NAME LOCAL LEADER HEAD OF NAVY DAY

Nation-wide Observance will Be Held on Monday, October 28

Local and nation-wide observance of Navy Day, will be held Monday, Oct. 28, because of the actual day itself falling on Sunday, Oct 27, according to Ray. A. Altenberg, commander of the Lloyd H. Green post who has been designated local chairman. General plans for the observance in Michigan are being formulated by a state committee headed by Paxton Mendelssohn of Detroit, as general chairman. The committee to arrange the local observance of the day is being named by Mr. Altenberg, who received his appointment as local chairman from Mr. Mendelssohn. The make-up of the local committee and complete program for the celebration will be announced shortly, he says.

Splendid Record

Observance of Navy Day, anniversary of the founding of the navy and of the birth of Theodore Roosevelt, father of our modern navy, has been arranged for the purpose of commemorating the navy's splendid record in both war and peace, from the time of Washington to the present, and to direct the attention of the American people to our need for a sea force adequate for defense and to command the respect of the entire world, according to Mr. Altenberg It is felt that the attention of all people should be directed to that need particularly this year, because of the uncertain state of affairs faced by the world and the desire of the United States to maintain its peace. A strong naval "police force," backed by all the people, is a necessary guarantee for peace in such times, it is felt

"We want never again to permit the United States to become embroiled in war, but in the event of a general world war—and that does not seem impossible right now—we feel that our only protection, our only guarantee against gigantic losses of life and property and the expenditure of billions of dollars, is a military strength on both land and sea that would serve as notice to aggressive nations that they could not safely invade our shores, attack and seize our missions, consulates, and embassies abroad, interfere with our legitimate commerce, molest our people in other lands, or safely carry on un-American propaganda in our own land."

Proclamation

The navy day proclamation as signed by Pres. H. H. Burkart is as follows:

Whereas, Navy Day will be observed throughout this nation on Monday, October 28, for the purpose of honoring the personnel and officers of our country's sea forces who stand ready to defend our land and institutions against invasion and aggression by unfriendly pow-

Myron B. McCrumb, a life-time resident of Novi, and father of Fred McCrumb of Northville, died at the age of 65, last Friday, Oct. 18, in his home in Novi. Funeral services were held at the Novi Methodist church Monday afternoon with the Rev. H. J. Lord conducting the services; burial was in the Novi cemetery.

COUNCIL MEETING DATE NOT SET YET

Due to the absence of three commissioners, the village council did not hold its regular bi-monthly meeting Monday. Two of the five voting members of the council were out of town, and a third, ill. Finding that a quorum could not be obtained any time this week, Dr. H. H. Burkart, president of the council, postponed the meeting. When the Record went to press, no decision as to the date for the commissioners to convene had as yet been set.

LOCAL SALESROOMS DISPLAY NEW CARS CHANGES ARE NOTED

Situated twenty miles from the automobile center of the world Northville's potential new car buyers are showing interest in the recent announcements of the 1936 automobiles. Local salesrooms are now thronged with customers, or those who would like to be owners of new cars.

Since last Saturday the Rennie-Mahrle Ford salesroom has held many interested observers who have come in to see the 1936 Ford. The small unit plants located here make the interest in the Ford run high.

Chief changes in the car are to be noticed in the re-styling of the front end. The hood has been lengthened and the ornamental grilling has been brought forward to give the car the appearance of greater length. A new style modified artillery type wheel with large centers and correspondingly proportioned tires go a long way toward adding to the further beauty of the car. Minor interior refinements and engine improvements are also to be noticed. As for body design the lines are practically the same as those used in last year's car although they have been somewhat softened to add to the streamlined effect.

The Hicks car was also damaged

HARVEST FESTIVAL THURSDAY BREAKS PRECEDING RECORDS

A record sum of approximately $450 was made at the harvest festival held in the Presbyterian church house last Thursday. This sum, according to the Rev. H. G. Whitfield surpasses last year's total by $100. The $350 sum reached last year was a record until that time.

The luncheon and dinner, served by the women's organizations, were served to 450 persons, and the total crowd at the affair was estimated at 600.

SALLY BELL BAKERY MOVES TO NEW SITE

Location Will Be In Heart of Downtown Shopping District

The Sally Bell bakery, formerly located on Center street, opened its doors at a new location on Main street this week. C. P. Herr, owner, has announced a record sale, to mark the occasion.

The bakery, which has been situated at 134 N. Center street for the six years in which Mr. Herr has been in the bakery business here is now in what was formerly the Stark Brothers store.

Although the new location will not provide any more room, the site is much more desirable, Mr. Herr believes. Being situated between the Atlantic & Pacific and Kroger stores much of the shopping crowd will pass it.

The store has had to be remodelled and redecorated to accommodate the bakery. Although it was expected that the move would be made before this week, the ovens had to be put in, partitions set up, and a great deal of painting had to be done, delaying the more.

NORTHVILLE EASTERN STAR MEMBERS ENJOY STATE CONVENTION

Three Northville Eastern Star delegates attended the Grand chapter meeting of the Eastern Star which was held Oct 8-11 in Grand Rapids Mrs. N. F. Dunne, Mrs. Charles Freydl, and E. M. Bogart were present when the session opened Tuesday.

In an auditorium decorated in blue and silver, the impressive ceremonies began for the 1400 Michigan delegates. Welcoming speeches were extended by the mayor of Grand Rapids, by Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald, and by the Grand Master of the Grand Lodge F. & A. M.

Mrs Dunne and Mrs. Freydl were members of the group of matrons and associate matrons from Wayne county who acted as escorts to the guests of honor. Mr Bogart was also a grand guard.

The Wayne county women escorts were especially lauded for the formations which they achieved to welcome the guests. For the governor, a large block "M" was formed, and for the grand master of the grand lodge of Michigan, a square and compass that was so striking that the participants were asked by the grand matron to repeat it later in the program. Throughout the three days, a variety of square and triangle formations were executed.

On Wednesday the delegates attended the beautiful memorial services, on Thursday elections were held, and on that afternoon the installation of officers. The delegates returned to their homes on Thursday evening.

(The Plymouth Mail)

The Northville Record tells of first steps being taken by that community for the organization of a chamber of commerce. It is possible that the newly formed group will not be termed just that, but the business men of the community have decided that the time has come for the good of the community as well as themselves they should act as a unit.

It is a step in the right direction and even though there might not be considerable activity displayed in its early days and results might seem remote, good is sure to come from it.

Much more can be accomplished by united action than in any other way. There is only one thing to do and that is to keep on trying and keep on working. By united effort the progressive little neighboring community can accomplish the same results for the business interests of the town as has the fair association members of Northville who even through the darkest days of the depression conducted a successful fair. Keep up the good work and make the new organization a real one.

JAMES F. THOMPSON TALKS AT EXCHANGE MEETING WEDNESDAY

Agricultural Commissioner Speaks on Michigan Farm Products

James F. Thompson, commissioner of agriculture, told Exchange members in a speech before them Wednesday that the Michigan agricultural department is devoting a great deal of time to the problem of spray residue, and that there are now nine laboratories throughout the state working on the subject

Mr. Thompson's speech, which he gave under the title of "The Value of Agriculture to Michigan," was addressed to the regular weekly meeting of the Exchange club held in the Methodist church home. He stressed the current problem which has arisen from the residue left on agricultural products by the spray, and said that federal agents inspecting Michigan facilities praised them as one of the finest setups in the country

In spite of Michigan's reputation as an automobile and manufacturing state, it ranks tenth or better in 17 of the 22 major agricultural products, Mr. Thompson said In his summary of agricultural conditions, the commissioner declared that 85 per cent of the peabeans used in the United States are raised in Michigan, that we have more honey than any other state except California, and that Van Buren county alone produces more grapes than any state in the country outside of Michigan.

The oldest state university, the oldest state college, and the oldest state fair, are three more things which Mr. Thompson declared Michigan could lay claim to

That Michigan's legislature effectiveness is equal to its agricultural prowess is evidenced in the fact that the federal food and drug act was directly patterned after the Michigan act governing similar regulations, Mr. Thompson concluded.

Exchange members were especially urged to bring to the meeting persons interested in agriculture. Guests included: Ralph Foreman, George R. Simmons, and John Christianson.

ROTARY CLUB GIVES HALLOWE'EN DINNER TUESDAY EVENING

'Ladies' Night' is Occasion For Fall Party at Church House

Dignified members of the Rotary club unbended Tuesday evening for the fun of the annual "ladies' night" Hallowe'en party, held in the Presbyterian church house. Charles Schoultz, as chairman of the entertainment committee, planned the affair, and was assisted by a number of the women who were to be present

Forty-four were present for the chicken dinner which preceded the evening's activities. The decoration committee, using the autumn and Hallowe'en theme, had the church house transfigured with leaves, cornstalks and pumpkins

Horns and other noisemakers assisted the Rotarians in their effort toward keeping up the Hallowe'en spirit, and bobbing apples and other kid games helped toward the merry end A contest to see who could make the best jack-o-lanterns had several self-ordained winners.

Guests of the club were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Chapman, Mrs. H G Whitfield, Mr. and Mrs John Litsenberger, Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Lebbitt, Mrs F S Harmon Mr and Mrs. C W Truxell, Mr and Mrs. Alex Reanie, and Miss Frances Alexander.

MAJOR BOWES IS IMPERSONATED BY GRADE CHILDREN

Miss Ann Richards Planned Amateur Hour For Friday Program

The old-time Friday afternoon custom of laying aside books and giving the time over to "speaking pieces" and singing has been revived in the grades of Northville public schools.

Believing that children today are missing some of the training that was given to our parents when they stood before their schoolmates and recited "Woodman, Spare That Tree!" and "Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight," the teachers of the grades have conspired to gather the entire group periodically for Friday afternoon exercises.

Last Friday afternoon all the children from the grade building filed by classes into the high school gymnasium and took their places in groups. Upon their folded rugs on the floor sat the tiny kindergarteners with the older children crowded upon the bleachers according to their size behind them and overflowing into the gallery.

Miss Ann Richards, kindergarten teacher, had the program of the day in charge and planned it so that a large number of children took part.

Before an improvised microphone young David Amerman, son of Superintendent R. H. Amerman, announced the radio program of Major Bowes' amateur hour Major Bowes, represented by Philip Baldwin, in long-tailed coat and high hat, called upon the amateurs who took their places in turn before the audience.

Following is the program which showed no small amount of ability: tap dance, Marilyn Gunsell; duet, Dana Lee Washburne and Delphine Nilly; song, Eleanor Mitchell; song, Nancy Defino; piano solo, Barbara

Inquiring Record Reporter Given Various Answers Concerning Needs For the Betterment of Northville

The question "What would you suggest be done for the betterment of Northville?" when asked by The Record inquiring reporter on Wednesday afternoon, was answered on the street in varying degrees of seriousness.

In lieu of the meeting of the newly organized business association which was held last night, the interrogation was considered timely by most of the residents and merchants interviewed.

Two or three of the suggestions given would come under the jurisdiction of the new association only to the extent to which public opinion influences the rigidity with which laws are enforced. Two persons questioned on the street spoke of the congested traffic in the village resulting from the way motorists double park on the narrow streets here. It was noted by those interviewed even as the comment was being made that cars were left standing in the middle of the street when parking space next to the curb was available.

"There is too much speeding in the business and residential districts," answered a woman who was asked the question. "The cars go too fast and it isn't safe to cross the streets," she continued.

A progressive merchant suggested that the attractiveness of the village could be increased if the streets were kept cleaner.

Another civic-minded man expressed the opinion that the business section should be well lighted at night. "If show windows attractively displaying merchandise were lighted in the evening, this wouldn't look like a small country town," he asserted.

"The approach to the village would be greatly improved if the Parkway drive on the Seven Mile road were lighted," commented a pleasant local business man in answer to the question.

It was this same man's opinion

UNUSUAL NUMBER OF KINDERGARTENERS ARE UNDERWEIGHT

More than half of the children in Northville's kindergarten are underweight, according to Miss Ann Richards, kindergarten director. Although last year's number of children who were not up to their normal weight only amounted to from six to eight during the entire year, this year 29 out of the 48 little pupils do not up the scales to the right amount.

Miss Richards believes that most of the parents did not know the right weight for their children or that they were below normal, but that there should be more improvement now that reports have been sent to the homes giving the parents of each underweight child the information as to their present weight, height and normal weight.

Milk given to the children every day at the school should help them to gain. Most of the milk this year Miss Richards said, is paid for by the parents, only two or three receiving free milk as opposed to the eight or nine that were not able to pay last year.

SCHOOL BOARD STILL HAS NO INSTRUCTIONS

Officials Become Impatient As Washington Letter Delays Action

With all work held up on account of the delay, the school board has still not received the expected letter from Washington for which they have waited for two weeks, meantime suspending all action on the PWA grant for the new school addition.

A telephone call yesterday to Lawrence M. Bailey, one of the officials in the Detroit PWA office, revealed that the letters are supposed to be going out from Washington at the rate of about 300 a day, and that Northville should receive its instructions soon.

Although the $27,272 school project has been approved, R. H. Amerman, superintendent of schools, received a letter from M. E. Cooley, acting director of the Public Works Administration, asking him to suspend all action pending a letter from Washington containing instructions.

According to Mr. Amerman, the board is getting increasingly impatient as Nov. 10, the deadline for architect's plans gets nearer.

The letter, Mr. Amerman said, was to contain complete explanations of the bonding procedure that would have to be taken, and of the public election that will have to be held

"The six days' notice that must be given before the public meeting to officially approve the project, makes it imperative that we receive the letter soon," he said. "The grant specifies that the project must be under way by Dec 15, which date would seem to necessitate prompt action on both our part and on the part of the Washington officials."

Delay has tied up operations in every department considerably George Stalker, attorney for the school board, has also had difficulty in straightening out legal technicalities

Northville Cook's Mushroom Soup May Contain Home-Grown Product From Trabue's Production Plant

The next time the Northville housewife uses mushrooms in her cooking she may be using a home-grown product, for Dawkist mushrooms are grown by Jack Trabue on Wixom road just north of Grand River avenue.

It is a surprise that the average person does not realize the complications and infinite detail as well as the large capital investment necessary to the successful commercial growth of mushrooms.

First of all, the most important requirement in this business is a man or men who thoroughly understand the business. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Trabue and seven-year-old son, Jimmie, live at 225 Center street while the production plant is located at 1815 Wixom road. Mr. Trabue has spent many years travelling and studying mushroom production from every angle. His early training was along an entirely different line, in fact, he had spent two years in medical training when circumstances at home compelled a change in plans. Mr. Trabue says that his chemistry training has stood him in good stead in his present business

A part of the necessary equipment are two large, exceptionally well-built mushroom houses. These are built of the best materials and thoroughly insulated to prevent temperature changes in the houses. Mr. Trabue is now building an additional building to be used as a canning house. Very splendid equipment is necessary for heating as well as temperature control, there being an extensive refrigeration system installed to control climatic growing conditions.

The mushroom growing houses are equipped with large bins on either side of a central walk-way. These bins extend upward for several tiers until you are reminded of your childhood days when you climbed up to the top of the pantry shelves, shelf after shelf. These bins

TRAINING SCHOOL PRINTING SHOP GETS LINOTYPE

Paroled Printers To Have Better Chance For Positions

Renewed interest in the printing business has been stimulated at the Wayne County Training School by the purchase of a new linotype which was secured for the school this month. A. Abrams, head of the print shop, said that the addition is almost invaluable.

Many of the boys who are now paroled are making their living in printing, and with the additional training afforded them to learn the operation of a linotype, these who are yet to be paroled ought to find employment that much easier, Mr. Abrams said.

Formerly all of the copy coming to the shop was hangset with foundry type.

TEACHERS TO ATTEND MICHIGAN EDUCATION CONVENTION TODAY

School will be closed all day today to allow the Northville teachers to attend the teachers convention in Detroit

Many of the teachers from here attended the opening meetings last night. The convention meetings will continue through Saturday, including introductory meetings of general interest, divisional and discussion groups

Sponsored by the Michigan Education association, the three-day convention program in Detroit is for Region One exclusively, for although each region has its convention, the meetings are not held simultaneously all over the state.

Although the groups will meet all over the city, each teacher will go for the more special discussions to the one discussing her own field of interest.

NORTHVILLE TO HAVE WPA WADING POOL

New Project To Be Started Near Cass Benton's Ball Diamond

Northville will have one of the five wading pools to be constructed in Wayne county parks with funds provided by the Works Progress administration and the Wayne county road commission, sponsors of the project, it was announced this week.

The Northville pool will be located in Cass Benton park near the baseball diamond.

Other pools will be located in Lola park, along the Five Mile road, Middle Rouge park, and Huron River park. Two of the five will be situated in Lola park.

The government contribution for the project will amount to $17,319 for wages and materials, and the commission's share will come to $10,831.40.

According to present plans excavation work will begin on the pools at once although the concrete work may be delayed until spring if cold weather sets in about the time the excavating is completed.

The WPA announcement says that the project is planned to give work to 60 men for a period of four months.

CROP FIGURE FOR SEASON HIGHEST IN SEVEN YEARS

Gain Noted in Oats, Barley, Field Beans, Peaches And Plums

A composite October crop figure of 82.4 per cent was the highest for that date in the last seven years, according to a statement issued this week by the United States department of agriculture for the state of Michigan

Although buckwheat, sugar beets, potatoes, apples, pears and grapes show a decline over the early September report a gain is noted for oats, barley, field beans, peaches and plums

Data received from the agricultural department places the corn figure for the state at 46,860,000 bushels, which is approximately 10 million bushels or 27 per cent above the 5-year average production. The preliminary production estimate for oats is 2 per cent and that for barley 23 per cent below the 5-year (1928-32) average.

A total production of 4,595,000 bags of field beans during the current season, was 1,218,000 bags more than the 1934 harvest and 1,351,000 bags in excess of the 5-year average crop in this state This favor-

During the weeks that Mr. Baldwin is forced to be away from his desk because of illness, the editorial columns will be filled by "guest editors." The first of these is by the Rev. Harold G. Whitfield.

o—o—o

(Writer's note: I'm sure we all regret the illness of our Editor, Mr. Baldwin, and shall miss his weekly contribution appearing on this page. I am glad to help in this little way, and join with all his well-wishers in Northville and elsewhere, in hoping that he will soon be in possession of one of life's great blessings—good health.)

THAT FORGOTTEN FACTOR

By the Rev. Harold G. Whitfield, Presbyterian Minister

Of all the things for which Northville is known and noted, one rather negative characteristic distinguishes it. Visitors from afar or those who motor through, or newcomers find this town favorably situated, reasonably progressive, with people up to the average (if not above it) in intelligence and respectability, and elements of friendliness and sociability sufficient to cause its guests to want to linger awhile. Let the man who has lived here ten or twelve years, decide to select another town as a residence and he will begin to realize what he is going to have to leave behind.

Having read thus far you are wondering what we think has been forgotten and what makes this town distinctive. To relieve the suspense, we say without further digression, "the attitude of its people to the church"—feeble loyalty and poor church attendance. Speaking of the Protestant church membership as a whole it is quite appalling to note how weak and anaemic are the efforts in this relation. Frankly, the writer is bewildered oftimes to understand the attitude and the following consideration seems to be the rational interpretation of the situation. St. Paul, in his day deplored the fact that manpower, brain-power and money-power were lacking. Northville can't escape its responsibility on that basis.

What is the situation and why the condition? Northville is ambitious for organization. The tendency of any small town is to try and embrace all the societies and clubs which only a large town can afford. It might be pointed out that any organization should be a servant and not a master or tyrant. One would be amazed if he tried to enumerate the organizations of this town and shocked to realize the competition and duplication of time, effort and money. Over-organization becomes a weariness and burden rather than an advantage and a source of help and happiness. We do not have people to go around—sufficient to assume leadership and bear responsibility, with the inevitable result that the ablest, most willing and enterprising are forced to carry responsibilities in two or more groups, thus loading them down and making effective leadership, to say nothing of the comfort of the recipient, well nigh impossible. In larger centers there can be a distribution of these burdens. This excess luggage of multiplicity of organizations militates against high attainment in any one instance. Our over-extended living makes our effects and impressions in any one place slight and inconsequential.

How does this affect church loyalty? Unfortunately with many people the church is just another organization, and must scramble for an existence along with all the rest, possibly requiring less consideration because it is the oldest. Now, any fair-minded individual will admit that in reality, the church is the parent of all the groups in this or any other town. It furnishes the leaders and the dependable workers, as well as the principles of the groups which too often become its competitors. The question comes, how long will enthusiasm continue after the source is forsaken? We fear ours is a dangerous procedure and plead for simplicity and above all a new consciousness in which it will be made clear that loyalty to the church which makes first claim upon our affections and resources in time, energy and money, is paramount. There are major loyalties and minor loyalties. Have we been guilty of majoring on minors? If we find it hard to be generous in this matter let us try to be rational and fair.

SOCIAL CREDIT

Mr. Aberhart, Alberta's new premier, rode to overwhelming victory on the "share-the-wealth" platform. He proposes to pay $25.00 a month to every adult citizen in the province out of what is called the "unearned increment" in production. It's a big order and its mere proposal has stimulated much interest and sentiment. As far as one can gather, while the average citizen is not going to put anything in the Premier's way, the general belief is that he will not succeed, but at least he is honestly trying to get somewhere in these difficult times. Also, while some oppose, in principle and others favour, the great majority of her citizens are anxious to learn more about the system. Its obvious objective is the financial solution of the problem of widespread poverty in the midst of abundance.

HONESTY

We should sing your praises, HONESTY, wherever we find you. What a jewel and all too rare! Before leaving for vacation the writer sought to equip himself with a goodly collection of reading material and in the class of lighter reading, the American Magazine usually finds a place. Wishing to have the July issue and happening to see the boy from whom I had previously gotten this magazine, I asked him if he had that copy. "No," was the answer, "I have just sent back the unsold copies." In a few minutes the red-headed, freckled-faced fellow returned with the information that he could get me a copy provided I did not mind if the top of the cover page were lacking—(he had sent this to the publishers for his refund). "Okay." In a short time the magazine was delivered but the protest came when I endeavored to pay him. "Don't you understand I have already received allowance for this number, I'm giving this to you." But I came back, "I'm not paying you for the paper, it's just my appreciation of your courtesy and trouble in looking it up and bringing it to me, besides your honesty in the matter appeals to me." But the boy got the better of the argument for with a sincere "thank you, just the same," he was soon beyond my reach as he cycled away. The same boy remembered for three months back that he had been paid a nickel too much and succeeded a few days ago in squaring the account. Such qualities as these will not be damaged by recognition. Harvey Ritchie, receive our applause.

The Centennial celebration of the Methodist church in Northville opens Sunday morning with a special sermon by the pastor, the Rev. H. H. Mallinson.

One of the very finest meetings of the Northville Woman's club was held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Rogers. The members of the Redford and Farmington Woman's clubs were the guests. Approximately 150 were present in all.

In a speech before a group of 50 Exchangites Wednesday evening, Anthony Matullo, legal representative for the Italian Consul of Detroit declared that Italy is better ruled than the United States.

The annual Red Cross membership drive will begin Nov. 1 and will continue through Nov. 11 when the town will be thoroughly canvassed by solicitors for new memberships.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

A NEW CROP CONTROL

(Livingston County Republican Press, Howell, Mich.)

Crop control by electricity has been forecast by Dr. S. M. Kintner, vice president of the Westinghouse company. In a talk before the advertising club of New York, he said:

"The possibilities appear almost limitless. Much can be expected from the control of insects that now infest grains and plants.

"The seeds that are now carrying these vicious menaces will be freed and given better opportunity for their start in life.

"What will be the effect on plant growth of these new uses of radiations? The treatments of some kinds of radiations like x-rays are known to influence the plant's characteristics to such an extent that new varieties are thereby created.

"One need go but a step more to imagine conditions of selection by some such means that would permit of destroying the undesired weeds and thus render available all the food wasted by weeds.

"Isn't it readily conceivable that in the preparation of the soil for planting by some electrical treatment, it could be rendered free from seeds of weeds and thus greatly reduce the labor and expense of subsequent care of crops?

EXPOSED

(The Iron River Reporter)

More than one person in the district reflected quietly over the short items telling of the death in Addis Abeba of a correspondent for The Chicago Tribune—a death he invited by his search along the war fronts for information about the conflict that was then brewing.

They recognized that only brilliant men are given the difficult assignment of covering the crisis in Africa. They may have noticed that Will Barber was but 31 years of age when malaria sent him to a grave on a hilltop overlooking the Ethiopian capital. They probably recognized the tragedy of only partially fulfilled promise that was his.

Pausing a little longer, the persons who read may have wondered what was the driving force that sent a man to the "yellow hell" of the Ogaden desert and to the fever-ridden territory surrounding it. They must have realized it was more than a daring spirit or the thrill of competition, that it was instead a firm conviction that the world must know accurately the events which make its history.

In one sense, it may seem strange that brilliant men should be exposed to such dangers. In another, it is not at all out of the ordinary. Brilliant men are required to interpret the factors inexorably carving out the history of 1935 and every other year. As the assignment grows in difficulty and complexity, so must grow the caliber of the men who provide the news about it.

MARK TWAIN'S "WAR PRAYER"

(Birmingham Eccentric)

Thirty years ago Mark Twain, the great American humorist, wrote a "War Prayer." With all the war activity abroad now, it is fitting that we ponder the ironical truth of this brain child of the beloved writer.

"I have told the whole truth in that prayer," Mr. Twain once remarked, "and only dead men can tell the truth in this world. Therefore, please publish it after I am dead." Here is the famous prayer:

"O Lord our God, help us to tear their soldiers to bloody shreds with our shells; help us to cover their smiling fields with the pale forms of their patriot dead; help us to drown the thunder of the guns with the wounded, writhing in pain; help us to lay waste to their humble homes with a hurricane of fire; help us to wring the hearts of their unoffending widows with unavailing grief; help us to turn them out roofless with their children to wander unfriended through wastes of their desolated land in rags and hunger and thirst, sport of the sun flames of summer and the icy winds of winter, broken in spirit, worn with travail, imploring Thee for the refuge of the grave and denied it—for our sakes, who adore Thee, Lord, blast their hopes, blight their lives, protract their bitter pilgrimage, make heavy their steps, water their way with tears, stain the white snow with the blood of their wounded feet! We ask of One who is the spirit of love and who is the ever-faithful refuge and friend of all that are sore beset, and seek His aid with humble and contrite hearts. Grant our prayer, O Lord, and Thine shall be the praise and honor and glory, now and ever. Amen."

FALL PURSUITS

By Florence Riddick Boys

Summer, the play-day, hey-day is over and the children are back in school. Most mothers welcome the call to get back to their own work routine. When the last of the fruits and vegetables are canned, there will be the airing of blankets, coats and winter things which were packed away with moth repellant. Then all must be inspected, mended, made over or given to someone who needs them more than we do.

Everything in the house should have the "once over," be sorted, appraised and rearranged. Summer things will be cleaned, labelled and packed away. Wash the summer curtains and draperies and put them away without ironing.

The house will come in for its share of rearrangement. Beds will be placed in corners where they will be out of the draughts when the windows are left hygienically open on winter nights. Door mats will appear at doors to prepare muddy feet for entrance into the house. Screens will come down and be stored away. The house will have its fall housecleaning, which will not go as deep as in the spring.

The living room will transfer its center of interest from the doors and windows to the fireplace. Furniture will be grouped to face toward it. Reading lamps beside comfy chairs will entice to long winter evenings at home.

And ourselves? Have we plenty of interests, and activities to keep life happy and useful and our souls alert? Though the outdoor season is past, there is no excuse for boredom nor lonesomeness.

If you feel the slightest touch of these maladies, select a hobby; hobnob with the neighbor children; borrow a baby; collect stamps; study a foreign language, take a college extension course; enroll in a gymnasium class; get up a hiker's club; engage in church work or join a club. The modern women's clubs offer more than a hundred various lines of study and activity. You should be able to find in one of these some interest to suit your taste.

The welfare departments of such clubs offer you an opportunity to lose yourself and your boredom—in absorbing work for "the blind the halt the lame" and the unfortunate. If you can't think of anything better—and it would be hard to find anything better — select some underprivileged child and become a real friend to him, helping him to have his chance in life and to make of himself the higher type of individual he has a right to become.

Fall Shrubs

Shrubs may be planted in either spring or fall, but the fall is really the most desirable time, since they naturally lie dormant all winter and moving them now does not hinder their growth, and they will be ready to start growing early in the spring. They should be mulched lightly after the ground is frozen, to hold them tightly in place.

Dig the hole for your shrubs wide and deep to give the roots ample room to spread. Pack the fine soil firmly about the roots. Prune back the top at least one third to make up for the rootlets which will be lost. Above all, water them generously. Usually they are watered too little. The best way is to let the hose drip on them for hours that the soil may absorb the water to a great depth.

In spacing your shrubs learn what their spread will be when full grown, and allow ample room that they may not be crowded. For the first few years, when the shrubs are small and appear too far apart, fill in about them with annuals such as cosmos or other high growing plants. One thing which shrubs need, which is often forgotten, is a free circulation of air about them. They will not do well if placed back in a corner where they do not have breathing space.

For the small yard plant dwarf varieties of shrubs. Many so-called shrubs grow to become trees and are not suitable for town premises.

Corn Flake Macaroons

2 egg whites, 2 cups corn flakes, ½ cup chopped nutmeats, 1 cup moist shredded cocoanut, 1 cup brown sugar, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Beat egg whites until they are stiff enough to hold their shape but not until they lose their shiny appearance. Fold in sugar carefully, then fold in corn flakes, nutmeats and cocoanut. Add vanilla. Drop on well-greased baking sheet and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for about fifteen to twenty minutes. Remove macaroons from pan with spatula immediately after taking from oven.

Marguerites

2 eggs, slightly beaten; 1 cup brown sugar; ½ cup flour; 1/3 teaspoon salt; 1 cup pecan nut meats, cut in small pieces; ¼ teaspoon baking powder.

Mix in order given. Fill small buttered tins two-thirds full of mixture and place pecan nut meat on each. Bake 8 to 15 minutes in moderate oven (350° F.).

Date Nut Refrigerator Cookies

2 eggs, 1 cup butter, 2 cups brown sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup nutmeats, 1 cup dates, 3½ cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda.

Cream butter and sugar and add well-beaten eggs. Mix well. Add nuts and dates which have been put through food chopper and then the flour mixed and sifted with salt and soda. Shape in rolls, wrap in waxed paper and store in refrigerator. Slice thin and bake on a floured cookie sheet in hot oven (375° F.).

Veal "Birds"

Mix as for meat loaf, one pound each of ground veal, pork and beef, and salt and cracker crumbs and shape into individual rolls. Put a piece of bacon around each and fasten it with a toothpick. Brown in hot fat in a fry pan, rolling them over until all sides are browned; cover and simmer gently for an hour.

Double Feature Program Includes 'We're In The Money;' Show Gay Tuneful Picture Next Wednesday

Warner Bros. hilarious comedy, "We're In The Money," opens at the Penniman-Allen theatre Friday and Saturday, with that inimitable trio of comedians, Joan Blondell, Glenda Farrell and Hugh Herbert in the stellar roles.

The story by George R. Bilson, and the screen version are said to be extremely funny and filled with chuckles and riotous laughs.

The picture concerns the efforts of two chiseling girls, Joan Blondell and Glenda Farrell, to serve subpoenas on wealthy men in breach of promise suits.

They work for a shyster lawyer played by Hugh Herbert, who is so absent minded he frequently forgets which side he is on.

Glenda remains forever the gold digger, but Blondell falls in love with a wealthy young man dressed in a chauffeur's uniform to escape process servers.

Ross Alexander is the hunted man.

Phil Regan sings a catchy air written especially for the picture by the famous team of Wrubel and Dixon. Man Mountain Dean and Chief Little Wolf, playing in their own characters, stage a most hilarious, as well as thrilling wrestling match.

Others in the cast include Hobart Cavanaugh, Anita Kerry, Henry O'Neil, Lionel Stander, E. E. Clive and Ed. Gargan. Raymond Enright directed the picture from the screen play by F. Hugh Herbert and Brown Holmes, adapted by Erwin Gelsey.

"IVORY HANDLED GUNS"

A second feature, "Ivory Handled Guns," is an additional attraction for the program Friday and Saturday at the local theatre.

"KING SOLOMON OF BROADWAY"

The inside story of how Broadway "night spots" go about getting the publicity which makes them famous is revealed in Universal's gay and tuneful "King Solomon of Broadway," starring Edmund Lowe coming to the Penniman-Allen theatre next Wednesday. Lowe, playing the role of a "bright light" dance palace manager uses a society girl as his foil to get the place onto the front pages of the newspapers and thus makes a clean up.

Lowe, at the start of the production, loses money to a group of gamblers who would rather shoot him than eat, and then gives the dance palace as security when they threaten to put him on the spot. Actually he is then on two spots because he doesn't really own the place. He has built it from money advanced him by "Ice" Larson, a "public enemy" played by Edward Pawley.

Lowe, in getting out of the painful situation in which he finds himself, has to use the singing and dancing of Pinky Tomlin; the singing of beautiful Dorothy Page, the patronage of Louise Henry, playing the society girl and his friendship with millionaires before he sees his way clear financially and romantically.

The dance palace, brought to the screen in one mammoth set, forms a background for most of the stirring action, which includes a shooting, a stick-up and several other highlights, including a hand-to-hand battle between Lowe and Pawley. The production was directed by Alan Crosland from an original story and screenplay by Albert J. Cohen and Robert T. Shannon.

NUTRITIVE VALUE OF VEGETABLES IS LECTURE SUBJECT

As part of the series of home economics courses which are being offered by the extension division of the Michigan State college, several Northville women plan to attend the nutrition demonstrations to be given four times during the year.

"Adding Zest to Vegetables" will be the subject of the first demonstration to be given by Miss Roberta Hershey of the extension department. Believing that highly nutritive vegetables, valuable for good health and vitality, are often avoided because they are not appetizingly served, Miss Emma DuBord, the Wayne county home demonstration agent, has sponsored this series to offer many suggestions for serving Michigan garden products, either fresh or canned.

The schedule for the demonstrations, which are open to the public, is: Tuesday, Oct. 29, 2 p. m., Flat Rock high school; Wednesday, Oct. 30, 2 p. m., Belleville high school; Thursday, Oct. 31, 2 p. m., Plymouth high school; Friday, Nov. 1, 2 p. m. THE NEW FORD V-8 FOR 1936

Why do we say The New Ford V-8 for 1936?

What is new about it?

Of course, the newest engine in the low-price car field is still the V-8 engine. Since Ford made it available to all car users (keeping it as economical as cars with fewer cylinders) the Ford V-8 has been the newest engine on the market and remains the newest for 1936.

You may buy a car on minor "talking points"—some specially advertised feature "with the car thrown in"—but, after all, it is the engine you buy when you buy a car. Hence we put the engine first.

Other new points about the car make a long list.

Its lines are much more beautiful. The hood is longer and sweeps forward over the distinctive new radiator grille, giving the car a length and grace that are instantly impressive. The fenders are larger, with a wide flare. Horns are concealed behind circular grilles beneath the headlamps. New steel wheels.

Ford upholstery—always of sterling quality and excellent taste—is rich and enduring. The appointments of the car have a new touch of refinement. There is no question about the increased beauty of the Ford V-8 for 1936.

In more practical matters, many improvements have been made—Steering is made easier by a new steering gear ratio. The cooling system circulates 5½ gallons of water through a new, larger radiator. Natural thermo-syphon action is assisted by two centrifugal water pumps. New style hood louvres permit a rapid air-flow around the engine.

Easier, quieter shifting of Ford gears—The gear shift lever now travels a shorter distance.

The two qualities you want in brakes—Brakes that stop the car with ease and certainty. Ford Super-Safety Brakes of the long-tested, fool-proof, mechanical design.

Safety—as always—in the electrically welded genuine steel body. Safety Glass all around at no extra cost. Hundreds have written grateful letters because this glass has protected the safety of their families.

A car you can drive without strain all day, if you like, in city or country. Steady, holds the road, responds to the driver's touch like a well-trained horse. You don't have to "push" or "fight" the Ford V-8—driver and car easily get on terms of good understanding with each other.

An engine has much to do with the roominess of a car. Very much indeed. A long engine uses up car space. The compact V-8 engine permits much of the ordinary engine space to be used by passengers.

It really is a great car in every way, this 1936 Ford V-8—the finest, safest, most dependable Ford car ever built. Now on display by Ford dealers.

CROP FIGURES HIGH FOR THIS SEASON

able condition is reported to have declined to some extent during the past month in central and west-central counties and other areas where late fields were damaged by frosts. Four other states, New York, Wyoming, Colorado and California show improved yield prospects during September.

Higher prices for potato growers is the prospect this fall. The reduction in the national supply of nearly 20 million bushels and the improvement in consumer purchasing power are factors which are influencing the better returns. The potato crop in Michigan declined about 9 per cent during the month of September. Frosts early in September stopped further growth in parts of the Upper Peninsula and in some central and west-central counties of lower Michigan.

The sugar beet crop in the state also declined during September, principally because of the blight damage. The crop is estimated at 392,000 tons.

Further crop information released by the department tabulates the Michigan commercial apple crop for fresh consumption at 5,600,000 bushels or 1,410,000 bushels above average. Although apples in most of the eastern states show good size, injury from scab is more extensive than usual and much of the fruit, especially in non-commercial orchards, will be of poor quality the government report reveals.

Senator Sherman and Alabama

Although an Ohioan—Senator John Sherman introduced in congress the bill providing for the readmission of Alabama to the Union in 1868, the Ohio legislature protested. The Buckeye lawmakers were opposed to what they termed "forcing on a sister state a constitution made by disfranchising anyone who refused to take a test oath in favor of negro suffrage."

Knowledge Value

Knowledge is of little avail unless it comes home to the individual as his or her own.

INQUIRING REPORTER SEEKS SUGGESTIONS FROM TOWNSPEOPLE

that the water supply could be bettered. He spoke of the time twelve years ago when no one went to the springs for drinking water. The city water at that time was good and did not contain large quantities of iron which is the case now. His suggestion was that the pipe line be brought back to the former level in order to have pure water which is pleasant and healthful to use.

"Every day we have inquiries in this store for rental property," said an employee questioned in a busy place of business. "Homes and apartments for those who wish to rent are hard to find here. Our housing facilities need to grow in order to meet the demand," he concluded.

"A bus station, centrally located, with attractive lobby for passengers waiting for transportation" was the need of paramount importance according to a reply to the question given by a woman who makes her home in the village.

Realizing that such an organization is a benefit to a community only in so far as the members make it so by hearty cooperation and willingness to forget individual interests to the extent of following the leadership of those given executive authority, one prominent man interviewed, commented upon the many things that could be done by the association. He is of the opinion that none of the things can be done to better the community by the group until the members themselves cast aside personal differences and follow the guidance of a strong leader.

BY THE WAY . . .

● you will notice by the Record that the new cars are on the market and while you are enjoying the new lines and the marked improvements even over 1935 come into the Record office and see a picture that will take you back to the days of yore. T. G. Richardson is the possessor of a large picture of a car that he owned 30 years ago. The car was known as an "Elmore" (ever heard the name?) It was a two cycle motor and a five passenger car with a brass canopy top.

● you should see the picture and you may by coming to the Record. You will find Mrs. T. G. Richardson, Miss Thelma Bennett, Mrs. Maude Bennett and Mrs. Kate Yerkes in the back seat, with T. G. Richardson and his dog in the front seat beside Lyda Richardson (now Mrs. Charles Murphy) at the wheel.

● if you have any doubt about advertisements being read consider this. Mr. and Mrs. Archer Young and family of Albion motored over on Sunday. Before coming they looked through the Record to find a good place to eat. They thought the Royal Ann cafe sounded good from the ad and there they went and Mr. Young states that they had one of the finest chicken dinners they have had in months. Telling the public what you have to sell and then delivering the goods does the job.

● someone mentioned this week that they thought the stop signs in Northville would be greatly improved if they were brightened up and in some cases put in more conspicuous spots.

● have you motored out to the corner of Haggerty and Nine Mile recently? You will notice a fine set of farm buildings in the background. There is a great deal of evidence of recent improvement and close scrutiny will reveal that a good deal of money and labor is being expended to make this a modern dairy farm. Something over a year ago C. J. Jolly of the General Motors corporation bought this 240-acre farm and has since been making major improvements.

The foundation set back nicely from the corner upon which the farm house has recently been moved, is the beginning of the Jolly residence and it gives full evidence of becoming a lovely home.

Tenant farm Holders on the farm and developing a herd of prize cows. The farmer Alton Smith and family have been on this farm for more than four years having previously worked there for Carl Schoulty, who was the owner. Mr. Smith states that they are now milking 24 cows with a mechanical milker.

● have you heard the optimistic talk about Northville and its future? Nearly everywhere you find people saying "aren't there a lot of new people coming to Northville?" What are we going to do about enough homes and apartments to house all of the people that want to move out here? What an opportune time for a civic association to be formed to tackle the problems of Northville. Have you given any suggestions for work for this association? Remember they are starting without any money in the treasury—a very nominal membership and dues basis will bring only enough to perform the routine duties connected with the association. What contribution in ideas can you make right now?

'TOBACCO ROAD' TO RUN THIRD WEEK AT CASS THEATRE

"Tobacco Road," Jack Kirkland's famous dramatization of Erskine Caldwell's novel, starts the third week of its limited engagement at the Cass theatre, Detroit, on Sunday night, Oct. 27. James Kirkwood, noted stage and screen star, heads the cast of distinguished Broadway artists. This play, in many years has stirred up as much discussion as this story of the share-croppers of the backwoods country of Georgia. Dozens of newspaper editorials have praised the play as an authentic disclosure of conditions in the south and so widespread has been the interest that a congressional investigation into these conditions is now under way. In "Tobacco Road," Jack Kirkland shows us the lives of a typical family of this type, living on the land that no longer brings them support. The play abounds with the humor that comes from the conflict of characters who know nothing but sex and religion and whose daily lives are taken up with discussions of themselves and the hope that the future will change their present conditions. The dramatic crisis of the play arises when Jeeter is threatened with the loss of his land.

James Kirkwood, whose magnificent performance in the title role of Channing Pollock's "The Fool" and in many motion pictures, has made him one of the favorite players of the country, plays Jeeter Lester with the aid of Florence Gerald as Ada, Maud Lambert as Sister Bessie and Robert Rose, Tilden Davis, Cynthia Arden, Elaine Ellis, Lillian Ardell, Marshall Hale, Donn Bennett and Walter Ayres.

The engagement of "Tobacco Road" at the Cass is a limited one. In addition to the regular performances, every evening there are matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

INSTITUTE OF ARTS HAS COLLECTION OF AMERICAN FOLK ART

The untutored genius of common men—of house painters, farmers, carpenters, blacksmiths, cabinetmakers, shipwrights, housewives, and girls in boarding school—produced the remarkable exhibition of American folk art now showing at the Detroit Institute of Arts. On display in adjoining galleries is a rare collection of early American furniture and decorative arts. Both shows are assembled from New York collections. Many of the pieces are on public exhibition for the first time and will proceed to a showing in New York.

American folk art expressed itself in surprising forms. Some of the most successful pieces in the exhibition are hammered copper and cast iron weathervanes, toys carved from wood, a decorative birth certificate, paintings on velvet and tinsel pictures on glass. In most cases it is the unaffected and even childlike expression of men and women who did not even know that they were producing art. Their work is primitive only in that it is simple. Colonial interpretations of Chippendale, Sheraton and Hepplewhite pieces reflect the sturdy American spirit. Marked silver and pewter ware represent the work of the best pewter makers from 1750 to 1820.

THIS WEEK

By H. H. WHITE

Disraeli one time said when asked to what he attributed his success in life that he never allowed his powers and ambitions to rest on failure.

This is the answer to the age-old question as to why some men succeed while others fail. In that reply of Disraeli's lies the secret, to this writer's mind, of why some men have all the luck or that fate is kinder to some than to others. Those who are successful never let their attributes and powers rest on failure.

"Opportunity" or the making of it would be a much better word than "luck" of "fate," for we can only create that which we actually desire.

People who create opportunity do so because somewhere within them is the divine spark which knows no defeat. They use every natural gift in their power and have no dormant or idle ideas. As William James says, "It is the will to do" that overcomes obstacles and spurs people on to achievement and fulfillment of their desires.

The world at large has only use for successful men who know how to take a crisis and make a success of it. Those who fail by the wayside are of lesser determination.

Men succeed in life only because they have the desire to win over all obstacles. It is a simple working philosophy, but therein lies the gateway to success in life.

QUEER MAIL COMES TO ATWOOD'S DESK

While all public officials get their share of mail improperly addressed to them, Orville E. Atwood believes his office holds some sort of record of this kind. It seems that people who do not know to whom to write, send their questions and demands to the Secretary of State, no matter who he might be. In the last few weeks, letters have covered such widely divergent matters as a complaint from a woman whose husband beats their dog, a solicitation for matrimonial advice, a request that the Secretary trace the parentage of a designated child, a demand that a certain poolroom be closed because of the character of those who allegedly patronize it, a request for the addresses of a number of Hollywood film stars and many complaints about people who are accused of making "moonshine."

BULL, REARED AT TRAINING SCHOOL, WINS AT ST. LOUIS

The St. Louis show this year provided one of the strongest classes in aged Holstein bulls ever shown in competition, each animal having previously been state, national or district champion.

SHIFTING SANDS FORM NATURAL ICE-HOUSE

LANSING, Oct. 23.—Residents of Alger county, near Grand Marais, have a natural icehouse in the Grand Marais dunes.

During the winter the snow falls and drifts into the valleys between the dunes and is covered by the shifting dune sand blown by strong northwest winds. By spring the snow has become transformed by pressure into ice, and often is covered by several feet of sand.

Farmers and cottagers in the vicinity find these supplies of ice during the summer months and use them. Those who live near the drifting sand dig holes in the ice and place perishable food in these holes; some chop pieces of the ice and transport them to their refrigerator boxes.

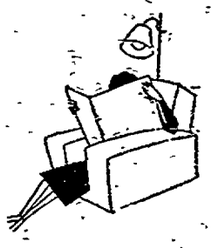
THE RECORD SHOPPER



By ELEANOR BLUM

With the winter months making it difficult to get fresh vegetables, mothers will again start worrying about the proper food for their babies. One of the local stores seems to have the answer.

In a complete line of Clapp's baby foods are everything that a baby should have, and everything to save mother work and worry. The selection includes liver soup, which, just by way of example, contains calve's liver, potato, carrot, rice, tomato, celery, cabbage, barley and salt.

In addition to the healthful liver soup, there are vegetable, baby, and unstrained soups.

The beef broth which is offered is pure, fatless broth, and unlike most baby foods, the broth and the other prepared foods of this brand have a flavor that baby will enjoy. Puree of spinach, carrots, wax beans, peas, beets, asparagus and strained tomatoes give variety to the vegetable line. The fruits include preparations of prunes, apple sauce and apricots.

Put up in the new enamel purity pack, these cans enamelled on the inside can be safely put away in the ice box after opening. And to further insure their safety, the containers have been tested and endorsed by both the Good Housekeeping Institute and the American Medical Association.

To complete their line of baby foods this store carries large convenient jars of "wheatheart" soup and long-lasting boxes of Pablum, a pre-cooked and dried breakfast food put out by Mead, famous for their baby foods. This breakfast food, devised in the Research Laboratories of the Department of Pediatrics at the University of Toronto, can be given to the baby at the age of three months. Just a measurement of the cereal and the addition of some milk, does the trick.

And finally, an article which baby may not mind now—cod liver oil. A brand containing five times the vitamin D strength of ordinary cod liver oil has been put out in plain, or tasteless oil, and in mint flavor. Many mothers, at the advice of their physicians, are now giving the babies Haliver oil. Administered in drop doses, the three drops which are equivalent to three teaspoonsful of cod liver oil, can be easily taken in orange juice.

Whales Deep Divers

The ability of the whale to dive to depths of a mile or more and come up none the worse for its journey through areas of varying water pressure is attributed by scientists to a special chemical reaction in the blood of these sea monsters.

CHEVROLET MOTOR FINISHES PROGRAM OF MODERNIZATION

M. E. Coyle, president of the Chevrolet Motor company, revealed today that the company has completed during the current year, a $25,000,000 program of plant expansion, increasing the production capacity of the ten Chevrolet assembly plants in the United States by 25 per cent, and raising the capacity of the company's own manufacturing plants, devoted to the making of axles, engines, transmissions and other units, to enable them to keep pace with the enlarged assembly plants.

The expenditure of $25,000,000 was made for the erection and equipment of new buildings at assembly and manufacturing plants, and for the re-equipment and complete modernization of existing buildings. With few exceptions, most of the operations were undertaken and carried out without announcement to the public, the list of completed improvements given out recently being the first publication of details of the program.

While the great part of Chevrolet's expenditure of $25,000,000 was to attain increased capacity in preparation for an expected increase in demand during the coming year, Mr Coyle declared that during the current year the company had carried out a comprehensive program of construction at assembly plants for the purpose of equalizing employment. This has been accomplished by providing greatly enlarged storage space at the plants, to receive and hold manufactured units till they are needed in assembly.

With the new storage facilities, plants will be enabled to spread their production more evenly over the year, building up the stock of stored parts during months that normally are regarded as slack production periods, and drawing on these reserve stocks during peak production periods. Thus, during the coming winter, it is expected that regular employment will run higher than heretofore, since the manufacturing plants will be creating parts and units that may be drawn upon during the annual spring peak season. The storage capacity now available will serve not only to ease the seasonal employment problem, but also to prevent car shortages or delayed deliveries.

CONTRACT SIGNERS BALLOT ON A-A-A PROGRAM OCT. 26

Producers to Vote on Corn. Hog Voluntary Adjustment

By RALPH CARR,
County Agricultural Agent

Contract signers for the Corn-Hog Adjustment program are balloting Oct. 26 on the AAA program.

The referendum is intended to provide an opportunity for full and free expression, both for and against a voluntary adjustment program, on the part of all corn and hog producers. If another corn and hog adjustment program is developed it will be of the same general type as the 1935 program. The procedure will be revised, however, to permit the assignment of an equitable corn and hog base to each farm under contract whether or not the farm was covered by a 1935 contract or the signer has previously participated in a corn and hog adjustment program.

Contracts are being sent to all signers but any producer can vote if he wishes to do so by coming to the office of the County Agricultural Agent, Ralph Carr, 303 Calvin building, West Dearborn, before Saturday noon, Oct. 26.

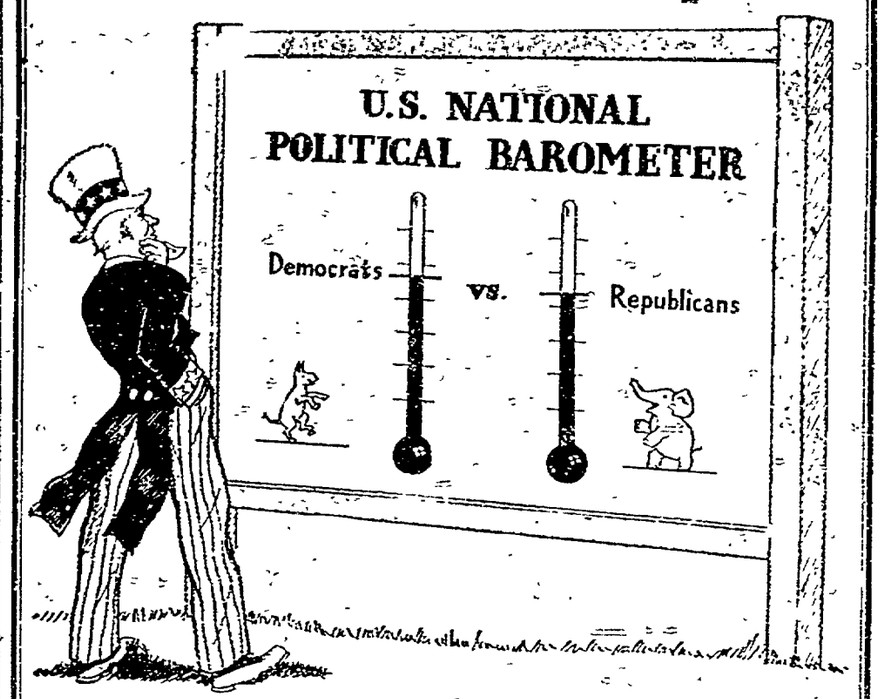
Which Party Leads Today?



Is President Roosevelt Gaining Or Losing?

READ AMERICA SPEAKS

Citizens as well as professional politicians are confused about President Roosevelt's present standing with American voters. They know he was swept into office when he defeated Hoover 59% to 41% in November, 1932. They know an election in Rhode Island last summer indicated to many observers the New Deal is far from popular in New England. But they know, too, that enthusiastic crowds of record-breaking size greeted the President at many of the places he appeared on his trip to the Pacific Coast.

What everyone is asking today is: "Is President Roosevelt gaining or losing?"

The Detroit News will print the results of a nation-wide poll on this question next Sunday. The same material will appear the same day in many other leading newspapers throughout the country. These papers, for the first time, have set aside differences of editorial opinion, and have united to make possible a fact-finding report on the state of public opinion.

St. Paul's Lutheran

"I have given them Thy Word." John 17, 14.

"I have finished the work." John 17, 4.

Here we have two mighty, eternal, unmoveable pillars—the Word of God and the work of the Incarnate Son of God. Our faith may rest on them more securely than on any earthly foundations.

This Word will never perish. Long after the stars have been forgotten, and the earth on which we dwell has been folded up like a worn out garment, this Word will live and abide. "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but My Words shall not pass away."

And though assailed on every hand
Jehovah's Word shall ever stand
The one who preaches this Word is building on the Rock of Ages, for it reveals the work of Christ, a finished work, which needs not our feeble efforts to make it complete. "There remains no more offering for sin." We have nothing to do toward our salvation. Jesus did it all. We need only accept it by faith.

Yet the pleasable, plausible, humanitarian philosophy, says countersise. What shall we bring? Presents or gifts we possess not. Cain came with his hands filled and went away empty. Abel came with empty hands and came away filled. The blood was the price. The veil has been rent. With reverent boldness we enter the holy of holies through the new and living way, trusting in God's eternal Word and work.

Since Christ hath full atonement made
And brought to us salvation,
Each Christian therefore may be glad
And build on this foundation.
Thy grace alone, dear Lord, I plead,
Thy death my life now is indeed,
For Thou has paid my ransom.
Not doubting this, I trust in Thee
Thy Word cannot be broken;
Thou all dost call, "Come unto Me!"
No falsehood hast Thou spoken.
"He that believes and is baptized,
He shall be saved," say'st Thou
O Christ,
"And he shall never perish."

Christian Science Churches

"Probation after Death" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Oct. 27.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 119:1,2): "Blessed are the undefiled in the way, who walk in the law of the Lord. Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, and that seek him with the whole heart."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 403): "We cannot spend our days here in the ignorance of the Science of Life, and expect to find beyond the grave a reward for this ignorance. Death will not make us harmonious and immortal as a recompense for ignorance."

NORTHVILLE DOWNED BY VAN DYKE, 15-0

Make-shift Line-up Plays For Home Team Friday

Northville's grid squad met defeat at the hands of Van Dyke last Friday at Cass Benton park by a score of 15 to 0.

Northville started the game once again with a make-shift line-up. Nirider and Lyke, ends, and McGee were out of the game because of injuries. Gregory, a guard, was switched over to end and Balko played the other end.

The game opened with Van Dyke kicking off to Northville on the home 20-yard line. Hay then kicked to the 50-yard line. Leich, of Van Dyke, ran the ball to the 20-yard line on an end run. After getting a penalty, Van Dyke fumbled and the boys in orange and black recovered on their own 35-yard line. Hay kicked to Van Dyke's 40-yard line. H. Murkowski, the left end, then caught a pass and ran to Northville's three-yard line. Popa then carried the ball over for the touchdown. The point was good. There was no more scoring during the remainder of the quarter.

In the second quarter, after a short punting duel, Romand, the Van Dyke right end, caught a pass and ran 37 yards for a touchdown. The try for the extra point failed.

The third quarter was scoreless. Late in the fourth quarter Van Dyke pushed the ball down to Northville's one-yard line. Northville's defense then stiffened and they held Van Dyke for four downs without letting them cross the goal line. Hay then stepped back to punt and stepped out of the end zone giving Van Dyke two more points, making the score 15 to 0. Here the score stayed during the rest of the game. Northville's big threat of the game came in the last minute of play when they carried the ball down to Van Dyke's 6-yard line, but the game ended before they could get the ball over the goal line.

THE OBSERVER

Our culprit selected this week is a senior. He is of medium height, has light brown hair, and brown eyes. He is an addict to gum, and holds the manufacturers of rubber bands in high esteem. This student is a faithful pest of the girl sitting behind him fourth hour. He is gifted with the art of music, and prefers cowboy ballads and mountaineer songs to the other types of music.

The second individual is one who is possessed with a desire to create some mischief. She is a girl from the freshman class. Her blonde hair is combed back and there is a fringe of bangs across her forehead. She is often seen attending the football games cheering lustily for the team. Her sister, a senior, has often been seen in her task of reprimanding her.

THREE GUESSES WHO THIS N.H.S. TEACHER IS

Are you a good guesser? If you are, just read this and see if it sounds at all like one of the very best liked teachers in the high school. Incidentally, this really happened.

It seems that this person had been shopping one day, and among the items purchased, was a pair of shoes and some meat for the family dinner. Upon reaching home what did this person do, but put the shoes in the icebox and the meat somewhere else and not notice the mistake until time to prepare dinner that evening.

Maybe if you are real good in your classes she will let us tell her name some day.

It might be added that this same teacher was shocked beyond words Tuesday morning because her students answered every question she asked.

NURSE PRAISES CONDITION OF CHILDRENS' TEETH

Mrs. Starr Bray, school nurse, says that the children in the kindergarten class, under the instruction of Miss Ann Richards, have exceptionally good teeth.

Bobby Hickey, of the afternoon section, had a birthday last Friday.

We are gathering nuts for the squirrels, for the winter. We are also pressing all the pretty leaves we find.

The morning section tied with Mrs. Congo's room for the P. T. A. picture. We have it in our room for two weeks.

We are learning how to tie our shoes. We have some new toy dishes and are learning how to set the table with them.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

We were sort of skeptical at first about writing this, but, dear students, you deserve a first rate pep talk and you're going to get it whether you like it or not. Of course, you know the student council is in debt, and also that the senior class needs money to take its trip. Does this mean anything to you at all? Evidently not, by the looks of things.

Do you know that last week when Mantell, the magician, came to give his performance at Northville high, he couldn't put on the evening performance because there were so few people present? The council and the senior class took it for granted that you would give them your support, and to their amazement you let them down. Aren't you proud of yourselves? Isn't it superb to have a reputation of not even having enough energy to sell tickets to support your school? What do you think the school needs money for—a tea party? The council has to buy equipment for our athletics. The team can't play football in rags. There are a thousand and one other things the school needs, and here you think it is asking too much of you to sell at least one ticket. A few years ago students were required to pay a fee to support the student council, and now all they ask of you is to come to a performance if you can't sell one ticket. It infuriates one to think the student body has to be urged to support its school. Here's hoping this is the last time anything need be said about this situation.

Jack Junod is the only member of the football team who doesn't think the present football field isn't soft enough to play on in rompers. 'Course, he should know. At the last game some uncouth player on the other team bumped Jack's head so hard upon the ground that Jack saw stars and heard the birdies sing.

The weekly orchid goes to Pat McLoughlin and Shirley Condit for being the school's best laughers. In fact they say they can laugh at nothing most of the time. Like to see anyone laugh that off.

DID YOU NOTICE

(Don't get peeved, it's all in fun)

How Junior Cole has advanced in the territory of Betty Schrader? Progress, you know.

The workout "The Great Mantell" gave some of the boys—especially Chuck Strautz?

How enthused the new "Sip Sup and Step" club is over their new organization? Be bad if one of them lisped.

All the scared looks in choir Friday morning? Mr Lee gave an unexpected test.

What a complete job Mayor, Captain, Chairman, etc., Essie Nirider is making of his exploits?

All the officers of the sophomore class were absent? The new president, Cecil Giles, tried anyway.

The heat radiated from Leslie G's face Wednesday when he started to relate his former love affair.

The "fruit" of I A's search ending in that modest fellow, Bob Bray? You'll have to take care of her interest in Ypsilanti, Bob.

How well E. N. likes to argue?

That H T. needs a finger wave?

That Bob B seems to be "that way?"

How downtrodden Scott C. has been looking lately? His love has "flown away."

B. H. looking happy? She has her "quarter-back."

That L. F. has a new boy friend?

That M. K. didn't know his Weekly News Review Monday?

That V. G. wears a "B" on her skirt? Who could it be?

How quiet the second hour assembly has been lately?

J. G. dreaming? Oh those letters.

L. S. and G. W. enjoy playing peek-a-boo?

L. Fritz' dreamy eyes? Can it be Duke?

The large number of boys that want to go to Ethiopia?

Paul P. buying an unusual amount of candy and gum? I wonder who gets it?

SHORT FLASHES

Alvin Bauman doesn't like football except when he gets a good tackle. Judging by the Van Dyke game he must have enjoyed himself.

Tom Gregory furnished the fans a thrill last Friday when he chased a Van Dyke player 65 yards to stop a touchdown. Unfortunately the play was called back. But that's the way to play football, Tom.

Two facts that might prove of interest to football fans—two weeks ago Van Dyke held Hamtramck (leaders in the city league) to a 6-6 tie until the last quarter. Berkley and Van Dyke tied for first place last year, have virtually the same teams back again. In their game this year they again tied 6-6.

Don Himes is back in school after having recovered from a leg injury, received while playing football. Don as yet hobbles around with the aid of a cane, but he claims he can dance.

EXCUSES FOR BEING TARDY HUMOROUS

Hear ye, hear ye, fellow students We submit for your approval the following little rays of sunshine taken from the tardy permit files in Mr. Thompson's office They are in answer to the sentence, "The reason for my tardiness was—." And if you don't think they are dandies we miss our guess.

"Didn't walk fast enough."

"Changing Jim shoes."

"I was up too late the night before."

"I was up town waiting for a girl."

"A very much lost book"

"Went home and read a paper."

"Couldn't get around on time."

"I didn't get here in time"

"I fell down and tore my pants"

Some day when time hangs heavy on your hands, drop around to the office and read the complete files. Preferably when Mr. Thompson isn't around. You won't regret it.

Grade Notes

Mrs. Congo's third graders are decorating their room with fruit pictures they made, and Hallowe'en boys. Alice Steele, of this room, has moved to Plymouth. The third graders have the distinction of having won the first P. T. A. picture.

From Miss Lonardson's second grade room, Ann Davis left with her family for a trip to California. The second grade is charting her trip on a map hung in the room. This is the class' first introduction to geography. Ann is sending cards all along the route of her journey. Her classmates, in return, will write her a letter when she arrives in California.

The second and third graders under the instruction of Mrs. Reng are making a special study of fruits. They discuss the kinds of fruit and how to preserve them. In connection with this study, for art they are doing free-hand drawings of fruits and making basket posters. This fruit study correlates with their health work. Mrs. Reng is reading them a story of the grape, and is teaching them a song about fruit, also.

Mrs. Clarke's fifth graders are enjoying the World Letters, and maps that are sent with them. Billy Johnson, of the fifth grade, brought samples of limestone and sandstone formations to school. Billy was lucky enough to take a trip to Mammoth Cave in Kentucky, where he collected these specimens. In connection with the geography class, he told the pupils something of his trip and the cave.

Miss Kreeger's sixth graders joined the Citizen's junior club. They also attended the meeting held in Plymouth. The officers are: Maxine Coe, president; Marjorie Parmenter, vice president; Irene Martino, secretary-treasurer; Edythe Amerman, girls' health officer; and James LaRue, boys' health officer.

Donald Kreeger, of the sixth grade, is back in school after an operation on his leg, performed at the University hospital. At the end of a month, however, he will have to return for another operation.

Mary Louise Beagn is absent from Mrs. Babbitt's fourth grade room because of illness.

Miss Jarvis' first grade room has a new pupil She is Dolores Glasser. Dolores once lived in Northville, but the family went to Germany.

THE KEYHOLE

Hello. Hello. Hello. Don't talk. Don't say a word till I get my piece in. I know it was unpardonable of me to omit my column last week—but to tell the truth, my frans, every time I looked thru the keyhole I'd see not one thing—nothing much, anyway.

I might have mentioned that a certain house on Cady street was open to a certain young Scotsman. Ahem! But there's been a slight rift, I believe. Oh me. Just as we were dusting off our kilts to get ready for a good ol' Highland fling—eh wot, Elaine?

Another clash—which is a flash—occurred at the Van Dyke football game. (Well, someone just had to call that to mind—and I beg your pardon).

Northville's defeat helped Flora to meet.

A lad from Fordson High.

One glance at him, another agin,

Brought from her lips a sigh.

And that's that. There we have it. If u lazy 'uns would a strolled over to the campus and attended the Alumni dance, u could have done away with this 'ere "keyhole" and seen him for yourself.

Was your columnist' face red one day last week? When looking through the ol' "keyhole" I saw—well, I'll not finish it, but you ask Willard Stalter, the victim. He might cast a little light on the situation. I believe he was a trifle embarrassed himself. (Boys will be boys).

Romance in again. This time the hearts beating as one belong to none other than Evelyn Ambler and Carl Arnold. (A Westpointer). Nothing like variety, they say

Then the rumors have it that tall, lanky Tom Gregory is that way about Doris Labbitt. In fact, it is no secret, from what I hear—or see.

Boys, men, and all ye lads included, as we wish to inform the girls that the "Tip-top" club is quite the newest thing. They're "tops" 'tis said—though not in the top class—all being junior gals.

Speaking of clubs, the "Sip Sup Step" club have been issuing pledge pins—but though I really tried to get some info on the subject, I couldn't make head nor tail of the durn thing. You'll have to ask the girls themselves—or wait till I get more learned on the topic Ho-hum. 'Tis a weary world, when you're a weary reporter. We ask you why Vivian G. is wearing the initial "H"? We have a good idea FLASH! It is nothing unusual to see Billy Schoultz buy ice cream cones for Shirley Condit—down at Mary Ann's Chocolate, if you p'ez.

Don't forget the junior dance a week from tonight. Remove your corn plasters and bunion pads and check your chewing gum at the door—then we'll think about letting you in. Patterson's orchestra will play while you flit hither and yon with your sweet patookies. Some call it dancing—but I'll say skip it. If you don't come, how the heck do you think we'll pay the orchestra? So long till next time.

Your "Keyhole" Correspondent.

FIRE DRILL LASTS ONLY ONE MINUTE, 40 SECONDS

The first fire drill of the school year occurred Wednesday morning, Oct. 1, during the third period. As soon as the bell rang, the various classes filed down the stairs and out of the building. The different rooms are assigned to special doors through which the students pass out.

Assistant-Principal Paul B. Thompson said that it was a very good fire drill, and approximately 274 persons came out of the building in one minute and 40 seconds' time

SENIORS MAKE PROFIT SELLING CANDY AT STAND

The senior class treasurer, June King, announced at the last senior class meeting that $21.98 profit has already been made by selling candy. This money was made within five weeks' time.

The sponsors, Mrs. Claude Zimmerman and Mrs. Jack Taylor, are very pleased as well as the entire senior class. They ask the students to buy candy from the seniors at football and basketball games and at their stand in school.

Of course, this money is being earned to help toward the Washington trip.

LESLIE G. LEE HAS BEGINNERS BAND

Leslie G. Lee, music instructor, gives lessons third period to a beginners' band and also to those who are in the band and want to improve their playing.

Those who are in the band and are taking from Mr. Lee for their own improvement are: Clarinets—Harold Martius, Kenneth Martens, Russell Sears, Louis Eaton and Bobby Ross; Cornets—Richard Ambler, and Robert Sears; Tenor Saxophone—Benny Dugund; Trombone—Norene Blake; Alto saxophone—Douglas McCluskie.

Mr. Lee said that between fifteen and twenty pupils want horns to play in the band, but there aren't enough so all these children have to be turned away. However, there are enough horns for the following beginners: Clarinets—Louis Babbitt, Clark Armstrong, Bobby Boyden, Ray Groomer and Warren Bogart; Cornets—Robert McCluskie, Raymond Parmenter, Virginia Reed, Allen Goiro and Wallace Whipple; Barition saxophone—Richard Larken; Alto horn—Jack Holcomb.

Some of these pupils practice two days a week, some three, and others five days. They are learning rhythm fingering, and the different phrases of music.

SCHOOL HAS VARIETY OF FINE MAGAZINES

The magazines are: "Time," "The Reader's Digest," "Musical America," "Popular Mechanics," "Nature Magazine," "The American Girl," "The American Boy," "National Geographic," "Home Craftsman," "School Arts," "St. Nicholas," "Childhood Activities," "New York Sunday Times," and "Popular Aviation."

The Rev. Fr. Joseph Schuler also donates a weekly review, "The Commonwealth," and the Rotary club donates a magazine, "The Rotarian."

TENTH GRADE ENGLISH CLASS DISCUSS CINEMA

Mrs. Chapman's tenth grade English class is going to take one day a week to discuss motion pictures and radio programs

A number of movie companies sent out leaflets on the coming motion pictures of especial value and point out interesting features in connection with their productions. This type of work is being done in many schools at present with the purpose of helping students form more definite standards of appreciation in judging this popular form of entertainment.

CORNER FOR BOOKLOVERS

"The Wolf Song," by Ralph Hubbard.

The lives of the Indians of North America before the coming of the white man comprise some of our best and most-loved literature. "The Wolf Song" is no exception to the general rule. Although a strain of sadness runs through the entire story, and even the conclusion is far from happy the reader, especially if he is one who has spent a good deal of time out of doors, will appreciate the veracity of it.

Its sadness is due, perhaps, to the fact that "Red Horse, the Kiowa," is a thinker. Thinkers are rather apt to be sad. That may be because they spend too much of their time thinking, or because they see too deeply into their own and others' characters for their own good.

The book follows Red Horse through years of plenty and happiness and the lean, hungry famine years, when the tribe divided and sub-divided in an effort to subsist on the meager offerings of the earth, ending with his death, after long wanderings, and the return of his son to his father's tribe to take the place his father held in it.

CAN YOU IMAGINE?

Tom Gregory very, very small?
Barbara Phillips a platinum blond?
Cecil Nirider without his freckles?
Rose Martino a ballet dancer?
Herman T. as the silent type?
Carl Arnot studying?

PLAN PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN ARMISTICE DAY

As the next assembly program falls the week before Armistice day, plans have been made to postpone the program until then.

Mr Thompson, who has charge of these programs, stated that it has not yet been decided whether the talks will be on "Observing the American Legion," or "American Education Week."

However, Mr. Thompson feels sure that the pupils will gain much from either of these topics.

SOCIETY

The big event of the week-end was of course the alumni dance Friday evening. Nearly everyone was there, both graduates and students. It is impossible to name everyone, but we did see a pair of lone orchids, one on each of two sisters, and another dancer with four gardenias—so now you know splendor shone.

Saturday evening to celebrate Bob Lyke's birthday, he and Barbara Phillips, Ida Altman, Bob Bray, Pat Roberts and Colebrook Patterson, of Detroit, attended a masquerade dance at Glen Oaks country club.

Jane Grosvenor was visiting her aunt in Ann Arbor Saturday and Sunday, and we also heard she attended a show Saturday evening with Art Right, Jane?

Bob B. and Herman T. were at Plymouth Saturday for the matinee. They saw "Annapolis Farewell" and were both so inspired that they were all for being Midshipmen. But Herman just found out that you have no dates in your first year there, so he's lost all interest.

Don't think our teachers haven't been getting around, on account of listen all ye—Miss Palmer gave a dinner at her home in Ann Arbor Saturday evening. Those present were: Mrs. Cobb, Mrs. Cooke, Miss Jarvis and Miss Huff. Later in the evening they attended the Choral Union. All of these teachers have season tickets for the series. Bet if the "Keyhole" peeker was on her job she would of seen that our teachers really do have appetites—and the only excuse they could give for eating so much was that we would too if we had a dinner put before us like Miss Palmer serves.

DANCE ANNOUNCED

Betty Haystead, president of the junior class announces that the juniors are giving a dance next Friday, Nov. 1. Patterson's orchestra is going to furnish the music.

N. H. S. TEAM WILL PLAY AT HOMECOMING

Admission Price is Lowered To Ten Cents Because of Melvindale Gala Day

By WILLIAM OWEN

Seeking revenge for the setbacks by Trenton and Van Dyke, Northville will put its strength against Melvindale today during the Homecoming festival being staged by Melvindale.

Because the jamboree will attract large crowds to its various sideshows and carnival features the admission price to the football clash has been lowered to ten cents.

Northville's opponents have a very strong team and an upset by Northville, especially during the Homecoming, will be a singular triumph for the Orange and Black squad. The local lads have been improving the various departments, and save for technical errors which have proved somewhat disastrous in the past games they are a much better team than formerly.

Much credit is due Coach Watts for the team that he has developed out of practically green material. His schedule thus far has been discouraging because of injuries and ineligibility. Many coaches would have been discouraged by these handicaps but Mr. Watts carried on and has succeeded in turning out a team far better than was anticipated earlier in the season.

The probable line-up for tonight's game with Melvindale will be: l. e., Balko; l. t., Strautz; l. g., Aldea; c., Bray; r. g., Bauman; r. t., Toussaint; r. e., Gregory; q. b., Parmenter; l. h. b., Junod; r. h. b., Hanson; f. b., Hay.

Don't wait

Sure it's coming—at least we've never been thru' a whole year in Michigan without winter—Get your Coat now, then you can let it sleet, snow, freeze and blow—and with one of our CLOTH CRAFT COATS on — you'll get real comfort thru' it all. Priced at

First Prayer in Congress

Dr. Jacob Duche, a native born American Episcopal clergyman, offered the prayer at the meeting of the first Continental congress in 1774. He later feared the cause of the colonies was lost and fled to England in 1777 after urging Washington to do likewise. His property was confiscated and he, himself, declared a traitor. But in 1790 he was permitted to return to Philadelphia, where he died in 1798.—Pathfinder Magazine.

for the Dodge and Plymouth cars is pleased with the new models. Following the policy adopted by the Chrysler corporation, streamlining is stressed. A longer hood, newly designed, and a different radiator construction has beautified the appearance of the car and coupled with changes in the body has given the new Plymouth a lower appearance. A new airplane type dashboard and new interior appointments complete the pleasing appearance. More and different colors have been added to the deluxe models. The engine is the same as that used in last year's car.

Mr. Van Atta will also be introducing the new line of Dodges.

Kenneth Rathburn who sells the Chevrolet and Oldsmobile automobiles has been showing the new Olds for the past two weeks and is enthusiastic in his praise of the forthcoming Chevrolet. As in the past years the Oldsmobile is a favorite with the medium priced car buying public. According to present announcements the new Chevrolet will be brought out at the salesrooms on Nov. 2.

LOCAL MAN NAMED HEAD OF NAVY DAY

ers and influences, and to pay tribute to the memories of those who, since the establishment of our navy by act of Congress in 1775, have ever been ready in the national defense, many of them laying down their lives in the performance of their patriotic duties; and,

Whereas that day also will be nationally observed as the anniversary of the birth of "The Father of our Modern Navy," Theodore Roosevelt, who brought sharply to our people the need for an adequate defense by sea; and,

Whereas, this nation always has been foremost in giving of its wise counsel for the preservation of world-wide peace, and today desires nothing more than the continued peace of the entire world, proposing to meddle not in the affairs of other nations and maintaining only its right to protect its own borders, its institutions and its people and their liberties.

Therefore, be it resolved that I, president of the village of Northville, by virtue of the authority vested in me by law do designate Monday, October 28, as Navy Day, so to be observed and celebrated in this community by the appropriate display of the national colors, and by means of such programs and patriotic meetings and readings as may be arranged to commemorate the occasion.

Further, I strongly urge that in all of the churches of this community proper and appropriate note be made of this anniversary on Sunday, October 27, and that prayers be offered to Almighty God that our country may maintain its peace and dignity toward all other nations, at the same time continuing its splendid efforts and influence for peace among all the peoples of the world

(Signed) H. H Burkart,
Pres. of Northville

MUSHROOMS GROWN IN WIXOM ROAD PRODUCTION PLANT

are eight inches in depth and probably six by six feet in extent. When we were taken through the houses one of them was in its best production stage and buds or buttons of white were seen dotting the black garden loam top dressing in which the mushrooms are seeded and grown. Mr. Trabue stated that they would pick approximately 300 pounds of mushrooms the night after we were there in fact, we could easily and without concentration imagine oodles of them in a hot bowl of soup or a garnish for a beautiful roast or, in its more common use, as a principal ingredient in chop suey.

Mr. Trabue was most kind in answering questions by the hundreds, it seemed. Just how do you start this growing process, Mr. Trabue? At this question our host started painstakingly to detail some of the steps in culture that have been proven most effective.

First of all, it is necessary that we have a horse manure from hard working horses. This manure is purchased from a broker who deals in this commodity. For each filling of a house it is necessary to purchase 150 yards (a five-ton truck holds 12 cubic feet) which is put in a compost heap and left there for several weeks having generous sprays of water to hasten the composting process.

Bins Emptied

When a house has ceased to grow musarooms profitably all of the bins are emptied and thoroughly fumigated for molds and insects. Mr. Trabue states that molds and insects are a constant source of trouble and the utmost care must be taken to prevent loss from them. While we were in the house there were a few little flies in the house and Mr Trabue stated that they stink the mushroom and it soon wilts and dies.

There are several methods of fumigating, the one most commonly used is the sulphur fume method. Formaldehyde is also used at times. After the bins have been thoroughly scrubbed and fumigated the composted manure is wheeled in. This looked like a herculean task, for the manure is wheeled in to the several stratas of bins on an inclined plank by use of the old wheelbarrow shove technique. When six inches of manure is placed in all of the bins, and there are 4,320 square feet of bin surface in each house, the seed or spawn, as it is called, is planted a piece the size of a walnut in the corner of each square foot of area. Then a covering of 1½ inches of garden loam is spread over the top. She in about eight weeks mushrooms begin to appear. This process takes place twice each year in each house. During the growing period the temperature is kept at 55 to 62 degrees fahrenheit.

Shipped in Bottles

One of the numerous questions we asked was this: "Where do these seeds, or spore come from?" Mr Trabue says that the production of spawn from the spore is a business in itself. It is estimated that if it were possible to trap all of the spores in a single mushroom it would supply the mushroom industry for 50 years. This spawn or seed is shipped to Mr. Trabue in milk bottles and it takes 110 milk bottles of them for each planting. By pulling up the boards of one of the bins it was possible to see the web work of spawn permeating each bin.

The next step in Mr. Trabue's program is the perfection of his mushroom canning plant. Although this part of his plans are not yet complete they are on the way and Mr. Trabue hopes to be canning mushrooms when the height of his production season has been reached, perhaps four to six weeks hence. He plans to can his excess crop in other words the bulk of his crop will still be supplied to the markets in pound cartons, the excess being canned for non-producing times of the year.

After the mushrooms are picked they will be washed in cold water and then blanched to maintain a beautiful white. They will then be placed in cans and a liquid poured over them. They are then covered by an automatic machine and placed in a steam cooker with a temperature of 240 degrees for 20 minutes. The next step is to put on a label and canned mushrooms then go out into the world to say emphatically that "Dewkist" is a trade name to help make Northville famous.

Base Line School

By IRVING BECKER

Our school has six large new movable desks this year. Most of our seats are now of this kind. We also have a new blackboard map of Michigan, and many supplies to work with. We appreciate these things very much.

We have organized our citizenship club. Our officers are president, Natalie Whipple; vice president, Marie Fraser; secretary and treasurer, Ronald Anderson; girls' health officer, Irene Toma; boys' health officer, David Willis.

There are several new pupils in school this year. The beginners are Mary Helen Visnyck, Joe Visnyck, LaVera Mae Kreeger and Myron Whipple. Betty and Kenneth Fosgate are new first graders. David Willis is in the third grade. This brings the total number of pupils in the Base Line school to twenty.

WEIGHT TAX REFUND CHECKS GO BEGGING

More than $2,500 in checks lies unclaimed in the Department of State, the checks being made payable to motorists entitled to their refunds for weight taxes paid in 1933, before the legislature in special session, reduced the rate. The former rate of 55 cents per hundred pounds of a passenger car's weight, was reduced to 35 cents. Before the change was made, thousands of motorists had already bought their 1934 plates, and were thus entitled to refunds of the difference in payments. Checks for 510 motorists remain in the files, no record of their owners traceable. They average $5 each. The only current inquiries into this matter are from motorists who received their checks, cashed them and forgot all about it.

Spread of Rats

For 800 years Europe has been fighting rats to the death—fighting sometimes in sport, often in civic earnestness and often in terror. It was an ill day for the Western World when the first brown rat left Asia to follow returning Europeans home. They've been spreading pestilence, ruin and death there ever since.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing freely from your liver into your bowels every day, your movements get hard and constipated and ¾ of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped [illegible] don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if something better is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the rectum.
