High-school Notes.

The program for commencement exercises this year will consist of twenty numbers, including essays and music.

There is something akin to a small football rush when the first RYDOR is brought into the school room Friday morning. It is not necessary to explain why.

The German II class will finish
"Hermann and Dorothea" before the end of the year. After this has been completed the remaining time will be spent in a review of grammar work.

The High-school boys do not seem to take much interest in organizing a ball team this spring. Some of the boys in the 7th and 8th grades are anxious to organize and just mop the earth with the BAC aggregation.
We would like to see them do it too.

A considerable amount for the Waukegan Memorial fund was subscribed by the pupils of the various rooms this week. Members of the school were asked to sign the roll of honor which will be placed with similar rolls from other schools of this county in a vault under the proposed monument.

Miss Daniels received a very interesting letter from Bruce Babcock a few days ago. He is with the "1st Michigan at Camp Thomas, Chikla-manga. Bruce said he wrote lying face downward on the ground, with his tablet for a desk. The trip southward was full of interest, and camp life is not wholly disagreeable, so he says.

One of the most pleasant events of the school year occurred Wednesday evening, when the Senior class, accompanied by Prof Bliss, gave Miss Daniels a very pleasant surprise at her home. Under the guidance of Mrs. Daniels they filed through the back door into the parlor, and there Miss Daniels found them, much to her amazement. After the early part of the evening had been spent in playing games, all were invited into the dining room to partake of dainty refreshments. After these were disposed of, a class meeting was held, and a joint letter written to the absent member, Bruce Babcock. On behalf of the class of '98, Arch Capell presented Miss Daniels with a beautiful souvenir spoon, a small token of the high regard in which she is held by all. V. M.

"Railroad Jack," the hammock rider made Northville a visit Saturday and addressed a crowd in the evening in his customary way.

For Memorial day exercises this year the local GAR Post issued some very attractive large bills. The work was done at the Record Printery.

An Episcopal service will be conducted by Rev. W. S. Sayres of Detroit in the Presbyterian church, this (Friday) evening. Everybody invited.

T. P. Banks has resigned his Superintendency of the Log Cabin park, Detroit, and has started a laundry in the bustling part of the city.

The post-office will be closed Monday (Memorial day) from 10:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. standard time. Money order department closed all day.

As summer comes, so comes the time for picnics. "Watch for one in the 'Moonlight' at the rink," is an item handed to the Record this week.

The three weeks' old child of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Taffi died Tuesday morning. The funeral was held in the afternoon, Rev. Mr. Schumann officiating.

There seems to be quite a bit of 4th of July celebration in the air. Our people appear to think they can stand both a celebration and the teachers' Normal school.

FOUR.—The girl who lost a handkerchief on Center street Tuesday containing a small amount of money can obtain the same by calling at the Record office.

In the Dunn & Co., a village of Plymouth mentioned in the Record two weeks ago, Geo. B. Yerkes of Detroit formerly of this place was attorney for the plaintiff in whose favor the case was decided.

It is a question now, whether or not the village should increase the pay of street laborers to $1.50 per day. With advance in the prices of provisions and groceries it almost seems as if a good laborer could earn 15 cents an hour.

Tomorrow will be "machine day" in Northville. The Deering people through their agent, C. C. Chadwick, will deliver fifty machines upon that occasion and besides a parade through the streets the farmers will be banquetted at the Park hotel.

On account of Sunday night's union memorial service in the Baptist church Rev. Mr. Ward will defer the delivery of his Gradstone memorial until one week from Sunday night. Its announcement for Sunday night was made under a misunderstanding of the custom.

Our Northville cigar factories report a constant increasing demand for their goods. Northville smokers are realizing more and more that just as good cigars can be made in Northville as elsewhere and they are inclined to foster home industries by calling for Northville brands.

In the appropriation of the public school money it is noticed that Northville township is not mentioned but inasmuch as about the usual sum of $71.50 is allowed to Plymouth it is to be inferred that Northville share is included in that amount. The rate is fifty cents per capita.

The ladies of the WRC gave a very pleasant social tea at the GAR hall last week Tuesday afternoon. Thirty or more members and invited guests were present, and a part of the time was used in sewing for the motherless children of a veteran. A dainty supper was served by the committee of the occasion, and a delightful time was enjoyed.

Plymouth Rock Flour makes good bread. Try it.

Nursing.—Having recovered from my illness, I am again prepared to do nursing for those who desire my service. Mrs. Gordon Allen, Cheese factory bldg., Main St. 42w1

We also guarantee one 25-cent bottle of either of the above to prove satisfactory or money refunded. G. C. Engstrom, Mackay Bros, Northville, 4-1

Buttons are quite ill.

The Northville ball club plays the DAC cigar team (the club that travels on wheels) at Plymouth Monday afternoon.

Those having flags or busting to loan for decorations at the union patriotic exercises in the rink Monday night are requested to leave same at Brown's gallery.

Everything, or almost everything, is going up because of war flour, which a few days ago sold at $5.00 a barrel, is now worth $7.50. Coffee, and many other articles in the grocery line have similarly advanced. Temporarily this advance will be a burden on the laboring man, but eventually it will tend towards better times.

Rousing good patriotic sermons were preached in both the Methodist and Presbyterian churches Sunday evening. Mr. Herberger took "The Holding of the Panorama of History" for his theme and Mr. Ward "The Justification of the Present War." Both excellent discourses were listened to by large audiences.

Rev. Leslie Bower of Portland supplied the Baptist church last Sunday in the absence of the pastor at Wayne. Mr. Bower is very earnest and his sermons, both morning and evening, were interesting and helpful and were listened to attentively. He has been the successful pastor of the Baptist church at Portland for nearly five years.

Superintendent Bliss has just accepted the principalship of the Kearney school in New Jersey. The position pays $1,500 per year and the location is one of the finest in the east. Kearney being a suburb of Newark. A week ago Mr. Bliss declined a similar position in the Thetford Hill school from which place he fitted himself for college a few years ago.

A meeting was held in the village hall last night to organize an independent military company in Northville. The following civil officers were elected: President, J. H. Herberger; Vice President, Wm. H. Anubler; Secretary, W. H. Safford; Treasurer, Dr. Henry Twenty-seven names were placed on the muster roll, and many more will be added soon. Capt. Mahoney will drill the boys twice a week in the rink.

The word knot as commonly used by landmen means the nautical mile or 6,087 feet, whereas the statute or ordinary mile is 5,280 feet. Hence a distance of 70 knots would be slightly over 73 miles. The term as usually used by seamen means one of the equal divisions of a log line and is 47 3/4 feet when a 25-second sand glass is used or 50 7/8 feet when a 30-second glass is used, the length of the knot being the same fraction of a nautical mile that the time during which the log has allowed to run is of an hour. In taking the speed of a vessel at sea, the number of knots that would pay out while the sand was running in the glass would equal the number of nautical miles per hour that the vessel was sailing.

Read The Advertisements.

The subscriber who fails to read and carefully examine the advertisements in this Record frequently misses the valuable information contained in it and thus sometimes loses opportunities of the highest importance to him or her. The advertisements are, in fact, communications on business subjects addressed directly to each reader and a careful housekeeper would as soon think of neglecting her morning meal as of skipping the advertisements in this paper. It is in the advertisements that he or she must seek all that is new, useful and profitable. One must not stop at that, however. When one finds an announcement that interests it should be followed up by acting upon it, by corresponding with or visiting the advertiser and learning all there is to learn about it.

It Was a "Scoop."

It appears that Dunn & Co., the Plymouth water work contractors, secured judgment against that village last week for $2,000. The village sought the services of Lawyer D. Conley of Detroit, to conduct their case and expected to get a judgment against the contractor, but the case went rather way.—Northville Record

The Record deserves considerable credit for that scoop. The Mail has endeavored to keep the village low and up to the present time has been unable to learn any decision in the case. In fact a communication from Lawyer Conley received as late as Thursday, of this week, states that the preliminary report of Referee Darock will be given on Tuesday, May 24th, at 10:00 o'clock a. m.—Plymouth Mail

The compliment to the Record from so creditable a source is appreciated. We were correct in the statement. It was just possible that the Record had the referees report two weeks ago, which was the case. It is also just possible that Lawyer Conley had the report two weeks ago but did not give it to Plymouth until this week.

The Best Flour is none too good. Plymouth Rock is best. Ask for it.

ROOM FOR 20,000 PEOPLE.

To Be Made at The Cycle Park for Decoration Day Fireworks.

Decoration Day night, May 30, will witness the display of the Pan Fireworks Co., "The Blowing up of the Maine" and "The Battle of Manila," at the bicycle race track inclosure, but Woodward avenue Detroit. That this exhibition will be a splendid pyrotechnic event is evidenced by the name of J. H. Pam for reproduction of this nature. In the present instance, Mr. Pam has subjects upon which almost limitless development is possible. Five thousand dollars' worth of fireworks are used at the performance and one can get an idea of the enormity of the actual bombardment when it is stated more than 500 fifty pound bombs or dynamite powder are used in the battle scene alone.

Another feature is a reproduction of the Maine disaster. The imitation of the noble ship is built by scenic artists and carpenters and is life size. Of course a great amount of labor and paraphernalia is required for all this and the exhibition travels just like a circus. All the elaborate fireworks are made in the Iron Workshop car by experts and taken to the grounds only in time for use. The bicycle inclosure is to be transformed into an immense open air theater, with seating capacity for 20,000 people, and a stage of fifteen acres for the action of the naval movement.

Robbed the Grave

A startling incident of which Mr. J. Oliver of Philadelphia was the subject, is narrated as follows: I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters, and to my great joy and surprise the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and would the grave of another victim? No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cent per bottle at Geo. C. Hueston's Drug Store.

Michigan in the Storm, Too.

A wing of the storm which did such terrible work in Wisconsin gave portions of Michigan a visit also and did considerable damage, especially at Marshall, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek and Jonesville. Pines, windmills, shade trees and orchards were blown down. Several barns were blown down. The roofs of the Blyden & Upton Thresher Co. at Battle Creek were blown off causing about $3,000 damage. It is reported that M. M. Shipman, of Battle Creek was killed. Chas. Dillingham's barn at Battle Creek was lifted up bodily and carried across the road and landed on another man's lot, wrecked Ambrose Lambert, of Jonesville was struck by lightning while under a shade tree, but a hired man who was with him escaped. Lightning struck John Foley's barn at Elmer destroying it, causing $3,000 damage. The storm is also reported to have done damage at Ionia, Odeas, Lapeer, Holly, Saginaw and Marquette.

Crawford, Flint, grand A. J. Brown, Detroit.

Michigan's Soldier Boys.

The 33d Michigan Volunteers arrived in Tampa after being on the road 72 hours. They found the heat very oppressive and the fine sand covered their faces, hands and clothes. They received enthusiastic receptions all along the line. The 33d Michigan is the best equipped regiment at Palmetto beach. It was marched into camp the soldiers already there thought it was a regiment of regulars, and cheered it to the echo. As soon as the tents were up the boys took a dip in Tampa bay, it being the first time they had had a bath since leaving Island Lake. Maj. Gen. Shafter and Brig. Gen. Hawkins visited camp and inspected the troops. There were greatly pleased with the Michigan regiment.

When the last company of the 34th Michigan Volunteers had been mustered at Camp Eaton the authority of the state of Michigan at once ceased at the camp and Uncle Sam was then in charge. In fact it was the last act in practically wiping out of existence the Michigan National Guard and I relieved the state department officers of any immediate military duty, with the exception of Quartermaster Gen. White, who still had some equipment to issue. The camp was therefore formally turned over to Col. Boynton, of the 33d as the senior officer.

The 31st Michigan at Chickamanga has been assigned to the First Brigade of the Second Division. The division is commanded temporarily by Brig. Gen. Arnold and Col. Gardner, of the 31st Michigan, has been placed in temporary command of the First brigade, and it is probable the appointment will be made permanent. For the present Col. Gardner will remain in active command of his regiment.

Lieut. Edwin B. Winans, of the Fourth U. S. Cavalry, who has been U. S. mustering officer at Camp Eaton has been appointed to the vacant majorship of the 34th Michigan Volunteers.

IMPORTANT HAPPENINGS BOTH ON LAND AND SEA.

Big Monitor Monterey Sent to the Aid of Dewey—Cruiser Charleston Sailed for Manila—U. S. Volunteers Land on Cuban Soil.

Troops Sail for Philippines. The first division of the army for the invasion of the Philippines sailed from San Francisco on the steamers City of Peking, City of Sydney and Australia. The first California volunteers were given an ovation seldom equaled as they marched from the state camp at the Presidio, five miles through the streets of San Francisco to the dock to embark on the City of Peking. The regiment was composed of 49 officers and 933 enlisted men, and besides these the City of Peking carried 10 officers and 71 sailors of the navy. The City of Sydney carried 13 officers and 318 enlisted men of the Second Oregon volunteers; 9 officers and 300 men of the first companies of the 14th U. S. infantry, one officer and 50 men of the California heavy artillery. The Australia carried the headquarters, staff and band and two battalions of Oregon volunteers, comprising 37 officers and 676 men.

The delay in sending troops to the Philippines has been occasioned by the lack of suitable vessels for transports. Only vessels flying the American flag can be used, but the navy department received an offer from the Northern Pacific Steamship Co. at Seattle, placing at the disposal of the department the company's entire fleet of steamers provided they be given American register. The ships are the Tacoma, Arizona, Columbia, Victoria and Argyle. All are British built vessels and fly the British flag but congress will be asked to give them American register and they will be berthed at once as transports. There are also several suitable American vessels which will be secured as soon as they arrive from Oriental ports.

The Monitor Monterey has been ordered to proceed to Manila to reinforce Admiral Dewey's fleet. The Monterey is probably the most formidable monitor in the world, yet she combines with the enormous offensive and defensive qualities of the monitor a seaworthiness that is almost phenomenal. The Monterey is 1,000 tons displacement, 236 feet long by 59 feet beam and 14 feet 6 inches draft. She carries in two turrets surrounded by barbettes, two 12-inch and two 10-inch guns, six 6-pounders, four one-pounders and two galleys. The turrets are eight inches thick and the surrounding barbettes are 14 inches and 11½ inches of steel, and against this armor, all the batteries of Manila might thunder without effecting an entrance. The Monterey's personnel is 120 officers and 172 men, and once she is safely in the entrance of Manila harbor nothing in the Spanish navy would be likely to budge her.

Volunteers Land in Cuba. Unless some accident has befallen the U. S. transport Florida there are now U. S. volunteer troops on the island of Cuba. The Florida left Port Tampa last week with several hundred volunteer troops on board. The passengers belonged to the regiment of Cuban volunteers organized in the lower extremity of Florida some weeks ago. If this expedition is a success other troops will be rushed into the island as soon as possible. Besides the 49th Calons the Florida carried five companies of ammunition, 10,000 Springfield rifles, several Hotchkiss one-inch rapid fire field guns and 75 one-inch mortars. Just where the landing is to be made is a secret, but it is supposed to be Tampa that the Florida is to land within two weeks of Havana.

Charleston Sailed to Aid Dewey. A tremendous delay in the cruiser Charleston getting under way from Valparaiso for Manila. Capt. Henry Green commanding. The Charleston was heavily loaded with ammunition for her own guns in addition to a large supply of powder and projectiles for Admiral Dewey's fleet. No troops were carried on the Charleston, as she has no room for more than her own crew of 380 men.

Later—After putting to sea it was discovered that the condensers of the Charleston were out of order. She therefore put back for repairs and was delayed three days.

THE NEWS CONDENSED.

Hon. Wm. J. Bryan has been appointed as colonel of the Third Nebraska volunteers.

Between 8,000 and 10,000 Spanish troops are said to be embarking at Barcelona for the Philippines.

Rev. Thos. Ewing Sherman son of the famous general, has been made chaplain of the Fourth Missouri regiment.

The Spanish gunboat Isabel II fired on and disabled the British steamer Pot of San Juan, Porto Rico in order to oblige her to unload a cargo of coal she had on board.

President McKinley has established a censorship over the cabinet. Hereafter only Secretary Long and Secretary Alger are to be cognizant of war secrets. Other members of the cabinet are to know only such war news as the President and his war aids may think it advisable to tell them.

Orders have been issued to coast collectors of customs to prevent the clearance of vessels laden with coal for West Indian, Mexican, Central American or South American ports without a special permit from the treasury department as long as the Spanish fleet is at large in American waters.

MANY RUMORS.

But Very Little Authentic News of the Movements of War Vessels.

Uncle Sam thinks he has suffered enough from taking the public into his confidence regarding every move his army and navy makes or is about to make. He finds that Spain has as much curiosity about such things as the people of this country, and that Spain learns of them as soon as the American public. He has, therefore, decided to be less liberal in supplying such information to the dear public, and incidentally to Spain, and is closing up many of the sources of information. Censors have taken charge of telegraph and cable offices at certain important points and restrictions are placed on press dispatches. At Washington only such matters as the departments are willing to have generally known are given to the newspaper correspondents. This accounts for the scarcity of reliable news as to the movements of war vessels.

Spanish Fleet Arrived at Santiago. Madrid: The Spanish squadron has arrived at Santiago de Cuba without accident, and found there two American warships, which retired with all speed. The queen regent has cabled congratulations to Admiral Cervera.

Washington: The navy department has received semi-official information confirming the dispatches from Madrid announcing the arrival of the Spanish fleet at Santiago de Cuba.

Cervera Sails From Santiago. Madrid: It is asserted that Admiral Cervera's squadron has left Santiago de Cuba.

Admiral Cervera's dispatch to the minister of marine contained further details for the information of the government alone. It is pointed out here that the American plan was to get command of the sea as a condition to future movements. Admiral Cervera's brilliant move deprives America of the command of the seas and demonstrates to the world that the blockade in Cuba is merely nominal. Admiral Cervera has given the slip to two powerful fleets that have been scouring the ocean for a fortnight in an endeavor to catch him. All the American schemes depend thereupon.

A dispatch from Key West says that it is believed there that the Spanish fleet after coaling and leaving supplies at Santiago de Cuba has again put to sea. It is possible it may try to make Havana.

Cables from St. Pierre Martinique, state notice has been received by the Spanish counsel there that Admiral Cervera's fleet will return to Martinique for coal. This report is coupled with the statement that Spanish transports laden with coal are on their way to France. The British steamer Twickenham, having been refused the privilege of coaling the Spanish torpedo boat destroyer Terror and the hospital ship Alicante in the Ft. de France harbor it is thought these vessels will coal from her at sea, and that she will then go to meet Admiral Cervera's squadron for the same purpose. The Twickenham carries 1,000 tons of coal.

Sampson and Schley's Fleets Fail. The attempt to prevent the Spanish fleet reaching Cuban port led to the recall of Sampson's fleet after the bombardment of San Juan and also resulted in Commodore Schley's flying squadron being ordered to Cuban waters. The smaller gunboats under Commodore Watson were left to continue the blockade of Cuban ports and Sampson and Schley effected a junction at Key West.

Sampson and Schley Leave Key West. Key West: A greater American fleet than any that has been in the waters off Key West since the war began was assembled there when Sampson and Schley effected a junction of their squadrons. They coaled and replenished their stores of ammunition and then parted sailing in opposite directions making what is believed to be the most decisive move that has yet been made. All that is known of the ships' movements with certainty is that Sampson with the swiftest vessels went to the southwest and Schley sailed east. If neither commander changed his course after he got out of sight of the watchers in Key West, that means that Sampson headed for the Yucatan channel and that he may be bound for the southern coast of Cuba and perhaps to Santiago de Cuba. Schley's ships, according to this movement, are bound along the north coast of Cuba. The intention is evidently to force Cervera to fight one of the two squadrons if he leaves Santiago or to both his fleet up if he remains in that harbor until the American vessels arrive there.

Three days after the American fleets left Key West several reports were received from Haitian points of heavy cannonading in the Windward passage between Cuba and Haiti and it is thought that the American and Spanish fleets had met at last. One report declared that an engagement had been fought in which the Vizcaya and Cristobal Colon, of Admiral Cervera's squadron, were sunk and the other Spanish warships captured. On the American side the cruiser New York was disabled and the Wampoa, a gunboat, was disabled and the Wampoa, a gunboat, was disabled.

According to this story the fighting lasted 10 hours and the Spanish exhausted their ammunition. None of these reports were given credence at Washington.

In the Canadian parliament at Ottawa one member said he hoped Spain would give the U. S. a "bit of a spanking." A chorus of "no, no" from all parts of the house was the reply, and Premier Laurier and Sir Chas. Tupper at once declared that if there could be any feeling in Canada other than neutrality in the American-Hispanic war it was one of sympathy and hearty cooperation with the United States.

One hundred carloads of ambulances and government wagons have been shipped by the Studebaker Co. at South Bend, Ind., within 30 days.

CERVERA COINED.

SAMPSON AND SCHLEY SAID TO HAVE THE SPANIARDS

Battled up in the Harbor of Santiago de Cuba, and a Great Naval Battle is Expected—Difficult to Get at the Spaniards—Report Not Confirmed.

Washington dispatches, unofficial and unconfirmed, state that the Spanish fleet under Admiral Cervera is in the harbor of Santiago de Cuba and the U. S. fleets under Admiral Sampson and Commodore Schley are maneuvering outside. The great naval battle of the war is expected to take place in the harbor of Santiago. Now that Sampson and Schley have met and found Cervera in Santiago the question is how to get at him. To run the guns of the Morro (round) castle and other strong fortifications and the torpedo defenses will be difficult. Only one ship can pass in at a time. The dangers of such exposure are tremendous. An attack on the fortifications by bombardment will probably be the first movement. Even with the mines destroyed the Spanish men-of-war can operate with deadly effect in guarding the pass to their haven. No better position could have been chosen by the Spanish admiral. To overcome him a procession of the American ships will have to fire broadside after broadside through and beyond the land-locked pass. A blockade might starve Cervera out and make him issue from the bay to fight in desperation, but the place is believed to be well stocked with food.

Havana is well invested by Commodore Watson's squadron of 14 vessels, and it is possible that with Cervera bottled up at Santiago an attack may be made on both places at the same time.

THE INVASION OF CUBA.

No Necessity for Longer Delay and 50,000 Troops Will Move Soon. Dispatches from Washington and Tampa indicate that there will soon be a movement of the army of Cuban invasion. With the two powerful fleets under Sampson and Schley, cruising in Cuban waters and a squadron of monitors guarding the Yucatan passage, the war department feels that the invasion need not longer be postponed, and all speed is being made in preparing for the transportation of the troops. It is suggested that 20,000 men be landed on Cuban soil west of Havana and strong fortifications thrown up to serve as a base of operations. The landing of a larger force would follow later without difficulty.

Should the original plan be carried out of sending only regular troops on the first expedition the fleet of transports at Port Tampa is amply sufficient for that purpose. With the arrival of the Froquois, Santiago and Cherokee 21 transports are now at the port, every one fitted for embarkation. The ships will easily accommodate between 25,000 and 26,000 men, somewhat over the total number of regular troops in camp at Tampa. It is thought 36 hours after orders are issued to embark every man, horse and pound of supplies can be placed on board the vessels in waiting.

Maj. Gen. Shafter in command of the troops about Tampa says that 50,000 troops, with artillery, could certainly be all that would be needed for the invasion of Cuba. There are equipped about Tampa one brigade of light artillery, five regiments of cavalry, 15 regiments of infantry, and three companies of engineers. Besides these there are over 20,000 volunteers from various states in Gen. Shafter's district. Heavy batteries and huge siege guns will follow the troops to Cuba as soon as a base of supplies is established.

We Will Live to Annex Hawaii, Now. The sending of the invading expeditions to the Philippines will affect the Hawaiian question vitally. Like the cruiser Charleston, the transports which carry troops must stop at Hawaii to replenish their coal bunkers. If the Hawaiian let us take this coal without the pretext that we are using it to make our way to our nearest home port, as is required by international law in such cases they will stand convicted of a gross breach of neutrality that, in the eyes of the law of nations, allies them with the United States in hostility to Spain. The taking of coal by the American ships at Hawaii to make an extensive campaign against the Spanish possessions will undoubtedly result in compelling the United States either to assume a protectorate over the islands or to annex them.

THE WAR SITUATION.

Col. Grigsby's battalion 186 cowboys from the northwest dressed in full cowboy outfit, created a sensation in Chicago where they stopped one day on their way to the front.

The Spaniards are preparing what they call their third Atlantic squadron which will consist of the Princess de Asturias of 7,000 tons with a speed of 20 knots; the Cardinal Cisneros, same size and speed; the Lepanto, 5,000 tons, 20 knots, and the Numancia and the Victoria, which are being rearmored.

It is reported that the U. S. gunboats detailed to cut the cables running from Santiago de Cuba were only partially successful, not being able to cut one cable. They had a hot fight with the shore batteries.

The U. S. government is investigating the reported sale by France to Spain of the islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon, south of Newfoundland. It is said Spain intends to use the islands as a base of supplies. If the report is true Uncle Sam will take the islands and will also bring France to time for violation of neutrality.

How William Ewart Gladstone Closes a Most Remarkable Career.

Today there is mourning wherever the Anglo-Saxon race has found an abiding place. One of the greatest lights of modern history has been extinguished and the greatest statesman England has had in the past century has passed through the portal of eternity. He is gone, yet, through the mortal breath has flown, he will live and continue to live as long as the Anglo-Saxon race exists, for William Ewart Gladstone was a great man who found his way into the hearts of the people, and there he will ever live. He is to be reckoned among the few—the immortal few not born to die. His has been an influence so profound that it cannot end with the stopping of the heart and the stilling of the tongue.

Whenever the mind reverts to contemporary England it inevitably thinks of Gladstone. It sees him in parliament as the greatest debater and political leader in that most powerful legislative body. It sees him in the British cabinet mastering the details of administration in the departments of finance, or of colonial affairs, or of the internal relations of the British nation. It sees him at the head of the cabinet shaping the policy of the greatest empire in the world. The mind's eye cannot look at any phase of England's life during this half of the century without beholding this central, all-pervading figure. And with all his greatness of achievement, with all the power over his countrymen which he held, he was always the same unpretending, untitled "Mr. Gladstone," refusing steadfastly to accept a peerage, an honor that to a man of his great character would have been meaningless. As plain Mr. Gladstone, the great Liberal leader and reformer, the champion of home rule, orator, statesman, scholar and Christian gentleman, the typical man of his country, he is destined to hold a higher niche in the temple of fame than any of his titled contemporaries.

OVER TWO SCORE KILLED.

Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin Suffer From Terrible Tornadoes.

Forty-two persons are known to have lost their lives, and 28 others are reported dead, as the result of tornadoes which devastated portions of eastern Iowa, western Illinois and northern Wisconsin. The storm in Iowa swept near Stannwood and swept through portions of Cedar, Jones, Clinton and Jackson counties. Nine persons lost their lives and more than twice as many were injured. The property loss will probably reach $500,000. In many places not a building of any description was left standing. Cattle, horses and hogs were killed by the hundreds. In numerous instances farmers lost everything they possessed. The Iowa storm crossed the Mississippi river into Illinois near Savanna. Considerable damage was done on the Illinois side before this storm spent its force.

The second tornado in Illinois started near Sullivan Valley and swept northward wrecking farm houses and killing as it went. But the greatest loss of life was at the point of origin. At Lankark the storm ended by wrecking the county almshouse and killing three inmates, and three others were fatally injured. There were over 50 persons in the building when it went down, and all of them were injured.

In Wisconsin the storm was more violent than anywhere else, but fortunately it originated in the lumbering districts of the northern counties, swept along the line of the " Soo" road and spent its force in the pines. Nine people are known to have been killed. Unconfirmed reports have been received that 18 lumbermen were killed in a camp near Heaford Junction and 10 more near Elmhurst. The property damage in Wisconsin, while quite heavy, is much less than that done in the fertile farming districts of Iowa and Illinois.

Remember of Fort Sumter, now owns the flag, and she treasures it so carefully that it is rarely removed from the strong box in the safe deposit vaults. The ravages of time have had little effect upon its color. The red, white and blue were almost as bright today as they were thirty-six years ago, and were it not for the rips and tears it would make a gallant appearance today flying in the bright sunlight. Seven times during the first day of the bombardment the flagstaff was struck, but by a strange series of accidents the flag continued to fly at the peak. After one of these accidents Major Anderson exclaimed: "God Almighty smiled that flag to the staff and I could not lower it if I tried."

This particular accident happened in this way. Outside the bar marking the entrance to the harbor were several Federal vessels. This fleet could not enter the harbor without being sunk or the cannon of the land batteries, and all it could do was to anchor out of range and observe the bombardment. It is needless to say with what anxiety the men on these ships watched the flag flying over Sumter. They knew that sooner or later it must come down, but they also knew Anderson, and felt that he would hang on to the last gasp.

Every little while Major Anderson gave orders to dip the flag to the fleet to show that everything was all right. During one of these salutes, and when the flag was being hoisted back into place after the third dip, a shell burst near the staff, cutting the halyard. The flag started to come down with a run, but a piece of the cut rope got jammed in a section of the shivered staff and the flag was more secure than ever. It was this that caused Major Anderson to utter the historic words above referred to.

After the evacuation of Sumter Major Anderson journeyed to New York, where he made the usual garrison interference with the flag. The flag was hoisted back into place after the third dip, a shell burst near the staff, cutting the halyard. ## A BALLAD OF DECORATION.

In the garlanded grass where the multi-tudes plod, And the splendor of spring overflows, The souls of the heroes climb up thro' the sod, And smile in the cheeks of the rose.

We turn back the leaves of the ledger of doom And trace thro' the stains of old tears The story that closed 'mid the grief, and the gloom Of the wearisome, war-shadowed years. We stifle a sigh as we trample the clay

Where the ranks of the pale legions lie— And we dream, as we turn from their tabernacles away, That for freedom 'tis glorious to die.

The teeth of Old Time on the granite may grate, Till the proudest shafts crumble and fall; But Remembrance will stand with her flowers at the gate Till the trumpet is loosed on the wall.

Ah, sweet is the breath of the roses, and sweet Are the light and the laughter of May; But the Past, like a specter, is chained at our feet, In the dash of his martial array.

The chaplets of love we may bind on the urns Of the Blue and the Gray with our tears, But the wrong of rebellion still rankles and burns Like a fire in the heart of the years.

The shriek of the bondmen, the clank of the chain, Are hushed as a tale that is told, And the clouds that once hung like a pall o'er the plain, Have swept by, and the skies are as gold.

The birds build their nests in the cap-tion's cold lips, The camps have extinguished their fires.

And the baby of Ethiope plays with the whips That were soaked in the blood of his sire.

—James N. Matthews.

—Mrs. Logan suggested the Day.

In the spring of 1868 General Logan and I were invited to visit the battle grounds of the South with a party of friends. As certain important matters kept him from joining the party, however, I went alone, and the trip proved a most interesting and impressive one. The South had been isolated by the war. Everywhere signs of privation and devastation were constantly presenting themselves to us. The graves of the soldiers, however, seemed as far as possible the objects of the greatest care and attention.

One graveyard that struck me as being especially pathetic was in Richmond. The graves were new, and just before our visit there had been a "Memorial Day" observance, and upon each grave there had been placed a small Confederate flag and wreaths of beautiful flowers. The scene seemed most impressive to me, and when I returned to Washington I spoke of it to the general and said I wished there could be a concerted action of this kind all over the North for the decoration of the graves of our own soldiers. The general thought it a capital idea, and with enthusiasm set out to secure its adoption.

At that time he was commander-in-chief of the Grand Army. The next day he sent for Adjutant General Chipman, and they conferred as to the best means of beginning a general observance. On the fifth day of May in that year the historic order was put out. General Logan often spoke of the issuing of this order as the proudest act of his life.

It was marvellous how popular the idea became at once. The papers all over the land copied the order, and the observance was a general one. The memorial ceremony that took place at Arlington that year was perfectly inspiring to all the old soldiers. General Grant, General Sherman and Sheridan, and many of those who have since passed away attended the first solemn observance of the day.—Mrs. John A. Logan.

That Fetches 'Em Every Time.

She—It is useless to argue. Our engagement must be broken. Before you ran for office I thought were a model of manhood, but—I read the papers.

CAISSON DISEASE.

Gouverneur Physicians Having Opportunities to Study a Rare Ailment.

From the New York Sun. The doctors at Gouverneur hospital have had, since the beginning of the work on the East River bridge, at the foot of Delancey street, exceptional opportunities for studying that rare ailment known as caisson disease or divers' paralysis. Four very serious cases have been treated there, as well as a great many in the incipient stage. "The first symptoms," said Dr. Huber, the house surgeon, "are very similar to those of apoplexy. In one case the man came into the hospital with every outward symptom of having an apoplectic stroke. He was unconscious, the pupils of his eyes were unequally dilated, his respiration was stertorous. He remained unconscious for fifteen minutes and then recovered only partially. When he did recover there was anesthesia extending all through the lower half of his body. This is a symptom usually betokening spinal trouble. For short periods he became utterly unconscious. During the time he was conscious he seemed to be perfectly rational. I questioned him, and found that he remembered nothing whatever that had happened since he had been attacked by the disease half an hour after he left the caisson. After he died we had an autopsy, and about the only thing we gained from it was that there had been a hemorrhage into the heart muscles. The manifestations of the disease are varied. In one case a patient's right arm became absolutely rigid in such a position that the hand was bent back near the chin. Meantime, his left arm was working in spasmodic convulsions that could not be controlled. The commonest symptom is that of intense pain at the ears. Our treatment here is to administer stimulants, and to induce perspiration as copiously as may be. In most cases this works very well. I have heard that over on the Brooklyn side, where similar work is being done the workmen undertake to treat one another by plunging the affected man into a hot bath. It is their ignorant way of applying the same remedy that we do here, but I hardly think that the depressing effect of a hot bath is a good thing for the men in the state in which victims of caisson disease are usually found to be when they are picked up. The theory of the disease is that the air pressure in the caisson prevents the system from throwing off the injurious gases of the body, particularly the nitrogenous compounds. The pressure prevents the various organs of the body from discharging their functions toward one another, and congestion, with the symptoms of paralysis, results." It will be remembered that Col. Washington A. Roebling was obliged to give up his work on the Brooklyn bridge for a long time because of an attack of caisson disease, and that his life was endangered by it. Three hundred or more men are employed from time to time in the caissons at the foot of Delancey street, and there have been twenty five or thirty applications for treatment at the hospital since the work began.

Expert Mining Engineers in Demand.

Washington Post "There is no profession that holds out such tempting allurements to the youth of today as that of metallurgist and mining expert," said Mr. D. G. Downs of San Francisco. "Last year, of the class of about a dozen who were graduated from the school of mines in the University of California, at least ten have found excellent situations with big salaries. Our universities cannot turn out expert mining engineers fast enough for the demand. When I was in London last summer an English scientist told me that there would be a strong demand for years for competent men, and added that England kept the United States drained of its best mining talent. They are wanted in South Africa, in Australia, New Zealand, in fact, all over the world, and they can get higher pay than doctors, lawyers or any other class of professional men. Any young man who is ambitious for a career that will lead to fortune, if not to fame, and perhaps to both if he be industrious and steady, will make no mistake by qualifying himself in the direction of mineralogy."

Judge We had a lovely lunch yesterday. We wheeled out to Farmby's, you know, and Mrs. Farmby—the dear, good soul—invited us to stay and eat. Oh, it was lovely! Chicken, ninety-eight model; big baked potatoes that it just seemed a shame to puncture; but oh, weren't they good! Bread and butter that reduced the friction of eating to a minimum; milk cold drawn, seamless; olives, hardened in oil to spring temper; pie, flaky frame luscious apple tubing, reinforced with nutmeg connections. Oh, it was all just too good! Well, good-bye, dear; I must go down to Wheeler's and see the new crank hanger he's just got. What? Oh, yes, I'll be careful. Afraid of a crank hanger. The idea!
