IT WAS ATTENDED BY HUNDREDS OF RELATIVES AND FRIENDS.

Remains Interred Near His Old Home, Clarenceville.

The funeral services over the remains of Wm. Luderman who met such a tragic death in the Yerkes Bros. mill on May 26 occurred from the home here Saturday forenoon. The remains were taken to Clarenceville, Mr. Luderman's old home, where the interment where another service was held. Rev. Mr.

Wm. LUDERMAN.

Reinhardt pastor of the new German Lutheran society here officiated at both services. At the home here the large front room was filled with cut flowers sent in by neighborhood friends and a beautiful floral wreath, the gift of the Northville Milling Co., stood at the head of the casket.

Deceased was born in Germany April 25, 1867, and came to this country with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Luderman of Clarenceville, at the age of fifteen. He was held in high esteem both by his employers and the entire neighborhood in which he resided. He had been in the employ of Yerkes Bros for five years. Upwards of 100 carriages followed the remains from Northville and Clarenceville the procession was joined by many more. Mrs. Luderman has moved to Sand Hill to reside with her sister.

NOVI NEWS.

Mrs. J. J. Tickner and daughter Cora are visiting in Linden.

Mrs. P. McCrumb and daughter Aggie spent Saturday in Detroit.

Among the sick are, Mrs. McCrumb, Miss Olive Wikom, Miss Belle Crawford and Moses Nye.

Mrs. D. S. Magill is carrying her own home once more, having returned from her stay in Detroit.

John Hoffman of Ray, Ind., is the guest of his sisters, Mrs. Harry Hammond and Mrs. Frank Rice.

A great improvement has been made at the cemetery and it is intended that the good work shall be carried much further.

Walter Nash lost a fine Jersey cow last week through the carelessness of some one in throwing away a paper containing Paris green.

We stated last week through a misunderstanding that only a few ladies were at the mission meeting at Mrs. Frank Chapman's, but have since learned that notwithstanding the rain twelve or fourteen were in attendance.

Wm. W. Brown of Novi, charged with selling liquor without payment of tax, came on for trial in the circuit court last week, to which charge he pleaded guilty, and on Monday Judge Smith sentenced him to pay a fine of $100 and $10 cost.—Post.

Last week Friday while Frank Dodge was at work in the cemetery, he was severely kicked by one of his horses. He was taken home in a fainting condition but it is now hoped that he is out of danger, although the injury is considered a serious one.

Last Saturday Little 7 year old Goodell managed to get hold of a loaded revolver belonging to his father, Mr. Goodell, while the family was from the house for a short time. The child was examined by a physician and found to be unharmed.

bullet entered his leg just above the knee, coming out below the knee and then passing nearly through his foot being taken out by Dr. Wiggins from the bottom of the foot. The little fellow is doing as well as can be expected.

The Decoration day entertainment at the Baptist church Monday evening was apparently much enjoyed by all present. The exercises, under the management of Will Flint were appropriate and well carried out. The program consisted of readings, recitations and music and a talk by Hon. A. N. Kimball, all on subjects relevant to the object in view—the commemoration of the day sacred to the memory of our departed soldiers.

A large number of people gathered at the cemetery on Tuesday morning to witness the burial of Miss Mame Johnson whose remains were brought from the vault at Northville. The grave was lined with maple boughs and the surroundings covered with evergreens and flowers. After a prayer and a few words by Rev. Mr. Ticker those assembled turned away with tear dimmed eyes and sorrowing hearts.

"Life is real, life is earnest,
And the grave is not our goal,
Dust thou art, to dust we'll return,
Wasne spoken of the soul."

The Northville Post, G. A. R. seem to have incurred a good deal of displeasure from the citizens of this town by their failure to appear here Sunday morning according to agreement. Inasmuch as it was generally understood that the plan originated with themselves, a word was received Saturday night that they would be late without fail, and after the time willingly spent in preparations for a fitting reception to the visitors, naturally people were somewhat vexed that a little rain should have scared the veterans out, when in spite of weather conditions so many turned out to do them honor, many coming nearly as far as they would have had to ride had they made the required effort to fulfill their engagement. It is to be hoped that some good reason can be assigned for the failure as the Novi folks are very patriotic and have always held the former defenders of their country in high esteem and are always ready to do them honor.

It is seldom that death has invaded a home in this community when the circumstances have seemed so peculiar, and as those connected with the passing from life of Mrs. Madge Wright Hogle on Sunday last. Mrs. Hogle has been sick for some time, but was not considered dangerously so until a very short time before the relentless hand of death claimed her, bringing desolation and dismay into an already bereaved home. The grief stricken husband is left with four little motherless children, the youngest but two years old and the father is doubly afflicted in this the loss of his only and idolized daughter, as less than one short year ago he was called upon to lay his wife in the grave. Mrs. Hogle was born in Detroit thirty one years ago, but has passed nearly all her life here. She became the wife of Geo. Hogle nearly ten years ago. Hers has been one of those quiet unassuming lives, which so many excellent women live, passed in the caring of children and home, thus making her absence more keenly felt in the household where she was always to be found. The funeral services were held at the residence, Wednesday afternoon, the sermon being preached by the pastor of the Methodist church here, Rev. Mr. Mitchell, who was assisted in the services by Rev. Mr. McIntosh of Valled Lake, Rev. J. J. Tickner of Novi, and Rev. J. M. Belding of Lapeer, formerly of Northville. A very large congregation was present and the profession of flowers were beautiful beyond description. The family are held in high esteem here, and every heart is filled with deepest sympathy for them, in their sore affliction.

In spite of the disappointment at the Baptist church Sunday morning and the long wait for the hoped for visitors, we venture to say that a finer memorial discourse was not delivered in Oakland county than the one given by the pastor of the church to his congregation from the text "He hath not dealt so with any nation" (Ps. 147:20.) Although Mr. Tickner was placed at a disadvantage by the fact that those for whom the sermon was specially prepared were not present, it was thoroughly appreciated by those who were fortunate enough to be there and by whom he was desired to conduct the service as if all conditions had been as expected. The speaker, after mention of the dangers through which our country has passed in attaining her present position and after paying a fervent and fitting tribute to the brave men who in the many crises have carried the old flag on to victory, impressively warned his hearers of dangers no less formidable to the nation's life than those which have been in times past so successfully quelled by force of arms. He spoke of infemperance, licentiousness, Sabbath desecration, political corruption, indiscriminate foreign immigration, monopolies and other prevailing evils as being more menacing and far more dangerous to the perpetuity of our government than wars could possibly be, which are facts which no thinking person can deny, and which were presented to his hearers in an appropriate and convincing manner, which we would have been glad to see repeated in our own congregation.

A HEAVY LOSS.

Farmers of Northville and Vicinity Likely to Suffer

BECAUSE OF THE CLOVER CONDENSERY EMBARRASSMENT.

Preferred Creditors Likely to Get All There Is Left.

The Farmers Are Thrown Upon the Generosity of the Stockholders.

The people of Northville are asking themselves "what next?" The embarrassment of the Clover Condensed Milk Co., falls like a dark cloud upon the farmers of this section. For months the affairs of the Condensery have been considered to be rather straightened. The company alleged it to be caused by Eastern collections being slow and appealed to the farmers who were drawing their milk to help them past the difficulty as much as possible by allowing their accounts to run over from month to month, representing that as each succeeding month would come they would have plenty of money. The plenty of money apparently never came and the $8,000 of outstanding accounts and the $2,000 of cash milk on hand representing the "accommodation" to the firm by the farmers as well as their hard work, is covered by notes held by the stockholders, all wealthy men of Detroit. In an interview with the stockholders of the concern the only reply that they will make is that the matter is now in the hands of the trustee and when all accounts are in they will settle with each creditor. But when the "preferred" creditors, the stockholders, get back their loan it now looks as if "the milk will be sucked out of coconut." There is a chance however that the stockholders may be tender hearted enough to come down from their own pocket book rather than see these farmers suffer for a loss which they have brought upon themselves by rendering an accommodation to the Condensery people in order to carry them over the turbulent financial stream, otherwise the "common" creditors can at best only hope for a few cents on a dollar.

Fry Bros.	320 lbs sugar

The Condensery Company borrowed the barrel of sugar mentioned above of Fry Bros not more than three days before executing the mortgage. They claimed to have a car load enroute which would arrive the next day when they would return it, but it never came. Fry Bros. owe the company for a case of milk but it is claimed that they must not only pay for the milk but also for the sugar.

At present the company is taking in from 1,000 to 1,500 lbs of milk per day which the men are bottling and shipping to Detroit to supply the wagon trade. For this they are paying spot cash. Secretary Babillon is in New York this week collecting up accounts and looking over the "future" field and upon his return some definite action will be taken.

Parker-Cover Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Minnie Cover to Mr. Miles L. Parker of Owosso was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Isadora Cover, 55 Dunlap street, on Wednesday evening by Rev. J. H. Hertener of the Northville Presbyterian church assisted by Rev. J. M. Belding of Lapeer. There were about forty relatives and immediate friends of the contracting parties present to witness the pretty affair.

The bride, unattended, was attired in a handsome gown of straw colored silk, trimmed with black lace and jets and carried a bouquet of white roses. The ushers were Messrs. Orr Webster, Edward Merritt, Misses Mable Smith and Genevieve Babitt. The ceremony took place in the parlor, beneath a huge crepe covered double arch tastefully trimmed with a festooning of smilax.

From 7:00 to 8:30 Mr. and Mrs. Parker were tendered a farewell reception at the bride's home by two hundred or more of their Northville friends.

The bride and groom left on the 6:00 o'clock train for their future home in Owosso where the last wishes of a thousand Northville friends follow them.

The Detroit Journal office is kept two Michigan school teachers, one from Detroit and one from the state outside, to the Yellowstone National Park and return on a free pleasure trip. The plan is for their readers to vote for some teacher on coupons found in each day's paper, and the two receiving the most votes will have all their expenses paid for a six day's visit. All expenses even to meals on dining car and steamer, berths on car and steamer, carriage and hotel fare in the park, etc., etc. Miss Fullman, principal of the Holly High school, at the last report of the Journal was several hundred ahead of any other teacher and she is quite likely to take the trip.

PHYSICIANS BAFLED.

Prof. R. S. Bowman, Instructor of Natural Science in Hartsville College, Cured of a Severe Illness by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People After Physicians Failed.

From the Republican, Columbus, Ind.

Prof. R. S. Bowman, the able instructor of natural science in the famous Hartsville College, is well and favorably known, not only as an educator, but also as a minister of the gospel, as for a number of years he was pastor of the United Brethren church at Charlotte, Mich., before coming to Hartsville.

Some time ago he had a severe illness which was cured almost miraculously. A reporter hearing of this, interviewed him regarding his experience. Prof. Bowman was in the midst of his work when the reporter called, but he cheerfully gave him a hearing.

"A year ago last fall," said the professor, "I broke down with nervous exhaustion, and was unable to properly attend to my duties. I tried different physicians but with no relief, and also tried different medicines, spending almost fifty dollars for these medicines. I then succumbed to a 'grip' in the middle of winter, and was left in a fearful condition. My kidneys were fully diseased, and my digestion became very poor. I was in a bad condition. A minister in conference learning of my condition advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I had heard much about the wonderful curative powers of this medicine, but it was with reluctance that I was finally persuaded to try it. It seemed that nothing could do me any good. However, I procured three boxes of pills and took them strictly according to directions. By the time the last dose was taken I was almost cured, and in better health than I had been for years. I continued using the pills a while longer and was entirely cured. I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

"I affirm that the above accords with the facts in my case," R. S. Bowman. Such was the experience of Prof. Bowman, a story which was further endorsed by the following affidavit:

THE WAY THINGS GO.

HE was singing an aria from "Martha" when he first saw her. Arthur Hartman was very fond of "Martha." That was the reason he made his way into the parlor where he could see the singer. She sang it too well. Hers was not an intensely emotional dramatic voice, but a sweet, soft, and happy, well-suited to "Martha's" music.

When he turned away from the piano he sought an introduction that he might tell her how much he had enjoyed her rendition of the beloved air. "I suppose," he said, "that all compliments, in whatever language they may be couched, have been worn threadbare, but for all that I want to add my voice to the general clamor and tell you that you have given me great pleasure."

"That is the highest compliment one can ever receive," she replied. "If one were to hear that often. You have given me pleasure," it would seem that here were really something worth living for."

She looked up and smiled and the thought was born on his mind that her voice was the least important of her beautiful qualities, and that even if she were deaf and dumb he would think her the most delightful woman he had ever met. Still the voice was there and he liked her all the better for having it. "A woman with heart and lips attuned to music makes life a paradise for any man," he said, tentatively. She smiled again.

"Then," she said, "a man so blessed could never be justified in wandering away from paradise."

"No man would care to do so," he answered, eloquently.

One sunny afternoon in the latter part of the same week he availed himself of her permission to call and went around to her apartment. She had a severe headache, and her face was pale and her eyes dull and heavy.

"Don't you want to take a walk?" he asked. "The bracing air and the sunshine will do you good."

"Oh," she murmured, with a deprecating look in the mirror opposite, "I can't. I'm such a fright." Then, "You'd be ashamed of me," she said, lightly.

"Ashamed of you?" he repeated, with unusual ardor. "Miss Monroe, I'd never be ashamed of you."

He was right about the effect of the constitutional. It was wonderfully beneficial for when she returned her face was tinged with a delicate flush and her eyes glinted and sparkled as on the night of the musicale.

"There isn't a doubt," said he, when commenting on it, "that a brisk walk on a fine afternoon is the best tonic in the world."

The flush deepened a little then. Somehow, the glow and the sparkle were always there when he saw her after that. She was just the sort of girl he had long dreamed about, beautiful, good and true, and he loved her dearly.

"I have loved you ever since I heard you sing 'Martha' that night," he said. "Will you come with me so that I can hear it often?"

"Oh," she cried, "I'm not worthy. I'm so ignorant."

"Ignorant?" he exclaimed. "What is it you don't know? Why, you know everything. Your voice is divine; you paint, you write a little and you are a linguist. What more would you want?"

"Oh, I know I can do all those things," she laughed, "but I am afraid they won't amount to much after we are married. You'll want me to be more practical. I don't understand the first thing about housekeeping. I couldn't cook a meal if we were starving. I don't know how to go shopping; tradesmen could cheat me of my very head and I would be none the wiser. I don't know how to sew."

"Why, my dear," he interrupted, gaily, "one would think that I am the proprietor of an intelligence office and you an applicant for a situation as working housekeeper. Rose, I don't want to marry my cook or my washwoman. I can hire her at so much per week. I want a beloved, congenial companion for a wife. I want you."

And she blushing acknowledged that she loved him better than all the world and that he might have her if he thought he would never regret it.

"Rose," said Mr. Arthur Hartman, when he and his wife were eating their late breakfast one morning a year later, "I don't see what on earth ails our cook nowadays. She doesn't earn her salt. We pay her big wages, too, don't we?"

"Four dollars a week."

"I thought so. That's simply outrageous. You women think a man's made of money. It seems to me that if you'd give a little attention to household affairs instead of sitting around stung and playing and prancing from morning till night and from night till morning, we could have a more comfortable far less expensive."

They are a warlike race, resembling the Zulus in national characteristics; and they are reported to number 25,000 fighting men. Their territory adjoins that of the Transvaal Republic on the north, and gold discoveries have led both Dutch and English to enter it. Considerable numbers of Dutch, British, and Portuguese troops have been sent into the disturbed territory or to the frontier, and the possible conflict of interests enhances the seriousness of the situation."

you could do most of the cooking yourself. The majority of women know all about those things."

"Yes, Arthur," said Mrs. Hartman, faintly, "and I intend to learn, too. I'll get up a breakfast one of these mornings that'll surprise you."

"Well, you can't be too quick about it," replied Mr. Arthur Hartman.

When the baby was two months old they discharged the cook. Mrs. Hartman had learned to prepare such dainties, tempting dishes that her husband would allow no one less skilled to cater to his delicate stomach. The Hartmans did not keep a nurse girl. Mr. Hartman, stonily maintained that a woman who didn't know enough to take care of her own children wasn't fit to be a mother, so his wife administered catnip tea and frothed steak at the same time, and washed dishes between the tantrums of the Hartman son and heir. Neither did they keep a maid. A maid was so apt to let the dirt accumulate on chairs and mantels, Mr. Hartman said; and if there was one thing he disliked more than another it was dust. His wife was the most thorough sweeper and duster he had ever come across and it hurt him to the quick to think of entrusting such important duties to another.

Rose Hartman was too thoroughly conscientious to do anything in a half-hearted manner and it wasn't long until she had developed into a model housekeeper. Mr. Hartman admitted that and was very proud of her. The ease stood unopened in the corner in those days; the piano was never opened unless they had company and Rose's sweet voice was hushed except when crooning lullabies to the baby. She was very pale and thin, too, but Mr. Hartman never seemed to notice that. But then he spent a good many evenings away from home and perhaps he had no time to give heed to such trifling things.

On those evenings when he went out calling he generally came in about 10 o'clock. But one evening it was almost 11 when he turned the key in the lock and walked into their little sitting room. His wife was still up, for the baby had been ailing and fretful and all the mother's art had been powerless to soothe the little fellow. "Mr. Hartman heard the boy, still crying before the door was fairly opened, but it did not disturb him that night. A happy, self-satisfied smile played round his lips and he sat down opposite his wife and commenced with himself for several minutes in contented silence. The baby fell asleep at last. The cessation of the mournful cries brought Mr. Hartman to himself.

"Poor little fellow," he said, carelessly. "Is he sick?"

"Yes," said his wife, "he's been sick all day."

Mr. Hartman stretched his long legs and yawned.

"Rose," he said, "I've been around to the Winslows to-night."

Mrs. Hartman winced as her foot slipped and tremulously clasped that of the sleeping child.

"I don't know what you ever noticed in me," he went on, "but Mrs. Winslow has a glorious voice. She sang some selections from 'Martha' and we're going to practice some duets together. Why is it you never sing any more, Rose? Other women don't begin to recognize as soon as they get a husband. I never thought you would."

"I'll tell you this, if a woman forgets everything else, she never forgets that she's married. By all a mistake. Now, that music at Winslow's to-night was an inspiration. It made me feel like a different man. Shall I carry the young man upstairs for you?"

"Oh, thank you," said Mrs. Hartman, and her voice was very calm and low.

He whistled a few bars from "Martha" and went to bed. His wife bowed low over the little form in her lap. When she drew her hand across the boy's forehead it shattered a globe of something that glistened and sparkled like a diamond. But a moment later another jewel and then another, took the place of the one that had been brushed away.

A GOOD SUIT OF CLOTHES.

No Man Can Afford to Wear Shabby Garments.

A Barnesville lawyer appeared before his friends in a new and costly suit of clothes recently, says the Atlanta Constitution. When he named the price a bystander exclaimed:

"Whew! I haven't had that much cash in a month of Sundays."

"Cash!" exclaimed the lawyer. "Why, got it on credit and I shan't lose any sleep if I never pay for it. I think turn about's fair play and the other fellow can afford to do without it."

And, lifting himself to his full height and buttoning his coat across his chest, he continued: "No, gentlemen, I never intend to wear a shabby suit. A man just can't afford to do it. Nobody has any respect for shabbiness. Why, I couldn't gain a case if I wore shabby clothes if I had the eloquence of a Demosthenes or Cicero, not if all the law and the prophets were on my side. A jury just wouldn't respect me enough to listen to me and the judge himself would give his decision according to my outward appearance. No, sir, a man can't afford to wear shabby clothes."

Revolution in South Africa.

The natives of Gazaland, a country in eastern Africa which is under the rule of Portugal, are in revolt. They are a warlike race, resembling the Zulus in national characteristics; and they are reported to number 25,000 fighting men. Their territory adjoins that of the Transvaal Republic on the north, and gold discoveries have led both Dutch and English to enter it. Considerable numbers of Dutch, British, and Portuguese troops have been sent into the disturbed territory or to the frontier, and the possible conflict of interests enhances the seriousness of the situation."

WISE ADVICE TO HUSBANDS.

Those Who Have Ailing Wives Will do Well to Accept It.

Do not wrangle and quarrel, and finally rush into the courts and try to get a separation from your faithful wife; but just stop a moment and think. Your wife, who was even-tempered and amiable, and all that was lovely when you married her, has changed. Now she is peevish, irritable, jealous, discontented and miserable—in a word, she has uterine disorder of some kind.

Law is not the remedy for this condition; she needs medical treatment, her uterine system is at fault.

My advice to you is, sit down and write a letter to that friend of women, Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., state fully and freely the whole case to her and she will honestly advise you what to do. Give your wife that chance, good man.

If you do not wish to write about your wife, bring her a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; watch its effects, you will soon see the beginning of the improvement; then get her another and keep it up until she is restored to you, the same lovely woman you married years ago.

Following we relate the circumstances of a case of this nature. Mrs. MELBA BOUTON, Canby, Ind., says:

"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and found it to be of great benefit to me. The doctors said I was in a bad way. I had the headache all the time, and a terrible nervous, cross and irritable. I looked so pale that people would ask me what was the matter. I suffered in this way for about four years, until one day about in despair my husband brought me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I commenced its use, and much to every one's surprise, it cured me. It has completely changed my disposition for the better also. Several of my neighbors, knowing what the Pinkham medicine has done for me, are taking it, and are much pleased with the result."

SALEM.

George Coldren came from Washington D. C. to attend the funeral of his brother Peter.

Mrs. Babbitt of Northville has been spending several days with her sister Mrs. Peter Coldren.

Decoration day was duly observed here at the Thayer cemetery in the morning and at the Walker cemetery in the afternoon.

Luther Hills, of Barry county nephew of Mrs. Peter Coldren was here to attend his uncle's funeral. He returned home on Saturday evening.

densed milk institution at Northville are now bringing milk to the Salem cheese factory. The supply of milk is about seven thousand pounds a day at Salem now days.

Worden VanAtta who has been attending the Stenographic institute at Ann Arbor, has completed the course and is now spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F.
VanAtta of this place.

The many friends of Mrs. Jackson N.
Thompson will be sorry to learn that her mental condition has caused her friends to think best to place her in the Asylum at Pontiac for a time. It is hoped her derangement may be only temporary.

Peter Coldren who died at seven o'clock last week Wednesday evening had been an active and energetic man, to whom hard labor in his youth and in his mature life was as pastime. He was thrifty and successful in business, and has long been enjoying the fruits of his early industry and economy. He had been an enterprising citizen, a good neighbor and a loyal friend. He had been twice married—first to Mary J., oldest daughter of the late Arnold Whipple, and later to Miss Sarah Babbitt, daughter of the late Osmond Babbitt. He had one son, Chas. H. Coldren one of the leading farmers of the town of Plymouth. For many years he had been a leading member of the Congregational church—attending its services and contributing to its support. His large circle of friends and acquaintances will deplore his demise, though it comes at the end of a long and useful life. Mr. Coldren's prominence in this vicinity forbids that his life here should be mentioned in a parenthesis.
He was born in Linn, Livingston Co., N. Y., in the year 1847, and remained in that locality until about the year 1886 when he came to Michigan with his parents and since that time, except for one or two brief periods he has been a resident of Salem. The family settled on the south side of section thirteen of the township and the original purchase is still in the possession of his son, Chas.
H. Coldren to which about 200 acres have been added. The Coldren family will be remembered by the older residents of Plymouth, Northville and Salem as united for its numerous members—twelve children, four substant sons and eight graceful daughters several of the older daughters had married before the removal to Michigan but the four sons and four of the daughters were married when they came and became connected with leading families in this vicinity. The daughters married Hewitt C. Harrington Smith Hills, Luther Hills and Austin N. Kimmins, all formerly well known residents of Northville and vicinity, and all but Mr. Kimmins have passed over to the majority. Of the sons, George married Betsy, the oldest daughter of the late Osmond Babbitt, Jacob married Mary, the only daughter of the late Calab Harrington, sister of C. G. Harrington of Northville. Of this large family only two remain, George the oldest son now hale and vigorous at the age of eighty four and Mrs. Kimmins, not in robust health, at about sixty-eight. He is survived by a widow and the one son. His funeral was attended at his late residence on Friday last, under the direction of Undertaker Porter religious service conducted by Rev. Mr. Hannaford assisted by Rev. Mr. Shannon of Wayne, burial in the Thayer cemetery.

Dog owners are advised and a number of the canine population have gone where they won't trouble their white neighbors. Others were only saved after punishment and other drastic measures had been resorted to.

The bill prohibiting the making of photographs upon Sunday has been put to sleep. Rep. Goodell, the factions farmer from Wayne, wanted to tick off an amendment making it unlawful to milk cows on the Sabbath and this was too much even for the house that passed the curfew law.

The village board is experiencing the need of a new compilation of the village ordinances. There has been some since 1889 and even copies of that edition seem to be extinct. So many new ordinances have been passed and so many changes made that it is difficult to tell just "where we are at" so to speak. The council is likely to consider the question at their next meeting.

Very few legislative journals have been sent out during this session of the legislature. It is not because they have not been printed, however, for the state printer has a contract for printing several thousand each day. They have not been sent out owing to the inability of the legislature to agree as to how many should be sent out for each member, and from 15 to 20 tons of them have accumulated in the state printer's office. A few thousand of them however were "distributed" during the last few hours of the legislative session. Each representative provided himself with an armful of the ammunition with which to pelt some other member during the grand wind up. When the melee was over the implements of war, journals and house documents, covered the representative hall a foot thick and the senate chamber looked as if a cyclone had struck it. The writer was on the house floor at the time the first gun was fired, we think by that venerable state-man Rep. Sawyer of Ann Arbor but soon made his escape to the gallery. In the midst of the flying missiles Rep. Kimball "cur on a Assel" crawled under a huge basket which in the early evening he had prepared as an impromptu breast work. When the rush was made into the Senate chamber every senator was compelled to fly for his life and in two minutes the speaker and a few messenger boys were all that was left to guide the state.

Chas. Smith has drawn the plans for the new Lutheran church and presented them to the society. As the plans are worth about $25 it is a very neat donation and one which the society appreciates. The church is to be of frame 32x30 feet with a 76 foot tower, to be surmounted by a large copper cross. The contract for construction has not yet been let.

The G. A. R. Post united with the school children on Friday of last week and held exercises in honor of the dead soldiers at the M. E. church. A pleasing program of songs, recitations, and speeches was given. This is probably the only place in the state where the schools and Post united in Memorial Day exercises. The G. A. R.'s decorated the soldiers' graves on Monday.

MENTION OF MICHIGAN MATTERS.

James Farmer of Macomb County Shot and Killed by His Own Daughter.
Grand Rapids Drunk Kills His Wife.
Michigan Convict Stabs a Keeper.

James Farmer of Macomb County Shot and Killed by His Own Daughter.—A tragedy of the most horrible kind occurred in Warren township, Macomb county, after spending the day in drinking at a saloon two miles from his place started for home; his horse ran away and he was thrown into the ditch, where he was found by his wife and son-in-law, Rudolph Wierman. When they attempted to assist him he made an assault on his wife with the butt of a whip stock. Upon reaching home he began to abuse his daughter Minnie, aged 22. The girl says that he drew a razor on her and threatened to kill her as he had done many times before. She secured the weapon, but he became so violent that she was afraid he would do her harm. She went to the woodshed, procured a gun and returning to the kitchen took deliberate aim at her father, who was sitting in a chair at the time, and fired, the charge striking him in the head and killing him instantly. He was 57 years of age and his wife is 55.

The coroner's jury in the inquest returned a verdict of justifiable homicide, finding that his daughter Minnie shot her father in self defense. Minnie is a bright and remarkably good-looking girl. In the neighborhood she is a great favorite and all sympathize with her.

A Cowardly Wife Murder.
 Jacob Welsh, aged 50, a stationary engineer of Grand Rapids, had a quarrel soon after breakfast with his wife and daughter, the latter aged 18. He left the house and did not return until evening, when he was very drunk. Without a word to his wife, he drew a revolver from his pocket and firing hit her in the neck. The daughter, hearing the shot, slammed the door and fled screaming out of the front door. The father pursued, but was unable to overtake her, and returning to the house, found that his wife was still alive and conscious. He lifted her from the floor and placing the revolver to her head, fired again, and then left the house. Mrs. Welsh died the next day and the murderer was locked up.

The anti-saloon league at Grand Rapids intends to make complaint against the saloonkeeper who sold Welsh the liquor which made him drunk. They claim that the saloon business is filthy and that they can be held to provide for the children of the dead woman. This will serve as an excellent test case of the law under which they propose to fight.

Convict Carley Assaults Another Keeper.
 Convict Wm. Carley made a desperate assault upon keeper Gas Smith, who is a prisoner. Wm. Carley came to take away Carley's breakfast dishes, the convict leaped to the door, knocking Smith down and began to stab him with a big needle used in sewing brooms. Notwithstanding a score of wounds the keeper remained his feet and fought Carley back into his cell and locked the door. He then summoned help and was taken to the hospital where Dr. Gibson dressed the wounds, some of which are very serious.

This is the third assault Carley has made upon his keepers within three years. His first victim was Foreman McCleary in the stone shop whom he nearly killed with a chisel; next Deputy Warden Northrup and several guards were badly injured in a riot in the shirt factory, led by Carley. Huntley and Boote, for which Carley had 10 years added to the sentence he was already serving.

THE TWO PENINSULAS.

George Stantz, a farmer living northeast of Tipton, shot and killed himself with a rifle.

George Bauski, aged 13, while playing on logs at the upper dam at Big Rapids was drowned. His companions said nothing about the accident for several hours.

In a fit of jealousy, Wm. Fitzpatrick, section foreman on the D. S. & A. railway, at Au Train, made seven attempts to take his life by cutting his throat with a jackknife. His recovery is doubtful.

Gilbert Wilkes, commanding the Michigan state naval brigade, has a letter from the secretary of the navy telling him that it is about settled that the old U. S. cruiser Yantic will come to Michigan for the use of the naval militia of the state as a training ship.

Gov. Pingree has appealed to the law faculty of the U. of M. for counsel as to the constitutionality of the Meridian specific railroad tax bill and in so doing it is said he has placed himself on record as the first governor who has called on a state university for advice.

The arrest of A. H. Currie, a Sarnia, Ont., tailor, at Port Huron for smuggling created a sensation among many prominent citizens of the latter city. Currie, who is a son-in-law of Gen. Wm. H. Allen, was a customs officer at Port Huron, and was ordered for sailing on the 15th inst. to his home in Sarnia.

THE 50TH CONGRESS AT WORK.

SENATE.—18th day.—The first vote on the tariff bill came after a two hours debate on the item of borax acid, which, although comparatively unimportant, afforded an opportunity for the first alignment of various forces. Mr. Vest of Missouri, a Democratic member of the finance committee, moved to make the rate on borax acid three cents instead of five cents per pound as provided by the committee. This presented a direct issue between the committee and the opponents of the bill. The amendment was defeated, yeas 20, nays 34. The vote was largely on party lines. Seven paragraphs of the bill were considered during the day, the committee being sustained in each instance. The resolution was agreed to authorizing the secretary of the navy to employ any suitable ship in forwarding relief supplies to India. HOUSE.—No session.

SENATE.—19th day.—Good progress was made on the tariff bill disposing of about 10 pages. Several votes were taken, the finance committee being sustained in each case. The drug schedule was under discussion and the debate was largely technical. HOUSE.—Representative Lewis, of Washington, attempted to bring before the House on a question of privilege, a resolution for the recognition of the Cuban insurgents as belligerents. The speaker ruled it out of order and Mr. Lewis appealed from the ruling. Mr. Dingley moved that the appeal be tabled, but a vote showed no quorum and with several Democratic members clamoring for recognition the speaker declared a motion to adjourn as carried.

SENATE.—20th day.—The chemical schedule of the tariff bill was completed and the earth, earthenware and glass schedule was taken up and considerable progress made, with but few changes. A session was created by Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, who presented a resolution for the appointment of a special committee of five senators to investigate charges of special on in sugar stocks by Senators while the tariff bill was before the finance committee. In advocating the resolution Mr. Tillman threatened the usual convention times of the Senate and with a phonetic speech which he heard about the halls of congress filled on his associates to investigate the published charges of senatorial speculation and if found true, purge the Senate of those who had been at Mr. Alrich, in charge of the tariff bill, answered Mr. Tillman's sweeping demand. The resolution was referred to the committee on continuing expenses.

SENATE.—21st day.—But little progress was made on the tariff bill owing to an existing motion Senator Morgan, of Alabama, found opportunity to make a lengthy address on the question of the House of Representatives and declared that the speaker of the House was conducting an anti-republican campaign by which Representatives were assembled and dispersed and in effect declared this when as an outrage against popular rights. Mr. Tamm of Michigan, first gave warning that a protest would be made against either one of the other house and when Mr. Morgan's harangue was at its height, Mr. Morgan, of Maine, made a point of order against him. The temporary presiding officer directed Mr. Morgan to resume his seat, and then ruled that the session of order. Mr. Morgan resumed his harangue during the tariff debate and made the point that congress was vacating its session in accordance with the constitution and the House of Representatives having vacated its functions. HOUSE.—No session.

SENATE.—22nd day.—A 15 minute session was held, the only event of interest being the protest of Mr. Lewis, Democrat of Washington, against the approval of the Journal strong that there was no constitutional House that can legally approve the Journal, and if there was it could not be approved in the manner and form adopted.

SENATE.—23rd day.—Good progress was made on the tariff bill although considerable discussion was indulged in, particularly on the China schedule which was finally accepted as it came from the finance committee. There was an echo of the recent sensational speech of Mr. Tillman in reference to charges made that Senators had speculated in sugar stocks with advance knowledge of the intended action of the finance committee before the tariff bill was reported out. Mr. Smith, of New Jersey, who was one of the Senators so charged, entered an emphatic denial. HOUSE.—The semi-weekly sessions seem to develop nothing but a war of words between the majority (Republicans), who insist that the House shall do very little business until the Senate passes the tariff bill and the minority. The event of the session was a speech by Mr. Simpson of Kansas, denouncing the majority policy. Conference reports were agreed to on the sundry civil bill and the revocation of President Cleveland's forest reservation order.

Hiram entertained 800 delegates to the conventions of the Ohio Christian woman's board of missions and the Ohio Christian missionary society.

Burglars got about $120 worth of plunder from the clothing store of W. L. Thomas and hardly were John Keefe at Centerville. One of the burglars was captured.

Alexander Boulton, an old and highly respected citizen of Newberry was brutally murdered by Richard Palmer, a worthless loafer, in Richard's saloon. Boulton lived next door to the saloon, as he had some business to talk about. After going into the saloon Palmer called for drinks but having no money was refused. He then whipped out a large hunting knife and plunged it into Boulton's breast, falling instantly. Boulton was 70 years of age.

THE 50TH CONGRESS AT WORK.
SENATE.—24th day.—The first vote on the tariff bill came after a two hours debate on the item of borax acid, which, although comparatively unimportant, afforded an opportunity for the first alignment of various forces. Mr. Vest of Missouri, a Democratic member of the finance committee, moved to make the rate on borax acid three cents instead of five cents per pound as provided by the committee. This presented a direct issue between the committee and the opponents of the bill. The amendment was defeated, yeas 20, nays 34. The vote was largely on party lines. The resolution was agreed to authorizing the secretary of the navy to employ any suitable ship in forwarding relief supplies to India. HOUSE.—No session.

FINISHED ITS WORK.

PRESBYTERIAN GENERAL ASSEMBLY ADJOURNS.

Matters of Vital Importance to the Interests of the Church Acted On.—Next Session Also to Be Held at Winona, Ind.

By a large majority the invitations of Minneapolis and Philadelphia for the next session of the Presbyterian General Assembly were declined and that of Winona accepted. Dr. Withrow presented the report of the committee on bills and overtures. Four presbyteries overruled the assembly to initiate action looking toward the union of the Presbyterian churches north and south. Answer was made that the church stands ready to advance union, whenever the way shall seem to be opened.

Gov. James A. Mount of Indiana, chairman of the committee on the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the adoption of the constitution and Westminster standards, reported a recommendation that the second Thursday of the next year general assembly be chosen for the day of celebration.

The committee on aid for colleges, reported the total receipts for the year 1896-1897 were $77,850 and the expenditures $71,126, the balance on hand April 1 being $24,624.

The report of the board of church erection showed a largely diminished income, but notwithstanding the shrinkage the board was able to make 125 appropriations to 122 churches to the aggregate amount of $60,353.

At Saturday's session the Presbyterian general assembly declined to take any action on the famous Ericsson banquet to the sesquicentennial of last fall, at which wines were served and much sensation raised thereby.

A memorial was adopted asking that a committee of congress be appointed to make full investigation of the liquor problem to report all facts and conclusions to congress and the president.

A recommendation that every church try to raise 5 per cent more than the average of the last six years, for the work of the benevolent board next year, was adopted.

There is a strong movement toward centering control of the theological seminaries in the assembly, and they were directed by resolution to make proper changes in their charters looking toward this result as soon as it seems wise and practical.

A MILLIONAIRE ARRESTED FOR SMUGGLING.

Richard M. Scruggs, the millionaire dry goods merchant who was arrested in New York the other day for smuggling jewelry and fine laces, is one of the most prominent and respected citizens of St. Louis. He has been a leader, during the past quarter of a century, in every movement that has gone forward for the improvement of the city. He is a very religious man and deeply interested in church work. To him, almost alone, is given the credit for the magnificent Cook Avenue Church, which he raised from a humble mission to be one of the wealthiest and foremost churches in Missouri. Sunday school work has been his hobby. Mr. Scruggs has been president and trustee of the Missouri Black Asylum, president of the Provident Association, and has filled other offices connected with charitable and philanthropic work, notably trustee of the celebrated Mullaphy emigrant fund, the value of whose estates is enormous. He is a native of Virginia, and came to St. Louis in 1850. The dry goods house of which he is president is one of the largest in the country. Mr. Scruggs' partners and friends were amazed when they heard of his arrest. The vice-president of the company said that Mr. Scruggs had paid millions of dollars to the United States in duties on his imports, and that the smuggling of a mere bagatelle was too contemptible a matter to even mention in connection with his name. The rich merchant is the president of the American Anthropometer Company, with a factory here which manufactures a lightning calculator. E. G. Lankhorne, arrested with Mr. Scruggs, is the secretary of the concern.

Christianian Meeting at Boston.
 The anniversary meetings of the Unitarian denomination were held at Boston Thursday. It was voted that a delegate be sent from the union to the national convention of the Universalist body to Detroit. The Rev. Thomas Van Ness was elected president for the ensuing year.

Fire at Ashland, Wis.
 A destructive fire visited Ashland, Wis., at an early hour Thursday. It is estimated that the loss will amount to $750,000. The Northern Grain Mercantile Company's flour mill is in ruins as a result, as are the residences and boat houses adjoining.

THEIR LABORS ENDED.

BRIEF MENTION OF EVENTS OF INTEREST.

Special Commissioner Calhoun Finds a Serious Condition of Affairs Throughout Cuba.—Gen. Weyler's Claim That the War is Over Denied.

Matters in Cuba.
 While the resolution to recognize the Cuban insurgents as belligerents is being held up by the national house of representatives after being passed by the senate, matters are coming to the surface at various points which are sure to bring a crisis very soon. Mr. Calhoun, the special commissioner sent to Cuba by President McKinley, has been looking about during the delays in the Ruizcasas and is gaining a general insight into the condition of affairs on the island. He already has discovered that Gen. Weyler's talk of Cuba being pacified is not based on fact. There is not a province in Cuba that is in a peaceful condition, and the Spanish pickets have warned Calhoun, who, in company with Consul-General Lee, took a ride out of Havana, that it was not safe to venture away from the city more than 15 miles.

Consul-General Lee's report that the war is no nearer an end than two years ago, and that there is no prospect of either side triumphing so long as one can find sustenance from the ground and the other borrow money, is fully proved to Mr. Calhoun's satisfaction. The poor people who have been driven from the country by Gen. Weyler's orders have been seen by Commissioner Calhoun and their terrible miseries he will relate to the President upon his return. At Matanzas alone he saw 4,000 starving reconcentrados, and was told that 3,000 more had just been driven into the overcrowded small towns of the district where their plight was hopeless. Gen. Lee and Mr. Calhoun, with their interpreter, went from hut to hut questioning women and children whose feet and ankles were so swollen and discolored as to prevent a shocking appearance, due to a dropical affection caused by thin blood and lack of nourishment. All said that they had been without food for periods varying from 12 to 22 hours and their appearance showed that they told the truth.

It has been openly stated in Washington that the discoveries made by Mr. Calhoun, the special commissioner sent to Cuba by President McKinley, are so horrible that they cannot be printed, but will be related to the President as soon as Mr. Calhoun arrives in Washington, which will be in a few days, as he has already sailed from Havana. It is also positively asserted on good authority that the President will take action suitable to the circumstances very soon after receiving this report.

Slain by His Daughter.
 Frederick Holt, a farmer in Warren township nine miles from Mount Clemens, Mich., was shot and killed Sunday afternoon by his daughter, Minnie, 22 years old. Holt was drunk and abusive, and the killing was in self-defense.

Theodore Durrant Will Hang June 11.
 Gov. Budd Sunday telephoned that much in effect to Warden Hale of San Quentin, at the same time ordering the death watch placed upon the prisoner.

Minors Cannot Hold Office.
 The postoffice department announces that minors will be debarred from chief clerkships and deputy postmasterhips except in a few of the third-class offices where circumstances urge their peculiar fitness.

THEIR LABORS ENDED.

The State Legislature, chosen in 1896 for 1897-8, is finished after five months of labor and the newspaper correspondents and the Senators and Representatives and lobbyists and pluggers and clerks and messengers and all the rest of the crew which has been battering away at making and unmaking laws through nearly half a year, more or less to the advantage of the people, have from hence apparently satisfied with their work and are ready to again become just ordinary citizens.

Gov. Pingree recently threatened that, unless the legislature did something to make railroads, corporations, etc., stand a larger share, and more just share, as he believes, of the taxes of the state that he would call them together in special session for that purpose and see if they dare neglect the people's interests then. There's where the "if" comes in.

Two days before the adjournment of the legislature Gov. Pingree sent a message to both the House and the Senate calling attention to the numerous bills of greatest importance which were being allowed to die without any effort being made to act upon them. He also objected to the passing of large appropriation bills which were not brought in until within a few days of the time set for adjournment, thus preventing proper and intelligent investigation of them. The governor, therefore, asked that the session be extended at least two weeks that the bills mentioned might be disposed of and the appropriations investigated. When the message was received the Senate and House each had a bitter fight over it. The House passed a resolution making the day of adjournment June 11. The Senate refused to concur and so they had to "let the old cat die" died on May 31, as had already been scheduled.

An examination of the records show that 364 House and 141 Senate bills were passed. Two years ago there were 365 House and about 200 Senate bills. The much-talked-of antagonism between the governor and Senate may not account for the entire falling off, but that it does for a good proportion of it there is no doubt. The number of bills on the Pingree program as announced in the inaugural message, which fell outside the Senate broad-works were both numerous and important, while the number of Senate bills which perished at the hands of Pingree lieutenants in the House would make a fair sized volume.

The appropriations of the legislature for 1897-8, as reported in the budget prepared by the House committee on ways and means and the Senate finance committee will be $1,377,198, providing the revenue signed in appropriation bills which were passed. This is a saving of $500,000 over the tax imposed on the state by the preceding legislature in the two years 1895 and 1896. To this saving may be added the estimated cash in returns from the railroads under the Meridian bill, which is placed by Richard Commons, agent Western at St. 654, and gives a grand total of saving in taxes to the people of $667,198 over 1896. The rate for the two years 1896-97 was 10 cents on the dollar. The approximate tax rate for the two years 1897-98 is 8 cents on the dollar, an average of less than 2 cents on the dollar for each year. So far as the expenses of state departments are concerned, not a single cent has been saved. There has been an apparent cut of about $300,000, but this is more than covered by the fact that two years ago $800,000 was appropriated to make up a deficiency in the state treasury due to unpaid taxes. Some saving has been made in special appropriations, however.

The closing scenes of the legislature, with the exception of the mere formalities were very noisy and almost disgraceful. The evening session of both Senate and House was devoted almost entirely to horse-play, songs were sung, foolish speeches were made for and against more foolish bills, and the Representatives finally broke up the session by throwing books, papers, files of legislative journals, etc., at each other. They then went over to the Senate and assisted that body in indulging in a similar boisterous frolic. The only gentlemanly proceeding of the closing hours was the presentation of a silver water set to Speaker Gordon by the Representatives, and engraved resolutions of esteem to President Durrant by the Senators.

The Misses Alida Smith and Lottie examination held Saturday in the schoolhouse. They also remained over until after Monday, the former the guest of Willard Woodworth and wife, the latter entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hiles.

Decoration day was observed Monday by the G.A.R.'s. Everything passed off nicely although the day was rather cold. A long procession headed by the Farmington band marched to the cemetery and decorated the graves of the brave men who fought for their country, with beautiful flowers. Afterward a very fitting program was well rendered. The music both by choir and band was fine; the recitations all good and the original poem on the war by Hon. P. D. Warner was excellent.

The closing feature was a flag drill by twelve girls out on the lawn which was a very pretty sight to behold. The hall was tastily draped with the stars and stripes, flowers and plants. The day was one long to be remembered.
