ONE OF THE YMCA DELEGATES.

The Town Is Full of the Hustling Young Church Workers.

As previously announced in the Record, the sixth annual Detroit district conference of the YMCA begins a three days' session in this village today. It is expected that 75 delegates will be present and that the meeting will be one of the best held for years.

Business commences tonight at 8.00 o'clock when the local league renders the delegates a banquet in Richardson's society hall. Short talks in the way of toasts will conclude the entertainment after which the visitors will be escorted to their downy couches.

Saturday morning and afternoon the exercises will be held in the Presbyterian church as follows:

- 9 00 Song service.
- 9 30 Personal blessing meeting.
- 9 30 Bible talk, by A. L. Parker, Gen'l Sec'y Detroit Association.
- 10 00 The possibilities and responsibilities of the corresponding member. U. A. Dolph, Cor. Member Northville.

How can he fulfill them? Rev. Chas. M. Brown, Tecumseh.

10 45 Symposium on methods and means, conducted by U. B. Boda, Dep't Sec'y Eastern Branch Ass'n, Detroit, assisted by several other speakers.

Handled and twenty minutes for refreshments everywhere.

The afternoon session commences at 2.00 o'clock with a song service, followed by a personal blessing meeting in the morning.

2 30 Bible talk, A. L. Parker.

3 00 Our state executive committee and its work, H. M. Clark, State Secretary.

3 45 The general opportunity in college life for systematic Christian work. Prof. M. G. Jennings, Adrian College.

4 00 The need for and opportunity of the Bible clubs in association work. W. C. Hull, Gen'l Sec'y Ann Arbor Ass'n.

4 30 A sample Bible class conducted by A. E. Thind, Gen'l Sec'y A Briton Ass'n.

The Saturday evening service will be as follows:

7 30 Song service.

7 45 What needs to be done for young men? Rev. J. M. Barkley, Detroit.

8 15 Who shall do it? Rev. Chas. M. Brown, Tecumseh.

8 45 Question drawer. H. G. Van Poyl, Chairman State Ex. Com.

The Sunday service will be as follows:

9 00 Personal blessing meeting held at the Baptist church.

10 30 Services in all the three churches conducted by delegates.

3 30 Mass meeting for young men in the Presbyterian church.

7 00 Mass meeting for the general public in the Methodist church to be addressed by special speakers.

STILL ANOTHER GLANCE.

Village Election and Possible Candidates.

Since making the announcement last week, President Hutton has accepted a position in the village and having made a very efficient officer he will doubtless be re-nominated on the "Workingmen's" ticket. The "Citizens" ticket will probably be headed by Charles Booth.

For aldermen, Bealton, or 1st ward, will doubtless claim their entitlement to one member of the board. There are at least three good men mentioned there in the persons of Wm. Phillips and John Dolph and Sam Wilkenson. For the city proper Ald. Burgess should be induced to serve another term. He is too good a man to let go. Ald. Wheeler also ought to be retained. Ald. Clark will doubtless be re-nominated though he cannot be both a candidate and election inspector. He is too good a man to have on the council to be allowed to retire. Other possible candidates are F. A. Miller, W. G. Yerkes, W. H. Hutton, Chas. Filkins, etc.

For clerk, Chas. H. Johnson the present incumbent, will be re-nominated to be sure. He should be. Charley has made an extremely good officer, is very popular and should be re-elected. That man Neal is also candidate for nomination for the same office on one ticket. He will doubtless be defeated at the polls even if he isn't in the caucus. However, in any event he won't become "sofe headed" or feel bad about it. No, don't be troubled about Neal's feelings. Go in and mop the earth with him. It's a good time to get even with the rascal, any how.

For assessor, there's D. B. Northrop, W. H. Ambler and S. E. Clouston to select from. These are mentioned with others as possibilities.

For treasurer, the names of L. A. Babbitt and Ed H. Lapham are being talked of. Both are first-class men and either would be very acceptable to all concerned.

In all probability E. Viadenburg and I. N. Blackwood will come up for street commissioner as usual and W. H. Brigham and P. E. White for peace preservers.

Suburban News.

Corn meal socials are what they're getting at Wayne.

Foxleville is the latest town for a lady minstrel snow craze.

Two Holly ladies were arrested last week charged with shop-lifting from Phil Calken's store.

W. W. Wedemeyer has been nominated by Washtenaw republicans for county school commissioner.

The village of Fenton is to be equipped with two public drinking fountains as soon as navigation opens up.

Holly people are in a bad way, because of the cellar freezing and the consequent loss of canned goods, vegetables, etc.

Four Gray of the Plymouth Mail is engaged to be village clerk over there. As it is no longer heard of, a rumor being related to another.

The South Lyon school board are going to suppress the sale of tobacco in any form to minor even though they have to buy it if the world there is in the town.

Butter use these cents in the store. You will get a deal more for it that way.

A new dance in Trenton compels people to clean off their snow and ice within twenty four hours after it has fallen. Trenton people should profit by Northville's experience and make it four hours.

Representative Woodruff informs Wyandotte people that the orphan bill he has introduced to extend the city's corporate limits is a "skeleton" bill. He still declines to state who the chap is that did the exhuming.

John Coleman of Holly leaves an affidavit with the Advertiser that he saw a robbery in that village on Feb. 9. Now a few years ago Coleman was considered quite a truthful fellow, but the cold weather affects the best of them.

The Ann Arbor Courier in reply to some sharp criticisms on the new city jail's interior finish says "the wooden hunks are as soft to sleep on as are the iron slabs in the county jail." That's right. Besides the locking there's the beer.

A Wayne man placed a little powder in the stove just to clean out the chimney. It did the deed. It not only cleaned out the smoke stack, but the pipes the stove and the kitchen as well. The man will recover. The stove never will.

The Courier asserts that the tramps who are arrested over there and incarcerated in the city lockup are the fellows who pay the fines. It amounts to about $100 a month. Those Ann Arbor tramps are lousy, we do believe—with money.

Orion people who are just venturing back from the woods where they fled for safety from the ravages of last summer's sea-serpent are getting ready to once more take to the forests. Orion's brass band is about to be re-organized.

The Milford Times advises that a lookout be kept for the smooth tongued fellow who wants you to sign a paper for the lease of a steam cooker. "Just a matter of form, you know." Set the dog on him and thereby save the future payment of a $375 fee.

On account of the ice forming a great dam, against Goat Island on March 30, 1848 the water ceased to flow over Niagara Falls for one whole day. As remarkable as this seems it is nevertheless a historical fact and this

A date of sale of Phil Rock has been nominated by the trustees for County School Commission.

And now comes an inquiry from Northville regarding the . . . and with it a suspension. The editor of the Record proposes to stop their mill and start a summer resort. It is an old mill. The noisy black water of that pond may be in harmony with the head, head and spine but a man's stomach could not stand the odorous steam. Orion the view.

AND A GOOD MAN IS GONE.

Charles D. Woodman Died at Midnight Monday Night.

Charles D. Woodman, one of Northville's well known and highly respected citizens, died at his home on West Randolph street at midnight Monday night.

Mr. Woodman's illness, creeping paralysis, had extended over a period of something like a year and the most skilled medical aid afforded but temporary relief. His failure has been so gradual as to be almost imperceptible from day to day, and though the family are sad with grief at the loss of a loving husband and father, they are grateful to an all wise Providence for the sparing of this dear life from week to week, and month to month that they might in a measure be prepared for the final return of the spirit to the God who gave it. He was conscious till within a few hours before he died, and the day before (Sunday) realizing that death was near, he called his family around him and gave them his last wishes mingled with his dying blessing.

Charles Woodman, son of the late E. S. Woodman, was born at West Nov. March 4, 1848. In 1870 he was married to Miss Eda Becker of Walled Lake and they began house-keeping in that village where they continued to reside until 1883 when they moved to Northville. During his residence here Mr. Woodman has been one of the Globe Furniture Co's trusted employees. He was highly respected in the community both as a neighbor and citizen. He was a member of the village board for some years and made a very efficient officer.

Besides the widow the children are Hoyt and Fred two brothers, L. Cass of St. Paul and J. H. of Ypsilanti and one sister, Mrs. D. Barrett of Milford still survive.

The funeral occurred from the home Thursday afternoon conducted by Rev. Mr. Turner of the Methodist church of that city which society deceased was a worthy member. Rev. Seth Reed assisted

THE RECORD.

F. S. NEAL, Publisher.

The Portland minister who turned back robber made a generous mistake. He should have confined himself to an occasional extra rush of the contribution box.

By reading the different Philadelphia papers it is easily seen that the election of either of the candidates for mayor in that city would be a shameful outrage.

The Japanese have won another important victory over the Cause, and if the latter do not expedite their overtures for peace they will soon have nothing left to surrender.

The Southern physician who has just purchased a claim to having discovered that music has a medicinal quality may be expected to long to insist that he also discovered the law of gravitation.

The police census of Washington gives that city a population of 209,628, an increase of nearly 1,000 since 1910. The reports about the crash of office-seekers at the capital have not been exaggerated.

A judge has refused to fine or imprison a man for whistling in the shape of the tune which the whistler was practicing. It is not given, we refrain from giving the opinion whether the judge was right or wrong.

Possibly the story of Captain Dreyfus is not altogether uninteresting. The French government refuses to show the evidence and the captain, who had a magnificent military career before him and who was tried with a certain prospect of a high income of $2,000 a year, still has never run after women, never touched a card in his life, and no need for money. Is Dreyfus, after all, a scoundrel?

Here is a man, the German nation founder, is supplying the Chinese with his famous bullet guns without let or hindrance. But a few little Berlin gun and cartridge makers have been caught manufacturing war materials for the Chinese, and this stuff has been very promptly confiscated. There is, it seems, a difference between the big and the little producers of the machinery of legal-ized murder.

The recently elected president of France was arrested as a trespasser in the grounds of the Hyson palace the other day by a guard not familiar with his appearance. In spite of his protest he was placed in confinement until his identity could be established. When released he stated of possessing any money and having in his pocket a small bag containing the do not as a rule and was released.

If there is anywhere that helped me should up of it, it is in the mind and at the heart. It is in the sympathy which others have given me out of whose sympathy I have been completely cut away or which has suffered serious damage from collision with another or with a world's whiplash thing. Hundreds of lives may depend upon prompt action. A man who would pass by another injured and helpless by the way would be considered a brute. How much greater the crime of those who love a noisy house of a man belongs to the chances of the angry elements.

There ought to be some way in which to make an example of a vessel that, having come into collision with another ship away and leaves the wreckage and crew to help themselves or to perish as they may. It is an altogether too common occurrence. It would be possible to name several striking cases within a few years when a disabled ship was being treated with the most extraordinary and callous indifference by the commanders of others that have recognized her plight, but refused to offer the assistance that the most ordinary humanity would dictate.

The Yale student at large has of late shown no sign of insufficient feeding, either when sheltered by his academic gloves or when cast abroad in the earth on his various occasions; but the local record affirms that he is kicking like the well-known steer of frequent and familiar allusion, at the character of the provender supplied in his Commons hall, and on which he is expected to nurture not only his moral and intellectual growth, but the qualities which sustain him in the exercise of football and in the various adventures which he encounters in his frequent but evading visits to the metropolis. The students certainly ought to be well fed. On this point there is not a dissenting voice among them, and we think they are right.

The annual report of the watch trust shows that the corporation is making money. If there is one trust against which consumers have absolutely no grounds of complaint, it is the watch trust. Under its monopoly, the price of watches has gone down to a mere trifle, and the watches are as good as they ever were.

WARD McALLISTER was probably a useful man in his particular line of employment, but his particular line was one that the country could do without, and with it he suffered any loss.

SHE WAS SYMPATHETIC

But Had Personal Reasons for Anxiety Concerning Strangers.

"I was just as cool as I ever am," said a pretty blonde. "Why, after I had started out I ran back for my satchel because I am going to dinner and it has all my pretty things in it."

"I wish I'd done the same," growled the stout man across the aisle. "I was so busy trying to climb out of the window that I forgot all about it. Say, has anybody seen—"

"My goodness," cried the pretty blonde, "my satchel looks so queer, like it had all been rattled out. What if my lovely things are ruined?" She opened it hastily and closed it with a scream.

"Oh, pardon me," said the conductor, coming up, "but I saw your satchel in the seat you had before."

"Mine," said the stout man, "is the satchel. It has my samples in it. I travel for a suspended hour, m. s. and it would not have been so much good."

"But the pretty blonde was pressing her hot cheeks against the cool window pane and made no reply."

"I was not satisfied at all," said the man with the big eyes. "I always choose a seat in the middle of the car where you can—"

"I know," said the woman, "but back of me was coming down, I never dreamed of fire yet had—"

"I thought you'd be late for supper," said the pretty blonde to her companion, "and I knew that I'd never believe my story of an accident."

"Should see it in the papers," said the stout man, "but I don't know if you'll see it in the papers."

"What you were talking about," said the stout man, "is not the dinner, but the poor man who was hurt. I can't think of anything until I find out if they were badly injured. Oh, what a terrible accident!"

"I will," said the stout man, "I will see to it that the man who was hurt is properly cared for. It is my duty as a companion."

"I don't know if it is my duty," said the pretty blonde, "but I don't know if it is my duty to be kind to a man who is hurt. I don't know if it is my duty to be kind to a man who is hurt."

"You are my father to me," said the stout man, "and I don't know if it is my duty to be kind to a man who is hurt. I don't know if it is my duty to be kind to a man who is hurt."

"I don't know if it is my duty," said the pretty blonde, "but I don't know if it is my duty to be kind to a man who is hurt. I don't know if it is my duty to be kind to a man who is hurt."

"I don't know if it is my duty," said the stout man, "but I don't know if it is my duty to be kind to a man who is hurt. I don't know if it is my duty to be kind to a man who is hurt."

WASHINGTON

The House passed the bill to make the positions of all Veterans of the American Army.

Treasury officials assert that an immediate suspension of gold payments was only averted by the bond contract. The administration's bond contract was sharply criticized in the senate. Senator Gray vigorously defended the President.

By a vote of 50 to 25 the senate decided to take up the Jones law silver bill, and it will undoubtedly be passed. The agricultural appropriation bill was passed by the senate, an attempt to eliminate the irrigation clause being defeated.

A bill for an international commission to investigate the condition of the seas was favorably reported to the house. House conferees refuse to agree to the senate's Hawaiian cable amendment to the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill.

A provision for the issuance of $100,000,000 in 1917 treasury bills was inserted in the quarterly debt bill by the senate committee on appropriations.

But twelve vigorous cries of the session of congress emanated and there is little prospect of anything but the appropriation bill being considered.

Two loads of local Odd Fellows paid Plymouth lodge a fraternal visit Tuesday evening.

There's only one lone letter advertised in the post office this week and it's for G. L. Downs.

One of Frank Macomber's energetic hens has just hatched out nine thorough-bred chickens.

Mrs. C. A. Sessions gave a very pleasant party Monday evening. Thirty-two guests were present.

Ladies will be especially welcomed at all the YMCA meetings except of course the one men's meeting Sunday afternoon.

Northville people were well represented at the Odd Fellows' masquerade at Plymouth last evening. The visitors report a lovely time.

Among the advertising orders which came in Monday for the Ladies' Edition was one for a whole page from a well known New York firm.

Those who have not already sent in their advertising for the Ladies' Edition should not delay a single moment. Rush in that the work may not be delayed.

At the Baptist church Monday evening an entertainment was given for the benefit of the children's organ. It was a complete success and the proceeds were about $5.00.

A number of Mr. Rayson's friends tendered him a surprise party one evening last week. Mr. Rayson's surprise was only exceeded by the general good time which everybody had.

Superintendent Bliss had to go home and get identification cards before the janitor would let him into the school house Monday morning—the result of the professor's visit to the tinsorial shop.

Any girl desiring employment will be assisted in securing a position if she will hand her name, together with written recommendations, to Miss Mrs. H. Johnson, president of the "Kipp's Daughters".

An interesting reunion was held by Rev. F. H. Reed, together with a good band of people at the first week's Advant. It was a pleasure to everybody in attendance, both old and new.

A. H. Hutton has accepted a position in the Northville Record, for more than a year. We are pleased to meet him. He has had a long and successful career in the newspaper business.

Persons should be ready with an extra check for next week. To get on the 15th of the month of the Record. But if you have more than 1000 extra copies, all kinds of extra copies where they are needed in advance.

Rev. J. M. Pelling expects Sunday to exchange pulpits with Rev. M. J. P. of the Northville Record. Telling pulpits on Sunday ought to be a good thing. Some is training horses.

What a thrill does the Northville man want a Holly-pinhit in his clausen for, anyhow—Adrian Press.

With the thermometer at 20 it is a little full of young pigs curled up on John Thompson's farm last week. It was just a little cold for the youngsters, but they are all thriving nicely nevertheless.

Of course everybody knows that 1986 will be leap-year, but there are not so many who are aware of the fact that 1985 is not a leap. So it is not and these ladies who miss the opportunity offered next year must wait eight long years more.

The Record received an interesting letter this week from Ned Nash, a former Northville boy, now in business in Salt Lake City, Utah. Some of the wonders of the place as told by him we hope to be able to use for a short sketch in the near future.

The village caucus committees are Workingmen's Geo. Wager, W. T. Gurr, W. H. Brigham, Citizens, F. S. Neal, M. A. Porten, S. E. Craun. Caucus dates will be made known next week, but they will probably be called for March 4 and 5.

When it comes to nominating candidates for members of the council for the coming village election the various caucuses should not forget that the very best representative men are what is needed. Men with business ability, level heads and sound judgement.

Correspondents are requested to be very prompt with their news next week for the Ladies' Edition. Be sure to send so that letters will reach here Tuesday afternoon at the latest and then if necessary in order to get some important additional news mail a second letter.

The manager of the opera house is arranging to give the band a benefit some time next month. "Billy" Baer and his accomplished daughter of Detroit will do the singing and speciality work, and Miss Wurtzburg the elocution part. None of the trio are strangers to Northville people.

Awarded Highest Honors—World's Fair.

C. D. Harmon's auction sale commences at the farm just west of the U. S. fish hatchery, at ten o'clock tomorrow (Saturday). A lunch will be served at noon. The sale will include a number of milch cows, draught horses and a lot of farm implements. See large bills for further particulars.

Arrangements for the Ladies' Library entertainment to be given at the opera house March 19 are nearly complete. The entertainment will consist of a fancy costume flag drill by sixteen young ladies, specialties by well known local talent and a lively farce by members of the old dramatic company.

The Record office is making special inducements, as usual this season on auction bills. Auctioneers everywhere agree that no more attractive bills are printed in the state than at this office. The extra notice in the Record which is read by everybody draws the balance of the crowd who don't see the catchy bills.

The post-office department recommends that everyone who mails a letter have their name and address printed on the envelope in order that the same may be returned in case it is unclaimed. The Record office can furnish envelopes all printed as required cheaper than they can usually be bought blank.

An old subscriber finds in the following "Party" having houses to rent in the near future would do well to insert notice in the Record. It is there that anyone who wants anything will look to supply him, wants, and persons who can supply such wants, will have their own interests well as others by such notice.

It is barely possible that the regular issue of the Record next week may be delayed until Saturday morning in order that the Ladies' Edition may be gotten out on Friday. We shall endeavor to have no delay, but the under taking is a big one and we trust our subscribers will bear with us for once should the emergency arise.

Patrons of the merchant who advertise. You do not visit your neighbors unless used to call, and you do not attend a party or wedding without an invitation. Buy of the live business man who not only invites you to come and set him every day but educates and keeps you posted as to what is new and popular in his line of goods.

People who have tried it, assert that a nutmeg, suspended on a piece of common string at a point near the breast and next to the skin, will afford relief from neuralgia. We are assured of one case of neuralgia in the face which apparently yielded at once under this treatment. If this cure does appear fully, it has the advantage of not costing much to test it.

The Record will make a special reduced rate to any subscriber on any paper, magazine, or periodical of any kind published in the United States or Canada. The saving of ten to twenty-five per cent in the cost of the paper besides the trouble and expense of sending the money will be appreciated by our subscribers, for whom it is done purely as an accommodation.

The post master general has just announced that newspapers will be deemed guilty of a violation of the lottery law and non-mailable if they print the awards of any prize drawing, guessing contests, etc. The only exception made by the postmaster general is that the awarding of prizes may be published solely for the purpose of exposing those guilty of a violation of the postal and lottery laws.

Did you get a valentine?—200 Last week's exchanges.

We did, and the only regret is that color work and delicate designing prevents its reproduction in these columns. The poetic part reads thus: Old grunter, with steers and paste; And paragraph old as time; Pity your items don't go to waste; You poet of doggerel rhyme; The devil himself won't take you in, For fear you'd even slander sin.

WANTED—At once, a good girl to assist in a laundry at light work. Will pay $2.25 and board. Pay every Saturday night. Girl can have every Saturday night and Sunday. Call at Record office for information. —28w

Boro, Tuesday Feb. 19, to Mr. and Mrs. John Pinkerton a girl.

Last week F. G. Richardson purchased a $5,000 stock of shoes in Detroit at a mortgage sale. He will sell them from the same store where they were purchased on Monroe ave.

Senator Briggs has noticed a bill compelling all newspaper publishers to discontinue all papers at the expiration of subscription. It is a good idea and it is to be hoped it will be a law.

Rev. J. N. Bedding has arranged for a Y.P.S.C.E. rally at Pentecost on Wednesday evening March 8th. The following Detroiters are among the speakers: Rev. J. Newman (Christian), Sexton (Presbyterian), Wallace (Congregational), State President Strong and Frank Kennedy. Oakland county will be organized at that time.

The bill, providing for the general incorporation of villages has passed both houses and has been signed by the governor. It will take effect and will apply to the coming charter election. About the only change made so far as Northville is interested is that the street commissioner and marshal are to be appointed by the president to be approved by the council.

The banquet tendered the Michigan Press Association by Lord Hayes at the Wayne hotel, Detroit, Wednesday night was a very elaborate affair. The layout was served by fifty colored waiters in the latest approved style, in ten courses. There were 200 guests present and the dinner lasted from 10 p. m. to 1 a. m. Followed by one hour of toasts. Lord Hayes is one of the best and most popular hotel men in the state and this occasion was in keeping with the enviable record of the hotel.

On March 1st the ladies of Northville will publish the Record for sweet charity's sake. Editor Neal having turned over his office, typewriter and other adjuncts of the busy Record concern. We can imagine one of the feminine squad, with her skirts tucked up, mounted on a platform and trying to under feed the cylinder press while her husband is threatening to "put" the big Irish engineer's "horn" with the "sheepfoot" because he let the cylinder print back an angle as to print the papers cooked—ther at a time when she is "doing most beautifully" thrusting in two at once, you know.
