BEER GARDEN PROBE WILL BE CONTINUED

Gregory Scores Smashing of New Parking Signs on Plymouth Avenue

The attack on the beer garden situation here, started last week by Commissioner William T. Gregory, will be continued, Mr. Gregory declared yesterday.

"It's about time," he declared, "that the village showed these beer garden proprietors that it must be respected. Several of them are doing their best to co-operate, but there is one in particular who has never shown the slightest inclination."

Mr. Gregory reported that the two village "No Parking" signs, which were placed in the parkway in the center of Plymouth avenue Saturday afternoon, were found the next morning bent to the ground and twisted.

"There isn't a question of a doubt," Mr. Gregory declared Wednesday, "but what the signs were maliciously knocked down, and very likely by a car.

"You might call it an accident," he continued, "if only one had been run into. But they were placed about 50 or 75 feet apart, and the same accident could not happen twice!"

Northville can have a beautiful boulevard approach if it can keep people from parking in the center of Plymouth avenue, he asserted, because the county road commission will be glad to beautify the center of this street if the village can prohibit parking there.

This information was given to the village Tuesday, July 2, through W. A. Ely, township supervisor, by Edward Hines, a member of the Wayne county road commission. He also gave the village full permission from the county to prohibit parking in the parkway of this street, Mr. Gregory said.

The fact that the village has permitted people to park there is the only reason, according to Mr. Gregory, why the county has not gone ahead with this work already.

It was decided at the last meeting of the village commission Monday evening, June 26, to put signs there when it became known that patrons of a beer garden on Plymouth avenue were parking their cars in this boulevard parkway and also on the sidewalk in front of this business place.

Mr. Gregory made special charges that evening against John Norton, proprietor of the beer garden, about the parking in the parkway and on the sidewalk, and against dancing in beer gardens in general. He also declared that beer gardens should be forced to get entertainment licenses if they provided music or a floor show. Mr. Norton made counter charges at that time against Mr. Gregory.

The other members of the commission and village officials for the most part professed to be ignorant about the signs being knocked down, and had no opinion to offer concerning the possible causes. They expressed the belief that no one knows exactly what happened to the signs.

HORSE RACES TO BE HELD HERE SUNDAY

The fastest trotting horses in and around Northville will be given a chance "to do their stuff" at 2 p. m. Sunday, July 14, at the fairgrounds.

The first horse races here since the fair, a year ago, these races, sponsored by local owners of trotters and pacers, are expected to draw many. The entire program is free.

While it is not known exactly what horses and drivers will be entered, according to George Rattenbury, one of Northville's number one horsemen, "the races will present nearly all the local favorites who are expected to be in fast time."

An added "attraction" will be a soft ball game between the Owen "Killers" and the Ely "Giants."

FORNEY KOLSTOKER AGENT

W. E. Forney is the agent for Archer Kolstoker, a device which feeds the furnace, he announced yesterday. Clean heat with no soot and a minimum of labor are features of the Kolstoker.

NEW M. E. PASTOR

THE REV. HARRY B. LORD

The Rev. Harry B. Lord, who came to Northville last week as the new pastor of the Methodist church, preached his first sermon here Sunday. He comes from the Oakland avenue Methodist church of Pontiac, succeeding Dr. H. H. Mallinson, who became the pastor of the Bethany Methodist church in Detroit.

ANGOVE SCOFFS AT REVOLT IN MEXICO

But Mexico City is 'Hotbed of Communism,' Local Rotary Club is Told

Calling Mexico City a "hotbed of Communism" but scoffing at the idea of the widely reported Mexican revolution, Percy Angove told members of the Northville Rotary Club Tuesday of the Rotary International convention from which he just returned.

Mr. Angove represented the International Society for Crippled Children at the Mexico City convention as well as acting as a delegate from the local Rotary club. While there he and Paul King of Detroit staged the crippled children's breakfast and organized the Mexican Association for Crippled Children, the first in Latin-America.

"The 'revolution' reported during the convention was the most respectable, decent student parade I ever saw," Mr. Angove told the Rotarians. "I never heard the social or religious question discussed once publicly. Mexico may be undergoing a revolution, a change like we are undergoing, but it is one without bombing or shooting."

However, Mr. Angove contended, the Russian Communists are trying to get a foothold in Mexico. It is the "red" type of Communism, he explained.

Mr. Angove held that "there is no question that the church in Mexico has dominated to a point where individual initiative was stifled. That is why Mexico is backward."

But there are still churches in Mexico where those who wish may worship, he pointed out, calling it a "serious mistake that the American press so grossly misrepresented the facts."

Answering critics who scored Rotary International for choosing Mexico City for its meeting, Mr. Angove declared that "Rotary did a fine thing to hold the convention there."

The meeting was the first for the new officers—Charles T. Thornton, president; Leslie G. Lee, vice president; E. L. Millis, secretary and treasurer; and W. E. Forney, sergeant at arms.

AMBLER AND CAVELL ARE RE-ELECTED

Returned to School Board by Unanimous Vote as 41 Hear Good Report

Forty-one persons out of a possible 3,500 turned out to the annual Northville school meeting Monday night to unanimously reelect Sherrill W. Ambler and Dr. E. B. Cavell to the school board.

According to Supt. R. H. Amerman, it was the smallest turnout to an annual meeting in years and a decided contrast to the 150 present one year ago. As Dr. Cavell president of the board, explained, "They must be either satisfied or disgusted with us."

Speaking for the board, Mr. Ambler, the secretary, told his small audience that "we are happy and proud that with the help of Thad J. Knapp we were able to coordinate the work and reduce the budget so that we are now $15,000 better off than when the depression began." Mr. Ambler promised a reduction in school taxes for the coming year and told of efforts of the board to secure a direct PWA grant to make "this school twice as large as it is."

Mr. Amerman told the meeting that the school was over-crowded, but declared that "Northville high school is as well equipped as any school I have worked in." Praising the faculty, he cited the immediate need for expansion of school facilities.

The per capita cost of $52 here is way below average, the superintendent stated. This cost is $48 in the grade school and $58.60 in the high school, he said. According to Mr. Amerman, the per capita cost for next year, which will run 10 months, will be $53.11; $51.11 for the grades and $65.11 for the high school.

On motions of Charles A. Dolph, both secretary's report followed the usual procedure of being accepted with only totals read. Both will be published in next week's issue of The Record.

The total disbursements as read by Treasurer Fred W. Lyke were $54,554.82, the largest item of which was $24,583.43 for teachers' salaries. This figure includes $12,008.59 paid out for "general purposes," which is the general payroll and all miscellaneous expenses. The general purpose fund a year ago was $11,667.49, teachers' salaries $24,402.25, and total disbursements $54,321.36.

A receipt total of $62,951.84 leaves a balance of cash on hand of $8,397.02 for this year. Taxes amounted to $24,744.66 as against $30,747.27 a year ago. The total receipts for 1934 were $64,290.35. Last year's report showed a balance of $10,063.59 brought over, but more than $4,000 of this was in closed Detroit banks and $4,000 of it was in default on bonds. The amount in the closed banks has since been paid by the bonding company.

Outstanding items in the general payroll, to which the detailed secretary's report is largely devoted, are $16,016.33 to the Depositors State Bank for payment on bonds and interest on scrip, note, and bonds; and $4,470.85 in wages to William B. Horsfall, janitor; Edward Head, former band director; Leslie G. Lee; Florence Bray and June Parrant, nurses; Hazel B. Yerkes, secretary; and student library assistants.

RITA LEAVES ON TRIP TODAY

With the J. L. Hudson company playing the part of the fairy godmother, Miss Rita Sprenger felt like a veritable Cinderella one day last week when she was summoned to that great emporium in Detroit to be outfitted for her trip to Alaska which comes as a reward for a prize essay in which 600 students of Detroit and its vicinity competed.

Miss Sprenger leaves today for Chicago where she will join a tourist party. From Chicago she will embark on a train for Seattle. There the voyage to Alaska will begin on the Canadian steamer, "Prince Rupert," with the entire trip being made in 17 days.

Over the happy girl's head were slipped gowns of shimmery silk until finally three tailored styles with bright figures scattered over a background of blue were chosen as most appropriate for travelling. With these a dark blue coat will be worn with hat, shoes, gloves and even a smart handbag to complete the costume.

As if her cup of happiness were not already running over Miss Rita scarcely recognized the reflection in the long mirror when she turned to see herself in a long, trailing gown of yellow net which will be suitable for formal occasions on the steamer.

Spoiled by all this unwonted glory? Not this girl who has learned from childhood what work means and carries in her heart a yearning to write real life as she sees it.

"I am carrying along a note book and intend to pick up many a theme for stories," says Miss Rita, who is looking forward to the trip with excited anticipation.

Happy in her daughter's good fortune, Mrs. Sprenger says, "I always wanted to write myself but I guess my ambition will have to be realized in my daughter."

NEW LAUNDRY PLANT TO OPERATE MONDAY

Machines Being Moved Now; To Add Dry Cleaning Department

Washing and ironing machines will start humming Monday for the first time in the Northville Laundry's new plant on North Center street, it was announced this week by Sidney Frid, who in partnership with his brother, Cyril N. Frid, owns the business.

Finishing touches were put on the new plant this week, including the distinctive name on the front door which reads "Northville Laundry: Dry Cleaning."

It was only recently, Mr. Frid revealed, that it was finally decided to add the dry cleaning department to the laundry plant. The dry cleaning part of the business will not be started for about two weeks yet, Mr. Frid said.

The heating plant will be completely automatic, Mr. Frid said. The automatic stoker, which will be installed to the boiler, was expected to arrive Thursday. A new water softener, much larger than the present one being used at the old plant now, has already been hooked up.

The work of moving the laundry machinery to the laundry building began Thursday, and is expected to be completed today, Mr. Frid said.

The Frid brothers have operated the Northville Laundry for the past ten years, purchasing it in 1925. Their new building represents the crowning of their years of work here, Mr. Frid said.

GIVE STAY AT CAMP TO ROBERT HUNTER

A trip to a camp in Michigan's north country was given by local Masons this week to 13-year-old Robert Hunter who has been ill for more than six months with pneumonia, pleurisy and appendicitis.

Robert, son of Mrs. L. M. Hunter of Wing street, left Monday for Camp Rademaker near Grayling. The trip, his first camping experience, was sponsored by the Grand Chapter of the Royal Arch Masons.

Robert's two brothers, Frank and George, will also get a trip to camp next week. They will stay for probably a week, masonic officials said, while Robert will remain at least two weeks, with the hope that the clear air of the Northern woods and lakes will help him to recuperate.

The camp was originally founded as a De Molay camp, but this year is being used to give boys who would otherwise not have the opportunity a chance to enjoy healthful camp life. Most of the boys being selected are also undernourished.

FOUNDER'S RELATIVES ARE LOCAL VISITORS

Mrs. Ralph M. Coldwell of West Lafayette, Ind., and Miss Harriet Dunlap, of Holdrige, Neb., both grandnieces of the late Mrs. Jennie White, and great-grandnieces of Capt. Jonathan Dunlap, Northville's first pioneer, were Northville visitors Sunday.

Mrs. Coldwell was accompanied by her husband. Passing through this section on a business trip, it was the first time they had seen the village founded by their distinguished ancestors. They visited their aunt, Mrs. Dean Griswold, whom they had never seen, and stopped in at the Neal home—the first Northville residence, built by Capt. Dunlap more than 100 years ago—which they recognized from pictures handed down in their family.

LORD DELIVERS HIS FIRST SERMON HERE

New M.E. Pastor Tells Union Service That Gospel Is Still Useful

Declaring that "I want my ministry among you to prove that the gospel has not outworn its usefulness," the Rev. Harry B. Lord, new Methodist minister, delivered his first sermon here Sunday morning in the Presbyterian church at the Methodist-Presbyterian union service.

"The community has a right to ask any man who comes into it to preach the gospel whatever his faith may be," said Mr. Lord. The basis of the sermon was found in the text from Paul's letter to the Romans—"I am not ashamed of the gospel of Jesus Christ."

Mr. Lord comes to the Northville charge after serving for the past four years a very successful pastorate at Oakland ave., Pontiac. It was while there that Mr. Lord organized a new church at Galloway Lake, near Pontiac, purchasing a church site, moving a building upon it, and leaving the enterprise well established and free from debt.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Lord are graduates of Adrian college, Mr. Lord continuing his study at Garret Biblical Institute, Chicago, where he obtained his Bachelor of Divinity degree and later his Master's degree from Northwestern university.

While greeting their new pastor, many friends of the Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Mallinson bid them farewell as they leave for their new pastorate at the Bethany church in Detroit. This appointment is considered a well-deserved promotion for Dr. Mallinson who has given this community his best efforts.

Among the outstanding achievements of his stay in this community was the successful observance of the Centennial of the local Methodist church which was the most notable event in the church's history. Both Dr. and Mrs. Mallinson were largely responsible for the details of the week's events, Mrs. Mallinson directing the final historical pageant.

ANN ARBOR SPEAKER WILL GIVE HEALTH TALK HERE MONDAY

Under the sponsorship of the Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary, Louis T. Schaefer of Ann Arbor, will give an illustrated lecture on the power of natural food and its relation to health in the Presbyterian church house at 7:15 p. m. Monday, July 15.

Mr. Schaefer will explain the new and simple system of retaining the important, vital elements in foods.

The Auxiliary members especially urged the parents to attend. Mr. Schaefer will answer any question including: how to avoid colds and headaches, how to prevent decay of teeth, how to prevent underweight and overweight, how to influence your child to eat vegetables, and all other problems pertaining to health.

TWO ARRESTED HERE ON FOURTH OF JULY

The only disturbance recorded here the Fourth aside from sundry blasts of fire crackers obtained from Ohio, was the arrest of two Detroit men for disorderly conduct.

The men, Joseph Nugent and Kirby Killian, both of 4406 6th street, were nabbed by local authorities on the evening of the Fourth when they were thrown out of a local beer garden after becoming involved in a brawl. They were held in jail here over night and released the following morning with the warning "to stay out of Northville."

POST OFFICE HAS INCREASE IN BUSINESS

Van Atta Gets Commission of Postmaster For Four Years

Increases in the business of every department of the Northville post office for the year ending July 1 were announced this week by Postmaster Fred E. VanAtta, whose commission as regular postmaster went into effect July 5.

"In the postal savings department alone," Mr. VanAtta said, "an increase of $16,000 was shown. The figures on the stamp and money order business have not been completed yet but already we know they are definitely higher than those of last year."

Mr. VanAtta's commission, signed by President Roosevelt and by Postmaster General James A. Farley, and resembling a college diploma in appearance, states that his term of office will be for four years, dating from June 17, 1935.

The period of time between that date and July 5 was occupied in filling out the necessary personal bond, and having it approved by the postoffice officials in Washington, Mr. Van Atta said Monday.

Local post office employes have been busy this week getting ready the revised annual reports for the year ending July 1. They had to be revised to July 5 because of Mr. Van Atta's appointment.

Mr. Van Atta has been the acting postmaster here since October 1, 1934.

D. J. Stark, who has been the assistant postmaster here for about six years, and an active postoffice employe for more than 12 years, will continue in his present capacity, Mr. Van Atta said.

EXCHANGE TO FETE 50 LOCAL KIDDIES

Underprivileged Boys and Girls Will Be Club Guests

The Northville Exchange club will unite with the clubs of Farmington, Brightmoor and Redford to give 50 underprivileged children from this village and the Wayne County Training school a good time at Edgewater park Thursday, July 18.

Through the auspices of the Exchange clubs, the park is turning their entire amusement facilities over to the kids in a "sunshine special" afternoon, it was decided at the meeting of the local club Wednesday. The combined groups of children from the four communities is expected to total well over 500, Exchange club officials said.

Ben W. Gomersall, field representative of the national Exchange headquarters at Toledo was the guest of honor at the Exchange club meeting this week. Mr. Gomersall expressed enthusiasm for the national convention to be held in Dallas in September and outlined some of the features in prospect.

Mr. Gomersall has spent much time recently doing extension work in the southern states and reported 32 clubs formed in the Carolinas and a doubling of existing clubs in Texas. After the meeting he counselled with President Roy E. Crowe on matters of club betterment.

HIGH FORD OFFICIALS DENY RUMOR THAT FACTORY SITE HERE HAS BEEN ABANDONED

BOUNDARIES ARE STAKED OUT

Henry Ford Here Monday; Several Sets of Architects' Plans Submitted But Not Yet Approved

Rumors that the Ford Motor company has abandoned construction of a new factory here were officially denied yesterday.

Henry Ford was in Northville Monday inspecting the factory site, which is to the south east of the present factory, the boundaries have been staked out, and plans are reported to be forging ahead as rapidly as possible.

Officials of the factory here received a scare the first of the week when Albert Kahn, Inc., architects who are drawing up plans for the proposed plant, called off their men and told them to stop all work. It later developed that the dam, which will be built along side the new factory, was moved about 100 feet south along the creek.

Although the workers are still drilling, the type of soil has not represented a serious difficulty. A dam will be built and a waterwheel possibly constructed.

Architects report that several sets of building plans are now in the hands of high Ford officials, awaiting approval. Although the Ford headquarters at Dearborn and the Rouge gave no indication that any one set have been decided on, architects are waiting daily for an O.K.

According to plans, the new factory will replace the present one. Its dimensions will be 104 by 260 feet. Most of the Ford car valves will be built here when it is completed, giving employment to between 700 and 1,000 men.

NO WORD ABOUT NEW RESERVOIR GRANT RECEIVED

News Dispatches And Letter Are Only Information Thus Far

Village officials were waiting this week to receive official notice concerning the federal grant of $9,409 for the new covered reservoir here, and as The Record went to press no word had been received.

News that the Northville grant had been approved by President Roosevelt was printed in Associated Press dispatches in daily newspapers June 27 and also communicated to The Record in a letter from Congressman George A. Dondero.

The reservoir will cost $21,000, according to the plans of B. F. Hamill of Plymouth, village engineer. The direct grant represents 45 per cent of the amount. The remaining 55 per cent will be loaned to the village by the government from the four-billion dollar public works fund, to be re-paid over a period of 20 years.

GEORGE CARSON, 74, SUCCUMBS AT HOME TUESDAY MORNING

Funeral services were held yesterday for George W. Carson, 74-year-old Northville resident who died at his home on First street at 2:20 a. m. Tuesday.

Mr. Carson was born near Salem township December 13, 1860. He had always lived in this vicinity. Mr. Carson was a member of the Methodist church and long had one of the best gardens in the village.

He was very active until recent years, and his heart had been troubling him for some time.

He is survived by his wife; three daughters—Mrs. Lee B. Shipley, Mrs. Albert Korton of Belleville, and Mrs. Richard Klavitter of Ypsilanti; three sons—Dr. Will and Fred, both of Cutler, Calif., and Percy, of Charlotte.

Services were held from Schrader Brothers funeral parlors and burial made in the Novi cemetery. The Rev. William Richards of Belleville, long-time Northville Methodist minister, officiated.

MRS. ELLIOTT CELEBRATES EIGHTY-FOURTH BIRTHDAY

Twenty relatives and her only living brother, George H. McVey of Detroit, assisted this remarkable lady in marking her birthday. She received a shower of gifts from her many admirers.

NEEDY NORTHVILLE CHILDREN TO TAKE PUT-IN BAY TRIP

Twenty needy Northville boys and girls will be among the 3,000 children who are to be guests of the council of Wayne county republican women's clubs Monday, July 22, on an excursion to Put-In Bay.

Two of the Northville club members, Mrs. Jean Cole, and Mrs. E. W. Lester, a charter member of the society, were present at the club meeting held at the Detroit Yacht Club June 28 and were each given 10 tickets to distribute here in Northville.

All of the children will be under 15 years of age, and will be chosen on the basis of need from families on relief on a non-partisan and non-sectarian basis, according to Mrs. Lester.

PUBLIC WEDDING IS FAIR FEATURE

Wanted: one Northville couple wishing to be married; entirely free; wedding presents furnished; apply Elmer L. Smith, Northville Wayne County Fair association.

This is a want-ad that might have been inserted by fair officials who this week announced a public wedding for Wednesday, August 21, the opening night of the fair.

The couple desiring to be married at the fair's public wedding will receive among the many gifts to be donated by local merchants a $125 living room suite. This will be given by the fair association and Schrader Brother's furniture store. The other gifts, to be kept secret until the wedding night, will be displayed in a wrapped package the week before the fair in local store windows.

In addition to the furniture, the fair association is donating to the bride and bridegroom the services of the preacher, music and a large group of guests.

All persons interested in becoming participants in the nuptials are requested to get in touch with Mr. Smith immediately. The first couple to apply will be selected for the marriage, Mr. Smith said, and vowed that he would keep their names an absolute secret until the night of the wedding.

YOUR NEXT PARTY will be a great success if you serve Fry's delicious, home-made ice cream. Economical, pleasingly different, and a real treat. No extra charge for cutting and wrapping. Royal Ann Cafe, Northville.

Tropical Fish Display To Feature Poultry Show at Fair; A. E. Fuller Tells Plans For Local, State Exhibits

An innovating and unusual feature of the Northville Wayne County Fair poultry show will be a display of rare tropical fish, A. E. Fuller, member in charge announced this week. Mr. Fuller, who had been in charge of poultry ever since the local fair began 18 years ago, was last week appointed again this year to head the poultry show at the state fair in Detroit, of which he has been in charge for nearly 25 years.

Mr. Fuller, a fish fancier as a result of his long connection with the United States bureau of fisheries, is responsible for the tropical fish display. It will be modelled after the popular fish display which Mr. Fuller instituted three years ago in the State Fair poultry building. The display here will include several tanks and Mr. Fuller anticipates approximately 15 exhibitors. Prizes of $4, $3, $2, $1 and 50 cents will be offered.

Among local exhibitors in the tropical fish class will be Mr. Fuller and E. H. Babbitt. Mr. Fuller now has a tank of 18 tropical fish presented to him nearly a year ago by the Detroit Tropical Fish society. His fish experience includes 17 years as fish culturist at the Northville hatchery and as fish culturist at large, in which capacity he travelled all over the United States. Mr. Babbitt heads the fish display at the State Fair.

Mr. Fuller, who is already beginning to plan for his two poultry shows, declares the prospects look good both here and at Detroit. The standard breeds he expects to be strong this year, especially the Rhode Island reds.

U. of M. History Department Workers Get Valuable Diary, Aged Letter and Access to Old Documents Here Friday

A valuable diary, a ninety-year-old letter, and a promise of access to a large collection of old documents were the results of a day spent in Northville and vicinity last Friday by two men from the University of Michigan's history department.

The men, Arthur Raymond Kooker and Thomas Schulze, expressed themselves as "entirely satisfied" with their trip to Northville. Kooker and Prof. Lewis G. Vander Velde expect to make the trip here again soon.

Chief among the "finds" came from Nathan Power in Farmington, from whom Kooker obtained the diary of Nathan Power I, the great Michigan abolitionist. The diary is going to be photostated, a copy kept in the history collection, and a copy returned to Mr. Power along with the original diary.

From Mrs. E. H. Lapham, great granddaughter of Marcus Swift, first ordained Methodist Episcopal pastor here and active anti-slavery organizer, Kooker got as a gift a document dated 1842. The yellowed worn paper contained a list of those who withdrew from the M. E. church of the Saline district because it refused to take a stand against slavery. Mr. Swift was leader in this movement around Northville.

Kooker and Schulze talked with C. L. Dubuar and obtained from him a promise to allow them to peruse his large collection of letters and other papers and the diary of his father, James Dubuar, one-time Presbyterian minister here. The late Mr. Dubuar once taught school at Liberty, Ga., and was a prolific writer and recorder of events. Kooker

EVEN BETTER WATER FOR NORTHVILLE

Northville has one of the finest water supplies in the state. Even with its heavy iron content it has been splendid water. Now, however, with the help of the Federal government, our life giving fluid is going to be brought to us about as perfect as any water can be.

This forward move may mean more to us than we now realize. An abundant supply of pure water is one of the most valuable assets any community can have. Given their choice of a place in which to reside, there are many discriminating people who will not move to a town where there is any doubt about the supply or the healthfulness of the water supply.

Northville may well be called a favored spot. It has just about "everything." Sit down and enumerate the advantages of "Detroit's most picturesque suburb." We have:

Ideal location. "I don't know how you could be better located," said a visitor to us the other day. With Detroit and Ann Arbor both within easy reach, you certainly have every opportunity for living life to the full." An hour's motor ride to the heart of one of the greatest cities of the United States and a half hour's trip to the campus of one of our greatest universities should satisfy the most exacting.

Beautiful surroundings. Just where is there a prettier spot? Tell us. You remember that it was said that "The Creator in making the Wayne county, tired of his ironing and left Northville 'rough dry'." Our hills and valleys give us a setting like a perfect cameo. You appreciate it best when you come back to Northville from wandering elsewhere.

Splendid community life. A cosmopolitan, yet democratic citizenship provides the background for the best living. We don't know where you would find any finer folks anywhere. A sufficiently large community of wide-awake people makes it possible to have the many activities that appeal to all classes. All sides of life can be satisfied—yet if a little more glamour is needed, it is on the horizon, just over our hills.

Yes, Northville, has a splendid spot on the map and well it measures up to it.

THE END OF THE ROAD

In another column we spoke of the great advantage of living so near to Detroit. That is true; yet for the past few days we have been living less than 25 miles away from a particularly vicious and wanton murder. That neighborly thought is not so pleasant.

The hideous Dickinson case should point a lot of morals. The first one obviously is:

"Be sure your sin will find you out."

Quoted from the daily papers:

"He wouldn't put his hands up, and I let him have it," Prosecutor McCrea quoted Ferris (Schweitzer) as confessing. "We got about $150."

"We thought he had a lot of money, so we agreed to get him drunk and roll him. But he wouldn't get drunk, so we took him out to Rouge Park and the girls got out and I told him to 'put 'em up'; but he didn't, so I shot him."

In a few hours after that terrible crime, conscience and remorse camped on the trail of the murderer and of his three women associates. Behind their veil of smugness, does anyone doubt that they suffered the torments that come to those who break the laws of God and man? How could anyone ever think that crime might pay? It never pays but it always damns!

This murder was not a sudden whim. It was the crop of years of wrong living. It was the harvest of crime. What was wrong with the home life, the community life, the school life of this quartet? What training made it possible for this ghastly crime to be committed?

And what shall we say of the supposedly high class wealthy New York attorney, with his background, who permitted himself to be so easily made the prey of these human jackals? What caused the break in his character that so flippantly made him the victim of wanton murderers?

HOPE SPRINGS ETERNAL

Reason: The Detroit Tigers have been showing the old-time fight and power of 1934 and are getting near that top again.

Explain it how you will, the psychology of a winning baseball team seems to mean a lot to the comfort and happiness, not only of thousands in the better city but in many places far away from Detroit. It would make an amazing picture to be able to see all the thousands of Michigan folks who listen to the radio reports of the Detroit games. Truly a multitude would be gathered there.

We all like something to have as our very own for which we can fight and enthuse. That is human nature. And it's time that we can have as good a bunch of real [illegible] the Detroit Tigers as our summer time idols.

TIMES ARE BETTER

True story told us by a Detroit man a few days ago:

After three and a half years of work one of his friends has gone to his job of air conditioning and ventilation work from which the depression dropped him with a real bump. With his old income gone he simply had to take a job of which he knew little and for which he was paid little. Now he has an S. O. S. to go back at his old job at the former wages and on top of that, he is getting in extra hours which mean more money. "And is he tickled pink!" said the Detroiter.

Yes, thank you, times are (or is) better.

Welcome to the Rev. Harry B. Lord, the new Methodist preacher! We wish that church—our own—didn't change preachers here so often. If the minister fitted the congregation fairly well, why couldn't he settle down for ten years and put through a constructive program?

* * *

A lot of folks would have more money to save or spend for constructive things if they could realize that simple pleasures that cost little, are quite often as satisfying as those that hit the pocketbook hard. For example: A few hours spent quietly in the backyard Sunday afternoon cost much less than running all over the country, in competition with thousands of automobile drivers, some of whom should be examined for their sanity. And certainly these few hours among the flowers give one more rest in body and soul.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

STATESMEN vs. HYPOCRITES

(The Dearborn Press)

Every national or economic crisis develops both statesmen and hypocrites.

It takes much less brains or courage to be a hypocrite than to be a statesman.

It takes nerve to tell the truth to people who have been misled and misinformed.

The State of Oregon is fortunate in having a governor, General Charles H. Martin, who sticks by his oath of office and says, "When I was inaugurated, I became governor of the whole people, and that is what I intend to be throughout my term."

In dealing with the lumber strike in Oregon and Washington, Governor Martin sets an example for all public officials in handling labor disputes. He says,

"Men have a right to picket and the right by moral suasion to try to get other men to stay away, but when thugs and scoundrels try to do what 500 men from Portland tried to do to a mill in Forest Grove, that is intimidation."

"Everyone has the same rights under the Constitution — man or woman, rich or poor, white or colored. If a man wants to work and an employer wants to hire him, that man should be guaranteed the right to work. No one questions the right of a working man to collective bargaining. If he wants to improve his working conditions, he has a perfect right to quit."

That is sound Americanism and Governor Martin has made it clear that no labor group or industrial group is going to infringe upon the rights that were drawn to protect all the people — union man or non-union, small employer or large employer.

It is a good tonic to find a state governor making such straight-forward statements and backing them up with the police power of the state to protect the life, property and jobs of all the people. That is courage, not hypocrisy.

SENATOR GROESBECK?

(Carl H. Defoe in the Charlotte Republican-Tribune)

"It is interesting to hear a republican state senator publicly lauding the record made by Frank Picard as chairman of the state liquor commission; we heard a leading local republican, who has business with the commission, say the same thing the other day. — Michigan is going to have the political spotlight most of the time in the next campaign; Senator Vandenberg is a potential candidate for president and President Roosevelt has detailed Governor General Frank Murphy of the Philippines to return to Michigan and make the race for governor. He will be unopposed as will also Governor Fitzgerald seeking a second term — Incidentally the state house plan to whip Lt. Governor Reed into line in the closing days of the legislature by making L. D. Dickinson a threat, as he always is for this pert, didn't materialize, in fact, primary opposition to Fitzgerald and this is no time for intermecine wrangles—Senator Couzens is going into Ford's for a series of treatments. If the Detroiter, for any reason, stepped out of public life, who would be named? We'll take one guess: former Governor Groesbeck. Governor Fitzgerald has only the kindest feeling for his old chief and of course better than anyone, knows of his great ability."

"Black Fury" Opens Today, and "Dog of Flanders" Will be Shown Wednesday at the Penniman-Allen

"BLACK FURY" OPENS TODAY

Heralded as the greatest picture in the career of the First National Productions, "Black Fury," will open Friday at the Penniman-Allen theatre. The picture is based on the dynamic story, "Jan Volkanik," by Judge M. A. Musmanno, and the play "Bohunk" by Harry R. Irving and is packed with tremendous scenes, a number of which were screened in the interior of a great Pennsylvania coal mine.

The story is marked by heroic and death defying action which leads to a thrilling climax in which one lone man fortified by dynamite, holds a battalion of mine police at bay. Thrills and suspense are supplemented by colorful scenes replete with humor and pathos, and there is a dramatic story of a coal miner who is betrayed by the girl he loves.

Muni, who is expected to receive serious consideration from the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences for his work in this production, is supported by one of the largest casts of any of this year's pictures. There are thirty-six speaking parts.

"A DOG OF FLANDERS"

Continuing its policy of producing motion pictures on famous classics which have endeared themselves to millions of readers through the years, RKO-Radio Pictures presents "A Dog of Flanders" at the Penniman-Allen theatre, Wednesday, the 17th.

RKO-Radio, it is recalled, offered "Little Women," "Anne of Green Gables" and "The Little Minister" to the movie-going public. Their acceptance and success as wholesome entertainment prompted the company to adapt other literary classics, and "A Dog of Flanders", is its latest choice.

The picturization of the famous novel by Ouida, is said to be a faithful transmutation. The loves of the little hero Nello for his art, his grandfather, his dog and his pretty girl companion and his patron are vividly and poignantly depicted. Readers who have lain before the hearth and devoured the story for more than half a century will recognize pathetic events in the boy Nello's story; his delivering milk during the day and painting at night by dim candle light; pretending to attend the rich miller's daughter's party from which he is barred by his poverty; selling his prized drawing entry to enable him to bury his guardian; suffering the loss of the art award by his rich rival's plagiarism.

And they will also recall the many gay moments in Nello's life, the joyous Flemish music and the delightful country dances which are charmingly presented in the film.

The young hero of "A Dog of Flanders" is a vital, stronghearted, yet wistful and boyish character, and RKO-Radio cast the role accordingly. Frankie Thomas, the 12-year-old mime who stirred the critics and gained favor with the masses in "Wednesday's Child," is seen as Nello. His little sweetheart is portrayed by pretty Helen Parrish, who scored in "The Big Trail," "Cimarron" and "Seed." O. P. Heggie—remember "Matthew" in "Anne of Green Gables?"—lends his veteran ability to a sincere characterization of the grandfather Jehan.

The title role is carried by "Lightning," probably the most brilliant screen canine since "Rin-Tin-Tin" and "Strongheart." His reaction to human activity and emotion is uncanny, and is said to offer a thrill for animal lovers.

THIS new formula first cleans the shoes. Then a thick layer of creamy whitener gives that "just like new" appearance. Dries quickly. Easy to apply. And you get a generous size bottle.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN

"Evil communications corrupt good manners." 1 Cor. 15, 33.

"Bad company is the ruin of good character" is another way of expressing the proverb which St. Paul here quotes from the ancient Greek poet, Menander.

Good friends are a boon, evil friends are a danger. Wrong friendship may prove disastrous. Young people often make the wrong kind of friends. Out of mistaken sense of loyalty, they will stick to them; even against the advise of their parents and elders. Jesus' story of the prodigal son is an apt illustration.

This young man had his "hail-fellows well-met," and pretty soon they had spent his money and made of him a swine-herder, but when he was in distress not one of them lifted a finger to help him out of his difficulty. Many a young man has been utterly ruined by the influence of wrong companions. It is better to remain at home than to ride away in splendor and walk back in misery and rags. Choose well your friends, for if they are the wrong kind they may make you do things, or cause you to become what you never thought yourself capable of doing or becoming; but if they are the right kind they will help you to become noble and good.

Above all choose Jesus as your friend. For He is the Friend who has only our good at heart at all times. If we have made the mistake to select the wrong friends, if they have corrupted our manners, let us turn from them to Him and ask His pardon for our mistakes. He will receive us and forgive us!

Are we weak and heavy laden,
Cumbered with a load of care?
Precious Saviour, still our Refuge,
Take it to the Lord in prayer.
Do thy friends despise, forsake thee?
Take it to the Lord in prayer;
In His arms He'll take and shield thee,
Thou wilt find a solace there.

Christian Science Churches

"Sacrament" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 14.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Luke 22:19). "And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 135): "Christianity as Jesus taught it was not a creed, nor a system of ceremonies, nor a special gift from a ritualistic Jehovah; but it was the demonstration of divine Love casting out error and healing the sick, not merely in the name of Christ, or Truth, but in demonstration of Truth, as must be the case in the cycles of divine light."

An economist is one who would bring the world out of its troubles . . . if he had the money.

If the Politicians would share the Graft" as they expect the rich to "share the wealth" . . . the indigent could retire for life.

First Trip Thwarted By Federal Red Tape, Record Printer Tries Again To Get Wife From Sault

After being forced by United States immigration officials to make a 1,000-mile trip for nothing, Earl Miller, 29-year-old Record linotype operator, left today for Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., where he will attempt to brave the international red tape and bring his wife, 25 years old back across the border.

Miller, an American citizen, left his wife at the Sault June 29, when federal immigration officers refused to allow her to enter the United States without a birth certificate. He presented them with his marriage certificate, his own birth certificate, the application for his wife's, etc. But the U. S. immigration bureau said no, "and said it very abruptly," Miller declares.

Miller left Northville June 27 on the 350-mile trip for the Canadian border. Friday morning he crossed the Straits of Mackinac and reached Sudbury, Ont., about 209 miles from Sault Ste. Marie. There he met Mrs. Miller and his two sons, Donald, four, and Elmer, two. They had come from Swan River, Man., more than 1,200 miles away, by train.

The Millers reached the Canadian Sault June 29. The Record operator presented his case to the federal men. He had checked with the Detroit immigration branch and believed he had complied with all the requirements. He pleaded with the immigration officers but to no avail. "They were abrupt, to say the least," he said. Coldly they told him he must leave his wife in Canada until he had her birth certificate and an American letter pledging that she would not become a public charge in event of his death.

They allowed him, however, to take his four-year-old Donald back with him "because he is an American citizen." Donald and his dad made the weary trip back, their aims thwarted by red tape. They had to leave Mrs. Miller and her infant Elmer at a tourist camp three miles outside Sault Ste. Marie. They hope to be able to bring her back this week-end.

Miller was born in Omaha, Neb. He came to Northville in May from Gary, Ind., where he had been for a month and a half after being foreman of the printing shop of the Northern Observer at Sioux Lookout, in far northern Ontario.

Of the roads to the Sault, he said the Michigan highways, both cement and gravel are wonderful. The King's highway in Ontario, between Sault Ste. Marie and Sudbury, is the worst I have ever driven on.

Opera Under The Stars Enters Its Fourth Successful Week as "Bitter Sweet" is Presented

"MY MARYLAND"

Opera Under the Stars, the summer outdoor operetta and musical comedy project here entered its fourth week last Saturday night with the opening of the week's engagement of Sigmund Romberg's "My Maryland."

The outdoor musicals are being held on a mammoth portable stage which is erected nightly at Navin Field, the home of the Detroit Tigers, and the scene of World Series baseball conflicts last Fall. The stage, with a proscenium of over 160 feet is composed of over 700 parts and requires a small army of men to assemble each evening following the completion of the afternoon ball games. Only twice has a performance been delayed, and then it was the result of lengthy double-header games which lasted until seven o'clock. The evening performances of the operas are scheduled for 8:30 and the delays made the starts only five minutes late.

The first of the musicals to be presented was "The Student Prince" with the leads in the cast of over two-hundred, played by Helen Ford and Leonard Ceeley. The second show was Friml's "Rose Marie" in which Myrtle Schaal and Bartlett Simmons played the leading roles. "Rose Marie" proved to be so popular that it was necessary to hold it over for a second week, thus making it necessary to extend the summer program of twelve weeks and twelve shows a week farther along on the calendar.

One reason for the extreme interest on the part of the public is the fact that it has never seen nor heard of entertainment on such a lavish and spectacular scale. The stage, over twice the size of any local stage, offers unusual scenic possibilities and the accomodating of unusually large casts. The fact that there is no covering over the stage gives it added size and treates a more realistic picture than is possible in a theatre. The nearest approach to the gorgeous productions given are the elaborate motion picture musicals, which lack the brilliancy of flashing costumes and the intimate touch of the live talent which is to be found in these outdoor events.

All of the productions are under the personal direction of J. J. Shubert, famous New York producer who has come to Detroit for the summer with his expert production staff. In addition to this, the majority of the cast of two-hundred comes from various New York musical shows with only a few local extras being added. Different stars are brought in each week to play the numerous leading roles and for the most part the only permanent part of the cast is the singing dancing and show girl groups.

Productions to be given during the summer include Noel Coward's "Bitter Sweet" which opened its engagement on July 6; this will be followed by "Blossom Time." Others are "Countess Maritza," "Cyrano De Bergerac" and "Dream Girl."

"BITTER SWEET"

Saturday, July 6th, saw the opening of the week's engagement of "Bitter Sweet", Noel Coward's great musical success, being presented by "Opera Under the Stars" at Navin Field. Coward, the greatest name of the English-American stage, is responsible for both the lyrics and book of "Bitter Sweet."

Gladys Baxter, one of the leading operetta stars of the country, made her debut with "Opera Under the Stars" in the leading role of this beautiful musical of love, gaiety and tragedy.

The very name, "Bitter Sweet" suggests the character of the story revealed in dramatic action upon the stage to the accompaniment of Coward's charming melodies. It is the story told by the Marchioness of Shayne as she advises Dolly Chamberlain who faces the dilemma of being engaged to one man and being in love with another. That story ranges through more than half a century. Although it is laid in the fashionable London of today, as the tale is told, there are "cut-backs" to the London of 1875 and the gay "90's" and to the Vienna of 1880.

A notable cast is presenting this charming operetta. They are: Gladys Baxter, Bartlett Simmons, Leonard Ceeley, Desiree Tabor, Nancy Welford, Ruth Dennen, Mary Rux, Elizabeth Crandall, John Clark, Robert Betts, Hope Emerson, Barnett Parker, Betty Davis and many others.

Miss Clara Schuchard of South Lyon, became the bride of Arthur Janetzke, Lansing, at a simple wedding performed in the Lutheran church of Northville by the Rev. Leo. C. Eickstaedt, Saturday, June 29.

White mousline de sole fashioned the bridal gown, which was made on long lines and finished by a cap style veil. The bride carried white roses.

Miss Elizabeth Janetzke, acting as bridesmaid, wore blue organdy and carried pink roses. The flower girl, three-year-old Betty Lou Janetzke, was prettily dressed in pink organdy with matching polk bonnet. An old-fashioned bouquet finished her costume.

From one block each way from her corner they came. More than twenty neighbors crowded sociably on the porch where they visited as they sewed and became better acquainted.

Three comparatively new neighbors were presented: Mrs. Geo. E. Keeping, Mrs. Peter Wooten and Mrs. Clifford Winters. Five school teachers maintained the dignity of the group: Mrs. O. P. Reng, Mrs. K. H. Babbitt, Mrs. Frank Hawkins, Miss Ida Colden and Mrs. Geo. H. Stalker.

In a guessing contest Mrs. LeRoy Stewart, Mrs. Keeping and Mrs. Reng tied for honors.

Mrs. Lola Tipton and Mrs. Dayton B. Bunn assisted in serving light refreshments. All of those present agreed with the original poem read by Miss Jessie Roe; a part of which is quoted:

"And finer neighbors
You never will meet
Than the ones who live
On West Cady street.
They all seem to know
Such nice things to do
To make you feel good
When you've been feeling blue
It would be a dull place
With no comfort or cheer
If we had to exist
Where no neighbors were near
So no jealous wrangling
Or strife can there be
Up there on that street
For the neighbors agree.
There are lots of neighbors
But I know they can't beat
The ones I refer to
On West Cady street.
And all the women agreed that this spirit of friendliness stretched over onto Rogers and Thayer.

THE RECORD SHOPPER

By ELEANOR BEUM

Editor's Note: Information as to where the articles mentioned in this column can be purchased in Northville, can be secured by inquiring at The Record office.

End tables have been put to such common use, and there are so many in almost every home, that most of us were beginning to believe that there was nothing new in them. Yet, while we were shopping in Northville the other day, we came across an end table entirely new to us—and possibly to you.

Chinese end tables! Made in three tiers, the design of these unique tables is as strange to American design as are the characters in the Chinese language. The three shelf-like layers of the end table have been turned up at the ends in the graceful design that we associate with the pergolas and other bits of Mongolian architecture.

The one that struck our eye had a light finish that was distinctive, and especially as it was set off with the black trim. For a more conservative, and possibly more mellow room, the walnut was equally as beautiful if not so striking.

And since we're furnishing a house, why not an Aladdin lamp? Like that Arabian light, this light works wonders. Looking beneath the decorativeness of the ivory and gold washable shade, we were able to see how the lamp could flood the room with light.

When we turned on the light in the globe at the top, we could take our choice of a 100, 200, or 300 watt light, with which to diffuse the ceiling and entire room. For a softer light, three side sockets make the lamp a versatile one.

Like any woman who can't stop until she's refurnished the whole house, our eyes next fell on the ideal combination—a handsome living room suite—washable! Since washable things are so much the order of the day, why not? Samples in green and rust of a chair and davenport combination almost gave the appearance of a deep-napped toweling. Yet, they're silky and rich looking.

Washables have been removed from the lowly class with the introduction of this Kinkimo mohair, as it is called, that can be cleaned with soap and water.

If these things give you the buying urge, call at the Record office, or phone 200. They can be purchased in Northville.

DR. VOELKER

(Al H. Weber in the Cheboygan Observer)

Paul Voelker continuing the same kind of dirty politics that attracted men of his type while serving as state superintendent of public instruction still clings to that kind of unpopular sportsmanship and refuses to step out of the office the voters refused to return him to at the last election. It is true his successor was killed in an auto accident and therefore could not take office on July 1st, as the law says he should have done. Governor Fitzgerald appointed a capable man to take the place of the unfortunate victim of an auto accident, but Voelker, the poor sport, attempts to hold the office.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF WILD FLOWERS —

(Wm. H. Cansfield in the Livingston County Republican Press)

A friend has a wild flower garden. He has found these plants in many a trip afield, from open countryside or hidden grainy.

The flowers have brought beauty into the life of our friend. They have taught him a new philosophy of life. Wild flowers, he contends, do their best to adjust themselves and adapt themselves to any environment in which they are placed. No matter how difficult the attending circumstances they grow if given half a chance. Depressions and hardships of unfavorable environments do not cause them to surrender. They strive toward perfection. They become as beautiful as possible in the surroundings in which they are placed. The philosophy taught by the wildflower is courage, idealism and adaptability.

THEY TELL THE STORY

(Elton R. Eaton in the Plymouth Mail)

To read the headlines in The Plymouth Mail one can get a slight idea of the development that is taking place in this location. "Machinery Now Being Placed in Newburg Plant." "To Break Ground For Felician Sisters Institution Tuesday." "To Complete New Comfort Station in July." "Start Work Monday Morning on Big Addition to The Daisy Manufacturing Company's Plant. All Contracts Let." Surely such headlines tell a wonderful story of faith in the future of Plymouth and America.

ITS OPEN SEASON

(Harold D. Spicer in the Paw Paw Courier-Northerner)

This is the open season for peddlers whose high pressure salesmanship frequently induce the housewife to part with good money for poor merchandise. Some of them are honest but many of them are selling bogus wares the true value of which is not discovered until after the departure of the peddler. The safest way is to turn down all strangers and buy of your merchant on whose reliability you can depend.

DEMOCRACY: 1776 VERSION

Just to be different, we read the Declaration of Independence on the Fourth of July. And then in the evening we heard the town meeting program on the radio.

The program in part consisted of speeches in defense of democracy as they would have been given by Benjamin Franklin, Josiah Quincy, Daniel Webster, Abraham Lincoln and other great Americans. We were particularly impressed with the wise quotation from Dr. Franklin: "A newspaper and a Bible in every home, a good school in every district, and you will have democracy." How many homes here have those essentials—"A newspaper and a Bible. . ."

As much as we were impressed by what was in that program, we were equally impressed by what was omitted. Words of Thomas Jefferson, probably the greatest democrat of all time, were conspicuously absent. Perhaps quotations from the author of the Declaration were considered too radical? But let us look at some of them and see how they have applied in the history of our democracy.

". . . all men are created equal . . . with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that whenever any form of government becomes destructive to these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it. . ." That is from the Declaration itself.

". . . it is the right of the people to have a revolution every 30 years. . ."

". . . no generation should make any rule or law that is binding on any following generation. . ."

". . . that constitutions are made by men for their good, specifying certain things, other than which those men have no right to do . . ."

". . . great classes of wealth and great classes of poverty are destructive to the ends of a democracy. . ."

We think Carrie Chapman Catt stated the ultimate philosophy of democracy when she said it could be achieved only by "Education, education, education . . ."

STILL A LOT OF KINDNESS

We wish to get around buying a card of thanks by extending our appreciation to our many, many friends who came to our aid during the recent illness of our mother. Both she and her son were greatly comforted by their kind words and deeds, delicacies that both could eat, beautiful flowers—and house cleaning.

Mother is now up in Monroe—probably looking at Custer's monument, which used to be the chief attraction for us in the City on the Raisin. We still have to "cook" for ourselves. We burned and are burning everything from water to toast including our fingers. We make the worst coffee in the world.

If anybody would especially like to invite us out to dinner why that's fine too.

THANKS, MRS. CLARK

One of the nicest things said to us in a long time came from Mrs. Silas Clark recently when we were getting information from her for a crop "story." "You sound just like your father, Warner," she said.

WE LEARNED SOMETHING

We have a lot of arguments but one of the most delightful of them was last week between us, Hazel Yerkes and Mrs. T. J. Knapp (Elizabeth Chapman was brought in at the end of it too). Hazel, or Mrs. D. P. Yerkes, Jr., if you wish, told us that it was highly improper ever to write "Mrs. Hazel Yerkes, Mrs. Adeline Knapp, or Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman." She dragged out clippings from Emily Post to back up her stand, and we were forced to admit that when such a person as Mrs. Post, the Kenesaw Mountain Landis of etiquette, declares herself against a thing, it must be bad. Mrs. Post, for instance, writes that a caller should leave one card for every member of the family "no matter how large the family."

Then along came Mrs. Knapp, who said, when Mrs. Yerkes asked her, "Why, of course."

Almost convinced, we went to Mrs. Chapman, who is unquestionably one of the most excellent teachers in the high school. She sided with the opposition, "even in the case of widows." But we went still further—to Emily herself who is quite a prolific writer in her own right. She has written simply pages and pages on how abhorring it is to be called "Mrs. Emily Post."

Incidentally Mrs. D. P. Yerkes Jr. and we struck a bargain. We will not call her Mrs. Hazel Yerkes and she will not call us P. Warner Neal.

But, in spite of Hazel, Elizabeth, Adeline, and Emily, there are still certain women who we shall continue to call by their own given names and their husband's name. A cardinal rule of newspaper practice is refer to people by the name which they want used, etiquette etc., to blazes. So we shall always say Mrs. Louise Miner, when speaking of her alone, Mrs. Jennie White, Mrs. Ida B. Cooke and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt; but we shall never say Mrs. Hazel Yerkes, Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman, Mrs. Adeline Knapp or Mrs. Emily Post.

We're glad to have learned that. We would appreciate it if Record readers who have especial preferences would tell us.

THE TALK OF THE TOWN

BY HARRISON CHANDLER

A Proverb Fulfilled

There is an old saying—"The best things in life are free"—which we have always found to hold true, but never more surely than when we were returning Saturday from a most enjoyable Fourth of July excursion.

The trip lasted three days and covered more than 275 miles—beautiful miles—and it cost us a total of 21 cents. And what we mean, we did enjoy some of the best things in life, at least as far as we are concerned.

What are they? Beautiful lakes that are a joy to swim and fish in, cool evening breezes, a new moon and stars overhead, a winding country road through nowhere, symphony music floating out into the night air from the car radio, and folks, that is only the beginning, only the beginning!

We Defend It

And how did we accomplish it all, you ask? By the very simple process of hitch-hiking. We found that there are still many real people who drive the highways who are glad to give a deserving lad like ourselves a "lift."

Grand Rapids and Lansing were the two main stops on this trip.

And while we are on the subject of "thumbing" rides, we might as well take the opportunity to defend this practice, which some newspaper editors and other people—much to our disgust—have given all sorts of black eyes.

One of the troubles with many of us humans is that we are often too quick to believe the evils which we hear about people, about the activities people engage in, and about the institutions they create. And then, without taking the trouble to find proof of the evil reported to us, we spring to the attack too.

Although there have been occasions on which motorists picked up apparent unfortunates on the road only to be robbed, crimes of this sort are the exception rather than the rule.

The great majority of the "hitch-hikers," as we have seen them, are young fellows who could not otherwise reach their destinations and are wholly deserving of the kindness they ask. College students going to and from school comprise a large percentage of them.

We do not advocate that every crowd of youngsters along the road who is going only a couple of miles should be picked up. But we do earnestly recommend that whenever you are going any distance at all and you see young fellows with travelling bags, give them a break. They are probably going as far as you are and will appreciate it.

Many New Cars

One thing we noticed on the road was the large number of new cars still being sold. We rode in only three cars in all, and two of them were brand new.

One of them had been purchased that very morning at the factory and the owner had had the interesting experience of actually watching his car take form from the very beginning until it had been run off the line and inspected.

And we saw lots more. It's a good sign, coming at this time of the year.

ALL FOR THE SAKE OF CIRCULATION

(A. D. Gallery in the Tuscola County Advertiser)

Daily newspapers of Michigan have been hysterical this week over a sordid story of a killing for money, committed in the metropolis.

The killer was a small-time racketeer, and the three women involved in the dirty business were little, if any, better.

Yet these papers, for the sake of pandering to the morbid minds of readers, and mostly for the purpose of boosting their circulations, have splashed the story all over the front page, and over many of the inside pages.

The killer made four confessions, and every one was played up. The women made a confession apiece three different times, and every single one was reported in detail. The prosecuting attorney and his men were pictured as were the killer and the women, to the point of nausea.

Weekly newspapers may not be exciting, but they're usually a whole lot cleaner, and it appears to us that sneers from these big papers directed to their smaller brethren are not so well-founded in true righteousness as they should be.

LOTS OF SENSE TO IT

(Frank Bryce in the Grand Ledge Independent)

Here's another angle on the share-the-wealth proposition. As mentioned in some of the other papers, take the case of Henry Ford, who owns factories, mines, farms and what not, said to be worth a billion dollars. How is the government going to take 75 per cent of it and what kind of business would it be to take seventy-five per cent of it and thus destroy a source of annual revenue of many millions of dollars in taxes. If there is any sense to that—we're from Missouri.

TO COOK SO MUCH FOOD IN

DUTCH OVEN SUSAN . . .

Looking at all the food on the table, one would think that a full-sized range had been used to cook it. A 15½-pound turkey, an equally large whole ham, potatoes, vegetables, layer cake, pie . . . this is an imposing spread to have been prepared by such a compact electric appliance as Dutch Oven Susan. For Dutch Oven Susan takes up so little space that it can be tucked away in a corner almost anywhere. Yet it will perform every cooking operation possible on a small stove. And it uses only about as much electricity per hour as an electric toaster.

Dutch Oven Susan will cook a complete meal for a family of six—two vegetables, a roast, potatoes and gravy—while you are out for the afternoon. When you come home your meal is waiting, perfectly cooked—piping hot and ready for the table. Dutch Oven Susan is easy to use. You simply plug it into any convenience outlet. It will roast all cuts of meat to perfection; it will fry eggs, steaks, chops, etc.; it will bake cakes, pies, cookies, biscuits and muffins; and it will hold half-a-dozen pint jars when canning by the cold pack, hot water bath method.

"DUTCH OVEN SUSAN" The Electric cook

Dutch Oven Susan is available in several styles and sizes—one to fit your needs exactly. The medium size model will roast a 10-pound ham, a 6-pound chicken, or a large leg of lamb. The large size will easily accommodate a 15½-pound turkey. And there is "Small Sister" Susan, an electric casserole, with a two-quart capacity. See this modern appliance at all Detroit Edison offices, Department Stores and Electrical Dealers.

12-QT. SIZE $14.95

Homemaker's Corner

By MRS. EDITOR

Her Vacation

Not that she didn't care for her family. Perhaps it was just because she had been caring too much that she waved them off, almost gaily when they started off for that week's trip, watched the car disappear round the corner and turned back with a "Well, they're off" feeling to the confused relics of their hasty departure.

Baseball bat, fishing pole, cap, hobbie pins, old newspapers—she was still scooping them up and finding a place for them when the noon whistle surprised her. No lunch to get! She could work on. The house was beginning to look so neat—and unnatural.

And always as she worked the list on a memorandum was growing longer of "things to be done this week." Letters long unanswered, new curtains for the boys' room, mending basket emptied. Wouldn't it be glorious to get all caught up for once! And sleep! She could sleep as long as she wished. Let the old clock stop! What did folks without families do? (No wonder bridge was invented—to "bridge" the gaps between jobs, no doubt).

With hours of uninterrupted quiet came a chance to gather up disconnected thoughts, straighten them out a bit, untangle knotty problems in unhurried quiet.

And "ever and anon" the windows took on a shiny look and the cupboards an unwonted tidiness.

Among the laid-aside-for-years jobs was to sort and arrange in scrap books a motley mass of old pictures. All kinds of them, some of folks almost forgotten (that went "chuck" into the waste basket), some of old school friends, pictures of the boy-lover with brown hair waving over his forehead, pictures of brothers and sisters, snapshots of the babies at all stages of their interesting growth.

Sorting and placing of each picture in its proper background brought floods of memories and living through the cycle of years revived small incidents crowded out in the stress of life and made them seem more precious.

After all they were pretty dear—noise and all. It seemed only yesterday that they were as little as in the picture, she looked at long, and tomorrow! Why, tomorrow they would be grown-up and gone and the house would be always this quiet with the clock noisily ticking away the empty hours. The beds would always be smoothly made, cookies would dry out untasted in the jar that empties too fast now—

Let's see—how many days till they come back?

Spanish String Beans

Green beans, 2 lbs., ½ red pepper, 3 tomatoes, 1 qt. cold water, 1 onion, 1 tablespoon fat, 1 tablespoon flour, seasonings.

Chop fine 2 lbs. of green beans, put into frying pan 1 tablespoon lard, one onion chopped fine, and ½ red pepper cut fine. Brown and add 3 ripe tomatoes cut fine, and stir in 1 tablespoon flour. Add 1 qt. water, then chopped beans and season with salt and pepper. Let beans cook until tender adding water as needed so as not to let them get too dry.

Dainty Food Touches

Finely chopped parsley sprinkled over almost any vegetable dish dressed with a cream sauce will make it more savory and attractive.

A sprinkling of grated cheese over scalloped cauliflower flavors it nicely and gives it greater food value.

A layer of hazel nuts placed in the bottom of the pie before the custard is poured in will rise to the top during the baking process and form a nutty crust which is both attractive and pleasing to the taste.

After you have tired of the usual round of cream soups use water cress in the preparation of one. It is just pungent enough to make a soup that is really interesting.

Sprinkle a layer of coarsely chopped nut meats over ginger bread just before putting into the oven. This gives a dressed-up look and an acceptable flavor to a favorite food.

An attractive and tasty pumpkin pie can be made by adding a half cup of grated cocoanut, either fresh or ground, to the filling of each pie and sprinkling the top with cocoanut.

Finely chopped olives or pickles added to salad dressing make it distinctive.

Baked apples are taken out of the common order of desserts if sprinkled with brown sugar, cinnamon and chopped nuts.

A little grated carrot sprinkled over cabbage claw gives it a festive appearance and a novel flavor.

A promise made is a debt unpaid

THIS WEEK

By H. H. WHITE

The other day as I stood in front of a large magazine stand in a book store and noted the great number of excellent weeklies to say nothing of the innumerable monthly periodicals, I could not help but wonder if the knowledge thus gained was not too periodic. Sort of doled out on so much paper at so much.

Just recently all over this land diplomas and degrees have been given to thousands of no doubt deserving people. While this is all fine and good, and probably is as it should be it is but a subtle suggestion that one's education has stopped and from then on an earnable living is next in order.

Education really is endless and it is a life job. When we remember that truly there are no educated men and that the pursuit of knowledge commences with the cradle and concludes at the grave then there comes some justification for thinking men are to a certain degree educated.

The adult years should be better for learning than those of youth since adulthood has the enrichment of experience.

Education and its acquisition should become continued adventure. The essential features of any age of civilization is the gaining of knowledge and its application.

The stability of any age or period has its value only in the fruits of knowledge and research that continue to exist. With the enemies of education such as ignorance, bigotry, and superstition always present putting education on a calendar or periodic program would defeat its purpose and aim.

MATTER OF EDUCATION

(Fred Keaster in the Ionia County News)

We believe that the unhappy experience of prohibition has clearly demonstrated that habits and customs cannot be changed merely by legislative fiat.

We know now, from experience that hundreds of thousands of people will drink alcohol to excess whether we like it or not.

That being so, it seems the part of wisdom and common sense to get at the fundamental difficulty and change the attitude of the people toward the whole problem. This we propose to do by a long period of education.

G. E CHRONICLE

(Chester H. Howell in the Chesaning Argus)

Raymond Moley, former brain-truster, has been presented with a bust of himself, testifying to his success as reeeiver for the St. Regis hotel. This will be no surprise to many Republicans who assert that Raymond always WAS a bust.

Self-preservation to some . . . is only the line of least resistance.

COOK THREE MEALS A DAY—

USE YOUR FAVORITE RECIPES—

★ Try an Electric Range in YOUR OWN KITCHEN

THE best way to find out about electric cooking is to put a range in your own kitchen . . . cook three meals a day on it . . . try all your favorite recipes . . . ask your family how the cooking tastes in comparison with what you did on your old stove . . . and then decide whether or not you like the range. THEN you can decide whether or not you want to keep it. Your family will probably decide for you!

To enable you to do this, we have arranged a Trial Plan. We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, so that you may give it a thorough trial. During this trial period you simply pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense. Send in your application for a trial range today!

Enjoy These Advantages of Electric Cooking!

- CLEAN. Electric heat is as clean as sunlight. There is no smoke or soot to soil kitchen walls and curtains. Cooking utensils remain bright and shiny after long use.
- HEALTHFUL. Electric cooking seals in nourishing juices and natural elements in meats and vegetables. Important food values are retained.
- WATERLESS COOKING. With your electric range you use no water for roasts and only half-a-cup for vegetables.
- MODERN. In attractive and striking designs, these electric ranges do much to brighten and add a feeling of newness to your entire kitchen.
- FULL FLAVORED. Electric cooking has a deliciously different flavor—a natural flavor in foods. Meats and vegetables cook to melting tenderness in their own juices.
- INEXPENSIVE. Electric cooking costs less than a cent a meal per person.
- SAFE. An electric range supplies only pure heat from a glowing wire—there is no flame, no matches, no fumes.

A study of one thousand families using the electric range showed a cooking cost of LESS THAN 1¢ A MEAL A PERSON

If you had unlimited choice in picking a site for your vacation, if you were allowed to choose among the world's finest playgrounds, you could not find anywhere a greater variety, or sites more favored by Nature, than among those that Michigan offers.

Within the borders of your native State are fishing streams that represent the angler's paradise; unexcelled highways for motor touring; the finest of golf courses; camping sites to suit any preference; five thousand lakes which range in size from a swimming pool to a sparkling inland sea.

Michigan, in short, offers nearly all those beauties and advantages for which, year after year, many people will travel to foreign lands.

To enjoy what Michigan offers, you can, if you wish, travel on luxurious lake liners. But for these liners you need not bother with passports or visas! You can ride comfortably, speedily, safely, to your Michigan destination on up-to-the-minute trains, busses and planes.

Spend your own vacation in Michigan. Let your out-of-State friends know what splendid facilities await them here. By doing so, you will assist them toward a happier holiday. In addition, you will help to promote the popularity and prosperity of your native State.

It is for the purpose of doing our share in this promotion that this series of advertisements is being published by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, a Michigan organization that prospers only as the citizens of Michigan prosper.

fer appeared quite pleased at the fact he and Professor Vander Velde are to have the opportunity to see this collection. From Mr. Dubiar they also learned of what may be a very valuable collection at Williamson, they said.

Kooker and his associate also talked with Mrs. Dean Griswold, daughter of the late Mrs. Jennie White, ninety-year-old pioneer who died last year. Mrs. White, the daughter of Northville's first settler, Capt. Jonathan Dunlop, had as many as two bushel baskets full of letters and other papers which she ordered burned at her death. Mrs. Griswold salvaged some of these documents, however, among them being a hundred-year-old letter written before the advent of postage stamps.

The University party also visited Mrs. D. P. Yerkes, Sr., and discussed historical collections in her family.

Officials of the University's proposed state history museum urged that all persons in this area having in their possession materials which might have historical significance, communicate with The Record office or the University history department in Ann Arbor.

AL DIMASCIO NAMED GOODFELLOW HEAD AT MAYBURY 'SAN'

Al DiMascio was named president of the Goodfellows' club in the semi-annual election at the Maybury sanatorium last week. His nearest opponent was Bud Rayson.

The other new officers are Michael Celani, vice president, Harold Grastin re-elected radio announcer; Harry Wolf, Edward Canton, Kay Donovan and Norman Acker, members of the entertainment committee with the latter as chairman; and Frank Klebba radio commissioner. Klebba takes the place of John Augustine, who is being released from the institution.

The annex building of the sanatorium will soon be entirely hooked up for radio reception, he reports, so that patients in every part of the sanatorium can listen through individual earphones to the radio programs.

fair is just as good, and sometimes even better, than at the state fair," Mr. Fuller declared. In both shows, he pointed out, there will probably be more entries this year than last. Glenn Richardson will be superintendent of poultry here this year; John Vivier of Redford in charge of pigeons; and Wesley Elliot of Ypsilanti in charge of rabbits and cavies.

Mr. Fuller is recognized as a nationally outstanding poultry authority. Besides heading the two fair poultry exhibits, he judged chickens in Yellowstone National Park in both 1910 and 1911, and in 1921 was not able to accept an invitation to judge white rocks and bantams at the California state fair. A skilled breeder himself, Mr. Fuller's birds have taken many first prizes and he had the grand champion rooster at the international poultry show in Detroit some years ago.

MISHAPS BEFALL 'SIMPLE SIMONS' ON LAKE OUTING

Cuts, bruises, and even major illness made the trip of the Simple Simon club to Lake Cherriing last week an eventful one.

Fern Zink, of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, who is visiting Mrs. Charles Freed, suffered an attack of appendicitis and had to be brought back to Northville Tuesday. She was kept in the hospital here for two days and will return to her home in Ohio for the operation Sunday.

Evelyn Ambler has also been ill this week as a result of a glass cut, that she got while in swimming. The anti-tetanic serum which the doctor was forced to give her to ward off possible poisoning kept her confined to bed for several days.

The other six girls, according to Mrs. H. H. Burkart, who chaperoned the party, except for the mishaps enjoyed a pleasant stay at the altman cottage. A special trip to Lansing Saturday night was one of the most festive parts of the stay. Mrs. P. R. Alexander took Mrs. Burkart's place as chaperone on the Fourth.

TWO DOCTORS ARE ADDED TO MAYBURY STAFF THIS WEEK

Two new physicians were added to the staff of the Maybury sanatorium this week, Dr. Henry S. Willis, superintendent, announced Wednesday.

Dr. C. E. Woodruff, who has been the associate professor of pathology at Vanderbilt university in Nashville, Tenn., has been engaged as the pathologist for the institution and will live in one of the new staff homes on the sanatorium grounds. He is a graduate of Yale university.

Dr. Charles Westover, University of Michigan graduate, also joined the staff this week and will assist in the clinical work. He was an interne at Harper and at Children's hospital in Detroit before coming here.

LEGION TEAM WILL PLAY ROYAL OAK IN PROTEST GAME HERE

The Northville junior legion baseball team will play Royal Oak in a protest game at 3:30 p. m. Sunday in Cass Benton park.

The Royal Oak youngsters defeated the Northville nine, 3 to 1, here June 29, but Manager Fred Reiger protested, charging that unofficial balls were used. He urged Northville people to support the team.

The local squad was downed last Sunday, 7 to 6, by the Plymouth junior legionnaires at Plymouth-Riverside park.

"Bump" Weeks started the game on the mound for Northville, pitching six innings and allowing nine hits. George Westphall, who relieved him in the seventh with the score tied at 6-6, was charged with the defeat. Trombley, Plymouth pitcher, drove in the winning run in the ninth with a sharp double. Hank Makostle, who was on second, made the tally.

Tony Himmelspach of Farmington and Westphall continued to lead their team in hitting, Himmelspach getting two hits out of four times at bat, and Westphall getting two out of five.

The Northville legionnaires had a real batting splurge in the fourth, scoring four runs, but went hitless after the sixth against Trombley's pitching.

EASTLAWN TO MOVE, REMODEL COTTAGES, INSTALL STEAM HEAT

The job of moving 9 of the 12 cottages for patients at the Eastlawn sanatorium and of re-decorating all of them began this week and will probably last for the rest of the summer, according to Dr. A. B. Wickham, medical director.

"When the project is completed," he said, "all the cottages will be in a straight line running west of the main building except one. It will be placed at the extreme west end of the new line of cottages, and facing east toward the main building."

At the present time only three of the cottages are in locations which are correct according to the new plan. The remaining nine are closely grouped around the rear of the main building.

A concrete walk, five feet wide, 300 feet in length, will be built from the main building along the whole line of cottages, Dr. Wickham continued, and it will be covered with a vatiopy.

"When all the changes are finished," he said, "the nearest cottage to the main building will be 100 feet away. Heated push-wagons will be purchased for conveying food out to the cottages. The patients in the cottages will be of the convalescent type," he said.

"It is our endeavor to make it as safe as possible here for our patients," Dr. Wickham declared, "and we will be meeting every requirement set forth by the state fire commission. In addition to that we will have our fire insurance rate reduced about half."

Another improvement to be added during the summer, he continued, will be the installation of steam heat in all of the cottages, supplied by a new separate heating plant.

Neil Hannaford came to Northville a year ago Tuesday to take over the business of operating the Northville Hardware company here.

K. S. NORTH AND FAMILY VACATION ALL THIS MONTH

Services will be held as usual all during the month of July at the Northville Baptist church during which time the Rev. and Mrs. Kendal S. North, pastor, will be away on their vacation, it was announced last week.

On Sunday, July 14, Maynard Johnson, of the Bethany Baptist church in Pontiac, will give a report on the recent Northern Baptist convention. Gerald Schafter and a group from the First Baptist church of Pontiac will have charge of the evening service.

The services on July 21 are in charge of R. H. Amerman, superintendent of schools.

L. E. Hansen, general missionary of the American Sunday school union, will speak at both services on July 28.

Mr. and Mrs. North, who left on their vacation on Monday of last week, plan to divide their time between several different places, including Elkart and Goshen, Indiana, and New Baltimore, Lapeer, Flint and Hillsdale, Michigan.

At Hillsdale they expect to attend the Baptist summer assembly for ten days. Mr. North will occupy the pulpit of the Baptist church in New Baltimore one Sunday while they are there.

The school districts in Northville township which are open now all met Monday evening for their annual meetings to elect new members to their board.

Frank Van Valkenburgh was unanimously elected as the treasurer of District No. 3 at the meeting held at the DeKay school. Fred Foreman, moderator, and Marvin Sloan, director, are the other members of this board.

The meeting of school district No. 6, fractional, was held at the Hinman school with Mrs. Anna Fry being elected as the new director of the board. Charles Smock is the moderator of this board, and Mrs. Charles Smock is the treasurer.

Mrs. Phillip Anderson was elected as treasurer of the board of school district No. 11, fractional, held at the Baseline school. J. W. Little is the moderator and John W. Cleaver is the director of this board.

Mrs. Claude Waterman was re-elected as the treasurer of school district No. 5, fractional, held at the Waterford school. Arthur J. Gotts is the director and Elmer Perkins is the moderator of this board. Mrs. Charles Wilson of Northville, it was announced, will continue in her sixth year as the teacher of this school.

HOWARD C. CHILSON DROWNS SATURDAY

Howard C. Chilson, Detroit attorney and son of E. Z. Chilson, publisher of the South Lyon Herald, was drowned Saturday evening in Anchor Bay, three miles from New Baltimore, when he was thrown from a motorboat in which he was riding to Marine City. He was born in 1899.

Funeral services were held at the William R. Hamilton chapel in Detroit Wednesday with interment at the Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

Those not up on an important subject . . . are usually down on it.

JOHNSON NINE LEADS RECREATION LEAGUE WITH CLEAN RECORD

The Johnson nine, with a record of four victories and no defeats, was the only team in the recreation playground baseball league with an unblemished record this week. Every other team has been defeated at least once.

It had its hardest game Sunday, July 7, against Ely, winning, 3-2. Alex Johnson and Walter Moore were the opposing pitchers.

The Owen team defeated Ford Thursday evening, July 5, 5-2, and moved up to third place in the standing.

The Infants won their fourth straight game Monday evening, defeating Maybury, 8-4, at the end of four innings when the game was called because of rain. They are now in second place.

On Tuesday evening, Ford defeated Edison, 25-10, showing heavy power at bat, and getting ten runs in one inning, the fifth.

M. E. PASTORS NEAR HERE ARE RETURNED BY THE CONFERENCE

Strangely contrasted with the large number of changes made at the Detroit conference of the Methodist church in Bay City last week is the fact that with the exception of the Mallinson-Lord exchange all Methodist ministers in this vicinity were returned to their pulpits.

The Rev. F. A. Lendurm was returned to Farmington, the Rev. P. Ray Norton to Plymouth, and the Rev. Delmere C. Stubbs to South Lyon. The Rev. Frank N. Miner, who preceded Dr. Mallinson here will go back to the Mt. Hope church in Detroit, and the Rev. William Richards, Mr. Miner's predecessor, was returned to Belleville.

Dr. M. S. Rice and Dr. Frederick B. Fisher were returned to the Metropolitan and Central Methodist churches respectively in Detroit.

Art, to some, is only a sex emotion . . . captured and organized.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell the decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of the decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our liver can't digest it. What is the bile liver? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our food gets hard and constipated and ¾ of our food decays in our 30 feet of bowels. The decay spreads poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped mongrel, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if something better is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a colored (inferior) pill, which loosens teeth, strikes and scalds the return in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for—25c. ©1934, C.M.Co.
