BOARD PROMISES 'REALLY BIG PRE-DEPRESSION FAIR' AS PLANS GAIN MOMENTUM

3 AUTOMOBILES WILL BE AWARDED

'Northville People to See Biggest and Best Fair Ever, Even If We Go Broke in Attempt,' Officials Say

A promise to return to the really big fair on a pre-depression basis was made this week by officials of the Northville Wayne County Fair association as plans for the 1935 event, which will be held August 21-24, got under way.

"We frankly admit," declared Floyd A. Northrop, secretary, "that in the past few depression years the fair has not been up to its usual standard. We did not have the money to put into it and the people did not have the money to spend.

"This year, however," he emphasized, "we're going to make one grand fling—an attempt to put Northville's fair back to the high place it occupied before the depression. It's either make or break this year. If we go broke, it will be in an attempt to give the people of Northville the biggest and best fair they have ever seen."

President Nelson C. Schrader, Treasurer Fred W. Lyke, other fair officers and members of the board of directors heartily concurred with Secretary Northrop. "We're going to put everything possible in this, the nineteenth annual fair," Mr. Schrader said.

Foremost among the "really big" parts of the program for the fair will be the awarding of three four-door automobiles to holders of tickets which will be given by merchants with each 50 cent purchase. One car will be given on each of Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, August 22, 23, and 24.

Another highlight, according to Elmer L. Smith, who is in charge of free acts, will be a performance on the high tower in front of the grandstand. Fair officials declared that this is the highest tower act available for fair audiences. It will be shown every night, the other free acts changing every other evening.

William Forney, in charge of midway space, declared that he has insured its "absolute honesty." He sold 300 feet of midway space to Elmer Coty of Detroit, who will bring all concessions to the fair under the guarantee that they will be run clean and straight. Midway space is almost entirely sold out, Mr. Forney stated.

Mr. Northrop said that the next week rejuvenation of the fair grounds— primarily painting of the grandstand, free act platform and other buildings—will start.

Fair association directors are Fred W. Lyke, Charles Altman, Mark R. Seeley, T. G. Richardson, Marvin H. Sloan, N. C. Schrader, A. C. Balden, A. E. Fuller, William Forney, Ralph Foreman, Glenn Richardson, H. R. Richardson, Floyd A. Northrop, Harry B. Clark, E. M. Starkweather, E. L. Smith, Carmi Benton, Elton R. Eaton, Harry C. Robinson and H. H. Hamilton.

James A. Huff, Phil H. Grennan, Dr. Robert H. Haskell, Capt. Edward Denniston, and Dr. H. S. Willis are honorary directors.

Heads of the various departments and divisions are as follows:

Draft horses—E. M. Starkweather member in charge; George Rattenbury, superintendent; Ulie Tibbits Ray Honsinger; saddle horses—H. B. Clark, superintendent; cattle—Paul Koss, superintendent; sheep and swine—Carmi Benton superintendent; poultry and pet stock—A. E. Fuller member in charge, G. E. Richardson, general superintendent.

PEP-UP HOSE OR NEW SPRAY—YOU CAN GET IT HERE

Editor's Note: Information as to where the articles mentioned in this column may be purchased in Northville, can be secured by inquiring at The Record office.

Like the examples in the famous Acres of Diamonds, many of us go far afield for the treasures in our own backyard. Of course it's nice to take a day off and go shopping in the near-by metropolitan centers, but if you want the article for its own value, it's probably to be found in Northville. We found this when we went shopping the other day, so we've started this column in the hope that you'll go shopping with us—in Northville.

The other day a Detroit paper ran an enthusiastic shopping article on the new "Pep-Up Hose connection," so we went shopping for it in Northville—and found it.

This is the time of year when kiddies plead with Daddy to punch some holes in an old pail so that they can have a backyard shower. Here's a shower that is easily and quickly rigged to the hose and flung over a tree or nailed to the side of the house. The shower is a simple fixture, and if you want to attach it to the side of the house all it requires is two nails and the hose.

Made of brass, and nickel-plated, it will withstand lots of hard usage. Not only the kiddies but the grown-ups as well can make use of the shower head. It'll be ideal to wash

CONDITION OF SCHOOL HERE IS EXCELLENT

10-Month Year, Tax Reduction Assured; Annual Meeting Monday

With a ten-months school year definitely arranged, money in the bank, and assurances for a reduction in school taxes, the school board met Monday night in its final session to wind up its business for a yearly report at the annual school meeting next Monday.

Chief business to come before the annual meeting will be the election of two members. The terms of Dr. E. B. Cavell, president, and Sherrill W. Ambler, secretary, expire, and they are candidates for their own re-election.

Secretary Ambler declared that the board "is more than satisfied" with the results of the past year. All bonds bills are paid to date, the secretary said, the $11,000 in scrip is redeemed, approximately $45,000 in back taxes is still due, and more money is still expected from the state.

Next year the Northville schools will receive $21,550 in state aid or primary supplement as against $8,881 a year ago, while the $7,713 primary money for last year is sure to be increased, Secretary Ambler stated.

This will not only enable school

HORSE SHOW PLANS PROGRESS RAPIDLY

Junior, Senior Committees Meet; Both Express Enthusiasm

Plans are going forward rapidly for the annual junior and senior horse shows, to be held in conjunction with the Northville Wayne county fair.

The junior show will take place on August 22, and the senior show on August 23 and 24, members of the two committees said.

The junior show committee met Friday afternoon at the Arrowhead farm on the East Nine Mile road with Mrs. Wm. Rawle Brown, chairman, when enthusiasm was felt that this year's show will be "bigger and better than ever."

"We are looking forward to a much larger junior show this year," Mrs. Brown said Monday, "and we hope that as many children as possible in Northville and the surrounding towns and vicinity will take part in it."

Several new members of the junior show were appointed at the meeting of the committee Friday, including Miss Betty Schrader, Miss Marylin Cavell and Robert Lindsay.

The other members are the Misses Barbara Nicholds, Barbara Phillips, Shirley Condit, Kathryn Marburger, Nancy McLoughlin, June Reichenbach, and Henry Hoffman and Jack McLoughlin.

"Several new trophies have been donated for the winners of this year's show," Mrs. Brown said, "and we expect to add several new classes." The junior show will probably

'4th' Is Celebrated Quietly Here

Northville's celebration of the Fourth was to be a quiet one this year.

No martial music of parades was to be heard, not few fire crackers. The Lloyd H. Green post No. 147, American Legion decided at a meeting last week that the Legion would not sponsor any public celebration this year because it was the general belief at the meeting that there would not be enough public interest in it.

It is entirely against the law in Michigan to either buy, sell or use any fireworks, Police Chief William H. Safford declared Tuesday, and children found using them will be taken into custody. This is a misdemeanor, according to the Wayne county prosecutor's office, he said, and is punishable by a fine as high as $25.

GREGORY ATTACKS BEER GARDENS HERE

Recommends That Village Prohibit Dancing in Such Places

An attack on the local beer garden situation was launched Monday night by Commissioner William T. Gregory, and was met with counter charges by John Norton, a beer garden proprietor.

Declaring that "five beer gardens in a town the size of Northville is too many," Commissioner Gregory recommended to the council at its regular meeting in the village hall that dancing in these establishments should be prohibited, that beer gardens should be forced to pay an entertainment license, and that cars of beer garden patrons should be kept entirely off sidewalks.

Mr. Norton replied with a direct personal attack upon Commissioner Gregory. "Mr. Gregory is saying these things because he has a personal grievance," the beer garden owner charged as a part of his attack upon the councilman.

Commissioner Gregory called attention to an ordinance which rules that circuses, concert groups, and all other entertainment companies must secure a license if they operate in Northville. "And," he said, "when you have to pay a higher price for beer in a beer garden here as soon as the orchestra begins to play, then it might as well be said that you are listening to a concert.

"If this is true," he told the council, "the owner of such a place of business should be forced to pay this license." The license amounts to something like $5 per day.

There is also no excuse, he continued, for cars of people patronizing these places being parked so that they block the side walks, and being parked in the ground between the north and south-bound lanes of Plymouth avenue, which is in the form of a boulevard."

The council gave no indication of its stand on the Gregory proposals and made no decision regarding them.

150 GOLFERS PLAY ON BOOTH COURSE DURING OPENING DAY

More than 150 people were on hand Saturday to initiate the new Booth golf and country club course, according to officials of the club this week.

Included in those who came were 36 employes of the Kelsey-Hayes Wheel corporation of Detroit, who staged a tournament there.

Work on the clubhouse, which is in the process of construction, is being completed by degrees and will probably be all finished by fall, Roy Booth, the club manager, said Monday.

An open tournament will be staged on the course this summer, Tom Kennett, the professional, announced. The qualifying rounds will begin on July 4, to last about eight or nine days. The tournament will be in three or four flights. The pairings should be announced and the match play begin by Sunday, July 14, he said.

26 ARE ADDED TO RELIEF WORKERS

Scout Building, Sewer and Bridge to Be Done by Fall

Twenty-six more men were added to the Wayne county welfare relief workers here Monday, considerably brightening prospects for completion this year of those projects which have been approved.

These men, together with other relief workers here, make a total of 53 men employed. The addition, according to village officials, will greatly increase speed with which the work is being carried on.

Concentration is on the Boy Scout building on the school grounds, which under the new plan, will be torn down, and then erected again on the new site at the corner of East Dunlap street and Hutton avenue. "We think this plan will make a better job of the remodeling," Horace Boyden, foreman of the workers, said Monday.

The work of tearing down the building will probably be completed this week, he stated.

None of the men are working on a regular full time week, Mr. Boyden said, but are working the number of hours their individual budget, as decided upon by the county, calls for. This, he explained, is determined by their economic needs and may vary from ten to 40 hours each week. All of the additional men were sent from Detroit.

Village officials are expecting to receive word soon concerning the time that the new state public works relief program will go into effect. When it is announced, all the men employed here on the village projects, as well as workers all over the state, will work on a uniform number of hours each week, probably about 40.

The state program was originally announced to begin Monday, July 1.

"It is difficult to say just how long we will have this many men employed here," Mr. Boyden said Monday, "but we have enough projects ahead of us right now to keep all the men busy until fall, and the chances are they will be kept on here after that."

Other projects that will be started soon are the relaying of the storm sewer on the Base Line road and the widening of the High street bridge. "We expect to get started on the sewer soon," Mr. Boyden said, "so we can get the job finished before another hard rain comes."

"We do not expect to do any work now on the tennis courts on the high school grounds," he explained, "because we do not know yet if there is to be a new high school building erected there yet or not. If that happens, the courts must be forgotten."

JACK COLE, TWO YEARS OLD, DIES HERE ON JUNE 22

Jack Douglas Cole, two-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cole of 694 North Center street, died June 22 after a 14-day illness with measles and pneumonia.

The dark-haired little Jackie, who was born March 30, 1933, was first taken ill June 8. He had the measles but two days when pneumonia set in. He made a brave fight and it was believed he would recover until the very end.

He was buried Monday, June 24, in the Riverside cemetery at Plymouth. The Rev Horace H. Mallinson of the local Methodist church officiated, eulogizing the little one and speaking kind and comforting words for his parents.

Jack is survived by his parents, a brother, Howard, Jr., six years old, and grandparents, Mr. and Mr. Willard Cole of 330 North Center street. The father is an employe of the Detroit Edison company here.

DR. MALLINSON IS NAMED TO DETROIT POST

Mr. Lord, from Pontiac, His Successor, Will Preach Sunday Morning

The Rev. Horace H. Mallinson, who has served as Methodist pastor here for more than a year, will be succeeded by the Rev. Harry Lord of the Oakland Avenue Methodist church in Pontiac, word from the Methodist conference, which ended at Bay City Monday, said.

Dr. Mallinson will go to the Bethany Methodist church in Detroit. He was asked by his congregation to return here but the conference complied with his desire to be transferred.

As The Record goes to press it is expected that Mr. Lord will preach Sunday morning in the Presbyterian church, conducting the first of a month's union services during the Rev. H. G. Whitfield's vacation. Mr. Mallinson had made arrangements for that service, according to Mr. Whitfield.

Mr. Lord is about 35 years old, married, and has one child. He was described by the Rev. William Richards of Belleville, former Methodist minister here, as "unquestionably one of the finest men in our district."

Dr. Mallinson came here from the Lincoln Park Methodist church

SALEM HOMECOMING PLANNED FOR '4TH'

Parade, Baby Show and Ball Game Are Features of Program

With a baby show, bicycle race, parade and a program of amateur theatricals as some of its highlights, the community of Salem according to present plans was to have its annual Fourth of July home-coming Thursday.

The activities were to get started at 10 a. m. with the parade and will not end until late Thursday night. The entire program was to center around this church.

The baby show was to be scheduled for 2 p. m. All children under three years of age will be eligible for the contest. Dr. John L. Law of the University hospital at Ann Arbor, former student at Edinborough, will be in charge.

He was to have been assisted by Dr. Russell M. Atchison and Mrs. Russell E. Atchison, son and wife of Dr. R. E. Atchison of Northville.

Other events on the afternoon program were to be the hobby exhibit, pet show, baseball game, bicycle races, and running races for children under 16 years of age. Prizes were to be awarded to the winners of all these events. Mr. and Mrs. Coda Savery were to direct the sports program.

A "Major Bakewell" amateur program was to be scheduled for the evening, when local talent will have its chance to demonstrate its worth. Jack Holcomb was to act as the master of ceremonies of this program which is promised by those taking part in it to have everything a good show should have.

NEW COVERED RESERVOIR ASSURED AS ROOSEVELT APPROVES $9,409 GRANT

WATER TO BE PURE, WITHOUT IRON

Project to Cost $21,000; Has Been Under Consideration Two Years; One of First Authorized

Sparkling, purified water was assured Northville last Thursday with President Roosevelt's approval of the $9,409 direct grant for a new reservoir, village officials declared this week.

All that will be necessary for the village to do when official notice of the federal approval has been received, H. F. Hamill, Plymouth village engineer, said, will be to decide that the new reservoir is still wanted. Thus far no official word from Washington has been received.

"This project," Mr. Hamill emphasized, "was sent to the federal government for approval two years ago under the CWA setup, with detailed information concerning it. When the other village projects were submitted February 11, it was merely mentioned with them. It was probably for this reason," he said," that Northville's project was given preference over the many others from all points of the country."

Northville's grant was apparently one of the first approved. The administration has approved comparatively few projects thus far, most of which were submitted last February.

The cost of the new reservoir, according to Mr. Hamill, is estimated at $21,000. The direct grant, representing 45 per cent of that amount, is provided by the federal government with no cost to the village. The balance, 55 per cent, or approximately $11,000, will be loaned to the village for the purpose, he said, to be re-paid over a period of 20 years, and with an interest rate not exceeding four per cent.

The government decided only a short time ago, he said, to raise the per cent given on direct grants of projects from 30 to 45 per cent. The allotment is from the $4,800,000,000 public works fund.

"The new reservoir will have many advantages over the old one," Mr. Hamill said. "One advantage is that the high iron content, which is in the Northville water now, will be removed by means of the aerator equipment and sand filtration.

"The new plant will also be free from all impurities," he continued, "because of the fact that it will be covered. The present reservoir is subject to contamination because it is open, and because the walls are partly earth."

The new one will be constructed completely of concrete, and will have a capacity of 330,000 gallons, considerably more than the present one, he declared, and will be completely under the ground, making the water much cooler.

The new reservoir, as proposed to the village commission, will be built close to the present one which is on the West Base Line road between the Eastlawn sanatorium and the intersection with Randolph street. The suggested location of the new reservoir is on the south side of the old one. The job is estimated to employ 35 men for 16 weeks.

This would necessitate the closing of the Base Line road from the reservoir to Randolph street, Mr. Hamill said, adding that the village commission has already given its opinion that this location would be satisfactory. The road is not used because of its extreme grade and poor surface.

Under the proposed plan, Mr. Hamill said, the old reservoir will be retained by the village and be kept full of water at all times to use in case of a disastrous fire.

Dr. H. H. Burkart, president of the village commission, in commenting on the announcement of the approval of Northville's grant, said this is an improvement in the waterworks here that the village has been attempting to get for a long time, and that it is a real necessity.

"I am in favor of installing a chlorinator along with the new system, too," he declared. "This will be a positive safeguard against any impurities ever getting into the water. And it can be added for a very reasonable cost."

Edward B. Rich, director of the bureau of engineering of the state department of health, commenting on the new reservoir, declared. "We believe the new reservoir fulfills a much-needed improvement to the water supply of Northville. It has been the contention of this department for some years that the existence of the old open reservoir con-

VILLAGE WILL PUT UP WALKS FOR RESIDENTS

Property Owners Will Only Have To Purchase The Materials

The village will construct or repair sidewalks again this summer wherever desired, charging the property owner only for the materials used it was announced Monday by Earl H. Montgomery, street commissioner.

The work will be done by the relief workers here under the supervision of Mr. Montgomery. Anyone wishing to have such work done should apply to the office at the village hall, Mr. Montgomery said.

Any kind of repairing work on sidewalks desired will be done on request, Mr. Montgomery said, including even the raising or lowering of walks to the proper grades desired.

A large amount of sidewalks were constructed or repaired last year, he said. The relief workers were occupied for about four months on this work.

"There are again many sidewalks this year that are in need of repair," Mr. Montgomery said, "including a stretch on Dunlap street near the Methodist church, on South Rogers street near Thayer boulevard, and many other places."

NEW STREET SIGNS TAKING THE PLACES OF OLD ONES HERE

Northville's new street signs—with black letters painted on white backgrounds, and made of wood—are now being installed, it was announced this week by village officials.

They should be all in place within about two weeks, according to Street Commissioner Earl H. Montgomery, who is directing the work. The only thing holding up men now, he told the members of the village commission Monday evening, is that his men have found that some of the sign standards are different from others. This will make all the signs fit properly.

Northville Campfire Girls Have Largest Group, Take Very Active Part in the Program at Camp Wathana, Mich.

Thirty Northville Camp Fire girls returned Thursday from Camp Wathana where, according to their own reports, they had a very successful stay. Under supervision of Mrs. H. H. Burkart and G. T. Barry, the Northville girls took a very active part in the camp proceedings.

Mrs. Burkart's group, nineteen in all, was the largest group represented among the one hundred campers. She herself was singularly honored by being granted the highest campfire honor obtainable, the Wakan National Honor. Although most of the girls had already received their Woodgatherers rank, two of the group, Marie Angore and Shirley Condit, took the rank for the first time.

All of the girls had been to camp before, so it wasn't long after their arrival before they were comfortably situated in the three cabins allotted to the Northville campers. The entire camp is situated on the lake and surrounded by trees, with the cabins located on three high ridges, overlooking the lake.

Although several of the girls confessed to enjoying the swimming hour the most, the most colorful part of the campfire life must have been such ceremonies as the sounding of bugle calls, the revelry at rising, and the early morning flag-raising participated in by all of the girls.

Each group having been put to the task of presenting a stunt on a pioneering theme the first night of camp, the Northville group showed ingenuity in their presentation. Mrs. Barry's group put on three charades, depicting phases of frontier life, while Mrs. Burkart's girls, blanket-covered, came into the assembly hall singing, "Wagon Wheels," cleverly representing the covered wagon of pioneer days.

Continually active in camp doings, the Northville group again

C. E. Rogers Co. Milk Machinery Plant Which Has Weathered 6 Depressions Is Described in Detroit Sunday Times

By C. L. THOMPSON
Detroit Times Financial Editor

(From the Detroit Times)

In 1865, long before the first automobile was built in Detroit, C. T. Rogers and his two sons, C. E. and J. W. Rogers, founded a small plant here to manufacture machinery for condensing and powdering milk. That year saw the beginning of the depression of 1884. Since that time the company has weathered seven major depressions and today C. E. Rogers and his three sons have guided the company through the worst business period the country has ever known.

The present factory in 8731 Wi[illegible] avenue utilizes 21,900 square feet of floor space and contains a foundry, machine shop and the sheet metal division. The products, while still mainly consisting of milk machinery, have been diversified until the company now does all types of copper and stainless steel work for chemical firms, breweries and distilleries. Milk machinery is shipped all over the United States and to Canada, England, Cuba and South America.

Up until a few years ago almost all the equipment and tanks were made of copper, but now are made almost entirely from stainless steel. They are easier to clean and non-corrosive.

To protect the finish the sheets of steel are covered with wall paper as soon as they arrive at the plant. All the welding for the huge pipes and vats is done and the edges are [illegible] oth and polished. Then [illegible] coating is merely washed [illegible] of water.

The brass fittings for the machinery are made in the company foundry. All stainless steel fittings and some of the pipes are purchased from other firms, however.

THE TRAGIC DEATH OF MR. KEYWORTH

Michigan suffers a great loss in the death of Dr. Maurice R. Keyworth who would have become superintendent of public instruction of Michigan on July 1 had not an automobile accident brought about his untimely end.

The farm boy who became the head of the Hamtramck schools and made them, in many ways, a model for the United States, would, without doubt, have made a remarkable record in Lansing. He had ideas and knew how to develop them. He was a natural leader of men and above all he was a true friend and a man who believed in idealism. He had often been in Northville at Rotary affairs and had impressed the members of the local club with his fine spirit and personality. The writer's sister, Mrs. John H. Wheeler of Arcadia, California, was a teacher under Mr. Keyworth while he was at Gaylord and we had heard her speak of him in the highest terms. He had made a great impress on Hamtramck through his unusual work with the schools there.

That this gifted man, just ready to serve his state in an outstanding way, after years of ripe experience, should die so tragically again brings up the question of what we are to do with the irresponsible drivers who are on our highways during the late hours of the night. According to the police, the man whose car killed Mr. Keyworth tried to hide after the accident. Does an innocent man do that? Certainly, according to all newspaper reports, there was no reason why this man should have died as he did. He cannot be recalled but something should be done to make our highways safer for those who do obey the laws of the road and who keep sober while driving.

CLASSIFYING AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS

We hope that none of you who read this will fall into any of the classifications of automobile drivers recently made by K. L. Motsinger of Detroit, in "The People Column" of the Detroit News. Here is the list of fool or dangerous drivers:

Speed demons.
Drunk drivers.
Road hogs.
Slow drivers.
Erratic drivers.
Too careful drivers.
Double parkers.
"I own the road drivers."
Sudden action drivers.
Safety zone splitters.
Horn blowers.
Non-signaling drivers.

He might also have mentioned the "mooning" and spooning autoist as a menace on the highways. Mr. Motsinger goes on to give this good advice to motorists:

"The palm goes to the drunk driver with speed demon a close runner-up. The slow driver causes more trouble than the fast driver. Drive fast enough not to retard traffic. Drive steadily. You must be traveling faster than other vehicles before you change lanes. Do not stop suddenly. Be ready to start when the light changes but not before.

"If window shopping or street hunting stay near the curb. Make it a rule to avoid safety zones even if unoccupied. Do not shy at street cars. The street car will stay on the track. If the fellow behind wants to pass, let him.

"Keep a few of these rules in mind, live longer and let others live longer."

"THE NEW SOCIAL ORDER"

Probably no phrase is more overworked these days than the coming of the "New social order." To hear some people talk, you would think that there had been little that was good or worth-while for the ordinary man until now when the Millenium is to be brought in.

We have asked different people what is wrong with the "old order" and the best answer we can get is that there is too much money in the hands of too few people and that, therefore, the system that permits this is all wrong. We agree that a small group of people has entirely too much of our national wealth but who is wise enough to suggest the new order that will cure the evil—without bringing in worse ones?

Human beings have changed little—if any—since Abraham cared for his flocks on the hills of Palestine. Human selfishness, which is the cause of most of our troubles, is as dominant today as it ever was. The greed of men and women still is found in every corner of the land and no new system is going to change that.

Not a new social order, but the acceptance and use of the Golden Rule are what are needed to bring in a new day for us all. One of the best ways out is the training of our child life along lines of character and idealism. There is the challenge for the new generation.

AN APPRECIATION OF "MRS. EDITOR"

We hope that it will be in good taste for the Record editor to say a word of appreciation of the work of Mrs. Baldwin, who has retired from active work in the office after over four years. We might be considered remiss in gratitude did we not pay the tribute and we should feel grieved to have anyone think that we did not appreciate beyond the power of words the loyalty of "Mrs. Editor" since we came to Northville.

During these trying years, it has been the constant aim of this newspaper to keep its standard high, regardless of the most difficult conditions under which all business has been carried on. In striving for this goal, it has been "Mrs. Editor" who has given truly remarkable service to the community newspaper ever since February, 1931. Serving without a weekly pay check, she has not spared herself in her efforts to help give Northville a newspaper of which it might be proud. No one could have given more of herself in service and shown a finer spirit while doing it. Many splendid tributes of the work she has done have come to the office but she will never know any finer or more sincere praise than that which comes from those of the staff—both office and press room—who have worked along with her. She retires—if such a word can ever be used of her—to a less strenuous home life with the sincere blessing of us all.

CALIFORNIAN DESCRIBES MICHIGAN

Writing home to her daughter in California, a woman from that state now visiting in Michigan says:

"The best way I can describe Michigan to you is to say that it is like one big park.

"With the fine rains we have been having, that is just the way that Michigan now looks. A ride along our highways is entranching. Grains fields are yellowing in the July sun (finally after the rains) and the hay crop that makes the landscape a glorious network of green will surely fill the barns this year. Our maples and elms never looked finer. Cows graze contentedly on the luscious pastures of thousands of hills and valleys. Orchards promise a rich harvest.

"And did you ever see Northville look any more attractive and any more beautiful with its marvelous lawns and flowers?

"Be glad that you live in this favored spot.

Seen on every vacant lot in Northville: Good, lively boys playing scrub baseball. Which one of them will be a second Charles Gehringer?

The NYA is the latest in government plans to bring and keep better times. It stands for National Youth Administration and fifty millions of dollars from the president's four billion dollar work relief fund will be used to provide jobs, training and education for young men and women. A splendid plan.

"Ignorance of the law excuses no one." It should. The laws passed by the 1935 session of the Indiana legislature fill a book of 1647 pages. It would take a month or six weeks of casual reading to wade through all these new laws. Michigan can be glad that its 1935 legislature didn't have that kind of law making mania.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

What is your "Share the Wealth" plan, if any?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC

(M. H. Defoe in the Charlotte Republican Tribune.)

The trouble is politics rather than policy. Even the three apostles, "James the son of Alpheus, and Simon Zelotes, and Judas the brother of James," could not give a satisfactory administration of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission. "Beginning before the baptism of John," it has not been possible for people—even as low as three in number—to agree on the question of strong drink. With this difference of opinion dating back to biblical times it hardly fair to expect three modern day politicians to satisfy a state like Michigan on the subject of liquor control. It just isn't possible because with many persons the question is moral rather than judicial. Morals call for standards rather than regulations. Cash balances have no place in moral issues.

One-third of the households in Michigan are against the traffic itself. The next third are liberals in the sense that they have no objection to a decent moderation in consumption and regulation. It is this liberal group that is beginning to be annoyed by the apparent weakness in the law now openly admitted by both Judge McDonald and Mrs. Alger, his lady colleague on the commission. Whenever the support of the middle ground group, to which the governor belongs, is eliminated the liquor business, so far as Michigan is concerned, is on its way out.

DON'T GET CAUGHT ON THIS TRICK

(Robert G. Rowe in the Milford Times)

A racket that is going round the state may be sprung in Milford so watch for it. A stranger makes a small purchase giving the clerk a dollar bill. When he is given his change he insists that it was a twenty dollar bill and produces its number, written on a slip of paper, and asks the clerk to check over the cash register for a $20 bill of that number. The clerk does so and finds a $20 bill of that number, and flustered clerk gives up another $19. The stranger's accomplice is a woman who preceded him to the store and cashed the $20 bill in making a small purchase.

LOOKING AHEAD

(Chester M. Howell in the Chesaning Argus)

The Argus celebrates 59 years of week by week existence this week—WE have not been at the helm those years—pioneers in newspaper work paved a way and laid a foundation and our part in production has been recent. We hope future years will give to the people of this community the type of weekly fully representative of all the fine features of a community like Chesaning. And, as others see "us"—read the various messages of greeting.

A GOOD EXCHANGE

(Geo. H. Neal in the Orion Review)

A local banker says he would like to run a country newspaper for a week. And think what an editor could do with a bank in one day.

OF COURSE YOU CAN

(W. H. Berkley in he Cassopolis Vigilant)

Gov. Talmadge of Georgian is a Democrat of course, but we believe Republicans and Democrats alike can agree with him when he says:

"If you can produce a prosperity from scarcity; if you can encourage private industry to reach out by scaring them white; if you can make people want to own property and buy property by continually multiplying taxes on it, then you can make water run uphill, you can spend yourself out of debt, you can drink yourself sober."

ADVANCED METHODS

(From the Christian Science Monitor)

Problem—to add. "No country, no Empire, has a greater desire for peace, has worked harder, and is working harder for peace than our country and our Empire."—Stanley Baldwin.

Plus "This Government, like the French people, is profoundly attached to peace"—Pierre-Etienne Flandin.

Plus "What could I wish but peace and quiet? - Adolf Hitler.

Plus: "The greatest need of the world today is the assurance of permanent peace."—Franklin D. Roosevelt.

And to obtain the following result (reported by the League of Nations' new Armaments Year Book): Cost of world armaments increases by $500,000,000 in 1934.

STAY IN SCHOOL

(Emerson O. Gildart in the Utica Sentinel)

Undergraduates who quit school anywhere between the eighth and eleventh grades because they know enough already for what they expect to do in life, have little comprehension of the difference in the way this busy world regards the graduate and the undergraduate. You'd be surprised at the way extra copies of last week's Sentinel, containing the 48 names and faces of our splendid Class of '35, sold out to friends and strangers. Stay in school and amount to something.

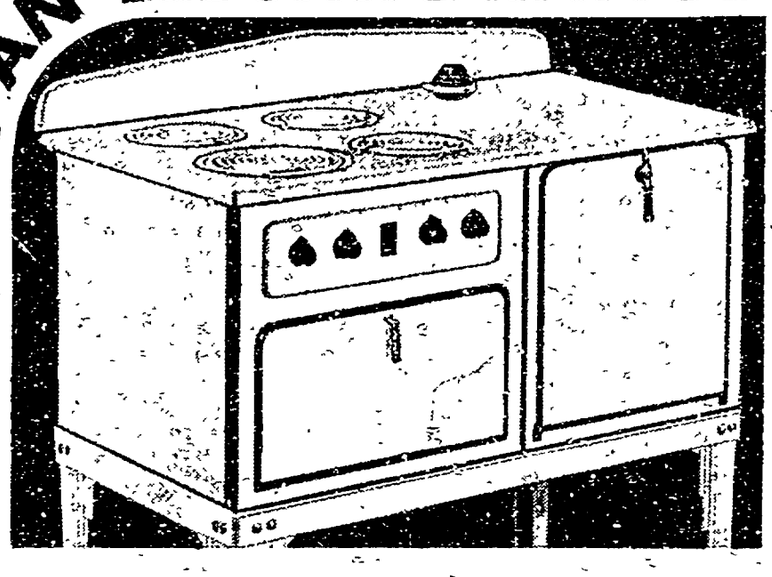
TRY AN ELECTRIC RANGE



FOR YOURSELF!

USE IT FOR SIX MONTHS—THEN DECIDE IF YOU WANT TO KEEP IT

Stop wondering whether you can afford electric cooking—whether or not you will really like it. Take advantage of this chance to FIND OUT definitely. Enjoy electric cooking in your own kitchen, by means of this Trial Plan.

Here is the plan briefly: We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, so that you may give it a thorough trial. During this trial period you simply pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it the range will be removed at our expense.

Electric cooking is NOT expensive. We know it—we want you to discover it. Once you have enjoyed the delicious flavor it imparts to foods, its cleanliness, its coolness and its convenience, we believe that you will never again go back to any other method of cooking.

Applications for ranges on trial installations will be taken care of in the order they are received. Call any Detroit Edison office.

Enjoy These Advantages of Electric Cooking!

- CLEAN. Electric heat is as clean as sunlight. There is no smoke or soot to soil kitchen walls and curtains. Cooking utensils remain bright and shiny after long use.
- HEALTHFUL. Electric cooking seals in nourishing juices and natural elements in meats and vegetables. Important food values are retained.
- WATERLESS COOKING. With your electric range you use no water for roasts and only half-a-cup for vegetables.
- MODERN. In attractive and striking designs, these electric ranges do much to brighten and add a feeling of newness to your entire kitchen.
- FULL FLAVORED. Electric cooking has a deliciously different flavor—a natural flavor in foods. Meats and vegetables cook to melting tenderness in their own juices.
- INEXPENSIVE. Electric cooking costs less than a cent a meal per person.
- SAFE. An electric range supplies only pure heat from a glowing wire—there is no flame, no matches, no fumes.

NORTHVILLE CAMP FIRE GIRLS ATTEND CAMP WATHANA OUTING

Two of the thirty Northville girls who attended the Camp Fire Girls' Camp Wathana outing are shown in this camp group. Marilyn Gunsell, and Mary Ellen Burgess (at the left in picture) can be seen discovering a robin's nest containing three hungry fledgings waiting for their mother to return. The camp is situated on Lake Waldemere, and a large group of Northville children attend the outing every year. The girls returned home Thursday. (Picture courtesy of Detroit News).

Clever Combinations of Garden Flowers, and Unique Bowls Make Table Decorations Inexpensive

Since almost every Northville home has a good-sized garden, and so many hostesses are choosing the luncheon or dinner party at which to entertain, it seems a shame that more hostesses don't utilize their garden flowers for table decorations.

There are any number of attractive arrangements for what people choose to call the "common garden flower."

Floats are still popular for centerpiece arrangements. Although peonies make attractive living room decorations in a tall vase, they may also be utilized on the table. Cutting the stem off at the blossom, a few of these large flowers, if floated in a shallow bowl and set between either matching or contrasting tapers, will be lovely.

Roses, full-blown, are equally as effective in floats, and later in the season gladoli. If they are cut close, can be used. Those in a salmon color could be set off by maroon or deep ruby candles, or some other unusual color combination to give a nice effect.

The unassuming batchelor button can also be made to look gay at a luncheon table. Being homey flowers, they would look especially chic in one of those gingham-designed bowls—they come in all colors and can be used for more utilitarian purposes afterward. A blue or yellow checked luncheon cloth would set off the "home" flowers.

The new fan shaped cases are well-suited to gladoli, and combined with graduated candle holders to make a formal table setting. When planning a simpler table, the hostess might use the low boat shaped case for "glads" or some other stiff-stemmed flower.

Bubble-balls, as they are called, or round glass vases, make a single blossom take the place of a whole bouquet. The bowls are inexpensive too. A single rose in a white or pastel-colored bowl will be magnified ten-fold; and to give even more beauty to the centerpiece, one of the mirrors smart hostesses are using so much will give back a lovely reflection from the flower and bowl. These mirrors, if the hostess is planning to spend any money on her decorations, now come trimmed in white enamel wiring, and are very smart. Chrome bowls trimmed in the same white enamel bracketing and combined with white or dusty blue flowers will give a smoky effect ordinarily hard to achieve.

The plain or hammered copper bowl that almost every woman has will make an unusually attractive centerpiece with just plain white daisies.

Crockery in all colors will help none of it is too lovely to be used. Even the kitchen bowl can be elevated to the luncheon table. But if you utilize your garden flowers, and if the hostess wants more formal decorations, chromium is still good in new block, cylindrical, and triangular shapes. Bowls with block centers and candleholders come in sets.

Birds Fourteen Feet Tall

Anybody who met a bird 14 feet high would think he needed glasses—if he had time to think while running away. But thousands of years ago, in Australia there lived the moa, which grew to be 14 feet high but, like the ostrich, could not fly. It was like the emu, and is now extinct. Scientists have dug up in Australia the bones of a 14-foot bird which may have been a moa.

Great Bear Lake Game Birds

The grouse, which are permanent residents of the Northwest territories, and several species of geese and ducks, which are migratory visitors, are the principal game birds of the Great Bear Lake area and the rest of the first territories, which embrace a million and a quarter square miles in their boundaries.—Detroit News.

Salt Poison to Octopuses

A method used by some California fishermen to capture octopuses is to drive these creatures out of their hiding places with salt, according to Nature Magazine. The fisherman will pick out a particular crevice among the rocks which he thinks may harbor an octopus and toss a handful of salt into the entrance way. If his guess has been correct the octopus will slowly and reluctantly venture into the open, only to be grabbed and put into a sack by the skillful fisherman.

Chinese Collection Scheme

With characteristic ingenuity, the Chinese long ago evolved a pleasant little way of collecting a debt when the borrower fails to pay. The lender moved, bag and baggage, into the borrower's home and remained there until the borrower was reduced to beggary by the added expenses, or a more fortunate relative took over the debt and while he entertained his lender-guest, the borrower was forced to go about with a disgraceful yoke about his neck.

LOVE VS. DILEMMAS IN "LIGHTNING STRIKES TWICE," COMEDY HIT

In the drama, love has been called on to take arms against a sea of troubles, but in "Lightning Strikes Twice," comedy hit at the Penniman-Allen theatre Friday and Saturday, July 5 and 6, love is snared and temporarily set at naught by a set of circumstances which form a new idea in comedy entertainment.

By a believable process involving skill in writing, acting and direction, "Lightning Strikes Twice" has romance imperiled by an odd mixture of happenings—a black cat, a nervous butler, a teetering mahogany cover, an irate dad and an amusing old auntie, a heroine in love and a hero caught with an attractive vamp in his arms.

Ben Holmes directed "Lightning Strikes Twice."

FRANKENSTEIN MONSTER COMES BACK AGAIN

"The monster" is at large again! Karloff, the grotesque creature of the original "Frankenstein," a murderous giant constructed from parts of dead bodies and brought to life at the height of a crashing electrical storm, comes to the Penniman-Allen theatre Friday and Saturday, July 5 and 6 in "The Bride of Frankenstein," a sequel to the first picture.

In this strange drama, produced for Universal by Carl Laemmle, Jr., the Monster is seen in further adventures of such a hair-raising nature that the picture is said to furnish the very ultimate in ghastly thrills. At the conclusion of "Frankenstein," it will be remembered, the Monster was apparently destroyed in a burning mill but the opening scenes of "The Bride of Frankenstein" show how he escaped death and returned to throw the entire countryside into a state of terror.

"THE COWBOY MILLIONAIRE" COMES TO TOWN JULY 10TH

Truth is stranger than fiction! An emphatic example of the latter phrase was brought forth during the production of "The Cowboy Millionaire," starring George O'Brien and coming Wednesday, July 10, to the Penniman-Allen theatre.

The production company was on location at the fashionable Arizona Biltmore Hotel, on the desert near Phoenix, Arizona. The sequence about to be filmed called for a runaway stage-coach. It is curious that, in writing the thrill into the script, the writers, George Waggner and Dan Jarrett, decided to add a runaway to add more suspense to the already gripping story, but they did not imagine that the stage-coach would almost be wrecked, endangering three lives.

Evelyn Bostock, the leading lady, Alice Chase and Maude Allen were in the stage-coach, which was traveling at a pretty lively gait. They thought it was great fun when the horses began to tear down the road at break-neck speed, but soon discovered that their position was not enviable—it was an actual runaway!

TAKES A LOT OF COURAGE TO ASK FOR "$10 RAISE"

"$10 Raise," described by Hollywood's hard-boiled critics as a tender, different picture that vividly translates the heartaches of a romance that is perishing through lack of money, starts its local engagement next Wednesday at the Penniman-Allen theatre.

Fox Film made a felicitous choice in allotting to Edward Everett Horton and the glamorous Karen Morley the principal roles in this intimate study of a business romance.

Horton plays bookkeeper who for fourteen years slaves for the same salary. A secretary is hired. For four more years the bookkeeper wears out his heart trying to screw up enough courage to ask for a raise so that he can confess his love.

LANGFIELD MAKES RECORD FISH CATCH AT GLEN LAKE

Conrad E. Langfield is reported by the Grand Rapids Press as having caught two record great northern pike, one weighing 15½ pounds and the other nine pounds, in Glen Lake June 29.

According to some of "Con's" friends here, the accuracy of the account is problematical, but that's what it says.

LOCALS

Ted Carell was home from summer school at Michigan State college to celebrate his birthday over the Fourth.

Marilyn Gunsell has been visiting Mr. Gunsell's sister, Mrs. A. Holm, in Detroit.

Miss Ruth Roberts is employed in Plymouth now working in the grade school for the library commission.

Several parties have been given recently honoring Mrs. Allan Doyle, of Rochester, N. Y., sister of Mrs. E. A. Kohler, who is visiting at the latter's home on West Seven Mile road. Mrs. Doyle will be here during the two weeks of her husband's business trip to Los Angeles and San Diego.

Earl Miller, linotype operator on The Record staff, made a week-end trip to Sault Ste. Marie, Canada, and Sudbury, Ont., where he met his wife and family. His oldest son, Donald, accompanied him home. Mrs. Miller and other son, Elmer, are expected to arrive here six weeks later.

THE TIME BETWEEN

We've seen many a little "booted foot" grow into "sneakers" and then into man-sized "gunboats." We're not given to "worn on the soles, spends as he goes" mumblings, but we do think there's something worth thinking about in that statement. Maybe the most important thing is Time. All that Time, from boy into man. That's when habits are acquired that will determine what the man will be. If you want a child to have the saving habit, that's the time to start.

Miss Hidanlae Lang of Harrison, Mich., became the bride of Dr. Daniel Brief, Northville dentist, at a lovely wedding performed at 4 p. m. Sunday, in the Northville Baptist church. The Rev. K. S. North read the ceremony.

A sister of the bride, Miss Nina M. Lang, also of Harrison, was in attendance, and Mr. Melvin E. Stevens acted as best man.

The bride was charmingly dressed in an ankle-length white lace gown made with long tight sleeves and a stand-up collar. A rose-point tri-corn cap with a short veil completed the costume. The bridal bouquet was of yellow roses, larkspur, and baby's breath.

The white organdy worn by the maid of honor served as a compliment to the bride's costume; it was set off by a large white straw hat. Pink roses made up Miss Lang's bouquet. Mrs. Paul J. Lang, the mother of the bride, was also completely attired in white.

Previous to the ceremony, Mrs. North sang "I Love You Truly." Harry White was at the organ, and played the wedding march from Lohengrin and Gounod's "Ave Maria," and "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes."

Mercator's Projection

Mercator's projection is a style of chart, or map, so called after Gerard Mercator, a Flemish geographer of the Sixteenth century, the first to give an unbroken view of the whole surface of the earth. In it all the meridians are straight lines perpendicular to the equator, and all the parallels parallel to the equator, the effect being to exaggerate greatly the polar regions.

West Point Cadet Local Visitor Promises To Return in Uniform

As stiffly erect as a ramrod after two years at the United States Military Academy at West Point, Cadet John Weikel of Berkley marched into The Record office Friday afternoon.

Cadet Weikel, appointed to the military academy by Rep. George A. Dondero, from this 17th district, in 1933, took entrance examinations at the same time as Walter Neal. Neal, it will be recalled, lost out in the geometry examination by one point and got his high mark on English grammar. Cadet Weikel passed English grammar by one point and got his high mark in geometry.

The future army officer praised the military institution as "the best school in the world. I am satisfied," he said, "that I could get no better academic training in any college or university anywhere." Cadets have to study all the time, he averred, and declared that "the grind is pretty stiff."

His schedule takes him from 5:30 a.m. the time of arising, until taps at 10 p. m. The late afternoons are chiefly devoted to military tactics, Cadet Weikel said. The academic curricula is rushed through as soon as possible, he explained, so that more and more tactical subjects may be taught in the latter part of the four year course.

Cadet Weikel is home on a two and half month vacation, his only extra-holiday vacation during the entire four years. He will leave this week for California, but promised to revisit Northville in August, in full dress uniform. He was in fine spirits, Friday, and said he was anxious to avoid anything resembling the military.

He was accompanied to Northville by a Berkley friend, Thomas Walker.

APPROVAL SURPRISE

The news that Northville's water works project had been approved in Washington, as announced in a small article on page 3 of Friday's Detroit News, was a great surprise to village officials as well as to the public here at large, Dr. H. H. Burkart revealed Saturday.

Mrs. Burkart saw another small article on the subject in the News Wednesday evening, he said, but outside of that, no one here knew that it had happened.

Sakellaridis, Soft Fiber

Sakellaridis is soft, silky, long-staple fiber and normally is like a prime favorite with the manufacturers of fine laces, fine lawns and ladies' fine handkerchiefs. In its heyday the staple was one and one-half inches long, compared with one inch for American upland middling and with two inches for American sea island—the last named, being the only competitor sakellaridis has had since the mysterious Jean Sakellaridis first produced and named the plant in the early years of the present century.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me." Matth. 25, 40.

It was most surprising what an unusual standard Christ has set to measure the worth of our lives. It is not the doing of great things that Jesus exalts. It is what you and I achieve in the sphere of loving service in behalf of needy and suffering humanity, and especially in behalf of those whom Christ calls His brethren: that has value in His sight.

There are men and women who have won worthy distinction in discoveries that have made our present civilization the outstanding marvel of history. We call them benefactors: for they have placed within our reach comforts and conveniences that would astonish those who passed into the life beyond even twenty-five years ago. These achievements are worthy of our praise and admiration.

But while they have multiplied resources for man's use and enjoyment, is it not true that they have brought with them luxuries which the great mass of mankind know not how to use? All this has tended to obscure those higher spiritual values which Christ proclaimed and emphasized.

Of vastly greater importance than these human achievements are the things that have spiritual value. These things are within the reach of all who love and follow Christ. They are simple, and yet fundamental. What would this world of ours be were it to be deprived of the love that makes kinship in Christ so beautiful? It is the simple life with the love of Christ to give it character and beauty, of which the world is in dire need! What we do for Christ's beloved, we do for Him. How great is the value of love done for His sake!

During the month of July the pastor and family will be on their vacation. However, during his absence divine services will be held at the usual time, 10 o'clock. The Rev. C. Strasen has consented to preach every Sunday. Should you desire the service of a pastor, you may either call for him at 236 Blunk St., Plymouth, or call him by phone, Plymouth 628J.

You are always welcome at St. Paul's Lutheran.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"God" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 7.

Among the Bible citations in this passage (Ps. 47:6, 7): Sing praises to God, sing praises: sing praises unto our King, sing praises. For God is the King of all the earth: sing ye praises with understanding.

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.140): "Not materially but spiritually we know Him as divine Mind, as Life, Truth and Love. We shall obey and adore in proportion as we apprehend the divine nature, and love Him understandingly, warring no more over His corporeality, but rejoicing in the affluence of our God."

THE OFFICE WASTEBASKET

Filled By "WARNER WINCHELL"

TSK, TSK, REPUBLICANS

Legend has it that when the Dred Scott decision was handed down marked disturbances were noticed over the grave of Andrew Jackson. If that were so, it's a safe bet that when the republican grass roots convention meeting in Springfield, Ill., adopted a program of "preserving states' rights," upheavals could have been seen over the grave of Abraham Lincoln.

As a nominal republican we more than winced when the G.O.P. powers that be selected the birth-place of the great arch-nationalist, who fought the Civil war to establish the supremacy of the central government, to plead the states rights issue. But we took it with a grin, and said, "Well, maybe the politicians skipped the chapter on the Civil war in their history books."

And then didn't they start crying "Save the constitution!" We agree with the democratic Detroit News when it asks, "Save the constitution from what?"

From what indeed? Our constitution is in no danger. Only 59 public acts out of the thousands passed by the congress have been declared unconstitutional. Recently the supreme court invalidated the epoch-making NRA, and as the News says, "all the justices are still unhanged."

"Save the constitution" is a good exclamation, but so is "Save Northville," or "Save Michigan," or even "Save money." We agree that for the present the constitution should be "saved." But from who? From what?

If our fellow republicans mean save the constitution unchanged, we do not agree. The constitution itself provides for its own changing. We feel that in several instances the constitution should be changed although slowly and carefully, and that any reactionary attempt to keep it from being changed is detrimental to the highest law itself.

Thus the rantings of sophomoric youngster on that rugged old document—the constitution.

MORE STEIN SONG

True to our word, we are submitting more inimitable Chant Godi Gertrude's stuff on newspapers. We're a little dubious about this, but the St. Louis Post Dispatch paid real money for it. The second installment:

Some country newspapers, by country I mean twenty or thirty thousand inhabitants in a city, do make yesterdays news be todays, because everybody knows everybody and so they the newspapers make yesterdays or last weeks news seems like today.

Now the big newspaper the big city newspaper cannot do that they cannot do that unless something is most terribly exciting and by terribly exciting it can only be terribly exciting if somebody who could excite everybody and day it it mixed up with it, and that does not happen very often. Dillinger and Lindbergh were and are exciting in that way and that is only because their story is exciting is the reason that what happens to them yesterday is still what happens to them today because they are existing every day and every day they are existing they are exciting and so any day any newspaper tells anything about them it makes it like today and so be exciting. But there is very little that is so exciting so that that has anybody in it who is as exciting as that so most of the news the newspaper prints is the news of yesterday and not the news of today and so the newspaper does not do what it says it does, it does not tell the news of today.

And so what is the difference well the difference is that it is a mistake. If the newspaper says that it is printing yesterday news as if it were the news of today when they are they really are a newspaper otherwise they are not.

Nile River Floated the First Boat Built by Man

The Nile river in Egypt is supposed to have floated the first boat ever built, according to a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. There, 3,000 years before Christ, a man learning to swim sat on a floating log and paddled about with his hands. The log was the first ship. Later, perhaps a century or more, two logs were lashed together, making the first raft. From such beginnings have come our great ocean greyhounds.

Naturally the first navigators knew nothing of sails for their boats. In fact, all the boats of ancient days were nothing but huge rowboats, where tiers of men were placed, one above the other, with long-handled oars. Even the Phoenicians' boats, which are spoken of in the Bible, depended on man power to move over the water.

These first ships were thought to be living gods. Instead of building a plain bow as we do today on our ships, the first mariners built a large head upon a bow, supposed to protect the boat and the sailors' lives. Later this head, encased in gold or bronze, was used as a battering ram to puncture other ships. The stern of the boat was a huge tail, which curved over the back decks. No doubt when the ship was seen in the distance it did look like a mammoth animal crawling along with its rows of oars for legs and the big curved tail and head standing high above the rest of the ship.

Believing that unless the ship had eyes it would become lost, the ancients also painted eyes on each side of the bow. And, strange as it may seem, we still have eyes on our ships in the form of hawse holes for the anchor cables.

Hydrocyanic Gas Is Used to Suffocate Murderers

Hydrocyanic acid is the gas which has been adopted by some of the western states for killing condemned criminals, a single inhalation of it having the same lethal effect as the high voltage current used in electrocutions, relates a scientist in the New York Herald Tribune. Hydrogen sulphide is the well known "rotten eggs" gas that is commonly considered more unpleasant than deadly, but its power to produce fatal results is almost the same as that of hydrocyanic acid.

The relative powers of the various gases and vapors to produce death in a short time, together with the percentage by volume in the air required to produce this effect on animals, are listed as: 1—hydrogen sulphide, .06 to 3 per cent; 2—hydrocyanic acid, .048 per cent; 3—nitrogen oxide, .07 per cent; 4—sulphur dioxide, .2 per cent; 5—carbon monoxide, .5 to 1.0 per cent; 6—ammonia, .5 to 1.0 per cent; 7—gasoline, 2.4 per cent; 8—carbon dioxide, 12 to 30 per cent.

Slavery in Senegal

Once the streets of Senegal, now a coastal colony of French West Africa, were witness to a strange and horrible traffic, the slave trade. While the slave trade was in progress, local tribal chieftains foraged the interior for fresh victims. Entire villages would be captured, their inhabitants marched to the coast to be bartered for beads, hatchets, bright clothes with brass buttons. When the practice was outlawed by the world, peace came to the land (about the size of South Dakota) and its 1,400,000 mostly Mohammedan population. Instead of human flesh, chief's new deal in peanuts, which the sandy soil grows well, cotton, rice and copra. St. Louis is the capital; Dakar, the largest port and farthest westerly tip of the "Dark Continent," is where the French governor-general makes his headquarters.—Washington Post.

Fake Castle Ruin Famous

Although a fake, Rothley "Castle" at Rothley, England, has become so famous that it is to remain as part of the scenery and any attempt to destroy it will meet with the opposition of Rothley citizens. It stands on a commanding position on a lonely and rugged crag. It has a square tower and a curvated wall, embattled and loop-holed and each wing ends with a bastion. The structure was built by the late Sir Walter Caverly Blackett merely to decorate the landscape.

"I Apologize"

A customer slammed the door of a Northville business place angrily with a stinging reproof for discourtesy ringing in his ears.

There now, we've made an enemy, and the participants in the episode shook their heads and sighed regretfully. They had really liked the man and anyway it was no light matter to have an enemy in a town so small that paths crossed frequently.

The morning was spoiled. The rest of the day was like climbing uphill.

But the next morning, to their surprise, the man came back, held out his hand and said with a frank expression "I am ashamed of what I said yesterday and I came back to apologize. I was in trouble and it made me nervous and irritable. I'm sorry."

"Well, I think more of you than ever" replied the one involved and mutual good will was restored with a hearty hand shake. Now when these parties meet on the street it is with real cordiality.

Some wounds are not healed so readily because they are left so long that they fester and the healing comes harder. It takes real courage to say "I was wrong and I ask your forgiveness," but, like the surgeon's knife, it is the only way to make a clean cut.

No one can be happy with any enemy lurking in the background of his life. The sooner he is "killed" the better all around.

Years ago we heard this song and it has often been recalled:

"Shake hands, let us be glad and forget and forgive.
Life is too short for hatred"—

The following delicious fruit salad made a hit at the recent Rotary picnic at the Northrop home. Mrs. Harry G. Rackham made it.

Fruit Salad

Dressing: 2 eggs (beaten), 3 tablespoons vinegar, 3 tablespoons granulated sugar, 2 tablespoons melted butter. Cook in double boiler until thick. Set aside to cool.

To the above add 2 cups marshmallows (cut up), 1 can white cherries (do not use red), 1 can sliced pineapple, 3 oranges. Cut up and mix. Stir in one-half pint whipped cream. Cool.

Strawberry Rice

Boil
½ cup washed rice in
1 quart boiling water for 20 minutes.
Drain and put in double boiler with
Salt to season
2 tablespoons sugar and enough
Milk to cover the rice. Cook until rice is tender and milk all absorbed. Place the rice in a deep serving dish. Over all pour a syrup made from 1 cup sugar boiled with
½ cup water until thick. With spoon or fork gently make way for the sirup and bits of berries to penetrate to bottom. Serves four.

Carrots Again

Carrots make delicious sandwiches. Try this recipe for your next picnic or for lunch on a hot day: Grate 3 large carrots, 3 hard boiled eggs, 1 large or 2 small cucumbers, 1 small onion and add 2 ripe tomatoes chopped fine. Drain for a few minutes and mix thoroughly with mayonnaise. The taste of this spread blends with any kind of bread—white, brown or rye.

The liquor can be added to soup or used in salad dressing. The liquor and a small amount of spread added to lemon jello make a nice salad.

Chocolate Surprise Cake
(Mrs. Harry G. Rackham)

2 dozen lady fingers, ½ lb. sweet chocolate, 4 tablespoons sugar, 4 tablespoons water, 2 egg yolks (beaten light), 1½ teaspoons vanilla, 4 egg whites (beaten), 1 cup whipped cream.

Line deep round cake tin with waxed paper; line bottom and sides with lady fingers, brown side out. Melt chocolate in double boiler, add sugar, water and egg yolks. Cook until smooth, stirring constantly. Cool, add vanilla and fold in egg whites.

Pour one half of mixture into pan, put another layer of lady fingers over chocolate mixture and add remainder of filling. Cover with waxed paper and put into refrigerator for several hours. When ready to serve remove from pan and fill center with whipped cream. Sprinkle with chocolate shot or nut meats. Very rich and delicious.

You Can Picnic Today With The Greatest Of Ease

And Have Time to Swing High on the Flying Trapeze

MODERN picnics are planned. Old-fashioned picnics were prepared. "Planned" sounds much easier, doesn't it? And it is easier.

If you can recall picnic days when you were a child you will remember a kitchen full of food covering every bit of available table-space.

"I'll devil the eggs, over here," someone said, "and give you room to make the sandwiches." And high on shelves were cakes and tarts and good things baked the day before, ready to be wrapped and packed. Over the whole scene was an aroma of freshly squeezed lemons.

Let's Go!

It sounds like rather fun, you say, remembering how you came into the kitchen in time to get a sandwich that wouldn't fit in, and eat the icing that had fallen on the sides of the cake plate. Well, it was fun for everybody but the ones who spent a day or so preparing for the picnic.

Proof of this fact is that there weren't picnics quite so often. One couldn't just wake up any fine day and see the sun shining and say, "Let's eat somewhere out in the open today." More often, with hampers packed you sat indoors watching gray clouds scurrying across the sky and wondering if the nice picnic lunch had to be eaten at home.

Today, if you plan your picnic properly, you'll find the grocer has it practically prepared for you. Just stop by and get it. Of course if you have a delicious home-made cake, you'll take it along, and your picnic will be that much merrier. But for a nice picnic "with the greatest of ease," do plan it in some such way as this:

PICNIC MENU

Peeled and Wrapped Cucumber Wedges
Crisp Radishes — Mustard Pickles
Latticed Potato Chips
Canned Whole Chicken or Ham
Assorted Sandwiches
Crab-Meat with Lemon Juice on Rye
Veal Loaf and Bermuda Onion
Boston Brown Bread with Snappy Cheese
Cakes — Cookies
Canned Fruits for Salad in Patty Shells
Coffee — Tomato Juice — Pineapple Juice

Let's see how easy, for example, this menu is to pick up on short notice. Your grocer can provide the first five items—cucumbers, radishes, pickles, crisp potato chips and a can of either delicious chicken or ham.

Sandwiches on the Spot

As for the assorted sandwiches—they can all be made on the spot. A can of crab meat goes right into the picnic hamper, along with a lemon, and this can be quickly spread on sliced rye bread and taste much better than if it had been packed around in ready-made sandwiches. The same goes for the veal loaf, which comes in cans, and a big Bermuda onion—sliced on the spot. Boston brown bread comes in cans—you know that—and if you open a can of this delicious bread and spread it with snappy cheese right from the jar, you're going to like it.

Then we come to your home-made cake—do bake one for it's rather fun; if you think of it the day before. If not, there are plenty of appetizing cookies which come fresh and crisp in cans.

Your baker will supply you with light, flaky patty shells, and you'll be surprised to find what a delicious picnic dessert these are if you fill them with fruits for salad—right from the can—well drained. As for the juice—drink it. Drink also a freshly opened can of Hawaiian pineapple juice, unsweetened. It can be bought in the No. 3 can, now, at many retail stores.

POLITICAL BOOKS HEAD THIS WEEK'S LIBRARY POINTERS

History books dominate the list of this week's books worthwhile reading, contributed by Mrs. Jennie Cousins, librarian.

Two books are directly antithetical to each other; one democratic, and the other republican. The list with a thumb-nail review of each is as follows:

"Hoover Off The Record," by Theodore Joslin: "An intimate picture of his habits of work and his attitude of mind during his term of office."—The Booklist.

"The Blue Eagle From Egg to Earth," by Hugh S. Johnson: "As enthusiastic as impulsive, and as colorful as his administration of the NRA."—New York Times.

"Farewell to Revolution," by Dean Martin: "Devastating, but true."—New York Times.

"Grandsons," by Louis Adamic: "A strong and living tale, set in a true scene, peopled by characters of extraordinary vitality."—The Booklist.

"Via Mala," by John Knittel: "A fine, serious, deep-hearted novel by a master of fiction which cannot fail to delight thousands of readers."—Dorothy Canfield.

WHAT IS THE ANSWER?

(A. D. Gallery in the Tuscola County Advertiser)

Here is an interesting comparison, taken from recently published figures:

In 1913, the cost of government—federal, state and local—was less than $3,000,000,000; in 1934, it was $15,500,000,000—a gain of 431 per cent.

In 1913, the cost of domestic electricity averaged 8.7 cents per kilowatt hour. In 1934, it was 5.3 cents—a reduction of 39 per cent.

The same politicians who were responsible for quadrupling the cost of government in a generation, are lamenting the "high cost" of electricity—which amounts to only one or two per cent of the average family budget—and are asking the taxpayers to let them run the power industry.

Is this concern over power designed to divert attention from the quadrupled cost of government, for which they are largely responsible?

Would the politicians who ran the cost of government up over 400 per cent in 20 years be good managers to reduce the cost of electricity or anything else?

THE VOICE OF THE PULPIT IN NORTHVILLE

AN INSPIRED BOOK

By REV. LEO EICKSTEADT

"All Scripture is given by inspiration of God." Do you believe that?

The Bible is of little value to a Christian unless it is for him the supreme authority in matters of religion. To venerate the Bible, to esteem it highly for its wisdom, to believe even that it reveals to us the mind of God is not sufficient. In the end there will be doubt, uncertainty, unbelief, for there is no sure foundation for conviction, for faith.

Only when the Bible, the whole Bible, is accepted as the sure Word of God, can the Christian come to the point at which he can say, "I KNOW whom I have believed."

Where do you stand in this matter? Do you accept the Bible as God's Word, as the whole truth and nothing but the truth? Or do you believe that the Bible is a mere human book, full of good thought, good advice, even heavenly wisdom, but after all subject to all the limitations that every book written by imperfect man must be subject to? Do you believe that you can accept the statements of the Bible without question, or do you believe that they must be critically viewed in the "light" of reason, research, popular comment, highbrow opinion, science true and false, and any number of other "lights" that may happen to impress you?

It's rather important, isn't it, this question of one's attitude toward the Bible? No doubt that it determines the whole character of one's religion, that it makes for truth or error, for certainty or doubt, for salvation or condemnation.

Now can any intelligent person in this wonderful twentieth century really accept the Bible as the inspired Word of God? Our fathers did, but they did not have the advantages offered by this marvelous age of discovery, research, invention and general progress. In the light of what we see and know, can we really still believe the Bible to be God's Word in its entirety and therefore a true and infallible guide in spiritual matters?

In answering that question for yourself consider first what the Bible itself has to say on this subject. Let it speak to you from its own pages. You will find that it says, 2 Tim. 3.16, "All Scripture is given by inspiration of God and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness." 2 Peter 1, 21 the Bible asserts, "Holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost." Jesus says, John 5, 39, "Search the Scriptures, for in them ye think ye have eternal life, and they are they which testify of me." Thus you will find many other passages in which the Bible clearly claims to be the inspired Word of God.

But how does the Bible prove its claim? Consider that in the second place.

It proves that by its power. God is all powerful. His Word must have similar power. Has it? If you have studied the pages of world history, you can no longer doubt the power of the Word. The Bible has undoubtedly exerted a greater influence upon the progress of events in human history than any other agency. It has ennobled races and peoples and lifted them out of the hopeless mire of paganism and barbarian ignorance. It has given to the world its matchless code of ethics and thus has served as the foundation stone of all just and good laws. Its spirit of helpfulness and service have moved men and women everywhere to give their strength and even their lives in the service of mankind. Thus it has in the end inspired all great discoveries and inventions, such as those which aid men in combatting disease and in generally making this world a better and more pleasant place to live in. An almost endless catalogue of its achievements could be compiled. But the greatest of all its achievements is this: that wherever the Bible has gone, it has changed the hearts and minds as well as the lives of men. It has done what no other agency could do; it has given man power to overcome sin, to know God, and to obtain sonship with Him through the merits of Jesus Christ, God's Son and the World's Redeemer. It has changed men from children of sin and death to children of God and heirs of Eternal Life. This is the greatest of its achievements, the foremost among its virtues, the most blessed of its powers. It stamps the Bible clearly and unmistakably as God's Book, as God's Word, imbued with God's Spirit and invested with God's power.

Have you, Friend, been moved by this Spirit, have you experienced this power? If you have not, you will not be convinced by what you have just read. "Natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God; they are foolishness unto him; neither can he know them, for they are spiritually discerned." You cannot make a blind man appreciate the beauty of colors, nor a deaf man the inspiration of music, for they lack the senses necessary for the perception of those things. You cannot describe the sensation of love, or hatred, or fear, or joy or any other emotion to one who has never felt the emotion itself, for soul stirring emotions must be experienced to be known to man. Likewise you cannot really appreciate the sweetness of the Gospel for soul stirring emotions to one the strength of the law, the inspiration, the power, the transforming spirit of God's Word unless you have been awakened by its influence to a new life, obtaining thereby spiritual discernment. But when God's Word has become for you "A power of God unto salvation," you will require no further argument, no additional proof of its worth, but having seen and heard, and tasted, you know and believe.

Therefore the only purpose of this writing can be and is to induce you to give God's Word a chance to prove its power to you. Read it, study it, not light-mindedly, frivolously, mockingly, full of prejudice, contempt and indifference, but seriously, earnestly, desiring only to know the truth and to follow it. Then God's Spirit will enlighten you and His Book will become also unto you "a power of God unto Salvation." God grant it for your earthly and heavenly happiness! Amen.

THE TALK OF THE TOWN

By HARRISON CHANDLER

And Now Chain Bridge!

We observe now that the latest craze in Northville is chain-bridge parties. It's really amusing to see how gullible we are to fall for these ridiculous fads that come and go. We had breathed a big sigh of relief, after the chain-letter storm had finally blown over so that we could lead our comparatively tranquile existence again without stopping 50 times a day to fight off the enthusiastic salestalk of our friends.

The storm did blow from the west, to east, we noticed. At least three weeks after everyone had forgotten all about it here, we received a chain letter from a friend in western Pennsylvania. At that rate, it is probably just reaching New York.

Oh well, one consolation we have, and that is we will not have to worry about being invited to the chain-bridge parties because they happen in the afternoons, and therefore are reserved for the frail sex.

How About It?

We are a firm believer in the idea that most any shopping need can be bought in Northville, that the Do Your Shopping in Northville slogan should be sounded from the housetops, and that the merchants should join together in a body and find out how the idea can be put across to everyone. That we need a chamber of commerce in Northville is the opinion expressed by many recently.

A Striking Parallel

Down in the big city, Saturday evening we noticed a wedding procession dashing across town, with horns going every minute, streamers flying, traveling away over the speed limit, and stopping all other traffic. The newlyweds were in a shiny new model. It was the big moment in their lives.

Only a few minutes later we heard sirens blowing and then saw several fire trucks going by about 50 miles per down Woodward avenue (not the direction of the wedding party).

Then the thought came to us that outside of fire trucks and police cars, there are only two other kinds of processions that make traffic wait until they have passed—funerals and wedding parties.

There is no law against breaking through a wedding procession, but it seems to be an unwritten law. Many people feel that "if the poor man has gone and let that happen to him he deserves every break that can come his way," so they stop. And the rest probably stop because the others did—it's human nature. There is something touching about a wedding, and we are in favor of stopping traffic for the participants. It's coming to them.

And while we are on the subject, we offer congratulations to the newlyweds of Northville, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin VanValkenburgh, and Dr. and Mrs. Dan Brief. May they all live happily ever after.

WANDERING KEY MAKER VISITS IN NORTHVILLE

Old But Healthy, Has Seen Every State in His Model "T"

With a dilapidated old Model "T" Ford for his means of transportation, and the making of keys as his income, James C. Walter came to Northville Monday morning to spend an hour or two and then pass through on his never ending pilgrimage.

"I have been travelling all my life, just about," he remarked, while he put the finishing touches on a new key with a file. "I was born in a covered wagon down in Texas."

Dressed in soiled working clothes and with a deep coat of tan on his face, he did not appear to be nearly as old as he said he was, "going on 80."

"I have two sons," he continued, "who graduated from Annapolis many years ago, and now are officers in the navy—also travelling. One will reach the retirement age next year."

There is not one state in the union that Walter has not covered in his work. "I never stay in any town more than a week," he declared, "because if I stayed at one place long, I would get lots of business the first week and then probably a dollar or two in the 51 other weeks of the year. And besides, I am still looking for prosperity. Have you seen it around any of the corners here?"

A simple little gasoline motor, mounted on one of the running boards of his car, which at one time was on a washing machine, gives him the power for cutting keys into shape. "It's a lazy man's outfit," he admitted, "but it really does the work very well."

Asked as to his route after leaving Northville, he replied that he would go down through to the eastern part of Ohio, "and then most anywhere." He made his departure long before noon.

THIS WEEK

By H. H. WHITE

As one takes a peep at history from a broad standpoint it would seem that in the progress of mankind and civilization the fundamental thing that has been a saving grace has been the application of common and tried sense to the events that contributed to the makeup of life.

From the bitterest of experiences a certain amount of wisdom has been applied which has been mankind's security as he matured. Thus he has cherished the gain with which he has been able to rise above his difficulties and which at the same time has taught him to avoid further like experiences. To the observing eye it has been noticeable that mankind will fight to the finish above money, friends, and even life itself sometimes, to maintain a set of principles to a definite conclusion.

They are to the intelligent mind at least a sort of avenue of escape to the place of peace, contentment, and happiness. Mankind holds to them with a tenaciousness which makes him a conservative, and thus suspicious of any science which attempts to analyze his deductions until he can be assured of their practical application to his individual problems.

No matter what agency, such as like attempts to analize or describe life, still mankind has little left to do, but to live life, yet it is a human thing at best, and there does not exist on this globe anyone who has any other sort of nature.

Mankind may rightly revere science and its researches, but unless their laboratory findings are applicable to the every day needs of life, they are of little value, for the needs of mankind are direct and simple, and not a matter of speculation.

Unless science and all its adherents can have a direct bearing upon the everyday problems of mankind, and assist with a proper appreciation of them, he is about as helpless as Job was with all the pain caused from his boils, when there were those who sympathized and philosophized with him, but still left him in his agony, without any palliative for the troublesome and painful tumors.

700 YOUNGSTERS IN "4TH" PARADE HELD AT TRAINING SCHOOL

Promising to be as gala and as colorful as a Mardi Gras celebration or a Toyland parade, the annual Fourth of July exercises were to occur at the Wayne county training school Thursday afternoon with all of the 700 children taking part, according to present arrangements.

As has been the custom of recent years, the children were to march in the parade, scheduled to begin at 2:30 p. m. Every cottage, unit, or organization of the training school has been spending all spare time working on the idea it is to represent in the long procession, which always takes more than half an hour to pass a given point.

Although soldiers in uniform marched in other Fourth of July parades, there is never anything military about this one. Last year it contained among other unique features, two boxers engaging in a "battle of the century" all along the line of march, "wild animals" in cages that has been "brought back alive" from the depths of the jungles, beautiful floats, and even some prize cattle.

The reviewing stand was to be in front of the main building of the training school. Soon after the procession passed this point, it was to break up to form a huge circle there and be addressed by Dr. Robert H. Haskell, superintendent of the school. This was to conclude the exercises.

The general public was not invited to the exercises, Dr. Haskell said, but all who come will be welcome. "Our Fourth of July celebration," he said, "is one event which we always make just for ourselves."

C. E. Rogers Co. Milk Machinery Plant Which Has Weathered 6 Depressions Is Described in Detroit Sunday Times

condensing milk is used in the vacuum pan process. This process is used in making condensed milk for ice cream makers, confectioners and bakers.

Until 1906 ice cream makers used starch or tapioca as a filler for ice cream to give it body, but in that year the Pure Food Law was passed and they were allowed to use nothing but dairy products—except for flavoring. This necessitated the use of condensed milk to add body to teh mixture and opened a new field for the C. E. Rogers company.

In the making of condensed milk ordinary milk is boiled under vacuum which lowers the boiling point and enables the producer to condense the fluid without heating it to such a high point that it loses its pure milk flavor.

Equipment Lowers the Boiling Point

The equipment furnished by this company boils milk at only 130 degrees Fahrenheit. These machines have a capacity of from 1,000 to 10,000 pounds of condensed fluid milk an hour.

Another type of machine is used to make powdered milk from the lower grade milk for cattle feed. This machinery consists of two large rollers and resembles a laundry mangle. The liquid milk is poured into the top and forms a dry crust on the heated rollers. This machine has a capacity of from 100 to 300 pounds of powdered milk an hour.

The third and by far the largest equipment manufactured by the C. E. Rogers Company is used to make powdered milk for human consumption. This form of milk is used almost entirely in the baking of bread and is made by the spray process.

Hot Air Dries the Vaporized Milk

In this process air is drawn through pipes four feet in diameter up to 30 feet long, and into an air filter, and then into heating coils. From the coils it passes into the dryer proper, which is 28 feet high and 28 feet square at the base, where it comes in contact with the milk which has been vaporized until it resembles a dense fog. The heated air dries the milk vapor and it falls to the floor of the dryer in a powdered form.

From there it passes through a hopper and sifter and then into the package or barrel. The used air is filtered to prevent loss of powder.

These complete machines cost as high as $38,000 installed and some of the larger units can produce from 800 to 1,000 pounds of sterilized powdered milk an hour.

Smaller units of this type are used for making dried food for babies and powdered chemicals.

MRS. WEST, FORMER NORTHVILLE WOMAN, DIES IN YPSILANTI

Mrs. Ruby West, a former Novi and Northville resident, passed away Friday, June 28, at the home of her daughter in Ypsilanti at the age of sixty-seven years. Services were held Sunday in the home, conducted by the Rev. Shaw of that city, and interment was made in the family lot at Novi.

Mrs. West, with her husband, Lee and family lived for many years on a farm on Grand River avenue just east of Novi. Their children, Myra, Margaret and Howard West, and nephew, Horace Boyden, attended school in Novi, Farmington and Northville. The West home was always open to their school friends as well as relatives, neighbors and business friends, many of whom were present at the services Sunday.

Ruby Smith was born to George and Anne Smith, at Novi in 1868, one of several children all of whom have preceded her in death. She attended school in Novi and at an early age was married to Lee L. West of that place. They lived at first with the Washington Wests on a farm just east of Novi on Grand River, until a new house could be built on the farm. This was their home for the remainder of their married life.

After the death of her husband in 1917, the farm was sold and Mrs. West moved to Ypsilanti; during the last several years she made her home with her daughter Margaret, at 605 Congress street.

Mr. West died in 1917. The daughters, Mrs. Harry Birdsall, and husband of Brooklyn, N. Y., Mrs. Wesley Dawson and husband and four sons of Ypsilanti, and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bessie Brooks-West and son Major of Manhattan, Kansas, together with the nephew, Horace Boyden, and family of this place are left to memories of tender care and great love of a devoted mother.

Other relatives include Fred Durfee, George Arre of Williamston and two nieces, Mrs. Joseph Herron of Berkeley, and Miss Mary DeLand of New York.

EICKSTAEDTS BEGIN VACATION; STRASEN WILL BE PREACHER

The Rev. and Mrs. Leo Eickstaedt and children expected to leave Wednesday, July 3, and be away during the entire month in Indiana and Illinois.

Services here at the St. Paul's Lutheran church will be held as usual, however, Mr. Eickstaedt said Friday. The Rev. Charles Strasen of Plymouth will preach each Sunday at the 10 a. m. service.

Mr. Strasen can be reached for pastoral needs at 233 Blunk street there, and his telephone is Plymouth 628 J.

Mr. Eickstaedt said his family expected to visit friends and relatives and also possibly get in a little golf, tennis and swimming.

3 NEW TELEPHONE GIRLS ANNOUNCED

Three new telephone operators for the Northville telephone office were announced last week by Miss Ethel Keinsley, chief operator.

They are Miss Dorothy Flaherty and Miss Marjorie Clay, both of Northville; and Miss Marguerite Kolody of Lansing. Both Miss Flaherty and Miss Clay are new to the telephone business, while Miss Kolody was transferred from the Lansing office. She is a cousin of Miss Anna Kolody, another local operator.

In addition to Miss Keinsley, the only other operator is Mrs. J. B. Watts, veteran night operator.

the sand off before coming up from bathing or fine if rigged over the drain in the cellar or laundry floor.

And speaking of things wet, the same merchant that has kept quiet about having this ideal shower-head has a new kind of spray for watering your lawn. Made simply, and easily attachable, the fixture will send water in a fan spray, and with city pressure, will cover a thirty-five foot span. It ought to be easy to hit every spot in the yard with this spray for it is easily adjustable to different angles. But the best thing about it to our way of thinking is that with this attachment the hose can be moved without shutting off the pressure—here is a way to prevent the ducking that you hadn't planned on.

Believing that the people of Northville will be interested in knowing the result of Federal action here in Washington, I am happy to inform you that a direct grant of $9,409.00 was signed by the President on June the 26th granting to Northville the above sum for the purpose of improving the water works system of your city.

With kind personal regards I am,

SCHOOL'S CONDITION TERMED EXCELLENT

to run for ten months next year, he said, but will enable the school tax to be curtailed. The great increase in state financial assistance is because of the sales tax, he advised. Taxes last year were a little over $9, whereas they were as high as $15 before passage of the sales tax measure. The Northville schools, Mr. Ambler pointed out, are much better off than the average school throughout the state.

Mr. Ambler explained the board's efficiency on the basis that during the lean years the members were able to "cut the corners" without impairing the quality of instruction. "In this the teachers greatly cooperated," he said.

The average per capita cost of education in Northville is $50, which, according to Mr. Ambler, is much lower than in many places, especially Detroit where the schools are about $5,000,000 in the red.

THORNS IN GEO. DUART'S THUMB CAUSE INFECTION

George Duart is carrying a badly swollen thumb in a sling as a result of poisoning caused from thorns.

He had to have it lanced four times, he says, and is wholly unable to work while the wounded digit is healing. The injury occurred June 17 while he was working on the Joseph Hoehl property on Dunlap street. He attempted to work the next morning, but pain from the infection sent him to the doctor.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR HORSE SHOW PLANS PROGRESS RAPIDLY

begun at 11 a. m. this year, she added.

The senior horse show committee met Wednesday evening, June 26, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Walker on the West Base Line road, when a tentative program was outlined. Several new entries in this year's show are expected.

Those present in addition to the host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Clark, and Mrs. Ted Kampf, Mrs. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson.

Mr. Nelson, the chairman of the committee presided at this meeting. "Prospects look very favorable for a better show this year than ever," Mrs. Brown said later, in discussing the meeting.

Several members of the senior horse show committee were guests of the Franklin Hunt club Saturday afternoon at a hunt supper served at the Wylie Bell lodge on the 12 Mile road. The coming Northville horse show was an important part of the conversation at the dinner table. Ten boxes for the Northville show were purchased by guests at the hunt supper.

Those of the horse show committee there were: Mrs. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. T. Glenn Phillips, Philip H. Grennan, and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lindsay.

Mrs. Brown's two hackney ponies, which won third prize against what was called the stiffest competition in the country at the Grosse Pointe show two weeks ago competing as a pair, will also be entered in the Northville show, Mrs. Brown announced.

The next meeting of the senior committee will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Clark on the East Base Line road probably some time during the coming week.

Any information concerning entering horses in the shows can be secured by applying to Mr. Clark or Mr. Nelson.

The next meeting of the junior show committee will be held at 4 p. m. Friday, July 5, followed by a picnic at the home of Mrs. Brown.

CAMPFIRE GIRLS BACK FROM CAMP

carried away the honors in the string-burning race. This involved the use of the camp-craft lessons in which the girls had been taught how to properly build a camp-fire.

Rain didn't prevent the ceremonial fire, one of the traditional ceremonies of the organization, for by clever decorating, the girls were able to cover the fire-place and floor of the assembly room with boughs. When this had been done, the candle-ceremony began. Each councilor lighted a candle from the seven candles on the mantel, representing the camp-fire ideal; the flames of their candles were then allowed to mingle with the flames of the Wathana fires, and from them, the candles of first the girls who had been to the camp before, and then the newcomers were lighted. Taps concluded the ceremony.

There were other high-lights of the trip: the councilor's evening serenade, the morning sing, with its varying theme, the learning of the Virginia Reel, the fun of eating most of their meals out of doors, the two Assembly dinners, even the morning chores were part of the camping fun.

Northville's 710 Telephones Will Cost The Michigan Bell Company $5,154.60 In Taxes This Year

Approximately $5,154.60 will be paid in taxes by the Michigan Bell Telephone company on the some 710 telephones in Northville it was announced this week.

The telephone company will, its offices declare, pay $7.26 per telephone, based on the average number of telephones it operated in 1934. This is about $1 more per telephone than it paid last year, officials claim.

The tax to be paid on local phones reveals an increase of 42 telephones since Jan. 31, 1934, when the total number of subscribers was 668, according to the Plymouth commercial office of the company. The 710 figure from the report of April 30 of this year, which showed an increase of 11 phones for that month.

The tax, $7.26 per telephone, requires the net earnings from 187,600 telephones or nearly 38 per cent of the average number the company operated last year to pay the tax bill which amount to $3,594,000. And if taxes were paid through a meter, the Michigan Bell Company would be required to stuff $6.83 into the slot each minute of every day in the year, officials estimated.

June 28, Michigan's auditor general, John O'Hara, received at Lansing the telephone company's check for $1,368,977.63, representing half of its state tax bill of $2,737,955.25. The balance is to be paid before November 1.

In addition to its state tax, the telephone company will pay the federal government approximately $800,000 this year, and its miscellaneous local taxes will approximate $47,000.

Under the Michigan law, telephone and telegraph companies, railroads, railway car-running companies and express companies pay taxes to the state, in lieu of local taxes, upon property generally used for conducting their business. The Michigan Bell Telephone company is the largest individual taxpayer in the utilities group here.

Tax money received by the state of Michigan from public utilities goes into the primary school fund and is distributed among all public school districts in proportion to the number of children of school age residing therein. It is estimated that the Michigan Bell company pays approximately 28 per cent of the sum paid into the fund by the state's public utilities.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks peaky, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blows up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, tiny, gentle, vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist substitutes. 25c at drug stores. ©1931 C.M.Co.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell the decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and ¾ of our food decays in our 25 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped mongrel, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the rectum in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for—25¢. ©1934, C.M.Co.
