Not a man, woman or child in North ville but what will learn with profound regret that we are to lose from our midst, not only the popular Presbyter ian preacher, but one of our lest comedy company hold forth at the citizens as well. Mr. Jaquess received opera house. They are a first class a request from the Covenant Presbyterian of Detroit to preach them a sample sermon, as it were, a week ago Sunday and they were so well pleased with him that they unanimously decided to extend to him the pastorial position. Rev. Jaquess at once tendered his resignation to the Presbytry here and at a meeting held Tuesday they decided, with regret, to accept the same. The salary at the new appoints ment will be $1,400 per year, and Mr. Jaquess expects to preach his first sermon in the Detroit church Jan. 1st. The Northville Presbyterian church and the village of Northville can ill afford to lose Rev. Jaquess. He is one of those gentlemen whom the term "hustler" just fits. He he not only ogen a worker in the chick here, but be has been a co-operator and lavorer with every good work attempted in the village.

While we all regret to part with him and his good wife, at the same time we heartily congratulate him upon his good fortune. His successor has not yet been selected.

But before tong the commonplace that inexemble taskmaster to whom we all perforce bow the neck claimed Roden and brought him back to a more mundane frame of mind. There were several points to consider and decide upon. He had no desire to ful himself in the clutches of the police, and he was determined to keep out of them as long as might be. Doubtless in the course of a few hours if indeed, it had not been done already-a detailed description of his personal appearance would be sent to every police center and port in the kingdom; consequently it beliooved him to be up and doing without delay.

Ten minutes' cogitation decided him as to his immediate course of action. The first thing he did was to call for his bill and pay it, his next to take his sketchbook and knapsack and deposit them in the cloak-room at the station. After that he went in The first thing he did was to search of a barber's shop which he presently found, where he had his rather long hair cropped as close as if he had just been passed into the Before leaving the shop he ta pair of seissors. His next bought a pair of selssors. His next proceeding was to take a ticket on the underground railway from King's Cross to Portland Road; and, while in the tunnel, to clip his beard and mustache as short as possible. At Port-land Road he left the train and found another barber's shop, from which he emerged a quarter of an hour later perfectiv clean shaven. Thence a cab took him to a certain 'emportum' as to which he had some previous knowledge where al-most anything in the way of secondhand clothing is obtainable at a few minutes notice. Here he procured everything needful to allow of his presenting himself to the world in the guise of a spick and span young curate. He made the requisite change on the spot obtaining a leather bag in which to take away the clothes he had discarded. That bag and its contents he deposited half an hour later in the cloak-room at Waterloo station [TO BE CONTINUED.]

This is not a panacea; says Coleman's Eural World, but it strikes and the rest of the rest of the condition as a circumstances may require; in other words, giving thorough, intelligent culture. This is not a panacea; says Coleman's Eural World, but it strikes at the root of most of the evils, and shts fruit culture on a successful basis. A knowledge of the principles that apply is necessary to distinguish and di rect as circumstances may require suiting the culture to the varied de-mands of climate, sorts of fruit and soil and other circumstances of our widely diversified country, never losing sight of general principles that necessarily apply to all, which must be respected or harm will as certainly Experience has demonstrated that under all circumstances, a dry deep soil is the best, stagmant water not then being able to harm the roots, or the extreme heat and cold reach, them. This is the first thing to be considered, yet few avail themselves of it. There is considerable trouble and expense, for most soils must first and expense, for most soils must first be drained and otherwise treated to be fit for an orchard. This is imperative, no high success can be obtained without it. Equally important is fertility, but with great qualification. It is well known that fruit trees, like other crops, are usually in need of other crops, are usually in need of manure; but what is less considered it is equally important to avoid excess There must be enough enrichment for a full growth, both of wood and fruit -no more less-and this be kept up, changes being always more or less CURE GUARANTEED hurtful. More growth-will gresult, in or thomay refunded. Feeks immerture wood, too tender to withstand the cold of winter, or if burely escaping not coming out in that sound condition required for the best growing fruit. As to the amount of fertility, it is not all dependent upon the quality of the manure applied there is the thinning out of the fruit there is the thinning out of the fruit and wood remaining, supplying thus far the place of manure. Cultivating and inulching the soil will also aid. The true crebardist will avail himself of those means, and of the manure, it any, which is required to secure the desired vigor, which favors the soundest and healthiest growth, beth of wood and fruit, keeping the balance estab-lished between them to their unitual benefit, particularly as to the wood, as good wood is necessary to produce good fruit. Such a growth will be abundantly able, with hardy sorts, to withstand our severest winters and our hottest and driest summers, the size, soundness and quality of the fruit in creased, with more perfect maturity, and what our observation has impressed us with as more important still, is less blasting of the blossoms and the premature dropping of the fruit.—The Horticultural Times

It pays to raise a good thing. It pays to start the hard on a good foundation, and then to breed closely for good qualities, and to feed on a scientific basis. Phose who do this nake money in the dairy business and in cattle raising. But, those who from ignorance or perversity cling to the old slip-shod methods are daily complaining that the Eastern cattle and dairy business is being made unprofitable by Western growers. They ship meat and dairy products East, and crowd out those nearer home. This is true wherever better articles are obtained from the West, but there. are Eastern dealers to-day who are making money in the business. Their beeves are as fine as, if not superior to, those from any other part of the country, and their dairy pro-ducts have the name for the same qualities.—American Cultivator. Frozen Buster.

Without having made experiments to prove whether our theory were correct, we have been of the opinion that it hurt the keeping quality of butter to freeze it. The Creamery Journal, after stating that we can now freeze butter at as low a cost as we used to hold it in cold storage, says: After experiments covering a range of the past five years, it has been lemonstrated that this (freezing) is the only proper way to hold butter. Butter made last June and held on till May, came out in tip top condition. Not a tub oily, and all of a very fine flavor. * * * * Repeated ex-periments have-shown us that butter. frozen will stand up longer after being taken out of the freezer than

No doubt butter will keep in good condition when thoroughly frozen. The Supreme Court Declares the Gratiot County Local Option Law Illiegal. ---Improved Country Righways.

A Blow to Local Option.

The recent election on the local option question in Gratiot county has been declared illegal by the supreme court. A mandamus was asked for by Dennis A mandamus was asked for by Dennis Tr Covert to compel the county treasurer of Oratiot county to accept from the relator his approved bond and $500 for a liquor tax, and to give him a receipt therefor to post up a his place of business, as provided by act No. 213 of the session laws of 1887. This the county treasurer had refused to do, as he claimed that act No. 265 of the session laws of 1889, stammonly known as the local outlor law, was in force in the local option law, was in force in the county.

the local option law, was in force in the county.

The supreme court decision quotes section to of the local option act, which provides that where the board of supervisors shall determine that a sufficent number of electors have petitioned for an election that the board shall so declare, and shall then make an order calling the election, and that such order shall be entered in full upon the journal of the proceedings of the board for that day, and shall be signed by the acting chairman and clerk of the board before final adjournment. Subsequent sections of the act also require that the inspectors of election, without recess or adjournment, shall draw up a state ment of the result of the vote and calify to its correctness and subscribe their names thereto. It is clear, says the opinion granting the mandamus, "that these very some and after their mandamus, "that these very some and that the says the opinion granting the manda-mus, "that these provisions are mande-tory, and that they were enacted for the prefection of both public interests and private rights. In the case at har it is conceded that the statute referred to has not been compiled with." The court therefore declared that the un-authenticated proceedings of the board of supervisors could not be held as a record and therefore granted a man-dams.

Congress May Change Its Date

There is a well-defined movement on foot in influential circles to change the date of convening each new Congress from December to March injunction of the new president. Among the numerous advantages of such a move will be noted the following:

the following:

It would enable the dominant party in Congress to respond promptly to the will of its constituents and to act upon important issues while they are yet

It would avoid all coccasion for agitation or wanging over the ques-tion of early extra sessions.

It would put Congress in direct and immediate communication with the

To the Senate and House of Representative. In transmitting my message to Congress I take great satisfaction in being able to say that the satisfaction of the conditions affecting the commercial and conditions of the contract of the country are in the most favorable period in the history of the country, will, I believe, show that so high a degree of prosperity and so ogenera a diffusion of the contract of life were never before rajoyed by our people. The total wealth of the country in 1850 was 181,512,616,683, In 1880 it amounted to $2,500,000,000, an increase of 287 per cent. The official returns of the eleventh ceasus and those of the tenth census for seventy-five leading clines furnish, the basis for the following comparisons: In 1830 the capital invested in manufacturing was $1,500,500, in 1890 the capital invested in manufacturing was $1,500,500, in 1890 the number of employes was 1,301,850, in 1890 the number of employes was 1,301,850, in 1890 the number of employes was 1,301,850, in 1800 the number of employes was 1,301,850, in 1800 the number of employes was 1,301,850, in 1800 the was $1,302,850, $1,500, $ in 1839 the value of the product was $2,500,200,307.

WORK AND WAGES.

There has never been a time in our history when work was so abundant or when wages were as high, whether measured by the currency in which they are paid of by their power to supply the accessaries and comforts of life. It is true that the market prices of cotton and wheathave been low. It is one of the unitavorable incidents of agriculture that the market prices of cotton and wheathave been low. It is one of the unitavorable incidents of agriculture that farmer cannot produce upon orders. He must sow and reap in ignorance of the agregate production of the year catton which factor is not price to the production. But, while the court is not priced to the production. But, while the court is not priced has been such as to give to agriculture a fair participation in the general prosperty. The value of our total farm products has increased from $1.335,66.550 in 1890, to $4.500,000,000 in 1891, as estimated by statisticians an increase of 200 per cent. The number of hogs January 1, 1881, was 50,623.406, and they value, $21,632.415. On January 1, 1891, the number of cattle was $2,855,603, and the value, $35,75,613, the rumber that wages or prices, the returns for honest toil, are inadequate, they should not fail to remember that they is no other country in the world where the conditions that seem to them hard would not WORK AND WAGES.

be accepted as highly prosperous. The English acriculturist would be glad to exchange the returns of his labor for those of the American farmer, and the Manchester workmen their wages for those of their fellows at Fail River.

I believe that the protective system, which has now for something more than thirty years continuously prevailed in our lesislation, has been a mighty instrument for the development of our mational from the development of our mational from the development of our workingment from the invasion of want. I have felt ample solicitous interest to preserve to our working people rates of wages that would not only give Gally bread, but supported his proposed to the second and the second an ply a comfortable margin for these borne attractions and family comforts and enjoyments without which life is neither hopeful nor sweet.

THE TARIFF.

It is not my purpose to renew here the argument in favor of a protective-tariff. The result of the recent election must be accepted as having introduced a new policy. We must assume that the present tariff constructed upon the lines of protects, is to be repealed, and that there is to be substituted too it a tariff lay constructed solely with reference to revenue.

It is most that the whole subject of the commend that the subject of the commend that the subject of the prospect of the prospect of tariff reductions and the uncertainty as to when they will take effect. Those who have advocated a protective tariff can-well afford to have their disastrous forecasts of a change of policy disappointed if a system of customs duties can be framed that will set the idle wheels and looms of Europe in motion, and crowd our warehouses with foreign-made goods, and at the same time keep our own mills busy; that will give us an indressed participation in the "markets of the world" of greater value than the home market we wirrender; that will give increased work to foreign workene goods. And at the same time keep our own mills busy; that will give an indressed participation in the "markets of the world" of greater value than the home market we wirrender; that will give increased work to foreign workene from so to 100 per cent more in wasse than is build in the foreign workene from so the continuation of work to be done in the foreig tive system, with unasminished connidered in the principles they have advocated, will await the results of the new experiment.

WAGES AND THE PROTECTIVE SISTEM.

The strained and too often disturbed relations existing between the employes and the employers in our great manufacturing establishments have not been favorable to a calm consideration by the wages after of the effect upon wages of the protective system. The facts that his wages were the hispest paid in like cillings in the world, and that a maintenance of finis rate of wages, in the absence of finis rate of wages, in the absence of his labor, was impossible, were obscured by the passion evoked by these contests. A general process of wage reduction cannot be contemplated by any pairiotic citizen without the gravest appetension. It may be indeed I believe is, possible for the American manufacturer to compete successfully with his foreign rival in many branches of production without the delense of productive duties. If the pay that the properties of the foreign cities, should not be allowed to acquire in American domiciles.

WORK OF THE ADMINISTRATION.

The reports of the heads of the several executive departments, which are here with submitted, have very naturally included a resume of the whole work of the administration with the transactions of the iast fiscal year. The attention not only of Congress, but of the country, is again invited to the methods, of administration, which have been pursued, and to the results which have been attained. Public revenues amounting to $1.4479, 25.33 have been collected and disbursed without less from misappropriation, without as single deficiation of such important as to attract the public attention as locations of the country of the public revenues amounting to $1.5479, and without less from misappropriation, without a single deficiation of such important as to attract the public attention are collected and minimal properties of cost for collection, ministed per cents of cost for collection, the public attention that the properties of the people in the fulless possible degree the benefits of a service esteblished and maintained for their protection and comfort.

FOREIGN RELATIONS.

Our relations with other mations are now audisturbed by any serious controversy. The complicated and threatening difference with Germany and England relating to Samona affairs, with England in relation to the seal fisheries in the Behring Sea and with Chili growing out of the Baltimore affair, have been additasted: RECIPROCAL TRADESRELATIONS.

There have been negotiated and concluded, under section 3, of the tariff law commercial agreements relating to reciprocal treatments. commercial agreements relating to reciprocal trade with the following countries: Brazil, Dominean Republic, Spain for Cuba and Puerto Rico, Guatemalar, Salvador, the German Empire, Great Britain for certain West Indian colonies and Eritish Guiana, Nicaragua, Honduras, and Austria-Hungary, Of these, those with Guatemala; Salvador, the German Empire, Great Eritain, Nicaragua, Honduras and Austria-Hungary, have been concluded since my last annual message. Under these trade arrangements, a free or favored admission has been secured in every case for an important list of American products. Especial care has been taken to secure markets for farm products in order to relieve that great underlying industry of the depression which the lack of an adequate foreign market for our surplus often brings. An opening has also been made for manufactured products.

**A treaty providing for the arbitration of the dispute between Great Britain and the United States as to the killing of seals in the Behring Sea was concluded on the 2sch of February last. This treaty was accomplished by an agreement prohibiting pelagic scaling pending the arbitration, and a vigorous effort was made during this season to drive out all poaching scalers from the Behring Sea. Our relations, with Hawaii have been such as to attract an intereased kiterest, and must continue to do so. I deem it of great importance that the projected submarine cable, a survey for which has been made, should be promoted. Both for naval and commercial uses we should have quick communication with Honolulu. Wa should before this have availed ourselves of the concession, made many years ago to this government, for a harbor and naval station at Pearl River.

AMERICANS IN TURNEY.

AMERICANS IN TURNEY.

The treatment of, the religious and ceucational establishments of American citraens in Turkey has of late called formore than a usual-share of attention. A tendency to curtail the toleration which has so beneficially prevailed has called forth, the earnest remonstrances of this government. Harrassing regulations it regard to schools and churches have been attempted in certain localities, but not without due process and the assertions of our countryment. MICARAGUA, SHIP CANAL.

I repeat with great earnestness the recommendation which I have made in several previous messages that: prompt and adequate support be given to the American company engaged in the construction of the Nicaragua Ship Canal. It is impossible to overstate the value from every standpoint of this great enterprise, and I hope that there may be time, even in this Coagress, to give to it an impetus that will insure the early completion of the canal and secure to the United States its proper relation to it when competed.

the ratio would greatly promote the histories of our people and equally those of other nations.

The PUBLIC REVENUES.

The report of the Secretary of the Treasury will attract especial interest in view of the many misleading statements that have been made as to the state of the public revenues. Three preliminary facts should not only be stated, but emphasized, before looking into details: First, that the public debt has been reduced since March 4, No. 526,074,398 and three the state of the public state has been reduced since March 1, No. 526,074,398 and three the state of the people and the period from March 1, 1885; and third, that under the cristing tariff up to December 1, 1885; to March 1, 1885; and, third, that under the existing tariff up to December 1 about $35,000,000 of revenue, which would have been collected upon imported sugars if the duty had been maintained, has gone into the pockets of the people, and not into the public treasury as before. If there any who still think that the surplus should have been kept out of circulation by hoarding it in the treasury, or deposited in tavored banks without interest, while the Revernment continued to pay to these very banks interest upon the bonds deposited as security for the nition of them would enable the courts to exercise some discretion in apportioning junishment, and would greatly relieve the executive of what is coming to be a very heavy burden-the examination of these cases on application for commutation.

The report of the Postmaster-General shows a most gratifying increase and a most edicient and progressive management of the great business of that departments. The remarkable increase in revenues, in the number of postoffices and in the miles of mail carriage, furnishes further evidence of the high state of prosperity which our people are enjoying. New offices mean new hamlets and towns, new routes mean the extension of our border settlements, and increased revenues mean an active commerce. The Postungstor-General reviews the whole period of, his administration of the chice and brings some of his statistics down to the mental to November last. The postul revenues have increased during the last year nearly $5.000,000. The defiction the year ending June 3), 182, is $38.3.1 less than the deficiency of the present fiscal year, it is estimated, will be reduced to $1.82, 22, which will not only be extinguished during the next fiscal year, but a surplus of nearly $1,000,000 should then be shown. In these calculations the payments to be estimated, will the reduced to S.1.52.423, which will not only be extinguished during the next fiscal year, but a surplus of nearly S.100,000 should then be shown. In these calculations the payments to be made under the contracts for ocean mail service have not been included. There have been added 1.590 new mail routes during the year, with a mileage of $.333 miles, and the total number of miles of mail trips added during the year is nearly 17,000,000. The number of miles of mail journeys added during the last four years is about 15,000,009, this addition being 21,000,009 of miles more than were in operation in the whole country in 1881. The number of postoffices has been increased by 2,180 during the rearr; and during the past, four years and up to October 20 sist, fact that increase years and up to October 20 sist, fact that increase years and up to October 20 sist, fact that increase years and up to October 20 sist, fact that increase years were than doubled within that time.

OUR MERCHANT MARINE.

Ever since our merchant marine was driven from the way of the rebellion, the United States has been paying an enormous neural tribute to foreign countries in the shape of freight and passage moneys. Our graft and meats have been taken as our own docks and our large imports their laid down by foreign shipmiasters. An increasing torrent of American travel, to Europe has contributed a vast sum annually to the dividends of foreign shipmiasters. I earnestly urge a continuance of the policy inaugurated by this legislation, and that the appropriations required to meet the oilinations of the government under the oilinations of the government under the contracts may be made promptly, so that the lines that have entered into these engagements may not be embarrassed. We have had, by reason of connections with the transcontinental railway lines constructed through our own territory, some advantages in the ocean trade of the Facilic, that we sid not possess on the straining that the strain they have practically excluded us frozi participation. In my opinion, no choice is left, to us but to pursue, moderately, at least, the same lines.

THE NATY.

The report of the Secretary of the Navy exhibits great progress in the construction of our new navy. When the present Secretary entered upon his duties, only three modern steel vessels when the present Secretary entered upon his duties, only three modern steel vessels when commission. The vessels since put in commission. The vessels since put in commission, and to be put in commission during the winter, will make a total of nineteen during his administration of the department. During the current year towar vessels and the great particle was vessels will have been launched. Two other large ships and a torpedo boat are under contract and the work upon them well advanced, and the four monitors are awaiting fully the arrival of their armor, which has been unserpectedly delayed or they would have been before false in commission.

At the beginning of Secretary Tracy's administration several difficult problems remained to be grappled with and solved before the efficiency in action of our ships fould be secured. It is believed that as the result of new processes. In the obstruction of armor plate out later ships will be clothed with defensive plates of higher resisting power than are tolund on any war vessel and the power of the plates of higher resisting power than are tolund on any war vessel and on successfully. We were without a shop instructed and equipped, for the construction of them. We are now making what is welleved to be a projectile, superior to any before in use. A smokeres bowder has been developed and a slow-burning powder for guns of large caliber. A high explosive, capable of use in shells fired from service guns, has been found, and the manufacture of gun cotton has been d

THE INTERIOR DEPARTMENT.

The work of the Interfor Department, always very burdencome, has been larger than ever before during the administration of Secretary Noble. The disability pension laws the taking of the eleventh census, the opening of vast arees of Indian lands to sectlement, the organization of Oklahoma and the negotiations for the cession of Indian lands furnish some of the particulars of the increased work; and the results achieved testify to the ability, fidelity and industry of the head of the department and his efficient assistants. sassistants in the recommendation of the Secretary of the Interior that the agreement entered into by the Cherckee Commission, for the cession of the Cherckee strip, be ratified by Congress.

The form of sovernment provided by Congress on May II, 1884, for Alaska was, in Es frame and purpose, temporary. The increase of population and the develops ment of some amortant mining and commercial interests make it imperative that the law should be revised and better provision made for the arrest and punishment of criminals.

THE GENERAL LAND OFFICE.
The report of the secretary shows a very gralifying state of accis as to the condition of the general land office. The work of issuing agricultural patents, which seemed to be hopelessly infarrears when the present secretary undertook the duties of his office, has been so expedited that the bureau is now upon current business. The relief afforded to honest and worthy settlers on the public lands, by giving to them an assured title to their cutries; las been of incalculable benefit in developing the new states and the territories.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

this policy of speedily settling contested land titles, is maleing satisfactory progress in its work.

The work of the Indian Farram, in the execution of the policy of recent legislation, has been largely directed to two chief purposes: First, the altournent of lands, in severally to the lindians and the cession to the United States of the surplus lands, and, secondly, to the work of education the Indians with the white man, and for the fieldlight exercise of his new citizenship, allounents have been made and patents issued to 5.990 Indians under the present secretary and commissioner, and 7.601 additional allouments have been made for warm patents are now in process of preparation. The school attendance of Indian children has been increased during that time over 13 per cent, the enrollment for 1852 being hearly 20, 1990. A uniform system of school activates of the surplus lands and of study has been adopted, and the work in these national schools brought as near as may be to the basis of the irrecommon schools of the states. These schools can be transferred and merged into the common school systems of the states when the Indian has fully assumed his new relation, to the organized civil community in which he resides, and the land has well and the work and the states are able to assume the burdent.

I have several times been called upon to remove Indian agents appointed by me, and have done so promptly upon every sistained complaint of unfiness or misconduct I believe however, that the Indian service at the agancies has been improved and is now administered on the whole with a degree of the first any legislation is possible by the resident of the indian service at the agancies has been improved from all partisan suggestions of the states are able to assume the burdent of the common support of the office is effected in the tory of the office is effected in the form of the common supportance of the common support of the office is effected in the form of the common support of the states of the second of the second

The subject of quarantine regulations, inspection and coursel was brought said deliy to my attention by the arrival at few ports in August last of research the cour ports in August last of research the with, cholera. Quarantine regulations should be uniform at all our ports. There is a Constitution they are plainty within the exclusive federal jurisdiction when and so far as Congress shall legislate. In my opinion they are plainty within the exclusive referral jurisdiction when and so far as Congress shall legislate. In my opinion they are plainty within the exclusive referral jurisdiction on the state of the state of the subject should be taken dute natively course in my opinion and adequate power given to the executive to protect people against plague livrasions. On the list of September last Tappived regulations establishing a twenty-day quarantine for all vessions in loss and continued in force. Some loss and suffering have resulted to passengers, but a due care for the homes of our people instifies in such cases the utmost precaution. There is danger that still the coming of spring cholers will again appear, and a liberal appropriation should be made at this session to enable our quarantine and port officers to exclude the deadity plague. But the most careful and stringent quarantine regulations may not be sufficient absolutely to exclude the disease.

ELECTION METHODS.

I have, in each of the three annual messages which it has been my dury to submit to Congress, called attention to the evils and dangers connected with our election methods and practices as they are related to the choice of officers of the national government. In my last annual messages I endeavored to invoke serious attention to the evils of unfair apportionments for gongress. I cannot closs this message it endeavored to invoke serious attention to the evils of unfair apportionments for gongress. I cannot closs this message without again calling attention to these grave and threatening evils. I had hoped that it was possible to secure a non-partisan inquiry by means of a commission into evils, the existence of which is known to all, and that out of this might grow legislation from which all thought of partisan advantage should be eliminated and only the higher thought appear of maintaining the freedom and purity of the ballot, and the equality of which the government could never have been, of which it cannot continue to exist in peace and that the sincerity of those who profess a desire for pure and honest elections should be brought to the test of their willingness to free our legislation and our election methods from everything that tends to impair the public contidence in the announced result. The necessity for an inquiry and for lectification by Congress upon this subject is emphasized by the fact that the tendency of the legislation in some states in recent years has in some important particulars been away from and not toward free and fair the thing of the work of the executive departments is submitted to Congress and to the public in the hope that there will be found in it a due sense of responsibility and an earnest purpose to maintain the national honor and to promote the happiness and prosperity of the counting which is not properly should not observe the same r

Subject, "Gumption" with a big "G." Mr. Patengill is a man of ripe scholarship, a humorist by nature, witty and fascinatingly eloquent with his satire, logic eloquence and humor, at the same time teaches most valuable lessons of truth and right. Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Spencer of this place who are spending the winter with their son George at Wixom, were happily surprised last week Wednesday by the assembling of about fifty relatives, in honor of their fiftieth anniversary day, having been married since Nov. 30, 1842. The brothers George, of Wixom, Mralen, of Midland and sister, Mrs. Cetella Murry of Farmington, so dexterously made the arrangements that the old people were completely astonished to meet so many who were near and dear to them. As tokens of love and esteem many valuable and useful gifts were bestowed. A bountiful menu was served after which fine selections of music were executed by guests present. occassion proved a joyful one and long to be remembered. The company dispersed with best wishes for the dear old couple.
