INTEREST IN FAIR GROWS HERE DAILY

Thousands of Tickets For Three Free Cars Are Circulated

With practically everybody in the village discussing his chances to win one of the three automobiles to be given away on successive nights at the fair, interest in the coming Northville fair seemed greater than ever this week.

Everyone making purchases makes certain that he has received his chance on a car, business men of the village report, and already thousands have been deposited in the boxes in the various stores. The tickets can be obtained with each 50 cents spent at a given store.

The cars to be awarded are a Ford V-8, Terraplane and Plymouth. One will be given on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, August 22, 23, and 24. The fair itself, will start Wednesday, August 21, and end Saturday, August 24.

The couple to be married in the public wedding Wednesday evening, August 21, at the fair has been decided upon, E. L. Smith, chairman of the committee for the event announced Wednesday. Their names will be kept a secret until the ceremony begins.

Among the many presents they will receive will be a $125 living room suite of furniture given by Schrader Bros. and the fair. The other gifts will be displayed by the merchants giving them in the windows of their stores soon.

Also the pair will be given the services of a preacher, music, and a large audience.

Several large banners announcing the dates of the fair were erected across the village streets here Wednesday, Floyd A. Northrop, secretary of the fair board, said. "For the next two weeks before it starts, we are really going to advertise this fair so that everyone in this district will know about it."

Changes made at the fair grounds this year will be pleasing to the patrons, according to fair officials. The high board fence around the track has been cut down considerably so that it will not block the view of the spectators.

And this year the single admission charge of 35 cents will give the privilege of going into the center of the grounds to see the races, ball games and other attractions. Previously, an extra charge was levied for this space.

N. H. S. '33 CLASS TO HOLD REUNION TUESDAY, AUG. 20

The N. H. S. class of 1933 will hold its second annual reunion at 5:30 p. m. Tuesday, Aug 20, in Cass Benton park, Miss Wilma Rattenbury, acting for the committee in charge, announced Wednesday.

The reunion will be in the form of a picnic, all members of the class being urged to attend. Members of the committee, in addition to Miss Rattenbury, are John Steencken, Robert Fower, Robert Christensen and Mrs. Melvin Chrysler.

A. S. NICHOLS AND WIFE RETURN FROM TRIP TO THE WEST

Enthusiastic over their four weeks' motor trip through the West, Attorney and Mrs. Arthur S. Nichols have returned to their home on High street.

The high spots of their tour were the visits to Yellowstone park and Glacier National park. This was Mrs. Nichols' first visit among the Rockies. They report the heaviest grain crop for years throughout the western states. On the trip they covered 4,690 miles with no mishaps.

LOCAL SOFTBALL FANS TO SELECT ALL-STAR TEAM

Northville Recreation softball league fans are being asked to pick an all-star team to play an all-star team from Plymouth on Thursday, Aug. 22, Plymouth Day at the fair.

Each fan is asked to draw up his all-star line-up and send it in to The Record, addressed to the all-star editor. On the basis of these, a team will be picked to play on Plymouth Day.

MANY SHOPPERS HUNT TREASURES ON DOLLAR DAYS

Crowd Estimated at 2,000 Is Attracted Here Saturday

A gay crowd of more than 2,000 happy, carefree shoppers milled through Northville's streets Saturday night in search of "treasures."

It was the treasure hunt which brought to conclusion the two Dollar Days. The Dollar Days, if the opinions of Northville merchants are a guide, were more than successful. "My business improved more than 50 percent," declared one business man. And another termed the Dollar Days "invaluable. People just flocked into my store."

Maurice Lapham, proprietor of Ponsford's store, declared "It would be a good plan to hold them often, about once every two weeks would be about right."

The "treasures" of ten stores were not found. They are still collectable, the merchants said. The stores still having their "treasures" are Northville Hardware, S. L. Brader's, Penniman-Allen theatre, Helmes Gift Shop, Twin Pines Dairy, Northville Drug, A & P, Kroger's, Detroit Edison, and The Record. The number on The Record's "treasure" is 10636.

The hunt lasted from 9 p. m. until after 10 o'clock. Rain coming shortly after 9:30 failed to halt the searchers, although it thinned the crowd somewhat.

INTEREST IN COMING HORSE SHOW MOUNTS

30 Boxes Are Already Sold; Important Entries Received

Interest in the coming horse show of the Northville Wayne County Fair is running high, according to opinions of the committee expressed after the meeting held Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lindsey.

Already 30 of the 35 boxes for the show have been sold, it was reported, and this is called remarkable progress. The complete list of box-holders will appear in next week's issue of The Record.

A few important entries have also been received, it was announced at the meeting. These will be made public soon, along with the other entries.

There was some discussion at the meeting over the advertisements for the programs. It was reported that many ads have been sold.

Those attending were Mrs. Wm. Rawle Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newkirk, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kampf, Mr. and Mrs. Russell H. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nicholds and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Hughie Durant of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson.

The committee of the Northville horse show has been invited to the horse show at Traverse City today, the first ever held there. Those who will attend are Mrs. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, and Mr. and Mrs. Newkirk. Mr. and Mrs. Walker plan to attend the show but are not certain they can be there.

YOUR NEXT PARTY will be a great success if you serve Fry's delicious home-made ice cream. Economical, pleasingly different and a real treat. No extra charge for cutting and wrapping. Royal Ann Cafe, Northville. 46tfc

LEMKE WILL GIVE ADDRESS IN PARK HERE

Producers, Consumers Hear North Dakota Representative Tomorrow

Congressman William Lemke of North Dakota, co-sponsor of the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage act which was declared unconstitutional recently by the United States Supreme Court, will address a state-wide picnic of "producers and consumers" at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in Cass Benton park.

Another personage who will attend the picnic is E. E. Kennedy, secretary of the National Farmers' Union. The picnic proper will begin at 12 o'clock noon. Plymouth's Schrader-Haggerty baseball team will take on the Ford V-8 nine in a game later in the afternoon.

Michigan labor organizations, including the American Federation of Labor, and the Farmers' Union are uniting to sponsor the picnic, Mr. Simmons said.

Congressman Lemke, a republican, has been recently active in congress in pro-farmer legislation. The farm mortgage bill, which he sponsored with Senator Lynn Z. Frazier, also of North Dakota, and which was hailed as a boon to financially-desperate farmers, was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court at the same time as was the National Industrial Recovery Act.

BOGART HOUSE IS BEING REMODELED

Complete remodelling that will cost $1,200 in all is being done now on the house at the corner of Randolph and North High streets, recently purchased by E. M. Bogart.

The work includes installing a new furnace and outside chimney, a bathtub, entire re-plastering, the erecting of new partitions and even putting on a new roof, Mr. Bogart said. The house will be ready for occupancy by September 1. Mr. Bogart will lease it out to a desirable tenant.

FORD SHOWROOM OF RENNIE-MAHRLE IS BEING REDECORATED

Extensive redecorating is taking place now in the Rennie-Mahrle, Inc, Ford Sales and Service on West Main street, purchased July 25 from Arthur R. Marz.

The entire interior of the building is being painted, with most of the changes taking place in the front office. The stock bins and counter have been moved around so that they face the west wall. The rear of the showroom, where they were located before, will be used for office space.

"We have also added a couple of men to our sales force," Alec M. Rennie, in charge of sales, announced, "and we are getting organized so we can do business here to the best advantage."

NORTHVILLE SCHOOL TAXES TO BE REDUCED THIS YEAR

$21,500 In Thatcher-Sias Aid To Be Received Enables Board To Cut Rate $2.50 Per Thousand

Taxpayers in Northville school district will be greeted with a reduction of $2.50 per thousand on their school taxes next December, Sherrill W. Ambler, secretary of the board of education, announced this week.

The rate per thousand for last year's school taxes was $9.80, Mr. Ambler said, and so the reduction is more than 25 per cent.

It was made possible because the Northville school district will get a total of $21,500 in Thatcher-Sias aid during the coming school year, or just about twice the amount received here last year.

This money comes each year from the amount the state raises through the sales tax.

The Wayne county tax allocation board approved Northville's proposed budget several weeks ago. Northville's schools are in excellent condition," Mr. Ambler declared. "They equal in financial condition and facilities most of the schools of the state, and are in much better shape than many schools in Michigan.

"Many schools are 'in the red' so deep that their officials have no idea how they will ever get them on a paying basis," he said, "while the Northville school system has always been able to keep out of debt."

The total amount in taxes for the operating expenses of the schools during the coming year to be raised in the school district will be about $10,000, he continued, and this is about one-quarter of the amount necessary. The state will furnish the balance through the Thatcher-Sias and the primary school funds.

This gives a cost of approximately $50 for each student, he said.

"The schools are not costing the taxpayers nearly so much to operate as they used to," Mr. Ambler declared, and recalled that in 1930 and 1931 the tax rate per thousand in the Northville school district was about $15. It is reduced to about half of that amount now.

NEIL WILL APPEAR ON ASSAULT CHARGE

To Answer Norton's Warrant Before Judge Nichols at 10 a. m. Today

Robert Neil, 35 years old, of Rayson avenue, will appear before Justice Arthur S. Nichols at 10 a. m. today to answer charges of assault and battery.

The warrant was sworn out by John Norton local beer garden proprietor, after Neil had put a hole through the left side of Norton's cheek in a fight outside his beer garden Wednesday evening. Norton claims Neil sprang on him from behind, hitting him on the head with some hard object.

Neil could not be reached for a statement as The Record went to press.

According to Norton, Neil shouted "I'll kill you" as he jumped on his back. Norton was sweeping the sidewalk in front of his establishment. A possible motive, Norton said, is that Neil was put out of the beer garden recently after he was "disorderly."

A humorous aspect of the affair was the calling of the fire department, rather than the police, to the scene of the fight. Orsan Atchison, attendant of a nearby gasoline station, who made the call, insists he called the proper authorities, but nevertheless, it was the firemen who came.

But they came too late. Neil had fled and Norton's serious cuts and bruises were the only signs of conflict which remained.

SPARLING PRAISES SCENIC BEAUTY OF NORTH MICHIGAN

At the Exchange club meeting Wednesday noon, Dr. H. I. Sparling gave a racy account of his two weeks' vacation in the northern peninsula.

His headquarters were at St. Ignace and the schedule of sight-seeing was a random one. He claims it is an ideal way to spend the time. The beauties of the road travel in that section of the state impressed the doctor very much. Of course he told a fish story and it was readily accepted by the club as entitling Exchangite Sparling to membership in the "Tall Story Club."

Dr. Sparling and C. A. Dolph were chosen as delegates to the national convention to be held at Dallas, Texas, in September. Roy E. Crowe and Maurice J. Lapham will be the alternates.

Fred Lyke, a former member, was the guest of the club.

DR. SNOW'S OFFICE UNDERGOES REPAIRS

According to his present plans Dr. L. W. Snow will be able to move by September 1, his office back into his office building, which was damaged by fire Sunday, July 14. He is vacationing now with his family at his cottage near Cheboygan.

Dr. and Mrs. Snow, their children, Linwood, Jr., and Betty, and Mrs. Jean A. Cole left Friday evening for the cottage. They plan to be away until September 1, Dr. Snow said.

The plastering work in the office building was being completed this week.

SCHOOL TURNS TO WPA FOR GRANT

Officials Decide To Try For Less, Though Surer, Money

School officials switched their efforts to obtain a direct federal grant from the Public Works Administration to the Works Progress Administration, it was learned yesterday.

The direct grant is being sought, Supt. of Schools R. H. Amerman said, in order to alleviate badly overcrowded conditions by building a new school building. He termed a new building a vital necessity.

Switching of the WPA for the PWA involves a sacrifice of some $145,000 of the proposed grant. The original plan was to attempt to get a $160,000 PWA grant and build a complete new building. School officials have learned, they said that a grant from the Works Progress Administration in this state under Harry L. Pierce would be easier to obtain. The WPA handles only projects of $25,000 and under.

The present plan is to obtain the new building in units, the first of which is to be erected as soon as the money can be secured. Authoritative sources told Mr. Amerman that as soon as plans were presented nothing would hold up the grant. An architect was to have been consulted this week.

SENIORS TO SPONSOR NORTHVILLE NIGHT AT EDGEWATER PARK

Sponsored by the 1936 senior class of Northville high school, Northville night will be celebrated Sunday at Edgewater park, Seven Mile road near Grand River.

The feature of the evening according to the seniors will be the dance in the ballroom to the music of Bobby Grayson and his society orchestra.

Free tickets are available this week in all the business places in the village, which will admit the bearer to the ballroom for 25 cents and will also entitle him to admission to seven of the main amusements of the park.

The tickets will also assure that free parking and admission to the park are given.

TWO NEW TUNNEL FIRE ESCAPES WILL BE PUT IN SCHOOL

The purchase of two new tunnel fire escapes at a total cost of $1,200 was authorized by the school board Monday night.

The installation of the two escapes will comply with the order from the state fire marshal, Supt. of Schools R. H. Amerman explained. "Either new escapes would have had to be put in or the old steel one completely remodeled," he said. According to Mr. Amerman the cost of fixing the present escape to meet state requirements would have nearly equalled the cost of the new ones. The escapes will be circular in form, so that students may slide through them.

The board got a bargain, the price of a single fire escape being more than $700. Bids were held. The closest to the $1,200 estimate was within $57. It is expected that the new escapes, which will be put up on each side of the building, will be ready when school starts, Sept. 3.

FOUNDATION TO BE STARTED IMMEDIATELY

New Ford Plant Will Employ 325 Men, Officials Announce

Construction of the basement and of the concrete footings for the new Ford valve manufacturing plant in Northville is to start at once, officials of the company announced yesterday.

The contract for this work was to be awarded Thursday, and at the time The Record went to press was not yet available.

"We are anxious to push the construction of the building ahead as fast now as possible," one of the engineers for the Ford Motor company declared. The awarding of the contract for the construction of the building itself will probably take place within the next two weeks and likely before that time, he added.

The new plant will replace the old structure, which falls short of the Ford standards of architecture, and contrary to the first intentions of officials of the company, only about the same number of men which are employed in the present factory—about 325—will work in the new one when it begins to operate.

The original plan for the new plant was that it would replace all the factories that manufacture valves for Ford cars rather than only the Northville plant. Under that plan the new plant was to employ about 1,000 men.

No change, however, has been made in the specifications of the size of the building, which will measure 200 feet long and 160 feet wide.

All of the excavation work was completed Monday. The basement will not be under the entire building. The concrete footings to be built along with the foundation will support the remainder of the building.

NEW MUSIC SHOP OPENS ITS DOORS HERE ON THURSDAY

Offering a complete line of musical instruments and [illegible] the Lodge Music Shop opened its doors Thursday at 140 North Center street.

General Electric refrigerators, washing machines, radios and other appliances will be stocked, according to C. W. Lodge, the proprietor.

"We will also carry all of the latest popular sheet music, strings, reeds, violins and harmonicas," he said. All kinds of musical instruments will be available to the public of Northville upon 24 hours notice. The store will have a radio service department and have a piano tuning service.

Although the store is now open, the grand opening day will be Saturday, August 17, Mr. Lodge said. At that time he expects to have everything in first class shape. Favors will be given free to all the ladies who visit the store on that day.

Mr. Lodge has been in the music and radio business in Detroit since 1924, he said.

MANY ACCEPTING STATE OFFER OF NO TAX PENALTY

Three Incentives Offered To Property Owners In Big Drive

With penalties on back taxes being waived until September 1 payments of delinquent taxes have already started to pour into the county treasurer's office.

This is the first week of the state's drive to reduce the back-tax burden which state, county and local governments are suffering, according to county officials. The campaign was started by Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald.

Three incentives to pay these back taxes are being offered by the state in its moratorium campaign:

1. All penalties and interest on taxes for 1932 and prior years shall be waived providing the original amount of the tax is paid on or before September 1.

2. Taxes for 1932 and prior years can be paid in annual installments over a period of up to ten years, starting September 1, with only a four per cent interest charge on deferred balances.

3. Regular taxes for 1933 and 1934 may be paid without interest or penalties before November 1, a four per cent collection charge being added.

EXTEND TIME 30 DAYS ON LOCAL TAXES

August 30 is New Deadline; Dog Ordinance Is Proposed

An extension of 30 days in which Northville property owners may pay their village taxes without penalty was decided upon by the village commission Monday evening at the village hall after hearing the recommendation by John Litsenberger, treasurer, that more time was necessary.

The taxes ordinarily are to be paid by July 31 if the penalty is to be escaped, but in recent years, with the taxes coming in slowly, the custom has been to extend the time of payment. According to the action of the commission Monday evening, taxes can be paid as late as August 30 without any penalty being attached.

So far the taxes are coming as rapidly as can be expected, according to Mr. Litsenberger. Definite figures on the tax collections were not available then, he said.

The commissioners also voted to pay the sum of $2,750, interest on sewer bonds, to the Depositors State bank.

Further instructions were given to Street Commissioner Earl H. Montgomery to have the weeds in vacant lots about the village cut down. It was the opinion of Commissioner Merrill Sweet that the uncontrolled growth of weeds in the village is unsightly and that property owners should see to it that their grounds are well maintained.

A proposed dog ordinance was laid before the commission by Dr. Wilbur H. Johnston, village health officer who advised the village officials that it was greatly needed here if there is to be any control of dogs. It will give us a definite system to work by, he declared, and if it is necessary to quarantine any dogs at any time, we will be able to proceed intelligently.

A new police car was proposed to the commission by Chief William H. Safford, who said that the present police car is in a bad state of repair and that it will cost a large amount to get it into anything like satisfactory condition. A new car, he declared, would be a saving to the village. Action on this matter was postponed by the commission.

PUTNAM DISPLAYS 12-FOOT STALK OF CORN THIS WEEK

Northville farmers race to have the highest corn stalk continues on its way this week with Clyde H. Putnam coming back into the official lead in the race with a stalk measuring 12 feet one inch in height.

He raised it on his farm at the corner of Eleven Mile and Beck roads.

It is being displayed this week in The Record office, and now gives him a claim of superiority over Earl Banks of Novi, who reported his corn to be nine feet, six inches in height last week. That gave him a temporary lead over Mr. Putnam who had claimed to have corn seven feet high the week before.

Meanwhile sweet corn is already here.

'Everything Is Hunkydory' With Rowe, Jo-Jo White and Gee Walker as They Play Round of Golf at Meadowbrook

Everything is all hunky-dory with the Detroit Tigers, in the opinion of Schoolboy Rowe, Jo-Jo White and Gee Walker.

That was what they said after they came in from 18 holes of golf at Meadowbrook country club Monday and rested up in the clubhouse in preparation for another round.

On the links and off they kidded each other and their companions, William Robert and Lee Ghadwick, both of Detroit. After he had done a poor job of putting on the 18th hole, Jo-Jo threw his club fifty feet away and said: "Lyn, yo sho put one ovah on me that time."

"How're we set for Chicago? You mean the Chicago White Sox?" the Schoolboy grinned in answer to a question. "We all set, boy, to take 'em." He frowned as some fan in the caddy house hollered "Oh Edna."

"How do you feel about the situation?" Jo-Jo was asked.

"Oh, Ah think everything's fine," the star center fielder drawled. "But Ah sho am worried about mah golf game." Jo-Jo made a 95 for the 18 holes and didn't like it when the Schoolboy declared "that's pretty good for a lefty."

It was Gee Walker that started the hunky-dory stuff. "It's all hunky dory with me," he said with just as much of a drawl as the others.

He smiled and then sobered. "But why ask me? I'll see it all from the bench anyway. Sho it's all right with me but yo bettah ask those othah boys what they-all think about it all."

"It's hunky dory," Lyn and Jo-Jo chimed in, and then they fell to arguing about their scores.

The Schoolboy got 42 on the first nine and 50 on the second. Gee took a 44 on the first round and a 42 on his second. They thought they'd try it again that hot afternoon.

Quite a gallery collected as the party came in on the last hole, in spite of the fact that the Tiger trio are frequent visitors to Meadowbrook. Tony Bongiovanni of Northville caddied for the Schoolboy and thought him to be the best player of the bunch.

Rowe was asked quite a number of questions but he didn't have many definite opinions. "Ah do like baseball bettah than golf, howevah," he stated.

Dr. Wickham's Dream of Sanatorium Is Realized Through Henry Ford With Creation of Lake at New Plant Here

By A. S. ANDERSON

Henry Ford, though he doesn't know it, is taking part in the completion of a dream partially realized by Dr. A. B. Wickham, medical director of the Eastlawn sanatorium. That dream originated 15 years ago when Dr. Wickham came to Northville looking for an ideal location for the sanatorium he hoped to establish.

There were three things that Dr. Wickham looked for: high elevation, trees, shrubbery, flowers, and above all, a lake. The first two he found on the hill just north of the village. The second he had found neither in Northville nor in the numerous counties through which he searched for the "right spot" before he decided upon the Northville site.

But now it seems that even the lake will be supplied, with the project just started by Henry Ford calling for the flooding of the entire Yerkes basin. With all the remodeling now going on at the sanatorium and this newer acquisition, a lake, Eastlawn will indeed be a "new person."

Residents of Northville, who live at the very foot of Eastlawn gaze up at the white buildings with familiarity and think of them as having been there always. But the history of the sanatorium carries one into Detroit, America's fourth largest city, the outskirts of which are scarcely ten miles to the east.

It was in July, 1920, that Dr. A. B. Wickham established the first Eastlawn in the now famous motor city, after searching four counties for a likely site. The ten acres he finally decided upon were on the east side of Detroit, which at that time was not thickly populated in that section of the town.

The large residence on the property was quickly converted into typical hospital quarters. There followed shortly after the erection of,

STREET DANCE TO BE STAGED HERE TONIGHT

The street dance, which was to have been held last Friday in connection with the dollar days, but was postponed because of rain will be held tonight (Friday) weather permitting, in front of the Schrader Bros. Furniture store, it was announced by members of the committee in charge.

Dancing will continue from 9 until 12 p. m. to the music of Strassen's six-piece orchestra of Plymouth.

No admission will be charged to the dance, contributions of the Northville businessmen paying for the orchestra.

Maurice Lapham, is in charge of the plans for the dance. The "dance floor" will be roped off by Earl H. Montgomery, street commissioner, and corn meal spread over the street.

FITZGERALD HITS LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Clean-minded, wholesome and justice-loving people still constitute the majority in Michigan and this sort of folks will back Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald in his determined effort to put the liquor business in Michigan on a higher level of decency.

Charges made by Michigan's chief executive against the liquor makers and distributors are stunning and arouse all good citizens, and especially parents, to the dangerous conditions that prevail. Listen to your governor:

"We have permitted conditions to grow up that demand drastic treatment and drastic treatment is what I have prescribed, with all the force at my command!

"In prohibition days we battled against the illicit maker and distributor of liquor. Today our battle is against the licensed distributor whose greed blinds him to his social responsibilities. The situation today with respect to legalized liquor traffic is worse than it was in the darkest days of the saloon.

"The beer and liquor joint with its windows obscured, its lights dimmed, its booth partitioned off to afford further privacy—with a dance floor as one adjunct and tourist accommodations or similar facilities as another—is a combination as vicious as any that has ever been devised to debauch the morals of a rising generation."

One definite step that should help a lot in improving conditions is the governor's move in having the state police take over part of the enforcement of the liquor laws. There has been altogether too much politics involved with the state liquor control commission and its inspectors. The beer garden situation should be handled without gloves and the state police can do this a lot better than can politically minded inspectors who have to work with their friends.

If crime and immorality have been bred by the present liquor system in Michigan, as the governor declares, and who will dare deny the charge?—every move to make conditions better should be supported by the better element of our people. The greed of the liquor leaders brought about their downfall before and it may again.

HOW LOWELL, MICH. GOT ON THE MAP

How a unique town festival can literally give a village, hitherto little known, a state-wide reputation, is demonstrated up at Lowell, a town of 2,000, about 20 miles west of Grand Rapids.

Lowell's big festival, an experiment for three or four years but now firmly fixed in the public imagination, is "Showboat." Lowell has a river right in the middle of the town and here it is that "Showboat" makes its popular appeal. Rivalling the old days along the Mississippi, a big side-wheeler is literally placed on the river and from its decks are given the entertainments that are enjoyed by thousands sitting in the grandstand on the dock. You can imagine that there is "something different" and something to thrill the mind and heart.

Holland, Mich. has its tulip festival that has broken all records for public interest, bringing so many thousands that the town can hardly hold them; Traverse City has its cherry festival that is a "blinger"; Jonesville has its unique Labor Day celebration that draws people from many miles; Beulah has its "smelt runs" in the spring that attract many visitors; and the fruit belt towns have their "Blossom Week" festivals that appeal to throngs of visitors from different parts of the state.

Of course, Northville has its splendid fair which is a most remarkable community asset. Some day could we go one step farther and have a community festival of some sort or other that would make us unique and put our town on the map in an ever bigger way?

With our hills and valleys, our fine suburban atmosphere and our natural attractions, could we not stage some festival that would make Northville even more notable that it now is.

Has anyone any suggestions?

ROADSIDE HUMOR

The desecration of our Michigan highways by signs is appalling—at least it must be distressing to anyone with some sense of the beautiful. What the American people "stand for" in the way of these inane signs, on both highways and on city streets—some time in Detroit just stop and look down one block and see the inane jumble that greets you on both sides of the street—is amazing. We can take a lot of punishment!

However and notwithstanding, if we must have roadside signs by the million, blotting out views of our fine trees and our rich fields and inviting valleys, why not imitate the makers of a well known brushless shaving soap and put a little humor into them. After having traveled thousands of miles throughout the United States aside from a few signs that tell you about cities and villages that you are about to enter, there are only a few that we remember with a smile, instead of irritation.

On long trips it has been intriguing to follow the signs of this certain brushless shaving soap. Whoever wrote them—and there are a lot of different combination—is quite a genius at putting words together. For example, here is one that should make you smile:

"If you think your wife likes bristles just try walking barefoot through some thistles. Use ——— shave."

In conclusion, and no fooling, the best place for anyone's advertising is in the good old home newspaper—no matter where or what the town.

"GOOD OLD MICHIGAN"

We say it again: For living from April until say January 1st, you don't beat the state of Michigan. Take last week. Michigan "turned on the heat" for several days—helping make a wonderful corn crop—but what happened Thursday night and Friday? The temperature dropped from 94 to 74 and down came the rain. How glorious it all was! Hats off to Michigan, the state of varieties—anything you wish!

Consider the motto of your own state:

WANDERING THOUGHTS

Northville fair is next. And what a fair!

* * *

"Treasure Hunt" certainly drew the people to Northville Saturday evening.

* * *

"Strive not with a man without cause, if he have done thee no harm." Proverbs 3:30.

* * *

Completion of the new Ford plant will mark another milestone in Northville's splendid long history. The Henry Ford plan of having men work in small factories while living on the land nearby is making history. Northville is part of that history.

* * *

Just got to thinking that The Northville Record staff is getting to be quite cosmopolitan. Ray W. Labbitt hails from Minnesota; "Art" (W. A.) Zeliers is from Indiana and New Mexico; Allen Grover is a "Hoosier"; Harrison Chandler's home town is in Pennsylvania; Earl M. Miller was born in Nebraska but worked in Canada for a few years; W. J. Burt lived in North Dakota for a number of years; and now Frank Hart "blows in" from South Da*kota to join the force.*

* * *

We never knew until we read it last week in The Sanilac Jeffersonian, published at Croswell by Harold G. Baker, a former Detroit young man, that Croswell has the greatest cherry farm in the world. The Jeffersonian says that last week on the W. R. Roach & Co. farm, near the Thumb town, more than 100 tons of cherries were hanging from 17,280 trees. Three hundred pickers—many of them tourists from distant points—will take 15 days to harvest the mighty crop. About 200 acres are "in" cherries on the Roach farm. The present Record editor and wife spent six very pleasant years at Marlette, only a few miles from Croswell.

'Broadway Bill,' With Warner Baxter and Myrna Loy Comes Here Saturday; Double Feature Program Wednesday

Hollywood's favorite director — favorite since his two smash hits in a row, "Lady for a Day" and "It Happened One Night"—has made another picture—"Broadway Bill." A new Capra film is always a notable event in the entertainment world—it is eagerly anticipated. It will be shown at the Penniman-Allen theatre Saturday.

Frank Capra's propensity for boosting the stock of his players also makes him a favorite among the acting coterie. Actors are aware of what Capra did for May Robson and little Jean Parker in his "Lady For a Day." He made Miss Robson a star, and he made Miss Parker a star.

Boomed Gable to New High

And now in "Broadway Bill," he has another star combination, Warner Baxter and Myrna Loy. Although each of these players has earned an enviable reputation singly, the combination of their talents under Capra's masterful direction, is an entertainment feast.

Simple Plot Construction

The story of "Broadway Bill" is a simple one. It is all in the manner of telling it. It belongs to that new type of "charm" picture, introduced by Capra in "It Happened One Night," and followed up so successfully by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film, "The Thin Man."

Warner Baxter, the young man, is married into a rich family that dominates the industries of a small town. The in-laws insist that the boy buckle down and become a valuable asset to the family, and the lad takes his racehorse to the tracks and tries to win a race or two with it.

Collaborated With Author

The story has hundreds of possibilities for the well known Capra humanizing touches. The director worked very closely with writer Robert Riskin who did the adaptations of "Lady For a Day" and "It Happened One Night." Together they've spotted the picture full of the meaty sequences which audiences have come to expect in a Capra offering.

The cast is a typical Capra aggregation—all ace performers. Supporting the stars are Walter Connolly, Helen Vinson, Raymond Walburn, Frankie Darro, Claude Gillingwater and many others.

"ALIAS MARY DOW"

If you were a waitress in a cheap stand,

And if a grief-stricken man begged you to pose as his daughter to save a woman's life, would you refuse?

Or would you throw away the life you knew and liked to step into a totally different world where your position was false, as does Sally Eilers in her newest starring film "Alias Mary Dow" which comes to the Penniman-Allen theatre Wednesday?

Miss Eilers is the waitress who leaves the life she loves at the frantic plea of a grief-stricken man and poses as his daughter to save his dying wife. At first, she is unhappy in her new environment and tries desperately to go back to her old life. But a woman's happiness is at stake and she finally agrees to continue the deception. She falls in love with a young man of wealth and position, played by Ray Milland, and he wants her to marry him. But the specter of her past comes up to haunt her and prevent the union.

Then her former sweetheart, a taxi-driver played by Chick Chandler, discovers her masquerade and seeks to blackmail her and the man she loves. The climax of the story comes when she traps the man who kidnapped the child whose place she has taken, and when Milland discovers her deception. Does he still want to marry her? Does she remain as Mary Dow? To answer these questions would be to detract from your enjoyment of the picture.

In the cast are Henry O'Neill, celebrated character actor, Katharine Alexander, Baby Jane and Clarence Muse. Kurt Neumann who gave you the "Big Cage" directed.

"CHINATOWN SQUAD"

San Francisco's great Chinatown is seen as it was never presented before in "Chinatown Squad," the stirring Universal mystery coming Wednesday to the Penniman-Allen theatre.

Not only does the picture show the picturesque, narrow streets of this fascinating section, but there are many intimate scenes, including the famous telephone exchange, in charge of Chinese girl operators and handling calls in English, Mandarin, Cantonese and several other Chinese dialects. A mysterious sliding panel in a booth of a native restaurant is seen in operation, and to those who feel that this might be exaggerated it may be pointed out that to this day there are miles of secret underground passages forming a labyrinth under the entire area of Chinatown. Indeed, it is jokingly said that until a newly arrived Chinese learns the ropes he is apt to go down into his own cellar and come up in his neighbor's house, over on the alley.

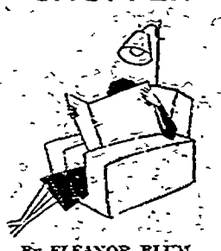
THE RECORD SHOPPER



By ELEANOR BLUM

Editor's Note: Information as to where the articles mentioned in this column can be purchased in Northville, can be secured by inquiring at The Record office.

For a good many years, fine linen has been the sign of a good hostess, and for all the invasion of other newer material combinations, it still is. While shopping in Northville the other day we came across several linen pieces that will be helpful to the hostess and for the hostess-gift.

If you haven't seen those bright Poppy cloths for example, you probably haven't realized their possibilities. On a background of natural linen, the luncheon cloths are in all bright fast colors. Oranges, greens, black, and yellow combine in unique designs for this sensibly sized luncheon cloth. In midsummer, the hostess is a little jaded, and so are her guests, with hot weather social fetes, but the hostess who wants to keep entertaining smartly through the summer months, will lay a luncheon table on the lawn, or on the sunporch.

Set, for example, with one of these gay cloths in shades of orange, green and black, and glassware striped in orange in the fantastic way that they do stripe glassware nowadays and with a simple garden centerpiece in the same or contrasting color combination you will have a table to please even the most tired party-goer.

But for the hostess-gift—we were going to speak mostly of that. This is the time of year when having just terminated a happy week or week-end, the visitor looks around for something new to send the hostess as a token of appreciation. In searching for the ornate — most shoppers neglect the new phases of that old favorite, the linen gift. Linens have lost none of their practicability or correctness now that they have added touches of color and have been wrapped in attractive cellophane packages already for the hostess-gift

Finger-tip towels in pastel or more brilliant shades, pillow cases, with delicately colored edging, linen tea sets—a dozen or more attractive linen gifts are in Northville stores waiting to delight your hostess. Linen will never grow too old.

THE TALK OF THE TOWN

BY NORMAN CHANDLER

Glad To Be Back

Well, here we are back at the old typewriter again Monday morning after a most pleasant vacation spent in Pennsylvania, where we visited relatives and friends last week. And although it was mighty hard to leave such an attractive locality, we were really glad to see Northville once more.

There is one characteristic about Northville that makes it stand out in our mind from the other small towns that we happened to pass through and that is its activity. It is not a sleepy little burg like so many communities its size and even larger.

It's A Small World

It's really amazing how you can meet people far from home that know the people you know. In Hollidaysburg, Pa., where we were visiting our mother we were introduced to a man, George C. Howard, of New York City, who, when he discovered we were from Michigan, asked if we were acquainted with Howard Baldwin or Richard T. Baldwin. Imagine our surprise!

Mr. Howard, it developed, was a cousin of The Record editor and Howard Baldwin, and told us the latter had acted as an usher at his wedding in 1929 right there in Hollidaysburg.

"Tell Dick for me that I consider him and Hearst as the two greatest newspaper men in the country," he said as he drove off in a car

And that is not all. He told us that he had been married to Miss Margaret Pratt of Hollidaysburg, who is a sister of a good friend of ours there, Miss Frances Pratt.

Then we were able to tell Frances one, since we had met a Detroit friend of hers, Miss Kathryn Watkins, last winter. Both girls attended Highland hall in Hollidaysburg, a private school for girls.

Read It And Laugh

All in all it was a grand vacation. At a party there we heard the following poem read by a girl there who had composed it. Here it is. To appreciate it you should have it read aloud by a girl who can lisp—because that is really essential.

Darn he, me hate he;
Me wish him was died;
Him told I him loved I;
But darn he, him lied

Darn he, me loved he;
Him were my joy and pride,
Me kissed he, him left I.
So here, no good guide
Darn he, him hurt I;
Me felt bad me cried,
I got gun and shot he;
But darn he, him died

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

MAN'S SEVEN MISTAKES

(Sol Roach in Felton Independent)

Many imperfections lead him to make many mistakes in life. The pointing out of these frailties has engaged the attention of philosophers and reformers in all ages. A recent writer enumerates what he considers to be the seven greatest mistakes of man, as follows:

1. Delusion that individual advancement is made by cursing others down.

2. The tendency to worry about things that cannot be changed or corrected.

3. Insisting that a thing is impossible because we ourselves cannot accomplish it.

4. Refusing to set aside trivial preferences in order that important things may be accomplished.

5. Neglecting development and refinement of the mind by not acquiring the habit of reading.

6. Attempting to compel other persons to believe and live as we do.

7. The failure to establish the habit of saving money.

THE CAR AHEAD

(Fred D Keister in the Ionia County News)

Ever watch the spectacle of one car following close behind another at a dizzy pace along the highway? You shudder to think of what might happen if the lead car should suddenly be compelled to stop without warning. Many fatal traffic accidents have resulted from this form of careless driving. An automobile association offers this same advice:

"Keep a safe distance from the car ahead of you. Do not follow another car more closely than is reasonable and prudent, having due regard to the speed, the volume of traffic, the condition of the road and also the condition of your brakes. At higher speeds there must be much greater spacing between cars."

STATE POLICE COLLEGE?

(A. H. Webber in the Chesaygan Observer)

"It is now proposed to subject applicants for state police service to a course of scientific (?) training through the Michigan State College, in fact make 'em rah-rah boys full fledged and full of theory. We can well imagine how popular that is going to be with the present state police organization or any other police agency that has won his honor by experience and hard knocks. We can't imagine where such an idea springs from or who authorizes its adoption unless our own state has within its confines some Tugwells and other brain trusters that consider a college education necessary in all walks of life. At the beginning our own state highway department was surfeited with boys just out of school, and with heads crammed with book learning and alluring theories, but that wore out in time and some of those boys went back to the beginning with the understanding that experience, conditions and available material was first to be reckoned with then book learning came in for its true value. It is practically the same in our Conservation department today, men of experience, unquestioned judgment and outstanding ability are threatened with an invasion of inexperienced boys just out of college. They are collecting all kinds of fowl, game and fish census, they are measuring and estimating, they are living at hotels and spending short hours in the field while the older standbys know no hours to quit or begin, or trail too hard or long. The reports the Commissioners base their decision on are prepared by those young beginners and theorists, not by the older heads, the men that know the territory and the wild life and the old people in that territory. Now they want to make state police of our college boys.

YES — "JUST NAME ONE"

(William Caulfield in the Livingston County Republican-Press)

A large newspaper, referring to the Social Security Bill now pending before the United States Senate, said editorially:

"The United States is 50 years behind some European countries in establishing a social-security system. This reform should be passed quickly."

Which reminds us of the dialogue when the mother was trying to get her small daughter to eat spinach.

"There are thousands of little girls who would like to have your spinach," said the mother.

"Name just one," replied the daughter, ending the dialogue.

So, we request: Name just one European country that has social security that works better than the American system.

Concluding the series of events, a large banquet attended by nearly 500 persons was held Thursday evening.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thompson, well-known in Northville, presented a play at the final banquet.

Both of the local representatives spoke enthusiastically of the trip and of the beauties of the campus. They declared that with the classes, the entertainment provided, the after-breakfast devotionals, speakers every day following the morning classes, and the games and other recreation to be both learned and enjoyed by them their every minute was filled.

The class from which the two women were sent is one of the many economics classes presented by the college. LOCAL FINALISTS BEATEN IN NEWS TENNIS TOURNEY

The four Northville-Plymouth finalists in the Detroit News tennis tournament were all eliminated by the second round of the finals held Saturday at the Belle Isle courts.

The matches were originally planned for the Waterworks park courts but heavy rain had necessitated the change.

Ward Van Atta, only Northville player to reach the finals, defeated James Charles of Lincoln park Saturday morning, 6-4, 8-6. With only an hour's rest he played Marion Shane, Kalamazoo player, and lost, 6-3, 6-2. Van Atta said he was tired when he started the match, and that although he was able to play his best brand of tennis, it was all to no avail.

Robert Champe of Plymouth was eliminated in the first round Saturday by Lester Kaufman of Palmer Park, 6-0, 6-1.

Ruth Odiska of Plymouth lost to Hazel Buhlman of the Belle Isle courts in a second round match Sunday, 6-2, 6-2, after drawing a bye in the first round.

Betty Jane Housley of Plymouth, after winning by default in the first round, was beaten by Ruth Wrobel of the St. Clair street courts, Detroit, 6-2, 6-1.

Van Atta and Champe have yet to play their match to determine the champion of the Northville-Plymouth district and they have not decided upon a day. The winner will be presented with a tennis racquet, and the runner-up will be given a pair of tennis shoes.

PREPARE GROUNDS FOR STATE FAIR, TO BE HELD AUGUST 30

Plenty of bustle and activity is visible at the State Fair Grounds in Detroit these days as workmen prepare the premises and buildings for the 86th annual Michigan State Fair, Aug. 30 to Sept. 9.

"We have sound reasons for predicting that the 1935 State Fair will be the finest in Michigan's history," declared George A. Prescott, Jr., secretary of the State Fair board.

"We expect to have unusually fine automotive and other industrial exhibits at the Fair this year, and we are offering every possible inducement to farmers to exhibit their championship-calibre livestock and other farm products."

Awards totalling $65,000 are offered to winners in the various exhibits and contests.

Livestock and agricultural exhibits can only be entered by residents of Michigan. This restriction encourages the smaller exhibitors to make a bid for prizes. Often they are discouraged from competing when they know they will be opposed by big exhibitors from other states who frequently go on tour with their championship stock and products.

A great variety of human interest contests and entertainment features have been arranged by the board of managers for this year's Fair.

Contests include horse-pulling, milking, sheep-shearing, hog-calling, husband calling, and many others.

Boys and girls belonging to Michigan's 4-H clubs have gotten ready a great variety of farm products and livestock to be entered in the hope of winning some of the 20,000 prizes offered these junior agriculturists, according to A. G. Kettunen, state 4-H club leader.

As usual the 4-H clubs will choose the "healthiest boy and girl in Michigan."

Approximately $800.00 will be awarded in the Better Babies contest, conducted by the Michigan state board of health in the Woman's building.

PLAYGROUND PROJECT IS ABANDONED HERE

In reply to the many inquiries concerning the proposed community playground project the committee in charge states that the plan has had to be abandoned for this summer.

No sooner were the arrangements all made on the assumption that the salaries be paid by the FERA than the word came back from government authorities that only those could be hired who were on the welfare. This restriction eliminated those chosen and no others capable of directing the work were to be found.

Undaunted by this discouragement, the committee is already looking forward to putting over a bigger program next year independent of government help. It is thought that there could be rounded up enough volunteer workers who would give their services gratis with a trained director paid by the community.

Suggestions as to ways and means will be welcomed by the committee which is the executive board of the Parent-Teachers association: Mrs. C. W. Lester, Supt. R. H. Amerman, Paul B. Thompson, Mrs. O. F. Reng, Mrs. E. M. Bogart and Mrs. P. W. Doron.

JACK WATSON AND SALLEE RICHARDSON ATTEND CYCLE PICNIC

Jack Watson and Miss Sallee Richardson attended a picnic Sunday of the Eagle Motorcycle club of Detroit held at Wampler's lake in the Irish hills, which was attended by 25 cyclists.

An award was offered to the one coming closest to making the "secret time" from Detroit to the picnic grounds, and Watson was only one minute off this time, which he made by averaging 40 miles an hour. He had made the mistake, however, of starting from Northville instead of from the clubhouse in Detroit, a difference of two miles, and thus was disqualified.

HEAVY RAINS HOLD UP THE THRESHING

The heaviest rains of the summer stepped in this week to hold up the threshing that was all set to go in this area.

Some farmers indicated that if it rained again this week, threshing might be prevented for another whole week. Others thought that they might be able to get at it the first of next week.

On farms where wheat and oats were not yet cut, the rains wrought especial havoc. Not only will farmers on those places have to cut by swath, but it is expected that it will be more than a week before they can get started. This postpones their threshing still further.

Quetzalcoatl's Temple

The pyramid on which Quetzalcoatl's temple once stood was not only the greatest in the New World, but in mass exceeded the pyramid of Cheops on the banks of the Nile. The remains of the great structure, now crowned by a Christian church, are still to be seen on the outskirts of the modern town of Cholula. Hither in ancient times came pilgrims from all parts of Mexico. As tribal god of the Toltecs, Quetzalcoatl came to be considered the greatest civilizer of Mexico.

Folded Sheets

Octavo, abbreviated "8vo," indicates that the original sheet has been folded four times so as to make eight leaves; duodecimo, abbreviated "12mo," indicates the sheets have been folded into three, then folded twice again, so as to make 12 leaves. While they vary in size, according to the kind of paper, the usual octavo is about 6 by 9½ inches and the duodecimo not over 5¼ by 8 inches.

GROESBECK NAMES FORD AS G. O. P. PRESIDENTIAL HOPE

"The republican party can be victorious in the next presidential campaign if Henry Ford is nominated as its candidate, former Governor Alex J. Groesbeck declared last week in a statement to the Plymouth Mail.

"Mr. Ford, who has carried the brunt of the battle against Wall street and the wild-eyed ideas put forth by Washington brain trusters, has done more to end the depression than any other one man in America," Mr. Groesbeck said.

"It is the duty of the newspapers of America to put Mr Ford up as the candidate of the republican party next year because of what Mr. Ford has done for the country and can do if made its chief executive," he asserted

"If the republican party wins in 1936," he declared "it will have to have new leadership, and its nominee should have the support of the industrial, agricultural and labor interests as well as the good-will of the ex-service men who have been so badly treated by the present and past administrations'

"It is plain to me that Henry Ford would make the ideal candidate If he is nominated the people generally, would support him because he has their confidence," the former governor declared

Federal approval has been definitely given on the construction of a new grade separation on the Ann Arbor road southeast of Plymouth at the Pere Marquette railroad according to word received this week from State Highway Commissioner Murray D Van Wagoner.

Work on the project will start sometime in the fall, he said The cost is estimated at $128,000

The grade separation will be about a half mile east of the South Main street intersection with the Ann Arbor cut-off in Plymouth and will remove a dangerous traffic hazard, according to the state highway department

According to Commissioner Van Wagoner, the project will provide work for 189 men for several months. A total of 28 highway projects costing $4,361,800 in the metropolitan district of Wayne, Oakland, Monroe and Washtenaw counties were announced by Mr. Van Wagoner. These are all a part of the federal work relief program.

The Wayne county board of road commissioners expects to do considerable more improving and beautifying work in the Rouge parkway system soon, too under the federal program, Edward N Hines, chairman of the county park trustees, announced this week. This work will include the clearing out of underbrush, paving and landscaping.

THE OFFICE WASTEBASKET

Filled By "WARNER WINCHELL"

THEY DARED TO SPEAK

We were sorry to see that President Alexander Grant Ruthven of the University of Michigan "asked" four University juniors not to re-enter this fall "because they are not the type of student wanted on the campus."

The opinion on the campus this summer is that the four will make a fight for it. Well, we hope they do and we're with them in it.

Three of the four we knew well. They were fairly nice fellows and above average intelligence. They believed in Communism, or thought they did and we thought they were darn fools for doing so. They belonged to the National Student League, which though theoretically not Communistic, is made up largely of students who profess that peculiar naive political belief. (There are less than 20 "dyed-in-the-wool" Communists on the Ann Arbor campus, probably a fourth of whom are mature enough to know what they really do believe.)

These four students "agitated" to be sure. They got out handbills. They held or tried to hold a strike against war. When what they termed their rights were interfered with, they hollered bloody murder. But in all these activities we see nothing criminal; nothing so disturbing for boys of 19 to 20 years old.

After all, the University is supposed to be haven of intellectual freedom. After all individuals in this country still do have certain inalienable rights." And after all it is not yet a crime to believe as one wishes—politically, socially or religiously.

We have just as much love and respect for our glorious American institutions as anybody else. And we love them deeply enough to believe that we still are entitled to those principles for which our founders fought: freedom of speech, of the press, of religion.

In short, the four "culprits" whom President Ruthven has kicked out of the University have committed the crime of free and individual thinking, as fantastic as that thinking may be; of speaking and writing freely, of daring to disagree with other American citizens, of daring to challenge the past in the name of the present. For that, in this age of freedom, enlightenment and tolerance, they were expelled, in effect, from a great university, where individual thought is supposed to be cultivated.

AND THE DAILY

We wish to state emphatically that the Summer Daily, which termed the President's action, in a front page editorial, "Good Riddance to Bad Rubbish," ... the Michigan Daily of the regular school year. Harry Ruthven ... college humor publications suffer from too little "restraint," college news publications suffer from too much of it.

There are many epithets we might hurl at the Summer Daily. The Detroit News once called another morning newspaper "a deceiving organ of reaction."

The whole affair is disgusting.

IF THEY ONLY COULD

It was fun to see the milling hundreds hunt for the treasures Saturday night—especially as we had a list of all the numbers right in the office.

ABOUT THESE FLIES

Mrs. E. J. Cobb says the Methodist flies are just as bad as the Presbyterian. And darned if she isn't right. We were there.

LITTLE GENTLEMAN!

From the files of The Record long ago we found this item:

"Editor and Mrs. Frank S. Neal are to be congratulated on the birth of a little lady, born August 5 in Grace hospital, Detroit. No wonder our Record came a week late last week. —The Farmington Enterprise.

To which The Record editor answered:

"The congratulations are none the less appreciated because of the fact the little lady turned out to be a little gentleman.

PET PEEVE CORNER

Cass M. Chase complains that we should not mind P. Warner Neal. Poor man, he has a real grievance. His full name is Cassius, or something like that.

Marian Thomas, Mrs. Blowers' niece from Binghamton, is sort of a hoodoo. First of all we spell the name of her home town incorrectly and last week, in correcting that error, we spelled her name Marion instead of Marian.

TRY TO GET US

Ha! Ha! We skipped out at 5:30 Thursday morning and will let the Baldwins, the Blums and the Chandlers take the week-end dirty cracks. By the time you read this we will be (censored) that was the plan) in Wanekena, N. Y. up in the Adirondack Mountains spending our first vacation in three years with Prof. and Mrs. James Dubuar and family.

We're going to try to fill the Wastebasket next week—but cheer up. Maybe we can't make it.

Composing Room Note: Our "pet peeve" left for New York state yesterday morning.

a small, one-man cottage, so simple in design that it had not even a window, but shutters and screens instead! Then a wealthy patient built a cottage for himself, the Hospitalers of Detroit contributed sufficient money to build another, and before long several cottages in all supplemented the main building.

But the city of Detroit was growing. Houses and factories sprang up on every side of Eastlawn. Something had to be done. Once more Dr. Wickham began his search for a sanatorium site. Always he climbed to the hills. Where could he find a height that not only claimed a pleasant view of surrounding territory but had trees and flowers and shrubbery that would fill any human being with delight, especially anyone fighting his way back to health?

And then one day he met W. E. Scotten, nephew of the wealthy tobacco manufacturer, Daniel Scotten. "Come out and see my hill at Northville," said W. E., "I believe it's the ideal place for anyone with tuberculosis to take the cure. Look at me, I've been a patient myself and living there has helped me to recover my health."

Dr Wickham went to Northville, once twice, and many times before he reached a decision to buy the twenty acres. Again a large residence was turned into a hospital. Several of the cottages in use at the Detroit location were moved bodily to the new sanatorium grounds. In one day the Eastlawn of Detroit became the Eastlawn of Northville. That was in 1923. Since that time the sanatorium has expanded and now has a capacity of 90 beds.

Besides the main building there are twelve cottages where patients take the cure. Lawns spread to the south and west and here can be found several benches and cure-chairs where patients may recline after short walks if they are on "graduated exercise."

Paths, neatly bordered with stones and edged with shrubbery and flower beds, wend their way through the grounds. All the intangible factors of ideal environment so beneficial to tuberculosis patients are here to be found.

Up-to-date facilities for treating tuberculosis are maintained at Eastlawn. Private rooms, sleeping porches and cozy cottages are all available. When patients have sufficiently recovered to be given exercise they are permitted to have their meals served in the dining room. All bed patients are given tray service and are carefully attended by the medical and nursing staff. The sanatorium has a completely equipped operating room, and X-ray, fluoroscope and other diagnostic and therapeutic facilities.

The Detroit office of the sanatorium is in the Fisher building. Here patients are examined, their condition diagnosed and laboratory tests made before admission to the sanatorium.

One special feature maintained at Eastlawn since 1923 is the radio equipment used by Dr. Wickham in broadcasting information about tuberculosis to patients. Every patient has a pair of head-phones at his bedside so that he can listen in on these regular broadcasts. From time to time the programs of entertainers who come to the sanatorium are sent over the wires to bed patients who cannot attend in person. By means of a special hook-up the church services conducted in a Northville church can be heard every Sunday. Occasionally short "radio skits" originated by the patients themselves have been successfully broadcast over Eastlawn's "very own" radio.

E. R. Eaton, Plymouth Mail Editor, Praises Henry Ford For Conceiving Another Beauty Spot in New Plant

* * *

* * *

There appears in this issue of The Plymouth Mail a sketch of the new Ford factory that has just been started in the village of Northville. The plant, upon completion, will take the place of the present Ford factory in that community. Its increased size will enable the employment of many hundreds of more men. The old factory running at capacity on three shifts can utilize only between three and four hundred men and then they do not work conveniently. The new plant will do away with all this congestion and will make possible a much larger payroll for the village. This fact will be of material value to Northville as well as Plymouth, as we too expect to benefit by what Mr. Ford is doing in Northville.

But in addition to the increased employment the factory will provide, the new plant, is going to be a structure worth going across the state to see.

Who but Mr. Ford would have seen the possibilities of a big over-head water wheel at the east end of the plant to provide power for the machinery? Situated as it will be so that everyone traveling the Plymouth-Northville road cannot help but see it, the power plant will in itself be an object of beauty and attraction. The north branch of the Rouge river will be utilized for the power.

As one enters the village from the south, first there is the parkway created between the Seven mile road and East Main street as the direct result of the activities of the Northville Rotary club. As one approaches nearer the Ford properties there is the "old oaken bucket" with its old fashioned well of stone and the old fashioned timbered covering, with a beautiful stream of cold spring water flowing from the side of the well, so that all who are thirsty may drink some of the finest water there is in the world. This too is another creation of the Northville Rotary club, the Rotarians doing the actual construction.

Directly across the street to the west from the spring from which comes sparkling water night and day and winter and summer, lies a sunken garden, another suggestion of the Northville Rotary club that was carried out by the Wayne County road commission in its creation of little beauty spots here and there along Wayne county highways. The well is to the southeast of where the new Ford plant will be located. The sunken garden lies directly south of it, with the paved highway separating the two.

There is one man who saw the possibilities of adding to all of this natural and community-created beauty, and that man is Mr. Ford. When he was making his frequent trips to Northville weeks ago looking over the grounds that he owns in that community, no one except Mr. Ford knew what was in his mind. He said he was going to build a new factory and that it would employ many more men than the present one, but even those who were with him on these trips probably had not the slightest idea that in his mind there was being formed a picture of a beautiful factory building, with a newly created small lake at the back of it and with a great over-head waterwheel splashing in the stream that creates the power for so many of his small factories as it find its way down towards lake Erie.

Northville, like Plymouth, is profiting much through what Mr Ford is doing in his industrial "de centralizing" plan. We congratulate Northville as a community through the good fortune that is to come to it through Mr. Ford's activity. Northville, like many other places, has had its ups and down, but it is a stable and beautiful little place and it is entitled to the good break it is about to receive.

OUT THEY GO

(Fred D. Keister in the Ionia County News)

The slot machine as a gambling device is on its way out of Michigan for the second time within a period of a few months.

This time it looks as if the ban would be permanent as Governor Fitzgerald has let it become known that he will not tolerate them as long as he is governor and that any enforcement official found giving them protection faces removal from office. It is a known fact that these ingenious devices for taking money from a gullible public are not unlike an epidemic of measles—cleaned up in one spot they break out in another.

The news regarding their operation seems to spread in an uncanny fashion. Let them appear for a few days in any given community without molestation and almost overnight they have spread over a wide area. Let one community undergo a raid and immediately adjacent communities are on the outlook for enforcement officials to put in an appearance.

Among the first official acts of Governor Fitzgerald was to put a ban on slot machines. For several months their owners kept them discreetly hidden until agitation against them had died down, then they began making their debuts in hotels, restaurants, beer parlors, cigar stands and almost every other place frequented by the public.

The present ban is likely to prove more effective than the one last spring, with proprietors facing arrest for maintaining a nuisance if they persist in keeping them where they can be played. Once a proprietor has been hauled into court on a misdemeanor charge they are not likely to take chances in having it repeated.

Opera Under The Stars Will Enter Its Tenth Week Monday as 'The Firefly,' Musical Romance, Begins Engagement

The Opera Under the Stars of outdoor musical comedy and operetta will enter its tenth week next Monday night, August 12, with the presentation of Rudolph Friml's fascinating musical romance "The Firefly," on the outdoor stage at Navin Field. The current production is the stirring "Vagabond King" and it closes on Sunday night.

"The Firefly" brings to Detroit for her first appearance in this series of shows, the petite and charming Ilse Marvenga. Miss Marvenga, famed for her glorious voice and ingenue roles, has appeared in many great Broadway successes and her fame is known across the country. She will appear as the mischievous Nina in this romance with its locale in New York and Bermuda.

The story of the "Firefly" is about an East Side, New York street singer who, through peculiar circumstances is thrust into the company of a wealthy yatching party which, as the story opens, is about to start on a cruise from New York to Bermuda. The little singer has assumed the character of a boy and while in this disguise she is befriended by an Old German choir-master.

Through his influence she is given employment as a page in the Bermuda home of a wealthy lady. There she stays until through another set of circumstances she is suspected of being a pickpocket. Unable to convince those who have befriended her of her innocence, she is about to be handed over to the authorities when the old choir master again comes to the rescue by promising to be responsible for her. However, she has discovered her infatuation for a young man of the party, who is at that time betrothed to an heiress.

Four years later, having become under the tutelage of the old choir master—a great primo donna, she again meets her old admirer under most dramatic circumstances at a reception given him in honor of his approaching marriage. The story then resolves itself in a fast and surprising climax.

The musical show to follow "The Firefly" will be the colorful Mexican romance "Nina Rosa," with Leonard Ceeley in the leading role.

Pay Your Taxes Now!

THIS month the eyes of America are on Michigan, and its drive for taxes. Involved in its success are the security and happiness of many homes, and the financial integrity of various units of government. Aided by a considerate legislature, the State of Michigan now asks its delinquent tax-payers to meet their important obligation without further delay.

For those who are prepared to pay in full, taxes for 1932 and prior years may be taken care of without any interest or penalties. This means a saving of 27% to 45% —and even more.

For those who aren't able to pay taxes for 1932 and prior years in full, there has been provided a 10-year plan, with the same substantial savings, but with a small added carrying charge.

Those who owe 1933 and 1934 taxes, may also save all interest and penalty, by paying a 4% collection fee. (For these taxes there is no deferred payment plan.)

Regardless of how you plan to take care of the obligation the important thing is that you do so without further delay. The immediate cash saving is an important item for anyone; but no less important is the saving of worry, doubt, and bother.

Acting under the Law, the Auditor-General must soon offer most of the delinquent taxes at public sale. This difficult task will be considerably lightened if the individual property-owners take the situation promptly to heart and proceed to pay their taxes.

See your County Treasurer at once. Show him your tax bills; or at any rate, give him the legal description of your property.

Then he will tell you the exact amount of your back taxes, and accept your payments. If you are not familiar with the details of the tax laws he will give you a descriptive folder that describes in simple terms just what you must do to save your home. See your County Treasurer at once.

BY ORDER OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE BOARD.

The Baby Visitor

"Hush! be still as any mouse,
There's a baby in the house—" and everyone moves about our house on tiptoe since the tiny four-weeks-old daughter of a new member of the Record staff brought her parents from far-off South Dakota, to make her home in Northville.

While the mother takes an enforced rest after the long trip we have the fun of playing mother to this tiny mite of about seven pounds. All the members of the household are her humble slaves.

"Quite a care," mutters the husky ice man as he pauses to wonder at her unbelievable smallness as she is having her morning bath on the kitchen table.

"No indeed! What fun!" we answer as we dust powder into the soft creases and snuggle the downy head against our neck.

"Breathes there a woman with soul so dead" who does not thrill to the warm sweetness of a baby after its bath? So comfortable, so contented it seems.

Artists may glory in their masterpieces, authors in their "best sellers," gardeners in their choice blooms, but there's nothing that can compare with the joy and utter satisfaction of a mother when she lays her baby, wholesomely clean and carefully fed into its comfortable basket and places it in the fresh air.

"Now thrive, my child," she whispers softly, and feels almost a partner of the Creator.

No contentment of soul can equal that of watching a tiny child develop daily under proper care. No real mother counts any of it sacrifice. Her reward comes constantly in the very joy of watching the unfolding of new wonders.

(No wonder Dr. Dafoe loves the "quins" so)

Once we borrowed a puny baby from a "slum" home and for three weeks saw it change into quite a different child through regular feeding, baths and sunshine. It was not easy to give it back to the selfishly demanding parents.

Not our own? What matters? Remember how the big-hearted Scotch woman, Mrs. Duncan, replied to "Freckles" in that masterpiece of Gene Stratton Porter, when he said "I wish you were my mother." "Once a man-child has beaten his way to life under the heart of a woman, she is mither to all men, for the hearts of mothers are everywhere the same. Bless ye, laddie, I am your mither."

Its a strange woman who cannot feel the mother-urge toward any child who needs her care.

And what a change this baby-visitor makes in our home! Bottles bubble in the sterilizer, small white garments hang over the chairs, and we waken in the night to a sleepy "Wa-wa." Everything revolves around the baby—but no one seems to mind a bit.

Strange what a young reformer she is. The boys hang over her with a wondering "Gosh!" Big sister puts on a new air of maturity when she holds her that is very becoming, and even the editor seems tickled to have her around and puts the soft pedal on the typewriter when she is asleep. A neighborhood ball game was held up temporarily while the red-headed catcher came in to hold the baby with her bottle while his mother rolled out a pie. And there were no complaints.

It was a wise old sage who praised placing "the solitary in families." wasn't it?

Baked Beans in Tomato Cases

Cut off slices from the tops of six large ripe tomatoes and scoop out the centers. Dust the inside with salt and brush with the least bit of prepared mustard. Fill with the contents of one 1-pound 1-ounce can of baked beans, and sprinkle the tops with one-third cup of grated cheese. Bake for twenty to twenty-five minutes in an oven at 375 degrees. This serves six persons.

Boston Supper Rarebit

Melt one tablespoon butter, add one and one-half cups of grated cheese and cook very slowly until melted. Add a few grains of cayenne, one-fourth teaspoon salt and one-fourth teaspoon mustard. Beat one egg, add one-third cup cream and add very slowly to the cheese mixture, cooking until smooth and stirring constantly. Pour at once over the contents of two cans of oven-baked beans that have been heated. This serves six.

Scrambled Corn on Toast

Dice three slices of bacon and fry until crisp, but avoid burning. If the bacon is very fat, pour off all but two tablespoons of the hot drippings. Beat six eggs slightly, add the contents of one can of creamy corn, three-fourths cup of milk and salt and pepper to taste. Pour into the hot bacon fat and cook very slowly, stirring constantly, until creamy. Serve on buttered toast. This serves six.

LIQUOR IN INDIANA

(W. H. Beckey in Cassapolis Vigilant)

George Rowe, who represented the city of Elkhart on the Elkhart county liquor control commission, in tendering his resignation to Mayor Paxson of Elkhart last week said, "You can no more control this rotten mess than you can control a snowball in hell." Pretty strong language—but a liquor commissioner's experience entitles him to know that it is true. If that is the condition in Indiana, where the selling places are closed at midnight and not permitted to open on Sundays, how about Michigan, where they keep open in many places until 2:00 a. m. and flaunt their business in the face of the Almighty all day Sunday?

Christian Science Churches

"Spirit" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 11.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Eph. 4:4-6): "There is one body, and the Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling; one God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 241): "We should strive to reach the Horeb height where God is revealed; and the corner-stone of all spiritual building is purity. The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual Life and its demonstration."

Church of Our Lady of Victory

Sunday August 11 is Holy Name day. Observing catholic men and boys never neglect this wholesome practice.

To a Catholic it seems ridiculous that Christ should pay any honor paid His mother. No sane human being would have such an attitude towards his own mother. To worship Mary is idolatrous. The Catholic church does not worship her. On the 15th of August we commemorate her being taken to Heaven. The day is called the Assumption. It is an obligation for Catholics to attend Mass on that day. On next Thursday August 15, the local Masses will be at 6 and 9 a. m. At Walled Lake one Mass at 9 a. m.

The Catholic service of worship is always the Mass. It is a reproduction of both Christ's death on the cross and the Last Supper. "For, as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup ye do shew the Lord's death till he come." (1 Corr. 11:26. Local Sunday services at 7:00 and 10.

St. Paul's Lutheran

"Finally, be ye all of one mind having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous." 1 Pet. 3, 8.

It has nicely been said: "This one verse hath a cluster of five Christian graces or virtues." That which is in the middle as the stalk or root of the rest, love, and the others growing out of it, two on each side—unanimity and sympathy on the one, and pity and courtesy on the other. It is a rule according to which Christians should live. Christians should endeavor to be all of one mind in the great points of faith and in the practice of the same religious obligations. They must be one in the faith. And then compassion for one another must be real, sincere. What affects one should affect all. What gives suffering to one should give pain to all. Pity for others in distress must be in evidence in our Christianity. Christians are exposed to the same kind of affliction as others. They are liable to sickness, bereavement and poverty like others, and in addition they have sources of sorrow peculiar to themselves—internal struggles and trials on account of their religion; and in these they are supposed to find cordial sympathy and interest among their fellow-Christians. And under all conditions a Christian will show courtesy. A flagrant sinner or even a vile apostate is still an object of civil courtesy. Love is the key to all such conduct. Love brings about that attachment of Christians for each other which impresses the world with the reality of their religion and with the fact that they belong to the family of the redeemed. A peculiar love founded on the common hope of heaven and the attachment of a common Savior, like-minded, sympathetic, easily aroused to pity and always civil, these are the marks of a sincere Christian.

Divine worship this Sunday morning at the usual time, 10 o'clock. The pastor will preach.

In connection with the service this Sunday morning, the Lord's supper will be celebrated.

You are cordially invited to attend the divine services at St. Paul's Lutheran. "Blessed are they that hear the Word of God and keep it."

JUST A KILLER

(Wm. Shumaker in Three Rivers Commercial)

A harmless turtle crushed to bits on the pavement of a highway is often a sign of some person's cruel character or thoughtless nature. Small mammals and birds left as a toll of automobile traffic are excusable. Rabbits are unavoidably run down at night and birds dart into moving cars. But the slow moving turtle crosses the road only in the day time. No driver on the road can fail to see it and only deliberate intent to roll the heavy car wheels over its crushable shell brings that about. What delight can anyone find in smashing the body and life of a turtle? The average person seeing a smashed turtle on the pavement feels like rising up and smiting someone and rightly so.

"I'VE always believed that the best way in the world to get away from a hot kitchen was to do just that . . . go to the mountains or the lake or the seashore and enjoy cool breezes out-of-doors. But one can't spend the whole summer outside the city. And for those of us who must remain in the kitchen, I've found that there is still (thank goodness!) another solution to the problem. I've put a range in the kitchen that won't heat up the room . . . and life is much more bearable in the warmest weather. They told me that an electric range meant cool cooking comfort, and many extra hours to spend outdoors. My trial electric range has certainly convinced me that what they said is true!"
(Here are the details of the Trial Plan for electric cooking: We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, so that you may give it a thorough trial. During this trial period, you simply pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense. Send in your application for a trial range today!)

PREDICT BETTER RACES THIS YEAR

Larger Purses Will Attract Fast Horses, Fair Officials Say

With what are called the fastest horses in this part of the county participating and larger purses offered than ever before, the trotting and pacing races of the Northville fair should be exceptionally good this year, according to members of the speed committee.

The horses will be in top form for the events here, George Rattenbury, superintendent of stalls, said, since most of them will race at the Milford fair this week, going from there to compete in the races at the Ionia fair, and then back to the Northville fair.

Among the horses entered in the free-for-all paces are Harry Lauder, Comet Todd, Bertha Signal, Paddy Seymour, Justice Forbes, with records varying from 2:02 to 2:07. These will help to make the best field of free-for-all pacers ever seen in Northville, Mr. Rattenbury said.

Diamond Dewey is one the horses entered in the 2 14 trot event. He is known as Michigan's best half-mile trotter, he said.

The slow class pace event should be another outstanding race, according to Mr. Rattenbury.

Harry Robinson of Plymouth will be the starter of the races which will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 22, 23, and 24 for the 19th consecutive year

The purses for the various events are as follows:

Thursday, August 22

2:18 trot, Plymouth merchants and manufacturers purse $370

2:16 pace Ira Wilson & Sons creamery purse, $350

Three-year-old and under and 2:27 trotters, Edward H. Williams county auditor, purse $325

Friday, August 23

Three-year-old and under and 2:27 pacers, Northville merchants purse, $370

2:22 pace, Stroh Brewery company purse $350

2:22 trot Shaw Bros., Emily H Grennan and H H Hamilton purse $325

Saturday August 24

Free-for-all pace or trot Kull & Keller Beef company purse, $500

2:14 trot Redwing & Detroit purse, $350.

The rules of the American Trotting association will govern all the races with the three-heat plan being used

The high board fence around the track has been cut down so that all the spectators around the track may see the races to the best advantage.

Marvin H Sloan is the superintendent of the races with E. M Starkweather, John Tinham and H H Hamilton assistants. Postmaster Fred E. Van Atta is the clerk of course.

Origin of Pointer Not Known, Writer Asserts

As with some other breeds, the question of the origin of the pointer is a matter of controversy. A number of authorities contend that the pointer originated on the continent of Europe, probably in Spain, and was imported into England. The majority of best opinion, however, fixes England as the birthplace of the breed, writes Frank F. Dole, in the New York Herald Tribune.

It is pointed out that old English writing regarding the pointer antedates writings regarding a similar breed in other countries. Furthermore, it is argued, with plenty of logic, that had the breed originated elsewhere it would have had some foreign or semi-foreign name, but the fact that it always has been called the "pointer" points to its development in a country where the same pointer would have applied to a dog that pointed. It is not difficult to see the point of that argument.

With the introduction of firearms, resulting in hunting becoming more general than in the days of snaring, it became desirable to have a dog that would point game without flushing it. This was needed to give the hunter, with his slow-firing, muzzle-loading weapon, time to come up on the game and fix the rest on which the heavy guns of the period had to be held. It is probable that a smooth-coated hunting dog was first trained for this purpose, and that finally, with sufficient training, pointing became so much of an instinct that it was not difficult to train puppies along these lines.

Incidentally, dogs are not the only animals that have been broken to point game. One famous instance of a pig trained to point occupies quite a bit of space in the writings of some authorities of the breed.

WHITFIELD SAYS HUMANISM IS ONLY RELIGIOUS PREFACE

The result of "too much sentimentalism and medievalism in our present church teaching" is a substitution by many of humanism for religion, the Rev. Harold G. Whitfield, Presbyterian pastor, told a union congregation of nearly 150 persons in the Methodist church Sunday morning.

Mr. Whitfield held no brief for humanism. "It is the doctrine that a man can lift himself by his own shoe strings, without the help of God," he declared. "Humanism is not a religion but only a preface to religion. A code of morals is not a religion."

"Humanism," the Presbyterian minister admitted, has done much damage to religion because it is so respectable. I don't know how a man can preach to a satisfied humanist."

"But," he continued, "we may depend on it that in the long run the humanist will become unsatisfied and turn to religion to furnish what humanism lacks—God. And God is everything"

Mr. Whitfield declared, in the course of his sermon that "the dogmatism of 250 years ago does not hold today." He chose as his text the quotation of the psalmist: "My soul thirteth after God."

Pierre Kenyon of Plymouth sang very acceptably two solos, accompanied by his sister Mrs. Sherrill W. Ambler at the organ.

ROTARY DELEGATES ENDORSE WORK OF DISTRICT MEETING

Plans to take Donald Kreeger, son of Herman Kreeger, who has a crippled right leg because of a shortened tendon, to the University hospital in Ann Arbor for a corrective operation were made at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Rotary club in the Presbyterian church house.

It was expected that assistance can be obtained from the state to finance his medical care.

The next meeting of the club will be in the form of a picnic Tuesday evening at Cass Benton park when the ladies will be invited. It was the plan to meet at the shuffle board courts, and was decided to hold the affair at the home of Charles E. Rogers on the Nine Mile road if the weather does not permit the picnic at the park.

The reports of the two delegates to the Rotary district convention at Bay City Monday and Tuesday July 29 and 30, President Charles T. Thornton and Secretary-treasurer E. L. Mills, occupied most of the time of the meeting Tuesday.

Mr. Mills read his detailed report of the assembly to the group and was enthusiastic about the work of the convention and of the ideas that it had given him.

The singing at the convention impressed both delegates. It was decided at the meeting that someone who is an able pianist shall be obtained to accompany the club each week in its group singing.

GRUESOME READING

(Mrs. Lois Hisey in the Wayne Dispatch)

Publicizing the total of motor injuries—almost 1,000,000 last year, with 36,000 deaths—never gets to first base in jarring the motorist into a realization of the appalling risks of motoring, declares F. C. Furnas in the August issue of the Reader's Digest. He then proceeds to translate dry statistics into what he terms "a reality of blood and agony," as follows:

Figures exclude the pain and horror of savage mutilation — which means they leave out the point. They need to be brought closer home. A passing look at a bad smash or news that a fellow you had lunch with last week is in a hospital with a broken back will make any driver but a born fool slow down at least temporarily. But what is needed is a vivid and sustained realization that every time you step on the throttle, death gets in beside you, hopefully waiting for his chance. That single horrible accident you may have witnessed is no isolated horror. That sort of thing happens every hour of the day, everywhere in the United States. If you really felt that, perhaps the stickful of type in Friday's paper recording that a total of 29 local citizens were killed in week-end crashes, would rate something more than a perfunctory tut-tut as you turn back to the sports page.

An enterprising judge now and again sentences reckless drivers to tour the accident end of a city morgue. But even a mangled body on a slab, waxily portraying the consequences of bad motoring judgment, isn't a patch on the scene of the accident itself. No artist working on a safety poster would dare depict that in full detail.

That picture would have to include motion-picture and sound effects, too—the flopping, pointless efforts of the injured to stand up; the queer, gruntling noises; the steady, panting groaning of a human being with pain creeping up on him as the shock wears off. It should portray the slack expression on the face of a man, drugged with shock, staring at the Z-twist in his broken leg, the insane crumpled effect of a child's body after its bones are crushed inward, a realistic portrait of an hysterical woman with her screaming mouth opening a hole in the bloody drip that fills her eyes and runs off her chin. Minor details would include the raw ends of bones protruding through flesh in compound fractures, and the dark red, oozing surfaces where clothes and skin were flayed off at once.

Those are all standard, everyday sequels to the modern passion for going places in a hurry and taking a chance or two by the way.

THE TREACHEROUS AUTO

(From the August issue of Reader's Digest)

The automobile is treacherous just as a cat is. It is tragically difficult to realize that it can become the deadliest missile. As enthusiasts tell you, it makes 65 feel like nothing at all. But 65 an hour is 100 feet a second, a speed which puts a viciously unjustified responsibility on brakes and human reflexes, and can instantly turn this docile luxury into a mad bull elephant.

Most Costly Warship

The Colorado, a 624-foot 32,600-ton battleship, costing $27,638,474 and commissioned in 1923, was this country's most costly warship.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.
