N.A hospital of leprosy good King Uzrigh had died and the whole land was shadowed with solemnity, and theological and pro-phetic Isaiah was thinking about religious things, as cone is apt to-do in time of great na-tional bereavement, and forgetting the presence of his wife and two sons who made up his family, he has a dream; not like the dreams of ordinary character, which generally come from indigestion, but a vision most instructive and under the louch of the hand of the Almighty.

The place, the ancient temple: building grand, awful, majestic. Within that temple a throne higher and grander than that occupied by any car or sultan or emperor. On that throne, the eternal Offist an lines surrounding that throne the brighter, relegible, northe cherupim but higher than they being, there are pinions, which suggest the lithest, the swiftest, the most bioxant and the most aspiring of all unin-telligent creation—a bird. Each scraph six wings, each two of the wings for a different purpose. Isaiah's dream quivers and flashes with these pinions Now folded, now spread, now beaten in locomotion "Veith twain he covan locomotion ered his feet, with twain he cov-cred his face, and with twain he did

The probability is that these wings were not all used at once. The seraph standing there near the throne overwhelmed at the insignificance of the paths his feet had trojden as compared with the paths trodden by the feet of God, and with the lameness of his locomotion amounting alreast to decreption as compared with the dititle of the gallery is a large sadi-, viae velocity with teathers veri of angelic mo lest; hides the feet twin he did-cover the feet"

Standing there overpowered by the overmitching splendors of God a glory, and unable longer with the eves to look upon them, and wishing those eyes shaded from the insufficiable glory, the plulone gather ever the countenance With twain he did cover the face Then as God tell this scraph to go to the farthest outpost of immensity on speaking of light and love and joy, and get back hazara the Bret anthem, it does not take the scraph a great while to spread bimsoff upon the air with unimagined selecity, one stroke of the wing equal to ten thousand k igues of air. "With twain he did ily."

The most practical and useful less on for you, and me-when we see the seraph spreading his wings over the fect is the less in of humility at imperfection The brightest angels of God are so fat beneath God that he charges' them with folly. The scraph so far beneatly God, and we so far beneath the seraph in struce we ought to be plunged in humility, utter and complete. Our feet how laggard they have been in the ditine survice. I sound the praises of the human foot. With that we halt or climb or march. It is the foundation of the physical rabrie. It is the base of a God-poised column. human nature is braggadocio and sin. Our nature started at the hand of God regal, but it has been pauperized There is a well in Belgium which once had very pure water, and it was stourly masoned with stone and brick; but that well afterward became the center of the battle of Waterloo. At the open-ing of the battle the soldiers with their sabers compelled the gardener, William northe chemism, but higher than the property of the battle, or waterior. Another serapbic posture in the text

"With twain he covered the face" That means reverence Godward Never so much hreverence abroad in world as to-day. You see it in the defaced statuary, in the cutting out of figures from fine paintings, in the comping of monuments for a memento, in the fact that military guard must stand at the grave of Lincoln and Garfield, and that old shade trees must be cut down for firewood though fifty George P Morrises beg the woodmen to spare the tree, and that calls a corple a cadayer, and that speaka of death as going over to the majority, and substitutes for the reverent frims father and mother the old mun' and "the presaue in the unins of Baarbee or the columns of Karnae, and sees no differonce he the Sabbath from other days except to allows more dissipation, and reads the Bible in what izealled higher criticism, making it not the Word of God but a good book with some fine things in if Irreverence never so much abroad How many take the name of God in vain, how many trivial things said about the Almighty Not willing to have Gol in the world, they roll up an ifea of sentimentality and human -tarianism and impudence and imbecilmy, and call it Gol. No mings of reveronce over the face, no taking off or shoes on holy ground You can tell from the way they talk they could have made a better world than this, and that the God of the Bible shocks 'every how many paths of worldliness and folly they have walked.

A NEW CHOST STORY.

Myster, Has Been Cleared Up by the Speck.

Dublin society-has lately been startled by a very astonishing story or the mother was summoned suddenly from supernatural, but the mystery has her home. An only sister, who had been cleared up. Recently Dr. Wynne, the Protestant Episcopal bishop of Killaice, and his wife died saddenly on "Well, then." I reply, repeating words summons was so sudden that I did not the same day, save the New York Joursee her before she left. Going in the ral

On the afternoon of this day a lady walking_in one of the suburbs of Dublin met a (lergyman, whom she supposed to be the pishop, and inquired for Mrs Wynne. "She," was the reply, "is dead, and," after a pause, "the bishop, too, is dead.' The lady was quite overcome and on recovering her-self found that the clergyman, whom she still believed to be the bishop, had vanished. She immediately went and explained the mysterious occurrence to a weil-known Irish Protestant dignitary, who is a firm believer in supernatural appearances. He said there was no doubt that she had been accorded an interview with the spirit of the departed bishop.

The story was extensively circulated in Dublic society, and was told to a clergyman when visiting the family of a well-known judge "Why," said the astonished cleric. "I am the bishop's ghost, I lady whom I did not know came up to me and asked me how Mrs Winne was. I said she was dead and that the bishop was also dead. The lady naturally seemed greatly dis-tressed and I passed on." There is a very striking likeness between the acad bisnop and the clergyman for whom he was mistaken.

Rattlers His Prey. Near Susquehanna, Pa., lives a man who makes a good living capturing rattlesnaker. Last year he-his name is William Chandler-caught two hundred rattlesnaked. They were taken alive and are kept in a big cage with a-closely woven wire net cover. Chandler expects to market them profitably. Their poison and the oil tried from their fat command a good price.

Freight Handlers' Strike. The freight handlers of the F. & P. W. railroad at Ludington struck against reduced wages, and over 300 men went out. Duncan Stewart and John Honnswell, two leaders, were arrested for trying to persuade others to strike, and on charges of destroying railroad property, but Judge McMahon released them. . The judge issued an injunction restraining the strikers from interferance with the company's property, but refused to enjoin them from the right to use proper persuasion in getting men who have taken their places, to quit work:

Without the privilege of introducing more bills the Senators seemed at a loss for some way to spend their time. There were only one or two matters of deep enough interest to stir up their spirits. During the discussion of a bill to permit Ludington to exempt factory buildings from taxation Senator Thompson, of Wayne, spoke against such action and declared that it like many other ideas of Gov. Pingree, was dangerous and victous. A report was received from the Senate committee recommending appropriations ,884,920 for the maintenance of the Michigan mining schools for the next two years, and $40,815 for refitting the bailding. Several bills passed the most important being these: (H. B. 1.1) To amend the law for the incorporation of mutual benefit societies by providing that they shall have 200 policy holders at $1,000 each before starting in business; (S. B. 329) for an additional ward for the city of Owosso; (H. B. 338) for bonding the Midland County Agricultural society to pay $1,500 indebtedness; (H. B. 501) for bonding Munising for water works by two-thirds vote of the electors. The House session was much more lively.: The Representatives were stirred up by a resolution offered by Rep. Atmison, Gov. Pingree's right hand man in the House, fixing April 13 as the time for beginning the ation of bills relating to railroad-legislation. A score of harguments were advanced for and against such action and when the rote was taken the Dingreeites lacked the neces sary two-thirds yotes and the resolu-tion was then laid on the table The resolution of Rep. Eikhöff, of Wayne, asking the attornov-general to report the amounts spent for the mainnance of prisoners at the state prisons at Jackson, Marquette and Ionia respectively and also at the Detroit house of correction, was passed. The House committee on state affairs has reported favorably (H. B. 602) provid-for women physicans and attendants for women nationts in visage asriums Bills passed by the House included the following. (H. B. 85%) Authorizing Midland County Agricultural society to issue $1.300 of bonds to clear indebtedness; (H. B. 501) autnerizing Munising o bond for a water works plant or any thirds majority, vote of the electors.

After spending a Sunday at home among their constituents the legislators returned to Lansing well convinced that the tax payers did not like the idea of the legislature adjourning for a week to take a junket to Fresi quently it was alsowed to drop. Never theless, arrangements having been made for Gov. Pingree and his military staff and a number of state officials to take the trip about 15 or 20 members of the House and -several- Senators decided to attend the inaugural with the governors party. The Senate passed two bills: (S B. 13!) For the repeal of the law for the collection of sociological statistics: (S. B 150) for the repea of the law for the collection of statistical information regarding the deaf, dumb and bind. In the House a resolution was adopted providing for a committee to investigate the method by which Dave Wixom a life prisoner at Jackson, gained a pardon it having been alleged that it was recured by false representation on the part of a prison The House agreed to the following bills in committee of the whole Permitting coporations to be sued in chancery in circuit courts, the same as in actions at law; providing for a Kent county insane asylam and permitting the state to pay for the mearceration of patients therein, providing a fine of from $2 to $10 for wearing high hats the 'theater: for of buckwheat flour when not pure

An attempt was made to cut down a $5,000 appropriation for the pay of the Agricultural college students who work at eight cents an hour upon the state farm, to a total of $100 on $500. No action taken.

The beet sugar bounty bill is now in the hands of the Senate, the Agricultural committee having reported it favorably as it came from the House. The lieutenant governor has been authorized by the Senate to appoint a committee to investigate charges of gross mismanagement of the Michidan Soldier's Home at Grand Rapids. The Senate committee reported a radical measure as to the method of voting upon constitutional jamendments. "It provides that an amendment instead of being run across the entire width of the ballot at the foot, shall be placed underneath each party ticket on the the ticket shall be considered an affirm five vote og the amendment miless the elector takes the trouble to mark a cross in the negative square in front of the proposed amendment. In committee of the whole the Senate to join't resolution fixing the salaries of members of the legislature at $600 per session with 5 cents à mile mileage allowence, and cutting down the time for the introduction of bills in the legisla ture from 50 to 30 days. The Senate passed (H. B. 248) Authorizing the incorporation of homes for aged, infirm or judigent men or women. Rep. Chamberlain's bill to prohibit the wearing of high hats in theaters came very near being killed outright, but he saw its danger and had it tabled. Rep. Petrowski-of Wayne, introduced a red uni resolution protesting against Sponish insults of Americans in Cuba, as follows: "Whereas we are convinced that the American flag has been in stilled, the passport issued by the state department of this country and bear-ing its seal, has been trampled in the resident upon the Island of Cuba: have been placed in jeopardy, and others have been imprisoned unlawfully. therefore, Resolved, by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring. that it is the earnest prayer of every member of the Michigan legislature. that the administration of President McKinley will at once put an end to costs zaillions of dollars and the expenditure of many human fives. SENATE-58th day-The fact that In formation had been received or the release of Juno Sanguil't by the Sparis i in Cuba somewhat cooled the Senators who quite generally assumed, as Senator Lodge expressed it, that the threatening attitude of congress and of American public opinion had shown Spain that patience had almost reached its limit and consequently Sanguilly was immediately gigen his freedom. Mr. Morgan salled attention to the case of George Washington Aguirre, an American boy aged 19, who surrendered July 4 last to the Spaniards after two or three week's experience as an insurgent and who is yet in a vile prison. Mr. Lodge said these two cases were but samples of many others. Mr. Cali scored the Cleveland administration for not going to the aid of American prisoners in Cuba and said that the latter were actually appealing to Great Britain's representatives for protection Mr. White and Mr. Gray defended President Cleveland and Sec retary Olney, declaring that they had been untiring in orging the rights of American citizenship.
