

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD.

Vol. XXIX, No. 19.

NORTHVILLE, MICH., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1897.

PRIZE WINNERS.

These People Had High Scoring Birds Last Week.

LOT OF NORTHVILLE BREEDERS WERE RIGHT IN IT.

Financially and Otherwise the Show Proved a Great Success.

Rainy Weather Knocked off Nearly Half the Receipts.

The first annual show given by the Northville Poultry Association is numbered with the past, but like all previous Northville gatherings it will go sailing down the pages of history along with its other successful conventions, institutions, celebrations and gala days.

As stated last week the entries numbered about 350 and comprised almost every species enumerated in the catalog. The exhibits came from all parts of the state and their beauty excited the admiration of both exhibitor and visitor.

Two of the largest exhibitors were Halloway of Flint and the Egg Receptory yards of Detroit. Steelwagons of Wayne also had a fine exhibit and the same breeders carried off the first place in their class for their share of the prizes. F. G. Lapham rather escaped the most of any local exhibitor, his getting first in three classes which he entered. A. E. Fuller had the highest scoring bird, a White Rock which went 94. C. E. Smith came next and in the same class scored one at 91.

The two days' rain tended to cut the daily admission receipts down nearly half upon those occasions, otherwise the local society would have had a snug little sum left in the treasury but even as it is, more than enough to meet all expenses and pay all indebtedness as well as premiums remains.

The society may well feel proud of their first attempt and it is of such variety they may be encouraged to repeat if next year.

Following are the prize winners:

CLOTHES-LINE THIEVES

pulled the Ropes at Farmington Tuesday Night.

Farmington, Mich., Dec. 15, 1897.

(Special.)—Clothes-line thieves took a pull on the lines of Wm. Kinney and E. W. Parker here Tuesday night. At the former place they left a few things still floating to the breeze but at the latter's they took everything except a rope. The only moral to be gleaned is to avoid Tuesday clothes-line thieves—wash on Monday.

Farmington News.

Mrs. L. C. Grace and Mrs. C. M. Doherty were Detroit visitors a part of last week.

Mrs. Hurber, who has been nursing Mrs. Warner, has returned to her home in Detroit.

Palmer Sherman visited his daughter Miss Will Angira at Rochester one day last week.

The Dresser Comedy Co. gave their entertainments last week as advertised but were welcomed by very small assemblies, not making enough to clear expenses.

Mrs. F. Dean Warner was presented with a beautiful and comfortable invalid's wheeling chair last week by her husband. She is now able to sit up a few hours each day and is slowly but surely convalescing.

The Arthur-Casey case was settled out of court at Pontiac Wednesday last, paid $8,000 over to Arthur's lawyer for a receipt in full. The cost of the suit thus far has amounted to $500 while Arthur will pay.

A large attendance listened to the sermon by Rev. L. H. Trowbridge Sunday afternoon in the Baptist church. His subject was Literature. Quite a natural topic for an editor. Nevertheless it was good and right to the point.

Messrs Supervisor J. L. Hoge, Justices John Thayer and Hudson Wilcox in Pontiac Monday to attend the Circuit Court on the part of Farmington as regards the Bigelow bridge question. The case was adjourned to the 28th.

Miss Rhoda Sherman will take charge of the devotional League meeting next Sunday evening. This meeting will be of a different character than the usual order. Two biographies will be given of the little characters, Elisha and Samuel. It will be of unusual interest and all are invited to attend.

Remember this date—Friday evening Dec. 21. At the home of T. F. Drake, North Farmington, will occur the regular meeting of the N. F. L. Society.

All members are requested to be present and join in the discussion of the question "Resolved that the Indian had a better right to this country than the white people."

The Temperance lecture by Rev. W. H. Lloyd Tuesday evening was listened to by quite a large attendance and highly enjoyed. The music by the Farmington ladies quartet; the solo by Clyde Nichols and duet by the Misses Edwards and Ward were pleasingly rendered and the evening proved one of interest and pleasure.

The Ladies Literary Club will hold their next regular meeting Wednesday evening, Dec. 22, at the home of Mrs. E. C. Grace. The program will consist of current events, quotations and readings from Washington Irving's Sketch Book on Christmas gleanings. These meetings are proving very satisfactory as well as instructive.

At the election of Sunday-school officers for the Methodist church for the ensuing year held last Friday the following is the result: Supt. Thomas McGee; ass't. supt. Hon. P. D. Werner; sec'y. Miss Rhoda Sherman; ass't sec'y. Miss Sophie Ward; Misses Miss Jenie L. White; organist Miss Sadie Francis; ass't. organist Miss Grace E. Tremper.

The concert given at the Town hall Saturday evening by the Northville Opera house orchestra, assisted by Mrs. Bell Randolph Long, was the best production of the kind ever given in Farmington. The overtures were finely rendered and the trombone, cornet, mandolin, piccolo and flute solo by Messrs. Elliott, Crocker, Jones and Toomey displayed wonderful talent in the musical art. It is needless to say that the vocalists by Mrs. Long met with just approval by her Farmington admirers. The readings by Miss Abbott were clever and delivered in such manner as to show she was master of her vocation, and were highly enjoyed. Proceeds about $20.

The general verdict is that the entertainment should be repeated.

Will L. Green, the older son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Green, was born Aug. 28, 1871. He departed this life Tuesday morning Dec. 10. He has always resided at home excepting about two years when he was in attendance at the Normal college at Ypsilanti. He was universally loved, being a very active member of the Y.P.L.C. society and became prominent by his ability and gentlemanly demeanour and was highly respected by everyone. The society gave a beautiful floral tribute with the letters Y.P.L.C. There other floral offerings were sent by the Misses McCracken, Mrs. A. J. Crosby, Mrs. O. L. Murray, A. E. Green, Rev. Marsh and Willie Campbell, covering theasket as loving tokens to him who lay therein as if in peaceful slumber.

Rev. Lee S. McColister of Detroit in very impressive and comforting manner officiated giving a brief eulogy of the deceased. There was a large assembly to pay their last tribute of respect. The remains accompanied by the sorrowing family and perhaps the nearest and dearest, his beloved, Miss Nellie McCracken, and a large concourse of sympathizing friends were laid to rest in the North Farmington cemetery and placed in the vault.

The Plymouth Mail will please note,

"Says the Carlton Times: The man who has never lived in the country when a boy, made cider, milked cows, kissed the girls at the husking bee, stacked hay in the wind, swallowed quinine in scraped apple, drank castor oil in cold coffee, ate molasses and drank red sarsaparilla tea for three months in the spring to purify the blood, has lived in vain."

On complaint of Jacob Strong, a warrant was issued Tuesday last for the arrest of D. N. Bloom on charge of "jumping" his board bill. Officer Smith was sent after him, but when he arrived in Detroit, lo! to the waters of Detroit separated them and the accused was safely under the protecting arm of the queen's domain. The assistance of Detective Ed. Sadler was obtained by telephone before Dan started from here, but it so happened that Bloom's wife operated the telephone and let him onto the racket, and the ferry boat was quicker than Ed. It is only a question of time, however, before he will be brought before the tribunal of justice.

FROM GLOOM TO SUNLIGHT

THE LISURE'S DAUGHTER

BY CHARLOTTE M. BRAEME.

INTERNATIONAL PRESS ASSOCIATION.

CHAPTER I.

HE time was noon of a brilliant June day, the place a gloomy office in a London court which belonged to Arley Ransome, a square room that contained tables covered with deeds and papers. On shelves filled with works on the British law and constitution, bills that could literally hold no more maps of different estates lying carelessly open, large inkstands, pens and sheets of writing paper.

Arley Ransome, lawyer and money lender, the calm, inscrutable man of business, looked at the young earl; perhaps he wondered at his perfect calmness, then he glanced at a sheet of paper lying on the desk.

"It will not be pleasant to hear, Lord Caraven," he said, slowly; "but you ask for it. To begin. At the age of 21 you succeeded to the Ransome estates and title; the estates were clear of all debts and incumbrances; the rent roll was thirty thousand per annum; this was, besides, a sum of fifty thousand pounds in the Funds, the savings of the late earl—that is correct I believe?"

"Quelle!" said the earl, replying.

You are now 23 years of age, my lord, and in seven years you have run through a fortune."

"I repeat the facts; no comments—plain facts," said the earl.

The plain facts are these: continued the lawyer, "the fifty thousand was, I believe, to pay the first year's losses on the Derby."

"Yes, my horse won," interrupted Lord Caraven.

The winning of that Derby was your ruin, my lord. After that you continually foreclosed your income by borrowing money, then your losses on the turf and the gaming table were so great that you were compelled to raise a heavy mortgage on the estate; then you borrowed money on the pictures, the plate and the furniture at Ravensmore. In fact, my lord, briefly told your situation, is this: you are hopelessly, helplessly ruined. You owe sixty thousand pounds mortgage money, and owe forty thousand pounds borrowed money—and you have nothing to pay it with. You received notice from me six months since that the mortgage money was called in. Unless it is paid in six weeks from now the estate—Ravensmore Castle, with all its belongings—passes from you; it will be seized with all its contents."

"Are you quite sure that I can borrow no more?" asked the earl.

"Quite sure, my lord, you have sold all the timber that you could sell, as I told you—the only thing left is yourself."

"Then, unless I repay the sixty thousand pounds in six weeks, Ravensmore becomes the property of the man who lent the money."

"Precisely so," replied Arley Ransome.

"You would form an excellent warning, my lord," was the grave reply.

"It is the same thing. And now I am prepared for the worst. What is it?"

Arley Ransome looked at the speaker. There was something of admiration, of pity and of contempt in the long, lingering glance of those shrewd eyes; yet he could not have utter irretrievable ruin, looked at a comelier face or figure than those of the young earl.

"Now, Mr. Ransome," he said, at last, with haughty impatience, "there is no need, figuratively speaking, to keep the ax suspended over my head, tell me the worst at once."

"The worst, my lord, is utter, irretrievable ruin—ruin so complete and so entire that I do not see a chance of saving even one shilling from the wreck."

The earl listened quite calmly; his lips, half hidden by the fair mustache, grew a trifle paler—but there was no flinching in the handsome, haggard face.

"Utter ruin," he repeated. "Well, as they say in bonny Scotland, you cannot both eat your cake and have it."

"True, my lord," assented the lawyer.

"I have eaten my cake," continued the young man, "and I do not deny that the taste of it is bitter enough in my mouth—it has turned to ashes, like Dead Sea salt. Still, it is eaten, and there is an end of it."

"It is eaten, indeed," said the lawyer. "You see no loop-hole—you can suggest nothing?" said the earl.

"Every loop-hole is closed, my lord," was the brief reply.

"And you are quite sure, Ransome, that there is nothing left or which I can borrow money—nothing more than I can mortgage?"

"I believe honestly that the only object belonging to the Ravensmore estates which remains unmortgaged, my lord, is yourself," replied Arley Ransome.

"It is equally sure that no one will lend money on me," said Lord Caraven, laughing. "Give me—not the details, but a resume: give me some faint idea of how I stand."

"You do not seriously mean that you will take your own life, my lord?" he interrogated.

"It seems to be the only thing left for me to take," replied the earl. "I have lost everything else."

"Will you listen to me, Lord Caraven—listen in patience? I have something to say."

The earl laid down his cigar. The lawyer was so earnest, so intent, that he caught the other's weaker will with him.

"I have worked hard all my life," said Arley Ransome. "Worked as few men have ever done before—from sunrise to sunset, and often through the same stream right. I have worked because I love money—because I am ambitious; because I have had an end in view. You know, my lord, that, besides practicing as a lawyer, I have been, and am now, a money-lender; it is no news to you that I advanced the mortgage money on Ravensmore, and that, unless you can pay it, the estate becomes mine."

The earl's pale, handsome face flushed hot. It was hard to picture his grand ancestral home in the plebeian hands of a money-lender.

"There is, as Milton says, a lower depth, and Ravensmore will fall into it," he said.

"It becomes mine," continued Arley Ransome. "The castle, the estate, the plate, the pictures—they are all mine. Now, listen, my lord. I have made a fortune you inherited me, I have made one."

"You might well do so, lending money at a hundred per cent."

"Never mind how it has been made—I have made it," said the lawyer, and my fortune amounts to two hundred thousand pounds."

"Heaven help those by whom you have made me."

"It has been honestly made. You have gambled my lord; I have speculated, and my speculations have all turned out well. I have two hundred thousand pounds, and—I have a daughter."

Heaven help those by whom you have made me."

"It has been honestly made. You have gambled my lord; I have speculated, and my speculations have all turned out well. I have two hundred thousand pounds, and—I have a daughter."

"I have spent my life telling in these gloomy offices; hope has brightened them." Would to heaven that I had a son to carry out my dreams, my hopes, my plans. If I had a son to succeed me, my lord, I would foreclose at once and make him master of Ravensmore."

"Thank you," interposed Lord Caraven.

"I have a daughter, and she must take the place I would fain have given to my boy. My lord, I make you this offer. You are a ruined man—you tell me there remains for you no hope, nothing but death. Now, I will give you life, liberty, wealth. I will make you greater than any of the Earls of Caraven have been yet. I will give my daughter a dowry of two hundred thousand pounds if you will marry her."

Lord Caraven lost his self-possession at once; then he proudly said:

STAMPED AT THE ALTAR.

Iowa French Bridegroom Was Routed

ed Up by His Intended.

Paris exchanges tell of a French Captain Bunsby, who was recently led to the altar twice in one day by a Gallic Mrs. McStinger. The ludicrous affair took place at the little town of Issoudon. The Frenchman went to the matrice in company with a widow, for the purpose of being married. When asked, however, whether he would take the woman for his wife, to everybody's surprise he said emphatically: "No, I was too unhappy in my first marriage to wish to begin again."

"Come, come," said the mayor, "you should have thought of all that before you came here. You must have known what you were doing."

"It is never too late to avoid doing a foolish thing," said the bridegroom, and so saying he put on his hat and rushed out of the place. The whole wedding party, with the bride at their head, ran after him through the streets of the town, amidst the jeers of the passers-by. The fugitive was run to earth at last and brought back in triumph by the lady, who showed her manner that she was not to be balked of her prey. The wretched man, now thoroughly cowed, went through the ceremony as meekly as a lamb. Loud cheers greeted the newly wedded couple as they reappeared on their way to the restaurant where the wedding breakfast was being prepared.

Any Woman, With a Little Experience,

Can Wash Garments Satisfactorily.

That the family washing cannot be satisfactorily done with a scant supply of hard water and inferior soap is a fact not understood by housekeepers, yet these inconveniences are the cause of ugly clothes and faded garments.

Strong soap, made in the home kitchens, may answer for the use of our grandmother, and the cheap laundry soap found in the drug stores, though it was almost good for nothing, is not good for the skin.

When good soap should be used, it is better to use a soap which is strong, and has been used by intelligent women, and in no place to keep out, or there that in the laundry. After sorting the clothes, lay the linens in a tub, nearly full of water, and rub them with Ivory Soap, as each piece is washed; it should be rinsed out, and placed in a clean tub. When all are washed pour boiling water over, and let stand until cool when rinsed and starched the clothes. After the linens are washed, the white wearing clothes should be washed in the same way, then the colored garments.

When soap is used, it should be dissolved in water, and then applied to the clothes.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The gymnasium meetings have created a good deal of interest and large classes will probably be formed as the weeks go by.

"A man robbed" was the suggestive topic of Sunday's meeting. Hugh McDaniel of Detroit was the speaker. He is at home before an audience and his talk Sunday was full of inspiration and help.

Next Sunday we invite all our wives, mothers and sweethearts to call at our rooms. A program of music, addresses and recitations will be given that we are sure they will enjoy.

Mrs. O. J. McGuire went to Adrian Tuesday to assist in caring for her son Henry's wife who lies very low with consumption.

Mr. Mitchell preached an excellent sermon Sunday on the subject: The humility of Christ unparalleled. Next Sunday his subject will be: The exaltation of Christ unparalleled.

Tuesday was Captain Nichols' sixtieth birthday and in the evening a large party of young people invaded the house and gave him a genuine surprise. The captain gave them a hearty welcome and told them the doors were all open to enjoy themselves as they liked. An oyster supper was served and the company departed at a late hour, after spending a very pleasant evening, wishing Mr. Nichols many happy returns of the day.

Hello Northville!

This is Santa. The mud was awful, sled, wagon and bicycle stuck fast; but I am coming on foot. Expect to arrive in your town one week from tonight. I have read the ads in the papers and will trade at Holmes, Dancer & Co's store.

They say you are welcome to trade there too. Better go in the forenoon as their store is very crowded in the afternoon.

Your friend
SANTA CLAUS.

These People and Several Others Were Seen

looking into our windows this week. They saw a lot of pretty novelties, priced from 1c to 50c; some of them came in and purchased; others waited a little while longer. Don't wait too long, they may be all gone.

Those Handkerchiefs

that are so pretty are unusually cheap. 1c, 3, 4, 5, 10, 25c, etc.
Ladies' Linen Handkerchiefs as low as 5c; Ladies' Embroidered edge Handkerchiefs as low as 10c.

The Queen Anne

Frankly last year's style, but the leader then, at 25c, a few dozen bought to sell at a special price. 15c.

Fine Hdkfs.

If you require some nice styles see the special lot we offer at 50c.

Beautiful Silk initial Handkerchiefs only 25c.

We

have been selling Cloaks for Christmas Presents. We offer special values to close out several styles, which are desirable for these cold days. After Saturday, December 18, we will make the usual January cut prices on any Cloak bought for a Christmas present.

We feel that the appreciation (by our customers) of this cut will more than make up the difference to us.

Books.

As is well known are only one of our Holiday lines. One-half our stock is already sold. The prices are very low all through the line.

After today we offer any book sold regularly at 25c or less, at the unusual price of Cloth bound.

10 Cents. Children's Books included.

$1.98.

NORTHVILLE LOCALS

Mrs. Dexter White is quite ill.

After all, there's nothing like an American friend."

Letters to the following persons are advertised at the postoffice this week:

Sam Blackwood

B. N. Johnson

The D. R. T. O. O. F. will give a Mass Social Monday evening, Dec. 27.

Reprint meeting of Oriental chapter No. 77 OES this Friday evening at 7:30.

The Record Primary commences this week the printing of 2,000, 1898 calendar.

Chas. Rogers and S. E. Granson had phones placed in their residences this week.

Aaron Tull has leased the Butler house on Center street for literary purposes.

Mrs. R. H. McKelvin, who is undergoing treatment at Ann Arbor, is rapidly improving.

The Northville company placed a phone in the residence of Mrs. Clara Sessions this week.

Mrs. Chas. Woodburn has been seriously ill with peritonitis for a week past but is now much better.

James H. Nash of this place has been drawn as jurymen for the January term of the Wayne County court.

LOST. Macalee pin, in Northville on Sunday last. Finder please leave same at Record office for Ormai King.

Christian Science service next Sunday at 10:30 a.m. in the WCTU hall. Subject: Fellowship of light and love.

On Christmas afternoon the ladies library will not be open in the afternoon but will be open in the evening from 7 to 9.

LOST. Wednesday evening, square buckle shaped, silver trimmed comb. Finder rewarded if lost at S. B. Dolph's or at Record office.

Robert Waterman is better this week. The doctors lanced an abscess on his hip Monday from which was taken something like a quart of pus.

A. K. Carpenter made his wife, and himself as well, a nice Christmas present last week by putting a new furnace in their Rogers street residence.

The most startling news that comes from Ann Arbor this week is that "Tommy" Head has been elected manager of next year's U. of M. football team.

The many Northville friends of Rev. Geo. Hudson of Flint will regret to learn of his constant failing health and that the physicians give but little hope of his surviving the winter through.

The republicans of this town feel very favorable towards Senator Warner's boom for Secretary of State. It is quite safe to say there is none other whom they would like so much to honor.

The Young Men's club has issued some very nifty invites for their X-mas party to be given next week Friday night. Preparations are under way to make this one of the very best affairs of the season.

See the circulating library at Hueston's Pharmacy. 250 titles. 1 cent a book to read them. All standard authors and high-class fiction, history and travel.

Before making your Christmas purchases call at Miss Bovee's.

Rogers #847 Knives and Forks only $3.00 at W. L. Becker's, Opera house block.

Dolls at Miss Bovee's.

Rev. W. M. Ward will give his lecture "The Light from Galilee" for the Epworth League Wednesday evening, Dec. 29. The lecture has been given many times and it is pronounced a fine one.

The Bell company has placed a desk phone in F. & P. M. Agent Carothers' office in the depot, and put the wall phone in the freight office. This will prove much more convenient for both the agent and patrons.

Persons wishing to donate clothing, provisions, fruit or vegetables to the King's Daughters for their Christmas baskets, will please leave them with Miss Ethel Johnson, on or before Friday noon, Dec. 24. By order of Circle.

The vast amount of mud these days on Main street from Center to the depot reminds one of the constant growing need of some sort of substantial paving along that route. A few wagon loads of cinders each month is suggested as an economical expenditure.

D. K. Shafer received word Saturday of the death of his youngest son's wife, Mrs. Geo. Shafer, at her home in Allegan Co. The ailment was typhoid fever and she was ill but twenty-eight days. One of her children, Ethel, has made it home with her grandparents here for some time.

The Old Trial before Justice Chadwick last week was his first case. Mr. Chadwick has been sort of a father advisor to would-be litigants who have come before him for the past three years and his good counsel has been the cause of more than one satisfactory settlement out of court.

Attorney Yerkes received notice Wednesday that he had won the case of Kellogg vs. Narthrop in the supreme court. The circuit court decided adversely to Mr. Kellogg who took it to the supreme court with the above result. The defendant's attorneys were Couley & Taylor of Detroit.

Chas. E. Williams, a former well-known resident of Northville, died at his home in Alpena last week. Mr. Williams' first wife was a sister of J. A. Dubar of this place and by her he leaves several daughters, the youngest of whom is now living with Mr. Dubar, his mother, in this village.

In the case of Lapham vs. Forshee in the Washington circuit court last week Attorney Yerkes of this place secured a decree in chancery for $500, the whole amount claimed. Case was brought to cure a mistake in a mortgage to set aside certain decree and clear up complications caused by errors made in the giving of a mortgage held by M. E. Lapham, all of which was accomplished by the decree.

The first of a series of socials given by the Buckline school district No. 11 for the purpose of raising money with which to purchase reference books, was held at Mr. Freydel's. Owing to the condition of the weather only about thirty came out. Let the good work go on and all lend a helping hand to Mr. Hean, the teacher, who is a wide-awake and earnest worker for the welfare of his school and pupils.

The new confectionery is doing a steady increasing business; new customers being secured almost every day. One of the big ice cream manufacturers in Detroit made an ice cream test Monday using five gallons of present use condensed milk from the Northville company and five gallons of cream from a Detroit creamery and the result was a prompt decision in favor of the Northville's production.

Little Donald Veres of Milford is reported to be much better this week, thanks to the skill of Dr. T. H. Turner of Farmington who was called at the last moment. The Milford physicians had given up all hope and the relatives had gathered for the sad parting when the young Farmington physician arrived. He at once pronounced it a case of peritonitis and to his quick diagnosis of the case and prompt action the fond parents doubtless owe the life of their little girl.

MICHIGAN NEWS BRIEFLY TOLD FOR MICHIGANDERS.

The State Grange and Farmers' Clubs of the State hold interesting sessions in the Capitol at Lansing—Music fitted for the Tunnel Horror.

Grangers and Farmers. The State Grange and the State Association of Farmers' Clubs held their annual meetings simultaneously in the capitol at Lansing. At the Grange meeting Grand Master Horton endorsed the protest of the national Grange in protesting against the practical nullification of the long and short haul provision of the interstate commerce law, thus hindering the production and consumption of surplus farm products, by making excessive transportation rates. In referring to legislation in which the Grange was interested Mr. Horton called attention to the fact that numerous bills they had advocated in the last legislature had been killed by the senate. Mr. Horton urged the grangers to carefully study the subject of co-operation induced the pure food laws and the commissioners' free rural mail delivery was advocated; a protest was entered against the hawkers and peddler license law of the last legislature; a glowing tribute was paid the Agricultural college; the election of U. S. senators by the people was advocated; as were the postal savings bank system and good roads; the farmers were congratulated upon the passage of the oleomargarine, traveling library and farmers' institute bills. Mr. Horton expressed the fear that the concessions to constant travelers would retard concessions to the occasional traveler and especially to the farmer, and for this reason he favors working for a flat 2 cent fare law.

Speeches were made by ex-Gov. Luce, State Lecturer Woodman, of Paw Paw, and Col. J. H. Brigham of Ohio, assistant secretary of agriculture.

When Gov. Pingree arrived he held an informal reception, all of the delegates calling. It was a very enthusiastic crowd, and showed the governor to be in high favor.

President F. T. Daniels, of Union Home, had charge of the Farmer's Club meeting. A formal address was to come by Justice Moore of the supreme court was responded to by Col. J. H. Ives, of Mason. The secretary, T. D. Wells, of Rochester, reported a most prosperous year, there now being 100 clubs affiliated with the state association, 29 being added during the year. In his annual address President Daniels dwelt upon the marvelous growth of the association. There are now in the state fully 300 farmers' clubs with an aggregate membership of 20,000. Obedient to this association, and it is proposed to have at least one club in every township. While all that was desired was not obtained from the last legislature, yet the result shows that the association yields a powerful influence. The delegates were unanimous in seeing to it that all candidates for the legislature pledge themselves to work for the spirit of the reforms advocated by the association.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Brigham spoke at length on the general topic of "Agriculture." An excellent paper on "The Farmers' Club Why" was read by Mrs. C. D. Lockwood, of Peter.

N. B. Hayes, of Ionia, stirred up the delegates by denouncing certain state senators for their action last winter, and especially for refusing to confirm ex-Gov. Luce as a member of the Ionia prison board. He stated that these legislators were marked and were likely to hear of these matters in the future.

A Blow at Sunday Theaters. In the circuit court at Grand Rapids Judge Grove took a fall out of the Sunday theater people. It was the case of G. Sumner Burroughs, manager of the Grand opera house, convicted in the police court of violating the law by running his theater on Sunday night. The defense contended that as they gave a portion of the receipts to charity, they were exempt from prosecution under the law. After hearing the testimony, Judge Grove took the case away from the jury, said that the charity claim was simply a bold attempt to evade the law, and he ordered a verdict of guilty. A notice of appeal was at once given and the case will be carried to the supreme court immediately.

The Tunnel Co. Responsible. The coroner's inquest on the terrible catastrophe in the St. Clair tunnel at Port Huron, whereby Engineer Conney, Conductor Duan and Brakeman Dalton, of a tunnel train crew, lost their lives, and Brakeman Potter and Fireman Duncan sustained shattered minds, the latter's condition being precarious, resulted in a verdict holding the Tunnel Co. responsible for the awful results of the accident and censuring the authorities of the company for the want of the banding of the train, and also for the long delay in rescuing the unfortunate, and recommends that some means should be provided whereby an alarm can be given if anything goes wrong in the tunnel.

It is said the company offered to settle with the relatives of Dalton and Duan for $3,000 each, before the inquest was over, but the offer was not accepted. It is almost an impossibility to get men to work in the tunnel. Four men had to be taken out a few days ago, being overcome with gas.

Wheat Sown Late in Bad Condition.

The December crop report says: The average condition of wheat in the state is 88 per cent. of condition in average years. The figures for the southern counties are 84, central 91; northern 101. From the statements of correspondents in the southern counties it is clear that the fields in that section are unusually spotted; the plant has made small growth and does not cover the ground as in average years. Wheat sowed early on thoroughly cultivated ground is in nearly average condition. But a large percentage of Michigan wheat was sown late, or ground that it was impossible to properly fit owing to its extremely dry condition. The warm, wet weather that prevailed in the early part of November was exceptionally favorable and insured benefit, but it was then too late for wheat to make its usual fall growth. Fifteen correspondents report hog cholera, as being from southern counties.

A Costly Fire and One Life Lost. The Ossipee Casket works, owned by L. E. Woodward, at Ossipee, the second largest factory in the country, has burned, entailing a loss of $50,000, insurance $30,000. Frank Wilcox, aged 24, employed as night watchman, was found on the first floor, burned to death, with a fire extinguisher in his hands. He leaves a widowed mother in Detroit. The fire is supposed to have been of spontaneous origin, and started in the finishing room. The plant will be rebuilt at once.

First Beet Sugar Factory in the State. The first beet sugar company in the state has been organized at Bay City. Of the capital stock of $300,000, over $200,000 has been subscribed, and the remainder will be obtained by additional subscriptions and by the issue of bonds. It is proposed to have a factory ready for the next crop. Farmers are preparing to raise beets in Saginaw, Midland, Bay, Laporte, Arenac, Shinawsee, Huron, Gratiot and Isabella counties.

MICHIGAN NEWS ITEMS.

Experts are examining the books of the Bay county treasurer.

Saginaw is talking of building a big auditorium to cost $30,000.

Legislative authorities have closed all nickel in the slot machines.

Large quantities of counterfeit nickel coins are circulating in the state.

Charles Ewald, a Turner near Hazelton, fell under a car and was killed.

It cost John Bethune, of Port Huron $10 for selling liquor without a license.

Davis Ward's back was broken by being run over by a street car at Benton Harbor.

Congressman Mesick has arrived at Washington, thus completing the Michigan delegation.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Dore celebrated the fifth anniversary of their marriage at Grass Lake.

The discovery of large bed of zinc marl has caused considerable excitement about St. Ignace.

It is said that tax titles on three Lansing churches have been withheld up by sharks for unpaid taxes.

Five Marquette safe-crackers were fined $10 each for selling out of legal hours, and five more awaiting trial.

Work on Grand River improvement has stopped for the season. The channel thus far has been dredged for a distance of 16 miles, and 11 miles yet remain to be worked on. The amount expended has been $16,875, and about $30,000 still remains to complete the work. When the present appropriation is expended it is proposed to ask for another of $250,000.

Fire broke out in the basement of Killogg's drug store in the Shearer block, Bay City, destroying a large stock of drugs and Christmas goods and damaging the steel above by smoke and water. The loss on the stock is about $8,000, and to the block, $1,000, covered by insurance. Chief Harding fell and was hurt about the back while going to the fire.

Attorney-General Maynard, who is assisting in the trial of the case commenced by Pingree to compel the Michigan Central railroad company to sell family 1,000-mile tickets for $20, required by the law of 1881, believes he will be able to show that the Michigan Central company has forfeited its rights under its special charter by consolidating with other companies.

Edward Rogers, sent to Jackson prison for life from Saginaw Aug. 29, 1891, for murder, has been pardoned by Gov. Pingree. Rogers' home was in New York City, where he had a wife and children. He had been drinking heavily and left home. At Saginaw he became infatuated with a woman and was determined to marry her, but she repeatedly refused and in a fit of anger he shot her dead and unsuccessfully tried to kill himself.

The U. S. supreme court has handed down a decision that probably ends the long-contested attempt to get a benefit by taking advantage of the first imperfect surveys of Michigan public lands to oust those who hold under later and more perfect surveys. The case of the Michigan Land & Lumber Co. vs. Charles A. Rust, of Saginaw, was affirmed with costs, which knocks out the Michigan Land & Lumber Co., and is a great victory for homesteaders in the upper peninsula.

SPLENDID CUBAN VICTORIES.

President Wallace says that with the completion of the rail and tramway over the Culebra Pass, Friday last, many passengers and freight from Havana can be landed at Lake Linden in twelve hours, which leaves via St. Paul and Northern Pacific Ry., to Lake Superior, from Chicago eight days. Send two cents postage to this office. General Passenger Agent, St. Paul, Minn., for the late and best map under the sun. The Northern Pacific is the pioneer line in Alaska passenger business, and runs solid throughout, steaming heated passenger trains to Tacoma, Seattle and Portland, with dining cars, and coaches, sleeping cars, steam elevators, etc. to make the trip a direct passenger run.

YOU CAN'T STOP 'EM.

The fury of an Unrested Element fails to crush them. — The Fire Field stands. The news comes from Africa, Italy, of the destruction by fire of the big laboratory and office building of the Sterling Remedy Company, makers of Castrol's Candy Caramels and No Tobacco, the original guaranteed tobacco substitute. The preparations made by this big corporation are known throughout the world.

The fire broke out in one of the packing rooms on the third floor during the noon hour and had made considerable headway before it was discovered.

The Sterling Remedy company is the principal industry of the beautiful little city of Africa, employing several hundred people besides being affiliated with the interests of the British Mineral Springs, the famous mine and cure.

The venture proved a success, was worked up to a frenzy of excitement. Meanwhile, the almost proverbial energy and presence of mind of Bustling Harry Kramer, the general manager of the Sterling Remedy company, was displayed. He was in the greatest danger at the scene. He quietly walked away and secured a carriage shown soon after by an lad an office furniture, charred and delapidated as it was taken there. Several shipments were made the same evening from goods saved, and on Friday morning all departments were at work in various rooms about town while a gang of men were cleaning away the wreckage, preliminary to rebuilding.

The present bill is the outgrowth of more than 100 years of agitation. The thought of a national university first came to life in Washington while commanding the revolutionary army. Subsequently, as President, he repeatedly urged its establishment, and bequeathed $20,000 in stocks as a first endowment. The bill was introduced in Congress, but failed to pass. Had Congress passed the bill, the sum would now be nearly $20,000,000. Other presidents have also favored the idea, but owing to the lack of organization nothing practical was accomplished.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

From the Albion Telegraph. The following statement is one of great interest to many citizens of Kalamazoo, and is well known to Mr. Wallace, who should carry right on ordinary weath with our readers. Here it is, as taken down for my reproduction:

My name is John A. Wallace, I am member of the firm of J. A. Wallace & Co., doing business as timber, etc., at 101 Eleanor Street, Kalamazoo, in which city I reside. For the past month or ten months I have been laying attacks of kidney complaint, the pain so bad over my hips every stroke at me; my ordinary physician was also in a bad state of derangement; sometimes the urine was scanty and then again the patient would be excessive, and a difficulty of passage always existed. I heard of Dean's Kidney Pills at a time when I felt that I was going to be sick, but did not consider it an attack, and I am now feeling very much better. The primary organ has regained a normal condition, and the terrible pain in my back is much reduced in severity, while it is now fast going away altogether. I am continuing the use of Dean's Kidney Pills, with positive feeling that they will effect on me a permanent and speedy cure. I have unbounded confidence in Dean's Kidney Pills as a remedy for all kidney ailments; have good reason to be as they have done so much for me.

Can you ask me more than this? Dean's Kidney Pills are relieving more facets of the burdens they have been forced to bear through the kidneys than all other means devised, and better still, they are doing this in here in single doses. Ask any one who has ever taken them and see what they will say.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

The opening of congress with the annual message and reports has not discouraged business as some predicted, but our speculate on the week before. The productive industries, even in the season usually about the dullest of the year, to new orders meets a decided movement in denoted for the future. The market is in a condition of expectation that new business will begin to crowd the works after the new year starts. The outward movement of wheat and other products continues to be strong, and the market is in a condition of expectation that new business will begin to crowd the works after the new year starts.

In some districts, immediately after the service, everyone hurries from church, either on foot or in sleighs, for there is an old saying that he who gets home first will have his crop first harvested. What it lost in noise and frolic, it made up in cheerfulness and good will; and now, remembering the message of that first Christmas morning, we call the merry Christmas day.

CAUSE FOR ALARM.

How baldness begins.

How to prevent it.

Every person, male or female, shrinks hair and gives an abundant and glossy growth. Those who are threatened with approaching baldness will be interested in the following article, written by Dr. Alderman S. J. Green, of Spencer, Iowa. He writes:

"I am sorry to say, my hair com- mences to thin out, especially that I became alarmed, and being recommended Dr. Ayer's Hair Vigor by a druggist, I resolved to try this preparation. I have been now using it for six months, and have made a marked improvement. The hair grows in the scalp like hair in the soil. It is a plant fibres, it must have constant attention. It must be watered regularly, and I do this with the oil. It is a good oil, and it is good for the hair. Baldness is usually the beginning of baldness. Dandruff is allowed to the skin on the scalp. The hair begins to fall off, and scales appear on the skin. The hair which has been falling out and also that hair which has been turning gray for the past five years has been restored to its original color, dark brown. It gives me much pleasure, and I am very glad to be using it." — Green, Alderman, Spencer, Iowa.

Those who are interested in preserving their hair, and making it grow, may obtain Dr. Ayer's Hair Vigor, the most practical and valuable preparation for the hair, that can be obtained. It comes in a small bottle containing 100 drops, and costs 50 cents. It is sent free, on request, by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

OLD TIME CUSTOMS.

DESTROY A SPANISH TOWN—KILL 800 SPANIARDS—CAPTURE A SEAPORT.

Reports have been received of the capture of the Spanish stronghold at Guisa by the Cuban insurgents under Gen. Garcia, and they state that the entire garrison of the town, composed of 800 men, was killed. Only 35 Spanish soldiers survived and they were made prisoners by Gen. Garcia. The Spanish official report describes the terrible effects of the pneumatic dynamite gun used by Gen. Garcia. The insurgents fired 22 dynamite shots on the fort and each shot wrought terrible havoc. Not a house remains in Guisa, all having been blown to pieces. Besides the dynamite gun the insurgents used two field pieces, and completed the destruction of the town in 12 hours.

GUAJAS CAPTURE A SEAPORT.

It is officially announced in Havana that a group of rebels entered Caimanera "favored by the treason of an officer." Caimanera is the port of Guantamano, and is situated 15 miles from the latter place, on the Bay of Guantamano. The insurgent force plundered a store and carried off the sum of $20,000 which had just arrived from Havana. The insurgents killed the soldiers and the paramarines who were guarding the treasure. Numerous Spanish guerrillas, the official announcement concludes, have joined the insurgents.

FOOD FOR CONCENTRATES CUT OUT.

Capt. Gen. Blanco has ordered the distribution of rations to the concentrados to be stopped. $100,000 being distributed among them in lieu of rations.

THE UNIVERSITY OF THE UNITED STATES.

The bill to establish the University of the United States is to be introduced in both houses of congress soon. In general terms it provides for an institution of the highest possible type, for the graduates of accredited colleges and universities only, with special reference to the work of original research and investigation in all important fields of inquiry.

The present bill is the outgrowth of more than 100 years of agitation. The thought of a national university first came to life in Washington while commanding the revolutionary army.

Subsequently, as President, he repeatedly urged its establishment, and bequeathed $20,000 in stocks as a first endowment.
