WARDEN WILL TALK HERE AT ARMY DINNER

British Officer Has Colorful Military Record Dating From 1900

Lieutenant Colonel J. W. Warden of the British army will be the principal speaker at the fourth annual community Army Day banquet, which will be held Friday, April 5, at the Presbyterian church house, sponsored by the Lloyd H. Green American Legion post 147.

Those in charge of the program for the evening say that a capacity crowd is expected to turn out for the occasion, and that the committee is planning to accommodate 350 people.

Lieut. Col. Warden has made a great name for himself in the military service of his country. He enlisted in 1900 and commenced his duty in the Boer war in South Africa. There he served for six years during and after that war. While there he was in charge of the mounted police, and was also the public prosecutor for the British government.

In the World war he was stationed two years on the western front in and near Palestine. At one time there he led a secret expedition of 30,000 troops of infantry through Arabia to Baghdad and up by the Caspian sea to Baku Georgia for the purpose of decoying the Turks from in front of General Allenby who was marching into Palestine. This strategic move was successful, and so General Allenby was able to capture the city of Constantinople.

Before Lieut. Col. Warden enlisted in the British army he had a record as an American soldier. He was a volunteer in the Massachusetts Fifth Infantry in the Spanish American war in 1898 for the Cuban expedition.

He is a native of Sandwich, Ontario.

Other plans for the program of the evening are in the making, but it is expected that there will be one or two other speakers, and some musical numbers.

The committee in charge of the affair is Harry Holton, chairman, L. H. Alexander and Dr. Wilbur H. Johnston.

E. L. MILLIS WINS HONORS AT PONTIAC SKEET TOURNAMENT

Edward L. Millis and Howard B. Hall attended and participated in a skeet tournament at the Pontiac Gun club Saturday, March 2, at which Mr. Millis had the satisfaction of winning honors in one of the events, even though this was his initial appearance on a skeet field.

According to Mr. Hall, he broke more targets than many of the veterans did, and in one event he got 19 out of a possible 25 hits to top the field.

Mr. Millis has always been interested in fire-arms, being a member of the R. O. T. C., in which organization he has made several good records with revolvers and rifles.

SCHRADER STORE IS BEING CLEANED AND DECORATED

The Schrader furniture store is undergoing extensive and vigorous housecleaning this week to prepare it for the large amount of new furniture which is already arriving.

The store will be completely cleaned and redecorated from top to bottom when the head decorators, Darrell Nollar and M. L. Schrader have finished the renovating. Already the work has been in progress a week.

N. C. Schrader, in discussing the redecorating, said that the painting and decorating is being done so that the store will match the beautiful new furniture ordered for the spring business.

Mr. Schrader was in Grand Rapids in January to place this large order with one of the leading furniture concerns. For the last two weeks shipments of this order have been arriving at the store and Mr. Schrader expects to have it all there within the coming week. Included is a large number of bedroom, dining room and living room suites, he says. Also prominent in the merchandise which has already arrived are some unique and attractive lamps.

NEW ICE HOUSE TO BE ERECTED BY ELY

A new business building is to be erected in Northville.

Excavation has already been started this week on a new ice-storage and delivery station on North Center street, being built by Carl R. Ely and Sons.

The building will be of brick construction and one story in height. It will be built 200 feet north of Dunlap on the east side of the street at an estimated cost of $4,000. Its dimensions will be 20 by 39 feet.

All of the ice machinery will be moved from the present location of the Ely Co. at 140 North Center street to the new building. There the machinery will be equipped to make it automatic. The coal office, which is also new at the North Center street address, will also be moved to the new building.

Mr. Ely says that the construction of this new building is just another indication that Northville is on the upward trend, is progressing and growing.

Another business concern whose name is withheld because of the present uncertainty of the proposed extension of Eight Mile road through the property in question, is contemplating the construction of a modern industrial plant on the opposite side of the street.

The contractor engaged for the building of the ice house is the C. R. Getts Co. The building will be ready for occupancy about May 15.

Notice, King's Daughters

MANY WOMEN ATTEND TEA, FASHION SHOW

Affair Is Staged For Benefit Of Free Lunch Fund of P.-T. A.

It was springtime at the home of Mrs. Thad J. Knapp Tuesday afternoon in spite of flurries of snow and bleak winds without.

Answering an invitation to "Cotton Show Tea" for the benefit of the free lunch fund of the Parent-Teachers association, over 125 women responded to the lure of crisp new clothes for spring.

From our local concern, the Ponsford dry goods store, a wide variety of spring goods was on display—soft waffle weaves in various tones, popular seersucker in new patterns and sheer, flowered voiles.

Then, as if stepping right out of a spring fashion plate, a bevy of attractive girls in ages ranging from high school age down to little three-year-old Mary Ann Ayers, appeared wearing gowns of cotton materials in many colors and looking very much like an animated bouquet.

Five of these girls wore smart little ginghams from Ponsford's and twelve of them wore pretty gowns sewed by themselves in their class in school under direction of their teacher, Mrs. Claude Zimmerman.

The small girls wore "Wee Maid" dresses made by a Springfield, O., firm, handled by Mrs. R. M. Dixon.

During the afternoon a musical program was interspersed with the fashion show.

Piano solos were played by Marie Angove, David Amerman, Barbara Handorf and Bonnie Rink. Vocal solos were sung by Audrey Kline and Douglas McCluskey, while groups of children including Joyce Martine, Virginia Deshler, Gertrude Steele, Carol Revitzer, Virginia Lee, June Laney and Arlene Van Sickle, sang together.

At the dining table, very spring-like with its huge bowl of yellow and lavender snapdragons, with green candles at each side, tea, sandwiches and small cakes were served. Mrs. R. H. Amerman, and Mrs. Philip W. Donon, pouring. Mrs. Knapp was assisted in serving by Mesdames, H. A. Boyden, D. P. Yerkes, Jr., Geo. W. Stalker, I. L. Campbell, Clyde Schoultz, and Miss Dorcas Comin.

Aside from being a most delightful social affair, the silver contributions netted nearly $19 for the fund which will supply needed nourishment to underfed school children.

GOLF CLUB TO HAVE ST. PATRICK'S DANCE SATURDAY EVENING

The Brae Burn Golf club will open the season with a St. Patrick's dance Saturday evening, March 16, at the clubhouse on Phoenix road.

A four-piece orchestra will furnish music for dancing. The committee in charge has also arranged for special entertainment.

The admission will be 25 cents per person, which will include music and refreshments.

The officials of the club have arranged a program for the 1935 golf season and have scheduled several tournaments. Many improvements will be made on the course, and conveniences about the clubhouse will be greatly improved.

Edward Head Resigns As Director of Band

Edward Head, the director of the Northville community band, has announced his resignation, to be effective May 31.

Mr. Head said that he was just as pleased with the band as ever, and still enjoys his work with it, but that he could not afford the time now. At the present time he directs bands including 300 children in several Detroit schools, which, combined, keep his program quite full to such an extent that he feels he can do not do justice to so many assignments.

The band will give a concert on May 7, as a part of the May festival that Leslie G. Lee will stage, and this concert is planned as a farewell affair for Mr. Head. It will be his last appearance here with the band. He has promised to compose a piece of music for the occasion.

Mr. Head says that although the band is not quite as large as it has been at some times in the past, that he is very much encouraged about the large number of younger members of it who are showing real musical ability. The band is practicing each Tuesday evening regularly now at the high school.

Mr. Head has achieved a splendid reputation in his band work in the Detroit schools, and is generally regarded as the best director of student bands in the state. He has directed the Northville band for the last seven years.

Mrs. Henry Wick of 428 Yerkes avenue entertained Mrs. L. Janoski of Detroit Friday to celebrate the occasion of their first meeting in 14 years.

They had been girlhood friends in Bangor, Michigan. Mrs. Janoski, who still gets the home-town paper, saw Mrs. Wick's name in it when the latter was spending Christmas there. The item mentioned that Mrs. Wick now lives in Northville, and thus the two women were able to meet again.

During the day they visited the Phoenix Ford plant at Plymouth.

PARK TO ADD 2 BUILDINGS NEAR HERE

Comfort Stations Will Be At Ball Field And At Newburg Lake

Bids were received on the construction of two new comfort stations in the Rouge Parkway system this week, one of which will be just south of the Northville city limits.

This station will be at the southwest corner of the baseball diamond, which is located just south of the Northville sewage-disposal plant. It will be a modern one-story structure, similar in design to the present comfort-station on the Northville road, although not quite as large.

The other building will be at Newburg lake a quarter of a mile west of the Newburg road and just east of the little island. This comfort station is planned to be one the finest in the entire parkway system. Its facilities will include a canoe livery and storage room. It will be two stories in height on the lake side and with one story facing the road.

The four tennis courts will be also available for use as soon as weather permits playing on them. The only remaining work to be done is to erect the wire-netting at the ends of the courts.

The ground is staked off to build four additional courts, but as yet it is not known whether this can be done. It is also hoped that the courts can be surfaced with asphalt or cement since public courts are in constant and heavy demand.

The caretakers of the park say that the usual system of issuing court permits for each hour will be in effect to regulate the use of the courts.

More than 100 picnic tables and 60 charcoal stoves have been put in the park to help accommodate the throngs who will be soon swarming into every corner of it. Other tables and stoves will probably be added later.

It is also planned to install some play ground equipment soon, consisting of slides, swings, and teeter-boards.

DOG WITH RABIES KILLS DOGS, GEESE

After biting four dogs in one day, causing the deaths of three of them, and putting the fourth in grave danger, a dog infected with rabies was shot and killed by one of the bitten dogs' owners, Charles Kirby, Friday, February 28.

The dog still living is receiving daily treatments at Dr. E. B. Cavell's kennels. He is a thoroughbred English pointer, and is valued at $300 by his owner, J. H. Ulg, of Detroit, who was boarding him at Moffett's kennels south of Northville. Dr. Cavell says the dog's chances for recovery are a gamble. No treatment was administered until 10 days after the mishap, and this was a great error, he says.

The other dogs are owned by Charles Kirby, William Richards and Alvin J. Kuehn. The homes of all these men are but a short distance apart, and it is known that the same dog bit all these dogs who died from the effects of the disease.

Dr. Cavell says there are many other cases of rabies reported recently, including two cases on farms on Seven Mile road about eight miles west of Northville. A dog infested with rabies killed three geese at one of these farms, and two geese at the other place. It is believed that the same dog did the work in all these cases.

In the Northwest sections of Farmington township farmers have their shot guns and rifles loaded while at work because of the dog menace there.

It is reported there that a pack of eight or nine dogs, believed to be police dogs and mastiffs, ran down a horse on the Judson Jones farm on the 12 Mile road and mutilated it so it had to be shot.

On the Frank Knight farm in Farmington township, Frazer Wadensforer was attacked by three police dogs whom he found tearing at the rabbit coops. He shot one of the dogs, but the other two escaped.

Dr. Cavell says that the rabies situation, which seems to crop up every year, is worse than ever this year. Many owners of dogs in Northville are getting their dogs vaccinated. This is the only sure way to protect the life of the dog, Dr. Cavell says. [illegible]

BOGART CELEBRATES HIS 95TH BIRTHDAY

The ninety-fifth birthday of Marvin Bogart, one of the best known and most esteemed citizens of this section, was celebrated at a co-operative dinner Wednesday, March 13, at noon and an interesting program which followed given by the Wixom Farmers' club at the Wixom community hall.

Two other men, Bert Parker and Ben Clark, have birthdays on the same day as Mr. Bogart, March 17, St. Patrick's day and following a custom of years standing, the three men were all present to remind each other of their youth on this occasion. Mr. Parker and Mr. Clark both are in their sixties.

The main speaker of the afternoon program was the State Commissioner of Agriculture Teahead. The program, otherwise consisted of music and readings.

Mr. Bogart is one of the very few survivors of the Oakland county regiment, the Twenty-Second Michigan. With it he participated in some of the notable conflicts of the Civil War, and has seldom missed one of the reunions when the comrades are called back by the historic cowbell which they carried with them throughout the war. It has since been in the care of Mr. Bogart as a priceless souvenir.

Mr. Bogart is a charter member of the Farmers' club, which was organized 49 years ago. His mind is as clear as ever, and his other senses retain their keenness. He is so hale and hearty now that those who do not know him do not realize his advanced age.

At the present time he has three children, 16 grandchildren, and 16 great-grandchildren. One of his grandsons, E. M. Bogart, is a Northville business man.

He hopes to live past the century mark. And so The Record joins with his many friends and relatives in congratulating him on his long and fruitful life, and in wishing him continued good health for the years to come.

MR. AND MRS. MURPHY ENTERTAIN GUESTS

Miss Marquita Dygert, Lee Taylor, and Robert Dowen of Detroit were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. P. Murphy Thursday evening. The visiting Detroiters, who are representatives of the Detroit Edison company, were speakers later in the evening at the P.-T. A. program at the high school on "Better Light and Better Sight."

SCHOOLS GET $3,200 FROM PRIMARY FUND

Amerman Receives Check Wednesday; More Is Promised Later

A check for $3,200 was received by Superintendent R. H. Amerman Wednesday for the Northville public schools as the first installment of the primary-supplement aid from the state department of public instruction.

This check, together with the $5,900 of state and township tax money received from Mrs. Jennie Cousins, township treasurer, last week improved the financial status of the schools considerably, since only a small balance remained after meeting the payroll last month.

The primary-supplement money is a part of the relief-funds which Mr. Amerman requested from the state department of public instruction in February. At that time he submitted a statement of the cost of maintaining the schools and asked for $10,000, the amount necessary to keep the schools open until June, along with the tax funds.

He has been assured by the department of public instruction that more money will be forthcoming for the local schools at a later date.

The primary-supplement aid is appropriated under the Thatcher-Sias act, which provides for schools to get money from the liquor tax, any additional sales tax, and any money left over in the general fund.

A further allotment of tax funds will be turned over to the schools when the complete tax roll is figured. Mrs. Cousins says that she will be able to say within a week just how much more money will be due.

Two Movies Shown At Rotary Club Emphasize Need For Good Roads And For More Practice Of Safety

Two talking movies based on the highways of United States and the alarming amount of accidents that happen on them, were the features of the Rotary luncheon program Tuesday noon at the Presbyterian church house.

These films were sponsored by the Michigan Association For Good Roads, and were presented by W. D. Kimmel. The first of the films was entitled "The Spinning Wheels Of The Highways," and depicted by means of illustrations and dialogue that the highways as they are now are inadequate to handle the traffic which exists.

The latter movie, "Saving Seconds," a picture devoted to the promotion of safety on the streets and highways, showed many of the common mistakes motorists make which are costly to human life.

In introducing the films, Mr. Kimmel said that their purpose is to show the public that contrary to popular belief, the highways are not complete as they are today, but that the state of Michigan is only nicely getting started on the construction of good roads.

"The gas tax is a fair one," the main speaker in the film "Spinning Wheels Of The Highways," said. "It is directly proportional to the amount each motorist uses the roads. The motorist pays this tax, and therefore he has the right to say how it shall be spent. He should insist to the legislature that the money received in this manner be not be diverted from the cause of roads," he said.

"Saving Seconds" gave many startling statistics about accidents on highways, among which was the fact that Sunday is the most dangerous day of the week to drive your car, with Saturday a close second. It also showed that fall is one of the most dangerous parts of the year because of the fact not always appreciated by motorists that autumn-leaves on the roads make them very slippery when wet. Saving lives is vastly more important than saving a few seconds of time, it concluded.

Before the meeting was turned over to Mr. Kimmel, two members of the Pontiac Rotary told the club about the 23rd district Rotary conference at Cranbrook school, Birmingham on March 24 to 25, which is being sponsored by the Pontiac and Birmingham clubs. Most of those present signified their intention to attend the conference. [illegible]

M. J. Murphy Talks Wednesday On Exchange Club St. Patrick Program; Cartoons Are Made of Members

St. Patrick was in evidence at the Exchange Club Wednesday noon when M. J. Murphy and all the lads brought the Irish green into prominence.

After lunch the guests of the day were introduced and President Lapham turned the meeting over to Dr. H. I. Sparling.

Mr. Murphy was presented as the lineal descendant of St. Patrick and who knows all of the secrets pertaining to this patron saint.

Many items of interest were given about this man and his work along with a spicy bit of date as only a Murphy can do. [illegible] history was disposed of. [illegible]

Rip Collins and his banjo, Al Kilicott and Clyde Hinman with their guitars and Dr. Sparling with his harmonica as the Hill Billies gave a fine list of Irish and other melodies that were greatly enjoyed.

While the music was in progress Arthur Levinger, the guest of Exchangite Philip Donon, made free-hand drawings of the members and their guests that sent all into gales of laughter as they saw their outlines appearing. About 20 had a sitting and carried away their photos for souvenirs.

[illegible] President Jean Kalbfleisch was present for the first time in many months. [illegible]

SERMON BY A BASEBALL MANAGER

Writing of the chances of the Detroit Tigers to win another American League championship, H. G. Salsinger says in his column in The Detroit News:

Detroit has an excellent chance. It has the advantage of having won last season, a year in which Detroit developed a winning complex, something that Detroit teams had lacked for the previous two decades.

One of the leading managers in the league told us last July that Detroit would finish on top. When we asked him his reason he answered:

"Because it's the best living team in the major leagues. There isn't one rounder on the Detroit club. They keep in shape.

"That may sound like a reformer's spiel but it isn't. I know what I'm talking about. I've got a team that likes carousing at night a lot better than playing baseball in the day-time and it's a cinch that a player with a clear head is going to play a lot better ball than one with a foggy brain. You can't drink at night and play good ball in the daytime."

THE OBSESSIONS OF LIFE

It is probably so that most of us think about ourselves too much. Intro-spection becomes too much a part of our lives. We let the routine of our life shut us into a little world in which we get too self-centered.

Now that spring is about to shake hands with us, we can make that a good time to "snap out" of this introspective way of thinking and acting. Taking on of new interests is one of the best ways in the world to get away from self-centered living. Planning and making a garden; rebuilding a house; getting ready for a vacation; making new friends; calling on the neighbors; trying to help some boy or girl to make a success of life—here are ways in which we can get outside of ourselves.

The more interests you have in life, the greater will become the thrill of living and the less you will have to think about yourself.

THE UNITED STATES CAN USE IT

Oliver Wendell Holmes, former chief justice of the United States, left an estate of $368,000. His will remembered relatives, former faithful servants and his alma mater, Harvard university. Then, most remarkable of all, in the will he specified that half of the estate should go to the United States.

The most obvious comment to make is that the money will come in "pretty handy" for our Washington government. Never in all our history have we spent so much money, and never have we, as a nation, owed so much money.

If we had a few thousand more folks who had half a million dollars to bequeath and who would leave half of it to the United States we might get a start on paying off our national debt. But we haven't and the result will be that our children and grandchildren will have to get under the heavy load in the years to come.

THAT 11 PER CENT FOOD INCREASE

Secretary Wallace of the president's cabinet warns of an 11 per cent increase in the cost of food stuffs. That increase has already started as housewives are well aware.

Does it not seem reasonable that the destruction of food products last year by the New Dealers has had something to do with the food price increases that we must pay? Food was wantonly destroyed and now we must go abroad to replace some of it, at a higher price.

It will be a happy day for the United States when this period of experimentation with natural laws is over with—or at least tempered with some common sense. College professors "who have been teaching sophomores to be ashamed of their fathers" don't know as much about running our government as they think they do.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

Who will teach our school children the unfairness of cutting across people's lawns at this season of the year?

* * *

The Michigander who can spend the last part of February and part of March in Florida has one good formula for dodging the "flu" and its kindred pest, the "good old Michigan cold."

* * *

"Hardly the way to settle our national problems," said one of Northville's finest citizens this week, in speaking of the triangular controversy that has been on the past week or so. We agree with this man.

* * *

Northville is very grateful to Edward Head for the great work he has done for our band. Whoever puts music into the hearts of our boys and girls helps build a finer citizenship. Mr. Head, "We thank you."

The Rouge Parkway System around Northville will show more beauty than ever this spring. It takes the folks from out of town to tell us of its real beauty. Few places in the United States can show anything equal to it.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

GOOD ADVICE TO ALL CHILDREN

(Eaton Rapids Journal)

Up in Oregon the sheriff of one of the major counties has had issued cards for distribution among children. The attention of children hereabouts is called to the following copy:

1—Don't ever ride with strangers.

2—Always walk on the left hand side of the road, and get clear off the road when you meet an automobile. Give them plenty of room.

3—Don't ever cross a road or a highway until you are sure there are no cars coming from either direction.

4—Don't attempt to cross an intersection until you are certain that there is plenty of time.

5—If you see an accident go for help quickly.

6—Keep clear of the wreck. Let grown up people give aid to the injured.

The Oregonian of Portland suggests that he might get out another card directed to adults and that it read:

1—Don't ever pick up strangers.

2—Always drive on the right hand side of the road, and when you meet a pedestrian give him plenty of room.

3—Maintain a look-out for persons crossing the road.

4—Have your car under control when entering an intersection, and recognize the right of pedestrians to cross ahead of you.

5—If you see an accident go for help.

6—If you cannot be helpful, leave the wreck. Don't block the highway.

THAT SORE THUMB—INFLATION

(LaGrange, Ind., Standard)

At least there is unlimited mental exercise in scrapping over our old favorite pet peeve—inflation.

Let's hark back to the contention that all we need for prosperity is more dollar bills—and more and still more.

How is this for a counter contention:

Fourteen million piles of dollar bills as high as the Washington monument would not help one single bit so long as they stayed stacked. On the other hand one-half the present amount of currency (the amount in circulation in 1929) would be plenty for an era of great prosperity if they and the checks and notes representing them were passed about as fast as the traditional hot potato.

When will money, checks and notes be passed around rapidly? When there is a feeling that enterprises are going to pay—not endangered by freakish governmental moves nor governmental spending so far beyond income that violent disturbances will result and when there is fair expectancy that the other fellow is not going to repudiate.

NO ANTI-FITZGERALD GROUP

(M. H. De Foe in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune)

State Senator Don Vander Werp, in his weekly news letter to the press of his district, says:

There is no anti-Fitzgerald group in the senate and there have been no threats directed at the governor.

The Newaygo editor-senator admits "there has been much dissatisfaction over the method of dispensing patronage, and goes on to give the legislator's viewpoint of the much publicized issue:

The dissatisfaction results from the fact that the republican members of the legislature are required to spend too much time on patronage matters. These members feel that they were sent to Lansing to legislate for the state and that they should not be compelled to spend so much of their time in seeking jobs for people of their districts. The matter is complicated by the fact that there are perhaps a hundred or more applications for every job available and too many applicants for places on the state's payroll feel that the state owes them a position and that the only way they can be assured of proper consideration is to hound their legislative representatives until favorable action is taken on their particular request. Any legislator who is trying to fulfill his obligations to the state resents such methods.

COVERED WITH DUST

(Author Unknown)

The little toy code is covered with dust, and wabbly and weak it stands; the little tin emblem is red with rust, and dumb are its old demands. Time was when the little toy code was new, and the emblem was as passing fair, but that was the time when the Eagle Blue kissed them and put them there.

The Bible tells us to love our neighbors and also to love our enemies; probably because they are generally the same people.—G. E.

ROSS, LIEBER TO GIVE SHOW ON MARCH 18

Magician Is Challenged To Escape From Box Which Is On Display

A Magician show will be given on March 18 in the high school assembly. The purpose of this entertainment is to raise funds for the school athletics. The admission is 15 cents and 25 cents.

The students may obtain a card with three adult tickets and one child's ticket and one free ticket for the price of ninety cents. The students must pay the ninety cents for these tickets before they are given the card and if they don't sell the tickets they must lose the amount invested.

The show consists of two magicians, Ross and Lieber who are both widely known for their previous marvelous feats of dexterity and audience deception. Almost everyone at some time or other has gazed enraptured at the tricks of a magician. When two magicians both try to out-trick each other, and fool the audience as well, it promises something superb in this line of entertainment.

Magic will always be a most amusing form of entertainment. When it is performed by two master magicians who have spent fortunes and years perfecting and practising new illusions, it is not only entertaining but educational as well.

The most outstanding among the tricks and illusions to be presented by Ross and Lieber is the Houdini Packing Box Escape. The manual training department challenged one of the magicians to escape from a strong packing box which they have especially constructed. The box is brought to the stage the evening of the show and each board is re-nailed in full view of the audience by a volunteer committee. The magician enters, the lid is nailed and the escape is made within sixty seconds. This is the same illusion with which Houdini, master magician, baffled audiences throughout the world. The lumber for this box was donated to the student council by the Redford Lumber and Coal Company. The box will be in The Northville Hardware window until a day or two before the magicians arrive.

Their repertoire also consists of the vanish of a number of live doves; the Hindoo Rope Mystery, as it is performed by high caste Hindu magicians; the ever popular rabbit from a borrowed hat; feats of dexterity and sleight-of-hand with cards, coins, handkerchiefs, and fifty other startling and baffling tricks.

N. H. S. STUDENTS WAIT FOR ARRIVAL OF SPRING VACATION

If you were to visit school this week you would see a throng of happy faces—happier than usual. Why, because spring vacation is rolling around. It won't be long now. Spring vacation starts March 22, and school reopens April 2. The pupils aren't the only ones who are happy; the teachers also feel inspired with the spring.

Spring vacation means more to the students than you can imagine. A whole week's vacation isn't anything to cry about. The I. S. T. club is waiting very anxiously for this vacation, because they plan to take a trip to Tennessee. What fun! The Simple Simons have some grand plans to make the best of this spring vacation also. If spring isn't in the air by March 22 we would like to know the reason why.

JUDGE A. S. NICHOLS SPEAKS TO SENIORS ON FRIDAY, MARCH 1

Through the efforts of Sallee Richardson the seniors of Northville high school were honored with a speech by Justice of the Peace Arthur S. Nichols on Friday, March 1.

Mr. Nichols graduated from Northville high school in 1886. He has been a school principal in Detroit for twenty years.

His speech was on courts and the law profession. Mr. Nichols told us that Northville is in the third district and there are 18 judges in this district. The circuit courts try cases that happen outside of Detroit. The cases that happen in Detroit are tried in the recorders' court. This court consists of nine judges. There are three kinds of courts in the state, justice court, circuit court, and supreme court. The federal court tries all cases against the U. S. government, he explained.

In Detroit we have four probate judges: Healy, Command, Murphy and Murphy.

In a chancery court there is no jury and the judge decides the verdict.

In order to become a lawyer you must be a graduate of high school, have seven years of college and pass the bar examination prepared by the state bar association. For three days you visit the courts in the state and make a report on what you have seen. The requirements also include that you have an inquiring mind and be a good debater.

Mr. Nichols says a lady's place isn't in the law profession. He said, "I wouldn't discourage a girl, but as a lawyer she'd probably starve." His reason was that there are more men criminals and they prefer a man lawyer, so they can feel free to talk to him as they wish.

According to Mr Nichols, common sense is law.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

The Worm Turns

As she was busily preparing breakfast, the doorbell rang. Opening the door, she found a freckled-faced newsboy standing on the threshold.

"Morning, Miss," he said and grinning broadly, he handed Bonnie the paper.

"Gee Whiz! I bet that's Bob Porter's cousin. She "ain't" so bad as far as looks are concerned, maybe if I stick around we might get acquainted," thought Jim Thorpe to himself, as he went whistling down the path.

Presently the Porter family which consisted of Mr and Mrs Porter, and Ann and Bob, came into the kitchen to eat breakfast.

"This toast is perfectly awful" observed Ann, with a frown.

"And this coffee is too strong," remarked Bob setting down his cup with a sigh of disapproval.

"This cereal is only half-cooked. Bonnie you must be more careful in the future," Aunt Jane said in a sarcastic tone turning to Bonnie, who stood pale and trembling by the table.

"Leave the poor girl alone, will you?" asked Uncle George in an irritated tone, thus defending Bonnie from further criticism.

In school that morning the children looked curiously at Bonnie as she was given her books and shown a seat. In her embarrassment Bonnie failed to answer several simple questions, asked her by Miss Princeton. This caused much laughter among the pupils.

When the school was dismissed that afternoon, Bonnie started to hurry home when she was interrupted by a voice at her elbow. Turning around she came face to face with Bob.

"You numskull, sixteen years old and can't even answer an easy question. I'll never hear the end of this from the fellows and just wait until ma hears about it," he muttered angrily and then turning on his heel he left her.

After Bonnie had said her prayers that night she resolved to do better work at home and at school.

Miss Princeton soon found out that Bonnie was an apt and talented pupil and often praised her for her ratings.

After knowing this, Bob and Ann made Bonnie do their work. In this way Bonnie neglected her own work and received many scoldings from Miss Princeton and Aunt Jane. But being a girl, Bonnie did not tell the cause of her poor work.

This continued for several months, when one day the principal of the school announced that all the pupils were to compete in a theme writing contest, the prize a twenty-five dollar gold piece would be awarded. After much discussion and argument, the pupils unanimously agreed that either Ann or Bob would win.

As Bonnie was walking home that afternoon, she heard her name called, "Oh, Bonnie, wait a minute." Turning around, she saw Jim Thorpe, the newsboy running, toward her waving a letter. He stopped breathlessly by her side.

"Here's a special delivery letter for you," he said.

"Thank you very much — Jim," she said, with a smile, for she noticed that the handwriting on the letter was her mother's. [illegible] Holding the precious letter in her [illegible] blouse, Bonnie continued walking home. Aunt Jane wasn't in the house, so Bonnie slipped into her room and taking the letter from its hiding place, she began to read. She was very happy when she read that her mother had secured a good position in Clarksville, and was coming to New York for Bonnie in two weeks.

Here at last was her chance to get even with the Porters. Humming a gay tune she went happily downstairs.

"Bonnie, where are you?" yelled Bob impatiently. "Yes," she answered.

"Say, can't you hear anything? I want you to write my theme, so get busy," Bob said in a commanding tone.

"I have more important things to do than write themes for you," she answered in a mocking voice. Then leaving Bob staring at her with an open mouth she went into the dining room.

She found Ann sitting on a chair reading a book and dipping her hand into a box of chocolates.

"Say, Bonnie will you mend my stockings?," she drawled, dropping the book to the floor.

"Why, of course not, I'm going to see a movie," Bonnie answered with a slight toss of her head and taking a chocolate she left the room.

"Bonnie, will you run an errand for me?", Aunt Jane asked as she saw her niece going out the door.

"No, Aunt Jane, I'm going downtown and can't be bothered with parcels," she answered and left her aunt gasping for words.

Bonnie worked hard on her theme, and it was quite a model of perfection when she finally handed it in. Needless to say, she won the prize and as she was being congratulated by the judge, she thought of Jim Thorpe who was smiling proudly at her.

After school was dismissed Bonnie ran to Jim, and told him about the letter he had delivered for her and how she happened to win the contest.

"Aw, forget it. I'll do anything for a girl like you," he said and then shyly added. "How about a soda?" Taking her arm he led her to the corner drug store.

Coming Assembly Programs

On March 20, Mr. Cleary of the Ypsilanti Business college will give the students a talk. This is contrary to the rule made a few weeks ago, but due to the fact that Mr. Cleary has been booked for two months, we will have our assembly program at that time and have the class meetings afterward.

March 18, Ross and Lieber, two famous magicians, will give a performance at the high school, sponsored by the student council. The box from which one of the magicians will make his escape is on display at the Northville hardware store.

April 10, Mrs. Boyson will speak on Africa at the high school assembly. She is a missionary in Africa and is on a brief visit here, staying with friends at Salem.

It is planned to have George Morarity, umpire of the American league give a talk on baseball and then show a five-reel moving picture on the last world series. The official date is not set for this as yet as it is not certain that he can be secured.

ART EXHIBIT GIVEN TO BUY PICTURES

Tickets Sell For 10 Cents And 25 Cents; Money Goes For Pictures

An art exhibit was given starting on March 12, continuing through March 15, in the kindergarten room of the Board of Education building. The purpose of this exhibit is to raise funds for pictures for the school. The admission is 10 cents for students and 25 cents for adults.

The townspeople will be able to purchase pictures for their homes at this exhibit. The school gets 20 per cent of all sales. There is a catalogue to show the pictures. The pictures are, of course, reproductions. There are collotypes, lithographs and copper-plate facsimiles, a collection of reproductions of Albert Henche. This collection of the famous Henche has been adopted by the leading authorities on children's pictures throughout the nation. They are available in single units and you may now obtain the complete set.

If any one is interested in getting one of these pictures for his home, let Miss Huff know and she will be able to inform anyone about the picture and also its price list.

Miss Kreeger has charge of the ticket sales made in the grade school. Each grade receives a certain number of tickets which are given to the children to sell. A sales chart is placed on the bulletin board in the lower hall.

The reward which is a picture goes to the grade selling the most tickets.

ELECTRICAL SHOW IS STAGED LAST WEEK

The Northville students witnessed the marvels of electricity Thursday afternoon and evening in the high school auditorium. This exhibit was brought to the local high school by the technicians of the Milwaukee School of Engineering under the sponsorship of the senior class.

There were many interesting experiments on Modern-electricity shown to the audience. Among the things exhibited were wireless telegraphy, television, and electro magnets.

The most impressive experiment of the day was when Mr. Reechko, a popular young Northville student, allowed the men conducting the experiment to shoot a four foot bolt of man-made lightning through his body. When the lightning entered his body, much to the surprise of every body present, he seemed to suffer no ill effects.

Along with the experiments was a very interesting lecture on electricity.

Watch next week's Orange and Black page for the name of valedictorian of the class of '35.

VOICE OF PULPIT IN NORTHVLLE

"WHAT THINK YE OF CHRIST?"

There are various questions that agitate the public mind and on the final answer to which much is dependent. There are questions of a national, political, civic, economic character; questions of international and national importance. But there is a question which supersedes in importance all others, affecting as it does all the children of men of all races and generations. It is a question which cannot be evaded. That is the question, "What think ye of Christ?"

Jesus Christ is a personage in history that simply cannot be ignored. The controversy regarding His identity has raged through the ages and rages today. Men have held the most varying opinions concerning Him. Some term this Jesus, a fraud, an ambitious demagog. Others recognized the spotlessness of His character, His outstanding virtues, His supreme love and unselfishness. Homage is generally paid to the sweetness of His character and the blamelessness of His life. But as to His mission on earth the opinions are widely apart. His words regarding Himself are either perverted or ignored.

Well, who was He anyway? The whole Bible is worthless unless we take its own estimate concerning Christ. It tells us that this Jesus was the promised seed of woman, the long expected Messiah, the incarnate Son of God through Whom the salvation of the world was to be wrought. And in the fullness of time the Son of God came "made of a woman and made under the law." And on Calvary the great battle was fought which won and opened for men once more the portals of heaven. Take Christ as the Son of God and man's Redeemer out of the world and human life becomes absolutely purposeless. There is no other reason in life except this, that we might name under heaven given among men whereby we may be saved but the name of Jesus Christ. Christ.

Who is He? God in the flesh Very God of very God, sent to be the propitiation of our sins and everyone that believeth in Him shall not perish but have everlasting life. After all, the one point where opinions regarding Christ begin to diverge is the point of His deity. People refuse to recognize Him as God. But if you cannot recognize Him as the Son of God then let Him alone entirely. He is not flattered by your praise of His human qualities. He is not honored by the homage you pay Him as a teacher or prophet. He claims to be God's Son and your Redeemer. Take away His deity and you might as well discard Him entirely, which, as a matter of fact, you are doing. If He is not true God, then all our religion is vain, for then sin is still there unatoned for, then the law remains unfulfilled, then we are hopelessly lost. This is the only position in harmony with Scripture and the only one that contains the elements of life and hope.

The matter becomes intensely personal. For every individual the question, "What think ye of Christ?" is one of life and death. It cannot be avoided. You may profess indifference, but indifference is a decision against Him. He divides the whole human race into two parts, those for Him and those against Him. There are other divisions but this one alone is vital because it determines our eternity.

"He that is not with Me is against Me." A neutral position is not possible. We may ignore the question now, but the time will come at the end of life's way when it will face us squarely.

To what class do you belong? There is no question so vital to your temporal or eternal welfare as this. Most men give it no thought and their very thoughtlessness places them in a group of Christ rejectors. The true Christ is truly portrayed in His Word and a goodly portion of the church still will know nothing among men save Jesus Christ and Him crucified. The cross is still uplifted and on it hangs the Godman Jesus, stretching out His nail-pierced hands to a lost world, pleading, inviting, "Come unto me and be ye saved, all ye ends of the earth." The one great fundamental question for you is this, "What think ye of Christ?" God grant that your answer to this question will daily be, He is my Lord, my Savior, my One and Only Redeemer.

Leo Eckstaedt, Pastor of the St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Northville.

Rev. Fr. Schuler will have the sermon next week.

The Homes of a Michigan Citizen

LET us examine him on several points that distinguish a good citizen from a bad one:

Does he pay his taxes? . . . During the past ten years he has paid a total of $32,332,175.31 taxes into State and Federal funds. Last year he paid $2,570,873 to Michigan.

Is his home an eyesore? . . . He has 356 homes distributed over the great State of Michigan. Many of these he built himself and owns—substantial buildings in good taste, each an asset to the neighborhood and standing on grounds that he always keeps neat. Where less space is required, he rents a home. Large or small, it is always adequate to the needs of the community it serves.

What sort of customer is he? . . . Each year he buys huge quantities of Michigan products—copper and furniture, poles, automobiles, iron, stone, labor.

How does he treat his employees? . . . With fairness and consideration. There are seventy-three hundred of them, both men and women, and they all say that he is a good man to work for. He pays them $12,000,000 in wages annually; this month he is paying them one million dollars, most of which will be spent and circulated throughout Michigan.

What does this Michigan citizen supply to his community? . . . Telephone service. And in supplying that service, it is his aim that the improvements of the past shall continue; that the service shall be rendered with efficiency, economy and courtesy; that always there shall be available for his fellow-citizens of Michigan a telephone service that is as fine as any in the world.

Those Blue Jeans

Strange, isn't it, that trouble and discord are heralded from the house top while love and kindness lie quietly hidden from the public eye and are discovered only accidentally.

In a Northville home, not long ago, we stumbled upon a sign of sweet home sentiment that struck us as quite unusual. Almost hidden behind the door of a side room—as if quite too sacred for the common gaze was the strangest thing to be in a frame—a little pair of overalls, faded by many washings and patched on the seat. Two little boys had grown up in this home and had left as a lasting memory in this home, their roust-about boyishness in this little pair of overalls. That's the way their father and mother like to think of them.

No one would ever guess that the father was a bit of a poet, interested as he is in fairs and poultry shows, but underneath the framed little garment were the following verses that will meet response in many another parent-heart that has leaped at the sight of something that reminds them of their own "little boy in blue" who is now a man.

These days we speak of great things
And of big things that are to be
But did you ever think one moment
What these blue jeans meant to me?

Oh it's great to sit and ponder
Of those younger days of yore
And o'er these little overalls
That Howard and Russell wore.

We've taken Howard from the cradle
We've taken Russell on our knee;
But they never knew at that time
What these blue jeans meant to me.

We've watched them grow to manhood
And we've watched them leave our door,
But we've always kept the blue jeans
Which Howard and Russell wore.

Lo, now our boys are fathers
And each boy can plainly see
The very reason why
The blue jeans are dear to me.

Now the styles have changed so,
We aren't old-fashioned any more,
Kiddies never wear overalls
Like Howard and Russell wore.

Northville housewives feel proud that one of their good cooks has been awarded a certificate of recipe endorsement by the magazine "Better Homes and Gardens" for the following recipe. It is the magazine's aim to raise the standard of accuracy and dependability of recipes and to recognize creative work of women in their own kitchens: Mrs. Matheson's Endorsed Recipe:

Devil's Food Cake

½ c shortening ½c sour milk
2 c brown sugar 2 c cake flour
2 beaten eggs ½ tsp. soda
2 squares chocolate ½ teasp. salt
½ c boiling water 1 tsp. vanilla

Cream the shortening and brown sugar until smooth and fluffy then add the beaten eggs and mix thoroughly. Dissolve the chocolate in the boiling water until a smooth sauce is formed and add to the creamed mixture stirring until smooth. Alternate the sour milk with the flour which has been sifted with the soda and salt. Add the vanilla and beat. Place in two greased and floured 9-inch layer cake pans. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees). Cool and ice as desired.

Mrs. Matheson received a first premium on this cake six different times at the Northville Wayne county fair.

Quick Coffee Cake

1½ c flour ¾ c milk
2 t. baking powder 2 t melted butter
1 t salt or other shortening
4 t. sugar
1 egg

Mix and sift all dry ingredients. Combine beaten egg with milk. Stir liquid into dry mixture. Add melted shortening. Pour into long, flat well-greased pan. Sprinkle with sugar, cinnamon and chopped nut meats. Bake 25 to 30 minutes in a hot oven. Serve warm.

Drop Biscuits

2¾ c flour 1¼ c milk
4 t baking powder 1 t salt
6 t shortening

Sift flour, measure and sift with baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening. Add milk, stirring sufficiently to blend well. Drop by teaspoonful onto well oiled baking sheet. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) for about 12 minutes. Makes 1¾ biscuits.

THE TALK OF THE TOWN

The Exposition

One of the most interesting parts of last week-end for us was visiting the Detroit and Michigan Exposition on Saturday evening. It was designed to tell the country about the many products that Michigan turns out, and leads in, and in that respect alone it is a success. Every Michigan company that manufactures anything for the world's consumption has a display there.

There are automobiles, drugs, houses, furniture and all the other things that the state of Michigan can boast of. By the way in case you do not know, Michigan has the finest system of improved roads in the country, and the first concrete highway was built in this state.

The Style Show

There is a style show that has the latest creations from the Detroit shops, and what a crowd surged around this feature of the exposition! We would have you know there were thousands watching it. And what impressed us about it was the fact that so many men seemed to take an interest in it. Perhaps it was just because their wives dragged them over in that direction, but we're not of that opinion in regard to most of them.

Lanny Ross

Of course when the time came for Lanny Ross to sing everyone started for the auditorium. There were seats for only a there 3,000 there and that did not begin to accomodate the crowd. But we got in there in time, and certainly enjoyed hearing him sing.

After he sang "Stay as Sweet As You Are" the applause was thunderous, and deservedly so. He has a remarkable voice, and in our opinion is far above all the popular crooners. He really sings—he is an artist.

Don't Need D. and D. Alphabet

Deaf-mutes seldom use the deaf-and-dumb alphabet, except when communicating names and dates that must be spelled. They employ an indicative sign or symbol language which is faster than speech and generally understood in many countries, hence mutes of different nationalities can sometimes converse without any knowledge of each other's written language.—J. F. Regan, Lawrence, Mass., in Collier's Weekly.

THIS WEEK

By H. H. WHITE

Beauty is so often a relative thing and I could not help but think of this as I walked along a highway the other night just as twilight was beginning and beheld a row of bare trees silhouetted against the sky.

To me they seemed like silent sentinels tall and regular in their sharp outline and symmetry.

Granted that a tree is much to be desired when in its leafy gloriousness— I could not help but feel a certain awe and majesty for these trees that had stood for nearly a century. There was a certain faithfulness and fidelity of design as they stood there.

Though I had often passed these trees I felt I had never seen them before. There they stood, candid in their bareness, reflecting the purity of their outline and so revealing in their austere beauty.

There was something sturdy and secure about them—a definiteness of purpose and sureness. They were lovely in their tapering, graceful thinness, and soundness of trunks with which they were grounded into the earth.

Surely here was harmony and design patterned for all sorts of weather and seasons. They seemed so intricate that one felt an assurance of a definite plan as they revealed contour and detail in the evening sky.

Soon they would be leafing out under the influence of spring and display a beauty which at best could only be relative and transitory. They were there a hundred years ago when the land was cleared that men might use this highway as an avenue of travel.

WALLED LAKE CIVIC CLUB REVIEWS ITS YEARS OF PROGRESS

Twenty-five years of activity for the benefit of the community were marked by the Walled Lake Civic club by a dinner given Wednesday, February 27, in the dining room of the Wimmer building when Mrs. Mae Rhodes, retiring president, reviewed the history of the club.

More than fifty members with their husbands and guests, formed the party. Mrs. Howard Mesnard presided. Starting as "The Embroidery club" in 1910 this club gave itself so much to civic improvement that in 1926 it changed its name to the more dignified one of "Civic club."

Many noteworthy things have been done by the society such as the laying of sidewalks, sponsoring installation of electric lights, beautifying of school grounds, equipping a rest room for teachers, and erecting a shelter for the town pump.

Another benefit sponsored by the club was the numbering of the houses and posting of street signs and having a directory; also hot lunches for needy school children, and various other activities for the benefit of the community.

Mrs. Clarence Bicking, first president of the club, was present and reminisced in a humorous vein, and Rev. T. Evans reminded his hearers of the possibilities of further good of the club activities. The singing of modern ballads and old songs brought to a close a very delightful evening.

CAR SKIDS INTO CURB, SMASHING A WHEEL SUNDAY

One of the few accidents in Northville caused by icy streets this winter occurred at 3:30 p. m. Sunday afternoon, when the car in which Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fisher and their son, Stanley, Jr., of 8315 Lane avenue, Detroit, were riding, skidded around at the corner of West Main and Rogers streets smashing one of the wheels against the curb.

Stanley Jr. suffered scalp wounds and was treated at Sessions hospital, where five stitches were taken in his head.

Mr. Fisher was driving his car at a moderate rate of speed at the time of the accident. He said that when he applied the brakes they did not take hold, and the car swerved out of his control.

He and his family were driving to the Maybury sanatorium to visit friends.

The passing of the reform bill of 1832 in England, so excited hopes that, according to a contemporary humorist, all the unmarried young women thought they would at once get husbands and all the school boys expected a heavy fall in the price of jam tarts.

Will Rogers In "County Chairman" To Be Seen Here Friday, Saturday; "Marie Galante" Comes Wednesday

Described in advance accounts from Hollywood as the finest to date of Will Rogers' notable series of American character portraits, the Fox Film production, "The County Chairman," will be seen here at the Penniman Allen theatre March 15 and 16.

"The County Chairman" is a screen adaptation of the famous play of the same title, by one of America's foremost humorists George Ade. Opening on Broadway in the year 1902, "The County Chairman" ran there for a year with Maclyn Arbuckle as its star and then toured for the next three seasons. In addition to the celebrity which it brought to Arbuckle, the play created another star of the era—Willis P. Sweatnam, who appeared in the famous role of "Sassafras," colored man-of-all-work. In the screen play, Stepin Fetchit is seen in this notable part.

"The County Chairman," it is said, is a story of smiles and heart tugs, rivalling the hugely successful "Judge Priest" and "David Harum" as a vehicle for Rogers. In the new film he is seen as a wily, lovable county boss, half diplomat, half-rustic. He wins elections and arranges love matches with equal skill—and no one, not even his rivals, can resist him.

John Blystone has directed the picture, with Edward W. Butcher listed as producer, and the adaptation from George Ade's play has been made by Sam Hellman and Gladys Lehman.

A notable supporting cast includes such players as Evelyn Venable, Kent Taylor, Louise Dresser, Berton Churchill, Mickey Rooney, Frank Melton and Stepin Fetchit.

Once again, it is stated, Will Rogers displays his recently developed flair for singing in this picture. You will recall his musical propensities in "Judge Priest." This time he renders an old-time western rangers' song, accompanying himself on the guitar. Another highlight of "The County Chairman" is one of those famous torchlight processions so much in vogue at the turn of the century. This one is staged by Will and is said to have all the frenzy and thrill of its originals.

You mustn't miss Will Rogers, the inimitable, in "The County Chairman." You'll love him more than ever—and no one can say more than that!

Ketti Gallian, slender, youthful, vivacious, makes her long-anticipated screen debut in "Marie Galante," which will come to the local Theatre on March 20.

While extensive preparations and exhaustive research work on the story were going on at the Fox Film studios, for some six months, Ketti was diligently poring over English books with her tutor. Mlle. Gallian now speaks English proficiently, retaining only that slight trace of her native tongue which she needed for her portrayal of the glamorous "Marie."

Winfield Sheehan searched far and wide for the right girl to play the little French waif whose heart-breaking existence in the Canal Zone provides the theme for "Marie Galante." Characteristically, until he found her, Mr. Sheehan decided to bide his time.

FOUND IN LONDON

Unexpectedly last Spring, 6000 miles away from Hollywood, where "Marie Galante" rested in the story files of the Fox Film studios, the executive, on holiday in London saw the very girl he wanted. She walked onto the stage of the Lyric Theatre, to dazzle a packed house with her performance as the only feminine member of a large cast. The play was "The Ace," a London hit.

Next day Mlle. Gallian had a Hollywood contract. It was December before she was free to come to California. While "The Ace" played to capacity, the little French actress was inundated with other stage and screen offers which she had to refuse.

Four hundred and fifty other well known actresses had been tested for the role of "Marie." Ketti Gallian alone had all the qualities that have made a success of the complex character she portrays.

Born and educated on the French Riviera, Ketti went to Paris at the age of 17 to become a mannequin for a famous couturiere. Love of clothes gave way to love of the theatre. Six months later a young model was playing "hookey" from work and, unbeknown to the relations with whom she lived, she was attending auditions for Parisian revues and musicals.

BURNING AMBITION

The fair curls, the dazzling smile and the twinkling legs in their thin silk stockings, the slim, girlish figure, and a burning ambition to make good did not pass unheeded for long. Mlle. Gallian made her stage debut in the famous Folies Bergeres where she slinted and saved until she had sufficient money to enter the Conservatoire to study dramatics and music.

Here she came to the notice of Sacha Guitry, a patron of the famous academy, who introduced her to his English friend, Stanley Scott, producer of "The Ace."

Thousands of dollars have been spent on grooming, tutoring and effectively gowning this youngster, who a short while ago, was a midinette in her mother's business in Nice, and who still looks young enough to be attending school.

"Marie Galante" traces the short, tragic life of a French foundling, from a farm in Normandy, to Motherhood, in the slums of Bordeaux, whence she is kidnaped and taken to the Canal Zone to become a cabaret dancer.

Winfield Sheehan personally supervised this picture, which was adapted from the French best seller by Reginald Berkeley and directed by Henry ("State Fair") King.

NORTHVILLE WOMEN UNITE IN PRAYER

A representative though not very large attendance of women of the various churches of the village met in the Baptist church Friday afternoon to unite with the Christian women of the whole world in a "Day of Prayer."

Carrying out the usual plan of having the service in charge of the minister's wives in rotation, it was the turn for the Methodist minister's wife to lead. Mrs. H. H. Mallinson conducted the worship in a very soulful, impressive manner, leading the thought throughout the responsive readings and various prayers participated in by those in the audience. The reading of two poems, by Mrs. Mallinson with appropriate sentiments left lasting thoughts with her hearers.

The music was led by Mrs. M. J. Koldyke and Mrs. V. J. Lumley, with Mrs. Sherrill W. Ambler at the organ. The voices of the two singers blended with unusual beauty and their contributions to the meeting were very marked.

Mrs. Leslie G. Lee discussed feelingly the meaning of prayer and Mrs. Earl Montgomery led the thought of her hearers to the real purpose of prayer, the concern for their fellows, and described the four projects supported by the concerted action of this body, Union Christian colleges, Education of Indians, Christian literature, and Work Among the Migrants.

The service closed with this thought left in the hearts of the women: "It is by the prayers of tired mothers in their homes and of little children at bedsides that the world is made better."

First Musical Instruments

The first musical instruments were crude horns, found in caves occupied in the Stone age. Such instruments could produce few notes, and the scale contained two or three tones. Gradually these were extended until the pentatonic, or five-toned, scale was formed, and this continued in use for centuries. It still is employed among primitive people, and remains in modern music in some of our simplest hymns, as "There Is a Happy Land" and "Auld Lang Syne."—Kansas City Times.

In the Star's dressing room LIGHTS circle the mirror!

OVER the theater star's dressing table there is a magic circle of light that mercilessly reveals every flaw in make-up. The amount of light used is eloquent testimony to the need of plenty of light for a critical seeing task such as this. Your vanity table, too, requires a definite amount of light—just as there is a definite amount needed for reading, writing, sewing and other visual tasks. You can apply four simple rules to your home lighting that will assure good general quality of illumination throughout the house: (1) Use SHADES on all lamp bulbs to prevent GLARE. (2) Use shades with light-colored linings to get the most light. Wide shades, open at the top, are best. (3) Use correct-size lamp bulbs—"WATTS". In table and floor lamps with 3 sockets, use 40 watts in each socket; two sockets, 60 watts; one socket, 100 watts. (4) Have at least one-tenth as much light in the rest of the room as you have on your book, newspaper, sewing, etc.

St. Paul's Lutheran

"Be merciful unto me, O Lord; for I cry unto Thee daily." Ps. 86, 5.

As we need food and drink daily in order to nourish the body, so we need the mercy of God everyday for our spiritual life and well-being. We sin daily and we need forgiveness daily. Every day of our lives we must admit: Who can understand his errors. Every day we must plead: Enter not into judgment with Thy servant, for in Thy sight shall no flesh living be justified!

Cry we may and cry we should for mercy, not occasionally; but daily. The reason is given by the psalmist in the words: "For Thou, Lord are good, and ready to forgive; and plenteous in mercy, unto all them that call upon Thee."

During this Lenten season we learn again the greatness of God's mercy in giving His Son into suffering, shame, and death for our sins. May we ever be mindful of God's mercy. Yes, bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits; who forgiveth all thine iniquities!

Thousand, thousand thanks I bring to Thee, Lord Jesus, for Thine innocent suffering and death. Thereby Thou didst offer unto God a perfect atonement for my sins and didst satisfy the Father's justice and didst make it possible for me to cry for mercy and to obtain forgiveness. Make me always to recognize my guilt and sins and the enormity of every transgression, so that I may learn to shun all sin. Wash me clean so that Thou and the Father may have pleasure in me and in my life. For thy mercy's sake.

The hour for worship and Sunday school every Sunday morning is 10 oclock.

Our mid-week Lenten service is held every Wednesday evening beginning at 7:30.

The Lutheran Hour is broadcast every Sunday over station WXYZ at 7:30.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to worship with us!

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Plainness of Buckingham Palace

Nowhere is the British love of quietness and unobtrusiveness so clearly betrayed as in the royal palaces and mansions. For, with the exception perhaps of Windsor and Balmoral castles, not one of them is in the least spectacular or grandiose. Indeed, visitors to London are often surprised by the plainness of Buckingham palace. But in spite of its architecture the palace, in its secluded setting in the heart of London, manages to give an effect of dignity and quiet grace. It has, too, a charming position between St. James' park and the Green park and a broad approach in the Mall.

Webster's Greatest Speech

On March 7, 1850, Webster spoke on the compromise measures of 1850. As a speech, it was one of the greatest of his career, and his last notable one. In it, he rebuked the North for agitating the slavery question and for violating the fugitive slave law, while he advocated concessions for the South. The speech pleased the South, but Northerners charged that that was its principal intent; that Webster was seeking Southern support to place himself as a candidate for the Presidency.
