DRY OR NO DRY?

THE LIQUOR BOND CASE CAME UP MONDAY

And Was Adjourned for One Week.

Case Now Hangs On Whether a Hotel Bar Is a Saloon or Not.

Return was made Monday by the village of Northville to the court to show cause why they should not approve the hotel liquor bonds obtained last Friday by Edgar A. Shafer, John D. Conely, for the village, told Judge Hosmer that by virtue of an act of the present legislature, passed on February 25 last and given immediate effect, villages are given the option of suppressing liquor traffic at their own sweet will. It was the best judgment of the Northville council to condemn the sale of liquor within its corporate jurisdiction by suppressing saloons, and commenced on Mr. Shafer by refusing to approve his liquor bonds and thereby preventing him from taking out a license. Mr. Conely argued that as the approval of a liquor bond is a legal preliminary necessary to operating a saloon, that the council must be held to be within the letter of the law which authorizes villages to close saloons.

Edwin F. Conely, attorney for Mr. Shafer, the petitioner, replied to the answer of the council by the claim that his client does not propose to engage in the saloon business. He said that for a long time Mr. Shafer has run a hotel, and that there is a heap of difference between a saloon and a hotel. The former is operated merely to furnish intoxicating and other beverages, while a hotel is to provide a temporary stopping place for travelers. In order to properly manage a hotel it is absolutely necessary to accommodate patrons by keeping liquor for sale, and Mr. Shafer desires to engage in the business for that purpose.

Judge Hosmer came to the conclusion that if a question of fact was raised it would be necessary for the respective parties to produce witnesses to establish the fact one way or the other as to whether the sale of liquor transforms a hotel into a saloon or not. The question is interesting and important especially to villages and will be ultimately passed upon by the supreme court, though it is doubtful if this village takes it any further than the circuit court.

The case was adjourned until next week Monday.

CALLED BEYOND.

Two Well Known People Have Passed Away.

W. PURD SESSIONS.

The funeral of W. Purd Sessions, whose death was briefly mentioned in last week's Record, occurred from the home, on West Main street, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Seth Reed officiated and made some very touching and fitting remarks. The music furnished by the "old" quartet, Dr. and Mrs. Swift, Mr. Randolph and daughter, Mrs. Long, was very beautiful and sweet. The services at the grave were conducted by the local Knights of Pythias order who were in attendance in a body, six of the members acting as pall bearers. H. F. Brown, C. C., acted as prelate and in a touching manner read the brief burial service of the order, after which Rev. Mr. Reed offered a brief prayer.

Purd Sessions, youngest living son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sessions, and brother of Charles Sessions, our well known shoe dealer, was a well known Northville boy. He was nearly forty years of age, and was born on the old "Purdy" farm two and one-half miles south of the village. He had lived in and near Northville nearly all his life. Some eight or ten years ago he went to Port Huron where he was prominently engaged in the jewelry business until about four years ago when his mind began to be affected. For something over three years he had been at the Eastern Michigan Asylum for treatment and though improving in mind, paresis soon developed which resulted in his death last week Wednesday as stated. He was well known and much respected both here and at Port Huron. About eight years ago Mr. Sessions was united in marriage with Mrs. Clara McNett who with their two children survive him. He was a member of the Maccabee order as well as the Knights of Pythias and carried a $2,000 policy with the former.

MRS. ROLLIN BEAL.

Mrs. Rollin H. Beal, whose illness has been mentioned from time to time in these columns, passed away Saturday morning. Mrs. Beal had for a number of years been a great sufferer with cancerous trouble and death came to her as a welcome relief. While her sufferings have been intense yet her patience and thoughtfulness of others has seemingly been greater—if such a thing could be. She was a great worker in her church and for the good of the community, and she was loved by all who knew her. Besides the husband, there remain three children.

The funeral occurred from the home Sunday afternoon conducted by her pastor, Rev. Mr. Arnold. The interment was in the family lot at Ionia. Firms Watson was born March 21st 1833 at Willow Hill, town of Plover, Cambridge, England. Her father was foreman of one of the large farms owned by the Duke of Bedford. His position was good, but desiring to obtain better opportunities for his children where they might secure homes for themselves he determined to come to America. In the spring 1857 himself and wife with their eight children came to this land of their adoption. Emma, next to the youngest passed her fourth birthday on the Atlantic. The family settled in Kent county north of Grand Rapids, and though not on the frontier they were compelled to suffer many of the privations incident to pioneer life. The energy and perseverance of the father with the firmness and executive ability of the mother were transmitted in great degree to their children, who were thus qualified for life and its duties.

Their strong love of a native land was transferred to the land of their adoption. The eldest son gave up his life and a younger brother, from the exposure and disease of camp life, came home but to die.

The family were very early and training members of the established church in the English home, but here were converted and baptized into the Baptist church. Rev. C. C. Miller, the well known pastor of the Baptist church at Ionia, baptized Emma at the age of twelve.

Most of her education was obtained in the district schools and in several years spent in successful teaching. Two years of study in the high school at Ionia were followed by teaching in one of the ward schools there. After marriage in August, 1877 she with her husband taught for a year in the school of Ionia, Mich. Though thus abundantly active in teaching and other forms of labor yet it was in the home where her influence was most felt. By her loving ministry at home she made possible much of the work accomplished by her home circle. Most tenderly we may say "she hath done what she could."

The Coming Flower Show.

In the interests of the Ladies Library Association, the undersigned committee have decided to hold a Flower Show, in the early part of September, which they hope will develop to the advantage of not only each member of the Association, but to every citizen of our town and the surrounding country. The love of flowers and their cultivation has a refining effect on those who engage in their culture, and no town can afford to neglect such evidence of its character; no home but what should aspire to the grace and beauty of a flower plot. Even one thrifty geranium in the window of a very humble home leaves a pleasing effect on the passer by.

So we cordially invite our citizens and those of adjacent towns, farmers, wives, and all flower growers, near or remote, to lend a hand and help make the enterprise a success.

One feature of the show will be a booth appropriated to the children—to the exhibit and sale of their attempts at flower culture. A premium list will soon be issued in which the character of the display will be more fully indicated. Meanwhile, sow seeds, and root cuttings. Raise anything—heartsease, hollyhocks, asters, dahlias, geraniums, roses—and lots of 'em. Mrs. Ass Smith, Mrs. Eugene Clarkson, Mrs. D. C. Bliss, Mrs. S. Carrington, committee.

Shirt-Waist Crazy.

Fair woman is shirt-waist crazy. There is absolutely no keeping up with her persistent demand for more shirts, and the consequence is a humming of machinery and plenty of overtime for the hands at the factories.

That the present is not a mere bubble is assured by the steady march it has made to its present huge proportions. The fact is, that the women have learned to appreciate the shirt waist and being true lovers of economy, they are not going to readily surrender the one garment that is an excuse for a bill of dress once pretty serviceable, comfortable and cheap.

We Are Pleased.

We are pleased at the close of our second and beginning of our third year of business life to express our appreciation for the very liberal patronage extended to us by our friends and customers during the past year. Our efforts have been to please and we are pleased to note that at least to a certain extent our efforts have been successful. Our efforts have been to keep our stock second to none in the state and by fair and honest dealing and courteous treatment to merit the courtesies extended to us.

The past is not a criterion of the future with us. We want each year to show that we are better fitted to cater to the wants of the public and we are bound that it shall. Come and see us, it pays.

GRAND RALLY.

The Christian Endeavors Are Coming; They Be, They Be.

The big Detroit Union Christian Endeavor Rally will occur here tonight. Detroit delegates led by State President Strong will arrive here by special train at 6:55 standard time, 10 minutes ahead of the regular train. The rally will take place at the Methodist church and the local union will be joined by the Epworth League of the Methodist church and the Y.P.U. of the Baptist church in making the rally one to be long remembered. Let everyone unite in showing Detroiters that Northville people know not only to entertain, but how to be entertained as well.

DID THEM UP 10 TO 4.

Northville's Ball Club Starts Out Well.

In one of the most exciting and hotly contested games witnessed here for some years the Northville boys beat the Plymouth club yesterday by a score of 10 to 4. The victory was due to German's fine pitching throughout the game and his excellent command of the ball at just the right moments. The following complete score will show the good playing all around:

From a Resident of the Long Ago:

Hillside, Mich., Apr. 23, 1895.

Editor of Record, Dear Sir

Somebody has favored me with a copy of your paper of Mar. 21st which contains a reproduction of an article giving a sketch of the early history of the region round about Northville. This was especially interesting to me because of my own relation to that place and period. I was born on the Wayne side of the Base Line in a log shanty on the first farm west of the Holmes farm on the 10th of June 1830, and during all the early years of my life I used to hear most of the names recited in your paper spoken by my father, Chauncy Reynolds, whose name is also included. My father was a carpenter and built many of the large barns down through the neighborhood of John Welch's. He also built a large mill for one Marshall Mead at Waterford. We have always kept up pleasant acquaintance with the Rosekrance Holmes family, I remember well when Mr. Holmes d.d. My father had moved to Ionia Co. in 1836, but we always kept track of the old neighbors. In the Holmes family there was "Grand-ma" Holmes and the children were Charles, Ann, Amanda, Catherine, Sarah, Mary Jane, Alfred, Hiram, Lucinda, I ouise and George. Hiram, with one black eye and one blue eye, has succeeded to the occupancy of the old homestead. Then I knew Robt. Blackwood a mile west, Wm. Brown, Elder Noyes, the Sheas, the Blains, the VanSickles, etc., etc. One Dr Gregory from Northville was my father's family physician. Then I knew a Hungerford family in Northville. I think Sarah Holmes married a Yerkes and good people they are too. My mother's people were settled in Livonia—the Harpers.

So, your article took me back in memory over the time when there were only log shanties and log houses, when the conveniences for the housewife consisted in a log-pole and trestle, a crane, a mud-back fire place, a stick chimney, the old bake kettle, then the clay oven and the tin oven, and everything else off the same piece. This was before the match was known and when if the fire the old fire place went out we used to start it again with the flint and punk or go to the neighbors and borrow. This was before such a thing as an envelope was known; when properly folded the sheet upon which the letter was written was sealed with sealing wax or a wafer and then the letter was sent for the receiver to pay postage of twenty-five cents on delivery. Verily, how things have changed! Then the best light known was the tallow candle and the tanner used to dip forty or fifty dozen in the fat for the year's supply. No kerosene, gas or electric light even thought of. This was when there were no railroads and no steam boats. This was long before he old railroad from Detroit to Pontiac which is now the Detroit & Milwaukee.

This was when the best team the farmer had was a yoke of oxen. Think of the clearing up of the forest, the crude tools in use, the best and all there was in the old wood or ball plow, the home-made hoe, pitch fork, turkey wing cradle, threshing done on a ground floor with a flail, then cattle, then the old open cylinder thrasher, then the separator and ten-horse power. So contrast every thing of sixty years ago through the memory of the remaining pioneers and see the progress. The birth and growth of the great enterprises of this age indicate to us that those who have lived to see and enjoy the last half century have seen the most wonderful age yet in the world's history. And what yet shall come to pass hath not entered the heart or mind of man! But enough—Yours truly, L. P. REYNOLDS.

[Mr. Reynolds is a distant relative of Rollin H. Deal of this place. Ed.]

Delightful rain Monday.

Our doctor now sports a fine horse and carriage.
Perry Austin and family entertained company on Sunday.
School opened on Monday after a vacation of one week.
John Hazel continues to feel and can last but a few days.
Anna Hoffman and Nellie Francis spent Tuesday and Wednesday in So. Lyon.
The photographic concert that was to have taken place this week has been postponed.
Mr. and Mrs. Byron Power have settled for the present at the home of Hon. A. N. Kimball.
Rev. J. S. Boyden of Kalamazoo and Miss Jessie Boyden have been among Novi friends during the past week.
The poverty social at the Baptist church on Friday evening was not very well attended but the receipts amounted to $230.
Rev. J. S. Boyden, who began his ministerial labors here some forty years ago, and who is now traveling for the Baptist home mission society, preached to a large congregation in the Baptist church Sunday morning.
Ten widows live in one of our streets and the Lord knows how many old maids bless our village. Never mind ladies there's a chance for you yet. Look at the kid-oz-our streets! In 15 or 20 years these youngsters will need wives.
The Methodist Sabbath-school will give a lawn social on the church lawn on Saturday evening. The proceeds to go towards paying the janitor's salary.
Do not stay at home because the evening is chilly as the cream will be served in the basement if necessary.
One of our young men went to see his best girl Sunday evening and as a precaution against spoiling before he left her at 4:30 Monday morning he took along a two quart pail full of rock salt. When a fellow reaches this stage of courtship it begins to look like the minister would soon be called in to tie a knot (Ah there Sip)
All you good people who have company or go somewhere or do something funny or foolish or unusual, and who like to have your friends who take the RECORD know what you are about just inform one of the Novi reporters for that paper, and it will be a favor to said reporter and said friends as well as to the publisher. You probably know by this time who are the Novi newspaperers for the RECORD as two of them at least have acted in that capacity for some years. ONE OF THEM.

The young ladies mission circle kindly volunteered to do the work in the basement during the missionary meeting Thursday, thus giving the older members of the society an opportunity to enjoy the meeting uninterrupted by the care of managing the dinner and supper. Their thoughtfulness was highly appreciated by those who profited by it.

SALEM.

Mr. John Renwick is still very sick with but slight hope of recovery.
James B. Van Atta, a prominent citizen of Salem, died at his late residence about three miles north-west of here on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Van Atta was a native of New Jersey, but came to Michigan in an early day and has been a resident of Salem for more than forty years. He was successful in an eminent degree as a farmer. He had been remarkably healthy and had attained the good age of eighty-three years. His funeral was attended at the Methodist church near the Walker cemetery Tuesday afternoon conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Denton.
Mrs. Peter Colbron was greatly shocked on Sunday morning by receiving two messages at the same time, one dated on Saturday notifying her of the dangerous illness of her brother John W. Babbitt of Washington, D. C., the other dated on Sunday announcing his death. Thirty years ago few men were any better known in Salem or had more friends here than "Wheat" Babbitt as he was familiarly known.
In the year 1862 at the age of twenty-nine he enlisted in the 24th Mich. Inf. in the company of which Capt. C. B. Crosby of Plymouth had command. In the early part of the battle at Gettysburg he was wounded in his right ankle making necessary the amputation of his foot. A few weeks later he returned to his old home here where he remained until the early spring of 1865 when he went to Washington where by the assistance of late Senator Chandler he secured employment—first in the post-office department and later in the treasury and has since been thus employed.
At the election in the autumn of '84 he was the candidate on the republican county ticket for the office of register of deeds of Washtenaw county, but was defeated by the decision of the supreme court declaring the law permitting Michigan soldiers to vote in the field, unconstitutional. At the election two years later he was the republican candidate for county treasurer and was elected. He then had a position in Washington which he thought not best to relinquish. He appointed George S. Wheeler as his deputy, who had the entire management of the treasurers office during Mr. Babbitt's term.

He was always greatly interested in the political affairs of the county—comparatively few men were so familiar with the doings of political parties and of public men as was he. He was an ardent admirer of the late Horace Greely and also of Horace Mann, Chas. Sumner, Wm. H. Seward and statesmen of the class to which these men belonged. While his school education was obtained exclusively in the Thayer district school east of here, he was an extensive reader of general literature and possessed a fund of knowledge far larger than that of the average college graduate. In the year 1869 he was married to Miss Lizzie Phillips, eldest daughter of the late Rev. Samuel Phillips, with one daughter survives him. He was a loyal friend, a devoted husband and father; an obliging neighbor, a good citizen, an honest man; a catalogue of characteristics that may be summed only by the few: Mrs. Childrop accompanied by her brother-in-law, Mr. George Colbron, left on Monday for Washington where they expected to arrive in time for the funeral services on Wednesday morning. Mr. Babbitt's many friends in Salem deplore his sudden and untimely death, and sympathize most sincerely with the stricken wife and daughter.

MEAD'S MILLS.

Mrs. Clara Benton is to be a dress-maker.
Our milk men are making two trips daily.
Miss Hillmer went to Detroit last Saturday.
Mrs. E. Mattin has been at Northville for a week or more.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moore were at Mr. Burdick's a part of last week.
Mrs. W. Stevens of Plymouth spent Sunday with her son Cal of this place.
Mrs. Downey is spending the week with her daughter, Mrs. Bert Hughes.
Raymond Rogers and Art McRoberts spent Sunday in the south part of the town.
The LTL met on Thursday evening two weeks from that time they intend to have something a little extra. All are invited.
Ten years ago the month of May we had a snow storm. Had we had one this year at that date the weather would have to have been changed materially.
