LOCAL AND GENERAL.

For the want of space we are necessitated to omit a description of the Christmas Tree, and also the List of Names of the persons contributing for a Press for this Office. The whole will appear in our next.

DRUGS & MEDICINES.—Mr. E. S. Horton, dealer in the above, has his advertisement in this issue. Of late he has been closing up the vacant door-ways in the back part of the store, putting shelves across, and filling in with goods till now it looks decidedly improved. Glance at his advertisement and see if the "P. M." has not "just the thing" you want.

NEW ADVERTISEMENT.—As can be seen this issue, Messrs Scott & Jackson, have presented a new card to the public. Since coming into possession of the store they have added a greater stock and variety, with the determination of keeping pace with the improvements of the times and as a fair dealing, and enterprising firm are receiving, as they deserve, a good patronage.

INSTALLATION.—In our last we mentioned the election of officers in both Union Chapter, No. 65 R. A. M. and Lodge, No. 186 of F. & A. M. the number of gentlemen were installed on the evening of the 23. The exercises were successfully conducted in the presence of a number of invited guests, and was said by them to have been the most grand and imposing ceremony they had ever witnessed. Refreshments, Presentation speeches, responses and a pleasant time generally closed the entertainment.

KALAMAZOO COLLEGE.—We have had the recent pleasure of meeting with the Rev. L. E. Trowbridge—the very gentlemanly Financial agent of Kalamazoo College.

He presented the cause of Christian education before the Baptist church and congregation, and gave a very gratifying statement as to the present condition of things appertaining to the institution; he represents.

In his appeal to the congregation he was aided with special emphasis by a number of Christians, relative to Christian education; arguing to the effect, "that the cause of education rested as imperatively on the Christian Church as any other institution of our religious system. In fact, Institutions of Religious Learning should be regarded—as they really are—the proper and substantial source of supply to the church." And feeling thus, the Rev. gentleman intimated that his present calling, i. e. his present work of soliciting material aid for the noble institution which he had the honor to represent, was eminently Christian; and, that he should make no cringing apology to the churches before which he presented himself; nor promise either, that, on condition of their doing well in the present instance, they should "see his face no more." On the contrary, he hoped to meet them again in due time.

This, in our opinion is the way agents for public Institutions should feel: and this too, the way in which they should speak. The College in Kalamazoo, is by no means inferior to first class Institutions; and situated as it is in one of the most healthy and beautiful localities of our State, The enterprise ought not to be wanting on the part of the inhabitants of the State to make it what it should be—INDEPENDENT and PERMANENT.

Catalogues, or any information relative to terms will be gladly supplied by the agent, Rev. L. H. Trowbridge. Rev. Kendall Brooks, D. D. or any member of the Faculty.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

LARGE GATHERING—A SOCIAL TIME—A SKETCH OF PIONEER LIFE.

Capt. Wm. Dunlap and lady, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage, at their residence, in this place, on the afternoon and evening of Wednesday Dec. 29th. Nearly fifty representatives made their appearance, besides a large number of invited guests. Of a family of nine children, three sons and five daughters, favored the occasion, and the affair would have been all that was desired, but for the absence of one member—a son, Emmet, residing in Chillicothe, Missouri, who could not possibly be here; the unfortunate circumstance was lamented by all as the only blight to the successful termination of this family gathering. Fifteen grand children and one great grand child were present—absent four grand children and two great grand children. The presents and testimonials to the old couple, from children, relatives and friends, compelled many of elegance and value and fully demonstrated the high esteem in which they are regarded as parents and citizens.

The festivities of the evening were pleasantly interspersed with vocal and instrumental music, and a beautifully spread table, to which all did justice was a principal part in the exercises. At a seasonable hour the guests took their departure wishing the worthy couple many more years of happiness and joy.

Mr. Dunlap, is now 74 years of age and his wife 69. Their marriage took place in Ovid, N. Y., Rev. Abram Brokaw, uniting the twain; one witness to the ceremony being present at this anniversary, Mrs. Ann Donaldson, a sister of Mrs. Dunlap. They were among the first settlers here, coming in about the year 1821 when all about here was a "tree forest, with an occasional clearing. The family occupied a small log house standing on the present site of the "Northville Mills" and soon after built the wing of the "Yerkes house" where they lived some time before erecting the main part. The old structure was some years afterwards moved away and now stands just north of J. G. Lapham's residence. Mr. Dunlap, first interested himself in a small Grist Mill, which he bought out and enlarged. In 1847 the whole structure was torn down and the present large Mill put up. He sold out to Mr. John Smith, of Oakland Co., in 1863 and with his family moved to Walled Lake, where they resided for four years, finally returning here in 1867. With the exception of the few years there, they have never made a home elsewhere.

It is somewhat singular and yet a fact that the house they now occupy, was the first two story building ever built in Northville, nearly 40 years ago. So it will be seen that the objects of the above entertainment, are in every way entitled to the respect and attention of us all, and it is to be hoped that their future years may be as happy and pleasant, as their first days pioneering were difficult and arduous.

A MARRIAGE IN CHURCH.

RECEPTION—A PLEASANT AFFAIR.

On Monday evening, Dec. 27th, Prof. Geo. S. White, of Jackson, formerly of the Northville Union School, was married to Mrs. Azuba B. Brooks, of this village. The services were held at the Presbyterian Church, and were decorated with every thing in a beautiful manner. The audience was large and select. Music for the occasion, with an appropriate selection of words, was given by the choir, under the leadership of Dr. J. M. Swift.

The marriage ceremony by the Pastor, Rev. A. J. Buel, was exceedingly terse and recherche.

At the close of the exercises at the church, the estimable lady of Dr. Swift, opened her spacious parlors, to which the bridal pair repaired where they received a large number of their friends comprising ladies and gentlemen from Detroit, Pontiac, Ann Arbor and Jackson, together with a multitude from this village and vicinity. The bride was made the recipient of many testimonials of the high regard and esteem in which she is held by the large circle of friends; consisting of many a souvenir, in handy work, pictures and valuable presents of silver and gold. The refreshments were bountiful and sumptuous. The congratulations were abundant and heartfelt. The evening was enlivened with excellent music, vocal and instrumental, by a number of performers prominent among which was the Levante La Petite Miss Lizzie.

Altogether the occasion was a "feast of reason and flow of soul" such, we opine, as will not soon be forgotten. The guests took their departure during the small hours of the night, feeling deep regret that this circumstance is to remove the bride from our midst, (where she has so long been an esteemed and worthy citizen,) to her new home in the city of Jackson; but with the sincere expression of:

"Here's a health to the bride,
Of her circle, the pride,
May virtue's happiness lend her;
May joys golden rays
Be the crown of her days,
And the blessings of Heaven attend her.
Here's a health to the groom,
May his brow never gloom
Nor sadness succeed to his mirth;
May the rich and the poor
Hail with gladness his door,
And plenty crown richly his hearth."

STATE CHRISTIAN CONVENTION.—The committee appointed last year for that purpose, do hereby call a Christian State Convention, to assemble in Adrian, January 18th, at 10 o'clock A. M. The convention will continue in session for two days, (Tuesday and Wednesday,) and the following will be the order of exercises, subject to a vote of the convention.

The programme indicates one of the most important gatherings of earnest Christians ever convened in this State. The great moral and religious questions, which are now agitating this Nation and the world, are to be boldly met and grappled with—"Union," "Woman's work," "Sabbath School teaching," "Temperance," "The Bible in Schools," "The Sabbath," "Organization of Church work," "Amusements," "Lay work," &c.

LIFE'S PICTURE.

BY A. M. RANDOLPH.

Bright was the sunbeam that lighted my pathway,
Bright was the morning ushering in life's glory,
Bright then the day star beckoning on to happiness,
Bright were my hopes, led on by this brightness

Bright on the hills beyond, hopes how of promise,
Bright was the abode of love, widening its glories,
Brighter the noonday, eclipsing the morning,
Bright then the budding, this glad heart adorning.

Sweet were the hours, nursed by such visions,
Sweet to my soul in its freshness that mission,
Sweet was the feast of love, oh! sweet the enkindling,
Sweet the greetings of fond hearts con-mingling.

Swiftly the life-chariot moveth on the highway,
Swiftly the panorama of life, passeth by
Swiftly my loved ones, hasteneth on out of sight,
Swiftly the morning and evening's twilight.

Dark now the curtain, that hideth my spirit house,
Dark through the cloudy pillar, I wander alone,
Dark, all my earthly hopes, darkness pervades,
Dark oh! the grave where my loved ones are laid.

Burdened these eyes, peering away through the mists,
Burdened this heart, throbbing on in such haste,
Burdened my soul, in its prison it crieth,
Burdened in dreams, for the phantoms that flieeth.

Moaneth the wind, sweeping, so restless,
Moaneth the tide bearing on to the deathless;
Panteth the viewless steeds towards the unknown,
Panteth my weary heart, sighing for glory.

Beyond the cold stream, whose waters are surging;
Beyond the pale boatman, with swift oar plying
Beyond the dark cloud hills, sapphires are gleaming,
Beyond the strong tempest, the whirlwind is dying.

Gone, all those happy days, hopes and joys blending,
Gone is the sunbeam, my pathway revealing,
Gone, childhood's dreams, nevermore untold;
Gone, all my earthly hopes, how sorrowful the setting.

Oh! Tell me, ye lost, of the land where you dwell,
Tell me of rest, on the evergreen hills;
Tell of the city, all mantled in gold;
Tell, if there be there: sweet rest for the soul!

Tell to my heart, so penitent and hopeless,
Tell of that union, so pure, and changeless,
Tell of skies bright, o'er-topping the cloud-land.

Tell of the King, ever sheltering the storm-bound,Tell of His welcome, from this transient abiding?

Tell of hopes, new born, nevermore fading,
Tell of that new song, all Heaven exulting,
Oh! Tell is there for me, a mansion now waiting?

Hasten kind spirit, with thy answering tone:
Hasten one glimmer, from the ever high-noon;
Haste! o'er the desert comes the fearful simoon;
Oh! Haste towards the refuge: my soul, hasten on.

SAMUEL H. LITTLE, EDITOR & PROPRIETOR.

THE NEW YEAR, 1870.

Another year has opened upon us. Another twelve months has been added to the short space allotted to our lives. Time waits for no one. The rich and poor alike come under his finger. Life is but short at best. The Sun that shines upon us to day living and well, may shed his light upon us a corpse, to morrow. Many now rejoicing with hearts glad o'er the numerous gifts and remembrances from kind Parents and friends, may be launched into eternity ere another holiday.

O! how sad indeed to think that perhaps before another year rolls about, some loved one may be taken from us; some hearth left desolate from the absence of a cheerful voice. "The old must die, and the young may die" is a truth that comes near to us, a reality too solemn, for a mere thought.

How have we improved the past year? Can we say that our aim has been a good one? That the "golden rule" has been adopted as our motto? That hearts have been gladdened by our presence? That the poor, the sick and the needy remembered? Can any speak of the joy, the heartfelt pleasure derived from following the good maxim "better to give than to receive"?

Al! this is a selfish world in which we live. We are all too anxious for our own good; too avaricious for wealth, power and fame; too desirous for that which "lasteth not". We forget that naked we came into the world, and that in a like manner we shall take our departure. Or that nothing of all this pomp, show and vanity can go with us; that the space we now fill, will soon be occupied by others and our name be forgotten in the things of the past.

We are placed in this world for a help to each other; and a will given us to do good or evil, with an understanding of the reward for complying with, and the punishment due us for the violation of Divine Law.

NEW AND POPULAR SONG

"ANGELS GUARD YOUR TREASURES THERE." Said for this Popular Song said by the press and public, to be a perfect gem in the Musical art. Orders are being received from nearly every State in the Union. The words of the last verse are:

Near the streamlet's margin mother,
Where the waters gently glide,
North the willows mournful shadow,
Two green graves lie side by side,
While the sweetest flowers of summer,
There perfume the balmy air,
Yet above our darlings wait us,
In a land divinely fair,

CHORUS,
"Mong the trees where birds are singing
And the flowers are blooming fair,
Angel forms are watching o'er them,
Guarding well your treasures there.
