HAD A SPECIAL MEET.

The Council Had a Lively Time Monday Night

The aldermen were a little slow in getting together Monday night and the Sergeant-at-Arms had to make two trips to bring in two tardy members. Ald. Wheeler, as he took his seat, remarked that he had not been notified of the meeting until a few moments previously. The reporters were given a seat along side the clerk, the president took his station at the round table, touched the button and the municipal mill commenced to slowly but surely grind.

A communication from Health Officer Elect Swift, couched in a few well chosen, but unmistakable words, was read. The doctor thanked the council for the honor, but respectfully declined the important office for the small remuneration which went with it. After four ballots, and a last motion to adjourn, Dr. Patterson was elected to the position.

A petition from ten taxpayers asking for a creek drain along Wing street, Cady to the river, brought out a heated discussion. Ald. Sessions said that part of the town had been neglected. There wasn't a dry cellar in it and in some places it was wet year around. Thought it a good idea to put the drain through. He said it would make things healthier and besides the crocks were going to pieces anyhow. Ald. Rayson said he had looked this over carefully. He had worked four years improving roads, walks, etc. They had saved some $500 last year for this very purpose of doing away with some mud holes and frog ponds, and there was no use of fooling two more weeks away and thought the council should order this done at once. Ald. Wheeler said he didn't believe the village had any more right to put in sewers of this kind for a few individuals than they had to put in their water works. They had simply built in a wet place, and the village could not be expected to drain their cellars. Ald. Sessions said the village put one down on South Center street where it didn't need it. It was bad as Wing street did. Ald. Wheeler explained that the Center street sewer was put in to carry off the surface water from the main part of the village and not for the hotel or any one along that street. Ald. Clark said something of this kind came up when he was on the board nine years ago. They didn't favor it then and he shouldn't favor it now until a general sewerage system was established. The matter was finally referred to the street committee.

The communication from thirteen Plymouth avenue tax payers asking for a sewer or drain from a road north of John Cooper's place to connect with the drain near Cameron's property, was referred to the street committee in spite of the protest of that committee that action should be taken at once. Ald. Rayson said the meeting was called for this very purpose. All know about this frog pond. It ought to be attended to at once, and now was the time to do the work. Ald. Clark said he had not examined it closely, but would do so. He thought the expense should be considered. Ald. Wheeler said he knew the subject had been agitated but wasn't clearly posted and would have to vote no tonight. He thought two weeks delay no harm and then it could be looked over thoroughly, and it was referred.

Ald. Rayson said the committee didn't quite agree as to what should be done about the drain in front of John Darlington's. Part want the drain cleaned out and said that would suffice while another wanted crocks put in. Ald. Clark said he had been down there and thought an open ditch would be all right if properly cleaned out. Ald. Sessions wanted to know if any of the aldermen wanted a four foot ditch in front of their place? Ald. Rayson said the different size crocks would do more damage than good. If the ditch was fixed properly the water would all be nicely carried over in the main stream where it would be quickly taken up and pass on out through the wide, clear, bending rivers, into our great lakes and thence down the beautiful St. Lawrence into the boundless ocean. He said this was in his ward and he liked to work for the good of his part of the city. He had bristles on his back maybe but he was no hog, he said. President Hutton said a deep ditch in front of a man's place didn't look very inviting and he thought during a freshet it must overflow at this point. Ald. Rayson explained that they only wanted to clean out about four inches and Ald. Wheeler's motion to have it thus cleaned out was carried. Ald. Sessions voting nay.

The committee on lights thought they would be ready to make some kind of a report at the next regular meeting. Ald. Rayson said the "street talk" was pro and con for the village to operate its own lighting system, but he advised the council to "go slow and sure."

This ended up the business and a motion to adjourn started a scramble for the floor below, in the confusion of which Ald. Clark forgot his overcoat.

Dundee wants electric lights

Holly is to have a female tooth puller

Brighton will have a female baseball club in the field this season, so 'tis stated.

The roller skating craze has again struck Wayne.

New "taters" and other garden sass, all home grown, are already on the Dundee market.

The Plymouth Fair Association announces that it will hold its tenth annual meeting on Sept. 25 to 28.

The nickel-in-the-slot gambling devices must go. And they ought to go. —Ann Arbor Courier.

And they do go. — $100 has been subscribed to help along Plymouth's base ball club. L. C. Hough will be manager and Harry Springer captain.

Millford wants a police patrol established to catch some of the petty thieves that are making life burdensome and till empty in that village.

For a passing amusement Wayne boys indulge in putting ticks on windows and stuffing chimneys full of rags at night to rouse out the innocent sleepers beneath.

Friend Irish saw an accident coming along in a Dundee saw mill last week and instead of turning out and letting the accident go by, held out his hand just to touch it, to see if the paint was really dry as it were, and zip went two of his fingers.

Prof. Sihl of Ypsilanti, the new minister plenipotentiary to Korea, is not likely to find it dull, our where he is. Rebellion, assassination and a plot to kill the king are reported from that country. It wouldn't be surprising if the professor would yet find that minister plenipotentiary in Korea is more dangerous than umpiring a game of Normal base ball. —Adrian Press.

Following from the Howell Demo, crat was probably written by one of the new reporters: "If you want to do a genuine act of kindness, take some married woman out for a drive. There are plenty of married women in town who have not been buggy riding since they were brides. Take your own wife if you have one. If not, borrow some other fellow's but use good judgement in doing so."

A well dressed and apparently educated lady calling at Warner's well known grocery at Farmington the other day, and who evidently was doing her first shopping, said with a business like air:

"I want ten pounds of paralyzed sugar."

"Yes'm. Anything else?"

"Two cans of condemned milk."

"Yes'm. Be set down 'pulverized sugar,' 'condensed milk.'"

"Anything more, ma'am?"

"A bag of fresh salt—be sure that it is fresh."

"Yes'm, what next?"

"A pound of desecrated codfish."

"Yes'm." He wrote glibly "desecrated cod."

"Nothing more, ma'am?" Here's some nice horseradish just in."

"No," she said with a sad wabble to her flexible voice, "it would be of no use, as we don't keep a horse."

Then the grocer sat down on a kit of mackerel and fanned himself with a patent wash-board.

In Silent Sleep

A bright little two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Tesere of Bealton died Monday. The funeral occurred at the home Wednesday afternoon. The interment was in Rural Hill.

After more than one and a half years of patient suffering Miss Jessie Lowden passed quietly away on Tuesday morning of this week. Jessie would have been eighteen years old had she lived till the 23 of next month. Consumption was the dread disease and all the care of a devoted family and scores of friends, skilled physicians and change of climate was of no avail, except to stay the fatal disease and put off the sad ending hour. She was a bright young lady and had an almost numberless amount of friends. The funeral occurs at the home this afternoon, Rev. Arnold officiating.

For Better Country Roads

Now that the new pathmasters have been appointed and are about to commence the slaughter of all that is left good out of country roads, a few words on the subject will just at this moment prove timely.

To anyone who has been a very little familiar with the method of constructing country roads, in this as well as other states, the system has been suggestive of travesty.

Working out the road tax, as it is called, is, as a matter of fact, generally regarded as a mere matter of form by most of the farmers and the results of the roadmaking "bee" are something fearful and wonderful. If, perchance, a country road has become beaten into a fairly passable track for vehicles, the new path-master feels it incumbent upon him to cart on some more gravel, tear up the thoroughfare, and give the roadway that new appearance which seems to be dear to the heart and attractive to the eye of the average path-master. The outcome of this peculiar method of roadmaking, which has come down from the fathers, is that the highways, even near the large cities, are in a chronic state of baseness and at certain times of the year they are practically impassable.

It was to remedy these palpable evils that the movement of systematic and scientific roadmaking was inaugurated. For the past year or two a process of education has been going on which bids fair to yield good results. Even the farmers themselves are beginning to see the advantage of abandoning the ancient plan of annually demolishing the highways and are joining heartily in the movement for good roads. May the time quickly appear when roads will be improved instead of road tax being worked out.

HER JEALOUSY AND HIS

UNTIL, did you see a ghost? A small head in a white cap, with a pair of eyes, looking out from a tiny face framed in with a tangle of golden curls, and a pair of soft, red lips pressed coaxingly upon mine. "Tell me," she pleads, in her most persuasive accents. "I am in amusement."

"No, my dear, there are no such things as ghosts!"

Little May's curly head goes down upon my knee and she sighs. "She looks away into dreamland, while I sit and think. I have made a mistake. No such things as ghosts? Why, only to-day I saw one—a pale, shadowy specter—the ghost of a dead love. It was the one supreme love of my life, and I shall never know another. Before me the future stretches out in bitter darkness; my feet must tread a thorny path, which ends only in the grave."

Sitting here beside the window, gazing listlessly forth upon the passing stream of human life, I go back to the time when we loved each other—he and I—and was supremely happy. Alas! it is all past now.

I have read my life's love-story backward, and happiness is to me in the past tense.

How the words of a sad little poem drift through my brain to-night:

"My heart is chilled, and my pulse is slow,
But often and often, my memory goes Back to the days when I loved you so.
The beautiful long ago."

"I sit here, dreaming them through and through,
The blessed moments I've spent with you.
The sweet, sweet days, when love was new—
When I was tranquil, and you were true, Beautiful days."

Blessed or wretched, I cannot be free—
Why should I care, if my life should be?
Or whether you wander by land or sea?
Only know you are dead to me—
Dead, and hopelessly.

Summer will vanish, and years will wane
And time will slip to your window-pane.
Nor day, nor sunshine, nor summer rain
Can bring you back to the life again.
I call up the past in vain.

My heart is weary, it aches to be
For that proves cross that I counted gold;
I watch as I long for your certain foot
Your window is dark, and the light is cold.
And my sorry heart is told.

He was proud and high spirited, I Jealous and quick tempered, swift to give way to anger, but just as swift to forgive. He could not understand me,
It is hard for some natures to be understood.

It began—I hardly know how—but a feeling of jealousy crept into my heart, because of his attentions to a pretty cousin. I remember when I challenged him with the offense, he only looked down upon me from his superior height and smiled. It was exactly the same smile that I saw when he looked at the girl who had just married him. "You are jealous," he remarked, as I stood by his side, looking at the bride. "Of course it only added fuel to flame, and my wrath grew fiercer and fiercer, and overpowered all bounds; while he only stood and looked at me with that old little smile upon his perfect lips."

"Here!" I cried, angrily, tearing the ring from my finger, which he had placed there with loving words: "I and all between us forever!"

The ring fell from my hand to the marble hearth, beside which he was standing; a glittering golden circle it lay gleaming there. He turned, and with slow deliberation, set his foot upon the ring, crushing it into an unrecognizable mass.

"You are jealous!" he coldly remarked, but with a quiver in his voice which I knew full well.

"Can you wonder at it?" I cried, wrathfully; but he turned coolly and left me alone.

Then I fully realized what I had done. In my madness, I had lost him forever, and he was dearer to me than my own life. Oh! the anguish of the night that followed. Morning found me crushed and penitent, feeling assured within my heart that I had wronged him; that there was no real foundation for jealousy in his conduct.

In a strangely unexpected way my assurance was confirmed. For the morning paper contained the announcement of the marriage of his cousin to another man. Full of remorse—bowed to the dust with sorrow and grief—I wrote him a piteous appeal for pardon. The burden of my cry was: "Forgive! Forgive! Come back to me!" But I might as well have pleaded with a stone. He would never forgive me—never!

Days dragged by. My life was one long pain; the end of all happiness had come to me. How could I live without him?

And more, I crushed all pride beneath my feet, and wrote him, begging him, for the sake of our dead to forgive. Again no answer.

Then I knew that the silence of death in life had fallen upon us two. For days I was like a mad creature. I could neither eat nor sleep. Days—long days of suffering, and nights of anguish, during which I only saw his face—his grace, noble face, with the pride flash in the dark eyes, and the sweet curves of the firm lips. I could have had him back again, by the sacrifice of my own life; I would have laid that life down gladly. But we were parted forever. His love was dead, and my hand had slain it.

Years have rolled by. We have never met since that night when I gave him back his ring and threw into his face words of scorn and reproach.
We have never met—until to-day.

Passing down the street, on my way home from the office, where, as stenographer, I earn my daily bread, I came face to face with my lost love.
Little May clung to my hand. Dear child—my dead sister's little one—left to my care, and all I have to love and cling to in the world—all I shall ever have. Not for me the crown of motherhood; not for me the love and protection of one, whom I could "love, honor and obey until death do us part." All that is over with for me.
He is dead, he killed it. But if ever there lived a penitent sinner on God's earth—a bowed, heart-broken woman, whose one mad cry to heaven is: "Forgive me, sin! I know not what I did—then I am that sinner."

And so we met once more—my dead love and I. I marked the look of surprise in the beautiful dark eyes, glancing at me with a swift look;
a slight recognition, and he had passed on.

Will he never forgive me? Must his heart be harder to me than a millstone—forever? How can he hope for forgiveness, when he has not himself forgiven? My heart contracts with a fearful pang; for, looking into those dark eyes—so calm and gold—I know that it was only a ghost that I saw today. I bow my head, and weep bitterly, blinding tears. All my life is devoted; my own hand has slain his love—his beautiful love, which once made earth heaven to me.

I open my eyes and stare vaguely about me. In the rosy lamp-light a tall form looms up against the background of shadows. Some one is standing before me, holding in his hand the written lines, which I had just penned; before consciousness had left me. Swiftly the dark eyes glance over the words that I have written; then he turns to me and opens his arms. I creep, silently into his shelter, and life instantly becomes paradise—no longer a hopping wilderness, but a garden of Eden.

Little by little, the whole truth comes out. After our quarrel and parting, he had left immediately for a foreign land. He had not received one line—one word from me. All these years he had remained away, filling the position of foreign agent for the mercantile house with which he was connected. All this time he had been true to me, and the memory of the love of his life. Then his browed face flushed a little as he speaks of it—he had returned to his native land and found that I lived still in my old home. He saw me many times—unperceived by myself—and I was always accompanied by Little May. With strange inward shrinking he forbore to make inquiries, and fully believed me to be another man's wife.

To-day, we had met face to face.
Something in my eyes had made him believe me true; and Little May's voice, addressing me as auntie, had torn aside the veil, and he had made his way to my home and me. Soon we will be united, never to part in life.

"Darling," he said, in a low, trembling voice, "I have a confession to make. When I believed you the wife of another man, I was madly jealous.
I know now what jealousy is—all the bitter, bitter pain we never know until we experience it. And I forgive and excuse your past doubts. I know now the anguish of it all. And we will never again doubt each other while we live."

Longevity Among the Federal Employees.
The longevity statistics of government employees, gathered by the Dockery commission are interesting.
It seems that there are 1,116 clerks 60 years old and over, 741 between 60 and 65 years of age, 356 between 65 and 70, 183 between 70 and 75, 66 between 75 and 80, 33 between 80 and 85, 6 between 85 and 90, and one who is past 90. There are 2,573 clerks between 25 and 30, the numerous age class; 2,348 between 30 and 35, 2,038 between 35 and 40. Of the 17,076 clerks in the department service, 3,761 are under 40 years of age. Some of the older people have been many years in the government service: 5,938 clerks have served for ten years, 1,330 from twenty-five to forty years and thirty for forty years or more, while one has worked at his desk sixty years—Good Government.

Fish and Fowl.
At the mouth of the Colorado river and the upper end of the Gulf of California are to be found sea-bass that weigh from 250 pounds to 750 pounds each; clams as large as a common dinner-plate, millions of sardines and smelts, oysters, small but delicious, soft-shelled crabs and other shell-fish, wild geese, brants, ducks, cranes and other sea-fowl and birds.

WHAT HE MUST YELL

The Old Westerner Tells What to Do in the Moment of Danger.
A Washington Post reporter made the acquaintance the other day of a hale and vigorous old gentleman who was visiting Washington from the "crowdy West," as the old fellow himself delightedly styled his home in a little Western town. "You fellows," he remarked, "who work on mornin' papers have to be out considerably late at night, don't you?"

The Post man replied affirmatively.
 "Well, I've had to be out pretty late myself many a time. In my career, and have had all sorts of experiences in the dark," said the old veteran. "Spoke you go home often when the moon ought to have shown, but didn't, no gas light; every door barred against you, and night's able curtain asher than Tophet, haven't you?"

The reporter acquiesced.
 "Hear all sorts of strange sounds;
 sighs, creaking, cats caterwauling, dogs howling; no place to run in even if Julius Caesar's ghost should appear. Isn't that so?" went on the cheerful old gentleman.

These conditions were also admitted by the reporter.
 "Yes, I know," he continued.
 "Been there myself. 'Course you've been waylaid in the dark; sandbagged, held up by thugs, occasionally," he asserted.

The Post man drew the line at this, and denied ever having had such an experience.
 "Well, you will be, sure as shooting," went on the aged man from the West. "Men who are out late at night, regularly every night—and especially reporters, must expect it.
 I've been there myself. I'll give you a pointer, which don't forget my son. Never holier murder, as most people do when the midnight assassin steals upon you, worst thing in the world you can do. No-body'll come; people in bed will cover up their heads and crouch low, and even the constable will have business in another direction. Murder's a scary word. Just holier God! That'll fetch 'em; every window within the sound will be hoisted, and everybody will tumble out in a jiffy.
 When you're assaulted, as you're bound to be some day, yell up a conflagration—that'll bring a crowd; holier murder, and you're a goner."

Unique Performance of Richard.
 "I will never forget the time that I saw Tom Keene play Richard III.
 in Macon, Ga., said H. S. Smith at the Lyndell. "He had come from Atlanta, and had checked his baggage, which in some way had been carried on. There was no possibility of its being returned in time for the performance, and at first it was thought that his date would have to be canceled, but the actor was finally persuaded to play without the costumes and special scenery.
 Battered knives were used instead of swords and the actors were all dressed in citizen's clothes. Roars of laughter greeted them when they first appeared on the stage, but when an explanation was made by the manager of the opera house, the people took it in good humor and enjoyed it better on account of its novelty. For my part, I do not believe that I ever saw Keene act as well as he did that night, with his citizen's clothes and butcher knife. At the close of the performance he received a genuine ovation."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Kentucky Horses for the Army.
 There will be a regimental cavalry post at or near Lexington in the blue grass region of Kentucky, if the recommendations of the inspector general of the army receive favorable consideration. The English and French governments send over agents every year to buy up the peculiar strain of horses bred in that region. Lexington is claimed to be the center of the road horse interest in America, and while purely thoroughbred horses are two high priced for ordinary military purposes, there are in its neighborhood breeds of horses having strong strains of thoroughbred blood, which give them graceful action and endurance, and make them the best type of military horses in the world. Should the department decide to establish a post near Lexington, it is expected that a site would be donated.—New York Sun.

A Memory of Youth.
 "I'll give you your breakfast if you'll say that word," she announced to an ultimatum tone of voice.
 "Madame," said the tramp, "I'd admire to chop that word for you, immensely, on'y for one thing."
 "What is that?"

"When I was a little boy my mother used to make me recite fur company, and I said: 'Woodman, Spare That Tree' over an over so many times that the idea of puttin' a ax into anything in the shape of wood actually wrecks my nerves."

THE WORLD OF WOMEN.

The number of women lawyers in the United States is now more than 100.
 Charles A. Holt, aged 22 years, and Mrs. Sophia Harbour, an octogenarian, eloped from Lawrence, Mass., and were married.

The countess of Warwick has laid out a Shakespeare garden, to consist of all the plants and flowers to which Shakespeare alludes.
 She—How much do you love me?
 He—More than I tell. Why, I couldn't love you more if everyone of those freckles were a gold piece.

The empress of Russia wears everything small and neat, to harmonize with her delicate personality. Pale blue, mauve and green are her favorite colors.
 Five-sixths of all the girls who went into domestic service in London last year had never heard of a tooth brush.
 Examination also showed that but 707 school children out of 4,000 had sound teeth.

Miss Eliza York, of Henrietta, N. Y., who is a centenarian, attributes her long life to the fact that she never drank tea or coffee or never got married. Miss York, however, had a married brother who lived to be 101 years.

The first and only doctor of law in France is Mlle. Jeanne Chastani. As an order of the rector of the academy of Paris forbids women pupils having copies of the code Mlle. Chastani's instructions to the classes are wholly oral.
 The king of Assam has 200 wives, who are divided into nine classes.
 When one of these ladies dies her body is let down over the palace walls to be buried. It is against the law for a dead body to be carried through the doors.

 chitis, Hoarseness, Coughs and Throat

The Evolution
 Of medicinal agents is gradually relegating the old-time herbs, pills, draughts and vegetable extracts to the rear and bringing into general use the chemical and scientific agents.

 learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in the stomach, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical profession. Catarrh is a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surface of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing her work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer Hundred Dollars for any case that it failed to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Housekeepers Should Remember.

The Government Chemists, after having analyzed all the principal brands of baking powder in the market, in their reports placed the "Royal" at the head of the list for strength, purity and wholesomeness; and thousands of tests all over the country have further demonstrated the fact that its qualities are, in every respect, unrivaled.

Avoid all baking powders sold with a gift or prize, or at a lower price than the Royal, as they invariably contain alum, lime or sulphuric acid, and render the food unwholesome.

The greatest homage we can pay to truth is to use it.
 Speak plainly, act decidedly, out of doubt, out of controversy.
 Simplicity of character is the natural result of profound thought.
 If money could buy salvation, gold would always be at a premium.
 One of the first elements in every success is the determination to succeed.
 When we are willing to do we shall
 be surprised at how much we can do.

Impoliteness is derived from two sources—indifference to the divine and contempt for the human.
 There is scarcely any popular tenet more erroneous than that which holds that when time is slow life is dull.
 "No human" being can come into this world without increasing or diminishing the sum total of human happiness.
 One reason why there is not more good being done is because so many people want to wait until to-morrow to begin.

When we are willing to do we shall
 be surprised at how much we can do.

Over twelve years I was afflicted with a very serious female difficulty and for the last sixteen months was under treatment of three of the very best physicians that money could employ. Under their skillful treatment I gradually grew worse until they decided they could render me no permanent help. One of my friends persuaded me to try a bottle of Dullam's Great German Uterine Tonic, and after taking three bottles I can say I am better health than I have been for 22 years and am now sixty years old, but feel as young as at 30. At the school board meeting Wednesday night it was decided to employ Miss Maxwell, a well known former preceptress, in Miss McConnell's place the coming year. Miss Covert will then be promoted to the first grammar room and the vacancy to be in second grammar department is yet to be filled. All the other rooms will remain as they are for another year.

When we sift the matter down we find the government has issued no orders relative to mail agents refusing to accept letters on trains. The only order issued relative to this matter at all was that where a systematic boycott was apparent the messengers were to notify the postoffice department, but that refusing to accept mail was utterly impossible.

Our representative made a call on J. H. Seldon at Novi one day last week and took a look at his Jersey stock. Mr. Seldon has a few of as fine animals as can be found in this part of the state. He has one Jersey cow valued at $125 which gives 45 pounds of milk per day, making 24 pounds of butter. One calf a week old, valued at $40 was another of his possessions.

Among the recent new publications of the Wm. A. Pond & Co., the New York music publishing house, is an anthem hymn "Come We That Love the Lord." It is a trio for tenor, bass and alto by Prof. John B. Marsh, organist of Dr. Beecher's church. The composition is dedicated to "Rev. J. M. Belding of Northville, Mich.," a compliment of no little value.

Robert and John McCully have bought out N. Nevison's bakery, confectionery and cigar business, and have taken possession of the same. The new firm will be known as McCully Bros. Both are well and favorably known to Northville people and we bespeak for them a liberal share of the public's patronage. Robt. will attend to the store business and John will continue in his employment at the Globe factory.

Map peddlers are swindling farmers. If the person importuned doesn't subscribe promptly for the map the canvasser requests him to at least sign a certificate that the agent has visited his place, taken the statistics of his products, etc., and the certificate turns out to be an order for the map at a price far in excess of its value. Sign nothing for such people or in fact for any people whom you do not know.

Upon investigation we find that the township boards and councils of cities appoint the special census enumerators. Villages have nothing to do with the matter. The village enumeration is to be kept separate from the balance of the town however but the same enumerator may do the whole work, or an assistant may be appointed to take the villages while the chief does the township or vice versa.

Arrangements are being made for an entertainment at the opera house on Monday evening, May 7. It will consist of vocal and instrumental music and readings, the whole to conclude with a very laughable farce. The admission will be but ten cents and it is desired to have 700 people present. The proceeds will go toward the band fund. The well known Ideal Dramatic club will furnish the farce which alone is a recommendation of the quality of entertainment.

Will Thornton is very sick with inflammatory rheumatism.

Read the "business flashes." Boy or girl wanted this week on salary.

Mr. Barnhart, who has been ill so long, died at four o'clock this morning.

Prof. Bush gave a creditable horse training exhibition here this week.

If the council have anything more to do in order to perfect the fire department they should hardly wait for another fire to spur them on.

Don't forget the mother's meeting next Wednesday afternoon at the W. C. T. U. hall. Subject "Our Boys." All are cordially invited to attend.

The Northville ball club will play the Orchard Lake team Saturday on the latter's grounds. Our boys say the game played there last week was only a practice game with no catcher tho the military boys crowded greatly over their victory.

Mrs. Preston who recites at the Baptist church Tuesday night gives a recital at Whitney's music hall Detroit Monday night. She also gave a program before the National association of elocutionists at the Chicago annual convention in 1898. It will be a treat to hear her.

Pastor Parfitt believes in an active, modern, wide-awake church. He believes in utilizing all legitimate agencies in christian work. He has a variety of helpful plans for the summer. First among them is a short series of illustrated sermons on "Christ Seekers" which will be given each Sabbath evening for the next month beginning next Sabbath. Each sermon will be illustrated by three large paintings and full of the gospel.

There appeared in the various Detroit papers last week an item to the effect that the gold mine at Northville would be closed and moved to Detroit. In some instances it said the Keeley cure and some it did not. The item was doubtless the origination of Anson Warring and was likely intended to be misleading. The well known fact that the Keeley people shook the dust of Northville from their feet two years ago and that only they Yarnall has been here since that time is conclusive evidence of the aim intended. The Yarnall gold cure is here to stay and it never yet has been necessary to put it on wheels and move it about the state for bonus or other inducements.

People who are talking about electric lights, about the village owning a plant and about are lights should sit down and figure a little on expense. The village is now paying about $800 or $900 per year for lights. The village couldn't operate a plant for $1,500 a year, to say nothing of the expense of putting it in in the first place. Are lights are nice, but all nice things cost money. It would take at least thirty-five are lights to light this village and at an expense of $60 per light you have a cost of $2,100. Only where a factory has its own fuel at no cost, or runs all night for other business, can they afford to operate an electric light plant in a small village anyhow. That the present system of street lighting can be improved by going to some expense no one will question. Heavier candle power lights, can be added and the lights strung across the center of the streets. This will of course cost money, but we are at a loss to see at present where any better arrangement can be made. For the money expended, Northville is as well lighted as the average Michigan village.

H. D. Brush, veterinary dentist, who has been here for three days, is with out a doubt master of his profession and his lectures should be well attended by those interested in stock everywhere.

Patrons of the Northville City laundry can secure baths at the rate of 50 cents per month. Gold cure patients included.

NEWS IN BRIEF FROM THE TWO PENINSULAS.

Secretary of State Gardner Sends Out Some Important Census Information.—The census of 1930 is being taken in June of this year. The law seems to be very explicit, but as it is not in the hands of everyone, there is much inquiry as to its provisions. The inquiries relate mainly to the appointment of enumerators, and are all answered by the first section of the census law, which is act 175 of 1929. It provides:

1st. That the enumerators and assistants shall be appointed after the annual township meeting and on or before the first Monday in May.

2d. That there are to be appointed by township boards in townships and common councils in cities.

3d. That if not appointed before the first Monday in May, the appointment is to be made by the governing body.

4th. That enumerators are to be appointed for each assessment district.

It is clear from the above that appointments made before the annual township meeting are illegal.

5th. Appointments by any other than township boards in townships and common councils in cities are illegal after the first Monday in May.

6th. That the law does not require that enumerators and assistants be appointed before the first Monday in May, but that they must be appointed before the date of the assessment.

7th. That the law does not require that enumerators and assistants be appointed for each assessment district, but that they must be appointed for each township or city.

RIOT AT DETROIT.

TWO MEN KILLED AND A LARGE NUMBER INJURED.

Striking Polish Laborers and a Sheriff's Posse Have a Short but Bloody Conflict—Sheriff Collins Very Seriously Injured—Other State News.

A battle between 500 strikers and a posse of six officers under Sheriff Charles P. Collins occurred at the eastern water works extension, just beyond Commors Creek on the Grosse Pointe road, about three miles east of Detroit, Mich. One of the strikers was shot dead, another was so badly wounded that he died a few hours after, and Sheriff Collins was so badly injured that his recovery is uncertain. It is impossible to tell exactly how many others were wounded, but the list is probably not less than 15.

The dead are: John Pielat, 56 Albert place. Unknown Polish laborer.

The injured so far as known are: Sheriff Charles P. Collins, had scalp wound in back of head; severe wound in leg just above ankle caused by a blow from a pickax; two cuts in back, one on left shoulder and many small bruises and cuts about the body. Anthony Gubchovich, laborer, aged 40; gunshot wound in right thigh. Lawrence Kaskas, aged 48, shot in left thigh. William H. Burch, policeman, aged 34, ribs fractured and received two blows on head from shovel. Joe Kobaski, aged 38, Polish laborer, shot between the ninth and tenth ribs on the right side; ball entered liver; will die. Tony Coward, bullet wound just above the right knee. John Koppeschmidt, aged 41, one bullet wound in left part of left arm; ball came out at neck, grazing jugular vein; another bullet wound in fleshy part of left thigh; both bullets came out; will probably die. George Cathey, aged 35, foreman in employ of water board; three severe scalp wounds in back part of head; two contused wounds in back and one in left shoulder. Andrew Esch, aged about 40; one gunshot wound in right side of neck and one in right jaw; a third bullet penetrated the left breast about two inches below the armpit, ball lodged in downward course and entered the liver; will die. Joseph Kubick, two bullet wounds in thigh. Unknown Poles, abdomen grazed by bullet. Anton Potorsky, shot in left leg, above the knee, by someone unknown in front of jail. William Frise, policeman, hurt about the arm and head. John Russell Fisher, Evening News reporter, bruised on back and shoulder. Michael Kanofski, seriously wounded. Andrew Toersig, not seriously hurt. Fred Alfred, Michael Barke, missing; may be unknown dead man.

The Cause—The Fight.—The events which lead up to the trouble are these: When the Detroit Driving club built their new track and club houses at Grosse Pointe, about three miles east of the city limits of Detroit, the water board of Detroit agreed to extend a water main from the water works to the club grounds. As soon as weather permitted about 300 Polish laborers, who had been living on the city's charity, all winter, were hired to do the work. The water board decided to do the work by the piece in six-hour shifts, to give all a chance—17 cents per cubic yard of clay and 15 cents for sand. The men reported for work but several objected because piece-work was a new thing, and soon the rest were talked into striking. The first day those who would work were intimidated by the strikers. Before 6 o'clock on the morning of the second day over 400 Poles with picks and shovels had gathered at the scene and by 7 o'clock fully 200 more had congregated. The scenes of the first day were repeated, and Sheriff Collins was called upon for assistance and protection for those willing to work.

The foreman tried to get them to try the new scale. Deputy Sterskal spoke in Polish to the crowd, but they would only listen to the incendiary harangues of their own leaders. Nothing had been done except a few slight skirmishes until noon, when Engineer Williams received orders from the water board to discontinue work for the time being in hopes that in a few days the work could be resumed without trouble. Foreman Cathey at once began to take up the pump and hose used in the work when one of the Poles shouted something and a rush was made for him with upraised shovels and picks. Cathey pulled his revolver to defend himself. Sheriff Collins and two deputies, besides four city policemen sworn in as deputies, went to Cathey's assistance. The Poles rushed on with angry yells and the little band of officers opened fire. Cathey was beaten down and his head pounded into the mud. Sheriff Collins fell while trying to escape after emptying his revolver. Each officer fired every shot he had and then retreated, using his club on the blood-thirsty rioters. The fight lasted 10 minutes.

Within 40 hours three ringleaders of the rioters were locked up together with 20 others identified as being foremost in the battle. No blame is attached to the officers for shooting, as they had to do so to protect their own lives.

The following day a gang of Poles went out Woodward avenue and made a gang of 40 pavers stop work under threat of rough treatment. There was no fighting.

A few days later—after the first excitement of the bloody riot had blown over somewhat—the water board put 20 men to work by the piece and six hours a day. The men earned from $1.02 to $1.03 the first day. The presence of over 100 deputies armed with Winchester and revolvers had the effect of preventing any disturbance.

A Royal Wedding.—Her royal highness, Princess Victoria Melita of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, granddaughter of Queen Victoria, was married in the chapel of the ducal palace at Coburg to Grand Duke Ernest Louis, Charles Albert William of Hesse, grandson of Queen Victoria. The weather was splendid, and the city was packed with royal and imperial guests, foreign sisters and German sight-seers. Among the royal guests were Queen Victoria, Emperor William, Empress Frederick, Prince of Wales, Duke of Edinburgh, Duchess of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha and the czar.

THE TRAMPING ARMY.

The Western Commonwealthers Splendidly Treated—Kelly Plan Outlined.

Gen. Kelly, who is commanding an army of about 2,000 unemployed on the way to Washington—something after Coxy's style—is meeting with great success. After leaving California and passing through Ogden, Utah, his army were transported free to Council Bluffs, Ia., and from there a tramp was commenced to Chicago. At every town and city nearly every inhabitant turned out to welcome the army. Provisions, clothing and even horses and wagons were given by the farmers and village residents in sympathy with Kelly's idea. In speaking of his plan Kelly said: "Petitions from laboring people to Congress have been numerous and ineffective in the past, but this living petition will be hard to ignore. That is the reason I am leading these men to the capital. Once there our plans will be successfully carried out. Two congressmen are already pledged to present a memorial in our behalf. That memorial is now being drawn up by a well-known Washington firm of constitutional lawyers and will be ready for us when we reach the journey's end. Our demands as set forth in the memorial will be about as follows:

"We will ask that the commission already in existence to look after the reclamation of arid lands in the west be instructed to proceed with the work. We will ask that the men in our army and the great army of the unemployed which we represent be put to work on this reclamation. My idea is that by the time those arid wastes have been wrested from the sage brush and made fertile and begun to bloom the men who have worked there will have saved enough money to carry them through their first year of farming. They can settle on the lands they have reclaimed and within a short period will have developed from homeless wanderers into sturdy farmers and property owners. That in substance is our demand. We will not attempt to dictate what wages will be paid. What we want is work. If we can only get to Washington, if we can let the lawmakers see that we are bread winners, honest and sincere, we will be successful in our mission. For our demands are not unreasonable. Have no connection with Coxy. We will combine with his army if we can reach Washington in time, but if not we will go alone."

J. H. Randall has been chosen general of the Chicago division of the commonwealth army. Gen. Randall stated that there were 700 recruits enlisted already, and that the number would be raised to 1,000. A Grand Master Workman, T. B. Sovereign of the Knights of Labor, reached Chicago from Montreal and immediately proceeded to the commonwealth headquarters. He has entered heart and soul in the movement, but has yet shown no indication of participating in the march personally.

130,000 MINERS OUT.

GREAT COAL MINERS' STRIKE TAKES EFFECT.

The Work in the Bituminous Coal Region at a Stand Still, and Strike Leaders Confident of a Victory—Several States Affected.

The great strike of bituminous coal miners, ordered by the recent national convention of the United Mine Workers at Columbus, O., has gone into effect, and reports from the various fields affected show that from 125,000 to 130,000 miners have laid down their picks and thereby asked for better wages. President John McMurtrie, of Columbus, O., the head of the United Mine Workers of America, says: "My hopes of success are most sanguine. The miners have laid down no plans and have no particular course to follow, but expect to be ready to meet any fair proposition for settlement or emergency of whatever character may arise. We will be ready to meet the operators to confer with reference to an adjustment of the differences at any time. I believe that 130,000 miners are out, and that by May 1 that number will be increased to 150,000. In reference to the 135,000 anthracite miners, I cannot say whether they will strike or not. They may, however, as that question is being agitated in the anthracite fields."

There seems to be no doubt but the suspension in Ohio and western Pennsylvania is about complete. The organizers are most active in West Virginia and Illinois. In Illinois, he states, there are 24,000 out of 35,000 miners idle; in Indiana, 5,000 out of about 8,000; and in West Virginia, about 2,000 out of 9,000.

The advices from states west of the Mississippi are not so encouraging. During the winter but little work has been done in the coal mines of Iowa, Kansas and Colorado, and now the workers, being deeply in debt and with a good chance to starve if they refuse work, are not anxious to quit work. However, as these localities are regarded as "unlucky" and not competitors of the operators of the organization are not working, but will look to those districts when the more important are thoroughly under control.

Three Men Killed.—A Michigan Central Freight Train Wrecked at Vassar.

An extra freight train on the Michigan Central railroad was partially derailed at Vassar and three men were killed. The train was nearing the P. & M. crossing and was gradually slowing down when the wrecking occurred. Very near the center of the train was a flat car loaded with large boxes of fruit trees. Among these boxes were three men who were evidently stealing a ride. This car seems to be the one which first left the track and six others following. For a moment the train was strewn with broken timbers, iron trucks and merchandise.

Harry Billough and Fred Holmes were killed, probably instantly. Their bodies were taken from under the cars. In the pockets of each of the dead men were membership cards from the metal polishers' buffers and platters' union of North America. Charles Cook, the third man, said they were from Detroit going to Bay City to work. Cook died a few hours later.

State Fair, Detroit, Sept. 10 to 21.

The Detroit exposition grounds will resume the appearance of their gala days from Sept. 10 to 21 while the state fair is on, and the work, which has been begun in earnest, will be pushed with a view of making it the most successful fair ever held on the grounds. The special committee of the State Agricultural society met at Detroit and completed all the preliminary details. This committee consists of President William Hall, of Hamburg; Vice-President G. W. Bennett, of Lansing; Treasurer G. W. Young, of Paw Paw; Secretary L. H. Butterfield, of Lansing; H. H. Hines, of Stanton, a member of the business committee; H. M. Larned, of Lansing, superintendent of the department; Eugene Field, of Bay City, superintendent of the seed department. Some of the members visited the exposition grounds and found everything satisfactory. Work was begun on the preparation of the catalogue, the list of exhibitors of the racing. The list will be ready for distribution by May 15.

Lynched Three.—At Tuscomb, Ala., Tom Mink, John Willis and Tony Johnson, all Negroes, were lynched. About a week before these men were arrested for burning the barns of Claude King. A masked mob of 200 men went to the jail and called the jailer out on the pretext that they had a prisoner. When he came out the mob took him in hand and carried him away. They then entered the place, and took the three incendiaries out and led them to the Tennessee river bridge. Ropes were placed about each of the Negroes' necks and with the end tied to the bridge timbers they were compelled to jump off. The fall broke their necks, and the bodies, after being filled with bullets, were left hanging until morning.

Outsowing is in various stages of progression in this region. Some are plowing, some sowing, some have already sown, and a few pieces are coming up. The latter were sown during the warm weather in March.

As a proof of the house-cleaning season there is a man in the village of Novi who says he never gets mad while taking down or putting up a stove pipe. This statement is corroborated by his wife and they are both perfectly reliable. No museum proprietor need apply.

F. E. Quigley is an authorized representative of the Record at Novi and vicinity and will receive subscriptions or orders for job printing. He is supplied with sample books and prices and any orders entrusted to his care will receive careful attention.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Rider have both been quite seriously ill for several days past. Their friends have passed the critical stages in their cases and have passed and that they will soon be convalescent.

They now speak of him as Czar Crisp, successor to Czar Reed. Was the same rule right in the fifty-first congress and wrong in the fifty-third or was it right in both cases or wrong in both? "Who shall decide when doctors disagree?" In practical results it was, is and forever will be right. It seems however like banqueting on crow to denounce it so vigorously in 1836 and adopt it so unapologetically in 1894.

Communication.

Farmington, April 24, 1894.
Editor Record: Would you kindly insert this little notice in the Northville Record for me. I am one of the parties concerned in the accident and it was not at all as it had been reported.

The parties concerned in the accident on Main street last Sunday evening wish to notify the public that it was not caused by reckless driving but by the sudden appearance of the train while coming into Northville which frightened and badly excited the horses. And also the report that the young man had been indulging in too much adulterated water is utterly false.

[The Record was informed that the accident was due to reckless driving and it was said the boys had been indulging just enough to feel good. Others have since informed us the boys were sober as deacons and that the horse came frightened and unmanageable. We have no desire to do anyone any injustice.]—Ed.

PRESENTED WITH A FLAG.

The W. R. C. of Plymouth Present One to Their G. A. R. Post.

One of the most pleasant events which has occurred in G. A. R. or W. R. C. circles took place at Plymouth last week Friday night, when the relief corps of that place presented Eddy post of that village with a beautiful regulation flag.

As previously announced in these columns, thirty-five members of the Northville post and relief corps responded to the courteous invitation to be present on the occasion which to the old soldiers is so dear. The exercises were held at the post's beautiful headquarters in Safford's hall. There was plenty of music, both vocal and instrumental, and a number of well rendered recitations by the young ladies. The last number on the program was the presentation of the flag by Miss Nettie Hart, president of the W. R. C. In the presentation Miss Hart did much credit to herself and the ladies she represented. Commander Peterhaus, for the post, made a touching and eloquent response. In flowing words he spoke of the old flag. He promised, in behalf of the comrades, to keep it sacred and when the last member of Eddy post should answer to the final roll call he should be buried with the flag entwined about him. Rev. Mr. Clark was called out and made some very beautiful and feeling remarks. Mrs. Banks, president of Allen M. Harmon relief corps, spoke of the relief corps work.

A beautiful repast was served by the ladies in their beautiful dining rooms, but time and space compels us to close by saying that all returned glad that they went.

Following is Miss Hart's presentation words in full:

Comrades, Sisters and Friends: With hearts warm in remembrance of the past, we bid you welcome. In looking back our hearts grow sad for those not with us tonight—those now sleeping in honored and many unknown graves. Comrades, you all remember the Eddy brothers, whose memory you still cherish after all these years. You have bestowed upon them the greatest tribute of respect in naming your post in remembrance of them and as the years go on and the ranks diminish may you so twine the flowers of love and charity over their monument that it shall truly be an honor to the name it bears. Comrades, our corps has entrusted to me a duty, a pleasant one, yet I feel wholly incapable of doing justice to it. But I should be unfaithful to the trust, unfaithful to the prompting of grateful hearts if I did not show our appreciation of the service you have rendered in the past and the honor which we hold the Grand Army of the Republic. We have not so soon forgotten the days that are passed and our hearts go out to you as a few of the great army who were willing to give their lives to save a nation; to save our homes. Do we realize the debt we owe? The sacrifice you made when in the strength of early manhood, when life looked beautiful and souls were striving for the top round in the ladder of fame or fortune to yield all this—safety, home and loved ones—to answer a country's call? Not knowing if you could return, not even certain of success. But you went. When you returned crowned with honors, did that quite repay you for your loss and health; the severed homes and lost loved ones? God knows best and his ways are for the good of all. Pain and suffering is the surest tie to bind, and as you have all stood together facing death, enduring hardships, bearing each other's burdens, may all this bind your hearts so closely in the ties of human love and friendship that you will have more charity for all mankind. I ask myself, do we, does the nation, appreciate the blood that has been shed, both upon calvary and the battle field? No! a hundred times no! As we have given aid and encouragement in the past we feel that our efforts of the present are fully recognized by you and we are glad and proud to stand today auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic. As it has been our privilege and sacred duty to cheer and sustain; to encourage men on to deeds of bravery and daring so we stand today stronger and mightier, with ready united hands to respond to the call of our fast fading ranks of noble heroes, and as the sun is slowly going down in the west upon this generation, we thank our great king for a nation united—we trust forever.

Comrades, in remembrance of by gone days, the march, the hard fought fields, where comrades fell and lines melted away like snow flakes, in recognition of your unswerving zeal and loyalty to the noble principles of your order, on behalf of the Woman's Relief Corps I present to you this token of our grand, happy and reunited country. Accept this flag, carry it in your peaceful marches and as the years glide by and your ranks grow thinner and the roll call shorter may this flag and this occasion be sacredly cherished in remembrance of grateful hearts and faithful friends as you rejoice again in the glorious spirit of Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty.
