COUNTER PLOT.

Two Redford Farmers Made One on a Neighbor.

HAD HIM LODGED IN DETROIT JAIL ON TRIAL DAY.

Trouble Over a Line Fence, Cause of Excitement.

These are at least two Redford Freshmen who are "not so slow" either. The foremost one of the incidents however was engendered by Deputy Sheriff Tamm and Mr. Perrie when the papers were served one night last week, as they saw and listened to the half French-half Yankee vocabulary as it turned and together they saved the girl with their sign and word language.

The trouble was between three neighboring farmers, Chas. Pinck, Peter Foll and Chas. Riggs. It appears that the latter two, allied to Mr. Tamm's, had wire fence up and they cut it down and re-upped it again. Foll and Pinck had a warrant for the arrest of the two neighbors later. Then Pinck, not to be outdone, tears down Tamm's and Riggs' fence and loads it on his wagon and drags it home. Fleed to Northville he found himself a short time later with a warrant for the arrest of his two neighbors. Pinck drove down with the warrant Wednesday night but owing to failing time left them on their promise to appear in court the next morning. Just here was reason to feel better than ever. They put two and two together and thought it would be nice idea if Pinck didn't appear at all from Northville that day morning. The thought was fostered in the neighborhood and in short space of time they were in Detroit securing out a warrant for Pinck's arrest on the same charge and a deputy from the city served it at 4:00 o'clock a.m., and when Pinck appeared he didn't appear here Thursday morning. Complainant Pinck was languishing in the Detroit jail and of course Justice Lowden had nothing to do but dismiss their case. Pinck was released on bail later in the day and his trial will come up later.

A NORTHVILLE BOY

WON IN NORMAL ORATORICAL CONTEST AT YPSI SATURDAY.

Northville's Fame Is Added to This Time by Art Nichols.

In the Normal News oratorical contest at Ypsilanti Saturday night Arthur S. Nichols of this place, and a graduate of the Northville school, now Normal 98th, won first place and the $30 gold prize and will go to Albion next month for the last tug. Art is a member of the Olympia Club and in the beginning of the contest won for his club their first prize, the silver cup. Art made his first start in an oratorical way in the Northville High-school lyceum and has embraced many opportunities since that time to put his talent to use. During the campaign of '91 Art's silvery tongue echoed through more than one school house filled more than one hall and startled the natives of more than one hamlet in the peninsular state as he sounded the praises of his favorite or scathingly told of the shortcomings of the opposite party.

The question of debate in the Normal contest is, "Resolved that U. S. senators should be elected by a direct vote of the people?" Upon this occasion Nichols won on the affirmative, but when the final comes at Albion next month, he is obliged to take the negative side and for the fame of Northville he is expected to, and doubtless will, win.

IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Act Providing for Township Peddling Licenses.

On Wednesday the supreme court decided that the law passed by the last legislature providing for the issuing of peddlers' licenses by town boards at a fee of $5 to $30 was unconstitutional.

Suburban News.

A $150,000 eastern factory is fitting with Holly.

John Fitzgibbon of Wayne will now try to earn $1,000 a year as court deputy.

George Gebhard of Plymouth and Mary Gottschalk of Livonia are married.

George Walz of Wayne is looking for the fellow who has borrowed two of his axes without axful.

The Milford Times moved into its new home this week, one of the most convenient and commodious in the village.

A few goats are wanted at Holly to consume the ashes, if cans etc., now being thrown into the streets by reckless residents.

Where's a town of our size can beat us on Judge? We have thirteen of em," Detroit Times.

Here Northville with less population is trying to say nothing of half a dozen auxiliaries.

Kisses come high at Wauwatosa, Dennis Reno, the village blacksmith paid a sum of $5 last week for just trying to load one on Eliza Warner's fan check. Had he succeeded the price would probably have been $5.

In taking of a recent burglar in Hazel Park the Times says: "The villain of thieves left nothing behind but the wretched turpits in the except the which led to a shot in the rear of the Methodist church."

A search should be made among the pillars of the church.

Numerous instances have been noted this fall of street robbers and highwaymen operating from the hotel and grocery stores in Hazel Park, making off with packages and so forth.

St. John, when did you write that article?

It snows and blows, and stamps your nose—makes all creation shiver, it takes your toes, increases your woes, and braces up a roger. The frost is all cold, great and small, thin, dismal, drab, scatter, it freeze-type and turns the pine and makes sore the printer. So let her roll—we mean the road—it takes the cold in winter, now does he cold and make up your mind to settle with the prints.

Quite a laughable incident occurred at our central telephone station a few evenings since, when a lady of our city who has the reputation of being different than anybody else in creation, was called in by a messenger to talk with a friend in another city. Not quite knowing where to go, the superintendent conducted her to the booth where the patrons talk. "Why, I don't want to go in there," said the lady blushing. "Why, yes you do," replied the manager. "Our private phone is in there; I will shut the door and no one in the store can hear your conversation." Oh, is that it? I thought it was the toilet room," said the unsophisticated lady. —Hudson Gazette.

Faith.

Can this heritage so fair be the only end? a Pale,

Where ends life's ambitions, of hopes and fears?

Was the flaming Sword aloft at Eden's gate,

To guard forever; and leave a guilty world in tears?

Was Edie's loveliness and bloom forever to be nursed?

And bloom with regal splendor, for no human eyes?

Or, was it the symbol of a realm, never to be gored?

A prelude, to some grander scheme, where faith should rise?

Was hope, and pardon lost, and never to be found?

An, no! the masterpiece of His Almighty hand.

Whose hand, Fate has no power to countermand.

Was fashioned, for a nobler, more exalted end,

O, thou Spirit, from that realm of cloudless day,

Guardian of wounded hearts and wayworn tired feet,

Through darkest mists, and tangled wild without a ray,

Lead thou my pathway out upon some golden street.

For thou tellst me of a glorious, royal clime,

Where Edie's beauty blooms, and shall forever bloom?

To glad the eyes, and feast the soul; a spirit sublime,

When freed from earth's chains of sorrow and gloom.

Hasten thou sweet Spirit, when adversity falls.

To weaken my faith and darken my way.

Then cheer me with hope, that no sorrow appals,

And guide with the torch, to an endless bright day.

O, give me a faith that will span the dark streams,

That each mortal in the end must fold,

A faith on whose crest that light shall gleam,

To light poor wanderers, the way to the Lord.

—A. M. RANDOLPH.

Northville, Dec. 13, 1897.

SHOT IN THE ARM.

PRESTON FULLER, WAS MONDAY BY BEECH NORTHRUP.

Were Hunting Rabbits and Beech's Gun Accidentally Exploded.

The grim reaper, with his long sickle, must have hovered very close around Preston Fuller Monday and it was just about as near as he could get and leave the hunter to tell the story.

Fuller and Beech Northrup were busy as two bees in a summer day—cherry-picked tracking rabbits and marking the tracks for breakfast directions.

The tracks of one fat fellow led underneath a large brush heap and upon it Fuller created a Sioux Indian war dance. Out bounded the bob tail and Fuller stopped his dance long enough to buy him low, but the excitement was intense, Beech had his gun loaded and primed and about the time Fuller's gun went off by some hook or crook Beech's also exploded and part of his shotgun landed in Fuller's left arm near the elbow. Fortunately no bones were shattered or arteries severed, a little painful and Preston will receive his Christmas presents tomorrow with his old time vigor though obliged to carve the family turkey with one hand

DONNA IS DEAD.

THE BRIGHT LITTLE DAUGHTER OF MR. & MRS. DON YERKES

Of Milford Died Monday Night—Burial Here Yesterday.

Donna the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Yerkes of Milford, formerly of this place, died Monday evening. The sad news, sadder because of its unexpectedness, reached here about 7:30. The little one's serenity was noted in last week's Record but the indications then were, and in fact so remained until very brief time before death ensued, that the chances were all in favor of a permanent, though probably slow, recovery. Near noon on Monday a decided change was noticed. About three o'clock a chill ensued, followed by a high fever from which she continued to grow worse until about 5:30, when the curtains of Heaven's great blue sky were swept aside by the unseen angel's scepter and the little spirit was wafted into the bright beyond.

Donna was particularly a bright and lovely child, and was a general favorite not only among her relatives but in the families of the neighborhood as well.

It was bright, transient, gleam of life in life's circumscribed dream.

Even so some will remember'd dream Of happier times—us—its past.

The funeral occurred from the

Milford Baptist church yesterday noon and the remains were brought here on the afternoon train and laid to rest in Forest Hill. The deepest sympathy is universally expressed by Northville people.

From the Klondike Country. Following letter recently received from the Klondike country from a nephew of Morris Lancaster of this place who is enroute for the gold fields, will doubtless prove of interest to Record readers:

Telegraph Creek, B. C., Oct. 12, 1897. I suppose she remembers about that monkey and parrot time, well we have had it. I wrote this from Wrangell. After telling about our boat a snow 22 ft long. We left one morning about 6 o'clock with an Indian for helmsman and about 1500 lbs of grub, clothes, etc. That night we camped just below the mouth of the Skagway river, near Pt. Robinson. We found some of the boys who had left Wrangell three days before and with no guides, and loads were stuck, and were going back the next morning. They told us we could not go up the river, as the current was running like a mill race and they could make no headway whatever. They asked our Indian what he thought and he said we would never make it but he did not calculate on Colorado nerve for we left the next morning and went around Point Kotzebue and passed a lot more fellows stuck. Well we kept doing that all the way up the river and we passed fellows who had been cut off from two weeks to a month. But it was on account of our Indian. He was a wonder and the way he handled that scow was astonishing to me. We had a long line and he would get on a har and pull and he would steer that boat to take advantage of every eddy and wherever easy water was there would the man be found. But I never worked so hard in my life and the worst part was it rained every day and all night. We were wet for two weeks, not for ashile, but all the time. We had to live on bacon, beans, rice and coffee and baking powder bread. That Indian would get out in the brush with an ax and bring in a stick of wood and chop it up and it would actually burn in our stove. We have a tent and a steel sheet stove inside of it when we camp. We passed a big lot of wagons and in some of them were tons of rock up several feet in the air. We heard several avalanches but did not see any movement. One the Indians call Mt. Mountain is miles if not two, on the river and extends out back into the mountains. Farther than we could see. From the mouth of the river about 125 miles we can through the Cascade mountains, and they are a big range. Just imagine us up a swift river through mile after mile of mountainous land. No man could walk just about make a tunnel on the side of one of them. Some of them run up to sharp points that look like tall spires 2000 feet above the main highway. We are through the range now, full in a latter country, although it is very hilly and this climate is about like Germany. They raise potatoes but only a few. Mostly Indians up here with two stores, one run by the Hudson Bay Co. and one by a company great deal on the side order. This is the head of canoe navigation and from here the miners have packed through to Lake Superior and into the Cissar country for years.

Bacon sells here for 30c per lb., sugar 20c, and everything else in proportion. We have got enough to last us a year but the task of getting it through to Teslin Lake, 160 miles, is a big item. We expect to go out on the trail as far as we can get in another month, build us a cabin to winter in, and get some game. Moose and caribou are said to be plentiful from 25 to 50 miles from here. We hear great tales of gold on the Hootalinqua river, but no one has come out here with any gold, as they go down stream from Teslin Lake, and most of them go out by the river route—St. Michael's.

We wish more of the men would patronize that little box at the side of the door as they go out. It calls for small sums and these if put together will add wonderfully to our income and help to do work that we are unable to undertake now.

Sunday's meeting was an excellent one. The women are thoroughly interested in the work and we are glad. The following program was presented: Prayer, Rev. W. M. Ward; anthem, Methodist choir; reading, Mrs. R. H. Purdy; quartette, High-school four; "Necessity of Men's Work for Men," D. C. Bliss; "How Shall the Work Be Done," G. A. ## PENINSULA MATTERS.

RELATED IN A BRIEF, CONCISE MANNER.

Alpena Man Fires Four Bullets into the Body of His Defenseless Wife—Collision Caused by an Engineer's Forgetfulness—Railroad Juries to Term.

Casey's Wife Fear Threats
Misfortune to Casey went to the home of his wife's mother, Mrs. Sheridan, at Alpena and shot his wife four bullets taking effect. The first shot struck her just under the right eye, going back into the head. The woman turned and ran, but Casey fired again, breaking her left arm. She fell and crawled under a table, and he fired two more shots, both of which struck her in the hips. The murderer then went to his own home, left his overcoat, kissed his little boy and went toward the river, and it is believed he has committed suicide. Mrs. Casey cannot recover.

Casey was about 40 years of age and his wife 39. He is a teacher of boxing and formerly kept a saloon. The couple have not lived happily for years, and Mrs. Casey recently secured a legal separation, which is giving the body of one child. Casey seemed to think a good deal of his wife and has brooded over the separation, and it is thought, was out of his mind.

Later—Casey was caught at the farm of Coon Ribble, five miles from Alpena. After Casey had been there all night he told Ribble what he had done. The latter would not believe the story, but he induced Casey to give up his revolver and then went to Alpena and told the officers where Casey was hiding and he was easily captured. He claims not to remember the incidents of the tragedy and raves about his poor wife, acts as if he is if she is dead, etc. He raves, cries and is morose by turns.

Mrs. Casey is still alive and the doctors have some hope for her recovery.

Gov. Pingree's Asphalt Deal Fails.

News has been received from Caracas, Venezuela, that the deal for the sale of the Pedernales asphalt mine, near the mouth of the Orinoco river, to Gov. Pingree of Michigan, has fallen through. Gov. Pingree was in high feather when he secured an option on the asphalt mine and soon formed a syndicate to his return home. Col.

Ell R. Sulton, of Detroit, a Milwaukee banker and two engineers went to Caracas with letters of credit and fully power to close the deal immediately. They were surprised when they were told that the shareholders of the asphalt mine demanded $10,000 for the property instead of $5,000 stipulated in the option and so far, Pingree's syndicate were not willing to part, failed to return home without making the deal.

Rights of the Grip Cleared.

The traveling men of Utica through their organization the Knights of the Grip have won a victory in the fight they have been putting up for three years for a satisfactory interchangeable mileage book, and the Michigan roads almost entirely have decided to issue the book they have in mind. The new mileage book will be issued about Jan. 1. It will be a 1,000 mile book sold for $10 with a $10 rebate on return of the book if the book does not properly used. It will be good only for the purchaser will be accepted for passage by train conductors and will permit of the checking of baggage through junction points.

Extensive Prospecting for Coal.

The J. H. Somers Fuel Co. of Cleveland, has secured coal leases on an additional 1,000 acres of land in Kawkawlin township Bay Co., Mich. and are sinking test holes in several of the coal veins. The Meyer Bros. have also closed an agreement with the owners of 1,100 acres in the same township for the right to prospect for coal. The United Alcan Co., of Liverpool Eng. The terms of the contract require the Zelmeners to make tests to their satisfaction within two years, and to sink a shaft for mining before three years. The owners to receive seven tons per acre of coal. There are half a dozen properties owning the land and they have formed a pool by which they all receive their share for the coal taken out, no matter on whose land mining is started.

Bursting Waterworks Reservoir.

The waterworks reservoir at Munising, Mich. gave way with a noise like the roar of Niagara. It had just been completed by the Shaw-Kimball Engineering Co., of Toledo, and the company had appointed a committee to inspect the job. The reservoir is 317 feet above the level of the streets and supplied the water mains of the village. The break was caused by trees enclosing the cement and the water working its way through the loose earth. The amount of damage has not been estimated. The village is not without the protection, however, for the mains can be fed by direct pressure from the bay by means of the new water works power house.

From one in large quantities have been discovered near Munising.

A bonds of $1,000 is being raised at Munice to secure a tax and excess or mill.

The fifth annual meeting of the association of the judges of Michigan will be held at Lansing commencing Dec. 28.

The postoffice at Laurium will be raised to the presidential class on Jan. 1, the salary of the postmaster to be $1,000 per annum.

Saginaw and Bay City are receiving many inquiries from factories seeking locations since the recent discovery of coal in that district.

Electrical Works Burn at Port Huron.
The Excelsior electric works at Port Huron, burned at an estimated loss of $10,000. The fire started in the boiler room, and a heavy draught swept through the structure, causing the flames spread with such rapidity that the building was totally destroyed before the firemen could gain control. The city electric rail car is paralyzed, as its motive power was furnished by the electrical plant. The four generators belonging to the street car company were ruined. Many business places using electricity, generated by the Excelsior works will have to burn gas.

V. F. Davidson Linager of the Excelsior Electric Light Co. had started for Detroit, and at Lenox was notified by telegraph of the burning of the plant. He at once telegraphed from Lenox to Chicago for steel for a new building. He also ordered brick for a new building, by telegraph, and closed a contract for its erection. This feat was accomplished before Mr. Davidson had seen the ruins and, before the flames were extinguished.

Engineer Torso His Orders.

A west bound passenger train and an extra freight, consisting of 10 cars and a caboose, collided near Wilderville station on the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton railroad. Both engines were ruined and the freight cars piled up almost as high as a telegraph pole. Five men were injured, but no one killed. All will probably recover.

The extra freight was made up at Marshall and was to meet the passenger at Underhill. Engineer Ben Cooper forgot his orders and when he passed by the stopping place Conductor Scully says he made a frantic attempt to stop the train by applying his caboose brakes. The following is a list of the injured: Engineer Webb Lott of the passenger, left leg broken; Brakeman F. E. Williams, baggage man Albert Arner, Line Repairman McRiff, of Tecumseh and Frank Butler, passenger fireman. The crews of both engines jumped and their injuries were rosyed in this way. None of the passengers were injured.
