

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD.

VOL. XXVI, NO. 27

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1895

$1.00 per year, in advance

VILLAGE ELECTION.

It Will Occur Three Weeks From Next Monday.

WHOM WILL YOU NOMINATE?

It Is a Good Time Now to Commence Thinking.

The annual charter election occurs Monday, March 15, and that time will be here almost before the average citizen is aware of it. The retiring aldermen are Messrs Burgess, Wheeler, and Clark—all three good fellows and should be re-nominated. It is understood that the two first named will not allow their names to come up again. Clark is not seeking a re-nomination but he would probably not refuse to allow his name to be presented if Mr. Hutton is not in the field for re-nomination as village president either, inasmuch as he may be away from town within the next few months. He has made a very efficient and careful officer and will retire with honor.

There are several gentlemen who would make good presidents, among whom are Mr. Peal, Dr. Swift, Chas. Booth, Dr. Birrell, B. A. Wheeler and others, any one of whom would be very acceptable to our people generally. Capt. Johnson our present clerk will undoubtedly be re-nominated as he should be. He has made an excellent officer and is very popular. Mr. Lapham and Mr. Babbitt will as usual be the candidates for treasurer.

THE OWL CLUB'S MASQUERADE.

They Had a Delightful Time Tuesday Night.

The "Owl Club's" masquerade party given Tuesday night at the Princess Inn was really the most employable affair of the season. There was about sixty couples present in mask besides some ten or fifteen couples without masks.

The costumes were varied and unique, the "sailor" and "Uncle Sam" being predominant. Probably the most novel costume in the ball room was that worn by Mrs. G. E. Waterman, a riding habit. Miss Minnie Stevens' costume was made from copies of the RECORD. It was very neat. Mrs. Ed. Peeler of Plymouth as an Indian maiden looked very charming. Mesdames Nichols and Tinham as "Iowa summer girls" were very attractive. Mrs. Austin wore a very neat costume representing a school girl. Mrs. J. N. Johnson wore one of the "Belles of Blaeville" suits and even her own husband didn't know her. Mrs. Hueston wore an especially neat costume as did also Miss Buchanan and Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Macomber as a sailor girl was also quite attractive. The two Mrs. Riggs of Plymouth in fire red costumes looked very nice and there were about forty other charming ladies well worth mentioning but our reporter was so completely confused by the brilliancy of the occasion and the new thoughts scenes that he could hardly remember this much. For the gentlemen, Robt. Waterman and Clarence Clark as sailors were probably the best lookers in the hall. Will Tinham and Henry Fry as foolish boys were very comical, but B. G. Finley and Charley Gardner as the big and little clowns carried off the banner of fun. "Gandy" was sorely the hit of the evening, and notwithstanding his painted face, more than a dozen pretty ladies wanted to kiss him.

Altogether it was a great success and everybody had a good time. Guests were present from Plymouth, Detroit and other places.

Suburban News.

The annual salary of Farmington's chief of police is $10.

Only thirteen deaths occurred in the village of Milan last year. A very unlucky number.

Kerr & Jones the revivalists will labor among the sinners at Orion the last of this month.

Frank Polly is the new chief of fire department at Plymouth in place of F. E. Lamphere resigned.

Twelve secret society goats are pastured in the village of Milan in the county of Washtenaw-Monroe.

Holly people were generally well pleased with the appointment of Ed. Lacy as postmaster of that city.

Some of the 1000 gave away minstrel shows at Brighton last week.

The blind man of Northville, the blind

ance was large and the gate money was $75.49.

The railroad association cleared up $363.68 as a result of last season's pumpkin show.

It cost the village of Wayne $50 to damage by fire to their city jail for lodging a ten cent trump one night last week.

Tenton is sighing for a lady minstrel and living picture entertainment in order to keep up with the neighboring towns.

The annual charter election occurs Monday, March 15, and that time will be here almost before the average citizen is aware of it. The retiring aldermen are Messrs Burgess, Wheeler, and Clark—all three good fellows and should be re-nominated. It is understood that the two first named will not allow their names to come up again. Clark is not seeking a re-nomination but he would probably not refuse to allow his name to be presented if Mr. Hutton is not in the field for re-nomination as village president either, inasmuch as he may be away from town within the next few months. He has made an excellent officer and is very popular. Mr. Lapham and Mr. Babbitt will as usual be the candidates for treasurer.

With all the starving and suffering in Nebraska and Dakota, it is said that car load after car load of provisions and clothing are laying around on side tracks because of no action on the part of officials looking toward their proper distribution.

Last week the Fenton Independent thought to throw people off their guard and thus ward off a few hundred valentines by saying "Valentine day next Tuesday." Jennings is using his 1895 calendar.

Grace Allen of Franklin is only a bright young twelve year old school girl, but she is the hustler who has walked two miles to school for three years without being absent or tardy a single time up to date.

Among others connected with the former edition to be issued by the Ann Arbor Daily Courier next week, Mrs. C. M. Coburn, will be editor-in-chief. Mrs. J. E. Beal managing editor and Mrs. Jennie Voorhees fraternal society editor.

John Fulton of Brighton didn't exactly blow out the gas, but he might just as well do so as to have let the gas stove damper open. That was last week. Fortunately neighborly assistance and a doctor happened along just in time.

During the recent Murphy meeting at Howell nearly fifteen hundred signed the pledge. The engineer at the water works pumping station will now take an extra pulpit-hitch on his trousers as he piles in a few tons more of coal each day to supply the increased water demand.

The Milford Times is a lady, so to speak, and remarkable as it may seem, she does not decay her age. The Times celebrated her 25th birthday last week.

The successful manner in which Miss Jackson conducts the Times might with credit be copied by some of the "normal men" editors.

Wyandotte people are trying to figure out who will judge Rep. Moore's bill to extend the corporate limits of that city which that gentleman says he will introduce by request. The "Smoky City" people acknowledge its being a good thing, but they are in the dark as to its origination.

The electric car line at Trenton is so rough that passengers never know whether the cars are on the track or running over the ties. They never stopped, till last week when one car ran down through a stone quarry, and shot the four passengers in a way that caused their teeth to drop out.

The Washtenaw Times quotes Dr. Ryan as condemning the sport of hot racing only where the animals were driven beyond endurance. The Ypsilanti Sentinel answers that Dr. Ryan simply offered a prayer on the Sunday referred to and never said "no" once another "preacher" filling the pulpit. Perhaps the Times had the nightmare.—Adrian Press.

The Daily Courier says that those lousy tramps who have affected the Ann Arbor jail so badly with their small tribe, can be traced straight from Northville to Ann Arbor. No doubt of it. There is no law whereby we can stop Plymouth people from passing through this village when they go to the U. of M. city.

Waltz & Ziegler a well known firm at the little village of Waltz on the F&P.M. near Carlton, have what might be called a cabin on that town. Besides keeping a big general store selling everything from a tooth pick and suit of clothes to a mowing machine, they have the post office and act as agents for the telephone and telegraph companies.

Holly people were generally well pleased with the appointment of Ed. Lacy as postmaster of that city.

Some of the 1000 gave away minstrel shows at Brighton last week.

SPECIAL ATTENTION!

We would call your special attention to our Grocery Dept. this week, which is full to overflowing with the very best goods procurable, with prices that defy comparison.

A HOLIDAY GIFT.

SCENE I. Two pieces with but a single cab fare! (Exit.)

SCENE II. Office of Dr. Pulp, the doctor standing before the picture. Box, papers, etc., on the floor.

Dr. Pulp.—Here's a new patient, with a vengeance! Those dear young ladies may be judges of picture frames, but they certainly know nothing of pictures and the human frame. This is a joke? To send us a picture of my standing this deformed human mummy? Why, I couldn't be in the room with this woman half an hour without performing a surgical operation upon her! I intent make a hole of her nose, Medusa-like, and pierce her cheeks and nostrils!—Poor Miss Jejune!—There's two dollars and a half a present to pay on it first, and I've spent my last dollar!

Mrs. Jejune.—Too bad! I'll have to use the money I had left for flowers for our Christmas dinner. But never mind! This is evidently a picture and a picture is a permanent possession, which flowers are not. (Runs and tumbles in a drawer, returning with the money.)

Mrs. Jejune.—Here it is. Do hurry, Jack, and bring the hamster with you! (Exit Mr. Jejune, with money.)

Mrs. Jejune (tumblin' over box, while

Mr. Jejune kneels and begins to open it)—Oh, how I am gaping over the possibilities of this box! I hope it will turn out to be an exquisite Alexander Harrison or a dark mysterious Cazier!

Mr. Jejune (hammering). From the weight and size I judge it must be a section of the statue of the Parthenon! What a grand life would be for a torch!

Mrs. Jejune (gaping). I wonder if I dare this suspenseful moment to open the box?

Mrs. Jejune (opens the box). Ah! There they both draw out a picture, one in oils, representing a woman's figure looking into a pool of water.

Mrs. Jejune (with gentle reproach). Oh, who could have been cruel enough to send us this dreadful picture? How absolutely monstrous is that pond with those big beans of an intended for water!

Mrs. Jejune (laughing). Yes, I think those are beans for breakers and busters; but they look like boisterous and pillows.

Mrs. Jejune.—Well, whenever it is water it is not. Perhaps it's a representation of the mud-paths of Schenectady, where swimming went last summer.

Mr. Jejune.—No, I think this is of domestic manufacture. She'll be less lymphatic, peevish, after suffering a sea change.

Mrs. Jejune.—Oh, Jack a voyage round the world would do her no good! Do you see that one leg is shorter than the other? A sympathetic gift, you say? Bosphorus!—I would be reduced to the remark, (muttering through the parsoned folds a letter which she opens and reads aloud):

"Dear Miss, I send you with this first painting in oils, of a young girl who has never taken a lesson in her life. I can assure you it will be glad to have this first effort, not only for its own sake, but also because it is by the sale of these studies that this girl makes her living. The picture is called 'The Mirror of Venus.' I am sure you will agree with me that my protege has decided talent."

"With the compliments of the sofa, yours ever,

Margaret Calabash."

While Mrs. Jejune has been reading the letter, Mr. Jejune has placed the picture on a shelf and they both step back and take attitudes of observation.

Mrs. Jejune.—Jack, it's a perfect awful disappointment.

Mr. Jejune.—It's too bad. Miss, but really you deserve punishment for your carelessness for friendship. You go around making yourself so fascinating that people can't resist looking at you with artistic apprehensions, to express their affection.

Mrs. Jejune.—Oh, don't let me, now. I can't stand it. I feel like swearing, eternal enmity to friendship, if this be the result. Do you suppose there are women anywhere who look like that?—Yes? It's just like Margaret Calabash, with her like frenzy for the promotion of retarded genius.

Mrs. Jejune.—What are you going to say to Miss Calabash?

Mrs. Jejune.—Haven't I told you I wish I could say my thoughts? She is a type of that increasing nuisance, the affable woman who is full of theories and eternally doing generous deeds largely at other people's expense! With her usual insatiable enthusiasm, she imposes this horrid thing on us, which not only screws up everything we have, but positively disfigures them!

Mrs. Jejune.—Oh, don't let me, now. I can't stand it. I feel like swearing, eternal enmity to friendship, if this be the result. Do you suppose there are women anywhere who look like that?—Yes? It's just like Margaret Calabash, with her like frenzy for the promotion of retarded genius.

Mrs. Jejune.—That forefinger that told us of in Washington, who got an invitation to a wedding, with "Present at the door," and who wrote to ask what sort of a present was desired, ought to be the pioneer crusader for the Christmas cross. Think of the thousands who are gazing over their presents to-day!

Mrs. Jejune.—I wish some would introduce a bill in the legislature making it a penitentiary offense to send useless Christmas presents. Every year we go through with the same hideous fiction! If we put on evidence all the ugly things that are given us, what would our houses be? It would be a cross between a junk shop and an object lesson in Philistinism! As for this picture, it beats Aunt Martha's hand-painted screen!

Mrs. Jejune.—That forefinger that told us of in Washington, who got an invitation to a wedding, with "Present at the door," and who wrote to ask what sort of a present was desired, ought to be the pioneer crusader for the Christmas cross. Think of the thousands who are gazing over their presents to-day!

Mrs. Jejune.—The practical question that is, before us now is what to do with this picture. We can't hang it.

Mrs. Jejune.—No, hanging is too good for it! I've been pondering. We have not got a filial for Aunt Maria yet. Suppose we sent it to her.

Mrs. Jejune.—But doesn't she know Miss Calabash?

Mrs. Jejune.—So she does! I forgot that. Jack, I have it! Let's pay our doctor's bill with it!

Mrs. Jejune.—How? What? I don't understand.

Mrs. Jejune.—Oh, don't you know that dear old Dr. Pulp wouldn't send any bill when you had the grip? Let's square up the account and send him this! He'd be sure to like it. I am certain he does not know an original Raphael from a chrome, and the frame is gorgeous!

Mrs. Jejune.—I'm afraid that it would not be quite the—

Mrs. Jejune.—Oh, you just leave that to me. You go off and dress for the corner at the Russell's and Bridget will nail up the picture. I will write him the most bewitching little note, and we can leave it outwards to-night.

A mistake has occurred—a most gallant mistake!

Mrs. Jejune (startled). Do you mean about that picture?

Mr. Bumper.—Yes. I sent Miss Ray that picture as a moral protest. I only wish now that I had told her frankly that it had been given me by my family physician—Dr. Pulp.

Welcome Intelligence.

Many residents of this country make

an annual trip to Europe to visit the celebrated healing spring of St. Gallen,

Gaulen, Glarus, Switzerland,

which has had a widespread reputation for more than a century in the treatment of a wide range of chronic

diseases, as rheumatism, and its allied

affections, kidney diseases, irritation,

and inflammation of the bladder, diseases of the stomach, as dyspepsia, etc.

This expensive trip can now be avoided. The remarkable spring of

Bromo-Lithia Water discovered

at Elkhorn, Ohio, possesses all the

healing qualities that chronic cases

have traveled across the ocean for.

The Bromo-Lithia spring is distinguished for the large amount of lithium it contains. It is superior to any of the Lithia Springs of the United States in the combination of its ingredients. It has just recently been introduced into Michigan, and already met with apparently hopeless cases of the above troubles have been cured. A large number of Detroit physicians are prescribing it after giving it a careful test. They speak in their testimonials of the remarkable results

attained by those. Messrs. Pasby &

Laney are the sole agents for this remarkable water. They have recently opened up headquarters at 157

Jefferson ave., Detroit, where they are prepared to show testimonials, explain

the merits and action of the water and give all particulars concerning it by mail or otherwise.

NORTHVILLE RECORD SUPPLEMENT.

Vol. XXVI.

No. 27

AT THE CHURCHES.

Miss Waggoner, Red Miss, coming to Northville Tuesday.

The Recruit's Farmington correspondent is on the sick list, and for the first time in years we are without news
from that lively little village.

At the republican convention held at Pontiac Tuesday Henry W. Belliles of Holly was nominated for county school commissioner. The following were nominated as delegates to the state convention: Milford, F. G. Ely; South Lyon, G. T. Grady; Novi, Del.
Whipple; Farmington, J. L. Hoyle.

SEPTUAGINT.—The physics class has been busy the past few days arranging an electric bell in the high school.

The classics class has just finished reading Evangelie and will now take up Epoch Arden. The essays and reports have done credit to the school.

Mental arithmetic has been introduced into the Intermediate room in our school. We think this is one of the most important studies that can be put into school and are glad to know that it is going to receive careful attention in all of the rooms hereafter.

Cats are commercially important because they are peculiarly important in certain lines of trade. In some parts of the country marine insurance does not cover damage done by the depredations of rats;
but if the owner of the cargo thus damaged can prove that the ship was not furnished with a cat he can recover compensation from the owner of the ship. Then again, a ship that is found under certain circumstances without a living creature on board is considered a derelict and according to certain conditions is forfeited. If it has not frequently occurred, after all the crew have been lost or the ship
otherwise abandoned, that a live carnivorous domestic fowl, but most frequently a cat, being found on board, has saved the vessel from being condemned as a derelict. Consequently ship owners, considering the cat's proverbial tenacity of life, as well as its presence being a bar to claims of damage by rats, always take care not to send a ship to sea without having a cat on board.

NORTHVILLE LOCALS.

We were sorry to hear of an accident
in which Mr. Cook was killed.
The情感家 dropped a lot of eggs
and made a awful mess.
He had no time to get up.
And so we didn't try.
But save our readers one and all
A piece of Painter's pie.

Did you get one—a valentine?
The public fountain is doing no
business these days.

The next "Owl" club party will be held Tuesday evening, Feb. 26.

Following item is copied from a last week's exchange: "The bear saw his shadow."

Mrs. Dr. Donaldson, mother of Mrs.
J. H. Simonds, died at Denver, Colorado,
the 12th inst.

The library entertainment will probably be given Tuesday evening March 5th. Further announcement
later.

We should like two copies each of
the RECORD of dates of Dec. 1 and Jan.
11. If any of our readers have a spare
copy will they please favor us?

Another little batch of the beautiful "dropped down" Wednesday,
patching up the sleighing a little if any patching was really needed.

Call it to that Grover Cleveland is blame for this cold weather. Certainly we had such severe winters under the administration of his predecessor.

The Lucy Macabees have changed their meeting night from Thursday to Tuesday. The next meeting will be held Feb. 19. All members are requested to be present.

The Condensery shipped a lot of canned milk to Japan last week. The lame of the condensed milk put up by the Northville factory extends to almost every country on the globe.

The King's Daughters will meet Monday Feb. 18 at four o'clock at the home of Mrs. E. P. Kellogg. All who have clothing, bedding, etc., to spare
kindly notify the "Daughters" that
the same may be properly distributed.

The district YMCA convention to be held here three days commencing next Friday promises to be a very interesting affair. Arrangements are

All the possible ingenuity of mechanics is now being brought into
action to thaw out the frozen water
pipes about town. From the school yard east on the south side of Main street everybody's tap seems to be dry
while on the opposite side of the street
everything is lovely. The pipes appear to be frozen near at the main.

Appliances for putting up water works pipes together with pieces of the pipes laying in the street in front of the Center street livery barns from Saturday until today, might have been
a serious thing for the village but luckily no accidents resulted. Something similar, without a danger signal attachment, caused Holly to pay $15,- 000 damages a few years ago.

Messrs. Maurice & Morgan of Chi-

Welcome Intelligence.

Many residents of this country make
an annual trip to Europe to visit the celebrated healing spring of Stachberg, Canton Glarus, Switzerland, which has had a widespread reputation for more than a century in the treatment of a wide range of chronic
diseases, as rheumatism and its allied
affections, kidney diseases, irritability and induration of the bladder, disease of the stomach, as syphilis, etc., hepatitis troubles, skin diseases, scrofula, etc.

This expensive trip can now be availed. The remarkable spring of BROMO-LITHIA WATER discovered
at Nipply, Ohio, possesses all the
healing qualities that chronic cases
have traveled across the ocean for.

Thomas Parks who had a tumor removed from his neck some two weeks ago has recovered sufficiently to be out again.

Chas. Hardin is home from Sheridan for a few days. He reports a very satisfactory trade for the new firm of Harmon & Power at that place.

John Shove of Jackson, brother-in-law of Mrs. L. A. Seal, visited here Wednesday and Thursday. Mr. Shove is state agent for the McCormick Reaper Works.

Undertaker Porter was called to Nov. Tuesday to take charge of the funeral services of Mrs. Cudworth whose death is announced in the Nov.
department of this issue.

NORTHVILLE LOCALS.

We met with quite an accident
(not as we went to pass).
The jockeyman dropped a lot of traps
and made a fearful mess.
He had to have 12 traps up,
and so we didn't try.
But save our readers one and all
A piece of painter's pine.

Did you get one—a valentine?
The public fountain is doing no
justice these days.

The next "Owl" club party will be
held Tuesday evening, Feb. 26.

Following item is copied from a last
week's exchange: "The bear saw his
shadow."

Mrs. Dr. Donaldson, mother of Mrs.
J. H. Simonds, died at Denver, Colorado,
the 12th inst.

The library entertainment will
probably be given Tuesday evening,
March 5th. Further announcement
later.

We should like two copies each of
the Record of dates of Dec. 4 and Jan.
11. If any of our readers have a spare
copy will they please favor us?

Another little batch of "the beautiful" dropped down Wednesday,
patching up the stitching a little, if any patching was really needed.

Can it be that every Clermont is to blame for this cold weather? Certainly

we had no such severe winters under

the administration of his predecessor.

The Lady Macabees have changed their meeting night from Thursday to Tuesday. The next meeting will be held Feb. 19. All members are requested to be present.

The Condensery shipped a lot of canned milk to Jason last week. The fame of the condensery has put up by the Northville factory extends to

almost every country on the globe.

"The King's Daughters" will meet Monday, Feb. 18 at four o'clock at the home of Mrs. E. P. Kellogg. All who

kindly notify the "Daughters" that

the same may be properly distributed.

The district YMCA convention to be
held here three days commencing next Friday promises to be a very interesting affair. Arrangements are about all complete for caring for the large delegation which is expected to be in attendance.

The latest edition of the Record continues to baffle. The advertising committee are already successfully at work and are meeting with much encouragement. The reporters have sharpened up their pencils and have their note book all prepared for business.

The "Lincoln" Lecture by Judge
Donovan of Detroit to be held at the Presbyterian church on the 25th, after will prove a great treat for our people. The only regret in all probability will be that the church will not accommodate the large crowd which will likely be present.

When the water was shut off at the reservoir last week Friday night to repaire pipes, a number of folks along the village thought their local pipes had frozen up. Some of them

brought in the services of a plumber and for hours threated out imaginary frozen pipes.

The conjectured Friday night of last week but no report from the mill pond committee being ready they adjourned to Monday night but as no report from the agricultural college had yet been received no meeting was held at that time either. A special will probably be called next week.

We missed our old friend, the Northville Record, from our desk this week,
but we thought we recognized the fine Italian hand of brother Neal in the new paper that appeared, the Novi Record, Delray Herald.

"Italian hand." Does that mean hard-organized, belligerent peddler or a rag picker?

These contemplating auction sales
should bear in mind that the RECORD office is better equipped than ever before to supply their needs in the way of bills. We will also give each sale re-notices in the RECORD. When one considers the large circulation, nearly 1,000 copies per week, this alone is quite an object.

The Uniform Rank, E. of P., held their annual meeting Monday night and elected the following officers for ensuing year: F. S. Neal, captain; A.

K. Dolph, lieutenant; Jno. Sewell,

herald; F. A. Miller, recorder; W. H.

Stark, treasurer. The attendance was good and after the election a lively half hour's drill was indulged in.

Now that the Holly Advertiser and

the RECORD have set the mark, being the first weekly papers in the United States to attempt the project, it is safe to say that about every country weekly

in the state will get out a special ladies edition. The latest heard from is the Elie Son which turns its issue of Feb.

22 over to the churches of that place.

An anti-whisky club has been formed in the village among the male population and as a result there are some of the homeliest looking faces being carried around that one could find any where in the state. It is not to be wondered that water works pipes are freezing up and bursting, the only wonder is that the town clock hasn't stopped.

C. D. Harmon has leased his farm for a term of years and will sell at public auction on the premises near

the U. S. Fish Hatchery on Saturday,

large bills.

All the possible ingenuity
mechanics is now being brought into
action to thaw out the frozen water
pipes about town. From the school house east on the south side of Main street everybody's tap seems to be dry
while on the opposite side of the street
everything is lovely. The pipes appear to be frozen near, or at the bottom.

Appliances for putting in water
works pipes together with pieces of the pipe laying in the street in front of the Center street lively farms from Saturday until today, might have been
a serious thing for the village, but luckily no accidents resulted. Something similar, without a danger signal attachment, caused Holly to pay $15, 60 damages a few years ago.

Messrs. Maurice & Morgan of Chicago who have been refitting the scenic part of the opera houses at Milford, Holy and other towns will commence work on the Northville opera house evening next week. An entire new drop curtain scene will first be put up on which will appear the outs of some of our leading business houses. This improvement will be appreciated by our people.

Jas. Cork has just had a funny experience. His pump gave out one day last week and he hired himself to the water board and took out a water works permit for three months. He got two full pull full when the water works main gave out. Then he went to work and fixed up his pump and got that nicely to working when the water works came in all right again.
"I am" says his all pump and all water works.

Mrs. Mary Ann Starrat died at the home of Mrs. Thos. Pinkerton three miles north-east of this village Sunday morning. She had been ill but a few hours and her death was a sudden blow to the relatives and friends. Miss Starrat was born at Farmer village
N. Y., some seventy-three years ago and resided there until eleven years ago when she moved here. The funeral occurred Wednesday afternoon from the late home, Rev. Mr. Belding officiating. Miss Starrat was an aunt of Mrs. Wm. Pinkerton. She was an esteemed lady and highly respected.

Dr. R. M. Johnson of Novi loans us unique looking paper for these days.

The large snow drift on Plymouth

STATE NEWS NOTES.

A CHAPTER OF THE DOINGS OF MICHIGANDERS.

Michigan Populists Meet in Convention at Escanaba. Michigan Crop Report for February. Says Wheat Outlook Is Fair.

Carrie Custer Bradley Dies.

Populist State Convention.

The state Populist convention at Green Bay was attended by 225 delegates. J. W. Ewing, of Grand Rapids, was made chairman and V. J. Foster, of Mr. Clement's secretary. The report of the platform committee to strike out all of the Omaha platform except the money plank met some opposition. It was compromised by adopting a resolution denouncing the Cleveland administration and both old parties, demanding unrestricted coinage of gold and silver at a ratio of 16 to 1; the issue of paper money without intervention of banks; to prohibit further issues of government bonds. Resolutions were adopted commending Gen. Warren and Eugene V. Debs, extolling sympathy to labor organizations and inviting them to join the Populist party. Gen. Warren, A. B. Taylor, Judge Cole and Mrs. Martha Root of Bay City made addresses.

The following were nominated on the state ticket: Justice of Supreme Court, A. B. Taylor, Bay City regents, V. J. Foster, Mr. Clemens and Geo. H. Smith, Benzie county.

Populist Crop Report.

The Michigan crop report for Feb. 2 says that in reply to the question, "Was wheat during January suffered injury from dryness?" 14 correspondents in the southern counties answered yes, and 20 no. In the central counties 34 answer yes, and 12 no; and in the northern counties 6 answer yes, and 30 no.

The total number of bushels of wheat marketed by farmers in this month, August-January, 7,399,944, which is 162,977 bushels less than reported marketed in the same months last year. The condition of live stock averages from 90 to 95 per cent, comparison being with stock in good healthy and thrifty condition.

Wheat on the P. & R. is in Snow Bank.

One of the worst weeks on the Pontiac, Oxford & Northern railroad happened to a special train out from Pass City, headed by a snowplow and two engines. The snowplow was turned completely around and the rear end placed on the top of a 13-foot embankment, which is nearly perpendicular. The engine twisted half way around. The fore part of the engine was completely demolished. The second engine was also damaged. The first coach got loose so as to be practically useless. No one was injured to any extent. There were three men in the snowplow when it was demolished. They were soon captured and got out.

Caving Bradley Acquitted.

After being on six hours the jury in the case of Carlisle Bradley, in Michigan, returned a verdict of not guilty of making false report of the condition of his bank, as charged. Bradley's good character and standing came into play and several citizens tried to influence the trial intention was withdrawn.

W. Jennings' barn near Owosso, was destroyed and 20 sheep perished. Loss, $2,000 covered by insurance.

The Ann Arbor Courier will be published by the ladies of the University town on Washington's birthday.

Lakerview had another big fire. The continental hotel, Bates' opera house, hotel barn and one dwelling house burned.

S. D. Crov. of Grand Rapids, gave himself several frightful cuts with a knife trying to suicide. He will recover.

Mrs. Henry Boe, of Millmore, vanished away without sufficient clothing, and it is feared she has perished in the cold.

Miss May McLaughlin, of Tecumseh, was fatally burned by her clothes catching fire from a stove. She was 50 years of age.

The Y. P. S. C. is of the southwest district of Michigan, comprising 10 counties, held a three days convention at Cassopolis.

Houghton's Law and Order league gave the marshal warning that they will remove him if he don't fight against law violators.

Harry Stephenson, the Arenac county lumberman, who so mysteriously disappeared, has been located in the Georgian Bay territory.

Memorials to the dead have developed a big herring business. They have already 600 boxes packed and shipped.

The function dep't of the D. L. & N. and Ann Arbor railroads about a mile from Howell, burned. Nothing but the records were saved. The loss is $10,000.

The female minstrel crew still continues. Igneous society ladies have had their attire and are recovering. Owosso ladies will try it on Washington's birthday.

The home of Rev. Sam Bettis, the cowboy preacher, burned at Yale, and Mrs. Bettis escaped to a neighbor's home, night clothes, carrying a three day old baby.

Waterford, Pontiac, was given over to gaudy fun; several shrubs were dislocated and clouds disturbed when the florist gave the stars a three day old baby.

STATE LEGISLATURE.

Senate Committee on Finance, composed of Senator Johnson, Detroit, and Senator Clark, the new Senator from Wyoming, was called to order to consider a bill to amend the state constitution to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors. The bill was referred to the committee on judiciary, and Senator Clark moved to postpone the bill to the next session.

Senate Committee on Education, composed of Senator Johnson, Detroit, and Senator Clark, voted to postpone the bill to the next session.

Genuine Bargain Month!

AT RICHARDSON'S BUSY BIG STORE!

Remember that when we say Bargains! it means something. It don't mean a small per cent discount sale for a day or two, but it means a line of goods sold regardless of prices until all are closed out.

NOVI LOCALS.

The roads have had to be shoveled out again.

Hon. A. N. Hinman was in town over Saturday.

D. C. Doyle is thinking seriously of removing to Detroit.

Heavy tempest has made its appearance in this locality.

John Wall was with Northville friends from Friday until Monday last week.

F. H. Johns of Millington was in his old neighborhood for a short time last week.

Harry Springer laid up with injuries from a fall. The injuries are not serious however.

A number of Novi people attended the Lincoln Club banquet at Pontiac Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Chamberlain of Farmington is spending a few days with the family of O. M. Whipple.

O. M. Whipple is away with the firm of Tormans' association, doing the principal business of the south.

Clyde Putnam and his sister, Mrs. Frank Chapman, attended the funeral of a cousin at Belleville last week.

Patentees in several road districts in this vicinity were obliged to call out the men and open the roads Monday by shoveling.

J. L. Peeler has leased the elevator and residence of D. S. Magill and will continue the produce business heretofore conducted by Mr. Magill. The change takes place March 1 when Mr. and Mrs. Magill will go to Toledo to reside.

We are sorry to lose Mr. and Mrs. Magill from our midst. Mr. Magill has done much for the people of our vicinity by giving us a good market for our produce. Mrs. Magill has proven a genial spirit among us and her levitating will be much regretted. We hope that both may form pleasant relations, both social and business, as have been enjoyed by them during their residence at Novi.

The remains of Mrs. Sarah Cudworth were brought here from Bath, Mich., last Monday and buried Tuesday. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Brundage.

The following obituary notice was read during the services.

Sarah Bennett Cudworth, the deceased was born Feb. 7, 1826, in the township of Sheldy, Orleans county, New York.

Moved to Michigan with her parents in 1839, coming the overland route with an ox team. She was one of a family of thirteen children, of whom only three now survive her. She was united in marriage to Zabina Cudworth Oct. 31, 1847, her having died in 1852. She has lived since her marriage years which were practically impassable and those living on the gravel road could not get out of their gates with a cutter without digging. Consequently only a few living near the school house assembled and no meeting was held. A jolly load went up from Novi, but were disappointed.

Come again folks. If the elements permit the society will be "to the fore" tomorrow evening and will endeavor to make visitors welcome and to entertain them as well as possible. For program see last week's Record.

The Novi correspondent of the Living Issues of Feb. 1 asks: "Will Sheriff Todd have his deputy at this place look after the violations of the liquor laws? That liquor is sold at one place here no, give doubt. But the newly appointed Deputy here knows it there is no doubt, and he ought to take them live up to the laws."

Whether the correspondent expects to gain authority by asking such questions in the office followed by such bold conclusions we know not. But we believe that such statements only tend to place the writer thereof into a higherea position among his acquaintances.

A. C. Bird, Highfield, vice president, H. H. Fox, Mason, secretary and treasurer, A. N. Hinman, Wisconsin director, K. D. Dingle, Holly; F. Farley, Snyder, B. F. Peckham, Parma; F. M. Shepard, Burton; H. A. Daniels, Elvira, G. Hoyt, Schieffelin; J. T. Daniels, Clinton, Home.

Frank Johnson, attorney, Saginaw, Barlow, Coats have been thrusting a cruel and painful dart clear into the quick of their friends by inquiring their determination to strike out for the wild and fuzzy land of the west.

They are to ride till the horses give out and then "falter" the rest of the way." Reku will settle among some Indian tribes as a slave; Barlow will hunt prairie dogs and boulders while Barney, our own dear Barney, will start a "slight of hand" museum bear some very friendly wigwam. Here is the song they expect to sing on their way back:

"We tramped 'er down to Texas,
But found pon' gettin' there, alas,
That one sought for uncle Thomas.
Had gone across the 'islands';
So we left for home on a m'pass,

Arriving there quite heart-broken,
By Judas.

If it is alleged that a certain young fellow went (or came) sparkling a Novi lady a short time ago and left his horse by the roadside until after midnight. This occurred on one of the coldest nights we have had. Now this is certainly cruel and the young man whose regard for the comfort of his horse is so lacking would certainly make life miserable for the unfortunate lady who might become his wife. The same practice is indulged in by many who seem, for the time at least, to forget that a horse has any feelings.

Good fortune the poor brutes don't know their strength or these heartless fellows would probably be kicked so full of holes that they would be condemned for sewer grates.

The semi monthly blizzard arrived on schedule time last Friday and Saturday, and although the weather became clear towards night Saturday, it was too late for the "V.N.D.C. folks" to shovel themselves out in time to get to the school-house. Many of the active members live on the north and south roads which were practically impass-

SHE WOULD BE A BEAUTY IF
her face wasn't covered with pimples and blotches. How often we hear this expression. 'Tis a pity this beauty with an "it" did not go to Steven's drug store and get a trial (5¢) bottle of Foley's Sarsaparilla, which would soon clear her complexion.

WALLED LAKE.

Miss Bertha Welch has returned from Milford.

A little daughter at the home of Wm. Axford is a new arrival.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nichols on Tuesday, Feb. 5, a son.

Miss Lizzie Hoyt has returned from Detroit where she has been for some time.

A number of people in this vicinity are complaining about their cellars being frozen.

Quite a number of "tip overs" have resulted from the roads being so badly blocked with snow banks.

Mrs. H. D. Nichols is still with her daughter, Mrs. John Tucker of Greenfield, who is dangerously ill.

The memorial services for Mrs. Lathrop last Sunday evening were well attended. The exercises were very good.

Last Thursday Dr. Burgess and Chaplain removed a tumor from Julian Devereaux's abdomen. He is doing as well as could be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ryel and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Church went to Lyon last Wednesday evening. The ladies sang at the musical entertainment held there that evening.

Slang Poetic.

What a queer old world is this of ours.
In these nineteenth century days!
Would make our ancestors "too tired!"

To "catch on" to our ways.

If one of those dear ancient daddies

Could just come back some time,

He would "get right up off climb."

He'd find the children all were gone,

All "kids" left, in most cases,

Fathers all changed to "governors,"

And "trolls" in teachers' places.

In place of cherishing them,

"Fathers"—"to beat the band,"

No courageous, brave or bold;

But "just cheerful full of good."

Instead of mothers and their kind,

"Quill drivers" would be found,

And where physicians ought to be,

"Pill peddlers" would abound.

Policemen would be hard to find—

"Peeler" and "cop" galore.

These might, sometimes, arrest a man;

But they'd "get the barge" on more.

No business failure any more;

But "burst up," "smash" or "trifle,"

And in the place of food and drink,

"Hell and gruel" or "hash" and "swizzle."

The farmers, too, would be quite scarce;

Though "hayseeds" might abound;

And where ex-soldiers used to be,

A few "vets" might be found.

And don't you think it would bother him

To find "where he was at?"

If some one said "give us a rest,"

You're "walking through your hat!"

Do you think he'd know what ailed a man,

If you said "his ears were noise?"

Or that he had the "swell head?"

And was "run to the caboose?"

If you should ask him for a loan,

Imagine what he'd think!

If you "loaned him" for "a little dust,"

Or "a small amount of chink!"

I fear he'd fail to understand

How to "travel on his face,"

Or how to "walk off on his ear."

Or why "he's off his base."

And when we heard the orators,

And the lawyers and the preachers

And the doctors and the scientists

And philosophers and teachers

Interpolate their sentences.

With dialect surprising,

I fear he'd wish stayed asleep

And never thought of rising.

He'd conclude he'd been "too previous"

And wish he still might slumber,

Because he "wasn't built that way."

But was only a "back number."

And should he in desperation try

Philological research,

He'd soon get "tautied" and "broke up."

And "come right off his perch."

But even when he fails would die

He must "turn up his toes,"

"Pass in his cheeks" or "kick the bucket."

To gain his last repose.

And when on fine head "got the chin."

And reached his final ramble.

He'd groan, "Perhaps this world's a snap."

But thank Heaven, I'm "not in it."

D. F. H.

For W. N. D. C. Novi, Mich. Jan. 2, 1851.

"THERE'S NOTHING LIKE IT."

The above quotation will apply equally well to either the Present Weather or

"Gold Lace" Flour.

The only possible difference is that your liking would tend in favor of our flour. Don't accept any "just as good" substitute, there is none just as good.
