

The Northville Record.

Vol. XXIII, No. 45.

Northville, Mich., Thursday, June 23, 1892.

$1.00 per year, in advance.

HAVE YOU SEEN?

Our new method of framing Pictures? If not step in our Gallery and look at our stock of Mouldings and Framed Pictures.

150 Styles of Mouldings now in Stock.

Think of it! New shades to harmonize with any study. The new and correct way of Framing.

We are up with the times. Prices consistently low and prompt attention in filling every order. We invite your inspection.

BROWN & CO.,
Northville, Mich.

BICYCLES.

BICYCLES

We have secured the agency for Northville and vicinity for the Celebrated Bicycles manufactured by the Western Wheel Works, of Chicago, ranging in price from $20 to $135, and consisting of 12 different styles.

We warrant every wheel to be mechanically perfect.

They are made from imported seamless steel tubing, steel drop forgings, ball bearings all around, and there are no better wheels made for the money.

Be sure and see us before you make a purchase.

We also have the agency for the celebrated Victor wheel.

Sands & Porter

The reliable furniture dealers.

Another Tailor

Shop in town over Teichner & Co's Dry Good store. New Goods, and also repair work done on short notice. Come and give me a call.

B. F. EIDL.
Formerly with J. R. Doelfs.

Dressmaking.

I have recently returned to Northville again and am prepared to do all kinds of dressmaking by the day at your home. Satisfaction guaranteed. Leave orders at Miss Eva Bovee's millinery store.

MISS PRICILLA ARNOLD.

$10 REWARD $10

Offered for any other filler found in our make of

R. & F. CIGARS
than superior Vuelta Abajo Havana, grown in the Isle of Cuba. They are equal to most 10c brands and are sold by dealers at 5c straight. Call for 'em, try 'em and be convinced.
RATHBURN & FLEISCHER, McFet's Wayne Mich.

Miss Eva Bovee

Millinery

and

Fancy Goods.

Center st.

WILL PLAY BALL

The Pearl's of Detroit will Try to Do Up Northville's Invincibles.

TWILL BE A GREAT GAME

And Crowds Will Yell Themselves Hoarse July 2.

The well known Pearl base ball club of Detroit could not be arranged with for a game here July 4th, but they offered the Saturday before, or July 2d. The matter was referred to Manager Brown of Northville club, who have won an enviable reputation both by their gentlemanly conduct and scientific playing this season, and have yet to loose their first game. Manager Brown arranged for a game with this Pearl team to be played on the grounds here next Saturday afternoon, July 2d. The weather bureau has been requested to arrange for a fine day for this occasion and it will be a treat for Northville people, the majority of whom love to see a good ball game. Northville will probably not celebrate the 4th and this will be a good day to let things loose and have a good time. The Pearl's are one of Detroit's crack amateur ball clubs and they may possibly down Brown's Colts, but if they come with intentions to that effect they may be assured that they have no easy job on their hands, and that they will get some awfully good practice for their Ypsilanti game which occurs July 4.

FIELD DAY.

Quite a Lot of Fun and Harry German Carries Off the Honors.

There was quite a good crowd out to witness the "Field Day" sports at the Ball park last Friday afternoon. A whole lot of the young men under 19 years were on hand, but they were seemingly very much afraid to take a part. In only one contest, shooting rifle without rest, was there more than two contestants and consequently this was the only case where a 2d prize had to be paid. The first prize was 75 cents in each case and was won as follows: Rifle without rest, 1st prize C. Capell, 2d prize E. W. Wood.
Standing jump, H. German.
Jump with dumb-bells, " "
High jump, Orr Webster.
Run, hop, skip, jump, " "
Throwing shot one hand, Geo. Gibson.
Throwing shot over head, H. German.
Throwing shot between legs, " "
Base ball throw, " "
Foot race, " "
Bicycle race, handicap, Thad Knapp.
In the bicycle race Thad Knapp on a pneumatic was given 20 feet the start of Henry Fry on a cushion tire and Knapp crossed the goal about that many feet ahead.

THE LADIES LIBRARY.

Report of their Annual Meeting Held Friday Night.

The annual meeting of the Ladies Library association, occurred at the library rooms last week Friday night. There was a good attendance and the reports of the secretary and treasury were very complete and showed the very prosperous condition of the association.

The following are the new officers for the coming year: President, M. E. Lapham; Vice-Pres., Mrs. F. N. Clark; Secretary, Mrs. A. B. Smith; Treasurer, Miss J. M. Babbitt; Trustees, Mrs. A. E. Rockwell, Mrs. W. I. Ely, Mrs. S. Lapham, Mrs. J. A. Dubuar.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.
Whole number books in Library 1153
Drawn during the last year 3972
Average per week 78
Number of members 131

J. M. BABBITT, Librarian.

TREASURER'S REPORT.
Receipts for past year $235.05
Disbursements for past year 184.95
Surplus in Treasury 50.10

IDA BARRY, Treasurer.

We manufacture Sash, Doors, Blinds Mouldings and all kinds of mill work York & Tillotson, Northville Mich.

When building or repairing don't fail to get prices from York & Tillotson Northville Mich.

Sea Salt Baths--

We are now prepared to give Sea Salt baths at our Bath rooms. Ladies may bathe with the greatest of privacy.

FRANK BROWN, Prop.

"SAILING, NOT DRIFTING."

Five Young Ladies Receive Their Diplomas Tomorrow Night.

The following is the program for the Commencement exercises to be held at the Opera house tomorrow night:

Instrumental Solo.

Invocation.

Trio—"Down in the Dewey Dell." Smart.

Miss Filkins, Mrs. Long, Mrs. Beal.

Essay—Mountaineers are always freemen.

Caroline Babbitt.

Essay—Woman's advancement.

Minnie A. Reed.

Solo—"Among the Clover." Francis York.

Miss Agnes Whitely.

Essay—The true ideal, the only real.

M. Blanche Bradley.

Essay—The Midas Touch.

Edith M. Reed.

Solo—The Daisy.

Ardith.

Mrs. Belle Randolph Long.

Essay—The Harmony of discord.

C. Ethelwyn Dubuar.

Presentation of Diplomas.

Quartette.

Benediction.

The young ladies all graduate in the language course.

Society Notes.

K. O. T. M.

Miss Bina West has already organized over 30 new tents of the Lady Macabees.

The Tent at Leeland's Station instituted a month ago now numbers 45 members. They will probably build a hall.

Prof. Chisholm the present commander of Salem tent will probably remove to Newberry, Luce Co., in a few months to become High school master. He is an efficient officer and will be greatly missed by the tent.

Assessment No. 45 is called and must be paid before July 15.

Rev. W. H. Shier of Salem has united with the Macabees.

K. of P.

Dr. Farnall, medical director and manager of the Yarnall Gold Cure, is one of the newest members to Mystic lodge at Northville.

J. A. Gibson, one of Northville's well known and popular K. P's, who is at Pontiac asylum for treatment, is on the gain.

Mystic lodge rooms at Northville are lighted throughout by electric lights.

F. & A. M.

C. F. R. Bellows, well known in Masonic circles throughout the state, and who is prominently mentioned for the republican nomination of State Supt. of Public Instruction, has just accepted a call to be principal of Central Mich. Normal School and Commercial Institute located at Mt. Pleasant.

RESOLUTIONS.
The following Resolutions were unanimously adopted by Allen M. Harmon Post at their regular meeting Friday evening June 10th, 1892:

Resolved that we hereby tender the thanks of this Post to the Northville Cornet Band for their kindness in tendering their services without any remuneration, and for the fine music that they played for us on Memorial day, May 30th, and that the Ad'vt. be requested to furnish the band with a copy of these resolutions;

Resolved also that the editor of the Northville Record be requested to publish these resolutions.

By order of H. O. WARD, Com.

B. G. WEBSTER, Ad'vt.

THANKS.

The Young People's society of the Baptist church wish to publicly express through the columns of the Record their sincere thanks to all those who so kindly assisted by their presence, patronage, and work, to make their entertainment of last week the success it was. Especially are they under obligations to the children and parents, of not only the Baptist church but also of the other churches, for their valuable assistance.

CHURCHES.

CATHOLIC—Services every Tuesday after the fourth Sunday of the month at 10 o'clock A. M. Catechism every Sunday at 8 o'clock P. M.

Rev. Fr. Clarkson, Pastor.

PRESBYTERIAN—Sunday Services at 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Sunday School at 12 M. Prayer meeting every Thursday evening at 7:30 P. M. All will be made welcome. Young Persons Society meets every Sabbath evening at 6:30 o'clock.

REV. W. T. JAQUESS, Pastor.

BAPTIST—Hours of Service on Sunday at 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Sunday school at close of the morning service. Prayer meeting every Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Strangers are invited. Young Peoples' Meeting every Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

REV. L. G. CLARK, Pastor.

Methodist Episcopal—Hours of Service 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Sunday School immediately after morning service. F. R. Beal, Supt. Prayer meeting every Thursday evening at 7:30 P. M. Class meeting on Sunday at 6:30 P. M. Epworth League meeting Tuesday at 7:30 P. M. Strangers are invited to all services.

REV. F. BRADLEY, Pastor.

The Water Works.

WILL THEY BE DONE THE 4th OF JULY AND ARE YOU PREPARED FOR IT?

If so you ought to have a Set of Clothes, or a Pair of Pants, that has been shrunk before it was made up, as you may have the Hoss turned on you.

Our Cloth is all shrunk before it is cut and made up into Suits, and no danger of their ever shrinking, whether you get them wet or not, after they are once made up. Come and give us a call, as the Fourth is very near, and Orders coming in all the time.

Featernally Yours,
J. R. DOREFS, The merchant tailor,
Northville, Mich.

Business Flashes.

Do you want help? Do you want a situation? Have you a house to rent? Do you want to rent a house? Do you want to buy or sell anything? If so get a line in the Record.

FOR SALE—Seed Buckwheat and Seed Beans. E. P. Kellogg 44 w3

FOR RENT—Office rooms over our store in the old Joslin stand Main street. Inquire of A. W. Reed or E. L. Riggs. 33tf

FOR RENT—Nice large house in north west part of village. Inquire this office. 40tf

FOR SALE—Elegant large house and big lot. Quantities of fruit, chicken park etc., Corner Yerkes and Atwater streets. Inquire O. F. Carpenter. 42tf

FOR SALE—Nice Bay Driving Horse. Perfectly Gentle. Cheap. Bargain. Inquire Mrs. Emma Coates, Nov 24th. 33tf

FOR SALE—S Good Building lots on Gorton division. Terms 10 per cent down, 10 per cent in six months, balance on term of 3 years. Price $100 to $135. Inquire of A. D. Kendrick or M. D. Gordon. 32tf

FOR SALE—The property known as the Samuel Williams homestead Corner Main and Wing streets is for sale. Address Mrs. L. G. A. Randolph, 433 Third avenue, Detroit Mich. 15tf

FOR SALE OR TRADE—House and Double lot. Will sell part or all. On DuSap st. less than one block from Opera house. Inquire Record office. 41tf

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," is an old maxim, and is true in most cases, but can be reversed when applied to coughs and colds. If you cure your coughs and colds you will doubtless prevent Consumption. There is no remedy so effectual as Hartzell's Cough Syrup it will cure your cough and prevent consumption. For sale by Geo. C. Hueston.

MAD

CLEAR THROUGH.

The Gentleman in the Clothing Department has been as mad as a Hare all the week because "The Dry Goods Man" has had so many Big Bargains lately, but last Saturday night's sale broke the record and this week it is his turn.

Number 29

29 is the number of a lot of Mens Brown, All Wool, Suits.

They are Regular $10.00 Suits, and Saturday, June 25th, they will be placed on sale at an even $5.00 per Suit.

$5 Per Suit.

This sale will not open until Saturday and then they will talk for themselves.

$5 Per Suit.

T. G. Richardson,
The Cash Outfitter.

DR PRICE'S Cream Baking Powder

Used in Millions of Homes—40 Years the Standard.

MICHIGAN

THERE is an insolence that is even more intolerable than the Chaddani and Pardigdie philanthropy, for it does not pretend to any aim but that of diversion, and it contents itself with looking on at something new and strange apparently unconscious that the something is human sensibilities, dulled though they be. Yet there is even in much philanthropy in most well-meant philanthropy an invasion of the rights of others that tends to undo the very good that benevolence accomplishes. Does the man or woman live who can receive in poverty, of the abundance of another, and not lose something of the blessedness of independence? To receive and to remain unbelted by it is possible to few. It is this which makes the wide gulf between the rich and poor so impassable, and which ultimately throws down the most carefully planned efforts at bringing them together on a common ground.

positively. "I was a night and a day in the deep." Oh, worn-out, emaciated old man! surely you must be melancholy: no constitution could endure this and be cheerful. But I press my way through the prison until I come up close to where he is, and by the faint light that streams through the opening I see on his face a supernatural joy, and I bow before him, and I say, "Aged man, how can you keep cheerful amidst all this gloom?" His voice startles the darkness of the place as he cries out, "I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand." Hark! what is that shuffling of feet in the upper dungeon? Why, Paul has an invitation to a banquet, and he is going to dine to-day with the King. Those shuffling feet are the feet of the executioners. They come, and they cry down through the hole of the dungeon, "Hurry up, old man. Come now: get yourself ready." Why, Paul was ready. He had nothing to pack up. He had no baggage to take. He had been ready a good while. I see him rising up, and straightening out his

by the cries of his drowning wife and children, when, although unable to swim, at once jumped into the water. The fight for life only lasted a short time, and when the neighbors finally reached the spot it was only in time to remove from the water the bodies of father, mother and children. Five other little children are left orphans by the accident.

---

About Sea Beans.

In the Hebrides sea beans are supposed to be fairies' eggs. Whether this is a correct belief or not it is certain that all people of the world living near the ocean have entertained faith that its waters are inhabited by human-like creatures more or less supernatural.

---

A Toy-Making Center.

Nuremberg, the great toy-making center, has had a banquet to celebrate the completion of the 300,000th model steam engine by a certain well-known maker. The same factory has turned out more than 325,900 magic lanterns.

---

Rhmen streets give great satisfac.

huyesen sent an officer of the state department with Judge L. L. Lewis then district attorney, to see the property. Upon examination of the title and after due surveys were made, proper deeds were prepared by these gentlemen and executed by John E. Wilson and Bettie Wilson, his wife, and the purchase money promptly paid. Thus came into possession of the United States that portion of Wakefield that contains the early home of Washington.

---

Kept Quiet.

"I hope you were not impudent in return," said mamma, after Willie had told her of some mean things a playmate had said.

"No. I just kept still," said Willie.

"I couldn't think of anything to say that would make him mad."—Harper's Young People.

---

Blessings.

"Wives are blessings to their husbands," Mr. McGerk, asserted Mrs. McGerk.

"Yes, love," was the soothing reply, "in disguise."—Detroit Free Press.

SYRUP OF PRUNES
 (OFF)
 Mild and Effectual. Cures Bilioness, Kidney and Liver Diseases, and the only remedy that positively cures
HABITUAL CONSTIPATION.
 Sold at the uniform price of 50¢ per bottle, or, 6 for $2.50.
 —PREPARED BY—
THE NATIONAL PRUNE SYRUP CO.
 Chillicothe, Ohio.
FOR SALE BY G. C. Hueston

---

Try Dillman's Great German 25 cent
 Cough Cure at Geo. C. Hueston's.

---

SUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.
 The best salve in the world for cuts,
 bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever
 sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required.
 It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cts per box. For sale by A. M. KAN-
SOLE, the druggist

[illegible]

'August Flower'

"One of my neighbors, Mr. John Gilbert, has been sick for a long time. All thought him past recovery. He was horribly emaciated from the inaction of his liver and kidneys. It is difficult to describe his appearance and the miserable state of his health at that time. Help from any source seemed impossible. He tried your August Flower and the effect upon him was magical. It restored him to perfect health to the great astonishment of his family and friends." John Quibell, Holt, Ont. &

SICK HEADACHE
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
CARTER MEDICINE CO., NEW YORK.
Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

CONSUMPTION
Consumptives and people who have weak lungs or Asthma, should use this cure for Consumption. It has cured thousands. It has not injured one. It is not bad to take. It is the best cough cure ever sold. Sold everywhere. 25c.

"Why Are You Sick?"
I know precisely how you feel. It is that nervous, irritable feeling, your back troubles you, and when you try to read a little, your head aches. Isn't that so? I knew it. Oh, bother the doctor! Get a bottle of Vegetable Compound, and take it faithfully, as I have done. I've been through this thing myself, but am never troubled now. Do as I tell you, my friend.

SHILOH'S CONSUMPTION CURE
This GREAT COUGH CURE, this successful CONSUMPTION CURE is sold by druggists on a positive guarantee, a test that no other Cure can stand successfully. If you have a COUGH, HOARSENESS or LA GRIPPE, it will cure you promptly. If you have the CROUP, or WHOOPING COUGH, use it quickly and relief is sure. If your CONSUMPTION don't wait until your case is hopeless, but take this Cure at once and receive immediate help. Large bottles, 50c. and $1.00. Travelers convenient pocket size, 25c. Ask your druggist for SHILOH'S CURE. If your lungs are sore or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plasters. Price, 25c.

DR. HARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS
DO NOT GRIP NOR SICKEN. Sum cure for SICK HEADACHE, impaired digestion, constipation, torpid glands, biliousness, indigestion, nervousness, etc. It is a small, pleasant, and effective remedy. Sold everywhere. 25c.

DR. KILMER'S SWAMP ROOT
Kidney, Liver and Bladder Cure. Rheumatism. Lumbago, pain in joints or back, brick dust in urine, frequent calls, irritation, inflammation, gravel, ulceration or catarrh of bladder.

DR. KILMER'S SWAMP ROOT
Kidney, Liver and Bladder Cure. Rheumatism. Lumbago, pain in joints or back, brick dust in urine, frequent calls, irritation, inflammation, gravel, ulceration or catarrh of bladder.

DR. KILMER'S SWAMP ROOT
Kidney, Liver and Bladder Cure. Rheumatism. Lumbago, pain in joints or back, brick dust in urine, frequent calls, irritation, inflammation, gravel, ulceration or catarrh of bladder.

DR. KILMER'S SWAMP ROOT
Kidney, Liver and Bladder Cure. Rheumatism. Lumbago, pain in joints or back, brick dust in urine, frequent calls, irritation, inflammation, gravel, ulceration or catarrh of bladder.

DR. KILMER'S SWAMP ROOT
Kidney, Liver and Bladder Cure. Rheumatism. Lumbago, pain in joints or back, brick dust in urine, frequent calls, irritation, inflammation, gravel, ulceration or catarrh of bladder.

DR. KILMER'S SWAMP ROOT
Kidney, Liver and Bladder Cure. Rheumatism. Lumbago, pain in joints or back, brick dust in urine, frequent calls, irritation, inflammation, gravel, ulceration or catarrh of bladder.

A LITTLE IRISH GIRL.

By "The Duchess."

CHAPTER XIII.—CONTINUED.

"Never mind," growling painfully. "I will say it. It is a good punishment for me. If I know I had even thought of running away with Mr. Egan, do you think he would still be anxious to marry me himself?"
"He might," says Dulcinea, with keen reproach. "Well," resignedly, "it doesn't matter. I shall tell him the truth, whatever it costs me."
"But look here—"

"I shall tell him the truth," repeats Dulcinea sadly. "Why should I leave him in ignorance? I shall tell him everything. It is only honorable to do so."
"You are looking after your own honor most carefully," says Andy, with a very unpleasant smile. "Of course," slowly. "It has never occurred to you to look after mine? To consider that you are rather giving me away?"

"Your honor?"
"Yes, mine—that I have sacrificed to your welfare," says Mr. McDermot, with considerable indignation and a prolonged shake of the head.
"What are you talking about, Andy?"
"About you and your ridiculous plans. You will run away with an organ grinder, and you want! You will marry a respectable baronet, and you want! And, in the meantime, you let your good, kind, devoted cousin in for—"

"What?"
"Unlimited lies, if it comes to the point," says Mr. McDermot, sitting into his chair once more, with very distinct rage written in his ordinarily beaming face.
"Lies!"
"Well, I've thought he won't regard them as lies when you tell him what you believe to be the truth? And I shall be the teller of them. I shall be the liar!"

"But what have you said, Andy?"
"Didn't I tell him you had walked to the station with me; that it was quite a coincidence your meeting there; that I hoped he would take you home safely, and let you in at the back door without the governor's knowing anything of your escapade. I didn't call that to him, because if he found you were out he would lay the blame on me, who had induced you to go for a walk so late at night. You can do as you like, Dulcinea; but I wish you had told me beforehand you meant to make a confession to him. I should not feel so poor a fellow now as I do."

"If, by speaking to Sir Ralph, you think I shall betray you, Andy—, you who have been so good to me!" says Dulcinea, with a pale face. "I certainly shall not speak. I shall simply tell him I wish to put an end to our engagement, and shall decline to say 'why.'"

"It is beyond doubt that he would regard me as a liar of the first water," says Mr. McDermot, "and yes—it it can help you, Dulcinea, to let him know the truth—why," generously, "let him know it!"

"I could leave you out of the confession," says Dulcinea. "I could let him think—that—that you know nothing about it. That you thought too—I—Oh, no!" miserably, "that wouldn't do; you told him we had walked home from the station."
"Just that," grimly, "never mind, Dulcinea. I've been thinking, and I've really come to the conclusion, that to tell him everything will be the best plan after all. And as for my share in it—why—why—it comes to this, that I'll be glad when he knows the truth of my lying too!"

"Oh, Andy! but to betray you!"
"Betray me by all means! I'll live through it. And I dare say he'll understand I did it for you, that'll set me straight with him."
"But—but, indeed, Andy, I couldn't be such a sneak as that. You told a lie for me, and do you think I don't value that? No—oh!" stopping short, "what's that?"
"That's a thundering knock at the hall door!"

"He's coming!" says Dulcinea faintly. "Andy," picking up her skirts and preparing to run, "receive him. Go into the drawing room. Say anything—that I've a toothache—anything at all."
"But you'll come to dinner?" in dismay.
"Yes—oh yes!—I suppose I must."
"Why, I thought you were mad to tell him about it—to confess, as you said."

"So I will—so I will; but not just now," breathlessly. "No—" with a last backward glance, "just—not now, Andy!"

CHAPTER XIV.
"Go lovely rose."
Tell her that wastes her time and me; That now she knows, When I resemble her to thee, How sweet and fair she seems to me."
Dinner has come—has gone. And, to be just to it, it was a most dismal affair. In spite of Andy's jocularities, which, in despair at the end took rather a pronounced turn, this one meal beneath the McDermot's roof has proved a complete failure.

Miss McDermot has refused to help in any way. Just before dinner, as entered the drawing-room there had been a little flush upon her white cheeks, a nervous, yet hopeful sparkle in her dark blue eyes. The tall, child-like figure had been quite drawn up—even the nut-brown hair coiled on the top of the shapely head had helped to give her the conquering air that she had vainly dreamed might be hers. That old frock!—it was old, of course; but she looked—she knew she looked well in it. Once, a long time ago, he had said he liked her in it; perhaps now, when he saw her again in it—he might—

she didn't care for him, he cared for her. Now that she has too late awakened to the fact that she loves him, he—he does not love her—
As for Anketell, to see her—to go to her—to take her hand and coolly press it—has been torture. Oh! did she ever look so desirable as at this moment, when he so fully realizes what he has lost in her—so much loveliness, but not for him. A shabby frock indeed! a poor little frock! But did ever woman wear a frock so altogether becoming?—Such a shabby gown and without ornament of any kind; but what ornaments could compare with that sweet, soft neck, with those snowy, slender arms? what jewels could outvie those gleaming eyes? Oh, what a pale but perfect face! and the head—it seemed bared to wear a crown! How sad she looks—how sad! Remembering, no doubt.

She had almost thought his glance cold. She could not see that his heart was well-nigh broken. She could not know, seeing him there talking platitudes to his host, with his eyes determinedly turned away from hers, that yet in his soul he is looking at her, seeing each curve of her gown. It has come to him that if she can look so charming in that indifferent garment, how beautiful she might be made to look in something better! Oh, that he might be allowed to give her such things as might deck her dainty beauty to its utmost! that he might give her all he possesses! Some part of him she has already, a pure gift of his, that she will carry to her grave, whether she will or not—his heart!

The dinner is over at last; and the dreary half-hour after-dinner in the drawing-room. The snow is still falling, and the McDermot has elected that his guest shall spend the night beneath his roof. No going home until morning. Dulcinea had gladly left them to see a chamber warmed and sheeted and prepared; and sick at heart, and seeing no chance of a tête-à-tête with her betrothed in which to betray to him her own small act of folly, has refused to come down again.

"She has gone to her own room, and still dressed, sits cowering miserably over the huge fire that the old nurse had built for her."
Ten—eleven—twelve has struck. Rising at last, she goes to the window, and, pulling aside the blind, looks out upon the silent night. The snow has ceased! There is no wind. What!—not even rain? She opens the window, and leaning out, looks first up at the heavens bedecked with stars, then down at the earth beneath!

The latter proves infinitely more interesting!
Below lies a blizzard from which the McDermot's den, but in other richer houses, could be called the smoking-room, opens. To her surprise a lamp shines through the window, casting a dull, half-shade and light upon the night outside. Not gone to bed yet? Surely her father—If any one is there, she could, from where he now is, hear them talking. Leaving a little further out, she strains her ears; but no sound comes. No voice floats out upon the chilly air. They must have gone to bed and forgotten to put out the lamps.

"She had better run down and extinguish them."
She is about to draw in her head with a view to accomplishing this purpose, when the window beneath her leading from the smoking room to the balcony is thrown open, and a man dressed in evening clothes steps on to it. He has a cigar in his mouth and the red tip of it shows through the mesh of his surroundings. To mistake this man for any other than Sir Ralph would be impossible!

Dulcinea, drawing back hurriedly, leans against the shutters of her window. The first impulse was not to be seen; the second compels her to stand upright and face a situation, although it be with blanched cheeks. Now—now is her time—to speak.

He is alone. She is sure of that. If she hesitates now she may not for a long time, perhaps a whole interminable week, get a chance of squaring herself with her conscience. She must tell him—Then why, not now? It takes but a little minute to run down the stairs, open the smoking-room door, and crossing it reach the balcony.

"Dulcinea," says Anketell sharply—as sharply as though he had seen—a ghost.
CHAPTER XV.
"Drink to me only with thine eyes, And I will pledge with mine; Or leave a kiss but in the cup, And I'll not look for wine. The thirst that from the soul doth rise Doth ask a drink divine; But might I of Jove's nectar sip, I would not change for thine."
"Yes, it is me," said she, regardless of grammar. "I have come to tell you about it."

"About what?" His face is now as white as her own, and that is saying a great deal for it.
"You know—that is—do you know?" asks she, that old doubt returning.
"Even if I do, don't let us talk out here; it is miserably cold; come in."
"No, no; let me tell you here." (where you can't see me, she would have added, had she dared.)
"As you will, of course; but it's madness. It is the coldest night we have had yet, and there is a fire within and—"

"You did not seem to feel it too cold to come out a few minutes ago," says she.
"How do you know I came out?"
"I saw you; I was looking out of the window. And—I have wanted all day to see you alone."
"To see me alone? For the first time in your life, surely," with sudden bitterness.

"Oh, never mind all that now," says she, with a touch of impatience that is full of despair. "At all events I did want to see you, to—tell you the truth about it."
"Don't go on—don't if it hurts you!" says he hoarsely.
"Hurts me? Oh, it is more than that," says she in a stilled tone. "It is so bad that I can't live until I tell you."

"Tell it, then," says he, freezing again. Her grief! her misery! and such strong grief that it seems to shake her slender frame to its very soul. And all for that other.
[TO BE CONTINUED.]

IT MAKES THE DEAF HEAR

SUCCESS OF A NOVEL INSTRUMENT.

The Mysterious Restoration of Hearing by an Unseen Device—Old Theories Successfully Applied.

During the past few years there have been many rumors of the restoration, in some way, of the hearing of those who were known to have been deaf for many years. This led to an investigation by those interested, and it has been found that this happy change has been made by the use of a most simple yet ingenious device, which was invented by a gentleman in Bridgeport, Conn., named H. L. Wales. This device is the same to the ears as ear glasses, to the nose and a simply a soft rubber disc, arranged on a rubber spring, and so shaped that when inserted in the ear it will focus the waves of sound on the natural drum, thus increasing the vibration of the latter.

The possibilities of a device of this nature have long been known, but the many attempts to use this knowledge have been such utter failures that it was considered beyond our present knowledge of the ear to make a practical instrument of the kind. Consequently when this device was first invented, not much attention was given the same, as it was thought to be merely an old theory in new dress; but gradually this present prejudice was dispelled, until, at the present time, most physicians and aurists look kindly upon the instrument, and seem pleased at the success it is meeting.

At a recent interview Mr. Wales made the remarkable statement that to his knowledge, the device which he called Sound Disc, had never failed where relief was afterward obtained by any medical, surgical, or mechanical means, excepting a powerful ear trumpet, which he says is more powerful than his device. It would seem to be an ideal device for the deaf, as it is worn in the ear out of sight, for months at a time, and as far as we can learn, is pronounced safe and comfortable for the patient. Many times it has proven itself to be an advantage in the science of acoustics by relieving the most obstinate cases which had defied medical treatment for years.

What may be the ultimate result of the use of this device, whether the results thus far obtained will warrant its use in such a variety of cases that it will cure the progress of deafness in the future to such an extent that it will avoid the use of ear-trumpets we cannot say; but the desirability of a device of this nature, as regards its safety, its benefit and general comfort to the user, none will fail to admit.

Senator Stanford is said to receive a larger mail than the president.
Three painters were blown from the great Forth bridge in Scotland and killed.
A pinch of soda blown into a foam in either molasses or honey will cut the phlegm from baby's throat.

J. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O., Proprietors of Hall's Catarrh Cure, offer $100 reward for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for testimonials, free. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

It is estimated that there are 22½ acres of land for every living person.
"Wesson's Magic Corn Salve." Guaranteed to cure, or money refunded. Ask your druggist for it. Price 15 cents.
Texas is raising Irish flax.

To Become Successful in Business Life you need a good business education, such as may be acquired by mail. Bryant's College, Buffalo, N. Y.
India has railway schools.
Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for Children, soothes the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c. a bottle.
Georgia has a lumber trust.

If you are troubled with malaria take Beecham's Bile Beans. A positive specific, nothing like it. 25 cents a box.
There is collapsible life raft.
Mr. Darius Waterhouse, Chattanooga, Tenn., says: "It costs but little to try Beecham's Bile Beans, and it is all that is necessary to convince the doubting thousands that it will cure headache."

There are 10,000 steamships in use.
IN LUCK!
The person who is troubled with Salt-Rheum will find themselves in luck when they try one box of Hill's S. R. & S. Ointment. Largest box and best remedy for Salt-Rheum on the market. 25 cents. At all druggists.

Do not allow twigs to start out on the trunk.
The Ludlun state Federation of Labor wants senators elected by the people.

When Italy was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became a man, she clung to Castoria. When she had children she gave them Castoria.

In a year 8,500 churches have been built in the United States.
Scientific men say that a wink occupies about the sixth of a second.

I have used Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills for Dyspepsia and Constipation, and have been cured by them. I cheerfully recommend to all who suffer from the same. STEPHEN BURBANKS, Sexton Wayne St. Reformed Church, Jersey City.
Write Dr. J. A. Deane & Co., Catskill, N. Y.

Coal ashes make a good mulch for the garden.
WHAT THEY SAY
of Hill's Pile Pomade: "I had it the best remedy in the world for piles, and recommend it to my patients." A. L. Hawkins, M. D., Compton, Cal. "We think it the best remedy on the market for piles." A. D. Fisher & Co., Druggists, Springfield, Vt. Try it to-night! At all druggists.

The soil should be kept from baking hard around the trees.
THE TRUE LAXATIVE PRINCIPLE
Of the plants used in manufacturing the pleasant remedy, Syrup of Figs, has a permanently beneficial effect on the human system, while the cheap vegetable extracts and mineral solutions, usually sold as medicines, are permanently injurious. Being well-informed, you will use the true remedy only. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

Shrunk, half worn bed blankets or comforters, past using on a bed, make good pads to put under a stair carpet.
The Only One Ever Printed—Can You Find the Word?
There is a 2-inch display advertisement in this paper this week which has no two words alike except one word. The name is true of each new one appearing each week. Join the Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "crossword" on every paper they make and publish. Let us tell you the name of the word, and they will return you a BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OR SAMPLES FREE.

We shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.
French street railway employees will hold a national convention.
The fountains of Trafalgar square spout 500 gallons of water a minute.
In growing fruit for market quality is placed as the first essential.
Clean, fresh fruits and vegetables will sell while others will be a drug.

-How is -
-Your Blood? -
I had a malignant breaking out on my leg below the knee, and was cured sound and well with two and a half bottles of WILL C. BEATTY'S Other blood medicines had failed. To do me any good. WILL C. BEATTY, Valparaiso, S. C.

TRADE MARK
I was troubled from childhood with an enlarged prostate, and three bottles of WILL C. BEATTY'S cured me permanently. WALLACE MANN, New York City, N. Y.
One book on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. SWISS SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

YOU WANT IT!
MINARD'S
"KING OF PAIN"
LINIMENT
CURES RHEUMATISM. Pains in Chest, Side or Back. Neuralgia, Headache, Toothache, etc. WE REFUND MONEY IF 5 BOTTLES does not cure you or 1 bottle does not give you benefit. TRY IT! (Per Bottle, 25 cts. 5 BOTTLES, $1.25) 316,408 BOTTLES Sold in New England States in 1891. WE WARRANT IT! MINARD'S LINIMENT MFG. CO., Keosau, Mass.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water. 10 CENTS pays for an Aluminum Lens's Preserver. 10 Souvenir Cards and sample copy of our 30p Magazine. T. J. Gilchrist, 901 Olive St., St. Louis.

PATENTS
Flags
Notions Republican Leaders have prepared and published a history of the Principles and Policy of the Republican Party. Address, Mr. W. HAZEN, 211, 191 Centre Street, New York.

LADIES!
Brown's on your French Boots and Dressing Shoes.
FAT FOLKS REDUCED
25 to 35 lbs. per month by harmless natural remedies. No starvation, no inconvenience and no bad effects. Write for full particulars. Send for free circulars and testimonials. Address Dr. W. F. SARGENT, No. 1000, Theatre Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

MICHIGAN FARMS
The largest and best paying farms, as proved by 6 & 7 Agricultural Reports. Write for full particulars. 20,000 Acres of good land, well watered, near schools, churches, and all conveniences. Write for particulars, mailed free. Wells, Stone & Co., Saginaw, Mich.

CHEAP MUSIC
50,000 Pieces at 10 Cts. Each. Full Sheet Size. Splendid Paper. Enclose 2 cent stamp for Catalogue. Liberal Terms to the Trade. Remit 5 cent stamps for sample. Ad. CHEAP MUSIC STORE, 294 GRAND STREET, NEW YORK.
W. N. U. D., 10-26.

When writing to Advertisers please say you saw the advertisement in this Paper.

It's flying in the face of Nature to take the ordinary pill. Just consider how it acts. There's too much bulk and bustle, and not enough real good. And think how it leaves you when it's all over!
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets act naturally. They help Nature to do her own work. They cleanse and renovate, mildly but thoroughly, the whole system. Regularity is, too, The help that they give, lasts.

They're purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, the smallest, easiest, and best to take. Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels are promptly relieved and permanently cured. One tiny, sugar-coated Pellet for a gentle laxative—three for a cathartic.

They're the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.
You pay only for the good you get.
This is true only of Dr. Pierce's medicines.

Patents! Pensions
Send for Inventors' Guide to obtaining Patents and Pensions. Send for Book of PATENT and PENSION LAWS. PATRICK O'NEILL, Washington, D. C.

VICTOR HAY PRESS
Shipped anywhere on Trial. Catalogue Free. GEO. VICTOR & CO., 7 E. 12th ST., DETROIT, MICH. U.S.A.

CUB BERDAN
Send instruments. "One night in a Ball Room," No. 1, 2 and 3, each set published for nine parts and piano. Each book $1.00. Piano book $2.00. Five Violins, Pianos, Guitars, Clarinets, everything in the music line. Catalogue sent free. 378 Woodward Avenue, DETROIT, MICHIGAN.

FARMS CHEAP
20,000 ACRES of first class MICHIGAN farmland near railroad, in Alpena, Alpena and Montmorency counties; soil, rich clay and gravel loams; hardwood timber, well watered by springs and living streams; near churches, schools and lively towns. Price, $3 to $5 per acre. Easy terms. Perfect title. Write for particulars. T. S. SPRAGUE, 819 Hammond Bldg., Detroit, Mich.

H. S. PINGREE
Do you wear the Pingree Shoe?
A shoe with a record! For Ladies, Gents Boys & Girls.

IF YOU CANNOT
get our goods in your town, write to us giving particulars and we will see that you are supplied.

We are the pioneer shoe manufacturers of the west, having been manufacturing shoes exclusively for over a quarter of a century, and SELL NO GOODS THAT ARE NOT OUR OWN MAKE.

Pingree & Smith, Detroit.

Pingree & Smith, Detroit.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

F. & P. M. R. R.

TIME TABLE.

In effect June 12, 1892.

Trains leave Northville as follows:

STANDARD TIME.

GOING SOUTH. GOING NORTH.

Train No. 1, 8:05 a. m. Train No. 1, 8:35 a. m.

No. 2, 10:15 a. m. No. 2, 10:45 a. m.

No. 3, 12:15 p. m. No. 3, 12:45 p. m.

No. 4, 2:15 p. m. No. 4, 2:45 p. m.

No. 5, 4:15 p. m. No. 5, 4:45 p. m.

No. 6, 6:15 p. m. No. 6, 6:45 p. m.

Train No. 7 connects at Ludington with

Steamer for Milwaukee, and Train No. 1

connects with Steamer for Manitowoc

(during season of navigation), making connections for all points West and Northwest.

Sleeping cars between Bay City, Saginaw

and Detroit.

Dining Room Cars between Manistee

Saginaw and Detroit.

Connections made at Port Huron and

Detroit in Union Depot for all points

South, Canada and the East.

For further information see Time Card

of this company.

W. H. BALDWIN, Jr., W. F. POTTER,

Gen'l Manager, Gen'l Supt.

A. P. MURPHY,

Traffic Manager.

General Offices, Saginaw, Mich.

H. E. Lake, Actg. Northville, Mich.

Local Gleanings.

Things Sold and Did in the Liveliest and Frolichest Village in Michigan.

Council proceedings this week.

An ad. in the Record sold a bicycle for M. A. Porter in Milford this week.

Six new patients are added to the

Yarnall Gold Cure institute within the past week.

The market is flooded with straw berries and they were selling as low as 5 cents this week.

R. McCully brings us some straw berries which measure 5 1/2 inches in circumference.

Reed & Riggs say that Saturday was one of their biggest days. This firm's popularity is on the increase.

Mrs. Henry Holcomb of Detroit was out Saturday arranging to build a summer

cottage on the Holcomb farm.

Stark Bros. report a large increase of trade in their shoe department. Their new goods advertised last week are in great favor.

John McCully has purchased Ben

Webster's house and lot on Walnut street. It looks as though John was soon to take a partner.

Lot—Pair ladies black lace kid gloves, size 6 1/2, neatly new. Were lost

last week Friday evening. Will finder

please return same to this office?

Teicher & Co. report a big trade in light dress goods Saturday. Large crowds were in from the country taking advantage of their bargains.

It is suggested that a twilight service be held during the warm weather

this summer in Lady's grove in place of the regular evening services. A good idea.

Try the Wayne hotel the next time

you are in Detroit. The proprietor and clerks take particular pains in arranging for the comfort and pleasure

of their guests.

We shall experiment with a secret

society column commencing this week and if the interest so warrants we shall continue it. You are requested to hand

in any item of interest in this line.

Farmington people say that no base ball club ever visited their town before

who conducted themselves in a more gentlemanly manner than did our boys

at their recent visit there. Score

another for the "Colts."

The Rev. Dr. Chapen, brother of Mrs. Martha A. Rodgers, died last

Saturday and was buried at Jacksonville, Florida. Dr. Chapen had many friends in Northville, having frequently occupied the Presbyterian pulpit here.

There is evidently some more work brewing for the marshal in the usually quiet village of Northville. The windows in the Catholic church are again

being broken out. This is a mean piece of business and Northville "kids"

are old enough to know better.

The school children of Northville must feel a big relief just now. Between preparing for closing exercises

at the schools, Children's day at the

several churches, the entertainment

for the Baptist church and their examinations, the past few weeks have indeed been busy ones for them.

On July 4th the Northville ball club,

"Brown's Colts," will play their third game of the series with the Plymouth

nine at Walled Lake. This will undoubtedly be the best game of the season

as the Plymouth club are in to win,

and the Northville club will also be

Miss Luez Hockwell is quite ill with malarial fever.

Special meeting of the K. O. T. M.

Saturday night. Initiatory work.

Don't fail to read every ad. in the Record this week. There is money in it for you.

Messrs Reed and Riggs have leased

the Keeley institute building and will move therein this week.

Frank Woodman won one of the

prizes at the great cycle race at Detroit

Monday. Of the eight starters Frank came in fourteenth.

FOR RENT—Living rooms in Cooley

block over Wilcox's store. Inquire

L. W. Simmons.

The Epworth league will give an ice cream and strawberry festival on the parsonage lawn Saturday evening of this week. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Allie Carpenter captured an immense turtle at Walled Lake the other day.

It was a peculiar specimen, no one here

having seen one like it. It measured some 27 inches long by 17 wide. It was taken up to Wouderland yesterday.

When finished, the F. & P. M. depot

here will be the finest one along the line outside of Bay City, Saginaw and Flint, and the company are now assessing when the people of Northville will clean out the old mill pond. Of course

the pond cannot be cleaned out before cold weather comes, but it is well to bear in mind that it is to be fixed up this fall.

The return base ball game between

Northville and Farmington will be played here Saturday afternoon of this week. The Farmington's have been greatly strengthened since their recent defeat by the "Colts" with players

from Franklin and they will undoubtedly give our boys a hot game. Admission 10c and all should turn out and give the boys a lift.

That the advertisements in the Record are religiously read every week was pretty well proven by the rush at Richardson's store Saturday night to get a pattern of those chailies

he had advertised to sell for 25 cent's between 7:30 and 9 p. m. At 8:45 there was 1,700 yards sold and not a yard

left, but customer after customer still waiting. Mr. Richardson says the sale was far beyond his expectations.

A dinner party was given Monday

by Mr. E. R. Reed, in honor of his father's 60th birthday. Eighteen or twenty ministers of the Detroit Methodist Ministers' association, were present, as were the local clergy. A most enjoyable time was experienced by all.

Four children have been born to Mr.

and Mrs. Seth Reed, and all are living. Mrs. Lou Reed Stowell, late of the University of Michigan, now microscop-ist at the Agricultural Department at Washington, is a daughter. This year completes the forty-eighth year of Mr.

Reed in the ministry. He has been presiding elder 17 years and is the oldest minister of continuous active service in the Detroit conference. His first appointment was on the Flat

River circuit, which included the present city of Grand Rapids, Montcalm county and most of the territory to lake Michigan. He formerly taught the District school where the present

city of Grand Rapids now stands and boarded around among the patrons.

The following clergymen of the M. E.

church were present: C. T. Allen, M.

D. of the Cass Avenue church, Detroit; W. H. Shier, D. D., Mary Palm-

er church, Detroit; L. P. Davis, D. D.,

of Lincoln Avenue church, Detroit;

J. E. Jacklin, assistant editor of the Michigan Christian Advocate; F. L.

Osborn, Utica; A. B. Storms, Wood-

ward Avenue church, Detroit; W. C.

New York Express: "In Italy, half of the persons who press themselves for marriage are illiterates. Of the 400,000,000 people in China it is rare to find an adult unable to read and write,

but we welcome the one and drive out the other." The Italians, in some cases, at least, become voters, and can

then be made of use to politicians.

The Chinese never become voters.

There is the difference.

Somebody says that a wagon-maker

who has been dumb for years picked up a hub and spoke. Yes, and a blind carpenter on the same day reached out for his plane and saw, and a deaf

sheep ranchman went out with his dog and herd, and a noseless fisherman caught a barrel of herring, and smelt, and a deaf hatter was tenderly deposited on a pile of hair and felt,

and a forty ton elephant inserted his trunk into a grate and flue.

Those persons who think that bicyclists have no right in the road

will be interested in knowing that in a test case recently brought in a

Memphis court by the Business Men's Association and L. A. W. to establish the right of wheelmen to the road,

the verdict was for $48, the amount of damages to the wheel that was broken

by the carriage. The judge in charging the jury said that the bicyclist had

as much right to a highway as a man in a carriage had. In fact, a one-wheel or a two-wheeled conveyance

was as important a vehicle as a four-wheeled one.

DRESS MAKING.

Mrs. B. F. Springer is prepared to do all kinds of Dress making at her rooms in the Kellogg block. Satisfaction guaranteed. 374

WOLVERINE WHISPERS.

NEWS OF THE STATE TOLD IN A BRIEF FORM.

Prince Michael is sentenced to five years at Jackson—Indignant Citizens Become Aroused.

Special from Ann Arbor: The great trial which has been the exciting event of the past few days, is at an end. On Friday the attorneys for the plaintiff and defense having concluded their arguments, Judge Kinne charged the jury in a splendid manner and the jury retired. A recess was then taken until 7 o'clock.

The word was soon passed throughout the town and when court re-assembled the room was filled and large crowds gathered on the lawn and on the corners near by to await the verdict. When the jury filed in to the rooms and announced that they had reached a verdict, Foreman Clarkson in response to the judge's question as to what the finding was said the one word—"Guilty."

"Stand up, Mr. Mills," said the judge sternly. "Mr. Mills" continued Judge Kinne, "under the statute the punishment for the crime of which you have been convicted is not more than five or less than one year's imprisonment. I feel it my duty to impose upon you the maximum penalty named in the statute—that you be confined in the state prison at Jackson five years from and including this day."

The charge preferred in the information upon which Michael was convicted was carnally knowing a girl between the ages of 14 and 15 years.

The verdict and the sentence each in turn provoked the hundreds that crowded the court-room to the wildest enthusiasm and for some moments the court-room resounded with the cheering and applause of the vast audience. Amid the din court was hastily adjourned, and this marked the ending of one of the most remarkable cases upon record. Not only is the case the first ever tried under the special statute upon which the information was drawn, but the entire character of the case is unprecedented in criminal history.

The startling and sensational scenes presented in the court-room, however, was followed by a scene which has been witnessed at Ann Arbor for years. Even though justice was meted out by the court, the indignation and hatred of the crowd did not abate, and in his brief journey from the court-room to the jail in charge of four officers, Prince Michael, with Eliza Court at his side was surrounded by a mob of many hundred people, who conducted him to his prison, shouting, shrieking and yelling like fiends.

When he vanished into the jail the surging wave of humanity rolled back to the court house and then followed another scene which shall become memorable in the history of Ann Arbor.

William Bechel, the father of Bernice, the complaining witness, whose position throughout the trial has been a most peculiar one in turning against his own daughter, was seen for a moment in the doorway of the court house and became the object of the crowd's wrath.

He saw his danger and with two companions sought refuge in an office of the court house. For two hours the crowd surged about the building waiting for him to come out and unwilling to go into the building after him. Finally, however, as he did not appear a rush was made and in a few moments Bechel was dragged forth and amid the jeers of a thousand voices was hustled to a barber's shop where his long hair was clipped short and his heavy beard was trimmed until it lost all semblance of what it previously was.

CUT THEIR LOCKS.

Prince Michael's Successor to Leadership, With His Wife, Get Their Hair Cut.

Edward Durand, the new leader of the Israelites, and his wife were treated to an impromptu and artistic hair cut at Detroit by two unknown men who made their escape. The hair-cutting took place at the corner of Baltimore avenue and Crawford street. Durand and his wife left the Israelite colony and started for their home at 505 Wabash avenue. On Woodward avenue they met Roundsman Cuddy, of Fremont street station, and he walked some distance with them along Baltimore avenue as they were afraid some violence might be done. When he left them they continued along Baltimore avenue, and just as they reached Crawford avenue two men, who were standing on the corner, sprang forward and seized the two Israelites. They produced shears and proceeded to cut off bunches of hair. Mrs. Durand screamed at the top of her voice and a crowd began to gather when the two men released their victims and effected their escape.

The body of an unknown man was found floating in the river near Green & Braman's sawmill at Bay City.

For the fifth time in five years the Anthony Powder company's works, between Negaunee and Ishpeming, has burned. Loss $5,000.

During the storm that passed over Muskegon a boat containing Easton B. Dowling was overturned and he was drowned in Lake Muskegon.

Frank Smith, who accidentally shot George Weaver, at Ludington last fall, is dead. He overworked himself in a successful endeavor to pay the doctor bills.

While drilling a well at Saginaw a vein of coal seven feet thick was struck below the premises of W. G. Neukom. It is pronounced to be of good quality.

The Newcomb, of Lowell, whose car was laid to a hack driver attempt to commit suicide at Grand Rapids the man would not right the car by marrying her.

MICHIGAN STATE ITEMS.

A large Philharmonic club has been organized at Hudson.

A lathe mill with a large capacity is to be built at Kalamazoo.

Leviathan, Rosconmoun county, will build a new school house.

Glanders is doing considerable harm among Allegan county horses.

Adam Leva, a 5-year-old Ludington boy, fell into a well and was drowned.

The teachers' institute at Lexington will have a four weeks' session this summer.

Meyer Harris' rag and paper warehouse at Bay City was burned; loss about $1,000.

August Koch, one of the men charged with the Wilson robbery, is becoming insane.

There are at present 431 boys at the reform school. The number out on good behavior is 235.

The fund for the establishment of factories on the lake front at Muskegon now amounts to $68,000.

Theodore Hinzinger, of Saginaw, fell off a dredge at the shaft and was drowned. He was 20 years old.

A. J. Barber, a farmer living near Greenville, was seriously, perhaps fatally, injured in a runaway.

Prof. J. M. B. delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the normal school graduates at Ypsilanti.

Lois county's display of woman's work at the world's fair will be a fine set of embroidered table linen.

W. Spink, of Holt township, succeeds G. Newport resigned, as keeper of Ludington county's poor farm.

Henry Chassonier, of Dollar Bay, has been bound over to the circuit court on a charge of assaulting Mary Bulo.

Irene Ertson, a Lansing domestic, started the fire with kerosene. She was seriously burned, but will recover.

Charles White, of Rosneath, was experimenting on a dynamite cartridge. His wife may lose the use of both eyes.

The biennial synod of the Holland Christian Reformed church of America, held their sessions at Grand Rapids.

A. B. Wood, one of the students of Oberlin college, has been elected general secretary of the "Haguecock," M. C. A.

Miss Mattie Lorell, of Flint, is making arrangements to go to Turkey as a missionary of the Congregational church.

Hope college commencement exercises were very interesting with the baccalaureate sermon by the president, Dr. Charles Seaton.

A 6-year-old son of D. H. Bessie fell out of a second story window at Fife Lake, at a distance of 18 feet, and was fatally injured.

A bucket of coal fell on John Adams' head while he was unloading coal at a Port Huron dock. He was dangerously injured.

At the graduating exercises at Dowagiac, the valedictorian was a colored girl, Minnie Steele, and she delivered a masterly address.

A Canadian named R. W. Smith died at Ludington from a heavy dose of morphine which he is said to have taken with suicidal intent.

Isaac Edwards, of Jackson, is one of the 300 heirs of Robert Edwards, who claim a piece of land in New York city, valued at $200,000,000.

Charles Youngquist, G. R. & I. section boss at Big Rapids, was struck and killed by a train while riding on a hand car. He leaves a wife.

It is claimed that at the Grand Haven life saving station a man was brought back to life after he had been under the water for 12 minutes.

Penaville is trying to inaugurate a building boom. A $3,000 school house and a large new Methodist church will be built immediately.

C. H. Hackley, the Muskegon philanthropist, has donated $3,000 for the erection of a building for the bathers at the new assembly grounds.

In the court at Grand Rapids there has been a case of larceny of less than $25 ever since Oct. 8, 1891. The case has now been adjourned 31 times.

Gen. Carman was killed by a D. & G. H. & M. train at Ovid. His body was horribly mangled, being dragged about 30 rods. He was 22 years of age.

Lottie Showerman, a 10-year-old Mattawan, Van Buren county, girl, fell out of a swing, against a tree, producing concussion of the brain. She may recover.

Joseph Sarsane, a Pole employed by the Michigan Central, was struck by a passenger train near Zilwaukee. Both his legs were broken, his skull fractured and he will die.

The Saginaw branch of the Michigan Central was accommodated with a Sunday train about a month ago, but the people on that road are so pious they don't travel on Sunday and the train has been called off.

The Michigan Bankers' association, through a committee appointed for the purpose, is endeavoring to perfect a system of abolishing "pay lists" with city banks. If successful, it will do away entirely with the custom of country merchants sending their personal checks on local banks in payment of city bills.

Work on Jackson's new public building has come to a standstill, owing to the inability of the contractor to find the rock bottom which was said to exist under the building site. It is expected that an inspector of the Treasury department at Ishpeming will be sent to look into the hole that has been dug.

About 500 members of the Ionia, Barry and Eaton county Fire Insurance Co. held a red hot meeting at Charlevoix. They decided not to pay any more assessments, which they allege have been excessive during the past few years. A petition is being got up asking the state commissioner of insurance to examine the company's books.

Two Boys Drowned While Seaweeding. George Murray and Frank Weston, six-year-old boys, were playing on the river bank at Grand Rapids and in a scuffle both fell in and were drowned before assistance reached them. George's mother is a widow whose husband was accidentally killed when the boy was a babe and who worked at a laundry to support her family. He was all she had in the world and she is frantic with grief.

South Haven has a number of cases of diptheria.

SELECTION OF ELECTORS.

SUPREME COURT SUSTAINS THE NEW ELECTORAL LAW.

Presidential Electors May Now Be Chosen by Districts—The Entire Bench Concurs.

The supreme court has filed an opinion sustaining the new electoral law. The opinion was written by Judge Montgomery and was concurred in by all the other justices. The opinion says it is evident that the question of greatest importance is that relating to the true interpretation of section 1 of article 5 of the Federal constitution, which provides that "each State shall appoint, in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in Congress." In the judgment of the court these words are clearly susceptible of a construction which confers upon the Legislature a power to say how the State action shall be voiced. It furthermore concludes that it would be a strained construction which would give to either the fourteenth or fifteenth amendments the effect to annul the power expressly delegated in section 1 of article 2 of the constitution. It is clear that the fifteenth amendment was intended to preclude the State from making any discrimination against citizens, or account of color. If neither amendment was there any attempt to place limitations upon the authority of the State as to the choice of officers thereof. For presidential electors are still regarded as State officers.

In the decision it is admitted that the act is in conflict with the federal statutes in so far as it attempts to fix a date for the meeting of electors and method of certifying their action, but holds that this does not render the entire act inoperative, as there is no doubt of the rule that where the law of a state conflicts with the federal law in a matter in reference to which Congress has the right to legislate, the state law must give way to the extent of such conflict.

Harrison Notified.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—President Harrison was officially notified this afternoon of his nomination by the Minnesota convention. The ceremony took place in the big east room, which, with its fresh straw matting and decoration of potted plants, was nearly filled with the President's household. The committee formed in semi-circle five rows deep. A quarter of an hour's wait and then from amid the waving palms of the cool conservatory at the end of the promenade the president entered. At his side walked Secretary Foster and behind came Secretaries Tracy, Rusk and Noble, Attorney General Miller, Private Secretary Hallford and "Prince Russell." Hearty applause greeted his appearance and grew louder as McKinley stepped forward and grasped his hand. The governor began his speech of notification at once. He read from manuscript and in so low a tone that until, in response to cries "louder," he raised his voice, the President himself could hardly hear him. Applause, led by Elliott Shepard, closely punctuated his remarks, and the same was true when the President made his reply. Like McKinley, the President read from manuscript, but unlike McKinley, he spoke so that all could hear, and at times he grew very earnest and impassioned. He received an ovation when he finished, and then everybody stepped forward and offered him congratulations. To all he gave a smile and cordial hand clasp and looked particularly happy when a little later Harry Smith presented him with the gavel used at the convention. Then all withdrew to the dining-room, partook of luncheon, departed, and the ceremony being over the doors were thrown open to the sweltering crowd and the President retired to his office.

Macabees at the Detroit Fair.

DETROIT, June 21.—Manager Sotham of the Detroit International Fair and Exposition has received official notification from the executive committee of the Knights of the Macabees that they would need 50,000 entrance tickets to the exposition ground for their members on Wednesday, August 31, known as "Macabees' day." On that day Mr. Sotham is confident there will be over 60,000 people at the fair. The highest number present on any one day at this fair heretofore has been 42,000, but on "political day" this year 100,000 are predicted.

Careless Woman and Gasoline.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., June 21.—Mrs. Sarah E. Warner was seriously and perhaps fatally burned yesterday. She started her gasoline stove and afterwards poured in some oil from a pitcher. The gasoline ignited and set fire to her clothing. She ran at once to a hydrant, but did not extinguish the flames until her hands, face, arms and side had been badly burned.

Her flesh is all one blister and a strip of flesh fell from her side. She was placed under the care of a physician, who says that it will be some time before she will recover, if she ever does.

Released From Quarantine.

DETROIT, June 21.—Maggie Sullivan, the girl who was quarantined at the hospital for a week with measles has started for San Francisco with her female companion. James Mersden, the man who was taken to the hospital with the girls, is slowly recovering from his attack of pneumonia.

Dr. George E. Bliss has served a summons on W. E. and C. B. Warner—husband and wife—proprietors of the Maple Rapids Dispatch, claiming libel, and places his damages at $5,000.

SENATE AND HOUSE.

SENATE.—No business was transacted on the 14th. The death of Rep. Stackhouse, of South Carolina, was announced and after adopting resolutions of sorrow and appointing a committee of five to prepare a eulogy, the Senate adjourned. HOUSE.—The Senate amendments to the diplomatic and consular appropriation bills were nonconcurrent in and a conference committee appointed. Mr. Tillman, of South Carolina, announced the death of his colleague Mr. Stackhouse. The committee on foreign relations and a committee to take order in regard to the funeral appointment. Adjourned.

SENATE.—No business was transacted on the 15th. Mr. Morgan, of Alabama, delivered an address on the silver question and a discussion followed. HOUSE.—The fortifications appropriation bill was passed. The measure appropriates $2,412,376, or $4,362,427 less than was appropriated by the last Congress. Authority is given to make contracts for certain works, involving a further expenditure of $1,376,693. The bill reducing the duty on the plate, terra plate and terra plate of nickel, passed after Oct. 1, 1892, and removing all duty thereon after October 1, 1894, took up the remainder of the day.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee on judiciary. The conference report on the river and harbor bill was made, by Mr. Frye who stated that an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were referred to a conference. A bill was introduced after a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned. HOUSE.—The committee on commerce and fisheries reported on the bill to amend the act to regulate the commerce of the Columbia river, and for a canal in the state of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long discussion the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference, and then adjourned.

SENATE.—The silver bill was discussed by Mr. Morrill and Mr. Stewart on the 16th. It was passed over without action. The anti-trust bill was taken up and referred to the committee

propel the floating
or the Act of '25.

22.—The con-
the apportiondistricts in Mich-
the basis of pop-
claim that the basis, with the
the district has others have less
claim that the prizes numerous
I their just re-
and is there-
The supreme tioned to issue
the secretary of election an-
the statute of dander act of
to repeal. The
by a Theron F. oo, which is in-
most unac-
Fred A. Baker,
Attorney-General,
have charge
so alleged that de by one house
by the other.

JURORS.
Monitor Murder
as City.
June 21.—Judge
change of venue
for the murder
and the arrest at Alpena, Mich.,
three days ago
able to secure a Presque Isle
of examining nearly the whole
the county were ry box and ex-
eral Ellis and
of Presque Isle, pena, entered a venue and, the filling, the judge

the English languages showed as examined as falling. One be-he defendants in
and pointed to McNamara. Anompanion was a machine," and
at you sells and number of sum-
city was 235.

at Dead.
June 21.—John recorder's court
life on conviction
and degree, died effects of the
He suffered from

The remains of John Mourer
was the killing of
of Mourer, on it.

name.
June 21.—An only German who
a home several
the woods near
it and unable to
on at the time
died soon after he was 74 years.

KILLS.
June 21.—A
man, 40 years
old, was killed
by a horse while
driving a team
of horses near
the city of Cleveland.

June 21.—A
man, 40 years
old, was killed
by a horse while
driving a team
of horses near
the city of Cleveland.

June 21.—A
man, 40 years
old, was killed
by a horse while
driving a team
of horses near
the city of Cleveland.

June 21.—A
man, 40 years
old, was killed
by a horse while
driving a team
of horses near
the city of Cleveland.

June 21.—A
man, 40 years
old, was killed
by a horse while
driving a team
of horses near
the city of Cleveland.

June 21.—A
man, 40 years
old, was killed
by a horse while
driving a team
of horses near
the city of Cleveland.

June 21.—A
man, 40 years
old, was killed
by a horse while
driving a team
of horses near
the city of Cleveland.

June 21.—A
man, 40 years
old, was killed
by a horse while
driving a team
of horses near
the city of Cleveland.

THE SOUL'S RIDE.

"Horseman, singing from the dark,
Horseman, singing from the dark,
Tell me what shall be thy road,
Whither speedest far from me?"

"From the dark into the light,
From the small into the great,
From the valleys dark and wide O'er the hills to conquer fate?"

"Take me with thee, horseman mine!
Let me maddly ride with thee!"
As he turned I met his eyes—
My own soul looked back at me!
—Lilla Cabot Perry in the Atlantic.

THE BLUE VEIL.

"Look out for Lizzie, in blue veil
by G. p. m. train!"

"A dollar and twenty cents sir,
and sign your name in the book, if you please," said the boy from the telegraph office.

"A dollar and twenty cents! sign my name in the book!" I repeated stupidly, "but the telegram isn't for me!"

"Yes, sir! It is sent to Mr. Charles Chester, at the Lakeville House, Lakeville, N. Y. There is no other
Mr. Chester in Lakeville."

"Lizzie—Could it be Lizzie Clara, or was it one of Mrs. Stowell's handsome daughters? There was no time for me to idle in surmising which Lizzie I was to meet. I paid the boy and drove hurriedly to the depot, to look out for Lizzie. The New York express had already arrived. Passengers were crowding in the cars, baggage was rattling by the bell ringers, and where was Lizzie?"

At length, near the door of the ladies' room, looking uneasily around her, I espied a lady wearing a blue veil.

"Is this the Lizzie whom I am to meet?" I ventured to ask, groaning in spirit at the ignorance in which I had been left regarding any other countess.

"Oh, yes! And this must be Mr.
Chester, I suppose. You knew me by my new veil, did you not? Fred said that would be a sufficient signal. You are very kind to take charge of me.
I was fearful that you would find the journey a heavy burden on a hot night. Journey," Fred insisted, "that you would not mind it if you took the trouble for him; so here I am as your peevish. Are not the cars about starting?"

"I have time to see to your baggage," I managed to say.

"Oh, thank you, but Fred checked
it through and bought my ticket. It is all right."

I knew it was all wrong; but what bachelor of two-and-thirty would dare to escort a charming "Lizzie"
in a blue veil, thus mysteriously committed to his protection?

We had just a minute and a half in which to secure our seats ere the Western train was off, and my companion uttered a very contented little murmur of satisfaction as we slowly steamed out of the depot.

"Oh, I was so fearful that you wouldn't be here to meet me, Mr.
Chester," she said, "and I dreaded to take the journey alone."

"It is a long journey," I replied,
with a faint hope that I might tempt
her to mention her destination.

"Very long," she answered demurely.

But a call of the conductor revealed
the fact that the lady was going to Cleveland.

My ticket was purchased for Cincinnati, and I thought with satisfaction that I could stop in Cleveland if I pleased, without any change of route.

I scanned my traveling companion
as closely as I dared; but only a suggestion of bright eyes, ruby lips and a dazzling complexion reached me
through the blue veil.

"I think we have never met before to-day," I remarked, hazarding an observation which might, or might not,
prove to be correct.

"Oh, no! but I have heard Fred speak of you so frequently that I do not feel as if we could be strangers long."

She smiled and put up her blue veil. With the veil lifted she looked somewhat older than I expected. I had fancied she was 17, but she now appeared seven-and-twenty. Yet she was so fair, so dazzling white—with eyes that matched her blue veil—that I forgot the question of her age.

"This is rather a sudden journey of mine," remarked my fair companion.
—"My trunk was nearly packed, and I expected to leave next Monday and travel alone; but when Fred heard that you were going to take the evening train he telegraphed to you immediately and hurried me off."

"Ah, Fred!" thought I. "It seems to me I have you now! It's just like Fred Dalrymple to surprise one with such a telegram; this must be his sister Lizzie. She is going to Cleveland to visit Robert and his wife."

The mystery was explained, and with a lighter heart, I turned to the young lady, stimulated by this discovery in my previous determination to render myself desperately agreeable.

"How is your dear Jenny?" suddenly inquired my comrade of the blue
veil.

"My dear Jenny?" mused I. "Oh,
—yes—sister Jenny. I presume she means." "She is very well," I replied.

"We have so often exchanged messages with our love, through the medium of your correspondence with Fred, that I feel quite well acquainted with that dear Jenny, Mr. Chester."

"Hum!" I said to myself, "just like Fred Dalrymple to forget to deliver his sister's messages, and then invent replies to satisfy her questions
and cover his negligence."

"And to tell me something about that baby," continued Fred's sister.
"You need not be afraid of praising it to me for you know we ladies always take a lively interest in babies."

"I would gladly gratify you if it were possible," I replied, "but to own the truth, I seldom take much notice of the baby race."

"As if I should believe you in this particular instance!" returned my interlocutor, gayly. "Why, somebody told Fred that you burned the gas all night on purpose to see how cunning
this wonderful baby looks asleep."

"Me!" I exclaimed in horror.

"Not you need not deny it," said
she. "I can understand that business conceals your raptures. Of course it is named for you!"

It happened that sister Jenny's youngest had been christened Charlie
in honor of his bachelor uncle, and so I answered that her supposition was not incorrect.

"When I see Jenny I shall feel it my duty to tell her what heartless indifference you have feigned in regard to that baby; but you cannot, impose upon me," said the owner of the blue veil. "I shall acquit you of possessing any of the old-bachelor nonchalance with which you have tried to veil your interest."

"You must not expect to manufacture a baby worshiper out of an old bachelor," I said, jestingly.

"Oh, no; but young fathers are not such subtle savages as you would try and believe."

"Gracious! what can she mean?"
was my silent ejaculation, but as she did not seem inclined to really let me
farther, we fell into a quiet conversation
upon commonplace things very much as if we had been a dozen years acquainted.

"We are to ride all night," I said,
finally, "and ought I not to secure a berth for you in the sleeping car? I notice that you seem very much fatigued."

"I am weary, but I detest those sleeping cars!"

"So do I the same," was my hearty rejoinder.

But I could not sleep; too many visions were haunting me.

Was this really Fred Dalrymple's Lizzie? Would I ever see her again after this journey was ended?
And oh, most desperate and enticing
speculation of all could I ever hope to take to myself the life-long burden of looking out for Lizzie in a blue
veil?

The night sped past in these delirious reveries. When we were within a few miles of Cleveland, my fair charge awoke.

"Do you feel rested?" I inquired.

"Oh, very much! You are exceedingly kind to have taken so much care of me. Fred told me that Jenny's husband would be a most desirable escort, but I find that he scarcely told me half the truth."

Jenny's husband! It struck me dumb. So I was Jenny's husband?

"Neither shall I believe, after your gentleness and attention to me—that you can be so indifferent to your baby
as you would try to have me think."

"Your baby?"

The woman was adding insult to injury! First a wife, and then a baby bestowed on me, at five minutes'
notice, as if they were the most everyday affairs in the world!

"I think we must be near Cleveland," continued my companion, arranging her tangled curls and putting on her bonnet. "It is possible that my husband may be at the depot to meet me, and relieve you of any further trouble on my account. If he is not there I shall only ask you to put me in a coach and send me home,
unless I can prevail on you to stop
over one or two trains in Cleveland, and visit us. My husband would be delighted to have you. Will you not consent to do so?"

Not Fred Dalrymple's sister after all! I muttered something in reply.
I knew not what, but she took it as a refusal to accept her hospitality, and continued:

"And if you cannot or will not stay with us now, I want you to promise that you will come soon and bring dear Jenny and the baby, and make us a long visit."

But the girls had stopped. We had reached Cleveland, and the ensuing bustle relieved me from the necessity replying. I assisted her to alight, and consigned her to the arms of a tall, bearded fellow who kissed "dear Lizzie" before my very eyes!

"And this is Mr. Chester—Fred's friend; you know Harry?"

Harry rolled his eyes around, but evidently did not recognize me and said nothing.

"Fred received a letter from Mr.
Chester saying that he would be in Lakeville on business Tuesday, and would take charge of me if I would meet him at the evening train; so Fred telegraphed to him to look out for me, and here I am, very much obliged for his escort."

"But where is he all this time?"
asked the husband impatiently.

"Haag the 'blue veil'! There is some mistake here," I exclaimed,
pulling out the telegram as a voucher
for me. "I am Chester of Lakeville and your service I reside in Lakeville and I received this dispatch yesterday."

I took charge of this lady as well as I knew how, and though I could not satisfactorily decide who she might be or by whom committed to my care, it is only within a half hour I have discovered that I myself was not the Charles Chester who should have been on the lookout for Lizzie in a blue veil!

They started. They read the telegram. The oddity of the mistake bewitched us all, and they took me
home with them to laugh it over,
when they found that no Jenny was waiting me at my journey's end. And as "all's well that ends well," let me tell you that my young wife to-day is Lizzie's sister, and equally partial to blue veil.—New York News.

It would take forty years for all the water in the great lakes to pour over Niagara at the rate of 1,000,000 cubic feet a second.

A WAR ON ANIMAL LIFE.

BIRDS, BEASTS AND FISHES BE-COMING EXTINCT.

Man's Rapacity and Fashion's Whims Have Driven Valuable Species From the Face of the Earth—Literally Eaten Up.

The destruction among the wild savanna birds and fish which has taken place during the last fifty years could not be better illustrated than we find it in the report issued by Mr.
Frederick Lucas, of the Smithsonian institution on the animals recently extinct or threatened with extirpation, represented in the National museum of the United States. This most interesting paper, was suggested by the recent efforts made by American naturalists to secure for their museums specimens of animals, formerly quite common, which were passing unnoticed out of existence,
and of which in some cases it was found that no living example could be obtained. This led to a national stock-taking of the contents of the principal museums, and incidentally to a review of the process of destruction.

Some of the instances given, says
the London Spectator, seem almost incredible. Cod, perhaps the most prolific fish used as food, was so completely destroyed on a part of the New England coast that when the waters were restocked with the produce of 180,000,000 eggs the fishermen of Plymouth, in Massachusetts, sent specimens of the "new fish" to Gloucester to inquire what they were.

The work of the fishery commission has already gone far to repair the waste and destruction of the New England fishermen, though a strenuous resistance has always been offered to their efforts to open the passage
for shad and salmon to the spawning grounds. But the lobster "canneries"

have so far depleted the apparently inexhaustible stock that the waters adjacent to the works are cleared of all but those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

Perhaps the nearest approach to
mass and multitude to the shad, of all
birds ever at certain observed areas, at
least those of the smallest size, and
even the great oyster grounds of
Chesapeake bay are showing signs of
exhaustion, while halibut are growing
scarcer yearly. If the tenuous re-
productive power of the shad, the
cod and the oyster is unable to replace
the havoc made, among them it may
safely be inferred that the birds and
beasts fare even worse in the unequal
struggle for survival.

But the California walrus has enjoyed a century longer of existence
than another member of Proteus
stock, whose remains the United States naturalists have been anxiously seeking. The rhyms, or arctic sea cows, were literally and in fact all eaten up
by hungry sailors in fourteen years.
Bering's explorers in 1754 discovered an enormous kind of manatee, similar in character and habits to those which live in the tepid waters of the Amazon or off the coast of the Straits settlements, but of immense size,
from 20 to 30 feet long, and 20 feet in girth. They were stupid, harmless beasts, which lived by browsing on the sea-weeds, and other marine growths by the shore. The ponderous
"sea cows" were far better meat than the fish eating seals and furnished
the main food of the parties of explorers who visited Copper Island,
their favorite haunt for the next twelve years when they became scarce that other provisions had to be sought; and in 1763 the last sea cow was killed.

THE ROYAL MEMORA.
An Imperial Visitor Who Causes Comment in California.

Since his arrival here from his island realm on the schooner Tarawa, King Mibmora has been having a fine
time, says the San Francisco Chronicle. He has been gorged with pen-nate, lemonade and cake until the things of life have palled on the royal stomach, and he longs for the simple food Mrs. Mibmora is accustomed to serve up under the cocoanut trees of Butairitari.

Somebody gave the King an ice-cream cone the other night, and the next day the royal person suffered undold agony. He tossed on his bed of pains and said things which would have caused Mrs. Mibmora to blush had she heard them.

The royal gentleman has one peculiar characteristic. He sleeps with his boots on—a fact that causes Grand Duke Jack the pilot, much annoyance. One Wednesday his friends brought the king a complete outfit of clothing, something he had never possessed before. In the royal palace at Butairitari he is accustomed to hold levies clad in a simple garment—a shirt with wide red stripes. The part of his new wardrobe that caught
the king's fancy most were the boots.
They were the first he had ever worn,
and although he had some difficulty
in walking he was prouder of them
than a boy is of his first pair of trousers.
When he sat on a stool, black stand,
and saw the bright polish the artist
gave the boots his delight knew no bounds. Since then it has been impossible to get the king to remove his boots, although the "grand duke" has employed every argument to induce the king to part with them while he sleeps. He was also presented with a fifty-cent pair of suspenders, but these he disdainfully refused to wear. A simple piece of hay rope fastened around his body keeps his trousers in place.

The king has been taken up hill and down hill in the cab, and he has ridden on the steam dummies to the beach, all of which caused him to wonder greatly.

He does not, however, let people know that he has discovered a greater country than Butairitari. When shown the tall buildings, whisked up and down the elevators or exhibited ponderous machinery in operation, he just grants out his approval in an off-hand manner as though every thing bored him a trifle and was nothing to be concerned with in Butairitari. Only to the grand duke does he confide his real impressions. That nobleman

For GENTLEMEN Only!

Friday and Saturday of this week we offer
our Entire Line of

MEN'S SUMMER SHIRTS 1-4 OFF

From regular prices:

$2.00 Shirts For 1.50 $1.00 Shirts For 75c

1.50 " " 1.12 50c " " 38c

26 Cent Shirts For 19 Cents.

Dry Goods
and Carpets.

TEICHNER & CO.

Crockery
and Groceries.

HARDWARE!

CLIPPER

THE WHEEL TO BUY

We handle the "Rochester"
"Clipper," "Crescent" And "Forest City."
BICYCLES.

All Wheels Warranted and Prices are Right.

GEO. E. WATERMAN & CO.

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

Having decided to go out of the merchantile business and rent my store, I shall offer my entire stock of goods excepting Groceries at

COST

These prices are for cash only.

C J Ball Center Street
Northville, Mich.

Our Correspondents.

Interesting Notes Gathered by our Hasting Correspondents.

NOVI.

Rev. J. S. Boyden of Howell was in town this week.

Guests from Detroit were entertained at James H. Taylor's Sunday.

Wallace Deland of Detroit was the guest at W. W. West's Sunday.

Mrs. Herron of New Hudson spent Sunday with A. L. Benjamin.

Mr. and Mrs. Trump of Saginaw were guests at C. E. Goodell's last week.

Frank Vogt, who has been quite sick for the past week, is some better.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Colvin of Fowlerville are visiting friends here this week.

Mrs. Thomas McGraw was in town last week, the guest of her son, J. H. Seldon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Goudrill of Saginaw are calling on friends here this week.

Mrs. Magill of Commerce is spending four weeks with her daughter Mrs. D. S. Magill.

Master Harold Trump of Saginaw is spending a few weeks with his aunt, Mrs. C. E. Goodell.

Rev. Mr. McGee has been given a vacation of four or six weeks on account of poor health.

Married at Cass City Wednesday, June 3, Miss Musa Sackner to Mr. Thad Williams of Novi.

Miss Carrie Crawford and Ruth O. Banks, who have been attending school at Ypsilanti, returned home this week.

The Aid society met Wednesday June 15, with Mrs. Delos Leavenworth and held memorial services for their late member, Mrs. Benjamin.

There will be a lawn social at the residence of W. W. West, Friday evening, June 24. Strawberries and ice-cream will be served. All are cordially invited.

FARMINGTON.

Dr. Turner is making and extended visit in Kansas.

Mrs. J. B. Field visited her paternal home at Novi last week.

Children's day was observed in the Farmington Grange Saturday, June 18.

Mrs. Dunham of Wixom visited her sister, Mrs. Lyman Spencer, last week.

An effort was made to celebrate July 4th in Farmington, but alas! it was no

Mrs. B. B. Mosher has been quite sick for the past few days but is now better.

Miss Nerva Pierson has returned from Pontiac where she has been visiting.

The many friends of Dr. Woodman were glad to see him able to ride out last week.

The Farmington ball club go over to beat the Northville club in a game Saturday.

Mrs. C. M. Prall of Traverse city was the guest of her sister, Mrs. James P. Allen last week.

A basket party will be held Independence night at the Botsford hotel, Clarenceville.

Abram Wright has bought the house and lot belonging to Frank Brown. Valuation $700.

Harry W. Moore and Mr. Tharet of Detroit Sundayed with the formers parents, Dr. and Mrs. Moore.

The ball game last Saturday by F. B. B. C. vs merchants was a lively game. The F. B. B. C's were victorious.

Miss Marie Fairfield has returned home after nine weeks absence caring for Mrs. Orson Coleman, who is very sick.

Mrs. A. A. Smith and children of Novi are making an extended visit at Rev. Woodworth's, Mrs. Smith's father.

An ice cream parlor and bakery will soon be started in our town in the Selby building west of Dr. Woodman's drug store.

Misses Minnie Collins and Emma Brock of Detroit were guests of the formers parents, J. W. Collins and wife, Sunday.

Mrs. James P. Allen Sundayed in Detroit with her daughter Mrs. Warren Mathews, Mrs. Robert Hardeberg and her son Clifford. She returned home Monday.

Miss Jessie Ely of Northville, who has been in poor health, is now convalescent. She has been staying with her sister, Mrs. J. W. Hatten, for the past few weeks and Dr. Moore has been attending her. She will leave for her Northville home this week.

The closing exercises of the Farmington village school will be held Friday evening June 24. The important event of the evening will be the lecture given by Rev. George F. Hunting, ex-president of Alma college, on the subject, Pluck, Patience and Push. An instructive and entertaining evening is anticipated and all are cordially invited to attend.

PLYMOUTH.

Dwight Chaffee left for Kansas yesterday.

Calvin Crosby left for Chicago Saturday last.

Frank Polley intends erecting a tidy residence soon.

Plymouth has as handsome a park for a small town as there is in the state.

The "Young Kids" B. B. club of Plymouth played the South Lyon club Saturday.

Some of our young folks spent a very enjoyable time at Walley Lake last Tuesday.

Why is it that our bridges are not being rebuilt that were destroyed by recent freshets?

Mrs. Jessie Morgan of Deerfield spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Smith, who is quite ill.

Mason's pint fruit cans 75c.

" quart " 85c.

" 2 quart " $1.10.

At Rauchs.

Several fine village dogs have died from poison administered by some unknown scoundrel, who, if discovered, should be compelled to take a heavy dose of his own medicine.

The Adrian scholarship was conferred upon Miss Addie Dibble whose average standing for the four years was 97.17 per cent. Miss Alice Safford's average standing was only .96 per cent lower.

Burglars visited this locality Friday night, 17th, and broke into Wm. Wherry's blacksmith shop, borrowed some of his tools and then hid themselves to the Phoenix mill, owned by J. H. Shackleton, where they forced an entrance into the office and burst open the safe, but obtained no money for their nefarious efforts. No clue.

On Friday evening, June 17, a large and appreciative audience assembled at the Village Hall in Plymouth to witness the commencement exercises of the graduating class of the Plymouth high school. The event was highly successful in every way and reflects great credit upon those who had it in charge. The music was furnished by the Society Band of Detroit and formed one of the most attractive and entertaining parts of the program. The program was as follows:

Prayer—Normandie March, Armstrong.

Essay—Poetry—Miss Dibble.

Music—Longwood Waltzes, Lansing.

History—Mr. Wilcox.

Oration—Aristocracy—Mr. Hoyt.

Music—Minstrel's Carnival, Grover.

Stamp Speech—The Boy, Mr. Durfee.

Music—March Past (Patrol), Doughtworth.

Prophesy—Miss Safford.

Music—La Trojani Waltzes, Smith.

Address—Miss Taft.

Music—Marriage Bells, O'Reardon.

Presentation of Diplomas.

Closing Address—Principal Geo. S. Cartiss.

Music—Methistoe's Revels, Smith.

Benediction.

The class officers are:

"ROW NOCDRIET."

Miss GERTIE TAFT, President.

Miss ANNIE DIBBLE, Vice-President.

Miss ALICE SAFFORD, Prophetess.

Mr. GEORGE WILCOX, Historian.

Mr. CHARLES DUFFEE, Treasurer.

Mr. CLAY HOYT, Orator.

BELLE BRANCH.

Dr. Shields and wife Sundayed with relatives in Detroit.

Our school closes two weeks from Friday of this week.

Mrs. Frank Hooper of Detroit visited relatives here last week.

Some of our farmers are talking of starting haying next week.

Spencer Gordon who has been teaching school in Yew closed the school Friday.

Rev. A. S. Tedman and wife visited his parents at Dixboro a few days this week.

There is some talk of organizing a base-ball club here. We hope it won't be all talk.

Many farmers had to plant their potatoes over as the first they planted had rotted.

Mr. Chas. Perry and family have moved into Mrs. O. O. Pierce's house on the south road.

Gardening and chicken-raising seem to be all the go in this vicinity; although they don't go together they seem to be a success in this case.

Messrs Chas. Collins and John Hutchinson who have been on jury for the past few months are home to stay. Chas. says he could stand the jury business the year around.

Mr. R. J. Cook and wife were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Smith Monday.

Mr. Cook is on the road selling cigars. The famous "R. J. C. cigars were named after him.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Prindle of Detroit visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Prindle this week. Frank left Monday night but his wife will remain a few days visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity.

Died, Saturday, June 18, at her home in Ionia, Mrs. Sarah Shaw, wife of Matt Shaw. Funeral took place Tuesday at three o'clock at the Bedford Baptist church. Burial at the Bedford cemetery. She leaves a number of children to mourn for her.

SALEM.

Mr. Sylvester Sober lost a valuable horse last week.

Mrs. Dr. Beebe of Detroit is visiting Mrs. Geo. Merritt.

The ladies of the Baptist church give a strawberry festival in Haywood's hall Friday night.

Several applications have been made for the vacancies of teachers in our public school.

The advertised letters at the post-office are for: Mrs. Asa Rogers and Edward Schell.

Farmers are busy shearing the yield of wool in this vicinity which is large and a good quality.

Editor Neal was on the streets of Salem looking up the wheels of his paper in the village this week.

Harry Sheffield has gone into the "summer refreshment" business on a small scale. Pop, lemonade, etc.

Rev. W. H. Shannon, wife and family, leave this week for a two weeks visit to their old home on the St. Lawrence, near Kingston. Rev. H. P. Shier of the Methodist church will supply his pulpit once each Sabbath.

A. D. Chisholm head master of the Salem public school has been offered and has accepted the principalship of the High school at Newberry, Lucie Co., at a salary of $1,150. The Prof. has done efficient service in Salem school, which is evinced by a large number of pupils who have taken teachers certificates under his instruction.