Vol. XXVIII, No. 14.

IN THE NECK

Is Where the Village Will Get It on the Bridge.

TOWN DOESN'T BUILD THE ONE ON ATWATER STREET.

The Consulting Atty Gives Such As His Opinion.

He Says the Special Act of the Legislature Is Good—NIT.

It looks now as if the village would have the bridge on Atwater street to build after all. At the last meeting, Ald. Bovee was instructed to consult with Attorney J. D. Conley in Detroit relative to the bridge and after looking the matter over and reading up law, etc., he gave as his opinion that the special act of the legislature of 1881, exempting the village of Northville from all bridge building and requiring the township to do it was rendered void by the re-incorporating act of 1895. Presenting Attorney Brazier says that inasmuch as the street does not lead from the township through or into the village and the township board not having formally accepted the street as a township highway the village must build and maintain the bridge. This settles the matter, we presume, and the council will doubtless order at their next meeting a substantial, though inexpensive as possible, bridge built across the stream in question.

FRACTURED HIS LEG.

Chas. Harrington Did While Hunting Tuesday.

While hunting in the northern woods Tuesday Chas. Harrington of this place slipped from a log in such a manner as to fracture the shin bone of the left leg. He was alone at the time but succeeded in signaling two other members of the Northville party, Frank Butler and Will Long, to his rescue and they carried him to camp where he was cared for as well as possible under the circumstances and they left for home with him the next day, arriving here yesterday morning. Dr. Burgess was summoned and after an examination under unfavorable circumstances caused by the swollen condition of the limb he thinks the break is a very lucky one for while the bone is undoubtedly broken there is no displacement and apprehends that Mr. Harrington will be out again within a very short time. The remainder of the hunting party will arrive home next Tuesday.

MRS. ASA M. RANDOLPH

That Well-Known Northville Lady Died Monday.

After a long and suffering illness, Mrs. Diana Gardner-Randolph, wife of Asa M. Randolph, Northville's well known druggist, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Prof. Barnhart in Grand Rapids Monday. The remains were brought here Tuesday night and the funeral occurred from the home yesterday forenoon. Rev. J. H. Green, pastor of the Presbyterian church, of which society deceased was a member, officiating, assisted by Rev. J. M. Belding of Lapeer. Ceremony at the grave was conducted by the O. E. S. Mrs. Randolph was born in Berkshire county, Mass., in February, 1825. In 1848 she was united in marriage with Asa M. Randolph, since which time they have been residents of this village. Mrs. Randolph was an earnest christian woman, loved and respected by all who knew her. She leaves, besides the husband, two daughters, Mrs. Antoinette Barnhart of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Belle Randolph-Long of this place. Mrs. Thos. McGraw, the only living sister of the deceased resides in Detroit and one brother lives in Clevean, Wis.

Subscribers of The Record will find stamped upon their paper each week (following the name) the date to which their subscription is paid.

SNEAK THIEVES

They Are Prowling Around through the Village.

On Monday night sneak thieves were circulating about the town. Units were made at the homes of John Darlington, Earl Cobb, and Robt. McCully. The only place they succeeded in securing any booty was at Mr. Cobb's where some pieces of jewelry are missing. The desperadoes are still at large.

TO BE UNIFORMED

THE U. S. FISH COMMISSION EMPLOYEES

In Northville and Alpena Must Wear Them.

Capt. Bruce, the new U. S. fish commissioner at Washington, has issued an order compelling all government employees from superintendent down at the various fish stations to wear a prescribed uniform. This will effect in Michigan the Northville and the Alpena stations. Inasmuch as Capt. Bruce is from the war department, it is presumed that the new uniforms will bear some resemblance to the fatigue outfit worn by the U. S. troops. In this case Superintendent Clark will wear a blue coat trimmed with gold lace and gilt buttons with two bars on either shoulder. Foreman Root of this place and Thayer of Alpena will be similarly equipped with the exception of a bar or two less. The balance of the men, Fikins, Stewart, Tol., Stablon, will wear the same sort of uniforms without shoulder straps. It is expected that the next move will be to arm the men with swords or Spencer rifles and compel them to go through a manual of arms and infantry drill every day. We even suggest they be compelled to "fall in" every morning in front of the city hall and march in double columns to the government station where after giving the national salute they raise the stars and stripes and then go for the fish. The new uniforms arrived Tuesday and are being donned as fast as they can be fitted.

LECTURE COURSE.

THE ONE FOR 1896-97 NOW BEING PLANNED

Under the Auspices of the Young Men's League.

The YMCA lecture committee has their course for 1896-7 all mapped out and it proves to be a much stronger one than last year. The solicitors are out getting subscribers for course tickets and if 150 are secured we are assured of getting the great Eli Perkins, otherwise another man will have to be secured.

The opening number will occur Nov. 25 with Hon. Washington Gardner in his superb picture of the "Struggle for Chattanooga." Rev. E. E. Castor whose lectures are the equal of any man on the regular lecture platform is the second speaker. Ph Perkins whose fame as a funny man and merry maker is as wide as our land, is another one of the speakers. Rev. J. M. Thoburn of the Central church Detroit, a man of fine abilities whose lectures have been heard and praised by scores of people, is the fourth on the list.

The entertainment company will be the celebrated Boston Stars or their equivalent and any one who heard these people last year remembers that it was the finest thing of the kind ever placed here.

Should the committee not be able to get Perkins, Rev. Donald McLaurin of the Woodward avenue Baptist church Detroit will be secured and he is unequalled in his line.

The money that is made from this course will go into the new library building fund and every one interested in that theme should do all they can to further this lecture course and make it a great big success. Tickets are $1.00 for the course of five numbers.

Suburban News.

Kent county claims the youngest Judge of Probate in the state, Harry D. Jewell.

Mr. Balch will continue to engineer the Brighton Argus until the middle of November.

A Trenton man has shipped this season thirty carloads of wood shingles to eastern points. This is no lie either.

The Tecumseh salt works near Ecorse has commenced operations with a capacity of 1,000 barrels a day.

The Livingston Herald has the sand to place its notices of real estate transfers under the heading "Tellers in Dirt."

The Flat Rock News chronicled five runaway accidents and one collision in its last week's issue. Looks as if it were safer to go about down there.

In summing up county election returns the Kenton Independent remarks that "the prohibition vote fell off 509 from 1792." Rather an old party those prohibs, eh?

Ingham county rejoices in the possession of a school house called by the queer cognomen "Break a day school house." They must keep early hours in that institution.

A lady from Lincoln, Neb., who has been visiting to Ypsilanti has a watch made in Ypsilanti in 1814-1815 years ago, which is now running and keeping good time, too, according to the Ypsilanti Watchman. What an aw-ful old ticker.

25,000 deer hunting licenses have been issued already in this state and more coming. Experts are said to declare that this makes five hunters to every deer in existence in Michigan. Seems as though that's hardly taking a fellow of your size.

Last Friday's Detroit Journal was so excited over the election news that it placed its column usually headed "Men and Women" under the caption "Funny Men." As about half the items referred to women, and none of them were at all humorous, the result was rather "funny."

Miss Carrie M. Jackson, widow and owner of the Millford Times was married Wednesday evening to Mr. Grant Root, for some years a man on the range. The Record extends most hearty congratulations and trusts that the future of the young couple may be only bright and prosperous.

At last one may find his or her way through the muddy, dusty, not necessarily muddier, unless you are stuck on it—the mud—streets of Northville without getting lost. After a quarter of a century's wait the council has invested a few surplus dollars in street signs, two of which adorn each street corner, a la Northville.

It looks as if the custom of raising his satanic majesty on the last night of October was falling into disrepute. Complaints are made in all directions Northville excepted, of the increasing damage done under the guise of "fun" and the "evil spirits" will evidently be obliged to "lay low" next year or return to the original custom of merely displacing instead of destroying.

It is now claimed that the oldest resident of Michigan is an Indian living near Moffat, Arenac county. His name is Peter Wakelam and his age given at 115 years. He was married and the father of five children before the war of 1812. He is still quite active mentally and physically, remembering occurrences of a century ago, and earning his own subsistence by making brooms, axe handles, etc.

The H. J. Heinz Co., of Holly, who have bought such enormous quantities of apples this year have been obliged to draw the line as to how far their having territory extends. They have been receiving 10,000 or 12,000 bushels a day with a capacity for using half that quantity, and as the business men of Holly subscribed the money for the plant it has been decided that farmers from other counties who never spend any money in town must stand back for those who help the business there. Hereafter the company will buy only from farmers within five miles of Holly. One Saturday night recently 150 wagon loads were waiting to be loaded.

Millard citizens held an indignation meeting last week Monday night in consequence of the atrocious committed in that village the previous Saturday evening in the name of Halloween. Twenty of the business men participated in the meeting and they showed that they meant business in this instance. Money was raised to pay necessary expenses and a committee appointed to take steps to bring the offenders to time. It was decided to have no arrests if damages are settled.

satisfactorily, but if this is not done the guilty ones will be summarily dealt with. These Milford smart alecks are not content with a little harmless fun but did a large amount of damage to property in different parts of the town.

F. S. Neal was in the repair shop for several days last week and this because of a cracked rib or two, the result of a fall while looking after some work in the attic of the opera house last week.

In speaking of the above The Adrian Press says: "Sorry for Neal's ribs, of course, but he chews that he was 'un' in high comedy."

The Holly Advertiser sympathizes thusly: "The owner of the Northville opera house met with quite a loss one day last week, which caused him to go to the expense of putting on a bundle of new lath and a quantity of plaster, all on account of Editor Neal's carelessness. Frank was walking around in the attic, stepped on the plaster and went through, however his injuries were but little, compared with the loss of the building, as he only broke two or three ribs."

The Farmington Enterprise does it this way: "We hope Bro. Neal found the work before he took the tumble, but editors don't usually have to go prowling round in attics looking after work."

No, but it's quite necessary that everything should be all right in the upper story, you know.

Salem News.

Miss Edith Allen of Holly has been visiting Salem friends the past week.

Mrs. Augustus Deake of Gaines has been visiting Salem friends this week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Chapin have been visiting friends at Orchard Lake this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Deake spent Sunday with Mrs. D's parents at Highland.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. VanAlta spent last Sabbath in Detroit with their daughter Mrs. Don Orlean.

Mr. and Mrs. Duwelle T. Smith gave a wedding reception to their son, Floyd Smith on the evening of Nov. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Westfall of Ypsilanti have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. F. C. Wheeler, this week.

Win Barry, an old resident and respected citizen of Salem died on Thursday of last week. His funeral was attended at the Peoples church on Friday conducted by his former pastor Rev. Mills Gilson of Ann Arbor.

This town shows in the results of the recent election a smaller plurality for the republicans than at former elections of late years because the opposing elements were pretty well crystallized in the democratic free silver party. Even of the good prohibition party only eight or twenty-five but thought the gold standard a worse evil than the liquor traffic and so for the time being have suspended their crusade against the "worm of still." It is question whether the worm has grown thin or fattened on their warfare with the weight of the argument on the side of the fattening. After sixteen to one has triumphed it is supposed they will return to their battle with beer.

AN IMPORTANT QUESTION.

If your friends or neighbors are suffering from coughs, colds, sore throat, or any throat or lung disease (including consumption) ask them if they have ever used Otto's Cure. This famous German remedy is having a large sale here and is performing some wonderful cures of throat and lung diseases. Murdock Bros., Northville, S. D. Within the past week the Record Printery has been equipped with one of the latest improved Olds gas engines, displacing the Webster gas engine which had been in use for a year. The Record Printery will always be found in the front ranks.

The advertised letters at the post office this week are for:

Herman Long
Northville Cycle Co.
Miss Jennie Holden
Elmer D. West
Wm. Wedow

C. A. Downer, F. M.

In regard to the Alwater street bridge the Record has one point yet to make, and that is that the township board may just as legally accept Alwater street as a public highway before the village builds a new bridge there as it can at any other time after the bridge is built.

For a month or two past the Record's "suburban" column have been edited by Mrs. D. F. Harmon, who for some years has been one of our valued Novel correspondents. Mrs. H. is a fluent and taking writer as is attested by the way her productions have been copied all over the state.

The careful attention of our readers is called to the inside pages of The Record each week. They not only contain the cream of the very latest news of general interest from the state and nation but also a good story or two and practical sermons from eminent divines. By all means read the inside pages.

Garry McConkey's little two year old boy had a narrow escape Sunday night from what might have been a serious if not fatal accident. While playing with a pair of shears the little fellow fell, striking his head on one of the points indicating an ugly gash near the light temple but which fortunately did not penetrate deeper than the flesh.

The item regarding the marriage of a "bashful boy of 18 from Livingston to a blushing bride of 18 from Wayne" which was entirely original with the Record three weeks ago has gone all over the state copied in many instances by papers as original with them. The last even of it was in the Fowlerville Observer of last week and in the Williamson Enterprise.

It is with no little feeling of pride that the Record points to the business places of the men who occupy the columns of this paper each week with advertisements. Northville's grocery stores, dry goods houses, clothing and gent's furnishing emporiums, shoe stores, millinery stores, drug stores, tailoring establishments, jewelry stores, harness and horse clothing store, hardware stores, building houses, hotel, flouring mills, furniture house, meat markets,ivery stables, lumber yards, laundries, bazars, cigar factory, milk routes, and manufacturing establishments, are among the best of the kind in the state and are equal to those found in our cities, in point of assortment and comparison of prices. And what may be said of the business houses may also be said of the Record Printery. But few of the city offices even are better or more modernly equipped and we are quite sure that the business men of the place and people generally are just as proud of this as we are.

The sound money folks held a ratification meeting Wednesday night. The parade formed at the depot and led by the Northville and Plymouth brass bands, followed by a noisy traction engine, a load of school bells, men with torch lights, foot, on horseback and in wagons amid the screaming of horns, firing of cannon and a brilliant display of fireworks, the principal streets of the village were traversed, the whole ending up at the opera house where speeches were made by Hon. A. N. Kinnis, Chas. Booth, H. E. Daniels and Dr. J. M. Collier. Numerous catchy banners were displayed in the procession containing both local and general hits. There was "We got there, Eh" The Globe employees carried one which read "We were coerced, nit," and another reading "We are still paid in 100 cents dollars."

How about Nov. 7, George was another. A large wagon filled with the best looking young ladies of the village was labeled on one side, "McKinley girls are as good as gold" and on the other "We like McKinley boys the best." Had this wagon went through the village with that load just before election it is safe to say that McKinley's majority would have been preceptably increased here. The rear of the procession was pushed along by a colored brass band from Salem.

through the lungs while in the service of his country. He never recovered from the effects of his terrible wound, although never receiving anything like an adequate pension. His family have the sincere sympathy of their many old friends here.

Quite a number of the masculine birds around here seem to walk with a somewhat peculiar gait since Saturday night—not used to equestrian exercise, you know; and it's quite a ways to Farmington and back—but blame for Billy Mac!

On Friday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Deer was lavaged by about twenty of their friends. At the time Mr. Deer was suffering from a boil on his neck, which made the evening rather unpleasant for him, but the guests reported a "good time."

Those who were absent from the Baptist church Sunday afternoon missed a good sermon—Farmington Enterprise.

We often hear similar remarks at Nov. 1. Those who stay away miss that kind every time now a days.

For some reason Nov. seems to be getting a rather unfavorable reputation as a resort for those who are prone to the excessive use of intoxicants. What's the matter? We have no licensed saloons. It must be brought in from abroad of course. Just so. Why not put a tariff on the stuff for the protection of home industry. Let our local business of helping here and boys to ruin themselves should suffer.

As we have heard many inquiries concerning the outcome of the trial of Ray Coates and his sister Alice Lawrence who lived in this vicinity when they were children, we copy the following from a state paper: "Mrs. Alice Lawrence, who is serving a 20 years sentence in the Detroit House of Correction for the murder of her husband, Enos M. Lawrence, at Holland, has made another confession and declared the innocence of Dr. J. D. Wetmore, who was arrested as an accomplice in September on the testimony of the woman and her brother, Ray Coates, who is in Jackson prison for life as the confessed perpetrator of the deed."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Durfee have returned from their wedding trip to Lansing, Belleville and other points and are receiving congratulations on all sides. As was mentioned in the Record they were married on Thursday Oct. 29, at five p.m. Further particulars were promised last week but were inadvertently omitted. The ceremony was performed by the former pastor, J. Ward Stone of Milan, in the presence of over sixty friends. The bride wore white organ with decorations of white ribbon and carried bridal roses and the bridesmaid, Miss Alice Hart of Detroit, was similarly attired. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Beardslee of Clarkston. There was a large variety of gifts, and some very elegant and valuable ones have been received since the wedding that had been delayed in arriving. One was sent by a relative in London, Eng. A dainty luncheon was served and while the guests were away discussing it, the young couple examined the souvenirs which had been prepared as a parting testimonial, by the departing, thus saving several pounds of rice and some back numbers of foot wear. Mr. and Mrs. Durfee are both highly esteemed in the community and everyone is pleased that they are still to be numbered among the favorite young people here. They will be found at the pleasant home of the bride's parents this winter where we are authorized to say that they will be pleased to receive their friends from this time on. May success and happiness be theirs and may they be able to see the silver lining to all clouds that shall appear.

Mrs. Maggie Myers.

Williamston, Ind., writes: "I suffered for months of severe stomach troubles, caused by indigestion and constipation. My trouble seemed almost unendurable. Your Boy Won't Live a Month.

So Mr. Gilmar Brown of 34 Mill street, South Gardner, Mass., was told by the doctors. His son had lung trouble, following Typhoid Malaria, and he spent three hundred and seventy-five dollars with doctors who finally gave him up, saying "Your boy won't live a month." He tried Dr. King's New Discovery and a few bottles restored him to health and enabled him to go to work a perfectly well man. He says he owes his present good health to the use of Dr. King's New Discovery, and knows it to be the best in the world for Lung trouble. Free trial bottles at Geo. C. Hueston's drug store.
