McKENNA BOY IS KILLED BY P.-M. TRAIN

Week of Investigation Fails to Solve Cause of His Death

Mystery surrounds the death of Charles Rhodes McKenna, 16-year-old Northville high school boy, whose mangled body was found Thursday morning, Memorial Day, near the railroad crossing at the Novi road between the Eight and Nine Mile roads.

Whether the boy was riding in between the freight cars and slipped or whether he had been walking on the tracks and had been struck by the locomotive is not definitely known. No witnesses to the tragedy were found.

Charles had spent the evening in Northville and was seen in town as late as midnight. It is believed that he met his death while on his way home. Members of the family stated that he had not been seen at the house all evening nor had he returned during the night.

His body was discovered at about 7 o'clock in the morning by the crew of a northbound train which reported to Mrs. Mabel Brough, telegraph operator at Wixom. Mrs. Brough drove to Northville immediately and notified Police Chief William H. Safford who, with Earl Montgomery, Northville street commissioner, went to the scene of the accident. The body was severed and mangled and was discovered at approximately 45 feet northeast of the crossing along the tracks.

Chief Safford identified the remains by a driver's license found in the pocket. R. A. Kirkpatrick, Pere Marquette agent, Plymouth, arrived soon after and assisted with the investigation. Dr. Dewey Kimball, Oakland county coroner was notified and also W. E. Coe, Oakland county deputy sheriff.

Several theories of how the accident might have occurred have been advanced by investigators. One is that the boy was walking north on the tracks as a short-cut to his home at 342 Nine Mile road and was struck down before he could get off the tracks. He was said to be slightly deaf. Another theory contradicts this, it being pointed out that if the cow catcher of the locomotive had struck him the impact would have thrown the body 30 or 40 feet away from the tracks.

Others insist that he must have been riding the train, and that in getting on or off, he slipped down in between the cars and met his death. The uncertain part of this theory, however, is the reasoning that he would not be "hopping a train" going toward Northville if he were on his way home. The position in which his body was found establishes the fact that he was

WOLVERINES DEFEAT YPSI IN NO-HIT GAME

13 Inning Game Sunday With Fowlerville Ends With Score of 4-4

A feat that has never before been equaled in Northville, according to local baseball fans, was accomplished Memorial day at the fair grounds when the Wolverines did not allow Ypsilanti a single hit, and won the game 12-0.

The hurling honors for this no-hit, no-run game go to two Wolverine pitchers, Carl "Lefty" Burrell, who pitched the first five innings, and Andy Bolde, who finished the game. Burrell was relieved due to a sore arm. He pitched both of the games with Plymouth.

The Wolverines backed up their pitchers with errorless support, and only two Ypsilanti men were able to get on bases, one in the seventh, and another in the eighth, both of whom walked. Northville, on the other hand, had a good day at bat, getting 12 hits.

On Sunday at Fowlerville, the Wolverines played 13 innings only to have the game called on account of darkness with the score tied at 4-4.

At the time the game was stopped, Northville had the bases loaded, and one man, P. Wolfrom, had already scored.

Wolverine batters had hit three singles in succession. Higgins was at bat with a count of three balls and no strikes. There were two men out. Then at this crucial stage of

OVER 200 VISIT C. R. ELY & SONS' NEW ICE PLANT

Children Swarm Into Building Saturday in Quest of Frostbites

More than 200 people responded to the public invitation of Carl R. Ely and visited the new plant of the C. R. Ely & Sons Coal & Ice Co. on North Center street Saturday afternoon, and were shown through the building.

Many marvelled to know that here in Northville that the Elys have an ice-storage plant that is the very last word in design and efficiency and expressed themselves to the effect. Few realized before they came that the ice room can be kept between 27 and 30 degrees Fahrenheit during the hottest summer months.

A swarm of children was on hand promptly at 12 o'clock noon and were slightly more interested, Mr. Ely was inclined to believe, in getting a cold, tasty frostbite such as were being given away, than viewing the wonders of artificial refrigeration. They were all taken care of, Mr. Ely said—that is as long as the frostbites lasted.

The ladies who visited the plant were all presented with carnations, and the men with cigars. It was after 6:30 p.m. before the reception committee noticed any slackening up of the guests.

TWO LOCAL HORSES WIN AT RICHMOND

Crowd of 75 Makes 65 Mile Trip From Here to See Races

The horse racing fever has Northville in its grip!

A crowd of 75 local followers of the turf journeyed to Richmond, Michigan—65 miles away—on Memorial day to see the first harness races of the season in the state, and were rewarded to see the only two Northville owned horses entered in the races both win places.

Lou K. Bullen's horse, Juno Frisco, with Dave Harvey driving, led the field and came in first in the free for all race, while Raymond J. Read, driving his horse, Raven Direct, West Six Mile road, placed second in the first heat of the 2.26 pace. Mr. Bullen, who lives in Detroit, and formerly in Novi, keeps his horses at the Northville fair grounds.

The races were sponsored by the American Legion post at Richmond, and attracted about 5,000 people.

EXERCISES ON MEMORIAL DAY IMPRESSIVE

Brucker Hits War in Talk as Most Horrible Business

"The American system of government has given the most humble people among us the greatest opportunity in the world to rise to the highest field of human endeavor," declared Wilbur M. Brucker, former state governor, in his Memorial Day address here at the Penniman-Allen theatre.

"War is the most horrible business in the world," Mr. Brucker continued, "and yet in spite of a comparatively recent insidious spectacle, there may arise another time soon when it will disturb the peace of the world again.

"America represents the finest and best civilization in the world, and must be defended at all costs, both against enemies from within and without," he said.

Before Mr. Brucker began his speech, he paused to pay tribute to the one Civil War veteran of this vicinity, Marvin Bogart, 95 years old, who occupied a place of honor on the platform.

The Memorial exercises at the theatre, under the direction of Claude N. Ely, commander of the Lloyd H. Green post No. 147 American Legion, began at 11:15 a.m. Lincoln's Gettysburg address and "In Flander's Fields," which are integral parts of every Memorial Day program in Northville, were given by William Owen and Altha Hasemaster, Northville high school students.

The high school choir, directed by Leslie G. Lee, sang two selections during the program that were highly praised later by many of the audience.

With the singing of "America" by the entire audience after Mr. Brucker's address, the parade to the Oakwood and Rural Hill cemeteries began, led by the Northville Community band. The school children, each bearing a small flag, composed no small part of the procession.

At the Oakwood cemetery a salute was fired over the grave of Allen M. Harmon, first Northville man to die in the Civil War, and taps were sounded by the Boy Scouts.

The men who died in American wars at sea were remembered as the procession passed over the bridge crossing the River Rouge on the way to Rural Hill cemetery when flowers were strewn on the water. At the grave of Lloyd H. Green, for whom the local post was named, three salutes were fired again and taps sounded.

The parade then returned to the Legion home on East Main street where it disbanded. Members of the American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary then partook of a pot-luck dinner in the Legion home.

The 48 ex-service men who are patients at Maybury and Eastlawn sanatoria were remembered following the dinner by the ladies of the auxiliary who presented each one with a gift package. Mrs. H. E. Blowers was in charge of this work.

YOUNG VIOLINIST HOPES TO DIRECT FUTURE CONCERTS

Ernest Racz Will Study at University of Michigan This Fall

Northville's outstanding young violinist, Ernest Racz, will go to the University of Michigan this fall to continue his study. The energetic young man has so much of the love of music that he is willing to work hard to make possible his further education. He already has a job lined up in a restaurant near the university. He now is working in the local Ford factory.

Ernest began handling the bow when a small boy of five years, his father, Emile Racz, a gifted violinist, being his teacher.

Very early young Ernest showed marked talent and with the years this gift has developed until now all Northville is stirred with pride when he tucks his violin under his chin and pours forth music that has soul in it.

He not only plays the violin and cello, but is taking lessons in piano now. He was fortunate in being able to spend one summer in Interlochen, the music camp, near Traverse City, where he studied under outstanding leaders. In the Northville male chorus, too, Ernest has had a place and he accompanies the chorus on its tours, contributing violin numbers on their programs.

During his years in high school from which he graduated in 1934, he participated in plays and oratorios.

Ernest aims to work for his Bachelor of Arts degree in the university and later his Master's, majoring in music conducting.

Northville hopes some day to listen to a great orchestra led by the baton of this Northville boy.

NEW TRAFFIC LIGHTS ARE INSTALLED HERE

To Have "Blinker" Feature When Not in Active Operation

Two new traffic signal lights of the very latest type were installed here Thursday by men of the Wayne County road commission to replace the old ones on Center street at the corners of Main and Dunlap streets.

One of the features of the new lights is that during the hours it is shut off—from 12 o'clock midnight to dawn—the amber part of the light will continually turn on and off as a "blinker," resembling the warning lights used at highway intersections.

The signal lights were taken over by the county road commissioners Monday, March 18, when the village commission voted to turn over the lights to this group. The commissioners at that time were in hopes that by this action new lights could be secured for Northville, and those hopes have been fulfilled now.

One important feature of these lights that the public should know about, Police Chief Wm. H. Safford says, is that the warning part of it, or center section, is amber instead of red as the old ones were. The new lights have three colors: red, amber and green while the old ones had only red and green.

METHODISTS WANT MALLINSON BACK

Fiscal Year of Church Ends With Fourth Quarterly Conference

The return of the Rev. H. H. Mallinson for another year as pastor of the Northville Methodist church was unanimously requested at the fourth quarterly conference held Tuesday evening in the church house. District Superintendent, Dr. A. J. Halmhuber presided.

A representative gathering of the membership met for a co-operative dinner together previous to the conference. Dr. Halmhuber made an informal talk inciting the membership to greater zeal and the pastor made his annual report.

Summing up the activities of the year the Centennial was the outstanding event celebrated with appropriate dignity. The various activities of the church were reported. During the year there has been a net gain of 26 members.

FORD PLANT PLANS ARE BEING DRAWN

Albert Kahn, Inc. Is Named as Architect of New Building

The firm of Albert Kahn, Inc., of Detroit, nationally famous architects, has been commissioned as architects of the new Northville Ford plant and is now working on the plans.

The specifications call for a one-story building, 100x200 feet in size for the manufacture of engine valves and allied motor parts. The complete plant is estimated to cost possibly $500,000 and it is hoped will be in operation by the first of the year.

The new Ford plant has been the most discussed subject in Northville since The Record story of April 12 stated that a new plant was in prospect. The assurance for building in the near future, indicated by the appointment of Albert Kahn, Inc., as architects will be greeted here with general rejoicing.

50 DETROIT WOMEN VISIT IRIS GARDEN OF HARVEY WHIPPLE

Fifty members of the Detroit branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association came out to Cobble Cottage, the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Whipple, Thursday morning to see the iris in bloom. Mrs. Ewald Shafer is the president of the Detroit branch and Mrs. Henry Ford of the national association.

In spite of the rain the women made the rounds of the Whipple gardens with enthusiasm and listened appreciatively to Mr. Whipple's talk on "Characteristics of Iris."

Later the women went to the Meadowbrook country club for lunch where one of their number, Mrs. Hoyt Keeley, a garden enthusiast, talked informally on "New Varieties of Iris."

Due to the cold, the iris have been slow in blooming which is fortunate as they would have been spoiled by the recent rains. Mr. Whipple expects that they will reach the peak of their beauty during the coming week-end.

SUMMER RECREATION PROGRAM IS PLANNED

Fun for Old and Young Will Be Provided Here Each Day

With the coming of summer the community recreation program is expected to begin full swing soon. The plan is to have activities from 9:30 a.m. till evening.

Old and young may take their choice of the fun ranging from the lazy leisure of checkers played in the shade to the violent vigor warding off the blows of an opponent in boxing.

There will be classes in aircraft, baseball, horse shoe throwing, hand ball, tennis matches, volley ball, and all kinds of athletic contests for the elders and kite flying, marbles, and a real circus for the kiddies.

For the gentler ones there will be all kinds of handicraft, raffia weaving, sewing and perhaps drawing.

At a meeting of the local committee with the Recreation commission in Detroit recently Northville was assured of three paid directors of these activities and possibly four.

The first twilight baseball game will be played on the school grounds on the evening of Monday, June 10, at 6:30, and will be open to the public free of charge.

WARNER NEAL IS INITITATED IN TWO HONOR SOCIETIES

Warner Neal, student at the University of Michigan, became a member of two honor societies last week.

He was initiated into the Sphinx, junior honor society, in an impressive but very rough manner, and he writes that he was not only embarrassed over what he was made to do, but that he also came through the "ordeal" with a more or less bruised body. His tormenters also covered his entire anatomy with a red substance that he had the greatest difficulty in removing.

He was also named as a member of the Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalistic fraternity.

SENIORS HEAR DR. MALLINSON SUNDAY NIGHT

Urged To Have Courage, Co-operation and Character

"Adopt the three C's in your life program" was the message which the Rev. H. H. Mallinson gave to the class of 1935 in his baccalaureate address at the Methodist church Sunday evening. "With the three C's,—courage, character and co-operation you will fill a real place in this changing world."

"The world needs the creative and inventive ability of youth," continued Dr. Mallinson. "It is up to you to get yourselves out of the mess into which we older folks have gotten you. It takes courage to stand off from the crowd and do your own thinking. Remember that democracy is a splendid thing for trained minds but a very dangerous thing in the hands of the untrained."

Mr. Mallinson stressed the need of service. He used the Christ as the supreme example of service to his fellow man, illustrating with the incident of Christ feeding the multitudes. "The disciples, being very normal human beings, were weary at the end of the day and urged that the crowds be sent home or into the village to get their evening meal, but not so the Christ. With no thought of himself he said to His disciples, 'Do not send them away. Feed them yourself.'

"Character which gives one principles and convictions and courage to stand by them and then the final 'C'—co-operation for which one should go on and think he must be able to work with the group."

The Rev. Mr. North of the Baptist church and the Rev. Mr. Whitfield of the Presbyterian church aided in the services. The choir, directed by Leslie G. Lee, sang two numbers.

In spite of the heavy rain of Sunday evening the church was crowded to "standing room only."

Mr. Mallinson concluded his remarks by leaving this motto to the graduates of 1935: "No day without its task."

Capacity Audience Applauds Seniors' Class Night Show

A crowd that filled every bit of the available space of the high school auditorium and overflowed out into the halls was on hand Tuesday evening to see the seniors go through their paces in the class night program.

This capacity crowd, called the greatest in many years to see a class night program here, was given a good show that was all in fun, in the form of an "amateur broadcast" in a radio studio.

Important parts of the program were the addresses by the class valedictorian, Mary Louise Boyden, and the salutatorian, Edward Angove. The class prophecy was given by William Owen, class history by Violet Johnson, and the class will by Maurice Giles and Marguerite Norton.

The class sponsors, Mrs. Vivid Cobb and Ted Waltz, were each presented with gifts in behalf of the class by Marion Turnbull and Donna Ferguson.

The remainder of the program consisted of the dramatic and music efforts of class members, directed by Eddie Bender, master of ceremonies, and cut short when the audience had heard enough by Spencer VanValkenburgh, the gong ringer. More than one more or less serious effort was stopped just before the psychological moment.

Others were called back for encores including Melvin Stromecki, who literally "stopped the show" with his singing of "[illegible] the Farmer." He insisted upon singing this with the lights turned off, his excuse being that he wished to see the audience go to sleep. He also sang "The Drunkard Song" and the entire senior class joined in the chorus with him on the Hawaiian ballad.

SENIORS GIVE PLAY IN LAST APPEARANCE

1935 Class Is Largest in the History of the School

The 59 members of the graduating class of Northville high school received their diplomas from Superintendent of Schools R. H. Amerman Thursday evening in the Penniman-Allen theatre.

This is the largest senior class in the history of the school, and prospects are now that the size of each succeeding class will be increased still more.

The commencement evening was the climax and highlight of a whole week of activity which included the baccalaureate service at the Methodist church Sunday evening and the class night program Tuesday night at the high school auditorium.

The evening program was opened by the invocation by the Rev. Harold G. Whitfield, after which the play, "Sails of Success," was presented with every senior taking at least one part.

The play was in three acts with nine scenes. A sail boat was represented at the rear of the stage, built by manual training classes of the high school.

The characters of the play depicted in the various scenes how the seven principles of education as given to the school children of today are assisting high school graduates [illegible] qualities that will help them to serve the needs of the world. All of these principles were to have been symbolized in a sail raised [illegible] quality was illustrated.

During the sixth scene, the presentation of the prizes to the senior girls for the best graduation dresses, made for the first time Thursday evening, took place by Mrs. J. N. McLoughlin, president of the [illegible]

After the announcement of the winner of the college scholarship [illegible] Mrs. Thad J. Knapp, the diplomas were presented by Mr. Amerman.

Then with the benediction by Mr. Whitfield the ceremonies were finished and the seniors went to the high school auditorium for a reception to their friends and relatives.

ALUMNI BANQUET TO BE HELD TONIGHT

Dance Will Feature Annual Celebration at the High School

All the "old grads" will have an opportunity again to resume the friendships of school days tonight (Friday) when members of the Northville high school alumni association will meet in the high school gymnasium for their annual banquet and dance.

Dinner will be served promptly at 6:30 p.m., with the ladies of the Eastern Star in charge. The tables will be decorated with many beautiful spring flowers. Miss Esther Parmenter is chairman of the decoration committee.

The program of the evening is in charge of Miss Grace Angell, president of the alumni. She will give her address of welcome after the invocation by the Rev. Kendal S. North and the alumni song.

Following this, the business meeting will take place when the officers for the coming year will be elected. Mrs. Claude Ely is in charge of the nominating committee.

Later there will be a recitation by Mrs. Ida Hendryx, solos by Alex Johnson and Ted Baughn, readings by Cecil Giles and a short talk by Superintendent of Schools R. H. Amerman.

The remainder of the evening will be spent in dancing to the music of Don Patterson and his orchestra. A large crowd is expected. The price per person for dinner and dancing is 50 cents.

Riding in Streamlined Train at Speed of 100 Miles Per Hour Is Big Thrill, Says Neil Hannaford

Travelling 38 miles in 25 minutes in one of the Burlington railroad's twin zephyr streamlined trains that reached a speed as high as 100 miles an hour is the biggest speed thrill of his life, says Neil Hannaford, who had his unique experience Tuesday morning, May 28. He and Mrs. Hannaford arrived in Northville on the following Thursday night and has been telling all his friends about the ride.

"It has an airplane beaten for thrill," he declared, "although no one feels alarmed about the speed at which he is travelling."

Mr. Hannaford's great aunt, Mrs. H. J. Steward, a woman of more than eighty years of age, accompanied them on this ride, which was a round trip from Chicago to Aurora, Illinois, and enjoyed it all as much as he did. After the train had gathered speed and was rushing along at about 90 miles an hour, he asked her if she were afraid, and she laughed and said "Not in the least."

The zephyr trains are far in advance of any of the standard railroad equipment, Mr. Hannaford said. The entire train, consisting of a three-car assembly, weighs only 227,000 pounds or only a little more than the weight of the ordinary Pullman.

"One feature of the train that I noticed at once," he said, "was that it started very gently with no jerks—we hardly knew it was in motion—but soon, less than two minutes, with no pull or effort it had reached its high speed.

"At the rate of speed it travels, the telephone poles just seem to be one mass of blur," he said.

The two Burlington zephyrs have a regular daily schedule between Chicago, Minneapolis and St. Paul. They make their run of 441 miles in seven hours, a big difference, Mr. Hannaford said, from the eight hours it takes a conventional train to go from Detroit to Chicago, which is only 285 miles.

Between their schedule they make chartered runs from Chicago to Aurora, where they were visiting. While there he saw one of the trains pull into the station, and inquired about the possibility of securing a ride on it. He was advised to go to Chicago, where the trips originated. This he did, taking Mrs. Steward with him. The train had been chartered by an advertising firm, and by some help

Many Stories Are Told This Week When Northville Fishermen Return From Week's Stay at Burt Lake

Northville's eight Izaac Waltonites returned Saturday night from their sixth annual week's fishing trip at Burt Lake near Brutus, Michigan, all well tanned and of the opinion that fishing is just as grand a sport as ever. They stayed there at the cottage of L. C. Stewart.

They caught their limit of wall-eyed pike as well as some trout, perch and rock bass.

To William E. Forney, the new member of the group, who went this year in place of the late Dr. Paul R. Alexander, who passed away June 4, 1934, went the first prize for landing the biggest rainbow trout, weighing four and one-half pounds.

"We have four Indian guides who row the boats for us," N. C. Schrader said, "and they have been with us every year. They seemed very glad to see us again, and gave us a big welcome."

Mrs. Charles Martel, the wife of one of the guides, did all the cooking for the bunch, and according to all thus heard from, she did a very thorough job of it.

One of the stories that has gotten around [illegible] party is divided [illegible] in the cottage the second night they were there, Monday, May 27. Floyd A. Northrop and Edward L. Millis, under whose beds the explosives were placed, have not discovered yet "who the culprits were who did the dirty work."

They were both sleeping peacefully, when all of a sudden they thought the place was being bombed, or something. Mr. Millis, who has had considerable army experience, thought, it is understood, that an enemy air raid was in progress and leaped out of his cot for his uniform, but found none, and then realized.

Mr. Northrop was certain that some "public enemies" were staging a holdup, and that he had already been shot, for after all, that "bullet" had seemed to get him right in the back from under his cot. But when they had investigated they found only a few remnants of firecrackers. The denunciations they rained down on their unknown disturbers will not be printed.

Those who composed the fishing party were N. C. Schrader, E. L. Millis, Floyd A. Northrop, E. L. Smith, William E. Forney, L. C. Stewart, Elton P. Eaton and Dayton Bunn.

THE END OF THE NRA

The most stunning news of many months came last week when by unanimous vote of the seven judges of the Supreme Court of the United States the National Recovery Act (NRA) was practically wrecked. Washington and the whole country are still wondering what the big news means.

None of us should attempt to pass "snap judgment" on the passing of this emergency legislation. NRA did much good and many will say it did much harm. Certainly all will agree that it came into being at a time of great emergency. And certainly we should all also agree that the good the NRA did in abolishing child labor was worth a great deal. On the other hand, the harm that came from shackling small business cannot be ignored. For example, price fixing is not in keeping with American traditions.

Fortunately the wrecking of the NRA comes at a time when recovery seems to be a certainty. "Business is going ahead—of that there is little question. Leaders of industry and business now claim that if they are left alone, that conditions will continue to improve for both employers and employes.

One reason for the failure of NRA is that human selfishness, which makes most of the troubles of the world, cannot be cured by legislation. Some blame capital for all the economic trouble of the country; others will put the full responsibility on the workers. The blame for the evil conditions cannot be settled that easily. As far as we have been able to observe the world in a small way, greed, avarice and callousness to one's fellow men are pretty much equally distributed between capital and labor. That being the case, no act of Congress can ever do much to make a better world. The power of public sentiment will do more to make better conditions than all the laws on the statute books.

The end of NRA should be a challenge to all men—both capitalists and employes—to get together in the spirit of brotherhood and good will. Personally we have faith that enough of that spirit remains in the United States to bring us to prosperous and happy conditions for the millions of our people. Let us profoundly hope so.

THE VALUE OF A LIFE

With what calmness do we people of the United States take the loss of a human life!

The toll of the automobile is appalling but few seem to get excited about it. Some one called to our attention on Memorial day that it was just a year ago that a Northville young man was killed in an automobile accident. Others have been killed or injured since but the shock of these tragedies lingers with us for only a few hours or days—except with those immediately concerned, for whom there is little respite from grief. We seem to take these terrible accidents as "all in the day's work."

On Memorial day, when the nation is supposed to give some thought to the sacrifices of our soldier dead and to the devotion of those who still may pay the price of war in some hospital, thousands and millions pay toll to the god of automobile speed. From our own quiet street in this beautiful little city, on this sacred holiday, we could see the hundreds of cars go tearing by. Seeing them sailing around corners with daring speed sometimes, and roaring down the pavement; one has to wonder to what far away planet have flown the good sense and judgment of human beings. That more people are not killed or injured is seemingly a miracle—so many close calls do we all have.

How long will human life be so lightly tossed about? How long are we going to permit the sacrifice of men and women, of boys and girls? How long are we going to let drunken and near-drunken drivers get behind the wheels of death-dealing automobiles?

Today a boy or girl may be alive and full of the joy of living. In one quick second or one short minute, he or she may be gone from this world forever.

How much longer are we going to be hardened to all these needless sacrifices of human lives?

TWO SMILES A DAY

Caught in the hurrying swirl of rushing pedestrian traffic in Detroit the other day and noticing the tense, anxious look on the faces of most of the crowd, we said to a friend walking with us: "Let's watch the expression on the faces of the folks we meet in the next block. See how many of them are smiling."

So we checked the hurrying throng. By actual count, as we came to the end of the block we had counted two smiling faces—one a Negro one. The passers-by were all in a hurry. At least they walked that way. The faces of some showed anxiety and worry. Others had grim, determined looks, as though on the way to put through some hard deal. Some had looks of self-satisfaction as though life had used them well. And yet we saw only two smiles in the crowd. True, it was a dark, somber day and maybe that wiped out the smiles that might have been seen in better weather.

Anyway, as we thought of the colored man who smiled and of the colored spiritual: "Standing in the need of prayer," we thought: "Standing in the need of humor are we American people." Life is rushing and at times, wipes out our smiles, yet the world is good and if we all smiled a little more and saw the "funny" side of things, it would be a better world.

GOOD NEWS FROM A DAILY PAPER EDITOR

Commenting on the downfall of the NRA, as the result of the unanimous Supreme Court ruling, Walter S. Kennedy, editor of the Albion Evening Recorder, says:

> Regardless of who is right and who wrong, the country will go along about as usual. It can take more punishment than any other country and still come back for more. It is on its way out of the bog of depression and while it may be slowed up now and then, nothing can stop it.

Having worked with Mr. Kennedy for ten years, we have learned to have a deep respect for his judgment and common sense. When he says that "nothing can stop" the comeback of the people of the United States we can take heart. His predictions have usually been very sound.

"I am not going to buy a suit with two trousers this summer," said a good friend. "You see from now on, I am going to have more clothes and when you have two or more suits of clothes, you don't need two pairs of trousers to a suit." Yes, thank you, business is better.

Falling in line with other cities that want to adopt an official flower, Albion has been having a popular vote on the best kind for general planting. So far the iris is way in the lead. Another sign of better days: People have stopped talking about their troubles and are thinking about flowers.

Times are better. A sister of The Record's "Mrs. Editor" and her husband left last week for a trip to Europe. They are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Boys of the Plymouth Daily Pilot of Plymouth, Indiana. Nothing equals travel for broadening one's sympathies and tolerance. If we all started a "travel fund" and added to it little by little it would be surprising how much of the world we might see.

The very best wishes of all Northville go to the graduates. Those who have sacrificed and worked for an education will never be sorry. The satisfactions and the prizes of the future are going to go, in large measure, to the trained young men and women. Those who have won their way to a high school diploma have done well. And we hope that each and every one of them takes time to tell father and mother how much their devotion and sacrifice have meant. Education without gratitude is a dangerous thing.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Do you "practice what you preach?"

"HELL, NO"—

(Grand Rapids (Minn.) Herald-Review)

The story is told of a young man who was about to become a partner in the family store. He met an old farmer who gave him some advice.

"Well, Sid, I heard your father is going to take you into the business. Of course he'll give you a lot of advice, and your uncle, who owns the bank, will lend you all the money you need. But I can tell you something that you'll find mighty useful. Just remember that the answer to most propositions is 'Hell No.'"

That advice was mighty sound. Many of the troubles that we have today are due to the fact that business people of a few years ago did not say "no" in the emphatic manner that the old farmer suggested. Much of the trouble that the nation may have in the future will be due to the fact that the taxpayers cannot say it today.

EIGHTEEN TOWNS WIPED OUT

(R. G. Jefferies in the Lowell Ledger)

Just suppose that a true prophet should declare that every man, woman and child now living in Lowell would be killed in automobile accidents during the year 1935. We would stand appalled, dumbfounded, paralyzed if we knew that that were to become true. Yet during the year 1934, 36,000 persons met death on the highways of this country in automobile accidents. To put it another way, this means that the equivalent of 18 towns the size of ours were wiped out of existence in the space of twelve months' time. The desire to get somewhere in a hurry has been found to be the principal cause of highway fatalities. Think it over.

Mother—Jimmie, I wonder if you can find a boy of about your size who would like to mow the lawn and have it looking nice for Sunday?

Jimmie—I don't know, mother—but I'll go around to the other boys' houses and see if I can find one.

"[illegible] the nervous fatigue suffered from dentist's work is in consequence of the unnecessary strain of expecting a hurt and not from any actual pain inflicted. The result obtained by insisting upon making yourself a dead weight in the chair, if you succeed only partially, will prove this."

Some people have learned to concentrate well because they try to think with their muscles. Tell one man to concentrate his mind on a difficult problem until he has worked it out, and he will clinch his teeth, tighten his throat, hold nobody knows how many more muscles in his body.

This is not concentration, Mrs. Call held. The man who behaves naturally, if told to solve the same problem, will forget that he has a body, and with a quiet, earnest expression, not a face knotted with useless strain, seek the answer.

Both may master the difficulty equally well, but one will suffer far less physical fatigue.

Mrs. Call suggested that we observe cats. From them we may learn the art of complete relaxation and economy of effort.

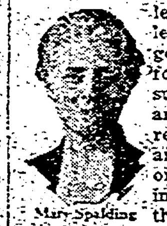
Air, Sunshine Are Free Foods

Use Plenty Of These "Scotch" Foods, Advises Miss Spalding

By Mary Spalding
Consultant in Nutrition, Massachusetts State Department of Public Health

There may be short time shifts during 1935 in certain foods like butter and eggs, but there may be lasting shifts in other foods like lessened sweets and lessened meats. The good old "Scotch" foods — fresh air, sunshine, exercise, and water — are in reach of all of us and may be called on more now than in former years for the family's good. The pioneers certainly had hard tough muscles and endurance, which may have been somewhat due to these "Scotch" foods.



Mary Spalding

Table Leisure

With the New Deal and shorter hours of work the homemaker may be able to bring back to the family table leisure, which makes for family companionship and good digestion. That tenseness which comes from the pressure of the need of running back to work and school may be done away with.

Sometimes when children and adults, too, go away to schools and camps great improvements come in growth and health. The meals are eaten, without discussion, at regular times—not so many snacks of food between meals. The mother may need even greater diplomacy and business ability in adjusting her family's social life to the clock than in buying, preparing, and choosing food. Such a successful arrangement, however, makes for good appetite and good digestion.

Plenty of Water.

Plenty of water is important for the best use of food. The school child's habit of drinking water must be watched. During the schoolday he is not [illegible] important habit. He probably has had plenty of water at home. When he goes [illegible] forty other children at [illegible] demanding attention his water need may be overlooked.

Besides food, other factors for good nutrition are:

Sleep and rest — Save energy and [illegible] food.

Water — Aids use of food and carries away waste.

Sunshine — Helps build strong bones and teeth.

Exercise — Stimulates circulation and appetite.

Correction of Defects — Leaves body free to get the most from food.

Use plenty of these to balance your daily living, and you will have not only good health, but buoyant health.

THE TALK OF THE TOWN

By Harrison Chandler

Spoiled!

After six months of living in Northville, we are definitely spoiled for the city. When we first arrived here on that Monday morning in December when snow was making the whole landscape a beautiful study in white, that day when the blizzard raged all day long and most of the night, we did not dream how much attraction a little rural community could hold for us.

Although born in a small town, we never lived in one as small as Northville. We were always of the opinion that the ideal setup would be to live in a suburban district, and commute to and from the city.

But we never knew before the luxury of fresh, clean air—every day—the delight of seeing many beautiful flowers day after day, the joy of seeing each evening the sunsets—seeing the sun set behind wooded hills, not dirty apartment buildings, and then the thrill of seeing the sky full of stars. —You do not see so many stars in the sky when you are in the city. There are too many electric lights, so many buildings hemming you in that you can not even see very much of the heavens. This is why we are spoiled for the city, why we feel so much better when we have returned after week-ends spent there.

And why should we bother you with all this?—you have heard similar remarks from us before on the subject — just to remind any who are too busy with their many activities to notice that Northville more than ever is attractive, is a place that people in the city enjoy driving out to on Sunday, wishing they could live here every day like we fortunate mortals. We know this to be a fact.

Life's Embarrassing Moments

Were you ever in an embarrassing situation? Then you know how Carl Ely felt Saturday evening when some of his friends came up to him and demanded to know why he had not offered them any cigars during his open house celebration that afternoon at his new ice house, where he had frost bites for the kiddies, carnations for the ladies, and cigars for the men. He was completely cleaned out of all of these favors.

Another time when you feel small is just after you have heard that harsh grating sound that comes when you have scraped the fender or hubcap of your new car on the high curb on North Center street. We saw a Northville matron do this with a shiny new model not so long ago, so we will not bother you with the name and then she surveyed the damage she expressed grave alarm for what friend husband would say. We didn't blame her either.

THIS WEEK

By H. H. White

The famous Dr. Johnston said that courage is reckoned the greatest of all virtues because if one does not possess this virtue there is little security for preserving any others.

It took just such courage as this for Noguchi to go into Africa to study a deadly disease, with his already failing health. It took Colonel Lindbergh to Paris and in conquering the Atlantic the Colonel also conquered those things within himself which so many of us find so hard to control.

When we understand the inwardness of courage then we have the key to all the other virtues of any importance and mankind has paid high honor to its heroic leaders for it has realized that there is little progress where courage is wanting.

Those who have read Dr. Johnston know that he had no small amount of courage and though he feared death greatly that fear left him in the end. Most all of our great heroes have had their faults and weaknesses but they will always live in the hearts and minds of mankind because at some critical period of history they were not afraid.

Many of us must know those who have met stark and dark fatality mastering matter by the power of mind, looking into the shadows and seeing beyond them, and it is such courage as this which has sustained and exalted mankind all down through the ages.

It is easy to be brave, if we learn to do so with the little things of life for the big difficulties will take care of themselves for we will then be prepared for them.

In this fast changing world so much is transitory that courage is seemingly in the end, our only real security.

FILM FANS, HERE'S FUN ADVENTURE!

Latest Will Rogers Comedy, "Life Begins at 40," Here Fri.-Sat.

If you have been saving up laughs, prepare to shed them now, for Will Rogers' latest comedy, "Life Begins at 40," opening Friday at the Penniman-Allen theatre, contains a bundle of hilarious situations that will act as magnets to the laughter chained within us all.

This breezy comedy, suggested by the Walter B. Pitkin book hit, is described as a hilarious fun-fest that works into a pandemonium of mirth.

The inimitable Will is cast as a country editor who proves that the way to get a kick out of life is to put a double kick into it.

From other cities reports tell of this picture delighting as the "clowning triumph" of Will Rogers' screen career. Youth and age roar in unison with the mirth-provoking happenings.

Rogers stampedes excitement into his small town, tries his hand at match-making, leads an army of veteran hill-billy hog-callers into battle, fights a frolicsome duel using wisecracks for every pistol bullet of his adversary.

Funny-bones are in peril from all counts. The comedy of "Life Begins at 40," is doubled with a tender romance. As the editor, Rogers clears the reputation of a youth "railroaded" to penitentiary, and so stirs up a hornet's nest of hostility.

Sol M. Wurtzel produced this Fox Film picture, which George Marshall directed. The screen play is by Lamar Trotti, who collaborated on the script of "Judge Priest."

Witticisms pungent as any Will himself concocts leave his lips in this picture. They deal with politics, women, rusticity, wealth, self-praise, love, youth and age.

In the fine supporting cast are such screen personalities as Rochelle Hudson, Richard Cromwell, George Barbier, Jane Darwell, Slim Summerville, Sterling Holloway, Thomas Beck, Roger Imhof, Carlos Sellon, John Bradford and Ruth Gillette.

"UNDER PRESSURE"

"Under Pressure" Director Went 6,000 Miles to See "Sand Hogs" at Work

Traveling six thousand miles just to look at a tunnel seems an unusual form of entertainment. But Raoul Walsh, noted screen director, did just that as part of his preparation for "Under Pressure," Fox Film production coming to the local theatre on June 12.

With most of the dramatic action of this Edmund Lowe-Victor McLaglen feature laid in the grimy depths of a vehicle tunnel, Walsh decided to get his atmospheric data at first hand.

Accordingly, in company with Borden Chase, co-author of the original story and the screen play, who has spent most of his adult years in tunnel-driving, Walsh went back to New York to see for himself what the real thing looked like.

There he inspected every detail of the Hudson Mid-town bore, which is being driven from Manhattan to the Jersey shore, learning by actual experience what a "sand hog's" life is like and watching the driving processes a hundred feet below the surface of the Hudson.

A full-sized replica of an actual tunnel, nearly 500 feet long, was built at the studio. This setting contained every bit of apparatus used in actual tunneling operations and its realism aroused the admiration of engineers who visited it.

Besides the Lowe-McLaglen team, the cast of "Under Pressure" includes Florence Rice, Marjorie Rambeau, Charles Bickford, Guinn ("Big Boy") Williams and others.

THE END OF THE NRA

The most stunning news of many months came last week when by unanimous vote of the seven judges of the Supreme Court of the United States the National Recovery Act (NRA) was practically wrecked. Washington and the whole country are still wondering what the big news means.

None of us should attempt to pass "snap judgment" on the passing of this emergency legislation. NRA did much good and many will say it did much harm. Certainly all will agree that it came into being at a time of great emergency. And certainly we should all also agree that the good the NRA did in abolishing child labor was worth a great deal. On the other hand, the harm that came from shackling small business cannot be ignored. For example, price fixing is not in keeping with American traditions.

Fortunately the wrecking of the NRA comes at a time when recovery seems to be a certainty. Business is going ahead—of that there is little question. Leaders of industry and business now claim that if they are left alone, that conditions will continue to improve for both employers and employes.

One reason for the failure of NRA is that human selfishness, which makes most of the troubles of the world, cannot be cured by legislation. Some blame capital for all the economic trouble of the country; others will put the full responsibility on the workers. The blame for the evil conditions cannot be settled that easily. As far as we have been able to observe the world in a small way, greed, avarice and callousness to one's fellow men, are pretty much equally distributed between capital and labor. That being the case, no actsof Congress can ever do much to make a better world. The power of public sentiment will do more to make better conditions than all the laws on the statute books.

The end of NRA should be a challenge to all men—both capitalists and employes—to get together in the spirit of brotherhood and good will. Personally we have faith that enough of that spirit remains in the United States to bring us to prosperous and happy conditions for the millions of our people. Let us profoundly hope so.

THE VALUE OF A LIFE

With what calmness do we people of the United States take the loss of a human life!

The toll of the automobile is appalling but few seem to get excited about it. Some one called to our attention on Memorial day that it was just a year ago that a Northville young man was killed in an automobile accident. Others have been killed or injured since but the shock of these tragedies lingers with us for only a few hours or days—except with those immediately concerned, for whom there is little respite from grief. We seem to take these terrible accidents as "all in the days work."

On Memorial day, when the nation is supposed to give some thought to the sacrifices of our soldier dead and to the devotion of those who still may pay the price of war in some hospital, thousands and millions pay toll to the god of automobile speed. From our own quiet street in this beautiful little city, on this sacred holiday, we could see the hundreds of cars go tearing by. Seeing them sailing around corners with daring speed sometimes, and roaring down the pavement, one has to wonder to what far away planet have flown the good sense and judgment of human beings. That more people are not killed or injured is seemingly a miracle—so many close calls do we all have.

How long will human life be so lightly tossed about? How long are we going to permit the sacrifice of men and women, of boys and girls? How long are we going to let drunken and near-drunken drivers get behind the wheels of death-dealing automobiles?

Today a boy or girl may be alive and full of the joy of living. In one quick second or one short minute, he or she may be gone from this world forever.

How much longer are we going to be hardened to all these needless sacrifices of human lives?

TWO SMILES A DAY

Caught in the hurrying swirl of rushing pedestrian traffic in Detroit the other day and noticing the tense, anxious look on the faces of most of the crowd, we said to a friend walking with us: "Let's watch the expression on the faces of the folks we meet in the next block. See how many of them are smiling."

So we checked the hurrying throng. By actual count, as we came to the end of the block we had counted two smiling faces—one a Negro one. The passers-by were all in a hurry. At least they walked that way. The faces of some showed anxiety and worry. Others had grim, determined looks, as though on the way to put through some hard deal. Some had looks of self-satisfaction as though life had used them well. And yet we saw only two smiles in the crowd. True, it was a dark, somber day and maybe that wiped out the smiles that might have been seen in better weather.

Anyway, as we thought of the colored man who smiled and of the colored spiritual "Standing in the need of prayer," we thought: "Standing in the need of humor are we American people." Life is rushing and at times, wipes out our smiles, yet the world is good and if we all smiled a little more and saw the "funny" side of things, it would be a better world.

GOOD NEWS FROM A DAILY PAPER EDITOR

Commenting on the downfall of the NRA, as the result of the unanimous Supreme Court ruling, Walter S. Kennedy, editor of the Albion Evening Recorder, says:

> Regardless of who is right and who wrong, the country will go along about as usual. It can take more punishment than any other country and still come back for more. It is on its way out of the bog of depression and while it may be slowed up now and then, nothing can stop it.

Having worked with Mr. Kennedy for ten years, we have learned to have a deep respect for his judgment and common sense. When he says that "nothing can stop" the comeback of the people of the United States we can take heart. His predictions have usually been very sound.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

Who remembers the old wooden sidewalks?

Churches have their problems but they are hardly "dying out." According to the Yearbook of American Churches, 60 denominations have 60,812,844 members in the United States. In the past seven years the gain of adult members has been over five million.

"I am not going to buy a suit with two trousers this summer," said a good friend. "You see from now on, I am going to have more clothes and when you have two or more suits of clothes, you don't need two pairs of trousers to a suit." Yes, thank you, business is better.

Falling in line with other cities that want to adopt an official flower, Albion has been having a popular vote on the best kind for general planting. So far the iris is way in the lead. Another sign of better days: People have stopped talking about their troubles and are thinking about flowers.

Times are better. A sister of The Record's "Mrs. Editor" and her husband left last week for a trip to Europe. They are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Boys of the Plymouth Daily Pilot of Plymouth, Indiana. Nothing equals travel for broadening one's sympathies and tolerances. If we all started a "travel fund" and added to it little by little it would be surprising how much of the world we might see.

The very best wishes of all Northville go to the graduates. Those who have sacrificed and worked for an education will never be sorry. The satisfactions and the prizes of the future are going to go, in large measure, to the trained young men and women. Those who have won their way to a high school diploma have done well. And we hope that each and every one of them takes time to tell father and mother how much their devotion and sacrifice have meant. Education without gratitude is a dangerous thing.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

LEARN TO RELAX

(Imperial Type Metal Magazine)

Forty years ago Annie Paysin Call wrote a book called "Power Through Repose." It enjoyed a large sale for many years and is still widely read.

The author proposed that Americans relax. By relaxing she said that we would sleep better, talk better, and walk better. "Americanitis" is the name that she gave to our peculiar muscular tenseness.

Few people, she said, know how to sit in a chair. The chair does not hold them; instead they hold themselves on the chair. They refuse to submit to the law of gravity. Railroad travel exhausts them because they have never learned to let go of their muscles.

Mrs. Call said that the shrillness in the American voice was caused by talking with the whole body.

"Take the bone and flesh sound from your voice," she advised. Relax the hands, shoulders, and feet. She noted that "women talk all over themselves" and at the end of a party are utterly fatigued.

She scorned the notion that one should brace up to a pain. She said:

"Most of the nervous fatigue suffered from dentist's work is in consequence of the unnecessary strain of expecting a hurt, and not from any actual pain inflicted. The result obtained by insisting upon making yourself a dead weight in the chair, if you succeed only partially, will prove this."

Some people have learned to concentrate well because they try to think with their muscles. Tell one man to concentrate his mind on a difficult problem until he has worked it out, and he will clinch his teeth, tighten his throat, hold nobody knows how many more muscles in his body.

This is not concentration, Mrs. Call held. The man who behaves naturally, if told to solve the same problem, will forget that he has a body, and with a quiet, earnest expression, not a face knotted with useless strain, seek the answer.

Both may master the difficulty equally well, but one will suffer far less physical fatigue.

Mrs. Call suggested that we observe cats. From them we may learn the art of complete relaxation and economy of effort.

"HELL, NO"—

(Grand Rapids (Minn.) Herald-Review)

The story is told of a young man who was about to become a partner in the family store. He met an old farmer who gave him some advice.

"Well, Sid, I hear your father is going to take you into the business. Of course he'll give you a lot of advice, and your uncle, who owns the bank, will lend you all the money you need. But I can tell you something that you'll find mighty useful. Just remember that the answer to most propositions is 'Hell No!'"

That advice was mighty sound. Many of the troubles that we have today are due to the fact that business men of a few years ago did not say "no" in the emphatic manner that the old farmer suggested.

Much of the trouble that the nation may have in the future will be due to the fact that the taxpayers cannot say it today.

Argus, Chet Howell, you'd better study his schedule for dropper-inners: Friendly calls, 2 minutes; friendly calls when busy, 1 minute; politicians, 5 seconds; life insurance news for the paper, 15 minutes; lodge brothers wishing the editor to speak, 1 second; friends with an invitation to breakfast, lunch or dinner or even a little "snack", 1 hour, 30 minutes; those wishing to pay old bills, 60 hours; those wishing to talk business, 24 hours, day or night.

EIGHTEEN TOWNS WIPED OUT

(R. G. Jefferies in the Lowell Ledger)

Just suppose that a true prophet should declare that every man, woman and child now living in Lowell would be killed in automobile accidents during the year 1935. We would stand appalled, dumbfounded, paralyzed if we knew that that were to become true. Yet during the year 1934, 36,000 persons met death on the highways of this country, in automobile accidents. To put it another way, this means that the equivalent of 18 towns the size of ours were wiped out of existence in the space of twelve months' time. The desire to get somewhere in a hurry has been found to be the principal cause of highway fatalities. Think it over.

Mother—Jimmie, I wonder if you can find a boy of about your size who would like to mow the lawn and have it looking nice for Sunday?

Jimmie—I don't know, mother—but I'll go around to the other boys' houses and see if I can find one.

Air, Sunshine Are Free Foods

Use Plenty Of These "Scotch" Foods, Advises Miss Spalding

By Mary Spalding
Consultant in Nutrition, Massachusetts State Department of Public Health

There may be short time shifts during 1935 in certain foods like butter and eggs, but there may be lasting shifts in other foods like lessened sweets and lessened meats. The good old "Scotch" foods — fresh air, sunshine, exercise, and water — are in reach of all of us and may be called on more now than in former years for the family's good. The pioneers certainly had hard tough muscles and endurance, which may have been somewhat due to these "Scotch" foods.

Mrs. Spalding

Table Leisure

With the New Deal and shorter hours of work the homemaker may be able to bring back to the family table leisure, which makes for family companionship and good digestion. That tenseness which comes from the pressure of the need of running back to work and school may be done away with.

Sometimes when children and adults, too, go away to schools and camps, great improvements come in growth and health. The meals are eaten, without discussion, at regular times—not so many snacks of food between meals. The mother may need even greater diplomacy and business ability in adjusting her family's social life to the clock than in buying, preparing, and choosing food. Such a successful arrangement, however, makes for good appetite and good digestion.

Plenty of Water

Plenty of water is important for the best use of food. The school child's habit of drinking water must be watched. During the schoolday he must not lose this important habit. He probably has had plenty of water at home. When he goes to school with forty other children in the room demanding attention his water need may be overlooked.

Besides food, other factors for good nutrition are:

Sleep and rest—save energy and nervous tension.

Water—aids use of food and carries away waste.

Sunshine—helps build strong bones and teeth.

Exercise—stimulates circulation and appetite.

Correction of Defects—leaves body free to get the most from food.

Use plenty of these to balance your daily living, and you will have not only good health, but buoyant health.

THE TALK OF THE TOWN

BY HARRISON CHANDLER

Spoiled!

After six months of living in Northville, we are definitely spoiled for the city. When we first arrived here on that Monday morning in December when snow was making the whole landscape a beautiful study in white, that day when the blizzard raged all day long and most of the night, we did not dream how much attraction a little rural community could hold for us.

Although born in a small town, we never lived in one as small as Northville. We were always of the opinion that the ideal setup would be to live in a suburban district, and commute to and from the city.

But we never knew before the luxury of fresh, clean air—every day—the delight of seeing many beautiful flowers day after day, the joy of seeing each evening the sunsets—seeing the sun set behind wooded hills, not dirty apartment buildings, and then the thrill of seeing the sky full of stars. —You do not see so many stars in the sky when you are in the city. There are too many electric lights, so many buildings hemming you in that you can not even see very much of the heavens. This is why we are spoiled for the city, why we feel so much better when we have returned after week-ends spent there.

And why should we bother you with all this?—you have heard similar remarks from us before on the subject — just to remind any who are too busy with their many activities to notice that Northville more than ever is attractive, is a place that people in the city enjoy driving out to on Sunday, wishing they could live here every day like we fortunate mortals. We know this to be a fact.

Life's Embarrassing Moments

Were you ever in an embarrassing situation? Then you know how Carl Fly felt Saturday evening when some of his friends came up to him and demanded to know why he had not offered them any cigars during the open house celebration that afternoon at his new ice house where he had free bites for the kiddies, carnations for the ladies, and cigars for the men. He was completely cleaned out of all of these favors.

Another time when you feel small [illegible]

THIS WEEK

By R. H. WHITE

The famous Dr. Johnston said that courage is reckoned the greatest of all virtues because if one does not possess this virtue there is little security for preserving any others.

It took just such courage as this for Noguchi to go into Africa to study a deadly disease, with his already failing health. It took Colonel Lindbergh to Paris and in conquering the Atlantic the Colonel also conquered those things within himself which so many of us find so hard to control.

When we understand the inwardness of courage then we have the key to all the other virtues of any importance and mankind has paid high honor to its heroic leaders for it has realized that there is little progress where courage is wanting.

Those who have read Dr. Johnston know that he had no small amount of courage and though he feared death greatly that fear left him in the end. Most all of our great heroes have had their faults and weaknesses but they will always live in the hearts and minds of mankind because at some critical period of history they were not afraid.

Many of us must know those who have met stark and dark fatality mastering matter by the power of mind, looking into the shadows and seeing beyond them and it is such courage as this which has sustained and exalted mankind all down through the ages.

It is easy to be brave, if we learn to do so with the little things of life for the big difficulties will take care of themselves for we will then be prepared for them.

In this fast changing world so much is transitory that courage is seemingly in the end our only real security.

FILM FANS, HERE'S FUN ADVENTURE!

Latest Will Rogers Comedy, "Life Begins at 40," Here Fri.-Sat.

If you have been saving up laughs, prepare to shed them now, for Will Rogers' latest comedy, "Life Begins at 40," opening Friday at the Penniman-Allen theatre, contains a bundle of hilarious situations that will act as magnets to the laughter chained within us all.

This breezy comedy, suggested by the Walter B. Pitkin book hit, is described as a hilarious fun fest that works into a pandemonium of mirth.

The inimitable Will is cast as a country editor who proves that the way to get a kick out of life is to put a double kick into it.

From other cities, reports tell of this picture delighting as the "clowning triumph" of Will Rogers' screen career. Youth and age roar in unison with the mirth-provoking happenings.

Rogers stampedes excitement into his small town, tries his hand at match-making, leads an army of veteran hill-billy hog-callers into battle, fights a frolicsome duel using wisecracks for every pistol bullet of his adversary.

Funny-bones are in peril from all counts. The comedy of "Life Begins at 40" is coupled with a tender romance. As the editor, Rogers clears the reputation of a youth "railroaded" to penitentiary, and so stirs up a hornet's nest of hostility.

Sol M. Wurtzel produced this Fox Film picture, which George Marshall directed. The screen play is by Lamar Trotti, who collaborated on the script of "Judge Priest."

Witticisms pungent as any Will himself concocts, leave his lips in this picture. They deal with politics, women, rusticity, wealth, self-praise, love, youth and age.

In the fine supporting cast are such screen personalities as Rochelle Hudson, Richard Cromwell, George Barbier, Jane Darwell, Slim Summerville, Sterling Holloway, Thomas Beck, Roger Imhof, Carlos Sellon, John Bradford and Ruth Gillette.

"UNDER PRESSURE"

"Under Pressure" Director Went 6,000 Miles to See "Sand Hogs" at Work

Traveling six thousand miles just to look at a tunnel seems an unusual form of entertainment. But Raoul Walsh, noted screen director, did just that as part of his preparation for "Under Pressure," Fox Film production coming to the local theatre on June 12.

With most of the dramatic action of this Edmund Lowe-Victor McLaglen feature laid in the grimy depths of a vehicle tunnel, Walsh decided to get his atmospheric data at first hand.

Accordingly, in company with Borden Chase, co-author of the original story and the screen play, who has spent most of his adult years in tunnel-driving, Walsh went back to New York to see for himself what the real thing looked like.

There he inspected every detail of the Hudson Mid-town bore, which is being driven from Manhattan to the Jersey shore, learning by actual experience what a "sand hog's" life is like and watching the driving processes a hundred feet below the surface of the Hudson.

A full-sized replica of an actual tunnel, nearly 500 feet long, was built at the studio. This setting contained every bit of apparatus used in actual tunneling operations and its realism aroused the admiration of engineers who visited it.

Besides the Lowe-McLaglen team, the cast of "Under Pressure" includes Florence Rice, Marjorie Rambeau, Charles Bickford, Guinn ("Big Boy") Williams and others.

Romance of School Days Results In Marriage of Miss Hamilton to Lawrence LeFevre—

A romance begun in school days was culminated Wednesday evening, May 29, when Miss Marion Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hamilton, and Lawrence Henry LeFevre, son of Chas. LeFevre, were united in marriage at St. Paul's Lutheran church in the presence of over 100 relatives and friends.

For one half hour preceding the ceremony an organ recital was given by Henry Schnute of Monroe, a former music teacher of the bride. Ushers were Lawrence Hamilton, brother of the bride, and Chas. LeFevre, brother of the bridegroom, both dressed in the conventional black.

The altar was banked with spring flowers and baskets of flowers stood at the ends of the pews which were tied with white satin ribbons, reserved for the near relatives.

At eight o'clock the bridal party arrived at the church as the wedding bells pealed out in the little white church at the foot of the hill.

As the organist took up the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, the maid of honor, Mrs. Aubrey Gates of Plymouth in orchid gown and hat, followed by the two bridesmaids, Mrs. Jack Dewsbury in yellow and Mrs. Cedric Karger, of Chicago, in pink. All carried large shower bouquets.

On the arm of her father the bride entered, lovely in a trailing gown of white satin with a dainty veil of tulle caught to her head with a halo of lace fastened with a coronet of seed pearls. Her shower bouquet was of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

At the altar the groom, attended by his brother, Clifford LeFevre, joined his bride and the impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Leo Eickstaedt.

An additional feature of [illegible] was the fact that the occasion was the 31st wedding anniversary of the bride's parents. Mrs. Hamilton wore a charming gown of green lace and a corsage of roses.

After a wedding trip of a few days to Cleveland, O., Mr. and Mrs. LeFevre have been housekeeping at their new home in the Milford apartment, Pontiac, Mr. LeFevre being in the employ of the Detroit Edison company in Northville.

At six o'clock, at the close of a perfect June day, the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march were struck by Mrs. Vanderbilt of Ann Arbor, and the bride, lovely in a trailing gown of white lace and carrying a shower bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley and maidenhair fern, entered the room on the arm of her father.

Under a beautiful arch of white lilacs the ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Walter Nichol of Plymouth. The bride and groom were attended by a brother of the latter and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dunlap of Ann Arbor. Mrs. Dunlap was gowned in pale yellow and carried talisman roses and blue lace flowers.

During the ceremony the melody of "I Love You Truly" was softly played by Mrs. Vanderbilt.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Canter, was presented with a corsage of Johanna Hill roses by her new son-in-law.

Following congratulations to the happy pair, a dainty buffet supper was served in the dining room; a large pyramid wedding cake centering the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunlap left immediately on an extensive motor trip to Erwin, Iowa, where Mr. Dunlap will present his bride to his parents. After a visit there, they will continue their journey to visit a sister in Nebraska and thence to Colorado to the home of a brother.

Returning July 1, Mr. and Mrs. Dunlap will begin housekeeping in Pontiac where the former is in the employ of the Detroit Edison company.

Mrs. Dunlap has been in the service of the Michigan Bell Telephone company, answering for four years the calls of Northville in the local office. Many friends who appreciate her courtesy extend best wishes.

The bride was gowned in white satin with wedding veil and carried a shower bouquet of roses and gardenias. Her maid of honor, her sister, Miss Mary Gatteri, wore pale green taffeta and the bride's maids, Miss Santina Gatteri, another sister, and Miss Mary Bertera, of Detroit, were gowned in pink organdy.

Marshall Bertera attended the groom.

Following the ceremony the bridal party went to Redford to be photographed, returning later to the home of the bride's parents for a family supper.

Later in the evening a reception was given by the bride's parents to about 150 guests. An elaborate supper was served by a caterer from Detroit and the guests were entertained by music and dancing.

Many beautiful gifts evidenced the good wishes for the happiness of the young couple who will make their home with the mother of the bridegroom in West Novi.

UN-CUT LAWNS HERE BRING REGRET FROM VISITOR TO VILLAGE

June 5, 1935

Editor Northville Record:

A friend of long standing, but a stranger in Northville visited us just a few days ago. Very proudly we drove him up and down our streets and through the country side.

There is a great deal of satisfaction in driving on an inspection trip about Northville—the flowers, trees and all foliage are more beautiful than in many years. BUT this friend—and he is a friend or he wouldn't talk so frankly — said: "Why is it that no matter how beautiful the city, there are always a few people who do not get the idea of beauty; they don't quite understand co-operation?"

I had to admit that truth and with chagrin when we drove along our Main street, couldn't help but notice several of our very fine properties with lawns unmowed and unkempt yards. Naturally a thing of this kind is in a sense a personal matter and in nine cases out of ten is mere thoughtlessness, but after all, Northville, Detroit's most beautiful suburb, belongs to us all and we are all a part of its beauty or its lack of beauty. Just what, do you suppose, can be done to make every one of us proud of our city to the extent that we put forth extra effort in keeping lawns mown and, if possible, flowers planted?

I submit to the Northville Record reading public that my pride in showing my friend about was sorely mixed with sadness as I realized the truth of my friend's remarks.

I still believe that Northville is Detroit's most beautiful suburb but I also believe that it can be much more beautiful when all of us catch the vision of the ideal Northville.

Yours for a finer town,
Record Reader.

Northville Fishermen and Wives Have Dinner With the Bunns—

Sharing the enjoyment of their fine "catch" on their recent fishing trip up on Burt lake, Elmer Smith, N. C. Schrader, D. B. Bunn, F. A. Northrop, W. E. Forney, E. L. Mills, L. C. Stewart and E. R. Eaton invited their wives to join with them at a fish dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bunn Tuesday evening.

Baked white fish, deliciously prepared, was enjoyed in abundance together with other good things. Dinner was served in the recreation room.

Additional guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Chapman and Mrs. Mary Alexander, whose husband had for years been a member of the group.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDING IS ASKED HERE

R. H. Amerman and S. W. Ambler to Submit Plans

Seeking the construction of a new grade school building in Northville under the new $4,800,000,000 federal work program, Superintendent R. H. Amerman and Sherrill W. Ambler will go to Lansing in the next few days and submit their project to William Haber, state welfare director.

This is in accordance with the original project of the school district, $160,000, which was submitted to the Michigan Planning commission Monday, February 11, when a local committee asked for projects for Northville totalling $562,000.

Mr. Amerman and Mr. Ambler made the trip as a result of a conference Mr. Amerman had Monday afternoon with G. B. Crombie, supervisor of work relief projects for Northville and Plymouth, and also as a result of action taken by the members of the school board which had its regular montly meeting Monday evening.

Mr. Crombie spoke to Mr. Amerman of the favorable reception that Mr. Haber had given to him and to George A. Smith, superintendent of Plymouth Schools, who accompanied him to Lansing to find out what chance Plymouth had to get an addition built on one of the school buildings there. These men were advised, Mr. Crombie said, that some direct grants would be forthcoming for school building purposes.

The new Northville grade school building, if it is approved as a federal project, will replace the old one, which will be torn down. It will be erected where the board of education building now stands, and these offices will be in the new building.

WHITFIELD RETURNS MUCH IMPRESSED BY GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Back from the Presbyterian General Assembly at Cincinnati Wednesday night, May 29, the Rev. Harold G. Whitfield tells of having great experiences there, and of being much impressed with all that took place during the week the assembly was in progress.

"I came home with the feeling that I was part of a great institution," Mr. Whitfield said. The 930 delegates consisted of Presbyterian ministers and laymen from churches in every one of the 48 states.

One feature of the assembly that impressed Mr. Whitfield was the permanent judicial commission. It settles all matters of national import in the church. When the members of this body filed in, he said, the whole assembly rose to their feet.

The entire assembly, he said, reflected the character and policy of the Presbyterian church, which is conservative and yet progressive. The church makes changes slowly, he said, but those changes are definite steps forward, from which it will never retrogress.

Mr. Whitfield, it is believed, is the first minister of the Northville church to attend the general assembly.

ROTARIANS DISCUSS THEIR CAREERS AT TUESDAY MEETING

Several Rotarians took part in the program Tuesday noon at the Presbyterian church house, when all were asked to discuss their careers, and how they had come to hold their present positions.

The value of a college education was praised by many, both those who have earned degrees and those who have not.

"The biggest mistake I ever made," E. H. Lapham declared, "was not going to college. Every boy and girl who can possibly do so should get a college education."

"Men should consider the work they are entering from the standpoint of whether they fully enjoy it or not," Charles E. Rogers said, "for unless they get more pleasure out of their work than any other vocation they can think of, they are not in the right field."

R. H. Amerman, in discussing the way in which he came into the teaching field told the group he originally was enthused about chemistry and majored in it in college. While in college, however, he was given the opportunity to tutor other students in the earlier courses in this field, and soon his interest turned sharply from chemical formulae to humanity itself, of helping others to learn, and in that field he has been ever since.

MORE RAIN

More heavy rain continued in Northville this week, falling in such quantities that some farmers of the vicinity say now that there is too much. This is in sharp contrast to the drouths of previous years.

McKENNA YOUTH KILLED BY TRAIN

struck by a south bound train. Others feel that possibly two trains might have struck his body.

Still another theory submitted is that a "pusher," which consists of a locomotive and a caboose, on its way to Plymouth, struck him. It is difficult to see a "pusher" coming at night, it has been advanced, since the caboose is in front of the locomotive, blocking the headlight.

Railroad officials report that he might have been struck by any one of four trains.

Charles is survived by his mother, Mrs. Edith Rhodes McKenna, a sister, Catherine, a brother, James, and an uncle, Ralph Rhodes.

He was born May 16, 1919, at Metamora, the son of Ewart Gladstone McKenna and Edith Rhodes McKenna.

Charles' early life was spent at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Catherine Govan Rhodes at Metamora and Gaylord, Michigan, until two years ago when he came to Northville to live with his mother and to attend the Northville high school.

Illness interrupted his school work frequently, but his health had been much improved the last year, and his great ambition was to study Diesel engines. His application to the Diesel engineering school in Los Angeles had been accepted, and he was planning to leave very soon for school.

Funeral services were held Saturday, June 1, in the Congregational church at Metamora, the Rev. Harold G. Whitfield officiating. Many friends from Northville attended the service. The flowers were many and beautiful. Interment was made in the Metamora cemetery.

WOLVERINES DEFEAT YPSI. IN NO-HIT GAME

the game, play was stopped at the request of the Fowlerville pitcher, who said he could not see the ball.

Harry German, Jr. allowed Ypsilanti batters only six hits while Northville was able to get ten safeties.

The game was closely played throughout. Fowlerville got two runs in the first inning by a base on balls, an error and a double, but Northville came back in the second to tie the score.

In the sixth inning, the Wolverines went into the lead, scoring two runs on a walk by "Whitey" Martin, a single by Arnold Jaska and a double by Charles Wolfrom which scored the two preceding runners.

Fowlerville tied the score again in their half of the seventh inning with a base on balls, a single and a double, the game remaining even until it was called by the umpire.

BASKETBALL BOYS RECEIVE SOUVENIRS

Mrs. J. B. Watts, who has been "Mother Watts" to all of the high school boys for years unnumbered, showed her pride in the success of the basketball boys by presenting them—nine in all—with small gold basketballs to wear on their watch chains (when they get a watch).

The boys were appreciative of this memento of their friend who has not failed to cheer them on the side lines all these years.

STREAMLINED TRAIN RIDE IS BIG THRILL

from one of the depot officials, he and his great aunt were permitted to have the ride.

It's a marvelous piece of machinery, he declared. The whole thing is built of stainless steel, an alloy consisting of 18 per cent chromium and eight per cent nickel, and having a tensile strength three times greater than steel.

It has all the comforts of the most deluxe train, including a washed air ventilation system, dining room, and the observation lounge with luxuriously comfortable individual chairs, he said, and "the widest windows I have ever seen on a train."

Vitamin E

This fat-soluble anti-sterility vitamin is said to exist, though never in high concentration, in a great variety of animal tissues. It is highly concentrated in the organs of certain plants, especially in green leaves and seeds. The richest known sources are lettuce leaves and wheat embryo. Egg yolk and milk contain it, as also do most vegetable and seed oils, though not highly concentrated.—Detroit News.

Oriel Window's Origin

The architectural predecessor of the oriel window is the turret, used as a defense in the medieval home. The outside stairway and roofs built at different levels are descended from the old French farmhouse.

A Monetary Abbreviation

The abbreviation "d" as 6d for six pence, is for the Latin denarious or denarii—penny, and pence—and was employed by the Lombard money changers who came to London in the Middle ages, and who are credited with giving Britain the crossed L which stands for the pound, but which was with the Lombards originally a symbol for the lira.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell the decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and ¾ of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped tomcat, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the rectum in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for—25¢. ©1934, C.M.Co.
