N.H.S. VICTOR OVER TRENTON FRIDAY, 19-16

Only Defeat At Hands Of Melvindale Can Mar Perfect Season

Northville high school's basketball team won its thirteenth consecutive victory of the season at Trenton Friday night, by a score of 19-16 in a game featured by fast, rough, and smart playing on the part of both teams, and by much jeering of the referee by the large crowd that filled the gym to capacity.

The victory assured Northville that the team would enter their last and deciding game of the season with Melvindale, which was to have been played here Thursday evening, with a good chance to win the championship of the Suburban league.

A defeat at the hands of Melvindale would have left Northville still tied with them for the championship, since Melvindale lost its last game with Northville, while a victory would mean that Northville had gone through its 14th game of the season without a single defeat for the first time in the history of the school.

It was one of the closest games that Northville has played all this season. Although the Orange and Black got into the lead in the second quarter and continued to hold it for the remainder of the contest, the issue was never decided until the last whistle.

The Trenton game marked one of the few times that the Orange and Black squad got started in the first half. After trailing 4-2 at the end of the first quarter, which was dominated by Trenton, Northville made some points in a hurry in the second quarter. It was at this stage of the game that they showed their superority over their down-river rivals, and the half ended with the score 10-6.

Trenton came back in the third quarter a greatly improved team, however, and played a brand of ball that threatened to turn the tide in their favor. They were outpassing and out-running Northville in this stanza, which was probably the fastest game They managed to stay within two points of the lead until just before the quarter ended when the score stood at 14-11

The last quarter was especially hard fought and rough, both teams only making five points. The play was about even, Northville managing to hold its own. In this part of the game the referee was jeered repeatedly, Northville followers insisting that no fouls were being called on Trenton.

A total of six fouls were called on each team, Northville making one of its points via the free shot method and Trenton making four.

Bennett of Trenton was the high scorer of the game, marking up 7 points. On the Northville side, Hoffman and Marburger each made six points. This is the first time this season that Hoffman, the star and leading scorer of the Orange and

Like a coronation without a king was the basketball game which threatened to be without a coach Friday evening when Northville high school met its rival, Trenton, at that place.

With his customary courtesy Coach Ted Watts saw that the rest had transportation and waved off the team and his mother, Mrs J. B. Watts, (who never misses a game) expecting that someone else would come along and pick him up.

But he waited. And waited.

At the Trenton gym there was equal anxiety. The team put on their suits and ran out on the floor ready to "warm up" for the game.

Time for the game. The crowd in the balcony was shouting. Still no Northville coach. Alec Johnson took his place as score keeper and Ray Westphal raised his whistle to blow when the door opened and in walked Watts. The team, with confidence restored, jumped into the game and carried off a hard-fought victory.

Watts had been obliged to call his brother, Ray, from Rosedale Gardens to come after him

MR. AND MRS. E. C. HINKLEY ARE HONORED

Prominent Northville Couple Have Golden Wedding Anniversary

Nearly half a hundred old friends, neighbors and relatives did not forget that Monday was the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar C. Hinkley of Northville.

Invited to have dinner with a few friends, they were taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Richardson on West Main street where they were given a surprise greeting by the group that had gathered to help in the celebration.

The Richardson home, beautifully decorated with golden colors, was for nearly five hours a place where there were no idle moments of entertainment.

First came the pot-luck supper with its four-tiered wedding cake made especially for the occasion by Mrs. Worthington Chapman. To Mrs. Hinkley went the honor of cutting and serving the cake.

Presentation of honor prizes followed the bridge games of the evening and when Mr. and Mrs Hinkley opened the golden boxes given them, imitation gold coins covered gifts of real currency. But there was one gift of real gold from County Auditor Jack Covan, an old time friend of the Hinkleys who unfortunately was unable to be present. Many cards, flowers and gifts were also received by Mr. and Mrs Hinkley.

Edgar Hinkley and Miss Alice Soop were married at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr and Mrs David Soop in Belleville, February 18, 1885, by the Rev. H. A. Merrill, pastor of the Methodist church of that place. Mr. Hinkley, who was reared in Milford, had gone to Belleville to work where he met his bride.

Shortly after the wedding they moved to Milan where they lived 12 years, coming from there to Northville. It was just 25 years ago when Mr. Hinkley was in business in Plymouth, remaining there for a number of years. Except for this period they have spent all of their years in Northville, where they have won a large circle of friends by their sociability.

One son was born to Mr and Mrs Hinkley on August 18, 1888, but he lived only a short time.

Their married life has been spent happily together. Both are in perfect health and both in their advancing years have found delight in the company of friends enjoying many hours at contract bridge. Their home is always open to old and new friends and they enjoy immensely their many friendships.

Among the guests present Monday evening were the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hinkley; Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Schrader, Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Cavell, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Millis, Dr. and Mrs. D. H. Saley;

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Northrop, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ely, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Angove, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Ayers, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Blackburn, Mrs. Lillian Blake; Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Fischer of Belleville.

Those who listened in on their radios to the program by "Cheerio" were interested to hear that a Northville couple were celebrating their Golden Wedding with the procession from distant states which marched over the air to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March. Not until later did they know that "Cheerio" referred to Mr. and Mrs. Hinkley. Many friends join in hearty good wishes for continued health and happiness together.

MISSIONARY WORK IN CHINA TOLD BY DR. BACKUS SUNDAY

The spirit of missionary work in China as seen in the activities of American doctors there was discussed by Dr. Reno W. Backus, in his address at the Methodist church Sunday morning.

Dr Backus contrasted the modern methods of medicine with the old medical customs of China, some of which are at least 1000 years old, he said, and others that were in existence before the time of Christ. Many of the text books in use there today are that old.

"The native medical work there, he said, "can be divided into four classes, which are: drugs and herbs, acupuncture, massage, use of knives and surgery.

"There is a great need for medical missionaries in China today" he asserted. "We had 50,000 clinic registrations in one year at the Hopkins Memorial hospital. There seems to be a considerable amount of goitre in the country. We get patients there who come hundreds of miles for medical aid.

"There has been added to the hospital there a complete tuberculosis hospital with 50 beds," he said, "it is the first of its kind in northern China.

STAR-MASONIC BALL WILL BE GALA AFFAIR

Capacity Crowd is Expected At Dance Tonight At High School

Plans are completed to make the second annual Eastern Star-Masonic dance tonight (Friday) at the high school gymnasium the highlight of Northville's social season officials of those two organizations announced Wednesday.

Mrs Norman H. Dentle, who is general chairman, says that many tickets have been sold for the affair already, and that she is confident that a capacity crowd will be in attendance.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by Strassen's eight-piece orchestra, which will play from 9.30 until 1:30

A special effort is being made by the decoration committee to make the gymnasium more attractive than ever for the dance. Chub J. Smith, chairman of that committee, says. In the center of the gym suspended above the dancers against the background of a blue canopy will be the large star with a light at each point. And suspended below the star will be the Masonic emblem of square and compass

While the above decorations will represent the two organizations, Washington's birthday will be exemplified with many flags and bunting that will be effectively displayed all around the gym. Mr. Smith says. A picture of Washington will be in a prominent place, with a spotlight shining on it.

The committees are:

Tickets, Starr Harry Bolon, Mrs Harry Warren Curtis, Mrs. Willard A. Ely, Mr. Clifford B. Turnbull, and Mrs. Helen Zimmer.

Music, Glenn M. Rogers, Willard A. Ely, and Ralph Freeman

The committee worked late Thursday night not being able to get Masonic order because of the Northville-Melvindale basketball game which was played that evening.

The price of admission will be $1.00 a couple. Refreshments will be served, a minimum charge during intermission. Mrs. Zoe May Harris chairman of the refreshment committee and Mrs. Dunn promise that the eats will be excellent, and more out of the ordinary. The past patrons and past matrons will act as the reception committee.

SATURDAY IS LAST DAY TO PAY TAXES WITHOUT PENALTY

Taxpayers of the township of Northville have only one more opportunity to pay their state, county, and township taxes without penalty, namely Saturday, February 22, at the Depositors State bank, Mrs. Jennie Cousins, township treasurer, announced this week.

"The penalty of four per cent will be imposed on all those who have not paid their taxes by Saturday," Mrs. Cousins says. "And after the books have been turned over to the county, which will be about April 1, interest of three-quarters of one per cent will be added to the taxes of delinquents."

Mrs. Cousins says that the taxes have been coming in very well so far, and that there seem to be many more people this year who are able to pay their taxes than there were last year.

After Saturday, Mrs. Cousins will be at the bank to collect taxes every Friday during banking hours. She requests that all those who can possibly pay their taxes Saturday do so for the mutual benefit of all.

COUNTY CANDIDATES WILL SPEAK HERE

A meeting designed to acquaint voters of the district with some of the candidates seeking nomination in the County Primary March 4, for the offices of circuit judge and for county auditor, will be held Thursday evening, February 28 in Northville high school.

It is being arranged by M. J. Murphy, district chairman of the Wayne County Democratic organization and in conjunction with the local Democratic club, of which he is also president.

Arthur Lederle, Wayne County Democratic chairman and assistant corporation counsel of the city of Detroit, who is a candidate for circuit judge will be the keynote speaker of the evening, Mr Murphy says. Other candidates for circuit judge on the program are Carl Weideman former congressman Charles Lockwood, and others.

VILLAGE WILL SEND BILLS FOR CLEANING SNOW OFF WALKS

The decision to send bills to all home-owners, whose sidewalks have been cleaned off by village employees after any snowfalls, was made by the village commission at its regular meeting Monday at the village hall.

Frederick Hedge, village clerk, has a list of about 50 names of people to whom bills will be sent. It was decided to make the minimum charge for this work 50 cents, after a little discussion as to whether those who fail to clean their walks within 24 hours after snow has fallen, should be charged a larger sum.

Mrs. Mollie Lawrence announces that she will be a candidate for township treasurer at the Republican caucus.

MAY FESTIVAL TO BE GIVEN IN NORTHVILLE

Music Organizations Will Present a Week of Melody

Northville is to have a May festival. With much musical talent within its own boundaries there is no reason why Northville should not burst forth into song with the coming of spring time as they do in Ann Arbor and other larger communities.

Certainly all music lovers will welcome this announcement judging by their appreciation of former efforts of the various music organizations which are "not without honor in their own country."

This ambitious enterprise has grown out of the public's enthusiastic reception of the Northville Male chorus, the high school chour, and band. So popular have their concerts been that Leslie G. Lee, director of music in the public school and always a promoter of the best music, believes that a solid week of musical treats would be enjoyed by the community.

Plans are still in the making but the tentative program includes one evenings concert given by each of the following organizations: the Northville Male chorus of 35 voices, the high school choir and glee clubs outside soloists, the Northville Community band of 40 pieces, and the chorus of 40 voices which will present the oratorio "Elijah." Rehearsals on this last have already begun.

For the sixth evening Mr. Lee expects to round up an unusuly fine concert by outside talent. In his college day Mr Lee had contacts with several outstanding musicians who have since made a name for themselves and who will willingly contribute their talent for old friendship's sake. At any rate it will be a concert worth hearing.

This musical treat of an entire week will be presented complimentary to the community with only a collection taken to meet expenses. A definite date has not been set.

CONSUMERS POWER GAS NOT THE CAUSE OF SCHOOL'S TROUBLE

Experiments conducted on the grade school building during the last ten days by experts, who were called in by school authorities, definitely established the fact that the fumes that have escaped into the school building and caused considerable alarm on the part of teachers, students, and parents, leaked out into the building from the chimney, and came directly from the furnace.

They were described as coal gas fumes by those who diagnosed them. This ends a possible misunderstanding that the fumes might have been Consumers Power Co. gas, sewer gas, or any other variety of gas. The fumes could not have possibly been Consumers Power Co. gas, officials emphasize, because there are no pipes entering the building.

The chimney will probably be replaced with a new one next summer, school officials think, since they know now that this coal gas is leaking out of the present chimney. It was re-plastered in as many places as it was possible to reach a few days after the coal gas was noticed. The fumes were scarcely noticeable this week.

A. J. Helfrich Tells Rotarians Of Washington's Life, Student Trips To Washington, And Life Insurance

The three-fold subject of George Washington, the trips to the city of Washington by high school senior classes, and the merits of life insurance was discussed by A. J. Helfrich, former superintendent of Northville schools, at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Rotary club at the Presbyterian church.

Mr. Helfrich is now the state supervisor of a large life insurance company, and has an office in Detroit.

In his introductory remarks Mr. Helfrich paid tribute to Superintendent of Schools R. H. Amerman, who at one time was a student under him in high school. "The true index of a man's character is how he acts on the firing line," Mr. Helfrich said. "And Mr. Amerman is at his best when he is on the firing line. I'm sure that Northville schools are in excellent hands."

Mr. Helfrich gave some amusing sidelights on the life of Washington, saying that he preferred to dwell on his life in that manner rather than to paint a biographical sketch of him. He said that Washington might have been unable to tell a lie in his youth, but he managed to recover from this later in life.

Mr. Helfrich gave Washington credit for the formation of the country and cited the example of a convention to decide whether the colonies would remain under English rule or fight for liberty, at which Washington appeared at every session in full uniform. "It was a strong gesture," Mr. Helfrich said, "and it helped him convince the people to fight."

Mr. Helfrich then passed on to the next phase of his subject which regarded the benefits derived by high school seniors who go on trips to Washington. He said that the senior class of Northville high school should make the trip to Washington if at all possible. "It will give them an inspiration that cannot be underestimated and it

George Moriarity, American League Umpire, Entertains Training School With His Baseball Film, "Play Ball"

The personal appearance of Geo. Moriarity, famous American league umpire, with the movie "Play Ball," the instructive and entertaining baseball film, showing all the well-known American league stars in action, provided the motive for much wild cheering and applause by the big crowd of boys and girls assembled in the auditorium at the Wayne County Training school Friday afternoon.

Mr. Moriarity is largely responsible for the movie, having written the dialogue for it and directed it himself. It has been acclaimed by baseball authorities as the best picture of its kind ever filmed. The dialogue includes instruction in batting, catching, pitching, the work of all the infielders and outfielders, and all illustrated by the best of the six league stars, who obligingly show the proper way a certain operation should be done. And there were shown slow motion shots of every phase of the game so that young ball players may see exactly how it is done.

Babe Ruth shows how to "hit that pill," Dizzy Dean and Schoolboy Rowe demonstrate how they fan batters with their puzzling delivery. Jo Jo White reveals how he slides into bases, and other stars show why they command such high salaries.

Before the film began, Mr. Moriarity told his youthful audience a few of his experiences as a player and an umpire. He said that an umpire is, contrary to popular opinion, just as human as anyone else, and that the umpire is the one person on the ball field who never "receives a hand" except occasionally, and then it is a closed one!

"Honesty and sportsmanship are the indispensable qualities that a player in any sport must have to succeed," he declared. He said that the motto which he adopted to carry him through the countless trying situations he meets on the baseball diamond is a simple one of five letters, "Do the best you can."

THE KIDNAPER MUST DIE

Some thoughts on the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, found guilty of the kidnaping and murder of the infant son of Charles and Anne Morrow Lindbergh:

Most thoughtful students of the trial believe the verdict just.

There is a rather widespread conviction that another or others might be involved in the case. But even so, Hauptmann's part was such that his guilt deserves death.

The verdict surprised those who feel that our American jury system is outworn. There was a general feeling that there would be enough "sob sisters" on the jury to cause a disagreement.

The charge of Judge Trenchard helped the jury to bring in the right verdict. He mercilessly and in a dignified way showed in nearly every paragraph that a "guilty" verdict would be in keeping with the evidence.

The whole trial was made a Roman holiday and the spirit of the morbid mob was catered to, day after day and week after week, in a nauseating fashion. Here the foundations of justice were at stake and yet the whole proceeding was treated like a theatrical drama Attorneys, metropolitan newspapers eager for "circulation" to please the mob, movie men—all had a hand in the long-dragged out melodrama. The moron mind had the holiday of a lifetime.

The lives of little babies should be safer than ever. Notwithstanding all the show and circus display, the fact remains that a kidnaper and murderer will pay the penalty of what he—and perhaps others— did.

Now, after six weeks of "trial by hallyhoo," will the daily newspapers turn our thoughts to things more pleasant?

THE WAY TO GET AN AUTOMOBILE

"I wish that I could get an automobile like that," said a Northville high school lad as he looked over the lines of a beautiful new car that stood at the curb.

"Well," spoke up a man who happened to be talking to the young man, "You can buy that car but you will have to buy it the same way that the owner did."

"And how did he get it?" insisted the boy.

"Just this way," came back from the older man: "He saved his money; he worked hard; he laid something away every once in a while. Getting the car was no miracle—this man earned it; just as you can earn it, if you wait long enough.

"Maybe if you start saving what you spend on cigarettes, you might get a nice fund started for a new car, but you mustn't expect anyone to ever give you an automobile. Few things are being given away these times," concluded the man.

Not a bad lesson for a boy to learn. Too many of our modern youth expect to get the things as they just start life that their fathers have worked years to get.

A RADICAL MAY RUN FOR PRESIDENT

No less an authority than Paul Mallon, well-known Washington correspondent, gives a new slant on the presidential possibilities of 1936 when he predicts that a radical, perhaps of the Huey Long type, may be a candidate. No one, says Mallon, thinks that such an entry could win the election but he does point out that a man like Senator Long who would gather a few million votes—and they can be gotten by wild promises and crazy antics—might endanger the chances of President Roosevelt for re-election.

Figure it for yourself. The democrats polled 17 million votes last November and the republicans 13 millions. Take two millions of votes from President Roosevelt and give them to such a radical candidate as Huey Long and the election of 1936 might be a real "horse race." So many people are upset in their thinking these days that even Dr. Townsend, with his visionary plan of giving $200 pensions monthly to everyone over 60 years of age, might get a few million votes if he ran for the presidency. Who knows?

THE LOW COST OF LIVING

Now that we have survived the five years of depression and a lot of us are starting new pages again, the question is not the old-time one of "The high cost of living" but that of how cheaply we can live.

A man who once held a place of importance and of good financial pay tells us (after a considerable time out of work) that he figures that he and his little family (one child) could live comfortably on $25 a week—a very different sum than his former weekly pay check.

Another good manager, formerly one of the best business men of his community and considered financially independent, tells us that he and his wife believe that in a few years when their last child has gone from the home they can, if necessary, get along on $50 a month. That doesn't leave much for traveling around the world, but who wants to see Europe after 60 anyway?

It is a wise person who makes some plan for income in the sunset years of life. It can be done by the insurance plan, by proper investment and by getting one's own home and perhaps a "piece of land."

WANDERING THOUGHTS

Northville goes ahead.

* * *

Business must be getting better. Advertising in a number of papers that come to The Record is showing a consistent gain. And it is still true that "business goes where it is invited."

* * *

Government spending, once started, goes on like a big snowball sliding down hill. For example: After 122 years the U. S. treasury is still paying pensions to seven dependents of veterans of the war of 1812.

* * *

A U. S. senate committee has put the "K. O." on the $200-a-month pension plan of Dr. Townsend for folks over 60 years of age. Why not? The plan is so utterly absurd that those millions who signed the petitions should have done a little thinking first.

* * *

Detroit makes a great show of its "model house." And why not? Except for the "cliff dwellers" of our big cities who like their apartments, the normal family longs for its own home. Northville could see little finer this coming spring or summer than the building of a "model home," which would be an example and an inspiration for the rest of us. Who will build it and what street will have the honor of having it?

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

If it costs the city of Ann Arbor from $150,000 to $200,000 a year, for its hard water, what does it cost Northville for its equally hard water?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

"A TRUSTED FRIEND"

(The Christian Science Monitor)

"Don Holloway," four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Holloway, is dead today, from drinking whisky he found in the house."

"Six-year-old Charles Edward Ballard was buried today—five days after he drank a cup of whisky so that he might get drunk and act funny. Officers are looking for the man who handed the boy the cup of whisky. They have a murder charge against the unnamed man."

So run two brief Associated Press dispatches in the space of forty-eight hours. In many of the newspapers in which they appeared there also appeared whisky advertisements far from brief. Displayed in conspicuous type the virtues of the liquor which killed these two children in widely removed sections of the United States are extolled. We cull some expressions:

"Noble, A trusted, delightful and enduring old friend;" "Mellow-smooth;" "distinguished by delicacy and charm;" recommended to those who appreciate the finer things of life."

If a single cupful contains such fatal potency for a boy of six can whisky ever logically be recommended even to adults as among the "finer things of life," or elevated to the rank of a "trusted friend?"

CHASE S. OSBORN'S BIRTHDAY

(Grand Rapids Herald)

Chase S. Osborn was 75 years old yesterday and still is young physically and youthful in spirits. Chase Osborn is one of the most remarkable men of the age. Few persons have the wide range of information, rather knowledge, he has Place him in any company in the field of science, art, literature or what not and he will usually confound them all. He will hold his own anywhere. The world has been his story-book and his text-book. He has learned and remembered those things which are tangible. He has probed the secrets of the mind and of the mysteries and has frequently found the answer

Chase S. Osborn was Governor of Michigan back in 1911 and a good Governor he was. Much of the progressive legislation, such as the workingmen's compensation act, stand to his credit in the statutes of the state. Chase S. Osborn has been a truly great man. We join his thousands of friends and admirers in wishing him happy returns of the day and a hope that he may enjoy many more birthdays while rendering service to the world he loves.

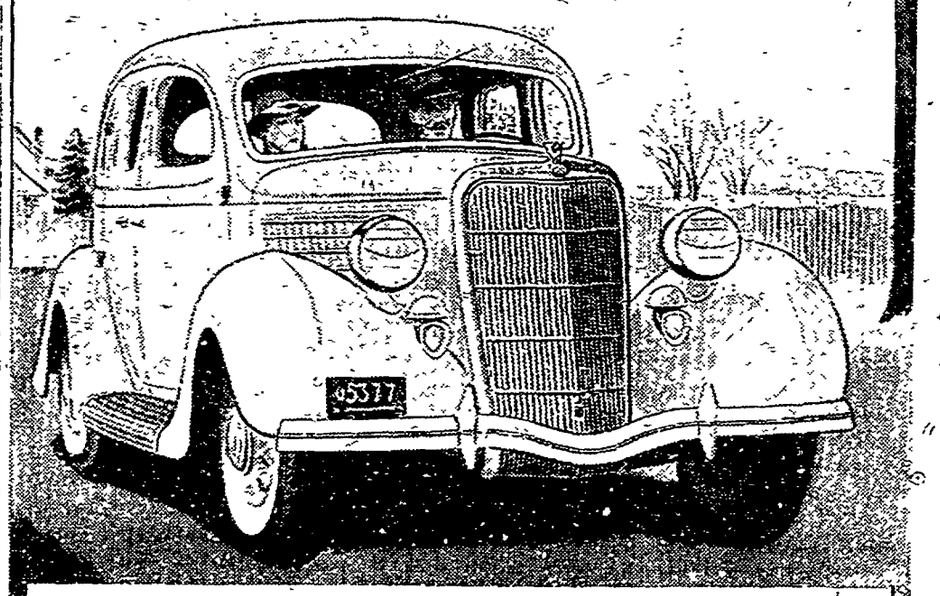
NEW FORD V-8



The Car Without Experiments

There's never any doubt about value when you buy a Ford car. You know it's all right or Henry Ford wouldn't put it out. One thing that never changes is his policy of dependable transportation at low cost.

That's the biggest feature of the New Ford. The reliability and economy of its V-8 engine have been proved on the road by upwards of 1,400,000 motorists. Owner cost records show definitely that the Ford V-8 is the most economical Ford car ever built.

See the nearest FORD DEALER for a V-8 demonstration.

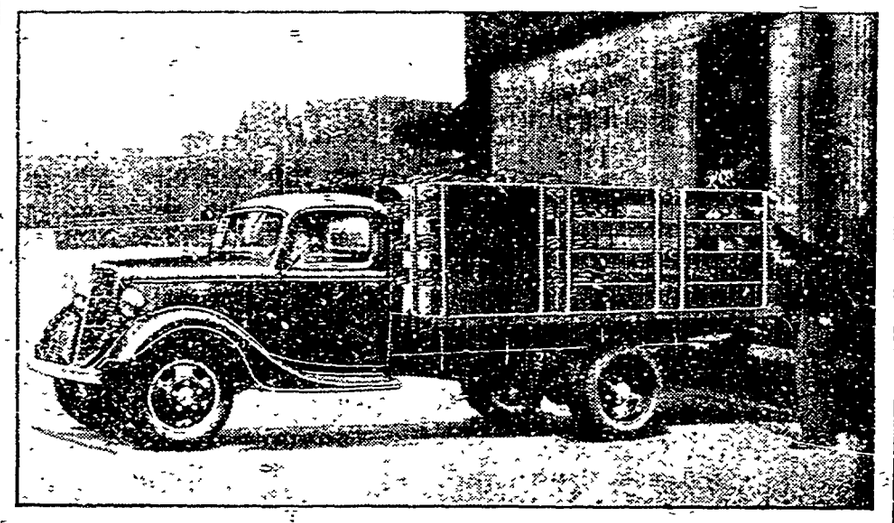
FORD MOTOR COMPANY

New Ford V-8 Truck for 1935



V-8 Performance with Proved 4-Cylinder Economy

The Ford V-8 Truck engine develops more than 80 horse-power. Uses no more fuel than a "four". New directed-flow crankcase ventilation reduces corrosion and oil dilution. Heavy-duty copper-lead connecting-rod bearings. Exhaust valve-seat inserts make valve grinding rarely necessary. Light-weight cast alloy pistons. Truck-type cylinder heads. Dual carburetor and dual intake manifold increase fuel economy.

Full-Floating Rear Axle

Most dependable type of axle construction. Load is carried on heavily reinforced axle housing. Only function of axle shafts is to turn the wheels. Axle shafts can be removed without jacking up the truck. Straddle-mounted driving pinion. Ring gear backed by thrust plate. Wheel bearings located directly under load centers with dual wheels. High or low speed can be obtained on these new 1935 V-8 trucks. Auxiliary springs recommended for unusually heavy loads.

New, Larger, Heavy-Duty, Truck-Type Clutch

The new heavy-duty truck-type clutch is built for longer life and smoother engagement. The newly designed clutch has lower pedal pressure at idling speeds. The clutch release levers are weighted at the outer ends and increase plate pressure by centrifugal force as the engine speed increases. This arrangement assures maximum resistance to slippage. The diameter of the clutch is increased to 11 inches, and has a larger frictional area. The design is simplified; fewer parts are used. Clutch is ventilated for cooler operation. Clutch housing is integral with transmission housing. Heavy-duty four-speed truck transmission.

Quick-Stopping, Rib-Cooled, New-Type Brakes

Cast alloy iron brake drums with integral cooling ribs. An extra large reinforcing rib serves to prevent distortion. Cast iron braking surface minimizes scoring. Drums will not "bell-mouth" or expand to cause "fading" when making a series of quick stops in rapid succession. Brake shoe pressure is more evenly distributed by newly-designed internal mechanism. Longer life between adjustments. Moving load center forward results in an improved distribution of braking. Brake shoes have an exchange price.

DRAWING CLASS ATTRACTS MANY NEW STUDENTS

Paul B. Thompson Is Instructor of Mechanical Drawing Class

A class in mechanical drawing was begun this year by assistant principal Paul B. Thompson, who is its instructor.

The class, the first in this line of work this school has ever had, began with seven students, but this semester the number was increased to eleven. It is an elective course, given that students might learn the fundamentals of mechanical drafting. They are studying the use and care of the instruments and tools used in this work and how to use handbooks, catalogues and various data sheets.

Those of the students who have had geometry find that it is very useful in this work, as parts of the course are associated with geometrical construction.

The class will learn to use tracing paper, and later in the year Mr. Thompson plans that they will use these drawings made on tracing paper, to mark blue prints

During the second semester, the students will draw the plans of a simple machine of their own original design. This class is extremely interesting, and will be invaluable to those who intend to take an engineering course in college. Even those who plan to take up medicine or dentistry as a career, will find that a certain amount of mechanical drawing is required.

Mr. Thompson is especially capable in this line of work. He received his first training in drawing in the Western State Teachers' college and the Detroit Institute of Technology, while he studied tool and die designing. For five summers he was a draftsman in the engineering department of the Sparks-Withington company, in Jackson, manufacturers of Sparton radios and automobile horns. One summer he was connected with the engineering department of the Alamo Engine company of Hillsdale.

Anyone wishing to take this course in mechanical drawing may do so. It meets every day the sixth hour in room 25

CORNER FOR BOOK LOVERS

By Rita Sprenger

Trigger John's Son, by Tom Robinson.

His name was Trigger John's Son and he was an orphan. What was more, he had red hair and freckles and he was being shipped with a freight ticket from Calais, Maine, to Beechwood, Pa., to be adopted by one George Smith.

Trigger didn't like being sent from one place to another. He had lived, at one time or another, with half the population of Calais. In the train he had to keep his coat on so no one would see his freight ticket hanging around his neck by a string—and he was hot.

When his train arrived in Beechwood, he jumped out and hid in a nearby vacant freight car.

Here in Beechwood he meets the Goosetown gang and becomes a member. He explains his situation to them and they take him up to the cabin of Mr. England (known when out of hearing as the "old Englishman.")

The Englishman is blind and lives alone, so that Trigger may look over Beechwood in general and George Smith in particular.

Trigger stays about two days with Mr. England and then consents to be adopted.

George Smith is the kind of a man any boy would like for a father—the kind who takes a son's part when the odds (Mr. Smith, in this case) are against him.

The Goosetown gang is very much in the limelight as is also Kate Kerby, who will delight any girl reading the story. The gang's schemes for money-making will bring back the old days for an older reader, but the Goosetowners were exceptionally successful. Anyway, they raised the money for a good purpose.

Writing seems to run in Mr. Robinson's family. He, himself, is an architect as well as an author, and his son, Lincoln Fay Robinson, who made the sketches for "Trigger John's Son," is the author of "Jack's House," another Junior Guild book of our library, which many readers enjoyed.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

N. H. S. Sets Record

Last Friday evening the Northville high school basketball quintet won its thirteenth consecutive scheduled game of the season against Trenton by the score of 19 to 16.

Besides winning these games they have won two practice games against Walled Lake and Milford. This makes a total of fifteen victories against no defeats.

By winning this game the Orange and Black cagers assured themselves of at least a tie for the Suburban league basketball championship.

As we turn back the annals of time we find out that this year's team has somewhat of a record. We found out that the team in 1922 only lost one game during the season. This was the only team that we found which compared with the present basketball five.

Much credit should be given to this team along with its coach who has worked hard to develop these young athletes.

We wish the N. H. S. cagers the best of luck in their last game of the season and we are sure that Northville will turn out 100 per cent to see this game which will determine the championship of the Suburban league

Why Not A Banquet?

We are under the impression that the basketball boys should be given a banquet if they are successful in winning the Suburban league championship.

We suggest that the townspeople and the high school students join in contributing certain amounts to give the boys a banquet which they never will forget.

After going through a season winning thirteen successive victories these boys are entitled to something. A banquet is just a suggestion.

Already two mothers have advanced the idea to us and they claim that they are willing to help all they can in completing this plan.

We hope that we hear what you the basketball fans think of the idea. If you agree with us please let us know and if not, do the same.

Clubs Formed By Students

During the past month the students of Northville high school have been forming new clubs which have been given names chosen by the various members of the clubs

We have been told that one club has elected officers and have drawn up a charter.

We believe that these recently organized clubs have given the students something to do with their leisure time. During the past few months we have heard many students complaining about their not having any way to spend their leisure time.

SENIORS APPOINT TWO COMMITTEES AT CLASS MEETING

In a senior class meeting Monday, February 4, two committees were appointed by President Tom Carrington

The committee on hours consists of Mary Louise Boyden, Dayton Deal and Lella Haystead. It is their duty to check over the hours handed in and if there is any doubt in their minds as to the correctness of the hours, they are privileged to ask the person to explain.

The second one is the committee of activities. Seniors on this committee are Don Bray, chairman, Bill Duguid and Mary Elizabeth Elkington. This group censors all activities for the senior class. If anyone has an idea, they hand it in to this committee and they decide whether it is important enough to put before the class, and in this way save much of the class time.

SENIOR WHO'S WHO

Melvin Charles Kilken

Melvin was born April 12, 1915, in Detroit, Michigan. He lived in Detroit until the year 1925, when the family moved to Northville, and has lived here since that time.

His favorite sports are golf, tennis, and basketball. His favorite pastime is dancing. His favorite hobbies are Manual Training and anything along the mechanical line.

He is not sure of what he will do after graduating.

Phyllis Helen Flaherty

Phyllis was born in Detroit on December 14, 1917. She has been sort of a rolling stone, moving from Detroit to Royal Oak several times and from Dearborn to Plymouth and finally to Northville where she will graduate in June.

She was in the senior play "The Poor Rich" and one of the "Three Musketeers" — in other words one of the cheer leaders. She was also the publicity manager for the carnival.

Her favorite pastimes are writing notes, arguing with teachers, dancing, and going places with a certain senior boy.

Phyllis' nick-names are "Phil" and "Tommie." Her favorite sports are basketball and football.

After graduation she intends to attend the Burroughs Adding Machine Company school.

JUNIORS ANNOUNCE THE COMING EVENTS OF 2ND SEMESTER

Among the things for the program of the junior class this semester are the following: A junior play to be given March 21, and 22. A junior dance, and they also have a date reserved for an event the like of which has never been attempted before.

The juniors have been reading over several plays, and have sent for three more from which they wish to choose from.

The question the class is deciding on now, is whether they should work to go to Washington or to work to take a smaller trip and give a much needed trophy case or statue to the school. This is to be voted upon in the near future.

CAN YOU IMAGINE?

Avis Perry losing pounds of weight since Saturday night?

The boys putting one over on the girls? Oh now, the girls have a club too.

Lenna Coe sleeping in the seventh hour assembly?

Henry Clark thinking the first thing necessary to go camping with, is a tent?

Jack Junod as a cooking teacher?

Lawrence Lyke baking cakes?

Mrs. Taylor sponsoring a chewing gum contest?

Winnie escaping that certain little "shake up," Mrs. Cobb can give?

The members of the R. C. B. club not being together?

Roland M. as an orchestra leader and not having "June in January" for his theme song?

DID YOU NOTICE

That A. W. wants to be a nurse maid in a large department store?

That S. T. and N. R. bummed to Lansing for the State-Kentucky game?

That the seniors are still arguing about their trip to Washington?

That E. A. is rushing a certain boy?

That E. H. and R. M. missing from school Thursday must mean that the Valentine candy in Northville is too expensive for them?

That the I. S. T. club members are rushing things around for their trip to Cumberland Gap, Tennessee?

How well certain girls like to play "Slap Hearts," especially seniors?

George Washington

By Altha Hagemaster

The story of George Washington's life has often been told, but it is worth repeating. He was born in the state of Virginia in 1732.

Washington was not a remarkable scholar, but he liked mathematics. At the age of 16 he was appointed a public surveyor.

There is no reliable record of his early education, but he was always fond of war.

He spent about six years of his later life privately, and was then called to New York to become the first president of the United States. Washington served two terms as president.

Most of the portraits of Washington show him as a serious looking gentleman in a wig, and would lead us to believe he was always on his dignity. But our first president was, in fact, a very genial man, with a hearty laugh, who enjoyed going to the theatres, was fond of fox hunting, and was a thorough sportsman, and, as he himself admitted, had a hot temper. Towards young people and children he was always very gracious and kind.

We have our school exercises, to celebrate Washington's birthday, but very little else in the way of a program or celebration to call the day to mind. Even our dinner parties do not give us a correct idea of Washington, "the man." We have for favors usually a hatchet and some cherries, recalling the story told of him as a boy, cutting down his father's cherry-tree. But this story is false. Surely we have many other things by which to remember the Father of his Country. Let us not forget what we owe to Washington, or make him merely a name—an excuse for a holiday. Let us remember him as a real, flesh-and-blood-man—one of the greatest known to history.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

Do you think we should have report cards?

Dayton Deal—No, because most of the students, just work for the mark.

Miss Huff—I shall be glad to welcome the time when the present-day report cards can be called a thing of the past. However, with the organization of classes and courses as they are today, the report card is an essential part in the system. It not only serves as a record of the student's class work, but it also helps to stimulate some individuals to do better work (work which standard tests show he or she is capable of doing.)

Bruce Turnbull—We have to have some kind of mark to show how we are progressing so we might as well have report cards.

Keene Belton—I think we should have report cards, because it makes the student work harder to get good marks, which are what nearly everyone wants, because they want to surpass the other fellow. I also something about the students' work, besides what they hear from other sources.

I think the parents should know

SENIORS VOTE ON QUESTIONS WEDNESDAY

Seniors Solve Four Major Questions Dealing With Trip

The seniors seem to be a little disturbed in their class meetings. In their last one they discussed four questions which were stated and answered in this manner:

Are the seniors going to Washington? The class voted yes, to this question. All they need now is the money.

What is to be done with left over money? The money will go back into the class treasury for use of the general fund.

What is to be done with hours turned back? What is meant by this if a person has 10 or 15 hours more than he needs should he have the privilege of giving them to a friend who needs them, or should they go back into the general fund of the class? It was voted on that it would go back to the general fund of the class.

Should the senior mothers' hours be counted?

There are some mothers who would like to work and are unable to do so, so the class voted "no" on this question.

FAMOUS SAYINGS OF FAMOUS PEOPLE

1st hour—Mrs. Cobb: "Take your paper and pencil, I'm going to give you a short test."

2nd hour—Mr. Lee: "Adelma, where is your excuse for yesterday?"

Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary, Husbands Hosts to Sister Organization—

The members of the Presbyterian Auxiliary and their husbands acted as hosts to the Methodist Service Leagues and their husbands at a happy pot-luck supper Tuesday, February 19th at the Presbyterian church home.

The big treat of the evening was a talk by Dr. Brokaw, head of Johns Hopkins hospital in Peking, China as he related the habits, customs and conditions in China. Beautiful embroidery, intricate brass work, ancient coins, jewelry, and other things brought admiration from the audience as he explained the hardships and privations endured to make the souvenir.

The reluctance of his listener to leave and the expiration of nearly a season proved that everyone thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

Parents and Teachers Gather to Celebrate Founding of Society

There is always a good attendance of parents when their children perform as did a group of fifth graders at the meeting of the Parent-Teacher association Thursday evening in the high school assembly.

The assembly was well filled with an interested audience when the curtain rose on the playlet, "The Patriotic Peppers," put on by a group of Girl Scouts of the Junior high school. Virginia Washburne, Lois Chapman, Louise Barley, Alice Litton, Leona Mae White and Mary Hester Gow carried out their parts well and the performance closed with a graceful minuet, with Alice Eaton at the piano. Miss Theresa Corrin directed the play.

A chorus of fifth graders who are beginning their first training under the direction of Leslie G. Lee, sang a group of three songs which made their parents thrill with pride.

The speech of the evening was delivered by Judge Henry G Nicol of Detroit, who came out as a courtesy to his old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Fber Ward Lester. Appropriate to the nearness of February 12 Judge Nicol gave a very vivid picture of the life of Abraham Lincoln, presenting some phases of the Great American never given before. He left his hearers more than ever impressed with the greatness of Lincoln.

The presence of Judge Nicol and his wife, the latter a southerner, added much of interest to the social hour which concluded the evening when the company gathered in the gym to enjoy the birthday cake and a cup of coffee together. Mrs. Nicol expressed herself as greatly pleased with the fine spirit of the association.

THIS WEEK

By H. H. WHITE

The local theatre was filled to capacity last Saturday night at each performance to see Shirley Temple in her newest and best picture, "Bright Eyes."

Parents with their children and people of all walks of life and age thrilled to the wee child as she played with their heartstrings. It was fine, clean, wholesome entertainment portraying those qualities of love, sacrifice, and unselfishness so necessary to the life and welfare of a nation and its people.

One could not help but feel that in this day of gross materialism and tawdry cynicism how easy she has captured the responses of all that is worth while in people. By her sweet innocence and winsomeness and the displaying of her beautiful body and love of her lovely. Lead she seems to personify, let us hope, a new America in the making.

She has a something that this sorry old world torn by its hate greed, and avarice, needs. Much can be written and said about the charm and personality which she portrays.

In the Good Book Christ told his listeners "Suffer little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not; for such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

I ventured yesterday that in the annals of dramatic criticism this picture would rate very high and certainly would not win any laurels as a great artistic achievement.

But, there would be no need of motion picture reform, no worry concerning sex appeal, no question of the reaction of criminal tendencies in children if the motion picture barons of Hollywood produced pictures with the ideals Shirley Temple characterized in "Bright Eyes."

Such a picture and response to it is a good indication that righteousness, decency, and the compelling desire for better and more wholesome things of life are fundamental characteristics of the American public. If given the proper channels they will manifest themselves.

One-Quarter of her Energy is used in SEEING!

MORE than that, a recent test in a scientifically lighted school showed that the better the lighting, the better her grades will be. Periodic examinations by an eye sight specialist, too, are vital to protect good vision. And—a most important factor—her eyes should be guarded with good lighting in the home. This means enough light, with correct-size lamp bulbs in every fixture. (In table and floor lamps with three sockets, a 40-watt bulb should be used in each socket; with two sockets, 60-watt bulbs; with one socket, a 100-watt bulb.) It means SHADES on all lamps to prevent GLARE. It means using shades with light-colored linings to get the most light. And it means having at least one-tenth as much light in the rest of the room as you have on your book, newspaper, sewing, etc. Does the present illumination in your home answer these desirable conditions?

Walled Lake high school basketball squads took two out of three games in the home gym Friday evening.

South Lyon defeated the Reserves in the opener, 33 to 22. The attack was built around Chas. Taylor, the fast-dribbling center, who caged 26 points. Green, Button, Tolettene, Hickox and De Groot scored for the Blue and Gold.

The Walled Lake girls scored at will against the Brighton group, although weakened by the absence of Welfare and Hilyard. Coach Dora Wood worked in six freshmen for experience and kept the game a little nearer even. The final score was 36 to 12.

The first team boys showed considerable improvement after the slump of the past two weeks.

The score was 13 to 1 for Walled Lake at the end of the first quarter. A game rally in the second period reduced the Rosebirds's lead by three points, but it was increased again in the third and fourth to leave the score doubled at 34 to 17 when the game ended.

Coach Hirsh made thirteen substitutions and used ten men. Coach Spiro made eight substitutions and used nine men. The game was free from roughness and was ably handled by Zimmerman of Keego Harbor.

The Walled Lake alumni team, sponsored by the Vreeland Furniture Co., and other business men of the village, played the Northville Independents to wind up the evening. The local boys had too much the best of it to make it a strong game, although the 34 to 22 score was not all one-sided. Doug Tuttle led the scoring, with R. Tuttle, Riley, Harris, and Pennell adding points. Of the visitors, Johnson, Thompson, Baldwin and Myers found the hoop.

The next game on the Walled Lake floor will be with Clarkston Friday evening.

"Deer Teecher"

"Teacher read to us about Lincoln today," announced a little boy to his mother as she was busy rolling out cookies.

"Gee, but I think he was great! Wisht I could a seen him" and he leaned against the floury board until he was handed a warm cookie and hustled off by the mother who piled the fresh cookies into the jar with a virtuous air as she said: "Well, I'm certainly glad your teacher told you about him. I had really forgotten that this was Lincoln's birthday. But then, that's all your teacher has to do—I'm sure I'm too busy feeding you all. Now run along."

"That's it. 'Now run along.'"

Teachers will bring to our children stories of Lincoln and Washington, teach them patriotism, love of nature, and encourage the sweet sentiments of life. Of course children must be fed!

Some days later the mother had occasion to go to the school. Through the doors she caught glimpses of happy preparations for St. Valentine's Day. Walls were decorated with gay cut-outs made by the children and on each teacher's desk stood a gorgeous red valentine box waiting for the party as soon as the lessons were done.

Lights burned late the evening before as preparations were made for the children's pleasure and treats were bought from the teacher's own purses. They knew that this would be the only chance some of these would have to catch the spirit of getting and giving sentiments on this day.

And where did our children get their real Christmas spirit? A walk through the halls of the school late in December where the piney odors of evergreen trees and the singing of "Silent Night" came from within the rooms would tell the story. Wasn't it Teacher who showed little hands how to make that calendar or blotter (the more beloved because of the painstaking smears), marked "For Mother?"

"We have tea parties in our room," says the kindergarten teacher "to teach the children how to set the table correctly and how to eat properly. Some catch their first idea of gratitude to the Good Giver from the songs we sing.

"And how they love to watch the seed come up in their window garden!"

It is usually from Teacher that children learn to hear the songs of birds and know them by name, to recognize trees and flowers and to see the colors in the skies.

And reading! Some teachers carry to school whole armfuls of the best books and encourage reading by offering awards. They believe that by building up a taste for the best they will counteract the cheap and shoddy that lie on many tables at home.

"Dear Harp of My Country" sings a little fellow as he lolls on the floor with his marbles and the mother listens breathlessly from the kitchen door as he sings the song all through correctly.

"And where did you learn that?" she asks.

"Why, we're taking music in school—and we can sing parts too" he adds proudly.

"My students are learning to appreciate the best music" says the instructor in our schools. "Often they come to tell me of the good productions they hear over the radio."

If there is anything that makes for a finer democracy in school than singing together in choruses we don't know what it is. In school alone, many a child learns his first love of music which, according to a modern critic, adds tone, life and buoyancy to all school life."

"I'm not afraid of the future of our youth," he continues, "when they are learning in school through music that the spiritual aspects of life are stronger than the material."

Hats off to the teachers who bring all these things to our children which might be neglected through ignorance or being too busy!

THIS WEEK

By B. B. WHITE

The local theatre was filled to capacity last Saturday night at each performance to see Shirley Temple in her newest and best picture, "Bright Eyes".

Parents with their children and people of all walks of life and age thrilled to the wee child as she played with their heartstrings. It was fine, clean, wholesome entertainment portraying those qualities of love, sacrifice, and unselfishness so necessary to the life and welfare of a nation and its people.

One could not help but feel that in this day of gross materialism and tawdry cynicism how easy she has captured the responses of all that is worth while in people. By her sweet innocence and winsomeness, and the displaying of her beautiful body and toss of her lovely head she seems to personify, let us hope, a new America in the making.

She has a something that this sorry old world, worn by its hate, greed, and avarice, needs. Much can be written and said about the charm and personality which she portrays.

In the Good Book Christ told his listeners: "Suffer little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not; for such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

I am not so sure that in the annals of dramatic criticism this picture would fate very high and certainly would not win any laurels as a great artistic achievement.

But, there would be no need of motion picture reform, no worry concerning sex appeal, no question of the reaction of criminal tendencies in children if the motion picture barons of Hollywood produced pictures with the likes of Shirley Temple characterized in "Bright Eyes."

Such a picture and response to it is a good indication that righteousness, decency, and the compelling desire for better and more wholesome things of life are fundamental characteristics of the American public. If given the proper channels they will manifest themselves.

One-Quarter of her Energy is used in SEEING!

MORE than that, a recent test in a scientifically lighted school showed that the better the lighting, the better her grades will be. Periodic examinations by an eye-sight specialist, too, are vital to protect good vision. And—a most important factor—her eyes should be guarded with good lighting in the home. This means enough light, with correct-size lamp bulbs in every fixture. (In table and floor lamps with three sockets, a 40-watt bulb should be used in each socket; with two sockets, 60-watt bulbs; with one socket, a 100-watt bulb.) It means SHADES on all lamps to prevent GLARE. It means using shades with light-colored linings to get the most light. And it means having at least one-tenth as much light in the rest of the room as you have on your book, newspaper, sewing, etc. Does the present illumination in your home answer these desirable conditions?

"Dear Teacher"

"Teacher read to us about Lincoln today" announced a little boy to his mother as she was busy rolling out cookies.

"Gee, but I think he was great! Wisht I could a seen him" and he leaned against the floury board until he was handed a warm cookie and hustled off by the mother who piled the fresh cookies into the jar with a virtuous air as she said: "Well, I'm certainly glad your teacher told you about him. I had really forgotten that this was Lincoln's birthday. But then, that's all your teacher has to do—I'm sure I'm too busy feeding you all. Now run along."

"That's it. Now run along."

Teachers will bring to our children stories of Lincoln and Washington teach them patriotism, love of nature, and encourage the sweet sentiments of life. Of course children must be fed!

Some days later the mother had occasion to go to the school. Through the doors she caught glimpses of happy preparations for St. Valentine's Day. Walls were decorated with gay cut-outs made by the children and on each teacher's desk stood a gorgeous red valentine box waiting for the party as soon as the lessons were done.

Lights burned late the evening before as preparations were made for the children's pleasure and treats were bought from the teacher's own purses. They knew that this would be the only chance some of these would have to catch the spirit of getting and giving sentiments on this day.

And where did our children get their real Christmas spirit? A walk through the halls of the school late in December where the piney odors of evergreen trees and the singing of "Silent Night" came from within the rooms would tell the story. Wasn't it Teacher who showed little hands how to make that calendar or blotter (the more beloved because of the painstaking smears), marked "For Mother?"

"We have tea parties in our room," says the kindergarten teacher, "to teach the children how to set the table correctly and how to eat properly. Some catch their first idea of gratitude to the Good Giver from the songs we sing.

"And how they love to watch the seed come up in their window garden!"

It is usually from Teacher that children learn to hear the songs of birds and know them by name, to recognize trees and flowers and to see the colors in the skies.

And reading! Some teachers carry to school whole armfuls of the best books and encourage reading by offering awards. They believe that by building up a taste for the best, they will counteract the cheap and shoddy that lie on many tables at home.

"Dear Harp of My Country" sings a little fellow as he rolls on the floor with his marbles and the mother listens breathlessly from the kitchen door as he sings the song all through correctly.

"And where did you learn that?" she asks.

"Why, we're taking music in school—and we can sing parts too" he adds proudly.

"My students are learning to appreciate the best music" says the instructor in our schools. "Often they come to tell me of the good productions they hear over the radio."

If there is anything that makes for a finer democracy in school than singing together in choruses we don't know what it is. In school alone, many a child learns his first love of music which, according to a modern critic, "adds tone, life and buoyancy to all school life."

"I'm not afraid of the future of our youth," he continues, "when they are learning in school through music that the spiritual aspects of life are stronger than the material."

Hats off to the teachers who bring all these things to our children which might be neglected through ignorance or being too busy!

Buck Jones In "The Crimson Trail" Comes To Penniman-Allen Saturday; Double Feature Program Wednesday

His uncle accused of murdering the father of the girl he loves! That is the situation in which Buck Jones finds himself in his latest Universal starring film, "The Crimson Trail," which will be shown at the Penniman Allen theatre on Saturday, February 23rd.

A renewed interest is being shown all over the country in the adventure type of pictures. In the filming of "The Crimson Trail," no expense was spared to make it one of the finest productions to come to the screen.

The story is laid in the Far West and centers around two rival ranchers who also are political opponents. Trouble brews and one is shot. The other is blamed, even though he is innocent. The accused man is Buck Jones' uncle, and Buck takes it upon himself to clear his uncle's name and win the hand of his accuser's daughter. To tell here, how he does it, would spoil the fun for the picture-goers.

Polly Ann Young is the leading lady. Carl Stockdale, Charles French, Ward Bond and Bud Osborne are among the many others notables in the cast. Al Raboch directed.

Double Feature

The sweet sophisticate of the campus; favorite of every male, yet the sweetheart of none. That's Mary Carlisle, toast of the collegiate world, as she enacts the title role in Monogram's musical romance "Girl O' My Dreams" which is the attraction at the local theatre on Wednesday, February 27th.

In her role of Gwen, Miss Carlisle has injected the years of experience that she has had in portraying the campus belle, although as a matter of fact, she has never been enrolled at any university.

For, when only 15 years of age, Mary was given a screen test and signed to a contract at Universal for the Collegian Series which were produced by Carl Laemmle, Jr. in his first venture in the production field.

Upon the conclusion of the contract Miss Carlisle imbued with the spirit of becoming a motion picture actress, applied at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios for a role in a Buck Jones as a dancer. When asked by the director, "What can you do?" Mary replied, "Sing, dance, ride, just anything at all."

It is a matter of record that she was signed for the role but she spent the next few days learning a few dance steps from a Hollywood dance teacher.

After a short career as a dancer, Miss Carlisle had her contract torn up and in place of it was substituted a new contract calling for her services as a dramatic actress.

Sterling Holloway, young comedian whose inimitable style has made him an overwhelming favorite of radio and screen, is featured with Miss Carlisle, while others in the cast include Eddie Nugent, Arthur Lake, Creighton Chaney, Tommy Dugan, GiGi Parrish, Jeanie Roberts, and the Crane twins, Beverly and Battymae.

"Murder In The Clouds"

"Murder In The Clouds," the new First National mystery thriller, will come to the local theatre Wednesday, February 27, with Lyle Talbot, Ann Dvorak and Gordon Westcott heading the all-star cast.

It is an exciting melodrama of the air, written by the noted magazine writers, Roy Chanslor and Dore Schary, concerns a plot of international conspirators to steal a secret formula for high explosives from the U. S. Government.

This leads to a thrilling hunt for the air robbers, with airplane battles in which ships are shot down in flames as their occupants leap for their lives. There is also a stirring romance in which two air pilots battle for the love of a girl. Her kidnaping by the conspirators involves more exciting incidents that wind up in a crashing climax.

A score of nationally famous pilots work with the members of the cast in the thrilling air stunts. These include Dick Rensaldi, Clinton Herberger, Frank Clarke, Howard Batt and Frank Tomick. The battle scenes were taken high above the San Jacinto Mountains of California at Camp Keene.

Christian Science Churches

"Mind" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, February 24.

Among the Bible citations is the passage (I Cor. 2:12) "Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 469): "There can be but one Mind, because there is but one God; and if mortals claimed no other mind and accepted no other, sin would be unknown. We can have but one Mind if that one is infinite."

Northville Church Council Meets

At a meeting of the ministers comprising the council, two important matters were discussed and conclusions formulated. The chairman, Rev. H. G. Whitfield, voiced his disapproval of the too frequent appeals made to merchants for advertising by the organizations of the town. The members were unanimous in their determination to discourage unnecessary appeals and hoped that in their endeavor they would receive the co-operation of all the groups or organizations of th town.

It was further agreed that should the local newspaper desire, the ministers would undertake to edit a column to be called "The Voice of the Pulpit." Each minister will take his turn. The column will contain the content of the sermon preached in one or the other of the churches. The ministers of all the local churches are co-operating.

Salem Congregational Church
Lucia M. Stroh, Minister

These near Missionaries have many interesting stories to relate of their travels through Europe to the Congo and up the country to the very heart of French Equatorial Africa. Central Africa is a vast dense jungle where these pioneers of Christian faith have penetrated with the Gospel of Hope and Salvation to many who are yet cannibals.

St. Paul's Lutheran

"We preach Christ crucified." 1 Cor. 1, 23.

Paul's statement gives his reason for working as a missionary. He did not go out into the world of his day merely to bring his generation religion. They had much religion. He could tell the Greeks truthfully on Mars Hill: "Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious," that is, religious. The trouble was not the lack of religion, but the lack of true religion. Therefore, Paul said: "We preach Christ crucified!" The Gospel of the only Savior from sin was what the world needed.

That is what the world needs today. This is the one and only reason for our missionary endeavor. The world does need this Gospel and it is our God-given duty to proclaim it.

"I would not cross the street," said one church leader, "to give India religion; India has more religion now than it can use. I would not cross the street to give China a new code of ethics; China has a vastly better code than ethical life. I would not cross the street to give Japan a new religious literature, for Japan has a better religious literature than religious life. But I would go around the world again, and yet again, if it pleased God, to tell India, China and Africa and the rest of the world:

There is a fountain filled with blood,
Drawn from Immanuel's veins,
And sinners plunged beneath that flood
Lose all their guilty stains.

Worship and Sunday school every Sunday morning at the usual time, 10 o'clock. The pastor will preach on the theme: "Why are not all hearers of God's Word eternally saved?"

Holy Communion will be celebrated on the first Sunday in March. Announcement to be made at the parsonage on Thursday evening, Feb. 28, between 7 and 9 p. m.

Be sure and tune in on the half hour of Faith and Fellowship, which is broadcast every Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock over station WXYZ.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to worship with us.

A. J. HELFRICH TELLS ROTARY CLUB ABOUT WASHINGTON'S LIFE

may be the turning point in their lives when they see such wonders as the congressional library, the capitol building, Mt. Vernon, the Arlington National cemetery, and other historic points of interest," he said.

The last part of his talk was a brief discussion of life insurance, the business which he is now engaged in, and during this time he discussed a few of the angles of insurance of which many people are not aware.

"Modern life," Mr. Helfrich asserted, "has its definite worth measured in terms of life insurance, as the result of the intricate and detailed statistics gathered by insurance companies.

"The insurance business has a splendid record of progress," Mr. Helfrich said. "I know it is a broad statement to make, but there has never been a failure of any legal reserve mutual life insurance company in America.

"The fundamental purpose of insurance," he continued, "is protection for a man's family. And in this connection, insurance protects a man both during his life, and his estate after he dies."

Before Mr. Helfrich's talk, Rotary members were reminded of the joint dinner meeting of the Rotary and Exchange clubs Tuesday evening, February 26, at the Presbyterian church house, at which time the wives of the members will be guests.

Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter, D. A. R., Meets In Plymouth

Mrs. Walter Nicol of Plymouth was hostess for the meeting of the Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter of D. A. R. on Monday, Feb. 18th, when twenty-five members answered to roll call.

In the absence of the regent, Mrs. Carl H. Bryan, the meeting was conducted by the vice-regent, Mrs. Grace D. Strong.

Mrs. Donald P. Yerkes, chaplain, led the devotions and salute to the flag. Miss Mabel Spicer gave the flag lesson for the day.

Mrs. Robert H. Beck read an interesting article on the life of Lincoln, and Mrs. Wm. Rattenbury told of Washington's church relations, and the churches he attended.
