"German Syrup"

I am a farmer at Edom, Texas. I have used German Syrup for six years successfully for Sore Throat, Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Pains in Chest and Lungs and Spitting up of Blood. I have tried many kinds of Cough Syrups in my time, but let me say to anyone wanting such a medicine—German Syrup is the best. We are subject to so many sudden changes from cold to hot, damp weather here, but in families where German Syrup is used there is little trouble from colds. John F. Jones.

DR. KILMER'S SWAMP-ROOT CURED ME.

DEAR SIR:—I have been troubled with Torpid Liver for 14 years and gone through courses of bilious fever many times. I have been unable to do any kind of work for the last 10 years. I was first recommended to me by Mr. H. W. Blackwell, of Druggists, who told me that he had cured his own liver by using Swamp-root. After taking one bottle I was cured. I have since used it and find it a most reliable remedy. I can now do my work and feel well.

of Americans with arms has in the past been largely due to hostilities with the Indians. When the Kenton tribe was in vogue, the sights, though intended only for close work, were usually as sharp as the edge of a knife. In later years superior rifles were in American hands, and the National Rifle association, and largely by the efforts of the war department to raise the skill of enlisted men of the army to the standard of marksmen. In view of the record of American riflemen in the past and the diligent efforts of the war department authorities of to-day to keep up the standard, there is little likelihood, it is thought among conservative men, of the ordnance department overlooking the desires of sharpshooters. General Flagler has laid the subject of proper sights for the new small arm before a board of experienced officers. This board need not be expected to make any mistakes.

He Caught the Bird.

Admiral Jonett tells an odd story of a blockade runner. He was in command of the Metacomet at the time. The blockade runner referred to was a slippery vessel. She was so swift that every attempt to catch her had failed. Admiral Jonett declared that she must be taken at all hazards, and detached the job to Jonett. "Jim," he said, "I count on you to fetch me that bird, whatever happens." So it came about that the Metacomet lay in wait for the artful dodger on Campachy banks. There was reason to believe that she would come that way before long. Meanwhile, the commander of the warship set to work to transform his craft in such a manner that her own builder would not have recognized her.

The first thing he did was to paint a broad streak all around her hull. Then he hoisted stars aloft and arranged them so as to look like double topmasts. Such a merchantman carried in those days. By such devices, the vessel was made to resemble a Mexican trader. She was anchored near the shoals, as if trying to catch fish. So she was, but it was a very big fish she was after. The guns were devalued with tarpaullins for a further disguise, and it was ordered that no uniforms should be worn on deck. The commandant of the latest ship of the Metacomet, in short, adopted a policy of camouflage, that a warship armed to the teeth was concealed beneath such an innocent exterior.

When the smoke of the steamer was seen at the expected point on the horizon Jonett was confident that the game was in sight. He even went so far as to interview the steward in relation to a bill of fare, saying that he meant to entertain the captain of the blockade runner at dinner the same evening. The latter said slowly, rose to the horizon. When she came within a couple of miles the Metacomet hoisted the Mexican flag. The stranger responded by raising no French colors. She had no suspicion of the true character of the foe that was lying in wait. With the utmost confidence she steamed past and her astonishment must have been great when the Metacomet fired at gun across her bows. At a moment the ship of war was revealed in her true character; her decks crowded with men, and her armament unveiled. Her commander's invitation to dinner for that evening was not refused by the captain of the blockade runner.

Miss Mary Lapham arrived home from Europe on Monday. Her large circle of friends here rejoice to have her among them again. Her trip doubtless was as salubrious as it was pleasant, for she is the picture of health. Miss Barker remained in that far away country and at present is at Geneva, Switzerland.

E. R. Reed left Wednesday for Newyago to assume charge of the County Democrat, and write articles on tariff reform, free trade and Esther Cleveland. Miss Lou Reed expects to leave for that place tomorrow or Monday. Mrs. Reed will remain here for the present and Rev. Seth Reed and wife will manage the farm at least until spring. The Record's best wishes go with Mr. Reed to his new field of work at the capital of Newyago county.

Captain Porterfield and his band of crusaders left this place Tuesday for Mt. Pleasant. Their stay here was profitable, some fifteen new converts being the result of their labor. It must take a whole lot of earnest christianity to endure the ridicule and hardships incident to crusade work, without the least hope of recompense in this world except perhaps a scanty livelihood. Capt. Porterfield and his co-laborers are all musicians and this proves a great help in the work. The Record has a much better opinion of them and their work than before their advent in our village.

"Our Men's Meeting."

The service on Sunday was a most delightful and helpful one and we are sure all were pleased with it, especially our guests. Every musical number was excellent and we return thanks to those who took part. 152 attended.

Now the ladies know something of what we are doing. Will they not help us by urging the men of their homes to come. No knowing what fruits a kind invitation may bring.

The band quartette are rendering splendid service. Young men of the village come and enjoy an hour's service with us. Try it once; you will want to come again!

Editor Northville Record:

Rev. Mr. Belding's reply to my letter is an indescribable medley of rancor and uncharitableness. He accused the Catholics of being traitors, assassins, perjurers and I know not what else. He was asked to give proofs of these assertions. He has not even attempted to do so and it must be apparent to the meanest intelligence that his latest performance is a gross evasion of the challenge and his letter an open admission that he has not a fragment of evidence in support of the foul slanders he uttered. No man has a right to bring a charge against another without being under the obligation of supporting it. This is a cardinal principle of law. Is this righteous rule to be set aside in the case of Catholics and their religion? Evidently our "public teacher" thinks so, but I am much mistaken if the fair minded people of Northville, no matter how doctrinally opposed to Catholicism, will agree with him. Mr. Belding's highest idea of his office as a public teacher is not to inculcate any particular system of ethics or theology but seemingly to watch over the anti-Catholic prejudice and to fan it into a flame.

He says he did not think of the Catholics when preparing his sermon. Let me remind him of another and graver lapse of memory for which he has no blushes. He forgot on that occasion too the divine precept, "Thou shalt not bear a false witness against thy neighbors." With unconscious irony he accurately describes a theatrical part and his stage properties are fabrication.

Mr. Belding claims for himself accuracy of statement as one of his cues to the confidence of his people, but will these people believe that his statements and charges are contradicted not by Catholics only but by the most learned and respected members of his own profession? After emphatically denying the very accusations of Mr. Belding, seventeen protestant pastors of Columbus, Ohio, add, "We make these statements not only in the interest of truth and decency but also in the interest of peace and good will upon all protestant gentleness to acquaint themselves with the literature, which is being secretly disseminated among the ignorant protestants, of their neighborhood and to speak out about it as every man of honor is bound to do." Signed W. E. Moore, pastor Presbyterian church, and E. E. Taylor, pastor Westminster Presbyterian church, W. H. Scott, president Ohio State University, and fourteen other pastors of various denominations. I enclose you the paper Mr. Editor and anyone who wishes to see the whole document may do so by calling at your office.

Want of space prevents me from replying as fully as I should like. I am not however quite sure that I understand the entire force of Mr. Belding's reply owing to my imperfect acquaintance with his sarcastic vocabulary.

I again challenge and defy him to give any thing like a satisfactory proof of his charges or to point to a single act or word of a Catholic leader that will justify his wild assertions.

Faithfully yours,

GEORGE CLARSON, Catholic Pastor, Milford, Nov. 7, 1893.

THE REPUBLICANS IN

ELECTION IN SEVERAL STATES FULL OF INTEREST.

The First District of Michigan and the Detroit Municipal Fight.—New York, Massachusetts, Ohio, Iowa, Virginia, New Jersey, Kansas and Other States.

The First Congressional District.

The district which sent the late and lamented Hon. J. Logan Chapman to Congress for several terms had long been conceded to the Democrats. Nevertheless, when the time came for the man who had served so long and so well the Republicans took fresh courage and worked with might and main to wrest the first district from their opponents. They named James H. Stone, for years internal revenue collector, to make the race and right royally did they support him. The Democrats were equally determined to retain their hold and selected as their leader Levi T. Griffin, a prominent lawyer and a strong candidate. The fight was a hot one and the victor emerged his laurels.

The Complete Return from Every Voting Precinct.

Griffin, Democrat, carried a majority of 1,187. The Republicans, although defeated, were entitled to know that the usual plurality of from 5,000 to 15,000 had been cut so deep.

Detroit Municipal Affairs.

Hon. H. S. Plummer, twice elected mayor of the state's metropolis, again aspired to the chair. His methods of conducting the affairs of the municipality had won him many enemies in his own party and on the other hand had brought to his standard many Democrats. Thus, with party lines partially eliminated the fight became one of man and not party; of principles and not politics. The Democratic leaders headed their city ticket with Marshal H. Godfrey, a sterling business man with friends on both sides and the campaign became the most terrific Detroit ever experienced. There was considerable whispering on both sides as the interest was kept up as never before until the last moment.

THE BATTLE ELSEWHERE.

Although an "Off" Year, a Great Deal of Interest was Shown in Ohio.

McKinley is all right. Such is the verdict of the people of the Buckeye state. The plurality is about 75,000. The battle was strictly on national issues and the campaign was the hottest of the state had experienced since the civil war. The leading Democrats attributed their defeat to the reaction over the recent doings of congress. There was a vote of 300,000 polled, every voter in both parties turning out. Not only was McKinley re-elected governor, but at the very least two-thirds of both branches of the state legislature are now Republican, and all the state officers as well as many county officers were carried to victory along with the team of destiny.

The Empire State.

It was a general surprise. It was one of the most peculiar campaigns in the history of the state and it is safe to say that the Democrat managers are not more surprised at the result than are the Republicans. The dominant issue in all portions of the state has been ring rule and the Republicans in New York City, Brooklyn, Albany and Buffalo have been greatly assisted by the organized efforts of independent Democrats. Isaac H. May, the Democratic candidate on the Democratic ticket for judge of the court of appeals, against whom the independent Democrats waged war most bitterly and unrelentingly, has been surprisingly and overwhelmingly defeated. In New York City he ran 35,000 behind his ticket. In Brooklyn over 19,000 and in Erie county several thousand. Almost without exception the returns from every part of the state show that he was heavily outvoted and the total plurality against Maynard is close on to 100,000. The entire state Republican ticket goes in. In New York City the Tammany ticket received majorities of about 65,000. Brooklyn was changed from Democratic hands to Republican by about 10,000.

Big Republican Gains in Chicago.

The election seems to be about a stand-off. The returns indicate that the Republicans elected the entire judicial ticket and the Democrats secured the county commissioners inside the city. The great fight has been over the election of Judge Gary, Republican, who presided at the trial of the anarchists. At the time Gov. Algy had pledged the anarchists he made a severe attack upon Gary, and the fight has been one of Gary against the state machine, with the result that Gary seems not only to have pulled the full Republican strength, but to have drawn on the Democratic vote as well. In almost every precinct in the city and county he was from 5 to 10 per cent ahead of the balance of the ticket. The result shows a decisive Republican gain over the presidential election of a year ago.

George Simpson and Kansas.

The Australian ballot system was used in Kansas for the first time and although there was some friction in localities, where the law was not thoroughly understood, on the whole the election passed off smoothly. The vote this year for various reasons is not nearly so large as in 1902. First reports very meagre, give the Populists a substantial gain.

Kentucky.

Returns from almost every part show Democratic gains and an increase in the Democratic majority in the state legislature.

MASSACHUSETTS.

For the first time in three years the Bay state will have a Republican governor, and his plurality is 30,000 at the least.

The whole ticket is elected with him and the legislature is solidly Republican in both branches. Candid Democrats had conceded the defeat of Gov. John F. Russell, their candidate for governor, by a small majority, while even the most sanguine Republicans would not claim over 15,000 for Greenhalge. The astonishing result is attributed to the present industrial depression, aided by the fact that Massachusetts is nominally a Republican state. The Republicans are so jubilant that they care very little about the cause. A very significant report was that from Greenfield, the birthplace of Hon. John F. Russell, the Democratic candidate, where from a Democrat plurality of 12 years ago Greenhalge got a plurality of 132.

New Jersey Results.

All was not peaceful in New Jersey. In fact at Camden there were serious frictions and about 500 deputy sheriffs and 500 special police were sworn in; the state troops were kept in the armory in case of an emergency, many people were badly injured. Three men were shot in the head, one man and one woman had their throats cut, and another man was badly cut in the abdomen. Camden was in the hands of a gang of thugs and repeaters. Many deputy sheriffs were stopped on the streets and had their weapons taken from them. The returns were slow in coming in and for time it looked bright for both parties, but the fight against the racketeers and gambling threw the balance on the Republican side.

Notes Turned Down in Iowa.

Election was quiet in Iowa notwithstanding that the battle was a fierce one. Democrats were positive of their ability to return Gov. Boies to the chief executive's chair for another term. Republicans were equally positive that Jackson could be elected, and they were right. The Republicans name the governor by about 25,000 plurality. The legislature will also be strongly Republican.

Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia elects all Republicans, as did Pittsburg and other prominent cities. There were only some minor state offices to be filled, but the Republicans grabbed the whole business.

Virginia.

The Democratic state ticket was elected by a large majority, and they will have more than two-thirds majority in the legislature. Many Negroes voted the Democratic ticket.

25 SAILORS DROWNED.

Propeller Philadelphia and Albany Collided in a Fog and Sank.

The propeller Albany, of the Western Transit Co., loaded with grain, and the propeller Philadelphia, of the Anchor line, loaded with coal and general merchandise, collided off Point Aux Barques, Lake Huron, in a dense fog and sank in 200 feet of water. The captains of both boats, with 20 men, got ashore.

The Philadelphia struck the Albany head on, forward of No. 2 gangway. All hands got on the Philadelphia, which towed the Albany half an hour, when the latter sank. The Philadelphia went down 20 minutes after. The crews left in two boats. The yawl containing 23 men of the two crews of the capsized, and all were lost. Eleven bodies have been found by the life-saving crew at Point Aux Barques. The Albany left Chicago for Buffalo and had on board 250 barrels of flour, 17,000 bushels of corn and 75,000 bushels of oats; the cargo was probably heavily insured, but the boat was not. The Philadelphia was bound from Buffalo to Duluth and was loaded with coal and a miscellaneous cargo; both cargo and boat insured.

The Albany was one of the first steel steamers built in Wisconsin. She was of 1,000 tons burden and was valued at $165,000, belonging to the Western Transportation company line and was put out in 1884. The Philadelphia was one of the old-time iron steamboats, and up to the advent of the big steel freighters was a first-class money maker. She was of 1,400 tons, built in 1867 at Buffalo by David Bell and was valued at $80,000. She was the property of the Anchor line.

Dastardly Deed of Tramps.

While L. W. Stratton, an employee of the E. & P. M., was putting up switch lights near Gale station, on the Port Huron division, two men assaulted him, one snatching his lantern and striking him a terrific blow on the head, while the other slashed him on the forehead with a knife. They tried to get the keys of the switch, but were frightened away. Then they fled to the station, where after giving the lantern a final light would show, they vainly endeavored to turn the switch to wreck the first train, but were not successful.

An Unknown Brutal and Most Foully Temperament Assaults a 4-Year-Old Girl Near Saginaw.—Woman Killed by a Train Near Parma.

A Good Victim for the Hump.

Patrick McGuire farmer, resides about four miles northwest of the village of Zilwaukee, Saginaw county. A dance was given at a house across the street from the McGuire residence and Mr. and Mrs. McGuire attended, leaving the children alone in the house. One was a girl named Katie, only four years old, but large of her age, and the other a boy of two years. Every few minutes either the father or mother would step in to see how they were getting along. At half past 10 the mother was surprised to see that the light had been extinguished during her absence and entering found her little daughter lying in the middle of the floor crying bitterly. A lamp being lighted one of the most terrible sights imaginable was witnessed. The little girl was covered with blood and her moans were pitiful. Some one entered the house, taking the little girl from the bed and criminally assaulted her. As soon as Mrs. McGuire had notified her husband the dance was at once broken up and an armed posse of citizens started on a hunt for the perpetrator. A deputy sheriff was sent from Saginaw to help in the search, but there was not the slightest clue as to the perpetrator of the outrage. There is a slight chance of the child's recovery.

A singular fact in connection with the crime is that last spring the mother of the child was criminally assaulted in her own home in the daytime.

Big Shortage in Michigan Banks.

Bank Commissioner Sherwood has issued an abstract showing the condition of the state and national banks and the three trust companies of Michigan at the close of business Oct. 3. For the 159 state banks and the trust companies the resources and liabilities were $72,681,188.92. The resources and liabilities of the 100 national banks in the state were $28,444,144.25.

An analysis and comparison of the detailed reports with those made May 4 shows that the deposits in the 159 state banks May 4 were $65,583,057.93, and on October 3 they were $34,737,225.88. The decrease in the five months was $30,795,832.05 or 47.02 per cent.

On May 4 the deposits in the 100 national banks were $40,000,306.85, while on October 3 they were $21,191,334.43. This is a decrease of $18,808,972.42 or 47.02 per cent.

The total deposits in both classes of banks May 4 were $105,583,364.78, and on October 3, $85,928,582.37. The decrease in deposits in all the banks of the state in five months was therefore $19,654,782.41 or 18.62 per cent. Notwithstanding this decrease both classes of banks have far greater cash and reserve funds now than at any previous time this year.

A Detroit Fireman Killed.

Hook and ladder truck No. 3, and a Woodward avenue electric car collided at Detroit. The heavy truck was tearing down Montcalm street in answer to an alarm and the car was going down grade at the rate of 12 to 15 miles an hour, when they met. The car was partly filled with passengers. The suddenness of the shock threw them from their seats, but nobody was injured. The car left the track but was not much damaged. The truck was struck in the center and partly wrecked.

Ladderman Hugh Garrity, who was driving the truck, was thrown from his high seat, struck on his head on the asphalt pavement and was instantly killed, his neck being broken. One other ladderman was slightly bruised and hurt and died at a hospital some time afterward. Bystanders who saw the accident say neither side was to blame. Both driver and motorman were ringing their bells, but the noise made by both vehicles drowned each from hearing the other. The crash was a heavy one, and the wonder is that more people were not injured or killed.

An Example Worthy of Emulation.

The corner stone of the St. Cecilia society's new club house was laid at Grand Rapids with interesting ceremonies. The building will be of brick and stone, will have an auditorium large enough to accommodate 500 or 1,000 and will have in addition ample parlors, dance hall, stage and dining room.

$20,000 Fire at Bay City.

S. A. McLean & Company's sawmill at Bay City has burned. The fire started in the boiler room and the mill was a total wreck in a short time. A shower was the only thing that prevented a spread of the flames to adjoining valuable property. The McLean mill was one of the oldest in the city, but recently rebuilt, and considered quite modern. Loss is estimated at $20,000 with an insurance of $23,500.

Several wells in Traverse City have stopped their flow of clear, cold water, and in place of this offer a poisonous supply that is more than lukewarm.

300 PEOPLE KILLED.

500 KEGS OF DYNAMITE IN A BURNING STEAMER.

Explodes near a Dock Upon Which was Assembled a Throng of Thousands Witnessing the Fire on the Vessel—Much Valuable Property Destroyed.

A Veritable Volcano.

Over 300 killed outright, over 500 wounded—many fatally—half a city destroyed by fire is the terribly shocking story of the explosion of 480 kegs of dynamite on a steamer in the port of Santander, Spain, on the Bay of Biscay.

The Cabo Machichaco, a Spanish steamship, caught fire while the steamer was alongside the quay, discharging part of her cargo, which comprised nearly 5,000 tons of merchandise, consisting of iron ore, a number of sacks of flour, barrels of wine, many cases of petroleum and over 500 cases of dynamite of which only 20 cases were declared on the steamer's manifest. The remaining 480 cases of dynamite were contraband, and to the shame of the shippers it has caused the immense loss of life and vast damage to property.

The crew attempted to fight the fire for a time, but had to send out an alarm. The local authorities did their utmost, but could not kill the flames and they finally dispatched a tug to tow the vessel away from the quay to prevent the fire spreading to other vessels and adjoining property. In the center the dynamite exploded in a crowded town to the quay attracted by the fire on board the steamer. The fire spread quickly and ignited the petroleum which formed part of the cargo. At about 4:30 p.m. a detonation on board the steamer showed that there was another terrible explosion. The steamer seemed to open in half, sending a blast of fire skyward. There came a reported such awful intensity that it shook the earth for miles around, caused houses to totter, smashed every window within the radius of a rifle shot, filled the air with an immense mass of burning iron ore, burning wood, blackened timbers and scorched beams and mangled, bleeding human bodies.

The force of the exploding dynamite sent such a concussion through the city that shaking hundreds of buildings off their foundations, it actually sent a hundred small craft in the harbor, in addition to setting fire to a large number of other vessels and starting flames upon several of the larger ships, including the Alfonso XII, which vessel caught fire so suddenly and burned so fiercely that 40 of her crew lost their lives on board of her. A train from the province which was just arriving at the railroad station when the steamer blew up experienced the force of the explosion, was wrecked and set fire to and the majority of its passengers were burned to death before any assistance could be furnished them.

The effect of the explosion upon the inhabitants of Santander was bewildering in its intensity. For some time after the disaster the people were collectively stunned with dismay and horror and then followed a panic during which a hundred people are reported to have gone stark mad while the vast majority was so paralyzed with fear and shock that they were incapable of moving to the assistance of the dying or of making any effort to extinguish the flames which sprang up from a mass of buildings and which began to spread with the most threatening rapidity.

Among the killed were Marquis Pombal, also the governor of the province, leading municipal officers, colonel and chief officers of the civil guards who were superintending the fighting of the fire.

Nine Drowned in New York Bay.

Nine lives were lost by the capsizing of a yawl in lower New York Bay. Twenty-two mechanics and laborers employed by the contractors who are working on Hoffman island embarked in a 30-foot yawl to return to their homes. The sea in the bay was running very high, but the yawl successfully battled with the waves until within 400 feet of South Beach, where the men were to disembark. The sail had just been lowered when a sudden squall struck the boat. For some minutes the men were successful in keeping the yawl afloat, but a large wave struck the boat, and filled her completely. The yawl sank, leaving the 22 men struggling in the water and nine drowned before help could reach them.

Steamer Burned at Sea.

New York special: Information has been received from Matanzas that the West India steamer City of Alexandria has been burned at sea and is lost. The City of Alexandria left New York Oct. 20. She had discharged her cargo at both ports and was returning from Matanzas for Havana to load for New York.

The City of Alexandria was built in 1879 by John Roach & Son, of Chester, Pa. The fire occurred when the ship was midway between Matanzas and Havana. The distance between the two ports is only 40 miles, so the Alexandria could not have been very far out at sea.

Six People and Several Horses Killed.

Six men killed, others supposed to be dead under the ruins, a dozen persons injured, several horses dead and property damaged to the extent of about $10,000 is the sum total of the havoc wrought by the explosion of a boiler in the stables of the dry dock, East Broadway and Battery street, New York City. The greatest part of the exploded boiler lay out of the building across the street and crashed through the wall of a tenement. The house was demolished. A horse that was standing in the street was struck and instantly killed.

OUR FLAG FIRED UPON.

Honduras Government Fires Seven Cannon Shots at an American Steamer.

A dispatch from La Libertad, Honduras, says: Honduras fired upon the American flag. By an order of President Vasquez, and by the express command of the commissioner of the port of Amapala, seven cannon shots were fired after the Pacific mail steamer Costa Rica, flying the stars and stripes, as she steamed away, because she refused to surrender one of her passengers to the Honduras government. United States Minister Baker was on board the Costa Rica at the time.

The passenger about whom trouble arose is Policarpo Bonilla, who recently fled from Honduras, and was captured and detained by Gen. Vasquez. He then fled to Nicaragua, and with 300 of his adherents joined the army of President Socas, who engaged in an attempt to quell the revolution. Bonilla had decided to leave Nicaragua in order to relieve the government from all responsibility of harboring him. He sailed for Guatemala on the Costa Rica. American Minister Baker and more than 100 other persons were his fellow passengers. They arrived at Amapala, a port of entry of Honduras, on the Pacific coast, and commander of the port Villa demanded that Capt. Dow should surrender Bonilla. When this request was refused a threat was made to sink the ship, and it was asserted that President Vasquez had given orders to that effect. None of the shots struck the Costa Rica, although another steamer was badly damaged by one of the shots.

A Burial and a Woman Killed.

Frank B. Wheeler, of Wilmette, near Chicago, was awakened by a noise and by investigation saw a light in the room of Mrs. Cron, his mother-in-law. He went to the door and saw Mrs. Cron lying on the floor, the face covered with blood, near the door was a bundle of plunder. As Wheeler was about to enter a burglar rushed past him and toward the stairs. Wheeler followed two revolvers and he emptied one into the body of the fellow who tumbled down the stairs, stone dead. The shots started up another robber who scooped out across the parlor with a knife in pursuit, but Wheeler made his escape. When Wheeler returned to his home it was ablaze. Hastily calling help the house was saved, but Mrs. Cron was dead when taken from the house, her head and limbs being burned away. All the plunder was recovered.

Mr. Geo. Walker, one of the oldest pioneer settlers of Salem township, peacefully passed away at his home four miles south of the village last Sabbath afternoon having reached the ripe old age of seventy-six years. Geo. Walker was highly esteemed by the community as a man of uprightness and integrity, hard working and industrious so long as his strength allowed. He was born in York state and when a youth, more than sixty years ago, came with the other members of his family to seek and make a home in the wilds of Michigan. They settled in Livingston county where he lived for ten years. In 1840 he took as his life partner Phebe Wilbur who had also come from the Empire state. Their union was blessed with a family of eight sons and three daughters, all of whom with the exception of one son are living. They are George, Ezek and Henry all married and on farms near the homestead. Perry is a farmer in Montcalm county. Charles, Ira and Arthur are unmarried and reside at the homestead, all farmers. The daughters are Mrs. Geo. McComber, Mrs. L. Nelson and Mrs. Bruen. The widow, five brothers and one sister also survive him. Nearly fifty years ago Mr. Walker took up land in Salem township and with a strong heart and faithful partner began the hardships of an early settler's life. For the past few years he had been gradually failing in health which culminated in his death last Sunday, on the farm where he had spent half a century. Rev. D. H. Conrad, Baptist pastor at Salem, conducted the funeral services which were very large, on Wednesday at the house. The remains were interred in a neighboring cemetery.
