PLYMOUTH'S FIRE.

That Village Has No Water Works But She Gets a Fire.

Plymouth, October 25.—This place was visited by a conflagration early Sunday morning, flames being discovered issuing from a barn of C. A. Frisbee, on Ann Arbor street, at 3 a. m. An alarm was immediately sounded and in a short time quite a crowd had assembled and vigorous efforts were made to distinguish the fire, but the flames had made such progress that the barn was a mass of flames. It soon communicated with the barn of Dr. Collier, adjoining it on the east, which was also soon beyond control. Efforts were made to save the two houses adjacent to the burning barns on the north, but the intense heat soon drove the firemen back and these residences ignited.

When the outlook indicated that these structures were also doomed, the citizens turned their attention to saving the household goods, nearly all being removed before the advancing flames compelled a cessation of this work. Then the residences, occupied by C. A. Frisbee and Mrs. Smith, burned to the ground.

An effort was made to save the dwelling occupied by Dr. Collier, about thirty feet east of the burning residence of Mrs. Smith. Carpets were hung down the side of the wing of Dr. Collier's residence and were kept constantly saturated with water by two firemen, Ed Laufer and Fred Lamphere, who stood on the wing roof of Dr. Collier's dwelling in the face of the intense heat, keeping themselves cool by frequently throwing cold water upon each other and the carpets alternately. A steady supply of water in pails was handed up to them for these two purposes by energetic citizens, and through their efforts Dr. Collier's dwelling was saved, although considerably blistered from the heat. Dr. Pelham's dental office, west of Mr. Frisbee's, burned. The dwelling also had a narrow escape.

The outlook indicated at one time that the entire row of buildings in that block would burn, but fortunately the fire was confined to the two burned barns owned by Dr. J. M. Collier and C. A. Frisbee, and the two residences owned by C. A. Frisbee and Mrs. Smith. Mr. Frisbee's residence was insured for $1,200, and $500 on household goods. Mrs. Smith's dwelling was insured for $500. The loss is $1,000.

COLUMBUS DAY.

How It Was Observed by the Northville Schools.

Last Friday, Oct. 21st, was duly observed by the school as Columbus Day. Exercises were held in the afternoon in each of the various departments. Those in one room surpassed those in another only as one person might be interested in one room more than another. In each department there were a large number of visitors present and the wish of each one was that he or she might be in all the other rooms as well. In the high school an excellent address was delivered by the Rev. W. T. Jaffes. The essays and declamations by the students were very good also. Regular school work had been given the preference up to the time of the exercises, so that nothing in that line was sacrificed for preparation. However, everything went off nicely, and the exercises were very enjoyable.

At about three o'clock, and at the close of the exercises in the various rooms, the yard in front of the school building was nearly filled with people to witness the raising of the flag. Many G. A. R.'s were present, to see in one more place the stars and stripes so dear to them wave to the winds.

On all school days, when the weather is fair, the flag may be seen in the school yard, proclaiming the patriotism of the Northville Union School.

MEAN BUSINESS NOW.

Iron Pipes to Take the Place of the Leaky Vitrified.

The council met in special session Saturday night to confer with the water board with reference to the trouble with the vitrified pipe between the springs and the reservoir. The board said they considered it policy to take up some 700 feet of the vitrified pipe and replace it with iron pipe. They said they could purchase that amount of Detroit parties now at a reduced price, and with this amount they could at least tell something as to further requirements. The council gave the water board authority to make the purchase and go ahead with the work.

It appears that the laying of the vitrified pipe was an experiment from the start, and it has proved a dismal failure. The village supposed that Engineer Parker knew what he was doing and he was employed for the very purpose of seeing that everything was right. Parker told the water board and council, 'tis said, the vitrified pipe would work all right and satisfactory, and now that it won't work, at least in the low places the engineer comes in for about the entire blame. This experiment, and it can be called nothing less, will cost the village in the neighborhood of $4,000 more, besides the loss of several months revenue from water takers, several months interest on water bonds, and being several months without fire protection. It was certainly someone's business in the first place to know whether the vitrified pipe would work or not. Messrs. Clark and Dubuay of the water board, have put their shoulders low to the wheel and say they mean business from the word "go" and we may look for a radical, and reasonably prompt, completion of the system.

A NATION MOURNS.

Mrs. President Harrison Died Monday Morning.

For the second time in the history of this country the wife of the president of these United States has passed away to join the silent majority. Through the news of her death announced Tuesday's morning papers was not unexpected yet it was received with none the less sorrow, and expressions of sympathy were heard on every hand. As soon as the news reached here Tuesday morning the campaign flag from the high pole, corner of Main and Center street, was taken down and the stars and stripes lowered to half-mast. The flag over the G. A. R. hall, the school flag and the flag at the U. S. fish hatchery were also placed at half-mast.

It is pleasant to think, even in the hour of death that there comes a time in the history of mankind when all political strife, all party feeling, all anger and all jealousy, is forgotten; when all ante unite in one grand noble fellowship of unanimous sympathy. The visitation of death which invades every household is the one touch of nature that makes the whole world kin. And because of the conspicuous station of the bereaved in this case the whole world is taken into their confidence and made conscious of their sorrow. It will feel this death as if it were of kinship with the dead and with the mourning survivors. It will tender its heartfelt sympathy to those more nearly stricken by the loss of their beloved.

THE RECORD. "THE FINGER OF GOD."

F. S. NEAL, Publisher.

NORTEVILLE, MICHIGAN

This is an age of combines and co-operation. The latest in that line is a protective society of mothers-in-law. However the association admits only mothers of wives. Mothers of husbands will be obliged to flock by themselves.

A WRITER in the Popular Science Monthly illustrates the survival of the unfit by statistics, showing that while the population of the United States has a little more than doubled the number of mentally defective persons has increased five-fold.

If Baron Hirsch, or some other great philanthropist would devote some of his surplus cash and energy toward spreading the soap and water habit throughout Central Europe the cholera germ would be speedily forced to seek refuge in the friendly dirt of its native Asia.

WHEN Corbett can make $25,000 by thrashing Sullivan and Sullivan can sell more "literature" in a week than Emerson could in a year a young man ambitious for wealth and literary honors combined is naturally left in doubt whether to develop his brain or his brawn. For the present brawn appears to be in the ascendant.

UNDER the election act passed by congress all resident Chinamen are obliged to have their photographs taken and a copy of their photograph filed with their names as they register. This is done for the purpose of identifying them. Most of the celestial in this country are very superstitious and have especially strong objections to having their pictures taken. The work is committed to the charge of internal revenue officials, who will have much trouble in complying with the terms of the law.

NORWITHSTANDING the doubtful morality of prize fights it is probably a fact that nothing less than a national election would have created an interest as general, nothing else would have found as great a multitude waiting for the returns as the Corbett-Sullivan prize fight. Part of this is owing to real interest in boxing as a manly art, but a great deal of it gets down to the bottom fact that there is a lot of the old Adam left in man, and that mere trials of brute strength to see who is "the best man" will always touch the heart of the male animal.

WE have come at last to the time when reformation is acknowledged to be the chief end of society's dealings with the offender against its laws. Not all, perhaps, not a majority cherish this as a conviction but a majority are willing to try the experiment. A majority are willing to accept in cases of a shocking nature of the old feeling of vindictiveness that determined the prison systems of an earlier day. It is now recognized that it is much more important not merely to the man who has broken the law but to society itself, that he be made unwilling to break it again than that he be made to suffer for his previous infraction.

DR. PASTEUR believes that inoculation will prove as efficacious in preventing cholera as it is in the treatment of smallpox. He hopes to induce the king of Siam to furnish him with a number of condemned criminals to operate on. He will inoculate them and then inject virulent cholera germs into their veins. Such an experiment if it proved successful, would work vast benefit to the human race, but it would doubtless be regarded as cruel by many tender hearted people, in whom the scientific instinct has not been sufficiently developed. To avoid this and to give the poor devils of criminals some interest in the proceedings the king of Siam might pardon all who survived the treatment.

THE germ theory of disease is now generally accepted in the schools of medicine but it is as yet made no great changes in the actual practice of physic. The experimental chemists are continually producing new compounds in their study of vegetable sciences and as a result these are being used more and more in practical medicine. The change thus produced has been gradual but marked from the old basis when the investigation of inorganic chemistry furnished the physic for the doctors to the new, when they seize upon and experiment with every new vegetable alkaloid and real or supposed "active principle" of some vegetable that comes out of the laboratory of the chemist. The discovery of some new compound from vegetable chemistry often produces such a craze of experimenting as resulted in wrecking the health of many physicians who as in the case of cocaine were magnanimous and self-sacrificing enough to try the new remedy on themselves instead of their patients.

A WONDERFUL SERMON BY DR. TALMAGE.

The Hand of God Is Everywhere and It Can Be Seen on the Hillsides and in the Valley—It Can Be Seen in Our Daily Lives Slipping Our Destinations.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 23, 1892.—The capacity of the tabernacle was tested this morning by the vast crowd that filled it in every part, as soon as the doors were opened. After reading and commenting on several passages of scripture illustrative of God's providential dealings, Dr. Talmage gave out the hymn beginning,

God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform.

His sermon was on the text Exodus 8:19, "The finger of God."

Pharaoh was sulking in his marble throne room at Memphis. Plague after plague had come, and sometimes the Egyptian monarch was disposed to do better, but at the lifting of each plague he was as bad as before. The negro-mancers of the palace, however, were compelled to recognize the divine movement, and after one of the most exasperating plagues of all the series, they cried out in the words of my text: "This is the finger of God"—not the first nor the last time when bad people said a good thing. An old Philadelphia friend visiting me the other day, asked me if I had ever noticed this passage of scripture from which I to-day speak. I told him no, and I said right away, "That is a good text for a sermon."

We all recognize the hand of God and know it is a mighty hand. You have seen a man keep two or three rubber balls flying in the air, catching and pitching them so that none of them fell to the floor, and do this for several minutes, and you have admired its dexterity. But have you thought how the hand of God keeps millions and millions of round worlds vasty larger than our world, flying for centuries, without letting one fall? Wondrous power and skill of God's hand! But about that I am not to discuss. My text leads me to speak of less than a fifth of the divine hand. "This is the finger of God." Only in two other places does the bible refer to this division of the Omnipotent hand. The rocks on Mount Sinai are basalt and very hard stone. Do you imagine it was a chisel that cut the ten commandments in that basalt? No, in Exodus we read that the tables of stone were "written with the finger of God." Christ says that he cast out devils with "the finger of God." The only instance that Christ wrote a word, he wrote not with pen on parchment, but with his finger on the ground.

It is a remarkable thing that some times no one can see that finger but yourself. A year before Abraham Lincoln signed the Proclamation of Emancipation, the White House was thronged with committee men and laymen, advising the President to make that Proclamation. But he waited and waited, and scolded and anathematized, because he did not himself see the finger of God. After awhile and at just the right time, he saw the divine pointing and signed the Proclamation. The distinguished Confederates, Mason and Shiloh, were taken off an English vessel by the United States government. "Don't give them up," shouted all the Northern States. "Let us have war with England rather than surrender them," was the almost unanimous cry of the North. But William H. Seward saw the finger of God leading in just the opposite direction and the Confederates were given up, and we avoided a war with England, which at that time would have been the demolition of the United States government. In other words the finger of God as it directs you, may be invisible to everybody else. Follow the divine pointing, as you see it, although the world may call you a fool. There has never been a man or woman who amounted to anything that has not sometimes been called a fool. Nearly all the mistakes that you and I have made have come from our following the pointing of some other finger, instead of the finger of God. But, now, suppose all forms of disaster close in upon a man. Suppose his business collapses. Suppose he buys goods and cannot sell them. Suppose by a new invention others can furnish the same goods at less price. Suppose a cold spring or a late autumn or the coming of an epidemic corners a man, and his notes come due and he cannot meet them, and his rent must be paid and there is nothing with which to pay it, and the wages of the employes are due and there is nothing with which to meet that obligation, and the bank will not discount, and the business friends to whom he goes for accommodation are in the same predicament, and he bears up and struggles on, until, after a while, crash goes the whole concern. He stands wondering and saying, "I do not see the meaning of all this. I have done the best I could. God knows I would pay my debts if I could, but here I am heaped in and stopped." What should that man do in that case? Go to the scriptures and read the promise about all things working together for good and kindred passages? That is well. But he needs to do something beside reading the scriptures. He needs to look for the finger of God that is pointing toward better treasures, that is pointing toward eternal release, that is urging him to higher realms. No human finger ever pointed to the east or west or north or south so certainly as the finger of God is pointing that troubled man to higher and better spiritual resources than he has ever enjoyed. There are men of vast wealth who are as rich for heaven as they are for this world, but they are creations. If a man grows in grace, it is generally be-

THE INDIAN SOLDIERS.

AN OLD ARMY OFFICER GIVES HIS OPINION.

The Enlistment of the Red Men Proving a Decided Success—The Savages Are Easily Trained and Like the Work.

Major W. H. Clapp of the United States Army, commanding Company I (Indian) Sixteenth Infantry has kindly contributed the following on the subject "The Indian as a Soldier." It says the Omaha Bee The major has had many years' experience with the Indians, and he has made their habits, mode of life and warfare his study.

Judged by the record he has so far made, the Indian as a soldier is proving a decided success, but while doing so he is furnishing ample reason for the reconstruction of popular ideas concerning his character, temperament and personal equation. Every one who as a school boy, read the delightful stories of Fenimore Cooper came to believe that the Indian was stoical and sedate, that he was brave to recklessness, capable of enduring the greatest privation and even torture with calm indifference, that his eye was truer and his hand quicker than those of white men, and finally, that though a savage he was a very superior sort of humanity of the misdirected kind, needing only to be christianized to be something better than his white brother.

Now, the Indian has not and never had any of these fancy qualities to the extent which white men have them. In place of being stoical and sedate he enjoys fun and rough horse play as much as any school boy, he breaks and loses heart under trouble or sickness very quickly and completely, he bears pain with difficulty, and in moments of danger is timid. He can see no better than a white man, and perhaps because less intelligent he is a less accurate shot. The Indian is however very proud, and so sensitive to ridicule that his conduct when among his own people is molded not upon his own desires and wishes but rather upon the standard of bravery required by his tribe. This being in most cases high, he is forced to deeds of daring which in his own heart he would prefer to leave undone.

The eyes men of many regular soldiers of this material has now been undergoing trial for something over more than a year and as stated is proving a success. A company of Sioux Indians now serving at Fort Douglas, Utah and which has been in service barely six months will perhaps fairly represent the condition and progress of other Indian companies in the army. When enlisted these men were mostly untutored and typical as ages six or eight among them could speak English and could write. Now, and for some time past, every man signs his name legibly and nearly all can read simple sentences and do some thing with figures. They have learned to take reasonable care of their person and clothing, and are proud of appearing well. They have learned their drill and the manual of arms as correctly as do white recruits of the same length of service and having had the usual two months' course of instruction in musketry they show a very fair record.

They are readily disciplined and except that they are rather headless and forgetful they obey orders commendably. It has been difficult to teach them habits of order and personal neatness, but in these respects they make constant improvement. It was expected that they would incline to drink heavily and to be troublesome when in camp, but from the first these men, though having the privileges of the canteen equally with white soldiers, have had less drunkenness and fewer disorders among them than have occurred in any of the white companies at the post.

They were on coming to the post, kindly received and treated by their white comrades and, so far as known there has been no instance of a quarrel or dispute between the races. So far these men have not been on parades as other regimental formations, not having until now been supplied with full dress uniforms, nor have they performed guard duty—but in both these respects they will undoubtedly prove efficient.

The battle tactics of the new drill regulations involve a complete abandonment of the former close order and precision of movement and with a substitution of extended order, the rushes of detachments when advancing and the requirement strongly insisted upon to take every advantage of cover is a return to something like the tactics which defeated Braddock long ago and which are certainly very like the Indian methods of fighting at the present day. These men may, therefore, be expected to readily understand and adopt it and to make efficient soldiers if occasion arises for sending them into battle.

Now, regarding the other side of the question, there appear three considerations—First, that by reason of so many of their best young men being in the army the tribes so represented are much less likely to engage in war against the government, because they will realize that should they do so they may have to fight their own people and so those in the service are to that extent hostages for the others who have not enlisted. Second, these enlistments furnish a safety valve for the superfluous energy, the restless desire common to all young men to do something and make a name. With the young brave this is unduly stimulated by what he constantly hears of the deeds of his elders and more still by the taunts of the young squaw, whose favor he wishes to gain and not infrequently these causes have led to outbreaks

It says the Omaha Bee The major has had many years' experience with the Indians, and he has made their habits, mode of life and warfare his study.

Judged by the record he has so far made, the Indian as a soldier is proving a decided success, but while doing so he is furnishing ample reason for the reconstruction of popular ideas concerning his character, temperament and personal equation. Every one who as a school boy, read the delightful stories of Fenimore Cooper came to believe that the Indian was stoical and sedate, that he was brave to recklessness, capable of enduring the greatest privation and even torture with calm indifference, that his eye was truer and his hand quicker than those of white men, and finally, that though a savage he was a very superior sort of humanity of the misdirected kind, needing only to be christianized to be something better than his white brother.

Now, the Indian has not and never had any of these fancy qualities to the extent which white men have them. In place of being stoical and sedate he enjoys fun and rough horse play as much as any school boy, he breaks and loses heart under trouble or sickness very quickly and completely, he bears pain with difficulty, and in moments of danger is timid. He can see no better than a white man, and perhaps because less intelligent he is a less accurate shot. The Indian is however very proud, and so sensitive to ridicule that his conduct when among his own people is molded not upon his own desires and wishes but rather upon the standard of bravery required by his tribe. This being in most cases high, he is forced to deeds of daring which in his own heart he would prefer to leave undone.

The eyes men of many regular soldiers of this material has now been undergoing trial for something over more than a year and as stated is proving a success. A company of Sioux Indians now serving at Fort Douglas, Utah and which has been in service barely six months will perhaps fairly represent the condition and progress of other Indian companies in the army. When enlisted these men were mostly untutored and typical as ages six or eight among them could speak English and could write. Now, and for some time past, every man signs his name legibly and nearly all can read simple sentences and do some thing with figures. They have learned to take reasonable care of their person and clothing, and are proud of appearing well. They have learned their drill and the manual of arms as correctly as do white recruits of the same length of service and having had the usual two months' course of instruction in musketry they show a very fair record.

They are readily disciplined and except that they are rather headless and forgetful they obey orders commendably. It has been difficult to teach them habits of order and personal neatness, but in these respects they make constant improvement. It was expected that they would incline to drink heavily and to be troublesome when in camp, but from the first these men, though having the privileges of the canteen equally with white soldiers, have had less drunkenness and fewer disorders among them than have occurred in any of the white companies at the post.

They were on coming to the post, kindly received and treated by their white comrades and, so far as known there has been no instance of a quarrel or dispute between the races. So far these men have not been on parades as other regimental formations, not having until now been supplied with full dress uniforms, nor have they performed guard duty—but in both these respects they will undoubtedly prove efficient.

The battle tactics of the new drill regulations involve a complete abandonment of the former close order and precision of movement and with a substitution of extended order, the rushes of detachments when advancing and the requirement strongly insisted upon to take every advantage of cover is a return to something like the tactics which defeated Braddock long ago and which are certainly very like the Indian methods of fighting at the present day. These men may, therefore, be expected to readily understand and adopt it and to make efficient soldiers if occasion arises for sending them into battle.

Now, regarding the other side of the question, there appear three considerations—First, that by reason of so many of their best young men being in the army the tribes so represented are much less likely to engage in war against the government, because they will realize that should they do so they may have to fight their own people and so those in the service are to that extent hostages for the others who have not enlisted. Second, these enlistments furnish a safety valve for the superfluous energy, the restless desire common to all young men to do something and make a name. With the young brave this is unduly stimulated by what he constantly hears of the deeds of his elders and more still by the taunts of the young squaw, whose favor he wishes to gain and not infrequently these causes have led to outbreaks

"August Flower"

"I have been afflicted with biliousness and constipation for fifteen years and first one and then another preparation was suggested to me and tried, but to no purpose. A friend recommended August Flower and words cannot describe the admiration in which I hold it. It has given me a new lease of life, which before was a burden. Its good qualities and wonderful merits should be made known to everyone suffering with dyspepsia and biliousness." JESSE BARKER, Printer, Humboldt, Kas.

GENERAL AND PARTICULAR.

The empress of China carries with her 3,000 dresses when she travels. They fill 600 boxes and are taken care of by 1,200 coolies.

The czar's personal expenses are $9,000,000 a year, which is $6,200,000 more than Russia's annual appropriation for common schools.

The aluminum works in Switzerland—the largest in the world—use a water power of 1,500 horse power, and turn out about 1,200 pounds of metal daily.

Last year New York city expended $4,000,000 on its schools and $250,000 for its police. In three years, the increase of the cost of the police has been 3 per cent and the increased cost of the schools 17 per cent.

Thirteen millions sterling have already been spent on the Manchester ship canal, or five millions more than the original estimate. Two millions more will have to be borrowed from the corporation of Manchester, and doubt is arising of its value when completed.

Agent Lucky had a bottle of whisky which he obtained at the Warm Springs Indian Reservation analyzed, and found it chiefly fusel oil, chloroform and ether. It would kill the germs of any disease, as was shown by the fact three Indians who drank half a bottle of the stuff all died.

IN ILLINOIS THIS.

Columbus Day Fittingly Observed. Galesburg and Jacksonville. Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 22.—Columbus day was observed here by a general suspension of business. Schools and colleges were all closed and the city was completely decorated. The Republicans held a big rally with Senator Frye of Maine as orator. Thousands were present from the surrounding towns.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Oct. 22.—Columbus day was grandly celebrated in this city with exercises at all of the public schools and a grand flag-raising by the Grand Army of the Republic, who were treated to an address by Comrade Judge Whitlock. Civic and military processions were the order of the day. Flags were raised in many parts of the city, while many buildings were beautifully decorated with the national colors.

JOLIET, Ill., Oct. 22.—Seven native Sioux Indians formed a float in the Columbus school parade here to-day. They were under command of Col. Yates, brother of Capt. Yates, who was killed with Gen. Custer. Over 6,000 school children were in line, and the decorations and floats were extravagantly patriotic.

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 22.—Columbus day was generally celebrated in this city. All public buildings were closed and business houses and residences were elaborately decorated. Each school had arranged a special program in addition to that arranged by the national committee on public education.

CREVIER AND, Oct. 22.—Columbus day was appropriately celebrated in Cleveland by a procession and several mass meetings in different public halls. There were fully 10,000 marchers in the parade, of which the public and parochial schools formed an important part. Gen. M. D. Leggett acted as chief marshal. A large number of military companies, fraternal and religious societies, all in full uniform, also participated. Many thousands of spectators crowded the line of march.

DEBUIQUE, Iowa, Oct. 22.—There was no general celebration of Columbus day here, and except for the closing of government offices and schools, the day passed without unusual occurrences. Special religious services were held in the Catholic churches.

Strange Method of Suicide. SAGINAW, Mich., Oct. 22.—Lawrence Merkt, who has been serving a short sentence in the jail for intoxication, committed suicide by a remarkable manner last night. He had swallowed small pieces of his undershirt until he choked to death, and when found he was breathing his last. The doctor took enough of the cloth from his throat to fill a cigar-box. The deceased leaves a family of four children. Despondency was the cause.

Killed While Playing Foot-Ball. Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 22.—Jose Perez and other students of Eastman college were playing foot-ball yesterday when Perez came in contact with one of the other players and was thrown violently to the ground, receiving such injuries that he died last night at 11 o'clock. The fall produced concussion of the brain.

Scruggs Acknowledges Crisp. NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The Herald's La Guayra (Venezuela) special says: United States Minister Scruggs has formally recognized the government of Gen. Crisp as the legal government of Venezuela. The steamer South Portland, which left New York recently with a cargo of arms and munitions of war, has arrived at La Guayra.

Money for the Dalton Slayers. TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 22.—The State Bankers' association yesterday took action regarding the fund for the slayers of the Dalton gang. This fund now reaches nearly $18,000 from all sources. The Bankers' association requires all members to forward their individual subscriptions and added $187.

"Seeing is Believing."

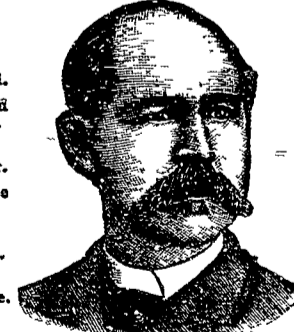

And a good lamp must be simple; when it is not simple it is not good. Simple, Beautiful, Good—these words mean much, but to see "The Rochester" will impress the truth more forcibly. All metal, tough and seamless, and made in three pieces only, it is absolutely safe and unbreakable. Like Aladdin's of old, it is indeed a "wonderful lamp," for its marvelous light is purer and brighter than gas light, softer than electric light and more cheerful than either. Look for this stamp—THE ROCHESTER. If the lamp dealer has not the genuine Rochester, and the style you want, send to us for our new illustrated catalogue, and we will send you a lamp safely by express—your choice of over 2,000 varieties from the Largest Lamp Store in the World. ROCHESTER LAMP CO., 42 Park Place, New York City.

LOCAL GLEANINGS.

Things Said and Did in the Liveliest and Prettiest Village in Michigan.
The tower of the M. E. church is to receive a new and much needed coat of paint.

Remember, the Record office is prepared to do anything in the job printing line.
With its new outside coat of paint the school building presents a most decided improved appearance.

Do not forget the Demorest gold medal contest at the M. E. church, Friday evening, November 4th.

Miss Susie Adams of Newport, visited Miss Lautenslager at Meads Mills and Mrs. Neal at this place, last week.

The condenser farm adds this week to their stock twenty-five handsome registered Holstein cows. They were purchased of Mr. Seely of Farmington.

E. Addis who lives northwest of this place, has just finished digging the potatoes from eight acres which measured 1500 bushel. Who can beat it.—Holly Advertiser.

When in Detroit you will be best cared for at the Wayne hotel. An elegant, well-served dinner is enjoyed by everyone and the Wayne people are connoisseurs in this art.

Holly wants a new fair ground and race track, or race track and fair ground, she don't care which, and the prospects are Holly will have next year a genuine pneumatic ball-bearing race track.

The new refrigerator factory is completed outside so far as the brick work goes. The building will be one of the finest of the kind in the state and the most handsome and massive structure in our village.

Next Sabbath Oct. 30 will be Columbian Day at the Methodist church. The pastor will preach appropriately in the morning, and at 7:00 p. m. the Sabbath school will conduct a Columbian service. All are cordially invited.

There were some dry spots on the mill pond after it was diked off and Tuesday morning there appeared planted out in the middle, some maple shrubs and a conspicuous sign reading, "Keep off the Grass."

Morrell Simmons' new residence will be heated throughout by a furnace and lighted by electricity. The house will be one of the most handsome in the village. C. A. Duabar's residence will be similarly equipped for heat and light, and the handsome structure does credit to our beautiful town.

The leaves will soon all be off the trees. Don't burn them, but rake them up and put them in piles on your garden. By so doing you will have some nice fertilizing material in the spring, and will not have annoyed your neighbors with smudgy bonfires.

The South Lyon Picket is more than hustling just now. Last week it contained five columns of pure local matter. With Yerkes Bros. making the flouring mill hum; the furniture factory in full blast and the Picket putting on a remarkable get there-ness that village will soon become famous.

The power of electricity was once looked upon with doubt, until thousands of trials proved it a certainty. So was Hartzel's Hindoo Oil until thousands of trials proved it the only remedy to be relied upon for all pain, either internal or external. It is a certain and positive relief for colic, cholera morbus, head ache, neuralgia, and best of all it will cure the grip. Every bottle warranted.

Mr. Gillispie kindly drew off the water and kept the mill pond dry two days for the committee to investigate the possibility of cleaning it out. The committee all think it can be done with but little expense by getting farmers to come in and draw off the refuse for fertilizers. It would be of superior quality for such a purpose. The committee propose to investigate further before making final report.

S. Bower, who has been foreman of the Put in Bay U. S. fish hatchery for some years past, has just been promoted to the superintendency of the U. S. fish station at Green Lake, Minn. Mr. Bower was formerly a resident of this village. He received his education under F. N. Clark's tuition at the Northville hatchery, and that it was a thoroughly practical one is shown by the selection of Mr. Bower for the responsible position at Green Lake.

A kind friend hands us in a nice gist of "personals" this week for which the editor is very thankful.

Someone hands this item in "The Northern Herald" this week, at West Nov. is now for sale. For further particulars inquire Barber & Deacons."

A-Mrs. Harrison memorial melode will be a feature of the Sunday morning service at the Methodist church.

Burglars broke into the post office store at Walled Lake Tuesday night and among other plunder, they secured $50 worth of postage stamps, so we are informed.

There was a large crowd in attendance at the social given at the Yarnall Gold Cure institute Monday evening. Everyone present enjoyed the evening very much. The receipts were more than a dozen dollars.

We erred last week in stating we had received a load of wood on subscription. The wood was in sight when we made the statement, but it has not yet arrived. We trust this explanation will be satisfactory.

A young man named Vilks came in contact with a buzz saw at the factory last Tuesday, and the result was that a portion of his thumb was detached. Dr. Millman found it necessary to amputate the first joint of the injured member.—South Lyon Picket

Rev. J. E. Jacklin M. A., associate editor of the Michigan Christian Advocate, will preach in the M. E. church at Northville Sunday evening. Rev. Jacklin is well known here and was at one time pastor of the M. E. church in this place, and there may be some who desire to hear him, hence this notice.

Editor Slocum of the Holly Advertiser has invented a revolving type cabinet which is likely to prove a bonanza for Bro Jim. All a typo has to do with one of these cases is to climb up on the stool and push a button and Jim's parent does the rest. They will prove a valuable equipment to any printing office.

Don Yerkes, having purchased half interest in the So. Lyon flouring mills of Yerkes Bros., W. H. and R. C., has moved to that village to superintend the same. L. E. McRoberts of Lexington has been secured as head miller and will assume command of the bread production. Mr. McRoberts is a practical mill-wright and one of the best millers in the state. South Lyon people are to be congratulated.

Northville business men are kicking. They just got free express delivery, but they claim that express charges are being sent skyward in consequence.—Detroit News

The above is only partially true. As we stated last week there has been a little complaint among some of the business men, but we find upon careful inquiry that they are about all satisfied with the present arrangement.

The contestants for the Demorest gold medal are Irene Green, May White, May Leadbeater, Nellie Leadbeater, Stella Fuller, Edna McRoberts, and Thad Knapp. All are elocutionists of considerable repute and each is striving to win. The contest will be a close and earnest one, and is looked forward to with great interest by Northville people.

Flossie, the two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. West, died suddenly last week Thursday. The child was apparently in perfect health in the morning. She was taken with a high fever in the forenoon, which finally threw her into convulsions and paralysis, resulting fatally. Rev. W. T. Jaques officiated at the service at the home Friday. The remains were interred at Highland.

The entertainment Saturday evening by the Northville class of elocution, was indeed a treat to those who attended, and the audience showed their appreciation by frequent encores. The proceeds were upwards of $20 and should the class come again, which we hope they will do, they can look for a still better house.—Farmington Enterprise.

In a letter just received from our old friend A. E. Rockwell who is sojourning a few weeks at Black Hawk Club, Wis., he says he is having a grand time. He says they are bagging stacks of ducks; the weather is delightful and no end of fun and company. He expects to be in Chicago the last of the month purchasing holiday goods and will get back to Northville in time to vote.

F. N. Clark says that in passing through this life of varied changes he has met with many surprises and startling adventures, but the biggest—largest does not express it—surprise ever perpetrated upon him was that of last week at Chicago, when after partaking of a choice lunch, the world's fair grounds he handed out a dollar to pay for it and the money was returned with the remark that, "there was no charge for the lunch." Mr. Clark did not fully recover from the shock until he again stood upon the soil of his own native state.

Mrs. Clara Allen will be at the McComber House the 1st of November and remain until the 2d; would be glad to see all her customers and take orders for Domestic Sewing Machines. Will deliver them promptly. Clara Allen.

In a circular notice sent out by School Commissioner McClellan, giving notice of the next teachers examination to be held in Detroit Friday and Saturday of this week, he says, "All applicants must furnish proof of their good moral character."

No one with even a limited amount of common sense would scintillate ever have insulted the teachers of Wayne county with such a circular. The supervisors of the county should insist that the school examiners must furnish proof that they have the requisite brains of a sewer digger, or resign their office.

Last evening was a scene of brutish amusement, participated in by some of our village toughs. As a party of children were celebrating the birthday of Lewis Reed by way of a surprise, these toughs, all whose names are secured, amused themselves by going to the garden of Mr. Whipple, stealing pumpkins, onions and other vegetables, and threw the garbage into Mr. Reed's house. They also threw stones and other missiles, and after the doors were locked to keep them out one of these toughs tried to force an entrance. A prosecution may be begun. One of the would-be-housebreaker's got his face slapped this morning and a warrant is out for another of the gang. Out of respect to the parents the names are withheld this week.

Interesting Notes Gathered by Our Hustling Correspondents.

NOVI

Lee Wooster's new residence is rapidly approaching completion.

Quite a number of our young men are now assisting in the completion of the Northville water works.

In his hour of affliction and grief the President has the united sympathy of the citizens of Novi.

James H. Sheldon is becoming a genuine Jersey cattle man. He has lately added two fine specimens to his list.

The Baptist people gave a Columbian exercise Sunday evening which was excellent and enjoyed by all.

A. J. Crosby's sale, of Jersey cattle, horses, etc., occurred Saturday and with one or two exceptions, the stock was sold very low for the quality.

Samuel L. Morgah has "taken the stump" in a limited way for the republican ticket. Why not give us Novi people a taste of your eloquence, Sam?

Some miscreant or something of that species, took the liberty to dig and carry away several bushels of Geo. Tibbit's potatoes one night recently.

Mrs Geo. Gilbert still continues quite ill and the family have the sympathy of the community, with hopes of her ultimate recovery.

The pump firm of Rounds & Harger are doing a good business and giving satisfaction. This is from their patrons, and not solicited at their hands.

Rev. J. E. Jackin of Detroit will occupy the M. E. pulpit next Sunday evening. A large audience will undoubtedly be present to hear this able man discourse.

Novi is well supplied with meat these days, but our peddlers should bear in mind that our citizens relish first class meats, as well as their city patrons and not bring around quite so much second choice material.

Dr. Johnson's gray horse became frightened at an F & P of train last week and in his short exploit, tipped the top buggy, doing about twenty five dollars damage. Luckily for Mrs. Johnson that she alighted from the buggy just as the horse started.

A. L. Chase is about to lose his assistant, this J. Green who will go on the road for a few days next week. Chase will be greatly missed by the patrons of the school as he is a most courteous and helpful every day, fair or shine success to you Charles.

George Hoyle is a candidate for Circuit Court Commissioner on the republican ticket. Mr. Hoyle has held office in Novi township for seven years, and his advice given good satisfaction, and now that he is up for a higher honor, we ought regardless of party lines, give him a good round majority. "George is all right."

It is announced that the suit against our township board for irregularities in the last election, has been dropped. From beginning to end this suit has apparently been for political effect, and if so, we think those who had any part in the prosecution should be made to foot the whole cost of the suit, and not allow the cost to be saddled upon the tax payers of the county.

The dance last Friday night in J. J. Dunham's new barn was a decided success. The barn was tastefully decorated with bright hued maple boughs, a carpeted platform arranged for the musicians, while the gallery was made to do duty as a dressing-room and pantry. There was room for everybody to dance, plenty of hot coffee and other good things, ample arrangements for stabling the horses, racks well filled with hay, in short, everybody seems to be united in saying that Mr. and Mrs. Dunham did the handsome thing by the many friends who met with them on the occasion. There were over seventy present.

We hear many kind words for the Record, and if we are not badly mistaken, it is well deserved. We aver that a blind man could discover that the Record has been wonderfully improved by the present editor. There have been of its existence when it was what the people term "a fizzle" and the only reason for it was that, while the various editors were men of education, they did not possess the requisite amount of hustle to make the paper a success, as a local news-gatherer. This state of affairs has passed into history and our eyes behold a Northville Record, fully up with the times, full of good, solid, reading matter fresh from the field. Hence, it's readily understood that this is the result of careful management, the exclusion of obnoxious matter, and a fair and honorable treatment of all concerned. All this is simply because Mr. Neal is fully adapted to the business. Let Novi people show their appreciation of this fact by liberal subscriptions.

Maud Flint and Mabel Whipple came home last week from Ypsilanti for a short visit.

David Gage will teach at the stone school house the coming winter.

James Munro had several sheep mangled by some worthless cur a few nights since.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gilbert of Gaines township, Genesee county, have been staying for a short time with Mrs. Gilbert's mother, Mrs. Skinner, who was injured by a fall some time ago.

Geo. Lanther of Chicago, a former Novi boy, who has been for nearly six years in the employ of the Illinois Central railroad has been, with his family, spending his yearly "lay off" with friends in Leon, Jackson and Novi.

John Weib's barn, about 2 1/2 miles north-west of Northville, was burned to the ground last Thursday night, with most of its contents, hay, grain, etc. Insurance, $600 Cause of fire unknown.

La Grippe Again. During the epidemic of La Grippe last season Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, proved to be the best remedy. Reports from the many who used it confirm this statement. They were not only quickly relieved, but the disease left no bad after results. We ask you to give this remedy a trial and we guarantee that you will be satisfied with results, or the purchase price will be refunded. It has no equal in La Grippe, or Cough, Chest or Lung Trouble. Trial bottles free at A. V. Randolph's Drug Store. Large bottles 50c. and $1.00.
