OLD FOLKS' DAY.

Appropriately Observed in the Methodist Church Sunday.

FORTY-EIGHT PRESENT PAST 60 YEARS OF AGE.

Pleasing Addresses Made by Four of the "Boys."

The special annual meeting for old people which was held in the Methodist church Sunday morning is the fifth one of the kind, and it was the best one by all odds. The young folks decorated the church with plants and bunting and provided comfortable rocking chairs for the guests, making everything blue-like and inviting. Each of the past sixty was presented with a bouquet of violets by the Junior League committee, as they fattered. The exercises were planned to call up memories; hence all the songs and the speeches were of a reminiscent character.

F. H. Beal recalled one of the early and interesting incidents of the beginning of Methodism in this section. Captain Simonds described the way they used to go to meeting and how the services were conducted. L. W. Hutton told of the old meetings and prayer meetings of old days when the "Amens" and "Hallelujahs" were more common than now; and John H. Daniels pictured the old meeting house in York street with its high pulpit, box-like pews and the old heating stoves, with their long creosote-collecting stoves. The service was thoroughly enjoyed by the old people and it was full of interest for the youngsters.

The following report, compiled by C. A. Dolph, was given as a closer:

"Our guests today number 48—more than a year ago. Those with us were born in widely scattered counties: 30 in New York; 7 in Michigan; 23 in 1 in Connecticut; 1 in Massachusetts; 1 in New Hampshire; 1 in Maine; and 3 in land. Of this lot one ("Uncle" John Siskime) to Michigan in 1827; 11 during 1830's; 10 during the 40's and the remainder in later years. None here today have had their 50th birthday, though 7 are past; 19 past seventy and 22 are sixty or over. Twenty who are with us today present a year ago, and two of those who then have entered within the veil."

72d ANNIVERSARY.

THE YERKES FAMILY CELEBRATE THEIR ARRIVAL IN MICHAN.

Emigrated from New York in the Spring of '25.

In making bright early stages of history for the township Plymouth and Novi, no one has played quite such a prominent part or been more active in the city's development as that of the Yerkes. And so it is but fitting that the years go by the children and grandchildren shall meet from year to year to commemorate the anniversary of their arrival in the now greenish-sular state.

The seventy-second anniversary of that occasion was observed by the gathering of the various families, together with a few neighboring pioneers, at the pleasant home of Mrs. Holcomb who lives on the original Yerkes site just east of the village, on Saturday of last.

In speaking of those early "Uncle" Joe Yerkes, the eldest of the "boys" (now in his eightieth) says their father Wm. Yerkes and his cousin "Uncle Tommy" Pinkerton came to this then territory of Michigan in the spring of 1825 and selected and purchased of the government the farms on which each of them lived for more than fifty years and on which they ended their days. In the following summer Joseph Yerkes, father of William, came and located the land on which he lived the rest of his life.

After purchasing their farms they returned home and in the early part of March 1826 William Yerkes, and Thomas Pinkerton then in the employ of Joseph Yerkes, with their knapsacks and guns started for Michigan to prepare a shelter for the families on their arrival here. The journey was made almost entirely on foot, coming through Canada, then an almost unbroken wilderness.

I remember well when they started from my grandfather's with their packs strapped to their backs. My father with a gun in his hand and each with a load sufficient for an ordinary mule. They carried their load for five hundred miles at a most inclement season of the year. They were men of great physical strength and will force.

On the 18th of April following, the families and others, fourteen in all, left Romulus, Seneca Co. N. Y., for their new homes in Michigan. The journey was made to Buffalo in wagons occupying four days' time. After waiting some eight days for the ice to move out of the harbor a passage was secured on a sailing vessel and a start made for Detroit. That place was reached after a very rough voyage in ten days.

The goods were loaded and with five or six cows we started for this place by way of Springwells and River Rouge. These pioneers consisted of Joseph Yerkes, John and Joseph his sons, and Mary, Sarah, Elizabeth and Hannah his daughters; William Yerkes and Hester his wife; Joseph, Wm. P., Mary and John their children, also Thomas Pinkerton, Richard Boughton and Stephen G. Hayward, sixteen in all.

Those present at the reunion, Saturday, besides the Record representative and the sketch artist Howard Porter, were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yerkes, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Yerkes, Carl and Grace Yerkes, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Yerkes, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Yerkes, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Yerkes, Purd, Joseph, George, Will H. and Clement Yerkes; A. J. Welch and wife, Frank Barrett and wife, Sumner Power and family; Miss Mary Power, Mesdames T. J. Perkins, Susie Woolley, A. Barnhart, D. White, Gertrude Swift, D. F. Griswold, E. J. Holcomb, Wm. Pinkerton and wife, Ray Holcomb and Miss Rockwitz.

The affair was an exceedingly pleasant one and the scenes of former days were lived over again in a way that was enjoyable far beyond mere descriptive words.

SEVENTY BIKES.

That Many New Ones Sold in Northville This Year.

Though the season has but just begun sixty-seven bicycles have been sold by Northville dealers so far this season. The White people have disposed of 23; the Northville Cycle Co. 14; Carpenter, Yerkes & Harmon 10; Clifton Covert 8; V. O. Whipple & Son 7; and other agents have sold 5. Besides this number, a few have been purchased in Detroit, so that it is safe to say that there has been purchased by Northvillians this year not less than 70 new wheels, representing an expenditure of something like $2,500.

LIBERTY POLE!

Big One Raised on the Dubuay Factory Grounds

SATURDAY EVENING TO THE TUNE "STAR SPANGLED BANNER."

Big Crowd—Big Flag—Appropriate Speeches—Band—etc.

There are probably more U. S. flags flying in Northville today than in any other village in the state of Michigan. From nearly every house-top or window of the residence portion of the town and from business places and flag poles waves "Old Glory."

But to Mr. Dubuay of the J. A. Dubuay Mfg. Co. belongs the honor of raising the tallest pole and swinging out the largest flag in the village. The big pole, 70 feet above the ground, located just in the rear of the factory office was raised as the factories ceased work Saturday evening. There was a large and enthusiastic crowd present and as the cords were broken to set the big 8x15 flag aloft at the top of the pole, the city band played "The Star Spangled Banner" while the people cheered themselves hoarse. Then a big truck wagon was hauled up for a platform and H. E. C. Daniels and F. R. Beal each gave a patriotic talk, the former telling of the flag and what it stood for in his usual energetic way, and Mr. Beal spoke enthusiastically of the "liberty pole" and what liberty meant. Both addresses were timely and well received.

BEATS A HORSE SHOE.

Shipping Clerk's Berth at the Globe Office Does.

The office of shipping clerk at the Globe Co.'s office beats finding a horse shoe "all holler". It appears to be a regular lucky stepping stone to something better. Record readers will no doubt be interested in the whereabouts and occupations of those who have held this position during the company's existence.

Chas. Booth was the first one and now he is a man of affairs and holds the secretaryship of the largest church furniture factory in the world; two (Hi Jackson) is an official on the F. & P. M. railway; three (C. A. Downer) is digging gold nuggets in Klondike; four (L. A. Beal) is making a cold name for himself manufacturing refrigerators and is the superintendent of the big Columbia company; five (Rev. Mr. Lund) is a preacher of the gospel; six is an eminent lawyer (Kern Babbitt) at Cripple Creek, Colorado; seven (Dell Hayes) is manager of a famous stock farm; eight (Harry Wagoner) is editor of a western newspaper; nine is "Black Bill" the noted ex-fire chief; ten (Frank Lewis) is a soldier in Uncle Sam's present trouble; eleven (Henry Fry) is a partner in one of Northville's largest retail grocery houses; twelve (Hoyt Woodman) moves on to become an active competitor of Armour, Standish et al in the meat line, and now comes Ed. Perrin for the next honor.

A RECEPTION.

Tendered Mr. and Mrs. John B. Ward = Wednesday Night.

A reception by Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Ward was tendered Mr. and Mrs. John B. Ward at the Methodist parsonage Wednesday evening. It was an exceedingly enjoyable and pretty affair, and about 50 guests were present.

A pleasant social event occurred in Northton last week Thursday when Miss Lucia, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Y. Gilmore, was united in marriage with Mr. John B. Ward of Northville. The ceremony was performed by the groom's brother, Rev. W. M. Ward, of the same place, in the presence of a few invited guests. The bride was attended by Miss Effie Risner, and Mr. M. W. Hearn acted as best man. The bride was attired in cream tulle and more trimmed with cream silk lace and carried a white satin fan trimmed with cream tea roses and carnations. Miss Risner's dress was white organdie over pink trimmed with pink moire and white lace and carried a satin fan trimmed with pink carnations and tea roses. The rooms were tastefully decorated with smax, tea roses, carnations, ferns and white lilies. After the ceremony an elegant dinner was served, the bridal party occupying a table decorated in pink and white. The guests' table contained a fine fruit piece, hand-painted dinner cards with smax and smax decorations. Aside from home friends were guests from Detroit, Canada, Plymouth, Northville and Brighton. Mr. and Mrs. Ward will be at home at 18 Grace avenue, Northville, after June 1st.—E

If Admiral Dewey is so fond of dressing himself when he is on shore, that explains how he so handily and thoroughly dressed the Spaniards on the water. He is a dresser from way back, and a little difference of environment doesn't count.

The Northville Record had a six inch write-up of the Courtenay Morgan Opera Co., which played there last week, but failed to even mention the Township Sunday-school convention which was held here two weeks ago.—Plymouth Mail.

All of which goes to show where our reporters were.

Work has been commenced on the electric road extension from Sylvan Lake, and Pontiac people are expecting trolley rides to Orchard Lake in the near future. The country will, in a few years more be a network of electric lines and the railroads must take a back seat; but in a few more years when the horseless vehicles have come to stay, then what next? Air ships?

Wonderful

The growth of leaves on a fancy stand owned by Bert Wood, now on exhibit in our show window, is certainly a wonderful freak of nature and is exciting much curiosity. Undoubtedly it is the first case of the kind on record. Just think of it—a common rustic stand all painted and varnished growing leaves several months after being finished. Liable to have fruit on it next? But then we don't know as it is any more wonderful than the prices we are making on the fine new line of Crash Suits, Crash Pants, Crash Hats and Crash Caps on exhibit in the same window and throughout our big store. All new stock put in today.

High-school Notes.

A few of the pupils are wearing brass buttons from the USA uniforms for badges. They were presented by the boy in blue from the class of '98—Bruce Babcock.

"Watch on the Rhine" was sung in chapel a few mornings ago, and two or three members of the German 11 class helped out with the original version of the song. Of course they were careful to sing low enough so that Prof. Bliss would not notice it, and he will probably remain in ignorance of the fact until he sees this. While part were singing: "A voice resounds like thunder peal," the "Deutschers" were singing: "Es braust ein Ruf wie Donnerhall."

All Northville people interested in the progress of the school in scientific matters are cordially invited to come to the High-school laboratory at 4 o'clock Friday and Monday afternoons, when motors, dynamos and other machinery constructed by pupils of the school will be exhibited. One excellent feature of our High school course is the thorough and practical work required in the different sciences, the benefit of which training to the pupils is clearly shown in the electrical machinery which they have constructed. The YMCA committee found it necessary to omit the men's meeting last Sunday. For next Sunday they announce J. H. Daniels as the speaker. They expect to have a large attendance, not only because Mr. Daniels is "one of the boys," but he is also one of the most popular speakers in the village.

A short time ago a man came through Northville selling rustic stands. He had a load of them and they were finished up rather prettily, being painted black, varnished and gilded. Bert Wood purchased one of the stands and recently it has taken upon itself a remarkable growth. The legs and some of the ornament work have commenced to bud, and on one of the legs leaves appear more than two inches in length. The stand is on exhibit in the Star Clothing house window and the wonderful freak of nature is exciting much curiosity.

Sparks from the chimney dropping back on the kitchen roof on W. A. Wood's house caused an alarm of fire Monday forenoon. Ed Mooney biked it down and pulled the alarm, and in just four minutes from the time he left Wood's house the fire department had a hose stretched and was ready to turn on the water. The blaze, however, had but a small start and was quickly subdued by a few pails of water. The damage to the roof, $10, is covered by insurance.

The Record erred last week in stating, after the accident to Mr. Brooks' little girl, who was run over while riding on a bicycle, that Mr. Johnson's daughter and the girl with her in the carriage did not stop to enquire as to the result of the mishap. Their own horse became almost uncontrollable as a result of the collision, but they stopped as quickly as possible and inquired as to how badly the little girl was injured and expressed regret for the accident. The Record was misinformed and hastens to make the correction.

Lewie Root had a novel experience when he went to Detroit to enlist with the naval reserves week before last. A small government boat took him out to the Yantic and as he stepped out upon the lowered steps of the warship the little boat slid out from under him. It was grab the life rope and sailor fashion hand-over-hand it to the top or go down into the "briny deep." Lewie chose the rope route and was soon on the deck receiving the compliments of the commanding officer and his climbing faculty is likely to yet land him a commission.

Last Sunday evening the local chapter of the Epworth League observed the ninth anniversary of the foundation of the society in the United States. F. E. Quigley in the Evening News pays Bandmaster Crocker the following tribute: "A few years ago a great cornet player named Isaac Crocker was pronounced insane and sent to the Wayne county asylum, and when the board of supervisors visited the institution Mr. Crocker played 'Home, Sweet Home' for them on his silver cornet, and every man wept. The rendition was beyond description. Mr. Crocker died two days after this occurred. Isaac Crocker Jr., his son, was a little fellow at that time and played in the band that was led by the elder Crocker just previous to his misfortune, and from the day of his father's death 'Ike' has played the silver cornet, and though a young man now, he is one of the best players in the state and leader of the Northville Cornet band, formerly led by his famous father."

White Cloud Soap Wrappers.

Many have perhaps noticed the offer sent out by James A. Kirk & Co., manufacturers of White Cloud Soap, by which churches, charitable institutions, etc., are given the privilege of collecting the wrappers and receiving money in return. The Northville Christian Endeavor society has taken advantage of this offer which holds good only during the year of 1898. Inasmuch as the offer is confined to societies alone it would be no object for any family to save the wrappers for its own use and we therefore ask them all who are willing to help us and at the same time receive the benefit of this superior brand of soap—which is similar to the Ivory soap—to ask your grocer for it, and reserve the wrappers for us. We will gladly call for them if you will notify us, or if you can conveniently leave them at your grocers and we will collect them.

CONGRESSMAN SPALDING.

Member from This District May Be Brig. Gen.

[From Detroit Journal.] Washington May 16.—The members of the banking and currency committee, headed by chairman Joe Walker, called on the president this morning and asked that Gen. George Spaulding of Monroe, be made a brigadier-general. Gen. Spaulding is a member of the committee, but has in no way sought position, and the request was made today without consulting him. Few men have a more gallant war record than Gen. Spaulding, and his many acts of personal bravery are matters of history. President McKinley is familiar with Spaulding's reputation as a gallant fighter, and said that nothing that could be said would increase his respect for the Michigan soldier.

It Is a Postal Law.

There is a postal law governing all post-offices that some people do not seem to understand, and that is that nothing can be handled through the post-office without the proper postage is prepaid thereon. Very often postmasters are asked to place things in some person's box and feel offended if the postmaster requires them to pay postage, which the law requires him to do, and for which he is held strictly accountable, no matter how much he would like personally to do otherwise at times.

S. C. P. Jones, Milesburg, Pa., writes: "I have used DeWitt's Little Early Risers ever since they were introduced here and must say I have never used any pills in my family during forty years of house keeping that gave such satisfactory results as a laxative or cathartic." Murdock Bros.

The Donkey Club.

A Coldwater minister, on a recent Sunday, surprised his audience by reading the following announcement from the pulpit: "The regular session of the donkey club will be held as usual at the close of this service. Members will line up just outside the church door, make remarks and stare at the ladies who pass, as is their custom. Any member known to escort a young lady to church like a man, sit with her like a gentleman during the service, and escort her home again like a gentleman, will be promptly expelled from membership." The application was to the point and the effect was marvelous.

This custom of "lining-up" on the walk in front of the church doors at the close of the evening service prevails to quite an extent even in Northville, however be it said to the credit of the young men who participate in it that no ungentlemanly remarks are ever heard. To our own people who are used to seeing the "company front" year in and year out and knowing the young men so well it is hardly noticeable, but the appearance to strangers can hardly be said to be creditable to either Northville or its young men.
