SUNDAY NEWS.

Novi-Not so Bad as It Is Sometimes Painted.

AVERAGES WELL WITH THE ORDINARY MICH. HAMLET.

Has Furnished Lawyers, Educators, Legislators, etc.

NOVI, Nov. 17, 1897.—(Staff correspondence.)—The following from a recent issue of the Detroit Daily Tribune is more than of passing moment and it casts an unwarranted and unworthy reflection upon the name of our fair community:

"Novi has gone dry, nothing stronger than gingerale being sold at either hotel. It's alleged that the numerous charges made against the local hotelkeepers, connected with so many other alleged crimes, which are now getting an airing in the Novi justice office, have given the place a hard name. When you get away about 50 miles from Novi, said a Novi farmer yesterday, so a crook will hear you, that you live in Novi. The crowd will move back and you are alone in a York minute. We've got a bad name and don't you for-miss it."—Birmingham Cor. Tribune.

Apparently the Birmingham correspondent, would convey the idea that because the attempt is being made in Novi to enforce violated laws and bring transgressors to justice that a person who confessed in other countries to being a citizen of our enterprising burg would be regarded as a sort of moral leper, whose vicinity would be fatally voguish. Well, perhaps that might depend on what class of Novi people the traveler represented, for there are two sides to the picture, as laudably the one. Possibly if somebody were to take special pains to uncover all his unsavory occurrences in other places, some of our sister towns might be able to go on a close second. Even Birmingham has had some sizable criminal outbreaks on hand in time past, but that does not render all her citizens murderers by any means. It is pretty well known that on the other hand, Novi has a rather enviable reputation for the contributions she has made to the ranks of Michigan's legislators, lawyers, and educators and to the official ranks of the state and county, to say nothing of the numbers of her children who are filling honorable positions in various occupations such as telegraphy, stenography, civil engineering and many other situations where brains and decency are not at a discount.

We are glad to get out unsavory corners cleaned out, and when we get the moral atmosphere purified, perhaps the result will be so wholesome that the scavenger business will experience a boom in various places. We happen to know that the "parson" of that dubious picture has come in contact with enough of Novi's decided predominant better element to see that we don't all belong to the class who figure as the chief attractions in those celebrated scenes at the town hall.

PASSION PLAY.

Mrs. Edna Chaffee Noble Will Be Seen in It Tonight.

The Passion Play lecture-recital by Mrs. Edna Chaffee Noble at the Presbyterian church tonight promises to be one of the most novel and interesting ones ever listened to by a Northville audience. The scene of the lecture is the village of Obermainmargau, Bavaria. During a plague there 250 years ago the terrified survivors vowed to God that if He would thereafter spare their lives they would perform every ten years a drama of Christ's Life and suffering. The plague abated and the vow has been sacredly carried out by each succeeding generation. The piety, sincerity and intelligence of these villagers, filled with religious fervor, reconcile the most sensitive to the production. Elsewhere the Passion Play would seem offensive, but not so there. Mrs. Noble has witnessed this great 18 act, 25 tableaux play in all its grandeur and solemnity, and this is what she will describe in her lecture tonight under the auspices of the lecture course.

SUNDAY NEWS.

The following ad in the Plymouth Mail ought to bring a host of applicants, most all good girls like to be dressed up over: "Wanted good girl for dressmaking over J. A. Taft's store."

To throw suspicion elsewhere, the Flat Rock News man prints the following: "The tea kettle belonging to the Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church is missing. Whoever has it will please return it, and avoid trouble."

S. M. Lyndon of Plymouth has applied for a patent on a burr fastener. What Lyndon really should have patented is a burr unfastener. It's no trouble to get burrs fastened on you—the trouble is to get them off.

The editor of the Davison Gazette, Clyde White, formerly of Farmington, has been married about three weeks, and is now printing this kind of stuff in his paper: "It takes the average woman about twice as long to make up her complexion as it does to make up her mind." "A man isn't always to blame for thinking more of his type-writer than he does of his wife; he can dictate to his typewriter."

Plymouth has some mineral springs, and the Mail believes they're the genuine stuff. Gas bubbles up through the water and the "hydro-carbon springs" have no competitor in high-flavored aroma. Outside the Ypsilanti mineral springs and the Michigan carbon works near Detroit, a chemical analysis discloses sodium, potassium, magnesium, chlorate, carbonate, sulphates, silicates, gendicates, etc., which indicates that the water has power to make itself known to a deaf dumb and blind man.—Adrian Press

High-school Notes.

Roy Hill of Middle Mill, is back to school again.

The rhetoric class wrote a short sketch of the poem "Barbara Frietchie" Tuesday.

Our football team was defeated by the Ypsilanti High school team last week Friday at a score of 11-0.

The Ypsilanti and Northville High school football teams will play at the Northville ball grounds tomorrow at 4 p.m.

The German & class, which went on excursion Monday, and the English class experienced the same general Friday.

Mr. Clegg of Cleveland addressed the High school Tuesday morning on the subject of metallurgy. His talk was exceedingly interesting and instructive, and was much appreciated by all present.

The people of Northville and vicinity who enjoy listening to a good debate will be pleased to learn that Prof. Bliss has perfected arrangements with the High schools at Plymouth and Wayne for a series of joint debates this winter, several of which will be held in Northville. The first of the series will be held here Friday evening, December 3rd between representatives of the Northville and Plymouth High schools. The subject for discussion is: "Resolved that the present jury system should be abolished." The Northville speakers will be Bert Northrop, May Coddren and Grace Porter. Besides the debate, an enjoyable literary program will be presented.

NEW SWITCH BOARD.

ONE FOR THE NORTHVILLE CO. HAS ARRIVED.

It Has Capacity for One Hundred Subscribers.

The Northville Telephone Co.'s new switch board arrived this week and has been placed in the store of Sands & Porter, as the central office. The board is a late improved one and capable of caring for 100 or more subscribers. At the present time the company has already made 25 connections in the village and has a number of applicants ahead which will be wired to next week. The service is very cheap, just enough to a little more than cover expenses, and therefore a large number of people can afford to have a phone.

Besides the local exchange, the company has five subscribers at Novi and eleven at Farmington. The company expects to shortly be able to give subscribers connection to Detroit at a 10c toll service.

OAKLAND CO. INSTITUTE

For Teachers to be Held During the Thanksgiving Vacation.

A state Teacher's Institute for Oakland county will be held at Pontiac, commencing Thursday evening, Nov.

25th, and closing Saturday afternoon, Nov. 27th. The institute will be conducted by Prof. Barbour of Ypsilanti, assisted by Prof. Fall of Albion college and Miss Tibbits of Lansing. The institute will be too important for any teacher to miss, and all who can find it possible to attend will feel well repaid.

Profs. Barbour and Fall are good lecturers and assurance is made that a real Thanksgiving feast is in store for all who attend.

Appropriations for the Poor.

At the recent meeting of the Wayne county board of supervisors, nearly $100,000 were appropriated for the current expenses of the Wayne county house and asylum for the coming year.

Three thousand five hundred dollars of this amount will be used for permanent improvements.

About $30,000 of the sum total is paid by the state for the maintenance of asylum patients who have become state charges.

The balance of the sum or about $70,000, will be paid by the county and raised by taxation.

The farm is made to yield a considerable sum during the year, which, added to the liberal appropriations made by the supervisors, place

the two institutions in pretty good condition to meet current demands.

Next year the sum of $25,000 will be asked for by the board of superintendents for the erection of new buildings for female patients at the asylum.

The present rate of increase will soon make enlarged accommodations necessary.—Wayne Review.
