ANOTHER YARNALL GOLD CURE.

The Second One Will Be Started in Ohio.

The Yarnall Gold Cure company of this place is about to establish another institute in Ohio. It will be located at Willoughby, an ideal village of 2,000 population, located on the shores of Lake Erie, 17 miles east of Cleveland. It is one of the most beautiful towns in that state and seems particularly well adapted for the location of a gold cure. The institute will find headquarters in the magnificent residence owned by Andrews the New York millionaire, which has been vacant since the family concluded to remain in the east during the year around. Dr. Yarnall informs us the building is gorgeously furnished throughout which they have leased entire for a term of years.

The people of Willoughby are certainly to be congratulated upon securing one of the famed Yarnall Gold Cures. Not only will it bring much money into their town but it will likewise advertise its beauty and activity throughout the Buckeye state as nothing else can do. The institute will be the pride of the town, and it they will extend the hand of welcome and encouragement which Northville has always shown and still continues to show toward the parent institute here, it will make Willoughby one of the most noted towns in the state. Not only this, but it will turn many a poor man into a millionaire and many a dollar loose in the village that would never otherwise have come.

The Northville institute has done much for Northville. Thousands of dollars are spent in our village every year by the patients for board and other expenses to say nothing of the amount paid into the institute which to a great extent, finds its way into the business channels of the town through salaries paid to employees and other sources. What is true of Northville will be true of Willoughby. The Yarnall Gold cure is no guess work. It has stood years of test in Northville. Not a man, woman or child in this village can be found to say a word except in its praise. Of its hundreds of successful cures, some 39 have been well known Northville people, therefore the publisher knows what he is talking about when speaking of merits of the cure and the success of the Yarnall Institute.

Another thing we wish to say to the people of Willoughby is this: Do not imagine that Gold Cure patients are a lot of "bums." Not by a good deal! Bums are not the class who go to gold cures. These patients are as a rule most honored and respected citizens and with whom the people of any village can mingle with decorum. We have seen them here from among the leading doctors, lawyers, merchants, bankers and business men of the various cities and villages in our western states. We have seen here the sons of some of our most distinguished statesmen, as well as men from judicial benches and the halls of congress. Again we say, Willoughby is to be congratulated.

This Ohio institute will of course in no way effect the parent institute at Northville which will continue to run as heretofore. Dr. Yarnall will devote his time between the two institutes, keeping both under his personal supervision.

Teachers Institute.

A teachers institute for Wayne county will be held at Dearborn August 20-24. The institute begins at 10 o'clock Monday and continues till Friday p. m., at which time a County Teachers Association and Reading Circle will be formed.

The instructors at the institute will be Miss Harriet Marsh, principal of Hancock school Detroit, a lady of large experience in school work, and commissioner of Hillsdale county, N. H. French, who has special charge of the subject of classification of district schools. The conductor is Superintendent E. C. Thompson, of Saginaw, who has had long and successful experience in institute work.

Every teacher wishing to do their best should be there.

We Are Challenged.

The editor of the Mail stamps the editor of the Northville Record to get up a ball nine of business men who do not belong to any team and play a like nine of Plymouth business men. Both editors must play.—Plymouth Mail.

We accept the "stump" and as much as the challenged party is entitled to choice of time, place and weapons we name Northville, Monday, August 20 or 27, 3:30 p. m. We think the editors should umpire the game however.

Sunday on Seven Islands.

The D.L.&N. will run a special train excursion to Grand Ledge and the popular "7 ISLANDS" resort on Sunday, August 26. Train will leave Plymouth at 8:15 a. m., arriving at Grand Ledge at 11:30 a. m.; returning, leave at 7:00 p. m. Round trip fare 75c. This is No. 1 of Volume XXVI.

The fountain cost, including setting, $145.92. The paving will be a separate matter.

Free band concert Saturday night. Large crowds are expected from neighboring towns.

It may interest our readers—it doesn't us—to know that a new $1,000 silver certificate has been issued.

Quite a number of Northvillians attended the supervisors picnic at Orchard Lake Wednesday.

Six young men will sing at the mens meeting Sunday and Walter G. Seely Junior will speak. All men welcome.

The auxiliary will give an ice cream social at the institute next Tuesday evening. Every body should go and help this good cause.

The talk given by A. R. Kellerman of Flint at the mens meeting Sunday was right to the point. Those not present missed a treat.

The subject of the morning service at the Baptist church Sunday will be "Lessons from the Stubble." Evening, a Bible reading on personal work.

We believe that Edward Whitaker can correctly lay claim to the longest continued residence in Northville, having resided here since 1836, a period of 58 years.

In Monday's business men's ball game the South side succeeded at last in winning the game, 25 to 26. The game was marked throughout by features and errors.

This dry weather is making business for the blacksmiths in the way of setting wagon tires. They report that the work in this line is more than double that of last year.

S. E. Cranson and F. S. Neal were in Wyandotte Tuesday, delegates to the county congressional convention.

The latter went to Adrian yesterday as delegate to the 2d district convention which nominated General Spalding.

F. D. Butler has sold his interest in the Park hotel property, to F. B. Paros a former well known proprietor of the hotel and from whom it takes its name. Mr. Butler has not yet decided just what business he will engage in.

Henry Fry vows he will never sit down in an easier chair until he first explores or ascertains what's in it. He didn't do this one day last week while up home and there was a huge sheet of first quality sticky fly paper in the chair. Henry was in it, but finally released himself by trading pantaloons in time to resume his work at the store before dark.

Albert Power, formerly of Milford, but now of Northville, and Miss Prada Pierce a former teacher in the Northville schools were married at the home of the bride's sister Mrs. T. Mettler 106 Perry street, Detroit, Wednesday afternoon. After spending a few days at the groom's former home in Milford, they returned to Northville and reside at their own residence, 6 Walnut street.

Sam Small says "In Chicago I saw marching a body of men in a strong, carrying a banner inscribed 'Our Children Cry for Bread' And they marched straight to a picnic ground and drank 1,400 kegs of beer." That is not an extreme case. Many who howl the loudest about hard times would not work if they had the opportunity and yet they have little apparent difficulty in obtaining ready cash with which to befuddle their brains with intoxicants.

The Detroit Journal will run a hervey excursion over the F&PMRR and steamer Greyhound, from Flint to Port Huron and Return on Monday, Aug. 20. The day can be spent in Detroit or at any of the points between there and Port Huron. Fare for round trip including boat ride, from Wixom and Novi $1.50, Northville $1.25, Plymouth $1.15, children half fare plus 15c. Train leaves Wixom 7:10 a. m., Novi 7:35, Northville, 7:28, Plymouth 7:55. Leave Detroit on return trip 8:45 p. m.

The new style of money order is causing a good bit of trouble. The coupon on its edge, which is irregular in shape, denotes the amount for which the order is drawn. This is frequently torn off by people handling the order, who think it has been let on by mistake, and a good deal of extra trouble is then made necessary in order to get it cashed. Some people are too "fresh" to enjoy good health, and those who would mutter a money order in this way.

A delightful dancing party was given in honor of Miss Foote of Flint, at Princess rink last week Friday evening. Those present were Messrs. Brown, Mabel Clark, Harvie Koor, Ethelwyn Dubuar, Nellie Joslin, Mamie and Rachel Stevens, Inez Rickard, Madeline S. E. Clauson, M. N. The Wayne County Sunday school association will hold their big annual rally at Detroit August 30th. All the Northville schools are arranging to unite in assisting to make the occasion a success so far as Northville is concerned.

Among the young people who leave Northville for school this Fall are: Geo. Gibson, Ralph Horton and Clarence and Mabel Clark, who go to Ann Arbor, Charles Blackburn returns to the business college at Chatham and Miss Nellie Thompson goes to Utah as teacher.

Almost every night the lake on the Ross farm is the scene of a deal of pleasures. Large crowds of our young men gather for a cooling plunge. Mr. Ross talks of constructing a bath house and gravel beach and making the place safe for boys. This will be a public benefaction.

The streets were thronged again Saturday night, many being drawn in by the band concerts. It is a great treat to not only Northville people, but those in neighboring hamlets. The band will include a short exhibition drill in the program, tomorrow night, commencing at 7:45 as possible.

Presbyterian Notes: The Sunday school will join the rally in Detroit. The Junior Endeavor society just organized is offered as follows: Supt. Minnie Smith, assistants Harvie Root, Mr. Belding, pres., Clifford Corser, 1st vice pros., Lottie Elliot, 2d vice pres., Louis Root; secretary, Ethel Johnson, treasurer, Fred Macomber. Mr. Belding will not preach in his pulpit here for two Sundays—The young people are arranging for a delightful entertainment next week—Services as usual Sunday.

Dog muzzling acts have been repeated in quite a number of cities, it having been quite generally decided that "a muzzle which does not prevent a dog from opening its mouth is useless, and one that does prevent, interferes with the perspiration of the animal which exudes from the mouth, thus causing fever, intense nervousness and sometimes fits and other alarming symptoms which create an apprehension that the beast is affected by hydrophobia when, in fact, it is only tortured and tormented by the muzzle." So far as the danger of hydrophobia is concerned it is now quite generally conceded there is less danger with the dogs unmuzzled. The best authorities agree that the muzzle on dogs does more hurt than good.

At the end of the 7th inning in the ball game here Wednesday between South Lyon and Northville, the score stood 8 and 11 in favor of the latter. The South Lyon batter popped up a little fly between home and third which landed just inside the line and then rolled way out. Of course it was a foul—any one that plays ball knows enough for that, but the umpire declared it a foul hit and the runner reached first. The Northville boys had been receiving a little the worst of the umpires decisions right along, and this proved the last straw. They refused to play unless the umpire would decide according to rules. The umpire stood firm and the upshot was the game was called then and there.

MICHIGAN NEWS.

FUNERAL OF EX-GOV. BLAIR— PROMINENT MEN PRESENT.

Cowardly Crime of Wm. Broadwell, of Bangor.—Improvements in the Lumber Trade.—Michigan Crop Report.—Other State Happenings.

Last Honors to Ex-Gov. Blair.
Distinguished men were present from all over Michigan to pay last honors to the memory of Hon. Austin Blair, the war governor of the commonwealth. The body lay in state in his old home in Jackson, which, though spacious, was not large enough to hold the people. They gathered on the lawn and the shade of the trees. The citizens of Jackson were numerous, a squad of members of the G. A. R. were on guard at the steps of the dwelling. The funeral was marshaled by Col. Sterling, and marched in double file to view the body. The coffin, with the lid open, stood in the center of the principal room. The face, save for a thin and pinched look, had much the appearance which the deceased bore in his later life. There were numerous flowers in many beautiful forms. A portrait painted some years ago, stood on the mantel. James J. Joy, Judge M. C. Cooley, Gov. Rich, Col. Gregory, Sec. of State, Gov. Luce and Col. M. Shoemaker were among those present. The G. A. ### SHOT HIS FATHER-IN-LAW.

Wm. Broadwell Shot His Father-in-law, A. H. Moore, of Arlington.

Wm. Broadwell, of Bangor, 23 years of age, is a man who never knew a hardship in his life. His father is possessed of ample means and the boy always had everything his heart could desire. Early in life he contracted a vicious habit which grew on him. He was married at Clayton, six years ago to Rose Cooper. The marriage proved unhappy. He married her at different times. She left him and went back again to him and died a few days after. In a short time he married Barbara Moore. They always quarreled, and black eyes were the rule, not the exception. Her father advised her to return home. She followed his advice. Broadwell followed her, trying to get her to return and live with him. Moore would not let him in the house. They quarreled, Broadwell drew a revolver, fired, then took to the woods. A neighbor named Lynch saw the shooting and followed Broadwell, who came to Bangor, hid in a lumber pile and took a midnight train. Lynch jumped on the train and ordered the conductor to stop. Officers were on hand and arrested Broadwell. Broadwell has relatives in Detroit. Moore once lived in Sparta. He cannot recover Broadwell was released on $5,000 bonds.

Weather and Crop.

NORTHERN SECTION.—The drought has held on in all portions of this section during the past week. Crops seem to be slowly drying up. Corn and early potatoes are suffering the most. Cattle and horses are being fed on very little pasture left. In the upper peninsula, oats have not been so much injured. In all other portions of this section, the weather is practically unaltered. Many reports state that the corn crop is a failure and that early planted potatoes will be very short. Plenty of rain is now being reported. Some reports of rain are also being received from the lower peninsula. The weather is a little better here and there, but the drought is still on and all vegetation are suffering severely. In all cases where any rain has fallen there is a slight improvement visible. Cultivation also has helped the crops where this work has been done. The outlook for the crop of this section is serious. Pasture and stubble fields are so dry that the vegetation crumbles under foot. Except on low ground crops are turning brown. Fruit is ripening prematurely. But little fall plowing has been done on account of the dry condition of the ground.

SUMMARY.—Since the last of June the rains over the state have been mostly light and scattered, and as a result the field of oats has been materially injured. The corn crop is now in the ground—corn beans potatoes and buckwheat are in a critical condition. The general opinion seems to be that the early corn and potatoes will be short. Late planted stand a better show unless injured by early frosts. Beans are holding out better. Potatoes are failing poorly. Buckwheat on high land has been damaged by hot, dry winds.

Lumber Trade Improving.

There is a decided improvement in the lumber trade in Bay City. There have been a number of buyers from the eastern markets and deals have been a common thing. The largest sale of the season was closed by Mayor Jackson. The amount was 7,000,000 feet, ordered by David Whitney, of Detroit, and sold to Pack, Gray & Co. of Cleveland and Mills, Carroll & Co. of the same place. The consideration was over $100,000, and the lumber is all to be shipped within 60 days.

Property for acres around has been eagerly gobbed up at big prices, and a stock company will make the best of the flow.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

C. W. Brainard Killed His Wife and Himself.

C. W. Brainard shot and killed his wife at Vicksburg and then killed himself with another shot. Mrs. Brainard had recently commenced divorce proceedings against her husband, and this is the alleged cause for the double tragedy. The shooting took place at Brainard's home, two and one-half miles west of Vicksburg. Mrs. Brainard had been staying with Mrs. James Kenyon at Vicksburg since she began the suit for divorce. They were to divide the property and Mrs. Kenyon took Mrs. Brainard to the family home for that purpose. When they reached there Brainard called his wife out of the house and to the cornfield, where he shot her dead, the bullet entering her breast. Brainard then returned to the house and, addressing Mrs. Kenyon, said: "If you want to see my wife, she is out there by the cornfield, dead. Go and take care of her." Mr. Brainard was 33 years old and Mrs. Brainard 47. Both had been married before and have children. The shooting was done with a revolver, and only two shots were fired.

CAMP RICH.

Michigan Militia are Now Located at Island Lake.

According to the paymaster's verified muster roll there are 2,294 men and officers in camp this year. They are divided as follows: First regiment, 423 men and officers; Second, 429 men and officers; Third, 470 men and 22 officers; Fourth, 443 men and 21 officers; Fifth, 391 men and 19 officers. This does not include the brigade and department staff. Company C (Scott Guard), and Company A (Light Guard), of the Fourth regiment, are the largest, having 53 men each. The Fifth is light this year, owing to the long service at Ironwood during the strike last month. This makes the attendance just about the same as in last year. The camp has been christened "Camp Rich," in honor of Governor and Commander-in-Chief John T. Rich.

Shot in the Dark.

A. O. Fanning was perhaps fatally shot by highwaymen at Grand Rapids. He is a young man prominent in church and society, without a known enemy. Just as he was entering his house, he was ordered to hold up his hands. "What does it all mean?" he asked. Without a word the two fired and died, without trying to take Fanning's money. The young man was taken to the hospital, where bad wounds were found in his shoulder and back. While the shooting was going on there were people everywhere, and the board of the First Reformed church was in session near by. A crowd soon assembled, but the highwaymen had fled.

Peach Trees Affected by Yellows.

Peach Yellows Commissioner Albert Southworth makes public an announcement that has more serious results wrapped up in the non-acceptance of its importance than any six months' drought that might overtake such entire peach belt. He has marked 67 peach trees in one orchard to be cut down and burned at once, as they are badly affected by the yellows. Every fruit grower knows from sad experience of 15 years ago that unless this terrible fruit scourge is dealt with as vigorously as though it were smallpox, their entire orchards in two years will be dead, and none but sickly fruit will be yielded in the meantime.

TO PASS SENATE BILL.

THE DEMOCRATS IN CAUCUS VOTE TO DO SO.

Separate Measure for Free Sugar, Iron and Coal Ordered—End of Tariff Legislation May be Speedily Looked For.

It's to be the Senate bill. The house caucus so decided. The vote was 130 to 21. The caucus met promptly. There was no wait for a quorum. When Chairman Holman banged the desk with his gavel there were 153 members present. The caucus was exciting but not tumultuous. Wilson, McMillin, Crisp and Cookran spoke, the last in opposition to the surrender, and then the vote was taken on the all-important point. The resolution offered by Speaker Crisp to accept the senate bill went through with a whoop. There was inserted in the resolution a clause instructing the ways and means committee to report to the house separate bills for free sugar, free coal, free iron and free barbed wire. The bills will pass the House by big majorities, but there is not the slightest probability of them all passing the Senate. Immediately after the caucus adjourned the rules committee withdrew to the speaker's room to prepare a rule providing for the immediate consideration of the tariff bill. Immediately after the adjournment of the caucus the House conferees went into session in the rooms of the committee on ways and means. It is the intention of the Democratic managers of the House to finish up everything at once. The committee on rules will present a special order to carry out the mandate of the caucus. The intention is to pass the tariff bill and then will follow the other bills named in the caucus resolution. These bills have all been prepared, and though not reported from the ways and means committee or in regular order these preliminaries can be dispensed with under a special order from the committee on rules.

MADE HIM WHOLE.

PHYSICIANS PUZZLED OVER A MIRACULOUS RECOVERY.

SOUTH SIDE CITIZEN GETS WELL AFTER BEING GIVEN UP BY DOCTORS OF BLOOD POISONING.

Remarkable Story Fully Investigated by "The Dispatch" and Found to Be Absolutely True in Every Particular. Mr. Roehrig Tried the Most Famous Medical Men of Europe and America and After All Hope Had Fled Came Home and Was Cured by the Cook Remedy Company.

[Cor. Chicago Daily Dispatch.] In these days of fraud and deception it is a pleasure to find in any business concern an absolute regard for truth. Probably no line of business has been more practiced as in medicine. For this reason any concern which lives strictly up to its promises deserves the thanks of everybody. Such a concern is the Cook Remedy Company, which is located in suite 307 Masonic temple in this city.

The standing and reliability of this company has heretofore been favorably commented upon by the Dispatch, and just now it comes to the front with a cure so remarkable as to attract interest to the reading public. The case in question has been fully investigated by the Dispatch, and the following recital of it can be vouched for as absolutely true in every particular.

A Truly Marvellous Cure. The case in question is that of Mr. Roehrig, a prosperous young German-American of 35 East Twenty-fifth street. Mr. Roehrig inherited a predisposition to skin disease. When a year old he suffered much from eczema, but that in time was cured. Some time ago he contracted blood poisoning. The symptoms became alarming and physicians called in. He was treated by the medical profession as authorities on diseases of the skin and blood. They succeeded no better than the many Chicago doctors who had tried to cure Mr. Roehrig's awful ailment. Meantime the condition of the sufferer became simply appalling.

They Could Not Cure Him.

When the most learned savants of Europe were found unable to benefit him Mr. Roehrig was ready to give up all hope. Relatives brought him back to America to die. Resigned to what threatened to be a most horrible fate, he came back to his Chicago home and took to his bed. He had been dosed, drugged and cornered with salt, one physician recommended the amputation of his toes, and his residence was full of bottles that had contained medicines prescribed by orthodox practitioners, but as he constantly grew worse Mr. Roehrig was unwilling to quit trying. Relatives however insisted that efforts to cure be continued and he again called upon expert specialists. The result of their treatment was the same as before the trip to Europe.

The condition of the unfortunate sufferer was at this time truly pitiable. Life was worse than a burden, not only to himself but to his relatives and all who came in contact with him. It would be difficult to imagine the measure of the mental and physical torture that he underwent while in the grasp of the dread poison. Death not only seemed imminent but the sufferer was ready to welcome it as a relief.

Somebody Suggested Magic Cyphillene. About this time somebody suggested trying the Cook Remedy company. Expecting no benefit, but ready to try anything that promised relief, Mr. Roehrig put himself under the treatment of the Cook Remedy Co., 507 Masonic temple, Chicago, Ill., who have made a specialty of treating this disease for nearly ten years. When he began treatment in December last he was a mass of disgusting, festering sores. The physician company say his was the worst case that ever came under their notice. He had long been unable to wear shoes and was in every way about as sorry a looking specimen of humanity as was ever seen.

It was about six months ago when Mr. Roehrig began to take their treatment. Since beginning he has followed instructions carefully and to-day is one of the most healthy men in all Chicago. When he first began the Magic Cyphillene treatment he weighed 160 pounds, and now since cured by this magic remedy he weighs 200 pounds and is a Sandow in appearance. Every sore has healed and the unsightly scars that disfigured him have given way to healthy cuticle.

The Case Carefully Investigated.

As a natural result of the facts narrated Mr. Roehrig is a staunch admirer of the Cook Remedy company. He told his story to the Dispatch reporter who was sent to investigate the case, believing that the recital of his experiences may be the means of saving the lives of others who may be so unfortunately afflicted with blood poisoning of any kind.

The truthfulness of the reporter's statements in the above article are verified by the following affidavit of Mr. Roehrig:

I hereby testify that the statements made regarding my case in the above article are true.

State of Illinois, Cook county, s. s.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, a notary public in and for said county, this 14th day of June, 1914.

[Seal.] M. W. JOHNSON, Notary Public.

Many other remarkable cures are accredited the Cook Remedy company. This particular case has come under the observation of the Dispatch. The man made whole through the efficiency of this wonderful remedy is a resident of the city and known to be reputable and responsible, and the story of his wonderful cure may be verified by any one who will call at his residence.

Deserving of Confidence.

The old-time orthodox physicians are slow to give credit to any secret formula for the cure of disease. This is owing to the fact that so many of them are really rank frauds, gotten up wholly for gain. It is a well-known fact that the public is easily humbugged when it comes to purchasing nostrums, but the many successful cases treated by the Cook Remedy company offer evidence that can not be successfully disputed and the old-time doctors are compelled to admit that at last an absolute specific for blood diseases, both hereditary and acquired, has been discovered. Magic Cyphillene has made a fortune for its owner, saved many a life and alleviated much suffering than any secret formula for the cure of blood diseases known to the world.

Magic Cyphillene was originally compounded at Omaha in 1870. In 1898 the business had grown to such an extent that it was removed to this city and the Cook Remedy company was organized under the laws of Illinois with a capital stock of $300,000. Its financial standing is strictly first class, as a reference to the commercial agency reports will show, and it is a corporation deserving the confidence and patronage of the people. The Dispatch is as ready to give credit to deserving enterprises as it is to expose frauds, and it has seen indisputable proof of the merits of the medicine compounded by the Cook Remedy company.

The Cook Remedy company treats every case under a positive guaranty to cure or return the money. As numerous other cases attest, the medicine given effects a permanent cure in a short time. In the most advanced cases of blood poisoning or syphilis Magic Cyphillene has effected numerous truly marvelous cures, many of which have attracted the attention of the medical profession, which had at most invariably pronounced the cases hopeless.

No reputable journal can afford to commend an enterprise that is not deserving. The Dispatch knows the Cook Remedy company to be exactly what it is claimed to be, and the service it has rendered to suffering humanity entitles it to unlimited commendation. The Roehrig case is not a matter of hearsay. It is positively known to be a matter of fact.

Their reputation for quick and permanent cures in all stages of the disease and even when all other remedies fail, has become so wide-spread that several imitators have come to light, some even going so far as to copy their printed matter advertising, and one printed matter is liable to deceive the public has assumed a similar name, calling themselves "The Original Dr. Cook's Cure company." Magic Cyphillene is owned and controlled only by the Cook Remedy Co., Chicago, Ill.

R. J. Grosse has registered a trademark in Germany for a new thermometer, in which alcohol is substituted for the mercury and alcohol that have been employed up to the present.

The advantages of such substitution are claimed to be many. In the first place, alcohol is a liquid of a deep blue color, which renders the column very visible; in the second place, the freezing point of this liquid is very remote from its boiling point, and, finally, it costs less than mercury.

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS.

A LITTLE INSTRUCTION. AND MORE AMUSEMENT.

Fairlie Children—Miss Boulbee's Wonderful School for the Deaf and Dumb—Two Famous Dogs—Tottie and Jeff—Susie's Baby.

Hearing With Their Eyes.

Miss Boulbee, a charming little Englishwoman, is doing a noble work at No. 37 Gloucester Place, Portman square, London, in the education of those who are deaf and dumb, and others who are only deaf, so that they can communicate with their fellow beings practically as well as if they were endowed with all their faculties. She teaches the dumb how to talk and the deaf to understand language by vouching the motions of the lips of those who are speaking. She prefers to take her pupils, especially those who are wholly deaf and dumb, when they are little children. She consented to a writer to explain her system to a paper, and the result is shown in this article.

The writer noticed that her apartments were arranged with a view to providing agreeable to the eye, the evident purpose being to satisfy the sense of sight in which her little company were not defective. It was just after she had given a lesson when she began to talk about her method. Meanwhile her pupils stood apart and conversed in a low tone, but their voices sounded so natural that no outsider would have suspected that they did not hear one another perfectly.

Miss Boulbee noticed her visitor's surprise and said:

"I insist upon their talking aloud, though the simple motion of the lips is all that is necessary to make them understand. But if they did not use their voices they would soon lose them."

She then went on to say that in her opinion this plan was much better and certainly more graceful than the old-fashioned finger alphabet. She advanced the idea that for those who have not entirely lost the sense of hearing it would be much pleasanter to watch the lips of other persons speaking to them than to be screamed at through a hideous ear trumpet. It would also enable such persons to join more readily in a conversation and to know much more that is going on, because the tendency is not to say very much to any one who uses an ear trumpet. In explaining her system further, Miss Boulbee said:

"The German, or 'pure oral' system of teaching the deaf, was invented by Heinicke. It was kept a secret for many years, but it has now been reduced to thoroughly scientific principles and is open to the world. I first began to study it because of my anxiety for my sister, who was totally deaf, and the further I pursued my investigation the more I became fascinated with my subject. I studied at Ealing for a year and decided to take up teaching as a profession. That was ten years ago, and when I say that I have been successful it is not through vanity. If you want to appreciate the full value of this system for the instruction of the deaf you must picture to yourself a child, such a child as was one of these young pupils of mine a few years ago, eight years old, perhaps, who has never in her life heard a sound. Language has no meaning for her. She thinks in pictures. Impressions are her only thoughts. That child comes to me, and I make her understand that she is to imitate me in the breathing exercises, which are the beginning of the system. She gets her first idea of what sound is when I make her feel the vibrations of the vocal chords, which I do by placing one of her hands against my throat and the other against her own while she pronounces after me the vowel sounds."

Two Famous Dogs.

At Berkeley castle in 1893 there was a memorable meeting between Richard III. the last Plantagenet king, and Henry, of Lancaster. Richard had a noble greyhound with him, a dog that had never eaten from any hand but his, or noticed any one with favor save his royal master. Sir Walter Scott, in "Woodstock," describes Sir Henry Lee's dog, Bess, as being one of the same stock, "fleet as a greyhound, but strong as a mastiff; tawny-colored with black muzzle and feet and a white ring around his toes." Richard, in amazement, saw his dog leave him and caress Henry, nor could he be persuaded to leave his new master's side.

"He goes to the new king," said Richard, bitterly.

He was right, for Henry, afterwards Henry IV. of England, won from him not only his dog, but the crown as well.

Charles I. also had a pet greyhound, which was constantly with him while he was a prisoner at Hampton court. He felt himself in great danger there, fearing that one of the soldiers might try to kill him and he wanted to escape.

He was a very unfortunate man about his secrets, for they were always found out. He did not intend to let any one know when he left Hampton. It was twilight and he had planned to go quietly out of the garden through a part of it called Paradise, which was planted thickly with trees, so that it was too shadowy for any one to be seen distinctly.

He could not take his favorite dog with him and as soon as he was gone the dog began crying in the most pitiful way. Some of the attendants came quickly to see what had happened and found out the king's secret.

Poor king, he had the same ill luck when he was brought back to his trial and death. In going through New-burg forest, in which he had hunted so often that he knew every nook and corner, it was planned that he was to complain of his horse, when Lord Newburg would offer his own, "the swiftest horse in all England." At a point further on other horses and men awaited him.

Alas, the swift horse was found lame in its stall and as Charles glanced around he saw that the hounded men guarding him had each a loaded pistol ready in his hand.

Of all his plans of escape none had been so easy or practicable as the one his affectionate greyhound had unwittingly betrayed.—Philadelphia Times.

Gascons and Gascons.

In days-gone by there lay in the southwestern portion of France the province of Gascony. This has now been divided into four sections, which are known as the departements of Landes, Gers, Ariège, and the Upper Pyrenees, containing, it is estimated, no less than a million inhabitants. A great peculiarity of these natives is their frequently manifested tendency to boast, and so strongly developed has the quality of the bluster been in them from time immemorial that both our own and the French language have been enriched by words derived from the name of the province. Thus a gascon, as set down in the dictionaries as a "boaster" or a "braggart," a "vainglorious person," and a "gasconade" in English, or a gascouade in French, the name given to all boastful, braggart talk. For instance, the dictionary of the French academy, to illustrate the meaning of gascouade, gives an example: "Il dit qu'il se battra contre dix hommes; c'est une gascouade"—i. e., "He says he would fight ten men; 'tis a gasconade."

Of course, however, the fame of gascouade does not depend entirely on mere flat boasting like this, but on the intermixture of wit and piquancy with the most prodigious self-exaltation. The following are some examples we have met with.

A Gascon preacher stopped short in the pulpit. It was in vain that he scratched his head; nothing would come out. "My friends," said he, as he walked quietly down the pulpit stairs—"my friends, I pity you; for you have lost a fine discourse."

A young Gascon arrived at Paris for the first time. It was in summer, and he went to see the Tuileries immediately on his arrival. When he saw the gallery of the Louvre, "Upon my honor," said he, "I like it vastly. Methinks I see the back of my father's stables."

A Gascon officer hearing some one celebrating the exploits of a prince who, in an assault upon a town, had killed six men with his own hand, "Bak," said he, "I would have you to know that the very mattresses I sleep upon are stuffed with nothing else but the whiskers of those whom I have sent to slumber in the next world."

A Gascon in proof of his nobility, asserted that in his father's castle they used no other firewood but the batons of the different marshals of France of his family.—Harper's Young People.

Tottie and Jeff.

Jeff is 7 years old. He has begun to study geography, and after telling Tottie, who is just 5, about his lesson, he wants to know how much she remembers of it. "Captain Cook made three trips around the world and at the end of one of them he died. Which one was it?"

No answer. So Jeff gives her a black mark. After awhile they were playing in the garden. Jeff slipped on a stone, fell down and began to cry. Then Tottie rose to the occasion and said:

"Don't you cry. It is not worth while. Nobody sees you."—Philadelphia Times.

THE CHARITY OF A WOMAN.

She Had no Money to Believe Want, But She Had Its Substitute.

He was a tramp and didn't look as if he were fond of work, but he had a really artistic tale of woe to unfold to the kind woman who had met him at the door. He had suffered all his life. His parents had died years before he was born; he had wished all his days to be a minister, but could not get money enough to buy him suitable clothes for that profession; and finally had come to this.

"An' all I asks, ma'am, is enough money to get to Brooklyn, where there is a cemetery. Then I can die happy."

"Poor soul!" said the sympathetic woman. "Poor soul!"

"And then she opened her purse, but alas! it held nothing but samples.

"You see, I have no money," "you see I have no money."

A shadow crept over the pang-furrowed face of the man, and he turned away that the woman might not see the tear that was slowly trickling down his cheek.

"Then I shall go," he said hoarsely. "I shall go to the river—"

"No!" she cried, her face lighting up with a sudden enthusiasm, which betokened that she had discovered a means of relief. "Do not do that. I have a plan. Wait!"

Saying which the sweet soul bounded upstairs, and rushed to one husband's desk, which stood in one corner of the room, fumbling anxiously among his papers for a moment, and then with a cry of delight, having found what she wanted, rushed back to the waiting sufferer at the door. Her face shone like a sun of happiness as, breathless from her haste, she panted:

"Here! Take this, my friend. And may it be the corner-stone of a new and profitable life for you!"

Then she closed the door—and the wayfarer glanced at her gift. It was a blank check.—Harper's Bazar.

CARRARA, MARBLE QUARRIES.

Where 6,000 Men Work in the Face of a Perpendicular Cliff.

The marble quarries which are 400 or 500 in number, are situated far above the town, in the midst of the grandest and most savage scenery, says the English Illustrated Magazine.

The soft aerial hues which distance lends to the mountains disappear on nearer approach. The great peaks stand against the sky in fantastic forms. No trees or verdure clothe their naked sides, no flowers grow, no water flows to fertilize that soil. The 6,000 quarrymen who are busy here appear as ants crawling on the vast hillsides. The marble is quarried by dynamite. Every moment explosions rend the air, and huge fragments fly up as if expelled from a volcano. Often the mine has to be placed in the perpendicular face of a precipice. Then the workman is lowered by a rope and hangs suspended, "like the samphire gatherer, twice earth and heaven. A dreadful trade."

About 160,000 tons of marble are annually exported, of which most goes to America. The entire mass of the Monte Sagro, 5,633 feet high, which dominates Carrara, is solid marble. One of the most famous quarries is in the valley of the Pol-raccio. From this was extracted in Roman times the 1,700 tons of marble that served for the construction of Trajan's column at Rome. Here Donatello got the block which he carved into his "St. George," and Michael Angelo the one for his "Moses." From here also came the huge block mentioned in the memoirs of Benvenuto Cellini, which served for the colossal Neptune of Ammanati in the middle of the fountain of the Piazza della Signoria at Florence. Unlike the miner, who burrows underground, he works in a blinding glare of light. The fierce heat of the Italian sun beats upon him in summer. The cold blast of the tramontana, rushing from the gorges of the Apennines, chills him in winter. Constantly exposed to danger, seeing his companions killed and wounded by his side, trained to rapid action, and with every faculty of mind and body on the alert, accustomed to dominate the rude forces of nature—he has developed into an independent and powerful type of man.

Just after the southward bound express passed on the F&P Monday, fire was discovered near the crossing about a mile southeast of Wixom. A father, not many miles away, inquiring of his small son how he was improving in school work, received the following answer: Oh! papa just splendid. ## Around the Country.

Rev. W. T. Jaquess of Detroit is occupying the Presbyterian pulpit at Pontiac for a few Sabbaths.

Here is a cure for warts that is said to be infallible: "When I was a boy on the farm," said George B. Yerkes, of the law firm of Haug & Yerkes, "I had 20 warts on my hands. I tied 20 knots in a string, one knot for each wart, and buried the string under the pig-pen. As the string rotted, the warts disappeared, and I have never been bothered with them since."—Det. Journal.

Inasmuch as Geo. B. is a Northville boy, and as the farm and the pig-pen are both still here, no one will question the merits of the wart cure.

The Northville Record recently said that a good way to rid squash and pumpkin vines of the troublesome bug, is to soak rags in kerosene and place around the vines, the smell of the oil being sufficient to drive away the most determined bug. A patron of this office tried the above method and tells us with disgust that after carefully wrapping a choice pumpkin vine with petroleum soaked rags he retired for the night to dream of pumpkins as large as straw stacks, but in the morning upon going to the said vine, found it had departed this life, a rule there were ninety-seven bugs, more or less, gathered in a circle, "chewing the rag." How some editors will he! Fenton Courier.

Hold on! Everybody stop! The recipe has become disarranged. Instead of soaking the rags in kerosene, the kerosene should be soaked in the rags—hence the Fenton man's fatal mistake.

Last Friday night quite a heavy frost visited this vicinity. No particular damage done except to corn, buckwheat, etc on low ground.—Fowlerville Observer.

That's nothing, we had a big frost down here over four months ago.

The Observer observes that the larger portion of the population of Fowlerville is dogs.

The Prouty and Glass Carriage factory at Wayne have just received an order for five carloads of cutters from Missouri firms. Must be that Missouri expects some sleigh rides this winter.

South Lyon has half a notion to buckle on a water works system.

Don Yerkes' bird dog got in bad company at Milford last week and tried with a number of others to get twelve cent wool on the free list. Don's dog was the only one captured, and by the rules of war it had to be killed. The animal was a well trained hunter and was valued at more than $50.

It takes a rich man to draw a check, says the Pontiac Times, a pretty girl to draw attention, a horse to draw a cart, a porous plaster to draw a cork, a free lunch to draw a crowd, and an advertisement to draw trade.

Some workmen at Ann Arbor lately were digging for the gas company, and ran across two skeletons, one that of a lady, the other that of a man, who had been buried with his boots on. Before they could reinter the latter, the skeleton rose up and demanded a sniff of the atmosphere containing republican victory, and also a nomination on the republican county ticket, declaring he was no more completely dead than would be the chap next November who took the nomination, and it might be a saving of life. Request denied.—Adrian Press.

The Plymouth fair is to be held Sept. 25-28. All right. We'll paste that date in our hat, make it a point to take it in, and run over to Northville and make a raid on the Record man's commissary department, and show him what an organized appetite can do toward wrecking a newspaper.—Adrian Press.

We repeat it, Sir! "All right" Come thou dearly beloved and it will be shown ye that nothing in the fairest of all Michigan villages is too good for the Press man.

West Michigan fair at Grand Rapids 24-29. Half fare on railroads.

We have one awful stingy man up here. He doesn't even enjoy a joke at his own expense.—Town Corners Cor., Orion Review.

Be it now known to all mankind that the Orion sea serpent is no longer a huge fake or a summer resort advertisement, but a genuine fact. This is certified to in last week's Review by the affidavits of thirteen or more Orionites, including Dr. MacKinnon formerly of this place, the Methodist preacher and other reputable citizens, all of whom have seen or been chased by the terrible monster. The animal, to the eyes of the beholders, varies in length from 30 to 40 feet. Oh, that Northville had a lake like that of Orion.

The Brighton Express published by J. H. Keys is a new venture at Brighton. The first issue was run off last week and it is a hummer. The Express is an eight page, six column paper and brim full of news and local advertising.

Fenton fair October 2-5.

Wayne loses a game at Dearborn through very rank umpiring.—Wayne Review. Very rank would, of course, mean high, way up, out-o-sight, front rank.—Ann Arbor Courier.

Means the umpire keeps out-o-sight for two fortnights.

The Holly Advertiser succeeded in having the notorious "Madison Square" resort cleaned out.

Monroe has become a tramp's trysting place, a beggars' bivouac and a peddlers' paradise and the town is getting very tired of them. It seems as though the people were unreasonable about one thing however. They kick because the tramps bathe in the river, and say that in their bathing suits they are not pretty. This is the first accusing evidence ever discovered to prove a tramp guilty of bathing.—Ann Arbor Argus.

C. W. Mosher went to bed one night last week and forgot to shut off the lawn sprinkler. Supt. Botsford shut off the pipe to the main and it cost Wesley $1 to get it turned on again. It would be well for water consumers to profit by this experience as Mr. Botsford will show no favors.—Holly Advertiser.

A lesson that some Northville people will yet learn—fornearance will soon cease to be a virtue with the water board in the useless waste of water.

Wayne village now aspires for a "natural" lake. What next?
