Moved by the spirit of involvement, students at NHS participated in the exciting homecoming festivities in record numbers. Sophomores joined with juniors and seniors to swell attendance at the fun-filled lunch time Spirit Week activities sponsored by the Pep Club.

Prior to the big game on Oct. 12, the homecoming parade, highlighted by five colorful, student-designed floats, worked its way through town enroute to the playing field.

Over 3,500 supercharged supporters, one of the largest crowds to attend a NHS football game, watched with delight as the Mustangs continued their homecoming winning ways by racing past Livonia Churchill, 17-7.

Mouing beyond the local scene, students extended their community pride by wearing Tiger baseball caps, made popular as a result of Detroit's glorious wire-to-wire championship year and World Series triumph.

Seniors sparkle with spirit

$\mathbf{S}_{\text {pirit Week remains as one of the most }}$ popular student happenings at Northuille High School. During the five days of competition, fun and games, seniors juniors and sophomores engaged in friendly but spirited contests to prove which class was number one.

When this year's Spirit Week activities ended, the seniors outpointed the juniors to capture first place honors.

The week was divided into special days such as Beach Day, College Shirt Day and Movie Day.

During the lunch period, the classes challenged one another in a variety of contests to determine the winner, with points being awarded for each event.

The most successful talents this year were airbands, as everyone screamed for more of Prince and Huey. Additional ways in which the individual classes accumulated points were in such events as hall decorating, yelling contests, and big wheel races.

chose David Townsend and Chris George.

The Mustangs kept the celebration going by winning the Homecoming game 17-7. The dance was well-decorated and filled with smiling, laughing couples.

It was a picture-perfect Homecoming, one that will be remembered for a long time to come.

Community Service students gain life-enriching experiences

Community Service has become more than "just a class." to some students at Northuille High School.

The enrollment in Community Service program has steadily increased. When it was first offered, a large percentage of the students were females, but now, the ratio of males to females has balanced out.

The objective of the program is to provide students with an enriching experience in the community by helping out in vorious places such as schools. Allen Terrace and doctors' offices.

One of the activities of students in Community Service has been to make presentations to elementary school students. Presentations have centered on some important topics as alcoholism, the dangers of going with strangers, and smoking.

The students in Community Service also produced the first television show for cable about the high school. During the Christmas season. students in the proyram collected over 115 presents for Northuille State Hospital, making the total number given exceed 10,000.

The juniors and seniors who make up the class ore required to put in 90 hours of work. Jane Lauber, who has taught Community Service for 13 years, said. "I think there is no better experience than learning by participating in community activities, and the kids really enjoy it.'"

Tom Johnson, who also taught a Community Service class, hopes to expand the areas for student involvement to allow even greater, more varied experiences.

The response by the community participating in the program has been overwhelming. Many of these community leaders have given students recommendations for jobs and have asked to be a part of the Community Service program next year.

Student-run store

teaches work skills

What is most unique about the Hill-Top Shoppe? It is not necessarily the merchandise sold or the prices for the items in stock. Nor is it the publicity or advertisements for the store.
The Hill-Top Shoppe is unique because it is a store managed and operated solely by students at Northuille High School. The purpose of the store is not only to provide quality merchandise at economical prices for the faculty and student body, but most importantly, to provide an actual business atmosphere where students can gain pre-employment training by developing business-like procedures and attitudes.
According to business teacher Wayne Saunders, the school store provides students with "hands on experiences" so that they can gain the needed skills to be successful in the field of marketing and distribution.

The location of the Hill-Top Shoppe was in the cafeteria complex. With the new building renovation, a new location was in the works for next year.

Co-op trainees pick up credit, paychecks

$\boldsymbol{O}_{n}$ne of the most beneficial school programs, called Coopertive Occupational Education (co-op), allows students at NHS to receive on-the-job training from participating employers in the community.

In this special program, the employer acts as the teacher and the place of business serves as the classroom.

In order to participate in co-op, students need to be at least 16 years old and meet daily classroom requirements in a related course. Trainees work for a minimum of 15 hours a week and receive graduation credit and regular beginner's pay. The students are supervised by a co-op coordinator and evaluated by the employers.

Students in the program this year all felt it was a worthwhile experience. As one co-op senior noted, "What other class can you take that gives you credit and pay, while at the same time prepares you for a job after graduation?"

Car washes, flower sales, dances net needed funds

$\hat{A}_{t}$
Northuille High School, fundraising events are a tradition.

Beginning sophomores scarcely understand the importance of working together, in additon to striving for certain goals. But soon into the school year, they begin to learn these important objectives through such fundraising activities as car washes and the Christmas ornament sales.

As juniors, students begin to see the big picture - the fun-filled senior events - as their primary goals and try to build the class funds with magazine sales and by sponsoring dances.

In senior year, students have molded together spirit and unity. They work to raise money for several events, including prom, the highlight of the year for many seniors. Fundraising events may include selling birdseed, holding a Christmas dance, selling ice cream on July 4th and organizing a donkey basketball game.

Fundraisers bring students fond memories of hard work and determination, and most importantly, teach students the importance of working together to reach common goals.

Publicity is important to successful fundraising so Dawn Biondi, Mandy Walts and Diane Hall get out the message with posters.

Parties, trips, movies popular

with students

Only about 35 hours of an average school week are actually spent at NHS. Which leads one to wonder, how do students use up the remaining hours of a typical week?

Besides working and sleeping, a variety of activities make up life outside of Northuille High School.

For seniors, the big event of the year is their trip to Florida over spring break. The students start planning the trip as early as August or September. The "hot spot" to stay this year was the Howard Johnson Hotel on the main strip.

During the weeks that school was in session, students found a number of varied in-town activities. The recently opened MacDonalds was a favorite eating and meeting spot for a number of students.

On Saturdays, students with extra money could be seen shopping on Main Street or at one of the malls. Attending sporting events, taking in a movie or just cruising around town were other fun things to do away from school.

I$t$ is said that the real character of a school shows through its clubs and organizations. If that is so, then the students at Northuille High School can truly be characterized as spirited, involved and multi talented.

Seniors, juniors and sophomores joined clubs in high numbers and contributed their time, energies and talents in organizations ranging from drama to the Pep Club, from band to the Equestrian Club.
With the possibility of a 1985 Palladium not being published, concerned students rallied to show their support by working after school and evenings to make the demanding deadlines so that a yearbook could be enjoyed by students in June. In addition, parents groups, such as Boosters and Mothers Club. supported school organizations through their generous contributions of time and fundraising efforts.

Wizard of Oz , Orwell's 1984 thrill audiences

 Drama was certainly alive and well in '85 at Northuille High School. Beginning with the fall presentation of George Orwell's 1984 and ending with the curtain closing spring play, Wizard of Oz , the cast of players and crew entertained enthusiastic, appreciative audiences.In the fall play, Big Brother, portrayed by principal David Bolitho, monitored all activities. His control was evident through "double think" and commands like "Freedom is slavery," "War is Peace" and "All Hail Big Brother." The cooperative efforts of the entire cast and persons behind the scenes made it a successful production.

The Wizard of $\mathbf{O z}$ was presented in March and once again, welcomed large crowds. The bright, colorful costumes and frequent scene changes enticed people of all ages.

Dorothy, played by Melanie Bennett,

 Chris Kaley as the Tin Woodman, Dave Dore as the Cowardly Lion and Jeff Peters as the Scarecrow thrilled the audiences with expert singing and dancing.The cauldron scene, featuring the evil Wicked Witch of the West, Anne Griffith, frightened youngsters with its eerie smoke and flame special effects.

Under the experienced direction of drama teacher Kurt Kinde, both plays drew large, enthusiastic crowds for all the performances. "I will cherish my 12 years in the drama program at NHS, " said Kinde after the final curtain call was made and stage lights darkened for the ' 85 season.

Bands march to varied tunes

$\boldsymbol{N}_{\text {orthville }}$ High School's outstanding Instrumental Music Program consists of the Wind Ensemble, Jazz Ensemble, and the Marching Band, all taught by Michael Rumbell.

The Wind Ensemble deals mainly with classical and modern music, using instruments ranging from flutes to tubas. The members perform in concerts and compete against other schools in organized competition.

The Jazz ensemble plays music from classic jazz to the most recent jazz tunes. The only instruments that make up the Jazz ensemble are saxes, trumpets, percussion, keyboard and guitars.

The Marching Band is strictly a volunteer, after-school activity. Band members ranging from ninth grade through twelfth grade are directed by Rumbell and his assistant, Steve Chishell. The Marching Band performs at all home football games and at the Homecoming and Fourth of July parades.

In May the bands went to Washington D.C. for a period of four days to perform at scheduled concerts. When the band members weren't performing, they took the time to sightsee and visit several historical monuments.

The choir also participated in the gala Spring Concert and at the Rotunda of the State Capitol in May.

Two seniors, Melanie Bennett and Kevin

Cheerleaders place first in competition

Beginning with their first place finish in the float competition during Homecoming week, the Mustang cheerleaders set an example for the rest of the students to promote spirit and enthusiasm at Northville High School.

The cheerleading squad gave the fans at the football and basketball games that extra spark to cheer their teams on to victory.

Performing a number of spirited routines learned at the P.A.C.E. camp last summer, the cheerleaders scored a first in the overall Western Lakes Activities Association competition in November.

To raise money to help pay for attending the summer cheerleading camp, the members of the varsity and junior varsity squads held several successful fundraisers throughout the year.

While attending a mandatory camp at Central Michigan University during the summer, the squad finished first among all of the schools that participated. The camp finetuned the skills and routines that the members performed during halftime at the football and basketball games throughout the season.

In addition, the squad performed against other area schools in competition at the Pontiac Siluerdome. The pom pon team also presented its unique "double vision"' routine in competition with other schools that belonged to the Western Lakes Activities Association.

culture

Under the sponsor Gail MacDonald, the German Club tried to get a first-hand taste of German foods and learn about German culture.

In March the students ate at Frankenmuth. The club also dined at the Old German Restaurant in Ann Arbor. As usual, the annual gummi bear sale was a profitable fundraiser for the club.

The students hoped to learn more about German customs through their field trips and studies. For example, the German II class planned and held a Geburtstag Party, a German birthday party complete with streamers, signs, songs, punch and birthday cake.

German students, along with students from all the language classes, held a progressive dinner at the end of the school year. Various ethnic dishes were eaten and different customs were exchanged.

Europe site of language trip

large group of over 40 foreign language students are headed for Europe this summer. This European trip, held every other summer, has become a tradition at Northuille High School.

The language students, accompanied by teachers Emilly Serafa-Manschot, Marllyn Hopkins, Gatl MacDonald and Steven Romba, will hit England, France, and Spain in their two-week trip.

Among the tour highlights are a visit to the Eiffel Tower in Paris, a theater outing in London, and a visit to St. Paul's Cathedral. In Spain the group will stop at Madrid, the nation's capital and then head to Toledo and Sevilla to visit cathedrals.

Another stop includes the Alhambra in Granada. The trip winds down with a relaxing stop at Costa del Sol at the beach. Language students can earn credit by fulfiling certain requirements on this educational trip. With a variety of language students involved, the enthusiastic group awaits its departure.

Members handle responsibilities with class

$\boldsymbol{K}_{\text {eeping in }}$ mind that its purpose for existence was to represent the interests and well.being of the student body, the NHS Student Congress completed a busy, productive year.

Under the guiding hand of sponsor
Doug Dent, Congress members conducted numerous activities to benefit the school.

The well-attended sophomore party brought proceeds to the Sophomore Class treasury. In addition, newly appointed Student Congress member, Ken Rosselot, was very instrumental as the school's representative to WLAC.
Keith Sanders was a driving force behind the successful Homecoming Week festivities, elections, and blood drives, while Jill Taschner handled Spirit Week responsibilities.

A cable television program that was written, directed and produced by Dave Doré was also a successful endeavor.

Group meets high standards of leadership, service, character

One of the most prestigious, honored groups at Northuille High School is the National Honor Society.

To be eligible for membership, students must have a 3.5 cummulative grade point average and must meet high standards of leadership, service, and character.

Leadership is based on student participation in two or more community or school activities or election to an office. To meet the service requirement, students must have been involved in three or more service projects in the school or community. Character is measured in

Students are screened by a faculty council consisting of five staff members after applications and recommendtions are submitted to the advisers. Once inducted, students must maintain their grade point average, standards of leadership and character and be active participants in the organization.
This year the National Honor Society sold flowers, fudge and calendars. A most successful fundraiser was a complete sell out of stockings at Christmas.

Staff

overcomes

obstacles to finish yearbook$\boldsymbol{W}^{\prime}$hen the year began in September, there was serious doubt that the students of Northuille High School would have a 1985 yearbook to treasure. A yearbook adviser had not been appointed and a staff had not been assembled.

But finally in October, Gino Perrn, former yearbook aduiser at Birmingham Groves High School, agreed to work with students willing to make the commitment to put together the pages of Palladium ' 85.
"It's amazing considering our late start and the many obstacles which had to be overcome that we had a yearbook to present to the students in June," said Perrl.

According to Perri, the credit went to a handful of dedicated young men and women who realized the importance of their responsbilities.
'If they had failed to make their deadlines, then a yearbook for students to enjoy at the end of the year would not have been possible," Perri said.

One of the outstanding accomplishments of the staff was to sell nearly $$ 4,000$ of advertising space to community businesses. In addition, 600 yearbooks were sold to the student body.

The theme for Palladium ' 85 was "We're on the Move," which dwelled on the many positive changes and achievements occurring at the school.

Cited for exceptional work throughout the entire year were seniors Marc McNamara, Sharl Faydenko, GIl Barr and KIm Harrigan, junior Kym Valade, and sophomores Anne Griffith, Teresa Wen, Dee LaChance, Amy Gasser and Tytti Barnett.

NHS enriches foreign students

One of the most worthy, on-going educational experiences is the high school foreign student exchange program. Northuille High School was enriched by the presence of three exchange students during the past year.

The three foreign students were Claudia Canto-Hernandez from Mexico, Gordanna Tudjmann from Yugoslavia and Pablo Barreiro from Spain.

Students who were interested in becoming exchange students were required to fill out an application and undergo an interview before a selection committee.

Any of the 50 states were open to these foreign students.

All three students found their experiences in Michigan, and in particular, Northuille High School to be pleasant and rewarding.

Pablo enjoys Michigan and felt he was getting a good education. Anna loves her native Yugoslavia very much but found her experiences at Northuille most beneficial.

Claudia especially likes the idea of meeting new people and speaking their language. "I think it is worth the trip for anyone to get an experience in another country," she said.

Exchange student Claudia Canto-Hernandez enjoys her stay at NHS because of friends like Gaynelle Wagner and Shari Rosenthal.

It is a long way back to his native Spain, but Pablo Barreiro finds his educational experience at Northville High School most rewarding.

New club rides high

AA new school activitiy at NHS requires one important possession before you are eligible to participate. To join the Equestrian Club, you must own a horse or lease one.

The Equestian team competed against other area schools, including Plymouth Canton, Milford, Hartland and South Lyon.

The riders on the team performed exceptionally well. Kathy Doyle and Nancy Holmes were good in Hunt Seat competition while Sean Sullivan and Wendy Trexler performed well in Western.

The sister team of Carrie and Kristi Pyden scored well in Contest and Erin Sullivan covered the Saddle Seat nicely, concentrating on form and pattern classes.

Graduating senior Kristi Trexler will be expecially missed by the team.

Hard-working members aid NHS sports, activities programs

What do the batting cage, tennis machine, ticket booth, stadium speaker system, field sprinklers, and Mustang mascot costume at NHS all have in common? Give up? The answer is that these items are just some of the many donations made by the Boosters Club to Northuille High School over the past few years. The school's active Boosters organization, strengthened this year by a membership of over 175 families, work closely with the administrators, coaches, activities' sponsors and students to provide financial assistance and spirited support to the sports and activities programs at the school.

The hard-working group has raised approximately $$ 10,000$ for each of the past three years through such annual fundraisers as the July Clambake and the fall sports program book.

Much of the success of the Boosters in '84-'85 was the result of the strong leadership and dedication of the club's officers. There were Tom Guldberg, president, Lou Denhof, vice-president; Sherry Bugar, treasurer; and Judy Walsh, secretary.

Meeting every first Monday of the month at the school, the Boosters hope to increase their membership next year. "All parents are most welcome to attend our meetings, especially those parents that will have ninth grade sons or daughters attending the school next year," said Boosters president, Tom Guldberg.

Club donates time, funds and 'motherly love'

A school without a Mothers Club is like a first aid station without supplies. At Northville High School, the mothers' organization provides a valuable function to serve students, and ultimately the community, by donating their time and financial assistance.

The Mothers Club has made financial contributions to such school organizations as cheerleaders and yearbook, and to the athletic department for the purchase of equipment. Currently, a new piano is being used in the music department thanks to the efforts of the Mothers Club.

Active members of this hard-working group have dedicated hours of their valuable time to plan and organize such fundraising events as pizza dinners and the Christmas Cocktail Party.

Enjoying the Christmas cocktail party are Bill and Judy Bartling. party chairperson; Gary and Barbara Sixt, Mothers Club president; and Edie and Bruce Pegrum, party hosts.

Bergiming with the Women's Soccer Team, the spring (84) sports teams snatched a number of prestigious litles. It was a season to remember for first year soccer coach Stan Smalec as his womert's squad captured the first Class A State Championship in the school's history.

The Men's Baseball Team rewarded retiring coach Fred Holdsworth with Northuille's first ever WLAA Conference Championship.

The Women's Tennis Team also sparkled winning the Conference Championship for the second straight year while piling up a 152 record.

The Men's Golf Team stunned many observers by driving to the Conference Title at the Fox Hill's Country Club

And finally, the Varsity Football. Team capped off a year of "winning moves" by grinding to a strong 7.2 record. With dedication and purpose, the sports teams rambled proudly on the fast track to victory.

Gridaers 3 allop to victories

If the Varsity Football Team had believed the so-called "experts," the 1984 version of Mustang football was doomed to a mediocre, losing season.

But the team responded to the brilliant coaching of Dennis Colligan and rolled to an amazing 7.2 mark, shattering a number of team and individual records set by the 1977 varsity squad.

Despite their fine won-lost record, the gridders missed the State Playoffs by a single point.

A bone-crushing defense and crisp, explosive offensive play smothered many stunned opponents. The Mustangs continued their winning ways on Homecoming weekend by blitzing Churchill, 17-7. Other highlights included a $52-14$ slaughter of Salem and a $34-15$ season-ending thrashing of Novi.

The exceptional play of seniors Rick Van Buren who broke game and season rushing records, and Doug Hartman, nevertheless, did not overshadow the entire team effort displayed by the Mustangs throughout the season.

$\boldsymbol{T}_{\text {he }}$ deady combination of strong doubles teams and consistent, competitive singles players carried the Women's Varsity Tennis Team to a $15-2$ record and the WLAA Conference championship for the second straight year.
Coach Uta Filken used team experience and team depth to win a number of tight matches, including 4.3 scores over Plymouth Salem and Farmington Harrison.
The only blemishes to mar a perfect record were tough losses to Mercy High and to Plymouth Canton.
Senior Lynn Frellick used her skills to make it to the Division Championship match. Diane Lindquist and Lauren Oliver as well as Shari Faydenko and Leslie Oliver captured the Conference titles.

Streaky golfers grab Conference title

The Men's Golf Team went through an unusual, strange season, but the end results were as sweet as a hole in one.

The Linksters finished with only a so-so record in league play. but they caught fire in dramatic fashion in tournament play.

The golfers finished fourth out of the 32 teams competing at the Hill-Top Invitational. However, the highlight of the season was yet to come, as at the Conference Championship the Mustangs shocked the competition by driving, chipping and putting to a first place finish.

Senior Eric Morfe was selected as All.Conference and Bob Baird, Bob Justus and Greg Abraham made All-Division.

In addition. Morfe and Justus were chosen as Co-Most Valuable Players, while Abraham and Tom Veselanak were tabbed as the most improved players on the squad.

0vercoming a slow start, the Men's Cross Country Team gained victories in their final four meets to finish with an overall 5-4 record.

The Mustangs completed conference action with a 4-2 winning mark, including a respectable 3-1 division record

Co-Captains Rich Nazradi and Mike Slefken provided the team leadership that helped the Mustangs finish in 4th place at the Schoolcraft Invitational and 6th at the regional meet.

Nazradi, selected the Most Valuable runner for his team, also posted the Mustangs' fastest three-mile in '84 with a time of 16:30 The Most Improved Award went to John Kissinger.

It was a year of triumphs for Coach Ed Gabrys and the Women's Cross Country Team, as the Mustangs culminated an outstanding season by running away with the Class A Regional title.

In addition to the regional championship, the harriers placed first at the Schoolcraft Invitational which included ten of the top schools in the Class A division.

Co-Captain Cindy Panowicz, the team's most valuable runner, said, "We were successful because we worked together as a team."

Young netters notch surprising 9-4 record

Playing with seven underclassmen among the top ten. the Men's Tennis Team completed a satisfying season with a $9-4$ record.

As coach Dick Norton pointed out. "We were an eyelash away from the division title,

This remarkable record was quite an accomplishment for such an inexperienced team. A close match against Canton hurt the Mustangs chances for the title as the netters were edged. 4.3.

Once again. another tight match loss to Farmington Harrison doomed Northuille to a second place finish behind Harrison.

Outstanding singles player Arvind Sreedharan led the netters. dominating the number one singles spot throughout his sophomore. junior and senior years. Sreedharan ended his high school career as runner-up in All League and All Division.

Coach Norton indicated he was quite pleased with the season overall. and he was especially happy with the strong play of the junior varsity players who showed much promise for the future.

Booters get hot in State playoffs

$\boldsymbol{T}_{\text {he interest in the Men's Vassity Soccer program at }}$ Northuille High School has increased dramatically in recent years. so much that this season's team roster included 33 players

The Mustangs finished with a 12.6 .2 record. including playoff matches. The booters finished second in the division and ninth in the State rankings.

Coach Marv Gans said. 'Each game was a team effort. Everyone worked hard. Both coaches. Dr.
Swayne and I. believe each player contributed something.

The most exciting game occurred in the Regional State Playoffs where Northuille edged Lahser. 1-0. in a nailbiting, overtime shootout.

Newcomer Amy Shimp earned the Most Spirit Award for her dedicated support to the team. Head Coach Bill Dicks and his assistant coaches worked hard to improve the girls' performances,

At the Conference Meet, the Mustangs finished in eighth place. The team also notched a third place position at the Farmington Relays.

Most Valuable Player Shari Thompson is off to the races.

Tankers dunk foes to win west division

It was a big year in several ways for the Men's Swim Team, as not only did the tankers log a winning record in the WLAA, but they also streaked and splashed to a perfect 4-0 mark to claim the West Division title.

It was a big year, too, in the sense that the swim team included a total of 31 members, the largest ever for the school.

Guided by first year head coach Derek Gans and assistant coach Bill Dicks, the tankers ended their regular season with a 52-28 drowning of Plymouth Canton. which according to coach Gans was the Mustangs best meet of the year.

Darius Mikalonis broke the school record in the 500 meter freestyle and divers Jeff Pawloski and Joel Grasley had consistently high scores in all the meets. Co-captains Dave Wayne, Ron Johnson, and Jeff Bainbridge provided the strong leadership to keep the large number of swimmers working as a closely knit unit throughout the season.

Cagers rebound to post 9 wins

his season signaled vast improvement among varsity girl's basketball, '" summed up coach Ed Kritch. Indeed. 9 wins and 11 losses in the regular season was quite a leap from the 218 mark of the previous year.

The players worked well together and gained a lot of poise and corifidence. The team's thrilling victory over Canton in overtime lifted them into third place in the division.

Close contests against top ten team Walled Lake Western further supported the great strides shown by the Mustangs. Unfortunately, in the early round of the state fournament, the cagers fell to the Canton Chiefs, 36.28.

Seniors Kathy Korowin, Sue Terwin, and Erin Ryan helped to stabilize the young team since six out of the 12 players were sophomores. Terwin, the team's Most Valuable Player. received honorable mention for the All Division team as well as joining Korowin on the All Area team. Korowin was also voted the team's best defensive player Sophomore Tricia Ducker earned a spot on the All Division first team and honorable mention for the All Area team Roxanne Serkaian, sophomore "hot fingers" helped fill the hoop consistently. including several crucial buckets against Canton. Anne Griffith earned the Most Improved Player Award.

As coach Kritch predicted, "Things look even brighter for " 85 with 9 out of the 12 players returning."

Mustangs overcome losses to end season on bright note

Please excuse basketball coach Omar
Harrison if you catch him mumbling to himself and pulling out his hair at the same time.

The Mustangs opened the season with a tough two point loss to South Lyon, 42-40. It proved to be a sign of things to come.

Of their 10 losses during the regular season, the cagers dropped one nail-biting overtime game to Livonia Franklin, lost a 44-43 heartbreaker to Bentley, and were nipped at the wire, 62-60 by Walled Lake Central.

Despite these tough setbacks, the Mustangs showed much heart and grit. At one stretch they reeled off three straight wins against Walled Lake Western, Dearborn and Plymouth Salem. Their 49-

43 win over the Salem Rocks was the first by a Northville basketball team in its history.

In another exciting game, the Northuille " 5 " overcame a 20 point deficit to pull out a victory. And still another highlight was a 45-39 homecourt upset of Farmington Harrison.

Senior Greg Wendell played a key rebounding and scoring role in the center position for the Mustangs. Dependable Doug May also steadied the team with his consistent guard play.

It was, nevertheless, the good overall team effort that accounted for the 7 regular season victories for the Mustangs. As Coach Harrison pointed out,
"Everyone in his own way has contributed to the ball club."

Squad shows improvement

Ateam that shows improvement throughout the year would make any coach happy. It was not surprising, therefore, that despite a losing record, gymnastics coach Michele Charniga was smiling at season's end.

First of all, in defeating Walled Lake Central in mid-February, seniors Diane Hale and Mandy Walts completed a battery of scores needed to qualify for All-Around Competition at the Class A Regionals.
Secondly, the squad's overall floor exercise score, rather low in the early meets, showed improvement as the season wore on.

The victory over Central pushed the team's record to 3-4, but a loss to Farmington Harrison doomed the Mustangs' chances for a winning season.

$\boldsymbol{P}_{\text {lagued by inexperience and injuries, the wrestling team took its }}$ lumps during the ' 84 . 85 season, but the squad always managed to pick itself off the canvas with some good outings.

The grapplers pinned early season losses on Livonia Stevenson and Farmington Harrison and finished a respectable 6th out of 12 competing schools at the Blue Water Classic.

Top wrestlers throughout the season were co-captains Dino Candela and Joel Vogt. However, Vogt was injured in practice and was unable to compete in the league and district meets.

With a large number of underclassmen gaining valuable experience, coach Jack Townsley predicted, "The future should be bright."

 tailspin after fast start Just saquickly as s summer storm clouding up a sunny blue sky, the Varsity Volleyball Team's hopes of a bright shiny season turned into a dark nightmareBeginning the season with a homecourt victory over John Glenn and then winning their next three matches, the strikers envisioned a strong run for the league championship.

But coupled with the loss of some of its players and facing stronger competition. the squad fell into a tailspin, dropping a total of nine matches for the remainder of the season.

Captain Bev Henderson and junior
Kris McGowan had strong outings, with McGowan being voted as the team's Most Valuable Setter. Nicki LaRoque was selected as Most Improved.

With a hard-working junior varsity team gaining valuable experience and some key returning varsity players, Coach Steve McDonald and his strikers hope to keep the skies of ' 86 bright and sunny all season long.

Northville ' 9 ' bags conference trophy

"W hat a way to go," remarked departing coach Fred Holdsworth after his 1984 baseball team gave him a retirement present he will long remember - the Western Lakes Athletic Association Conference championship.

The WLAA championship trophy was the first ever for the Northuille "9," playing in one of the strongest baseball leagues in the state.

In sweeping to the conference title, the Mustangs compiled a strong 16.4 record. Included in their victories were impressive wins over Walled Lake Western, 17-2 and 9-8, and a 6.3 triumph over Harrison.

The team entered the state playoffs by whipping Romulus and John Glenn before falling to Walled Lake Western in the district finals.

Assistant coach Bob Frellick replaced Holdsworth as coach of the Mustangs for the ' 85 season.

Team recovers from slow start

 A fter winning just one of its first 10 games, it would have been easy for the ' 84 Women's Softball Team to pack its bats, gloves and balls and call it quits.But under the patient guidance of Coach Sue Heinzman, the softballers won four of its next ten games, including two out of its final three contests to finish the season on a high note.

The team showed sound improvement in the last half of the season, winning two games from Plymouth Canton, 6-4 and 5-3, and closing the season with impressive victories over Walled Lake Central and Farmington Harrison

Inexperience hurts team

W hen a team is young and lacks game experience, it often becomes a season of learning and building. It was that kind of season for the 1984 Men's Track Team which suffered through growing pains in winning two of seven meets.

One bright spot was that several meets were highly competitive with the Mustangs losing by only a few points.

The team's victory at the Bentley dual meet was a high scoring affair. The Observerlane Relays boosted the squad's confidence after a fine effort by the distance medley team.

Like other NHS teams, freshmen added their raw talents and did quite well in the Observerlane Relays.

Tracksters set records

to highlight season

It was a year to shatter records for the 1984 Women's Track Team. "We broke more records this year than this team has in a long time," said coach Ann Turnbull.

Once again, freshman runners added to the team's performance. Even though the Mustangs started the season with an inexperienced squad, the improvement and inspiration paid off at the League Meet.

Freshman Anne Griffith set a new NHS 1600 meter (one-mile equivalent) mark with a time of 5:30.78.

Hurdler and sprinter Cindy Panowicz proved to be a dependable point snatcher for the team throughout the year. Panowicz, who broke still another NHS record, the quarter-mile in 58 seconds, was donned Most Valuable Runner. Griffith earned the Most Improved Runner Award.

At the state tournament in June, Northuille High School was represented, once again, by hurdler Cindy Panowicz.

The team's most valuable player, Cindy Panowicz, clears the last hurdle in a sprint to the finish line.

State Champs!

Northville wins first soccer title

The enthusiasm and team spirit of the Mustang Strikers helped them to stun previous state champ Livonia Stevenson to capture the state title, Northville's first ever in soccer.
"It took a total team effort," said first year coach Stan Smalec after his team's thrilling triple overtime shootout victory propelled the Mustangs to the championship.

The girls cooperation and support for each other also aided them to rally past Churchill, 3-1 after falling behind 1-0.

Of course, the outstanding performances of individual athletes helped boost the team as well. Senior dynamite forward Lisa Cahill led the team as its goal scorer, and junior Kathy Korowin took charge at midfield playing both offense and defense.

Junior Cheryl Spaman defended the backfield for freshman goalie Tricia Ducker who developed into a strong goaltender as the season wore on.

The team was also encouraged by its large number of talented freshmen. Leading the freshmen were forward Julie Anger, center fullback Jill Gallagher, and winger Kim Flading. Other commendable performances were turned in by Julie Nowka, Carrie Lenahan, Gaynelle Wagner, and Jill Jensen.

The new building construction, aimed to add more classrooms and office space, was expected to be completed in time for the '85-'86 school year.

In addition, new teachers, new textbooks and equipment helped maintain the school's tradition of providing academic excellence to its students.

Teachers, office personnel and administrators understood the importance of providing the personal touch in dealing with students. It was not uncommon to see a teacher helping a student with a math problem. a science project or an English paper long after the final bell had sounded.

Thanks to a dedicated, talented staff, the academics arena was well equipped to meet the challenges of the times

Board decisions to keep NHS on the move

The Northville Board of Education has had a very busy year marked by major decisions concerning the future direction of Northville's educational program.

The board's most controversial decisions dealt with the closing of various schools in the district. After conducting public hearings the board unanimously approved the Middle School Organizational Guidelines.

The most significant new guideline that will affect Northville High School next year was the decision to place all ninth graders in the building beginning in September.

With the new building construction due to be completed by the fall, ninth graders at the high school will benefit from a more varied curriculum and greater teaching resources and facilities.

Neither rain, wind, nor snow will stop the construction crews from working to try to meet the projected fall completioin of the building renovation.

New administrator, bulldozers signal changes at NHS

$\mathbf{N}_{\text {ew }}$ Jucess highhghed the a aminisstatie happenings ot Northuille High School, not only on the inside, but on the outside as well.

Joining the administrative team was Assistant Principal William Hamilton, who replaced Dr. Barbara Campbell.
Hamilton, who handled a number of responsibilities throughout the year, such as vocational education, special needs and attendance, had gained administrative experience in the Livonia Public Schools and at Robichaud High School before coming to Northuille.
"It's been a smooth transition," said Hamilton. "We have good kids here and very few find it difficult to make the adjustment to high school life. I'm very happy here."

In addition to the new face on the inside, the outside was undergoing a major facelift of its own. New building construction and renovations were in progress to prepare for the incoming freshmen for next year. Included in the construction plans were anew gymnasium and cafeteria as well as expansion of administrative and departmental offices and classrooms.

An experienced and competent new administrator and the outdoor site of bulldozers and building equipment were further evidence of a school definitely on the move.

Dedicated staff helps keep NHS running smoothly

If most valuable persons awards were given out to those individuals most responsible for maintaining an efficiently-running school, then the office secretaries at Northuille High School, undoubtedly, would be the first nominated.

In a given day, the secretaries in the main office, using a cheery smile and sound experience, deal effectively with numerous parents, teachers, students and visitors to the school - most seeking help of some sort.

Moreover, the invaluable assistance given by the office personnel to the school's administrators allows the principal and his assistants to carry out properly their important day-to-day responsibilities.
Next time you want to see competent and caring individuals in love with their work, stop by any of the offices in the building and say hello to NHS's seasoned secretaries.

Silent workers perform needed tasks

It is not hard to imagine the clean up work needed in a building used by 1000 persons for eight hours a day. It is not hard to picture the clean up required after many of these same persons have finished lunch. Nor is it difficult to comprehend the work required to prepare hot lunches and other food items for this large group each day.

But like clockwork precision, these service tasks are performed so that students and teachers can enjoy their school.

The service personnel at NHS are the silent workers in the building. They clean, repair, set up, prepare, and oversee building maintenance. They do all these things and more with an understanding that their work is greatly appreciated by all who take pride in Northuille High School.

Music director at Northville need not toot his own horn

$\boldsymbol{N}_{\text {orthuille }}$ High School's music director Michael Rumbell doesn't need to blow his own horn. His actions and experiences speak for themselves.

Rumbell, who teaches wind Ensemble and Jazz Ensemble at the school, has had an exciting. productive career. A graduate of the University of Michigan, he played trombone, baritone horn and trumpet.

The NHS instructor has played in various local ensembles, including the Brookside Jazz Ensemble, the Detroit Concert Band and the Plymouth Symphony.
Rumbell has also worked with some famous celebrities, playing for Sammy Davis Jr., Wayne Newton, Doc Severenson and Glen Miller. In addition, he has played in the performances of Mickey Rooney, Ann Jillian, Ann Miller and Stacy Keach.

Besides playing his instruments,
Rumbell is also a composer and arranger
He has had his pieces played by the University of Michigan, University of Windsor and the Plymouth Symphony.

He has done music for local television commercials as well, such as the Melody Farms, Haney's Car Stereos and Auto World commercials. Currently, you can catch Rumbell on the radio every Sunday night with the Baptist Church of Hazel Park.

Whether its playing his horn, composing or arranging, or teaching young men and women, one thing is certain. Michael Rumbell is a moving force at NHS - just one of the many talented teachers that touch the lives of the students at Northuille.

$\boldsymbol{K}_{\text {eeping in step with the revival of the }}$ business and economic climate throughout our country, Northuille High School's Business Education Department has taken great strides to meet student needs.

In addition to placing a greater emphasis on the use of computers and word processors in the classrooms, the department offered a wide range of courses from accounting to marketing, from shorthand to law.

Future changes planned by the business department included the revision of Typing II to include word processing, computerized accounting, a new Office Block program and a new school store.

In the next two or three years, the department hopes to be using computers/word processors in most of its classes.

Fine Arts offers

variety of courses

Northuille High School has strongly supported the concept that fine arts is important to improving the quality of one's life. Therefore, it is not surprising to discover the wide selection of courses offered by the Fine Arts Department.

Students interested in art could choose from courses such as ceramics, drawing and painting, design and metals.

Music students could take concert band, jazz ensemble and wind ensemble. Choir and marching band were after school activites open to all students.

Teachers attend fall seminar

Asign of dedicated, concerned teachers are their willingness to stay abreast of the latest in teaching strategies and techniques with the ultimate purpose of aiding students in the learning process.

During the fall, the English teachers at Northuille High School showed that dedication by experiencing life on the learning side of a school desk. The department members spent from two to four days at the National Council for Teachers of English Conference held in Detroit.

 shrinking our globe more and more each year, the learning of a second language language becomes a greater need to students than ever before.Northuille High School has recognized this need by offering three foreign language electives. They are French, German and Spanish.

To promote first hand experiences meeting people speaking those native languages, the department planned a 15 day tour of Europe for this summer. The historic cities to be visited on this exciting trip are London, Paris, Madrid. Toledo, Sevilla, Granada and Costa del Sol.

According to trip organizer, Spanish teacher Emily Serafa-Manschot, the educational summer tour of Europe was open to all language students at the school.

guidance

'Liking people’ key to a good counselor

What does it take to be a good counselor? When this question was posed to NHS counselor, Jack Wickens, he responded, 'He or she must have a good attitude, be willing to help others, and must like people."

If this is so, then the guidance counselors at Northville High School deserve high marks. The guidance department made every effort to stress the personal touch, to try to be accessible to students seeking their assistance. In addition, they tried to make students feel comfortable in their presence.

The most frustrating part of his job, according to Wickens is "wanting to make something right but not having the control, power or ability to do so."

With the freshmen arriving next fall, the guidance department plans to add a new counselor so that there will be one person for each grade level.

Students at Northuille High School who qualified for special education services found a school program geared to offer them a wide range of valuable assistance.

A self-contained classroom and two teacher consultants enabled students with special and varied need to receive learning help and direction.

Cynthia Henderson worked closely with individual students in the self-contained classroom, while Dennis Colligan and Mary Newburgh served as teacher consultants. Included as part of the Special Education staff this year were two special workers, Joe Blake and Virginia Baumgartner.

experiences

The Home Economics Department offered a variety of experiences for all students at Northuille High School.

According to department chairperson Carla Tibble, the courses emphasized management and decision-making skills in order to encourage students to explore and solve real-life situations in a variety of areas.

The Contemporary Clothing Program provided students with basic consumer and construction skills. This year students made duffle bags for personal use.

The Parenting Sequence introduced students to decisions involved in parenting and culminated with student experiences in planning, organizing and running a preschool for three and four year old children.

Next year, students will be able to choose "Food for Thought," a comprehensive foods and nutrition course. In addition, "Essential Living Skills" is a course that will allow the incoming ninth graders to explore all of the areas of Home Economics.

Department to relocate in one area

$\boldsymbol{W}_{\text {it h the buste of building construction }}$ acitivity progressing throughout the year, Industrial Arts was one department, in particular, that was looking forward to the day it will be all completed.

The Industrial Arts Department will benefit from the renovation because the plans call for all classes to be physically situated in one geographic area of the school instead of scattered throughout the building.

New courses offered in the department were General Shoppe, Automation, Introduction to Electrical Engineering and Woodworking.

At the end of the year, the Industrial Technology Award was presented to an outstanding student in the department.

New gym to be built

An already fine physical education program at Northuille High school will be strengthened with the construction of a new gymnasium.

The curriculum, which offered courses ranging from P.E. Fundamentals to Advanced Swimming, will add two new courses - Gym and Swim and Outdoor Education. New equipment, such as exercise bikes, will also be purchased.

The infusion of ninth graders into the program next year will only add more excitement and challenges for the teachers in the department.

Media center expands to meet student needs

A busy center of learning activity is often found in the library of most high schools. At Northuille High School, the media center is no exception.

Sensitive to the varied and changing needs of students, the media center was constantly changing, updating, and expanding. This year a microfilm reader and over 400 paperback books were purchased.
The center also has expanded its computer and video equipment, including the addition of VCR's to help students cope with our fastpaced, computerized society.

One objective that the media specialists stressed throughout the year was to train all students with the skills needed to use properly the library and its vast resources.

The video program seems to have mixed reviews for Ken Willey, Dave Yezback and Dan Totten.

Department gears for changes

$\boldsymbol{W}^{\prime}$hen academic changes are blowing in the wind, the departments at NHS are quick to take the necessary and proper actions.

To meet the changes produced by the addition of ninth graders to the building for 1985, the Social Studies Department has created new course offerings and has updated its textbooks - all designed to benefit the students.

A new course called Introduction to Social Science will replace the geography and history studied in ninth grade at the junior highs. In addition, American History will be discontinued and replaced by U.S. in the 20th Century.

Tom Johnson returned to join the social studies staff this year after a seven year absence from the high school. Joining the staff next year from the junior high will be Ed Gabrys.

At the end of the year, the department presented its traditional awards for history, political participation and behavioral science.

Department keeps abreast of changes

As government reports and surveys indicated a need for our educational system to keep its math programs abreast of the changing times and needs of students, the Math Department at NHS has responded by putting more emphasis on the new computer technology.

Many of the advanced classes were also re-evaluated, while teachers set a goal to bring more students' math skills to college bound level.

Students selected from a variety of courses, from pre-algebra to calculus. Next year a fundamentals math course will be offered to the incoming ninth graders.

An awards banquet was held at the end of the year to honor the school's outstanding math student.

$\boldsymbol{W}_{\text {th }}$ the space program in full throttle and the age of computers upon us, it is no wonder that student needs in the area of science have become more urgent and demanding.

The Science Department, through its wide selection of courses and through its experienced, knowledgeable teaching staff, was doing its part to prepare students for the world after high school.

The department this year placed added emphasis on our environment and on the need for conservation. Earlier in the year students in the conservation class gained first hand experiences through their trip to Camp Mahn-go-tahsee.

World spins tales of joy, tragedy, hope

Aspinning sphere which we call earth seemed indifferent to the explosions of joy, hatred, love, sadness, laughter, tragedy, life and death experienced by the peoples who walked its surface.

But the community of Northuille was touched indirectly, if not directly, by many of the events that shaped the past year.

The summer of 1984 brought the Olympics to Los Angeles and the American, minus the Russians, who boycotted the Games, "went for the gold" and dominated the medal totals.

In the fall, the American electorate returned President
Ronald Reagan to a second term. What made this election so historic was the political breakthrough made by Geraldine Ferraro, the first woman to be nominated as the vicepresidential candidate on a major party ticket.

Celebration and joy flowed like champagne after the Tigers captured the World Series, the team's first since 1968. But the Northuille community was also saddened by the death of Jennifer Jacobcic, killed tragically in an automobile accident.

In the winter, two more Americans received mechanical hearts to prolong their lives. And a major medical experiment placing a baboon's heart into a dying infant girl prolonged the baby's life for 18 days.

And in all seasons of the year, people died of hunger especially in Africa, India and in several of the emerging nations of the world.

Every Monday through Friday, Northuille High School was energized by nearly 1000 volts of peonk made electricity. Over 950 studenis, with guidance from teachers and administrators. made NFIS click on all cylinders.

The school was blessed with a diversity of talents in all three classes. And some of these exceptional individuals were well-publicized, and deservedly so. for their fine accomplishments.

For example, in January a film crew from the Good Afternoon Detroit television program came to Northuille to meet gifted figure-skater Jerod Swallow. A segment for the show was filmed inside the school.

Despite all the diversity of people at NHS, there developed a common bond of friendship and spirit. Seniors, juniors and sophomores sat in the same classrooms, ate during the same lunch periods, joined the same clubs and cheered together at various sporting events.

Through all this diversity came talent, strength. and energy directed toward keeping NHS on the move,

When the final bell rings on Friday afternoon, a buzz of excitement explodes through the halls of Northuille High School. For another weekend is about to begin.

Many seniors used the weekends to tem. porarly forget the stresses of the sehoot week.

Those students who held weekend jobs often found time to relax by going to a dinner or movie after work.

During the football and basketball season, attending a weekend game was popular with many seniors. After the game, there was always a party to be fourd. Some seniors simply enjoyed going shopping or just toking a drive in their cars.

JII Taschner echoed the wishes of most seniors. "I feel the weekends are toe short. They should be lengthened so we can have ume to enjoy our fellow classmotes," " she soid.

Northville High's students and seniors, in particular seemed to be on the same "wave length" as other students across the country who set hairstyle trends.

In observing the hairstyles of students at Northuille, it was evident that the "punk" style and the "bobbed" look were quite popular. The feather look was still in use by a number of seniors. but newer fashions began to spring up among the trendsetters in the school

Using "dippity doo" and "mousse" were two new unique ways of styling hair

Looking back . . . a time to laugh, to cry, to remember

Senior year brings anticipation. dreams, hopes of what the future holds. But it also is a time when many seniors look back at their three years at Northuille High School. to reflect upon the good times, the bad times, the funny moments. the embarrassing moments. the sad memories.

How can we ever forget that first day at NHS? Sophomore registration - what a pain! How about turning sixteen and drivers ed. the Sadie Hawkins dance, our firs! Spirit Week. Homecoming, the games, the dances - never a dull mament!

Certanly we remember those powder puff foorball games fighing for a victory to the final whistle. And how about those big money making fundraisers - the sophomore cor wast and funtor magazine sale. Too bad some persons weren't more enthused about the bird seed sale!

I's hard to believe how fast it has all gone by. Some classmates, teachers, and events will. unfortunately, be erased by time. But we must belleve that those special moments with friends. those personal, treasured moments, no matter how fleeting, will never, never be forgotten pressures, anxietiesSenior year is not all glamour and good times, as students in their final year of high school do face numerous anxietles and pressures.

Senior year brings

One of the biggest headaches for seniors at NHS mas studying for and taking exams. When asked for which test seniors prepared the hardest, most responded with the word, "Humanities."

It was not uncommon for seniors to cram for more than one exam in a given time pertod, but most coped with it, after multering a few cholce words.

An after school activity or job (possibly both) added to the pressures of senlor year. If seemed that there were too few hours in the day to handle the many responsibilities and commitments.

Another pressure furking in the minds of most sentors revolved around future plans. Sending applications to solected colleges and waling for response created concerns among many 12 h graders.

For some athletes, the question was whether a scholarship would be offered and if so, whether to accept it.

Will the year of pressures, anxieties and quiet suffering end with graduation? Pass the Rolaids, please.

Hard work pays off for Juniors

What were the key ingredisans to the successes of the Junior Class? Nothing surprising - just hard work and enthusiasm.Of course, another factor that aided the funiors was the strong leadership of the class officers. Starting with President Craig Kozler, Vice President Nickl LaRoque, Treasurer Kathy Whelan, Secretary Mary McDonald and representatives Scott Lazzara. Mina Rahimi, Lisa Lutz, Eric Leindecker and Sandy Schaal, the juniors organized fundraisers and participated proudly in the Homecoming Week festivities.

The junior float, although finishing thrd In the overall competition, manoged to still beat out the senior floot.

One major occomplishment was the Magozine Sale, which netted the junions over $$ 4,500$. The monsy uras placed in the treasury to pay for prom expernes.

The inprexalve junior float cams a third place faish.

Juniors excel in sports, academics

In surueying the Class of 1986, e number of outstanding juniors came to the forefront as a result of splendid achievements in sports and academics.
In the field of ainteties, noteworthy arecomplishments by several talented individuals occurred. In swimming, Jeff Balnbridge. Doug Eucll, Dorius Mikalonls and Dape Wanye set a record for the medley relay.

Wendy Neuchterlein, ahhough injured for part of the season, nevertheless, suas a driving force in helping the women's track team caplure the regional title.

Juniors contributed heavily to the success of the foolball team. Mark Deal was selected as a member of the All League and All-Area first team as defersive tachle. He ailso received on honorable mention for All. Metro West defensive tackle.

In addition, strong safety Phit Pendleton was chosen for All-Area Second Team and Don Norton earned a spot as All.Area and All-Diuision /ree sofety, intercepting a total of six passes during the past season.

Acadernically, the Junior Class excelled. Maureen Clamey continued to gein recognition for her outstanding uriting ability. Her creative efforts in peelry led to a first place award in the Eastem Michigan University Writing Contest.

Class of '86 uses energies for after school activities

The bell at $2: 05$ did not signal the end of the school day for many members of the Class of ' 86 . In fact. the final bell triggered a surge of energy in junlors engaging in a vorlefy of after school activities.

Participating in a team sport or a school organization was popular among many 11 th graders. Whether it was swim practice, football drills, or one of the other organized sports. juniors found if took many hours of after school practice sessions to perfect game-winning skills.
Non-athletic Juniors expressed their talents in choir, band. drama and publications work, all scheduled for after school.
Some funiors used the time after their final class to meet with a counselor or teacher for help. or find a quiet area to complete a homework assignment.

Although hampered by a mild winter. the cold blosts of January produced enough snow for juniors to ski area slopes at the end of the school day on Fridays. Other after school activilies ranged from cheerleading practice to washing lockers. Not all juntors used their energles to participate in a school event. Some simply dashed to their cars or buses for the trip home or to a job in town.

Growing pains, struggles all part of junior year

 Ju Junior year was a time of confusion, of trials and tribulations. Yet it was also a time of learning and growth. of excitement and fond memories.Juniors were at that halfway point - able to reflect upon their sophomore year, yet also able to readily anticipate their upcoming life as seniors.

In junior year. the challenge of finding jobs existed for some, and the struggle to keep up with more difficult class work was a pain for many. "Chemisiry was a real challenge to pass," moted junior Laura Rebain.

There was also time spent renewing ald friendships. meeting new people and "helping out' the sophomores. "You know the school better and get to pick on sophomores, " laughed Medina Zion.

The upcoming decision of choosing a college, a profession or trade was fast approaching but many juniors handled that dilemma with, " I'll worry about it next year

The frustrations of junior year can make one chew his own pencil as T om Storm "grins and bears" it.

Class officers

 move sophomores to successful yearWhen the reasons for the successes of this year's Sophomore Class are analyzed. one must first look at the four outstanding in. diulduals who served os the class officers.

President Dana Letarte, Vice President Susie Rahimi, Treasurer Beth Parkinson, and Secretary Stephanle Pappas provided the necessary leadership and direction to move the sophomores forward.

Early in the year, the sophomores made the upperclassmen take notice with their "Conan the Destroyer" float which took an overall second place in the float-judging dur ing homecoming.
"The float was a success because of participation." said Parkinson. It was this active inuolvement and togetherness that enabled the sophomores to succeed in their various class activities throughout the year.

Several fundraising events, including a flower sale and the Valentine's Day dance. netted profits for the class treasury.

Because of these successes, the sophomores gained the respect of the rest of the student body. and the faculty and administration as well.

Bumper crop of sophomores display talents

The past school year at Northuille High School harvested a new crop of talented sophomores.

One such individual, John King, takes marketing classes at Schoolcraft College. He plans to one day own and operate a shop where he would make and sell his own Jewelry.

Another sophomore who would like to use her talerts later in life was Terri Forse. For the pas! II years, she has taken tap. Jazz. ballel and modern donce. Recently. she began teaching lap to younger students. Forte already has quite a start on her career. as $A B C$ was inuestigating a pilot teleuision series slarring her dance class. In addition to her dancing, the versatile sophomore also sang in the Northuille High School choir.

Stll another sophomore, Rob Dietiker. who started singing in the third grade, sang baritone in the school choir and took piano classes at Schoolcraft where he has earned six achievement awards in Guild contests.

King. Forte, and Dietiker represented just three of a bumper crop of gifted and talented tenth graders already making contributions to their school and community.

Tenth graders cope well with high school life

Coming from a junior high to a larger high school can sometimes be an intimidating, anxious experience. Beginning sophomores face not only the problems of ad justing to the unfamiliarity of a new building, but they also need to cope with more demanding courses, new teachers, new rules. more homework, and strange faces roaming the halls and classrooms - the faces of the upperclassmen.

For the most part, the Sophomore Class at Northuille has made the adjustment to high school Ife rather smoothly.
"The school isn't as big as I thought It would be." noted Kris Marrone, "but there are tons of people. To Morone. her most difficult adjustment was not often having the opportunity of seeing her friends from junior high.
Coping with upperclassmen enrolled in the same classes as sophomores wos a challenge for some tenth graders. "It's a lot different being in classes with juniors and seniors, " said Dana Letarte, Sophomore Class president.

The biggest, yet most pleasant experience for Letarte was to be elected president of the Sophomore Class "I was really surprised to be elected president with all the strong competition I had." he reflected.

As evidenced by the strong involvemen and octive participation by many sophomores in the various school sports, activitles and events. the Sophomore Class has mel the challenges of the high school experience most successfully.

Spirited sophomores drive to top

In most schools, the upperclassmen often consider the sophomores as "the bottom rung of the ladder." At Northuille, however, the sophomore class displayed much leadership to contradict this unworthy title.

The sophomores whipped the juniors in the Homecoming float competition with "Corran the Destrover." The long hours of teamwork and determination paid off with an overall second place finish.

During yearbook sales week in December.
the sophomore class once again stuept past the juniors by ordering over 150 yearbooks.

Sophomores became actively involved and made noteworthy contributions in junior vars ty and varsity sports as well as in such activities as drama, choir, yearbook and the language clubs.

As principal David Bolitho summed up. "They' ve been a great group to work wifh. and I'm really impressed with them. "

Resting atop a hill overlooking the town and its beautiful surroundings, one may sense a feeling of isolation between Northuille High School and its community. But that was certainly not the case!

Ranging from the school's co-op program and community services classes to the adult education courses offered in the evening, interaction between NHS and its community was varied and meaningful.

Approximately 50 students involved in the school's community services program gained valuable experiences working as volunteers in the Northville's banks, doctor's offices, elementary schools, and senior cilizen homes.
Involvement by the community in the high school's activities reached high levels throughout the year. Large, enthusiastic crowds attended the numerous sporting events and special programs, and the total number of advertisers in the ' 85 Palladlum was the highest in recent years.

Marching to the same beat, Northville High School, the business community and residential community clasped hands and moved on with com. mon purpose and pride.

We're on the move . . . but where will it take us?

 High what one wish or accomplishment they would like to achieve next year. The following are some of their responses:

- find a girl friend
- break up with my boy friend
- pass a humanities test
- be accepted at Michigan State
- win the league championship - pass all my classes
- win a scholarship
- have my parents trust me more
- get a better paying job
- convince teachers I'm an " $A$ ' student - graduate from NHS
- win the mock election for cutest guy
- be the best player on the team
- win the lottery
- own a car
- get my driver's license
- decide on a career
- improve my grade point average
- never be late to class
- have enough gas money on weekends
