Dress Goods Silks Carpets Wall Paper

selling right lively these days.
Are you with the majority coming to this store for your Dry Goods of all kinds.

From the Farmington Enterprise:
Holmes, Dancer & Co., of Northville, made a big hit last week when they made the sale to the Methodist society of nearly 300 yards of fine carpet for their church there. This is the first time a church society has ever been able to buy a carpet in Northville, and much credit is due this firm for carrying such a large assortment. They submitted sixty-four patterns to the committee, and their prices were the lowest on carpet, lining, matting and making.

From the South Lyon Excelsior:
Holmes, Dancer & Co., of Northville, last week sold the M. E. church of that place nearly 300 yards of carpet for the church. This is the first time any church society has ever been able to buy a carpet in that town. And much credit is due this firm for the large assortment of patterns (64) submitted by them. The bid was lowest all the way through. On lining, making and matting, as well as carpet. It is the first time in the history of Northville that its residents could buy a carpet nearer than Detroit. Thanks to Holmes, Dancer & Co. for now carrying so good an assortment.

Record and other papers yet to hear from.

of thirty met at Geo. Bryant's last week Thursday and among the invited guests were the Rev. Oliver Carpenter, Caleb Sprague and wife and Orvin Cook all of Farmington. The enjoyment of the day was somewhat marred by the severe rain in the afternoon, otherwise everything was as pleasant
as one could wish.

A SHORT CUT TO HEALTH.

To try to cure constipation by taking pills like going round in a circle. You will never reach the point sought, but only get back to the starting point. A perfect natural laxative is Bacon's Celery King, the celebrated remedy for all nerve, blood, stomach, liver and kidney diseases. It regulates the bowels. Murdock Bros., Northville; S. D.

The school teacher is the guardian angel of the republic. She takes the boys and girls, full of pouts and passions—ungovernable little creatures who are sent to school to get rid of them—and proceeds to put them in the way of becoming useful and upright citizens. She ought to have the thanks of the whole community but she seldom receives any.

The joint installation of officers of the Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges on Wednesday evening was a very pleasant event. Mrs. Ada F. Carpenter of Grand Rapids, president of the State Rebekah Assembly, accompanied by her daughter, was present and installed the following officers: N. G. Mrs. Mary Bristol; V. G. Besse Galbraith; Secy., Mrs. Edith Parker; Treasurer Matthews. The IOOF officers were installed by the D. D. G. M., after which refreshments were served.

In these days no lady should attempt to start out on a calling trip without a good supply of cards with her, and dame fashion dictates just what size and thickness those cards shall be. There is one size for the Misses, another for the Miss and still another for Mr. And then too dame fashion says the same must be engraved or printed. Cards are always left whether the hostess is at home or not. These cards engraved, printed or blank in the very latest styles are always to be found at the Record Printery.

The Ladies Library Association ladies are preparing to give a neat entertainment at the opera house in about two or three weeks. The proceeds are to go towards the new library building fund. Miss Babbitt who recently graduated with such high honors at the Detroit school of education is to give her first public recital upon this occasion, assisted by some well known musicians. Mr. Shaffer the owner of the opera house has ordered the manager to place the boxes at their disposal free of charge. Miss Babbitt and the musicians donate their services, the Record Printery furnishes the printed matter gratuitously while Mr. Neale takes charge of the advertising, for a sum of $100, and everybody else is expected to eat half of a磅 to the wheel and give it a turn. As the "notes" and the further particulars are small bills.

A slight incident of judging occurred this week between the Union men at the shop and the League base ball association over the use of the grounds. It seems that W. E. Verdoe, the owner of the "South Side" park, stipulated in the rental contract to the association that there should be no playing or practicing on the grounds except by the terms of the lease or by the terms of the contract and of Mr. Verdoe's objection has now made an inevitable settlement of the affair. The association say they personally have no objection to anyone using the grounds if Mr. Verdoe will give his permission. To the Record yesterday morning Mr. Verdoe personally stated that the association must live up to their contract which was just as stated above. He also added that unless they did so they would have to stay off the grounds themselves.

The apparent sore spots and ill feelings towards Northville's ball club by a majority of Plymouth people cropped out in all conceivable shapes and in every nook and corner on the 4th. To help them out and show a friendly spirit the Northville ball club transferred their bad game booked to be played here that day to Plymouth and hundreds of our citizens accompanied the club to leave their money and have a jolly time. Had the ball game been between Northville and Plymouth it would have been natural to expect Plymouth people to have given our boys the "roast," but when Northville's opponents were from Detroit, and every member of the team a stranger, it was the first man he struck started it to compare its size with that of one of the Belle Isle bears, whereupon the Record man fled. The new buildings can't be built any too soon.

Owing to the apparent close times it is possible that no city directory will be issued this year. The expense of publishing the directory is about $500 usually paid for by the advertising and although about that many dollars worth of contracts have been secured, they came so reluctantly, and having no desire to seem in any way to impose upon the good nature of our patrons and there being no money in it for the publisher, it is thought advisable to defer the issue for another year.

While the DL&N train was stopping at Plymouth Saturday night, Geo. Barnhart of this place held up 50 cents to one of the Grand Rapids ball club men who had the club's coon mascot. George meant this offer for the coon but the base ball men took it (the coin) as a donation, and instead of the coon gave George the marble heart. George boarded the car in an effort to secure his 25 cent dollar and when he made the recovery he was over at Salem from which point he walked into Northville during the star light hours.

Another good slide would be into THE RECORD PRINTERY for some tasty Job Printing. The best is none to good, and that's what you get at.

RECOMMENDS THE SHAKER REMEDIES.

Milan, Mich. July 4, 1880.

To the Shaker Doctor.—I had been sick several years with chronic troubles which were so bad that I could not come to town or attend any public entertainment without an attack of sick headache and nervousness.

After taking a few doses of the Shaker remedies the disagreeable symptoms have all disappeared.

I can heartily recommend the Shaker Doctor and his remedies to all who are afflicted.

I had used almost everything that I could get in the form of heat-vents, cures, without any relief, until using the Shaker Medicine.

I feel that I cannot speak too highly of the Shaker remedies, as this is the first Fourth of July celebration I have been able to attend for eleven years. I have enjoyed myself very much, and I give all the credit to the Shaker Medicine.

Yours with best regards,

(Signed) Mrs. A. W. Becker.

The Shaker Doctor will have his parlors at W. C. Holmes residence in Northville where he can be consulted on all chronic diseases.

A cat grecian bread is what South Lyon killed and now, by the judge of a Northville wagon, they have got it.—Northville Record.

Well, that's a bunch of comfort to the laymen. What's the matter with South Lyon?—Lyons making their own breads. They can have good bread if they are well bred.—Adrian Press.

The Motter Diagonal asserts that at the St. Louis convention there were three kinds of judges. The silver jugs, the gold jugs and the stradling jugs. He Demogat is informed by the quiet remouller that the same beautiful jugs when last seen were crawling very rapidly in the direction of the hills and following close in their wake was a great big pinching bug.

A get dog just during the late tornado in Galion county, and whose owner has offered a reward of $100 for his restoration, has been found in the woods thirteen miles from his former home, but in such a terrified condition as to render all efforts to capture so far in vain. A Chicago dog catcher, according to all reprisals, would have him in less than no time.

Down at Wayne the school board ordered the commencement programs without consulting with the graduating class or the local printing office. The first lot was tough lockers and had to be returned. The Review insinuates that members of the school board purchase school supplies from their own stores but when it comes to printing they feel obliged to go out of town.

Some of the draymen of Ann Arbor take exception to a criticism of the Times on the profanity of the draymen and the local printing office. The Times is the only drayman among other things: "Why, many of those poor draymen never had a day's time to read the Bible to post up on sacred names to use profanely." This explains. It was evident from their awkward swearing that something was wrong.—Monroe Democrat.

PENINSULA MATTERS

RELATED IN A BRIEF CONCISE MANNER.

Prohibitionists Split at the Lansing Convention.—The New National Party Formed and Two State Tickets Nominated.

The split which occurred in the Prohibition party at the national convention at Pittsburg some weeks ago has caused a break in the party in Michigan at the state convention at Lansing. There is now a Prohibition party and a National party—both working against the evils of drink, but radically disagreeing among themselves as to what sort of money is best for the country. The Nationalists call them selves broad gauge. They believe in free silver, women suffrage, governmental control of railroads, the referendum, prohibition, restriction of immigration and all these are put into a platform. The Prohibitionists stand on a one-plank platform—the prohibition of the liquor traffic.

The Nationalists met in the armory with 150 persons present. Chairman A. L. Moore of Pontiac opened the ball after prayer by Rev. P. R. Clark of Edwardsburg. J. S. Evans of Branch county was made secretary. Committee were appointed and a state central committee selected by districts. The platform committee reported favoring prohibition, woman suffrage, free coinage of silver, restriction of immigration, government ownership and control of monopolies. Resolutions were also adopted calling for a reduction of salaries in proportion to the ability of the people to pay and condemning the Republican party for the passage of the Shaw anti-suffrage bill.

Presidential electors were chosen by districts with D. W. Grinnan of Adrian and A. C. Wisner of Adrian electors at large. The following gubernatorial ticket was nominated: Governor John Gilibson of Clare; Lieutenant-governor Harvey B. Hatch of Marquette; secretary of state, Salem A. Dean of Flushing; state treasurer Isaac M. Shepard of Saginaw; auditor general A. S. Jackson of Muskegon; attorney-general John S. Evans of Coldwater; land commissioner Rudolph R. Atcheson of Petoskey; member state board of education, Joseph H. Stoer of Ann Arbor; superintendent of public instruction, Mrs. Lucy St. Morhouse of Big Rapids.

The attendance at the narrow convention was considerably smaller than Russell, the general father of Prohibition, presided and W. T. Taylor was made secretary. After committees were appointed and a state central committee elected, a platform for straight-out Prohibition and that alone, was adopted. The following ticket was nominated: Governor K. C. Staford of Remington; lieutenant-governor, Henry Andrus of Edwardsburg; secretary of state, Geo. Roelofs of Grand Rapids; state treasurer, W. E. Edsell of Gogebic; attorney-general, W. A. Hart of Clio; attorney-general, Noah W. Cheever of Ann Arbor; land commissioner, Wm. Parmenter of Vicksburg; superintendent of public instruction, W. N. Ayers of Alton; member of the state board of education, Elmer Hauser of Detroit; presidential electors at large, John Russell of New Haven, and Samuel Dickie of Alton.

James M. Turner, of Lansing, is dead. After a somewhat lengthy illness, induced by a severe attack of grip, but which was not considered serious, James M. Turner of Lansing, died suddenly at the Alma Sanitarium. Mr. Turner was born in 1859, on the present site of Lansing and has always been identified with the city's interests. He was twice mayor of the city, served in the state legislature in 1871 and was the Republican candidate for governor in 1890, but was defeated by Winans. He leaves a widow and two sons.

Albert G. Saunders, a young student at the Case school of applied sciences, who was spending his vacation at the Brown Co. works to gain practical knowledge, started for home on his bicycle alone. Some of the strikers saw him and began throwing bricks and stones at him. A brick struck him on the head and knocked him off the bicycle. Rising to his knees, Saunders drew a revolver and fired, the bullet striking Wm. Retter in the breast and he died soon after being taken to the hospital. An officer arrived just in time to save Saunders from sure death and took him in a hurry to the office of the Bishop Bealeck Co. The mob surrounded this building in a very short time and tried to break in to lynch Saunders, but two wagonloads of officers arrived in the nick of time and held the mob at bay. In the meantime Mayor McKinstry was in consultation with the police, directors and estate militia officers. When they received word of the critical condition of affairs it was at once decided to order out the troops. The Highland City guards and Co. F. Fifth regiment were hurried to the scene and forced their way to the Bishop Bealeck office. Saunders was then placed in a patrol wagon and under the escort of the Guards was taken to the central station where he held his own charge of murder. Co. F. in command of Maj. Leitch, marched to the center of the crowd that had gathered behind. The soldiers were mounted and jeered. Maj. Leitch saluted his men, drew his revolver and declared that upon the slightest attempt at violence he would give the command to fire. After that the noise ceased and the crowd scattered. The object of the various correspondents is not to stir up a racket but to gather interesting news each week which is as reliable as possible. Sometimes items are inserted in a good humored raillery not intended to injure the feelings of any one. The columns of a newspaper are not the place to say splendid things and if many would be a little more considerate and not look upon the representatives of the press as mortal foes, it would be much better for all concerned.

One day last week a man in this vicinity while picking berries suddenly felt something crawling down his back. He nearly had a fit before the animal could be recovered, when an investigation proved that a scorpion and raspberry had been meandering down his spinal column.

A Novi lady sowed a couple of beds of radishes this spring and now has two fine lots of lettuce in her front yard, says a Novi lady who carefully planted some choice flower seeds from Washington or Philadelphia or somewhere has to all appearance a fine crop of penstemon coming on.

Lately the dog-woman has been more offensive than ever. Several persons have been bitten and one street is traveled but little by the woman on account of a certain dog which keeps going there. It is a pity that this dog doesn't bite the wrong person sometimes and get a dose of lead.

What means that look on Bert's face? 'Tis half a smile and half a look of sadness. 'Tis said too that the smile is most prominent as Bert wheels around that corner going towards the lake (mind you not to the lake) but the smile vanishes as he thinks of one far away, and mutters, "I wonder what she'd say."

The Milford grocers paralyzed a fruit vendor recently by starting out a wagon loaded with similar wares selling at two cents a dozen less than the peddler asked. He came down accordingly when the other fellows made another drop of two cents per dozen. The situation exemplified the much quoted saying about one man's necessity being another's opportunity, and the citizens undoubtedly appreciated it, without giving a sigh of regret for the vanished profits of the contending parties. From the Times' point of view the freeze-out was justifiable and some good reasons are advanced in support of that side of the question, but it seems as if there is a trifling inconsistency somewhere, since the foreigner had received the permission of the authorities to sell by paying the required license, which certainly would be doing his share toward "paying taxes" for the short period that he resided the benefits to be derived. With some expert exponent of the "tariff question" please explain
