The council meeting Monday night
was marked by "one exciting" events
throughout.

Northside citizens residing along Grade avenue went to city to arrange some sort of a drain to care for the water which accumulates along that street. Ald. Laning for the street committee thought it could be fixed but he didn't know just how. His committee will figure out some plan
and report later.

The president asked the council to consider the question of employing an expert to diagnose the village's electric lights and see if it is getting all the candle power that is being paid for.
He said if the village is getting too much, not enough or just the exact quantity they want to know it.

The president said an addition had been put on the Adams building on Main street contrary to the fire limit ordinance. He had some time ago told Mr. Adams he had better tear down, but at last meeting he (Adams) had said nothing to the council. Said there had been some stir about it on the line of "what's safe for the goose is safe for the gander."

Mr. Adams explained that he under stood the president to mean that he should stop until after the following meeting of the council, which will be held on April 1st. He was present at that meeting but as nothing was said he supposed it was all right and went ahead, but he had no intention of violating any ordinance. Said the council gave him permission to build the large building
and the little addition was of same material and attached to the other.

Ald. Laning said under the order of the council had no right to grant
the privilege of putting up the building in the first place. The clerk was asked to read the ordinance and then Ald. Boeve said he believed the fire-limit ordinance should be abolished and the whole matter left with the fire committee. Ald. Burgess said if the council wanted rockeries and wood sheds of all kinds to go up all over the main part of the town then abolish the ordinance. The other members of the council agreed that a fire ordinance should be indispensable. The president took a pretense Mr. Adams' only alter native was to plead guilty and accept me, for defense of the court.

and I felt as the clerk said the vil

year the fire highway fund was $200 and to

TALMAGE'S SERMON.

DIVISION OF THE SPOILS LAST SUNDAY'S SUBJECT.

A Lesson: Radiant with Coming Rewards for All Well Doers—“Shun Dilute Spoils with the Strong”—Malak, 21st.

N THE Colosseum at Rome, where persecutors used to let out the half-starved lions to eat up Christians, there is now planted the figure of a cross. And I rejoice to know that the upright piece of wood nailed to it transverse piece has become the symbol not of victory, but of conquest. The God who rules over all means that his word, from pole to pole, has come to supersede the reign of falsehood. For that reason he keeps the earth running through space, though so many stars are blazing down in its umbrae, and so many meteoric meteors have threatened to dash it to pieces. As soon as the earth is completed Christ will dispossess of the dominions of Satan, and the possession of the world shall remain in the hands of Christians for thousands of years, and they shall remain as they are. There are old estates in the celestial world that have been in the possession of the inhabitants for thousands of years, and they shall be given to the righteous.

The capture of this round planet for Christ is not so much of a job as we might imagine, when the church takes off its coat and rolls up its sleeves for the work, as it will. There are uncounted millions of people now in the world, and four hundred and fifty millions are Christians. Subtract four hundred and fifty millions who are not Christians from the sixteen hundred millions, and there are eleven hundred and fifty millions left. Divide the eleven hundred and fifty millions into fifteen hundred and fifty who are Christians, and you will find that we shall have to average less than three souls each brought into the kingdom of God, to bring him who is still unredeemed. Certainly the church rising up to its full number will Christianize the world in less than three years from the day of God's judgment. I hope, however, that the church will be still more than three thousand years old when it is fully redeemed.

BRIEFS

"I REALIZE now, what's more, I don't think I ever shall. It wasn't for the ring on the third finger of my left hand, I should certainly think I had been asleep, and dreaming. How did it all make an easy question to a hard one to answer? I always used to say, from my up, that Penay Lihavet was an old maid. I wasn't a child. My eyes were too big, hair grew, too low on my forehead, and there was a hollow look at my skin. And then I had away things, away and white stuff, hung up rooms after other people, green in my nests and bureau drawers, like as not as wax and I couldn't bear to red, or see anything in the way of carelessness disorder; so the people would look at me and laugh, and say: 'She'll be an old maid, as sure as."

Elegantly I used to cry sometimes to myself, all about it, but no one else knew how I felt about the matter. Royden Grey them as the most unchaste girls of them, I was always afraid of him when went to Sunday school together, for used to hide behind the doors and out but at me, and throw stones at kitten, and call me names, and this is the with my pug nose and big want a nicely ugly name "Pen," was such fabric aggravated on his part especially, I say. That is our darling. For me, too, two years since we've seen each other again.

I was in the world to good service

when Roy came back. There are more than the two of us left without needing to go to the door of mortuary, but I have to go in except to that time. I never had an til I got to be thirty, and then, by degrees I left off caring for it, and made up my mind to be as happy as I could all by myself. So, as my dear relations were all dead, and I had tolerably snug little sum to fall back upon, I took a pretty little cottage, and had my niece Edith Lonsdale, to live with me, for Edith was pretty and penniless, and I felt as if Providence meant me to stand in the place of a mother to that poor, motherless child.

She was seventeen, and as pretty as the freshest rose in all my garden.

Tall and slim, with deep blue eyes, hair like heaven's sunbeams, and a complexion all pink and white, you loved to look at her just as you loved to look at a flower or a statue, or any other beautiful thing.

"Do you love me, Pen? Don't look the other way, I will be answered."

I did love him, I had loved him long and tenderly, and I told him so, not without some bushes and misgivings, however.

"On, Pen," he whispered, holding me close to his heart, "if you knew the years and years I had been looking forward to this time."

So I was married—quickly, of course and with no bridesmaid but Edith, but I think the sun never shone on a happier bride. And I live in the old place, and Edith is here with me, but next week we are to have another wedding, and my blue-eyed blossom goes from me to Harry Burnham's cave.

But, as I said before, it all seems like a dream; and as I sit alone in my beautiful home, I almost fancy myself a solitary old maid again, until Royden's footstep in the hall, and his voice calling for his "dear little wife," rouses me to a sense of my new life and new happiness.

"Is this Glen Gottage?" he asked, school girl the utmost gravity.

"Private eyes, sir," I answered, "but—"

An order of Loyal Guards with a membership of about 50 was organized here this week. It is to inurn or order much after the style of the MacCabe order except that it has the advantage of a reserve fund created at the onset which accumulation is to afford an offset to some of the assessments which are sure to become more frequent as the years go by.

John Hinch has now installed the two wheel sled. He thought he had the animal under proper control last week but in going down the hill toward the depot "lost his pedals" and the sled took a bee-line for the Argon mill pond. John yelled for a life line and then pulled the "off" rein and succeeded in guiding the runaway into the Amherst Mercantile Co.'s lumber yards where it was finally subdued and led home.

The saloons at Wayne are in a peak of trouble. The two big houses in order to lease out the two smaller saloons asked the council to increase the bonds from $2,000 to $5,000. The council accommodated the gentlemen but when neither of the hotels nor the saloons were able to find acceptable $5,000 bonds the joke was on the other side. The town at present is as dry as a last summer's mouth and to make it worse the hotel men have locked up the town pumps.

Undoubtedly the most novel and at the same time the most successful and practical lawn sprinkler ever seen in Northville is the "Little Giant" now being used by the Editor of this paper on his lawn. It is a self-propelled and all you have to do is to attach the hose and turn it loose. The little machine will propel itself about the lawn dragging the hose with it in any required direction and for any distance desired, and at the same time it will sprinkle over a larger surface than any other sprinkler in existence.

There is an ordinance against nude bathing in the various ponds within the village and this practice indulged in by some of our young men will get them into trouble. The authorities say they will make a complaint in the very next case after this warning.

A printing office is considered by some folks a rough place, and the newspaper worker a mighty bad man. Statistics, however, do not bear out that idea. Of 3,860 convicts in the State Penitentiary of Texas there is not a printer or newspaper man, white there are ministers, doctors, bankers, bartenders, photographers, bakers, cooks and members of professions and callings. The printer gets a bad name because the business teaches him to detect shams, and he scorns the hypocrite, says an exchange.

The Eastern Star's social in the Masonic temple Friday night was a decided success. The attendance was large—probably 250 people—and besides others well fed everyone was also highly entertained by the talented acting shown in the farce, "Woman Masonry." Mrs. Sessions as Susan B. Anthony, was ushered into the magic circle on the traditional Lodge goat but before the solemn ceremony was concluded a man, "Paul Fry" (Chas. Northrop) was discovered within the exclusive portals. He was dragged before the throne, apparently more dead than alive, where he was compelled to take upon himself a fearful obligation to never reveal any of the secrets. The parts were all well taken and the audience was kept in laughter from start to finish.

Tuesday afternoon, this week, a number of our society ladies organized a Trailing Arbutus searching party. They had been shown some rare specimens of the fragrant flower, which was alleged to have been gathered in the woods adjoining the village. The ladies—perhaps a dozen in number—first explored every nook and cranny in the Thompson grove but discovered not a single Arbutus trail. The perseverance of the exploring party then took them over into the Harmon woods and here they found something that proved more remarkable than the flower for which they searched. When part way through they were set upon by a huge flock of geese. We are not informed whether any of the ladies were costumed in gowns or trimmings of green or not but anyhow the geese took to the girls like flies to a hamster barrel. The explorers fled and the geese hissed, the explorers grabbed sticks and the geese grabbed the explorers dresses; the explorers made for some rocks distant, and the geese made for the same place. The explorers climbed the fence, the geese couldn't climb but they could keep the girls where a great many politicians are just now, "on the stone." The geese lasted until dusk when the attacking party withdrew for a night's sleep. The exploring party arrived home about dark, so that they must have been "tired for some hours. While the ladies discovered that Arbutus does not grow in this neck of the woods they have also learned to be aware of geese when they bushwhack as they are tied fast on the other side of fence.

Farmers take notice! Kenyon L. Butterfield, superintendent of Farmers' Institutes, writes us that the agricultural college has prepared some suggestions for experiments that may be carried on by members of our county farmers institute society in connection with institute work. These experiments are of several kinds and will be of interest to the farmers of this country. If the members of the county institute society will call on or address the secretary, Chas. S. Bartlett of Pontiac they can secure a circular giving full information. They ought to apply at once if they wish to have the chance to make any of the experiments.

The members of the West Novi Debating Club are requested to be at the usual place of meeting Saturday evening, May 9th for the purpose of adopting suitable resolutions as a tribute to the memory of their dearly beloved fellow member, Mrs. Katie Dunham.

A. N. Krause, President.

DELIA F. HARMON, Secretary.

Won't be fine when the people of Novi will have a electric car drive over to Novi, stop off for refreshments, and then proceed via night car to what will soon become the great resort in Michigan—Walled Lake.

Northville ought this ought to help to put up a good house for this great privilege as so many Northville people already own cottages at the lake, and more will build.

The trustees of the Baptist Church here and throughout, have engaged Pastor T. J. Tickner to continue the pastorate of 36 months use of parsonage.

Mr. Tickner has given good satisfaction during his pastorate here and is earnest, straight forward, godly minister. He does declare the whole gospel, no matter where it fits best, and we believe that his kind of preaching is doing the people of Novi much good. We congratulate the trustees on their resolution to retain the gentle man.

There's some one over in Novi who needs a lesson in finance, and does not without special instruction compare the difference in powers of the government in the matter of making or manufacturing money. When we get time we will run over and take measurement, and if there's any prospect of developing that understanding we will spend an hour or two cheering him up.

If that Novi gentleman ever gets the silver balls in the brain covering, we fear they will have to be done up in paper.—Adrija Press.

The entire community received a shock Sunday when the news came that Mrs. Kate Dunham, one of Novi's most estimable and popular young ladies had been called to her rest after a brief illness in Detroit where she had been staying during the winter with relatives. Few had heard of her dangerous sickness, and in consequence scarcely anyone was prepared for the sad tidings. Miss Dunham has spent her life here with but brief absences, and everyone who knew her loved her, as her sweet kindly ways could not fail to win friends wherever she went. She has been for several years a faithful consistent member of the Baptist church here, and will be sadly missed in the many places where her gentle yet cheerful presence was always so welcome. The body was brought to the home Monday, and the funeral services were held Tuesday forenoon at the Baptist church, attended by a very large concourse of friends, testifying to the esteem in which the departed was held by all. The deepest sympathy is felt, and expressed for those upon whom such a loss falls most heavily, especially the father and mother, who are thus bereaved of the only one of their children who was left in the home. The floral offerings were among the most beautiful and abundant that have ever been seen here. The services were conducted by the pastor of the church Rev. J. J. Tickner

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at Rives Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding the Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last me 10-12 hours at a time, and it seemed as if she could not survive. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery, and I said, 'If you will let me have it, I will give it a trial.' I did so, and the results were wonderful."

A new flag was raised and trees were placed on the school yard. The occasion was one of interest and pleasure.

Farmers take notice. Kenyon L. Butterfield, superintendent of Farmers' Institutes, writes us that the agricultural college has prepared some suggestions for experiments that may be carried on by members of our county farmers institute society in connection with agriculturist work. These experiments are of several kinds and will be of interest to the farmers of this country. If the members of the county especially the father and mother, who constitute society will gather or address the secretary, Chas. S. Baglett of Pontiac, they can secure a circular giving full information. They ought to apply at once if they wish to have the chance to make any of the experiments.

The members of the West Novi Debating club are requested to be at the usual place of meeting Saturday evening May 6th, for the purpose of adopting suitable resolutions as a tribute to the memory of their dearly beloved fellow member Miss Kate Dunham.

Won't it be fine when the people of Northville can board an electric car, come over to Novi, stop off for refreshments, and then jump on the next car to what will soon become the greatest resort in Michigan? Waited Lake Novi's patriotic ought to be willing to put up a good home for this great privilege, also in Novi. Northville people attend our cottage at the lake, had more white birds

The trustee of the Baptist churches Novi and Farmington, have engaged Pastor J. T. Tickner to continue the pastorate at first and use of parsonage.

Mr. Tickner has given good satisfaction during his pastorate here, and is a contrast, straightforward, gospel minister.

He does declare the whole gospel, no matter where it has been taught, and we believe that is kind of preaching nothing the people of Novi much need. We are grateful if it continues on their wise decision to retain the gentleman.

There's one over in Novi who needs a lesson in finance, and does not, without special instruction, comprehend the difference in power of the government in the matter of raising manufacturing money. When we get home we will run over and take measurements, and if there's any prospect of developing that understanding we will spend an hour or two cheerfully. If that Novi person never gets any silver bars in the brain covering, we rest they will have to be done up in paper.—Adrian Press

The entire community received a shock Sunday when the news came that Miss Kate Bullock, one of Novi's most estimable and popular young ladies had been called to her rest after a brief illness in Detroit where she had been staying during the winter with relatives. Few had heard of her dangerous sickness, and in consequence scarcely anyone was prepared for the sad tidings. Miss Dunham has spent her life here with but brief absences, and everyone who knew her loved her, as her sweet kindly ways could not fail to win friends wherever she went.

She has been for several years a faithful, consistent member of the Baptist church here, and will be sadly missed in the many places where her gentle yet cheerful presence was always so welcome. The body was brought to the home Monday, and the funeral services were held Tuesday forenoon at the Baptist church, attended by a very large conourse of friends, testifying to the esteem in which the departed was held by all. The deepest sympathy is felt and expressed for those upon whom such a loss is most heavily.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Guntherman of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at Rives Junction, she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding the Grippe. Terrible prostration of energy, etc. Dr. King's discovery and treatment saved her life. I am a friend to Dr. King."

The Arbor Day exercises held last Friday at the school house were very appropriate and good. The remarks by Hon. P. Dean Warner were excellent. A new flag was raised and trees were placed on the school yard. The occasion was one of interest and pleasure.

The many friends sympathize with John Hayes and family of Detroit on the death of a beloved wife and mother. They were formerly Farmington residents and the death of Mrs. Hayes was a shock to the community.

The funeral service of the little babe of Mr. and Mrs. Bowden occurred Saturday from the house, Rev. L. B. DuPuis officiating. C. J. Kelley funeral director, Mr. and Mrs. Bowden have the sympathies of all in their affliction.
