give the address.

A collision on the Novi corner Saturday evening between Ford Brooks and Mr. Wm. Forsman's cars caused considerable damage to both cars but no one was seriously hurt.

Mrs. Warren Rice spent a few days this week in Ypsilanti with her sister, Miss Louise Perry, who is attending the Normal college there.

The children of the community are invited to attend the vacation Bible school held in the Presbyterian church in Northville beginning July 6 and continuing for 2 weeks. The churches of Northville are uniting in the work of this school and have invited the Novi people to join them.

Novi Baptist Church Notes

Morning worship at 10:30.
Sunday school at 12 noon.
Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at the church.
B. Y. P. U. at 6:45 Sunday evening will be led by the Devotional commission.

The regular services of the past few weeks have been interrupted by several worthwhile things. Next Sunday the regular services will take place at the usual time.

The mission circle met at the church last week, Thursday. Mrs. A. L. Hill and Miss Lizzie Coates were hostesses.

The Children's Day program was given Sunday morning. A pageant, "The Prince of Peace and the World", was given. A word of appreciation to Mrs. Warren Rice and those who assisted her is timely. Just at this time work with the children was difficult on account of so many divided interests.

The World Wide Guild meeting was postponed until next Tuesday. It will then meet with Miss Marquita Huffman. She is planning an afternoon meeting on the lawn with pot-luck supper if satisfactory arrangements can be made.

LEGION AUXILIARY PICNIC JUNE 23

The annual picnic of the American Legion auxiliary and Post and their families will be held Tuesday, June 23, at a 6:30 pot-luck picnic at Cass Benton Park. Each family bring own dishes, sandwiches and one large dish of food. In case of a rainy day it will be held at the Methodist church house.

CHILDREN'S DAY OBSERVED SUNDAY

Jane Ann Lanning, Bill Lanning, Jean Atchison, Patricia Werve, Douglas Bolton, Bobby Masters, Joan Koldyke, Vivian Grosvenor, Betty Lou Saley, Jean Robinson, Helen Dixon, Frances German, Mildred Card, Flora Mae Conklin and Faith Liebetreu.

These recitations were interspersed with songs by Vivian Grosvenor, Isabelle and Doris Tewkesbury, Flora Mae Conklin, Helen Johnson, Dorothy Richardson, Leila and Betty Haystead and Jane Grosvenor and by Mrs. Richards and Miss Roberts' classes.

In a brief address the pastor, Rev. Wm. Richards, illustrated in a unique manner the fact that it is easier to team down than to build up. Calling little Frances German, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry German, to the platform he handed her a beautiful rose. He then asked her to tear it to pieces which she did regretfully. As the petals fell Mr. Richards drew forth the lesson that a thing which has required a long time to be formed can be destroyed in a few seconds hence we should be careful what we say that may tear down another's good name.

Preceding the annual offering taken for the student loan fund Mrs. Lee stated that during her four years college course this fund was an aid to her and may be used by any student who wishes to apply.

At both Presbyterian and Methodist churches were large audiences who were proud of the creditable manner in which the children acquitted themselves in their program.

Herman Schueren Dies in Detroit

Herman Scheuren, until recently a resident of Novi, died June 16 at Detroit at the home of his son, Harry J. Death was due to a heart attack following a surgical operation. The funeral will be held at the son's home on Rutherford avenue today (Friday).

Social News

Methodist Songsters Have Outing

The Methodist choir with their families enjoyed an outing Tuesday evening at Riverside park. After much enjoyment with various outdoor sports a sumptuous picnic dinner rwas served. This was one of a series of pleasant events which have helped to foster an amicable relation in the so-called "war department" of the church.

McLoughlins Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McLoughlin extended hospitality to two groups of friends during the past week. On Saturday evening a group of ten enjoyed a delicious six o'clock dinner at the McLoughlin home on Rogers street. Yellow flowers were used effectively in table decoration and this color also appeared in the place cards later used for tallies.

On Wednesday evening a second group of ten was entertained. On both occasions the evening was delightfully spent in playing bridge.

Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary Fetes

Celebrating the close of their series of meetings during the year, the Nellie Yerkes auxiliary and their families enjoyed a picnic at Sass Benton park Tuesday evening. The long tables groaned with the good things brought by the members and the out-of-door supper was very delightful. In need of some hearty exercise after this event the men played baseball (and some of the ladies too). The children played in the swings and sand piles and everyone had a fine time. There were sixty in attendance, among them the two patronesses of the auxiliary, Mrs. Don P. Yerkes, Sr. and Mrs. L. A. Babbitt.

Kings' Daughters Hold Picnic

Thirty-three members of the Kings' Daughters enjoyed a fine time at their annual picnic which closes the activities for the summer Tuesday evening on the lawn of Mrs. Geo. Alexander. A delicious supper was served at tables on the spacious lawn and a pleasant social time followed the regular business meeting. The next meeting will occur on the first Tuesday in September. Mrs. Geo. Stanley of Detroit, who was a member of the Kings' Daughters some years ago and Mrs. Ida Putnam, of Williamston, sister of Mrs. A. E. Fuller, were guests at this occasion.

SCOUTS GO TO PUT IN BAY

Eighteen Boy Scouts from Northville joined 300 other Scouts of the Detroit council in a picnic at Put in Bay last Saturday. The Northville boys were escorted by Assistant Scoutmaster Frank Knight and Junior Scoutmaster Ward Van Atta and enjoyed the courtesy of Sheriff Ambler who loaned his truck for their conveyance to Detroit where they took a boat for the island. After a full day of sports and a picnic dinner the boys returned home at 11 o'clock in the evening.

The Boy Scouts making the trip were: Robert Bray, Everett Cooper, Morris Giles, George Richardson, Herman Toussaint, Jack Moffitt, Mark Garnet, Thomas Carrington, Jr., Fred Van Valkenburg, Sidney Moase, Elmer Westphall, Roland Morris, Norwood Dickerson, Alfred Parmenter, Lee Thompson, Franklyn Knight, George Harper and Ward Van Atta.

EDWARD LANGFIELD WILL GO ON CRUISE

Edward Langfield, active Northville Rotarian and president of The Northville Laboratories, will be one of approximately 400 members of the Detroit Board of Commerce who will leave June 18 on the board's annual cruise for Toronto and Kingston, passing through the Welland canal on board the steamship Noronic, arriving in Toronto harbor from 6 to 9 for a conference of business and industrial leaders of Toronto to be invited by the Toronto board of trade.

The purpose of the cruise this year is to thank the Dominion for giving the lake states an opportunity to get into Lake Ontario and to ask the Dominion for co-operation in canalizing the upper St. Lawrence that there may be a ship channel from Kingston to Montreal, thus giving the lake states and western Canadian provinces an outlet to the sea.

Speakers representing Michigan and the United States will include Senator Vandenberg, Governor Brucker, E. S. Evans, president Detroit Board of Commerce; R. J. MacLean, Mich. vice-president of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater association, and A. C. Carton, Sec. of Mich. G. L. Tidewater commission.

MOTION PICTURE PROGRAMS

"THE EASIEST WAY"

"The Easiest Way," which will show next Sunday, June 21, at the Penniman Allen theatre, is an adaptation of the sensational Eugene Walter stage play, considered one of the immortal classics of the American stage. Jack Conway directed the production.

Laura Murdock (Constance Bennett) is striving to rise out of the squalid poverty in which she was born. She accepts a job as model in an advertising agency, which takes her out of the department store in which she started. She attracts the attention of Brockton (Adolphe Menjou), head of the agency.

Later, when she visits her sister Peg (Anita Page), she is told to get out of the house by Nick, Peg's husband (Clark Gable).

She travels west with Brockton as his secretary. In the West she meets and falls in love with Madison (Robert Montgomery), a young newspaper man, who leaves immediately for the Argentine. She gives up Brockton, wealth and luxury, but weeks pass and she does not hear from Madison. She succumbs to economic urge and again sees Brockton.

Madison returns, and in an effort to prevent Laura breaking a promise to Brockton, and does not tell her lover of her true relations with the head of the ad agency. A scene ensues between the three which carries the play to its surprising climax.

Other players of importance include Anita Page, Marjorie Rambeau, J. Farrell MacDonald, Clara Blandick and Clark Gable.

"YOUNG DONOVAN'S KID"

New York's shadowy, mysterious East Side at the time the notorious Cat Band Gang ruled both the upper and underworld of Manhattan, is graphically brought to the screen in Radio Pictures' Young Donovan's Kid, showing Wednesday, June 24, at the Penniman Allen theatre.

Death now has joined Donovan, master criminal, and police, in a manhunt unparalleled in history, and the gang is trying to enable the paying out of the camera to chase and the microphone to hear.

Eddie Cronager, [illegible] Donovan's Kid, [illegible] the old Biograph days, and Radio Pictures' production, [illegible] interest and seven other [illegible] Lights, police headquarters, [illegible] Kingsley Hall, Inc., [illegible] rooms, banks, jails and houses of correction to further the realistic transmission of the Rex Beach story, "Big Brother," to the screen.

In this setting transpires one of the most amazing stories ever conceived by an author—the tale of a Robin Hood gang leader who could kill and kiss at the same time, who loved as deeply as he could hate, the most hated and the most loved man in New York's underworld.

Interpreting this role is Richard Dix, the star who contributed one of the most remarkable characterizations of the year—that of Yancy Craven in "Cimarron." In "Young Donovan's Kid," he is said to reach new and greater heights.

Jackie Cooper, brilliant little star of "Skippy," and Marion Shilling are among the members of the supporting cast.

"SUBWAY EXPRESS"

There is something about the mystery story that seems to rest the tired business man; makes me, forget her household troubles, even enlisting and holding the attention of sister, brother and his girl friend. When all else fails "Who committed the crime?" is one of those intriguing questions that keeps every one on the alert until it is definitely known who did it.

In "Subway Express," feature picture to show Sunday, June 21, at the Penniman Allen theatre, instead of the usual two or three, there are exactly 20 people to suspect of murder. This picture, which was transferred to the screen from the famous New York stage play of the same name, has all of its action develop in the crowded coach of a subway train. To make the mystery more intense the question arises as to not only who killed the man but how he was killed.

It took the detective but a [illegible] The police inspector who puts the passengers through the third degree says it is not a doctor who examines the body dare "call" figures out for yourself. Fact is, you'll have to wait until the end of the third reel—then the elusive murderer is unmasked.

Thrill-experienced stage and screen actors present this all-talking drama. Jack Holt and Aileen Pringle head the list and others who are appearing are Fred Kohler, Alan Dinehart, William Davidson and Ethel Wales. Fred Newmeyer, who piloted many of the Lloyd Hamilton and Harold Lloyd comedies to success, is responsible for the direction.

TRAINING SCHOOL AIDS HANDICAPPED

In the meantime, in addition to the college, there the conditions have said the magistrate [illegible] and change the [illegible] buildings, distribute [illegible] thousand [illegible] the grounds, the cottage of [illegible] agricultural [illegible] farming, [illegible] the garage, the bakery, the kitchen, the meat shop, the laundry, the carpenter shop, the mill room, the print shop, the sewing room, the barber shop, the beauty parlor, the warehouse, practically a department store, the workers residence halls and the private homes, all serving the end of those children [illegible] growing in humanity as well as capacity in the county.

In less than five years the Training school has admitted a thousand children of both sexes. Already, one hundred and fifty have returned to their communities from which they came to put on their shoulders life. Close contact is kept with these young folk to find jobs for them, to see that the patterns of behavior created in the school community are effective, to assist them with their finances, to protect them against unscrupulous persons attempt to take advantage of them, to encourage them when discouraged, to restrain them when too ambitious. These continuing contacts are close enough and the records adequate enough to show how well these young folk have profited from their training to justify the plans of those who sponsored the Training school idea in the beginning, as well as the efforts of those who have labored with them in the school.

At the time of the introduction of the ordinance to provide for the government of the Training school, the committee on Ways and Means of the Board of Supervisors said, "this is by far the most pretentious undertaking ever attempted by the County of Wayne. It is a high compliment to the civic committee at our community that after this project had been accepted by the people there should be no let down in the enthusiasm of the persons selected to administer the trust. The Training School Board, it was provided, should consist of seven members, three ex-officio by reason of their peculiar understanding of the special duties, one of the needs of the school, the Probate Court, the Judge of the Probate Court, the Superintendent of Schools of the City of Detroit and the County Commissioner of Schools, the four remaining citizen members to be elected one each year to serve four years by the Board of Supervisors. The Administrative Board has continued from the beginning to be made up of Henry S. Hilbert as the Presiding Judge of the Probate Court, Frank Cody as Superintendent of Schools of the City of Detroit and Ethel W. Yost as County Commissioner of Schools, with Mrs. Robert Beattie, Milton M. Alexander, Tracy W. McGregor and William H. Maybury as elected citizen members.

Visitors from all over the United States and literally from all over the world, interested in the effort to salvage for greater social usefulness these handicapped members of our society, come to Northville to see how Wayne county has set out to accomplish this tremendous task.

LOCAL CEMETERIES WELL MAINTAINED

The resting-place of many individuals who have made Northville what it is today, Oakwood and Rural Hill cemeteries are maintained and beautified in fitting tribute to those who have gone on.

The Rural Hill Cemetery association was organized in October, 1885, the first board of directors being composed of F. R. Beal, J. M. Swift, C. M. Thornton, M. A. Porter, M. D. Gorton, L. W. Simmons, L. W. Hutton, A. D. Kendrick and F. W. Clark. On July 8, 1908, the association was reorganized and the corporate existence renewed for 30 years. At that time the officers and directors were James A. Dubnar, president; L. W. Simmons, treasurer; Frank N. Clark, secretary; C. M. Thornton, E. M. Brigham, Geo. Clark, A. D. Brock and E. H. Lapham.

The original plat of the cemetery, which is located just south of town, consisting of 20 acres, was a portion of the farm of M. D. Gorton, one of the organizers. In recent years four additional acres were purchased and six years ago the mausoleum was erected at a cost of $60,000. In the beginning the association was formed as a civic enterprise and as a non-profit organization, each member subscribing $125. The present directors, who are T. G. Richardson, Harry B. Clark, Charles T. Thornton, and E. H. Lapham, have continued the early policy.

The rolling land contributes to the natural beauty of the cemetery, which was enhanced by the efforts of the original stockholders who planted numerous maple and evergreen trees. About five acres of the original plot still remains unplatted. The first lots sold for $15 to $40 each.

Oakwood cemetery was given to the school district in lieu of a governing body, by Daniel H. Cady before the village was incorporated, with the stipulation that the grounds be used as a cemetery, otherwise they were to be turned to the original heirs. For many years a cemetery fund was maintained by the village, but this was taken off the books during the administration of three years ago. Charles Filkins, then village president, proposing that the cemetery fund be retained in the village care and protecting it against vandalism, saw that it was put in first class shape, and erected an iron fence around it.

The cemetery now comprises about an acre and one-half of ground, which is dotted the original plot. With the exception of a few lots, the lots which are not completely occupied, the cemetery is church free. William Hay, a Presbyterian elder, is believed to have been the first person buried there. The cemetery is nearly 100 years old and many of the early pioneers were given burial in the new cemetery, which are well kept grounds, with fine trees, with lawn and flowers and monuments and marble.

FIRST FORD DRIVEN BY FRED SIMMONS

"Remember the time when a Northville man was 'pinched' for speeding ten miles an hour through the streets of our village?" chuckled two old friends, R. A. Grant, now of Jackson and Fred P. Simmons the other day.

Fred was the proud owner of the first two-cylinder Ford in town, which took the natives' breath away by whizzing through the streets at 15 or 20 miles an hour. He was considered a plutocrat to own a "horseless carriage" that is, most of the time it was horseless except when it had to be pulled out of the mud.

"Jap" Elliott at this time owned a single cylinder steam power Oldsmobile and Ed Lapham fell in line with a "one-lunger" Cadillac. These were the days when the ladies ventured forth in these "speed demons" with flowing veils swathing their massive head gear.

SPRING FEVER

From Your Car

A Spring Tonic Tune-up is a good thing for your Ford—and we are experts at prescribing the right medicine and the right treatment for anything that can possibly go wrong with a Ford.

The Ford car has a steel constitution—but heavy carbon deposits, carburetor or distributor out-of-adjustment, worn-out oil or grease, or unevenly adjusted shock absorbers are enough to make any car feel low.

Let us make a thorough examination. There's no charge for that—and as we fill the prescription ourselves, the cost is very low.

Spring Tune-Up

Carbon removed, valves ground. Crankcase, transmission and rear flushed and replenished with full-bodied lubricant. Front wheels repacked with fresh lubricant. Carburetor tuned. Distributor and spark plugs cleaned and adjusted. Fuel line and battery checked.

All for only $9.50

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE

WHEREAS—Ernest C. Mehlberg and Eloise Mehlberg, his wife of Detroit, Michigan made and executed a certain mortgage bearing date of the 31st day of July, 1926 unto Ruth H. Seaver now Ruth H. Seaver Gogis, of Fenton, Michigan, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Wayne county, Michigan on the 25th day of August, 1926 at 2:15 o'clock p. m. in Liber 1793 of mortgages on page 562, and whereas the said Ruth H. Seaver Gogis is now owner of said mortgage;

And whereas, it was stipulated and agreed in said mortgage by and between the parties thereto that if default should be made in the payment of the principal sum or interest or any other sum secured thereby or any part thereof or in payment of the taxes, insurance premiums or other charges upon said premises or any part thereon at the term and in the manner therein specified for the payment thereon, or in the performance of any of the covenants and agreements therein contained, the entire indebtedness secured thereby remaining unpaid should at once become due and collectable if the mortgage so elected;

And whereas default has been made in the payment of said interest and in the payment of taxes as, therein and in the manner specified in said mortgage, and the mortgagee has elected to declare the entire indebtedness secured thereby remaining unpaid due and collectable at once;

And whereas the amount claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of $514.97 including interest computed to the date hereof and an attorney fee provided by the statute of the State of Michigan and stipulated for in said mortgage and no suit or proceeding at law having been instituted to recover the debt now remaining secured thereby or any part thereof, and the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and in pursuance of the statutes in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises at public vendue to the highest bidder on Saturday, August 1st, 1931, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, eastern standard time, at the southerly or Congress street entrance of the Court House in the city of Detroit, Michigan (that building being the place of holding the Circuit Court for the County in which said mortgaged premises are located) said premises are described as follows: Lands, premises and property in the Township of Dearborn, County of Wayne and State of Michigan, to wit: Lot nine hundred seventeen (917) of Westwood Subdivision of Van Alstine Farm, of part of Section thirty (30) town two (2) south, Range ten (10) east, and recorded in Liber 40, Page 30 of Plats—Premises situated on north west corner of Bayham and Yale Ave.

THE OIL OF JOY

Christianity wants nothing so much in the world as sunny people and the old are hungrier for love than bread. The oil of joy is very cheap and if you can help the poor with a "garment of praise" it will be better for them than blankets.—Henry Drummond.

The Lord said He would give the oil of joy for the spirit of heaviness and beauty for ashes:

"The mark of rank in nature
Is capacity for pain,
And the anguish of the singer
Makes the sweetest of the strain."

The man of sorrows said: "In the world ye shall have tribulation, but after this sob comes the Psalm of Praise, 'Be of good cheer, I have overcome the world.'" Scars are the price of scepters. Our crowns will be wrested from the giants we conquer.

Our Neighbor Plymouth

The howl of wolves was still a warning cry when Plymouth, four miles south of Northville, was first settled by white men, and besides the wild animals of that day and age were Indians who bore out a scanty existence in that territory. But the hardy men and women who sought to establish homes and families in that wild land were undaunted by the savage elements surrounding them. Today Plymouth stands as a monument to their efforts as one of the finest modern cities in the state.

Although the exact date of the first settling of Plymouth cannot be determined, the date when the town received its name is recorded. That occurred in the year 1827 when several of the progressive members of the newly formed community held a meeting to organize a township. One name proposed at this meeting was "Leroy," but the choice fell upon the name given by William Bartow.

The building of a flour mill in the year 1826 by a man whose name was A. B. Markham, started a rapid succession of new developments. There rose saw mills, grist mills, frame buildings, a postoffice, blacksmith shops and many other business and commercial enterprises essential to the growth and requirements of the early settlement, which increased in population with the passing years.

In 1826 came the first preacher to administer to the religious needs of the settlers, and then came a physician, justice of the peace and other professional men. Then followed such important events as the birth of the first white child, the first marriage in the newly formed township and other happenings of import to the development of the community.

Transportation was difficult in those first years for the roads were of sand and gravel, which were without benefit of road commissioners and the infinite variety of equipment used in this modern day in keeping the roads in passable condition. The trip to Detroit which was the nearest and largest city was a thing to plan a long while ahead of time so that everything needed could be gotten on that occasional journey.

The Plymouth of 1931 presents a far different aspect than the Plymouth of those pioneer days 100 years or more ago. Numerous industries of national repute operate the year around on products that are sent to the far corners of the nation. It is in Plymouth that the largest air rifle factory in the world is located. Besides the Daisy Air Rifle company, are the King Air Rifle and the Hamilton Rifle companies. The latter manufactures only rifles of 22 caliber.

The Mobis Window Shade company, the largest of its kind in the world, has its plant in Plymouth. Here, too, are the Lee Foundry, Trenton Fiber Works, Springer Screw and Machine Works, the Dunn Steel Products and the Plymouth Plating Works. Plymouth is a railroad center, having within its limits the Pere Marquette round house.

The largest bank and the largest newspaper in Wayne county outside the city of Detroit are to be found in Plymouth. The city boasts three hotels, of which the Mayflower is one of the finest and most modernly equipped in this part of Michigan.

Thirty greenhouses are to be found within a radius of five miles from Plymouth.

In Plymouth are to be found such organizations as the Chamber of Commerce, Merchants' Service Bureau, Credit Bureau, Rotary Club and an auto club.

Hourly bus service between Plymouth and Detroit, and daily schedules between Pontiac and Ann Arbor form a part of the transportation over the six main highways that go through Plymouth. The Pere Marquette railroad has two branch lines running through the town. Paved roads to Detroit, Ann Arbor, Toledo, Grand Rapids and other important cities make these places readily accessible to the citizens of Plymouth.

In all Plymouth is a town of which its citizens may well be proud.

Besides its business and commercial places, Plymouth displays a splendid residential side. Here are homes built with an eye for both beauty and utility by citizens.

The Plymouth library circulates more books than any other Wayne County library outside the city of Detroit.

CHILDREN WILL LIKE SIMPLE MILK DRINKS

East Lansing—Milk drinks which are nutritious and for which the children will clamor can be made at home from recipes recommended by the home economics department of Michigan State college.

Chocolate milk is one of the simplest and is also very popular. A stock mixture of the chocolate flavoring can be made and a small amount used to prepare as many glasses of the milk as are wanted at any one time.

The flavoring is made by mixing into 12 pounds of sugar, one pound of cocoa, one-half pound of corn starch, two teaspoonfuls of cream of tartar and a dash of ground cinnamon. The mixture should be boiled a few minutes in a gallon of water, cooled and three ounces of vanilla added. One ounce of this flavoring is added to seven ounces of milk.

Egg nog, a favorite drink for many years, is made by beating the mixture of one egg, one teaspoonful of sugar, a sprinkle of cinnamon and nutmeg and a few drops of vanilla into a glass of milk. This drink has a high food value and is rich in proteins and minerals. Different flavors can be obtained by using lemon, orange or prune juices instead of vanilla.

Some of the newer milk drinks are made by adding honey to milk and they are said to be very tasty. Three ounces of honey and 15 drops of lemon or orange extract are used to make honey blossom drink. The mixture should be shaken until the honey dissolves.

Attractive milk drinks can be made by adding two or three teaspoonfuls of fruit jam or marmalade. The seeds in the jam should be strained out of the drink after the mixture has been thoroughly stirred. Grape, raspberry, blackberry, pineapple or cherry jams may be used.

MOTORISTS BUY WHEN RETURNING HOMEWARD

East Lansing—Motorists who buy farm products from roadside markets usually make their purchases when they are returning home from a drive and, as a market on the right side of the road is more convenient to stop at, the stand on that side of the highway sells more goods than one on the left side, according to a study made by the horticultural department at Michigan State college.

Proprietors of these markets must remember that the motorist, at the usual driving speeds, must be warned that a roadside market is ahead of him to enable him to make the stop, especially if the market is placed beside a busy trunk line. Warning signs must be legible, contain few words, and be large enough so the automobile driver can see them from some distance.

Signs which can be seen 50 feet from the market give the driver only one second to read the sign and to decide whether he wants to stop or not before the market is reached, if his car is traveling 35 miles an hour. Plainly printed letters one inch high can be read at a distance of 25 feet, three inch letters at 80 feet, and six inch letters at 170 feet.

The greatest problem in roadside marketing is to get the driver to stop at the market. Only poor quality goods, unreasonable prices or poor salesmanship will discourage customers who have stopped their cars.

A great deal of information of value to owners of roadside markets is contained in special bulletin 185, which will be sent to anyone who requests it from Director V. R. Gardner, Michigan State college.

Baptist Church

We announce our services for next Sunday with the conviction of their vital interest. At the morning hour the pastor, Rev. W. Roscoe Barbour will preach on the great theme, "The Unity of Christ's Body." At the evening hour the Children's Day program will be rendered by the Bible school and will be a pageant presenting the nation's need of the Christ. The children and young people will appear in costume. This program will begin at 7:30 p. m. An offering will be taken for the work of the Sunday school and also of publishing the Scriptures. All are invited.

Methodist Church

The pastor will preach next Sunday morning on "Reckless Driving." Let us occupy in our hands a hymn book rather than a steering wheel.

The steering wheel may give us trouble, the hymn book gives us strength to meet troubles. Come and help to make a good summer congregation. Every portion of a family can do this. Time 10:30. Our choir always render us good service in the musical part of the worship.

At 12 noon our Bible school will meet with a class to suit everybody.

Our young people will have their devotional service at 6:30. On Monday many are off to the Albion Institute. God bless them in their studies and recreation.

In the evening the services will be in the Presbyterian church with the pastor preaching. Our congregation has the choice of two places, the Presbyterian church, or the invitation to the pageant at the Baptist church by Rev. Barbour. Suit yourselves. The pastor will continue an address on the subject of, "Hell" following up Brother Whitfield's address. Time 7:30 p. m.

These united services will close with the last Sunday in the month for the summer.

Novi Methodist Church

Regular church service at the Novi Methodist church at 9 a. m.

All the women of the Methodist church attention! Arm yourselves with brooms, pails and mops, and appear at the church at 10 a. m. Tuesday when a housecleaning will be given the church. Scouts will be on hand with their sturdy backs for lifting any heavy articles. A pot-luck dinner will be served at noon followed by a business meeting.

St. Paul's Lutheran

Divine service this Sunday, the third Sunday after Trinity in the English language at 11 o'clock. The pastor will speak on the Epistle lesson for the day, 1 Peter, 5, 6-11; choosing as the theme of his discourse: "How we are to Praise and Glorify God with our Lives."

In connection with this service the Lord's Supper will be celebrated. Announcement may be made this Friday evening at the parsonage.

The church officers will meet for their regular quarterly meeting on June 30th at 8 o'clock in the church hall.

Holy Communion will be celebrated in the German language on the first Sunday in July. Registration on Thursday evening, July 2.

The voters of the congregation will have their regular quarterly meeting on Monday evening, July 6th, at 8 o'clock in the church hall.

The Ladies' Aid meets every second Thursday of the month at 2 o'clock in the church hall.

The Lutheran church of the Missouri Synod broadcasts every Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock over Station WXYZ. Everybody is cordially invited to tune in on these broadcasts.

St. Paul's Lutheran church opens wide her doors and in the name of Jesus says: "Come in, stranger, brother, sister, whoever you may be, wherefore standest thou without?" Gen. 24,31. "Come, for all things are now ready!" Luke 14,17.

Our Lady of Victory Church

Sunday Masses at Northville, 7:30 and 10:00 a. m.

Sunday Masses at Walled Lake, 8:00 and 11:00 a. m.

The June group of ladies consisting of members of the parish who live in the Walled Lake district will stage their card party in the spacious basement hall of the Chapel there. The affair takes place on Saturday evening, June 27. Admission 50c. Table prizes. 10 door prizes. Refreshments.

The Annual Retreat for the priests of this diocese will take place this and next week. The local pastor will attend next week from Monday evening until Friday morning at the Sacred Heart seminary in Detroit.

Spain and Italy are supposedly 90 per cent Catholic. Quantity—but terrible quality! About 50 per cent go to church. The others were baptized in the Catholic church and will probably be buried from it, but in the meantime keep a very feeble hold on it through a cowardly, cringing fear of the next life. A strange paradox, these men in order to please the world for their own selfish interests will attack the things they really love, marriage, the family, the education of children, the worship of God!

Presbyterian Church

On Sunday, June 21, at 10:30 a. m. service of worship in the First Presbyterian church. The minister will preach. The congregation is reminded of its responsibility in the matter of attendance. All are needed and all have need.

In the evening at 7:30 Rev. Wm. Richards will preach to the union congregation. The service will be held in the First Presbyterian church. Everyone is welcome.

REV. H. MORRISON IS SPEAKER AT BAPTIST CHURCH

There were about an even hundred at the Tuesday evening special service at the Baptist church. The fellowship supper, the last until next fall, was a success as was also the fine spiritual service which followed. The pastor announced the Children's Day program for next Sunday evening, also the Daily Vacation Bible school which begins in the Presbyterian church house on July 6.

The event of the evening was the masterly and touching evangelistic address by the Rev. Harvey Morrison of the Hazel Park Baptist tabernacle. He held the perfect attention of his audience with a wholesome and helpful sermon. There were two responses to Mr. Morrison's appeal. An earnest desire that Mr. Morrison return was expressed.

Obituary

William Montgomery

William Montgomery passed away at the Sessions hospital after a long illness Saturday evening, June 13, at the age of 68 years.

Mr. Montgomery was born in Novi township and was a lifelong resident of this vicinity. He was the eldest of a family of eight having had four brothers and three sisters. He is survived by one brother, Joseph Montgomery, two step sons, Merlin and Chas. Riffenberg of this village and a step-daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Spor of Milford.

Mr. Montgomery was a hard working, honest citizen who lived a quiet, peaceful existence. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at the Schrader funeral parlors and was in charge of Rev. H. G. Whitfield with interment in Rural Hill cemetery.

Mrs. John McCully

After a very brief illness Mrs. John McCully at the age of 64 years passed away at the University hospital at Ann Arbor Thursday morning, June 11, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. McCully had been in usual health until two days previous to her death.

Monday evening she spent with Mrs. H. G. Whitfield while their husbands attended a dinner. An especially interesting visit was enjoyed by these two and, as if by strange presentiment, Mrs. McCully broke her usual reserve and poured forth to her friend the entire story of her life. Walking cheerfully home with her husband later, she enjoyed the beauty of some roses, the gift of Mrs. Whitfield.

Early Tuesday she was awakened by a vague pain and remained in bed Tuesday and Wednesday. At 1:30 Thursday it was deemed urgent to remove her to the care of a heart specialist and in company with her physician, Dr. Sparling, and her husband and Rev. H. G. Whitfield and her niece, Miss Aline McCully, she went to the University hospital where, in spite of the best care, she passed away within a few hours.

Belle Durfee had been a life-long resident of this community. Born in Novi, she came in early life to Northville where she was married to John McCully, a merchant in the village. For ten years she was engaged in the millinery business when she won many friends by her courteous friendliness.

Of a retiring, modest disposition she loved her home and was happiest there. She was a real home maker and welcomed friends with true hospitality. Though childless, she gave of her motherly spirit to all young folks. One who helped her for years grieves for her, saying, "She was as kind as a mother to me." Of Mrs. McCully, her pastor says, "She was always to be relied upon, unselfish and loyal to her church." The highest tribute possible was paid by the one who knew her best, her life companion, who says, "She was one of the best women who ever lived—kind to everyone."

Mrs. McCully was an active member of the Presbyterian church and also of the Eastern Star and White Shrine orders by whom she will be greatly missed.

The funeral services were held at the home Saturday morning with her loyal friend, Rev. H. G. Whitfield officiating. Interment was made in Novi cemetery.

CLIFFORD C. WARD BUYS NEWSPAPER IN LOS ANGELES AREA

Michigan loses one of its best newspaper men and California gains him. Clifford C. Ward, for 15 years editor of The Charlotte Tribune and a resident of Northville for a few months, after a survey of the Southern California field, has purchased The Industrial Post at Bell, a suburb of Los Angeles and a fast growing little city.

BAPTIST L. A. S.

The Baptist Ladies' Aid will meet on Wednesday, June 24, at Mrs. Barbour's at 2:30 p. m. We wish for a good attendance as we will talk over whether we should use the dining hall to serve meals at the fair.

Real Estate dealer: "We have many calls from Detroit folks looking for small pieces of land around here. Many of them have very little resources."

Said a man who works here and lives elsewhere: "The longer I stay here the better I like it."

LOCAL BALL TEAM LOSES SUNDAY GAME TO DETROIT PLAYERS

Leland Smith's Blossoms were on the short end of a 6 to 4 score at the fair grounds Sunday but they were consoled by the fact that it took the L. J. Barry Coal company team of Detroit twelve innings to accomplish the defeat.

Northville pounded out three in the first inning and one in the fourth. E. Freydl's hitting and the pitching of Alex Johnson featured the game for Northville fans.

The Blossoms will play the Garden City ball team there Sunday in a return game.

THIEVES ENTER TWO HOMES NEAR HERE

The home of Mrs. Chas. Guenzler, 1235 East Seven Mile road was entered Sunday afternoon about four o'clock and wearing apparel and money taken by thieves.

Mrs. Guenzler left her home about two o'clock and returned to find that the thieves had used a skeleton key to enter through the back door.

The home of Don Hamilton on the South Lyon road was broken into Monday afternoon and a quantity of wearing apparel, $30 in cash and a $25 wrist watch stolen. Apparently the same thieves had entered both places although no definite traces or descriptions of the thieves were obtained.

METHODIST W. H. M. S.

The Methodist Women's Home Missionary society will meet with Mrs. Jas. Tiffin Tuesday, June 23 at 2:30 o'clock.

ATCHINSON HOSPITAL

Mrs. Thomas Kisse underwent appendectomy last Saturday morning.

Mrs. Robert Lanning is constantly improving under medical care in the hospital.

The baby clinic will be held Wednesday afternoon, June 24 at 2 o'clock in the village hall.

Let us SHOW you why
Firestone
TIRES are better!

FIRESTONE do not manufacture special brand tires for others to distribute—but they do make a complete line of tires for us, bearing the Firestone name and guarantee, that not only meets the prices but beats any special brand tire distributed by mail order houses or others in Quality and Construction, giving greater values.

Firestone have invested $25,000,000.00 with Firestone Dealers in establishing the most economical distributing and servicing system in the world.

Come in today—let us show you the INSIDE FACTS from cross sections—that you may understand the EXTRA VALUES in Firestone Tires.

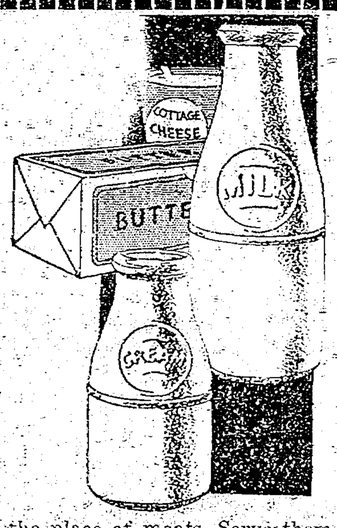
Here Are Healthful FOODS
Serve Them Most Plentifully On Your Summer Table



Fresh, wholesome dairy products should be the basis of Summer menus. Their vitalizing qualities take the place of meats. Serve them in some form every meal. But be sure they are fresh. In other words, be sure they are from our own dairy farm, where freshness and purity are the first consideration.
