TAX DEADLINE IS EXTENDED TO OCTOBER 1

Council Acts On Suggestion Of Treasurer to Ease Tax Burden

Extension of time for payment of village taxes without penalty to October 1 was granted by the council Tuesday night.

This is the second extension of time this year. With the original deadline August 1, it was extended to September 1 when Treasurer John Lutsenberger advised that taxes were coming in slowly. Tuesday Mr. Lutsenberger again advised extension, pointing out that many tax payers were over-burdened trying to meet the September 1 deadline for the ten year moratorium plan and pay current taxes too.

The motion, made by Commissioner Elmer E. Perrin and seconded by Commissioner John Perkins, carried unanimously.

No penalty has been set by the council for taxes unpaid after October 1. For several years there has been no penalty, the last one being two per cent.

MERCHANT MEET TO BE HELD HERE ON SEPTEMBER 16

R. Hardy, Nationally Known Retail Expert Will Be Speaker

Ray Morton Hardy, nationally known lecturer and conductor of Retail Institutes, of Detroit, will be the speaker at a dinner meeting of the Northville merchants and business leaders on Monday night, Sept 16, at a local church house.

The plans and arrangements for the dinner are the result of a meeting of Northville merchants some weeks ago when a committee was appointed to arrange for it. The committee appointed is composed of S. L. Brader, John A. Boyce, Neil Hannaford, Orlow Owen and Ray W. Labbitt.

The meeting has as its purpose the discussion of methods of merchandising in Northville as well as the merchandising of Northville, stated Mr. Brader, chairman of the committee. "We frankly hope and expect," said Mr. Brader, "to have a large attendance of merchants and business men in Northville and feel certain that much good will come to Northville from the meeting."

NEW FORD FACTORY FOOTINGS POURED

Excavating for Additional Pillars Being Completed, Wall Forms Started

The new Ford building in Northville is progressing according to schedule with 22 men pouring cement footings and building forms for the pouring of the walls.

It is estimated that approximately 160 yards of footings have been poured. The footings in the western part of the excavation are complete.

Local labor is being used as far as possible, a brief survey revealing that approximately 70 per cent of the help is composed of Northville residents, others being specialists and highly trained tradesmen.

Excavations are now being made for footings in the southwest part of the proposed building. Weather conditions have been favorable for the work, and it is expected that continued favorable weather will make it possible to make the building ready for the superstructure in fast time. The information available would indicate that the contracts have not yet been let for the super-structure.

Council Applies For Additional $26,881 Public Works Grant

Tax Reduction Hopes Dashed As Village Increases Its Federal Government Obligation to $26,284

A possible increase in village taxes, or at any rate, abandonment of hope of a reduction was seen Tuesday night as the council approved application for a $26,881 PWA project.

This project, which is in addition to the $20,909 already granted by the PWA for a reservoir, will also deal with the water system. The plans, as submitted by Harold Hamill of Plymouth, village engineer, provide for a water softening plant, chlorinator, a low pressure pump and several watermains, valves, manholes and hydrants.

If the application is approved by state and federal PWA authorities, 55 per cent of the $26,881, or approximately $14,784, must be paid back within 20 years. Approximately $12,097, 45 per cent, comes as an outright grant.

Already the village is obligated to pay more than $11,500 over a 20-year period on the $20,909 reservoir grant. If the new application is approved, the total 20-year payment will be more than $26,284. The agreement provides that the interest rate is not to exceed four per cent.

The present plan of the commission is to pay this sum with revenue from water funds. The annual payments will be approximately $1,300 per year, and according to official estimates, the yearly water revenue approaches $8,000. However, various members of the commission pointed out necessary uses for the water revenue are always found in the general fund. It invariably goes toward preventing an increase in taxes or toward reduction of the rate. The problem now is, apparently, to find revenue to handle those items formerly covered by the funds from water bills.

Approval of the new application was rushed through the council so Hamill could make application before the deadline Wednesday. The motion "for application of funds not to exceed $27,000," was made by Commissioner Merrill Sweet and seconded by Commissioner Elmer Perrin. After considerable discussion in which Commissioner William T. Gregory scored the project as "not necessary," the motion carried. For it were Sweet, Perrin and Commissioner George Hicks. Against it were Gregory and Commissioner John Perkins.

77-YEAR-OLD MAN A WHIZ AT PICKING PLUMS

Gus Smith of Novi may be 77 years old. He may walk four miles to work every day. But when he gets there he has no difficulty at all in picking 27 bushels of plums out of Frank Hamilton's 12-foot trees between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m.

Mr. Smith has been working for Mr. Hamilton many years, and the former Novi supervisor holds him up as "the best fruit picker in these parts." He picks twice as much as younger men, Mr. Hamilton said.

The plum trees are from 25 to 50 years old, according to Mr. Hamilton, and at age from 10 to 12 feet in height.

PATIENTS' COTTAGES AT EASTLAWN MOVED AND ALL REMODELED

The cottages for patients at the Eastlawn sanatorium are now all completely redecorated, Dr. A. B. Wickham, medical head, announced this week, and a cement walk has been laid connecting them with the main building.

This summer the cottages, which previously were all grouped around the main building, were moved so that they extend in a straight line on the hill top to the west, none of them being less than 100 feet away from the main building. The change was made to get a better fire insurance rate.

An awning will be erected over the entire length of the walk, Dr. Wickham said, and an oil-burning heating plant will also be built near the cottages soon to provide heat for them.

Another result of changing the cottages into different locations, he said, is that the whole setup is much more attractive.

Mrs. E. B. Cavell accompanied her husband to the State Fair and races on Wednesday. Dr. Cavell is the veterinary at the races.

Dances, Gymnastics, Singing and Boxing Entertain Large Audience on Saturday As W.C.T.S. Children Stage 'Play Day'

By HARRISON C. CHANDLER

Considered especially noteworthy because of its absolute lack of any faculty supervision, the annual "Play Day" program was staged Saturday afternoon by the 750 children of the Wayne county training school in a natural amphitheatre there before a crowd of nearly 400 parents and friends.

The program, which began promptly at 2:30 p. m. and lasted for fully two hours, was as much a surprise to the medical and educational staff of the training school as it was to the remainder of the audience.

Called "The Last Day O' School," it represented the results of the summer period of constructive recreation, according to Dr. Robert H. Haskell, superintendent. "Every phase of the program is the spontaneous and undirected effort of the boys and girls," Dr. Haskell declared.

The widely varied stunts consisted of gymnastics, dances, singing and even boxing, with each cottage group having its definite part in the program.

Many of the children, especially one group which performed difficult exercises on parallel bars, drew generous applause from the audience.

The boxing group also was well received. One of the boys, a Negro bearing the name of Fred Louis, has taken a great liking to boxing since the rise of Joe Louis, who, incidentally, is no relation to him. He suddenly decided that he too was potentially at least, a great fighter, Dr. Haskell said, and members of the staff have had considerable difficulty in restraining him from demonstrating his "talent" on other boys at the school. He showed up well in the exhibition.

The girls of the school did their part too to make the show a success, giving a maypole dance, folk dance, singing and a minuet dance. As in other parts of the program, costumes of the period were used.

The show on the "stage" of the amphitheatre, however, was only a part of what the children prepared for the day. The various cottages and departments all had exhibits which were displayed in a building near the natural amphitheatre, filling all the rooms of the one-story structure. These too were the unsupervised products of the children and included vegetable displays, exhibits from the greenhouse, kitchen and farm, examples of steam fitting, galvanized iron work, electrical, sewing and knitting exhibits.

The staff was agreeably surprised at the exhibits, Dr. Haskell declared. All of them showed skill and care and long preparation. The vegetable displays, he said, came not from the school gardens but from the gardens of the children themselves about their cottages.

One of the girls' groups had set a dining table as they thought it should be done for a Hallowe'en dinner. This drew marked attention from school officials.

ROBERTS DIES AT U. OF M. HOSPITAL EARLY LAST FRIDAY

Engineer and Civic Leader Leads Long, Varied Career

Wellington Roberts, civic leader, former university professor and civil engineer, who lived here for 17 years died early last Friday morning at the University hospital in Ann Arbor of endocarditis.

Mr. Roberts, who was 64 years old, had been suffering with the heart disease for more than a year. Following two collapses last fall, he has been more or less ailing all the time. Two weeks ago he became suddenly worse, and Thursday he was rushed to the University hospital. Even then his doctors thought him in no immediate danger. Mrs. Daisy M. Roberts, and Ruth, his daughter, saw him at Ann Arbor Thursday night a few hours before he died.

Mr. Roberts was born Sept. 10, 1871, in Simcoe county, Ontario. In 1882 he moved with his parents to Sault Ste Marie, Mich.

Upon his graduation from the University of Michigan college of engineering in 1899, he went to Central America where he worked for the federal government in its pre-canal survey of the isthmus of Panama and the isthmus of Darien. He was also employed in surveying work by the Algoma Central railroad in Canada and also Oklahoma when it was yet an Indian territory. He also was connected with the U. S. lake survey.

From 1921 to 1927, Mr. Roberts taught at the University of Detroit in the capacity of professor of civil engineering. From 1927 until his death he has been living here. During that time he served as a member of the school board and as justice of the peace. He did much of the surveying work on the village streets.

Mr. Roberts was an active churchman, being an interested member of the layman's group, which was organized last summer. He was a member of the Northville-Plymouth male chorus.

JOHNSONS LEADING OWENS BY A GAME

Last Week's Victory Puts Team in Lead as End of Season Nears

With the Johnson team a full game in the lead, the recreation softball league will start its last week of the season Monday.

Tonight the Elys play the Fords. Monday the Owens, in second position, take on the Maybury team. The Edisons play the Elys Tuesday, the Infants play the Johnsons Thursday, and the Orioles wind up with the Fords next Friday. Following that, the four top teams will start the play-offs, according to Edward Keeney, official scorekeeper.

Monday the Orioles downed the Maybury team 11 to 7, the Orioles getting 14 hits and the Maybourys 13. Horace Dickerson pitched for the sanatorium men, and Arthur Miller occupied the mound for the Birds.

Tuesday's games were rained out, and on Thursday Alex Johnson pitched his team to an 8-5 victory over the Owens. Johnson allowed seven hits to 12 scored off Orlow G. Owen. Friday the Elys downed the Orioles 10 to 5, with Monte in the box for the ice company team and Hazen pitching for the Orioles. The Orioles had seven hits to 12 for the Orioles.

Here are the averages figured yesterday for The Record by Spencer Van Valkenburg, league statistician.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE FIRST DAY SETS AN ALL-TIME RECORD

720 Students Answer Bell Tuesday, More Are Expected

Seven hundred and twenty students answered the ring of the school bell Tuesday morning, constituting a record first day attendance.

While this is considerably under last year's enrollment—nearly 770—Supt. of Schools R. H. Ameerman said he expected that quota to be reached sometime this week. Students were coming in all this week, school officials said.

The ninth grade broke all previous records with an attendance of 88 on Thursday, with prospects that it would pass the hundred mark. The eighth grade is low with 38 as is the fifth grade with the same number.

Supt. Amerman, Assistant Principal Paul B. Thompson and Miss Selma Jarvis, grade principal, all expressed approval with the way things were going. The only hitch seemed to be that conditions are overcrowded. The unusually large ninth grade is being divided into three sections for most of its subjects, Mr. Amerman said, instead of the usual two. The cause for the big freshmen class, the superintendent explained, is the abandonment of Supt. Thad J. Kropp's idea of half-yearly promotions in the grades. The schools had neither the room nor the teachers, he declared.

A new subject, general mathematics, is being taught this year, Mr. Amerman pointed out. This class, under Miss Dorcas Corin, includes the elements of algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and arithmetic. Miss Corin also is teaching advanced algebra, geometry and a ninth grade English class.

The schools new teacher, Miss Dorothy Atkinson, is teaching the first grade in room 3 of the high school building. She is staying at the Orlow G. Owen residence on Dunlap and High streets.

The individual grades and their

39 BOYS OUT FOR H. S. GRID SQUAD

Football Squad To Be Much Lighter, Faster Coach Watts Predicts

Only four regulars were among the 39 high school boys who turned out for the opening football practice at the fairgrounds Wednesday afternoon.

The material in general is much lighter than a year ago, Coach Ted Watts declared. "For that reason," he pointed out, "our game will have to be faster than before. We will have to substitute speed and an aerial attack for driving power."

The team began Wednesday the first of a grueling series of practices that Coach Watts hopes will get it in shape for the first game here, Sept. 20, with Walled Lake. A great many of the 39 candidates will be cut next week, the coach said.

The first league game is here October 4, with Redford Union. The Plymouth game, which will be played at Riverside park this year, comes Nov. 15, Watts announced. Last year the Blue and White eleven downed the Wattsmen 13 to 0, after Marburger's touchdown was ruled out on a technical in motion charge. Two years ago Northville whipped Plymouth, 6-0, while in 1932, the extra point gave the Plymouth gridders a 6-5 victory.

All games this year will be played in the new part of Cass Benton park. Watts holds that this is a better field than the one at the fair grounds. Regulars back, all linemen, are Charles Strautz, tackle; Essie Nunder, end; Herman Toussaint, tackle; and William McGee, guard. Strautz, McGee and Nunder have played together on one side of the line for the two past seasons.

With some experience on the line is Robert Bray, a center; Alvin Bauman, a tackle; Leonard Young, Thomas Gregory and Robert Lyke. In the backfield no regulars come back, but Jack Junod, Donald Himes and Gerald Trotter have had some experience, Coach Watts said. David Hay, who played substitute in the line a year ago, is trying out for a backfield post this year.

The entire list of men out for football is as follows: Jack Moffitt, David Hay, Leonard Young, Cecil

Angove Will Start Construction Today On A Model House

Northville Labor and Supplies To Be Used In Building Eight-Room Home On West Main Street

An eight-room model home will be started today by Percy C. Angove on the Knapp subdivision immediately west of the Floyd Northrop home on West Main street.

Mr. Angove stated that earlier in the year he had plans all made to build a home in the exclusive Detroit subdivision known as Rosedale Park on property that he owns. Because he preferred Northville, however, he has transferred the building activity here.

Mr. Angove yesterday said that he had secured the services of the Arthur S. Storm Co., of Detroit as the general contractors. Mr. Storm started with Mr. Angove in the building of the Detroit store, and Mr. Angove feels fortunate in having the services of the Storm organization.

Local labor and materials have been specified by Mr. Angove, and this plan will be followed wherever it is possible, Mr. Angove said that he wanted Northville labor and supplies to get every advantage possible out of this model home, for, he said, "this home is intended to be just the beginning of the building of several similar homes."

The home is to be of the Normandy style of architecture, explains Mr. Angove, and will have eight rooms with an attached garage. It will be brick veneer of fireproof construction and will be air conditioned.

The Angove family, which consists of Mr. and Mrs. Angove, two sons and a daughter, have lived in Northville for several years. Mr. Angove has been in educational work in the state for many years, having been in charge of special education for the State Department of Education for eight years. For a time he was Director of Education for the Wayne county Training School, having this to aid the Federal Emergency Relief Administration. Mr. Angove is now back in his first love, namely Executive Director of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children with headquarters in the Buhl building in Detroit.

METHODISTS, PRESBYTERIANS, VOTE FOR SLEEP

The Methodists and Presbyterians just can't take it. During the summer the combined congregations of the two churches have been meeting together at 10 a. m., a half hour earlier than the regular hour of services.

Sunday, the Rev. Harold G. Whitfield, Presbyterian pastor, and the Rev. Harry Lord, Methodist pastor, were both present at the services in the Methodist church. They put the question of continuing to meet at 10 a. m. to the congregation.

The vote was overwhelmingly against it. The church members wanted their Sunday morning sleep.

BELLE COVERT TO BE HONORED SATURDAY

Former pupils of Belle Covert will meet at a picnic tomorrow for a time in her honor to be held at Cass Benton park. Co-hostesses for the occasion expect a crowd at least equal to that attending the first reception, if not exceeding the fifty who attended last year.

Classmates of 30 and 40 years ago will gather at the park to renew acquaintance and honor the former teacher. Mrs. Bertha Van Zile, secretary of the reunion committee, says many who have attended previous reunions but others as well to join in the picnic.

ORANGE AND BLACK PAGE TO APPEAR IN RECORD NEXT WEEK

The Orange and Black, the school page, will appear in next week's issue of The Record, Leslie G. Lee, faculty advisor to the editorial staff, said yesterday.

While definite plans as to Orange and Black organization have not yet been decided on, it is expected that editorial work will be divided between Rita Sprengr, Ida Altman and Irene Modos. The number of reporters on the staff was not determined yesterday.

Stanley Taylor was editor of the O & B last year and Miss Peggy Blake one year ago.

Arthur Zellers, of the Record staff, spent the week-end at his home in Winamac, Ind.

Foremans Win Wayne County Fruit Exhibit at State Fair in Detroit With Memorial For Post and Will Rogers

Designed as a memorial tribute to Will Rogers and Wiley Post, Fred Foreman and Sons Wayne county agricultural exhibit won the blue ribbon Monday at the state fair.

Considered the finest novel in the horticultural department of the fair, the ribbon was quickly given by the judges when they saw the Foreman exhibit. The exhibit, which is 20 feet long and 18 feet high, consists of various kinds of fruit, all picked from Foreman orchards. Four days were spent in picking the fruit and making up the exhibit. About 50 bushels of fruit were used.

In the exhibit is designed an airplane, made of blue and yellow plums against a background of red crabapples. Above the figure of the plane are the letters "In Memory of," and below the plane are the names of Rogers and Post. Green apples form the letters. Peaches and pears were also used in the exhibit.

Besides the county exhibit, the Foremans have many trays and plates of various kinds of fruit individually displayed.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hills, Ten Mile and Beck roads, also exhibited fruit and vegetables.

The poultry department of the state fair is larger this year than it ever was before, A. E. Fuller general superintendent, declared Tuesday, and the quality of the entries is at least as good as we have had in the past too.

"Entries were closed on August 28, which is two days earlier than was ever before necessary," Mr. Fuller declared, "and even at that the cages were 'double-decked' and took up every available space."

As at the Northville fair, the tropical fish exhibit was a feature which is drawing much attention, and added to this is a fur exhibit by local rabbit breeders, which include ladies' felt hats of rabbit fur, coats and other articles of clothing.

"The whole poultry show shows renewed confidence on the part of the chicken raisers, and points to the fact that the chicken business is on its feet again," Mr. Fuller declared.

K. H. Babbitt of Northville is in charge of the fish exhibit.

Among the winners of the poultry show are George Thompson, Seven Mile road, who captured blue ribbons with his Silver Seabright Bantams, and Fred J. Patten of Plymouth, whose Barred Plymouth Rocks brought him six blue ribbons.

SLOAN HOUSE IS RUINED BY FIRE THURSDAY

Call for 'Fire Department' Goes To Novi; Building Burns To Ground

The Marvin Sloan homestead, three miles out of Northville on the West Seven Mile road, burned to the ground Thursday morning, after Mr. Sloan's frenzied telephone call for "the fire department" brought the Novi truck rather than the local one.

The blaze was first noticed on the roof by Mrs. Sloan at approximately 9:10 a. m., after a pipe to the Sloan hot air furnace had been erected and a fire built. Mr. Sloan then tried to extinguish it with a bucket full of water, but the dry wood of the 70-year-old house burned like kindling.

No call from the Sloan residence was made to the local fire department, according to R. H. Ketchen, village hall caretaker and a member of the force, and he said the telephone company told him no call had come from the Sloan home.

At 9:20 a. m., the time that the Sloans made the first of their calls for "the fire department," the Novi department received a call. They came immediately, arriving shortly after 9:35. Both Detroit House of Correction and William H. Maybury sanatorium fire trucks also rushed to join in the losing fight against the blaze.

"Had a fire department with some kind of a chance arrived ten minutes sooner," said Mr. Sloan, "the small blaze on the roof could have been put out easily." The Novi fire chief agreed with the statement. The fire was in the east side of the house, he pointed out. The wind came from the west all Thursday morning.

No insurance was placed on the house, it was stated, but it was appraised at nearly $5,000. The house was not completely covered by insurance, Mr. Sloan, long time local farmer, who heads the race at the fair, said. Much of the furniture was salvaged, according to Mrs. E. M. Starkweather, next-door neighbor, who assisted the Sloans, but several valuable pieces were missed.

MRS. LABBITT WILL BROADCAST ON CKLW

Mrs. Myrtle Labbitt, wife of Ray W. Labbitt, Record advertising man, will begin a household hour over station CKLW, Windsor, at 10:30 a. m. Monday.

Mrs. Labbitt, former household editor of the Detroit News, will broadcast every day, her program coming at 10:30 Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings and at 10:15 a. m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. The program, to be known as "Myrtle Labbitt's Hour," will consist of a talk on housekeeping hints, recipes and various things of interest to housewives.

SCHOOL RUSHES PWA, WPA GRANTS

Asks $25,000 From Both For New Building, So As To Insure One

School officials rushed applications for $25,000 grants from both PWA and WPA into the Detroit offices yesterday in time to just get in under the deadline.

Only one grant will be accepted even if both are approved, Supt. R. H. Amerman told The Record Wednesday. Applications to both Public Works and Works Progress Administrations were made only as a precautionary measure, he said. The funds, if obtained, will be used in the construction of a school building, which teachers and board members agree is badly needed.

Eberle Smith of Detroit, architect who drew up the plans, telephoned Mr. Amerman Tuesday night that he had just discovered the deadline for WPA applications was Friday. It had been announced earlier for some time in October. The PWA deadline had previously been set for Thursday. Both Mr. Smith and school officials worked until the last minute Wednesday and Thursday to get the application papers in order.

Should both PWA and WPA applications be approved, the school board will probably decide on the public works one, Mr. Amerman said. A PWA would provide for 45 per cent of the $25,000 to be given outright, and 55 per cent of it to be paid back over a period of 20 years.

Nobody seems to know about the chances for getting a loan. Mr. Amerman has been told "authoritatively" that the PWA was the surer agency. On the other hand, pressure is being brought to bear on Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, according to daily newspaper accounts, to speed up the spending of the billion dollars allotted him.

VACATION RAMBLINGS

Beulah, Mich., Aug. 30

Like "all Gaul," the lower part of Michigan might be divided into three parts.

The first is the industrial area, that vast, humming, high-powered section that has its heart in Detroit and whose arteries extend to Flint, Pontiac, Port Huron, Grand Rapids, Saginaw, Bay City, Jackson, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo and other cities.

Overlapping this area in some ways is a very fine and substantial region of villages, small cities, and larger cities. This extends over practically the whole lower peninsula, interspersed with some barren areas. Substantial farm towns, active county seat little cities and beautiful residential places are scattered all over lower Michigan.

Thirdly, there is the resort part of Michigan. Here is a section that is drawing many thousands from many states. This resort territory lies along the shore lines of our incomparable Great Lakes, and spreads out around our hundreds of inland lakes. A marvelous area is this resort country of Michigan. Every summer "resorter" brings to Michigan, directly and indirectly, millions of dollars.

Well, Record readers, here at Crystal lake—Benzie county, the editorial family is having a two weeks' vacation. It is our fourth season here and since the first summer we came, 15 years ago, we see great changes—changes that indicate the great and increasing appeal of the out-of-doors, plus water.

There are several "Crystal lakes" but only one in Benzie county. It is nine miles long and seems to be an off-shoot of Lake Michigan which is separated from it by only a narrow strip of land near Frankfort. Some cottages on the bluff overlook both the sparkling Crystal lake and the mighty Lake Michigan. Playing golf the other day at the Crystalna course we stopped at the seventh hole to be entranced by a view of both lakes. Marvelous! The sand on the Crystal lake beaches is pure white—like ocean sand. And not a single reed or weed sticks up its head in the royal blue waters of Crystal. We heard Judge Arthur J. Lacy say in a talk at Beulah last summer that Crystal lake is the most beautiful lake in the world. The National Geographic magazine has called nearby Glen lake the third most beautiful lake in the world. The E. C. Langfields of Northville have a cottage at Glen lake.

* * *

No longer do they knock out the window panes and bring in the kerosene lamps at these resort cottages. Here at Juanita park, Ray Crispell has provided: Running water, modern plumbing, electric lights, fireplaces, inside ice boxes and, if you want them, electric ranges. Every cottage has a heat, and a divine raft keeps the kids happy. The beach is perfect. Sea gulls are numerous. Sailing craft go lazily by. We are four miles from Beulah and sister town, Benzonia, and twelve miles from Frankfort, the harbor town on Lake Michigan.

* * *

Late Tuesday afternoon we experienced a thrilling time on the Lake Michigan shore at the end of Frankfort's main street. Following a heavy wind all day, a big rain and electrical storm broke and lashed the lake into fury. The big waves came rolling in and, hitting the cement breakwater, sent columns of spray thirty feet into the air. We joined a crowd that stood and watched the thrilling sight. Editor A. P. Petersen of the local paper told us it was the most severe summer storm of many years. . . . When we returned to our cottage the electricity was off—and it stayed off for hours. The electric range stood cold, so the trout Mrs. Editor had planned for the evening meal became the next morning's breakfast.

As darkness dropped over our trees—we are in a thick grove of birch, beech and maple—we heaped the fireplace high with wood and enjoyed an evening like the pioneers must have had. A neighbor boy dropped in and we all sang the old songs. What a night to hang in memory's halls!

* * *

The stillness and darkness of the nights awe one a little. We are far back from the highway and after 10 o'clock the silence is real noiselessness. No wonder we slept nine solid hours last night—that's two more hours per night than we averaged in Northville the past few weeks. We all need a vacation from noise.

* * *

Paul and I attended Rotary at Frankfort Wednesday and had the pleasure of meeting Paul Harris, who founded the International Rotary back in 1905. Today Rotarians gather in over 70 countries around the world. Mr. Harris is a modest but genial man. He comes here summers.

* * *

Both Dr. Ruthven, president of the University of Michigan, and Dr. Furstenberg, dean of the medical department at Ann Arbor, have summer homes here. The latter's home faces Lake Michigan, at the edge of Frankfort. Frontage on both Lake Michigan and Crystal lake [illegible] you do rent you pay for it.

We have just one grievance against Crystal lake. We have to wait until 3 p. m. to get our morning papers, Free Press and Chicago Tribune. They don't fool us on the Detroit Tiger scores, however. Our radio gets Chicago nicely and at 6 p. m. we hear how Mickey Cochrane's gang is coming.

* * *

People apparently go on vacation for different reasons. One "swanky" city couple drove up our "street" the other day, looked down at the shimmering waters of Crystal, at the trees, and neat cottages, then turned up their noses, "so to speak" and haughtily said: "Is this all you have here?"

* * *

Freckle-faced Phil is the most versatile member of our cottage. This morning he was up first and soon had a blaze going in the fireplace. Then he "tore" down to the dock to go fishing in the motor-driven boat of neighbor T. B. Winters of Columbus, Ohio. At breakfast time he came panting in and said with a grin: "The motor went bad and I had to row in." Now he is playing croquet under the trees. He can take defeat more cheerfully than any one we know.

* * *

All the way from Northville here—287 miles—crops looked fine. However, most of the season's wheat seemed to be still in the fields waiting for drying weather. Right now it is plenty chilly here and our swimmers are getting impatient. Fishing is also poor.

* * *

We came from home with pleasant thoughts of the splendid success of the Northville fair. "Bigger and better" it surely was! As said before, another victory for community co-operation.

The library will have its opening day on Saturday, Sept. 11. On that day the people of Northville are invited to a free entertainment.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

CIVIL POLICE

(W. H. Trelour in the Washtenaw Post Tribune)

For criticizing the police in general and for offering unsolicited suggestions for improvement, a Detroit patrolman shouted to a citizen:

"You shut up. We will go where we want to go and do what we want to do."

The patrolman then arrested the citizen for drunkenness and had him arraigned in court.

Instead of lecturing the citizen, Judge W. McKay Skillman lectured the patrolman, informing him that an American citizen has the right to criticize his government and the conduct of that government. The judge discharged the citizen, finding his back-talk to the policeman insufficient evidence for drunkenness.

It has often been said that if you clothe an ignorant man with a uniform symbolizing authority you make him a brute. A few patrolmen get it into their heads that their office gives them power to treat citizens impolitely, even roughly, sometimes brutally.

One of the first lessons a patrolman should learn is that nothing so much as intelligent action on his part—which includes politeness, patience, and gentlemanly conduct—will breed a fine respect for him and for the law he is paid to enforce.

THE YOUNG FOLKS AREN'T SO BAD AFTER ALL

(Lawrence Tome in the Jonesville Independent)

It isn't often that the younger generation starts out to reform the older but when the youngsters do turn the tables on their elders it is worth noticing. Two examples have occurred lately.

One is the custom among youths and young men of not dating girls who smoke. Of all things which will discourage feminine use of cigarettes, we have yet to hear of one which will beat this. It would work either way, but if the boys of any community stuck to it for one month the sale of cigarettes would show an amazing slump.

The other new wrinkle is reported from Detroit where some bright youngsters started up a place for young folks to come, dance, talk, and have a social time much as in the modern beer garden. But there's no beer. Sodas and malteds are substituted. It has all the social appeal of the garden but a better atmosphere and none of the suds.

Reports say the Detroit genius is doing a land office business.

THOSE WOMEN!

(E. O. Gildart in the Utica Sentinel)

Some aquatic denizen bit off the toe of a girl swimmer at Binghamton, N. Y., because it was painted red on the nail; and what's worse, college young fellows in Ohio are organizing to boycott lipsticked lips because they muss up shirt-fronts so. More startling still, another male youth movement threatens to lay off dating girls who smoke—what's to become of our boasted feminine freedom?

SEPTEMBER 14 IS DATE FOR HOMECOMING

Walled Lake Homecoming day will be celebrated Saturday, Sept. 14 at the Walled Lake Baptist church. This thirty-first annual celebration will be opened by a memorial service which will be followed by a dinner, and by a short afternoon meeting and business session.

30 YEARS AGO

A baseball tournament will feature the Labor day celebration in Northville in which Harry German's Northville team will play the winners of a game between the Detroit Athletics and Denton sluggers.

Fred Miller, a long resident of this vicinity, died yesterday at his home on the VanZile farm northwest of town. He was 83 years old.

Mrs. Hannah Macomber, one of the oldest and most highly esteemed residents of Northville, died Tuesday afternoon in her home on Main street at the age of 83 years.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rattenbury have moved into the Exchange hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Farmenter have moved back to Northville from Detroit and will occupy their residence at the corner of Main street and Griswold road.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blackburn are the parents of a son weighing eight pounds, born Saturday, Aug. 25.

The village council is considering the idea of installing a fountain in the public park to show the public what our waterworks system can do.

Many sections of new sidewalk are being laid in the business district now, walks having been finished in front of the postoffice, the adjoining building north and several other blocks.

New ponds will be constructed at the U. S. Fish Hatchery soon, built by Aaron Trail.

One of Last Will Rogers Pictures, 'Doubting Thomas,' is Here Tonight; Jane Withers in 'Ginger' Wednesday

Strike up the laughs for Will Rogers' new fun cyclone, "Doubting Thomas," opening today at the Penniman-Allen theatre. You'll hold your sides as Will tries to hold his wife in this rib-rocking story about a thunder-struck husband and a stage-struck wife which was adapted from George Kelly's stage hit, "The Torch Bearers."

Reports from other cities have audiences rolling in the aisles of the theatres at Rogers' new wise-cracks in the role of a simple, home-loving sausage manufacturer, whose calm world is tossed into a turmoil when his wife, Billie Burke, goes theatrical. She appears in an amateur charity show and if the Penniman-Allen theatre audiences hold on to their seats, it will be more than audiences in other cities have been able to do.

You'll laugh your fill when Billie Burke, under the influence of Alison Skipworth, who plays an amateur impresario, wants to make a career of the stage until Rogers finally affects a cure by hiring a bogus Hollywood director to tell the amateur group what he thinks of their screen tests after which Will surprises everyone with a sequence which can be chalked down as one of the highlights of all Rogers' films.

B. G. DeSylva produced "Doubting Thomas" for Fox Film. It was directed by David Butler and besides Will Rogers, Billie Burke and Alison Skipworth, has an outstanding cast, including Sterling Holloway, Gail Patrick, Frances Grant, Frank Albertson, John Quale, Johnny Arthur, Helen Flint, Fred Wallace, T. Roy Barnes, Ruth Warren, George Cooper, Helen Freeman and William Benedict.

Jane Withers, the kid who imitated a machine gun, told tales on Shirley Temple, tried to run her down with a doll carriage and proved herself a complete annoyance in "Bright Eyes," has the title role in Fox Film's latest comedy success, "Ginger," which opens Wednesday at the Penniman-Allen theatre.

Little Miss Withers sets a new style in comedy entertainment in "Ginger," which kept Hollywood and New York preview audiences in continual guffaws and caused the prediction that the film is a great beginning for what looks like a great career.

Little Jane registers a million dollars worth of personality and talent in her new picture and the Penniman-Allen theatre audiences are assured that they will love her as much in this story as they hated her in "Bright Eyes."

When Jane, the little independent, self-reliant product of Ninth Avenue is taken into the Park Avenue home of the pampered Jackie Searl, there's a swell clash with a world of comedy. O. P. Heggie gives an outstanding performance as Jane's foster-uncle and Katherine Alexander and Walter King provide an unusual romance as Jackie Searl's parents.

The film was produced by Sol M. Wurtzel and directed by Lewis Seiler.

LIBRARY TO CLOSE DOORS ON FRIDAYS

Beginning today, the library will be closed every Friday all day so that the Northville Women's club may meet there.

Among the new outstanding fiction at the library announced this week are the following:

"Deep Dark River," by Robert Rylee—A remarkable study of character, truly affecting and beautifully written—William Lyon Phelps. Chosen by the book of the month club for July.

"Paths of Glory," by Humphrey Cobb—Most powerful story about the war since All Quiet on the Western Front, by Remarque, an arrow in the conscience of the world—Christopher Morley.

"The Folks," by Ruth Suckow—A remarkable and very absorbing novel—New York Times.

"Come and Get It," by Edna Ferber—Extraordinarily good—quickness of observation and swiftness in writing—a glimpse of a possible new America—London Morning Post.

"Green Light," by Lloyd C. Douglas—"Better than 'Forgive Us Our Trespasses' or 'Magnificent Obsession.' It stirs the spirit like a bugle blowing"—Detroit News.

"Love and the Lieutenant," by Robert Chambers—"One has no hesitation in declaring this addition to Mr. Chambers' series of historical romances, his best"—New York Times.

THE TALK OF THE TOWN

By HARLSON CHANDLER

The Last One

It is with mingled feeling that we write this "copy," for as Ad Swenger said last November, this is the last Talk of the Town. We are leaving Northville and The Record to resume our much neglected education at Antioch college, located in the little town of Yellow Springs, Ohio. We will be sweating over examinations already when this paper reaches Northville homes, having gone there Wednesday.

Going back to school will be grand, and frankly, Wednesday can't come too soon. It will be a new place to us, there will be new and interesting people to meet, and most of all, we will be engaged in the essential development of bettering ourself for the serious things ahead of us in life.

We're Going to Miss It

But on the other hand, we are sure we will miss Northville. Somehow the nine months we have spent here have sped by with incredible speed, and because we have enjoyed every phase of our life here. Great things were said of Northville to us when we came to begin our work. We caught a picture that Monday morning (December 10, 1934) of a thriving little town nestled in beautiful rolling hills. The whole scene was beautified with a blanket of snow. There was a real blizzard that day.

Their Claims Were True

People proudly told us that in the summer the town would be even more attractive. And as we observed the countryside about the town and the many beautiful homes we decided that their claims could be easily true. More important than this, we could see that like California, Northville has boosters, the difference being that all the claims about Northville were quite true.

The Strongest Impression

It will not be the scenic beauty of Northville, however, that we shall remember most in later years. What has made the strongest impression on us, and what we shall talk about to our grandchildren 50 years hence as they sit upon our lap before the fireplace will be the grand people we have known here.

He's A Great Guy

We have made many friends here, and everyone, it seems has treated us most graciously during our stay. And while we are on the subject, we want to take this opportunity to pay especial tribute to R. T. Baldwin, The Record editor. Under his tutelage we have learned rapidly just how newspaper stories should be written. He added us to his editorial staff with absolutely no previous experience in the gentle art of journalism, and not only proved an excellent teacher but an exceedingly patient one as well. Any progress we have made here he is largely responsible for. And he is by far the kindest employer that we have come across.

We'll Be Back

Somehow we know our parting with Northville will not be a permanent one. After living here this long and knowing such fine people here we will always want to come back again and again to renew acquaintances.

Mule Deer Outrun Horses

The mule deer, so named because of its great, donkey-like ears, is the most important game animal in California. The species is larger and has a heavier, stockier form than the Virginia white-tails. It is also distinguished by having the tines of its antlers all pronged in contrast to the single spikes of the white-tails. It is not a good runner in open territory, but can easily elude a man on horseback in rough country because of its ability to leap declivities that could not be taken by the average horse.

Walled Lake News

Miss Gertrude Baldwin and Mr. Fred Beckman of Saginaw were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Beckman.

Sunday visitors at the Ira S. Curtiss home this week were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hawke, Miss Mary Rawlins, Misses Madge and Bly Quigley of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Powers and Mrs. Agnes Harmon of Pontiac.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Dunlap, Aug. 20, a son Harper Jr.

Fifteen members of the Walled Lake Methodist chour visited Greenfield Village Friday afternoon. During the month of August the chour has had a vacation from active work in the church.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Roach and family spent the week-end and Labor Day at Gull Lake near Kalamazoo.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Stephens are spending the week at Traverse City.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan and daughter, Anna, returned Saturday from Detroit, where they have been spending the week.

A social event will close the first week of the school year when Supt. and Mrs. Hoffman will entertain the board of education and the faculty and wives and husbands at a dinner at their home on East Lake drive on Saturday evening, Sept. 7.

WALLED LAKE BOARD OF EDUCATION MAKE SECOND SELECTION OF INSTRUCTOR

William Blackler of Battle Creek had been elected to the head of the Social science department of the Walled Lake Consolidated school and at the same time he received word of this position he was informed by the federal government that he had been appointed educational advisor for a C.C.C. camp at Lake James in the upper peninsula.

Conley B. Gulliford of Wauseon, Ohio, has been selected by the Walled Lake board to take this position. Mr. Gulliford graduated in June from Albion college and besides teaching history and the social sciences will have charge of the glee clubs and dramatics in the Walled Lake high school.

During the days set aside for advance registration last week, Principal L. B. McLaughlin enrolled 168 students in the ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades and there are many who could not get in on these days. The enrollment is expected to reach 200 in the four upper grades this week with a total enrollment of 400 or more in all of the grades. Considerable new equipment has been purchased and installed this summer in the school and there has been a demand for the school to serve a larger area than in the past.

RESORTERS WIN SERIES

The Walled Lake baseball team again displayed their superior strength Monday in their hard-fought 5 to 4 victory over Haggerty team of Plymouth, thereby becoming winners in the three-game series of the American Legion Gala Day celebration at Farmington.

The Lake team had won the initial game from Garden City 11 to 10. The Labor Day victory was featured by the excellent pitching of Bob Utley, who fanned 10 and walked 1. Krecke was responsible for all five Walled Lake runs, with two doubles and two home runs. Lloyd, pitching for Haggerty, held the Lake men to eight hits, struck out 8 and walked 1.

WALLED LAKE MAN IS JUDGE AT DOG SHOW

The Doberman Pinscher Fanciers of Michigan club held its first Doberman Pinscher specialty show at the Pontchartrain Kennels on Dartmouth road between Eleven and Twelve Mile roads, Saturday, Aug. 31. Judging started at 10 a. m. and continued throughout the day.

J. Hoyt Wilson, Doberman fancier of Walled Lake and winner of many Doberman shows throughout the country, acted as judge. Mr. Wilson's dogs were winners at the World's Fair Doberman Pinscher show in Chicago in 1933, in competition with an entry of 158 including nine champions, also at shows held at Cincinnati, Dayton, Auburn, Benton Harbor, Detroit, and many others.

Plainness of Buckingham Palace

Nowhere is the British love of quietness and unobtrusiveness so clearly betrayed as in the royal palaces and mansions. For, with the exception perhaps of Windsor and Balmoral castles, not one of them is in the least spectacular or grandiose. Indeed, visitors to London are often surprised by the plainness of Buckingham palace. But in spite of its architecture, the palace, in its secluded setting in the heart of London, manages to give an effect of dignity and quiet grace. It has, too, a charming position between St James' park and the Green park and a broad approach in the Mall.

ROBERTS AN ABLE WRITER

Anderson Describes "Duke's" Hidden Genius

By A. L. ANDERSON

A person may possess all of the qualities of the great and the famous, and yet never enjoy the rewards that are his just due.

I am thinking of a man who only last week passed away, Wellington Roberts, citizen of Northville for 17 years, whose life as teacher, civil engineer, traveler, judge, and thinker, marked him as a man of genius.

It was exactly four years ago that I first met Mr. Roberts, or "Duke" as he was affectionately called by all who knew him. My visit was intended to gather a little information about the highest points of elevation among the hills of Northville. I received instead a thrilling story written by Mr. Roberts that dated back to the glacial period! It ran for three weeks in a small publication of which I was editor. This generosity was typical of the man. He always gave far more than was asked, and he gave with a willing heart.

Northville people are familiar with Mr. Roberts' ability as a civil engineer and surveyor, and many know of his work as justice of the peace. Few, however, ever heard of his ability as a writer. Twenty years ago Mr. Roberts wrote regularly a column in a Detroit periodical, and he has written brief articles for the Record from time to time, but it is among his unpublished manuscripts that the real evidence of his qualities as a writer lies.

It was my special privilege to read nearly all of Mr. Roberts' manuscripts that dated back twenty years when he first began to jot down the stories he had told to his daughter Ruth as he held her on his knee. There are child tales, boy stories, articles on science, religion, business, politics, many of them of a prophetic nature. There are his pioneer sketches running well into 50,000 words, dealing with the early pioneer life of Upper Michigan where he was born. Only a year ago Mr. Roberts visited the editors of a big daily in Detroit and outlined these sketches to them. He received the encouraging word that if revamped to suit newspaper requirements these sketches could be run as a series of Sunday features.

There was a genius in Mr. Roberts that made him thinker, teacher, story-teller, judge, mathematician, engineer; and there was also a genius in him that transcended these significant things, and that was a genius for making friends and keeping them. He numbered among his closest friends men and women from all walks of life: business men, inventors, doctors, clergymen, educators, lawyers, journalists, industrialists, and all the run-of-mine folk that crossed his path every day. He treated them all alike, and his smile was as open to one as to the other. He offered always his best to the person and not to the title that person bore.

The real depth of his thoughts, the real wisdom of Mr. Roberts, came forth in moments of most casual conversation. At times it seemed that the antenna of his mind reached out into infinite space, far out into other worlds, and brought back in a flash some principle applicable to the topic discussed, filling the listener with understanding and light. How unfortunate it is that there was no Boswell always at hand ready to jot down the scintillating ideas and thoughts that came so easily and at such unexpected moments from his fertile mind.

I firmly believe that had Mr. Roberts been in good health during the past two years that much of his unpublished writings would have reached the press. I know that he had begun to rewrite and polish many of his articles and stories, and that he sought the advice and comment of experienced critics, who gave very favorable comment.

There is so much more that I should like to say in tribute to a real friend but I shall have to leave it unsaid. I can only hope that in some small measure I have brought forth convincing testimony of a "great man who lived among you."

CHANDLER LEAVES RECORD OFFICE TO ATTEND COLLEGE

Good Qualities Overcome Lack of Experience; He Makes A Success

By FRED WARNER NEAL

Nine months ago, The Record tried an experiment. It took a young man without experience on its news staff, a young man who had nothing to endear him to a newspaper but character, honesty, and his ability for hard work.

That young man Harrison C. Chandler, Jr., made use of those good qualities. Cheerfully and energetically he went to work, learning the paper and making friends in a strange community. The experiment was a success.

This week he left the Record to continue his schooling at Antioch college in Yellow Springs, O. He is sorry to leave Northville. "I will be homesick for it and its folks," he says. He is sorry to leave The Record, and The Record staff is sorry to see him go.

And as Harrison—for as such was he known to all—goes on to the higher things, it is hoped that his brief experience on The Record will profit him. He is sure that it will. He is going to study journalism at Antioch—the college where they study and work practically at alternate intervals—and some day when he is the editor of a great daily paper, maybe he will look back and remember. "I got my start on The Northville Record."

Prove to yourself ... with a TRIAL ELECTRIC RANGE

... that electric cooking is modern cooking ...

MANY so-called "modern" stoves today are really no different than the stoves grandmother used fifty years ago. They look up-to-date, but they still use the same old-fashioned method of cooking foods with burning fuel. They still have all the characteristics of grandmother's old fuel-burning stove . . . the smoke, the soot, the flame, the annoyance and inconvenience. Only an ELECTRIC range is different: Only an electric range is truly modern. The cooking is done with pure heat from a glowing wire—heat as clean as sunlight. Why not discover this superiority for yourself with a trial electric range?

Here are the details of the Trial Plan: We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, so that you may give it a thorough trial. During this trial period you simply pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense. Send in your application for a trial range today!

Canvasback Fastest of Ducks

The canvasback is perhaps the most famous of all our ducks, says the American Nature association. It is one of the fastest of ducks, and moves often in great flocks on the fresh water lakes, larger streams and less brackish bays and inlets. It nears its young from Alaska to Nebraska, and winters chiefly in the Middle Atlantic and Gulf states to Mexico.

Honor Mr. and Mrs. F. Casterline On Forty-Fifth Anniversary—

Members of the Casterline family gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Casterline on Plymouth road Sunday evening to honor the parents on their forty-fifth wedding anniversary. The family party included: Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Casterline, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Casterline and son Fred, Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Casterline, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Dana Briggs and children, Dorothy, Vera and Duane.

Ladies' Aid Society Sponsors Family Get-Together—

A family night get-together will be sponsored by the M. E. Ladies' Aid society on Friday evening, Sept. 13, so that those attending may become better acquainted with the new pastor, the Rev. H. J. Lord and his family.

The pot-luck supper will begin at 6.30 and will be followed by an entertaining program which is being prepared by the young people. Members of the Ladies' Aid invite all the organizations of the church and all other members of the community as well who wish to attend, and request that everyone bring his own sandwiches, passing dish and table service.

Service League Meets for First Time This Season—

Twenty-two attended the first fall meeting of the Methodist service league which was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Orlow Owen. Mrs. Owen was assisted by Mrs. Sherrill Ambler.

Mrs. Dana Briggs acting in her position as president for the first time, presided over the meeting. Others who contributed to the evening were Mrs. Leslie Lee, who was in charge of the devotions, and Mrs. Ambler, who had charge of the program, which was followed by refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills Surprised By Anniversary Party—

A large group of friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Mills with an anniversary supper party at the Mills home Tuesday. The guests brought their own supper which was followed by an evening of bridge.

Those in the party included Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Schrader, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ayers, Mr. and Mrs. John Walker, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Chapman, Mrs. C. C. Merry-Go-Round Members Celebrate August Birthdays—

Members of the Merry-Go-Round club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. F. S. Harmon to fete those among them who had had August birthdays. Sixteen were entertained in all by the co-hostesses, Mrs. Harizion and Mrs. B. W. Hewitt. The eight of the number who had celebrated their birthdays in August were the recipients of gifts from the other eight. Later in the year, the situation will be reversed so that the other eight may be honored.

Friends Bring Gifts for Stork Shower Wednesday—

Friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Forrest Lemmon to honor Mrs. Claude Riffenburg (formerly Myrtle Lemmon) at a stork shower Wednesday evening.

Those who were present included: Mrs. Pete Prom, Mrs. Florence Johnson, Mrs. Ward Riley, Mrs. Bill Langindam, Mrs. Vera Smith, Mrs. Herbert Ware, Mrs. Floyd Sales, Mrs. Stella Hines, Miss Norma Simpson, Miss Marie Lemmon, Miss Mary Bennett, Miss Inga Staman and Mrs. Evelyn Keller.

Curious Cacti

Few of nature's creations are more curious than many strange and weird members of the cactus family, says Tit Bits Magazine. The curious shape of the cactus is due to the fact that these plants have discarded their leaves, and the parts one might think are leaves are merely thickened stalks. An ordinary plant gives off moisture through its leaves, but the cacti cannot afford to do this, for in their native lands they grow and rain may fall for the greater part of a year. The plant therefore has to store up moisture in case a rainy day does not come. An experiment with one of the giant American cacti found that it did [illegible] all its moisture for nearly eight and a half years.

Fort, Fortification, Fortress

A fortress is a fortification of especial size and strength; a citadel is a fortification within a city, or the fortified inner part of a city or fortress within which a garrison may be placed to overawe the citizens, or to which the defenders may retire if the outer works are captured. Fort is the common military term for a detached fortified building or enclosure of moderate size occupied or designed to be occupied by troops. The fortification of a modern city usually consists of a chain of forts.—Literary Digest.

Changing Civilizations

Jerusalem and the Holy Land have been violent enough, from the days of Isaiah and Sennacherib to the present, but the marks of violence are overshadowed by the peaceful reverence that lies over the land. A crusader's tower reminds one of the Saracens and Richard the Lion-Hearted. The British cemetery recalls the World war. Jaffa was besieged by Napoleon. But the most important memories are those surrounding the many Christian, Jewish and Mohammedan shrines. Bethlehem, the Mount of Olives, the Garden of Gethsemane, the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, the Mosque of Omar, the Wailing Wall, Rachel's tomb, Bethany, the Sea of Galilee, round out a picture of changing civilizations.—Chicago Daily News.

Cracking of Oil

The cracking of oil is said to have been discovered by a refinery workman who day-dreamed on the job and let the still get too hot and build up too much pressure. How this careless person escaped being blasted into the next world is not told by the legend. As a matter of fact, the first successful cracking process was patented by Doctor Burton of Standard Oil about 1912. Cracking consists of heating the heavier fractions of oil under high pressure.

Odd, If True

The quantity of current consumed by the average electric clock is so small that it does not register on the meter when all other electrical devices and lights are turned off. Thus about 10,000,000 of these clocks—in homes, stores and offices—operate during part of the night at the expense of the central electric stations.—J. K. Thomas, Ithaca, N. Y., in Collier's Weekly.

Trumpet Was Important Even in the Trojan War

The trumpet was widely known in ancient times, playing its part in the fall of Jericho, and even in the Trojan war. Trumpets were martial and royal instruments through the Middle ages, and the trumpeters' guild became important and influential.

The trumpet is a cylindrical tube about 8 feet long, doubled back on itself for ease in handling. The trumpet has three valves or pistons, the use of which enables the player to produce all the tones in the chromatic scale within the compass of the instrument.

The trumpet, like the horn, is provided with a mute, a pear-shaped affair that can be held in the bell in the place of the performer's fist.

The cornet, sometimes mistaken for the trumpet, notes a writer in the Washington Post, is a tapering brass tube a little over four feet in length. Its natural key is B-flat, though trumpets may be used to play it in A, A-flat or G. The cornetist can give rapid passages, trills and other embellishments with great ease, but the tone-color of the cornet is below that of the trumpet, which has a bold, martial tone that can be heard through the entire orchestra.

In the classical period of Haydn, Mozart and Beethoven, the trumpet was not very prominent. Wagner employed it extensively in some of his operas, and he used muted trumpets to imitate the tuny trumpets of the toymakers' guild in "The Mastersingers."

Irritation of Mantle Is Cause of Pearl's Growth

A pearl is a growth in a pearl oyster or other shellfish caused by a persistent irritation of its mantle. The persistent irritation, which causes pearl formation is usually due to the presence of some foreign matter which has entered the shell—sometimes a grain of sand or a fragment of broken shell. Probably in most cases it is the larvae of a parasite worm or a minute crustacean. Whatever the nature of the cause, the mollusk endeavors to reduce the irritation by inclosing it in a layer of the same kind of matter of pearl nacre of which the inside of its shell is made. Once started, the covering of nacre continues to grow by the addition of layer over layer until after a lapse of years the minute seed pearl formed may have grown into a pearl of large size.

As a natural pearl is a consequence of the accidental introduction of an irritant, it would seem that pearls could be cultivated by merely introducing the irritant by artificial means. But the successful cultivation of pearls has proved to be a complicated process accomplished by the Japanese only after years of study and experiment. The nucleus of the culture pearl is a small seed pearl or it may be a minute ball of mother of pearl or other substance. This is first inclosed in a sack made from the mantle of a pearl oyster.

Refrigerator Burns Gas

The gas burning refrigerator is cooled by the evaporation of a liquid which absorbs heat as it evaporates, which takes place in a sealed system of solid metal cylinders and pipes. The refrigerating liquid, usually a solution of aqua-ammonia and hydrogen gas, is continuously evaporated, condensed and evaporated over and over again. The cycle is maintained by a gas flame.

Invented the Parachute

The parachute has been known for centuries. In 1783 Sebastien Lenormand practically demonstrated the efficiency of a parachute by descending from the tower of Montpellier observatory. To J. P. Blanchard (1753-1809), is due the idea of using it as an adjunct to the balloon. The seat-pack type of parachute used by the army was developed by the army in 1918 and 1919.

Famous Painted Canyon an Unusual Formation

California is noted for strange things that nature has given it, but among the strangest Painted Canyon deserves a preferred classification, says a writer in the Los Angeles Times. Just a short distance off the main highway in the gray sands, the landscape changes, with sand and mud hills bulging from the earth, and beyond them, just a little way, rise rock formations giving every indication that they were built up over a long period of time by volcanic action.

Each section of Painted Canyon is a panorama of wonder. No two parts bear a semblance in detail. All types of rock, lime and sandstone, and lava formations that may be found in the Southwest are here assembled, yet mixed with a gorgeous freedom and weird artistry that fascinates both the layman and scientist, and lures one up the long washes that time and water have laid in this old sanctuary, set far from the paths of man's common travel and call.

Other smaller canyons are Wonderland, Labyrinth, Coyote, Hermosa, Ravine, Arch and Wonder. They extend back for miles into the strange-looking mountains, each having an individuality of color, each seeming a little world of its own to excite wonder and urge the sightseer on to other spots. Pinnacles jet upward that defy scaling. There are other formations in miniature which give visual impression of flying over a fantastic mountain range with thousands of peaks and valleys.

Dead Leaves Decompose, Make Good Top-Dressing

Leaves ferment with a very gentle heat, and provide a mild top-dressing-fertilizer, which does not coax tree roots to the surface, as might other soil-enriching substances. But they do keep the soil in sufficiently good tilth, to encourage seed germination and the growth of young trees. And let us not forget, says a writer in the Montreal Herald, that they have done good work! Every leaf has played its part in producing timber growth! From air, sun, rain and wind it has gathered wood-making, as well as tree-breathing material.

Democracy

Democracy is sometimes satisfied with the privilege of saying, "Hello, Harry," to the town banker.

Chicken-Pox

The ailment chicken-pox was so called because of a fancied but erroneous idea that the eruptions resembled chick-peas. The Middle English spelling of the chick in this word was chiche, and this was adopted from the old French, but in the Thirteenth century, the form changed to cice, and in the Sixteenth to iche. The French forms correspond to the Italian cece, and all are ultimately traced from the Latin cicer, the seed of Cicer arietinum. Nowhere in the Lexicographer's records does he find chequen, chiquen, or eiquen.—Literary Digest.

As the Subs Went Down

The allies sank only five German submarines in 1914, 19 in 1915 and 22 in 1916. But during 1917 and up to November, 1918, they sent 205 of them to the bottom, or one every 120 hours. During those last two years, however, Germany was making them at the rate of one every 90 hours, an astonishing production schedule for such a large and intricate piece of machinery.—Collier's Weekly.

Recording of Time

Until the Fourteenth century whatever time recording was done followed, with only minor improvement, the methods laid down by the Egyptians. Then in 1370 Henry De Vick constructed for Charles V of France the first mechanical timepiece—a true clock, even though it varied as much as two hours a day

Rev. I. N. Demy says:

"I have found nothing in the past 20 years that can take the place of Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills. They are a sure relief for my headache."

Sufferers from Headache, Neuralgia, Toothache, Backache, Sciatica, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuritis, Muscular Pains, Periodic Pains, write that they have used Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills with better results than they had even hoped for.

Countless American housewives would no more think of keeping house without Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills than without flour or sugar. Keep a package in your medicine cabinet and save yourself needless suffering.

BY THE WAY . . .

By R. W. L.

Have you been listening over the radio to Judge Maher in traffic court? Certainly the attitude that he takes toward traffic problems is a decided step forward and such that it will breed real respect for traffic safety. The talk by Wm. P. Rutledge here Wednesday was evidence of a new and more intelligent approach to the whole problem of law enforcement and in that regard our local police force, we believe is deserving of words of commendation and appreciation the officers enforce the law by suggestion and instruction rather than by the surly, braggadocio attitude. Evidently they are not given a quota of traffic tickets to hand out each week as it would seem is the case in some cities.

Have you heard the suggestion that we need a new modern, up-to-date hotel? That very suggestion has sounded in our ears many times in the last several months. The suggestion was made that a great many people would really like to stop in Northville for the night if there were facilities—the Mertitt as you know is full practically all of the time with regular roomers and boarders. Just what needs to be done to promote this idea is a question. Surely there are citizens here who could make this project a matter of community interest and promotion.

Scottish Terriers

While most of the Scottish terriers are black, they are also steel gray, brindle, sandy and other colors. As their name testifies, the Scottie originally came from Scotland. There he is the great vermin dog, going after the woodchuck and badger, either above or underground, fearlessly.

Istanbul Name Changes

Istanbul is quite accustomed to name changes. Back in 660 B. C. it was called Byzantin. Constantinople, in the year 330, called it New Rome. Then the Turks baptized it Stamboul. For a long time it was called Constantinople, and then the Russians with premature expectations of annexing the city, called it Czarigrad. Since the birth of the new Turkish state it has been given the name of Istanbul

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell the decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us sloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and ¾ of our food decays in our 25 feet of bowels. This decay poisons us over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (we don't) and we feel like a whipped somrat, don't use a mouth wash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. Sick of "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, strips and ruins the rectum in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for. CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

All Animals Lay Ears Back Out of Harm's Way

In all kinds of deer, including the moose, and in all antelopes and other animals having horns of any kind on the head, these weapons spring from the forehead in front of the ears. This must naturally be so, because one of the points of usefulness of these appendages to an animal is as a protection to the ears, which are of the greatest importance as a means of safety by warning of approaching danger.

The mode of resistance by such an animal to an attack by a rival of its own kind, or from any beast seeking to kill it, or one of its females or kids, is by meeting the enemy with lowered head and bayonet-like work with its horns. Were they situated behind instead of before the ears these tender organs would be smashed and put out of service at least to a serious degree. Horses, dogs, cats, every sort of animal is exceedingly careful of its ears, laying them back out of harm's way when a fight is on or even expected.—Montreal Herald.

'Ancient Egyptians' Love for Cats Never Equaled

C-A-T spells Cat.

From the blackboard of the little red schoolhouses and those of metropolitan cities, the line brought our first lesson in spelling. It started our education observes a writer in the Los Angeles Times, which later brought us through the historical stories of the ancient Egyptians, who accorded Miss Puss their wholehearted worship. We learned of their religion, which decreed that whole families and whole cities go into mourning at the death of a cat; learned that the death of a kitten called for the shaving of the worshiper's eyebrows; that troops of cats were maintained within temple walls, entirely fed; that any "noble Roman" causing injury or death to a cat, whether it be accidental or intentional, was fined or fined. Later, we learned that Miss Puss served as a symbol of witchcraft.

In the cat can be found a more universal response to her prime utility. Long haired or short haired, Siamese, Manx, Persian, or just "common alley cat," she offers the best self-setting mousetrap that has been found in all Log 3000 years of domesticity. In fine utility, she has saved a world from vermin that might have otherwise destroyed it.

Behind the inscrutable glance of attentive big eyes is a brain, centuries of age intelligence, resourcefulness and resourcefulness that has brought her triumphantly through the long period of maltreatment by humans, pursuit by larger animals and battles for existence.

SALVATION ON THE CORNER

Far be it from us to criticize the Salvation Army. It is doing a wonderful work throughout the nation and the tales of its good deeds are many. But as a bit of friendly advice, we can't help but feel that its Plymouth branch is wasting its time here on Saturday nights.

In a village like Northville, very few persons are outside the reach of the church. The so-called conversions, such as they are, are handled by the church. And in fact so important a medium is that institution that it is a vital necessity to the community. Few indeed are our "ladies and gentlemen of the street." Few are our criminals and vandals who need to get the "word" from the street corner.

It is all the village of Northville can do to take care of its own needy. Each of our churches has its foreign and home missions. The money the Salvation Army takes in here is not used here, and except in a most indirect way, its influence is not felt here.

Let the Salvation Army carry on its good work in the great cities where opportunities for it abound on every street corner and alleyway. In Northville we would not think of holding a treasure hunt on Sunday morning, peeking under the church pews for the treasures. It would not be appropriate. Neither is it appropriate for such sacred words and songs as are spoken and sung by the Salvation Army to be wasted on the four corners, while hundreds of merry-makers laugh their gay paths among the stores.

ADD TO THE WHAT-NOTS

Hail to the advertising men and their audacity to try to sell almost any old thing. Excerpt from a local advertisement last week: 1882 soap, the finest white floating laundry, 4 bars, 10c. They might have added, probably used by Andrew Jackson.

Note: It was a grocery ad, not antiques.

DID HE MEAN HEARST?

One of Will Rogers' best wisecracks was his reply to a query as to what fiction he read. "Oh I read the newspapers," he said.

We call attention to a tribute to Wellington Roberts, written for The Record this week by A. L. Anderson, editor of the Stockbridge Sun. Mr. Anderson dwells on Mr. Roberts' ability as a writer and touches on some of his other outstanding characteristics. We recommend "Andy's" article in every detail. In the death of Wellington Roberts Northville loses one of its most brilliant men. He was one of those rare individuals who had a real philosophy of life, and that in itself is a tribute.

3 YEARS AGO—AND NOW

Three years ago we had the misfortune to edit The Orange and Black, the high school page in The Record. As we look back over those issues we find a lot to make us laugh. But here is one editorial that we still think holds true.

It is one that applies not only to school affairs, but to banking, village business, and all that concern the public. Here it is:

Making It Public

"We have known persons who obstinately to having facts, agreeable or disagreeable, made public through the medium of a newspaper. We object to their attitude just as seriously as they object to those. Any individual, any organization, any system makes mistakes. One of the best ways for the correction of such errors is to have them made public, so that all may recognize them and begin a united effort toward remedial action. And if the mistakes are not honest, then they most certainly should be made public and their perpetrators condemned.

"Public affairs of any kind are news. It is not for those connected with them to withhold information. And when they do, it is the duty of the newspaper to get the facts anyway. The people have a right to know.

"The Orange and Black, or any other publication, cannot exist as the kind of a paper all clear-minded and liberal people want and need, if it meets opposition along the line."

ALL TOO TRUE

Toy Sees Depression's End In State's Delinquent Tax Drive

The successful State drive to collect delinquent taxes which ended September 1 is final proof that Michigan has shaken itself free of the depression's last doubts and uncertainties in the opinion of Harry S. Toy, Attorney General.

"Final figures for August collections of back taxes from virtually every county in the state show tremendously increased payments," Toy said. "It is the first continuing evidence I've seen that people are at last willing to bank on what the future holds.

HARRY S. TOY

"For some time we have been seeing bigger crowds at the theaters, at the beaches, or out to watch the Tigers. We've been told that more clothes are being bought, that more books are being sold. Feeling better, the people have been making money and spending it more freely.

"But, in spite of this, there has been little to indicate that the public has been looking to the future in faith and confidence. Until very recently, new building construction, new business enterprises and purchases of real estate have continued close to low ebb. These are criteria of the public confidence in business prospects.

"Now, however, the log jam of fear has been broken. Thousands of home-owners have cleaned up most of their overdue taxes. Real estate companies and banks have paid delinquencies on properties they hold. The public has proved it believes in Michigan and is convinced of its stability in the years to come. I look for this new confidence to accelerate the processes of real recovery."

Cheetah Chases Game

The cheetah is trained by natives in India somewhat after the fashion of a falcon. Leashed and hooded, it is taken to within a few hundred yards of the game sought, usually deer or antelope. It is then freed after the hoodage has been removed. Once loosed, it seeks cover and approaches stealthily to within 200 yards or so of its quarry, when it makes a lightning-like dash. —Tit-Bits Magazine.

WATSON IS INJURED MONDAY COMPETING IN "JACKPINE RUN"

His motorcycle swerving and throwing him first against a tree and then a stump as he was competing in the "National Jack Pine Run," Jack Watson of Northville suffered three broken ribs and a fractured shoulder Monday morning near Rose City, Mich.

Watson was on his way down a steep grade, travelling over loose sand, he said, feeling exhausted from the long grind which had begun at 6 a. m. the previous day in Lansing and had its halfway point at Oscoda, and suddenly he lost control of his machine. He attempted to get started again but fell once more, sand getting into the motorcycle, ruining it for further travelling. He was about 180 miles from the finishing point—Lansing.

Out of the 155 who started in the race, only about 30 finished, the remainder cracking up along the road. "I think I must have passed at least 50 saddle bags along the way," Watson said, "and even gas tanks and fenders."

Watson was in first place in the B class when he had his accident, having kept on his schedule at all stages of the run. All of his time checks with one exception showed O.K. To do this he had to maintain an average of 24 miles an hour.

The winner of the race is to win the battered but famous cow bell which is given to the winner each year, and also a handsome trophy, both awarded by Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald.

The "Jack Pine Run" is an annual affair that is always a big race, Watson said, and this year attracted entrants from 17 states.

The race is unique in that the very worst roads that can be found are used throughout the 530.2 miles. Most of the time there were no roads at all but only trails, Watson said, the course leading through sand.

"Well, just the same, I'm going to enter that race next year and win it," Watson declared Monday evening as he smiled over his injuries and said he was feeling "all right under the circumstances."

RICHTERS, DETROIT MUSICIANS, TO LIVE, GIVE LESSONS HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Richter, who came from Europe fifteen years ago to conduct a conservatory of music in Detroit, will soon make their permanent residence here, it was announced last week.

The Richters plan to teach piano, violin and guitar lessons as well as the theory of music for beginning and advanced students, according to their friend the Rev. Leo. Eickstaedt, Lutheran pastor here. Mr. Eickstaedt, who lives at the corner of High and Elm streets, will give information to all interested between the hours of 9 a. m. and noon any morning. His telephone number is 151.

Mr. Richter studied under leading continental musicians for more than 15 years, finally becoming a music instructor, conductor and choir master of note, Mr. Eickstaedt pointed out. Mrs. Richter has had success as a violin soloist and string quartet member.

"Sol's Path, 1680"

A sign in Northford, Conn., which says "Sol's Path, 1680," marks a colonial home which was built in 1680 or a little earlier—one of the five oldest houses in Connecticut. Solomon Linsley occupied the house many years ago and the path that runs by the house over Totoket mountain to North Branford was known locally as Sol's Path.

"The Smoke That Sounds"

Victoria Falls, Africa, one of the world's grandest waterfalls, is called by the native Matabeles "The Smoke That Sounds," because the spray can be seen, and the falling water heard for miles around.

Homemaker's Corner

When The Lights Went Out

Homeward toward our cozy cottage in the woods we hurried. We had lingered too long out on the breakwater over at the great lake watching the angry waves lash the cement wall.

What mattered if the rain beat blindingly on the car windows? There was a shining trout among the parcels just fresh from Lake Michigan and soon it would be sputtering in the frying pan!

But the storm changed our plans. Our boasted of electric stove would not turn on—nor the lights. Dried beef and applesauce were eaten by the light of the fireplace.

"Well, there's one good thing, we won't have to wash dishes," chuckled the children.

Great chunks of wood were heaped on the fire and each settled comfy with a book until gradually darkness made each lay his reading aside half reluctantly.

For once, spoiled by dependence upon ready-made amusement from outside—books, magazines, telephone, radio (even the radio was silent)—we were thrown suddenly upon our own resources. We were like our pioneer ancestors, far from outside contacts.

Blackness of the deep woods stared in at the windows and the silence was broken only by the sloughing of the tall pines and birches and the beating of rain on the roof.

Closer the circle drew (and secretly the mother gloried in the feeling of inter-dependence recently choked out by modern attractions)

One told a conundrum, others followed in succession then stories and song after song.

From their place on the floor the boys struck up cowboy tunes. It was a motely concert ranging from "Loves Old Sweet Song" to "Get Along Little Doggie."

Finally the youngest climbed upon his father's knee and said, "Let's sing the songs Dad likes," and "Auld Lang Syne" and "Lead Kindly Light" drifted softly and sleepily into an Irish lullaby, a favorite since babyhood days.

Everyone yawned lazily. "Let's go to bed."—"Why yes, it's the ungodly hour of 8:30," said Dad, consulting his watch by the blaze.

No hint of loneliness crept in for the circle was complete.

"It would be nice if the lights went out often" mused the mother, as quiet and sleep came to the cabin and only the pines outside whispered in the wind.

And it wasn't strange that she dreamed that night of those childhood days in the pentry of the parsonage when she sat around the old round oak stove with her brothers and sisters and ate plain potato soup on a cold winter evening.

Ad Scores For Northville Man!

A Northville man wanted to buy some fair stock. He used the best means he knew of telling folks about it—a Northville Record want-ad.

The paper came out August 2. The following morning he had more than enough stock offered him.

This is the advertisement that brought results: "Wanted — To buy either one or two shares of Northville Fair association stock. Record Box X."

THE EDITOR'S LAMENT

Consider the editor! A child is born unto the wife of a merchant in the town. The physician getteth 10 plunks. The editor writeth a stick and a half and telleth the multitude that the child tippeth the beam at nine pounds. Yea, he lieth even as a centurian. And the proud father giveth him a Crema.

Behold, the young one groweth up and graduateth. And the editor putteth into his paper a swell notice. Yea, a peach of a notice. He telleth of the wisdom of the young woman and of her exceeding comeliness. Like unto the roses of Sharon is she and her gown is played up to beat the band. And the dressmaker getteth two score and four iron men. And the editor gets a note of thanks from the sweet girl graduate.

And the daughter goeth on a journey. And the editor throweth himself on the story of the farewell party. It runneth a column solid. And the fair one remembereth him from afar with a picture postal card that costeth six for a jitney.

Behold, she returneth, and the youth of the town fall down and worship. She picketh one and lo, she picketh a lemon. But the editor calleth him one of our promising young men and getteth away with it. And they send unto the editor a bid to the wedding, and behold the bids are fashioned in a far city.

Flowery and long is the wedding notice which the editor printeth. The minister getteth 10 bones. The groom standeth the editor off for a 12-months subscription.

All flesh is grass and in time the wife is gathered unto the soil. The minister getteth his but. The editor printeth a death notice, two columns of obituary, three lodge notices, a chunk of poetry and a card of thanks. And he forgetteth to read proof on the head and the darned thing cometh out, "Gone to Her Last Roasting Place."

And all that are akin to the deceased jumpeth on the editor with exceeding great jumps. And they pulleth out their ads and cancelleth their subs, and they swing the hammer even unto the third and fourth generations.—(From an old issue of The Pathfinder.)

THE RECORD SHOPPER

By ELEANOR BLUM

The first of the school semester boys will be telling their parents now is the time to delight the newcomer's eye, and astonish the fashionable with a new outfit—for after that, the work is done, and the impression made. And they're right, and what's more, it's so easy for the high school boy to look dashing for these all-important days.

No young man who has set his eye on the new corduroy sets can resist their color and fashion appeal. Matched sets of jacket and trousers come in rich shades of rust, navy blue and grey in a local shop. The English cut slacks are topped by the smart zipper jacket with clever slash pockets.

And for the knobby accessories the young man would do well to choose the new brown buck that is all the rage. Shoes in brown buck are good looking with the plain toe and popular crepe sole, and to match those, the smart young esquire can procure belts and braces of the same material.

The boy who can coax some "extras" should be all means secure the new watch cords. Made of leather, these unique guards can be attached to either a wrist watch or pocket watch, and then buttoned into the buttonhole with a leather button.

But high school age or not, this is the season for every man to "dress up" his cool weather outfit with a new fall tie. And the very newest ties come in soft wool plaids, not loud plaids, but patterns in good taste with softly harmonized color tones. Made of very pliable wool they have enough resiliency to tie up neatly.

ROTARIANS ARE PUT THROUGH LESSONS

A sort of examination disclosing how much or little each member knew about the inner workings of his club, featured the Rotary club meeting Tuesday noon.

With Percy Angore acting as school master, the Rotarians were put through their paces. Before the examination, the "schoolmaster" led the club in singing.

Outstanding "musical" numbers were "Sweet Adeline," by a quartet composed of Nelson C. Schrader, D. P. Yerkes, Sr., E. L. Millis and Russell H. Amerman; and "Home On The Range," with W. A. Forney, Dr. H. S. Willis, Mr. Angore and Mr. Schrader each soloing a verse.

Plastic Surgery

One of the most remarkable achievements of plastic surgery was the entire rebuilding of a girl's face after a motor car accident. In 20 operations, the surgeon made new eyelids, nostrils, and ears with skin from the girl's legs; new eyebrows from her scalp; reconstructed her mouth with an abdomen graft, and then completely rebuilt her face with skin from her [illegible]

COMMITTEE TERMS BENEFIT PAGEANT FINANCIAL SUCCESS

Termed a "financial success" by the committee in charge, the Mother Goose pageant sponsored by the Parent Teachers Association, contributed substantially to the fund for milk and free lunches from the proceeds of the two performances given last Thursday and Friday.

Although the high school auditorium was not filled to capacity either night, a good-sized crowd saw the 75 children who participated perform in their song dance and stunt acts.

Hearty applause was accorded Barbara Summons, 14-year-old dancer, who was secured for intermission numbers when the committee heard of her ability a late as last Thursday. Although Barbara did more than one tap number in costume, her military number was the best received.

All of the acts, however, staged by children from kindergarten to senior high school age, were successful. The pageant was directed by Miss Dorothy Mitchell, who was assisted by a committee composed of Mrs. K. H. Babbitt, Mrs. Eber Ward Lester, Mrs. Lloyd Morse, Mrs. E. M. Begrit and Mrs. Loretta Reng.

Society Notes

Chicago Paper Carries Article On George A. Kelly Family—

Northville friends will be interested in the following excerpt from the society columns of the Chicago Tribune, the Kelly family of Lake Shore drive, Evanston, being well-known in the village. Mrs. Kelly is the daughter of Mrs Blanche Forsyth, whose home is on South Center street. Her daughters, known here as "Pat" and "Kay" have been enthusiastic participants in the Junior horse show here.

"The George A Kelly family has returned from a prolonged trip to Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, and San Diego. If it were not for the fact that they wanted to be home in plenty of time for the autumn festivities in which their daughter, Miss Patricia Forsyth Kelly, is to participate as a debutante, they would have made their trip longer. There is to be a series of parties in the early future for Miss Kelly, whose debut will take place on Dec 23.

Miss Kathleen Kelly, her sister is returning this fall to the Knox school at Cooperstown, N. Y., where she will be a sophomore."

Surprise Party Marks Anniversary of Local Couple—

A surprise party celebrated the thirty-ninth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Fuller last night. The party, which took the form of a dinner, was held at the Fuller home.

Guests included: Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Parmenter, Mrs. Ida Putman, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Ely and son, Kurt, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Parmenter and children, Marjorie and Robert, Mrs. Josephine Carr, Miss Vivian Parmenter, Charles Eldridge, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Meaker and children, Merritt and Helen.

The Fuller home was also the scene of another party Monday celebrating five birthdays which had taken place during the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Meaker, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Butler and Mrs. Carr were present.

COUNCIL VOTES TO APPLY FOR $26,881 FROM PUBLIC WORKS

In spite of Commissioner Gregory's admonition that "You can't get something for nothing," a spirit of "We might as well benefit while the government is spending money" prevailed. Both Mayor Howard H. Burnett and Hamill agreed that the water improvement project which will be entirely apart from the reservoir job, is "very necessary."

Even if the application is approved, the council can still withdraw and not go on with the project it was made clear. Apparently those favoring it figured this way: We need the water improvement. True it will be difficult to pay back the $14,724 plus the $11,556 from the reservoir grant, but it's now or never. If we want we will have to pay it all. And now, we can still back out if we feel like it.

Although Hamill betrayed chagrin for actually obtaining the $26,881 for the water improvement project, "very good," considerable doubt was expressed by the councilmen. Hamill sped the application and plans to the state PWA offices in Detroit Wednesday from whence it will be sent to Washington. Probably nothing will be obtained in time to start on the work this year Hamill advised.

The council flatly rejected Hamill's suggestion that it apply a Works Project Administration grant for the purpose of getting its water main and sewage maps up to the present.

The estimates for the parts of the sought-after project, as submitted by Hamill to the council Tuesday are as follows:

Eight-Day Week

The seven-day week is practically universal. However, there are some parts of Africa, where weeks of three, four, five, six or eight days are found, always in association with the market. In the Congo the word for "week" is the same as the word for "market," the recurrence of the market indicating the length of the week. Some of the ancient peoples, including the Romans, Scandinavians, etc., appear to have had at some period a week with more or less than seven days.

CHURCH NEWS

First Baptist Church

R. S. North, Minister.

Sunday, September 8th, 1935

10:30 a. m., morning worship. Sermon: "Pessimism vs Optimism."

11:45, church school.

7:30 p. m., evening service. Topic "The God of the Great Book."

Come and hear the music provided by the Girls' Quartette of the First Baptist church of Pontiac. You will enjoy their harmonious singing.

Wednesday, 7 30 p. m., mid-week service.

There will also be several selections of marimba music.

Christian Science Churches

"Man" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Sept. 8.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Rev. 2:17): "To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 309): "The result of Jacob's struggle thus appeared. He had conquered material error with the understanding of Spirit and of spiritual power. This changed the man. He was no longer called Jacob, but Israel,—a prince of God, or a soldier of God who had fought a good fight."

Methodist Episcopal Church

After two months of profitable fellowship in union services we resume our regular schedule again.

Beginning Sunday, the service of morning worship will be held at 10.30. The pastor, Rev. H. J. Lord will preach on the subject "God is not Discouraged." Text Isaiah 40 28. Special music by the choir under the direction of Mr. Leslie Lee.

The Church school reorganization is taking place this week and next Sunday's session will begin at 11 45. With the working out of new plans a greatly increased attendance is expected. There will be classes for all ages Sunday.

The public school has again opened and parents feel the importance of the regular attendance of their children. Regular attendance in some class of religious training should be regarded as at least of equal importance by all parents. Let's make as our goal, all children in Northville enrolled in some church school.

First Presbyterian Church

Harold G. Whitfield, Minister

Sunday, Sept. 8 at 10:30 this congregation meets for worship again in its own church. The members are reminded of their vows. Every member has promised to faithfully support the work and worship of the church. Do not be satisfied in being just nominal church members. No organization can function properly with 15% or 25% loyalty. No program can be carried out unless, at least, a majority supports it. Ponder deeply this matter, face the situation and see if you can't do your part in overcoming this spiritual inapidity and anaemia which is the despair of the church and the derision of the world. Register your attitude by being present at service Sunday, Sept. 8.

The church school will meet directly following the morning service.

The Woman's Union of the Presbyterian church will hold a Rally luncheon in the church house Wednesday, Sept. 11th, at 12:30 o'clock, for which a charge of 15¢ will be made. Mrs. Ray Casterline will act as hostess. Members of the Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary are especially invited to be present at this meeting. Mrs. C. S. Gilmore, Presbyterial secretary, will be the guest speaker and Mrs. Nelle Thompson, Presbyterial president, is expected to be with us on this occasion. A large attendance is urged to attend this opening meeting.

Salem Congregational Church

Lucia M. Stroh, Minister

Services next Sunday, 10:30 a. m. The pastor will bring the message. Sunday school follows at 11:45 a. m. Ward Clark, supt., expects to see all the good folks out for Sunday school now that everyone has returned from the lakes and vacationing, let us all rally to church and Sunday school.

Thursday, Sept. 12, Mrs. Leona Rüegel will entertain the Ladies' Auxiliary society in the afternoon. Pot-luck supper will be served. This will be our quarterly missionary meeting. Prayer meeting will be held in the same home in the evening.

Church of Our Lady of Victory

The Sunday masses will remain at the hours of 7:30 and 10 a. m. until Sunday, October 6. The Walled Lake chapel will remain open throughout the entire month of September.

If a student, no matter how brilliant his performance in mathematics and science, has little knowledge of and scant respect for ethical values, he will prove a liability rather than an asset to society. True education not only provides knowledge but also teaches the honest and energetic application of it to life's problems.

Next Sunday is the Catholic man's Holy Name day. Being the twentieth anniversary of Bishop Gallagher's consecration all the men of this Detroit diocese are receiving Holy Communion, and offering it as a spiritual gift to him. A report of the local Communions will be mailed to him on Monday.

St. Paul's Lutheran

"Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever." Psalm 23,6

Sometimes it does not seem as if goodness and mercy follow us in life.

The Lord's hand, at times, seems very heavy. Yet the hand that chastens is the hand of love. Cowper said:

Judge not the Lord by feeble sense,
But trust Him for His grace:
Behind a frowning providence
He hides a smiling face

Doctor Martin Luther said, "The ways of God are like a Hebrew book, which can only be read backward." The Hebrew do not write as we write; they begin on the right side of the page and write towards the left; and they begin upon that page of the book which in most modern languages is the last page. Reading down the page from right to left, they continue until they reach their last page of the book, which in most modern language is the first.

What does Luther now mean when he says "The ways of God are like unto a Hebrew book, which can only be read backward." He means to say that God's way cannot be understood by those who imagine that they may decipher His ways as they see affairs progress from day to day but only by those who patiently wait until the purpose of God is accomplished, and then, beginning at the end look down the years to the beginning. It is only when God has reached and accomplished His purpose that His providence and guidance become clear. It is when He has taken us to the goal that we may look back and see His wisdom and power and grace in every step of the path by which He led us on and on to our throne and to our crown. Then when we shall have arrived at our destination we shall clearly behind God's marvelous wisdom and mercy in leading us as He did.

The hour for worship every Sunday morning is 10 o'clock. The pastor will preach.

One week from this Sunday, Sept. 15th our annual Mission festival will be held, with two divine services, the first at 10 a. m. the pastor being the speaker, the other at 3 p. m. with the Rev. Alvin Schmidt of Brightmoor Lutheran church occupying the pulpit.

Those of our members who have as yet not returned their corn collectors are kindly asked to do so this coming Sunday morning. For Mission festival use the regular Mission envelopes.

The new Lutheran church of Redford 17195 Bosworth court, will be dedicated this Sunday with three divine services, 10 a. m., 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. Our congregation is cordially invited to join them in their festivities.

The Ladies' Aid meets next week Thursday afternoon at 2 at the home of Mrs. Fred Kreeger, West street.

Sunday school will again be held in connection with our service beginning Sunday, Sept. 22nd.

Catechumen instruction will again begin on Saturday morning, Sept. 21st, at 9 o'clock. Children of 12 years or over are eligible for this course of instruction. Please inform the pastor.

Anyone interested in a course of piano, violin or guitar lessons, kindly speak to the pastor as soon as possible, or call by phone 151. A cordial invitation is extended to all to worship with us!

Ohio Indians' Superstitions

Perhaps no people in the world were more greatly influenced by auguries and omens than the Ohio Indians. All their activities were directed by the gods of superstition. One strange custom, for example, led them to carry all food out of a house, whose occupants they had just playfully scalped and which was to be set afire afterward, in the belief that destroying food unnecessarily would anger the Great Spirit who provided them with ass-

ROBERTS DIES AT U. OF M. HOSPITAL EARLY LAST FRIDAY

A deep student of philosophy, local pastors frequently commented that Mr. Roberts was one of the few churchmen who would openly discuss religious questions. He had a host of intimate Northville friends many of whom were young men. It is said that he never gave up an opportunity to teach and talk with younger men. Known familiarly as "Duke" and "Judge" he was acquainted with all in the community.

Besides Mrs. Roberts and her daughter, Mr. Roberts is survived by three brothers: Milson, Elwood and Thomas, all of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.; three sisters: Mrs. Lentha Bye of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Mrs. Laure Collings of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and Miss Alison Roberts of Detroit.

Funeral rites for Mr. Roberts were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the Presbyterian church with the Rev. Harold G. Whitfield officiating. Mr. Whitfield paid tribute to one who has brought together reason and faith. He was always bold to attack the status quo and to oppose existing thought and practice when he felt a change necessary, he said.

"Mr. Roberts was inherently controversial," the minister declared in praising the civic leader's quest for truth. "His ideas were advanced.

"But to those who knew him," he continued, "Mr. Roberts was tender, sympathetic, patient and kind. He worked with the powers he had to promote justice and happiness and the moral and cultural well being of the town in which he lived. He leaves a legacy of rich, pleasant and rewarding memories."

A quartet composed of Leslie G. Lee, Ray Van Valkenburg, Carl Bryan and D. P. Yerkes, sang "Nearer My God To Thee" and "The Christian's Good Night."

Burial was made Wednesday in Woodlawn cemetery, Toledo.

SUFFERS FRACTURE OF SKULL IN CRASH SUNDAY IN DETROIT

Henry Bazuin, 24 years old, of Detroit, suffered a skull fracture and six other persons received minor injuries because the brakes of Bazuin's car failed to prevent a collision at 6:40 p. m. Sunday at Seven Mile and Southfield roads.

Bazuin, driving the car of Lloyd Spencer, 16, of Northville, about 40 miles an hour, said that something odd went wrong with the brakes of the car as he was attempting to stop for a red light and that he was unable to avoid the crash. Miss Charlotte Williams, 15, of Detroit, was also riding in the car of Spencer. Bazuin is in Redford Receiving hospital where the others were also treated and then released.

He was to be turned over to the police upon his release from the hospital.

In the other car were James Hall, 24, of Jackson, driver of the car, Clara, 23, wife of James; Floyd Morris, 47, of Birmingham; Bessie, 45, his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall and their friends were returning from the state fair.

Spencer was told by an official of the prosecutor's office that both he and his car were absolved from any responsibility in the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Meaker and children of Syracuse, N.Y., who have been visiting Mrs. Meaker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Fuller, will return Saturday.

NO LUCKY NUMBERS NECESSARY TO WIN THEATRE TICKETS

No lucky numbers must be picked, riddles answered or anything else by the person who wins the two free tickets to the Penniman-Allen theatre which are given each week to someone whose name appears in the Record, it was pointed out this week.

Frequent questions have been put to the Record staff concerning what people had to do after seeing they were to get the free tickets. Each week a name of a local citizen is picked at random as the winner of the tickets. The name, with the announcement that he has won the tickets, is then inserted in The Record at some place which is usually difficult to find. The winner, upon showing a copy of the paper at the theatre box office, will receive without question the two tickets.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE IS GIVEN HADLEY ON CHARGE OF ASSAULT

Charged with assault on Ray Rorabacher of Plymouth at the street dance August 9 here, Robert Hadley, also of Plymouth, was given a suspended sentence Thursday, August 9, by Judge Thomas Murphy in Circuit court, Detroit.

Hadley, who pled guilty when arraigned August 10 before Justice Arthur S. Nichols here, changed his mind after Justice Nichols sentenced him to a fine of $10 and $5 costs or 20 days in the Detroit House of Correction, and appealed his case, furnishing a bond of $200.

Chief of Police Wm. H. Safford, who made the arrest at the street dance, attended the trial.

THRESHING HELD UP BY DAMP WEATHER

Cold Weather Expected To Aid Apples, Slow Up Peaches

Damp, cool weather will continue the threshing season at least two weeks, farmers in and around Northville declared yesterday.

The great grain yields were all set to be harvested, before the middle of August when rains set in. This held it up as did more wet weather last week. A large crop is expected to be marketed as soon as harvesting can be cleared up.

The damp and unseasonably cool weather has had, in many cases, a good effect on fruit, growers in this area said. The moisture is just what is needed to finish up apples and plums, and is expected to be beneficial especially to apples.

Where orchards have been cultivated, the moisture quickly likes hold, it was pointed out. Because of the fact that the late summer was rather dry, apples may be a little smaller than in an average year, according to farmers.

The cool weather will slow up peaches, experts said. This fruit was mentioned as one which needs warm weather for finishing up.

RUTLEDGE BOOSTS AMERICAN POLICE IN EXCHANGE TALK

"Achievements of the police of the United States now surpasses that of Scotland Yard and the French police," William C. Rutledge, former commissioner of police of Detroit, stated in his talk to the Exchange club Wednesday noon. Mr. Rutledge pointed out that the Bureau of Identification and information was not only a result of the activity of the police chiefs all over the United States but also the chief of the bureau, J. Edgar Hoover, has publicly given credit for the success of the "G Men" program to the extraordinary cooperation of police officers throughout the country.

"Wayne county," stated Mr. Rutledge, "is famous for its teletype system of apprehending crime. This teletype makes it possible for details of a misdemeanor to be broadcast to nearly every city and village of Wayne county within a very few minutes," said Mr. Rutledge. A recent automobile robbery was unprecedented within twenty minutes of the robbery, the auto being picked up at Flat Rock on its way from Dearborn, explained Mr. Rutledge.

Visitors for the day were Melvin Strong, John Walker, Percy Angove, Arthur Storm of Detroit, and Ray W. Labatt.

RED TAPE HOLDS UP NEW RESERVOIR

The $20,000 grant for an enclosed reservoir has apparently become ensnarled in federal red tape, Mayor Burkhart declared Tuesday. July 19, State PWA Administrator Dean Mortimer Cooley hoped to have the affair cleaned up "in a week or ten days." Since that time, nothing has been heard. As soon as the money and the contract are obtained, Hamill's engineers are all set to start work, he said. The village engineer expects the funds "soon."

Cause of Many Diseases

Common colds, measles, smallpox, canine distemper, cattle plague and about fifty other infectious diseases are caused by filterable viruses, organisms which are so minute that they not only pass through the finest filters but cannot be seen under the most powerful microscopes.—Jessie L. The Watts', Miss Hills Make 2,500-Mile Trip Through South

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Watts, their son, Ted, and Miss Marjorie Hills returned last Thursday night from a 2,500-mile trip with the dust of 11 southern states on their automobile.

They left Northville Aug. 19, and going by the way of Cincinnati, Lexington, Ky., and Chatanooga, they made for Rome, Ga., where the Watts lived 20 years ago. From Rome they went to Atlanta, the Georgian capitol. They visited Warm Springs, the infantile paralysis hospital sponsored by President Roosevelt, and made their way up through Greenville, S. C., Charlotte, N. C., and Richmond, Va.

From Richmond they visited Mt. Vernon, Washington and came home by way of Hagerstown, Pa., and Youngstown, O.

Enroute they went through Johnstown, O., scene of the famous flood. What most impressed Miss Hills, who was making the journey for the first time, was Stone Mountain, a solid stone nearly a mile high, 16 miles out of Atlanta. A carving in the side of it, portraying Robert E. Lee, Jefferson Davis and other prominent Confederates, which was in progress, is so huge that more than 20 persons could eat dinner in the rim of Lee's hat, Miss Hills said.

Most important of the "booty" brought back from the southlands was a watermelon, weighing 50 lbs. and measuring more than a foot and a half in diameter.

Business conditions are "as good or better than they are up here," in the opinion of Coach Watts.

TREASURE HUNT AND HOUR SALE PRAISED

Merchants report that the one-hour-only sale along with the treasure hunt Saturday night was a real success and that they are grateful for the crowds that came to shop and buy.

The crowd was reported as being somewhat smaller than the average Saturday but a better buying crowd than usual. Merchants are already talking about the next treasure hunt. There is, as yet, no definite information as to the time of the next hunt, but it is thought that it should be held again Saturday night, Sept. 21. A local committee of merchants promise an announcement next week.

ANDERSON PRAISES NEW RECOVERY PLAN

Proposing to the federal government that the best plan to end the depression is to bring up demand to equal supply rather than cut down the supply, the Industrial Recovery club is going forward fast, according to Arthur L. Anderson, secretary of the organization.

Mr. Anderson, who is associated with the publication of the Stethoscope, monthly magazine of the Eastlawn sanatorium, and who formerly was a member of The Record editorial staff, said that although the Industrial Recovery plan must be termed a "pipe dream" until it is accepted by the government that it really is a logical solution to the economic situation.

bons, six red, and four yellow ribbons.

Wayne county training school cattle exhibited won a group of ribbons, among which were first prize for a three-year-old and over bull and second prize for three-year-old cow and for get-of-sire. The training school had the senior and grand champion bull.

Horses of Julius Porath and son also won prizes. The fine Belgians were brought to the state fair in Detroit from the Ohio state fair at Columbus, where they earned the reserved grand champion of small Belgians, the grand champion mare and won 16 ribbons, according to J. L. Bowers, manager of the Porath farm on the West Six Mile road.

W.C.T.S. ENTERTAINS "PLAY DAY" CROWD

All of the exhibits and the stunts as well were judged by a committee of the staff, and awards given to the winners. But even this was not all the show, for each cottage had its pet exhibited in a little homemade cage in front of the exhibition building. These consisted mostly of cats and dogs but included even various kinds of birds.

A 60c Bottle Worth $50.00

Read the Proof

"About five years ago I offered for sale, a dining room suite that originally cost $250.00. The best offer I got was $40.00, which seemed ridiculous so I decided to keep it, when a woman I knew advised me to polish it with Liquid Veneer and that I would easily get more money. I did and made such a swell job that I sold it for $90.00.

"I became full of ambition and decided to buy used furniture, polish it up and sell it. At first my husband objected but I soon won him over and since then he has resigned his position and is now in my employ as a successful furniture dealer. Thanks to Liquid Veneer and the woman who suggested it to me."—Mrs. Marion Holmes, 655 Jefferson Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

PETROLEUM is a rock oil. Latin petro (rock) plus oleum (oil). It is ready-made from Mother Earth and is found in various parts of the world.

Use of petroleum in semi-liquid or solid form is said to have been common among the Ancients. The "slime" mentioned in the Old Testament was without a doubt partially evaporated petroleum.

Nineveh and Babylon ruins indicate its use for cementing brick structures. Around the beginning of the Christian era Sicilian Oil from natural springs near Agrigentum on Sicily island was burned in Jupiter's temple's lamp. This was the first known use of petroleum for illuminating purposes.

Leading the world in production of petroleum and in manufacture of refined oil is the United States. Russia is second.

"Worthless" Stocks Have Value

Supposedly worthless stocks and bonds of thousands of American companies, now out of existence, writes J. F. Millican, Santa Monica, Calif., in Collier's Weekly, still have a definite value, and the holders of these securities can obtain the money due them by applying to the receiver, trustee or Court of Chancery holding it. The value of these unclaimed funds is estimated to be about $100,000,000.

Ritualistic Dancing in Churches

Although ritualistic dancing in Christian churches was generally discontinued many centuries ago, it is still a feature of the festivals of Corpus Christi and the Immaculate Conception of the Cathedral of Seville, Spain. Ten choir boys stage an elaborate dance before the altar, accompanied by castanets.—Collier's Weekly.

People of Old Olonetz Are Kindred to Finns

The inhabitants of Olonetz, a province of old Finland, are a kindred people to the Finns, and moved into their present location when Attila and his Hunnish horde broke up the Ugrian nation—Mongolians—an earlier migration—in central Russia, driving a part to the north into the fen-land around the eastern end of the Baltic and the remainder into the Carpathian mountains. The latter became the Hungarians and the former the Livonians, Letts, Esthonians, Finlanders and Finns of modern times. These Ugrian newcomers were fewer and wilder even than the Norse and Germanic tribes to the west, and their piratical excursions became the scourge of the Baltic. Their name was a byword of terror and they are remembered as the ancestors of Norse and Germanic folklore. Expeditions for expulsion were sent against them many times, finally about the year 1200 their power was broken by the Swedes. Apparently at the time of the Viking excursions into what the Ugrian Finns had left behind, some of the people dominated by one of the Viking powerful families, accepted the fortunes of the Viking and that surged over central Russia.

Sweden maintained sovereignty over Finland proper and the province at the eastern end of the Baltic until after the Great carved the southern extremity where built St. Petersburg (Leningrad) and added it to the eastern section, leaving the remainder of Finland the rights lost in Peter's time.
