

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD.

Vol XXVII, No. 36.

FRIDAY, APRIL 17, 1896.

APPOINTMENTS.

MAYOR SWIFT MADE THEM ALL MONDAY NIGHT.

P. E. White Was Appointed Village Marshal.

And Rob. McKahn Got the Appointment of Street Commissioner.

Mayor Swift evidently means that the council shall conduct business this year on business principles. The meeting Monday night was called to order with a quick bang at 7:30 and all the business was transacted inside of one hour.

P. E. White was appointed marshal and health officer.

Rob. McKahn received the street commissioner badge.

A. M. Whitehead was re-appointed chief of the fire department.

B. A. Wheeler got his old place on the water board. The other minor appointments appear in the official proceeding published elsewhere.

For the street committee Ald. Lanning reported had walked along the Auhler and Elliott property on Yerkes street. Mr. Webster reported the walk in had shape on Hill and South Wing street and the clerk noted the same condition of affairs on City street near Center. The walk committee was requested to look after the breakers.

Ald. Burgess reported in favor accepting the Board's proposition relative to publishing the proceedings and doing the printing for the ensuing year. Ald. Boyce thought the proposition to publish the proceedings as the town board was to get things for 500 per cent. It was explained that the town printing would require less work. All the other members of the board were in favor of the proposition. The Record man explained that so far as the price (500) was concerned it was no object whatever and the council was under no obligation to accept. The only question was whether the tax payers wanted the proceedings published or not. The matter was finally referred back to the committee again for another report.

BOOMED THE TOWN TOO MUCH?

Having nothing to do, Mr. Ely of Northville has moved to Gladstone to engage in manufacturing; he wants to get to a town where there is some business. A. W. Reed for many years a merchant in the same place, is closing out his business, and will go to Flint, hoping to earn a living. Ed Simmonds has scooted off to Maine for a job, and Grant Gorthy is going to move to Ohio business, while W. F. Lyon, another laundry man has gone to Elk Rapids. Geo. Dennis had to move back to his farm fearing that his name would be Dennis if he stayed in town. Looks as though the most of Northville is for rent except the fish hatchery.—Adrian Press.

The above was gained from the news columns of the Record and yet it was only last week that some Northville people thought we were injuring the business interests of the town by "booming" it too much. To it may be added this week: T. B. McArthur has closed out his grocery stock and is moving out of town; H. Joseph his dry goods stock and moved yesterday to the northern part of the state; Will Ely leaves for Detroit; Fred and Frank Fry soon go to Ohio to engage in the laundry business; another Main street firm is about to make an important change; Chas. Reed has closed out his bicycle livery and goes to Grand Blanc and everything is on such a move that we don't know but what the Record man may have to go next.

Card of Thanks.

We, the undersigned, return sincere thanks to the friends for their kind assistance and sympathy in our late bereavement, especially to the ladies of For-get-me-not Hive L.O.T.M.; IOOF; W.R.C.; the Rev. J. H. Herbener and the ladies of Blue West Hive L.O.T.M., Plymouth. WALTER J. ARINGTON, CLARA L. MURDOCK, CHAS. W. CHADWICK, GEO. F. CHADWICK, W. H. CHADWICK.

CLARENCE ENGLISH IS DEAD.

Was for a Number of Years Employed in the Record Office.

Clarence English, a well known South Lyon boy died at his home in that village Monday night. He was for some years a valued employe of the Record, printing only, quitting about one year ago because of ill health. He was well known in Northville; well thought of, and nothing but expressions of regret are heard by those who knew him at his untimely death. He was about 23 years of age, industrious and as a job printer possessed more than ordinary skill.

The funeral occurred yesterday afternoon.

Rev. F. E. Arnold Has Resigned.

Rev. Frank E. Arnold, who for three years has been the beloved and successful pastor of the Baptist church here, has been called to the pastorate of the church in Wayne, which he organized about two years ago. Mr. Arnold's success in building up weak churches has been so remarkable that the Board of State Missions will assist the Wayne church in securing him, believing that in a few years the interest will be self-sustaining. The church here has nearly 200 members and is a well-organized and united society. Just who will succeed Mr. Arnold here is not yet known but it may be Rev. Clark, brother of L. G., who was pastor here for some years. Northville people in general will regret Mr. Arnold's departure.

MOSES A. OLDS

That Well Known Northville Man Died Monday.

Moses Olds, one of Northville's oldest and best known residents, died at the home of Mrs. W. P. Seaborn, after a long illness, Monday. The funeral occurred at that home Wednesday afternoon, where a year ago he had had a comfortable home and the best of care and attention. Rev. J. H. Herbener officiated.

He was a member of no church, but when questioned on the subject of religion during his illness he replied: "The Lord is a good fellow and I guess he will take care of me."

Moses A. Olds was born in Colborne, Ontario county, N. Y., July 17, 1822. His father Joseph died in 1832 and his mother Olive in 1833. He was then left an orphan at an early age. Until about 1850 he lived in Hartland, Niagara county, N. Y., part of this time with his sister Harriet who died there a few years ago. He then went to Canandaigua, N. Y., where he was employed in a Mercantile house and where he engaged the society of some of the most prominent and influential men of that time and region. About 30 years ago he came to Northville and was for many years a trusted and valued employe of A. S. and J. S. Lapham, remaining with them until he retired from active life. For all these years he has been known here as a man of sterling integrity and as an agreeable companion, and though age and illness had narrowed his circle, he still leaves many to regret him.

He died April 13, 1896, leaving one brother, Lewis Olds, of Hartford, Mich.; Spencer Olds, his other brother died at Hillsdale, Mich., last fall, leaving a family of three children, of whom one, Mrs. Cassady, attended the funeral.

All Things for Our Good.

It is a fact which no sensible person will dispute that all men and all things have uses. Nothing is seemingly lost in nature, not even the disagreeable weather of the last month or more. There is a design in creation and a purpose everywhere and in everything. If there were no wicked people in the world the good ones could not be singled out. Ugliness gives to beauty its divinity. Sinners, not the righteous keep alive the church. If there were no unbelievers the preacher's occupation would be gone. The teper is the best friend of the teetotaler—he is the meat and drink of the temperance lecturer. Vice illumines virtue; cowardice bravets bravery; and the miser builds monuments of philanthropy. We are all things by contrast. It is easy to be a giant among pygmies. Sickness makes health a boon. Physical deformity makes glorious the perfect man. The darkness adds to the vividness of the lightnings flash. A severe winter makes spring joyous. The grandeur of the storm adds to the calm. If there was no night there would be no dawn—we would have no conception of the rising sun and would miss her glorious setting. Everything in this world works for the good of mankind. Whatever may befall us is wisely designed for our good—if we only think so, but sometimes it is awfully hard work to do it.

REV. MORGAN L. WOOD

THE BRILLIANT SPEAKER IS COMING HERE AGAIN

April 28th Under the Auspices of the Y. M. C. League.

Morgan L. Wood the talented lecturer and preacher, who holds his large audiences spell-bound through any lengths of time will again delight a Northville audience April 28. The lecture will be held at the Methodist church and will be given on schedule time at 8:04 p.m. If his previous lecture here can be used as a criterion. The one thing that forces itself on a listener in the beginning is that they must listen, as every word is good, and remember, for there is no stopping to digest his wonderful flow of language at the time. If you are at all slow of comprehension, Subject, "Majesty Triumphant" Further announcements next week.

UNCLE SAM'S STORE

It Did a Big Business in Northville the Last Year.

The sale of stamps in the Northville post-office for the year ending March 31, 1896, reaching the largest figures in the history of the town, the stamp and postal card sales, reached the enormous sum of $1,543.97. There were 2,300 money orders issued and 1,115 paid; 505 registered letters sent and 218 received. The receipts of the office were $7,600 more than last year and will tend to raise the salary of the office $100 for the next year.

Suburban News.

The Wyandotte Herald showed its appreciation of the best work by publishing accounts of the newly elected city officers.

Plymouth is going to have a box mill factory and it will employ about seven hands, the establishment being based on one hand to a man.

And now Farmington is talking "ditch land." With electric roads nothing will be quite so good for the people over the border.

When sick the other day the lady sister of the Trenton Visitor was presented with a box of "angel food" and she doesn't know whether to eat it or not.

Low Youngs of Orion "tried to make a name for himself" and at Pontiac last week he was awarded a two year's contract in the Jackson prison for being caught at it.

Chas. Sowles, a Fenton saloonist has got to put up $1,500 for the damage his whiskey caused to a Miss Boyd of that place. The liquid was inside of Miss Boyd's driver and caused a serious run-away.

The Pontiac Knitting Works people are looking for a new location and have their eye on Gifford and a bonus. It is unreasonable to suppose that Pontiac people will allow a really good factory to leave their city.

Mr. Augustus White of Farmington has been town clerk there for so long that no one else ever thinks of being elected. This year he came in with a majority of 111, the highest of anyone on the ticket. Mr. White is an old gentleman but he makes a careful and obliging clerk.

The Excelsior excuses itself for saying that a well lady in South Lyon was sick and adds that the lady is a "clipper" as when she was a maiden. His saying that a lady is a "clipper" these days is likely to end in bloodshed. 'Twere better had the Excelsior man left the woman "on the sick list."

At the recent county school examination held in Detroit last week the following Plymouth knights of the birch were granted licenses to pump knowledge into young America: Della Enrican, Ella Anderson, Grace and Maude Lapham, H. C. Packard, Laura Ruppert, Mabel and Samuel Spicer, and Bessie Taft.

During the storm of last week Saturday morning lightning toyed with the wires inside the telegraph office in the D.L.&N. depot at Plymouth to such an extent as to melt off some of the connections and set the wood work on fire. The night operator promptly turned on the hose and squelched the conflagration but the instruments had to be hung on the line to dry for several hours before they would properly hold down their job again.

The Whipple House at South Lyon was destroyed by fire Sunday night.

The "Experience" social at Northville wherein the men earned $85 they gave to the Methodist church, was more than a pocketful of alligators. In the Record's mention of the funny experience related we notice the absence of Editor Neal's experience.—Miles' Leader.

Neal's experience was in collecting a bill of $1.00 against the society for advertising the social. It wasn't so very funny either—for Neal.

Council Proceedings.

An adjourned meeting of the council was held Monday evening, April 15. Present: President Swift, Councilmen: Burgess, Boyce, Lanning, Taft.

The president made the following appointments: Marshal, P. E. White, street commissioner, R. McKahn; health officer, P. E. White; cemetery trustee, C. C. Harrington; building inspectors, M. Boyce, Chas. Smith; fire chief, A. M. Whitehead; water board, B. A. Wheeler; fire wardens, A. Carpenter, A. M. Whitehead; president, J. M. Burgess; special assessors, W. H. Ambler, F. D. Adams, D. B. Northrop. Appointments all unanimously confirmed except street commissioner, which was broken by the president voting yes.

On motion a petition of Orange Butler to have drain on Plymouth avenue lowered was referred to st. com.

On motion the treasurer was ordered to turn over all money, books, papers, etc. in his possession to the new treasurer, E. H. Lapham.

On motion clerk was instructed to purchase a dozen street commissioners' blanks.

On motion st. com. was instructed to notify Mr. Ambler and Mr. Elliot to fix walks in front of their property on Yerkes street.

On motion report of committee on publishing council proceedings for ensuing year was referred back to committee for perfection. Meeting adjourned.

W. H. NICHOLS, Clerk.

A regular meeting of the common council was held in the office of Dr. E. M. Swift, April 6. Present: J. M. Swift, president; Thomas Burgess, Boyce, Lanning, Phillips, Taft, Yerkes. Minutes read and approved.

Proposition from the Record relative to publishing for ensuing year was on motion referred to finance committee.

Bonds of Wm. H. Nichols, as clerk for Street and Chas. A. Seaborn, and Wm. H. Nichols as treasurer, and of J. H. Lapham as treasurer for 1896, with W. H. Lapham and J. N. Seaborn, as sureties, were taken and approved.

The following bills were read and ordered paid: Globe Furn. Co. $26.50; Northville Record, printing, 6 mo. Wm. L. Macomber, 1 mo. $25.00; H. J. Moore and others, Dr. for 1896, D. M. Chapman and others, 6 mo. 6.00.

Moved and supported we have a side walk committee. Carried.

The president then made the following committee: Lights, Lanning, Boyce; Phillips; street, Phillips, Lanning, Boyce; fire, Yerkes, Burgess, Taft; finance, Burgess, Boyce, Taft; side walk, Lanning, Yerkes, Phillips; cemetery, Taft, Yerkes, Burgess. Council adjourned for one week.

W. H. NICHOLS, Clerk.

Miss Kate Buchner & Co. will have a special sale of millinery today and tomorrow. Next week they will occupy the store vacated by Gorton & Co. 92 Main street.

YOUNG FOLK'S CORNER

GOOD SHORT STORIES FOR BOYS AND GIRLS.

The Story of Trilly - A Noble Deed - Love and Death - John Wamamaker's Inn - When Oliver Cromwell Was a Boy.

ONE, MY DEARS, AND I WILL SHOW YOU

How I make my ginger cakes, how I mix the dough together, and how long the baking takes.

With a quart of good molasses, a pound of sugar sweet, and a pound of lard and butter, half of each is my receipt.

Onions two of powdered ginger, with a pinch of salt or two - mix one egg with flour stiffen. Roll out thin and you are through.

How to keep them when they're finished - when they're baked and nicely browned.

Well, a good strong lock and key, dear, is the best thing I have found.

This particular story concerns a cat in the far west - Oakland, Cal. - which rejoiced in the name of "Trilly."

Trilly had been absent at her usual breakfast hour, and when her mistress was preparing to go out for the day she called attention to her absence.

When Miss Coolbrith returned and was trimming her rose bushes in the twilight, one of her neighbors called her name and looking across the lot she saw Trilly curled upon the neighbor's back porch.

Trilly seemed to consider the proceeding as backing appreciation and courses, and slowly walked away, disappearing over the garden fence.

When Miss Coolbrith returned and was trimming her rose bushes in the twilight, one of her neighbors called her name and looking across the lot she saw Trilly curled upon the neighbor's back porch.

"Do you know what your cat has been doing?" she asked to Miss Coolbrith.

Trilly's mistress could not imagine, although the episode of the morning flashed across her mind, causing her grave apprehension.

"Not the bright fish one by one, and stomp on the top of the fence moving loudly until she had all of your cats assembled beneath."

And all of the post's cats meant no less than eleven or seventeen.

"She dropped the fish one by one, until every cat had been satisfied, then she brought the last one over here on my porch and ate it herself, carefully washing her paws when she had finished, and lying down to sleep. She has not stirred since."

Miss Coolbrith hastened to where Trilly was lying, and picking up the cat to ascertain if it were still sound in body, was greeted with a lazy "meow."

When Cromwell Was a Boy. Apropos of the statement that a man of Kent has in his possession the head of Oliver Cromwell, and that Mr. Haino, Throycroft has been studying it for the bust of the protector upon which he is engaged, the London correspondent of the Manchester Evening News says:

"I have a dim recollection of being present at a rural fair long ago, and a showman offered as his staple attraction the skull of the renowned Oliver Cromwell."

"Some years ago, in the university, there was a fine, manly fellow, a medical student, a very Hercules in strength, but as gentle and lovable as he was strong. He was immensely popular, the captain of the foot-ball club, and not a cricket-match was considered complete without him. He was a man of good intellectual gifts as well."

He caught typhoid fever while attending the Royal infirmary, and soon he lay dying in a private yard. One of the house physicians, an earnest Christian and successful soul-winner, spoke to him about God and eternity. The dear fellow listened, became anxious, and eagerly heard the story of redeeming love.

"Will you give yourself to Jesus?" asked the doctor.

"He did not answer for a space, and then earnestly regarding the man of God, he said, 'But don't you think it would be awful mean just to make it up now, at my last gasp, with One-I have rejected all my life?'"

"Yes, it would be mean; but, dear fellow, it would be far meaner not to do it. He wants you to do it now, for He has made you willing, and it would be doubly mean to reject a love that is pursuing you even to death."

"The dying man saw the point, and apprehending the excess of that exceeding love, he launched his soul into the ocean of it."

There is not a town, country or post-office in the United States which bears the name Shakespeare!

A WOMAN'S SPITE.

MY WALTZ, Miss Neville! Kate Neville turned at the sound of Roy Palmer's soft voice and without a word laid her hand on his arm.

"Poor Roy! He had trained his heart to weeks, and in rose in rebellion the moment he saw the girl. He started like one about as he noticed a young man push his way to Kate's side."

"It was Stanley. He bowed over Kate's hand with a great embarrassment and she welcomed him warmly."

"With compressed lips Roy turned away, sick at heart."

"Later in the evening he met Stanley in the dressing room. In some way Kate's name was introduced, and Stanley spoke of her in terms of great admiration."

"She is an old acquaintance, is she not?" Roy asked.

"No, quite the contrary. I have only known her a few weeks."

"Do you mean to tell me you were not acquainted with Miss Neville two winters ago?" demanded Roy.

"A crimson flush spread from Stanley's collar to the roots of his hair. 'I expect you refer to a distant relative of this Miss Neville, who was here two winters ago and who is a very different kind of a girl. Good night!'"

The floor and ceiling seemed to meet, before the eyes of that young man, and the things in the room chased each other in the wildest way. Giving himself a shake to restore his scattered senses, he turned and went swiftly downstairs. In a few minutes he was beside Kate.

"Miss Neville, this is our waltz!" With a gasp Kate turned at the sound of the voice that four weeks before had addressed her in almost the same words. The suddenness of the attack was too much for her, and she refused to allow him to lead her to a small reception room.

He closed the door and then all the man's self-control forsook him. "Oh, Kate, can you ever forgive me? Can I ever make you love me? Believe me, I have been mad!"

He certainly gave her good cause to think he was still in that unhappy condition. Keeping her hands clasped in his, he poured forth his story - incoherently, perhaps, but it left no doubt in Kate's mind of his love for her. She kept her face carefully averted.

"Ah, my darling, is there nothing I can do to win your forgiveness?" "No," she answered, in a low tone. "You forget I am a woman."

"Kate, do not break my heart!" he pleaded, catching his breath desperately.

"And to a woman who lives there is nothing to forgive," she finished in a whisper, hiding her face on his breast.

"I hated better than they know. The only gift which nature always makes one part of his work is into another, and no energy is ever wasted. A wealthy capitalist who had set up a very fine place in the country, where he had carried out many fine constructive projects, was visited there by an old friend."

The visitor had so much difficulty in pushing open the front gate that he spoke about it to the proprietor. "You ought to fix that gate," said the guest. "A man who has everything just so should not have a gate that is hard to open."

"Hah!" exclaimed the engineer. "You don't understand my economy. That gate communicates with the water works of the house, and every person who comes through it pumps up four gallons of water." - Philadelphia Inquirer.

Apolinaris in the Senate. A Washington correspondent has been unkind enough to delve into the records of the United States Senate and produce its expense account for Apolinaris Lempage and mineral waters during the summer months. He finds that the sum of $1,728.66 was spent for this purpose in the month of July. If each Senator drank his proportion the cause of prohibition must have an overwhelming majority in this branch of congress. - Milwaukee Sentinel.

ODDS AND ENDS. The dynasty of the mikados of Japan is the oldest in the world, being sentimentally 2,556 and historically 1,660 years old.

For years past marriage in England has been at a low ebb, the rate per thousand diminished steadily, but of late the tide has turned and those who feared the population was diminishing are cheered. The excess of births over deaths in three months has been 82,197.

The law respecting folding beds, as recently handed down by a Maine court, is caveat dormitor - let the sleeper be on his guard. In the case in question the folding bed folded, and caught a man. The seller of the bed was sued for $25,000 damages, but the decision was in every particular favorable to the defendant.

A proposal to exclude from the army, the legislature and municipal office all persons whose fathers and grandfathers were not citizens is before the French chamber of deputies. CASUALTIES.

The body of a man supposed to be J. W. McGowan, residence unknown, was found beside the railroad tracks at Ellipton, Pa. It is thought he fell from a train.

Morriso, Aris, a farmer at Kokoro, Ind., was crushed to death by a frightened horse, which fell upon him. He was 72 years of age. His brother recently fell from a barn and was killed.

Fire called to extinguish a blaze in Salem, Mass., found the bodies of Josephine Manning, a milliner, and Charles Flynn, dead from pistol wounds. It is thought to be a suicide.

At New Cumberland, K. Va., Maude Campbell, aged 3, and her sister Mary were left alone in the house. Their dresses caught fire in the grate and both were burned to death.

At Elizabeth, N. J., Frank McKinley, employed by the Singer manufacturing company, was killed by a Pennsylvania railway train. McKinley had been married less than an hour. His bride was with him when he was killed.

A span of the yawning and Lake Erie railway bridge crossing at Maumee river at Toledo, Ohio, went down under the weight of a freight train, killing James Marshall, a brakeman, and demolishing five cars.

A terrific explosion occurred shortly after 6 o'clock Wednesday evening in the canyon, four miles from Ord, Utah, by which seven men were killed and three injured. The men were employed by the Pioneer Power Dam company and were about to prepare a blast when a premature explosion occurred.

Andrew Ferguson fell out of the cage at a coal mine at Brazil, Ind., and was killed.

Col. John A. Cockrell, the well-known newspaper correspondent, died Friday night of apoplexy in Shepherd's hotel, Cairo, Egypt.

The garrison on the island of Lufa, which were beleaguered by the Achinese insurgents, have been relieved. Forty Dutch soldiers were killed or wounded.

London Board of Trade reports for the first quarter of 1906 show imports amounting to $561,476,719, against $591,159,229 for 1905 and exports of $363,955,215, against $353,693,865 last year.

A bill has been introduced in the Canadian House of Commons which would make it a crime to introduce into the country any article which may be used in the manufacture of dynamite.

All bills dealing with the Moderns' Mining Convention will be introduced by the French ministry.

On re-opening after the Easter holidays the House of Commons began the discussion of the civil service estimates.

"You ought to fix that gate," said the guest. "A man who has everything just so should not have a gate that is hard to open."

"Hah!" exclaimed the engineer. "You don't understand my economy. That gate communicates with the water works of the house, and every person who comes through it pumps up four gallons of water." - Philadelphia Inquirer.

Apolinaris in the Senate. A Washington correspondent has been unkind enough to delve into the records of the United States Senate and produce its expense account for Apolinaris Lempage and mineral waters during the summer months. He finds that the sum of $1,728.66 was spent for this purpose in the month of July. If each Senator drank his proportion the cause of prohibition must have an overwhelming majority in this branch of congress. - Milwaukee Sentinel.

The Negro Question. The negro problem will never be solved until the color race is played in a condition that will enable every colored man to earn his own living. - Rev. P. A. Hubert.

ODDS AND ENDS. The dynasty of the mikados of Japan is the oldest in the world, being sentimentally 2,556 and historically 1,660 years old.

For years past marriage in England has been at a low ebb, the rate per thousand diminished steadily, but of late the tide has turned and those who feared the population was diminishing are cheered. The excess of births over deaths in three months has been 82,197.

The law respecting folding beds, as recently handed down by a Maine court, is caveat dormitor - let the sleeper be on his guard. In the case in question the folding bed folded, and caught a man. The seller of the bed was sued for $25,000 damages, but the decision was in every particular favorable to the defendant.

A proposal to exclude from the army, the legislature and municipal office all persons whose fathers and grandfathers were not citizens is before the French chamber of deputies. The rule would have kept out Napoleon Bonaparte and Gambetta. A law admitting only the children of French citizens to the civil service is also under consideration.

Luke Alexander, a desperate negro of Milan, Mo., shot and mortally wounded his wife at Brookfield, Mo., because she left him to live with her parents. He was taken to the Lunatic Asylum to prevent further violence.

CASUALTIES.

The body of a man supposed to be J. W. McGowan, residence unknown, was found beside the railroad tracks at Ellipton, Pa. It is thought he fell from a train.

Morriso, Aris, a farmer at Kokoro, Ind., was crushed to death by a frightened horse, which fell upon him. He was 72 years of age. His brother recently fell from a barn and was killed.

Fire called to extinguish a blaze in Salem, Mass., found the bodies of Josephine Manning, a milliner, and Charles Flynn, dead from pistol wounds. It is thought to be a suicide.

Let's stop harping about hard times. Winter has passed, and the warm sunlight of spring brings new hopes, new energy and new ambitions to us all—if we only accept of them.

Jennie Burdette,
Mrs. Libbie Waldron,
G. A. Downer, P. M.

Geo. Bradley has leased a part of Adam's laundry machine factory on West Main street and will occupy the same with his Star laundry. Mr. Adams will use the west front room for his office and the second floor for his factory.

If the Evening News-Tribune is really desirous of injuring Ping's gubernatorial bid they should let up on their newspaper harrassing. Even gas administered in ten large doses will react and produce nausea, resulting in life instead of death.

Township Treasurer Whitbeck was up Tuesday after the books, papers and money that goes with his office. He carried away $1,492.04 in cash and orders that have been paid since balance was taken to the amount of $1,484.83. There has been $129 paid back to the treasurer since that time.

A. W. Reed and Chas. Reed with their families left this week for Grand Blanc where they will engage in the mercantile business. They record much regret to have them leave our village. To the people of that town those two gentlemen will prove valuable acquisitions as live business men and enterprising citizens.

One sentiment expressed by W. H. Hutton at the men's meeting is worthy of repetition. A man who builds up a home business is doing more for the community than he does for himself. This is a truth, yet some of our business men who have done this very thing are cursed most by those dependent upon them for their very aid for existence.

The editor of the Ann Arbor Courier has been proscribed by the King's daughters of Northville, with their cook book. He spent four hours looking for a receipt for making tea from "Trail" and for the kind of "ax" used in preparing lamb chops, and got in a stew, because he failed to find anything so he threw the book one side and roasted the Press.—Adrian Press.

American people who are fortunate enough to have a silver dollar have on that bank of silver an exact portrait of Miss Anna Williams, a Philadelphia school marm, the possessor of the most perfect and handsome face to be found at that time in this country. The designer was George Morgan, an English engraver, and the delicate little "air" worked in on each side of the coin is a part of his genius.

The Plymouth Mail says: "One would infer that Northville has the roads leading to her village in good shape." She has but the village has done the best part of the work, not the township. If we remember correctly the poorest road now existing between Northville and Plymouth is right in Plymouth village and is on the street leading from the DLE&N depot in the north village to a point nearly up to the R&PM crossing.

The Juniors' social on Friday evening of last week was a very neat affair. The receipts were $21 and about 65 per cent of it is profit. The barn of a rink looked quite cheery and home like if one kept their eyes well on the floor. Miss Grace Yerkes and Miss Wolfe gave a couple of readings. Louise Joslyn sang a very pretty little solo and responded to an encore and Miss Dubuar rendered a piapp solo in her usual pleasing manner. The occasion was a charming success. Elliott's orchestra furnished good music.

Miss Ethelwyn Dubuar is prepared to give instructions on the piano or Reed organ. Pupils solicited. Terms made known on application.

C. M. Thornton will deliver his nursery stock here next week Tuesday.

Grant Power, Claude Burgess and Chas. Booth are among those who are riding '96 wheels.

The Baptists' experience social at the home of G. S. VanZile, Wednesday evening was a decided success and netted the society something like $60. There was a large attendance. A more extended notice will appear next week.

State Senator Briggs from this district announces that because of ill health with himself and among his family he will not be a candidate for that office again this year. Mr. Briggs has represented his district in a very satisfactory manner.

The base ball season in Northville promises to soon open up with a three case hit that will send people's thinking caps scurrying around the diamond like a 120 gear bicycle. Northville will as usual, of course, have the champion club of the two counties.

An effort should be made by our city officials to disperse the gang of boys from ten years old upwards, who congregate evenings at the postoffice and on the street corners. These lads are forming habits that will be a curse to them in after years and is certainly a menace to the peace and welfare of the community in general at present.

For the benefit of the disgruntled we will say that the omission of Shirley Tisham's name in enumerating the many excellent things at the men's experience social was entirely unintentional and was caused by a second party being obliged to read the reporter's notes and finish the article, the reporter being ill. Her recital was very good.

While digging on the Tibbs farm just east of the village Wednesday Dave Barber resurrected the greater part of a human skull—probably that of an Indian. The place where the skull was found was in what used to be an old tannery swamp and it may have lain there for a century or more. Dr. Burgess has the "relic" wired together and the regular shape, and the close proximity of the eyes to each other makes it considerable of a curiosity. A search is now being made for the appointments that go with this head gear.

For his subject last Sunday morning Rev. J. H. Herberner took up the financial situation. His thought was that in all this suffering incident to the scarcity of employment, hard times and over production was the hand of God brought about by the selfishness of the people. He told of one instance where a Northville man was unable to attend church on Sunday because of no clothes fit to wear. He thought there would be a great change for the better when all people put away self as the hind and worshiped God first. The sermon was an interesting one and furnished much thoughtful food.

The Mail says the only objection so far advanced regarding the division of the town is additional cost, and that does appear to be the only argument. But when it is considered that the only real addition as regards expense is one-half the clerk's salary, possibly amounting in all to $65, which amount can no doubt be saved many times over when officers can give proper time and care for the town's interest. Plymouth township out in two would even then be the largest township, population considered, in the county outside of the city districts. By all means let the town be divided.

The water board should soon get their heads together and consider the question of the hours for sprinkling. As long as the reservoir is full and running over there is no apparent need for the hour limit. Another question is that relative to the charge for different sized lawns. If the thing is to be limited to one or two hours each water taker should pay the same price per tap without regard to the size of the lawn. It is contended, and rightly so, that if the time for sprinkling is limited to one or two hours per day a person cannot add will not use any more water on a ten acre farm than on a six foot lawn.
