Owing to election excitement Monday evening the discussion in the K. of L. hall was postponed one week.
Next week the interesting question of "foreign immigration" will be again discussed.

Rev. Mr. Paddock has decided to remain in Minnesota for the time being and Mrs. Paddock is packing up and will go there in the near future. They will leave many friends here in old Northville.

J. E. Rauch has sold his dwelling here to Dr. Hatch and gave possession of the same on Wednesday. The price paid was $1,500. Mr. Rauch and family are boarding for a few days until their residence at Northville is ready for them. —P. 1000 West Main.

The organ company expect to ship
the large organ they have been building for Nevin, Ohio, next week. They are at work now on a large one for Youngstown, Ohio. This company have several contracts in sight and it is safe to predict a busy year for them.

Now that the Gale Plow company have closed their business in general a large bonus voted to induce them to stay in Northville.

All the seventy-five towns in the state are kicking themselves for ever, excepting with that company. —Post.

George Brooks, an old Northville
resident, has purchased the Park
House of F. B. Park. Mr. Park and his wife have both been in poor health since they went into the hotel and intend changing climate hoping to recover. Mr. Brooks takes possession

George Brooks, an old Northville
resident, has purchased the Park
House of F. B. Park. Mr. Park and

Miss Sarah Rounds, of the Detroit training school of elocution, will give one of her popular recitations in the Baptist church next Tuesday evening,
April 10, for the benefit of our schools.

a Northville audience as she has been here before and will be cordially received. The Citizens' band will be in attendance and other excellent music will be furnished. Prices 15 and 25 cents.

The Third National Bank, of Detroit, has purchased the interests of J.
H. Peden and W. H. Ancomb in the Milk condenser at this place and intend to soon start it up under the management of John Babilion, of Detroit.
Every citizen in this vicinity will be glad to learn that this factory will soon be running again.

We have been asked what course is pursued in case of a contest for supervisor.
The contesting party files a bill in the circuit court against the occupancy of the office. The case goes on the docket and after the usual delays attending all legal matters it will have a hearing before the judge in a jury trial. If the case is gained it does not invalidate the assessment roll. In case of a contest it may not be decided during the occupancy of the incumbent and would be of little use then.

Mr. A. N. Moffat, of Detroit, who speaks at the G. A. R. camp fire next Wednesday evening will speak in the Methodist chapel at four o'clock that afternoon on Social Purity. This is a question that our citizens should consider as much as any of the moral questions of the day. Northville is not free from the evils this subject creates and it would be well for us all to attend this lecture here that contemplates a reform in that direction. The meeting will be under the supervision of the W.
C. T. U. Minister, teacher, business men, ladies and all others invited to be present.

In Nov. Charles Session was elected supervisor by forty majority.

In Farmington the Democratic candidate for supervisor was elected. The first time in a good many years but what a republican supervisor was best from that township.

Livonia elected a republican supervisor where a democrat had done duty for years.

These democratic gains have been from local causes and that party cannot easily take these figures of spring election to figure out an increased vote
at the coming fall elections.

The Commander and members of Allen M. Harman Post, G. A. R., No.
318, extend a hearty invitation to all of the people of the village and surrounding country to attend their annual campfire to be held at the Rink, Wednesday evening, April 11th. The object of holding this camp fire is to secure the necessary amount of money to purchase a banner for the Post, such a banner as an honor to the Post and also to our beautiful village.
There will be an address of welcome
by Mrs. Meffert, a most excellent lady and an able and eloquent speaker, recitation, made by the band, old army songs which everybody can sing, toasts and responses.

And coffee and lots of good things to eat. Come everybody and bring the little ones and have a jolly good time with the boys. Look out for bills and gather and help milk to their factory.

SCHOOL ITEMS.

Why not visit the school? School opened beautifully. An overflow in the Third Grade necessitated seating some in the Primary. Miss Nona Reed has charge of the Beginning and First grades, Miss Greer not having sufficiently recovered to resume work.

The High School proposes to be the banner department in attendance this term; the other departments will contest this point. Now for a race.

The enrollment this week is as follows:

High School	32
Grammar	23
5th and 6th grades	33
3d and 4th	67
2d grade	34
Beginning and 1st grades	60

SO FADES A LOVELY FLOWER.

Little Clarence Webster, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Palmer, of North Gainsville, quietly breathed his last yesterday morning, March 21, aged ten months. He was taken sick with pneumonia on Monday of last week, everything was done that loving hands and kind neighbors could do for the little sufferer, but all of no avail, and the spirit of the sweet darling left the little ten-month and flew away again to the God who gave, and the light of the household went out. The kind sympathy of the many friends are extended to the sorrowing parents. The funeral was attended yesterday at 4 o'clock, conducted by Rev. J. F. Eden, and the baby boy was laid to rest beneath the shade of a beautiful oak near the family residence.—Daily Morning Record, Gainsville, Fla.

WALLED LAKE.

Eugene Hoener started for California last Wednesday morning.

Musical concert and maple sugar at Humphrey's Hall Tuesday night last, by the ladies aid society of the Methodist church.

Beautiful weather. Bobbin-red breast fills the morning and evening air with his welcome notes. How good it seems to hear the birds once more.

The Outer correspondent was on hand to challenge Elder Hazard's vote. His friends were so thoroughly disgusted at his action that if they could have drawn him into a nett hole, had pulled the hole in after him, they would have gladly done so. As a climax to this Elder Wight, of Commerce stepped forward to deposit his ticket, saying "will I have to swear my vote in too?"

The Commerce town officers for another year are as follows: supervisor, John McLoohm; clerk, Or. C. Sample; treasurer, George Allen; justice, Marshall Johnson; school inspector, Frank Sleeth; drain commissioner, Marvin V. B. Hosner; highway commissioner, Charles W. Proud; constables, Roswell Wever, Channing Skinner, Edward M. King and George Blakeslee. The prohibitionists cast twelve votes.

THE BONDAGE OF DRINK.
You like I love it. If this serves you Could spiritual strength ever bear I'd sweep the world off from the base,
And crush its blighting, maddening, ruinous power.

You, sir, with all my heart dying breath
Will curse the day that drags me down to death.

Lorenz Lichtenfels. Yet I drink, and on it,
Anchored to bondage & the death-grip of sin;
And bare myself through the town I pass.

The pledge? No! To die like a dog!
No! I'll drink twice—a waste of malt
Too late—there's no release for me but death!

It's bad enough to drink, but not to drink Down such a strain of horrors make

Love me! I'd love to hold my head up high
And baffle God's almighty and fearless man;

And look with undimmed eyes on earth and sky.
With steady nerve to do, and head to plan,

I'd prove to grapple trials with a grim.
Is manly fashion, brave and strong. Lorenz!

If I could get into mine hand
Where no drink is, God knows how willingly
I'd drink those dead-formations of the dizzied.

That's right! As cool as him who won't be free;
But manfully tip those grimy shapes of sober.

To fill his glass twice before? No, but Ah, if I might have known how it would be,
In those old college days, rowdy and gay,

What I'd drink in youthful rotinity,
How easy then to put the cup away!

A roister's bore and joy I was till then.
Now see the trembling—ah! The offering of Back, sore eyes to last, where ye belong?

I'll drink ye down—that blood! Drank blood!

Help! Help! They comes afores, devils through Rocky neck! They'll tom me in the food!

Long, crooked bushy claws like my hair!

And there I lie! I lie! Tonkin's pray!

STATE NEWS.

BAY VIEW.

Early announcements are out for the new Bay View season, which promises to rival in magnificence all former ones at that peerless summer resort and cause it to be more thronged than ever. All winter they have been building cottages there and seventy-five to one hundred new ones will be up by July. A fine building is to be erected for the summer school, the great auditorium, and all the hotel's enlarged and many ornamental improvements made on the grounds, which are said to be the most beautiful of any summer resort in this country. This year the assembly, with its music departments, will last three weeks, and some of the most eminent educational, musical, patriotic lecture and entertaining talent in this country has been engaged. Among the attractions will be the famous Foster stars, Bush's Nymphs, Prof. Alex. Winchell, Mrs. Laylah Barakat of Syria, ex-prisoner Cumbuck of Mt. Dewitt Miller, Rev. Drs. Geo. P. Hayes and P. S. Henson, Dean A. Wright, Miss Matilda H. Ross, Frank Lincoln, Rev. Anna M. Shaw, several gifted singers, musicians, etc. Of particular value will be the summer school for teachers, Sunday school normal department, art and music schools, for which a large number of eminent specialists are already engaged.

We cannot imagine anything more delightful than a trip to Bay View during the assembly, which always begins on the last Wednesday in July and lasts three weeks. All the railroads at that time sell half price tickets, and best table board costs only four and five dollars. John M. Hall of Flint, Mich., is superintendent of the assembly.

Two explosions occurred the other afternoon in the coal mines at Rich Hill, Mo., 20 miles from Kansas City. Sixty men were entombed and before dark forty bodies had been taken from the mine. The first explosion occurred at 12:10 p. m., killing twenty or thirty men. Capt. Sweeny and his assistant immediately began the work of rescuing the injured miners and tip to 4:00 had succeeded in saving fifteen men.

When a second explosion occurred, involving Capt. Sweeny and his aids. The fire was terrible, shooting out from the top of a 270-foot shaft like a furnace.

Further effort to save miners was hopeless and as hundreds of men, women, and children gathered around the burning shaft the scene became heart-rending in the extreme.

It is probable that all who were in the mine at the time of the first explosion are dead. The bravery of Capt. Sweeny almost cost him his life, and is applauded by everybody. About eighty-five miners were employed in this mine, and the probabilities are that most of them were out. They were mostly Negroes who came from Springfield, Ill., when the mine was opened less than a year ago.

LETTER FROM POWDERLY.

He Favors a Vigorous Education Policy.

Grand Master Workman Powderly has issued a lengthy circular addressed to all assemblies of the Knights of Labor. Referring to the experience gained from the recent strikes he says:

"What combination of bands men could battle against a combination of dollars? When a working class to earn his stomach's wants, and unless charity is given he will starve. Lay a dollar down away on the steel and the iron for your feed or else, and there it is, as bright as itself. As ever, it has lost nothing to weakness. The dollar is supreme. We must control the dollar, curb the power of money, and kill the trusts, strike, will extract the last cent from labor and will the people."

We must have legislation which will compel individuals and corporations to transact business on terms of real responsibility and cents instead of what the world calls paper credits or fictitious values. How can this be done? By whom will it be done? It has been demonstrated that the order will not suffice.

Will it not make as effective to place the real issues on which we base our claim to recognition before the people? Will a vigorous policy of taxes and work be sustained? Through some legal or extralegal general assembly or corporation established an educational fund. With the members' consent to establish such a fund by contributing ten dollars or twenty cents apiece it will be a number of cool contributions can be sent at once throughout the order to educate and instruct in principles on which the order is based.

But the following resolution is for each assembly and gives a just answer—when—as quickly as possible.

Let us get our assembly to do something at once upon an educational campaign.

1. In the belief we should not wait for competent teachers to teach the principles of the order.

2. Shall the general master, within a reasonable time, issue a circular to all lodges to destroy the expense of the order.

3. What is the best way to sustain the educational fund in all lodges?

If the vote on these propositions is affirmative, the general master will be authorized to do a work for the order such as has never been done before.

Must Patriotic Home Dealer.

The U. S. Congress, in its treasury department of the United States government, will not pay less than $100,000,000 for the balance of the fiscal year.

It is not certain if the general master will obtain a private view.

From the ranks lay the least of wreath from President and Mrs. Cleveland and banners of crested palms, storied and fastened together with white satin ribbons. The room was filled with a large number of sea lions, seals, tigers, leopards, and other local friends of the deceased. A handsome tribute was from the Chinese delegation in Washington, and was one of the most beautiful in the large number.

After the casket was placed in the parlors, the pall bearers, relatives and others related and the family were all dressed in black by Messrs. Dugay and Stearns, two members of the late class, who were present. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Waite and other members of the family, a total of twelve remained to be paid. The services of Trinity church, the service was carried by a select band of the Toledo orchestra, and they and the pallbearers made up the company present at the guild room, where they sat to listen to the organ.

The funeral was followed by a catafalque decorated in black, in the center of a large hall, and after two o'clock the casket was removed and the form of the dead exposed to view.

For two hours an enormous, strong current swept through the room, a gas lamp in the face of the distinguished dead, and the curtains were then restored to the center of the church again.

The eyes of the deceased were then opened, the distinguished guests entered, the church a body and represented either the male or female members of the family.

At 4:30 the service began at the Hotel Statler, the supreme court marshals, the committee from the United States Senate, the committee from the United States House of Representatives, the federal judges of the United States, the governors and state ex-officers from Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, and Florida, the commissioners of the state governments, the speaker of the house and the speaker of the senate, the president of the Ohio legislature, the bar of the state, county and visiting judges and lawyers, officers of the city government, the bar of trial and appellate of the press.

The funeral service in the church consisted of the regular funeral services of the protestant Episcopal church and were very impressive. The music was rendered by the well trained male choir. At the conclusion of the regular service the Rev. Mr. H. L. Walbridge, a former rector of Trinity church and now of New York city, delivered a fitting and tender address.

After the services at the church the remains were placed in the bier and the procession formed and wended its way to the cemetery.

The casket was deposited in the vault. There were no ceremonies there, save a short prayer, and the closing portion of the protestant Episcopal ritual. The procession then returned to the city.

The party which accompanied the funeral train from Washington consisted of Justices Miller, Harlan, Blatchford, Gray and Lamar of the United States supreme court; J. H. McKinley, clerk; C. L. Bell, his deputy; Marshal J. M. Wright and his deputy, W. H. Reardon. Senators Sherman, Evans, Allison, Gray and George, and Sergeant-at-Arms Christy; Representatives Grovernor, Montgomery, Stewart, Cobb, Bemis, Picard, Russell and Seelye, and Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms Selzer.

A CARD OF EXPLANATION.

It is well known that a number of prohibitionists sustained W. H. Ambler at the last township election. This was in obedience to the convictions that Mr. Ambler is a capable and efficient supervisor. The candidate on our ticket O. F. Carpenter has our confidence most implicitly, but knowing that he could not be elected we felt it our duty to the best interest of the township demanded the election in his instance of Mr. Ambler. We wish to place on record the reasons for our action in justice to Mr. Carpenter whom could he have been elected would have our hearty support because of his character we have the utmost confidence. WORK OF U. S. FISH HATCHERIES IN MICHIGAN, ETC.

Commissioner of Fish and Fisheries McDonald has presented to the Senate a report of the number of persons employed and the salaries paid; the property held by the commission, its cost, value and location; the stations occupied by the commission; and also a statement of the appropriations which have been made annually for the work of the commission since its establishment. The list of salaried employees of the Fish Commission is as follows: Frank N. Clark, superintendent of Michigan stations, $2,500; Seymour Bower, assistant superintendent of Michigan stations, $1,500; M. S. Root, foreman Northville station, $900; S. P. Wires, foreman Alpena station, $1,100; H. D. Dean, assistant Northville station, $800; J. C. Fox, assistant Alpena station, $600; Frank S. Harmon, clerk Northville station, $600; E. A. Tullian, watchman Alpena station, $640. The commissioner says of the Michigan stations:

"The object of the Northville station is the hatching of whitefish and lake trout, and the hatching and rearing of the rainbow, brook, and other species of trout for distribution to ponds, lakes and streams of Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. It is proposed in future to confine the whitefish work to Alpena and Duluth, which are more advantageously situated for the purpose, and to give greater extension to the work of hatching and rearing trout for distribution to the streams, ponds and lakes of the interior of the States named. The United States rents the land occupied by the buildings and ponds of the Cold Springs Cream & Butter Company for $800 per annum. Immediate steps will be taken to protect the tenure of the United States by a lease, there being now no formal one. The cost of maintaining the station last year was $10,547. The object at Alpena is the hatching and distribution of whitefish to Lake Superior, Lake Huron, Lake Michigan and the interior lakes of the Michigan Peninsula."

The land upon which the station stands is the property of Geo. N. Fletcher, of Alpena. The station was erected and occupied in 1888, under a verbal agreement, the condition of which were that the United States Fish Commission should have the control and use of the site upon which the hatchery stands for ten years. Mr. Fletcher states that no payment of rent has ever been made to him. The cost of maintenance last year was $3,125.
