FLOWER SHOW

It was a thing of great beauty and sweet fragrance.

THE OLD BARN OF A RINK NOT RECOGNIZABLE.

A Great Success, Quality and Quantity Considered.

The initial ladies' flower show held in Northville last week Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the rink under the auspices of the Ladies' Library Association was a great success in many other ways if it did not reach the financial result anticipated.

The excellent taste displayed in the decorations and the bright faces and dainty costumes of the young ladies in charge of the booths all helped to make it one of the prettiest affairs of the kind that Northville has ever had the pleasure of patronizing.

The rink, with all its commodiousness was so completely disguised that one forgot his or her previous impressions of the place on entering, and left with that delightful sense of beauty and harmony which flowers and music so easily create.

The ladies who had direct charge and the many others of the association who were so untiring in their labors and efforts are entitled to much credit for the success and grandeur of the occasion.

To the business men in the Association much indebted for the generous patronage shown in the valuable premiums offered. If a repetition of the flower show were planned another year, the interest and patronage of the townspeople would undoubtedly be greatly increased. The small attendance on this occasion was doubtless due to the heavier amount of advertising giving the show. As it is however the receipts will cover the expenses.

Following is a complete list of the awards:

Mrs. C. E. Chelton took first premium in flowers. Best collection of green house plants, begonias, geraniums. Three single geraniums, three fan leafed geraniums, two top seedling primulas, three roses in bloom, largest display of pansies, double petunias, collection set roses, collection cut verbenas, in interior decoration; original design for table decoration, emblematic designs, case out flowers, hanging basket.

Two Games Next Week.

Manager Brooks has secured two good ball games to be played here next week and they will likely prove the two banner games of the year. The first occurs on Tuesday the 24th with Holly Cyclone Minstrels and the second with the Farmington's on Friday the 27th. These games will doubtless wind up the base ball season in Northville.

Admission 15c; ladies and children 10c.

The Plymouth Fair. The Plymouth fair was as usual a great success and Northville people as both exhibitors and patrons cut no small figure in it. Among the many exhibits our reporter noticed the following from Northville:

M. W. Johnson & Co., the clothiers, were kept busy on Thursday distributing souvenir blotters.

R. H. Purdy had a beautiful display of lamps. In fact it was one of the best displays on the grounds.

Brown's display of photo work was probably the best ever seen there. He had no trouble in distancing all competitors and carrying off first premiums.

Mrs. Clarkson's exhibit of flowers and plants was as usual the best on the grounds and the blue tickets upon them were almost as thick as the blossoms.

Among the many attractions at the Plymouth fair this week was the fine display of carriages, cutters, etc., made by the John Hirsch carriage factory of this place.

Another one of the attractions at the Plymouth fair this week was the two year old stallion "Carmelite" owned by Fred Peau of this place. The horse comes from a racing stock and promises to make a great trooper in the near future. The sire is "Patron" whose colt "Alex." has a record of 200 being the queen of the turf today. "Carmelite" is from the Emery stock farm at Cleveland and is certainly a beauty.

Suburban News.

Getting tired of "waiting for something to turn up," Orion people have bred a boom committee who will turn something up even though they have to step on a barrel hoop to do it.

E. J. Smith for some years the well known witty paragrapher of the Monroe Democrat. He will make the Democratic狂热 by putting a new lot of needed life into it.

Following is the number of school aged pupils in the various eleven school districts of Plymouth township together with amount paid teachers: Plymouth $1,575, Northville $1,110, Rider district $8, $177, Lee $10, $177, Mead's Mills $10, $270; Spencer $9, $90; Kellogg $7, $170; Allen $7, $160, Gorton $1, $225; Thayer $6, $225; White $6, $25.

Everyone seemed to be satisfied with the game between the Wayne Stars and Pearls, which was played here on Saturday," says the Plymouth Star.

Certainly! Did you ever hear of a game where Plymouth won that everyone (and everyone is usually Plymouth and Plymouth is everyone) was not satisfied? Let Plymouth lose a game, or come anywhere near losing and then you will see the fur fly.

Farmington News.

Dancing at Botsford hotel Clarenceville, Sept. 26.

C. W. Wilber and wife now occupy their fine new residence on Main st., west.

Mrs. Francis of Plymouth was the guest of Mrs. Mary A. Woodman a part of the week.

Editor Turner of the Pontiac Gazette was a caller at the home of M. A. White one day last week.

Miss Belle Eisenlord, of Jackson, was home this week to attend the wedding of her sister, Lena.

Mrs. C. H. Morgan and son, Leslie, of Howell, are visiting their parental home for a short time.

Thomas McGee, as delegate, attended the Methodist conference at Ann Arbor a part of last week.

The ball game held Monday between the two Farmington teams resulted 23 to 11 in favor of the regular nine.

A box social for the benefit of the cemetery in Dist. No. 1 will be held Friday evening, Sept. 20, at the home of David Holdershaw.

Who can say that Farmington is not getting to the front with all of her five new residences and the lively expectation of electric road and new steam flouring mill?

The following item was received too late for last week's publication: At the meeting held last week Tuesday evening by the school board it was voted to reduce the tuition price in the intermediate and primary departments from thirty-five to twenty-five cents a

THE RECORD.

F. S. NEAL, Publisher.

LATE ARTHUR BROOKS

A SCHOLARLY PRIEST AND A LOVABLE MAN.

Story of His Life as Told in the Things Said and Done by the Living—He was Known Throughout Two Continents—Boyhood in Boston.

(Reproduced from Harper's Weekly by permission. Copyright, 1892, by Harper & Brothers.)

THE late Arthur Brooks had been long known as one of the most scholarly and effective pulpit orators of America, and one of the most successful priests of the Episcopal Church.

He was a rector at W. Champaign, in Pennsylvania, at Chicago, and for twenty years he was the rector of the Church of the Incarnation in New York city.

He was known not only in the cities where he administered his priestly office, and in Boston and Cambridge, where he was born and educated, but throughout the ecclesiastical world and on both sides of the ocean.

Doctor Brooks was born in Bowe Street, Boston, July 13, 1845. He was the son of William C. and Mary Ann

Phillips Brooks. After being gradua tated at the Boston Latin School in 1862, he entered Harvard College and trained himself in law.

He was an old-fashioned churchman.

More perhaps than any other church in New York, the Episcopal service was read and sung at the Church of the In carnation after a fashion that was dis tinguishable from modern ecclesiasticism.

It was conducted as Doctor Brooks him self saw and heard it in his boyhood in old St. Paul's in Boston, and as many of the elders of his congregation re member its ministration in the days when St. George's was in Beckwith street, and when a noble simplicity reigned.

So far as the most searching inquiries go, it appears that only two women wear bloomers on bicycles in Wash ington. The men who are apt to know about such things report but two women who have so far braved the eyes of the public with the bloomer costume. As a matter of fact, if women are going to discard skirts, why not adopt knicker bockers? They are more natty, and look as if the women using them were not half afraid.

Emily Soldene, who will be remem bered as an exponent of English blonde boudoirs and of comic opera years ago, has been heard from again in an interview. She has no use for the new woman, but wants "the old-fashioned woman, who is sweet and gentle." The bloomer she regards as the most hideous garment of the day, and how a treacherous woman can destroy her charms

by wearing bloomers she cannot see.

Finally, it will be recalled did not wear much of anything, except the patience of her audience?

Statistics of circulation show de crease both for the month of June and the year ending therewith. The net decrease, in June amounted to $2,917,

188, while for the year the decrease amounted to nearly $10,000,000.

The total circulation on July 1st, this year amounted to $1,601,319.68 as com pared with $1,64,061,712 on July 1st, 1891. The gold coin in circulation amounted to $14,275,057, which repre sented a decrease of nearly $17,600,000

as compared with the corresponding pe riod last year. The gold coin in the treasury, on the other hand, showed an increase of a little over $12,700,000, as compared with a sum of $12,700,000 on July 1st last, being the amount in the treasury on July 1st be ing $99,147,914. The money of all kinds in the treasury showed an in crease for the month of June amounting to $1,52,112. Treasury experts estimate that the population increased from 68,327,000 on July 1st last year to 69,875,000 at the beginning of the cur rent month. On the basis of the lat er estimate they figure out a per capita circulation amounting to $2,36 on July

1st. This represents a decrease of 6 cents for the month and $1.37 as com pared with the corresponding period of last year.
