ELECTION TO BE HELD ON MARCH 4TH

County Officers Will Be Nominated; Township Election April 1

The election bug is stirring again—our first infallible sign of spring: Within the next 60 days voters in the township of Northville and other nearby townships will have cast their ballots at two elections, a county primary election on March 4, and the township election on April 1.

This is the off year for the village election, all present officers in Northville remaining in office until next spring. The village elects its president every two years, and the various commissioners for four-year terms, three of whom were elected last year. Two places on the commission will be filled at the 1936 election.

The Wayne County Primary election on March 4 will be the first one to occupy the attention of voters. At that time people will go to the polls to vote for the nomination of one candidate for each of the county offices of auditor, school commissioner, and circuit court judge.

The township election this year comes on April 1. The time for the republican and democratic caucuses in Northville has not been determined, but will be arranged at a meeting of the township board sometime during the next month.

None of the men in office at the present time have signified as yet whether they wish to run for re-election.

Elmer L. Smith, township clerk, states that voters who have not registered, may do so at his office on any week day until and including February 16. All voters must be registered at that time if they wish to be able to cast their ballots at the Wayne county primary election on March 4.

He will be at his office on Main street on the three successive Saturdays of February 2, 9, and 16 from 8 a. m. until 8 p. m. for this express purpose of receiving registrations, although voters may apply at his office any time until February 16.

This last day for general registration does not apply to people who vote under the absent voter's law, which provides that any voter who is not registered, and who claims the right to vote by absent voter's ballot, may at the time of applying for absentee's ballot, present to Mr. Smith an affidavit for registration.

REVEREND K. S. NORTH TO GIVE STEREOPTICAN SERMON

This coming Sunday evening the Reverend Kendal S. North will give a stereoptican sermon, representing it with a series of beautiful colored slides which in some instances are true representatives of great master's paintings.

The choir will render music appropriate for the occasion.

This will be a very impressive service and if you have no other church to attend you are invited to attend in the evening hour of worship.

PHOTOGRAPHS OF MRS. CHILD'S HOME IN SPUR MAGAZINE

Several Northville folks received a pleasant surprise lately when in looking through the January issue of the Spur magazine, they discovered three pages of pictures of the LeRoy W. Childs home, "White hall," near Atlanta, Georgia.

Mrs. Childs is well known in Northville, since she used to come here several times a year to visit her father, Dr. Randall Schuyler, who just a few years ago lived in the house next to the postoffice near the corner of Center and Dunlap streets.

Two views of the exterior and of the home and grounds are shown. The home was inspired by a villa on the Brenta. It is surrounded by 15 acres of beautiful rolling pine woodland.

There is also a picture of the library, dining-room, living-room, a bed-room and some other views of the interior of the home, which are all beautifully decorated.

CAR IS DEMOLISHED; MAN ESCAPES DEATH

Garfield Kline of Detroit narrowly escaped death at 9 p. m. Tuesday at the corner of Eight Mile and Novi roads and the car he was driving was demolished beyond recognition when in rounding the curve there his car slid on the loose gravel against two trees. He was driving west on the Eight Mile road at what observers termed an extremely high speed. When he reached the intersection of Eight Mile and Novi roads he failed to make the curve to the right and his car was hurled sideways on the loose gravel for more than 25 feet against the two trees.

The tremendous impact [illegible] the [illegible] to such an extent that only a few small parts can be salvaged from it.

The extent of Kline's injuries is a sprained ankle and minor cuts. He said his narrow escape was due to the fact that the shock of striking the tree knocked the steering column over to the other side of the car, and he, holding the wheel, was also jerked away from the side of the impact. His foot was under the steering column, however, and his ankle was sprained as a result.

Kline according to his story, had just purchased the car, a 1934 Ford deluxe coupe, from the firm of Dawson and Long, Detroit dealers, and he was giving it a trial run. He had left his home in Detroit about 7:30 p. m. He is an employee of that firm.

Dealers' license plates were on the car, and because of this fact, the car will be held at the Marz garage here pending action by the Secretary of State's office, since it is a state violation to put dealers' license plates on a car which has already been licensed once.

Miss Ida Pratt and brother, Stephen Pratt of Detroit were Northville callers Wednesday.

DR. BACKUS LECTURES AT MAYBURY SAN

Gives Interesting Talk On Customs of Chinese People

Patients at William H. Maybury Sanatorium enjoyed one of the most interesting lectures heard in recent months when they assembled in the auditorium last Saturday evening to listen to Dr. Reno W. Backus, the latest addition to the staff, home on furlough from China, talk on "Experiences in China."

Dr. Backus was associated at the Hopkins Memorial Hospital in Peiping for several years and spent a good portion of the time discussing that city.

He described it as the triple-walled city. There is a wall around it that is 50 feet high and 40 feet wide. People can drive their cars around on it, and use it as a highway. In the center of town is the "forbidden city," which is also walled in, and contains the residences of high officials and government buildings. The former residence of the emperor is in the center of the forbidden city and it in turn is encircled by a wall. This building is now used as a museum, since the capital of China has been moved 200 miles south to Nanking.

"The Chinese resent the influence of Western Civilization in their country," said Dr. Backus. "They stick to their ancient ideas on medicine. In some ways they are justified in resenting this invasion into their land, for many foreigners have taken advantage of them.

"The city of Peiping has a population of 1,050,000 people crowded into the space of 16 square miles. This causes great congestion. One of their curious customs is that they face their home always north and south. Families have a great habit of sticking together. When a son marries, his father builds a home for him at the rear of his own house, and as each of his other sons marry, the father buys additional land at the rear of his lot, and builds a home for him there, so that all the homes are in a straight line north and south.

"The shops in general are small and unsanitary. The dealers always ask much more than the value of an article than it is worth and the buyer must dicker with him and offer him about one-third of his price. In addition to the regular merchants, there are street pedlars everywhere who sell a wide variety of trinkets, most of which appear to be worthless.

"There seems to be an abundance of expert craftsmen in the city, who turn out some beautiful pottery, woodwork and needlecraft. All of this merchandise can be purchased at ridiculously low prices in American money.

"The younger generation has adopted some of the articles of wearing apparel of Western Civilization and it is quite amusing to see a Chinese boy wearing an American pair of trousers, but with the rest of his costume following the styles of his native land, the same styles that have characterized Chinese clothing for centuries."

Northville Men Attend Fair Meet

Indications are bright for the Northville-Wayne County fair for 1935. After returning from the convention of the Michigan Association of Fairs, held in Detroit on January 23 and 24, Northville delegates were optimistic about the coming fair, and feel that this year's fair edition will be better than any of its predecessors.

Nelson C. Schrader, president of the fair association, announces that the Northville fair has secured one of the most outstanding acts ever shown in the state. It is the highest act in history, 130 feet up in the air, and will have some sensational trapeze work.

The banquet of the convention at the Fort Shelby hotel had as its toastmaster former Governor Fred W. Green. James Thomson, the new state director of Agriculture, was one of the after-dinner speakers. Governor Fitzgerald, who was also scheduled to speak, was not able to attend, due to a case of the flu.

Northville men at the convention were Nelson C. Schrader, Floyd A. Northrop, William E. Forney, A. E. Fuller, Elmer L. Smith, Ralph Foreman, and Glenn Richardson.

The convention of the fair association is held each year so that the various fairs may meet to select free acts, and to purchase advertising and fireworks.

EASTERN STAR BALL TO BE BIG EVENT

The annual Eastern Star-Masonic ball will be held Friday evening, February 22 in the high school gym. The committees are as follows: Music, Mrs. Helen Sweet, Norman Denne; decorations, Chub Smith, Harry Bolton, Harry Wegenschutz, Mrs. Genevieve Fly, Mrs. Jennie Turnbull, Mrs. Helen Zimmer; refreshments, the February committee with Miss Zona May Harris in charge; reception, Past Matrons and Past Patrons.

Tickets will be sold for $1.00 per couple and twenty-five cents for spectators.

This is an informal, dance and there will be no invitations mailed this year. The public is cordially invited to come and have a good time dancing to the strains of Strassen's eight-piece band.

Refreshments will be served.

1934 LICENSES ARE GOOD UNTIL MARCH

Announcement came this week from Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state that 1934 auto license plates will be legal until March 1 and that [illegible] no extension will be granted.

Approval is now before the legislature to permit the use of half-fee windshield stickers until July 1. The measure has passed the Senate and it is believed that it will also be approved by the House. The first use of the half-fee stickers was made possible by an act of legislature in 1932, and was for a two year period only.

DETROIT PHYSICIAN TO ADDRESS CLUB

Dr. Harry Waite of Detroit will address the Northville Woman's club the afternoon on World Problems in [illegible] at the regular meeting. [illegible] reports will also be given.

DONON IS ELECTED HEAD OF CONSTABLES

Constable Philip W. Donon, of Spring Drive was unanimously elected president of the Constables club of Detroit and Wayne county for the ensuing year at their weekly meeting Friday, January 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sinden spent Sunday with relatives at Delhi, Ontario.

NORTHVILLE GIRL APPEARS AS GYPSY IN SPANISH DANCE

Audrey Barbara Kline, niece of Constable and Mrs. Philip W. Donon participated as a solo dancer in the semi-annual recitals of Miss Emme Hartsell's dance studio held in the Masonic auditorium at Detroit Friday evening, January 25.

Audrey, who has studied for two years with Miss Hartsell, did a lovely gypsy tambourine dance in costume to the music of Moszkowski's Spanish dance.

Charles H. Bennett Tells Rotary About His Travels Through China And Japan And of Their Contrast

The fascinating story of his trip to Japan and China last September was the subject Charles H. Bennett, of Plymouth, discussed at the Rotary club meeting Tuesday noon, January 29.

He made the trip with his wife to attend the international convention of the Red Cross in Tokyo. Mr. Bennett, a member of the Plymouth Rotary club, told of attending club meetings wherever he went.

"When we landed from our steamer in Yokohama," said Mr. Bennett, "the first thing that struck me was the courtesy of the customs officials. They had opened our bags, but the minute they discovered we were there to attend the Red Cross convention they immediately closed them up for us, and apologized for inconvenlencing us.

"From there we proceeded up to Tokyo, from which we left the next evening to visit China, since our convention was not due to open yet for a couple of weeks. After a journey of four days and four nights that took us through Mukden and Tientsin, we reached Peking, which is also known as Peiping.

"Peking is the most unusual city I have ever seen" he continued. "Its architecture and the customs of its inhabitants are deep in Chinese tradition. People are living there today just as they did a thousand years ago. For every wedding there is a parade, and there must have been a lot of people getting married then for everywhere we saw these parades. They consist of a long procession of relatives and attendants and the bride to be, who is carried in a sedan chair to the home of the groom, where she will meet her future husband for the first time.

"The entire city seems to be going backward instead of advancing. Although there are some motor cars, there still are many camels to be seen everywhere."

One of the most interesting of the many curios that he brought back with him, gathered from both China and Japan, was a brick from the great wall of China. It is red in color and is considerably larger and heavier than the bricks we use today, and is 5,000 years old. Scientists have tried in vain to discover its ingredients, but it is well known that rice flour was one of the materials. Mr. Bennett marvelled at the great wall of China which is 2500 miles long, 40 feet high and 30 feet wide.

"The Japanese are the most courteous people I have ever seen" declared Mr. Bennett. "When I appeared late at a Rotary meeting at Yokohama all the members stood up as one man to greet me and I was immediately escorted to the seat of honor at the right of the president. Later when the president was reading a notice to the group, I noticed that all were smiling and laughing, and when I asked someone what the news was, I found out that he was announcing a death. Although the Japanese may feel very sad at times, they have an unwritten law that they shall always smile."

"At the Rotary meeting in Tokyo the following week I found they had a membership of 600. They were celebrating the birthdays of five members that day, and had a cake there for each of them. That is just another of their unique customs. Everyone at club meetings carries out the Rotary custom of shaking hands, but everywhere else the Japanese have the habit of bowing to each other when they meet, and it is really a most pleasant form of greeting.

"If you think the Japanese are a war-like people you are greatly mistaken," asserted Mr. Bennett. "They want peace. And the remarkable feature about them is that they have made more progress in the last few years than any other nation in the world."

EXCHANGITES HEAR TALK ON HOUSING ACT

L. P. Malone Informs Club How People Can Get Federal Aid

Modernizing the homes of Northville, the benefits that it brings, the methods of securing loans, the time of payment and other details were explained by L. P. Malone of the Federal Housing Act office, to the Exchange club Wednesday noon.

Mr. Malone was enthusiastic in his belief that great good would come to the community if a committee headed by Donald P. Yerkes were successful in selling the proposition to the people of the town.

Anyone who can qualify may have the amount needed for repairs and adding to their home equipment up to a total of $2,000.00.

Among the items mentioned for betterment were painting, shingling, papering, new bath room fixtures, heating and many things which the householder feels inclined to go in debt for temporarily.

The speaker said that the loans made would cause a local turnover of at least eight times as that had been the experience in other cities and towns.

Nearly every one at the table had some question and these were promptly answered and helped to make the whole idea much plainer.

Mr. Bovee of the Depositors State Bank said that seven loans had already been made under the provisions of the Housing Act totaling $5,000.00 and that would mean $40,000.00 of local business.

Mr. Malone stated that after [illegible] the Housing Act would enable folks to build a new home if they had the equivalent of 20 per cent of the property value.

Among the guests of the day were [illegible] Lee, R. H. Amerman and R. F. Balloon of the Rotary club, past president R. W. Ambler, M. J. Murphy and D. P. Yerkes, Jr.; R. A. [illegible] of Detroit, F. B. Pierce of Redford, Lee Taylor, Clifford Sinden and John A. Bovee.

A fine [illegible] is expected for the next meeting, Feb. 6.

JACK BLACKBURN HEADS GRAND RAPIDS STORE

The many Northville friends of John W. Blackburn known to his intimates as Jack, will be glad to learn that he has earned a fine promotion. For sometime he has been in Rochester, Michigan where he has been manager of a D. and C. store.

Now, he has been transferred to Grand Rapids, where he will manage a finer store for the same company. The D. and C. people are building a new store which opens this Saturday. The Record joins with his many friends in congratulations and good wishes in Jack's new venture.

MEN'S CHORUS SINGS FOR EASTLAWN SAN. PATIENTS

The Plymouth-Northville Male Chorus gave a program in the Baptist church Monday night for the patients at Eastlawn Sanatorium in their usual good style. There were about one hundred patients able to attend the concert and those who were not able to heard the affair through the amplifying equipment which the church had installed sometime ago to broadcast their services to Eastlawn patients.

Miss Inez Curtis of Plymouth, who is the accompanist for the chorus, gave a fine piano selection and Ernest Racz contributed two violin numbers very pleasingly.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. CARL R. ELY SHOCKS COMMUNITY

The community was shocked and saddened Thursday by news of the sudden death of Mrs. Carl R. Ely, which occurred early that morning.

Mrs. Ely was beloved by many friends, having lived all her life in this vicinity where she took an interest in all of its activities until compelled to retire somewhat because of failing health.

Mrs. Ely (nee Una Roberts) was born in Farmington. She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Harold Bloom, and two sons, Chas., and Ivan.

The funeral service will be held at the home, 112 E. Dunlap St., Saturday, at 2 p. m.

The obituary will appear in the Record next week.

FRED D. SCHRADER RE-NAMED HEAD OF MAYFLOWER HOTEL

Fred D. Schrader, of Plymouth, a brother of Nelson C. Schrader, was elected president of the Community Hotel company, which owns the Mayflower hotel, for another year at a recent meeting of the stockholders.

Charles H. Bennett was again chosen vice-president, and Carl Shear will continue as secretary-treasurer.

For the first time since the hotel was completed reports of the officers reflected a most satisfactory condition of the hotel and all the officers feel optimistic about the future of the business.

Mr. Schrader is one of the original promoters of the hotel project and has devoted considerable time in the operation of the hostelry during the past year.

LAST OF QUARTET OF COAT STEALERS IS ARRESTED HERE

The first arrest made in Northville in several months occurred Saturday afternoon, when Chief of Police Wm. H. Safford arrested a man accused of being one of a party of four that took women's coats from a parked car on the Grand River road several months ago.

The accused, a Northville resident, is Charles Green. The other three men caught several days after the robbery, blamed Green for the whole affair. He was taken to the county jail in Detroit Saturday evening by Wayne county deputy sheriffs.

The coats belonged to women who worked in the Northwestern Inn located on Grand River. Apprehension of the men was effected after a girl, who was wearing one of the stolen coats when she entered this place told authorities how she had obtained the coat and who the men were.

BEEF AND CABBAGE CALL OUT CROWD

With a cold snappy evening to whet their appetite, a good crowd gathered in the dining room of Our Lady of Victory church Tuesday evening and enjoyed a hearty corned beef and cabbage dinner.

The committee outdid themselves in their good cooking.

BOWLERS OF VILLAGE HAVE STAG DINNER

Dr. L. W. Snow Presides Over Gathering Of 200

Nearly 200 Northville men attended the stag dinner party of the Northville Bowling club at the Everglades Inn, Grand River and Seven Mile road, Thursday evening, January 24.

The party marked the half-way point of the bowling season of the Interhouse Bowling league and was an occasion of congratulating the teams at the top of the race, and sympathizing with the ones not so fortunate. At the present time, the Stroh's team is on top of the heap, overtaking the Ambler's only a week ago.

Among the guests present were Circuit Court Judges James E. Chenot and Dewitt Merriam, and Frank Smith, a Detroit attorney, who will be a candidate for nomination for Circuit Court Judge at the Wayne County primary election in March.

The toastmaster of the evening was Dr. L. W. Snow. Following the dinner he called upon various members to give an expression concerning the banquet and the first half of the season just ended. Among these was Sherrill W. Ambler, who amused his audience with his humorous recital of why his team dropped out of first place in the bowling race after holding it all season until the last week. His explanation of this was that his team lost because they wanted to be polite to the others and not because of any lack of ability to remain in the lead.

The banquet was held in a private dining room in the basement of the restaurant. A floor show was presented for the occasion that included singing, dancing and an acrobatic act. A splendid orchestra was also on hand throughout the evening to help make the affair a success.

Orson G. Owen [illegible] of the floor show was called on to sing, as a part of the program by Dr. Snow, and upheld his reputation as a singer in a most convincing manner.

William E. Forney, president of the club announced that another banquet will be held at the conclusion of the season to award the cash prizes to the winning team, and to the high point man in the league.

MR. AND MRS. FRID SET SAIL FOR SOUTH

Leaving on a 21 day cruise Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Frid sailed Thursday noon on the Pastores, of the Columbia line, from New York harbor. They will call to the West Indies with stops in Haiti and Jamaica. From thence the steamer will go to Panama and the main land of South America.

Mr. and Mrs. Frid are having a well-earned vacation and are taking this cruise southward as a belated honeymoon trip.

Forty Typing Students Break Record In Commercial Department of School As Popularity Continues To Grow

With youthful enthusiasm forty young typists are finishing their first semester with a flourish at our local high school.

"This is the best group I ever had," declares Mrs. Wilma Taylor, instructor in the commercial department. "They have accomplished most in the shortest time and I feel justly proud." These students are continuing this course this semester and expect to increase their speed from 40 to 50 or even 60 words a minute.

There are several reasons for the unusual popularity of this department according to Mrs. Taylor. Students are learning from those who go to college that there is a great advantage in being able to hand in typed themes. College professors are human and are apt to judge largely by the legibility of efforts.

With jobs at high premium it is the expert typist who has the advantage in secretarial positions. In teaching, too, the ability to type is found of great advantage.

And these students "mean business." For ninety minutes a day the keys of a roomful of typewriters rattle in rapid rhythm, racing with their own records for speed and accuracy. Upon the wall a daily graph marks their progress. Forty words a minute is no small accomplishment, says Mrs. Taylor, and some have exceeded this.

To make the work more interesting and the typing more rhythmical at times music from a phonograph accompanies the regular click of the keys.

Tests are made in both speed and accuracy. Mary Elizabeth Elkington, Maryanne Nilson and Verna Little "shine" with the largest number of gold stars after their names, which means the most tests without errors.

In speed, Mary Louise Boyden and Edward Angove and June King lead the race.

In speed with no errors, Dorothy Richardson, Mary Louise Boyden, Tom Carrington and Ronald Keeping are in the lead.

With the opening of the new semester a new class of students has caught the contagion of interest and will soon be laboring over the first attempts at teaching their fingers to find the keys automatically. It is even rumored that the popularity of Mrs. Taylor's department is running over to the outside and that a number of students of other days are considering limbering up their fingers on the keys of the typewriter.

Twenty-two new students have enrolled this semester and this makes a total of 63 in the department. Seven additional typewriters have been borrowed in addition to the 18 already belonging to the school.

ELMER PERRIN MAKES RECORD IN DEBATING

Elmer Gene Perrin is making a name for himself as a debater in Michigan State college. Elmer is on the varsity debating team and has gone with the squad on various trips throughout the state and has broadcast with them from the college station.

The team hopes to be sent this winter to spar with teams in Montana, Nebraska and New York.

Elmer is a junior in college and celebrated his birthday on the same day as President Roosevelt.

A District School Drama Of 1888 Is Recalled By Herbert D. Dean When He Finds Play Announcement

An event of 47 years ago came back to life again this week in the memory of Herbert Dean when he discovered an announcement of a play, dated June 15 1888, in his home and decided that it was so interesting that other people should know about it too.

The name of the play reads "District School of Forty Years Ago." Its cast of characters is composed of a school master and the "scholars," and includes many people who were well known in Northville.

The cast is as follows: schoolmaster, Joseph Hamilton Woodman; scholars, Darius Welington Knapp, Elizabeth Clarissa Burdick, Mathew Greer, Lucretia Helen Ward, Amanda Burgess, Edmund Roscoe Reed, Minnie Wakeman Hathorn, Elizabeth Jane Bow, Sarah Rebecca Kimmis, Orna Lorenzo Palmer, Cora Jane Welsh, Ida Arabella Bailey, Obadiah Archbald, Olive Amanda Shepard, Ardell Antonette Starkweather, Mary Anna Emery, Charles Avery Downer, Hulda Allen Swift, Fannie Maria White, Judson Adanlus Cranson, Mabel Jane Van Valkenburg, Eliza Phebe Linton, Peter Vandusenberg Shafer, Evelyn Jerusha Knapp, Augusta Terressa Brooks, Josephine Mahlda Olds, Mary Pauline Knapp, Herbert Day Dean, Marvin V. D. Bogart, George Henry Capell, Elizabeth Kinman, Sarah Ann Bradley, and Dexter White.

The remainder of the announcement says: "School will commence on Friday evening, June 15, '88, at Young Men's Hall, Northville. Admission 15 cents. This is the same building which the library now occupies.

Joseph Hamilton Woodman, the schoolmaster in the play, will be remembered as the postmaster of Northville at one time and also as an excellent carpenter. Orna Lorenzo Palmer was the superintendent of schools then. Charles Avery Downer, who was the postmaster then, is still living.

Others who are still well known here are Hulda Allen Swift who is an aunt of Mrs. E. H. Lapham; Ardell Antonette Starkweather, the mother of Mrs. L. L. Brooks; Minnie Wakeman Hathorn, who taught school here and who later became the wife of A. K. Carpenter, who was in the hardware business here, Darius Wellington Knapp, who now lives in Detroit; Elizabeth Clarissa Burdick who afterwards was married to Dr. J. M. Burgess, who carries on his practice in Detroit now; Edmund Roscoe Reed, who was the editor of the Record at the time, and who now lives in the Methodist home in Chelsea; and Herbert D. Dean, who is the owner of the program.

In the play, the characters were to depict a school room of 40 years before that time and according to Mr. Dean, the play was sort of a farce comedy.

WHY DO WE NEED TO "CRACK UP?"

We read this in a periodical that comes to our desk:

Civilization has now reached the stage in its development where it is increasingly difficult to maintain a normal, healthy mental life. The strains upon our physical and nervous systems have become terrific. Events have compelled us to realize how precarious and insecure is the possibility of mental peace and how quickly mental health can be destroyed.

The article goes on to say that people are "cracking up" under the strains of life today. The mental health of many is being broken. Suicides are altogether too common—even our young people occasionally destroy themselves. (Detroit had two sad cases last week.)

We have been sitting here at the typewriter wondering about those statements and trying to figure out why anyone should "crack up." We all get near the "cracking up" point at times. Sometimes it is a matter of fatigue, of overwork; sometimes it is due to ill health that might easily be remedied. Sometimes this breaking down of our morale is just a plain case of trying to keep up with the neighbors and of trying to do things that we can't afford to do. Sometimes this near-collapse of otherwise sensible people is due to a wrong idea that he or she must follow a certain path of "duty doing" or keeping up an impossible schedule.

Worry is probably the greatest reason for these "heart-busts" we have. Our mental poise gets shell-shocked and we get to be jumpy and irritable—fit subjects for a mental expert.

What is the cure? What will keep us from "cracking up?"

Several things:

An honest analysis of our symptoms and a sincere endeavor to cure them.

Giving up of the effort to do everything that everybody else does, whether it fits our case or not.

Forgetting of self and doing something for someone else.

Taking time for matters of the spirit and mental side of our lives. A lot of folks in Northville would add a lot to their peace of mind and to the happiness of their families if they would think a little about the suggestions of religion and if they would do a little of something to enter into the normal church life of the community. The springs of life are not found in things. They find their source higher up.

If you feel like "cracking up" don't do it. Life is too good. Find a way out. There is such a way.

THE DISREPUTABLE ELECTION RE-COUNT

Most people who have followed the alleged fraudulent re-count of votes at Detroit, in the endeavor to overturn a majority of over 10,000 for Secretary of State Atwood, in favor of Gen. Guy M. Wilson of Flint, will agree with this statement from the Ann Arbor Tribune: "The more the truth comes to light, the worse the whole affair smells."

In view of all the charges made and of the testimony given, showing gross irregularities, we are amazed that General Wilson has not repudiated the whole miserable affair. Certainly it is also strange that more democrats have not joined some of their leaders in washing their hands of the pitiful farce.

Many have felt some punishment should be meted out to Senator Anthony J. Wilkowski, whose connection with the alleged changing of votes by the blue pencil method seems to have been pretty well established. For a time there was talk of unseating this politician from one of Detroit's foreign wards. But according to Editor Vernon J. Brown of Mason, one of the leaders of the house of representatives, the senate is going to punish Mr. Wilkowski in a different way. That body, says Mr. Brown, will not oust him but will let "him fry in his own grease." He will not be allowed to become a martyr or be allowed to be re-elected at a special election by a section in Detroit that is none too particular when it comes to election issues. Instead he will be permitted to keep his seat in the senate and will draw his pay but will be disregarded entirely by the leaders of that body. That probably is good sense.

When such an independent newspaper as The Detroit News says that "the democratic Wayne county recount was a farce involving criminal irregularities" and that "disgrace is not only on the Democratic party in Michigan but on the State as well," we can put it down that the recount scandal was an insult to the decent voters of Wayne county and of the state. One of the good results of the whole mess is that it will be some time before scheming politicians burn their hands in trying such a scheme again.

IT WON'T BE LONG NOW

It is a bitter winter day as we write this. The kind that only Michigan can "cook up." Cloudy skies, with many a splash of sunshine all day. Sneaking winds that make it no fun to go walking. Mercury showing little mercy as it sticks near the zero mark. A stiff winter! No fooling!

And a good friend comes into the office and says that if it weren't for being lonesome down there, he would be off to Florida!

Pay little attention to the growl of a winter day along the first of February! The days of Old Man Winter are numbered! What finer anticipation than that of sliding from a good healthful winter into the soft lure of a Michigan spring? The sun (behind those clouds) is riding higher each day. Those cold looking apple trees out there in the back yard will soon be bursting with the glory of a new-found resurrection. Farmers may be turning over the soft earth in less than eight weeks. The lure of a new earth, a new sky and a new glory of life will soon be ours. "It won't be long now."

THE COST OF OUR NORMAL SCHOOLS

As was to be expected, the plan of Governor Fitzgerald to close one of the state normal schools is meeting bitter opposition. Kalamazoo is up in arms because a bill has been introduced at Lansing to look up the possibilities of closing Western State Normal and of using the building for hospital purposes. Of course that is natural. Once we get a good thing we fight to keep it, no matter who has to pay for our so doing.

Regardless of who is hurt when some of our good things are cut off, (for the greatest good of the greatest number), why not look at the record? If we are ever going to start cutting taxes, we have to start somewhere. Face this one fact honestly and then as a taxpayer ask yourself where the end will be of spending public money.

Twenty-five years ago our taxes for our state normal schools were a total of $365,000. In 1931 these taxes mounted to $2,401,100. Just a jump of nearly 700 per cent!

WANDERING THOUGHTS

The Northville men and women who live on less than they earn have a content that is worth millions.

* * *

For a marvelous view drive up on the new parkway pavement to the hill just south of Cass Benton park and look to the east toward Phil Grennan's acres. Truly an inspiring sight.

* * *

Michigan's best people will stand back of Governor Fitzgerald in his move to oust slot machines. As he says, they are not even a gamble—just a steal. We often wonder why so many people seem to enjoy being plain "suckers." How do you figure it out?

* * *

"Why should I work the government will pay that", said a Northville man when asked the other day who will pay these mounting costs of New Deals. Then he went out and planked down fifteen cents for a package of cigarettes, six cents of which is tax to this "government"—which is only you and I and the rest of us.

* * *

Pneumonia took the life of John K. Stack, Jr., Michigan's auditor general and a man of outstanding ability. Just a week later this dread disease claimed as its second victim in the same family the wife of Mr. Stack. That is a real tragedy and the sincere sympathy of our citizens goes out to the bereaved children. You owe it to your family to guard against this winter disease. Plenty of sleep, good simple food, exercise—here is part of the way to avoid pneumonia.

* * *

Twenty-five million people can be wrong—pitifully wrong. That number is said to have signed the petitions asking that the Townsend pension plan of $200 a month for folks over 60 be made effective by congress. The Townsend plan is simply impossible unless a lot of miracles which have never happened start to popping. To pay the pension for ten per cent of our population would take half the income of all the people. How in the name of sense can that ever be done, on top of all the other taxes we have to pay?

TODAY'S QUESTION

If you received a check for one thousand dollars today how would you spend it?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

ARE WOMEN RETROGRADING?

(Lapeer County Press)

Women have ever been likened to the lily for their purity and the violet for their modesty. They have been characterized in prose, poetry, and song, as sedate, demure, decorative.

Whether or not these adjectives were merited there are always at least a semblance of modesty and decorum in women, especially in the presence of man, and it was always this quality in woman that caused men to look up to them as something precious "to have and to hold."

In recent years the women have slowly but surely been losing these characteristics. They have shed their refinements and have taken to themselves certain traits and privileges which have heretofore been recognized and generally accepted as the private property of men. And because the men made no protest over the infringment of what they believed to be their exclusive rights by unwritten law, the impersonatresses took it for granted that their counterfeit character was pleasing to men.

If the modern woman only knew the inner thoughts of most men, if they could but listen to some of the comments of the men in their private conversations, they would experience a revelation that would shock them back to sensibility.

Women were never denied the right to smoke, spit, chew, get drunk and raise any particular kind of hell they thought had always been the sole prerogative of men. They just didn't exercise that right and as to why they didn't you'll have to ask your grandmother. But the probabilities are that they were held back by the knowledge that women want more than anything else, the admiration and respect of men and they knew that to gain that admiration and hold it, they must be different from man and finer than man, which is after all, what Nature intended for women.

A GOOD MAN PASSES

(Chas. S. Seed in Rochester Clarion)

The very sudden death of Auditor-General John K. Stack, Jr., in Lansing Friday brings more than a twinge of sorrow. It is a cause for very sincere and deep regret throughout the entire state of Michigan.

There was one and only one reason why Mr. Stack survived the reversal of public sentiment in the last November election and became one of the two State Democratic officials who were retained in office. The voters were pleased with the efficient service he had rendered our state and wanted more of it. The electorate of both Democratic and Republican faith knew that Mr. Stack was honest, and that he had the courage to fight for his convictions against anybody and all odds whenever he considered it necessary.

Auditor General Stack may not always have been wise in everything he did. No one is infallible. But he was sincere and incorruptible to an extreme seldom exceeded in this age of political chicanery and corruption. He stood like old Gibraltar for what he considered for the public's interest, and the people knew the office he held—that of checker of expenditures of our state strong box—was safe in his hands, hence his reelection, together with that of State Treasurer Fry, the only two Democrats to survive the State landslide of last November 6.

Goodbye! and farewell, Mr. Stack. Your early passing in life at the very beginning of a most promising and successful career when the political horizon illuminated daily for you as a most successful contender for our state's highest honors, that of the governorship in 1936, your demise at this time is indeed a real loss to the public service.

SPLENDID STATE SERVICE

(A. Van Koevering in The Zeeland Record)

Editor William H. Berkey, of Cassopolis, has announced that he will be a candidate for a second term as a member of the State Board of Agriculture. He should encounter no difficulty in securing both a renomination and election, for no man elected as a member of this important board in recent years has been better fitted by business training and experience than the Cass County publisher. His has been a record of six years of fine state service, fulfilling every prediction made by his friends when he allowed his name to be presented as a candidate for that position.

The Board of Agriculture, as the governing body of Michigan State College needs men of Mr. Berkey's type. During the term he has served much of the work of straightening out the inner difficulties of that institution has been due to his business acumen and diplomatic capacity. The petty bickerings of recent years have been brought to a happy conclusion. Service of that nature should have its reward. Michigan needs men of his caliber in public places. Observing and thoughtful citizens of Michigan will see to it that he is retained for another term.

SENIOR CLASS AT DE-HO-CO LAST FRIDAY

They Visit Women's Division On Very Interesting Tour

Last Friday morning the 12th grade Civics class, under the supervision of Mrs. Cobb and Mrs. Cooke, went to the Women's Division of the Detroit House of Correction.

The class has just finished studying courts and treatment of prisoners earlier in the month. The class went to visit the County Building to see how several different courts were managed.

When the class arrived at the House of Correction it was met by Mrs. Campbell, who took it into the assembly hall and explained in detail how the prisoners were treated, how they lived and how they worked. After this, a guide was assigned to the high school group. She then took the class through the sewing factory, the laundry, beauty parlor, and ended the trip by going through one of the cottages It was lunch hour at this time, so the class had the opportunity of seeing the women in work and also in their cottages.

Seniors Give Play at Northville Sans

The senior class of Northville high school presented the play, The Poor Rich" at the Eastlawn and Maybury sanatorium this week

The first cast played at Maybury Sanatorium on January 29, and the second cast at the Eastlawn Sanatorium on January 30.

This is the same play presented so successfully by the senior class at the high school on January 17 and 18

The patients all enjoyed the performance immensely.

Miss Richards' afternoon section of kindergarteners took a trip to the library. Mrs Cousins told the children how to care for books She also showed them some pictures. The morning section of kindergarteners dramatized the story "Three Billy Goats Gruff."

SENIOR CARD PARTY AND DANCE TO BE ON FEBRUARY 7TH

People May Play Cards And Dance For Twenty Five Cents; Dancing 10c

The fifth and last in a series of card parties will be given by the senior class on the evening of February 7, at 7 30 p. m. in the high school gymnasium.

Because this is the last card party the seniors are giving a dance after the party which will be free to those who play cards for the evening and ten cents to anyone else who doesn't play cards.

The central committee urges every senior mother and father to attend this last card party. Every senior also should be present if possible. The people of Northville surely did come out for the fourth senior card party and the class and senior mothers wish to thank everyone who helped make this party such a great success.

The people who come to the next card party will have the chance to play cards and dance both for the nominal sum of twenty-five cents. Also they may have the choice of playing any kind of cards or any other games which they might desire.

There were 22 tables at the last card party and the seniors look for a larger crowd at the next one. At this time the central committee wishes to invite everyone in Northville to come to this party, even those who do not play cards.

Council Decides Not to Have an Annual

The regular meeting of the student council was held in room nine last Thursday after school.

The council decided not to sponsor an annual for this year because of the fact that the finances will not permit them to do so. All the student council members were present.

The date for the next meeting was set for Thursday, January 31.

Friday the fifth graders had a spell-down. The girls' side won. Lewis Girardin and Loraine Lapham were the last two down.

WE THANK YOU!

We, in behalf of the junior class, wish to thank Mrs. E. Chapman, Mr. Turnbull, The Detroit Edison Co., Mr. Shafer, Floyd Northrop, Mr. Schrader, Mrs. R. Casterline, Mrs. Condit, Mrs. T. G. Phillips, Mrs. Christensen, the Methodist church, The Northville Record, the sponsors of the junior class, Mrs. Cavell, Mrs. McLoughlin, P. B. Thompson, R. H. Amerman, for their part in promoting the success of the J-Hop.

Fourth Senior Card Party Draws Crowd

The fourth senior card party in the series of five was given last Thursday evening, January 24, in the high school gymnasium.

The party was a huge success and was very well attended by the parents of the pupils as well as outsiders.

There were 22 tables in all and various games were played such as five-hundred, bridge and pedro. After the prizes had been given to the winners, an entertainment was offered by a few students of the N. H. S.

Virginia Washburn entertained everyone with her lovely tap dancing. After she had danced twice, Avis Perry played two selections on the piano and one was a piece composed by herself. Then Mary Louise Boyden and Maurice Giles sang a duet.

Later a very tasty lunch of cake and coffee was served.

The next card party will be held Thursday evening February 7.

J-Hop Of '35 A "Has-Been"

(By Dorothy Richardson)

The party held last Friday, January 25, was a decided success, socially as well as financially. Attendants from all surrounding towns totaled approximately 100 couples who danced to the strains of Leroy Smith's music and had a marvelous time.

The gymnasium was transferred into a ship by the decorating committee under the direction of Mrs Chapman, Mrs Zimmerman and Mrs Taylor.

In the ship's galley punch was served by Patsy McLoughlin, Louise Alexander and Shirley Condit.

The grand march lead by Bob Angove and his partner, Miss Maryanna Condit, was especially enteing. Maryanna wore a white satin sailor dress with a blue collar and a small sailor hat which altogether fitted in with the ship's decorations very appropriately.

During intermission Mr. Smith and his orchestra gave their version of a jazz band.

The juniors have just cause to feel proud to have given an affair so complete and satisfactory in every detail.

Society Notes

Ronald Keeping, Margaret Keeping, Tom Carrington, Ida Altman, Paul Baldwin, Mary Margaret Baldwin, and Evelyn Ambler were dinner guests of Scott Cole Friday evening. Later in the evening the group attended the J-Hop.

Marian Schroeder was a dinner guest at the Eastern Star in Detroit Tuesday evening.

Avis Perry spent the week-end at Grass Lake.

Stanley Taylor, Ronald Keeping, Maurice Giles and Melvin Stromoski went on a week-end tour through the state of Ohio. They visited Lorain, Cleveland, Sandusky, Toledo, Akron and other cities in that territory.

Several Northvilleites attended the Plymouth theatre Sunday.

June Deane entertained Flora Mae Conklin, Marjorie Fowl, Bill Duguid Kenneth Porter, Edward and Bob Angove at her home Saturday evening.

Winifred McCardle attended the State theatre Friday evening.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

Northville has won ten consecutive basketball games.

The J.S.T. club got lost.

The J-Hop was a big success.

H. C. is in love at last.

Essie Nirider held up the grand march Friday night.

Tonight's Game

This evening Northville meets Berkley here in a return game that is expected to be a decidedly hard-fought contest. The second team game begins at 7 o'clock which is to be followed by the varsity game.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Starting The New Deal

In spite of the fact that exams often prove inconvenient for many students, this "semester business" has its advantages. It is the same as having a new year twice—a year in which everyone may turn over a new leaf and start anew.

As the "new deal" starts, students who did not quite satisfy themselves in various courses, may, if they are not dropped (we're being quite cynical) start out with new vigor and enthusiasm to conquer the subject: just as though they had never been defeated.

No student is perfect, and therefore everyone has a chance to improve. And, accordingly, everyone should take advantage of the opportunity. We cannot only improve in our studies, but improve also in our habits, our actions, our speech, and last for some of us, the best term ever, in Northville.

Ten Victories—No defeats

We, on behalf of the student body of Northville high school wish to congratulate the Orange and Black basketball team for its splendid progress up to the present time. We feel that the boys have accomplished one of the outstanding feats of the year by winning ten consecutive games which were all hard fought.

Also we wish to show our appreciation to Coach Ted Watts for the fine coaching he has been giving the boys during this year. Northville has been behind at the half in two of the games, but after Ted talked to the boys they seemed to come out on the floor with new spirits and roll up the points which meant victory. Every player has worked for the school in bringing them this record. It certainly is something to be proud of.

After all this great team work, why not have the whole student body turn out for the next two games. They are the Berkley game which will be this Friday evening, and the Plymouth game next Tuesday evening.

We feel that if Northville does win the Suburban league championship the whole town should join in giving the players a huge banquet After all the boys are entitled to something for all their fine work.

Dr. H. S. Willis of The Maybury San. Gives Address To The Senior Civics Class On Surgery Wednesday

Dr. Willis of the Maybury Sanatorium gave a talk last Wednesday to the Civics 12 class on medicine as a career.

Dr. Willis based his talk on the factors that are the main points for being a doctor they are good health, educational knowledge, as well as a personal knowledge and interest in people, tolerance for other's views and having an unselfishly selfish disposition

Health is very necessary. One must be ready for anything that might happen at any time There is no place for the lazy person anywhere in the profession. The work is very hard and strenuous.

For mental equipment, one must have enough pride to keep up with the new ideas and theories that have been discovered

Dr. Willis told the story of Lister who was the first man to use clean instruments, although he was ridiculed and laughed at by everyone, he stuck to his own ideas with wonderful results

Medicine is a challenge both to mental and physical equipment. One must keep up to all the new developments

Every doctor wants to have an interest in people He is not needed in the profession if he hasn't any interest He is needed as much if not more than a minister to seek into the affairs of people He, the doctor, is one who knows all about the family and its affairs, in fact, he is father confessor.

The salary of physicians amounts to approximately $3000 to $3500 per year.

Four years in college before entering a medical school is a wonderful asset Sometimes only two years are required The average age for the doctor when he starts his practicing is around 26 years.

The satisfaction the doctor gets out of his work is greater than from any other occupation He has helped those in need, advanced knowledge to those less fortunate.

The class and Mrs Cobb take this opportunity to thank Dr Willis for his talk and his time, which is greatly appreciated.

GRADE NOTES

In Miss Kreeger's fifth grade, Robert Vogtlin and Robert McCluskie were excused from several examinations as they had A's in the subjects all the year. Julia Poitz, of the fifth grade room got 11 per cent on her arithmetic examination. Dorothy DeCamp is back in school after being ill with the flu.

The fifth graders have made some very neat paper cuttings of fish, and have mounted them on a picture of a fish bowl. They have also made some pretty colorings on cloth. Eugene Hogan made a clever cloth coloring of Mickey and Minnie Mouse.

Mrs. Hawkin's sixth graders dramatized the story of "King Alfred and the Cakes." They presented the play to the upper grades on Friday afternoon.

For art work, the sixth graders made Arctic posters.

Miss Reincke's fifth and sixth graders drew free-hand maps of the British Isles.

The honor roll in Miss Reincke's room for arithmetic is as follows: Dorothy Jane Congo, Sidney Laney, Philip Baldwin, Maxine Coe, John Hochkins, Robert Ross and Betty Barry.

Mrs. Babbitt's fourth graders sponsored a candy sale for the Free Lunch Fund. They made $5.25.

Billy Tesch of the fourth grade is back in school again after three weeks' illness.

Donna Dickerson is out of school on account of illness.

The fourth graders made free hand cuttings of snowflakes as they look under the microscope.

Miss Leonardson's first and second graders are making designs and studying color schemes and color combinations.

The first graders dramatized the story "Patty and Her Penny."

Mrs. Reng's second graders are learning how to tell time by the clock. The fifth graders had an oral spell-down between the two groups into which the room is divided.

Mrs. Congo's third graders are making notebooks with designed covers, for their arithmetic problem scales.

In Miss Jarvis' first grade room Irene Tesch and Grace Hansen have returned after being ill.

Miss Corrin's fifth graders are drawing portraits for art. They are also starting to make health posters

N.H.S. DEFEATS VANDYKE 56-9 IN EASY GAME

Reserves Also Defeat Their Opponents By The Score Of 18 To 1

Northville won its tenth consecutive victory of the season last Friday evening when the Orange and Black fire overwhelmed Van Dyke by the score of 56 to 9.

Hoffman was the high scorer of the evening, bagging twenty-one of the points for the local cagers. Captain Myers was second high with nine.

The Northville quintet led at the end of the first quarter, 6-4. This quarter proved to be the slowest of the game. The N. H. S. team showed improvement in passing and better headwork in the second quarter, holding their opponents to the score of 24 to 5.

Northville opened the third quarter continuing their fast offensive with the quarter ending at 38 to 7.

In the final quarter Northville showed their superiority over their rivals by their continued scoring, and the game ended with Northville still going strong; the final whistle showing a score of 56 to 9.

The reserves also trimmed their Van Dyke rivals by the score of 18-1. This was a slow and uninteresting game.

N.H.S. GIRLS MEET BERKLEY TEAM HERE ON FEBRUARY 8TH

Girls' Team Shows Improvement; Hopes To Defeat Berkley

The Northville high school girls basketball team will meet Berkley here in a return game this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Coach Gladys Ludwig made the following statement about the games "We beat Berkley once and will have a good chance in our return game." The girls seem to feel the same way as their coach.

The girls' record up to the present time is excellent considering the fact that this is the first time in over three or four years that the girls have had a team in the league. They have won one game, that from Berkley and have lost two games so far, those being to Melvindale and Redford Union.

They will probably play a two-court basketball, using three forwards and three guards.

The starting line-up will probably have Turnbull, Ferguson and Ware at guard, and McLoughlin, Norton and Haystead at forward.

The public is urged to attend this game and help the girls win

"One Exciting Adventure," Starring Binnie Barnes; "The Dude Rancher," Are Attractions At Penniman-Allen

"One Exciting Adventure," which brings Binnie Barnes, the glamorous new star, to the screen in her second Universal production, will be shown for the first time at the Penniman-Allen theatre on Saturday, February 2. Played against a gay continental background, the picture is regarded as one of the most thrilling and sparkling offerings of the year.

With Miss Barnes, who won world wide acclaim with her performances in "Henry VIII" and with Douglas Fairbanks in "The Private Life of Don Juan," as a brilliant cast headed by Neil Hamilton and Paul Cavanaugh with Eugene Pallette and Grant Mitchell as the bungling detectives, Edna Searl, Jason Robards, Ferdinand Gottschalk, G P. Huntley, Jr., Henry Kolker, Doris Lloyd, Dick Winslow, Edward Keane and Wm. Worthington.

The story is that of the most glamorous diamond thief in Europe who is followed over half the world by a man she refuses to meet but who pays her bills wherever she goes. The hearts of men hold no interest for her until she meets one man who tells her she is silly and stupid. Then she begins following him and the whole party of mad, gay and ruthless people in turn are followed by two of the world's worst detectives.

"The Dude Ranger"

A picture which, according to all advance reports, tops any western drama George O'Brien has yet filmed, is scheduled to arrive at the local theatre on Wednesday, February 6th.

This is "The Dude Ranger" described as a thrilling saga of the Arizona cattle lands. The fact that Zane Grey is the author of the new film in itself promises far more than usual for local audiences in the way of excitement, romance and authenticity of background.

This time Grey tells the story of Ernest Selby, sophisticated but sturdy young easterner, who comes to Arizona to claim a ranch inherited from his uncle. Before he has an opportunity to make his identity known to the ranch manager, his suspicions are aroused by the disappearance of several hundred head of cattle

Mistaken for a cowboy in search of a job, he decides to masquerade in this role until he has cleared up the mishandling of the ranch. In the meantime, he has discovered another reason to extend his stay, in the person of the ranch manager's daughter

This imperious charmer is played by Irene Hervey, fascinating young newcomer to films. Before the picture has reached its whirlwind conclusion, these two have found romance together and have passed through several breath-taking adventures

Other important members of the cast are Henry Hall, Leroy Mason, Sid Saylor, Alma Chester and Floyd Ingraham

Edward F. Cline directed "The Dude Ranger," which was produced by Sol Lesser and John Zanft for Fox release.

Manufacture of Liquid Air

The manufacture of liquid air is based on the fact that air gets hot on compression and cold on expansion. Air is compressed to a high pressure and then cooled to room temperature, and then part of it is allowed to expand, cooling the rest greatly. This is repeated in more than one stage, eventually resulting in a temperature low enough to liquefy the remaining compressed air.

For every mile of track the railroads own in Michigan they pay more than $1,000 a year in taxes into the state treasury.

FATHERS AND SONS TO DINE TOGETHER AT ANNUAL BANQUET

The annual community Father and Son banquet will be held at the Methodist church house this year, this event rotating among the various churches, as is its custom.

Each year the boys of the whole community look forward to this as one of the high points of the season when each boy can step out with his own or a borrowed dad. For some, this will be one of the rare occasions when fathers and sons will take time to have a good time together.

A fine program will be provided after a good dinner and it is hoped that every man who has no one to call him "Dad" will have the fun of taking some boy who wishes he could do so.

Further details will be announced later.

WALLED LAKE SCHOOL NEWS

The Walled Lake quintet bowed to St. Mary's of Orchard Lake Tuesday evening, Jan. 22, in a fast, hard-fought game, but Walled Lake triumphed over Lake Orion in a game there last Friday evening.

The Walled Lake Reserves were beaten 32 to 22. Each coach used eleven men.

Walled Lake debaters defeated the Redford Union team to score their fourth consecutive victory of this season. The final in the first series is with Milford Wednesday evening.

Walled Lake will play basketball at Milford Friday evening and at Redford Union next Tuesday evening.

TOWNSHIP BOARD IS HOST AT RECEPTION AT LIBRARY FRIDAY

The Northville township board played host at a public reception held at the library Friday evening, January 25. An enjoyable program was offered, consisting of music [illegible] and a short talk by Miss Loleta Dawson, head of the Wayne County Library board.

[illegible] L. S. [illegible] in the absence of Supervisor W. A. Ely, gave a brief [illegible] word about the library, [illegible] it came under the direction of the Wayne County board [illegible] of the progress it has made.

[illegible] accompanied [illegible] at the piano [illegible]

[illegible] Plymouth schools contributed to the [illegible] of the affair with two readings, one of which was in Negro dialect.

Miss Dawson [illegible] but thorough way some of the functions that a library performs. She [illegible] library [illegible] institution.

It differs from the school in that the education it gives is informal [illegible]. It educates adults as well as children and its advantage is that its instruction [illegible] compulsory, that it reaches everyone in the community and that it provides pleasant surroundings for people to come and learn."

"Our aim," she continued, "is to give everyone such a hearty welcome and make them enjoy the library so much that they will not even realize they are being educated."

"Another function of the library is to afford recreation. It gives one a chance to get away from himself, to forget the worries of the day by becoming interested in a good book.

"The library is a cooperative effort in a community; it depends on every one for its healthy support. The possibilities of the growth of its functions is almost endless. It can reach everyone who reads."

The entire program was in charge of Mrs. F. S. Harmon, for 25 years president of the Ladies Library Association. Following Miss Dawson's talk, refreshments of doughnuts, mixed nuts and coffee were served. The refreshment committee was composed of Mrs. W. G. Yerkes, Mrs. E. H. Lapham and Mrs. B. G. Pilkins.

In addition to those who represented the Wayne county board there were library people in attendance also from Flat Rock, Plymouth, Inkster, Wayne and Garden City.

After the program everyone lingered to examine the many fine new books that they found displayed and to personally meet the people who are responsible for the success of the library.

Hi Ho's Ancestors

"My ancestors," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "are held in reverence by me for various reasons; but chiefly because of the fact that they are my ancestors."

Cannot Say "Papa" or "Mamma"

All Japanese citizens have been forbidden by the minister of education to use the words "papa" and "mamma," because it is harmful to Japan's tradition.

SHE IS JUST AWAY

I cannot say, and I will not say
That she is dead. She is just away.
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand
She has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fine
It needs must be, since she lingers there;
And you-oh-you, who the whilst
For the old-time step and glad return,
Think of her faring on, as dear
In the love of There as the love Here;
Think of her still as the same I say
She is not dead—she is just away!

—James Whitcomb Riley

Button-Making Has Grown to Be Big U. S. Industry

If all the buttons which are made in the United States in an average year were distributed equally among the population, every man, woman and child could receive 187, with a few thousand left over for [illegible] matches of "Button, Button, Who's Got the Button?"

The button business in this country has grown to such proportions that it now equals in dollars invested and value of the product the entire cutlery business or the manufacture of oilcloth and linoleum. America has gained a monopoly of the business of making buttons from "vegetable ivory," which is the hard nut of the tagua nut of South America.

There are the buttons which are mostly used on men's clothing. Buttons, of course, are made from a great variety of substances, including [illegible] pearl, porcelain, metal, etc. Every old-fashioned home has a "button box" which is really a [illegible] samples of buttons of every sort.

Drugs in the Garden

Most gardens contain at least one flower whose value to mankind is not to be estimated simply in terms of beauty. The leaves of the stately fox glove yield the drug digitalin, which still has no superior as a cure for heart disease or dropsy. The crocus is the basis of a preparation for gout sufferers, and the lobelia tenders good service as a balm for whooping cough. Then what a siren is the monkshood! Its attractive blue flowers conceal a deadly poison, aconitum, one-sixteenth of a grain of which will kill a man. But like other garden drugs, this virulent member, scientifically controlled, is invaluable in the treatment of fevers and acute neuralgia.—Montreal Herald.

The Name "Barbara"

The name "Barbara" is of Greek derivation and means stranger. To the Greeks every one not a Greek was known as a barbarian, hence, a stranger.

Salem Federated Church

The ELECTRIC HAND

EASIER, SAFER DRIVING ... YOU SHIFT GEARS AT THE WHEEL ... floor all clear in front

"A great idea," say thousands who are enjoying this brand new driving experience—this vastly better method of gear control—in 1935 Hudson-built cars. With the Electric Hand, you shift as you always have, yet never take your hands from the wheel. You can select in advance the gear you want to use next; the Electric Hand does the shifting.

Crowds are flocking to see this "surprise feature." It's standard on Hudson Custom Eights and optional, for a small amount extra, on all other 1935 Hudsons and Terraplanes. And these cars offer many other things that are new.

The first steel roof. Steel all around you, a steel floor beneath, steel overhead. Bendix Rotary-Equalized Brakes that stop you more quickly, more smoothly, in a short, straight line. Great performance made greater. But you will want to check for yourself. Come and see these cars. Look at the others, too. Compare.

Horace H. Mallinson, Preacher

We are pleased to share with you all the good things that come to us. Many are the "thank you" these days on the course of Sunday morning lectures on Typical Books of the Bible that the pastor is giving. Won't you come and learn how to enjoy reading this wonderful Book? On Sunday at 10:30 The Book for discussion is the Psalm—The Cry of the Human Heart.

Church school at 12 o'clock. We need you and you need the instruction. Classes for all.

Christian Science Churches

"Love" will be the subject for the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, February 3.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Matt 10 1): "And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (P. 52): "The highest earthly representative of God, speaking of human ability to reflect divine power, prophetically said to his disciples, speaking not for their day but for all time: 'He that believeth in me, the works that I do shall he do also,' and 'These signs shall follow them that believe.'"

Church of Our Lady of Victory

Sunday masses are at 8 and 10 a. m.

Weekly religious education hour is held every Saturday morning at 9 30 o'clock. The vestments for Mass will be explained this Saturday.

February 2 is called Candlemas on the church calendar. The year's supply of candles will be officially blessed at the 8 o'clock Mass this next Saturday morning.

St. Blase of the third century is reputed to have had the special privilege of relieving throat trouble. Why shouldn't a deserving person be thus spiritually and powerfully talented by God as well as others to be mentally so? St. Blase' day is February 3. Throats will be blessed after each Mass next Sunday.

The patronage of the public dinner given last Tuesday evening is appreciated. The committee and others are to be commended.

Of interest to all members will be the reading of the financial report and the discussion of various parish projects at both Masses next Sunday.

St. Paul's Lutheran

"This one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." Phil 3, 13, 14.

If we would know what it means to be driven forward by an inner motive power to attain what is highest and best in the Christian life, we must acquaint ourselves with the life of the great Apostle Paul. There is something so exceptional about that life, something so full of divine inspiration, that it stands out as one of the strong evidences of the truth of Christianity.

Does the Christian religion make good its claim, that it is indeed the only religion that meets the deepest needs of the human soul? Paul's life gives you an all-sufficient answer. His passion for attaining all that Christ had to offer is writ large on all he did and suffered for Christ's sake, and his epistles breathe the faith and the spirit of one who could truthfully say, "For me to live is Christ." So completely was he identified with his Lord and master that it is impossible to think of Paul apart from Him.

If ever there was a changed life, a life brought into complete subjection by the bond of a love that has no parallel in the annals of the Christian religion, it is to be seen in the transformation that made Paul the greatest spiritual prophet and missionary of all time. Here was a man who saw life in its highest and holiest perfection. He could forget all that was behind in his endeavor to attain the highest of all tasks that was set before him. To him life had an outlook and a prospect that made him forgetful of the losses he suffered for Christ's sake.

May they who profess to be followers of Jesus count our past attainments of so much refuse compared with the mark for the prize of the high calling of God. May the Lord give us the inner motive power that will drive us to attain what He has set before us as the high and holy goal for which we strive.

7:30 p. m. Sermon with pictures.

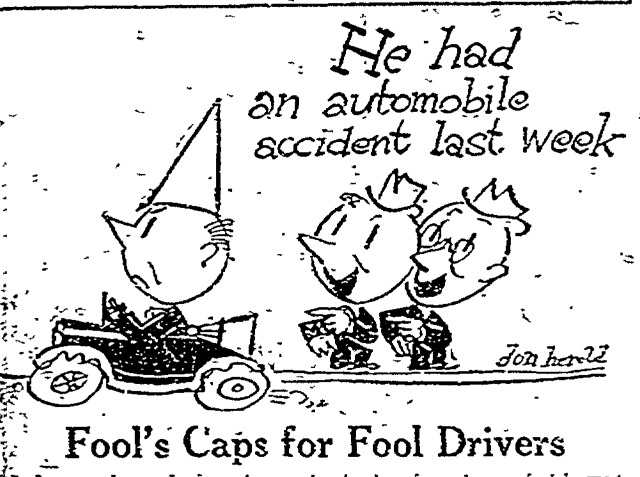
The Baptists invite you to attend their services this coming Sunday. At the morning worship we remember the words of Jesus Christ, and observe the Lord's Supper. The Pastor will speak upon the subject The Table of our Lord. The choir will sing and Harry White will preside at the organ. Sunday school immediately following this service.

The Young Peoples meeting begins at 6:30 p. m. All are invited to worship with the Young folks.

At 7:30 p. m. we are acting upon the requests of many of our friends and are presenting another stereopticon sermon. You not only hear the sermon, but you see the message represented in beautiful colored slides upon the screen. Many of these pictures are true representations of the great masters. Vocal and instrumental music add to the impressiveness of this service. Come and see, you will be glad you have spent this quiet hour in church.

1-MINUTE SAFETY TALKS

By Don Herold



Fool's Caps for Fool Drivers

It doesn't take any brains to have an automobile accident.

It usually takes anything but.

In fact, nine times out of ten there's something sappy behind the accident. I realize there would be some injustice in it, but I'll bet it would cut down motor car accidents a pretty per cent if everybody involved in every accident were made by law to wear a fool's cap for a week. And this would go for pedestrians, too.

Many accidents are caused by people who think they are being very smart. They think it is bright to "step on the gas" and beat death in some tight place. They consider it cute to sneak through a traffic light. Behind many accidents are not only chiselers, cheats, show-offs, boors, wise-guys, exhibitionists, but A-1 dumbbells and dullards, and a lot of people who are just plain inconsiderate of other people's rights, and a lot of people in a fool hurry to get somewhere where they aren't needed as urgently as they think they are.

Indeed, I know that sometimes Fate causes accidents, but statistics gathered by The Travelers Insurance Company show that in most cases the accident is caused by some sort of human folly. And it is true that your accident may be entirely the other fellow's fault, but a part of good driving is to be on the outlook for idiots.

Fool's caps for all accidenters and fenderdenters wouldn't be so very far wrong in the long run.

Any darn-fool driver or pedestrian can get into an accident; it takes a pretty smart person to stay out of them, these days.

Maybe medals or ribbons for those who don't have accidents might be a better system.

MEMORIES OF MEN WHO WALKED OUR VILLAGE STREETS

HENRY JAMES. Strong, little, black, dark complexion, set features, not always in line with common ideals.

FRANK JACKSON. Lean and wiry, hard worker, quick in repartee, friendly and able.

ROBERT LANNING, SR., medium height, forceful, sprightly, quick witted, friendly, willing and neighborly.

FLOYD LAPHAM, brawny, dark-eyed, heavy features, vigorous, high-tempered and able worker.

BERT McFARLIN, tall, thin, blue eyed, quick of action, lively, farm-trained, and variously employed.

WILLIAM SAUVIF, blacksmith, not tall, thoughtful, agreeable, and good home man.

GEORGE SHRYER, carpenter, lame, frail built, smiling, happy spirited, sociable and helpful.

LOREN LEAVENWORTH, short, heavy, energetic, studious, pleasant, friendly and useful among the growing youth.

FRED MITCHELL, tall, serious, moody, good worker, little initiative, steady going and active whenever aroused.

GEORGE GRINNELL, sturdy, active, alert carpenter, good citizen and home keeper.

CHARLES MILES, muscular, combatative, aggressive, agile and alive to various phases of politics.

BERT SNYDER, tall, rangy, shaggy haired, very active fine shoe worker and able citizen.

PETER KELLER, SR., strong, substantial, dark-eyed, broad smile, companionable, good worker and very easily found.

Cobblers Had Union in 1648

The labor union apparently had its counterpart back in the middle of the Seventeenth century. In 1648, records show, a "Company of Shoemakers," known as the Boston Guild, was organized, under a charter granted by the Massachusetts Bay Colony. A copy of the charter, appearing in colony records, shows that it was not an attempt for a closed shop but to prevent work being put into families, to protect the public against inferior work and the industry against unfair competition.

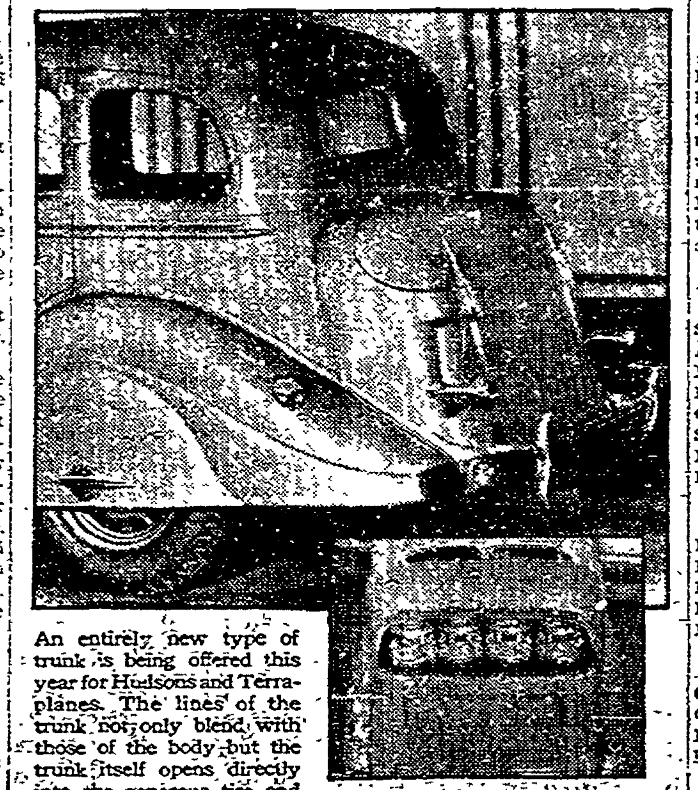
HUDSON AND TERRAPLANE TRUNK DESIGN



An entirely new type of trunk is being offered this year for Hudsons and Terraplanes. The lines of the trunk not only blend with those of the body but the trunk itself opens directly into the generous tire and luggage space at the rear, giving a tremendous amount of room while actually enhancing the appearance of the car.

Just to illustrate the capacity of the new trunk designed for Hudson and Terraplane cars, here is one with the cover open showing four full-grown standard size milk cans in place and there is plenty of room behind them for the spare tire.

Obituary

ALICE D. BAKER

Mrs. Alice D. Baker passed away at her home in Northville January 27.

Alice D. Neal was born September 22, 1854, in Seneca County, New York. Miss Neal came to Michigan at the age of 22. Two years later she was united in marriage to George H. Baker of Morenci, Michigan. To this union two children were born, Mrs. Lena Daggett and Donald H. Baker.

Mrs. Daggett made her home with her parents and helped in the care of her father who passed away on April 3, 1928 after a lingering illness. Since his death she and her mother have been constant companions.

Donald H. Baker and wife Harriett, of Lansing were also at her bedside during the last days of her illness.

Besides the two children she is survived by five grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Mrs. Baker was the eldest of three children, sister of the late John A. Neal, publisher of the Orion Review, and the late Frank S. Neal of the Northville Record.

Mrs. Baker was a quiet homemaker, not active socially, but very devoted to her immediate family and especially fond of her two nephews George H. Neal of Lake Orion and Warner Neal. She was a member of the Presbyterian church and was ready with a helping hand whenever needed until her failing health prevented outside activity.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker were a most devoted husband and wife. Her deep sorrow and loneliness after he passed away were contributing factors to the quiet seclusion which she preferred during her declining years.

Services were held at the home on January 29, 1935 with Rev. H. G. Whitfield officiating. Interment was in the family lot in Rural Hill cemetery.

MRS. M. D. KENNEDY

Mrs. M. D. Kennedy, mother of Mrs. Harriet Angell, died suddenly Monday at the home of another daughter, Mrs. R. A. Stuckey, at the age of 75 years. She had been in her usual health, having visited in Northville only a week ago.

Mrs. Kennedy was born in England and came to this country at the age of three years. She had been a resident of Redford since childhood.

The funeral service was held at the home Thursday afternoon burial being in the Bell Branch cemetery, south of Redford. Surviving her besides her husband are two daughters, seven grandchildren, a stepson and six step-grandchildren.

Mrs. Angell and family were called to Redford.

JOHN HARMON

John Harmon, a former resident of Novi, and a graduate of Northville high school class of 1916, died in a Pontiac hospital of injuries suffered when he was struck by a truck on Woodward avenue, at Lone Pine road on Thursday, January 17.

The funeral service was held in Birmingham Monday afternoon under the auspices of the Masonic lodge with burial in the Masonic cemetery.

Mr. Harmon is survived by his mother and two sisters, all of Birmingham. D. J. Stark and Paul Becker, of Northville attended the funeral.

Increased efficiency in the use of fuel in freight service has saved U. S. railroads nearly a half billion dollars in the last 10 years.

Though the U. S. has only 6 per cent of both the world's land area and population it contains 31.2 per cent of the railway mileage.

U. S. railroads are the greatest buyers of steel, sometimes spending $433,000,000 a year for iron-steel products.

DILLMAN SETS THE PACE

(Gratiot Co. Herald)

When Grover C. Dillman, Michigan's new Welfare Director, discharged 100 employees of his department because their services are not needed, he set an example in what could be followed in many departments of our state and national government.

"Margery," said her mother, "I'm surprised at your putting out your tongue at people."

"Its all right, ma," returned the child; "it was just the doctor going part."—Boston Transcript.

The high peak of railroad mileage in the U. S. was 254,251 miles in 1916, or 6,656 more than exists today.

The latest high-speed heavy-duty locomotive developed in the U. S. has a tractive power of 72,000 pounds.

More than 6 billions of U. S. railroad bonds are held by commercial savings banks, investment trusts and insurance companies.

The United States boasts 248,829 miles, or 31% of all the railway lines in the world.

● It isn't a pleasant fact . . . but figures PROVE the scarcely credible story of crippled eyes in the United States. At school age, twenty children out of every hundred have defective vision. At college age, the number has increased to 40 out of every hundred. And at the age of 60 years, 95 PEOPLE OUT OF 100 have defective eyesight. This is tragic proof of the terrific strain put upon eyes by the needs of our present-day civilization, and—oftentimes—of the needless abuse to which our eyes are subjected.

There are no substitutes for the services of an eyesight specialist, but proper lighting helps to protect eyes, good and bad, young and old. It will pay you to check the lighting in your home carefully . . . Consider every room and MAKE SURE that your lighting is adequate for comfortable, easy seeing. The simplified Lighting Recipe Chart shown here will help you to obtain good lighting.

That Barrier

She had come from a party, a big event in her young life. Romance had come to her with the surprise and mystery of the opening of a bud.

She did not understand it—that strange feeling around her heart. Without warning she felt abashed and self conscious in the presence of one who before had been just an ordinary friend. She wanted to be alone and think it all out.

Her mother came into her room—her very solicitous mother who had watched over her from infancy. Why shouldn't she now?

Throwing a wrap around the girl's shoulders the mother sat down on a stool close to her and expectantly waited to hear "all about the party."

Happily the girl chattered about who was there, what they wore and what they had to eat. But of the new experience she was strangely silent.

This is what Grace Ayer Barnes says of this girl in her prize book "Within This Present."

"She wondered what that thing was, deep down in your inner self—that barrier between parent and child—which kept you from telling even the fondest of mothers anything that really mattered, anything that really happened anywhere. That chain of emotions was the real story of the party. Real stories are untellable.

"They lay untouched beneath the sprightly stories of ancedotes which flowed from her lips. Her mother did not even suspect their existence—or did she? Were parents, too, restrained from more intimate questions by that hidden barrier—by that sense of the impossible to tell?

"Curious, that even with people who love you most, you did not want to talk about the things that really mattered."

The book fell in the reader's lap. Long she sat looking out into the bleak winter landscape with eyes that did not see.

A barrier?—Why should there be a barrier? Whose fault was it, parent's or child's?

Never remembering the "dream mother" who left her in babyhood she has always envied those girls who could talk everything over with the one who could understand best. But does a mother understand? Does the nearness of mother and child make the faults of each too evident and does the mother's "very love trip up her wisdom?"

"You will never think anyone is good enough for me" declared a daughter to her mother. No wonder, then, that this daughter kept locked in her heart the petty romances that came to her in turn.

Perhaps parents are too critical, too easily shocked when confidences are given. Perhaps they are too much interested, or not interested enough. Too preoccupied with their own affairs, not ready enough to listen with laughter or pity as needed, when the things that lie deepest in their children's lives are occurring!

What do you other mothers think?

Knee Pads

Roller skating is one of the best exercises a school child can have, after school hours, if it takes him out to the side walk and not to some poorly ventilated rink. It develops his balance, his muscular strength, co-ordination, appetite and stamina.

If the roller skater falls and grinds great holes in his stockings or trouser knees, make or buy him a pair of knee pads. They may be made of heavy suiting and covered with leather, and may strap about the knee or be held in place by wide elastic.

Food Ideas:

Add to your biscuit or bread dough a cup of grated cheese or an orange put through a food chopper. A loaf of cheese bread is an interesting variation, corresponding to nut bread.

A toasted sandwich may be made in the waffle iron. Cut the slices thin and spread one slice with butter. On this slice place another, leaving unbuttered side out. Remove the crusts; lay the sandwich in the waffle iron and toast in the same manner as you make waffles.

Tomato Gelatin

For a tomato salad or cocktail the following gelatin will serve. Add two cups of boiling hot tomatoes to a package of lemon gelatin powder and stir until the gelatin is dissolved. Add one slice of onion, a bay leaf, a half-teaspoon of salt a teaspoon of sugar and one-fourth teaspoon of powdered cloves. When the mold is firm, it may be cut into cubes piled in sherbet dishes and served as a cocktail, or cut in larger portions, laid on a lettuce leaf, topped with salad dressing and served as a salad.

Mrs. A. E. Fuller calls our attention to the fact that the soda was omitted from the recipe for Prunella cake sent by her daughter, Mrs. Meaker. (A small matter—but a big difference.)

IT COSTS NO MORE—To buy the best. There is no other ice cream sold in Northville that will compare in richness and flavor with FRY'S DELICIOUS HOME-MADE ICE CREAM. Quarts 25c—Pints 15c. 2tfc.

WANTED—To tighten your rods, grind your valves, stop your car pumping oil, make your crankshaft true. All work guaranteed.

West Point Park

(Mrs. C. Wolfe)

Mrs. Annie Heichman attended the funeral of her cousin, Alfred Morrell, Monday morning, at the funeral home of Spencer Heeney at Farmington. The body was sent to Chesaning Monday for burial.

Mr. and Mrs. Tamm and Mrs. Whipple of Farmington spent Saturday evening among their many friends in West Point Park.

The pie walk given by the Community club was well attended. There were plenty of pies and a first class orchestra. The evening was enjoyed.

Mrs. Harry Wolfe and niece, Gladys Smith, enjoyed a visit with their former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Taylor, of Northville, Tuesday.

Percy Armstrong of Redford called on his sister, Mrs. Annice Knight, Thursday.

The Honor Roll students of the ninth and tenth grades are: Dorothy Breitmeyer, Alice Hosback, Robert Trofast, Margaret Sheppard, Carol Gunn and Samuel Shepard.

Mr. Johnston's room won the picture this month at Pierson school.

Waldo Taylor was very ill last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith of Detroit were among visitors with their former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heichman, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley had a very pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. Carmi Benton of Northville Wednesday.

Miss Lillian Hohler was a dinner guest with her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gillespie, and family on Thursday.

Fern Peck, Mrs. George Lewis and daughter, Vera, enjoyed shopping together Wednesday.

There was a card party sponsored by the P.-T. A. at Mrs. Albert Owens home Wednesday evening.

The regular P.-T. A. meeting will be held at the school house Thursday evening, February 14. Mrs. Hutzel of the Michigan State college department of health will speak.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heichman are enjoying their new Plymouth automobile.

Clyde Carey, Elmore Heinchman, and a group of men are looking at a few hundred acres up in northern Michigan with the expectation of purchasing it for a private hunting ground.

Miss Fern Peck has returned home after attending the funeral of her aunt Mrs. Mina Smith at Battle Creek. Her cousin, Mrs. Ella White, and granddaughter, Jane Ford accompanied her and will live with her for an indefinite period.

Mrs. Milton Bradley and son, Pat, had a pleasant visit with the latter's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bradley, this week.

Mrs. Edna Painter, Miss Lillian Hohler, Mrs. Thomas Gillespie and Betty Randall attended a senior card party Thursday evening in Northville.

The supper and entertainment sponsored by the ladies association was enjoyed by those present. The entertainment was greatly appreciated. Mr. Breightback, pianist, played for the singers; Mrs. Tamm sang a couple of songs; Mrs. Eaton pleased the audience with a musical saw and Mrs. Hendryx of Northville gave amusing readings that brought down the house.

Sixty four juniors and seniors attended church and Sunday school. Rev. Miller gave a good sermon.

Albert Heichman started early Sunday morning for Chesaning to inform relatives and friends of the death of Alfred Morrell of Clarenceville.

CASSOPOLIS AND NORTHVILLE TWO PRETTIEST TOWNS

(W. H. Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant)

"Where in Michigan is there a prettier spot than Northville?" asks Dick Baldwin of the Northville Record. Well, Dick, we won't quarrel with you about it but Cass county we have always believed to be about the prettiest place on earth (although we haven't seen all the places) and Cassopolis just about the prettiest place in Cass county. With its beautiful wooded hills and valleys, its level prairies, its numerous streams and its 178 lakes, Cass county is truly a pretty place, and Cassopolis set on a rolling terrain between two of Michigan's loveliest lakes Diamond and Stone—and with its wide streets lined with fine old shade trees, is undoubtedly the prettiest town in the state.

There's the answer to your question Dick, so far as we are concerned but we will admit that we may be a bit prejudiced because Cassopolis is our home and where home is is always beautiful. If you feel the same way about Northville it is allright with us.

(Editors Note)—Mrs. Baldwin's father, the Rev. I. H. Riddick, was the Methodist pastor in Cassopolis during "Mrs. Editor's" girlhood and she tells us that he often said that if he had his choice of a place to retire he would take Cassopolis. Put that in your paper Brother Berkey.

"So you want to become my son-in-law?"

"Er—not exactly. I only want to marry your daughter."—Dagens Nyheter.

VASH YOUNG'S FIVE PLANKS

(Dr. Wm. H. Phelps in Michigan Christian Advocate)

Vash Young, the cheery super-salesman who yesterday had us all reading his stuff, is not yet out of date, and his homely advice is nearer to the truth than most of the academic recipes recommended. If all would take his counsel seriously, we could all gain an "inch" on the depression and the job would be more than half done.

He suggests a new society, without dues or fees, to organize rebellion against unhappiness and to get a courageous outlook on life. Here are five planks:

I will get up in the morning thanking God for what I have instead of asking Him to give me more.

I will try to make somebody happy for the day before leaving the house.

I will not indulge in or encourage pessimistic talk.

I will prove by my work that I am being paid for right thinking.

Finally, I will enlist all my thinking in favor of progress!

Want to join?

Teacher (after the lesson on physical force)—"Now, boys, can any of you tell me what force it is that moves the people along the street?"

Brilliant pupil: "Pleases, sir, the police force."

The doctor looked at the man who had reported for examination.

"I'll examine you carefully, sir, for five dollars."

"All right," said the applicant "and if you find it, I'll split fifty-fifty."—Watchman-Examiner.

THE TALK OF THE TOWN

BY HARRISON CHANDLER

Things We Are Just Discovering

We never knew before that the village of Salem has two churches, both of which have women pastors.

That Belleville has one church to take care of its spiritual needs and that the Rev. William (Bill) Richards is its minister; that he formerly was the pastor of the Methodist church here.

That Daisy Air rifles are made in Plymouth. We remember the days when we had one of our own.

That the Park Davis Co. has more than 1000 white rats, all in separate cages. They are used for testing purposes.

That Dixie Howell, star halfback of the University of Alabama football team, and hero of the Rose Bowl game last New Year's day, may play baseball for the Detroit Tigers beginning this year. He was in Detroit this week to speak at an athletic banquet, and admitted that he feels favorable about signing a Tiger contract.

That these high school students are real go-getters. Their J-Hop is ample testimony to that fact. It greatly exceeded our expectations and certainly had all the elements that make a dance a success. We found it was well planned, beautifully decorated, and a well attended affair.

And their basketball team is really smooth. Never outside of the city have we seen a high school aggregation with as much class. Here's wishing them the best of luck during the remainder of their season.

By the way, youse guys and youse gals that are still saying "Ducky" to express your enthusiasm about anything, are hereby informed that said expression is now greatly outmoded. You should now say "Super Duck!"

THIS WEEK

By H. H. WHITE

The other night I had occasion to visit a home that had hanging on the wall in a central spot a painting. It was a group of trees which the artist must have seen as he approached the woods sometime in the fall.

I was fascinated by the painting and as I sat there in the room studying the canvas it occurred to me that the essential thing to any good painting was unity. If there is any focal point that tended to catch one's eye long after the unity of it that point should be subdued.

This does not mean there cannot be any central point of focus because this can be done without making the particular point out of harmony with the rest of the picture. A picture should represent a harmonious relationship of all parts.

While it may look like a discordant composite of colors as this picture did, upon close view, it can at the proper distance merge into a harmonious whole. When a canvas does not do this it has lost its point and value.

One cannot judge contrasts alone when considering the success or the converse of a painting. No more than can a few seeming discords in a musical composition such as Dvorak's "New World" Symphony which enters into its construction be considered as bad harmony.

This same idea may be applied to life. Each individual is painting a picture upon his own canvas. In our growth and development there should be a unity of purpose in our design and pattern.

Confucius tells us to follow what the heart desires without transgressing what is right, and this should be our purpose. If we know and control the stages in life, we shall surely have a great mastery of the art of life. There will be a purpose and design, and the discordant experiences will not obscure from our vision the unity and the beauty in our achievement of the best that there is in life.

There was once a man who had great powers of concentration. He was working in his study when the trained nurse came to announce to him that he was a father.

"Its a boy, professor," she said.

"What is?" inquired the professor without looking up.—Beachcomber.

"I'll tell you, Pat, my boy," the big man of the towner confided, laying a patronizing hand on the young Irishman's shoulder, "I wish I had your tongue."

"Sure, sor," grinned Pat, "but it would do you no good without my brains."—Companion.

A preacher in New Jersey, as he looked over his large congregation Easter Sunday morning, said: "I realize that there are many here who will not be with us again until next Easter-time. I take this opportunity of wishing them a Merry Christmas."—Boston Transcript.

The Novi fire department answered a call to the home of Ruel Lambert Tuesday night. The roof of the house was on fire but the blaze was extinguished before serious damage was done.

Don Belles Defends the Cause of Normal Schools Against Closing by Michigan, in Letter to Editor of The Record

Richland, Mich.
January 20, 1935

The Editor of The Northville Record,
Northville, Michigan.
My Dear Mr. Baldwin:

As a former resident of Northville, as a weekly reader of The Record, and a student of Western State Teachers College, allow me to compliment you on your prediction made in the editorial columns of The Record for January 18. You wrote: "and yet, despite the fact that two normal colleges are enough for our state, we predict that not one of them will be closed." I certainly hope and believe that your prediction will come true. However, from the preceding part of that paragraph you wrote, I assume that you are one of thousands of Michigan people who have been misled and tricked into believing—much like the proverbial fish which swallowed hook, line and sinker — every morsel of political propaganda that has been spread in the past week or so.

Now I know from reading your editorial comments in the past that you are broadminded enough to appreciate when you are misinformed and really wrong, in what you say or think. Therefore, I am setting down a few facts and figures which I know to be truthful and accurate which should, and I hope will, change your attitude toward this vital question concerning the future of Michigan's higher educational system:

1. You say—"Why not close two of the state's four normal colleges? What sense in spending great sums to turn out more school teachers when thousands of them are in our state walking the streets, etc." A very careful study has been made this past year on the supply and demand for teachers in Michigan and these are the results:

(a) The county normals and State Teachers Colleges are the only source of supply for rural and urban elementary teachers in the state.

(b) Closing two of the four state teachers colleges and the County normals would result in cutting the supply of elementary teachers about 75 per cent.

(c) Elementary teachers constitute at least [illegible]-thirds of the teachers in the school of the state, naturally, the demand for teachers is greatest in this field.

(d) There is no oversupply of adequately prepared teachers in the elementary field. On the contrary, [illegible] superintendents are encountering real difficulties in filling elementary school positions at present.

(e) In 1934 [illegible] of 1933-34, at Western State Teachers College about 75 per cent [illegible] were placed, [illegible] available from [illegible] graduates from previous years.

(f) [illegible] of [illegible] can be [illegible] people [illegible] that those who are [illegible] in higher education [illegible] of guarantees for immediate placement. The State Teachers Colleges are the poor people's colleges or the colleges of the common people.

(g) In the surrounding states of Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Minnesota, Missouri, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania, there is on the average, one state teachers college for each 1,000,0400 population. Michigan has an average of 1,200,000 people for each state teachers college. To close two of them would be suicide to higher education in our state!

2. You say—"the way to cut taxes is to cut costs." The politicians say they will do both by eliminating first of all Western State Teachers college. Here are a few more facts:

(a). The people of Kalamazoo county (in which W. S. T. C. is located) pay a little less than seven cents per thousand dollars assessed valuation of property for the running of Western State. Think of it—less than half of the cost of a gallon of gasoline; less than the price of a loaf of bread, "the staff of life"—is spent by the taxpayer on each thousand dollars worth of property he possesses as tax to support Western State. What an awful tax to pay for higher education for your children!

(b). W. S. T. C. is the largest and best of the State Teachers colleges at present. If a line were drawn north and south exactly thru the middle of the lower peninsula of Michigan, W. S. T. C. would be the only State Teachers college on the western side of it.

3. If Northville were the size of Kalamazoo, would you appreciate it if the politicians got their heads together and decided that, since they didn't like one of the honest members of the legislature who happened to be a home town man, they would remove over "$1,732,262.00" a year from your midst? That is what will happen to Kalamazoo if Western is closed. The figure quoted is the economic value of Western to Kalamazoo for 1934-35, based on figures for previous years.

4. Lastly strange as it may seem—Roosevelts and Fitzgeralds do not last forever, but for some obscure reason Huey Longs and their kind propagate and insinuate themselves into the nation's government constantly. Don't you see the value to yourself and to the future generation of [illegible] seven cents a year for each thousand dollars worth of property you have in order to give higher education to the common people who otherwise could not afford it? An educated man is a free citizen and a worse leader! [illegible] our future citizens [illegible] as a whole which will [illegible] politicians and dictators as Huey Long to remain in office. So, [illegible] Western State and the other three state teachers colleges on the educational map of Michigan!

If you [illegible] to publish this letter as whole or in part I would appreciate it greatly as a representative of the student body of Western. It would help to correct the false [illegible] circulated about it. If you should desire any more data on the subject I have a very complete file of pertinent facts and figures.

Sincerely yours,
Don Belles

In normal times the livelihood of 1,700,000 families is directly dependent upon America's railroads.

America's Class I railroad owns 46,500 passenger cars. This is 8,500 fewer than at the peak in 1924.

The tax bill of America's railroads runs above $1,000,000 every day of the year.

There are 2,036,000 freight cars on the Class I roads of the United States.

Eight cents of every dollar of their earnings are set aside each year by U. S. railroads to pay their tax bill.

MANY BANKS LONG LIVED

In the United States—
168 Banks over 100 years old.
2,472 Banks over 50 years old.
10,391 Banks over 25 years old.

There are in the United States 168 banks that have been in continuous existence for more than one hundred years. There are 2,472 banks over fifty years old, while 61% of all the banks in this country, or 10,391, are twenty-five years old or older.

In other words, practically two-thirds of the banks in this country have come through several severe depression periods (depressions and panics) ... 1914, 1921 and 1929.

"The oldest bank in the country is in Boston, having been chartered February 17, 1784."

"This ... of banks that are fifty years old or older is ... a ... portion of the banking resources of the country. In commenting on ... the ... of a great many of the banks in the United States, Dr. Harold Stonier, Educational Director of the American Bankers Association said:

"This fact that we have so many banks that have been in existence a long period of years is an eloquent tribute to the genius of American managerial ability, for no other country has experienced such wild variations and such violent periods of business expansion as those through which our country has passed at frequent intervals during the past century."

NEW WEALTH FROM SOIL

New wealth which comes from the soil is of special interest to those to whom falls the responsibility of maintaining our credit structure.

Unless agriculture is successful, its borrowers cannot ultimately succeed, neither can the banks they serve. Foreclosure sales are not a sound basis for good farming or good banking. Bankers, therefore, are as much interested in the permanent success of the agricultural industry as are the farmers, whether the deposits come directly from farm patrons or indirectly through the ordinary channels of business.—D. H. Otis, Director of Agriculture, American Bankers Association.

American Bankers Association President Announces Move to Stimulate Bank Newspaper Advertising

NEW YORK.—Plans for stimulating wider use of informative newspaper advertising by banks in promoting public understanding and confidence in regard to existing banking conditions and methods have been announced by R. S. Hecht, President of the American Bankers Association, as a part of his organization's ... of recovery.

A general groundwork was prepared through a nationwide survey of advertising by banks relative to their willingness to extend justifiable loans to industry and trade. This, he said, revealed that a large number ... parts of the country are pursuing ... policies along this line and encouraging their customers to develop forward looking business plans. "It is our aim to aid in bringing this constructive attitude to wider public ...," he said.

"The ... Advertising Department under the direct supervision of the general executive officers has prepared, at the headquarters in New York City, an informative advertising series for the use of member banks in the association to aid them in developing in their own communities better general public understanding regarding banking," Mr. Hecht said.

The Theme of New Advertising

"The underlying theme of this advertising is that sound banking is based on helpful human relations and that it has a unity of interest with the people of its community which binds them together with a common purpose," he said.

"We are confident that if a clear understanding of this is brought home to the people in all our banking communities, it will go far in restoring the public confidence which good banking deserves. A bank in which people deservedly believe is doubly safe. It is to the public interest for the people to have confidence in their banks.

"We feel that bank advertising has a special public duty to perform in this connection under existing conditions. The copy which will be supplied, in the service we have developed will not only aid the individual bank in promoting the use of its own facilities but is also aimed to bring about with the aid of newspaper advertising a clearer public viewpoint regarding its essential place in the life of its community."

Mr. Hecht emphasized in regard to the new advertising facilities being offered to the members of the association that they are not a profit making venture and that there is no intention to disturb existing advertising arrangements, the idea being that these institutional services shall supplement rather than replace present plans, or that they will give assistance to member banks lacking satisfactory arrangements.

Mail Loss Put at 1% Yearly

First Writing Machine Invented by Englishman

The first typewriter of which there is any record was one invented by Henry Mill, an English engineer, who was awarded a patent by Queen Ann in 1714. The first American patent was awarded in 1829 to William Austin Burt of Detroit, better known as the inventor of the solar compass. It carried its type on a circular platen. A letter in the New York Commercial Advertiser that year called it a "simple, cheap and pretty machine for printing letters," so its inventor got it talked about even though he never manufactured it.

The first practical typewriter was built during the winter of 1866-67, at Milwaukee, when Carlos Glidden, Samuel W. Soule and Christopher Latham Sholes, of whom the central figure was Sholes, completed their model.

The Sholes, Glidden & Soule machine looked a little like a modern typewriter except that the keys were worked with strings and the carriage was pulled across the frame by another string to which was attached a weight like that on an old-fashioned clock. The keys struck upward, a feature which was retained for many years.

Edison's Potato Bug Killer

One day a neighboring farmer called upon Thomas Edison, at work in his laboratory, to inquire if something could be done to eliminate the potato bugs that were eating the vines. Always interested in new problems, the Ohio wizard sent two of his men to the patch to bring in two quarts of the bugs. After trying nearly every chemical in his workshop, Edison found that bisulphide of carbon killed the pests in a jiffy. Accompanied by the farmer, he then went to the potato patch and sprayed the vines until all the bugs dropped dead. The next morning, while the inventor was working on something else, and having forgotten the potato bug incident, his laboratory door opened suddenly, and in burst the farmer to tell him that the poison had also killed all the vines! Edison had to pay him $300 for the mistake.

Italy's Solid Roads

Highway paving construction being tested on the Genoa-Turin-Milan road in Italy is entirely different from that in use in any other part of the world. The foundation for the pavement consists of the usual layer of concrete. Upon it is placed a solid pattern of cast-iron frames. Each of these frames is an equilateral triangle, with 30-centimeter sides. Fitted inside each triangle is another one, also equilateral, having sides 15 centimeters long, and placed in an inverted position. There are also formed in each frame four triangular compartments of equal size. All the frames are then interlocked. The system is expected to prevent a pavement crack from spreading beyond the frame in which it originates.

Fountain Gets Water From Air

One of the world's most unusual fountains, located in a hot and waterless region in North Africa, gets its water from the air—not from the ground or the clouds, writes Catherine Goodwillie, Richmond, Ind., in Collier's Weekly. It contains 3,000 large slates which collect the vapor that condenses on them through the great change in temperature occurring between the hot days and the cold nights.

Bitters

Bitters are infusions of bitter vegetable substances, spirit being added to prevent them from putrefying. In medicine they are used as tonics, and they are combined with other drinks in cocktails. Perhaps the most popular form of bitters is made from angostura, the bark of a small tree which grows in Venezuela.

American railroad employees now total 970,893 as against 2,022,832 in 1920.

1935 HUDSONS AND TERRAPLANES HAVE NEW TRUNK SPACE

A vigorous and widespread demand for trunk equipment on the 1935 cars is reported by William R. Tracy, General Sales Manager of the Hudson Motor Car Company. He reports that the sweeping rear form on the new Terraplanes and Hudsons has made possible a new type of trunk which is built into the car in such a manner that it not only conforms to the contour of the car but also takes advantage of the great amount of carrying space available.

"The outward flare of the new cars," says Mr. Tracy, "lends itself to a type of trunk which actually becomes an integral part of the body, blending perfectly with the lines of the car and actually augmenting the generous luggage space that is contained in the body itself.

"With this new type of trunk equipment the car owner is offered a spare tire location. It can either be inside the trunk or mounted on the side. Even with the tire in the rear compartment there is plenty of room for baggage and with the tire mounted on the side there is almost unbelievable amount of space for suitcases, bags, samples, etc.

"One big advantage of this new type of trunk is the fact that the baggage can be carried upright. With the spare tire in a vertical position and the baggage in its normal upright position, many advantages are achieved. In the first place the tendency to rattle is just about eliminated. Furthermore, the baggage being in its normal position prevents spilling of contents and also keeps clothing in better condition than when lying flat. Even the luggage itself is better carried in that manner because it has less tendency to rub and chafe. This also applies to the spare tire which is upright in this space."

"Hispaniolan Solitaire," Retiring Little Singer

A possible origin of the many world-wide myths of siren musicians or invisible spirits, whose songs lure unwary human beings to their deaths, is suggested by the Smithsonian Institution concerning an extremely modest and retiring little bird called the "Hispaniolan solitaire," a specimen of which was received from the mountains of Haiti, according to the Baltimore Sun.

The bird is small and gray in color. It lives alone and seems to hide from every other living creature, especially man. Yet this modest musician has a clear and penetrating song. Natives in the forest hear this song but never see the singer. Accordingly, they have developed the superstitious belief that the song comes from an invisible spirit lurking among the trees.

In all of the world's greatest forests natives have similar myths. In the deserts there are stories of singing or whispering spirits who lure travelers from trails or caravan routes into the trackless wastes.

On all seacoasts are the familiar myths of ocean spirits singing sailors to their deaths. Perhaps songs of other invisible birds like the ghost bird of Haiti have something to do with many such beliefs, for small, shy birds live even in deserts.

FARMS IN MICHIGAN HAVE BETTER YIELD FOR YEAR OF 1934

The total value of Michigan farms for 1934 is $121,532,000, or more than $24,000,000 over the total value for 1933, which amounted to $97,214,000, according to the 1934 crop report for Michigan, issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The 1934 figure is based on December 1 farm prices. This increase in farm value comes despite the fact that the total production is only slightly higher than for 1933.

The 1934 potato crop led the way, being 64 per cent larger than the average for the preceding five years and grown on an acreage only nine per cent larger than the average for the same period. The total production for 1934 was 34,304,000 bushels, as against 20,670,000 bushels in 1933. Although the season was the driest in 40 years the yield of 128 bushels per acre was the highest on record.

The corn production in 1934 was nearly 9,000,000 bushels less than in 1933, but the farmers realized more than $1,000,000 more for their crop than they received on the larger production of the previous year.

Farmers also received higher prices for all tame hay in 1934, getting more than $13,000,000 more for a crop that was 1,000,000 tons less than for 1933.

The U. S. crop report is compiled from reports that the farmers send in to the Department of Agriculture.

Employees on Michigan's railroads normally total about 45,000 and earn about 76 million dollars annually.

U. S. railroads now move a ton of freight an average of 200 miles at an average charge of $1.99 per ton.

MORTGAGE SALE

Default has been made in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage made by LOUIS SCHMIDT and GENEVIEVE SCHMIDT, his wife, both of Detroit, Michigan, Mortgagors, to FIRST NATIONAL BANK IN DETROIT, a Federal Banking Corporation, of Detroit, Michigan, Mortgagee, its successors and assigns, bearing date the eighteenth day of April, 1929, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Wayne, State of Michigan, on April 19th, 1929, in Liber 2307 of Mortgages, on Page 389, which mortgage contains a power of sale. On to-wit the thirty-first day of December, 1931, the aforementioned mortgagee changed its name to First Wayne National Bank of Detroit, a corporation organized under the laws of the United States of America, of Detroit, Michigan. On to-wit the eighth day of October, 1932, the aforementioned mortgagee changed its name to FIRST NATIONAL BANK - DETROIT, a corporation organized under the laws of the United States of America, of Detroit, Michigan. Thereafter, on to-wit the twenty-first day of March, 1933, as of twelve o'clock noon, C. O. Thomas was appointed to succeed Paul C. Keyes as Conservator of First National Bank-Detroit, by F. G. Awalt, Acting Comptroller of the Currency, pursuant to the Revised Statutes of the United States, in such case made and provided, which Commission of Conservator was dated on March 20th, 1933, and recorded March 25th, 1933, in the office of the Register of Deeds for said County of Wayne in Liber 3936 of Deeds, on Page 543. Which said mortgage was thereafter on to-wit the twenty-fifth day of April, 1933, assigned by the said C. O. Thomas, as Conservator of First National Bank-Detroit, a National Banking Association, of Detroit, Michigan, to National Bank of Detroit, a National Banking Association, of Detroit, Michigan, by Assignment dated April 25th, 1933, and recorded April 29th 1933, in the office of the Register of Deeds for said County of Wayne, in Liber 254 of Assignments, on Page 1, which said mortgage was thereafter on to-wit the twenty-fifth day of November, 1933, assigned by the said National Bank of Detroit, to First National Bank-Detroit, a National Banking Association, of Detroit, Michigan, by Assignment dated November 25th, 1933, and recorded December 31st, 1933, in the office of the Register of Deeds for said County of Wayne in Liber 261 of Assignments, on Page 193. There is claimed to be due and unpaid on said mortgage at the date of this notice, for principal, interest, taxes, and certification of abstract, the sum of THREE THOUSAND SIX HUNDRED THIRTY-ONE AND 82/100 ($3,631.82) Dollars. No suit or proceeding at law or in equity has been had or instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof.

NOW, THEREFORE, By virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and pursuant to the statute of the State of Michigan in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given, that on MONDAY the TWENTY-SECOND day of APRIL, 1935, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, Eastern Standard time, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale at public auction to the highest bidder, at the Southerly or Congress Street entrance to the County Building in the City of Detroit, Wayne County, Michigan, (that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Wayne is held) of the premises described in said mortgage or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due, as aforesaid, on said mortgage, and any sum or sums which may be paid by the undersigned at or before said sale for taxes and/or insurance on said premises, and all other sums paid by the undersigned pursuant to law and to the terms of said mortgage, with interest thereon at seven per cent (7%) per annum, and all legal costs, charges and expenses thereon, including the attorney fees allowed by law, which said premises are described as follows:

Patents and Copyrights

Provision was made in the Constitution of the United States for the granting of patents and copyrights and congress enacted the first law on the subject April 10, 1790. Other laws and amendments have been added from time to time. Great Britain's present patent system is based on a statute of 1852 which has been amended as need arose.

Feed for Rodents

Rodents (such as squirrels, mice, rabbits, and beavers) feed on various parts of plants. Elephants feed on leaves and twigs, as do cows, horses, sheep and goats. They do not like meat

"Nerves" "NERVES" "Nerves"

Dr. Miles NERVINE "Did the work" says Miss Glivar

WHY DON'T YOU TRY IT?

After more than three months of suffering from a nervous ailment, Miss Glivar used Dr. Miles Nervine which gave her such splendid results that she wrote us an enthusiastic letter.

If you suffer from "Nerves"- If you lie awake nights, start at sudden noises, tire easily, are cranky, blue and fidgety, your nerves are probably out of order.

Quiet and relax them with the same medicine that "did the work" for this Colorado girl.

Whether your "Nerves" have troubled you for hours or for years, you'll find this time-tested remedy effective.

At Drug Stores 25c and $1.00.
