THE WAYNE CO. INSTITUTE OPENS HERE AUG. 9.

Hundred and Fifty Teachers Expected to Be Present.

Preparations Made to Give 'Em a Lieben' Good Time.

In the entire state of Michigan no village except Northville is honored with a county teachers institute. In every other instance the institute is held either in the largest city of the county or at the county seat. And it shows what a little hustle of the part of the citizens and business men will do. Northville people are appreciative of the honor conferred upon them by the county school commissioner and the state superintendent of public instruction. In after much solicitation, the designation of this as the place for holding the meeting and their appreciation will be manifest in a fitting manner during the institute week. Upon being appealed to, the E. & P. M. railway officials granted a rate of one fare for the round trip for the occasion from Holly, Detroit, Monroe and intermedial points. Tickets are to be on sale Monday and Tuesday (August 9 and 10) good to return until Saturday. This is a measure which Northville in the center of the earth. In speaking of this matter Commissioner Cooke, to use his own words, says: "The matter of reduced rates on railroads was never before heard of for county institutes. Northville is indeed favored." After knowing this and learning of the preparations being made by the people of Northville for the entertainment and comfort of their guests the officers, instructors, and teachers are now unanimous in prophesying that this will be not only the banner institute ever held in the county but also for 1897 in the state. In the selection of instructors for the institute, State Superintendent Hammond has assigned three of the very best to Northville: Prof. O. D. Thompson of Romeo; Delos Fall of Albion college and J. R. Miller of Big Rapids.

The institute will be open each day, commencing Monday August 9, at 10.00 and close at 3.00 p. m.

THURSDAY—4:00 Ball Game—Northville vs. Wayne; 7:30 Special services at the churches.

E. Cranson. Carriages—Will Holcomb, J. O. Knapp, C. M. Joslin. Ball Game—T. E. Maydock, E. A. Merritt, R. F. Dierens.

Other committees will be announced next week as the occasion requires. Each member is a chairman and is expected to do individual work.

Rebekah Night.

Fraternals visits are of frequent occurrence with the Odd Fellows. Such an occasion was enjoyed by the Rebekah lodge of this place on Monday evening. About thirty members of "Esther" R. D. Lodge, No. 225, of Detroit arrived on the evening train and the train from the north brought eleven candidates from Milford, six gentlemen and five ladies. The initiatory work was performed by the degree staff of "Esther" lodge who gave the charges in a very impressive manner. The costumes of the degree staff were very fine and the intricate marches well performed. After the ceremonies were concluded supper was served in Whipple's hall, followed by toasts and responses from various members of both lodges, and social converse concluded the pleasures of an evening long to be remembered. Police Court News.

In the case of the people vs Mrs. Schantz of Ecogres, charged with the unlawful possession of Late Elliott's bicycle, which was to have come up Monday, the prosecuting attorney decided that the case was rather of a civil than criminal nature and ordered the defendant discharged.

In the case of the people vs Joseph Bartram charged with the theft of a horse blanket, in the possession of Ben J. Cook, before Justice Webster Monday the jury gave a verdict of guilty and one for conviction and the defendant was discharged. Bartram claimed to have found the blanket in question in his buggy and that he had made no effort to conceal it. Assistant Prosecutor Marshall appeared for the people and Attorney Wilson of Novi for the defendant.

In lieu of a $10 fine Dan Wolk of this place was sentenced to the house of correction for thirty days by a Dearborn justice of the peace last week. It was alleged that while sitting in a Dearborn livery stable on July 16 a lady came in to pay a bill of $1.75 and Dan took the money in a proprietor and afterwards forgot to render a proper accounting for the same. On Tuesday Dan's friends went up to the city and paid his fine and he returned home.

"Schycology."

Here's a new word found by the Adrian Press in the Adrian Telegram. Outside of the joke prof. Palmer referred to was a former teacher in the Northville schools and for some years in business here. "The Telegram says that Prof. Palmer teaches 'schycology' at the summer Normal at the college. That's a good idea. The district schools of Lea wee county have long felt the disastrous effects of teachers not versed in schycology. Parents have yearned to know more of this science, (if it be a science); children have cried for it, just like they did for cast story; the WCTU have earnestly urged it as a part of the course of study, as coordinate with, and collateral, to alcoholic physiology, and we are glad to know that in the future, our teachers are to know more of this important educational factor. For a teacher not to be a schycologist in these times of great political and social upheavals, is to be schy on elementary education, and it is a satisfaction to know that Prof. Palmer has the courage to give schycological instruction, and it makes us schygh, when we think how our own education was neglected in this respect, and that not until by hygienic efforts, in after life that we are able to get light on this question. We have alluded to it as a science. Perhaps it is one of the arts. That depends very much on the color, and the time of using. However, one can get full explanation, with charts, tables, etc., for self instruction at the Telegram office, on application to its "schycological" editor. He may be found right under the sky-light, second door to the northwest in the third story. Recitations in schycology at the college are held at 6 o'clock a. m., owing to danger from fire, and mental abrasion. Any one having any schycological questions can leave them at the college, or with the new pension board—care Dr. Andrews."

THE PEOPLE'S RIGHTS.

SHALL THE PEOPLE PAY TOLL ANOTHER FIFTY YEARS?

The Plank Road Is After a Renewal of Its Franchise.

One of the most outrageous schemes apparently ever perpetrated upon the people of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties is now being worked by a number of Detroit capitalists to get the franchise of the Detroit & Egan Plank Road extended 50 years. The old franchise, which has some 11 years yet to run, has been bought up by the new company and they claim that they have the consent of a majority of the property owners along the line of road to secure a renewal of the franchise for 50 years. The scheme is being worked under an old law of 1851 and which was repealed by the last legislature, but the repeal bill does not take effect until about Sept. 1st and whatever the new company does must be done quickly. No company of men should be allowed any right to saddle the burden of paying toll for 50 years to come upon the people of the three counties. The farmers and the public generally in all the suburban towns and villages should join with Detroit in protesting against this outrage. And now comes the news that the Detroit & Howell Plank Road Co. will reorganize under the name of the Detroit & Novi Plank Road Co. Gen. Townsend stated that the reorganization would be effected under the statute by obtaining the consent of the property owners and getting the consent also of the township officers between Detroit and Novi. We do not believe the property owners or the township board will ever consent to any scheme of this kind. It is time all toll roads should be abolished, but the people of Oakland county will have to wait for ever year at least, and it is evident the company dare not trust the question to a popular vote, or why should they commence proceedings eleven years in advance of the expiration of their franchise for a renewal. Any township officer that would vote for any such extension may as well hang his official hide on the fence.

The New Peddling Law.

The new peddling law as enacted by the last legislature is in substance as follows:

It shall not be lawful for any person to engage in hawking, peddling or pawn-brokerage by going about from door to door or place to place, or from stand to stand, cart, vehicle or in any other manner in the public streets, highways or in or upon open places, public building in any township in the state without first obtaining, or the township where such business is to be carried on, a license therefor.

Everybody who peddles except wholesale merchants implement dealers, nurserymen, etc., selling by sample, or those selling fish or meat outside of incorporated villages and cities, shall procure a license from the town clerk, the amount of such license the town board shall fix. The supervisor is required to see that the law is enforced, and any violation of it must be reported to the prosecuting attorney, who will proceed to prosecute.

Regatta at Ottawa Beach.

On August 5 and 7, the Grand Rapids Yacht Club and the Mississippi Valley Amateur Rowing Association will hold a regatta at Ottawa Beach, the popular summer resort.

The entries include rowing clubs from Chicago, Detroit, Milwaukee, and other places besides the Yacht club, and a fine program of races of various kinds has been prepared.

The hotel accommodations at the Beach and other resorts on Macatawa Bay on which the regatta will be held are better this season than ever, and a large number of people are expected to witness the sport.

Ottawa Beach is reached by the C. & W. M. Ry with four daily trains from Grand Rapids and connections from other parts of the line. All roads lead to Grand Rapids, and visitors from all parts of the State can secure reduced rates upon application to local agents. GEO. DEHAVEN, G. F. A., C. & W. M. Ry.

We still have a nice assortment of Laces and Embroideries to close out. Schantz Bros.

AFTER AN OPERATION

Eleven Year Old Son of Fred Wood Died Last Night.

Albert, the eleven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wood of Bealton, died last night. During the afternoon he underwent an operation for appendicitis from which he had been suffering for several days. The operation was performed by two Detroit surgeons assisted by our local physicians and it was apparently successful and for a short time a hope was entertained for his recovery. Soon after six o'clock however, there was a change and he rapidly grew worse until seven o'clock when he passed away. The funeral will be held from the home tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock and the burial will be in Elmwood, Detroit.

ASSAULT CHARGED.

FARMER CHARLES TIFFIN ARRESTED YESTERDAY.

He Is Charged With Having Struck Jake Miller Wednesday.

Charles Tiffin, a well known farmer living a mile south of town, was arrested yesterday and arraigned before Justice Webster charged with assault and battery. He pleaded not guilty and the case is set for next week Tuesday.

Jake Miller, Northville's center street meat market man, is the complainant in the case. It appears that on Saturday night last while in the market Mr. Tiffin began some abusive and objectionable talk alleging that Mr. Miller had not lived up to some agreement on a hog deal. Jake ordered him to shut up or there would be trouble and finally Tiffin quit and went out. While at the Plymouth stock yards Wednesday it is alleged that Tiffin who also happened to be in town at the same time, went over to the yards and after a brief altercation assaulted Mr. Miller by striking him in the face.

Suburban News.

Wayne is having divorce and other sensational proceedings galore.

Cards are out announcing the wedding of Miss Nellie Lee to Chauncey Rauch, all Plymouth well known society people.

Adrian authorities are mighty particular. Last week they refused to allow a hypnotist to bury a man for a few days unless the corpse would first sign a certificate that he was actually dead. The authorities didn't so much object to the burial as they did the resurrection.

W. H. Groner and wife received the startling intelligence Sunday of the sudden death of Miss Iva Lockwood of Commerce, youngest sister of Mrs. Groner. Miss Lockwood was seriously ill only about 24 hours and the cause of her death is not clearly known. She was buried at Highland, her former home, yesterday afternoon. The deceased possessed an unusually sweet disposition and a beautiful christian character, and her early death, at the age of 19, seems indeed sad.—Holly Independent.

Jim Corbett's experience on the diamond proves that he can't hit anything.

The reasons that Queen Victoria never quarrels with her servants is that she stays out of the kitchen and never pokes around to see how late their company stays at night.

In the Whitechapel (London) county court three witnesses in succession in one case could neither read nor write. Three witnesses in the case were named, respectively Speller, Reader and Wright.

A plausible young man accosted a Georgia farmer recently, and in a very little while induced him to pay $50 for a machine which he assured him would turn out brand new $20 bills by simply turning a crank.

It has been decided by the presbytery of New York that after a minister of the gospel has said all that his holy office requires him to say about Sunday newspapers and the bicycle habit and the evils of vaudeville and other matters vital to the salvation of the human soul he should not be required to officiate at funerals on the Sabbath day.

There was a realism in the college commencement of earlier days unknown to these times. Thus on July 1, 1797, a newspaper had this paragraph: "The elephant is advertised as being at Providence on his way to Boston. He is to be at Cambridge the approaching commencement." Even the glory of the escorting Boston Lancers might be eclipsed were boys' eyes now permitted to feast on an elephant within tramping distance of the commencement procession.

All the novel orange orchards in California are dependent, as an account in a contemporary informs us, from two trees imported from Brazil by the United States government and sent to the Pacific coast half a year ago. It is suggested that these trees be removed to some public park, and preserved as a monument to a profitable branch of an industry which has so enriched that state. "The value of two trees," declared to California, could it be computed, would be a sum so great as to make these trees seem like fables the touch of which would make gold cover the ground.

It has been proposed that at no very distant day it will be possible to dispense the thick fog by a charge of electricity, and that the atmosphere of smoky cities will, by the same means be kept clear and bright. On a small scale, a modification of the principle has already been applied by Fro. Oliver Lodge, who precipitated both smoke and dust on the walls inside a chimney or flue by static electricity, and now a patent has been taken out in Germany for an apparatus for smoke prevention by means of wires stretched inside a flue or chimney, and rendered incandescent by an electric current. There is no doubt that this extremely simple electrical method will completely consume the blackest smoke possible, but it is at the present time too costly to be commercially profitable.

The arrangement is made by Mr. Belamy Storer, United States minister to Belgium, that the United States ambassadors to Great Britain and Germany will in common with him, take vigorous steps to secure a modification of the laws against American sheep, cattle and meat products, which now involve so large a loss to American agricultural interests annually. The action taken will be simultaneous, and is the outgrowth of the determination of the administration at Washington to protect American agricultural interests by doing its utmost to have the discriminating laws of European countries against American products changed. As a matter of fact, the attention of all United States representatives has been called to the need of urgent and vigorous action in the premises. It is explained by the minister to Belgium that Great Britain and Germany control that country, and that all three are influenced to discriminate against American meats by the agrarian element in their parliaments on the pretense that American sheep, cattle and meats are not sufficiently protected against disease, and the claim that they must have their own inspection, which in practice acts as a prohibition of imports from this country. The contention is made on the part of the American representatives that our system of inspection is the most scientifically complete in the world, and that, as a matter of fact, the ground of difficulty is rather economic than sanitary. The result of this action on the part of the American representatives will be awaited with interest.

Some good suggestions for the women. The first is to get a saddle which will weigh 20 to 25 pounds, and the smooth running qualities of all the trustworthy makes have now reached such a standard of excellence that there is little difference among them. Generally speaking, a woman in the independent, it is best to ride as high a frame as possible, so that there need not be many inches of saddle nor set out above. Besides the fact that it looks unsightly, an exposure of five or six inches of this post tends to make the entire machine lacking in rigidity. Much depends upon the proper adjustment of the saddle, which should be perfectly horizontal, tipped neither to the front nor to the rear, and paced just high enough to allow the leg to be almost straightened when the pedal is at its lowest point. There are many excellent saddles now made upon the most approved hygienic principles, and as soon as a woman finds one which is comfortable, she need look no further. The handle bars of the machine should be well raised, so that the rider may sit erect, and the handles should not be too far apart. If there is plenty of space between the bars and the saddle, mounting and dismounting will be rendered much easier. The average woman had better not undertake to ride with a gear higher than 68 or 69, because if she does she will find that the extra amount of force which she has to put into every push of the pedals is more exhausting than the process of making a few more revolutions with less effort in each one.

The Usual Way. Pains have been taken to look up the record of a Kansas City man, who always has a great deal to say about the extravagance of women, and it has been discovered that the only article of clothing he has bought his wife for ten years was a calico dress.

IN THE DROWSY COUNTRY.

City people are flocking to the country, those who can, to spend the entire summer, but there is a great majority which visits there on Sundays, as often as possible, and finds a tranquility in a country town that is different from even the week-day monotony of quiet.

Whether it is the sound of the church bells that peel out when the dew is just dried from the grass on the shady side of the house, and the garden paths just beginning to glare in the sun that leads to the day its atmosphere of subtle restfulness, or whether it is the mere knowledge of its being Sunday, and the associations of that day, no one can tell. But the pulsation of the deep and mellow note from the church that rears itself gray and rugged from the green midst of the maples echoes in the hearts of the listeners with the memories of the long ago when as children in such a village they went with a mother into the color-dotted garden back of the house to pick a rose to wear to the long-neglected Sunday school.

Whether the listener be a man or woman the rattle of the passing wagons and buggies filled to the dashboard with bright-gowned women and girls and with men in Sunday black, the ripple of the breeze in the foliage above the hammock, are sounds warmed through a medium that lends a sensation of gentleness to them. They may themselves drive along dusty roads in a stunning trap or in an antiquated buggy that complains of a loose and strident tire, but the noise seems subdued and the winding track of hot, white road seems to choose its way through the sumac and hazel brush with more artful taste than when it is but the highway for the milk wagons and trucks laden with lumber and feed.

The rivers seem to gleam through the trees with a less fierce and uncompromising brightness; the gold larks seem a place of less feverish rivalry, and the waters purr over the yellow flashboards of the dam with a different gurgle than they do on any day but Sunday.

But most persons in the lethargy of an unusual quiet drowse in a big wicker chair at a window, with a Sunday paper or a book showing the original vague intention, or they stretch delightfully in a hammock until the sun gets around to the point where it shines upon them and produces a headache or retreat. They languidly notice the overtures of the big Maltese cat, that rubs against the low-lying hammock and of the great Newfoundland dog that produces a momentary tumult. The old bay horse is stamping and nibbling in the shade of the big apple tree, his glossy coat shining in the sparkling spots of sun, and he is blinking contentedly.

The trains are not less frequent, but their roar seems in the lazy spell of the moment to be more remote and less of a jarring note. Whether they live there or are something there, or had something one brief day in the town when the panorama of the trees, not a foot top and stem of a tree, is not in contact with street cars with rattling vehicles and a city rattle, they feel the undefinable and exquisite difference from the humdrum of the week days.

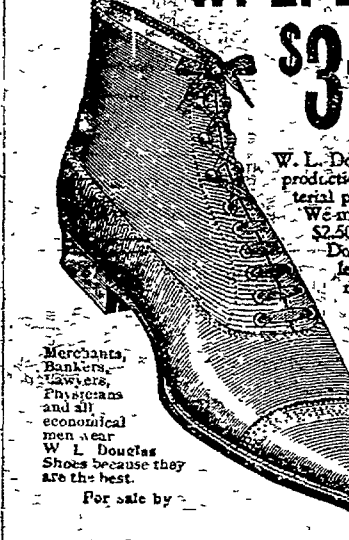

The Detroit News referred to the "single-minded Presbyterians of Northville," meaning "pure-minded," "godless" etc, and a few of them got angry, believing they had been taken in effect "wholes," or "dough-heads." Next, of the Record, was asked to send his outlander on account of the same thing; but on looking in the dictionary, and finding that the term "single-minded Presbyterians" was a compliment, took a new tack and claimed about all the credit to himself, and was as proud as a peacock with two yellow butterflies on it. The Rev. Herberer explained that he wasn't the one, as the term used in this case meant "very religious," and that if Neal expected to make a successful race for Paradise, he would have to alter the gear of his wheel.—Adrian Press.

Tanks on the highway at Wayne is causing about as much trouble to buyers as in the early days an article by the same name did on the down town road. The tanks are doing their duty near the toll gate and suspicion heads towards some one in the vicinity of that point as being answerable for the perturbation.

The Plymouth council refused to give the New State High School company a city yard for use as asked for. The council said nothing about a ten cent toll service to Detroit and free service between Fenton and Northville. The company will go ahead, however, and put up their tanks and string wires unless it nothing had happened.

INTERNATIONAL PRESS ASSOCIATION.

CHAPTER IX. (CONTINUED). She ceased her tirade, and stood gazing keenly at Marjorie, who sat still, listening in wonder. Despite her sharp tone and brusque manner, there was a tenderness in her tone that could not be mistaken. Then, all at once, with the abruptness peculiar to her, she changed her tone again, and broke into a low, chuckling laugh.

CHAPTER X.

EARLY in the afternoon, after a dismal lunch, tete-a-tete with Miss Hetherington, Marjorie returned home across the fields. The sun was just beginning to sink as she passed through the village and approached the manse. As she did so, she saw Mr. Lorraine standing inside the churchyard gate in quiet conversation with the French teacher.

He stood before the gate of his father's cottage and held out his hand, the Frenchman; however, did not attempt to take it, but kept his own hands in his coat pockets as he returned a polite 'good-night.'

CHAPTER XI. HE next day was Sunday, the solemn, not to say sanctimonious Sabbath day of that people which, above all others, reverences the great work of creation. In the brightest place in the church, with her 'surdou' round her, sat Marjorie Annan; and three pairs of eyes at least were constantly fixed upon her. The first pair belonged to young Sutherland, the second to the French visitor, the third to the eccentric mistress of Hetherington Castle.

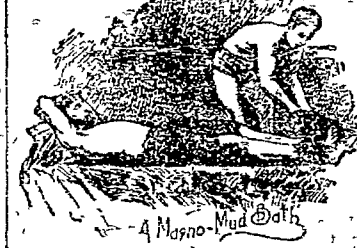

CHAPTER XII. A deposit of most remarkable mud discovered in Indiana, has of recent years been attracting widespread attention. It is located at the Indiana Mineral Springs, Warren county, and has been formed by the action of lake water from the famous Magno-Lithia springs. Through countless ages the foliage of magnificent oaks on the hillside has annually fallen into a basin, and has been reduced by nature into a pure black earth, unmingled with roots, stones or sand. The water from the hot springs for thousands of years has been soaking this deposit and saturating it with mineral salts, until now there is a layer of medicated mud about two acres in extent and from ten to twenty feet in thickness.

After all, Nature is the greatest of all chemists, and seems here to have prepared in a gigantic receptacle an enormous mass of medicine for poulticing sore humanity. WOMEN! DON'T WAIT.

If You Have Any of These Symptoms Act at Once.

Do you know the reason why you will go to the hospital, my poor friend? Because you have allowed yourself to go from bad to worse. You did not know that that heat, swelling and tenderness in your left side were all signs of congestion of the ovary.

Any intelligent woman could have told you that congestion is fatal to the uterine system, and that an ovary congested leads to tumor formation, and that you were in awful danger. Now you will have to undergo the operation of ovariectomy, the cutting out of the ovary.

Yes, you will recover, at least I hope you will, but you will never be quite the same woman again. Congestion of the ovaries is fatal to health. If you have any such symptoms be advised in time; take a medicine of specific powers! You can find none better than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, prepared especially to meet the needs of woman's sexual system.

Following we publish a letter from a woman in Milwaukee, which relates how she was cured of ovarian trouble: "Dear Mrs. Pinkham—I suffered with congestion of the ovaries and inflammation of the womb. I had been troubled with suppressed and painful menstruation from a girl. The doctors told me the ovaries would have to be removed. I took treatment two years to escape an operation, but still remained in miserable health in both body and mind, expecting to part with my reason each coming month. After using one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a package of Sanative Wash I was very much relieved. I continued to use your remedies until cured. The last nine months have been passed in perfect good health. This, I know, I owe entirely to the Vegetable Compound. My gratitude is great, indeed, to the one to whom so many women owe their health and happiness.—Mrs. F. M. Knapp, 563 Westworth Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.

Floyd Cook of North Farmington, formerly of this place is improving very slowly. While playing at school last April he fell and fractured his leg. For a few days all seemed well but the physicians soon discovered the forming of abscesses and since that time he has been a terrible sufferer. The best of medical skill has been employed but it is feared an operation is inevitable.

C. M. Joslin this week purchased the store now occupied by A. K. Carpenter and the one occupied by J. S. Lapham & Co. Mr. Carpenter will continue occupying his present quarters and the bank store will be taken possession of by Mr. Frydel as a merchant tailoring establishment as soon as Lapham & Co. move into their new bank building. In the near future Mr. Joslin contemplates the addition of new fronts to his buildings to make them in keeping with other stores along the street.

We suppose that the more fun at a lodge meeting the longer the stay. Then the Rebekah folks must have had a carload of mirth Monday night for some of the members did not get home until breakfast time the next morning. In the meantime in some instances the neighborhood alarm was so great that searching parties were organized and men were ready with boats and grappling irons to drag the Park lase for the missing members of the family, when the information at 6:00 a. m. was forthcoming that lodge was still in session.

The report of the supreme medical examiner shows that 13,795 applications were received since the last review.

The celebration of 'Maccabee day' which was to include a big street parade was somewhat interfered with by rain, but quite a large number turned out just the same. The play of 'Judas Maccabees' by Port Huron Maccabees was also an event.

Epidemic of Rubella in Detroit.
Detroit had three epidemics in one day. Mrs. Francis Schiller, 255 Brady street, was found by one of her servants in a rocking chair with a baby in her lap, and her head and neck covered in a white rash. She leaves five children and a husband from whom she had separated. An unknown man jumped upon the roof of the Detroit and Windsor street, and was waving the flag and shouting 'The stars and stripes are up into the air.' He refused to hang on to his revolver thrown to him, and soon drowned. Charles Wilkie, a laborer, aged 58, sent his family, consisting of a wife and five children, to look at Ringling Bros' circus parade, and then took advantage of their absence to end his life by hanging himself to a cross-beam in the garret.

Michigan G. A. R. in Good Shape.
Col. C. V. Pond in his semi-annual report as assistant adjutant-general and assistant quartermaster-general of the Michigan G. A. R. says there are no delinquent posts in the department. The gain in members during the term ending June 30 last, was 933. The losses by death, 177; by honorable discharge, 36; by transfer, 133; by suspension, 57, by surrender of charter, three posts and 43 members, making a total loss of 561 members. This leaves the growing for the department at the present time, 381 posts, 16,048 members. Col. Pond reports the inquiries being made as to the national encampment at Buffalo in August, as a very good reason for anticipating the largest turnout of Michigan veterans since the Detroit gathering in 1891.

National Encampment Information.
For the information of all comrades and friends of the Michigan department, C. A. R., who intend to visit the Buffalo encampment, Commander Bliss announces that he will leave Saginaw on a special Michigan Central train at 6:05 a. m. Monday, Aug. 23. An Aged Lover's Bloody Crime.
N. N. James, aged 50, shot and probably morally wounded Martha Minor, aged 25, and then killed himself at the home of Chas. Gadd, farmer of Bridge-water township, Leake-avee county. Mr. Gadd says that he rose at 5 a. m. and called Martha Minor, who answered, and then he went to the barn. Upon his return, not finding the girl, he called her again and received a very weak reply. Mr. Gadd then pushed her door open, and saw James lying upon his back upon the floor and Martha Minor lying across him. Calling his son, Charles, they found James to be dead and the woman seriously wounded from pistol shots. Dr. J. L. Tuttle, of Clinton, was summoned, but as the wound is in the girl's right temple there are only slight hopes for her recovery. James probably died instantly.

The girl says that James had been calling to see her quite frequently, and that for two days and nights before the tragedy she had secreted him in her room. No cause for the shooting is known.

T-E JAPS K-CK HARD

Against the United States Annexing the Hawaiian Islands.

That Japan will continue to oppose the Hawaiian annexation treaty is conclusively shown by the latest protest of the Japanese government addressed to Secretary of State Sherman, which has been made public.

The protest begins by admitting the predominant and paramount influence of the United States in Hawaii but says that is a reason why the status quo should not be disturbed. Only a small fraction of the population of Hawaii desire annexation. The absorption of Hawaii by the United States would doubtless be the signal for the revival of Japanese territorial ambition in the Pacific, on the part of the European powers and the last vestige of native autonomy would disappear. And it is not too much to apprehend that a partial redistribution of colonial possessions among the various western powers might also follow. 'It can easily be seen how this would affect the interests of Japanese subjects who are now engaging in increasing numbers in various undertakings and enterprises in the Pacific with profit to themselves and advantage to Japan. The imperial government recognizes it as a well established principle of international law that the completion of annexation would render the treaties and conventions at present existing between Japan and Hawaii voidable, either at the option of Japan or the United States, and they cannot anticipate this without apprehension. The sphere of Japan's expanding activities in the Pacific. Her trade with Hawaii is important, and nearly 25,000 Japanese subjects are now residing there. Under the circumstances only the most cursory review of the actual situation is required to show the disadvantageous position in which Japan would be placed by the abrupt termination of her treaties. The importance to Japan of the stable and well-recognized commercial, residential and industrial status which her subjects have gained in Hawaii, is consequently evident.

Artists Has Come in the Miners' Strike.
M. D. Rutchford, president of the United Mine Workers, has telegraphed from Fairmont, W. Va., to Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, as follows: 'On the fair soil of West Virginia peaceable assembly has been forbidden and free speech suppressed. A crisis is upon us which must be met if we would escape total slavery. This is no longer a strike for justice, but a struggle against starvation, and every atom of nobility in human nature impels us to rise to the emergency. West Virginia is the field of action and here our forces must be concentrated. The members here are eager, anxious to join in our movement for their emancipation, but are restrained by the fear of discharges and eviction. They are as much the property of their masters as were the black slaves before the yug of slavery. The millions of sturdy craftsmen of our country must be aroused. I therefore call upon you in behalf of the struggling miners to help us meet this crisis and achieve victory for the cause of labor.'

Organized Labor Stands by the Miners.
The collection of the heads of labor organizations of the United States called at Wheeling, W. Va., by President Rutchford of the United Mine Workers, and approved by President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, was attended by 30 delegates representing nearly every branch of organized labor. President Rutchford and other leading miners' representatives stated the causes of the strike and the condition of the miners and showed that upon the material and moral sympathy of organized labor generally now depended the success of this great strike against 'white slavery.' Messrs. Debs, Mahon and Rea who have been endeavoring to bring out the miners of the Fairmont, W. Va., district made it clear that much depended upon their success there.

Every organization represented at the conference pledged aid for the miners and telegrams of like nature were received from officers of organizations not represented.

It was decided to flood the West Virginia coal fields with miners' organizers and if they fail to bring the miners out there the railroad men will probably act and tie up the roads.

President Gompers arranged for sympathetic mass meetings all over the country.

Mine Owners Also Meet.
Eighty-nine coal companies' miners located in the Pittsburg district were represented at the coal operators' uniformity meeting at Pittsburg; the mine operators refusing to join the movement. The uniformity agreement of 1896 was reported with a few new clauses, but was not acted upon. Col. W. P. Reed denounced the proceedings because there was no evident intention to try to settle the strike. He said the 1896 uniformity agreement had been used to cloak similar schemes and transparent frauds; he wanted to see justice done the miners first. Col. Reed then bolstered the conference which adjourned for the day.

Strike Notes.
The Illinois field is witnessing troublesome scenes. At DuQuoin the miners are working and an attempt is to be made to force them out. About 50 strikers from Belleville went to Du Quoin for that purpose, but were ordered out of town by the marshal. The strikers returned home but threaten to gather 500 men from Belleville and reinforcements from Freeburg and other points and drive out every miner at DuQuoin, Cartersville, Murphysboro and Narrowsa.

AFFAIRS IN GENERAL

BRIEF MENTION OF EVENTS OF INTEREST.

Youngstown, O., and Vicinity Suffered Heavy Damage from a Cloudburst. Messages by Carrier Pigeons Say Andre Discovered the North Pole.

The North Pole Discovered.
A special dispatch from Copenhagen says that a carrier pigeon has just been caught in the vicinity of Tromsoe island, near the north point of Norway, from which point Andre sailed in his balloon north pole expedition, with the following stamped upon his wing: 'North pole passed, 15th, 1897.' Another bird was caught at Soveide, in Rikyke, carried the mes age, 'North pole, 14th, 1897,' on its wings and it is thought to be one of Andre's pigeons. London: A keen interest is felt in geographical circles here as to the result of Andre's expedition and this is greatly increased by the arrival of the pigeons at Soveide and at Tromsoe island, though there is some doubt as to whether either bird came from Andre. I. Scott Keltie, secretary of the Royal Geographical Society, says, 'It is certain that if the bird were south-easterly from the North pole, it would cross the polar basin and come out near the Bering straits. 14th, 1897, means the coast of North America, and it is each bird preserved under the most favorable circumstances Andre would arrive there. If the inscription means this, it means also that Andre has passed right across the pole. There is no especial anxiety felt here as to Andre's fate, because even if the balloon comes to grief, Andre will be no worse off than Nansen was after leaving the Fram.'

Cloudburst at Youngstown, O.
A tremendous cloudburst struck the Mahoning valley near Youngstown and Crab creek, a stream ordinarily 29 feet wide, became a rushing torrent 2,000 feet in width, flooding the entire valley and causing great damage, both in the city and along the railway lines. Several people are supposed to have been drowned. The entire county east and west for 20 miles was flooded and the damage will be enormous, the railroads being the heaviest losers. Many residences at Youngstown were flooded and the occupants being taken away by the police and fire departments. The Mahoning Valley electric lines were flooded out and all the bridges washed away. The Catholic church at Niles was struck by lightning and nearly destroyed by fire, while business houses and manufacturing concerns were flooded out. Henry Myers, while standing in front of his residence, was struck by lightning and killed. Railroads were forced to completely suspend operations.

THE TARIFF BILL PASSED.

SENATE—97th day.—The debate on the tariff conference report was participated in by Senators Chilton, of Texas; Jones, of Arkansas; and Pettit, of South Dakota, in opposition, while Mr. Aldrich took frequent occasion to defend the report. The credentials of the new Senator from Tennessee, Thomas B. Tuttle, who succeeds the late Senator Harris, were presented by his associate, Mr. Bates. Mr. Tuttle was sworn in at once. Mr. Tillman of South Carolina, offered a resolution directing the committee on currency to consider the resolution for all investigation of alleged senatorial malfeasance. Before anything could be said Mr. Jones, of Nevada, presented a report from the committee on the same resolution against an investigation. Mr. Tillman promptly asked that the report be read. He did not want it sidetracked by any preliminary device, and he wished to secure a direct vote on the resolution. Mr. Gallinger objected, and the report went to the calendar. Shortly before the Senate adjourned Mr. Allison, in charge of the tariff bill, made a strong effort to have a time fixed for the final vote on the tariff conference report. Failing in this he gave notice that the session the following day would be protracted with a view to securing a vote.

House.—Two important bills were passed. The first allows a partial suspension of the discriminatory duties imposed on the vessels of foreign countries which impose similar duties on our vessels. The effect of the bill is to open the way for securing a market for American coal in Mexico, which is now supplied by English coal mines. The other bill is to create a civil government in Alaska, with an additional land office, which is made imperative by recent gold discoveries. Rep. G. W. Stone, of Pennsylvania, introduced a bill to authorize the appointment of a monetary commission and to appropriate $100,000 for its expenses. This is the bill that will probably be passed by the House as a response to the special message of the President, which it is understood he will send to congress as soon as the tariff bill gets out of the Senate.

Senate—97th day.—The debate on the tariff conference report continued Mr. Teller, of Colorado, making a vehement speech in which he not only denounced the tariff bill, but also attacked the Republican party. Senators White of California, and Pettus of Alabama, spoke in opposition to the bill, and Senators Allen, of Nebraska, and Foraker, of Ohio, engaged in a heated personal colloquy in which Allen charged fraud in the Ohio elections of last year. He led to such epithets as 'halloo-dash,' and to pointed allusions to the methods of elect 'pattycakes.' The event of the day, however, was reached when Mr. Morgan, of Alabama, who has hitherto opposed the bill and obstructed its progress, presented a resolution that the Senate on the following day continue in session until a vote was taken on the bill. This was an unusual agreement, and there were demonstrations of pleasure from Senators of the Republican party as they saw the path cleared for the passage of the bill.

House.—The brief sessions were held owing to the uncertainty of Senate action on the tariff bill, but little business was transacted. A bill was passed to ratify the compact entered into between the states of South Dakota and Nebraska relative to the unclaimed boundary line.

Senate—99th day.—The tariff bill passed its last legislative stage at 3 p. m., when the Senate, by the decisive vote of 40 to 51, agreed to the conference report on the bill. The announcement of the result was greeted with enthusiastic applause by the crowded chamber. Although the result was a foregone conclusion yet this did not abate the eager interest attached to the close of a great contest. Early in the day the debate was listless, though enlivened at times with virulent criticism by Mr. Aldrich and by a speech from Mr. Burrows of the negro and Stewart occupied the time up to 3 o'clock, when the vote was promptly taken. This closed the great labor for which the 51st congress assembled in extraordinary session, and after stubborn resistance at times threatening a deadlock, the Senate concurred with the House in a resolution for the final adjournment of the session at 9 p. m.

The President's message for a currency commission was received from the House, but the House bill creating a commission was not acted upon. The last session of the House was marked by many interesting events. In addition to the final act of the speaker in affixing his signature to the Dingley tariff bill, a bill providing for the creation of a currency commission was crowded through in the closing hours. The House recessed until after the Senate had adopted the tariff conference report, not as soon as the House recovered the engrossed bill was signed and sent to the President. The demonstrations which marked these events were spontaneous and enthusiastic in the extreme, the galleries playing a significant part in them. When the President's message came in recommending the creation of a currency commission it was answered by the Republican leaders with great promptitude. By means of a special order the House introduced some days previously with the approval of the administration was brought to a vote and passed after an hour's debate, during which considerable feeling was manifested on both sides. As the final act of the session, the speaker announced the House committee.

Her Lucky Mistake. That little mistake of Miss Margaret Williams, the typewrist of the state house, which necessitated the calling of an extra session of the legislature, instead of costing New Jersey several hundreds of dollars, as was expected, has saved the commonwealth about $58,550. Instead of having three days for registration purposes, as provided in the election bill, the names of voters will be registered in one day. The taxpayers of the state are grateful to Miss Williams. Miss Williams, by substituting the word "provided" for "prohibited" in an anti-gambling bill, made pool-selling in New Jersey a possibility. The bill provided for a special election so that the people could approve of the amendments to the constitution which passed two legislatures. The new bill provides for only one day for registration. Under the bill which passed the legislature the election would have cost about $102,000. Under the bill passed because of the error it will cost $56,150. Senator Johnson of Bergen county has written to Miss Williams, explaining to her how she has really been of service and that the state is under obligations to her for creating the opportunity for making the correction. Other legislators have written in the same strain. Miss Williams' mind has been greatly relieved in consequence.

HOBBS HEARS GOOD NEWS

All Report a Change for the Better and Will Persevere.

JULIUS HOBBS, M. D.

Our fellow townsmen, Murdock Bros., the Druggists, did not expect so soon to get favorable reports from applicants who procured from their free samples of Dr. Hobbs' Spargus Kidney Pills. The tests made so far by the users of the free samples, show that these remarkable pills produce favorable results with a degree of quickness heretofore unknown in the treatment of Kidney, Bladder and Blood diseases, and allied ailments. Those who have used them have been encouraged to persevere with the treatment, knowing that they could not expect the five days' treatment contained in the sample box, notwithstanding the remarkable results obtained so far, would effect a complete cure. Kidney Disease is of imperceptible and insidious growth; it takes months to develop even the symptoms. Reason and experience suggest that it takes more than a few days to cure. Fortunately, Dr. Hobbs' Spargus Kidney Pills begin the good work of cure with the first dose. The results are evident from the beginning. The delightful effects of these pills induce the patient to continue their use until cured. They are easy to take, easy to buy, easy to get, and beautiful in good results. DR. HOBBS' SPARGUS KIDNEY PILLS. FOR SALE BY MURDOCK BROS., Druggists, Northville, Mich. Notice. My wife Julia having left my bed and board without just cause or provocation, I hereby forbid anyone harboring or trusting her on my account, as I will pay no debts contracted by her.
