SATURDAY, NOV. 20, 1915

As yet there has been no clue obtained to the body of A. T. Stewart, which was recently stolen from St. Mark's church yard. It would seem as if the reward offered, $50,000, would have effected the purpose.

Our Washington correspondent evidently thinks, and properly so, that economy is the road to wealth. In speaking of shopping matters at the Capitol she gives a few hints about dress that our lady readers might do well to make note of.

The Marquis of Lorne, Governor General of Canada, accompanied by his wife, the daughter of the Queen of Great Britain, arrived in Canada this week and met with a most enthusiastic reception from the people.

Lobbying in Washington.

Washington Correspondence of Record.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—The time was, when lobbying was considered a mean thing, a thing to be ashamed of and kept private. Now it is a regular business (a paying one too) an occupation, a profession. The amount of money and the influence exerted by it is marvelous; that is, if anything can be called marvelous in the days of corruption and bribery. Every bill and measure has its lobbyists, from a Presidential impeachment scheme down to the selling of Mrs. Fassett's painting of the Electoral Commission. A deal of lobbying has been going on among Congressmen and newspaper correspondents, who are supposed to influence their country constituents largely, in favor of this picture. Mrs. Fassett wants the Government to buy it for $25,000 and it will probably do so.

Our Washington Letter.

Gen. Grant as an Illinois U. S. Senator—Female beauties a rare thing in Washington, a correspondent writes out the fact and the ladies are indignant—Good old days of shopping—Domestic life in the silk.

Washington Correspondence of Record.

Washington, D. C., November 27.—Gen. Grant's friends in Illinois have taken a new departure, and are now trying to bring him forward as a candidate for U. S. Senator from that State. But Gen. Grant is known to have a very high regard for both the candidates now in the field, Logan and Oglesby, and those who best know him here do not believe that he would enter the canvass against them. The project is said to be unknown to Grant and is, therefore, entirely without his sanction.

A certain Washington correspondent has lately written to a prominent Chicago journal a lengthy letter concerning a morning of the Capitol which is being copied far and wide with various comments. The paragraph is to the effect that a female beauty is utterly unknown here and that one may walk our streets till doomsday without meeting a pretty-faced girl. As might be expected, Washington girls are taking exception to this attack and are loud in their denunciations of the writer who has thus scandalized their faces. The plain fact about the good looks of Washingtonians is that while there are many charming and attractive female faces, there are few in proportion to the whole number. By far the larger number of lady Government clerks are widows and spinsters, and therefore although they may be, and are in many cases, very far from ill-looking, they do not possess the attractive bloom and sweet beauty that a young and girlish face may show.

Not since the has it been possible for ladies to make shopping so delightful a business as it is at present, when a dollar goes for a dollar's worth, and the old times have returned when a domestic goes out on a Sunday with a silk gown on her back as she can well afford to do, since plain silks of good quality may be had for less than a dollar a yard and the better styles require considerably less than forty yards of material for a dress. The fashion of combination garments is a most convenient one for refreshing worn dresses and a pretty and stylish garment may be formed from a hard worn silk in three days by the simple addition of a few yards of suiting figured silk or American brocade, which costs no more than 20 or 30 cents per yard.

Sarsaparilla

Is widely known as one of the most effective remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years with a constantly growing reputation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purge out the great accumulations of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities of diseases that have festered in the system for years soon yield to this powerful medicine, and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are publicly known, of Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Ulcers, Eruptions, and eruptive disorders of the skin, Tumors, Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Pustules, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetters, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, and internal Cleavages of the Uterus, Stomach, and Liver. It also cures other complaints, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Bile, Neuralgia, Heart Disease, Female Weakness, Debility, and Leucorrhoea, when they are manifestations of the

It is an excellent restorer of health and strength in the Spring. By removing the appetite and vigor of the digestive organs, it dissipates the depression and lethargy of the season. Given where no disorder appears, it people feel better and live longer, for cleansing the blood. The system moves on with renewed vigor and a new lease of life.
