Northville Scholars Held a Reunion
Tuesday,

The reunion of the pupils of the Northville school of 1880 which occurred at the home of Mrs. Frank Harmon, 42 Dunlap street, Tuesday afternoon was a particularly pleasant event, and brought to mind many pleasant reminiscences of those happy by-gone days. The company was entertained from 3 to 9 by Mrs. L. A. Babbitt and Mrs. F. S. Harmon, and mingled with the general good time Miss Carolyn Holt Babbitt gave one of her charming recitations.

Those present were: Miss Ins. Milroy of Saginaw; Ms. Mesdames Nellie Gardner Hewitt of Grand Rapids; Emma Ingalls Hinman of Fenlon; Hattie Clark-French of Detroit; Lizzie Wiblee Nicols; May Butler Smith; Eva Deal-Babitt; Susie Emery Wooley; Lucy Chambers-Filkins; Emma Simonds Bogert; Flora Wade Estabrook and Kitte Simonds Harmon of Northville. Letters of regret were received from Mrs. Lizzie Carol Johnson and Mrs. Louise Deal-Chadwick who were absent because of illness.

Plymouth fair people will hang up about $2,000 in race prizes for their coming fair, Sept. 15-18.

Ever since the Delray ball club beat a Detroit team, the whole town of Springwells has been in an incorporation.

Driving the needful cyclonic wind at Wall Lake some Plymouth ladies in one of the cottages cowered under the bed for protection.

Some Wayne Sunday-school men will join Bryan admirers, who are longer study their lessons, giving as a reason that they could not stand the golden test.

Lightning didn't do a thing at Brighton last week but strike every church, Presbyterian, Wesleyan, and Baptist, in town. When the churches run short it knocked over a few birds.

The Monitor Insurance Co. of Oakland county rule that they are not responsible for damage to stock by lightning inside a city or village limit. A farmer must have his stock at home when they are going to be struck by lightning.

Holly is to have a big bicycle meet on Aug. 27 for which there is nearly $200 in prizes hung up. Holly people are especially anxious to have a large number of entries from Northville. Entries close Aug. 25. Jas. Sloane is the secretary.

Wayne has a newly organized brass band. The members are young Sunday-school scholars and they pledge themselves to neither chew tobacco nor swear. Miss Ennis Howe is the manager and the band is bound to be all right anyhow.

"Doc" Cary of Delray announces that he is "in the hands of his friends" for the office of county coroner. It's better to have the doctor in the hands of his friends than for the friends to get into the hands of the coroner. "Doc" Cary would make a good coroner though just the same.

A threshing machine man named Coon of Flat Rock is making more money out of the township by letting his traction engine smash through bridges than by doing jobs for the farmers. Last year the town put up $65 for a job of the kind and last week for a similar accident the taxpayers will donate about double that amount. Brownstown farmers are now purchasing traction engines in car load lots.

The following item is going the rounds of the papers and up to date has been tagged for a lady in every town in Michigan except Northville: "A Plymouth going lady remarked that if she couldn't wear bloomers when she rode her wheel, she wouldn't wear anything. Interesting Schedule of Games Yet to Be Played.

Owing to the two teams not being able to agree on letting the YMCA field not play here bi-weekly as noted in last week's issue.

Aug. 27.—The first game here will be with the Wyandottes. —Thursday, Aug. 27. D. Yerkes and Amherst will be Northville's battery for the occasion and W. H. Weston and Webster will occupy their old positions. The Wyandottes are playing good ball and a lively game may be looked for.

Sept. 3.—The Detroit White Lead Works team will play here Thursday, Sept. 3. This team has this year vanquished both the Murphy, Wasey and Cass team and if our boys win they will have to "get in the game."

Sept. 10.—The Eastern Branch YMCA team of Detroit (now called the Cyclones) will play here Thursday, Sept. 10. This is the team that defeated Romeo by a score of 8 to 7 last week. Remember the Cyclone(s) day. German may play in this game.

The Northville's went up to Milford Tuesday and defeated the team there by a score of 12 to 11. It was one of the most hotly contested games in which either team had indulged this season and there was enough kicking to make this lively and interesting. One great feature of the game was the remarks of the veterans.

WANTS A SAMPLE

The great photographic material and publishing house of E. & H. T. Anthony & Co. of New York has a rare compliment to local photographer, H. F. Brown, by requesting a sample of his work for their "International Annual Photographic Bulletin." The publication is one of the finest of the kind in the world and the solicitation of the sample in the following letter speaks in high praise of the artistic work of Mr. Brown which has evidently been noticed even so far away as New York.

New York, Aug. 15, 1896.

H. F. Brown, Northville, Mich.
Dear Sir.—May I ask you for the loan of a specimen of your work for reproduction in the Ninth Volume of the "International Annual of Anthony's Photographic Bulletin?" This publication will, we believe, be the best illustrated year book ever issued and to this end we have secured the services of some of the best photo engravers in this country. We shall be glad to leave the choice of subject entirely to you?

VETERANS' PICNIC

It Was Last Week's Great Event at Salem.

SALF M., Michigan, August 18, 1896.—(Staff Correspondence.)—The event of the last week for Salem was the Veterans' picnic and reunion given on Saturday the 15th at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Savery, two miles west of Lapham's Corner. The day was warm but pleasant until the program was about completed.

The case is perfectly clear. A man has given $1,000 in gold to the U. S. for notes or bonds. These notes or bonds do not promise to pay in gold, but the understanding is that they will be paid. What kind of a nation is that which passes law compelling the payment of such notes and bonds in silver? And what power can advance the price of silver from 67 cents to 72¢? What power can enable the U. S. to pay its notes in gold when the amount of such notes is practically annihilated? Have we not had experience enough of the difficulty of paying U. S. notes in gold, after having purchased a ~~large~~ amount of silver at the market price? Do we need experience to demonstrate that we cannot pay gold after we have begun to issue U. S. notes in ~~submitted~~ amount for silver bullion at the rate of $1.28 per ounce?

Does any one imagine that the silver men will be satisfied with the slow action of the mints? If Bryan is elected, the U. S. will issue its notes as above and these notes will not be paid in gold because they cannot be. We will sink at once as a nation, to the exact position of a man who has paid his debts in full, but who uses his political power to pass a law which enables him to settle with his creditors at 50 or 60 or 70 cents per dollar. The furnishers of this country have a great opportunity. They can vote for silver, which means a ~~safe~~ right to them at the cost of national dishonor. Or they can vote for gold, which means national honor at all costs, regardless of any man's profit or loss.

TO THE FARMERS

(This column is conducted by the Northville McKinley Club.)

Bryan, in his N. Y. speech, said, "I am firmly convinced that by opening our minds to free and unlimited coinage at the present ratio we can create a demand for silver which will keep the price of silver bullion at $1.28 per ounce, measured by gold." If Bryan is right all the best authorities are wrong. Gold will not go to a premium and prices will not advance. Nor can the farmer sell his products at higher prices and so pay more easily his mortgage. If Bryan is wrong, the farmer can vote for him as he can use any ignoramus tool. By his vote the farmer may make a temporary profit. We do not admit the certainty of this profit. In the general distress that has overtaken all creditors, wage-earners, bankers, insurance-holders, pensioners, railroad etc., the farmer must share.

We ask the farmer to consider, for a moment, the fact that we, farmers and all, are a nation; that we ~~must~~, if we have any national feeling, protect our national credit and honor. There is only one way. Pay all U. S. notes and bonds in gold of its equivalent. This cannot be done under free coinage. It is not proposed to be done. The change is REPUDIATION pure and simple. If silver should go to $1.28, it would still be repudiation to a certain extent. If it remains at about 67 cents, what other name can be applied to a scheme which deprives every U. S. note and bond to be paid in silver dollars, each worth about 52 cents. Of course any farmer can shelter himself behind his fellows, and refuse to call himself dishonest. But our country cannot find shelter from the storm of indignation which is sure to come if we elect Bryan to do our dishonest will. Nor can any man fail to find some trace of dishonesty in himself, when he knows himself to be a part of a nation which, in the eyes of the world, has disdained itself.

The case is perfectly clear. A man has given $1,000 in gold to the U. S. for notes or bonds. These notes or bonds do not promise to pay in gold, but the understanding is that they will be paid. What kind of a nation is that which passes law compelling the payment of such notes and bonds in silver? And what power can advance the price of silver from 67 cents to 72¢? What power can enable the U. S. to pay its notes in gold when the amount of such notes is practically annihilated?

Does any one imagine that the silver men will be satisfied with the slow action of the mints? If Bryan is elected, the U. S. will issue its notes as above and these notes will not be paid in gold because they cannot be. We will sink at once as a nation, to the exact position of a man who has paid his debts in full, but who uses his political power to pass a law which enables him to settle with his creditors at 50 or 60 or 70 cents per dollar. R. H. Purdy is harvesting some beautiful Crawford peaches from the Thompson orchards these days. The fruit is large and very choice as well as low in price.

Choice Flemish Beauty and Bartlett pears were selling for forty cents per bushel in town this week while nice peaches were being disposed of as low as sixty-five cents.

And now, the question arises, shall tranquillity be spelled with one "P" or two? Perhaps it's no great matter anyway. As an Englishman would

During his vacation C. M. Justin has put in his spare time in improving his farm just east of town and one would hardly know the old place now. The house and barn have been all fixed their appearance and value.

Here's the way it was, when it got over to Fowlerville: The large FARM elevator at Northville was destroyed by fire on Sunday, together with 2,000 bushels of wheat. Fowlerville review.
The elevator is a small one; it was not damaged to exceed $100 and the wheat was oats. Otherwise the item is correct.

The Northern Lyceum Bureau of

The Dubuar Mfg. Co. are placing another engine and boiler in their new plant. One engine will be used for the saw mill and another for the factory.
A portion of the factory is already running and more of it will be in operation within a very short time. The air gun works has been running for a week or two.

It seems strange that the town must continually be at the expense of repairing bridges and embankments caused by mill dams overflowing and giving away. A mill dam is apparently a private piece of property just as much as a steam engine and when they explode and damage town property it seems as if the right of the thing would be for the owners to make good the loss. The dam at the Phoenix mills has been a town expense for years and while the law may be, and probably is, on the dam side it doesn't look right to
"a man from the road."

The Record again urges its friends on the silver side of the question to form
some kind of a club and give the views of their side of this issue on the financial question. The expense will be so nominally small that that part of it need bother no one. Our columns are open to them. The people want to hear both sides and The Record is anxious they should.

Cards were circulated about town this week as subscription blanks to pay the expense of band concerts for the balance of the season. They will be collected up Saturday of the first of next week and if a sufficient amount is subscribed to pay running expenses
the weekly band concerts will be continued. An endeavor will be made to have the concerts take place as early in the evening as possible—say from seven to eight.

Work on the government buildings
at the U. S. fish station here is progressing very satisfactorily these days.
The foundation for the new residence is all completed and the masons are now at work on the hatching foundations. The stringing of numerous springs has retarded excavation to some extent but otherwise everything is moving along very smoothly. The lumber will doubtless be on the ground next week when a large force of men will be put to work.

A contract has been made with the Gorton people for a new 220 foot bridge over the Phoenix mill dam for $3,550.
The old bridge now there will be taken up and probably placed where the river crosses the highway near the Hughes place this side of Phoenix. The new bridge will likely not be in place before November and in the meantime people will have the inconvenience of traveling by another route.

In speaking of "free silver dash" last week The Record apprehends that its Satellite correspondent meant to cast no more reflection upon one side than the other. We are quite sure our correspondent agrees with us that intelligent men of unquestioned integrity and honesty of purpose without regard to politics are to be found fighting under the silver banner as well as the gold one, each with the same end in view as the other—that which shall be of the greatest benefit to this people and this country.

And still in one less heard from the Michigan Press Association. The alleged secretary of the association said to be a man from Owosso, is reported to have been seen one dewy eve at Grand Rapids during the state convention two weeks ago, smoking free Saginaw cigars gathered from an upper room in the Morton house and it is now known that he and the president have at least returned from the Mexican trip —and Oh say, the treasurer too, for he leaved us with a $2,000 assessment several months ago but the association itself was doubtless left in the free coinage country.

MICHIGAN NEWS RECORDED IN BRIEF ITEMS.

Owosso Has Another Sensational and Bloody Affair. No State Officer for Women in Michigan—Two Steam Boats Sink in Lake St. Clair.

Mysterious Double Tragedy at Owosso.

Shortly after 5 a.m., Mrs. Geo. Russell was discovered on the sidewalk in front of the Russell home at Owosso, clad in her night dress, with a butcher knife imbedded in her cheek to a depth of five inches. A trail of blood led from the spot into the house, and upstairs to the sleeping apartments. There her husband was found, lying on the floor, in a pool of blood, flowing freely from a deep gash in his throat. The Russell's claim the deed was the work of burglars. Near neighbors, however, say they heard loud talking in the Russell house during the night.

Mrs. Russell had closed a deal whereby she was to make the transfer of some valuable real estate and it was known that the couple frequently quarreled over business transactions.

The cutting was done with knives belonging to the injured people. The bedroom looked like a slaughter pen, the walls being spattered and the carpets and bedding saturated with blood, and the general condition of the room would indicate that a fierce struggle had taken place. Both will die of their injuries. The Russells are well-to-do and have two grown children.

550 Men Strike for Living Wages.

The large sawmill, shingle and salt plant of R. G. Peters, at Escanaba, dear Marquette, operated by the Michigan Trust Co., has shut down throwing 550 men out of work. The company had introduced a reduction in wages and the Polish laborers, constituting 30 or 40 per cent of the entire force, refused to go to work. Under the reduction common laborers would get $5 a day instead of $6.

On the second day of the strike a small riot occurred in which blood was shed. A few men had been put at work cleaning up the yards and piling up logs of timber when they were beaten upon by a committee of strikers and ordered to quit work. This was refused, and the strike men made an effort to force them to go out.

Sheriff Wm. Nunesser was notified of the situation and he and his deputies hurried to the scene. The strikers would not listen to reason and became very abusive. The sheriff arrested one man who was particularly noisy and the mob attacked the officers with clubs and stones, but were driven off and driven off after a sharp fight.

Under Sheriff George Nunesser had the bones of two fingers broken and his arm was badly bruised. Deputy James Lee was hit on the head with a club and suffered from a scalp wound. Fred Bogard, John Skidmore and Mike Kusenek were arrested and haled together and locked in jail. More serious trouble is likely to follow.

Two Boys Drowned Despite at Woodward.

The closing down of the mines at Ironwood has thrown many out of employment. A large number have gone west, but nearly 500 still remain idle. These men held a meeting at the city park to demand either work or bread, as one man put it. A number of the leading citizens addressed the men, and told them plainly that they could expect but little help from the county as the poor fund has been practically exhausted and that the only thing remaining for them to do was to seek work elsewhere. There will be no appeal made for outside help unless as a last and imperative necessity as the result of the public charity of the winter of '93 and '94 has convinced all that this is to be avoided until it becomes the only remaining resource.

Ray Coates Guilty of Murder.

The trial of Ray Coates, who murdered Enos Lawrence last April at Holland and sank the body in the Black River, then went to Grand Haven with the widow of his victim, who was his own sister, and married her, then went to Wexford County to live, where they were arrested, has ended, the jury rendering a verdict of murder in the first degree.

Thacker Acquitted at His Second Trial.

W. H. Thacker, who in May, 1894, was sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary on a charge of poisoning his wife at Benzonia, is again a free man. Thacker was granted a new trial last May, and it took place at Frankfort. The jury was out four hours and a half and returned a verdict of "not guilty."

Killed by Falling 100 Feet.

While taking down the steeple on M. E. church at Carson City, which had been struck by lightning, Samuel Long, one of the carpenters lost his balance and fell 100 feet, striking the roof of the church and falling to the ground, killing him instantly. Mrs. Long and their oldest daughter saw him fall. He was a respected citizen and leaves a widow and four children.

Two Boys Drowned.

Geo. Gooding, aged 10, son of Mrs. Mary Gooding, and Martin Flanagan, aged 17, son of Peter Flanagan, went bathing in St. Joseph river, near Xiles, and while paddling around on a sandbar they were suddenly swept off by the current into a deep hole. They both went down and never came up.

Philip Burton, aged 15, an apprentice to a riveter named Mac Donald, who was working between Detroit and Port Huron, has been sold to representatives of the Cuban insurgents and will be used to run the blockade of Spanish war vessels. Philip Burton was instantly killed.

Women Not Eligible to State Office.

Ath. Gen. Maynard has given an opinion that Mrs. Lucy Morhouse, of Big Rapids, is not eligible for the office of state superintendent of public instruction. She was nominated by the Michigan Nationalists. He says the office was created by the constitution and stands on the same footing as governor, auditor general or any other state office. The constitution confers electors to males. It would be absurd to say that a woman who cannot vote can be a candidate for a constitutional office. A woman can be county school commissioner or member of the board of education, because such offices are created by statute not by the constitution.

Allegan County Votes "Yes."

At the local option election held in Allegan county a full vote was cast. From the returns received from the several townships, the count goes "yes" by a majority of about 25. In the majority two years ago was 1,800 in favor of local option.

AT MADISON SQUARE.

THOUSANDS OF NEW YORKERS GREET BRYAN.

Gov. Stone and Chairman White formally announce his nomination for the Presidency by the Democratic Party—His Reply.

The vast assemblage which gathered to witness the notification of William Jennings Bryan and Arthur Sewall in New York City as nominees for president and vice-president on the democratic ticket was called to order Wednesday precisely at 8:15 p.m. by Chairman Jones of the national committee. Hon. Eliot Danforth of New York was made chairman. Mr. Danforth said:

"I did not expect from me a speech, and in that you will not be disappointed. I have pleasure in presenting to you as chairman of the nomination committee the distinguished governor of Missouri, the Hon. William J. Stone." Gov. Stone stepped to the front of the platform, and when the burst of applause had subsided made the speech of notification.

At the conclusion of Gov. Stone's remarks he handed to Mr. Bryan an engrossed copy of the resolution of notification adopted by the committee.

When Mr. Bryan took the parchment there was a wild outburst of applause, and while it was still filling the hall, Mr. Danforth said: "Fellow-citizens, the next speaker needs no introduction at my hands; for his name is a household word throughout the land. I have the pleasure in presenting to you the democratic nominee for president of the United States, the Hon. William J. Bryan."

The applause continued for some minutes and was renewed again and again, Mr. Bryan standing and waiting for an opportunity to begin his speech.

Foremost among the prominent men on the platform, seated at the left, was Arthur Sewall, the bats ship-builder and candidate for the vice-presidency, a vigorous-looking man whose frame told of the New England air. There was Gov. Stone of Missouri, a thin-faced man, ministerial in his bearing, and the presiding officer, Eliel Danforth, ex-treasurer of the state of New York. Among the prominent democrats arrayed back of the platform were: Senators Blanchard of Louisiana, Gorham of Maryland, Ranch of North Dakota, Tillman of South Carolina, Congressmen Richardson and McAllister of Tennessee, Livingston of Georgia, Bush of Maryland; Gov. Horace of Texas, and many others who had borne parts in the convention which nominated Mr. Bryan.

Finally Mr. Bryan managed to stiff the applause, and began his speech amidst comparative silence. His speech in part was as follows:

"Those who stand upon the Chicago platform are prepared to make known and to defend every motion which influences them, every hope which inspires them, every purpose which they have entered into, every hope which they have gained by falling prices, and again, Mr. Bryan standing and waiting for an opportunity to begin his speech.

"Our campaign has not for its object the reconstruction of society. We cannot inscribe to the vicious fruits of a vicious life; we would not invade the home of the provident in order to supply the wants of the spendthrift; we do not propose to transfer the rewards of industry to the lap of indolence. Property is and will remain the stimulus to endeavor and the compensation for toil. We believe as asserted in the Declaration of Independence, that all men are created equal; but that does not mean that all men are or can be equal in possessions of ability or merit. It simply means that all shall stand equal before the law and that government officials shall not in making, constraining, or enforcing the law, discriminate between citizens.

"We are not surprised to find arrayed against us those who are the beneficiaries of government favoritism—they have read our platform. Nor are we surprised to learn that we must in this campaign face the hostility of those who find a pecuniary advantage in advocating the doctrine of bimetallism when great aggregations of wealth are trespassing upon the rights of individuals. We welcome such opposition—it is the highest endorsement which could be bestowed upon us.

We are content to have the co-operation of those who desire to have the government administered without fear or favor."

He defended the income tax plank of the Chicago platform in eloquent words, concluding: "The last income tax law, with its exemption provision, when considered in connection with other methods of taxation in force, was not unjust to the possessors of large incomes, because they were not compelled to pay a total federal tax greater than their share. The income tax is not new, nor is it based upon hostility to the rich."

He then turned to the paramount issue of the campaign, the money question, saying:

"It is scarcely necessary to defend the principle of bimetallism. No national party during the entire history of the United States has ever declared against it. In this campaign which has had a national character, the anti-bimetallic party has bimetallism is desirable when it pledges the republican party to aid in securing it as soon as the assistance of certain foreign nations can be obtained. Those who represented the minority sentiment in the Chicago convention opposed the free coinage of silver by the United States by independent action on the ground that, in their judgment, it would retard or entirely prevent the establishment of international bimetallism, to which the efforts of the government should be steadily directed. The gold standard has been weighed in the balance and found wanting. Take from it the powerful support of the money-lending and the money-changing classes and it cannot stand for one day in any nation in the world. It was fastened upon the United States without discussion before the people, and his friends have never yet been willing to risk a verdict before the voters upon that issue.

"Our opponents cannot ignore the fact that gold is now going abroad in spite of all legislation intended to prevent it, and no silver is being coined to take its place. Not only is gold going abroad now, but it must continue to go abroad as long as the present financial policy is adhered to; unless we continue to borrow from across the ocean, and even then we simply postpone the evil, because the amount borrowed together with interest upon it must be repaid in appreciating dollars. There is only one way to stop the increasing flow of gold from our shores, and that is to stop falling prices. The restoration of bimetallism will not only stop falling prices, but will to some extent restore prices by reducing the world's demand for gold.

"Those who deny the ability of the United States to maintain the parity between gold and silver at the present legal ratio without foreign aid point to Mexico and assert that the opening of our mints will reduce us to a silver basis and raise gold to a premium. It is no reflection upon our sister republic to remind our people that the United States is much greater than Mexico in area, in population and in commercial strength. It is absurd to assert that the United States is not able to do anything which Mexico has failed to accomplish. The one thing necessary in order to maintain the parity is to furnish a demand great enough to utilize all the silver which will come to the mints. That Mexico has failed to do this is no proof that the United States would also fail.

"It is also argued that, since a number of the nations have demonetized silver, nothing can be done until all of those nations restore bimetallism. This is also illogical. It is immaterial how many or how few nations have open mints, provided there are sufficient open mints to furnish a monetary demand for all the gold and silver available for coinage.

"We are told that the restoration of bimetallism would be a hardship upon those who have entered into contracts payable in gold coins, but this is a mistake. It will be easier to obtain the gold with which to meet a gold contract when most of the people can use silver than it is now when every one is trying to secure gold.

"In conclusion, permit me to say a word in regard to international bimetallism. The advocates of free coinage have, on all occasions, shown their willingness to co-operate with other nations in the reinstatement of silver; but they are not willing to await the pleasure of other governments, when in the meantime they know that employment is less permanent, loss of work is more probable and re-employment less certain. The farmers and wage-earners together constitute a considerable majority of the people of the community. Why should their interests be ignored in considering financial legislation?

"It is only necessary to note the increasing number of failures in order to know that a gold standard is ruinous to merchants and manufacturers. If the people cannot buy, retailers cannot sell, and if the retailers cannot sell, wholesale merchants and manufacturers must go into bankruptcy.

"Mr. Blaine, speaking in the house of representatives on Feb. 7, 1878, said:

"I believe the struggle now going on in this country and other countries for a single gold standard world, if successful, produce widespread disaster in and throughout the commercial world. The destruction of silver as money and the establishing of gold as the sole unit of value must have a ruinous effect on all forms of property, except those invested which yield a fixed return in money. These would be enormously enhanced in value, and would gain a disproportionate and unfair advantage over every other species of property."

"We are told that any attempt upon the part of the government to redeem its obligations in silver would put a premium upon gold, but why should it? The Bank of France exercises the right to redeem all bank papers in either gold or silver, and yet France maintains the parity between gold and silver at the ratio of 15½ to 1, and retains in circulation more silver per capita than we do in the United States.

"We contend that free and unlimited coinage of silver by the United States alone will raise the bullion value of silver to its coinage value, and thus make silver bullion worth $1.29 per ounce in gold throughout the world. This proposition is in keeping with natural laws, not in defiance of them. The best-known law of commerce is the law of supply and demand. We apply this law to money when we say that a reduction in the volume of money will raise the purchasing power of the dollar; we also apply the law of supply and demand to silver when we say that a new demand for silver created by law will raise the price of silver."

"He defended the income tax plank of the Chicago platform in eloquent words, concluding: "The last income tax law, with its exemption provision, when considered in connection with other methods of taxation in force, was not unjust to the possessors of large incomes, because they were not compelled to pay a total federal tax greater than their share. A Gentle and Accomplished Woman of Aristocratic Antecedents.—Broad-minded and Sympathetic and a Source of Great Strength to Her Husband.

Delicate features, clear blue eyes, silvery hair, fresh girlish complexion in youth, contrast to the graying masses, a winsome French smile, with flashing impression of white teeth, and sudden dimples that Mme.
