CENTENNIAL FINAL EVENT IS PAGEANT

Crowd Packs the Methodist Church on Notable Occasion

After a week and a day of intensive activities in celebrating their Centennial, the Northville Methodists can settle down for another 100 years.

The celebration closed Sunday evening with a house packed to the doors and the gallery filled, with those who came to see aunts, uncles, cousins or neighbors appear in the long-ago costumes of their ancestors, representing the founders of the Methodist church in this village.

"The Church of Yesterday and Today," was carried out in an original pageant written by the pastor, Rev. H. H. Mallinson, and directed by Mrs. Mallinson. Certain episodes in the long history of the church were enacted with frequent emotional outbursts from those who showed the days when "the old-time religion" was expressed in shouts and song.

As historian, Chas. A. Dolph, noted for his gathering of historical data, connected the episodes in the pageant by narratives.

While there were at intervals touches of humor as real events were enacted the whole pageant left a feeling of deep reverence for the "faith of our fathers."

Sitting well to the front in the audience were two older women who no doubt especially appreciated the recollections of the past and the references to the early camp meetings held in "Benton's woods" and later when James Dunlap deeded the land for the first building. These women were Mrs. Jennie White, now 93 years of age, daughter of Jas Dunlap, and Mrs. Sophia Benton, widow of Cass Benton, whose grandfather, Gideon Benton, let the Methodists worship in his woods (now Cass Benton park).

In direct contrast to the early events was the concluding scene when Chas. E. Rogers took the part of a doubting father who was persuaded by his daughter (Mrs. Gerald Woodworth) of the efficiency of the church. The various activities appeared before him: missions, social service, hospitals and the Old People's Home.

As a climax to the evening, the entire cast of fifty characters joined with the congregation in one of the old favorite hymns. A picture of the group in costume was taken by R. S. Wood.

Mrs. James Sessions of Plymouth gave pleasure with the singing of two beautiful solos. An organ recital by Mrs. Sherrill Ambler preceding the pageant was also appreciated.

The morning sermon was delivered by Dr. Herbert D. Rhodes of Temple-Boulevard church, Detroit, who, in a well-organized discourse urged his hearers to "not turn back having put the hand to the plow."

On Thursday evening a large number of music-lovers enjoyed the choir from Temple Boulevard which presented a delightful and varied program of song. Several of the numbers were sung a capella. The leader, Federal Whittlesey, also sang several solos with hearty applause.

"Never had a nicer party" was the verdict of many who attended the banquet on Friday evening. The tables were presided over by the members of the official board as host and hostess, each hostess having charge of the appointments of her own table. Lighted tapets, bowls of chrysanthemums and bon bon cups gave a festive air to the delicious menu served by the young woman's class of the Sunday school.

Several music numbers, contributed by Detroit friends of Rev. and Mrs. Mallinson, added spirit to the occasion. "Pinch hitting" for Dr. Samuel Robinson of Kalamazoo, Dr. A. J. Halminuber made the address of the evening tracing the outstanding achievements of Methodists throughout its history. Mr. Mallinson "broke the ice" during the evening with humorous incidents in his capacity as toastmaster.

Altogether the pastor of the church and his wife and all the rest who gave of their time unstintedly for the week's events felt at its close a gratification in increase of loyalty and interest inspired by this long look back down the century.

TRIUMPH SCORED BY MEN'S CHORUS

A most appreciative audience of music lovers thoroughly enjoyed the concert given by the Northville-Plymouth Men's Chorus at the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening. The program was varied and the men were never in better voice.

Singing heartily "because they love to sing," these musicians did great credit to their leader, Leslie G. Lee, who conducted them with delicate feeling.

Contrary to the popular notion, that a "prophet is without honor in his own country," Northville is justly proud of this organization of singers in its midst. This chorus is generous in its contributions to the pleasure of the public.

Showing their appreciation for their leader, the entire chorus and a few of the wives, 30 in number, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee, Thayer boulevard, after the concert to honor him on his birthday. The affair was a complete surprise to the director.

Between intervals of eating fried cakes and cider and a big birthday cake, the party sang spontaneously all their old favorite songs and listened to Ernest Raez coax melody from his cello.

COUNCIL WILL PROVIDE LAND FOR SCOUTS

Sidewalks To Be Paved On Thayer Boulevard By FERA

The new Boy Scout lodge room will be allowed to be located on village property, according to action taken by the council Monday evening at the village hall.

Orlow G. Owen, Scoutmaster, on behalf of the Boy Scouts of Northville, petitioned the council for a space for the Scout lodgeroom on village property. The exact location has not yet been decided.

Reports of the chief of police, street commissioner, and treasurer were given and approved by the commissioners and the village bills were also passed on.

The last action taken by the commission on delinquent water bills proved to be the solution to an aggravating problem in the village financial situation. The delinquents are paying with regularity, reported the village clerk, and the commission expressed itself as being highly gratified.

Residents on the north side of Thayer boulevard have asked to have their sidewalks repaired under the welfare relief labor program and this will be done. The cost of the materials is borne by the residents and the labor cost is taken care of by the relief authorities.

DEMOCRATS SHOW STRENGTH BY VOTE IN WAYNE COUNTY

That the democratic strength of Wayne county is firmly entrenched was clearly shown in the general election Tuesday when the democrats captured all county offices.

In all but one or two of the races the democrats piled up majorities of from twenty to thirty thousand votes. State representative Edward F. Fisher of the fifth district, republican incumbent, was one of the few republicans to win out and Senator George A. Dondero, incumbent from the seventeenth district also was returned to office.

Wayne county gave majorities to Lacy, Picard, Stebbins, Wilson, Fry, O'Brien, and Stack in the state and national returns and in the county awarded office to Murphy (D), Stolinski (D), Brezner (D), McRea (D), Wilcox (D), O'Hara (D), Sumeracki (D), Knobloch (D), Harold E. Stoll (D), Nowicki (D), Schoenherr (D), and Liddle (D).

STARTS ITS SECOND CENTURY

The past week's notable Centennial was held in the Methodist Episcopal Church of Northville.

Irradiation of Milk By Sunshine Or By Ultra Violet Ray Increases Vitamin D In Milk By Ten F

The amazing story of how ultra violet rays can increase tenfold "Vitamin D" in milk, by the exposure of only one-eighth of a second, and thus help give this life giving vitamin to children, was told to members of the Northville Rotary club and guests at their noon luncheon Tuesday. Charles A. Richards of the Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation was the speaker.

Some matchless vocal music by Eddie McGrath greatly enlivened the program. The spirited and wholehearted way in which Mr. McGrath threw himself into his singing greatly pleased the Rotarians. Clyde Woodin was his accompanist.

munity and they will continue to do so if we stand by them.

It costs $90 of the taxpayer's money on an average to keep a boy in school one year. It costs $300 to keep a man in jail for one year. Dare we lessen the efficiency of our schools?

Compared with other costs, we are more than getting our money's worth from our schools. In Detroit, figures show that the average home pays twice as much for its telephone service as it does for the education of the children in that home. Our gas and electric bills are probably three times the amount we pay each month for education of our boys and girls.

Automobile costs run far ahead of our costs for education.

If anyone tells you our schools cost too much, give them a few figures.

SCHOOLS OR JOBS

(The Rotarian)

"The trouble with youth," a man who knows boys recently commented, "is its youthfulness." If the aphorism needs explanation, he added, let it be said that a prime characteristic of youth is an urge for activity. If opportunity for its expression is not given through schools, and jobs are unavailable, is it to be wondered that unadjusted boys and girls experiment in fields that lead to conflict with law and order?

The dangerous age for youth is the period when he is bridging adolescence and early maturity. Statistics prove this. In England and Wales, forty-two per cent of all persons found guilty of indictable crimes last year were under twenty-one. In the United States, according to Department of Justice reports, two-thirds of all arrests for crime involve persons between fifteen and twenty-four, and those nineteen years old lead any other age group.

No grand social scheme can solve the problem of unadjusted youth at one swoop. Boys and girls, like their elders, are not cut to one pattern. But any adult does a real service who makes it possible for a youngster to remain in school, which is the best agency for life training that society has yet evolved, and when school days are over helps him get suitable employment.

INTERESTING FIGURES

(Tom Conlin in Crystal Falls Diamond Drill)

Figures have been compiled at Lansing which show that Michigan would have been better off if it had "gone it alone" in relief. The average actual relief accorded Michigan citizens figures up to $13.42. Michigan is charged with $530,458,856 but only $68,000,000 of that is unsecured relief, the balance is loans. Industry and business got only $2,850,000; farmers received $536,201 in AAA grants while $4,792,720 were taken out of Michigan in processing taxes. While this has been going on federal taxes taken from Michigan have jumped from $34,000,000 in 1933 to $97,000,000 in 1934. These figures are taken from the U. S. and are absolutely correct.

THE NRA LOSES

(John Pope in The Grand Rapids Press)

The NRA program was a failure from the very first.

For example restaurant proprietors who were supposed to hire extra help and pay $14 a week minimum wages to waiters and other workers simply could not do it because they were on the brink and not have the money with which to pay the increased prices for meals that would be compelled by those increases. A prominent owner of moderately-priced food told me that if he tried the new plan he would have cut his employees on the side-line in less than 24 hours.

The same old story of trying to defy the laws of supply and demand. Those laws will not be controlled. They always control the prices of commodities and the size of wages. Since we began to fix by government edict that was opposed by the majority of the people has been considerable period.

"Servants' Entrance" To Be Here Nov. 9-10 and Will Be Followed By "Adventure Girl" on Nov. 14

"Servant's Entrance"

Janet Gaynor and Lew Ayres, erstwhile screen sweethearts of "State Fair," have been reunited by popular demand in the Fox Film "Servants' Entrance," playing at the local theatre on Wednesday, Nov. 9.

Miss Gaynor plays a rich society girl in search of new experiences, and Mr. Ayres portrays a young inventor who has turned to chauffeuring in order to support himself while he perfects his new type motorboat.

The picture is a departure from the usual straight romantic role played by Miss Gaynor. Here comedy is blended with romance, and for the first time on the screen Janet Gaynor is seen as a versatile and able comedienne. Her characterization ranges from the wistful romance, which she portrays so well, to hilarious comedy, at which she proves herself a master.

The theme of "Servants' Entrance" deals with the romance which develops between Ayres, as the family chauffeur and Miss Gaynor as the rich girl who is continually in hot water as an inexperienced kitchen maid. The two give a fine performance, and after viewing the picture it is easy to see why the team was so successful in "State Fair."

The principals receive splendid support from a cast headed by Ned Sparks, Walter Connolly, Louise Dresser, G. P. Huntley, Jr., Astrid Allwyn, and Siegfried Rumann.

The picture is an adaptation by Samson's Raphaelson from Sigred Boos novel, and was directed by Frank Lloyd.

"Adventure Girl"

In Joan Lovell in "Adventure Girl," which comes here Nov. 14, lovers of thrills of the movie serial type have a feast in store for them. As a man sitting behind this reviewer at last night's performance said, "It makes 'The Perils of Pauline' look pale pink by comparison."

Setting sail from New York harbor in a 48-foot schooner, the Black Hawk, and accompanied only by her aged father and two able-bodied seamen, the intrepid heroine of "The Cradle of the Deep" set forth for Central America. While off Cape Hatteras, the Jack Hawk ran into what was probably the worst sea storm ever recorded by a camera. One of the masts was carried away and a sailor was swept overboard. Needless to say, the fearless Joan plunged into the briny deep and rescued him.

Becalmed for days and suffering tortures from thirst, she rowed forty miles to the shores of a tropical island, and while there was attacked by a deadly fer-de-lance snake. This time she was rescued by a mongoose which happened along in the nick of time and which battled the snake to the death.

Later, she met the Princess of a semi-savage tribe on the shores of Guatemala, and with her journeyed inland to visit the ruins of a past civilization. Here Joan searched for a great emerald, "so big and green that men die looking at its beauty." Friend Princess objected to this, however, and gave battle to the daughter of the seas and a fist fight and hair-pulling match that would do credit to a pair of professional boxers ensued.

Adventure followed adventure in unbroken succession and the dramatic climax was reached when the flames were rising high around her. Her appetite for adventure still unsatisfied, she dashed off on a raft that was equipped with an outboard motor and headed to sea with the enraged savages giving chase in their war canoes. When Joan's motor broke down, this reviewer's heart was in his throat.

Necessity is the mother of invention, however, and Joan met this situation by puncturing the huge gasoline drum and pouring its contents on the surface of the water and setting fire to it against the pursuers. Then she dove overboard and swam underwater to safety.

If you enjoy hair-raising thrills you'll thoroughly enjoy Joan Lovell —"Adventure Girl."

NORTHVILLE PLYMOUTH TO CLASH TODAY

Orange And Black Gridders Hope To Make Game Second Straight

Today Northville meets their great football rivals on Northville's field. Last year the Northville gridders took the Plymouth team into ? ?? ? by the score of six-to-nothing. In the past fourteen years, Northville has won six out of the 14 while Plymouth has taken 8 games.

Plymouth is bound to be out for revenge this year. They have a very strong team this year, having been beaten only once and tied once. The only team to beat them was River Rouge. Northville, on the other hand, is out to keep the football in the ? what is it? for another year. After being beaten by Farmington last Friday, the Northville gridders are all fighting mad, and they are sure that Plymouth will suffer its second defeat of the year.

The starting lineup is doubtful, as several of the players are nursing injuries received in previous games. But it will probably be as follows:

Nurider, L. E.
Meyers, L. T.
McGee, L. G
Bray, C.
Boyd, R. G.

THE OBSERVATION COLUMN

This freshie is a true freshman. He is quite bashful in school, but, outside, oh my! He is a blonde with blue eyes, and has plump rosy cheeks. He usually wears glasses and has a bad habit of wrinkling up his cute little nose being some pounds overweight. As all chubby people have, this person has a very good natured, jolly look.

He is a very neat dresser. His love for horses was inherited from his father.

GUM CHEWING

By Winifred McCardle

Behold! those moving jaws and bulged out cheeks. The teacher stares and a cold shiver runs down your back and presto! the moving jaws and bulged out cheeks cease to be as you walk to the basket.

It takes a lot to be a good gum chewer. We can all chew a little or perhaps, a lot, but there's an art to it. And that's the sad part of it all because so few of us have that art.

Now if we(the student body) were to start a fad such as chewing tobacco and spitting, then there would be war. But as it is we just sit quietly and chew (unless its bubble gum) and there's really no harm done. In fact it helps to keep the lines of the chin graceful.

"Jack, are you chewing gum?" says the teacher with fire in her eyes. "Well, er-a I was but I swallowed it." "Mary, do you have gum in your mouth?" says another with great determination. "No, I'm chewing thread." So you can readily see how the poor pupils get blamed for chewing gum when perhaps, they only have a wad of paper, rubber band, or thread in their mouths.

During these times we all, to a certain extent stop and think of the money involved in everything we do. So take in consideration the poor gum manufacturers. They need the sales they get and once in a while a salesman is even nice enough to come to school and give us a lot of free samples.

If by any chance, you doubt that the students do support gum sales all you have to do is go into any room in the school and look on the seats or under the desks for the surplus amounts.

Another important factor in the question of chewing gum is looking at it from the health standpoint. We have so many soft foods on the market now that we aren't exercising our jaws enough. So if we'd chew gum every day it would help in that respect.

So, in closing, I state that we could do something much more harmful to ourselves and very much more irritating to the teachers than chewing gum.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

The Orange and Black

This week the question that was chosen by the inquiring reporter deals with the Orange and Black page. Through reading this over I find the majority of the students are inclined to believe this year's page is not equal to that of the past year. Here may I briefly state that last year there were more reporters than there are this year and also that last year there were more who had at least a year of experience in newspaper work.

It is also true that we have fallen down on the news stories, but we hope to improve as the year progresses. Also different individuals might help along this line by writing up something which might be of news value to the Orange and Black reporters.

In conclusion I wish to state the fact that is not known by many of my fellow classmates. During the past few weeks because of lack of space much of the news has been eliminated. This is not the fault of the Orange and Black as far as I can see and furthermore I agree with those who say that the page would be improved by the addition of more reporters to the staff.

A certain young man of the twelfth grade civics class is a Socialist. I wonder who could have been using their influence upon him?

The students of the twelfth grade civics class surely did prove that Northville has "Red Hot Material" for a debating squad last Monday when they defended certain political candidates.

The first dance given by the senior class this year will be on the evening of the Plymouth football game, Nov. 9. Celebrate Northville's victory by attending the dance which will be held in the high school gymnasium.

The junior dance proved to be very successful both financially and socially. I know this money helped a very worthy cause and I believe the class feels very happy over its success.

Celebrate Armistice Week by attending the Northville-Plymouth game. You will have much to yell about as Northville also wishes to celebrate after losing a colorful game last week. This contest always supplies many thrills, so be sure and witness the victory which N. H. S. has longed for all season.

CORNER FOR BOOK LOVERS

By Rita Sprenger

If you should travel, not only to a far country, but also turn the years forward and backward at will, where and when would you go? First of all, I think, our curiosity would get the better of us and we should want to see what the future holds. But everyone of us would love to turn back the clock to some period of romance or history.

Perhaps we should join the gay French Court of the pre-revolution days. Or maybe, like Twain's Connecticut Yankee, we would visit King Arthur's Court. I think, however, I'd be inclined to hesitate.

But the mid world over, whose history is as real to us as our own? Whose is as interesting? There would be more than one of us who would chose for their goal our early colony days.

This is really not so hard as it sounds. Yes, I mean it! First of all, see that you are sitting comfortably. Ready? Hold this in your hands; it is your ears and your eyes and mind and Elizabeth Gale will wave the wand. See, your key has something written on it. It is "Katrina Van Ost and the Silver Rose."

Katrina's mother was dead and her father had died only a few days before the opening of the story. Poor twelve year old Katrina was sent, against her will, to New Amsterdam, in the New World.

Her relatives in New Amsterdam with whom she was to live, turned out much nicer than she had expected. There were Evert Von Ost, her father's cousin, his wife, Gertie, and their only child, Roelf. But best of all there was Granny. She was the refuge to which the little girl flew when Gertie's April temperament swung suddenly from sunshine to tempest.

But Gertie really loved her as did Evert and soon Katrina was very happy in the Van Ost "boxerie." There she grew up with the daughters of their two neighbors, Etta Holz and Marie Peters. These growing up days were full days. Full of gaiety and hilarious excitement and excitement of quite another kind.

The Dutch settlers soon learned, as did all the others, that the more intoxicated they could make an Indian the easier he would part with all he possessed. They (also like all the others) found that such treatment can not go on forever. The natives took revenge on guilty and innocent alike and though Evert had always befriended them he was among those who suffered.

What! Back already? When you are interested time goes quickly. How quickly the years went! You are back in Northville, 1934 but will you ever forget New Amsterdam?

ORANGE AND BLACK ELEVEN MEETS DEFEAT

F. H. S. Spoils Northville's Chances To Win The Championship

Northville scored a touchdown in the second quarter of the Northville-Farmington game last Friday when Deal shot a pass to Marburger, who went over for the first touchdown of the game. N. H. S. made another goal in the third quarter when the Orange and Black went down the field with four first downs and then on Farmington's one-yard line. Deal threw a short pass to the feet Marburger, who again made the score.

The score being 12-0 at the end of the third period coach Watts placed a few reserves in the lineup so he could save the regulars for the coming Plymouth game. Farmington, taking advantage of the new players, scored a touchdown in the first play of the fourth quarter. The conversion was very good. Farmington's other touchdown was made in the last five minutes of the game. When F. H. S. pushed over the Orange and Black goal line, making the score 13-12. The gun sounded, ending the game and Northville's chance at the Suburban League championship, and giving Farmington their first victory of the year.

Walled Lake Trims Brighton

Walled Lake continued to stay in the winning column Friday by defeating Brighton 33 to 6.

In the early part of the first period Walled Lake seemed to be suffering from an over-dose of self-confidence but after shaking this off they were able to chalk up 13 points in this period. The first touchdown was accounted for by a long pass to Harold Geigler, left end, and the extra point by a line drive Bill Myers, fullback, hammered the line for the second touchdown but the extra point was lost.

In the second period Brighton picked up a bit and scored their only touchdown of the game when Bidwell, quarterback, threw a pass just over the line of scrimmage to Avis, left end, who ran seventy yards for a touchdown. They failed to get their extra point.

During the intermission, Coach Hursh must have instilled some earnest intentions into the local boys as they came back in the third period and gained four first downs to their opponents none and added seven more points to their score.

In the fourth period the resorters were still on a rampage and through the ability of the line to open up holes plus the well-timed blocking by Power and Richardson, Myers was able to smash through for two more touchdowns which left the score 33 to 6.

NORTHVILLE FOLKS HONOR ANCESTORS

A number of Northville folks, descendants of the old pioneers of Redford, made their annual pilgrimage to the resting place of these ancestors Friday, Oct 26

The first pioneer was laid to rest in the old Redford cemetery on the Telegraph road in 1800 on the land which was deeded to him by the government and which he later gave to the community as a "burying ground."

When the city grew out to meet this once quiet spot, and outsiders inquired upon the sacredness of the resting place of the early pioneers, the loyal descendants rose up en masse and obtained a permanent title to this cemetery. A strong fence was started and year by year is added to and the cemetery is kept in repair by the funds raised at this annual meeting with a chicken pie dinner each October.

Here lie James Milroy and his wife, pioneers from Scotland, grandparents of Mrs. Mary Christensen, and James Smith and his wife, grandparents of Mrs. Chas. L. Dubuar.

Chas. E. Rogers, Mrs. Ida Hendryx and Mrs. Lilly Angell, all have ancestors in this cemetery and joined in the gathering.

Mr.

MERCHANT:

3,299 POTENTIAL BUYERS—

are you turning them away from your store?

A test was made recently in Ann Arbor to determine how effective good lighting was in attracting customers. A store was chosen for the experiment, and the number of people attracted to its windows in one week—while the old window lighting was still being used—was carefully counted and the figure recorded.

Then improved window lighting was put in. The number of people attracted to the windows in one week jumped 3,299—over THREE THOUSAND potential buyers who had not looked in the windows the week before. Can you afford to pass up this many prospects week after week?

Improving your lighting is not necessarily expensive. Often a few dollars will bring your lighting system up-to-date, and your increased sales will more than pay for the cost of alterations. Detroit Edison engineers will gladly check your lighting without charge or obligation, and submit recommendations. This is part of our service. Call any Detroit Edison office.

THIS WEEK
By H. H. WHITE

Recently as I walked away from a very fine entertainment, the one who was mainly responsible for the success of the affair said to me, "Very little thanks and appreciation has been shown me for this effort."

I could not help but think as I left this person that perhaps they were a little selfish. Must we always do things in this world ever alert for the "thank you" forgetting the joy and benefit we derive from doing it?

This person I thought was sitting his vanity in front of me and was certainly seeking for gratitude when it would not be gratuitously returned. We should not always consider appreciation as our inalienable right. We must learn to serve and do without any specific acknowledgement.

Anyone will grant that ingratitude is an ugly and impolite thing at best, but one who insists on the reward of "thank you" is equally ungracious. It shows the doer to be vain, and that is always an ugly and unpleasant thing.

The beauty in doing any gracious or kind act, lies in the opportunity of doing it, solely. We should find reward in the fact that we have the power, ability, and the desire to do something worthwhile.

Therein lies the essence of reward, and we should not seek any other motives, or expressed thanks where the chance comes our way to do something fine and really worthwhile.

History via quotation: On May 8, 1929, a headline—"Women Drunk Under Dry Act." On Oct. 23, 1930, another—"Deaths From Alcoholism Increasing Among Women."

On Dec. 6, 1933, a very large headline—"Prohibition Repeal Is Ratified at 5:32 p. m."

On March 21, 1934, a news report—"An increase of 40 per cent in the number of women arrested for drunkenness during the three months of repeal in Boston has been officially tabulated." On Oct. 24, 1934, at a hearing before the Massachusetts Alcoholic Beverages Commission, a remark by Commission Chairman William P. Hayes—"Drinking by young women has increased enormously, outrageously. I don't know where it is going to end!"

THANKSGIVING DINNER should be a festive occasion whether it is a family feast or a simple gathering of one or two friends. Plain or elaborate, it matters little, if the table is cheerily abundant with the good things for which we give thanks. But the table, though simple, should be attractively set as a background for this bountiful spread. The best smooth linen, shining silver, and clear glass will gleam quietly against the rich autumnal colors of a harvest centerpiece. To make this centerpiece, select a large, shapely pumpkin with deeply marked sections. With a sharp knife, cut out alternate sections leaving about an inch intact at the top and bottom of the pumpkin. Scrape out as much of the membrane and seeds as possible and fill the hollow with fresh fruits—apples, oranges, tangerines, bananas, pears, cranberries, grapes and nuts. The frame should then be so full that some of the fruit tumbles out of the pumpkin windows on to the tablecloth in all its gorgeous autumn colors. The menu, too, should be very special for the family holiday. Here is one that will grace your table with all the trim Fathers!

Minted Fruit Cup—Combine 2½ cups grapefruit, ½ cup grape juice and ¼ cup powdered sugar. Crush several sprigs of mint leaves and add to fruit. Let stand in cold place for 12 hours. Garnish with sprigs of mint leaves dusted with powdered sugar. Serves 8.

Potato Chips with Savory Cheese Spread—Add 2 teaspoons Tomato Ketchup or Chili Sauce and 1 teaspoon Evaporated Horseradish, which has been soaked in 1 tablespoon cold water for 10 minutes, to 1 package cream cheese. Mix until soft enough to spread on potato chips or thin wafers.

Braised Onions—Peel 12 small onions and cut in halves crosswise. Place outside up in a covered baking dish. Add 2 teaspoons Worcestershire Sauce to ½ cup Consommé and pour over onions. Sprinkle 1 teaspoon salt and 2 tablespoons brown sugar over top, and dot with 3 tablespoons butter. Bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) for 1¼ hours, or until tender.

Piquante Dressing—Mix ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar and ¼ teaspoon paprika. Add ¼ cup Pure Cider Vinegar and ½ cup Pure Olive Oil, and beat thoroughly. Add ½ teaspoon Prepared Brown Mustard, ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce, ½ teaspoon onion juice and 2 drops tabasco sauce. Mix well.

Mince Meat Tarts—Mix 2 cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon sugar. Add ⅔ cup lard, and blend well, using a fork or two knives or tips of fingers. Add approximately ⅓ cup cold water (just enough to form a firm dough). Chill. Roll pastry very thin, cut into rounds, and fit rounds into small cup cake pans. Spread inside of pastry cups with melted butter and fill with Mince Meat. Place 6 narrow strips of pastry across top of each in lattice fashion, then press ends of strips down around edges of cup with a fork which has been dipped in flour. Bake for 15 minutes, or until brown in a hot oven (450° F.). Cool partially and serve with whipped cream, or a ball of vanilla cream on top of each. Serves 8.

HERE ARE 6 things we want you to prove for yourself ON A TRIAL ELECTRIC RANGE

There is only one way to find out about an electric range, and that is to use it in your own kitchen. Here are six things we want you to prove for yourself—to judge whether electric cooking is not superior to any other cooking method you have ever used:

2. HEALTHFULNESS. Half-a-cup of water is ample to cook vegetables. Precious minerals and important food values are retained, instead of being lost in steam or poured down the sink with excess water.
3. CLEANLINESS. Electric heat is as clean as sunlight. There is no smoke or soot to blacken utensils or soil kitchen walls and curtains.
4. CONVENIENCE. Snap the switch and start to cook. No matches, no flame—only pure heat from a glowing wire.
5. ACCURATE OVEN CONTROL. Exact oven heat control means better and more uniform baking results. Light, fine-grained cakes and flaky pastries are easy to obtain, time after time.
6. MODERN COOKING. Only an electric range is a modern range. Other stoves use exactly the same cooking methods in vogue 50 years ago.

We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, and let you use it for six months, removing it without charge if you do not like it. During this trial period, you pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense.

Send in your application for a trial range today!

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Entertain at Masquerade Saturday Evening—

Looking in at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orlow G. Owen Saturday evening one might have guessed that he was way down south.

Colored folks of all degrees of duskiness were there, from mulatoes to the typical plantation type. Even the gay negro from Harlem was there in garb that could be heard as well as seen.

The merriment of the evening was suited to the company with music, games and dancing to the music of Scott Montgomery's orchestra. A lunch was served.

Northville Woman's Club Hears Authoress at Plymouth Friday—

The Northville Woman's Club, together with the Arche Club of Wayne, were guests of the Plymouth Club at a meeting in the Hotel Mayflower of that city, last week, Thursday.

About 200 members and guests were greeted by the president, Mrs. Ray Johns, and other officers, as they entered the meeting room.

Mrs. Johns welcomed the assembly and introduced Mrs. Maxwell Moon as chairman of the day. She in turn presented Mesdames McAlister, Cassidy and Cutler, who, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Strassen, gave several pleasing musical selections.

Mrs. Moon then introduced the speaker of the day, Miss Helen Hull, authoress and professor of English at Columbia University. Mrs. Moon and Miss Hull had played together while children, during Miss Hull's visits to relatives in Plymouth, an aunt, Miss Anna McGill, still residing there.

In responding, Miss Hull referred to several incidents happening during her visits in Plymouth and thus established a friendly footing with her audience.

Her discussion covered the problems of writers today compared with those of 25 years ago and gave a review of older and modern authors.

Miss Hull said a book should do one of three things for its reader: give pleasure, give an interpretation of life about him or act as a stimulus. Another statement was that present day writers' works show an excited turmoil of growth—merely a transitory phase and not real change or retrogression.

At the close of her talk which was far too short for her hearers, Miss Hull was thanked in behalf of the Plymouth members and their guests by Mrs. Moon, and was also presented with a beautiful silver tray as a token of appreciation.

Mr. Sterling Eaton then sang several delightful numbers, with Mrs. Rosa Schrader as accompanist, and for a final encore to a very pleasant day the guests were served tea at tastily arranged tables, prettily appointed tea tables, with covers for Plymouth high school teachers first year classes.

The Northville club will entertain the Plymouth ladies at a meeting in January at the home of Mrs. Robert Yerkes on the Eight Mile road.

A very unique program was carried out Friday afternoon with a round table discussion of the various themes considered at the recent session of the University of Michigan last Spring. Participating in the program were Mesdames E. L. Mills, Geo. C. Harper, L. M. Eaton and C. C. Yerkes.

Some said it was the best program the club has had for some time.

Merry-Go-Round Club Enjoys Hallowe'en Party at Filkins Home—

The Merry-Go-Round ladies were given a real Hallowe'en party Wednesday, Oct. 30, at the home of Mrs. Lucy Filkins, assisted by her daughter (June) Mrs. E. A. Smith, also by Mrs. Mae Filkins.

The colors, yellow and black, were in evidence everywhere, black cats and witches on broom sticks, decorated the curtains. Pumpkins on the table, yellow and black candles and electric lights with yellow shades furnished a lighting for the dining room.

All this with yellow and black table covers and napkins made such a pretty setting for the day, and my! the good things we had to eat made us all so full of happiness and good cheer that after the luncheon no one wanted to work but just sat around with a bit of political gossip thrown in.

As usual, some were missing. Mrs. Flora Babbitt, Mrs. Mary Yerkes, and Mrs. Elizabeth Clark, and while we missed them, we know they are missing these meetings too. The next meeting will be held on Dec. 5, with Mrs. Kittie Harmon assisted by Mrs. Nellie Hewitt. No meeting in November. Secy.

We caught a small snake. We are going to see what he will do this winter.

Helen Kreeger's birthday is on Sunday, November 11, 1934. She will be thirteen years old.

Miss Reed and Miss Jameson have recently visited our school.

SCHOOL NURSE SEES MUCH IMPROVEMENT IN TEETH THIS YEAR

The children in the kindergarten this year are deserving of special notice, according to the school nurse.

After going through the regular routine of inspecting teeth and throats, she reports that never in her four years of work in the school has there been so large a group with such excellent teeth.

Practically three-fourths of the whole group have exceptionally fine teeth, many of them have had fillings put in, but this work has been done early enough to protect the first teeth from early decay and to safeguard the incoming permanent teeth, and many of them have perfect teeth with no defects.

Much credit is due the parents of these little ones for their wisdom in training their children in the regular and proper care of these first teeth.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church

"My meat is to do the will of Him that sent Me." John 4, 34

In a list of "Don'ts for Machinists" that was placarded in a large shop, one of the first was, "Don't argue with your boss." It is a good rule for every shop and office, even though sometimes there may be bosses who make mistakes and who ask unreasonable things. It is a far more important rule for the Christian in the spiritual realm. God makes no mistakes. He is never unreasonable. He seeks only to give us the very best.

But if we have accepted the Lord Jesus Christ as our Savior our obedience will spring from a far deeper motive than the obedience we give to earthly employers or rulers. It will transcend even a sense of right and duty. The Lord Jesus puts our obedience on the basis of our love for Him. He says to us, "If ye love Me, keep My commandments." And again, "If a man love Me, he will keep My words."

The importance of obedience to God is seen from the manner in which the Lord Jesus Himself obeyed during His earthly ministry. He said, "My meat is to do the will of Him that sent Me." He is the only one who ever walked this earth in human body who could truthfully say, "And He that sent Me is with Me: the Father hath not left Me alone; for I do always those things that please Him." We have also the Father's confirming word as to the perfect obedience of Christ. He spoke from heaven, "This is My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased."

It is true, of course, that none of us can do the will of God as Christ did. Nevertheless, it also is true that Christ has promised us His Holy Spirit, who works in us both to will and to do the things of God. For this reason we should pray much and often for the Holy Spirit, who can and will lead us into the paths of obedience, who will lift us up when we fall, lead us aright when we stray away, and who will forgive us when we go wrong.

Our Worship and Sunday School is held every Sunday morning at the usual time, 10 o'clock. The pastor will preach.

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.249): "Let us feel the divine energy of spirit, bringing us into newness of life, and recognizing no mortal nor material power as able to destroy. Let us rejoice that we are subject to no divine 'powers that be.' Such is the true Science of being."

THE DEVASTATING HORDE

(Reseda, Calif., News)

The dailies have been so full of stories about the indigents, riffraff and unemployed flocking into Southern California over the highways as a result of Sinclair's glittering promises that we decided last week to find out for our own satisfaction.

We drove to Barstow and spent the greater part of the day trying to get at the facts. Of course we had previously seen the statistics of the state department of motor vehicles and the department of agriculture; but we wanted to see for ourself.

After a few hours spent at both Daggett and Yermo it was easy to see that the reports coming out from Sacramento are conservative. During one hour at Daggett we saw three truckloads and four cars, all of the most dilapidated kind, carrying a total of 38 persons. Inquiries revealed there was less than $25 in cash in the whole outfit and not a single one of the lot had any idea what he was going to do or where he would land once he reached Los Angeles. Vehicles loaded with these indigents bore Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Tennessee license plates. The passengers were frank to say they had come to the coast because Sinclair had promised everybody a job.

Over at Yermo, where traffic coming down from Salt Lake is checked in, we counted four rattletrap cars with tattered passengers within 25 minutes. They carried South Dakota, Nebraska and Colorado plates, their drivers saying they had decided on California in order to be in on the ground floor with Sinclair. This is almost an average of one ingredient a minute through one checking station alone. What will it be if Sinclair should be elected?

H. S. FOOTBALL BOYS GUESTS OF THEATRE

The management of the Penniman-Allen theatre has extended an invitation to the members of the high school football team to be their guests Wednesday evening, Nov. 14th. Seats have been reserved for them.

CHANGES ARE MADE AT "FLOWER ACRES"

"Flower Acres" is undergoing some radical improvements these days. This nursery home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl P. Fitzpatrick and their mother, Mrs. Jessie Malmburg on the Beck road will shortly present a very changed appearance.

The house occupied by the Fitzpatricks has been moved to the rear of the lot where the excavation has been completed for a fine deep cellar. The garage and other small buildings also have been moved back leaving a wide expanse for extensive landscaping of the whole frontage.

The house will be altered materially with the addition of porches, a breakfast nook and other changes which will make it more beautiful and convenient.

Each year since its purchase, Flower Acres has taken on additional beauty with new plantings and gradual developing of a lovely park. The cottage occupied by Mrs. Malmburg, looks like a mountain home in its rock garden setting.

At one side a waterfall plays down over rocky steps with plants of a great variety growing luxuriantly among them. Mrs. Malmburg knows each plant by name and loves them all. A terrace has been laid out in front of the cottage with flag stone steps leading to the entrance.

Altogether the plans for the development of this spot are very ambitious and before long this will be one of the "show" places near Northville.

AUTO DEALERS URGE DRIVERS TO CHECK CARS FOR WINTER

Motor cars will function at peak efficiency in the coldest weather, if the necessary steps are taken now to prepare them for winter driving, according to a bulletin issued by Marz Motor Sales.

Engine oil and transmission and rear axle gear lubricants should be changed to lubricants of the proper viscosity for winter operation; engines should be tuned up and put in shape for quick starting, anti-freeze added to the cooling system, batteries checked, shock absorbers checked and a car heater installed to insure utmost comfort in winter driving.

Beyond all, tires should be carefully inspected, and if treads are worn new tires should be mounted so that proper traction and braking is assured on slippery roads.

The cooling system should be well flushed to remove sediment before the anti-freeze is added. In most cases it is considered better to prepare against engine and radiator damage by freezing by adding anti-freeze well in advance of cold weather.
