"Where is the marshal?" was the oft repeated inquiry last Saturday night when the roughs were making so much noise on the street.

Rev. H. P. Eldridge and family are now domiciled in the residence lately owned and occupied by David Mills, corner of Dunlap and West sts.

Last Saturday there were in the village two candidates for circuit judge, one for county clerk, one for senator, and several for state prison.

Rev. H. P. Eldridge set up four stoves last week and put up stove pipe on all of them. That's the terrible fiery business for a minister.

Squire Hutton is limping about with a cane in consequence of a badly sprained knee. It was dislocated several years ago and is very easily injured ever since.

Of course it is only a co-incidence; but it will do to joke about it, that a store and a bank were broken into the same night that four democratic candidates were in town.

The female population of Northville is slowly but steadily increasing. The latest acquisition arrived at the residence of B. A. Wheeler last Sunday Weight nine pounds.

The farmers are so busy gathering apples and husking corn that it is rather quiet during the week, but on Saturday afternoons and evenings there is a rush of business.

Last week we advertised for some windows, and in less than an hour after the first edition was taken to the post office a boy was here with half a bushel, and several others called in a few hours.

Several ladies have said in our hearing that Miss Wheeler's hats and bonnets are nice enough for anybody and that she sells them cheap. No need to take our word for it. Go and see them yourselves.

The ladies of the Baptist Church will give a social and oyster supper at the residence of G. S. Vanzile, for the benefit of Miss Mary Goodell. We hope it will be well attended and a good sum realized.

The children in the intermediate department complain greatly of the thirsome seats in their room. There are plenty of school seats manufactured in Northville. Can't they have some new ones before their spines and chests are utterly ruined?

The band having failed to obtain the desired accommodations in the Wilcox block, rented a room in Mr. Dubuar's building over H. D. Clark's tailor shop and moved in Monday night. Clark and his assistants are preparing to take to the woods.

The patent inside window blinds now being exhibited here by Messrs. John Linter and E. P. Chadwick are attracting a good deal of attention among our practical men, several of whom have ordered them for their houses. But there is a strong probability of something better: A stock company is likely to be organized for their manufacture and will add materially to Northville's industrial interests. For the good of the village as well as that of the owners of the patent we hope, this will be done.

BURGLARY.

Last Saturday night some persons gained an entrance to the counting room in the rear of Swift & Croul's store by prying up the window sash with a crowbar or similar instrument. From the store they passed into Lapham's bank into which a door opens from the side room of the store. They made an attempt to open the safe, but progressed no further than to drill a hole through the outer plate. It is supposed that they were frightened away by the approach of some persons who arrived on the night express and came up the street. The front doors of the bank were open in the morning, and it is supposed that the burglars opened it in order to have means of egress in case of retreat being cut off in another direction. Mr. Ellis, who came up stairs in the store was awakened and saw nothing of the burglary until morning. The only booty secured by the burglars was a few dollars in change which they found in the money drawers.

Mr. Luther Lapham is circulating a petition to be presented to the council at their next meeting, asking for a suspension for six months of the ordinance requiring all sidewalks to be made of planks, such suspension to apply only to those who wish to try other material. Mr. L's object in presenting such a petition is that he may give a practical test of gravel as a material for sidewalks. He believes that plank sidewalks are productive of various evils; that they produce malaria by the damp mold and decay of vegetable substance under them; that the surface that exudes through the cracks of a plank sidewalk is potentially dangerous. That they afford breeding places and harbor for reptiles and vermin of various kind. That they soon get dilapidated and dangerous to life and limb. He claims that he can make of gravel a better, healthier and more durable sidewalk, and wishes to be allowed the privilege of showing whether he can or not. He says that if after six months' trial the public and the council are not satisfied, he will construct a plank sidewalk in conformity with the ordinance. We hope the council with grant the request and allow him to make the trial. We have seen in some large cities, gravel sidewalks almost equal to stone in smoothness and solidity. We believe that most of Mr. Lapham's objections to plank sidewalks are unjust, and that the evils undetected are all avoided by the use of a gravel sidewalk.

2. It possesses the elasticity and lightness of a steel spectacle.

3. Its eye-wire is corrosive proof and so does not rust like a steel spectacle.

4. It has a union of two metals at each corner, which renders it stronger at the points usually weakest, thus insuring the ability to break. (Two metals form a stronger solder than one.)

5. The eye wire, being a soft, yielding metal, will not strain, or chip, or break the lens.

6. It is glazed with the Johnston Optical Co's best flint lenses, guaranteed to improve and preserve the sight.

7. In proof of the above, the Johnston Optical Co. warrant each pair, agreeing to furnish new lenses in exchange for every pair broken in ordinary use.

There is a theory advanced by scientists that if you whisper in the ear of a sleeping man, the impression of your words will be conveyed to his mind as by a dream. We recently experimented with this theory, and found it verified by a wonderfully accurate result. A noted western scout who boasted of having slain 200 Indians, was stopping at the hotel where we reside. We entered his room and whispered in his ear: "We are attacked by Indians! The red devils are upon us! Did he spring up, grab for a knife and blindly rush forward for a fray? He did arise from the bed, and he crawled under it. COMMENTATORS' NOTICE.

In the Matter of the Estate of Lucy H. Deceased. We the undersigned, having been appointed by the Probate Court for the County of Wayne, State of Michigan, Commissioners to receive, examine and adjust all claims and demands of all persons against said deceased, do hereby give notice that we will meet at the office of William H. Ambler in the village of Northville, on the 11th day of November, 1882, at ten o'clock, A. M., for the purpose of examining and allowing said claims; and that six months from the 11th day of September, A. D. 1882, will be a final day for all creditors to present their claims to us for examination and allowance.

Dated September 25th, 1882.

The Chicago Times publishes what it regards as a record of fighting Christianity in agreement between preachers and laymen, resulting in bloodshed and death; bowie knives, revolvers and clubs in the hands of elders, deacons and priests; free fights in the sanctuary and on the street, during the last thirty days. We suggest that the Times prepare a list of the vile acts, indisputable deeds and social crimes committed by capitalists and other men of wealth. Such people, having all the comforts of existence at command, with whom the wheels of life move on well oiled axles, are surely less excusable than persons of the abject class, whose surroundings are not usually conducive to that luxurious condition of take-it-easy christianity, such as is possessed by the owner of wealth or the magnate of his own and other people's sinners. Try it, and see if a catalogue of evil could not be prepared that would put to shame this list of occasional little tiffs between such and such Christians, which number scarcely eighteen in the thirty days covered by the record, made up from small parts of the country.—Commentary and Criticism.

100 DOLLARS

Paid for investigating inquiries found in "Parker's Cinger Tonic" to cure the following complaints:

Mr. A. J. Smith writes to Dr. Wm. L. Rogers, "I have made a long trip across the sea for rheumatism & sciatica," Mr. Wm. B. ...

was troubled with bladder complaint for a year or more, and had been treated by the best physicians, but nothing but a temporary allignment of the veins had been worked. Towards the end of last January, he was advised to try the treatment of Dr. Kennedy. Sounding him, the doctor struck at once. He decided that Mr. Lawler should first try the "Favorite Remedy," as it is possible to avoid an operation, and here is the remarkable result: "Dear Doctor Kennedy—The day after I examined your 'Favorite Remedy,' I was cured of my bladder complaint. If you would like to see the stone, I will send them to you." This letter bears date March 10, 1894, and is signed "J. M. Lawler." The stone, which is so large as to weigh 100 grains, is now in the possession of Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," the claim being made that it is the only stone of the kind ever discovered, and is now in Dr. Kennedy's possession. Incidentally Mr. Lawler also states that the "Favorite Remedy" has cured him of his "Prostate Gland," and that he is now able to do all his usual course of business, and it is a fact that in all instances arising out of hemorrhage of the liver and kidneys, the "Favorite Remedy" has been found to be successful. It is a fact also in medicine and surgery. Order it of your druggist! Price $1.00
