EUPESPY.

This is what you ought to have, in fact, you must have it, to fully enjoy life. Thousands are searching for it daily, and mourning because they find it not. Thousands upon thousands of dollars are spent annually by our people in the hope that they may attain this goal. And yet it may be had by all. We guarantee that Electric Bitters, if used according to directions and the use prescribed in, will bring you good digestion and out the demon dyspepsia and in its stead Eupespy. We recommend Electric Bitters for Dyspepsia and all diseases of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Sold at 50c and $1.00 per bottle by A. L. Randolph Druggist.

GOLD—Sells are scarce. The ones who write to Edison & Co., Portland, Maine, will receive free, 100 gold pieces about worth which they can use in their business. They will pay them from $100 to $1000 per day. Some have secured over $1000 a day. Enlarge your eyes. Capital and no need. You are started free. Those who start at once are guaranteed a job. All is true.

TOWN TALK.

L. W. Hutton visited Hastings this week.

George Wager is building a new barn on his lot.

Tomorrow is Arbor day. Have you got your trees for planting?

Miss Lillie Taylor, of Detroit, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Sands.

State Senator Colgrove, of Hastings, will orate here Decoration day.

Mrs. George H. Newell, of Holly, has been visiting friends in town.

Purd Sessions and wife, of Port Huron, are visiting at his parents.

Dr. E. R. Haskell, of Ann Arbor, occupied the Baptist pulpit last Sunday.

F. R. Neal is receiving a visit from his mother, Mrs. G. W. Neal, of Ovid Center, N. Y.

Mrs. Wm. Arms, of Milford and Mrs. Willard Arms, of Peaton, were guests of Mrs. Sands the fore part of the week.

Frank Harmon left Tuesday afternoon for Pittsburg, Pa., where he goes in the interest of the Globe-Furniture Co.

Rev. W. T. Jacques will deliver the oration centennial day at 10:30. Further announcements next week in regard to the celebration.

Mrs. S. A. Ellis has an old fashioned English clock which is 150 years old and keeps as good time to-day as ever. She prizes it very highly.

Thornton & Cook are going into the farm implements business quiet extensively this year. They have already received two carloads of machinery.

We are in receipt of the Michigan manual for 1899. As usual it is chock full of facts and figures concerning this commonwealth. No library in Michigan is complete without it.

Luther Stapp and Fred Carpenter intend starting next Monday for the Oklahoma territory. Northville must add her share to the multitude of seekers after fortunes in that new country.

The Northville social club will give a centennial hop in Prince's rink, April 30. They claim that as Washington in his younger days liked to "tip the light fantastic toe" that they will follow his example.

A new industry has sprung up in this section of the state, that of shipping ashes by rail to eastern states. This week J. C. Bartram has purchased for Detroit parties seven car loads of wood ashes and shipped them to New York state.

The Wayne county Sunday school association will meet here next Thursday evening and hold their session all day Friday in the Methodist church. An interesting program has been provided and all are invited to participate in the exercises.

The Livingston county board of examiners have perfected their plan for examinations of the township schools with a view to advancing pupils in their grades, leading to admission to the union schools of the villages upon certificate.—School Moderator.

William L. Ely and wife, of Detroit, were in town Tuesday looking for the ground over preparatory to moving here. They will occupy the Hungerford place opposite the school house. Mr. Ely expects to get his factory (the old Globe drill works) going by May 1.

Last week Friday night burglars effected an entrance into the basement of F. N. Clark's house. The doors leading up stairs were locked so their further entrance was blocked but they helped themselves of the provisions on the dining table and left for other pastures.

There is now a post office for every 1,000 men, woman and children in the United States. If the expenses of carrying the mails were paid direct from the pockets of the people, pro rata, each citizen would pay an average of eighty-five cents a year for having his mail carried.

An adjourned meeting of the citizens of Northville to arrange to celebrate the centennial anniversary of President Washington will be held in the Record office on the evening of Monday next. Called at 7 o'clock sharp. A full attendance is desired.

E. S. WOODMAN, Chairman.

Next Monday evening the Plymouth lodge of Masons are expected to visit this lodge. After the regular exercises a banquet will be served.

At the adjourned meeting of the citizens to arrange for a proper celebration of the centennial of Washington's inauguration it was decided to hold the morning exercises in the Methodist church at nine o'clock, the hour at which Washington took his oath of office. The evening exercises will be held in the Baptist church.

The auction last Saturday afternoon brought a good many to town. Such sales are a benefit. They bring people to town both to buy and to sell. They should receive encouragement as long as they do not interfere with other lines of business permanently established. We believe a regular auction mart can be established here that will become a permanent and prominent feature of Northville. They will have another sale next week Saturday.

Muir suffered a terrible loss by fire Tuesday. The business portion of the town was destroyed. The fire burned until there was nothing else for it to burn—no fire protection. In this respect Northville is no better for we have nothing to protect ourselves against a run of fire. Have we got to have a serious fire before something will be done in the matter? Some large systems dug in the center of town would be much better than nothing. Will not the board give us that?

Mrs. Elizabeth Hughton, widow of the late Michael Hughton, was found dead in her bed yesterday morning at the old homestead. She was seventy-seven years of age. The funeral services will be held in the Presbyterian church of this place, Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Last November Mr. Hughton was found dead in bed in the morning and in March 1898 their only child died after a weeks illness. In thirteen months time this entire family of old timers have died. They were respected by all who knew them.

TO THE PEOPLE OF NORTHVILLE.

The season is upon us when a thorough inspection of premises, dwellings, cellars, barns, water closets, privies, cess-pools, etc., should be made by every householder who owns or occupies any such place, for the purpose of thoroughly renovating and disinfecting the same.

There are multitudes of alleys, rock yards and cellars where there is decaying vegetable matter, moldy walls and low, wet and sodden pools and ground, half rotten chips, boards and refuse matter, all of which are natural and fruitful breeding places for disease-bearing germs and foul unhealthful gases. There are kitchen back yards which have received slops and the debris from the house during the winter months and are foul with the filth of the "trash" and sink waste, which in the heat of the summer's sun will poison the air with gases and lead it with germs of disease to be inhaled with every breath that is breathed.

The intelligence of this community recognizes all this but it is thought to be wise to stir up the people to immediate action to the end that every one do the duty they owe to the community and to themselves and their householders, by an immediate renovation and disinfection of their premises. Let there be a general and thorough cleaning up of all places both indoors and out, at once. With this lithurily and efficiently done, we may look for immunity from any prevailing sickness in our village, and avert any "effluvia" or "show of authority" on the part of the board of health or health officers. In the rear of stores and dwellings are to be seen heaps of accumulated rubbish which should be removed or burned. The condition of many privy vaults and the stables and barns in many places demand immediate attention and it is hoped that this general notice will meet with such favorable consideration as to render special notices unnecessary.

BY ORDER OF BOARD OF HEALTH.

WOOLEY.

Died, at the home of his parents, in the town of Waterford, Oakland Co., Mr. Will Woolley, aged 22 years. The death of this estimable young man is mourned by many of the friends of his youth—but the one on whom the blow falls most heavily is one who is so intimately known here, as Miss Saele I. Emery, who in August last left her home, a happy bride, to share his fortunes and his home at Traverse City, where he had for two years been engaged as an attendant at the asylum there.

His health had not been good for a few months previous to their marriage but no fears were entertained that his disease would so soon terminate fatally. But about one week after they settled in their new home he was taken with hemorrhages of the stomach and from that time he had been almost constantly under the physician's care but his disease seemed to baffle all their skill. The latter part of December he recovered sufficiently to come down to his former home in Waterford hoping that he might recover his health, but this was otherwise ordered and after suffering intensely until the 5th of April, death came to his relief.

His many sorrowing friends "sorrow not as those who have no hope," for he left behind him good evidence that for him "to die was gain," and although life looked bright before him, yet he shrunk not from an exchange of worlds.

SCHOOL COLUMN.

Last Thursday after school the teachers met in the grammar room to "sweeten up." Miss Gorton furnished the sugar which was from "home."

Miss Greer enrolls sixty-eight in the Primary room and rumor has it that some are so small she is obliged to lift them up into their seats. Come and see.

If your boy is forming habits of idleness, and a careless way of doing things, he is liable to be inclined that way when he becomes a man. Map out a straight forward business course for the child to pursue, adapting it to his years, and then see that you are master of the situation, and the child will eventually have abundant reasons to thank you most heartily.

We keep a complete record of every pupil's work and will be pleased to inform any parent at any time as to the character of the work the pupil is doing.

It is often a good thing to occasionally see the record yourself, and not depend too much upon rumor concerning the progress of certain ones in school.

Over twenty from Northville attended the teacher's examination last Saturday at Plymouth. The following is one of the ordeals through which they passed:

1. Arithmetic, third grade.

2. 175 - 15 = 61. What?

3. Multiply the difference between 24 and 6007 by the product of 21 and 600.

4. A dealer's profit this month is $139.50, which is 93 per cent of his profit last month. How much must he make next month that his average profit for the three months may be $20 a month?

5. The area of a cubical block is 294 inches. What is the length of the diagonal of the cube?

6. In a partnership A furnishes one-half the capital and is to have one-eighth of the gain for extra services. B and C furnish $3,000 each, and the gain is $5,700. What is the share of each? Give the solution and analysis.

7. Define base, rate, percentage, etc.

8. In what time will $550 amount to $600.25 at 7 and three tenths per cent.

9. When it is noon at Fremont, longitude 89° 15' west, it is 11 hours 4 minutes A. M. at Dallas, Texas. What is the longitude at Dallas?

10. A wheel makes 800 revolutions in traveling over two miles, 1,430 yards. What is its circumference?

11. A pasture is 4 feet 8 inches wide, 5 feet long, and 3 feet 3 inches deep. Find its contents in barrels, gallons, quarts and pints.

Northville will celebrate April 30. The U. S. History class in the high school will furnish the program for the evening exercises. These will be held in the Baptist church.

One-half of the village of Muir, including the hotel, was laid in ashes this morning. The fire started in the Dakin house at 11 o'clock in the evening and exhausted itself about 9 o'clock this morning, after having consumed all the buildings on Ionia street. The Dakin house was a large three story building, and as all its occupants were asleep when the fire was discovered it was with the greatest difficulty they were rescued. The village of Muir had only a chemical engine, with but two charges of chemicals for its use on hand. Free Press.

MATILDA BRITTON PURDY.

Mrs. James Purdy, whose maiden name was Matilda Britton, and who died Sabbath evening, April 7, at the age of 82 years, 5 months and 15 days, was born in Onondaga county, New York, on the 23 day of Oct. 1807, where she grew to womanhood. In her 20th year she was married to David Meeker of the same state with whom she lived for 3 years until in the fall of a tree Mr. Meeker met with an accidental death. She was afterwards married to John Blouett and remained his faithful and encouraging helpmate until an accident again bereft her of her husband, he dying from the result of injuries received from a runaway team 3 days after the accident and 11 years of married life. The third union of this woman is well known when she associated herself in marriage with one long and well known in this locality, James Purdy, the well known deacon of the Plymouth Presbyterian church, of which the deceased was a member. In the fall of 1838 the deceased moved from New York to Michigan and with her husband located at Canton in this county making her home there about 5 years and afterwards moving to what is known as the Purdy farm, one and a half miles north west of Plymouth, which was her home 24 years up to the date of her husband's death. Of late years she has made her home with her children.

Twentytwo ago the 6th day of last August while upon a visit to Grand Rapids, Mrs. Purdy received a stroke of paralysis. She was removed to the house of her daughter, Mrs. Cole, in this place, the 12th of Sept. when she died. Think of her many trials, the frequent disasters that attended this woman's home. The loss of two husbands by accident, as well as the surrender of half her offspring to God and you who knew her best can readily see how these trials only worked into her spiritual being greater patience. She never said in all her troubles and sickness "I want to die" but rather her whole belief was expressed in the words "when the Lord sees fit to take me I am ready to go."

On Monday forenoon last, as Fred Harff, son of Frank Harff, residing three miles south of the city, was on his rounds, leading his horse, Raimonck Jack behind a road cart, and opposite the residence of Mrs. Philo C. Davis, near Amy, the horse became angry, sprang forward, and reared, throwing himself upon the cart, and grabbing the driven horse by the flank, setting his teeth into flesh, sinew and bone in a most vicious manner. That kind of familiarity not suiting the gelding, he broke the hold of the stallion, and cleared himself of all that impeded his escape. Young Harff had meantime used his whip ineffectually over the head of his stallion, who now turned all his anger upon the young man, grabbing him first by the center of the abdomen; then the right side; and finally got a fearful grip upon the left side of the abdomen and the groin, and shook him like a dog would a wood chuck, only releasing his hold as the flesh and clothing gave way and he fell to the ground. The mad animal then rushed upon him to trample him, but in the meantime the Davis boy rushed out and seized and beat off the horse aided young Harff into the house, where he was found to be fearfully lacerated. Dr. LeBaron, of this city, was gotten there as soon as horseflesh would carry him, examined and dressed the injuries, which consisted of many bruises and a six inch ragged tear extending down the left side of the abdomen and inside the left groin. Dr. LeBaron expressed the opinion on Monday that Harff would pull through all right unless inflammation set in, and his condition and prospects will be ascertained later in the week. The lesson of this casualty should not be lost on owners of stallions. Never lead them behind a buggy, or place yourself at the mercy of their sudden and treacherous anger.—Post-Office Gazette. Mr. Harff has since died.

NEW DESIGNS FOR COINS.

The Present Style About Forty Years Old-Crude and Inartistic.

Yes, we need a change, said a down-town money broker to a New York Star reporter who was asking him whether American coins would not be improved by substituting something besides spread eagles and stiff-necked goddesses of liberty as emblems of the land of the free.

There is a general desire for new designs outside of the numismatists and collectors, but there is no change.

Yes, Mint Director Kimball thinks that the designs of American coins are inartistic, and he is desirous to have a change.

With the exception of the new five-cent piece and dollar there has been no change in design for about forty years.

It is a long time since any new style of embellishment was introduced.

At Auction.

Some of the saddest scenes that one could witness in the lives of our dumb friends are at the auction stables.

No one ever buys a horse, just because it is lame and worn out.

There is no intentional cruelty on the part of the purchaser.

Why, it is an easy calculation to see that it pays to buy and sell a cow, worn out animal.

ONE SUMMER DAY.

It was on a lovely summer day,
I stood beneath a maple tree,
Watching the little children play;
One little girl came up to me,
She placed her little hand in mine,
While a tear rolled down her rosy cheek,
Then looking up toward yonder elme,
With heart so full she could not speak,
"Ah, Mister, it was just one year ago,
They took my little brothers and sisters away,
And laid them beneath the cold winter snow;
And that is why I weep to-day."
I told her not to complain,
Some day her journey would be o'er,
Then she would meet the little ones again,
Far away on that beautiful shore.
As we journey through this land,
We meet broken hearts on the road,
Let us all extend a helping hand,
And help them bear their heavy load.
God will reward them some day,
That try to help the needy and poor;
When he calls us home over the way,
He will bid us enter in at his door.

PLYMOUTH.
