VILLAGE TO BUY NEW CAR, TWO TRUCKS

Bids Received This Week On Police Car, Pick-up and Dump Truck

Bids are being received by the village this week on a new and used police car, pickup and dump truck to make an estimated expenditure of about $1,800 in all.

Action as taken at the meeting of the village commission Monday evening at the village hall to buy the new equipment because of the fact that the village either must buy a new dump truck immediately or pay an expensive repair bill.

The commission was of the opinion that it would be a bad policy to invest so much money in the present truck in its condition, since it was planned to replace it in the near future.

The hope was expressed at a previous meeting of the commission that all of the three village cars would hold up until they could be replaced after the new fiscal year is begun on April 1. It was decided that the best course to take would be to purchase all cars at the same time.

No decision was made as to whether new or used equipment would be purchased. The bids will be decided upon Tuesday evening, April 2, when the commission has its next regular meeting at the village hall.

PET GOAT OF JOE, PETE SPAGNUOLO, IS NOW NO MORE

Favorite of Many Children Is Found Dead Last Friday

"Betty," the goat that has been the pet of Joe and Pete Spagnuolo for three years, was found dead Friday morning, and thus a companion and familiar sight to many boys and girls of the neighborhood has passed.

"Betty" had become very dear to Joe and to the other children who played with her. Her death was a real blow to them, and to Joe especially.

Many people would think that it's most unusual to have a goat for a pet, but Joe will tell you that "Betty" was a most unusual goat. that she was very smart, that is, smart as goats go, and that she was a great pal.

One fact to prove that she was an animal of excellent breeding is that only last summer at the Northville Wayne County fair she won first prize in the contest for the most unruly pet.

In that event "Betty" was hitched to a covered wagon. After she had refused to budge, Joe got behind and pushed, finally overcoming her reluctance to move.

Many other times, however, she has quite willingly pulled Joe and the others around in the wagon, just to show that she was at heart really an obliging goat, and that at the fair last summer she was merely doing a nice bit of acting

STOLEN CAR FOUND AFTER DAY'S HUNT

A car, missing for 24 hours after it had been stolen from the parking lot of the Kelvinator refrigerator plant on Plymouth road in Detroit, the property of Ross M. Dixon, 235 Rayson street, Northville, was found Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock by Police Chief William H. Safford, on Eight Mile road near the Geo E. Stuckey home.

Mr Dixon reported his car as stolen to the Detroit police Monday evening after he failed to find it when he left the plant

It was found in a damaged condition by Chief Safford and in it were discovered some school books, all with the name White, written inside. This has led the police to believe that the car was stolen by some high school boys.

Mrs. George E. Stuckey notified Chief Safford about the car after she had noticed it parked on the Eight Mile road opposite her home all day Tuesday.

The Oldest Voter In Oakland County, Marvin Bogart, Rounds Out 95 Years With Many Friends Honoring Him

Straight and serene in these days of economic unrest, stood Marvin Bogart, the oldest voter in Oakland county, among the 200 relatives and friends from far and near who had gathered in Wixom to honor him on his 95th birthday Saturday, March 15.

Ever since he bore arms to preserve the union when a young lad, Marvin Bogart has been an ardent patriot. His first presidential ballot was cast for Abraham Lincoln and ever since that time he has never missed a chance to vote the Republican ticket.

Love of country has been second only to love of his church. Through storm and sunshine his pew in the Wixom Baptist church has been filled with scarcely an absence during his 55 years of membership. A special program was given Sunday, March 17, in his honor.

"Clean as a hound's tooth" one describes this nonagenarian who is as clear-eyed and steady of step as a man in the forties. Whether this sturdiness is due to the strain of French Hugenot blood that flows in his veins or to the fact that during all his life Marvin Bogart has never tasted liquor nor used tobacco is a guess to his many friends.

At any rate, his 95 years have not dimmed the magnetism that called together the large number who honored the "patriarch" of the clan. Together they talked, laughed, listened to harmonica music of his sons, Harry and LaRue Bogart, and made plans for the celebration of his 100th anniversary five years hence.

Edward and Ray Bogart of this village were among those who looked with pride on their ancestor that day.

The following verses were written by Mrs. Ray Porter in his honor

Many trials and tribulations,
Many joys and blessings sweet,
Bro't us o'er life's foaming billows
Til we now on this day meet.

But to one right here among us
Special blessings have been given—
Boon of health the years of service
For his country, home, and Heaven.

Five and ninety years of labor—
Fifteen more than any other,
Bring us here today to honor
Our esteemed and active brother.

For long years, unto our forebears
We must give the credit due,
Ours the honor if we live them
In a manner good and true.

This is why we try to honor
Father Bogart in this way,
For we feel his earnest living
Much to us should mean today.

Nearly eighty years have vanished
Since he taught the country school
Many to us have reported
Of his just and upright rule.

Then his country's call was sounded
And like many another lad,
He forsook the school and home life
For the battle, grim and sad.

As if fighting were not plenty,
Soul and body must endure,
He must needs in Southern prisons
For much time be held secure.

But God had more battles for him:
Bro't him home again to fight
In this land of peace and plenty
For the Way of Truth and Right.

Here he had his home and family,
Here he's worked in church and town
Here he's helped us in our problems
Here he's earned a friend's renown.

Let us follow in his footprints —
Ever ready for each task,
And make faith like his the blessing
That each day we humbly ask.

61 PER CENT OF TOWNSHIP TAXES PAID

More People Are Able To Meet Their Assessments This Year

A total of 61 per cent of the 1934 township, state and county taxes for Northville township were collected before the tax roll was turned over to the county to make a new record for the last few years, it was announced this week by Mrs. Jennie Cousins, township treasurer.

The eight fractional school districts which receive money from the township taxes have all received their funds in full.

Of these the Northville schools get the largest amount, having received a total of $13,749 04 from the 1934 taxes. The last installment of this, $7,361.40, was turned over to the schools Tuesday, March 19.

The tax roll will be returned from the county to Mrs. Cousins in a few days, and at that time complete figures will be available regarding the total taxes collected, and the amount that each school district has received.

Mrs. Cousins says that it has been clearly shown that the taxpayers are much better equipped to meet their obligations this year than in 1934 and that the tax collections were even less in 1933.

FOSTER VAN ATTA IS MAROONED IN WEST

From the "wild and wooly west" comes word from Foster Van Atta to his parents, Postmaster and Mrs. Fred Van Atta, saying that he is now temporarily stationed in Ouachita, Ark in his work with the U S survey.

Recently Foster and his party were marooned by flooded rivers with no communication with the rest of the country. Stranded amid stream, with the water up to the hood, their truck had to be abandoned for several days until the river subsided

Foster is well and thriving on the outdoor life in the west.

LOCAL MEN ATTEND SCHOOL AID HEARING

In behalf of the Northville school district, Superintendent R. H. Amerman and Sherrill W. Ambler attended a public hearing on House Bill 188, an amendment to the Thatcher-Sias bill, at the House of Representatives' room in the state capitol in Lansing Tuesday evening.

This bill will provide $25,000,000 aid for public schools in addition to the primary fund aid.

A committee of state representatives was present to find out the opinion of the large gathering there, which included members of school boards, Grange associations, manufacturers' associations, and many school teachers from all over the state.

Supt. Amerman says that all who spoke regarding the bill were heartily in favor of it.

According to those back of this bill, an average amount of $68 is needed for each of the 1,000,000 school children in the state per year, making a total of $68,000,000. It has been computed that after the individual schools have gained all possible funds from local taxation and the primary fund, there still remains a deficit of $25,000,000 needed to maintain them. S.; this bill provides for that amount.

In addition to Supt. Amerman and Mr. Ambler, several Northville school teachers attended the hearing, including Mrs. Ida B. Cooke, Mrs. Luetta Reng, Miss Ann Richards, Miss Ione Palmer and Miss Selma Jarvis.

BAPTIST CENTENNIAL MAY 19-26

The Northville Baptist church will celebrate its centennial observance during the week of May 19 to 26.

An executive committee which met Tuesday night made tentative plans for this event. Beginning with Sunday, May 19, former ministers and members will gather in a memorial service and home-coming for the day.

On Monday night there will be a social evening; Tuesday will be community day, and on Wednesday night a centennial banquet will be held. Thursday will be devoted to music with a concert program, while on Friday night a historical drama will be presented.

Sunday, May 26, which will close the week of activities, will observe the one-hundredth anniversary of the Michigan Baptist convention.

A committee has been working for several weeks compiling data for a story of the church, which will be published and ready at that time.

FORCE OF 21 MEN EMPLOYED NOW AT MARZ FACTORY UNIT

Production is on a high level these days at the Marz Motor Sales factory unit at 117 West Main street where 2,000 pump-housings and nearly 4,000 pump-housing propellers are turned out daily to the Ford Motor company for use in the new V-8 cars.

A. R. Marz says the present force of 21 men has been constantly employed for over a year now to meet the demand for these parts. This number is exclusive of the six other men employed in the service and sales departments. The men work in three eight-hour shifts to keep the machinery humming during the 24 hours of the day.

According to the present production outlook on the new Ford cars, Mr. Marz believes that there is no reason to think that his present staff of men will not be retained in full indefinitely.

A new milling machine and lathe were added to the shop this week so that the tools used can be made there, rather than purchased as has been the custom.

PACKARD AGENCY IS OPENED THIS WEEK BY H. R. RICHARDSON

H. R. Richardson, the new dealer here for Packard motor cars, received his first model Friday, which he is using for demonstration purposes at the present, with the hope that he will have some more models soon for display in his new showroom on West Main street.

He will carry the entire Packard line with the exception of the V-12. This includes the new addition to the Packard line, the One Twenty, the Eight, and the Super Eight

The One Twenty series, which ranges in price from $980 to $1095, has many fine car features. These include a rear axle of Packard Angleset design, which permits a reduction in the height of the car without lessening head room, reducing road clearance, or causing any tunnel or hump in the rear compartment floor.

The car has automatic choke and spark control on the straight eight engine, which develops 110 horse power. The gas consumption is said to be 13 to 16 miles per gallon at 40 miles an hour.

Seven body styles are offered.

SODA FOUNTAIN AT GUNSELL'S ENLARGED

The soda fountain at the Gunsell drug store has been enlarged this week, three more seats have been added to it and the glassware for use at the fountain has been entirely replaced with a new kind

The latter change was made so that the store could best handle the Mello-roll ice cream that is being stocked now. The new glassware is all made especially for this kind of ice cream, which comes in individually wrapped portions rather than in the bulk form.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS RECEIVE HONORS AT DETROIT CEREMONIAL

Spurred by their ideal, "work, health, love," twelve Camp Fire girls of Northville made their way to Detroit Saturday evening to attend the 23d Birthday Ceremonial Council Fire held in the General Motors building.

Five of these girls were among the company from all over Detroit who received with due ceremony their rank as "Wood Gatherers", having fulfilled the requirements. The Northville girls are: Geraldine Johnston, Jane VanAtta, Vivian Grosenor, Dorothy Heaton and Jean Lyke. Janet Stewart received the next rank of "Firemaker". Marjorie Chase was given third year honor.

The other six girls present, Laura Bolton, Maxine Ware, Pat McLoughlin, Shirley Condit and Louise Alexander with the other members of the group, Jean Atchison, Lucille Lapoint, Jean Saley, Doris Hogan, Betty Armstrong, Betty Ann Baldwin, Marie Argote and Katherine Marburger, are enthusiastically working on the achievements which will entitle them to progressive rank

The girls are fortunate in having as their guardian, Mrs. H. H. Burkhart who herself a Camp Fire girl and having an natural understanding of girl desires and ambitions, is studying with them

To stimulate the girls in their progress toward the Camp Fire ideals, Mrs. Burkhart is starting again her each evenings and is strictly following the same health rules and courses as are required of a good Camp Fire girl.

Parents would be enthusiastic if they could look in on a Camp Fire group sitting about an open fire with the light falling upon animated faces as they work on their head bands. The "Camp Fire desire" includes seeking beauty, nature lore, patriotism, health, domestic achievement—in fact all that goes to make up fine, wholesome young womanhood.

On Monday evening, March 25, the group will gather around the fireplace in the recreation room at the McLoughlin home in Oakwood with several guardians from headquarters present as official guests.

COUNTY WILL TAKE OVER STOP LIGHTS

New Equipment Probably Will Be Installed In Near Future

Northville's two traffic lights, one of which is at the corner of Main and Center streets and the other at the corner of Center and Dunlap streets, will be maintained from now on by the Board of Wayne County Road Commissioners.

This decision was made by the village commission at its regular meeting Monday evening at the village hall after listening to the conditions under which the county will take care of them. It was agreed that the county will keep them in repair if the village will pay the electric bill.

J. L. Waymeider, a representative from the maintenance division of the road commission, was present at the meeting of the commission Monday night to explain all the details about how they will be maintained. He said that probably in the near future the lights will be replaced with the new kind that the county uses. They have no repair parts for the signal lights in Northville

Mr. Waymeider also suggested for the present at least that the signal light at the corner of Dunlap and Center streets be kept on. This advice was given to the village commission after he had made a record of the children that cross the corners during a school day. The survey revealed that an average of 375 juveniles pass by this intersection each day, although some of these are counted more than once, of course. The commission had considered removing this light in favor of one of the flasher type or with none at all.

The traffic lights will also be speeded up to about 20 seconds or even less according to how fast the county man feels the lights should change to best handle the traffic. A careful study has been made of the timing of lights by the county for the many traffic lights throughout their jurisdiction

LOCAL ROTARIANS TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

A good representation of Rotarians from Northville will join with hundreds of business and professional men from the eastern half of the lower peninsula of Michigan and the southwestern part of Ontario in the annual conference of the Twenty-third District Rotary International, to be held in Cranbrook in Bloomfield Hills March 25 and 26.

Preliminary to the conference the district governor's reception will be held at which District Governor Roscoe O. Bonisteel and Mrs. Bonisteel will be honored. Church services in Christ church, Cranbrook, will follow Sunday evening. A carillon recital will be given on the 64 bells of the church.

At the session Monday morning Hugh A. Butler, of Omaha, will represent Rotary International.

Probably the most popular event of the convention will be the banquet Monday evening when Dr Frederick B. Fisher, pastor of Central Methodist church, will be the speaker and the University Glee club will sing. Dancing will follow.

Athletic director of University athletics Fielding H. Yost, will be among the attractions on the program of the convention.

At the latest report twelve local Rotarians had registered for the convention.

PLANS MADE FOR VIADUCT AND NEW ROAD

Seven Mile Grade Separation Under P. M. R. R. Is Surveyed

The continuance of the Seven Mile road through from the Northville road to the Fishery road and a grade separation of the road under the Pere Marquette tracks became possibilities this week, as county men made surveys of the land involved.

At the meeting of the village commission Monday night a letter was read from the Board of Wayne County Road commissioners asking for a price on the property the village owns south of the septic tanks. The county plans show that the proposed road may go through at that point.

This is one of the county projects which were to be commenced when sufficient funds were available to finance it and others that have likewise been planned. The fact that the county definitely wants this property now makes the village commissioners feel that this project will be made possible in the near future.

The road commission was unable to give out any definite information concerning the time when either the grade separation or the road will be commenced, but it is expected that further word will be forthcoming within the next two weeks.

When the road is completed, it is felt that traffic will be considerably speeded up. Attention was called at the meeting of the village commission Monday night to the unusually heavy traffic that goes to the Maybury sanatorium, especially on Sunday.

It is not known whether the grade separation and the road will be constructed at the same time. Already surveyors have been at work on the railroad crossing.

The new grade separation is another step in the county improvements near Northville in the past two or three years which include two grade separations on the Six Mile road, one under the Pere Marquette railroad, and one over the Parkway drive another where the Northville road goes under the tracks. The latter project was completed last December.

Walter Segal, Maybury Sanatorium Patient, Is Gaining Reputation As An Artist With His Work In The Fluoroscope

The old expression that a physical infirmity reacts by bringing out the artistic ability of a person is being strikingly illustrated at the Maybury sanatorium where Walter Segal, a patient, is earning an ever-growing reputation for his remarkable art work.

One of the best illustrations of his talent was exemplified in a cover illustration for the December issue of The Fluoroscope, the monthly magazine published by patients of the sanatorium and of Herman Kiefer hospital in Detroit.

This was a linoleum cut in three colors of "Little Red," a picture of the first tuberculosis sanatorium in America. It was his first attempt at this type of art work, done at the request of the editors of The Fluoroscope and required the cutting of three separate blocks for the different colors.

The Michigan Tuberculosis association, upon receiving their copy of the magazine, replied by letter that the picture was a masterpiece, and asked him if he was willing to do some similar work for their publication, which is called "Health."

He has been receiving recognition for his work ever since he became a patient at Herman Kiefer hospital three years ago, where he spent a year.

It was after he entered the hospital that he made a charcoal sketch of Mrs. Scripps, the mother of Jas. Scripps, publisher of the Detroit News. She had just died, and her photograph appeared in the paper. It was from this that Segal made his picture, which he sent to Mr. Scripps, who was very much pleased. In his room at the sanatorium Segal has a specially constructed drawing table with tall legs to fit across his bed. All of his supplies are paid for out of the small amount he accepts for various examples of his work. He is constantly adding to his collection of materials.

In one corner of his room are two oil paintings, of William H. Maybury and Abraham Lincoln. Both are remarkable in their detail, color scheme, and the perfection of facial expression.

Segal says he made the one of Mr. Maybury from a photograph in the Rotogravure section of the Detroit Sunday News. The painting of Lincoln is Segal's own conception of him as assembled from many portraits and photographs.

He has also made a bust of Lincoln, which won for him enthusiastic praise. This he gave to one of his friends. Very little of his work remains in his room long, he says. The patients and the employees at the sanatorium are eager to get anything he turns out, and many are willing to pay much more for his work than he asks for it. His only motive in ever selling any painting he makes is to obtain funds to purchase additional supplies, he says. Otherwise he would just give most of them away.

Although he never thought of art as a lifework before he entered Herman Kiefer hospital, he is now convinced that it will be his future, and he becomes more fascinated in his work with each succeeding day.

His only source of education on the subject now is the few books he has in his room, but he intends to lose no time in finding an opportunity to study more deeply when he is released from the institution a few months from now.

THE PASSING OF A DOG

We cannot think of anyone mean and cruel enough to poison our dog Rex. Yet, because of the way he died, some suggest that he might have been poisoned.

All we know is that one evening he dragged himself into the house from the front porch and fell into a heap at our feet. His little body quivered and he was unable to stand up. In a few hours he was dead.

There is something strange about the hold that a dog gets on one's feelings. Rex was a sensible and friendly dog. He bothered no one. He seldom ran into the street nor did he rush out and bark at people. Rather, he stuck to the house and close at the heels of some member of the family. He seemed to sense appreciation and was grateful for a little attention. Alert and full of frolic, he gave good cheer to the house. He minded his own business better than some human beings we know and added a little to the happiness of the children. He was always a friendly dog—and certainly giving friendliness to an upset world is a good trait. We are going to think of the way that Rex lived and not of the way he died.

THE EIGHT POLISH CANDIDATES

Eight Detroit citizens of Polish origin were nominated on one ticket at the primaries to run for the office of circuit judge at the April 1 election. Does that appeal to you?

One defense of this overwhelming number of one nationality is made by one of the candidates in these words: "It isn't our fault that the Polish people don't neglect their right to vote." That is the answer that could be given by any smart ward heeler who votes "his people." The head of a good deal of the recent scandal in the recount at Detroit when a brazen attempt was made to steal an office, was a man elected by Detroit Polish people. That man has been ordered to jail for contempt of court so the argument that Poles always vote doesn't mean that they vote for the best men for office. In fact we suspect that the Polish citizens vote for those who are Poles just because they are that. And that is a dangerous thing for the rest of us.

We should regard it as a calamity if all of the eight Poles running for circuit judge were elected April 1.

RADICALISM WON'T WRECK US

Radicalism is rampant throughout the United States. According to Roger Babson, the noted economist and statistician, the spread of socialistic ideas is most noticeable on the Pacific coast.

One has only to stand on the street corners and talk to the common run of humanity to hear of the spread of wild doctrines. We are getting this radical talk for several reasons. The biggest cause, of course, is the fact that at least a third of our population is busy just getting the bare necessities of life. When an able man's income is only $15 a week and the family has little or no money for an automobile, for a radio, for music, for entertainment or travel, it doesn't take long for radical ideas to sprout.

To be perfectly frank, another cause for the spread of unreasoning radical talk, is the great amount of loose talk on the radio—much of it based on some truths but all tending to arouse bitterness and radicalism. These smooth-tongued talkers over the radio have stirred up much trouble by their irresponsible appeals over the air. These addresses have in many cases been destructive and very seldom constructive. When the wind of discord and bitterness is sown, we may well expect the harvest of the whirlwind of destruction.

A third cause for the spread of wild-eyed ideas is the unequal distribution of wealth in our country. We do not vouch for the figures, but if it is so that one per cent of our population owns 59 per cent of the wealth of the United States, then there is some reason for people to "go radical." When millions of people, fighting for the bare necessities of life, think of this unequal distribution, you have the seedbed for the growth of socialism. No wonder that millions are duped by the crazy Townsend plan of giving every person over 60 years of age, an income of $200 a month—a plan, by the way, that is so absurd that it should fall of its own weight. And don't forget that all these plans make a profitable "racket" for a lot of organizers and promoters.

Alarming as is this spread of radicalism, we still have faith in the underlying common sense and justice of our people to believe that we shall come safely out of troubled waters.

For the past three or four years we have maintained that we are too great and resourceful a nation to be wrecked by radicalism and socialism. We still have that simple faith. Look at our resources—nothing in the world to surpass them. Look at our people—the best equipped, the finest in the world. Breathe in our climate—the most stimulating anywhere. Look at our millions of happy homes. Quit counting the unemployed and look at the 40 millions or so who are employed. Look at our farms and then ask yourself why this great nation should ever talk of "going radical."

Personally, we think it is now "darkest before dawn." Radicalism will not save our people. Good sense, a sense of justice, a "getting together" of our leaders, a use of all our vast resources—herein will be found the solution of our troubles.

Our government is leading the way out. We have the right and the duty to criticise its plans but no right to tear down and to wreck and despoil. Stand by the government in a fair way; believe in yourself and in your fellow men; listen not to wild-eyed talk; do your little part; teach men to live unselfishly; encourage those who need help in a dark hour—and it will not be long before we shall stand in the sunshine of a new day. We verily believe that the dawn of this day is not far off.

The metropolitan papers complain that the state legislature has so far passed very few bills. Well, wouldn't it be a good thing to quit passing so many laws?

* * *

That stream of automobiles that passes through Northville every Sunday afternoon, on the way to the Maybury sanatorium, gives Northville quite a metropolitan touch. We often wonder who they all are and where they come from.

* * *

This week's pet peeve: The "street hog" who makes a right hand turn without the slightest thought of the rights of the pedestrian. And by the way, does anything on earth show up the real character of a man more than the way he acts behind a steering wheel?

* * *

"Public Enemy No. Six"—that is what we have been calling ourselves the past week or so. Reason: We have been battling what "Ad" Schwenger used to call: "A good old Michigan cold," and thought it smart to try to keep at work (each of us foolishly thinks he is indispensable) instead of going to bed for a day or two.

* * *

It is again being suggested that Michigan enact a tax on cigarettes. Why not? Ohio gets four millions of dollars a year from such a tax. And speaking of taxes, one of the heaviest self-imposed taxes is the cigarette one. We still believe that the cigarette habit puts heavy chains on the average smoker—many of whom simply can't afford to smoke, tax or no tax.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Should the state of Michigan continue in the liquor business?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

INSULL ACQUITTAL SATISFIES

(M. H. DePoe in Charlotte Republican Tribune)

For some reason I have a feeling of satisfaction over both the Samuel Insull acquittals.

In most of these depression-time collapses the men operating these financial institutions went down to ruin with their customers. Many of the questionable transactions by executives of the collapsed first mortgage bond companies in Detroit were done in desperation and solely in the hope that the step would avert worse disaster and in most, if not every case, the executives suffered correspondingly with their bond holders. Insull, we believe, did everything legally to save his great companies and if he stepped over the line of sound business it was done to save rather than wreck.

It is little wonder that the government has failed to convict Insull. As tragic as were these failures the hopelessness of the depression, rather than the conduct of the individual, was to blame for most of the questionable circumstances. The questionable circumstances, including Samuel Insull, are not inherently dishonest.

CASEY JONES TRIED IT

(George Breen in Iron River Reporter)

Traffic figures are usually dull reading. A report that a certain number of accidents are caused through specific violations of driving ordinances means but little.

A trade journal has added a new slant. Like the percentages in a poker hand, the results of various violations are listed. Here is what the slide rules of the actuaries showed:

If you cut out of the line of traffic, your chances of having an accident are multiplied by 50.

If you drive over 40 miles an hour, your chances of having an accident are multiplied by 25.

If you pass another car on a curve, your chances of having an accident are multiplied by 25.

If you pass another car going up hill, your chances of having an accident are multiplied by 10.

If you fail to signal a turn or a stop, your chances of having an accident are multiplied by 5.

The whole meaning of the figures is nicely summed by a writer who said, "Casey Jones tried it and won fame. But he survives only in song."

"Mrs. Wiggs Of The Cabbage Patch," "Wagon Wheels" Here On Saturday; Two Features Also On Wednesday

Pauline Lord, noted stage actress who makes her motion picture debut in Paramount's "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," coming to the Penniman-Allen theatre, Saturday, March 23, has been on the stage for over thirty years, yet never has played an ingenue role.

In the film, which was adapted from the play by Alice Hegan Rice and Anne Crawford Flexner, Miss Lord plays the title role, that of the motherly, philosophic and lovable Mrs. Wiggs, whose home-spun philosophy and quaint sayings have delighted millions of readers for two generations.

In the supporting featured cast are W. C. Fields, ZaSu Pitts, Evelyn Venable, Kent Taylor, and five of Hollywood's juvenile stars, including Jimmy Butler and George Breakston, acting the parts of the numerous Wiggs progeny. Norman Taurog, who directed "Skippy," "Sooky," and numerous other successes, directed "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch."

"Wagon Wheels"

Randolph Scott, tall and handsome Paramount adventure star, plays the leading role in the filmization of Zane Grey's "Wagon Wheels," the dramatic account of the adventures of the first wagon train to cross the country to Oregon in 1844, which comes to the local theatre on Saturday, March 23.

With Gail Patrick, Monte Blue, and Raymond Hatton in the chief supporting roles, the film also presents the newest discovery among child actors, little four-year-old Billy Lee, who plays an important role as Gail Patrick's son.

Lelia Bennet, Jan Duggan and Olin Howland appear in the supporting roles of this film which was directed by Charles Barton.

"I've Been Around"

What would you do if you had just married the girl of your dreams and as you were packing to start on your honeymoon you discovered she had married you because another man had turned her down? Furthermore, what would you do if you also learned that while this girl was wearing your engagement ring she was giving her kisses to the other man?

That's the situation that faces Chester Morris in his latest Universal film, "I've Been Around," which will be at the Penniman-Allen theatre on Wednesday, March 27, with a brilliant list of players in the cast.

The opening of this picture finds Morris madly in love and engaged to Rochelle Hudson, who plays Drue Waring, a debutante daughter of a socially prominent family. After months of devotion and ardent love-making, Morris, in the role of Eric Foster, succeeds in making Drue say "Yes."

But he has to leave for a four months business trip and as he departs Gordon P. Huntley, Jr., in the role of Franklin De Haven, comes into the picture De Haven is one of those good-looking scoundrels who lives by his wits and preys upon women. He sees a prize financial catch in Drue, so begins his suave campaign of what she thinks is love, but which is really only an effort to marry a bank account. And then the complications arise which lead to the spite marriage.

"Rendezvous at Midnight"

What would you do if you were the supreme head of the police department of a big city and your sweetheart told you she had murdered one of the most prominent men in the city?

Would you arrest her? Would you allow her to escape?

"Rendezvous at Midnight" finds Ralph Bellamy and Valeria Hobson in this situation, which makes this one of the most exciting films of the year. The picture comes to the local theatre next Wednesday, March 27, with a brilliant cast supporting Bellamy and Miss Hobson.

The story is an exciting one in which there is love, murder, intrigue and heart throbs. Bellamy as police commissioner of New York, is investigating the grafting of the man who formerly held the job when the man is mysteriously murdered. Valerie Hobson, Bellamy's sweetheart, as a joke, tells him she killed him. And then all the evidence points to her as the real killer. What happens is gripping drama.

In the cast are seen Catherine Doucet, Irene Ware, Purnell Pratt, Kathlyn Williams, Katherine Williams and a host of brilliant and well known performers. The picture was directed by Christy Cabanne from an adaption of the stage play, "The Silver Fox."

Children are natural mimics. They act like their parents in spite of every effort to teach them good manners.

Mr. Poley: "I want to insert a notice of the birth of my twins."

Reporter: "Would you repeat that, sir?"

Mr. Poley: "Not if I know it!"

Customer: "Last week I bought a tire cover from you and now I want my money back."

Clerk: "Why?"

Customer: "I put it on one of my new tires and hadn't driven ten miles before the blamed thing wore out."

MARY LOUISE BOYDEN IS VALEDICTORIAN; ED ANGOVE SALUTATORIAN OF SENIORS

Tom Carrington Close Behind In Third Place, Ten Ranking 4th Year Students Named For Scholastic Standings

Mary Louise Boyden has the high honor of being named valedictorian of the high school graduating class of 1935. Edward Angove has been chosen as salutatorian. This information was given by Superintendent Amerman Tuesday.

These two pupils have the highest average for marks received during their four years of high school work.

The way the total was figured out is that the honor points received are divided by the total number of hours credit. For example, Mary Louise Boyden's honor points were 184.25 and her hours credit was 184.5. By dividing it makes her average .9986, which means that Mary Louise lacks .0014 of having a perfect A record.

In the case of the two boys, it was necessary to carry results to the third decimal place in order to determine the second-place winner. Edward Angove, with a percentage of .9697, was followed closely by Tom Carrington whose score is .9030.

The next seven highest honors went to Charles Ash, Ronald Keeping, Lenna Coe, Harriet Gibson, Mary Elizaebth Elkington, Dorothy Richardson and Spencer Van Valkenburg.

Mary Louise Boyden is secretary of the senior class. She has been in several plays and is in the Glee club, choir and girls' sextet. She was in the opera given here last year, was a reporter for the Pala-Chron and works in the library this year.

After graduating she expects to go to college.

Edward Angove was class treasurer in his sophomore year, vice-president in his junior year and is chief of police of the student council this year. He also takes an active part in sports. Edward has played on the basketball team two years and this year is his first year for track. He is in the choir and band. After graduating he expects to go to the University of Michigan.

Tom Carrington is president of the senior class and was junior alderman last year. Tom also takes an active part in sports. He has been on the track team four years, being manager the first year and captain last year. He has been on the basketball team one and a half years, been in the band eight years and the choir also. He has been in several plays. After graduating Tom expects to go to college in Ypsilanti or to the University of Michigan.

HONOR BANQUET TO BE GIVEN ON MAY 16

The Honor banquet has been scheduled for May 16. This banquet is for students having a B average or better. If a student has as many A's as he has C's he still has a B average.

Mrs. Eber Ward Lester is chairman of the program committee.

Most schools have an A average for a banquet of this kind, but the P.-T. A. decided that a B average would give more students a chance to attend.

More news pertaining to this banquet will be given at a later date.

Last year this banquet was enjoyed by approximately fifty students. The public was invited to attend. After the dinner a program was given by some of the pupils present and later an interesting talk was given by a well-known professor.

LOCAL CLUB TAKES TRIP TO TENNESSEE

The I. S. T. C., a club composed of a few of the local high school boys, is planning a trip to Cumberland Gap during the spring vacation.

They will leave on the 23rd or 24th of March and will be gone for four days. They intend to cover a lot of territory and go through several states, namely, Ohio, Kentucky, and Tennessee.

There are six boys in this club: Melvin Stromoski, Eddie Bender, Ronald Keeping, Tom Carrington, Stanley Taylor and Maurice Giles. They are all looking forward to having an interesting as well as an educational trip.

The main event of the trip will be when the boys try to climb to the top of Cumberland Gap, one of the highest points in that section of the country.

The boys have been collecting old newspapers the past few weeks in order to make this trip possible.

Watch for track story in the April 5 edition

SHOULD THERE BE A BANQUET?

After interviewing many students of the junior and senior class on the question of whether we should have a junior and senior banquet, we find they are all very much in favor of it. Several have thought that it would bring a closer relationship between the two classes. Therefore we shall leave it up to the class as a whole to decide whether or not we shall have a banquet this year or not.

DR. RENO BACKUS TALKS TO STUDENTS ON CHINA, MARCH 13

On Wednesday afternoon, March 13, in the high school auditorium Dr. Backus, who has been visiting America studying tuberculosis, gave a very interesting talk about China and its inhabitants.

First, he made a very good comparison of Chinese schools with American schools. Second, he discussed the dialect of the Chinese language and drew some symbols on the blackboard, showing that figures instead of letters make up their alphabet.

The customs of the Chinese people are quaint and rather hard for an outsider to understand.

The family is regarded as a very close and stable group. The sons never leave home, but when the daughters leave they are no longer considered as a member of the family circle from which they came.

The school master is regarded as the highest individual in China next to the emperor, although the emperor is below his teacher if he is being tutored.

If a Chinese person hopes to become a man of importance he studies the work of Confucius.

China is trying to develop into a more modern country by studying English, mathematics, physics and in general broadening their education.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Why Not an Annual?

After three weeks or more of figuring and compiling different known facts during the past years we feel that Northville high is entitled to an annual this year as well as previous years. We understand that during the last few years money has been lost on these so-called annuals.

Several plans have been submitted by different people who are interested in producing an annual this year. We feel the same way as many of those who have approached us with these new ideas which seem rather clever. An annual can be produced and money made on it if the following things are present:

First, the annual must be published at least a month before school closes; second, more than one organization should help do the selling and each organization should be given its share to sell; there must be a person to manage it who has most of his time to devote largely to the publication of this year book.

If the student body will show more interest than it has it may be possible to produce an annual yet this year. We are under the impression that everyone connected with the last few annuals was opposed to having an annual this year. They have a mighty good cause to feel this way about the matter. We feel that if the whole student body is interested in an annual we can have one, but the way everything looks, a majority of the students is opposed to the publication of an annual this year.

Many feel this way because they believe that the burden would have to be carried by the one class or by the student council. We are absolutely opposed to this because not only one organization in the school is interested, but every organization.

We are going to leave this entirely up to the student body and see what certain students' ideas really are about an annual for 1935.

No Paper Next Week

The Orange and Black reporters are entitled to a much-needed rest after working for seven months without one. Because spring vacation comes next week, it will be impossible for the paper to find sufficient copy to fill a page. We are sorry, but we'll be seeing you the following week.

I. S. T. C. Members

We want to give warning to this club. Be sure not to bring back that Southern accent with you as a souvenir.

Last week Mrs. Cobb asked for volunteers to make speeches to explain to the economics class and Ada Wheaton asked if she could report on Huey Johnson's speech.

How surprised the man looked who was taking tickets during the basketball tournament! Northville surely must be a journalistic town, he told one of the reporters who tried to fake his way in.

Nick Beechko is really the hero of N. H. S. Just imagine yourself in Nick's shoes letting a man shoot 100,000 volts through your body.

We haven't received a reply from the article we put in about Warner Neal's blindness, so we take it for granted that when he came to those certain few lines of the paper his eyes commenced to go blind again and he just failed to have anyone help him read the text.

DEPARTMENT NOTES

The trans-Atlantic flight is still going on. The pilots of the typing II class are continually taking accuracy tests to be able to move their planes further on to their destination, which is sixty words per minute. Before speed, however, comes accuracy.

Two planes have already covered over three-fourths of their journey. Mary Louise Boyden, pilot of plane "?", and Ed Angove, piloting "?," have reached the point of 54 words per minute. Mary Louise typed 51 and 52 words without errors. This is good, not only because of speed, but also accuracy.

The monthly marks are determined not only by accuracy tests, but also by the number of perfect letters the pupils type. The average of these two assignments determines the marks.

The class has a 100 per cent accuracy chart for this semester, as it did for the first typing semester. The following names for second semester appear on the chart: Dorothy Frank, Tom Carrington, Dorothy Tyler, Alice Masters, Vama Little, Marianne Nilson, Gerald Ziegler, Mary Louise Boyden, Irene Modos, and Isabelle Tewksbury.

The typing I class has begun a 100 per cent accuracy chart, and the pupils have started taking 10-minute accuracy tests. Kathleen Runck already has typed 19 words with 100 per cent accuracy. Other names appearing on the typing one accuracy chart are: Henry Clark, Lawrence Parmenter and Mary Chesebro.

JUNIOR CLASS NOTES

When school opens after spring vacation, the juniors will present the play "Here Comes Charlie." Miss Corrin says it is to be one of the best ever put on at this school under her direction.

The juniors have been selling tickets for the art exhibit, but have not as yet determined how much they made. They were given a certain per cent on each ticket they sold.

In the next class meeting they are going to vote on the question of whether they will take a trip with their class money, or buy something for the school, such as a trophy case which the school needs very badly.

The cheerful look on the faces of the I. S. T. C. members? They are going to Kentucky during the spring vacation.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

The girls who passed their cooking and table setting tests so as to enter second-hand scouting were Lois Chapman, Virginia Washburn, Leona Mae White.

Mrs. Parrant, the school nurse, talked to the girls this week on first aid.

The Girl Scouts had a plan to be carried out this week that should be very beneficial to them and a help to others. They are going to study the seven points of health and fire prevention.

The youngest age at which a girl may belong to the Girl Scouts is ten years. If enough girls wish to start a young patrol, Miss Corrin will organize one.

BASEBALL TEAM GETS NEW SUITS

Northville has a good chance to win the Suburban league baseball championship this spring. By seeing the basketball team just go through the season undefeated and winning a championship the boys will be doing their best to end up the season as victors. There is plenty of material of which to pick from. The team will receive some new equipment consisting of nine suits, nine pairs of sliding pads, four bats and a dozen and a half balls. This should make the boys work very hard to get to be one of the first nine.

The suits are of blue-grey material, the same as is used in the semi-professional league. The lettering on the suits will be orange with black trimming. Last year's team ended in second place in the league.

Coach Thompson states that: "With the continued cooperation of the boys Northville high school should have a winning baseball team."

The new members are Rex Smith, Charles Bishop, James Latta, William Pellett and Charles Ash.

The schedule of the games will be on one of the coming Orange and Black pages.

Office Boy: "The boss is beginning to take an interest in me."

Head Clerk: "Oh, yeah?"

Office Boy: "Sure, he asked me if I worked here."

JUNIOR PLAY TO BE GIVEN ON APRIL 4, 5

Admission Price Is 25 Cents For Adults and 15 Cents For Children

"Here Comes Charlie" is the name of the three-act comedy farce the junior class is planning to present on April 4 and 5 in the high school auditorium. It is an amusing story full of laughs, and the juniors promise it will be well worth while.

Mary Anna Condit, Ida Altman, and Robert Angove will play the leading roles. Other members of the double cast are Irene Modos, Frances Alexander, Dorothy Vroman, Thyrza Lester, Evelyn Ambler, Alice Masters, Frances McLoughlin, Rita Sprenger, Chuck Strautz, Donald Himes, William Pellett, and Sam Witt. Jack Stubenvoll plays the part of an old backwoodsman, who is an extremely funny character.

This production is under the direction of Miss Corrin, with Mr. Lee and the class sponsors, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Zimmerman assisting.

Junior and Senior Banquet

Will a junior-senior banquet be held this year or will it not? That is one of the issues that will have to be voted on by both classes at an early date.

These banquets have been held in past years with great success. Many of the students are in favor of it, and the question is "Shall we or shall we not?"

SENIOR WHO'S WHO

Cloyce A. Myers

Cloyce was born in Hillsdale, Mich., on December 21, 1916. From there he moved to Shepherd, Mich., where he attended the first eight grades of school. He then came to Northville in his freshman year, and has lived here since that time. He has been out for track this spring. His nickname or what everybody calls him is "Pansy." His favorite sport is football, but he likes basketball very much. He has not, as yet, made definite plans as to what he will do after he has graduated.

Avis Ruth Perry

Avis was born in Wixom, Mich., on February 12, 1918. She attended the Wixom school for the first two grades, then moving to Hand Station for the third and fourth grades. From there she moved to Dearborn, attending Henry Ford school. After one month she moved to Detroit, going to the Tilden school for the remainder of grade 5B. A roving spirit sent Avis to Birmingham, where she finished 5A at the Barnum school. The sixth grade found Avis again in Wixom, where she remained until Howell school called her for the second semester of grade six. The next fall Avis moved to Northville, where she has remained ever since. Avis was a member of the Junior Girls' Glee club in the seventh grade; a member of the Senior Girls' Glee club in the eighth and has been a member of the school choir (a capella) since it was organized.

She was in the operetta "Riding Down the Sky." Her pastimes are playing the piano and going to basketball games. Avis likes to collect souvenirs. She is fond of all sports, but swimming is her favorite. After graduation, she would like to study music or art.

Marguerite Elizabeth Norton

Marguerite was born in Detroit, Mich., July 8, 1916. She remained there long enough to complete the third grade and then moved to Northville and has lived here since that time.

Northville Woman's Club Observes St. Patrick's Day—

In honor of the "wearers of the green," St. Patrick's Day was observed at the regular meeting of the Northville Woman's club Friday afternoon.

Contrary to their usual serious study, the members relaxed on this occasion and enjoyed a bit of real levity with the presentation of an Irish one-act play.

Typical of the erratic nature of the natives of the Emerald Isle, the scene enacted was of two staunch Irish friends who even enjoyed quarrelling. The three characters who took the parts were Mrs. Ida Hendrye, Mrs. Bert Stark and Mrs. R. J. Baldwin.

As usual, Aunt Ida started in her part as Mike McHenry.

Previous to the playlet, Mrs. M. J. McDaniel sang two Irish songs, "They Call it Ireland" and "A Bag of Whistles." Mrs. Sherrill W. Ambler accompanying.

In the absence of Mrs. J. F. McLaughlin, Mrs. R. F. Larson, vice-president, was in the chair. The club will accept the invitation of WWJ in Detroit for its next meeting, March 28th.

Maple Syrup Season Is In Full Swing At Christensen Farm On Novi Road As Sap Is Gathered For 57th Year

Sap is flowing steadily these nice spring days from the 700 maple trees on the R. C. Christensen farm on the Novi road, and those who work in the "sugar bush" predict that this will be a good season for maple syrup.

For the past two weeks the sap has been running, and about 2,500 gallons have been gathered from the buckets on the trees to make approximately 60 gallons of that delicious liquid that tastes so good on a stack of flap-jacks at any breakfast table.

This is the 57th consecutive year that the syrup has been made at the Christensen farm, and all engaged in the process there say that they find this work of making the syrup more fascinating each year. Even Mrs. Christensen, who is 82 years old now, takes part in some phase of the work. She says that making maple syrup every year is only a hobby, and that they do not do it to make money although of course, a small profit is made from its sale.

The same plan of boiling down, the "open-pan method," is used today that was in practice when it was begun 57 years ago, and the present "sugar shanty," or the open shed where the syrup is boiled down was erected 54 years ago.

Dr. Waldo T. Johnson, the son-in-law of Mrs. Christensen, who also lives on the farm with his wife and two children, says that this is probably the only place in this part of the state here this old-fashioned method of making the syrup is used. The more modern methods do not retain all the distinctive flavor of the maple, he says.

Dr. Johnson plans to take some movies for the future reference of his family of the old "sugar shanty" when it is in full operation some time this week. It has been decided to tear it down within the near future, and to build a new one in its place.

Last Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday were the last days on which the sap was boiled. Dr. Johnson explained that once they begin to boil a batch of sap, they must keep at it until all has been made into syrup. During those four days the wood fire in the "archway" has to be kept burning continuously and a pile of dry wood about 25 feet high was consumed.

The "archway" is the brick foundation on which the pans rest. It is open at one end where the fire is built, and has a chimney at the other end.

The sap is first poured into a preheater, the open container at the chimney end of the archway, from where it ball over into the evaporator pan. In this wide, long open steel pan most of the excess part of the sap is boiled away. When it becomes the right consistency, it can be poured into the finishing pan which is directly over the fire.

It is here that the sap finally becomes syrup. Then the only remaining operation is to add a solution of eggs and milk, which brings all the "sugar sand" to the top where it can be skimmed off easily. This is the sand which comes up through the roots of the trees.

St. Paul's Lutheran

"Lord, to whom shall we go? Thou hast words of eternal life." John 6, 68.

One of the greatest philologists of the nineteenth century was Friedrich Max Mueller, the English Orientalist and scholar. For many years he was a professor at Oxford. Late in life he addressed a letter to a friend. Part of it is as follows: "How shall I describe to you what I found in the New Testament? I had not read it for many years and was prejudiced against it before I took it in my hand. The light which struck Paul with blindness on his way to Damascus was not more strange than that which fell on me when I suddenly discovered the fulfilment of all hopes, the highest perfection of philosophy, the key to all the seeming contradictions of the physical and moral world. The whole world seemed to me to be ordered for the sole purpose of furthering the religion of the Redeemer, and if this religion is not divine, I understand nothing at all. In all my studies of the ancient times I have always felt the want of something, and it was not until I knew our Lord that all was clear to me. With Him there is nothing that I am not able to solve."

Every Christian has made the same discovery by God's grace. He knows that having found Christ he has found everything that is truly worth while. Like Peter he answers the question: Will you also go away? by saying, "Lord to whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternal life!"

Believing in Christ, hoping in Christ, working with Christ, learning from Christ—these are the things that count. These are the things that give the Christian the correct view of this world and its problems. His life is centered in Christ, is Christo-centric!

Thou art the Truth; Thy Word alone
Thou only canst inform the mind,
And purify the heart.
Thou art the Life: the rending tomb
Proclaims Thy conquering arm;
And those who put their trust in Thee
Nor death, nor hell shall harm.

Christian Science Churches

"Matter" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, March 24.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (James 1:17): "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of Lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p 322): "The sharp experiences of belief in the suppositious life of matter turn us like tired children to the arms of divine love. Then we begin to learn Life in divine Science. Without this process of weaning, 'Canst thou by searching find out God?'"

If the bits of gossip, insinuation, and innuendo contained in the conversation hereabouts be true then the morality of this locality must be terrible! If the import of darts in our words be not intended then let us at least be careful.

THIS WEEK
By H. H. WHITE

The Serbian shepherd boy who came to these shores as an immigrant boy some sixty years ago died the other day in New York city known as an inventor, scientist, and physicist of international reputation.

His name was Michael Pupin. This writer had the privilege of knowing him intimately and well and counted it a great honor. His charm and greatness lie in the fact that he was simple, human, and friendly.

Dr. Pupin was famous for his work in the transmission of power and for his practical and theoretical research in facilitating long-distance communication by telephone and wireless.

He lead a colorful life. Landing as a youth with a few cents in his possession, he gained final recognition among the great when he had achieved the John Fritz Gould medal.

I remember well attending one of his lectures and writing down a comment he made which ran something like this "not physical sciences but theology, social science, and psychology tainted our present civilization with materialism. Spiritual unpreparedness of mankind to enjoy the gifts which science has brought in various forms and power are responsible."

Michael Pupin's story of the rise from sheer poverty to a great name in the scientific world reads like a romance of determined industry in a land filled with opportunity.

The life of America and the scientific world has been spiritually enriched by this gifted Serbian lad who lored life and the living of it to the fullest. Dr. Pupin had no mean share in bringing some of the rare gifts of the scientific world to help humanity overcome many of their problems of lack and limitation.

BASE LINE SCHOOL

After reading about the Bedouins in her fourth grade geography, Irene Toms made a Bedouin camp on the sand table. Besides the camp with goats and sheep, she made a caravan of camels and an oasis. The oasis was surrounded with date palms.

Miss Reid and Dr. Metzger visited our school and gave a tubercular test. Eight of the children took the test.

We have learned "Pippa's Song," which is the last new song for the festival.

The girls of the eighth grade have made cards illustrating the formula for finding the area of or volume of different figures.

Marriage as Insurance

"Do married folks live longer than single folks?" some one asks.

"No, it only seems longer."

This has become a time-worn joke, but listen to these surprising statements made by Professor Edwin S. Burdell of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology:

"The death rate is much lower among married men, and fewer married men go insane and fewer commit crimes. The unmarried man has less at stake in the community, less social responsibility. As a rule, he is answerable only to himself and, when tempted to commit crime, there is not the deterrent though of consequences. Marriage is the best insurance in the world — insurance against crime, insanity, poverty and premature death."

Waffles

What is more tasty on a chilly evening than waffles served hot from the iron? Here are a number of ways to serve waffles for informal suppers:

Three-in-one Recipe

This three-in-one recipe is almost priceless, for it may be adapted to muffins, waffles or griddle-cakes in less time than it takes to say "knife."

One and three-fourths cups of bran flakes, 1 2-3 cups sour milk, 1-2 cup shortening, 1-2 cup sugar, 3 eggs (beaten well), 2 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon salt.

Put bran to soak in sour milk. Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs, sour milk, and bran and mix thoroughly. Sift flour with baking powder, soda and salt and add to first mixture—stirring only until flour disappears. Bake in greased muffin tins in moderate oven (425 degrees Fahrenheit) for 20 to 25 minutes or in hot waffle iron. Some of the mixture may be thinned with water or milk and used for griddle cakes. Provides 16 small muffins 3 waffles or 8 griddle cakes.

Consider waffles as the foundation for many substantial dishes! Top them with scrambled eggs for an emergency luncheon dish. Cut them pie-fashion in wedges, put a layer of vanilla ice cream between two sections and what better dessert could be asked for? Butterscotch sauce or plain honey may be poured over all for a mouth-melting treat.

Creamed chicken, frankfurt broccoli, giblets, frizzled ham, or dried beef over waffles makes a splendid main dish for cold weather. Frankfurters or Vienna sausages are perfect with plain waffles.

Cooked asparagus may be drained, rolled in beaten egg and crumbs and dipped in waffle batter and French-fried in the same way.

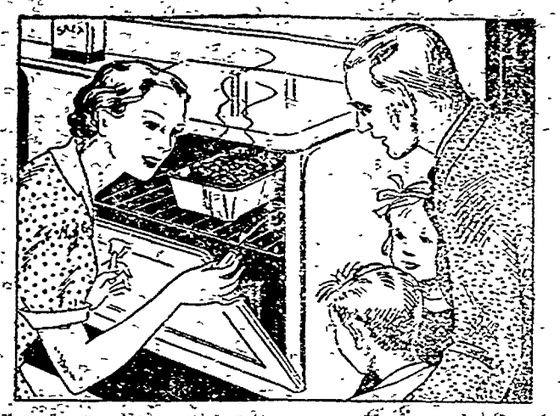
Marshmallow Waffles

Make waffles in the usual way. While baking, melt 16 or more marshmallows in top of a double boiler. Spread melted marshmallows on section of waffle, roll, hold with toothpick and cover lightly with syrup. Glare beneath broiler flame in oven and serve immediately. Next time spread melted marshmallows on section of waffle and drizzle honey or syrup over and glare beneath broiler with rollups.

A Correction

Mrs. Roy Matheson corrects an error in her recipe for devil's food cake sent by the Better Homes and Gardens magazine. It should read "1 teaspoon soda" instead of "1-2 teaspoon." Mrs. Matheson says she never had a failure in this cake.

A $1.00 Dinner for 4



WHEN you come into the kitchen and inhale the savory aroma of a delicious dinner, cooking—it doesn't occur to you to question whether it cost one dollar or five dollars. It registers satisfaction. If you have saved the extra dollars, however, and the dollar dinner pleases four people—then hurrah for the housewife—or the hostess. This is the sort of dinner we refer to:

Tomato Meat Loaf 39¢
Mashed Potatoes 7¢
Buttered Broccoli 22¢
Bread and Butter 8¢
Apple Pudding 17¢
Coffee 7¢

Tomato Meat Loaf: Mix well three-fourths pound of hamburger, one-fourth pound of ground pork, one tablespoon onion, three-fourths teaspoon salt and one-eighth teaspoon pepper. Add one beaten egg and one cup of soft bread crumbs. Then add one-half cup of tomato soup. Pack into a buttered loaf pan and bake one hour in a hot oven—400 degrees. Cut one can of stringless beans in pieces, and add to the rest of the tomato soup. Thin slightly with a little of the liquor from the beans if desired. Heat and serve over the meat loaf.

Apple Pudding: Add one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon and two teaspoons lemon juice to one and one-fourth cups of canned apple sauce, and put in a buttered baking dish. Cream three tablespoons butter and one-third cup sugar. Add one cup of bran cereal and spread on the top. Bake in a hot oven—400 degrees—for from thirty-five to forty minutes. Serve slightly warm with light cream.

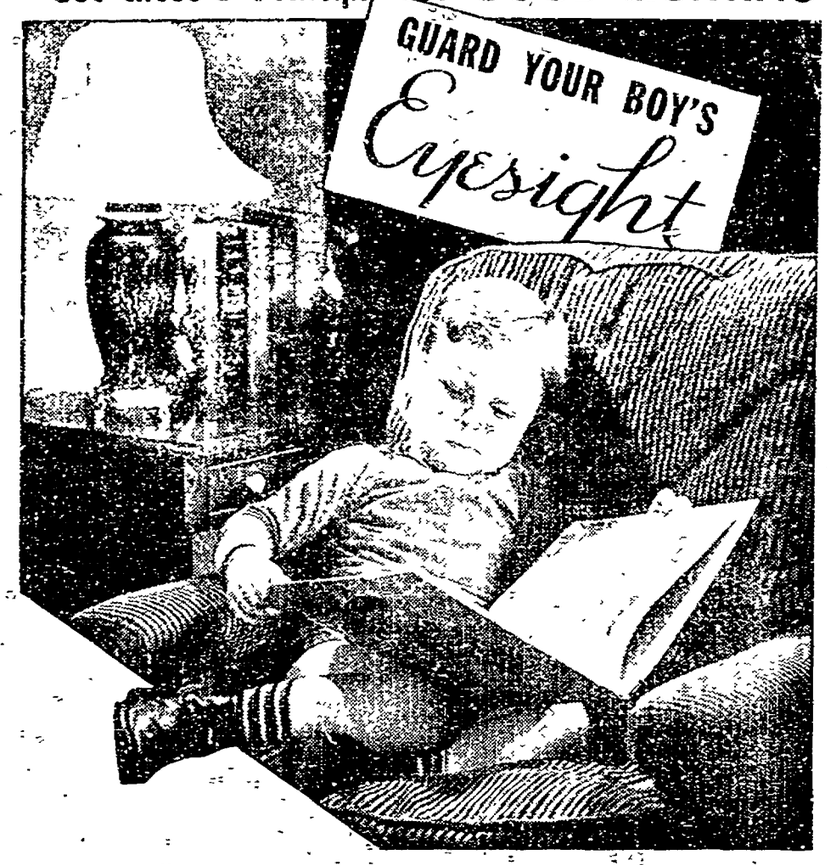
*Use these 5 Principles of GOOD LIGHTING



Your boy curled up in a chair, reading a book, gives little thought to his eyes. He does not consider whether the light is good or bad or whether he has proper illumination on the page. Although he may be straining his vision, although he may be permanently injuring eyesight, it is almost certain that he will do nothing about it, because children do not think of these things. That is a concern of PARENTS!

There are 5 rules by which you may secure good lighting in your home. They are simple and easily followed. First, use correct size lamp bulbs—"WATTS." In table and floor lamps with three sockets, use 40 watts in each socket; with two sockets, 60 watts; with one socket, 100 watts. Second, have at least one-tenth as much light in the rest of the room as you have on your book, newspaper, sewing, etc. Third, use SHADES on all lamp bulbs to prevent GLARE. Fourth, use shades with light-colored linings to get the most light. Fifth, have enough lighting fixtures or portable lamps to insure the proper intensity of light throughout the room.

There are no substitutes for the services of your eyesight specialist, but proper lighting will protect eyesight and assure easy, comfortable seeing.

THE VOICE OF THE PULPIT IN NORTHVILLE

HUMANITARIANISM

By Rev. Joseph G. Schulet

"Ye shall be as gods" (Gen. 3, 5)

These words were spoken first by Satan to the first man and woman God ever made. Their purpose was to steal worship away from God. Satan's deceptive appeal was to man's selfishness. Why worship God when you can have it for yourself?

For almost a generation back a certain movement has been unobtrusively fostering itself in our midst. Its forefather of 100 years ago was the philosopher, August Comte. Comte invented a human object of worship. Man, said he, should worship the "great being" — Humanity. His ideas were crystallized into a system by Stuart Mills Spencer, Huxley and Tyndall. In 1886 these principles were popularized by James Cotter Morrison in his book, "The Service of Man." In the preface he says, "the object of this book is to show how the worship of God, or gods, leads by natural evolution to the worship of Man." Belief in Man and Earth shall replace belief in God and Heaven.

Today we have H. G. Wells, who wrote his "Outline of History" for that avowed purpose. The true end of all human progress is the reign of universal happiness on earth — that glorious Utopia where men shall be as Gods. His book "Men Like Gods" pictures Humanitarian Utopia actually attained. Man has at last found his freedom. His happiness is the service of Man.

Curiously enough, Humanitarianism is being recruited from unexpected quarters. Bolshevism uses it since it stands for the same principles and the same end. It is rather vulgar and violent, yet it is merely trying to take a short cut to Utopia. Christian religion and belief in anything beyond this world take one's mind off of Humanitarianism's purpose. Religion is therefore the "opium of the people." Man must get everything he can in this world and spit at the next. Humanitarians should not be so hard on Bolshevism. It is doing everything to support their cause.

Religious modernism is aiding this movement. Christianity must be made acceptable to the modern mind. Man's reason is the standard of truth. One by one the revealed truths of God are being thrown overboard. Modernism is putting man in place of God. It doesn't matter what a man believes, it is what he does that matters. Give me a man who lives for his fellowmen! That's Christianity!" God and His Truth comes second. Man comes first. An Humanitarian-Christian is a contradiction. The two don't mix.

Philanthropy and the improvement of social conditions are laudable things and necessary. However, Christianity puts them second. "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His justice, and all these things shall be added to you (Math. 6, 33). Earthly prosperity can accompany but must follow AFTER God's Kingdom. The real Humanitarian confines himself to the positive facts of physical science. Physical science cannot discover God. Therefore, away with supernatural religion. Forget about God. Forget Eternity.

From a wordly standpoint it would be a wonderful thing if all men could be scientifically trained to live for another and to love one another to such an extent that all selfishness would vanish. In the Humanitarian scheme men are to be scientifically educated in the pursuit of these ideals. All that hurts society or harms the individual shall be ruthlessly cut down by an army of eugenists, sterilizers, birth controllers, psychologists, psychiatrists, etc. Christ has not done away with "labors and heavy burdens." Our rescuer shall be Humanity's Science!

Men dislike being fooled. They have a right to happiness. But in its pursuit let those beware who would trifle and play with this innate desire. God has made us for Himself and our hearts will never rest until they rest in Him. Humanitarianism has had its chance. Christianity never promised earthly prosperity and relief from pain and suffering. But that is just what Humanitarianism did promise. It is now resorting to experimentation into the life of the brute, for its later application to the minds and character of human beings. In that the end begins. Humanitarianism's defeat approaches; its death struggle fierce, tumultuous, is fast becoming annoying.—Ye shall be as gods! Satan triumphant gloats. Satan in defeat, bellows and roars. We reject this lie of Satan. We reject that we are just a little higher than monkeys. We accept the words of Eternal Truth that we are "a little less than the angels." Our convictions are based on strong grounds that there is real and genuine happiness that "eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither has it entered into the minds of man;" a happiness "that shall be prepared for all who love God." (1 Corr. 2, 9).

(In our next paper we shall endeavor to give the answer to Humanitarianism.)

THE TALK OF THE TOWN

By HARRISON CHANDLER

Slips That Pass in The Night

Imagine the embarrassment of one of our staunch and loyal citizens about six o'clock the other morning when he was downtown in the course of his daily work and suddenly heard a young woman scream at the top of her voice and then saw her run out of the front door of the house clad only in a thin nightgown. And, my friends, I recall that the weather could hardly be called balmy that morning.

The finer instincts of our loyal citizen were immediately aroused—here was a woman in distress, and so he asked her if he could help. She answered "yes" in a very frightened voice and asked him to come into the house. At first he was afraid of getting mixed up in a family quarrel, but nevertheless he accompanied her.

The cause of the disturbance was found to be a coon, kept in the house as a pet, which had jumped through the window into the yard. This had given the young lady quite a bad scare, and had startled the gentleman as well. Both characters in this early morning drama were much out of breath before the coon was finally captured and it was not until it was all over that they realized the comedy of the situation. And by the way, all this comes from an eye-witness of the affair.

Works of Art

It's quite regrettable that more of you honorable citizens of this community could not have been present at the Exchange club luncheon last Wednesday noon at the Methodist church house, and have seen the "crayon portraits," or in the truer sense, caricatures of some of the well-known Northville men.

Several were really masterpieces in their particular phase when it is considered that they were all made within the space of one minute.

Hail to The Irish!

Most observers agreed that one of M. J. Murphy, who incidentally gave the speech of the day about good old St. Patrick and some other good Irishmen, was the best of the lot. As in all of these works of art, the odd little eccentricities of appearance were brought to the fore. In M. J.'s, the artist caught that aggressive Irish chin, fiery hair, that mischievous twinkle of his eye, little tufts of hair, and even his ruddy nose.

SCHOOL CHILDREN PROFIT BY ART EXHIBIT HERE

Beautiful pictures mean a great deal more to the children of our public schools than they did before. 150 masterpieces were displayed in the Kindergarten room for four days last week.

Pupils were conducted through the exhibit which overflowed to the rooms on the second floor by their teachers who tried to explain the meaning of each and to point out the beauties in each. Often the teachers were surprised at the native good judgment of the children.

The pictures were surprisingly beautiful, being exact reproductions of the originals and this was an opportunity which Northville citizens will not soon have again. It is to be regretted that a large number did not take advantage of it.

One interesting feature during the exhibit was the posing of groups of children to represent these masterpieces. The children delighted in their part.

As a result of the enterprise of which Miss Geraldine Huff was general chairman, two school rooms tied in their success in selling tickets. Miss Helen Leonardson's and Miss Ellen Reincke's room will each receive as a reward a large framed picture of their choosing. Miss Leonardson's will have a colorful painting of "Mary and Her Lamb" by Hencke; while Miss Reincke's room chose a portrait of a boy, "Master Lamberton," by Lawrence.

Altogether the children took in $46 from their sale of tickets and may purchase still another picture for the school.
