THE BANNER ONE.

The Wayne County Teachers' Institute Was Just that.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY TEACHERS WERE ENROLLED.

Best Attended Institute Ever Held in State of Michigan.

Teachers Were Royally Entertained by the People of Northville.

The Wayne County teachers' institute which commenced here Monday, with an enrollment of 78 and which was added to until 104 was reached by night closes today, and from every point of view it has outshined any county institute ever held in the state of Michigan. Each incoming train during the week brought in an additional number of teachers until the total enrollment had reached 164 teachers, touching and passing the former highest mark of 150. This attendance has far surpassed even the most sanguine expectations of the committee, the commissioner or the instructors. The elaborate programs, the entertainment provided and the reduced railroad rates coupled with the fact of so choice a trio of instructors proved a rare inducement for a large attendance and a successful one as well. The people of Northville promised a royal reception and they have redeemed that promise to the very letter. Teachers and instructors are alike enthusiastic over their reception and the enthusiasm manifest. Every business place and a large number of private homes about the village have all the week been tastily decorated with flags and bunting, while across Main street rears a huge banner bearing the cheering word "Welcome."

The educational part of the institute has been in charge of those old "war horses" of the educational field Prof. Thompson of Romeo, Delos Fall of Albion and J. R. Miller of Big Rapids. Their work has been of an exceptional high order and the teachers feel they have all received much benefit.

The entertainment part of the program commenced Tuesday afternoon when by favor of Northville's two popular livery proprietors, F. E. Fenn and Perrin & Taft, and a number of our citizens, including a team from the Condensery, sent by Supt. Alworth, the teachers were enabled to enjoy a ride about the village and visit the U. S. fish station. As a supplement for the evening's diversion the fire department made a quick run down Main street at seven o'clock and made a neat showing of the waterworks system and Siamese couples using the water from the church street hydrant. In the evening Prof. Thompson gave an interesting stereopticon biblical lecture in the opera house. During the evening he took pains to thank Landlord Shafer for the donation of the opera house and Elliot's orchestra for the music for the occasion. Mr. Thompson also stated that never in his life had he known teachers attending an institute to meet with such a warm welcome as in Northville.

Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock by invitation of Beal & Daniels, one half of the teachers were shown through the Globe factory and witnessed school and church furniture in the process of manufacture and the casting of church bells. This afternoon the other half will receive the same courtesy. In the evening Prof. Fall gave a lecture in the opera house. It was of a travel of geographical order. Prof. Fall is an exceptionally bright talker and begat a highly enjoyable talk on the republic of Brazil. The bicycle parade at 7:00 o'clock was a brilliant success and was witnessed by a throng of people lining the streets all the way up Decatur and Main streets from Center. At one time there were 106 wheels in line. Messrs. R. E. Porter and Ed. H. Lapham, marshals, worked like beavers to get the parade started at 7:00 but it was impossible to do better than get it moving by 7:20. M. A. Porter and Miss Thompson, dressed in white, led the procession on a tandem, which was elaborately decorated with red, white and blue crepe with an overhead arch bearing the words "Hail for the teachers." Photographer Brown was the decorator and it was an artistic piece of work and with the riders presented a very pretty scene. Space will not permit a description of each wheel but suffice it to say that evidence of artistic work and ingenuity was manifest. The judges were Misses Sullivan, McDonald, Haas, Windsor and Mrs. Yost, all teachers from different parts of the county, by courtesy of Messrs. Porter Bros. They were furnished with a carriage to drive about the streets and witness the parade from different points. Their decision was as follows: Tasty decoration—1st ladies Pearl Simmons; 2nd Lillian Harrison of Newport, 1st gen'l Jared Lapham; 2d M. A. Porter. Comical—1st ladies Harry German; 2d Clara Johnson; 1st gen'l Albert Long; 2d Ed. Treanor of Delray. Harry German was dressed as an old woman and carried a baby and that's how he captured a lady's prize. The committee is certainly entitled to much credit for the brilliant success of Northville's first bicycle parade.

Yesterday afternoon a lively ball game took place between the Northville and Wayne teams and no one appeared to enjoy this feature of the week's entertainment more than the teachers who were present. The evening was given up to special services at the various churches. Tonight the Eastern Star ladies give the teachers a farewell reception and banquet in the Masonic Temple. For this occasion a neat program has been prepared which will be followed with refreshments, roasts and a general jolly good time.

For Northvillites the week has also been one of enjoyment. It is not often that a village of its size is honored with a visit from so many bright and learned people and our citizens have endeavored to show that appreciation in their usual hospitable manner, and if the honor of another institute should come this way in the future the teachers may rest assured of again being received with outstretched arms and the town for the time given into their keeping.

Wayne was Defeated.

The ball game here yesterday afternoon between Wayne and Northville resulted in victory for the home team in a score of 6 to 18. The feature of the game was the pitching of "Deak" Thornton.

Salem News.

The Klondyke craze hasn't many victims in Salem as yet.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Smith are boarding at the Clifton house, Whitmore lake, for a few days.

Will Thayer has been ordered to the Alpena Hatchery and will go, with his family early next week.

Mrs. Austin N. Kimmis of Novi is spending a few days with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Peter Coldren.

Abner Lam, formerly a citizen of Salem but now of Traverse City has been visiting old friends here for a few days.

Mrs. Aliza Karl of Kallispell, Montana; niece of Mr. James Clark of Novi, has many Michigan friends, whom she is visiting for a few weeks.

Mr. Robins our cheese maker instead of making cheese is sending the milk to the encampment this week. Dewitt Pastard has the contract. Mr. Robins deals with him.

Farmers are busy preparing for wheat seeding. A larger number of acres will be sown this season than for the past few years. The yield of wheat being threshed is phenomenally large.

Capt. E. P. Allen failed to materialize at the soldier's picnic at Cal Wheeler's place on Saturday. The Allen family was quite adequately represented however by Dr. C. T. Allen of Detroit who gave an able address. Other addresses were made by Rev. Mr. Coffey, Mr. Childs of Ann Arbor and Geo. S. Wheeler of Salem. The ladies prepared a magnificent dinner and on the whole the picnic was a "howling" success—using a slang phrase.

Mr. William Roberts, who has been occupying the Perkins' house since last spring, has been in poor health for some weeks, and is now dangerously sick with typhoid pneumonia. But slight hopes are entertained of his recovery. Drs. Waide and Burgess are treating him.

Since writing the foregoing Mr. Roberts has died. His funeral was attended at the Congregational church. Burial at South Lyon. Rev. Mr. Coffin of the Methodist church conducted the services.

Walled Lake News.

Lem Severance will teach the young idea" etc at Franklin the coming year.

The social at the Methodist parsonage last Friday was a success socially. About $8 was realized.

J. H. Tompson and Daisy Gould are attending the teachers' institute at Northville this week.

Mrs. Oliver Cronk and little granddaughter Helen Ryle are spending a few weeks at Chesaning.

George Tuttle and Jos. Goodrich of Detroit spent Sunday with the former's family who is spending a few weeks at the popular resort.

J. H. Thompson, principal of the Walled Lake school for four terms, will take charge of the Southfield school on September 6th and will move his family there.

Green apples are beginning to get in their work about town. Mrs. Henry Hodge and Master Russell Thompson have each been having a tussle with cholera of the infant or morbus variety.

During the storm on Monday, Mark Decker's barn was struck by lightning and burned. Mrs. Decker who was alone with the children succeeded in getting out the horses and carriage but harnesses, grain, hay and other contents were burned.

The Methodist Sunday school will have a picnic at Union lake on Wednesday the 18th. A number of other schools has been invited to join them. We also understand that the public generally are invited to attend. Chickens having a prominent place on the bill of fare, we shall tie our dog up near the hen-coop.

It is said that a new general store is to be opened in the James Humphrey building. There is no better point in seven counties for another store than right here. While our merchants here sell goods as cheap as the same class of goods is sold elsewhere, still there is room for another thorough going business man to do a good trade without injuring those who are there.

Prohibition of horse-stealing is a failure. On Thursday night, some unknown fellow picked out a good looking team of horses from Chas. McKenney's barn, selected a good harness, supplied himself with four blankets, two robes and a whip, hitched to a farm wagon and departed without so much as arousing the owner to say good-by. The theft was not discovered till about eight o'clock in the morning as Mr. Rich, who works the farm, supposed that Mr. McR. had the team out while Mr. McKenney thought Mr. R. had them. Several persons claimed to have seen the team at five in the morning going east of the lake on the town line. However this may be, the team was found in Ann Arbor next day with a load of wool that had been picked up on the way. The thief or thieves were not caught. I tell you, sir, McKenney, the only way to stop these fellows who engage in this nasty little petty pilfering business such as stealing articles so cheap as horses and wool is to tax 'em—tax 'em $500 or $1,000. This will cut off all the small thieves and place the business in respectable hands, such as bank cashiers, lumber and coal batons, and oil, iron and sugar kings, and make them steal in the daytime without a care.

As soon as the mayor recovers his equilibrium he will give this matter attention and battie beyond washing the hands and face once a day will be prohibited.

Of all the Record's exchanges, who had a notice of the teachers' institute this week, the following from the Adrian Press was the most unique: "The summer institute for teachers at Northville this week, will be in charge of Prof. Fall." If autumn make a success of it unless he branches off into "schycology" for the Northvillian have prepared to make it a week of royal events outside of study hours. Reduced rates have been secured on all railroads, and at the hotels, reduced rates are promised at the lectures and the people of Northville throw in the fish hatchery, a ball game, a bicycle parade, a visit to the cemetery, water works show off, a prayer meeting, and a farewell banquet by the Eastern Star. In addition, the Record prints promises to wash the office towel, and dust the counting-room chairs, and keep his wife at home during business hours, at which time young ladies will be welcome to visit the institution, and a certain good-looking banker is to give each lady who enrolls at the institute, a handsome photograph. Guess we'll have to take in that institute about one day."

Mrs. Cora McGee a former South Lyon school teacher died at Brooklyn, Jackson county, last week.

An Orion merchant is still advertising Fourth of July goods and a Farmington ditto July bargains. And still the world do move.

There are many lonesome spots in Flat Rock now that the summer normal has closed. A number of the lady school maidens have been heard to express a wish that the normal might last the year around.

South Lyon people are investing in shares in the New State Telephone Co. The stock is to pay 10 percent dividend—in the mind of the solicitor and investor at least. Its funds that people are so willing and even anxious to invest in uncertainties of this kind.

The Flat Rock News settled the opinion of the public on the new tariff bill last week by interviewing the business men. The result was two to one in Dingley's favor and the president may peacefully continue to pursue the quietness of his vacational work along the banks of Lake Champlain.

Will Peck, formerly of the Fowlerville Observer, has sold his paper to his brother Frank who formerly conducted the Webberville News, and has launched a new paper at Linden. In the meantime Webberville people will suffer along newspapers through life until some other blighted idiot with more money than brains strikes the town.

An exchange says that "no man can keep chickens in town without barking a fuss with his neighbor." You come to South Lyon Mr. Ex, if you want to see the contrary. Here, the neighbor's chickens may scratch out your whole crop, and climb all over your premises day in and day out, and nobody thinks of making any fuss, except the owners of the chickens; they complain a little if the chicks limp home on lame legs and for some that never get back.—Ex-egister.

Some Ann Arbor people are in a shadowed condition because of Adam like bitters infesting the still waters of the city's rolling deep. One resident complained to the mayor that his wife and grown up daughter were subject to the annoyance every day. "But," said the mayor, "you live half a mile back from the pond." "I know it, your honor," said the resident, "but they see them through a spy glass." As soon as the mayor recovers his equilibrium he will give this matter attention and battie beyond washing the hands and face once a day will be prohibited.

The killing of Janes Quigley at Milford last week by a train of cars calls to the minds of the people of that place six similar fatalities which have taken place at the same depot since 1873.

Ferry Fay of Carleton didn't know that Dr. Du Paul's horse had so many malish qualities until one day last week when he attempted to bathe one of the animal's hind legs. No bones broken.

EYES NOT ESSENTIAL TO SIGHT

Many creatures enabled to see by the aid of Sensitive Skins.

From the Boston Journal: Eyes are popularly considered to be quite necessary to sight, but this is an error, if we are to believe Dr. Nagel, a recent German experimenter. Many creatures without eyes can see; at least they can distinguish perfectly well between light and darkness and even between different degrees of light. This is the lowest degree of seeing to be sure, but still it is really sight, and differs scarcely more from the vision of some insects that possess eyes than this does from our own clear sight.

Many writers are mere manufacturers of phrases.

Irregular honesty is harder to handle than regular dishonesty.

It is natural for a woman to think that some ugly man is good looking.

The most utterly lost of all days is that in which you have not once laughed.

The Minnesota Indians who drank painkiller didn't understand that they would die along with the pain.

The reason that Italy's food supply is insufficient for home consumption is because the people are more frugal than the soil.

It must always puzzle a landlubber to understand why, after a ship has been duly accepted by the navy department, the next thing heard of it is that it is in a dock somewhere for repairs.

It is announced that the endowment fund of a New York city parish, known far and wide for its good works, has gone beyond the one-hundred-thousand-dollar mark. That noble provision for Christian helpfulness began in a striking way. Twelve shop girls gave a gold dollar each, and on that suggestive basis rests the superstructure which is to endure through the generations. They did what they could, as did the woman in the Gospels.

The nation of Indians that best represented the warring element of the race of red men has made a significant appeal to the government. The remnant of the Sioux had asked permission to erect a monument to the brave slain in the battle of Wounded Knee in South Dakota seven years ago, and to inscribe thereon in the Sioux language, "words that shall proclaim Wounded Knee the last battle-field on which the Indian shall show hostility to his white brother."

The riots in India lucrative to take on the character of an insurrection. The agitators are endeavoring to inflame the native population by representing that the sanitary measures taken by the British government to prevent the spreading of the plague are in effect desecration of Indian temples and a trampling upon traditions. The people of India have undoubtedly many causes for complaint against the British, but the vigor and thoroughness of measures to stop the spread of contagious diseases cannot be put in that catalogue. There always has been opposition to drastic sanitary measures among Asiatic people, and every famine in India, every year of cholera or plague, has been followed by irritation and resentment on the part of the ignorant and prejudiced natives.

Spain, so long mistress of the seas, and the pioneer of national advancement, has become degenerate and a fast-waning power. Its industries are suffering from lassitude of the most pronounced order, and threaten to be swamped in the serious competition to which they were subjected by more energetic countries. Spanish agriculture is not excepted from this general decline. Up to the present day nothing in the shape of farming machinery has been introduced, all farm work being still carried on by manual labor. Such a state of affairs could only result, as it has done, in a sort of national bankruptcy. But the example and contact with other nations and people has led to a sort of revival of the ancient spirit of rivalry which dominated the Spanish race some hundreds of years ago. The revival is as yet but in spirit, which, although nearly crushed with the weight of impoverishment, now seems to aspire to better things. The agricultural condition of the country has indeed become so depressed that the government has had to look the matter seriously in the face. In the estimate of 1896-7 the sum of £20,000 has been voted for the relief of the agricultural industry, and for immediate use. The form in which it is to be given is to grant temporary freedom from succession duties, and on the transfer of property. All cattle, implements, plants, seeds, etc., imported from other countries, for the improvement of agriculture, are to come in duty free. "Cheap money for farmers" is to be provided for, by encouraging and promoting facilities to companies for obtaining loans for agricultural purposes, presumably on a combined or co-operative mortgage on the farms of the members. As most of the farms are already mortgaged, the government will accept a second mortgage to meet the case. The Spanish agricultural department will also purchase certain plants and seeds, which will be distributed to the best advantage.

Mrs. F. E. Clark
Mr. B. J. Hicox
C. A. Downer P. M.

While on the way to the home of his mother in Canada, Dr. Elliott of this place took an overdose of cocaine, morphine and chloral. Wednesday night and came near dying. It was thought he attempted suicide. He was sent to the hospital and recovered sufficiently to resume his journey yesterday afternoon.

The following is from the Fort Recovery (Ohio) Journal and the editor Will H. Green is the husband of she that was Miss Lotis Lake of this place: "Set the bells to ringing; boom the big guns for joy; prosperity is coming—the editor has a boy." The newcomer arrived Saturday morning. As an editor in similar tribulations said: "We wouldn't take a thousand dollars for this nor give three cents for another."

Jesse Clark had the liveliest kind of a runaway last week Friday night while driving with a platform spring wagon along Rogers street, near Duane. The team became frightened at a transfer being made of the carriage seats and for quite a while they had things their own way. Jesse held on till after the pole came down near Main street and then there wasn't much left to hold on to. Jesse was thrown out near Mr. Wade's and in the fall received some painful injuries on the hands and arms. Fortunately no bones were broken and the team was practically uninjured. The wagon is at the repair shop.

It is very strange that after announcing the line of the parade in the paper and circulating 1,000 bills, that some people did not even then know where it was to be and at least 200 stood along Main street east of Center Wednesday night waiting for it to go by. It is also strange that after the parade had turned around on Center street the first time that people even then did not "catch on." Messrs. Porter, Lapham and Cradison, the parade committee, planned this line of march over a route where in their judgment there would be the least likelihood of accidents or interruptions from passing vehicles.

This committee, and especially Porter and Lapham, labored hard for a week or more for the success of the parade and it'll become anyone to find the least fault. We are sorry if a few of the teachers or any strangers missed the pretty sight, but as for the Northville people who watched and waited in vain in spots where notice was given that the parade would not pass we have no sympathy at all. Not only that but these same Northville people are wholly to blame for the few teachers and strangers missing the sight. It was their business to be informed in regard to the matter and take it upon themselves to inform those who were not. As a rule those who do the least towards the success of anything of this kind are the first to complain. The reason, the committee decided to not extend the parade down to Atwater street and turn back because of the bad place to cross the street near Birch's shop and one reason they did not counter march down Main street was because they did not propose to have the parade broken into by the throng of carriages that was everywhere manifest.

We still have a nice assortment of Laces and Embroideries to close out. Schantz Bros.

PENINSULA MATTERS

RELATED IN A BRIEF, CONCISE MANNER

Farmer Secures a Wife by Correspondence, but Jealousy Leads to Murder and Suicide—Pearl Morrison's Murderer Confesses.

Bloody Tragedy near Grand Rapids.

H. A. Dailey, a well-to-do Jefferson man, shot his wife and took poison and died while in the charge of the officers. The woman may possibly recover.

Last April Dailey sent a letter to Mayor Swift of Chicago, saying he wanted a woman of mature years as a wife, and could give her a good home. The letter was published and Dailey received nearly 500 answers and out of the lot selected Mrs. Hattie Newton, a Chicago widow. Three months ago they were married. Dailey was 70 years old and his bride 45. Dailey knew nothing of his wife's antecedents, and their life was unhappy owing to Dailey's jealousy. After a bitter quarrel the woman refused to occupy the same room with Dailey. He gave her three days to resume wifely relations, but she refused and said she was going back to Chicago. On the third morning he forced his way into her bedroom and, pressing a musket against her right side, fired. She fled from the room, began to bleed and fell bleeding on the doorstep where she was found. Dailey was at once arrested, but before taking the train for Grand Rapids he was allowed to enter a saloon and drink several glasses of beer. He managed to strip some strychnine into one glass and in a few moments was dead. Dailey had a fine farm and considerable money and drew $30 a month pension. Nothing is known of Mrs. Dailey's past life.

Dailey left a note, indicating that he had already planned suicide, in which he said: "Too many railroad men on my plate for my good health."

Grand Rapids Concern in Trouble.

Chas. A. Thayer, vice-president, treasurer and manager of the Keedoozil-Hamilton Bicycle Co., at Grand Rapids, was arrested for the alleged embezzlement of $1,000 of the funds of the company. The plant was recently assigned on a mortgage and was to have been sold, but Thayer began a counter suit against President Charles R. Sligh and Secretary J. D. Case, and at his instance, an injunction was granted forbidding the sale. He alleges that Sligh and Case mismanaged the concern and that the mortgage, foreclosed, is a scheme to force him out. The company was organized one year ago with $20,000 capital, with Thayer as manager, and the inventory shows assets $170,000 and liabilities $191,970.

County Mill Burn at South Hartfort.

The largest and most disastrous fire ever witnessed at South Hartfort completely destroyed the large double saw-mill of the Crane Lumber Co. and the millions of feet of lumber in the yard. In 20 minutes after the fire broke out the mill was burned to the ground. South Hartfort has no fire protection and duplicate insurance is sent to Traverse City, Munising and Compton for fire engines, which arrived in time to save the town. The loss is a serious one to South Hartfort, as the company employed a great many men and was the only mill in the town. The loss on the mill is $20,000, on the lumber, $50,000; fully insured.

August Crop Report.

The Michigan crop report for August says that the average yield of wheat per acre is estimated at 12.81 bushels for the state. The crop has generally been secured in fine condition and is of good quality. The heavy rains in the central part of the state just at the close of harvest did some damage but it is not extensive. The average condition of corn in the state is 87. Potatoes promise about seven-tenths, and beans nine-tenths of an average crop. The yield per acre of clover and timothy hay is slightly more than in average years. Meadows and pastures are now in fine condition. Apples promise about one-third of an average crop.

Mrs. Morrison's Murderer Confesses.

The Indians around Saginaw are dying off very rapidly from consumption owing to careless habits, exposure, etc. There is but a remnant left of the once strong and numerous tribe of the Chippewas.

A rig driven by Misses Kate and Nora McAnifee was struck by a Michigan Central train while crossing the track, near Albion. The buggy was wrecked and the horse killed, but the girls were uninjured.

Co. B, Sixth Michigan artillery, the first company mustered into the state service at the commencement of the civil war, held a reunion in Oak Grove, near Charlotte, where the company was organized 36 years ago.

Two tramps stopped at the home of John D. Stricker, the Michigan Central baggageman at Ann Arbor, and asked for food. Mrs. Stricker gave them and lunch and asked them to go. This made the tramps angry, and one slapped her while the other struck her with his fist, knocking her down. The tramps then escaped.

Saturday August 7 marked the fortieth anniversary event of the lives of Mr. and Mrs. James Jones, which enrolled them among the happy families of Novi and Farmington, among whom they have lived ever since. Very much to their surprise about two o'clock a stream of carriages came wheeling into their yard bringing relatives, neighbors and old acquaintances to the number of seventy-five or more, several of them from away, whom they had not seen for many years. Mr. and Mrs. Jones threw down their arms and very gracefully surrendered to join the happy throng in a good old fashioned visit which brought out many a story of scenes and events passed in the earlier days of the community. Sands & Porter of Northville delivered a very pretty book case selected for the occasion and the company gathered about their host and through their companion, Andrew Crosby presented their gift, "Uncle Jim" briefly responded, expressing their feelings with thanks. Bountiful refreshments were served by the company whom after more visiting and congratulations went away hoping many anniversaries may yet come to this happy family.
