This will give both clerk and proprietor a chance to take at least a portion of each evening to themselves and at the same time patrons of the store will have ample opportunity to make their purchases. It is understood that at exactly 8:00 o'clock the town clock each merchant is to lock his door and flush waiting upon what customers he has upon the inside, but in no case is he or she permitted to take advantage of their brother merchant by allowing other customers to enter. The simple fact of pulling down window shades will not do doors must be locked. We particularly warn each merchant that it is for their individual and collective good that this movement is entered into each year—the breaking of the rules by one person even will tend to a forfeiture of the whole contract.

Suburban News.

Wyandotte had a new opera house. Milton is to have a new school village hall.

Wayne milk dealers have a two cents a quart milk war.

Ann Arbor has a local press association. For the Holy Elder press.

Farmington's baby show booked for tomorrow is sure to be a howling success.

Prouty & Glass are putting an electric lighting plant into their carriage factory.

Plymouth merchants have adopted the 5 o'clock evening closing movement.

Wyandotte has a circuit court commissioner on tap in the person of Ar Woodruff.

The Plymouth Mail seems to be shy in saying anything about the recent sale of the plant.

The Standard Oil Co. have put in an oil supply house at Wayne similar to the one in Northville.

The Independent is authority that one hug is not enough for any Holy young lady. That settles it.

Coorse is coming to the front in sports and has a champion lot of rowers—Springwells Times.

That last word is row-ers we presume.

A Wayne firm has shipped 1,050 lbs. of peppermint oil this fall and another party has 1,700 lbs. yet for sale, waiting a rise in the market.

Howard German, aged 13, of Farmington town, alone dug and gathered fifty bushels of potatoes in one day last week. He is a brother of Harry German of Northville.

It's funny how some of our exchanges advertise "strictly cash in advance" and then almost every week insert a "dun" item in the local columns requesting delinquent subscribers to pay up.

Miss Edna Clock is the timely name of a very pretty faced Fiat Rock school ma'am. She is always on hand at the proper hour, runs all right when there is need and withal presents a striking appearance.

Newport, Monroe county, people had all become light headed bering gas wells until last week when a vein of salt was struck and now they are taking a fresh view of the subject while the town continues to boom.

The Record is in receipt of the initial number of the Cass City Gazette of which M. Fred Gray, formerly of the Plymouth Mail, is editor. The first issue is a wide-awake one and with Gray's accustomed bustling effort and newspaper ability the people of Cass City are assured of a live local paper.

Holly high school "kids" have commenced the issue of a school paper called the "Toll-Tale."

For three days last week the Heinz Co. at Holly bought 5,000 bushels of apples per day. There is not enough laborers to be had in that vicinity to properly gather the enormous apple and corn crop this year, so says the Advertiser.

In a local item of the first issue of the Cass City Gazette Editor Gray says he is glad to find a former old friend in the village, John Hamilton, the sexton of the cemetery. Now if Gray will make friends with the village doctor and undertaker he will have a dead sure thing.

We had supposed that the occupation of horse stealing was entirely for fakers, but we learn that a valuable animal in Wyandotte was driven off by horse thieves one night last week.

This is nothing for Wyandotte. It was only last Sunday that the authorities stole a march on the Eureka mill folks by tearing up their tracks through the streets, the day preventing the Eureka people from getting in an injunction from the courts.

The Northville Record objects to the Brighton Argus man's acknowledgment of a tomato 16 inches in diameter as adulterated "to bring us more truthful editors into disrepute." We object to the objection of the Record, implying, as it does, that some members of the profession might lie, which heaven forefend—Adrian Press.

Again the Press man is in error. It is not the size of the tomato as measured in inches that is in dispute but when the Argus man gives the weight as two pounds it knocks all semblance of truth off the vines.

Under Auspices of Epworth League.

Quite a crowd assembled in the Methodist church Wednesday evening to greet the new pastor, the Rev. W. M. Ward, and his wife. The church had been most tastefully decorated with palms and autumn leaves. Mr. and Mrs. Deak and Mr. and Mrs. Becker assisted Mr. and Mrs. Ward in receiving the guests, after which speeches of welcome were made by the pastors of the Presbyterian and Baptist churches and representatives of the various departments of the church. The pastor and his wife, together with their guests, then repaired to the church parlors where refreshments were served to the accompaniment of delightful strains of music by the equally delightful organist, Mrs. Long. The Record extends its greeting to Mr. and Mrs. Ward and wishes for them and the church a most prosperous and happy career.

Prose Poet's Pathetic Poem.

The editor of an Iowa weekly with a talent for rhyme has poured forth his soul in a poem of joy which is given below:

One day last week while sad and dreary, as we wended weak and weary across the unswept office floor, we heard at first a gentle tapping, then it became an earnest tapping, at our sanctum door. "Come in!" we said, while yet we pondered, and in silence still we wondered what for we could be in store; then the door knob gently turning, in he walked—our cheek was burning as we thought of crimson gore. "Are you the man who does the writing?" Then we thought there's signs of fighting, as we looked him o'er and o'er. "Sir, we are," we meekly told him, if he tried to beat us sore. "Then you'll give me credit opposite that little debt of a dollar more. I like your paper and will take it as long as you survive to make it as it has been before." We jumped, we dodged! Thus we missed him, or we surely would have kissed him, no matter if the boys did roar. So seldom treated in this manner were we inclined to sing halleluiah! Only this and nothing more.

SEMI-CENTENNIAL.

NOVI BAPTIST CHURCH CELEBRATED IT WEDNESDAY.

Only Fourteen Pastors and Never Had a Church Debt.

The semi-centennial anniversary of the Novi Baptist church, the celebration of which has been anticipated with so much pleasure, was observed Wednesday and the occasion was fully up to the expectations of all concerned. It was thoroughly successful in every particular, with a single drawback of the absence of a few whose coming had been eagerly hoped for, and whose vacant places inevitably were regarded with a sense of disappointment which all the pleasure of meeting other dear friends could not entirely subside. The general attendance was even larger than was expected and everything with the exception noted—combined to make the meeting one of the most interesting, enjoyable and profitable that has ever been held in Novi, and as is always conceded, Novi never does such things by halves at any time. The old pastors present were: J. W. Stone, Milan; J. S. Boyden, Kalamazoo; I. W. Lamb, Perry; and C. D. Gregory, who is engaged in State Mission work, and it certainly must have been an inspiration to each and all of them to receive the cordial and unmistakable heartfelt greetings that met them on every side. The morning address was a most excellent one by I. W. Lamb, the afternoon sermon by C. D. Gregory, and in the evening J. W. Stone gave one of his characteristically admirable discourses, demonstrating to his eager listeners that the decade that has been added to the register of the years since last his voice was heard within ear walls has not detracted in the least from the depth of thought, the keen subtle reasoning, and the easy polished address that delighted our ears so many times in the years gone by. The church history was given by Rev. J. Boyden, in his own indubitable manner, which, as well as his long established popularity here, is too well known to require comment. It was made so interesting that it should be given entire to be appreciated, and space is not available to give even a synopsis of the history of the half century completed since the church was organized in 1846 with 17 members, only one of whom, Mrs. John Perkins, of this village, is now living. Only 14 pastors have served the church in all the 50 years, and of this time three of these, Boyden, Stone and Lamb, have filled half. Another remarkable circumstance noted was the fact that Novi church has never had a church debt, an almost unprecedented state of affairs in Michigan church history. Mr. Boyden was requested to present his paper to the church, which was done, and as it is intended that it shall be printed, its host of valuable and interesting facts will be available to the many who will be glad to preserve them.

The places that were left vacant by the deeply regretted absence of Rev. J. L. Deland of Saginaw and Rev. N. C. Brundage of Paw Paw were occupied by special request by Rev. Mr. Eckert of Holly and Rev. Mr. Milne of Plymouth, whose timely and pleasing remarks added much to the pleasure of the occasion. Visitors were present from all the churches invited and nearly every family in this vicinity was represented, all uniting in pronouncing the meeting one long to be held in pleased remembrance by every one fortunate enough to be a participant. Dinner and supper were served in the basement to nearly 200 hungry and happy friends, who had ample reason to believe in the genuineness of the welcome given them. Want of space prevents mention of other portions of the program.

Hon. Thos. Barkworth candidate for congress from this district will speak at the opera house here next Thursday night, Oct. 15.

F. & P. M. Detroit Excursion.

The F&P.M. will run their last excursion to Detroit this season, Tuesday Oct. 27th. Special train leaves Novi at 5:24 a. m., fare 75c; Northville $32, fare 65c; Plymouth $39, fare 50c. Children half price. Returning train leaves Detroit at 6:15 p. m.

Another Suppose.

It has often been asked what would have been our condition if silver had not been demonetized in 1873. For over 80 years amid war and commotion, amid peace and quiet, our dollar had kept the even tenor of its way, each metal steadying the other, so that in all that time there was no change in the unit of value, and it would have been a thrice blessed thing had history been allowed to repeat itself beyond '73. In that case, our silver and gold, not wanted, in the arts or foreign monetary systems would have been coined at home giving us a fair capita of standard money, upon which credit could have been safely built. The farmer and planter would have received living rates for their products, and their prosperity would have overflowed into all the channels of trade and industry. The manufacturer could have sold his goods, the laborer would have had plenty of work at good wages, and the Ship of State would have rounded into the 20th century, with every sail set to prosperous breezes, and every heart elate with hope and joy.

But silver was demonetized, and since then, we have had a single gold standard and what is the result? With a few exceptions all real estate, from Maine to California, has lost one-half its value. The owners and workers of all farms and plantations, have been deprived of one half their income, our private and corporate indebtedness has gone from six billions in '73 to twenty billions in '95, and although we have paid so many millions of the national debt, the remainder is harder to pay than the whole amount was in the condition of '73. Our government in trying to do business under the gold standard, has accumulated a demand indebtedness of over one billion dollars and has only the gold reserve of about one hundred millions to pay it with. Added to these staggering figures are other facts of like nature. Manufactories are closed or working on half time, labor is unemployed, farmers are discouraged and the whole industrial fabric is in a state of collapse. It is of no use to say that protection can save us. No tariff or silver revenue or protection can bridge the widening chasm between the cost of production and the value of the article produced measured by the gold dollar. If people cannot buy an article at its present price, for want of money, the addition of a tariff tax will not aid its sale. The way to prosperity is to rid ourselves of this serpent that has drawn its trail of woe over all the industries of the land. Among the civic crimes that have destroyed the prosperity and happiness of the people the act of '73 is without a rival in the annals of mankind.

Two Lives Saved. Mrs. Phoebe Thomas of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida street, San Francisco suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result everything else, then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in Coughs and Colds. Free trial bottles at Geo. C. Hueston's drug store. The Enterprise Concert Co.'s entertainment for Wednesday night was cleared off on account of lack of patronage by the advance sale of tickets.

Among the National Guards of Leadville, Colorado who are protecting life and property against the strikers there just now, is Corp. Paul Simonds, grandson of Edward Simonds of this place.

A political joint debate between some of our local politicians would be both an interesting feature and a drawing card. A number of our citizens on both sides have expressed a wish for such a meeting.

Miss Edna Dunning of Beech is the name of the young lady who has been engaged by the school board to teach vocal music and voice culture in our school. She will devote one day each week in Northville for this purpose.

Commencing Monday night all of the Northville business houses will close every evening excepting Saturday at 8 p.m. local time. Farmers and others coming from a distance will please govern themselves accordingly.

Don't forget the coming entertainment at the Presbyterian church by Messrs. Dunbar and Bateman next week Friday evening. The funny impersonations and humorous readings of the "happy pair" will make a delightful evening's entertainment.

The item last week relative to Mr. German's selling out the Millford game was only intended as a joke and no one should take it to heart. We do not apprehend that anyone would seriously think that Harry would sell out a ball game for a few paltry dollars.

Miss Ellalie M. Gorton of Salem, a former teacher in the Northville school, was united in marriage to Rev. W. H. Shannon of Wayne Wednesday. Mr. Shannon was for some years pastor of the Salem Congregational church. Both are well known here.

Those who failed to register this week will be given one more chance the Saturday before election. If not registered then he cannot vote. All voters should bear in mind that though their votes "went" last summer they would go now—unless they are re-registered.

We can safely say that the majority of the men's meeting attendants were pleased with the address of H. G. Van Tuyl of Detroit last Sunday. H. E. C. Daniels will speak next Sunday. There is room for more than a hundred men. Why not be one of them? It will be good.

If lacked one of a quorum at the regular council meeting Monday night there were some important bills to be paid in the case of some of the laborers on the streets who badly needed their money; as well as other important business. The aldermen present gave free expression of their feelings as they told of the duty of their absent brethren. The press was advised that they needed a good roasting but that is deferred for this time at least.

Those to whom poll-tax is assessed should bear in mind that this is done exactly as is required by law and the law also requires that the village treasurer shall collect such tax in every case. The treasurer has no option in the matter and no one should attempt to make his office an unpleasant one by compelling him to resort to extreme means. It should be remembered that nothing is exempt in the collection of a poll-tax except the clothes a man has on his back.

Gen. Spalding was greeted at the opera house Tuesday night by far the largest audience of the season. In introducing the speaker, President Hutton of the McKinley club spoke of the substantial way in which the congressman had represented his district during the last two years and assured the general of the deep consideration of Northville people for his successful efforts in behalf of the government fish hatchery here. The general gave a good talk, giving his views on the money and tariff question in a plain and explicit manner. He was followed by Bingley Fales a lively young orator who gave an interesting talk on the same questions.

Who is the home merchant? He is the man who helps to pay for the streets upon which you walk; for the schools in which your children or perhaps you were educated; he helps keep up the church in which you worship. He is the one who built a home which enhances the value of your property. Every subscription paper that is passed has his name on it; he is the one who cannot afford to swindle you; self interest, if nothing else would prevent this. He bears his share of the burden of good government; stays right by you in sunshine and darkness, in days of prosperity and adversity. These are but a few of the reasons why your patronage should be given to the home merchant.

Letter from Mrs. Gardner.

Denver, Col., Sept. 29, 1896.

Editor Record:—Many of my friends wishing me to write while journeying in the west I concluded to write to you instead as I find but little time to use my pen.

I left Northville Aug. 25th in company with Miss Covert. The next day we left Chicago on the Santa Fe for Oklahoma and Darango. I was particularly pleased with the country through which we passed. The farm houses were not very imposing structures and the soil did not have the appearance of very great productivity, though this may have been because of its differing greatly in color from Michigan earth. At Newton, Kan., I bid Miss Covert good-bye and set out for the Territory which I reached at 8 o'clock p. m. to find friends in waiting to receive me. It being dark I did not get a view of the country until next morning when I stepped out of the door and as far as the eye could reach it was one vast prairie with nothing to break the view. Away in the distance was the Kaw reservation lying just across the Arkansas river which is skirted with timber, and furnishes wood to this vicinity. I had heard and read many times of pioneer life but never before met it. It was three years ago that the government opened this portion of the territory for settlement and it is astonishing to see the improvement which has been made. The corn crop is great and this year a great many acres of wheat are being sowed. The soil here I should judge compares well with that of Illinois, as it is almost black. Indians are very numerous here and the Kaw tribe is quite wealthy, having fine houses, richly furnished, and even $700 pianos, but with all this they can not give up their blankets and will have their wigwams and sleep in them in preference to their houses. They have excellent roads here. The stone is in sections and they quarried and used for building purposes. I went with my brother one morning to buy his year's wood and while he was looking over the woodland I was entertained in a dug out with earth floor and sides and sod roof. I do not care to live in such a home but the people here are for the most part contented and happy. They are very social and friendly and fond of visiting. The village of New Kirk with 1,500 inhabitants publishes five or six papers and all well patronized. A week ago, in company with my sister, I set out for Denver which is 625 miles by rail from Arkansas City. It was a journey full of interest, especially after reaching Pueblo. We passed through Colorado Springs, which is a very pretty place, nestled among the foothills, with the mountains beyond. These mountains are so different from those of the east. Their bare rocky sides and peaks justify meriting the name of "Rocky." From my brother's home here we have a good view of Pike's Peak and now the snow has fallen on them the sight there clear morning is grand. Denver is a world of itself. Its business blocks are very fine, all brick or stone as are also their dwellings which are built much lower than those in the east. Times are said to be dull and close here as in all our states. I am going about nearly all my time. Sunday morning I attended Trinity Methodist Episcopal church and heard Mr. Colburn of Michigan who has just been transferred to this conference. This church cost $250,000 and he called upon his congregation in the morning for a collection or subscription of $750 which was all or very nearly all given.

I wondered what we would do in such a town which but a few doors from home. Yesterday afternoon we spent in the city park, which contains 1100 acres. It is very fine, and is constantly being beautified. This afternoon our play is Manhattan Beach. Tomorrow afternoon there is to be one of those railroad collisions but I do not attend. Next week comes their celebrated festival of Mountain and Plain, said to be very grand. After this we are to go around the Loop, which I can better describe after having seen it. The people here in the west are fond of Bryan of course. This state is woman's suffrage, and he will get this vote. I must confess to you, while I enjoy my trip and visit I do not have any special liking for the west and shall be fully satisfied when I get back. I shall leave Denver in about two weeks going back to New Kirk, and thence shortly after home. M. E. GARDNER.

 Will Goudfill is having another attack of asthma.
 E. T. Hazen and family entertained Detroit friends over Sunday.
 Misses Fizzie Taylor and Lydia Smith are suffering with colds.
 Mr. Tilly H. over from Farmington spent Sunday with Mrs. Battick.
 Miss Dottie Leonard of Northville spent Sunday with Mrs. W. Coates.
 Henry West of Farmington has been with Novi friends a couple of days.
 Frank Rice had the misfortune on Monday to suffer a deep rash on his knee.
 Mrs. John Miles and little daughter of Farmington spent this week at Geo. Parks.
 Our gentle friends Geo. Higdon and Fred Quigley of Pontiac were in town last week.
 Mrs. Elmer West has lately been enjoying a visit from her cousin, Mrs. Nichols of Saline.
 Miss Belle Pettibone of North Farmington has been spending a week with her aunt, Mrs. E. West.
 Mrs. Norman Abbey and daughter Edna, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hamilton, Sunday.
 Mr. John Beth of near Birmingham was a visitor one day last week at his cousin's, Mrs. Norman Abbey.
 Mr. Leslie of Novi is now holding down the M. G. chair nights at South Rockwood. Frank Riker is away on sick relief.—Flat Rock News.
 Now is a good time for Novi people who do not already take the Record to subscribe. There will be special interesting features this fall and winter.
 The ladies of the Methodist church served supper on Saturday evening after the pole raising, the receipts amounting to about $5 for church work.
 Elmer West was summoned to Pontiac last week Monday as a juror, but returned the same day, to await the next call, probably in two or three weeks.
 The sad intelligence reached here last week of the death of James Doyle, a former well known Novi young man, of typhoid fever. "Jimmy" as he was familiarly known here was nearly twenty-one years old at the time of his death. He resided with his parents in Detroit. A number of the young people from here attended the funeral which was at his home Friday afternoon. Novi and its people were loved by this young man in his life, and in death he was surrounded by them. The choir was composed of Mrs. B. L. McCrumb, Mrs. Barnhart and daughter, formerly of this place, and Mr. Noughton of Detroit, and Chas. Rice of Novi. Shenbe Smith acted as one of the pall bearers. A number of friends from Farmington were also present. A wealth of flowers softened the cold outlines of the box which held the casket. The deceased leaves to mourn their loss an aged father and mother, three brothers and two sisters. The burial was in Woodmere. Sympathy is extended to all the bereaved ones.

 The Wayne Baptist Association at Salem last week was well attended and every way successful. The Salem people sustained their excellent reputation as entertainers, both at their homes and at the church and the dining hall, and the visitors were made welcome in the most hospitable manner at all points. The various sessions were interesting and instructive and helpful to all participating.
 A No. 1 rate hunter last week discovered a blue razer coiled up like inch and a half rope and fired at him. He must have missed, for when the smoke lifted, the razer was making for him and it is in the testimony that no such race was ever run by any of the human race, as this hunter ran with the razer. The snake simply was not in the middle of it, and at the end of half a mile turned and slithered back to its den, tame and completely discouraged.
 Those who attended the association at Salem last week were: Rev. J. I. Tickner and wife, Cora and Frank Beckner, Maude Pitt, Mattie Court, Lizzie Taylor, Jesse West, Mr. and Mrs. Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. W. West, Aruna Kirby, Mrs. J. Dunham, Mrs. J. Richardson, Mrs. J. Hagen, Mrs. Chapman. They report an excellent meeting and royal entertainment by the kind hearted people of that town. Great credit is due the ladies for their part in the work.
 Last Saturday afternoon and evening saw the largest crowd of the season so far at our little town, the occasion being the republican rally and pole raising previously announced. The main street of the village presented a gala appearance both hotels and several other buildings being very prettily decorated, while two large flags were suspended above the street. About two p. m. the pole was raised when only a small portion of the crowd had arrived, which probably accounted for the fact that it took until nearly dark to get up the enthusiasm commensurate to the occasion, which did not manifest itself to any extent until the supplementary pole raising about sunset at Geo. Goodell's half a mile west of the village. A large delegation came up from Farmington in wagons drawn by a traction engine, with appropriate decorations. Two bands furnished the music, Candidate A. N. Kimmis hiring the Walled Lake musicians and Candidate Warner the Farmington ones, while the crowd, not to be outdone, furnished the money to provide supper for the boys who had added so much to the pleasure of the occasion with their fine music. The town hall was very handsomely decorated for the meeting in the evening at which the audience was far too large for the building, large numbers being unable to gain admittance, to hear S. W. Smith, who is very popular in this section as the prompt waking up of the audience in the afternoon showed after the extremely soporific effect produced by another speaker. As previously intimated, a large delegation, engine, bands, and all, went up at the close of the afternoon meeting and raised a big pole at Deputy Sheriff Goodell's, who had a larger and finer one than that at Novi, and a more lively and stirring time at the hoisting of it much to his satisfaction. Mr. Smith made a good speech, as he always does, which was thoroughly convincing to those who were willing to be convinced, and giving much material for discussion to those who wouldn't be convinced.

WALLED LAKE.

 A crowd of young people surprised Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Parmer in their new home last Friday night.
 Quite a good representation of the people as well as the band attended the pole raising at Novi last Saturday.

WIXOM.

Ray Digg of Walled Lake spent last Sunday with friends here.

 The Farmers' club will meet next week Wednesday, Oct. 14, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Ledley.
 Mrs. Alice Pitcher of Paw Paw is here to help care for her father, Timothy Barrett, who is in very poor health.
 We listened to a speech from Mr. Lynch, the silver tongued orator, last Saturday night in Cummings' hall. (O! enthusiasm.)
 Mrs. Carrie Bialy who has been visiting friends here for the past two weeks returned to her home in Bay City Monday afternoon.

SALEM.

Mr. and Mrs. Cal Wheeler Sundayed with Mrs. W's. parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orin Cook of Farmington.
 It is expected that Rev. Wm. Hanford, lately of Beazonia, who has recently accepted the pastorate of the Congregational church here, will enter upon his duties on Sunday Oct. 11.
 Mr. Androse Roe who died at Northville last week was for several years a resident of Salem owning and occupying what is known as the Ephraim Simmons farm, one and a half miles west of Salem village. Mr. Roe was a son of the late Stephen Roe, an early resident of Plymouth village where Androse was born June 7, 1849. In August 1862 he enlisted in the 24th Mich. Infantry, but during the year 1865 he was transferred to the U. S. Signal corps, headquarters at Washington, D. C. On November 15, 1867 he was married to Miss Electa A. Andrews of Plymouth. Four children were born to them, two sons and two daughters; the son died in infancy, the daughter with their mother survive him. Since his marriage he has resided most of the time in Salem, formerly in the south part of the town, but later in his farm west of the village that he purchased in Jan. 1881. Early in 1890 he purchased a lot in the village of Northville and erected thereon a very comfortable home to which he removed in October of that year. Six years ago his health failed him nearly losing his sight, and since that time he has been a great sufferer from nervous troubles. The immediate cause of his death was a congestive chill, with which he was taken on Wednesday Sept. 20 and with which he died Thursday evening Oct. 7. His funeral took place at his late residence on Saturday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. H. Herber of the Northville Presbyterian church, burial in Rural Hill cemetery. He professed christianity and united with the Congregational church at Salem in January 1894. His life previous to this time had been so free from faults however that little change was apparent in his daily deportment after he had taken the vows of the church. The statement is in no sense adulatory to say of him that he was a good citizen, an obliging neighbor, a loyal friend, a consistent christian and an affectionate husband and father. His old neighbors here deplore his death and sympathize most sincerely with the bereaved widow and daughters.
