WOLVERINES QUIT, CLAIM NO SUPPORT

Poor Attendance At Games Made End Inevitable, Backers Say

Playing week after week to almost empty stands finally proved too much of an obstacle for the Northville Wolverines, who disbanded Sunday after losing to the Marx Brewery of Wyandotte at the fair grounds here, 5-4.

Every possible attempt was made to keep the team together, Manager Arnold Jaska said Monday, but it was impossible to pay the salaries of the players from the gate receipts.

"Ball players, like everyone else, he said, like to be where they are appreciated. They like to play before crowds, not a mere handful of loyal fans." Three regular members of the team handed in their uniforms even before Sunday's game because they had better offers. These were Leonard Milross, short stop, "Whitey" Martin, first baseman, and John Destafano.

"All of these players were very valuable parts of this team that was the runner-up in the Triple-A league last year in Detroit, and won an outstanding reputation around the state, Jaska said.

"Milross, especially, was one of the bright spots of the team this season, making many sensational plays. He was just as good a fielder as he was a batter for Northville," Jaska said, "and is considered one of the best short stops in the state."

Asked about his opinion of the break-up of the team, Dr. I. W. Snow, president of the club, said that the backers of the team had made a big effort to have a winning ball team in Northville, and that the result of their efforts was a team that won all its games in the Michigan-Ontario league and then went on to be the runner-up in the Triple-A league in Detroit.

"Several members of the team had to come out here from Detroit twice a week to practice [illegible] and then on Sunday play to a crowd that turned in gate receipts of only $9. This happened more than once.

"In spite of every effort we have made to advertise the team, the people of Northville have showed no interest in it," he said, "and where there is no support, there can be no team."

"It was most regrettable that the Wolverines were forced to break up

SENIORS GET BACK FROM WASHINGTON

Thirty tired but happy seniors struggled back to town at 8:30 Thursday morning from Washington, D. C., where they had been on their annual trip. They left Northville Sunday night.

In addition to seeing the nation's capital, the seniors visited the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, where they saw the filming of "Anchors A-weigh," a motion picture that is to be released soon.

While in Washington, the seniors visited the capitol and heard congress in session.

FRED CASTERLINE BUILDS LARGEST MODEL AIRPLANE

The largest airplane made by any boy in Northville has attracted much attention in the window of the Schrader Furniture store. Fred Casterline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Casterline, is the young 15-year-old genius who has patiently worked for weeks cutting and fitting the intricate pieces of balsa wood together to form the frame work and then covering it with paper. It is a very realistic plane.

"And it really flies" says Fred who plans to become an aeronautical engineer some day.

More than ten planes have been made by this boy who began working at this hobby three years ago.

HISTORY RESEARCH MAY CENTER HERE

U. of M., in Starting State Collection, Interested in This Area

Plans of the University of Michigan to begin a state history museum and to locate historical material throughout the state will center in part around Northville, Prof. Lewis G. Vander Velde of Ann Arbor, in charge of the project, declared this week.

Professor Vander Velde and his assistant, Arthur Raymond Kooker, may come through here soon in their search for documents and other materials bearing on Michigan history, word from Ann Arbor said. They are interested in all letters, diaries, papers, and other documents pertaining to any part of Michigan history, they explained. Kooker is especially anxious to find materials bearing on the anti-slavery movement in this state before the Civil War, while Professor Vander Velde is desirous of locating any material bearing on any phase of Michigan history, the earlier the better, but any time up to around 1890, he declared.

While [illegible] activities will take them all over the state, they are interested in the Northville-Plymouth-Farmington area. When they come here it is expected that they will confer with Charles A. Dunbar, among others, and any persons having any materials of interest are requested to leave their names at The Record office.

In Farmington, Kooker is especially anxious to see Nathan Power, whose father, Nathan, ran for lieutenant-governor on the Abolition party ticket, and who assisted in the operation of an underground railroad.

In explaining the University's project, Professor Vander Velde pointed out that "it is our aim to locate all unrecorded Michigan historical material throughout the state for research purposes, with the view of starting a collection at the University in Ann Arbor." He declared that the University was the logical place for such a museum and urged cooperation of all citizens.

CROQUET TO FEATURE ROTARY PICNIC TUESDAY

Northville Rotarians claim that the croquet championship of the world will be decided when they hold their picnic at 6 p. m. Tuesday on Floyd Northrop's lawn.

The heads of the opposing croquet teams are [illegible] and Don Yerkes Sr., and a "battle of the century" is predicted.

HARD SURFACE WILL BE LAID ON NOVI ROAD

Two Northville Streets Also Being Black-Topped by County

The Novi road between the Base Line road and Novi, one of Northville's main highway outlets, is to be "black-topped" within the next two weeks, it was announced Monday by Leon Belknap, Oakland county highway engineer.

This surface treatment will consist of asphalt or tar, mixed with a fine grade of pebbles and applied directly over the present gravel surface of the road. Then another layer of black-top will be applied on top of the first coat.

The road will then have a surface like the Base Line road east of Northville, which was re-surfaced last summer.

It is possible, Mr. Belknap said, that this road improvement job can be made into a Federal project under the four-billion dollar work relief program. If this happens, the road will get a more expensive surface.

Novi road is one of the most travelled roads leading out of Northville, Mr. Belknap said, since it is the only direct route to Novi, Walled Lake and Wixom.

In addition to the Novi road, Oakland county road commissioners will re-surface 15 more miles of roads in that county, including the four-mile stretch on the 12 Mile road east of Novi, which is still gravel.

Meanwhile the Wayne county road commissioners are working on two similar projects in Northville—re-surfacing the westbound lane of Griswold road from the East Base Line road to the bridge, and the East Base Line road from North Center street to the intersection of Novi road. This work should be finished within a week, according to Wayne county officials.

After these two jobs are completed, the North Territorial road between [illegible] in Plymouth, and the Washtenaw county

DAISY COMPANY WILL ERECT ADDITION SOON

Three-Story Building to Be Ready for Occupancy by Fall

Construction will begin within the next ten days on the new service building of the Daisy Manufacturing company in Plymouth, a three-story addition to the present plant.

The building will provide 12,000 feet of additional floor space, and will be 46 by 78 feet in dimension, adjoining the present building on the south side along Union street.

To be built of brick, concrete and steel, it is expected to make an attractive unit of the plant. It will be used chiefly for service purposes. The first floor will be for the storage of steel, with the second and third floors for servicing the assembly departments and for the box-making department.

The building is expected to be [illegible] months, so that it will be ready [illegible] fall

VANDALS MAR MONUMENTS

Cruelly marred by stones from the hands of a wanton vandal, the nicks and chips in several monuments at the Rural Hill cemetery were called to the attention of Northville citizens this week.

Worst of all is the ruthless damage done to the large marker on the Miller lot. The stately granite monument, setting off the broad green Miller lot at the northwest corner of the cemetery, was chipped in 16 places. In some spots the flying rocks, obviously hurled in a spirit of ruthless destruction, had cut deeply into the polished surface. On one of the two little head stones, a stone had nicked an inch or more out of the beveled edge. Mrs. E. E. Miller, who says she has gone to considerable expense keeping her cemetery property beautiful, pointed out that the damage done to the tombstones is irreparable.

Nearly 100 feet south of the Miller lot stands another marker, also marred by a vandal's hand.

Another example of the ruthless work of the miscreants is the broken windows in door of the Neal vault at the entrance to the cemetery. Two jagged holes in the glass, plainly the work of hurled rocks, completely disfigure the door and front of the vault, its owners declare.

And Northville people are asking themselves, "What are we going to do about it?" "Are we going to allow vandals, be they children or men, to destroy our hallowed property, to which we have gone to expense to keep up?"

The cemetery is unprotected by gates and fences. William Smith, caretaker, is usually around a part of the day, and the place is usually deserted after dark.

It is on the path to the "swimmin' hole" in a gravel pit behind it. Cemetery property owners made a plea that parents strictly warn their children not to throw stones at monuments while passing through the grounds.

If the wanton vandalism continues, lot owners warn that they will take prompt action.

LANGFIELDS COME HOME FROM 'BIGGEST' SHRINE CONVENTION

Full of enthusiasm about the Shriners' national convention in Washington, D. C., which they called the largest one ever held, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Langfield and son, Conrad E. Langfield, arrived home late Saturday night.

It was a full week for Mr. and Mrs. Langfield. Parades were held on three different days in which Mr. Langfield marched with 100,000 other Shriners. There were 100 bands in the [illegible] Monday, the whole procession being two and one-half miles long. The traditional line of march was from the White House along Pennsylvania avenue to the capitol.

Conrad Langfield was at the convention only three days. During the remainder of the week he stopped in the four largest cities of the country, New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Detroit as well as Pittsburgh, Baltimore, Washington and Brooklyn. The younger Mr. Langfield sent this latter information to The Record by a post card, and he also added that he had taken time during this week of seeing big cities to spend a full day in Northville.

WATSON WILL ENTER MOTORCYCLE RACES HELD AT KALAMAZOO

Jack Watson, Northville's ardent motorcyclist, will enter the races at Kalamazoo Saturday, riding on his new "bike," which he says "will really go."

He will enter three events there, including a two-hour endurance run.

Jack goes in for this sport in a big way, he says, often entering races. He takes much pride in his [illegible] motorcycle, and says he will buy one of the 1936 models as soon as they are announced.

He has entered in two other races already this year, including one at Saginaw, May 26 and another in Detroit May 12. In the latter race, he won the "booby" prize, constructed entirely from motorcycle parts. He says he hopes to do much better than that at Kalamazoo tomorrow.

HOLC APPLICATIONS DEADLINE JUNE 27

Home owners desiring to make new applications for HOLC loans should act promptly, Congressman George A. Dondero warned this week.

Under the terms of the law making available additional funds for the Home Owners Loan corporation new applications for loans may be accepted if made before June 27, 1935.

Persons whose applications have been declined because of lack of funds should promptly inquire as to the present status of their applications and take such steps as are recommended to insure proper consideration.

MASONIC PICNIC AT WALLED LAKE PARK TO START SATURDAY

Called the biggest Masonic event of its kind ever held in Michigan, the St. John's Day league will sponsor a picnic and celebration Saturday, Sunday and Monday, June 22, 23 and 24 at Walled Lake amusement park with 87 Blue lodges of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and parts of adjoining counties taking part.

The Northville lodge, No. 186, F. & A. M. is represented on the St. John's Day league by [illegible]. A large number of [illegible] persons expect to attend, local lodge members report.

The money raised from the affair will go to the maintenance of the Masonic Employment association, emergency relief, and the financing of the Home for the Aged at Alma, and the numerous other charities which the St. John's Day league supports. The Blue lodges of southeastern Michigan have merged their charity activities into this one body, organized for the purpose.

Committees from the lodges have planned a program of land and water sports, designed to have as many compete as possible. Included in the events will be a tug-of-war each day, as well as daily ball games and track and field events. There will also be a golf tournament Saturday morning.

One of the features of the program will be a bathing beauty contest at the beach. Kenneth Hull, past master of University lodge, has announced that entries will be received until tonight (Friday) at the league's office, 470 Temple avenue, Detroit. Entries made by mail must be accompanied by a photograph, he said.

REV. GILBERT NORTH DIES UNEXPECTEDLY SATURDAY MORNING

The Rev. Gilbert H. North, aged 63 years, the father of the Rev. Kendal S. North, died unexpectedly early Saturday morning, June 15, at Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania.

Mr. North was the former pastor of the Howard Baptist church in Port Huron, and built the Gospel tabernacle there, of which he was pastor for nine years. He was also the pastor of the Calvary Baptist church there in 1928 and 1929.

The news of his father's death reached Mr. North here Saturday morning, soon after it occurred, and he left soon afterwards for Port Huron, where the body was to come.

Besides his son, the late minister is survived by his widow, Mrs. Gilbert North, three other sons, Winston, Maynard and Bertram; and two grandchildren.

Mr. North had been working for several years as a Bible conference worker in Michigan, Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania.

He was well known in Northville where he had made many friends. For a period of several weeks last winter while his son was ill, Mr. North filled his pulpit here for him. He has also been here on numerous occasions.

BOOTH GOLF CLUB TO OPEN ON THURSDAY

Building Is Being Completed Now; Claim Course Is "One of Best"

Thursday, June 27, is the date set for the opening of the Booth Golf club on the Seven Mile road east of Northville, according to word received from Roy F. Booth, proprietor, Wednesday.

Finishing touches are being put on the new club house at the present time, and although it will not be entirely completed by Thursday, the course will open nevertheless, Mr. Booth said.

For the remainder of the season, the course will be open to the public, he said, with the payment of green fees the only cost for golf. Beginning next season, he said, members will be taken in, and it will then be operated as a private club.

Mr. Booth declared that those interested in the club believed it had as good a course as any around the Detroit district. "We have spent three years building it," he said, "and now we are pretty proud of it."

"Its 18 holes have a total of 6,850 yards," he explained, "with 72 as par, and there is not a weak hole there. You can use all your clubs on every one.

"The greens are unusually large, each averaging 6,500 square feet," he declared. "And there are seven water hazards on the course."

The club house will differ from most buildings of its kind, Mr. Booth said, in that it will be equipped throughout with a special acoustically treated material that will deaden all sound. This material is especially well adapted for artistic decorating, being easy to paint, he said.

In the ball room, this wall covering, which will take the place of plaster, will serve to carry the full [illegible] of the dance orchestras to [illegible] corner of the room. At the [illegible] end of the ball room a stage [illegible] orchestras will be built, [illegible] like a shell to help carry

DISTRICT TOURNEY AT MEADOWBROOK

Jack McLoughlin, One of 32 Qualifiers, Wins His First Match

With Jack McLoughlin winning his first match, 32 qualifiers in the Detroit District golf tournament teed off at Meadowbrook country club Wednesday into a stiff, chill wind and under cloudy skies.

McLoughlin won his first round match by defeating H. G. Taylor, 5-4. McLoughlin is a Meadowbrook member. He was scheduled to play Dan Huff in the second round Thursday.

McLoughlin qualified at 179 Tuesday and was placed in the second flight of players.

Chris Brinke of Oakland Hills was the low medalist of the tournament, getting a score of 150 in his qualifying round Tuesday. He won his first match Wednesday morning from Bob Howell of Plum Hollow, the score being 6-4, and then in his second round match in the after-

SUMMER COMES HERE TODAY AS SUN HITS PEAK

Summer though it may have lurked around for some time now, will arrive officially shortly before 12 o'clock noon today.

It is the occasion of the summer solstice, when the sun, in its diurnal, or apparent motion reaches its highest point in the heavens. Because of that fact, today is the longest day of the year. The shortest day, the winter solstice, comes December 21.

But summer or no, summer weather appears to have deserted Northville. The weather man predicts more rain today, but gives the faint encouragement that it may be "a little warmer." The rain at the first of the week was at one time nearly a foot deep on Main street, local persons report.

CASS BENTON PARK GETS RECORD CROWD

Four More Tennis Courts Will Be Built Soon, Officials Say

The largest crowd ever to throng to Cass Benton park on one day came there Sunday in spite of the threatening weather, according to Guy Hancock, chief park maintenance man.

More than one "group picnic" numbered several hundred people, he said, and the number attending another picnic was estimated at 800. All the parking space along the parkway drive was filled with cars, which overflowed on to the grounds at various points, he stated.

At Plymouth-Riverside park also many persons came out from Detroit Saturday and Sunday for picnics. On Saturday alone 2,000 people visited the park in five different picnic groups, park employes there said.

At Cass Benton park both the tennis courts and the baseball diamond were kept busy all day Sunday. Players were waiting to use the courts most of the time.

H. G. Smith, chief engineer for Wayne County, and his son came at 12 o'clock noon to play tennis, and were forced to wait for a court, Mr. Hancock said, and lost no time in expressing the opinion that more tennis courts were necessary there to handle the many players.

"I will see that there are four concrete tennis courts put in here soon," he said to Mr. Hancock, after he had finished his game. "I did not realize how much demand there is for tennis courts at this park."

"That means," Mr. Hancock said, afterward "that we shall surely have the new concrete courts, for all construction work of the county must be approved by Mr. Smith before being done. He will do something quickly, and once the men get started on the job, it will not take them long to finish. The space for the new courts is already graded."

Several shuffle-board courts will also be built in the park this summer, Mr. Smith said Sunday. Men were already there this week planning where they should be laid, Mr. Hancock said.

BAKE SALE SATURDAY

Mrs. Adelle Brock's circle of the Presbyterian Woman's Union will hold a baked goods sale at the C. R. Smith store Saturday, June 29.

TAX RATE IN NORTHVILLE IS REDUCED

Caused by Personal Taxable Property Increase, Says Blackburn

The 1935 tax roll, which reduces the tax rate from $19.70 to $19.48 per thousand, was unanimously accepted by the village council at its meeting Monday night.

The tax roll was presented by Assessor Charles L. Blackburn. The entire village budget, recently determined by the commission, is $50,000, the same amount estimated one year ago as needed to meet expenses.

This figure includes $18,800 for the general tax fund, $16,200 for the general highway fund and $15,000 for interest and the sinking fund, Mr. Blackburn said.

Asked how the tax rate had been reduced, he replied that there was more personal taxable property in the village this year than last year.

Mr. Blackburn expressed the belief that the residents here are a little better able to pay their taxes this year than they have been in recent years. Some have already come to him at his home and asked if he would accept payment of their taxes, he declared.

Included in the other business of the commission Monday evening was the decision to pay $1,000 in interest on fire bonds owned by the village.

The commission also voted to pay a salary of $500 to Mr. Blackburn for his work on the tax roll.

BLOOM QUITS BANK; PLANS TO BECOME INSURANCE AGENT

Harold Bloom, whose resignation as clerk and teller in the Depositors State Bank became effective last Saturday, will go into the insurance business here, he said Wednesday night.

Mr. Bloom resigned, he said, because he believed that the field of insurance offers him a wider opportunity. He will handle his insurance business from his home temporarily, he announced.

Mr. Bloom was with the former Northville State Savings Bank six years. He worked under the receivership for approximately a year and a half, and has been employed by the Depositors State bank since its organization in 1933.

1,500 TO WITNESS TRAINING SCHOOL EXERCISES SUNDAY

Nearly 1,500 parents and public officials from all over Michigan are expected to attend the Children's day exercises Sunday afternoon at the Wayne County training school.

Training school officials said this week that 2,000 invitations had been mailed.

The formal part of the program is an operetta, "The Land of Dreams Come True," which will be given at 2:30 p. m. in the school auditorium with 151 children taking part. An operetta was chosen for the program, it was pointed out, because it will give a large number of children an opportunity to demonstrate their musical as well as dramatic ability.

Following the operetta the visitors will be free to visit the cottages where they will have an opportunity to see the children personally, the buildings in which they live and study, and the grounds around the school.

There will also be an exhibit in the school building of the handiwork done there during the past year by the children.

More than 50 Boy Scouts of the training school went on the annual Scout Commissioner's "boat-hike" to Put-In-Bay Saturday, June 15, along with about 10,000 other Scouts from the Detroit district.

Sixty-four Catholic children were confirmed Sunday at the training school by Bishop Joseph C. Plagens of the Diocese of Detroit.

Staff Members of The Fluoroscope Tell Rotary Club How This Magazine Has Become One of Best in Its Field

The story of how the Fluoroscope is edited and published each month was told at the Rotary club Tuesday by the staff of the magazine.

The Fluoroscope, considered one of the finest magazines of its kind in the country, is published monthly by the patients of Wm. H. Maybury Sanatorium, Herman Keifer hospital, Detroit; Detroit Sanatorium, Detroit, and Leland Sanatorium of Ypsilanti.

The interesting thing about the magazine is the fact that the entire magazine is published each month by patients who are compelled to work very limited hours and in most cases by individuals who have never before had editing or advertising experience.

The editor-in-chief, Walter Jasinski, was introduced and in turn presented to the club members of his staff.

The Fluoroscope was first published four years ago in four pages with no advertising—the May 1935 issue consisted of 18 pages and had ample advertising to make the publication self-sustaining.

Elias Finn, associate editor, stated that there are twenty reporters who collect the material for the magazine each month. "In addition," he declared, "we have a circulation manager and two subscription men." Not only do they have a large mailing list of subscribers but a great many magazines are sold in the four sanatoriums each month, he stated. "It is noteworthy," explained Mr. Finn, "that we have increased our circulation 200 in the last five months."

Lee Hutchinson, who is the advertising manager, took the occasion to thank the merchants of Northville for their splendid cooperation in making the magazine possible by their advertising. A shopping service, stated Mr. Hutchinson, has

In Which the Law Catches Up with Bennie, Kenneth and Elmer, 'Who Just Wanted to Have Some Fun with Tar'

Local Detroit Edison Company officials, the law, and a large group of spectators were all excited last Saturday morning. And the object of their excitement was three names, Benny, Kenneth and Elmer, scrawled in tar, on the Center street sidewalk in front of the Edison office.

So the hunt for Bennie, Kenneth and Elmer started. Chief William Safford tore out down Center street in police car number one. Street Commissioner Earl Montgomery dashed up Center street in police car number two. District Manager Edward L. Millis, William R. Lyons, and other Edison dignitaries stood out in front, nervously glancing at the scraggly ones of tar on their sidewalk and pacing up and down. Spectators gathered. Cars stopped. And they were all gazing in apparent wonder at the handiwork of Benny, Kenneth and Elmer.

Northville's dragnet was cast, and the firm, long arm of the law reached out—and took hold of Benny, Kenneth and Elmer, who "just wanted to have some fun with tar," and who were entirely oblivious of the tremendous excitement they had generated.

The law was firm. Benny, Kenneth and Elmer, laughing a bit shame-facedly—perhaps at their extremely poor penmanship—got down on their knees and began to obliterate their art. And as the warm morning wore on, they scrubbed harder and harder, braving the taunts of their fellow schoolboys, until where once had been "Benny, Kenneth and Elmer," was only a smudge. And everybody was satisfied.

Everybody, that is, except Bennie Kenneth and Elmer, who found out that "crime" doesn't pay—especially when you sign your name to the job.

RETURN OF SALOON IS PREDICTED

"We predict the eventual return to some form of the old saloon."

This statement was made in the editorial columns of the Detroit News in its issue of June 14. Then the News went on to say that this would be better than the present system. We agree with the News. The present system of beer gardens is terrible, especially in the metropolitan centers where young people gather and spend many hours of the night.

The old time saloon went under its true colors. Women shunned it—in fact few decent women were ever seen in one. For a child to be seen there was a disgrace and called down public wrath. Then the old time saloon had some semblance of closing hours. There were a few "good" saloon keepers but in general the saloon keeper's children were ashamed of their father's business—public sentiment saw to that. Saloons were segregated in certain parts of the town.

What do we have now under the present system since repeal of prohibition? We have beer gardens everywhere. Women, girls and children visit them. There are barmaids — unknown before prohibition, as the News says. There is that vicious combination — dancing and drinking. Then there is that even worse by-product of the beer garden—the renting of rooms to those of both sexes who have been drinking. One needs little imagination to picture the moral degradation that follows. The women who consorted with the old time saloon followers were mostly prostitutes.

A system that is calling for protests from the big city dailies is certainly one that is bad.

Then listen to this from no less an authority than the chairman of the State Liquor Control Commission, John S. McDonald:

"The liquor business is crooked, and you can't make it straight." Mr. McDonald should know—he is in contact with the liquor crowd.

Men are going to keep on drinking—and there are some who can drink in moderation. But the association of money with the liquor business has brought in a vast line of evils—such evils that called forth the Detroit News editorial. If the liquor business can be made straight, then the only solution is to make it as straight as is possible. That is the problem that is facing us—and no one who knows conditions in Wayne county is "kidding" himself into thinking that the solution of the present deplorable conditions is going to be easy.

One thing certainly should be done, and that is the confinement of liquor selling places to business areas. The moral ruin that is being spread by beer gardens scattered throughout the open country is simply appalling. We understand that the liquor control authorities are aware of this very evil tendency and are working on some plan to remove the beer gardens from outside of cities and villages. More power to them!

"Will the old time saloon come back?" There are plenty of indications that point that way.

THE BALLY-HOO OF PRIZE FIGHTING

Speaking of last week's "lousy" prize fight, Malcolm Bingay says in his "Good Morning" column in the Detroit Free Press:

"This heavyweight championship is strictly the bunk and always has been." The brilliant Bingay goes on to salute the new champion as "Big Bum Braddock" and to call the defeated clown "the odious person, Maxie Baer." A couple of "sweet" heroes as it were.

Well, who makes these bum heroes? No one except the great city papers. The public seems to be so crazy for a hero and for the thought of a bloody fight some where, that these city dailies get together and bally-hoo to the skies a fight between a dock walloper and the cheap follower of the night life. No wonder we are called a nation of half-morons. This exaltation of a cheap prize fight between a couple of very ordinary human beings shows to what lengths big city papers will go to sell their product. It would be disgusting if it were not so amusing.

TWO FINE INSTITUTIONS

Ever stop to appreciate the fine fact that Northville has two greenhouses? In many towns the people have to go to nearby places to get their flowers.

If you never thought about it before, why not tell the flower men that you are glad they are in Northville and that you wish them good luck. They will appreciate it.

There are so many good things in our community that we sort of get in the habit of taking them for granted. It does us all good once in a while to take time to show a little appreciation for all the blessings that are showered around us.

WE WELCOME ANOTHER FRIEND

A good Record patron came in on Saturday morning, June 15, handed us twenty-five dollars, good American money (and checks) and said:

"I read that editorial of yours about a man being a real friend who pays you money when you need it. So put me on the list."

Friends, that brightened up another day—and the memory of such thoughtfulness lingers. Then in just another half-hour a hard-headed man of the town came in and lay on our desk a beautiful rose. "You think so much of flowers, Dick," he said, "just put that on your desk."

It is still a good world—and June in Michigan takes off its hat to nothing or nobody in the whole wide world, not even to lovely California, with its marvelous roses and orange blossoms.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

More deadly than war—the modern automobile.

Northville's new furniture plant will be a splendid help to the community.

A prediction: The coming Northville Wayne County fair will be the best ever held.

Cutting of some overhanging branches would help on some parts of some Northville streets.

These thrilling productions of "Opera Under the Stars" are less than an hour of riding from Northville's front door. See one before the season (12 weeks) is over.

Abraham Lincoln had $601 in the bank when he was elected president. Yet he started with less than nothing. Keep your eye on Northville young men and women who early start saving their money. They won't become presidents but they will get somewhere.

Northville folks who drive into Detroit will appreciate this: Plans are under way to make one-way streets of many highways and minor streets. Another move in the war on traffic congestion is the designating of four miles of John R street as a "no parking" thoroughfare. Now if they will stop the double parking of big trucks on Grand River avenue we shall have a better chance to get down town.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

THE TIME IS HERE!

(Fred D. Keister in the Ionia County News)

The Baldwin-Dunckle bill, making it a felony to publicly advocate overthrow of government by force, has been signed by Governor Fitzgerald and is now a part of Michigan's criminal code. We seem to have traveled a long way down the road when it becomes necessary to enact that sort of legislation, but to anyone who has taken the trouble to search into "Red" activities in this State the need for such legislation becomes adequately clear in the average mind. Michigan is one of the great States of the Union. It was founded by a liberty-loving people who sought here inside the Inland Seas a place where the greatest expression of freedom for the individual might be found. In each ensuing struggle to maintain the liberty of a people Michigan has given freely of her sons and her resources. Her record stands supreme among the sister states. With such a glorious past it is but small wonder that the descendants of those patriotic pioneers denounce as un-American communistic activities of every kind. The sooner we realize the danger confronting free institutions the sooner will these agitators who are here to cause trouble be driven outside our gates. It is not a time for compromise—it is a time for ACTION!

TOWNSEND PLAN NOT DEAD

(Joe Haas in Holly Herald)

The politicians who think that the Townsend plan was put away for good in this session of Congress have another guess coming.

Its supporters are now more active than ever before, and the question will be a big issue in next year's general election, unless it is sooner settled. The agitation is sure to bring about an old age pension system that will be fair and equitable, and clear our country of the stigma of being far behind other civilized nations in providing for our needy aged.

The Townsend agitation has already done some good in killing off other visionary and impossible pension schemes which usually originated in the minds of unscrupulous politicians who would play with human misery in order to gain their own selfish ends. Conspicuous in this latter class is Michigan's own disgraceful old age pension law which is a fair sample of the work of the Legislature that passed it.

SHARE WHOSE WEALTH?

(W. S. Kennedy in the Albion Evening Recorder)

Under the above caption, the Iola (Kan.) Daily Register introduces some highly pertinent questions and comment relative to the share-the-wealth theories that are being propounded via soap-box platform, radio, pamphlet and whatever other methods that offer "circulation."

"Considering the number of Huey Long clubs and Townsend Plan clubs and other organizations that are bobbing up all over the country all having the same object in view, namely to take money from those who have it and give it to those have it not, (reversing the dictum of Jesus that the capital of the 'unprofitable servant' should be taken from him and given to the man who had shown he knew how to use it), it becomes interesting to inquire whose wealth it is that is to be shared."

Answering the question thus raised, the Kansas editor directs attention to the fact that in 1932, the bottom of the depression, there were 44,000,000 savings deposits in banks in the United States, representing aggregate deposits of $24,000,000,000; that in the same year there were 1,545,000 postal savings depositors with deposits of $1,185,000,000, and 10,000,000 members of building and loan associations with assets of $8,000,000,000. These would total 55,000,000 persons, owning $55,000,000,000. When insurance policy holders are added, the grand total represents assets of approximately half the nation's total wealth. And that does not take into account homes, farms, and other property that is owned by millions of individuals.

"Figures such as these, taken from official sources, make the loose talk we hear so often about 2 or 3 of 5 per cent of the people owning 70 or 80 per cent of the wealth of the country sound like the silly nonsense it is.

"All of which means that the man who wants to get his share of the wealth must get out and hustle for it—not sit around with his hands folded waiting for Huey Long or some other Santa Claus to bring it around and stuff it in his stocking."

HOW PEOPLE MAKE GOOD

(R. G. Jeffries in the Lowell Ledger)

There are some people who seem invariably to make good in any kind of employment. Whatever job they may take, they have a way of pleasing the people they work for, or to whom they sell things. What is the secret of their success?

The cordial smile, the personal recognition, the warm handshake, have a good deal to do with it. People like enthusiasm, and folks that show it are magnetic. But it takes something more than magnetism to make good in any occupation. People must give the impression that they are making a sincere effort to serve the interest of the people with whom they deal.

An attitude of indifference is deadly. The successful salesman makes every customer feel that a special effort is being made to please him, and that spirit wins in every kind of occupation.

LIFE'S REAL VALUES

(Woodrow Wilson in "When a Man Comes to Himself")

No thoughtful man ever came to the end of his life and had time and a little space of calm from which to look back upon it, who did not know and acknowledge that it was what he had done unselfishly and for others, and nothing else, that satisfied him in retrospect, and made him feel that he had played the man. That alone seems to him the real measure of himself, the real standard of his manhood. And so men grow by having responsibility laid upon them, the burden of other people's business. Their powers are put out at interest, and they get usury in kind. They are like men multiplied. Each counts manifold. Men who live with an eye upon what is their own are dwarfed beside them—seem fractions while they are integers. The trustworthiness of men trusted seems often to grow with the trust.

A WOEBY OF 40 YEARS AGO

(M. H. De Foe in the Charlotte Republican-Tribune)

Speed is evidently a relative matter and apparently every generation is unduly worried about the danger of new methods of transportation. This paragraph from the 40 year ago column of the Eaton Rapids Journal is a close at hand illustration of this perennial worry:

The Journal suggests, in view of accidents occurring by careless cyclers, that each bicycle be numbered and registered in the owner's name and a small fee charged for registration with the city authorities.

COMPLAINTS ABOUT THE PAPER

(C. S. Seed in the Rochester Clarion)

We like the newspaper game. We love to write on certain topics and about certain things. We catch heck lots of times but we grow fat on that. Ninety-eight per cent of the fault-finding is from non-subscribers and those whose subscriptions are in arrears. Here in our little hick town we have them down pat; nevertheless we like the game.

THANK THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

(Ingham County News)

The Michigan Bell Telephone company is deserving of praise in carrying out its present newspaper advertising campaign designed to sell Michigan's recreational advantages to Michigan people. The campaign directly benefits every Michigan business man in anyway connected with the resort and tourist industry and that means just about all of us.

'White's 1935 Scandals' Here This Week; 'It Happened in New York' Comes to Local Theatre Wednesday

Hats off to that prince of showmen, George White!

"George White's 1935 Scandals," a splendid sunburst of a spectacle, starts its long-heralded engagement at the Penniman-Allen theater today, Friday, June 21.

There's something new under the sun after all. This is it!

It's hard to begin praising, when half a dozen different things clamor for instant mention.

There's the story, first of all, rich and arresting.

Then there's the brilliant all-star cast of singers, actors and dancers, each one fit to dominate a picture. What talent! There's Alice Faye, James Dunn, Ned Sparks, Lyda Roberti, Cliff Edwards, Arline Judge, Eleanor Powell, Emma Dunn, Benny Rubin, and George White himself.

Tuneful songs by Broadway's ace composers, stud this 1935 issue, which starts where last year's edition left off.

Glamour is lent by 200 talented beauties, each hand-picked by George White, in their 1,000 gorgeous costumes designed by Charles LeMaire, who is so good that Paris couturiers give him commissions.

The entire Fox Film was conceived, produced and directed by George White.

"George White's 1935 Scandals" provides clean sparkling entertainment for every member of the family.

A firm believer in the "straight" form of camera work in a motion picture, as opposed to the "trick" photography professed by many European directors, is Alan Crosland, director of "It Happened in New York," Universal's stirring romantic screen drama at the Penniman-Allen theatre on Wednesday, June 26th.

Proper illumination in a motion picture is as important as diction is in speech. Nothing is quite so tiresome as watching a parade of shadowy effects and other camera tricks extraneous to the plot of the story. Photography is apt to prove dull and lifeless unless it embodies well-balanced lights.

In making "It Happened in New York" Crosland made use of contrasting degrees of lights before employing the proper one in any particular scene. In a scene where Gertrude Michael wears a particularly bright and impressive costume the director spent much time on the lighting in order to bring out every feature of the dress and its appurtenances.

In "It Happened in New York" Miss Michael is cast as a temperamental movie star who involves Lyle Talbot, playing a tough and ready taxi-driver in an affair that almost breaks up his happiness with Heather Angel his sweetheart in the story. The plot is most intriguing and the dialogue is fast and clever, with many humorous situations.

Christian Science Churches

"Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, June 23.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 97:1, 2): "The Lord reigneth; let the earth rejoice; let the multitude of isles be glad thereof. Clouds and darkness are round about him: righteousness and judgment are the habitation of his throne."

Corrective passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.269): "Mind, supreme over all its formations and governing them all, is the central sun of its own systems of ideas, the life and light of all its own vast creation; and man is tributary to divine Mind."

First Presbyterian Church

Harold G. Whitfield, Minister

The use we make of the Sabbath day is a very fair criterion of our religious faith. It is a day of rest and gladness and our civilization gives what is best in it to this day and all that it signifies. Greatest of all its blessings is the opportunity for the contemplation of the spiritualities that undergird life and give meaning and purpose and direction to life. Please consider, members and friends of the church, and ask yourself what would happen if everyone used this day as you do. We do not want a return of the strict Puritanic observance but parks and amusement places crowded and the churches empty or nearly so betoken an ebbing spirituality and are indicative of a condition which ought to fill every thinking person with alarm. We appeal to your good sense and better judgment and leave the answer with you—there is no compulsion more effective in this relation than the moral.

Morning worship service at 10:00.

Church school at 12 noon.

Salem Federated Church

June 23rd, 10:30 o'clock, "A Dangerous Conference" will be the subject of a heart-searching message.

Mid-week prayer meeting is held at 7:30 o'clock every Wednesday evening in the church parlor.

Does your baby have curly hair? Are his eyes bright blue or very dark brown? Perhaps he is remarkable in many ways so enter him in the baby show to be held in the Federated church at the all-day celebration to be held in Salem on the Fourth of July. The baby show will begin at 2 o'clock and there will be doctors and nurses in charge. Ask Mrs. Myrlan Lyke or Mrs. Cyril Spike for details. All babies under three years of age are eligible and the entry fee is twenty-five cents.

Church of Our Lady of Victory

The Altar society met at the home of Mrs. Terrill last Tuesday afternoon. Items of special interest to the ladies of the parish were discussed.

Sunday is ladies' Holy Communion day at the 7:30 o'clock Mass. Frequent Holy Communion makes for better moral stamina. In the Gospel of John, chapter 6, verse 53, Christ said, "Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink His blood, ye have no life in you." Poor moral decisions deprive one of moral life.

A benefit dance for the Walled Lake chapel is being given at the New Casino on Wednesday night, June 26.

We remind the parishioners of the Seminary assessment. There are just two weeks left for this. Please assist church trustees in getting in your contribution at once. The church trustees are Chas. Lefevre, Alfred Heatley, Thos. McCardle, E. J. VerDuyn, and Frank Schwartz.

St. Paul's Lutheran

"And Zacchaeus stood, and said unto the Lord; Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken anything from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold." Luke 19:8.

We shall do well to notice carefully how Zacchaeus began his new life. It was by admitting the Lord Jesus Christ first into his home, and then into his life.

There is a danger that those of us who are reared in Christian families and under the protection and environment of the Church may think that this is enough. The Lord Jesus is known to us. We hear His name mentioned frequently. We study about His life. We meet together in church with others who worship Him. We say our prayers to Him. And yet, somehow or other, He never gets down to where we live. He never becomes a vital part of our individual personal lives. Until He does He cannot be the strength and help and power in our lives that He so much wants to be.

We should notice too, that Zacchaeus did not hurry home to get ready for the Lord Jesus. He accepted Him into his home just as he was without any preparation. If we can learn this truth it will save us many mistakes. We cannot get ready for the Lord Jesus. He alone can straighten out these hearts of ours and clean them up. What a shame it is to keep Him waiting outside while we try to do the very thing that He longs to come in and do for us!

Then, notice that Zacchaeus did not realize how sinful he was until after Christ has entered his home. Doubtless when he was in the sycamore tree he thought he was a pretty clever and smart man. He probably was not directly conscious of any real need in his life. But how differently he saw himself when he sat at the table with the Lord Jesus!

Are you willing to make this test? Perhaps you may think that you are all right—that you do not need the Lord Jesus in your life, and that you are strong enough to stand in face of temptations. But will you, like Zacchaeus, throw open the door and invite the Lord Jesus in and let Him show you what your real needs are? If you will you may have the joy that Zacchaeus had and the same assurance of salvation from your Lord and Master that came to this despised tax-collector.

Lord, I come to Thee for rest,
Take possession of my breast.

The hour for worship and Sunday school is 10 o'clock. The pastor will preach.

The entire congregation will have a Pot Luck outing on Wednesday, June 26th, beginning at 6 o'clock at Cass Benton Park. We hope that all members who possibly can as well as their friends will be present.

All strangers and visitors in the community are cordially invited to our services.

HERE ARE 6 things we want you to prove for yourself ON A TRIAL ELECTRIC RANGE

There is only one way to find out about an electric range, and that is to use it in your own kitchen. Here are six things we want you to prove for yourself—to judge whether electric cooking is not superior to any other cooking method you have ever used:

1. BETTER FLAVOR. Electric cooking seals in delicious natural flavor in foods. Meats and vegetables cook to melting tenderness in their own juices.
2. HEALTHFULNESS. Half-a-cup of water is ample to cook vegetables. Precious minerals and important food values are retained, instead of being lost in steam or poured down the sink with excess water.
3. CLEANLINESS. Electric heat is as clean as sunlight. There is no smoke or soot to blacken utensils or soil kitchen walls and curtains.
4. CONVENIENCE. Snap the switch and start to cook. No matches, no flame—only pure heat from a glowing wire.
5. ACCURATE OVEN CONTROL. Exact oven heat control means better and more uniform baking results. Light, fine-grained cakes and flaky pastries are easy to obtain, time after time.
6. MODERN COOKING. Only an electric range is a modern range. Other stoves use exactly the same cooking methods in vogue 50 years ago.

We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, so that you may give it a thorough trial. During this trial period you simply pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense. Send in your application for a trial range today!

A study of one thousand families using an electric range showed a cooking cost of LESS THAN 1¢ A MEAL A PERSON

THE TALK OF THE TOWN

Sports in the Spotlight

Northville takes its recreation—and particularly its active sports—quite seriously.

Last week the twilight league got under way at the high school playground with eight teams beginning competition for the pennant, cup, or whatever it happens to be. Nearly 100 of the young blood of the town are taking part in these games, and that means a pretty good cross section of our daring young men.

In the one game we were privileged to watch, the Rev. Leo Eickstaedt, pitcher for the Orioles, and Ted Watts, high school athletic coach, pitcher for the Owens, were engaged in a fierce hurling duel. Mr. Eickstaedt showed the spectators that he is an athlete as well as a preacher. Ted was not doing so badly either, burning that ball across the plate with regularity. The Owens finally won the game, but only after a spectacular seventh inning. The crowds at these games will increase to large proportions soon, we are sure.

Tennis is Popular

And baseball is not all! Tennis seems to be increasing in popularity too. On Sunday there was quite a gathering from Northville at the Cass Benton park courts. Orlow G. Owen and Mr. M. C. Gunsell were seen in the morning engaging Mr. Gunsell and Roland Morris in a fast game of doubles. Mrs. Gunsell and Orlow seemed to have the advantage, at least when we noticed their game.

On another court Dr. H. I. Sparling and Frank B. Knight were playing some singles to work off some of that extra poundage.

At the same time Nelson C. Schrader, Jr. and Dick Kerr were enjoying a nice friendly game. N. C. Schrader was there too, watching his son play.

Clarence Teeple and Maurice Hagemaster were there too, and played no less than five sets.

Frances and Eunice Cousins came a little later to play a nice sisterly game. And still another match was between Harry Richardson and Fred Casterline.

Dick Shipley was playing with this writer, probably because he wanted to take his mind off all those exams he was to take this week at Ypsi. The tough part of it was that all of the other college people from other schools were already home for the summer, with no more economics or chemistry assignments to worry about until next fall.

And these were only a portion of the crowd that came to play. Others arrived later in the day, and if we tried to list them all it would take space and more space. See you next week.

Mrs. Edith Rhodes McKenna, dietician at the sanatorium, was hostess, assisted by Superintendent Dr. H. S. Willis and Mrs. Willis.

Steak was cooked over the camp stoves and the delicious dinner contained all proper number of calories and vitamins that dieticians should have.

Retiring to the sanatorium after a pleasant time in the park the association held its annual business meeting. Mrs. Alice Smith of Detroit succeeded Dr. Helen Huncher as the new president, Dr. Huncher being honored with a corsage of gardenias presented with a speech of appreciation for her work accomplished.

An hour of real fun playing games was enjoyed and the evening was concluded with refreshments. This will be the final regular meeting of the year, the summer picnic with the families of the members falling in July.

King's Daughters Picnic Cozily In Grennan Cabin—

The harder it rained the cozier did the interior of the cabin at the Grennan ranch seem to the large party of King's Daughters who held their annual picnic there Tuesday afternoon.

A great log burning merrily in the stone fireplace and the cordial greeting of "Mother" Grennan, who was assisted by Mrs. Jos. Denton, put all the guests at ease and prepared them for one of the pleasantest afternoons they had ever enjoyed.

Between cozy chats informal games were enjoyed, arranged by Mrs. LeRoy Stewart.

At five o'clock long tables were spread with the inviting feast with Mrs. H. B. Richardson presiding over the serving, assisted by Miss Jessie Roe, Mrs. Geo. Alexander, Miss Inez Bryan and Mrs. L. L. Vradenburg.

After dinner the party gathered around the fire for the final business meeting of the year when a survey was taken of the work accomplished and plans for sending girls to the summer camp were discussed, Mrs. Herman Berendt presiding.

Mizpah circle was especially honored in having as its guest, State President Mrs. Fred T. Lockwood of Jackson who spoke informally, giving such information as to increase the appreciation for this organization which had begun fifty years ago and had continued to extend its worth-while work through 42 states and to almost every nation.

"There are 4,000 King's Daughters in Michigan," said Mrs. Lockwood, "and the society includes all sects and denominations—the only requirement being that they work not for self but with the motto in mind 'In His Name'."

In parting for the summer the members sang "God be with You Till We Meet Again" with Mrs. W. E. Forney at the piano.

Thanks were expressed to Phil Grennan and his mother for their hospitality in offering the use of the lodge.

Camp Fire Girls Gather for Ceremony at McLoughlin Home—

Monday evening the Camp Fire girls gathered in the recreation room at the J. N. McLoughlin residence for their second council fire this year. It was held for the purpose of welcoming the Camp Wakiya group, which has just been recently formed, and their guardian, Mrs. Garrett Barry.

These girls fulfilled one of their woodgatherer's requirements by explaining their chosen Indian names and symbols. They were Edith Amerman, Beebe Johnson, Margie Parmenter, Marilyn Gunsell, Dorothy Jane Congo, Dorothy VanValkenburgh, Betty Lou Hollis, Phyllis Jones and Betty Barry.

The council fire was opened by the Wohelo call given by Mrs. Burkart, guardian of the Waziyata group. This was followed by the processional. The girls then greeted their guardians with the hand-sign and repeated the Camp Fire law.

The girls seated themselves in a large circle around the fireplace. The fire lighting ceremony followed with Jean Lyke lighting the light of work, Marjorie Chase the light of health and Geraldine Johnston the light of love. As the flames began leaping up the girls all sang "Burn, Fire, Burn."

The girls of the Wakiya group then explained their names and symbols.

A quartet composed of Vivian Grosvenor, Louise Alexander, Pat McLoughlin and Shirley Condit sang "Beauty Stands at the Crossroad," and Janet Stewart gave a brief outline of the life of Clara Barton.

Awarding of honors then followed. Those receiving honors were: Laura Bolton, Lucille Lapham, Maxine Ware, Jeanne Atchison, Doris Hogan, Jean Saley, Kathryn Marburger, Vivian Grosvenor, Louise Alexander, Janet Stewart, Marie Angove and Pat McLoughlin.

"The Woodgatherer's Song" was then sung by Maxine Ware, Doris Hogan, Laura Bolton, Jean Saley, Lucille Lapham, Kathryn Marburger and Jeanne Atchison. These girls repeated the Woodgatherer's Desire and their guardian bestowed the Woodgatherer's rank upon them.

The entire group sang the "Woodgatherer's Song." Mrs. H. H. Burkart then presented Woodgatherer's rings to the girls who had just attained this rank.

The council fire was closed with the clasping of hands and singing "Taps."

Refreshments were served to complete the evening.

The many friends of Mrs. Lucinda Christy will be glad to know that she is making most remarkable recovery from a serious fracture suffered several weeks ago. She is still a patient in the University hospital where she is still lying in a fracture bed but she is gradually being lowered to a more comfortable position. Mrs. Christy is so uncomplaining and cheerful that she is a favorite with many doctors and nurses who marvel at the recovery which seems quite miraculous at her advanced age.

John Kalbfleisch had a small circus all his own the other day when a white squirrel appeared mysteriously in his yard at his home west of town. Frisking about for more than an hour the squirrel gradually became so used to the presence of Mr. Kalbfleisch that it allowed him to come within a short distance of him until a red squirrel appeared on the scene and the two staged a "free for all" fight in which the white squirrel was finally routed.

His Day

Sunday, June 16, was "Father's Day." Not very much fuss made about father, it seems.

Who wore a carnation in his honor? or wrote home or sent a phonograph? Yet all the newspaper advertisements urged everyone to "Remember Mother."

Father's Day seemed as a secondary thought, as if some one, a bit more sentimental, started the idea by saying "after honoring Mother so much it seems as if we really should do something for poor old Dad."

At our house father was quite surprised to find some useful summer sox and shaving soap at his place at the breakfast table—(paid for with his own money). But he acted pleased especially with the yellow rose stuck jauntily in the bow and the sentiment on the card. Yes, we think he was very much pleased to have a little show of love come sifting through the days of strenuous toil for these young folks who mean more than life to him but who forget that dad does like to know that they care.

No one denies that most mothers earn all the love that falls to them but upon the high pinnacle of reverence there should be room to crowd dear old dad.

Mother gets all the fun of raising the children. Through all those years when she is cuddling her babies, bathing them and glorying in their loveliness, dressing them, feeding them, comforting small hurts and settling "squabbles," laughing at their cute ways, father is off early and late earning the money for bread, rent and endless shoes.

Too often his sole relation in the family is the family spanker ("just wait till your father comes home!") or he is the one who can "gimme a nickle." He does not know his children as mother does and he wishes he did. He feels awkward if he tries to be affectionate.

Our father austere-appearing father-in-law once surprised us by saying "I wish I had your gift of expression. I love my children more than they will ever know but I don't know how to tell them so."

The tragedy of father's life is that he rarely knows how much he is loved unless he lives until his children too are parents.

Edgar Guest voiced the feeling of many of us when he said:

"Used to wonder just why father
Never had much time to play,
Used to wonder why he'd rather
Work each moment of the day.

And that I might be the reason
Then I never even guessed."

We are glad that father, as well as mother, has his day while he can know that his children care.

Strawberry Delight

Cut fine ½ box strawberries, sprinkle with sugar and let stand in a colander to drain. Dissolve a package of strawberry gelatine according to directions on box. When cool, measure the juice from the strained strawberries and add enough cold water to make ½ pint and turn into dissolved gelatine. Whip until the thickness of whipped cream and fold in the strawberries. Serve in tall glasses and garnish with berries.

Raspberry Banana Dessert

A delicious, simple dessert may be made at this season by combining mashed sweetened raspberries with sliced bananas. A tablespoon of lemon juice adds to the flavor. Serve in sherbet glasses.

Strawberry Tarts

For a change from short cake, strawberry tarts will be a treat. Make tarts as usual. When baked fill with crushed, sweetened berries. Top with whipped cream and put a whole berry on top.

Oh ignoming, ignoming! Where are thy deputs? Death, fate, defeat, where is (are) thy sting (s)? Harrison admitted, however reluctantly, that we are not a bad egg at that. (See Talk of the Town, June 14, page 3, Record).

All of which brings up the subject of eggs, to which there is more than the Town Talker realizes. For instance, when is an egg not an egg? And just because one is not a bad egg, is he necessarily a good egg? And furthermore there are bad eggs and there are bad eggs.

And does Harrison know the difference between an egg? He does not. He should stick to his own field, which is er——

As mentioned, we broke our vow never to write another "column" in self defense—we were attack. You have only Harrison to blame.

"TH," SAID MR. HEARST

We swear that the following is absolutely true:

We were up in the editorial offices of the Detroit Times, that gigantic edifice of Hearstism, recently waiting patiently to see a man. R. S. Lapping, city editor, was having a rather heated argument with an advertising manager.

"But Mr. Hearst won't like it," we could not help but hear the advertising manager shout.

"Hearst," snorted the angry Lapping. "The hell with that censored, censored censored."

A tall, grey-haired gentleman who had been studying a map near the city desk, wheeled. "Eh," he said, mildly.

Lapping gave one look, flushed, and turned pale. "Er, hello, boss," he returned weakly.

The tall gentleman, a slight smile on his lips, walked slowly out of the city room, swinging his cane.

It was William Randolph Hearst.

THIS WEEK

By H. H. WHITE

Not long ago I was reading a series of lectures on philosophy and life and in one of them the writer said "it is hardly necessary to state that the natural goodness of man is as unpsychological as that of his total depravity."

I firmly believe we are changing our mode and manner of thinking today in this respect about mankind and considering the fact that some men are better than others and relatively worse. This is true by virtue of the nature and achievements of the good and bad.

Until recently it would seem that philosophers and thinkers have emphasized the similarity of mankind in his makeup and now the tendency seems to be with the more modern philosophers to point out the contrasts—as for instance what is brought out by health culturists and advocates of social and sex hygienists. Even in experimental psychology we find tests are being made by which differences may be graded and classified as to man's superiority or the converse.

"Goodness, that is the possession of it, has to do with intelligence, because goodness is fundamentally intelligent behavior. In so many of us will be found anti-social impulses and desires, if the truth were revealed. Unless these are repressed in an adequate fashion and controlled by proper habit-formations there is quite apt to be trouble in our social contacts. We then become enemies to society at its best.

Thus the individual in his relaton to society must construct from the material of such anti-social traits a personality by which he may become a free moral agent in civilization. This will only be accomplished by the individual controlling himself.

THE VOICE OF THE PULPIT IN NORTHVILLE

By Rev. H. G. Whitfield

If one is to judge of the place the church occupies in the world today by the attitude and behaviour of the average person, he is forced to the conclusion that the church and its message count for little. Even nominal Christians and church members seem to lack the passion that is indicative of a high appreciation of the church's worth. Thus, it seems to me, that time and effort spent in discovering the gospel's value for this age, is time and pains well spent.

We do well to recall the fact that the church has persisted through the ages and its message has not only been the inspiration of the world's benefactors but the allegiance of the worthiest individuals is given to it. One very striking characteristic is its power to "come back"—that power of recuperation. Again and again, in its history it has seemed to be dead and done for, but it has not succumbed. There is something undying about it, which ought to be obvious to every impartial student of history and which should be a source of great joy to every follower of the lowly but victorious Nazarine.

Why imperishable? Simply because of the inherent vitality of the gospel and its ability to meet the deepest and most clamant needs of man. Religion is now admitted, by psychologists to have very important positive results and despite the fact that it is denied, ignored and ridiculed in many quarters, the church claims that the religion of Jesus is eminently fitted to meet the deepest needs of man and to call forth the best that is in him. It must be defended against its enemies. How?

The best way to silence its enemies is by showing its superiority and excellence in the lives of its followers. It is sad, but true, that it is very often wounded in the house of its friends. It is very exacting and makes most difficult demands on those who profess it, and our all too frequent and characteristic practice of watering it down to the level of our own low attainments and narrow views, cheapens and discredits it. There are all too many obsolete and obscure expressions of Christianity today which make most formidable and subtle foes because they veil its real meaning and beauty and repel thinking minds. Not a few honest seekers after God have been forced to the conclusion that, wherever God is to be found, He is not likely to be discovered in so-called organized Christianity.

What's wrong? It could be easily shown that the Christian gospel of the first century met with conditions just as difficult and in a very real sense very similar to the conditions with which it is contending today and it overcame. We have this confidence, altho it is uncomplimentary and not very comforting, that it is in us and not in this gospel message, that we shall find the explanation of that slackness and incompetency and lack of converting power that marks our preaching and our witnessing. The Christian movement was the overflow and contagion of lives, some, yes most, very ordinary, that were saturated with a vital believing faith in the fact of Christ as a personal Saviour competent for time and for eternity. Christians do not half believe in Jesus Christ. And remember, it is not an easy thing to do; it is not mere credulity but rather a faith, born of knowledge, rooted and grounded in experience and ever justifying itself by the new light which comes to it and is shed by it.

Our best defence of the church today and the fullest guarantee of its efficiency consists of our sharing with others the life we ourselves possess. It is by preaching Christ and not preaching about Him, that we shall commend Him and His church. We retain too much of the old Jewish legalism in our religion. It is not what we do but what we are that counts, for, remember, if we have Christ, we shall behave in a Christian fashion. Christianity is not a set of rules but an attitude of soul and a state of mind and when it is such then the ethical requirements will take care of themselves. What most of us try to do is to fulfill the ethics of Christianity without the dynamic and it is an almost impossible task and very unsatisfactory for those making the attempt. An important question: What, really, does Jesus Christ mean to me? What has He done to and for me? I hope my readers will have the courage to grapple with these questions—take stock, and when every true Christian possesses the peace, poise and power His presence provides, he will become a true evangelist, and a staunch defender of His church.

80¢ of your gasoline dollar is spent driving 'round home

4 out of every 5 miles you drive are stop-and-go

Today's short trips waste your money—unless your gasoline has these Three Kinds of Power

ONE short-run from a "cold" start can use up a "mile" of gasoline, and rapid accelerating can use 33% more gasoline than steady running.

Today's "short hop" driving costs entirely too much money—unless your gasoline has THREE kinds of power.

For economy, your gasoline must combine power for QUICK STARTING . . . power for HARD PULLING . . . power for STEADY RUNNING . . . and must combine all three in perfect balance!

Super-Shell is the FIRST truly balanced gasoline. With its 3 kinds of power, it cuts driving costs 3 ways:

STARTING—With its even volatility, Super-Shell can save up to a cupful of gasoline on every "cold" start.

SHIFTING—Super-Shell can save up to a cupful in 10 minutes of hard pulling, or rapid accelerating, or on hills.

RUNNING—With its abundant heat units, it can save up to a cupful every hour of running, motorists say.

WOLVERINES QUIT; CLAIM NO SUPPORT

Poor Attendance At Games Made End Inevitable, Backers Say

and end the present season before it had really got under way," Jaska said, "but for the last several weeks the pronounced indifference of the fans indicated that only a miracle could keep the team together. That miracle, as is generally the case, did not materialize, and so Northville no longer has a representative ball club."

Organized a little more than a year ago, the Wolverines' first season was of sufficient financial success to keep the team intact as a unit. "In its first season, the team stood out as one of the most outstanding in the state," Dr. A. A. Holcomb, vice-president of the club, said, "and consistently drew heavier crowds than any other team in the league. Before entering the Triple-A league last year, Northville played in the Michigan-Ontario league, and proved to be the only team in that group to draw any crowds. This fact caused the league to be broken up."

Asked if the team was as good this year as it was in the 1934 season, Jaska said that "it certainly was. If anything it was a better ball club by reason of the fact that the team had been together for a whole year," he said. He also pointed out that all the weak spots of the team had been strengthened, so that it was really a better team this year, and that all the fellows had played good ball.

"There is no possible reason why the local fans should have been so listless in their support of the team," he said, "because it was the same winning club of last year, and every one had been playing well."

The members of the club, according to its manager, take this opportunity to thank the local merchants and the others for their support in outfitting the team. This expression of appreciation is also extended to Dr. L. W. Snow and Dr. Holcomb, who in acting respectively as president and vice-president of the club, were prominent during its organization and activity.

Included in the work they did was soliciting money for uniforms last spring, and also advancing money to pay for the laying of 100 loads of dirt in the infield last year, making it a first class diamond.

The game Sunday was marred by errors on the part of both teams. Ralph and Edward Wood played short stop and second base respectively for Northville, and Darrell Bowman, right field, replacing the three players who had already resigned from the team.

"Lefty" Hartner was the Wolverines' starting pitcher, allowing but four hits in five innings. The down-river team made three runs in the second inning due largely to errors by the infield.

Myers then took up the hurling assignment, because Hartner's pitching arm was sore. Two runs were scored from his offerings and again it was on account of errors on what should have been easy put-outs. Jaska went in the game to bat for Myers in the ninth in an attempted Wolverine rally, but he flied out. He then pitched the last inning.

The Wolverines were in the lead until late in the game, 4-3. In the third Charles Wolfrom hit a double, scoring John O'Brien and P. Wolfrom, who had both hit singles.

In the fourth, Bowman walked, Hartner singled, and O'Brien doubled, scoring two more runs for Northville.

"The rest of the club house will be very attractive too," Mr. Booth declared. "There will be a large dining room on the first floor and also a men's grill, equipped with a bar, where the men can come in with their golf clothes on and eat without changing. A large ladies' lounge is also being built on the first floor, and washrooms for both men and women," he said.

"Even the caddies will be well taken care of," Mr. Booth declared. "At the east end of the club house will be a locker room for them, equipped with showers."

All around the south side of the club house, a porch, 12 feet wide, will be built.

William N. Booth, father of Roy F. Booth, who with his son will operate the club, bought the property which is now the country club, as a dairy farm. He operated it as such until 1932 when it was decided to build the golf course.

The building which was once the big "T" shaped dairy barn, is now being transformed into the club house. It is an unusual idea, Mr. Booth said, and it is working out fine.

In front of the club house, a 27-hole putting course has been installed.

Tom Kennett is the golf pro, who has been engaged for the club. He was formerly the pro at the Olympic Field club and the Bryn Mawr country club, both in Chicago, and the Marywood golf and country club at Battle Creek.

FLUOROSCOPE STAFF GUESTS OF ROTARY

been of real value to the patients of the Wm. H. Maybury Sanatorium. Once each week, he related, a trip is made to Northville and Plymouth to shop for those patients who are confined. "Of course," he stated, "we patronize the advertisers of the magazine."

Walter Segal, the art director, presented some of his own work, which has been used for the Fluoroscope covers. Mr. Jasinski, in presenting Mr. Segal, stated that Segal had no art experience or training before entering the sanatorium for treatment.

In addition to members of the staff, Mr. Jasinski presented Pierce Ashmore, president of the Goodfellows' Club, and John Augustine, radio commissioner. The Goodfellows club, Mr. Ashmore stated, secures entertainment for the patients. The artists are secured through friends and particularly through the efforts of Pat Dennis, radio editor of the Detroit Times.

It was stated by Mr. Augustine that they now have 600 ear phones in the Maybury Sanatorium, provided for those patients who are confined to their beds. They are looking forward to the wiring of all of the buildings soon so that all of the patients may hear the radio programs. An amplifier which has been recently secured, stated Mr. Augustine, makes it possible for the Sanatorium to present talking pictures. This is a great treat to many patients who have never before witnessed a "talkie", having been confined to the sanatorium since before the advent of talkies, he said.

Dr. Henry S. Willis, superintendent of the sanatorium and a Rotarian, spoke for several minutes in appreciation of the work being done by the Fluoroscope staff.

LANDSCAPE CLASS TO VISIT GARDEN AT HOEHL HOME

Chosen by the Wayne County Landscape class for its unusual beauty, is the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hoehl on Randolph street.

This landscaping class, sponsored by County Agricultural agent Ralph Carr of Dearborn, will visit the Hoehl gardens at 10 o'clock on the morning of June 28 on a tour of other lovely gardens in the country.

Northville is proud to have one of its gardens noteworthy. Set back in modest retirement from the busy street, the Hoehl garden is reached as a happy surprise after following a road winding over the hill.

The setting is perfect for a gorgeous display, the riotous bloom of the rock garden on the natural slope against a background of orchards and wooded hills. Here all kinds of flowers of all colors grow luxuriantly.

A pergola shaded by climbing roses and wisteria, a fountain among the shrubs, a small grapefruit tree, a variety of the cactus family, are among other attractions in this garden, not to mention the rows of vegetables growing over the fence back of the flowers, planted early in April by the energetic Hoehls.

The landscape class will surely enjoy the visit here. Other places to be visited on that day are the gardens of Mrs. Clyde Frank, near Wayne and of Mrs. Roy Bryant near the old Ford estate. The party will stop at Ford Field for a picnic lunch and in the afternoon will continue their trip visiting the Greenfield Village gardens, near Dearborn.

KENNETH WILCOX TO GET YPSI DIPLOMA

Mr. Wilcox was graduated from the local high school in 1930. He is the son of Mrs. Mary Wilcox, 203 West Cady street, and is the sixth and last of her children to be graduated from college.

A prominent member of Ypsilanti's golf team, Wilcox played his final intercollegiate match last week, when the Hilltops were defeated by Toledo University, 9½ to 8½.

DAISY COMPANY WILL ERECT ADDITION SOON

business gets in full swing.

Plans for the structure were prepared by Smith, Hinchman and Grylls, Detroit firms of architects and engineers.

When the service building is completed, work will begin immediately on the installation of a new heating plant in the old building formerly used by the Detroit Edison Company, and now used chiefly for storage. This building has been known as the old lighting plant. It is well adapted for its new purpose, according to officials of the company, and the old smoke stack will be used. There is ample room in it for the two boilers. It is expected that this job can be completed in about two months.

HARD SURFACE TO BE LAID ON NOVI ROAD

line, a three and one-half mile stretch, will be re-surfaced.

Following this job, which should be completed in two or three weeks, there is a good possibility, county officials said, that several other roads will get a hard surface.

The most important of the latter jobs, according to those in charge, is the re-surfacing of Novi road, or South Center street, as it is called in Northville, all the way to the Ann Arbor trail.

Stakes have also been placed on Randolph street by the county surveyors and this street is scheduled to be re-surfaced from North Center street to the Taft road.

DISTRICT TOURNEY AT MEADOWBROOK

noon defeated Drew Egleston of the Dearborn country club, 6-5.

Brinke is after his third district championship this year and is favored to beat the field. He was the low amateur in the recent National Open tournament at Oakmont in Pittsburgh, his total score there being 314.

Fourteen Meadowbrook players in all have entered the tournament, including four new to championship flight. These are Peter O. Sweeny, Dick Olsen, Randall Ahern and Edward Proctor. None of the four was able to get beyond the second round of the tournament.

Proctor, who was the runner-up in the District tournament the last two previous years, was eliminated in the first round Wednesday by Billy Taylor of Bloomfield Hills, 3-1.

Ahern won his first match, 5-3, from Elmer Swope of Red Run, but lost his second round match to John Foley, Jr., of the Grosse Isle club, one up.

Olsen beat Sweeny in the first round, 3-2, and then lost to Bob Babbish of Brooklands in the afternoon, 3-2.

Four third round matches were to be played Thursday morning, with the two semi-final matches in the afternoon, and the final match of 36 holes to be played Friday.

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels, and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. [illegible]

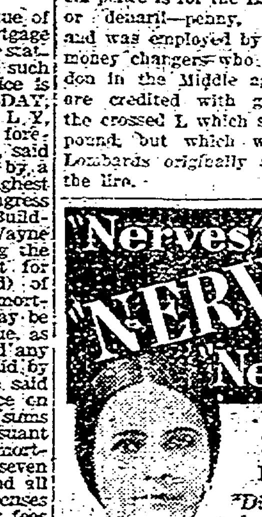
A Monetary Abbreviation

The abbreviation "d" as 6d for six pence is for the Latin denarius or denarii—penny, and pence—and was employed by the Lombard money changers who came to London in the Middle ages, and who are credited with giving Britain the crossed L which stands for the pound, but which was with the Lombards originally a symbol for the lire.



Dr. Miles NERVINE
"Did the work" says Miss Glivar
WHY DON'T YOU TRY IT?

After more than three months of suffering from a nervous ailment, Miss Glivar used Dr. Miles Nervine which gave her such splendid results that she wrote us an enthusiastic letter.

If you suffer from "Nerves." If you lie awake nights, start at sudden noises, tire easily, are cranky, blue and fidgety, your nerves are probably out of order.

Quiet and relax them with the same medicine that "did the work" for this Colorado girl.

Whether your "Nerves" have troubled you for hours or for years, you'll find this time-tested remedy effective.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated, and 5% of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped tomcat, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the rectum in many people.
