Poison availed for a time, but now the covotes refuse to touch the prisoned carcasses of steers strewn about for their consumption. The only way of Lilling them is by strocting them, and this is a feeble and wholly madequate means. Occasionally the residents of a district combine and have a grand round-up hunt, driving the corotes toward the center of a circle and slaughtering them there, and this is the only means of appreciably trinning them out occasionally. In soff e regions the packs of gray wolves are as numerous and troublesome as the coyotes The coyotes are particularly adept chicken thieves, and, indeed, are a general pest around the farmyerds.

Pope Liked His Independence.

Not long ego an English lady, Protestant, with her little son, 11 years old, and her daughter, obtained an audience of the pope through the good offices of Cardinal Rampolla, the papal secretary of state The latter invited the boy to kiss the pene's slipper. "We don't kiss people's feet in England," said the liftle fellow, "but he's a nice old gentleman, and I'll kiss his hand if he likes." The pope was delighted with the little fellow's answer, and paid him sercraf compliments in Italian.

the New York Tribund - Ac cording to an experienced observer of life in this and other cities it is high lime that the dute and national gor-criment took up for consideration the guestion of appointing an annual day ifter the fashion of Thanksgiving, but devoted to exactly opposite corposes He proposes that this day shall be called the day of public objurgation and blame.

"I have no objection to Thankselling, remarked this philosopher the scher day "I appreciate it, and, if I de say it. I think I observe it bro bly more nearly in accordance with its original purpose then most of my felow childre. I have a lot to be thanktul tor, and give thanks for it on Thanksgiving nay. That is perfectly right and proper. But what I say is this that I have also a lot of things to bjurgate and blance, and so, doubtless has everybody elso. Now, why zens shall suspend their usual voca tions and all repair to convenient hall and assembly rooms, and there hold public indignation meetings to denounce the most important and crying evils of the year? I have no doubt that the day could be developed into probabiy one of great power for good, though I doubt it it would ever at tain the beauty and lovelines of Thankselvins day or sain sion a tewhole people. At any rate wouldn't tend to sweeten the general atmost phore of society by affording a well recognized vent for the fumtures and frettings, the pent-up wrath of a nation, why, I tell you that it would relieve the tension so that life would be lifted to a sensibly higher plane during the rest of the year. Yes, sir, am working as a missionary for the adoption of the day of public objurga-tion and blame, and shall expect better times when it comes."

Empires that dominated the civflized world in their day have passed away, leaving only a memory of their time that rose and spread in the grandeur of their wealth and lo-day scientists and excavators can hardly find the spot on which they stood sthough the world in that day wondered at their magnificence. Then why should we place so much importance on the work God, our religion and our soul? We public, she read over some of the old fail to profit by the past, the folly of others, and go on thinking little of anything that does not concern our wants uride and ambition of honor, fame for which men jeopardize their lives in battle, all are as dreams and nothing more, for as they come they are soon Let not the desire for earthly rods possess your minds and hearts; think rather of the life to come, and that there is no sacrifice in this world too great in order to secure an immortal crown. Evils must necessarily come to all. Men cannot expect to endure years and escape the consequences of existence. The very world, the people we come in contact with disease and sickresa, inclemency of the wather—all of these things cause us to suffer. It is man's lot to suffer and it is his duty as a Christian to bear it. Time is short and the evils we ander are of short duration; they are as leeting moments to God gives us an abundance of years he will-give us the grace to bear the burden that will accompany them.' Glori'ying God.

When we speak of glorifying God it must be understood that the expression does not imply that any cleature can add to the essential excellence and lory of the divine character. It only enotes that we perceive somewhat at this excellence, that we recognize the relations in which we stand to him, and that we are drawn to love, admiration, gratitude and obcdience which the percention, of this excellence ought ever to inspire. 'All this includes an assimilation to that which we thus admire and love, and a reflection of the glory which we adore in character and life, as the moon shines in the borrowed light of the sun. In this way, the expression "passes away; years pass away and representations when he way the passes away; years follow, and yet there is no occa

O'MINNE Real Roll-How many men, and women, too, are different in their lives—their real selves from what is known of them by Dieir works, their paintings, or poem or whatever they may be, It makes a good thing doubly good when we know that the man's real self is in it. There is a pretty story of the widow of the great musical composer Schumann!--It to play any of her husband's music in love letters that he wrote her during the days of her courtship, "so that," as she says, "she might be able able to do justice to her interpretation of the spirit of his work." And so it might be said in one sense as it was said of one of old, "He being dead yet speaketh." May the beautiful which we produce in life if indeed we do produce anything worthy of the name—breathe the very spirit of ourselves; may it be the peautiful in ourselves, in our work also. So it was with Christ. He himself is in that which we read of Him, and therein lies its beauty and its power.

When a man sings at his work you may be sure that he is a good worker. On the march German soldiers nearly always sing, and it helps them along wonderfully. Those who go about Christian work with long faces and no joy in their hearts get little done, or do it in a way that is anything but a good advertisement of their religion. How much more aseful and attractive they would be if therefored in the Lord, if they had joy like the men at the batthe of Leuthen! They sang a Christian song as they marched to the engagement. A general asked the king if he would stop the singing. "No," said the "men that sing like that can

Manifestations of the sprit Midland (Meth. Prot.): It is doubt-

It may be that extraordinary manifestations of his presence are due to our more cordial reeption of him There are times when God's people receive the spirit to themselves more willingly and more abundantly than at other times, so that they are better fitted for service. By their full and free reception of the snirit, already given to all, they are greatly revived and sinners are convinced and converted. God has poured out his spirit and we are exhorted to receive the spirit, and to be filled with the spirit

No one regretted more than the leaders thomselves, who saw much of their work undone. The bomb thrown by the ananchists on that day shattered their hones of success for many months to come.

It was notifinal the spring of 1890, that another May-day movement magnitude was attempted. This was led by the carpenters, and ralthough ther had the symputhy and encouragement of the federation, it, was not a seneral and concerted effort by lie federated trades, and much was won in the way of shorter hours and better wages at this time. Much has been gained since then by the various trades acting kadislaually.

It is by working along distinct lines that the everation has accomplished so much for its membership. In this-te-spect it differs greatly from the Knights of Labor. The Knights have tried sympathetic strikes and have come out of the fray with sore experiences. During the great railroad strike inaugurated by the American Rallway Union the question of sympathetic strikes yas put fairly before the convention.
