

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD.

Vol. XXV, No. 49.

NORTHVILLE, MICH., FRIDAY, JULY 20, 1894.

$1.00 per year, in advance.

Around the Country.

The recent strike made a potato famine at Wayne.

The census enumerators found 500 hogs in the corporate limits of the city of Ann Arbor.

The Wayne Tidings asserts that it has "come to stay" and any rumors to the contrary are false.

An Ann Arbor man applied to the health board to compel his wife to get on a proper house and clean out their otherwise swine like habitation.

A terrible calamity befell Chicago on account of the strike. Nearly all the breweries in the city were compelled to shut down last week for lack of coal.

Wyandotte druggists have all agreed to close upon Sunday except for a few certain prescribed hours during the heat of the day when snake bites are most liable to occur.

Robert Dunlap, an old suspected citizen of South Lyon, committed suicide by hanging Tuesday. He was over seventy years old. No reason is ascribed for the act.

The South Lyon furniture company cases have at last been settled up. The preferred creditors get about one-half of their claims. The litigation expenses will foot up about $1,600.

A Bay City dog has contracted a great liking for beer and frequently goes home as drunk as his master—the woman of the house being sometimes unable to tell the one from the other.

Milford's new brass band is a go. Prof. Johnson of Clyde will do the tutoring act and while the citizens take to the summer resorts and look woods for a few months outing the fun will continue.

The best ball game of the season for Plymouth people, so they say, was played in that village Wednesday between the Wayne and Plymouth Juveniles. The latter won by a score of 12 to 15.

Young men pitch in and work, and instead of waiting for something to turn up, go at it and turn it up.—Chelsea Herald.

That's right. If you can't do anything better, step on the edge of a barrel hoop.

When Newaygo has a fire the fire company spend a day or two looking up the hose, and when the bucket brigade gets the fire extinguished, the hose is dragged up along near where the conflagration was and there it is left till the next alarm is sounded.

That which will raise some men to fame will drop others to a "mother-earth's level." For instance Washington's name was made great by a cherry tree fall, while "Fay" Thompson of Fenton nearly broke his neck in that village last week by a cherry tree fall.

The Plymouth vs. Wayne ball game at Wayne last week Friday resulted in a victory for Plymouth. Wayne had the game won until the Plymouth club put German of the Northville club in the box and then the tide turned. Pierce also of the Northville club played first for Plymouth.

W. O. Allen of Plymouth is out as candidate for register of deeds. Well, why not? There isn't a better or more competent man for the office in the county. To us, Allen is a home man and we believe the people generally of Plymouth township, and a number of others, would like to see him nominated.

The Brewster Mfg. Co., of Holly, of which Jas. Sloan is the manager, have so far this season disposed of ten car loads of bicycles instead of three as we stated two weeks ago. They were shipped to all parts of the United States. The Brewster wheel is a first class one of the pneumatic order and sells, we believe, for $69.

A Fowlerville lady who had heard mysterious rattling noises in the cellar for some time resolved herself into a committee of one for investigation. In their search through the underground passage past potato bins, milk pans and canned cherries, the committee found a yard of rattlesnakes, with a quartet of rattles. The committee seized a hoe, jumped upon a chair and with one whack slew the monster.

Some person or persons, to the court otherwise unknown, left a huge cabbage head on the Dundee Ledger editor's desk last week and Bro. Munger don't know whether to take it as a compliment or otherwise. Nor dare he commit it to the culinary department of his brown stone front to be transposed into a "biled" dinner, lest there be bacterium germs lurking within the leaves, placed there by some mysterious foe.

The Birmingham ball club had engaged German to pitch for them in their Pontiac game of last week Wednesday, but when they read the crowing in the Pontiac papers, telling how they pounded the young pitcher July 14th, they concluded German was not good enough for the ham club. As soon as they cancelled the engagement the Pontiac club secured him too quick and the result of the score 8 to 5 in Pontiac's favor showed their wise, and Birmingham's poor, judgment. There is not a better amateur pitcher, age considered, than German in the state.

In speaking of the cause of the mosquito's prodding the Dundee Ledger says: "It is not the cause that we want, it is the cure. Bro. Neal is a hustler, but if he will bestir himself and publish an absolute remedy to keep them from growing, he will be a great discoverer. How he found out that the biting operation is not done for pure cussedness is a great mystery to us."

We shall have to refer it to our "Answer to Correspondents" department. The propagation is as mysterious to us as that of eels.

Following from last week's Ann Arbor Argus refers to Harris of Mead's Mills.

"The emancipation proclamation has gone forth in Ypsilanti, and Harris, celebrated in the annals of smallpox, marched forth from his tent Monday as free as the zephyrs that pile up the sands of Sahara. It is agreed that the unwise and impolitic course of this negro, in taking it into his head to come down with smallpox, has cost the city about $500. A singular fact about this case is that there are those who assert that Harris did not have smallpox at all; that he was suffering from some other malady that might have been a cousin of smallpox, but not a nearer relative. Not much credit is given this report, however. The quarantine ranch has been destroyed by fire."

The Wyandotte Herald is authority on water and says this: "The ice water drinker is just as much of a 'fiend' as the morphine eater. In many cases the habit of the former is just as strong as the latter, and just as hard to break. It has been frequently demonstrated that the drinking of ice water was an acquired habit, and not one that comes naturally. Give an infant ice water and you will notice by its action that the drink is very distasteful. It usually has the same effect upon an Indian or upon any person not accustomed to it. Besides, it is very unhealthy, and any person who can avoid drinking ice water should do so."

Wm. Needham, of Highland Station, not only lost his pickle factory Wednesday morning, but he is poorer by $317 in cold cash. This sum was sequestered in a waste paper basket, as Mr. Needham's faith in banking institutions was somewhat shattered by his experience as a depositor in our late lamented state bank. The theory of incendiarism is supported by the fact that a neighbor heard a big drive away rapidly but a few moments before the fire broke out and it is not unreasonable to suppose that the money was stolen before the building was fired. Mr. and Mrs. Needham began on a small scale and had been successful in building up a prosperous business. The building and contents were insured for $1,800 in the Commercial Union of London.—Milford Times.

Why Wayne County Should Lend Its Support

Wayne county, of this district should go solid for General Spalding for Congressional nomination. Having no candidate of its own it cannot afford to lose its identity by scattering its vote. Should this part of the district ever have a candidate, which is likely, they will need the co-operative aid of Monroe. Monroe is not likely to forget this either. The interests of this part of Wayne county is more likely to be better cared for by General Spalding than any other candidate now in the field. This portion of Wayne county has never had a candidate. Monroe county hasn't had one for years and years. The other counties should give way to this manner of monopolization. Lehigh county this time has two candidates: Smith of Adrian, Fellows of Hudson; Washenaw has two: Allen of Ypsilanti, Jacobs of Ann Arbor; Jackson has a pair in Brooks and O'Donnell.

The fight between Brooks and O'Donnell is bitter and it will be carried inside the doors of the convention. O'Donnell and his paper, the Jackson Citizen, opposed twice in succession the nomination of Brooks for mayor of Jackson, but notwithstanding this he was elected both times. Now Brooks is out for the nomination in Jackson county in opposition to O'Donnell and the consequence is, neither can hope for anything except a few complimentary votes from their own county in the convention. The compromise will unquestionably be the Monroe boy, who has no opposition whatever in his own or Wayne county, and is particularly friendly towards all the other candidates, as well as people generally throughout the district.

As we said before the Wayne county part of the district cannot afford to permit its vote to be scattered and thereby lose both its identity and influence in the convention, nor do we believe it will do so.

Some Very Kind Words.

Northville is putting on metropolitan airs. Its latest is an official city directory published by F. S. Neal. Free Press.

We are indebted to Editor F. S. Neal for a copy of Northville's new directory, a neat little volume of 56 pages. Wyandotte Herald.

We are indebted to Editor Neal of the Record for a copy of the Northville Directory, which he has just published. Farmington Enterprise.

We are in receipt of a copy of the official directory of Northville, recently published by F. S. Neal. It is a small book, but nicely printed and contains 56 pages. Fowlerville Observer.

Northville is fast putting on city airs. The latest is a city directory issued by F. S. Neal. The council are having signs put up on every street corner, and the villagers and business places are tacking up their numbers. Evening News.

Northville is just more than putting on city airs. Householders are tacking up numbers on their houses, the village fathers have ordered street signs on every corner, and to cap the climax, F. S. Neal has issued a city directory. Milford Times.

F. S. Neal, editor of the Northville Record, reads as official directory of Northville. It is vest pocket size, and is a handy thing to have in the house. When we drop in on Northville, the directory will be our guiding star. Fenton Independent.

Northville: This village rejoices in having a complete official directory. Editor F. S. Neal is the compiler. The village authorities liked the idea so well that they at once had street signs put up. The people fell in with the scheme too, and now the residences are being numbered. Tribune.

We are in receipt of the Northville Official Directory, published by F. S. Neal, of the Record. It is a neat little book of 56 pages and is full of Smiths, Jones, Browns, etc. There is also a nice display of local advertising, and, all in all, it shows just what kind of a hustler the Record man is. Dundee Ledger.

F. S. Neal, the hustling and wide awake editor of the Northville Record has issued a "City Directory" of Northville. It is a vast pocket "implement," and contains much valuable information regarding that live town. All a fellow's got to do now to find his best girl is to consult the directory for street numbers, then read the signs on the street corners. Verily, verily, that Neal is a great boy. Holly Advertiser.

When Editor F. S. Neal, of the Northville Record, compiled and published a directory of the town for free distribution, he struck a popular chord that has been vibrating ever since and has led to most gratifying results. He went at it and numbered all residences and business places, and the village trustees liked the idea so well, that they not only approved of it but at once contracted for street signs to be put up on the corners of each street throughout the village. The people also fell right in with the idea, and numbers on the houses about the village are being rapidly placed upon them. Detroit Journal.

Notice. Any persons wanting fresh fish can get them at my place any evening except Saturday and Sunday.

The first district meeting of the LTL will be held in Detroit next Thursday. Several from here will attend and the railroad will offer reduced rates.

There should be a liberal patronage at the ball game Saturday afternoon. These games all cost money and if people want to see them here occasionally they must be patronized.

Judge P. T. VanZile of Detroit appeared for G. S. VanZile in Justice Webster's court here Monday. The defendant was John Litman. The suit is to recover on a lumber bill.

The prohibitionists elected their delegates Tuesday evening to the county convention which meets in Detroit next Thursday. The delegates are E. Whitaker, A. D. Kendrick.

Ira Wakefield, son of Nelson Wakefield of 38 Randolph street, died Saturday of typhoid fever. The funeral and burial occurred the same day. The deceased was born in Redford in 1874.

Too much wetting down of lawns will promote the growth of moss and result in dire disaster to their beauty. Out-people who turn their hose loose into a constant fountain should look out for this.

Another leak broke out in the water works crocks leading from the springs to the reservoir this week. In time these crocks will have to all be replaced by iron pipes and probably the sooner the better.

It may pay to make a note of this: To drive away squash bugs and other small, delicate insect pests, wet a small piece of cloth with kerosene or use the cloth used to wipe the lamps by laying about the infected plants.

The third and fourth districts of the Ladies Guild will hold the home mission meeting in the parlor of the church at 2:30 this afternoon. They will also serve ice cream on the lawn Saturday evening.

Some sensible path master on the Pinkerton road, two miles north-east of here has graveled the road instead of plowing it all to pieces. We don't know who the path master is, but he has the faculty of making a good road all right.

The first campaign gun will be fired here by the prohibitionists next Thursday and Friday evenings. Hon. J. M. Dunn and Prof. Hucksins, singer and speaker of national fame, will talk and sing in the rink at eight o'clock. Admission free.

Mr. Belding is arranging a series of lectures and readings on Antony and Cleopatra to be given to his class. If anyone wishes to take up this study they may hand their name to Mr. Belding and learn what will be necessary for the study.

M. L. Crauson, father of S. E. Crauson of this place, died at Redford, Mich. Tuesday, aged seventy-one years. Funeral was held Thursday at the house. The family of seven children were all present at his bedside except one who lives in Colorado.

What promises to be one of the hottest contested ball games of the season will be played here Saturday between the Detroit Opera House nine and the Northville club. The Detroit club is just returning from a tour through the state with many base ball scalps hanging to their belts.

Chas. Larkins and H. C. Calkins had a funny-for-other-people experience at the huckleberry farms one day this week. Their horse left them during the day and at night they were compelled to do their own horse act, draying their berries all the way to Northville by pushing the cart before them.

A high priced machine arrived at the Globe factory a few days ago. It is a large re-sawing band saw used to saw the large pear backs so that the veneer lining may be put in. The saw blades are five inches wide and the machine is driven by a six ft. drive wheel. Its weight is nearly two tons and the cost was about $750.

In renewing his subscription to the Record, Will H. Green, a well known Hillsdale newspaper man, says: "You are getting out a paper that Northville should feel proud of. I say this from the standpoint of one who ought to know a good newspaper when he sees it. Our Saturday's would be lovely if the Record failed to arrive."

The Hillsdale village marshal brought in a bill to the council for watching the Masonic hall during the visit of the Northville lodge there two weeks ago. So much thievery had been committed that the mission of the law thought it good policy to keep an eye on all strangers. We hardly believe the Northville crowd carried off any silver ware but that they did take a lot of stuff from off the dining room table we have proof.

Next Sunday services at the Presbyterian Church as usual. The morning service will be unique in every particular. Mr. Belding will speak on the Endeavor movement, and an interesting report will be given by those who were in attendance upon that wonderful convocation. In the evening Mr. Belding will make a formal address to the Northville Cornet Band. The committee will decorate the church for the morning service.

Rev. P. Ross Parrish and family left on Monday for Bay View for a little outing. Mr. Parrish is in charge of a department of work there. Morning services, Sunday school and the League and class meeting will be maintained here in his absence, there being no evening services. The schedule is as follows: July 22, Rev. C. T. Allen, D. D., communion service; July 29, Rev. N. N. Clark, of Plymouth; Aug. 5th W. H. Venn of Detroit. The prayer meeting will be held every Thursday evening as usual.

The RECORD wishes it distinctly understood that in urging the nomination of General Spalding of Monroe for congress from this district that it is in no wise departs from its independent principles or in the least enters into a political campaign. We could just as conscientiously and enthusiastically urge the democratic party to nominate a good man. After the nominations are over we shall keep perfectly quiet and "may the best man win." The publisher in this case however entertains a warm personal friendship for General Spalding, having known him for twelve years past, a number of which were spent in his city. He is well worthy of the nomination, is entitled to it by rights and with hundreds of others we should like to see him get it.

Some of our Novi correspondents are out huckleberrying, which amounts for the scarcity of news from that section in this issue. Next week they will tell us how many berries they picked and all about the big snakes they saw.

Owing to the break in the water works pipes leading from the springs to the reservoir, the water board yesterday ordered lawn sprinkling stopped until repairs were completed. The board will endeavor to keep enough water in the reservoir by this means to afford proper fire protection. This was a wise move and it was cheerfully complied with by takers.

Boat Ahoy! Man overboard! were the shouts that startled the stillness, which had not been unbroken for hours except by the buzz of the festive mosquito, at the Walled Lake summer resort a few days ago. In an instant all was confusion. One of the fastest sailing yachts on the lake, "White Wings," had capsized in a terrific gale and all on board (our Dean Griswold was the all) were seen struggling in the depths. Dean is a swimmer from way back and floated around like a cork till the arrival of the life-saving crew when he was safely towed ashore. The water was only five feet deep where the tip over occurred, but Dean did not know but it was fifty and besides it was just as wet. Dean wasn't really prepared for a bath and when he reached shore it was a stand off between a sun-dry on the beach or borrowing a suitable traveling outfit from the cottagers. The cottagers were kind: Barton Wheeler donated a shirt; Dr. Swift a pair of pants; Mr. Horton a pair of shoes, and thus attired Dean reached his home here in safety.

WRECK FIENDS

DELIBERATELY DERAILED. A PASSENGER TRAIN.

A Chicago & Grand Trunk Express Thrown From the Rails at Battle Creek—Fireman Killed and Fourteen People Injured—Michigan News.

Atlantic express No. 6, going east on the Chicago & Grand Trunk railroad, was derailed at Battle Creek at 2:30 a. m., was derailed by a deliberately planned wreck at the top of a heavy grade one and one-half miles west of that city. Thomas W. Crowe, fireman, of Valparaiso, Ind., was killed and fourteen passengers and trainmen were injured. The express was 30 minutes late, but had just slowed up at the head of the grade. The train consisted of express and baggage car, two coaches and four Pullmans. The engine and tender, express and baggage car and two coaches were badly wrecked. The four Pullmans remained on the track. It is a miracle that all of the passengers escaped with only bruises and contusions, and that not a bone was broken. The fireman remained on his engine until it was overturned, when he was thrown out and struck on his head, breaking his neck.

The wreck was deliberately planned. The bolts that fastened the fish plates had been removed and the plates taken off and then the rails spread. The second sleeper stopped over the place where the rail had been tampered with. The officials claim that this is the third attempt at the same kind of work within one week.

The wreck caused much excitement in Battle Creek, where there has been a constant strain for some time past on account of the prevailing strike. This sequel of the troubles and the plain fact that it was deliberate, has added greatly to the excitement and there is universal denunciation of the miscreants who would do such a deed. It is claimed that the company have positive evidence that certain men were heard of the streets to say that something would happen on the Grand Trunk. Affidavits have been taken of those who overheard the remarks and the men will be arrested. W. J. Spicer, general manager of the Chicago & Grand Trunk, offered a reward of $500 for the apprehension of the men who caused the wreck. Sheriff Walkinslaw, of Calhoun county, also offered a reward of $300.

IRONWOOD MINES RESUME

Under Military Protection and Plenty of Men are Willing to go to Work.

The Metropolitan mines at Ironwood resumed operations under military protection, although the strike is not yet settled. They have a force of about 250 men who returned to work and two steam shovels. The loading cars from the stock piles, the Aurora mine also started work with 50 men. The expected settlement between mines and miners did not materialize. At the last moment the men demanded an eight-hour shift and three shifts a day, but this the mines would not concede and the union decided to remain out. Col. Lyon, upon request of the mining companies, placed squads of sentinels along the properties with instructions not to let any strangers upon mining locations. The balance of the troops were held at the armory in readiness to respond at a moment's notice. There has been no trouble whatever and not a sign of disturbance. The places of striking switchmen and trainmen have been filled by outsiders and ore trains have been running as usual. It is the general opinion that the strike is a failure, and but for the pernicious leaders and warring delegates, the men would have been back to work again.

Robbers Shot the Postmaster. Just after Postmaster Weather was off Somerset, Jackson county, had closed for the night three men drove up to his store. Postmaster Weather was sleeping in the postoffice and the men made a noise to attract his attention, telling him they wanted to "buy something." When he opened the door two of them rushed in and overpowered him, but before he had loaded a revolver from the hands of one of his assailants. Postmaster Weather was shot in the left leg and another bullet grazed him. He is not dangerously injured. No plunder was secured and there is no clue to the perpetrators.

Incendiaries Set Fire to William Crawford's Unoccupied House at Chippewa Lake. The building and the barn were destroyed along with the dwelling house of Station Agent Chadwick and Messrs. Wampan and Dempsey. No insurance. Business houses were saved only by hard work. Loss about $6,000. The following day a sensation was sprung by the arrest of William Crawford, who is wealthy, for applying the torch to his own house, although for what reason is a mystery as the building was uninsured.

Their Horse Jumped From the Bridge. William Hoffer and Fred Burkman, of Benton Harbor, were out driving when their horse became frightened at an approaching electric car and dashed into the river over the abutment while the bridge was drawn to a boat to pass. The boys saw their probable fate and jumped only to receive several bruises and scalp wounds. The horse was drowned. Burkman has been delirious and fears are entertained for his recovery.

Saginaw societies of Christian Endeavor will erect a pavilion for contagious diseases. While Mrs. J. G. Rasey, of Holton, was out driving she raised her umbrella. It frightened the horse and it ran away, throwing the lady out of the buggy. She landed on her head and died a few minutes later. Mrs. Rasey was 68 years old and leaves a large family.

Mrs. J. F. Palmer, of Hudson, had a narrow escape from cremation. While ironing her dress came in contact with the gasoline stove and in a second she was enveloped in flames. Prompt action on the part of her daughter saved her from an awful fate; as it was her side, arm and hip were badly burned.

ARBITRATION.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND SAYS IT MUST BE.

Will Proceed Under the O'Neill Law of 1883—Such is the Announcement in Washington Dispatches—Other Features of the Strike Situation.

Washington: It has been officially announced from the White House that the President will appoint a commission by the authority given him by the arbitration act of 1883 to investigate the labor troubles at Chicago and elsewhere and report to the President and congress. This determination on the part of the President was arrived at after an interview with Secretary-Treasurer Hayes, of the Knights of Labor, Mr. McGuire and C. N. French, of the executive committee, and Mr. Schoenfelder, who were introduced to the President by Senator Kyle. After discussing the various features of the situation for more than an hour, the President promised if the leaders would return to Chicago and use their influence toward restoring peace and order he would appoint the commission as soon as the disturbances had ceased to such an extent as to render a careful, thoughtful investigation possible.

The President laid great emphasis on the fact that no steps could be taken in this direction until lawlessness had ceased, and he made his promise contingent on the pledge of the labor leaders to see to it that so far as organized labor is concerned the trouble at Chicago and elsewhere will immediately disappear.

General Secretary-Treasurer Hayes, of the K. of L., in speaking of the decision of the President said: "The President seemed pleased to receive us and immediately opened the subject by referring to the law which the parties interested desired to see enforced. An hour was spent in discussing the various provisions of the act which authorizes the President on his motion to appoint two arbitrators, together with United States Labor Commissioner Carroll D. Wright, to act as a commission of arbitration and investigate and decide what should be done by either party to settle the controversy. The commission has all of the powers necessary to administer oaths, subpoena witnesses, etc. We expect to secure much more from this arbitration than the final settlement of the present difficulty in Chicago. While it is in itself a great victory for labor organizations and everything that the A. R. U. has fought for, it gives official recognition to the justice of their demands for arbitration, and it will lead much further, for in the moments of the future, when defects of the present arbitration law have been made apparent by actual experience, prompt steps will be taken to amend the same."

Debs is Pleased. Chicago Mr. Debs said: "We are very much gratified over the action of the committee and the act of President Cleveland in appointing a board of arbitration. We have no doubt that the board will be composed of men of high character and ability, and that they will be able to locate the right or wrong involved in the existing controversy, by virtue of which a satisfactory settlement will be reached. We are, of course, for arbitration and had this principle been recognized this strike would have been avoided."

Violence in California. An attempt was made at West Oakland, Cal., to blow up the local train connecting with the 9 o'clock boat from San Francisco. A cartridge of giant powder was placed on the truck. It did some damage to the engine, but happily resulted in no injury to either the crew or the passengers. The explosion shattered the windows of the cars and of residences along the line of track, the engine was twisted and broken by the shock.

The board of city trustees of Sacramento, Cal., adopted a resolution condemning what it terms "the, tranny and brutality which has characterized the conduct of the United States soldiers who have wounded and assaulted unoffending persons on the streets."

The resolutions conclude with the following: "Resolved, That investigation has not been developed to our minds any cause or just reason for the exercise of extreme military measures in the community, and we expressly repudiate the asserted power of the United States army to treat prisoners from our police force, or to assume the powers of local authorities in the enforcement of our police regulations."

During the hearing of a writ of habeas corpus for the release of three Dunsmuir strikers before Judge Catlin at Sacramento, a detachment of regulars marched into the sheriff's office and demanded the surrender of the prisoners. When informed by a deputy sheriff of the demand Judge Catlin, pale and trembling, but with firm voice, arose and said: "Soldiers with bayonets drawn are outside in the corridor, and I am informed, they here to take these prisoners from this room. I command everybody in this court to stay here and resist any effort to take away these prisoners." The spectators announced their determination to stand by the court. They put their hands in their hip pockets and were ready to shoot. Then as the situation began to look critical the deputy United States attorney succeeded in having the soldiers return to the depot.

San Francisco: Notwithstanding the formidable array of state and federal troops with which the Southern Pacific is backed, the officials have been unable to retrieve the lost management of their freight business. The passenger service, too, is by no means restored, for trains are still sidetracked at night time as a precautionary measure against train wrecks.

PRENDERGAST HANGED.

The Cowardly Murderer of Mayor Harrison Punished With Death at Chicago.

Patrick Eugene Joseph Prendergast, who on Oct. 23, 1893, shot and killed Mayor Carter H. Harrison, in cold blood at the latter's home on Ashland boulevard, Chicago, was hanged as an execution for the crime.

The last chance for life which remained to Prendergast was swept away when Judge Grosscup, of the federal district court, refused to interfere by granting a writ of habeas corpus or permission to appeal. When Prendergast was informed that the last hope had faded away he refused to believe it. Again and again he argued that malice was a necessary element of murder and that there was no malice in his act. It was merely an unpleasant duty as he saw it, and it had been accomplished. He insisted that it would be judicial murder were he hanged.

Meantime the gallows timbers were being taken from the store-room and tested. It was the same gallows on which Rufus Higgins suffered for his crime a few months ago, and from which the anarchists dropped in '86. When the structure was erected it was tested with sad bays.

The murderer's last night was spent in sound sleep and he afeared a very little breakfast. At 11:15 a. m. the sheriff appeared in the corridor, followed by the condemned man, who was supported by Chancellor Barry of the Cathedral of the Holy Name. Prendergast looked like a poor, scared boy, as he walked, without urging, behind the young priest. He wore a cheap, worn suit, his shirt was white but without a collar. Jailor Price deftly put straps upon his arms, feet and legs. Then the white shroud was put about him. He was fearful and nervous.

As the clasp was prepared for his arms he raised his right hand and made the sign of the cross. He was sane enough to keep his lips moving in prayer as the final preparations were being completed and the cap was drawn over his head.

At 11:45 he was standing on the trap and the crowd waited expectantly. It had been stated that he had a speech ready that would take 15 minutes to read and report drawn their ropes and pencils ready as put down his last words, but Mr. Muldon had dissuaded him from making any scene in his last moments. The trap fell from under Prendergast at 11:45 and he fell like a bag of sand. There was a slight shrug of the left shoulder as the rope stretched, and so far as Prendergast knew it was all over. His pulse beat until 11:57, and then the jury of physicians filed by. Each listened at his heart to see if life was extinct. Nine minutes after the drop fell, the rope was lowered, the shroud removed and the body placed in a coffin.

REFUSE TO STRIKE. American Federation of Labor Takes a Patriotic Stand.

The conference of the American Federation of Labor in session at Chicago, decided against a general strike. The action of President Debs and the American Railway Union was indorsed, however, and $1,000 voted for a defense fund for the coming trial of Debs.

An address to the public was issued, which in substance says:

After careful, calm and full consideration of the great industrial upheaval and in view of complications we are forced to the conclusion that the best interests of the unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor demand that they refrain from participating in any general or local strike which may be proposed in connection with the present railroad troubles. It must not be understood that we are opposed in any way to the labor organizations struggling for right and justice. The public press has maliciously misrepresented matters in favor of corporate wealth. We are patriotic and law-abiding, we protest against the assumption by certain corporations that because we oppose them we stand for lawlessness and anarchy. The trades union movement is one of reason; one of deliberation and depending entirely upon the voluntary and sovereign action of its members; it has its origin in economic and social injustice. Industrial contentions cannot be entered into at the behest of any individual officer of this conference, regardless of the position he may occupy in our organizations.

While we may not have the power to order a strike of the working people of our country, we are fully aware that a general strike would be a lawless act and we are determined to do so, and appreciating the responsibility we declare that we believe a general strike at this time inexpedient and unwise.

We further recommend that all connected with the American Federation of Labor, now out on sympathetic strike, should return to work, and those who contemplate going out on sympathetic strike are advised to remain in their usual vocations. Mr. Pullman, in his persistent repulses of arbitration and in his heartless, autocratic treatment of his employees, has proven himself a public enemy.

For years the railroad interests have shown the lawless examples of defiance to injunctions, and have set aside laws to control them. They have displayed the utmost contempt for the interstate commerce law, have avoided the penalties and sneered at its impotence to prevent pooling, discriminations and other impositions on the public. In this disregard of law these corporations have given the greatest impetus to anarchy and lawlessness. Still they do not hesitate when confronted by outraged labor to invoke the powers of the state, the federal government, backed by United States marshals, injunctions of courts, proclamations of the President, and sustained by the bayonets of soldiers and all the civil and military machinery of the law have relied on the summons of the corporations.

Against this array of armed force and brutal moneyed anarchy, would it not be worse than folly to call men out on general or local strike in these days of stagnant trade and commercial depression?

No. Better let us organize more generally, combine more closely with our forces, educate and prepare ourselves to protect our interests, and that we may go to the ballot-box and cast our votes as American freemen, united and determined to redeem this country from its present political and industrial misrule, to take it from the hands of plutocratic wreckers and place it in the hands of the common people.

KILLED SOLDIERS.

THE STRANGE EXPLOSION OF A CAISSON AT CHICAGO.

Two Artillerymen, One Trooper and Seven Horses Killed—A Score More of Soldiers Wounded—Remains of Dead Men Blown 300 Feet—Other News.

A caisson of Battery F, Second artillery, U. S. A., exploded with terrific force at Grand and Oakwood boulevards, Chicago. Two artillerymen and one trooper were instantly killed. Nearly a score of other persons—troopers, residents in the vicinity and passers-by—were injured, some of them fatally. The list of the killed is: J. Donovan, private, Battery F, Second artillery; Edward Doyle, private, Battery F, Second artillery; Joseph Gaylor, farmer, Troop B, Seventh cavalry.

The troops left Brighton Park for a long march around the city to exercise the horses. There were 150 men and officers in the detachment. Everything went smoothly and there were no incidents until the column, marching south on Grand boulevard, was just crossing Oakwood boulevard. Then a terrific explosion occurred. The caisson on the explosion, supposed to be Donovan and Doyle, were literally blown to pieces and others were thrown many feet by the violence of the concussion. Four of the horses drawing the caisson fell in their tracks, shot through and horribly mangled, while three others were blown 50 feet ahead against the trees on the boulevard, dying instantly. The caisson was blown to atoms, not a piece of it larger than a man's hand being found. The boulevard looked like a battlefield. There was a quick series of explosions after the first shot and shrapnel shot rained like hail among the trees on the boulevard and pierced the surrounding dwellings. The concussion broke every window in the houses for blocks away. The walls and roofs of the dwellings showed the terrific effect of the missiles. Unexploded shells of the pear part of the caisson lay scattered all around. With the explosion came great confusion of the troops, and for a moment the men and officers seemed powerless to move. To this was added the fright of the occupants of the surrounding houses who ran screaming from their dwelling only to be sickened by the sight in the street.

A still alarm was responded to by the fire department and a complement of 50 police officers. It was some time before the two dead artillerymen could be found. One of them, mangled beyond recognition, but supposed to be Doyle, had been blown over a board sign 25 feet high and was found in a recent lot behind it. One leg and an arm were gone. The man supposed to be Donovan had been thrown 300 feet diagonally to the right and was found in a vacant lot. Joseph Gaylor was found near where he was struck. Great damage was wrought by the explosion to the neighboring property. Windows in the surrounding houses were blown out and the damage to residence and park property in the neighborhood of the accident is estimated at about $10,000.

Col. Wilson, who was detailed by Gen. Miles to investigate, said of the cause of the explosion: "My theory of the accident is that the screw plug at the base of one of the shrapnel became loosened, some of the powder leaked out, and being ground and pounded by the jolting of the limber, ignited powder in the cartridges exploded, and the ignition of the cartridges in the other two chests followed. The force of the explosion can be more readily understood when it is remembered that the 132 cartridges contained 450 pounds of powder."

CONGRESSIONAL NEWS. SENATE—17th day.—The appropriation bills are fast being considered, and at the present rate of progress it is probable that all will soon be disposed of. Several bills of minor importance were passed and conference was appointed on the military academy and diplomatic and consular appropriation bills. House—17th day.—The House agreed to the report of the committee on the petition of the bill for the admission of Utah as a state, and after discussing a bill for retiring officers of the revenue cutter service, it proceeded with the consideration of bills introduced by the foreign affairs committee. Foreign bills were passed, but none of national importance.

SENATE—17th day.—The river and harbor appropriation bill, which usually gives rise to sharp debate and consumes from three days to a week for its consideration, was passed. Rebecca will be present by the well and will furnish ice cool lemonade for "only five cents a glass." Come and enjoy a pleasant evening.

Mrs. D. A. Duffee of Novi, nee Lucie S. Allen of this place, a former sales-lady to F. M. Warner's store, is assisting in the Wilber, Cook & Co. inventory. It seems quite natural and very pleasant to see her in the old position again.

Rev. Mr. King and Pierce of Detroit will give one of their popular and instructive lectures Sunday afternoon and evening at the Baptist church. A "Light House" will be built by taking the books of the Bible from Genesis to Revelation. It will be no doubt a lecture of great interest and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

The ice cream festival held Saturday evening at the town hall under the auspices of the L. U. was largely attended and a most enjoyable time was passed by those present. After refreshments, the assembly was notified by the president, Mrs. J. J. Moore, that the counterpane and shams would be disposed of. It was decided by the ticket holders that all tickets should be placed in a box and that the twenty-fifth drawing by little Sadie Francis should tell the story and it proved to be No. 137, H. W. Moore then arose and announced that he was the lucky one. Congratulations followed and the pleasant entertainment was soon over. Proceeds of the evening's entertainment $16; realization for counterpane and shams $20. Total $36.
