BROKE AN ARM.

A Well-Known Novi Lady Meets with a Painful Accident.

While Mr. and Mrs. Jay Hazen of Novi were driving from Novi to Northville last Friday afternoon the horse became frightened, apparently at nothing, at the point where the water works line crosses the road, situated one-half north west of the village. The carriage was quickly overturned and the occupant thrown violently to the ground. Mrs. Hazen's left arm was broken below the elbow and her shoulder badly bruised. Mr. Hazen escaped with some slight flesh wounds. The carriage was badly demolished and the horse somewhat jarred. Mrs. Hazen was conveyed to the home of her father, Geo. Dennis in the village, where Dr. Burgess rendered her as comfortable as the circumstances would permit.

Around the Country.

Wayne is enjoying a regular building boom.

Young and Pholy is the queer name of a well-known firm of poultry dealers at Howell.

The Poultry & Glass carriage factory at Wayne has built and sold 4,000 Portland cutters this season.

Leon of Millwood won the $25 prize in the blue rock shoot at Lively last week. Leon got $1 of the $50, while North of Pontiac downed but thirty-three.

The Northville mill pond is to be washed out and hung on the fence to dry. An Ypsilanti engineer will take the job of cleaning it.—A. A. Argus.

The Fenton Independent is congratulating Northville on the success of the newly passed ordinance in keeping the village in the sleep of summer thus far.

The A. A. Argus, whose editor is as witty as his name is common, (it's Smith,) had just entered upon its thirty-first year. The Argus' "ulu," so to speak.

A stranger visiting Weyndotte last week was peculiarly assailed by a gang of young men. They threw tobacco juice and vile language at him just for fun.

The quantity and quality of young people congregating at the Fenton post-office nights, waiting for males and females has been declared a nuisance, and the police department has been asked to suppress it.

The Ann Arbor Courier proves that there is "something new under the sun" by reporting the fact of a 3d ward resident of that city who having moved a two story house off his lot is in its place erecting a one story.

The young men and ladies at Plymouth are now talking of combining for another mirthful show. If it goes, and what Plymouth ladies undertake generally does, they will please note that Northville speaks for the first outside visit.

A neighboring paper uses fourteen lines to acknowledge the receipt of a 25c book. At 25c per line the space was worth 700, and this is about the usual proportionate rate the average newspaper pays for a complimentary book, magazine or sheet music.

Mrs. Anna Shirk, the well known temperance lecturer and preacher, speaks on "The American Undiscovered by Columbus," at Plymouth Monday night. A number from here will attend.—Northville Record. If Brother Neal goes to that lecture, he'd better keep the above item out of the gentle Annie's sight. "Mrs.?" oh, no, not a bit of it. With Anna marriage is a testiment failure, and the Record should bear it in mind.—Ypsilanti.

We did not Miss Annie but we did miss the lecture. We beg the talented lady's pardon in each case.

Supt. Kellogg of the Tecumseh schools has issued the following proclamation which gives all the snow balling advantage to the girls: "Be it hereby ordained that any male student of the Tecumseh union school, who shall, after 1:30 p.m. on the day of November 13, 1894, take in his hand any snow or engage in the manufacture or use of any snow ball upon the thoroughfares leading from the said school, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall lay himself liable to such punishment as may be deemed expedient. Given under my hand and seal this 13th day of November, A.D. 1894."

A young Trenton skater found a bicyclette at the bottom of Silver Lake last week and fished it out. Everybody is now looking for the rider.—DeKay Herald.

The item was copied verbatim from the Record except that "Trenton" was substituted for "Fenton." The Record would not have objected in the least to this had not a large portion of the inhabitants of Trenton desisted from their usual vocations during the past week searching for Silver Lake.

which they thought possibly had been dug up unknown to them and coined through their son's ash or salt mint. Trenton people do not usually let anything get away from them that has silver in it.

The United States fish manufactory at Northville has recently received 70,000 fresh trout eggs. Each egg has been separately examined under an eggscope and pronounced good to hatch.—A. A. Argus.

After a plucky existence of thirty-five weeks the Wayne Tidings was given up the ghost. The Tidings was a bustling little sheet, brim full of news and carefully edited, but Wayne was not a two-newspaper town.

A party of prominent Ypsilantians recently paid a visit of inspection to the Wayne County house. They were highly pleased with the plant that they stated they would be willing to pay more taxes if it were necessary to sustain what they pronounced the most admirable institution of the kind they ever visited.—DeKay News.

O yes, Ypsilanti people are quite apt to want their taxes raised to support a Wayne county institution. Next thing we hear of they will insist on being taxed to help pay for our new county seat buildings.

The following story is told on a Ypsilanti maiden who was caught recently in the act of kissing a pet calf. The boys chased her, of course, but she gave them as good as they sent. "Don't all right, boys," "don't you trouble yourself. But Jerry keeps him a mouth clean and sweet. He don't chew no tobacco, and drink bad whisky, and smoke cigars!" Boys! can't choose my own kissers, ain't it? And you start out in for kissing business, you bet I kiss something sweet and clean.—Don't it?

Salem News.

Mr. and Mrs. Cal Wheeler ate Christmas turkey with Mr. Wheeler's brother and family at Howell.

Mrs. O. A. Sober and family of Ypsilanti were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Munro Tuesday.

Mrs. C. J. Hitler went to Grand Rapids on Tuesday and will spend a few days in the second city with her daughter-in-law and grandson.

Rev. Mr. Elder, known as the prison evangelist, who spent some time in this vicinity early in the autumn, returned here on Monday for a brief visit.

The warm weather that has been prevailing for weeks past realized a black eye on Christmas day, though it has not been severely cold since then.

The descendants of the late Aaron Vanatta had a gathering on Christmas day at the residence of the oldest daughter, Mrs. Eliza Warden of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Geo. Dennis and son Reuben came down from Grand Rapids on Monday for a visit with Mrs. Dossister, Mrs. W. D. VanSickle and Mrs. H. C. Beeson.

Dr. Geo. E. Waterman, one of the professors in the Connecticut Agricultural College, is here spending his holiday vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Waterman and other friends.

Married, on the evening of Christmas day, at the Congregational parsonage by Rev. W. H. Shannon, Mr. James Bradley Jr. of Lyon, Oakland Co., to Miss Minnie Frey of Salem. The happy couple left on the 7:30 train to spend their honeymoon with friends at Ionia.

The Salem Knights of Pythias will elect the following officers for the ensuing year: Frank Tousey P. C. A. C. Vansickle C. C.; S. D. Chapin V. C.; Roy Waterman Prelate; Tobe Bradford M. of E.; Frank Tousey K. of R. & S.; M. H. Sloan, M. at A.; P. H. Murray M. of W. and delegate to grand lodge.

One of the finest affairs of the kind ever given in Salem was the K. P. party and hop last week Friday evening. Both balls were crowded beyond their capacity, many being unable to obtain admittance. Refreshments were served to something like 150 people and as many more joined in the hop.

Tinham's Northville orchestra furnished the music and it was first-class.

Everyone had an enjoyable time, and the Knights are proud of their success.

Dr. Bennett Again.

Every one does know, or ought to, that Dr. Bennett charges 95 cent of all these old chronic troubles where other doctors have said, nothing more can be done for you.

Does not heal them for a few days, simply, gets them wholly well. Consumption, Asthma, Rheumatism, Locomotor Ataxia, Bright's disease, cretinism, paralysis.

Results already given in this neighborhood need no long comments. They speak for themselves. Just go see the doctor when here next time. At Macon's Wednesday, Jan. 2d.

A GOOD advertisement is the best educator. It appeals to the people who may want what it tells about, but does not intrude upon people who care nothing about the thing.

EVERYTHING is advertised to have interested in behalf of the Armenian. It is always a good time to buy a lock to put on the stable door after the horse is stolen. It helps out the locksmith.

In a word, we will be kind enough to wait when preparing to attack an American seaboard city, until we can get the Ericsson torpedo boat in floating order, we may be able to protect ourselves. Seven different attempts have been made to fire that boat, but each time something about her machinery has broken.

THE Pall Mall Gazette says the most conspicuous feature of the reign of Queen Victoria is the establishment and development of democracy in Great Britain. As most of the thrones of Europe will be occupied by the queen's descendants, it is not likely that her majesty has lost faith in royalty as a comfortable future occupation.

According to the last account of the Armenian affair, 6,000 persons were killed by the Kurds and the inhabitants of three villages were forced to embrace Mohammedanism. Islam in Europe depends on this kind of missionary work, the Christian powers should swiftly unite to hurl it back into Asia, Sultan mosque, bag and baggage.

The United States senator never was more famous for accuracy of speech. Perhaps two-thirds of one senator call China "Chin" or "Chiner." During the Sumoan troubles the country was called "Sammy," and "Samo." Scholarship and Elegance of pronunciation are not characteristic of senators, but in practical affairs, such as the condition of the stock market, they are perfectly at home.

The report of Governor Sheatey of Alaska shows that the territory is steadily advancing, that the natives are self-supporting and that they are nothing but fair treatment. The Indian police force consists only of two chiefs at $15 per month each and nineteen privates at $10 per month each. And yet with all this there does not seem to be any corruption in the force. The natives cannot be said, therefore, to be fully civilized.

The establishment of a system of rudimentary instruction in Russia, promised by the new year, within one of the most important procedures of the modern or any other period, and it is a necessary prelude to the complete civilization of that country. That and parliamentary government will give them a long lift ahead, and perhaps mitigate some of the national and social discontents which make the lives of czars and other high personages so uncomfortable.

The discovery of the Connecticut bacteriologist that the germs of disease may be lurking inside of oyster shells ought not to tell against the value generally. The same inunction could be brought against all fish, flesh or fowl that found their nourishment close to the outlet of a sewer, as was the case with the oysters that conveyed typhoid fever to the students of Wesleyan university. A decent oyster bed is not this located, and none are likely to be thus placed after this lesson.

The assassination of President Carnot has made the fortune of the hardware dealer in Cetoo where Casero bought the knife with which he committed the crime. The man's name is Guillaume. Since the origin of the knife became known, no day has passed without Guillaume's receiving orders for the "Carnot longward." These orders come not only from France, but also from foreign countries in such numbers that the dealer cannot fill them. One house in Brussels alone ordered 300.

If there is to be a rivalry between John Jacob Astor and William Waldorf Astor as to who shall own the finest hotel in America, patrons of the best hoteliers will be apt to rejoice that the two Astor boys have millions of dollars to spend. The latest from John Jacob is that he is going to erect, alongside the Waldorf, an eighteen-story hotel that will surpass that palace as much as it surpasses all other hotels in America. The "Jacob" if that is to be its name, patterned after William Waldorf Astor's middle name, section is to be 350 feet long, 10 feet wide and with the Waldorf will fill out the fifth avenue block between Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth streets. If the two hotels should finally be run together they will surpass all hotel palaces of the world.

It is decided by big authority that it will require years to determine the full value of the anti-diphtheria serum, but so far the experiments are most encouraging. The great danger is that it may fall into disrepute by the use of improperly prepared serum.

A NEW ORLEANS policeman states that he is satisfied he felt an earthquake shock the other day. An earthquake that would shock a policeman surely would leave some broken window glass lying around to prove that it had been in business.

A PEOPLE OF MANY STRANGE SUPERSTITIONS.

Dr. Talmaz's Wife, of His Time to Bombay Dead Bodies Carrion for the Virtues—Christianity and Zoroaster Compared.

BROOKLYN, Dec. 23, 1894.—Dr. Talmaz, continuing his series of "Round the World Sermons," through the press, chose to-day for his subject "The Five Worshippers," the term selected being: "There came wise men from the east to Jerusalem."

These wise men were the Parsees or Zoroastrians, who will be found enough to wait when preparing to attack an American seaboard city, until we can get the Ericsson torpedo boat in floating order, we may be able to protect ourselves. Seven different attempts have been made to fire that boat, but each time something about her machinery has broken.

The prophet of the Parsees was Zoroaster of Persia. He was poet philosopher and reformer, as well as religionist. His disciples thrived at first in Persia, but under Mohammedan persecution they retreated to India where I met them, and in addition to what I saw of them at their headquarters in Bombay, India, I had two weeks of association with one of the most learned and genial of their people on ship board from Bombay to England.

The Bible of the Parsees, or fire worshippers as they are inaccurately called, is the Zend-Avesta, a collection of the strangest books that ever came into my hands. There were originally twenty-one volumes, but Alexander the Great, in a drunken fit set fire to a palace which contained many of them, and they went into ashes and forgetfulness. But there are more of their sacred volumes left. With most people would have patience to read. There are many things in the religion of the Parsees that suggest Christianity, and some of its doctrines are in accord with our own religion. Zoroaster, who lived 3,400 years before Christ, was a good man, suffered persecution for his faith, and was assassinated while worshiping at an altar. He announced the theory "He is best who is pure of heart," and that there are great spirits in the world. Omnipotent, the good spirit and Ahura-mazda, the bad spirit, and that all who do right are under the influence of Omnezd; and all who do wrong under Ahuramazda; that the Parsee must be born on the ground about of the house, and must be buried from the ground floor; that the dying man must have prayers said over him and a small glass held to drink; that the good at their decease go into eternal light, and the bad into eternal darkness; that having passed out of this life the soul flings itself into the heart of the eye, and sees a building all astir with lights and rewards; the earth joined in peace till death do you part." Compare the doctrine that the dead may not be touched with as sacred, and tender and loving as a kiss is ever given, the last kiss of lips that never again will speak to us. Compare the narrow Bridge Chivat over which the departing Parsee soul must tremulously cross, to the wide open gate of heaven through which the departing Christian soul may triumphantly enter. Compare the twenty-one books of the Zend-Avesta of the Parsee which even the scholars of the earth despite of understanding will be unable to much; it is necessary for our salvation in their recognized domain, says Harper's Bazaar. Take, for instance, a mother seeing her five children off to school in different directions on a winter morning, each properly dressed and muffled and shod and provided and farewelled with due and separate regard, to Marie's cold and Ellen's weak eyes and Adelma's complexion, and the like.

REPUBLIC BATTLE HYMN.

Since we have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord, out into the world where the gates of truth are stoned.

He has led the fatal lightning of his terrible warfare.

His truth goes marching on.

I have seen him in the watchful eyes of hundred million nations.

They have bidden him go after the events of war and peace.

I can read his secret sentence by the dim and fading lamps.

His day is marching on.

I have read a fiery gospel of salvation on the rocks of steel.

As we go with our consciences as with you in peace shall death.

Earth here, born of woman, cradles the spirit with his heart.

Since God is marching on.

He has sounded forth the trumpet that shall never calendar.

He has struck out the hearts of men before him.

On so swift my soul to answer him. Do not let me fail.

Our God marcheth on.

With a voice like thunder that震懾了 the earth.

As he used to make men happy, let us do the same to see.

Lady Latimer's Escape.

BY CHARLOTTE M. BRAEME.

"How fair it is," she said. "Do you know, Audrey, the one dream of my life when I was a child, was to live somewhere near a river, or great fountain or the sea. My home—"

It was the first time she had ever mentioned this to me. My home was in the Midlands, the green heart of the country, by sea, for some minutes watching the falling spray. Suddenly she raised her beautiful face to mine. "Audrey, she said, "is life worth living? I can not make it out. There are times when it seems to me full of interest; and again, I wonder that people care to live. Do you know what has occurred to me this morning?"

"No," I answered, most desirably that it is too late now to think of follow her thoughts.

"I know it is. It is very sad, after all," she continued, dreamily, "to have a husband so old and tired of life that he has forgotten all about love and forgotten what it is like to be young, and forgotten what youth wants and desires."

"It is sad," I answered. "But Lady Latimer, did you marry for love?"

I knew before I asked the question that it was not possible. She looked me with the utmost surprise.

"Yes," she said. "Oh, no, Audrey, I do not know that the word love was mentioned over my marriage床."

"Then," I said, "you should not expect to receive that which you do not give."

She thought over the words for a minute, then she said:

"No, you are right, Audrey, but you must not think that I am ungrateful."

I have not thought much about the matter, but since I have known Lord Felton I have thought to myself how ungrateful I feel to be a wealthy husband who loves you, than an old one who does not."

And I know in my heart there was a great pity that she had found that out.

She had never intended to speak of my marriage to any one," she said.

but I must tell you, Audrey, then you will understand for I begin—ah—ah—I begin to understand what it is that I have missed in life. I have missed that which, Lady Felton has told, I will tell you all about my marriage, Audrey," she continued. "I was a stranger here, and I came among you as Lady Latimer of Lorton's Cray. No one knows who I am or anything about me; most people suppose that I belong to some great family. My dear Audrey, I am a natural product of those troubled times, I am the daughter of a ruined gentleman farmer. Would you have guessed that?"

I should never have guessed the word pain to be connected with you in any way," I answered.

She laughed.

"It is true," she continued. "When I was a little girl, my father—Heaven bless him—was considered a rich man.

He rented a large farm called Fernhills, and his landlord was my husband, Lord Latimer."

Time was when Fernhills was a small gold mine, when the fields were filled with golden grain, and the cattle were the finest in the county, when everything prospered, and my father was reckoned a rich man. He hunted and rode; he joined in all the sports; he was considered one of the most generous and hospitable men in the neighborhood. We had a pretty little cottage and ponies.

You know what kind of a home it was, Audrey—no luxuries, no magnificence, but the ideal of warmth, comfort and hospitality. Lord Latimer was our landlord; he owns almost half the county of Daleshire. He has a large mansion there called Hillsides Towers, but he seldom or never goes there. He owns hundreds of acres of land, and it is all let out in farms.

Our farm, Fernhills, was by far the largest and best, and my father was on his way to moderate fortune, when all at once the bad seasons began.

The floods came down and the meadows were flooded with water, the crops failed, the cattle died of disease.

All my father's savings had to be spent, and when they were gone he fell into debt.

The rent of the farm was enormous, and the time came when he was called upon to pay it with all赤字. Of course he could not comply. Bare, black, utter ruin stared him in the face. He was in despair, there seemed to be no help, no hope; everything must be sold, the dear old home broken up, and the world became a fresh—not a very bright prospect. I could not tell you my father's grief. In those few days he grew thin and pale, the very ghost of his old kindly genial self. It was pitiful to see him.

It is, How strange, but how beautiful!

Fancy living always with some one who loves you so well, who cares whether you are dead or not, whether you are too cold or too warm, with some one who gives you sweet words and sweet flowers, who praises you, and kisses you, and cannot live without you. How beautiful!"

"All husbands love their wives, do they not?" I asked, scared in my superior knowledge.

"My husband does not love me," she answered, sobbing.

"I do not agree with you," I said. "Your husband must have loved you or he would not have married you; he did not marry you, you know."

"As he used to make men happy, let us do the same to see."

"This God is marching on."

No Substitutes

For Royal Baking Powder. The "Royal" is shown by all tests, official, scientific, and practical, stronger, purer, and better in every way than all other Baking Powders. Its superiority is privately acknowledged by other manufacturers, and well known by all dealers.

If some grocers try to sell another baking powder in place of the "Royal," it is because of the greater profit. This of itself is good evidence of the superiority of the "Royal." To give greater profit the other must be a lower cost powder, and to cost less it must be made with cheaper and inferior materials, and thus, though selling for the same, give less value to the consumer.

LOOK with suspicion upon every attempt to palm off upon you any baking-powder in place of the "Royal." There is no substitute for the "Royal."

An ox's skull ring, belonging to an ancient Athenian, was lately dug up near Athens.

Blacksmith's tongs and pincers, together with hammers, have been unearthed at Pompeii.

Many pairs of sandals have been recovered at Pompeii. The soles are fastened with nails.

Some remarkable cures of deafness are recorded of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Never fails to cure earache.

Helmets recovered from Pompeii are of iron, and generally very plain. They were not made for show, but for use.

The love of silver is still making many a man buy his lord.

Assist Nature a little now and then, with a gentle, cleansing laxative, thereby removing offending matter from the stomach and bowels, toning up and invigorating the liver and quickening its lively action, and you thereby remove the cause of a multitude of distressing diseases such as headaches, indigestion, or dyspepsia, biliousness, pimples, blisters, empitism, boils, constipation, piles, fistulas and anomalies too numerous to mention.

If people could pay more attention to properly regulating the action of their bowels, they would have less frequent occasion to call for their doctor's services to subdue attacks of dangerous diseases.

That, or all known agents to accomplish this purpose, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are unequalled, as proven by the fact that once used, they are always in favor. Their secondary effect is to keep the bowels open and regular, not to further constipate, as is the case with other pills. Hence their great popularity, with sufferers from habitual constipation, piles and indigestion.

A free sample of the "Pellets," (4 to 7 doses) on trial, is mailed to any address, postpaid, on receipt of name and address on postal card.

Better and Cheese-Making Machinery.

Chicago contains the largest manufacturing facility in the world for the production of butter and cheese-making machinery. The firm is known as the Davis & Rankin Building and Manufacturing Company, at 210 to 234 Lake street. Its factory is turned out everything required in the production of butter and cheese. The firm can find here, at insignificant cost, useful devices for converting his milk into marketable form, and the community that wishes to establish a creamy, large enough to accommodate with equal facility.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principle embodied in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative, effectively cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and refreshingly curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

It is one thing to have a Bismarckian policy and another to have a Bismarckian hand to guide it. It is perfectly referred to Emperor William.

MISS WILLARD believes there was a portion of vertebral attached to the tail of which Eve was made. Adam's subsequent attitude relative to the apple would seem to lend color to the theory.

John Brown, the English labor leader, says that he cannot talk fairly of American affairs, as it would take years for him to learn them.

At a Pennsylvania military camp, the leader of a crowd of brawlers has been unmercifully beaten by the man who was beaten. This ought to be a good way to stop one of the most senseless and brutal of college customs.

Is it because the possibilities of life insurance firms are only just beginning to be revealed that so many of them nowadays are at the bottom of other crimes? If not, what is the true explanation? Is it the loss of respect for law, decay of public morale or depression caused by the long spell of hard times?

In the new president of Brazil succeeds in his efforts to reduce the size and curtail the power of the army, he will do more toward giving the people that full measure of freedom which a people ought to insure. Eventually the empire was overshadowed by the overwhelming power of soldiers, has been an obstacle in the way of progress.

Strood Kaiser William succeed in passing his anti-revolutionary law, which, in effect, abolishes free speech in Germany, there seems to be no reason why he shall not next draft a law forbidding people to think him either a fool or eccentric, or an idiot. So foolish thinking in these modern days is not far from sounding speech.

MUHAMMED WAZIR, the apostle of Islam in America, is in danger of losing his official head, the Moslem Institute of New York threatening to place him in trial for misnomer. It may be such a thing as a Moslem institute in America to look after the misnomer of Muhammadan dignitaries, or it is a good time for it to follow the New York example.

It appears that the Paris and the Latvians did not meet on their last trip across the Atlantic. They simply made a simultaneous run. This is a term which could be used in different ways. When a man is afraid that his wife will desert him if he tells her that he has been to a horse race, he can say that he just witnessed a dangerous run. There can be nothing wrong in that!

CHARLEY MITCHELL, who has been popularly supposed to be dying of right's disease, is coming over to America with the avowed purpose of settling on a fight. Charley may be an occasional kidnapper, but I mind continues unimpaired, and would work the American public his dollar, he had only a week alive. If Sullivan had Mitchell's boldness he would be the richest man in the world.

The price of wheat is affected to a considerable extent by the increasing imports from Argentina. One probe Santa Fe—which had 1,600,000 bushels in wheat a year ago has 4,000,000 bushels down this year. The formidable competition has forced some to stay and the days of dear wheat and large profits are over. And in wheat raisers, like the cotton growers, will soon have to face the option of a more diversified agriculture.

Complaints of assault and battery have run out of the foot ball matches, wear some of our institutions of learning. This is a rather solemn topic of inter-collegiate rivalry. Unless some of the rough play that has been indulged in the past year is discontinued, there seems to be no reason why the processes of law should not be invoked, as far as in all cases of extreme brutality. Foot ball does not excuse savagery.

It was to be expected that the Daughters of the American Revolution would be a spirited lot, but there seems no occasion for the constant quarrels in which the ladies of this order are embroiled in the East. It seems that the trouble is over the question of lineage and social standing, for the ladies are quite forgetful that about a century ago the "combatants' farmers" of whom they are proud to-day had little to brag of in the way of blue blood.

A NEW YORK electrotyping firm is said to have hit upon an idea of electrotyping articles of apparel which it is declared to preserve as mementoes. A baby's first shoes, for example, may be preserved indefinitely in metal. We might give other instances, but, although we should be sorry to discourage the firm, so far as our own experience goes mementoes do not generally take the form of wearable apparel. Such things as Tommy's first trousers and Johnny's first top hat would scarcely make good souvenirs.

WANTS TO KILL BLIXT

HOWARD MAKES A COOL BLOODED PROPOSITION.

The Initiator of the Murder of Miss Gisele Will Do Away with His Accomplice—News of Interest from the Northwest.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 26.—In the story that comes from the country jail is the name Harry Hayward, charged with the murder of Catherine Ging, as more than a "head incarnate." That the calm exterior of Hayward is but a cover for the most desperate schemes and purposes became so apparent to the officers who have him in their keeping that they believe the trial will not last without episodes of a blood curdling character. Other officers of justice who have been through the inside of the case against Harry and Harry Hayward think the same thing.

An attempt to bribe Sheriff Ege to kill him to kill himself is sensational, but true news from the jazz "Hayward" is desperate. His actions indicate this, however viewed. He made a proposition yesterday that Blix should be killed and suicide claimed. It is thought Hayward is insane.

CHOICE IOWA LANDS AT STAKE.

Validity of Tax Titles in Question Through Former Owner's Insanity.

STORY CITY, Iowa, Dec. 26.—Suits have been begun in the Iowa Supreme Court involving thousands of acres of land in northwestern Iowa. In the early '90s John Irvin located a large number of military land warrants upon some of the choicest lands in northwest Iowa. During the war Irvin became financially embarrassed and failing to pay taxes upon his Iowa lands, they were sold at tax sale. Tax titles thus acquired were purchased by parties who improved the lands and held for many years, resold upon them. In October, 1892, Irvin died in Nebraska, and now his heirs have brought suit to redeem from the tax sales, claiming Irvin was insane at the time the lands were sold for taxes, and so continued up to the time of his death. In Clay county alone over seventy different farms are involved.

Will Investigate a Dog's Welfare.

LANSING, Mich., Dec. 26.—The depositors of the Central Michigan Savings bank, which closed its doors in April, 1890, since which time it has been in the hands of a receiver, met yesterday and appointed a committee to make thorough investigation of the books in order to determine who was responsible for its wreck. Many of the depositors are in an ugly mood and the movement is directed against the several persons who are generally suspected of profiting by operations which ruined the institution.

Followed a Man to Justice to Run.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Dec. 26.—William Mentzel, a Postal Telegraph telegrapher, took a few drams of liquor yesterday, borrowed a 12 caliber revolver from the bartender, went into the street and shot down Frank Tracy, a carpenter, and a friend of Mentzel. A more cold-blooded murder was never committed in the city. Mentzel's only excuse for the crime is he felt an impulse to kill some one and, as Tracy was the first man in sight, he shot him.

She Is Stamped to Death by a Cow.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 26.—Gov. Mathews often seen last evening said that no requisition had been issued by request of Gov. Altgeld of Illinois for the arrest of Dr. S. Bryan. He said nothing had been received at his office or sent out in reference to the matter. Mr. Bryan also denies any requisition has been issued for him.

No Requisition for Bryan.

LOXON, Dec. 26.—Lady Henry Grosvenor, wife of the second son of the duke of Westminster, died last night at Eaton Hall, the residence of the duke of Westminster. She gave birth to a boy Sunday. Lady Henry Grosvenor was the daughter of James H. Erskine Wenman and was married April 21.

LOXON, Dec. 26.—A dispatch from Rome says the pope has conferred the decoration of commander of the Order of St. Gregory the Great upon Rajah Gopette Rao, in recognition of his services to Catholic missionaries.

ATTACK AN OFFICER.

Desperate Effort of Street Ruffians to Rescue a Comrade.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 26.—While policeman McFarland was attempting to arrest William Brown, one of a gang of up town toughs last evening, he was set upon by Charles Gallagher, John Morrell and William Staar, companions of Brown. To defend himself and hold his prisoner, McFarland fired three shots from his gun, one of which tore out Gallagher's right eye and another lodged at the base of the brain. The other man then seized the policeman's club and pistol and, after knocking him down shot twice at him. One bullet struck the policeman's arm and the other inflicted a flesh wound on the body. Gallagher is dying at a hospital and McFarland is in a serious condition as a result of the clubbing. Morrell and Staar are in custody. Brown escaped.

Fire Loss at Albany.

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 26.—The upper portion of the handsome six-story building of the Young Men's Christian association, adjoining the famous Kenmore hotel, and located in the heart of the business district North Pearl and Steuben streets, was gutted by fire last night. The loss will reach nearly $80,000.

Flagler Is in Peru.

TAOS, N. M., Dec. 26.—A private dispatch from Austin, Texas, says Gov. Hogg has already selected an office to come to Florida for the person of H. M. Two Sticks Must Die by the Roy.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—The President has refused the application for pardon in the case of the Indian, Cha Nape Hual, alias Two Sticks, who was convicted of murder in South Dakota and sentenced to hang next Friday. Distressing Condition of Affairs Caused by Newfoundland Bank Failure.

S. J. JOHN, N. Y., Dec. 26.—A fort night has elapsed since the commercial bank disaster and the situation is as yet unimproved. There is intense suffering and destitution in this city; every kind of employment has ceased and it is as unlike Christmas as possible. The cold, too, is intense and nearly all are unprovided for it. Hundreds, the possessors of commercial bank notes, can not purchase food or fuel. Business people demand cash and the public offices will take nothing but gold. The house of assembly Tuesday night debated a motion proposed by Ex-Ambassador General Morrison, leader of the opposition, that the government bring in a bill compelling the commercial and national banks to accept their own notes in liquidation of the amounts owed by the debtors of the banks. The banks' debtors would be very glad to give good and exchange for the notes and then pay the banks with the same.

KNOW NOTHING OF PEACE.

Japanese Legation at Washington, D. C.

NO NEWS FROM HOME.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—No information here of the appointment of naked commissioners to treat with the Chinese ambassadors recently appointed.

The suggestion is advanced that the Japanese government is probably awaiting the arrival of the Chinese ambassadors before making the appointments. The Japanese commissioners need not, in fact, be appointed until some formal proposal is made by the Chinese envoys.

Owing to the fact communication from Peking to Chinese ports is somewhat delayed on account of the frozen rivers and canals, the arrival of the Chinese in Japan may be delayed for some time.

Nothing concerning the reports that Shao, one of the Chinese ambassadors, will be persona grata to the Japanese, on account of his action as governor of Formosa, has been received.

YOKOHAMA, Dec. 26.—Although Japanese rule is accepted by the Koreans generally, the Tong Haks are still active. They had just captured Lai-Tsia-pai, the capital of the province of Hsiao-Tsien.

They expelled the governor and installed one of their number in his place. Three towns in southern Korea have been burned by them.

Their numbers are increasing; they are getting reinforcements from the Tiger hunters.

Nicholas Special Envoy Is in Paris.

PARIS, Dec. 26.—President Castelnau yesterday received Gen. Tchereffoff, the special envoy from Gen. Nicholas, to formally announce the latter's accession to the throne of Russia.

The audience took place in the palace of the Empress. Troops were drawn up in the court yard and Gen. Tchereffoff was received with the highest honors.

Fattering speeches were exchanged.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 26.—The 20th

The rate for the past five years has been $300. The improvement of the new arrangement over the old one and the new arc lights will be well worth the extra expenditure.

Hart captained the local team last year, and his work both in the field and at the bat was extremely good. If Holly reorganizes a club next season, Hart will prove a valuable acquisition.

SERIOUS BLUNDERS.

THEY WILL HAPPEN JUST AT THE WRONG TIME.

The Spanish ladies and their vase—
But That Was Nothing to What Happened When George Crocker Sat Down
Josiah Belden's Parton.

"Perhaps you have never noticed it," said W. H. Barnes to a company of friends with whom he was passing an evening not long ago, "but if you begin to talk about a felon on your thumb you will find that nearly everybody has had one. It's just the same with every other kind of calamity."

Four of the half dozen ladies and gentlemen immediately emphasized the attorney's assertion by showing felon scars upon their digits, save the San Francisco Examiner, and the conversation, at once turned upon the subject of peculiar coincidences, pleasurable and otherwise, but Barnes told the most interesting story of all.

"I had been invited to make some sort of a speech at a Masonic banquet," said he, "and had dressed myself in my best bib and tucker for the occasion. I always did have an idea that it was irresistible. In evening dress with a smile of mock complacency and I felt as if it would be really too bad to waste all my sweetness on a lot of men; even though they might be Masons of high degree. It so happened that on my way downtown I had to pass the home of two most delightful little Spanish ladies, people of the old school, direct descendants of a famous family, though somewhat reduced in circumstances. They were clients of mine, and I felt privileged to pay them an unprofessional visit."

"Now, these dear ladies occupied a comfortable little apartment filled with many relics of their earlier prosperity. Among the articles of virtue cherished in this household was a beautiful Sevres vase, which occupied a prominent position in the parlor on a pretty, but unsubstantial center-table. It was the feature of the room.

"In the midst of their household treasures the two little Spanish ladies sat all unconscious of my approach, and I was equally unconscious of the impression I was about to make. The dim light from a mantel lamp was sufficient for their contemplation of each other, but, coming in out of the dark, as I did, it seemed as if I were entering a dark portal."

Both ladies met me at the threshold and invited me with all their native grace of manner to enter. As I advanced into the parlor I stumbled clumsy over a low, cushioned hassock, fell against the frail center-table, upset the beautiful Sevres vase upon the floor, and broke it into a thousand pieces.

"You can imagine my consternation," continued the narrator. "The ladies did their best to put me at my ease, but that was out of the question. They busied about picking up the pieces of their shattered childhood idol, assuring me meanwhile that it was a matter of no consequence at all, though their chins quivered with an emotion they were far too polite to express in words. I don't think I ever felt so mean in my life. There were two reasons why I could not bear to pay for the broken vase. One was that I hadn't the money; the other was that the ladies were not people to whom I could offer recompence of that kind. Of course they said, and did everything to save me from mortification, but for once I had nothing to offer in excuse for my awkwardness, and, as soon as I could do it decently, I bowed myself out, both the little ladies escorting me to the door and renewing their assurance that the loss of their $500 vase was not worth mentioning."

"Just before I reached the Masonic temple I met Dick Pease. He noticed my distress and asked me what in the world was the matter. So I poured my tale of woe into his willing ear and the story he told me in the line of space went a long way toward proving that, no matter what happens to a fellow, something just as bad probably happened to some one else."

"Seems to me you're making a mountain out of a mole hill," said Pease. "Wait till I tell you the experience George Crocker and I had in New York last winter. Josiah Belden, you know, made his millions out here, and went to New York to spend them. He had bought a nice house on Madison Avenue, furnished it up beautiful, and was enjoying life as only a rich man can. George Crocker and I happened to have nothing to do one night and he suggested that we go around and call on Belden and we did. We found the wealthy California sitting in his parlor with other members of his family and they seemed really glad to see us. The parlor was full of beautiful things, but perhaps the most notable feature was a handsome piano lamp with a cut-glass globe and a shade as big as an umbrella. Josiah pushed an easy chair toward me and asked us to make ourselves perfectly at home."

"Now, you know George Crocker is a sly. When he began to look around for a place to sit he wanted something substantial. There was a comfortable-looking chair near by, but it was one of those beautifully upholstered, easy-castrated things that will fly across the room if you breathe on it. When George sat down, the chair shot away with him as if it had been fired out of a catapult. Of course it made straight for the big piano lamp. The lamp upset, the globe was broken, the oil was spilled on the carpet, the carpet blazed and the house caught fire. It cost Josiah Belden $10,000 to repair the damage."

No Free Transportation of Bicycles and Baby Cabs.

A joint agreement has been made by the C.W.M., D.L. & N., C.G.T., D.G.H.M., F.P.M., G.R.I., L.S. & M.S., and M.C.R.R. Companies, discontiguously the free carriage on passenger trains of bicycles and baby cabs.

Commencing Jan. 1, 1895, such articles will be charged for passengers presenting passage tickets, same as baggage but will, as a rule be checked only to local points on the initial line or to junction points with other lines.

Bicycles will be charged for at one hundred pounds, and baby cabs at fifty pounds, at same rate as excess baggage.

This action is made necessary by reason of the great increase in the number of bicycles and baby cabs being carried in baggage cars, occupying a large amount of room for which it is desirable that some revenue be secured.

Tom had given bonds in a heretofore case to respect the ways of law and order, but liquor got the best of him again. In lieu of a $50 fine he was taken to Detroit Tuesday to remain ninety days.

Electric lighting for the coming five years as per present specifications will cost the village $1,038, not including the town clock and engine house. The rate for the past five years has been $906. The improvement of the new arrangement over the old one and the new are lights will be well worth the extra expenditure.

With the departure of Dr. Hart, dentist, for Holly, Northville's chances for a first class ball team next season are somewhat lessened. Hart captained the local team last year, and his work both in the field and at the bat was extremely good. If Holly reorganizes a club next season, Hart will prove a valuable acquisition.

Printers' Ink says: "Advertise honest. It takes five minutes or disappoint a customer—five years to pleasure him." That is where the Record's advertiser have made their great success. Our subscribers have come to know that they mean what they say—and do it. The Record accepts no unreliable advertising at any price.

The J&AM and RAM lodges held a public installation of officers in Masonic temple last night. After the exercises which were beautiful and impressive, an elaborate banquet was served in their dining parlors. Those present were the members of the order, with their families. Their orchestra furnished the music. It was a very nice and exceedingly enjoyable affair all around.

A certain preacher says, no news paper that tells the truth can make a success. There is doubtless more or less truth in this assertion. The preacher, too, who would openly denounce his outfit all the little signs of omission and commission which he observed, would probably be continually looking for a job. People are always willing to have you give the "other fellow" a rap, but they don't want you to rub them.

As per announcement in last week's Record, the King's Daughters distributed about three delivery wagon loads of eatables, clothes etc., among Northville's needy Monday night, and many a heart was made to rejoice, anew on the following bright Christmas morn.

The home of Mrs. Chas. H. Johnson was the distributing headquarters and so hearty was the response to the invitation to send in something that nearly every room in the house was filled with the good things. The committee had quite a task in fixing up the baskets, but it was all nicely done at last.

The society extends thanks to all who so kindly assisted.
