

WE WILL CELEBRATE.

Northville Will Turn Things Loose on July 4.

T'WILL BE THE BIGGEST DAY IN ITS HISTORY.

Bands, Games, Parades, Races and Pyrotechnics Galore.

Money Subscribed and the Committees Appointed.

Northville will celebrate. A vast amount of meaning is done up in those three words. It means the bursting of all kinds of long pent-up enthusiasm and patriotism. And when anything of that kind bursts in Northville, it bursts with a roar that is heard for miles around. This year of all years, with a war upon our hands, and the banner of victory perched upon everything so far in sight, with our flag waving on foreign land in two oceans and a prospect of its being unfurled even along the coast of the Mediterranean; "something" as the old man said, "has got'er bust."

The public meeting held in the council room last week Friday night resulted in the appointment of an executive committee consisting of: T. G. Richardson, R. H. Purdy, B. A. Wheeler, C. A. Sessions and F. S. Neal with power to appoint all other committees and make final arrangements. This committee immediately appointed a Finance committee, (H. E. C. Daniels, F. S. Harmon, B. A. Wheeler and H. W. Dancer,) which made a canvass of the business places Monday afternoon and received money and pledges sufficient to warrant them in advising the executive committee to go ahead with the work.

The executive committee met Tuesday afternoon and appointed the following committees:

Speaker—F. E. Beal, J. A. Dubuor, S. S. Schantz.

Vocal Music—Mrs. Bell Long, Miss Dubuor, M. A. Porter, R. H. Beal.

Advertising—F. S. Neal, M. A. Patterson, T. W. Wood, C. A. Sessions.

Parade—L. A. Beal, Jewett Cranson, F. N. Perrin, W. H. Hutten, E. W. Balch.

Decorations—H. F. Brown, R. H. Purdy, S. W. Knapp, S. E. Cranson, Hoyt Woodman.

Callithumpians—R. M. Waterman, Chris Boehmer, Geo. Clark, F. E. Quigley, Chas. Blair, Lute Elliott, Art Adams.

Sports—L. L. Brooks, Claude Bennett, A. W. Ely, C. C. Yerkes, B. A. Wheeler, Y. Mc Nitt, Arch Capell.

Bicycle Races—J. H. Herbener, Fred Fry, W. H. Yerkes.

Bicycle Parade—R. H. Porter, E. H. Lapham, Orr Webster, Miss Hattie Daniels, Miss Mabel Clark, Miss Grace Yerkes.

Pyrotechnic—W. G. Yerkes, H. W. Dancer, C. L. Dubuor, W. M. Ward, L. A. Babbitt.

Grand Stands—Jud Lanning, R. R. McKahn, Henry Pickle.

These committees are expected to, and no doubt will, serve with a will. There will be no shirking responsibility upon others. Every member on a committee is a chairman and is responsible for the success of the celebration.

Northville's celebrations have always been noted far and wide as great successes and the one this year will without doubt eclipse all previous efforts.

There will be a well known speaker from a distance; plenty of bands; a big industrial parade; callithumpians; bicycle and other races; bicycle parade; athletic sports; ball game; dancing and fire works. A full program will be announced next week.

As Baranum says "Wait for us. Wait for Northville. Don't make plans to go elsewhere—come to Northville. Northville people—stay at home and invite in your friends."

A RECEPTION

Will Be Tendered Mr. and Mrs. Bliss This Evening.

The people of Northville will tender Mr. and Mrs. Bliss a public reception and farewell in the Methodist church tonight to which all their friends are invited. A short program in the way of toasts, etc., has been prepared. Mr. and Mrs. Bliss have been residents of Northville for some years and it is to be regretted that we are obliged to part with them. They expect to leave week after next.

HE DIED SUDDENLY.

John Westfall Fell from His Boat Monday Afternoon.

WAS FISHING ON WALLED LAKE WITH HIRED MAN.

Heart Failure Was the Result of the Inquest.

Novi, June 14, 1898.—Special.—John Westfall, aged 35, fell from his boat while fishing in Walled Lake Monday afternoon. The lifeless body was soon after recovered and an inquest was held by Justice Wikom Tuesday. A post-mortem showed that the dead man's heart was enlarged to treble its normal size and the jury brought in a verdict of death by heart failure.

Westfall was an industrious German and with his wife and one son lived east of Novi. He was a good natured, honest sort of a fellow. He was his own worst enemy in that he loved the flowing bowl to rather an excess, and the practice has doubtless caused the heart trouble. Dr. Marshall of this place and Dr. Henry of Northville were present at the post-mortem and have no hesitancy in saying that Westfall was dead before he struck the water, there being no indications whatever of drowning. There was no water in the lungs and the hands were not clinched and the face bore a peaceful look instead of any evidence of a struggle.

Westfall's hired man, Theodore Vertahouven, was with him in the boat. He says they were both in a "happy condition" but were sober enough to row the boat and catch fish. A storm had come just previous to the accident and they started for shore, Westfall being in the bow with a canvas held in front of him as a protection from the rain and Vertahouven sat with his back to him rowing the boat. After going some distance he noticed the bow of the boat dipping sidewise and after going some sixty feet farther he called Westfall's attention to the fact that he was not properly holding down his end, and getting no response he looked around and found only the empty seat. He had heard no splash and this was the first inkling he had of being alone. He gave the alarm as soon as he could and a searching party soon after discovered the body.

MIRACULOUS.

MRS. GOODELL HAD A NARROW ESCAPE TUESDAY.

Horse and Carriage Overturned on a Bridge.

While returning from Northville Tuesday Mrs. C. E. Goodell and nephew of Novi met with a peculiar, though fortunate accident. When on the railroad crossing on the Novi road just north of town her horse was by some mysterious kink of the bits or lines, pulled around and off the end of the bridge, and the whole outfit, horse, carriage and occupants were landed clear over the fence in a most miraculous manner. In the feat, for a feat it was, the horse became detached from the carriage which was overturned, with Mrs. Goodell and the little boy underneath. Mr. Leadbeater of Novi happened along at an opportune moment and assisted in clearing the wreck and conveyed Mrs. Goodell and her nephew home. The horse made no attempt to get away and escaped without a scare or scratch. Mrs. Goodell is at loss to account for the accident as she was driving slow at the time, and as far as she could discern nothing was the matter with the harness. The little boy, a son of Gen. Supt. Trump of the F. & P. M. escaped without a scratch while Mrs. Goodell was only slightly bruised on one arm, though two hat pins which were sticking through her hair were broke in two, showing that it was an exceptionally all-around lucky accident.

Seventy-seven orders have lately been received from Russia for American locomotives.

Arrangements are being made for running cars every twenty minutes on the Detroit and Pontiac electric road.

The same tape-line that was in use last year for measuring strawberries, is still in this office. Bring on the berries. We will do the rest.—Orion Review.

Clinton county supervisors were obliged to decide who was to have the court house janitorship. Sort of 18 to 1 proceeding.

Pontiac ladies are making "comfort bags" for the soldiers, containing needles, thread, buttons, combs, scissors, pens, pencils, writing pads and envelopes and numerous other articles even including tobacco.

Charles Lambert, one of the heroes of the "Charge of the Light Brigade" lives in the township of Millford, Oakland county. He was a member of the Thirteenth Light Dragoons, is modest and refuses to be interviewed.

Night shifts have been employed on the Pontiac, Farmington & Detroit Street Railway Co. to get the extension to Orchard Lake finished according to the contract. It is positively assured that cars will be running by Sunday.

The Millford Times says the item which was originally published by the Record, relative to a Geo. Pearson losing his house by fire while at a neighbor's borrowing the Times, has now gone into about every paper in the United States, and is doubtless now enroute for Spain.

The new Delray council is doing business right along at the new stand. This time it is an ordinance requiring all bathers in the Rouge river between certain specified points to be covered from neck to knees. The Times is now endeavoring to get the daddies after the Lima—Northern which persistently and constantly blocades the street crossings with cars.

Robert Smalley and wife near Orion, both over 80 years of age, were bound and otherwise badly treated by burglars one evening recently. There were three of the robbers who only succeeded in securing about $15.00. The old people are in good circumstances financially, but having been robbed of several hundred dollars on a previous occasion, do not keep much money in the house.

Rev. I. I. Hicks of weather prophecy fame suggests that in view of the French attitude toward the United States in the present emergency, the former nation be treated to a thorough and unconditional boycott by the American people. Such a procedure would certainly mean a good deal to a good many branches of trade, but would require legislative action to render it at all effective.

Ann Arbor has a new electric letter stamping machine that stamps 6,000 letters an hour and prints the post mark in a straight line. The government pays $75.00 a year rental.—Ypsilantian.

If that statement is to be taken verbatim, a year's mail at the University town would represent quite a tidy little pile of paper and envelopes. Do Ann Arbor folks write two million one hundred and ninety thousand letters per year, or one hundred and eighty thousand every 30 days. (Continued on Page 2.)

She told him that she appreciated self-denial in throwing the cigar away, but she never could think of marrying a man who was so devoid of economy."—Boston Transcript.

DIAMONDS.

Of all the precious metals and gems mined the diamond still holds first place in value. Diamonds are worth from $35,000,000 to $50,000,000 per ton. Sapphires are next in value.

Large diamonds are not exactly a drug on the market. There are only a few which are world-known, the Orloff of Russia and the Grand Duke of Tuscany, in the Austrian collection, being especially noted. There are only nine diamonds known whose weight exceeds 200 carats, about twenty weigh more than 100 carats. The celebrated Braganza diamond of Brazil, if it is a diamond, is the biggest in the world, weighing 1,880 carats and worth several millions, but experts are of the opinion it is a topaz of fine quality instead of a diamond.

There are more diamonds in the United States than any other country, $500,000,000 being the estimate put upon them. This vast amount of diamonds is increasing every year.

Suburban News.

As fall dates Millford has chosen Sept. 20-23.

There are thirteen or more gypsy camps in Wayne county.

Detroit has an M. D. named Shellfish. And yet he's not clam, either.

The necessity of additional school accommodation is presenting itself to Pontiac people.

The governor has appointed Philip T. VanZile of Detroit a member of the state board of examiners in law for five years.

Pontiac has a local military company which is just now in hot water because some of its members want to enlist and some of 'em don't.

A large gang of men is at work near Wayne on the Toledo division of the Flint & Pere Marquette railroad, laying new steel rails which are about one-third larger than the old ones. About 35 miles of track will be relaid.

The Mail calls attention to the need of a jail at Plymouth. Illustrated by the necessity of bringing Robinson to Northville last week to spend the night. Still Northville is not a bad place to spend a night—or even a dollar.

Plymouth's graduating class numbers but two this year. Norman Miller and William Pooler. A musical program and an address by Principal C. H. Horn of Traverse City will be given in addition to the orations by the class members.

The St. Johns News tells the story of a man out in those parts who married a sixteen year old girl in our county and then secured another license in an adjoining county and married the girl's mother. The man, W. H. Worden, who is a physician, is in the clutches of the law.

The WCTU observed Flower Day, by sending a number of bouquets to the sick and afflicted in Fenton. The Independent was among the number, and hereby returns thanks.—Fenton Independent.

Now we hope we may not be accused of undue curiosity, but really we'd like to know whether the Independent was sick or merely afflicted, and if the thanks are for that state, whichever it was.

The Pontiac Gazette complains that though that city has two good bands, when the folks there want "to hear the band play" the musicians have to be imported from Detroit or some other place, in spite of the fact that the townspeople have helped furnish money for instruments and uniforms. Probably those fellows are so modest to "toot their own horns."

Mrs. Rikey, of West Flint street, while trolley one day last week, caught a pickerel weighing 12 1/2 lbs. The men are not in it.—Orion Review.

Probably that Review feller has had one of his rare spells of reading the Scriptures and happened to run across the Jonah episode, as he evidently thinks there ought to have been several men in that pickerel. Why, man, that whale weighed more than 12 1/2 lbs!

A good deacon of one of the Oakland county churches, in order to do a little something for patriotism, went to a store while in Detroit the other day and purchased several bundles of small flags for distribution to the pupils of the Sunday-school last Sabbath; so the story goes. Great was his surprise on unrolling the bundles when the proper hour for their distribution had arrived to find that on each little flag was the couplet: "Remember the Maine; to hell with Spain." The deacon, although he might have thought it clearly expressed his sentiments, did not think the inscription just the thing for the scholars, so he hastily put the flags out of sight and announced that the little patriotic display he had planned was postponed for a week.

It will be remembered that a hair cutting scrape at the U. of M. not long ago, resulted in the expulsion of the most incorrigible of the hazers, a student named Lamb. He at once entered the M. A. C. and has now been fired from the latter institution for an attempt to introduce the objectionable sport there. He is certainly a barbarous character and it will be a close shave for him to escape more severe punishment if he persists in raising the old hairy. He must be a clipper, and no mistake.

Lillian Bell and the Czar.

"Kodaks" are not permitted within sight of the Czar of Russia, and he is considered the most difficult man in all Europe to photograph. Lillian Bell, who is in Russia for the Ladies' Home Journal, persuaded the Russian officials to allow her to be an exception to the rule, and she succeeded in photographing the Czar so close that the Russian monarch jumped at the click of the button. Miss Bell will tell how she got her photograph, in the next issue of the Journal.

INDIGESTION-DYSPEPSIA.

The Results of the New Cure for Indigestion and Nervous Dyspepsia.

Drake's Dyspepsia Cure & Nerve Restorer, a wellspring of life, is pouring into thousands of homes today; stubborn cases that have baffled all other remedies yield to the efficacy of this marvelous treatment, and permanent cures are the inevitable results from its use. For sale by Geo. C. Hueston, Northville, Mich.

A book on Stomach and Nerve troubles, their symptoms and cure, will be given free for the asking at above mentioned drug store. Read following statement:

To whom it may concern: To those suffering from stomach and nerve troubles I wish to recommend Drake's Dyspepsia Cure and Nerve Restorer. About 20 years ago I began to be troubled with stomach trouble. It gradually grew worse, even under treatment, until it became difficult for me to eat any kind of food with comfort. For the past five years I have been able to retain very little food of the simplest nature long enough to digest it. Seldom during this time have I enjoyed sleep throughout the entire night, and usually have been obliged to leave my bed in consequence of my stomach and nerve troubles. My bowels were very much relaxed, said to be due to inflammation of the membrane of the intestines. I was treated by physicians, and tried nearly every known remedy recommended for my troubles with no lasting benefit, and usually not even temporary relief. On the 5th day of January, 1898, I purchased a package of Drake's Dyspepsia Cure and Nerve Restorer, and I wish every dyspeptic to know how much I have improved from its use. My food does not distress me as it did, and I have no trouble in retaining it. I sleep well and feel refreshed throughout the night. Although I have only one package of the medicine, I can safely say that I am 75 per cent better than I have been during the past 20 years. Yours Respectfully,

MRS. GIDEON STODDARD,
Litchfield, Mich., Jan. 24, 1899.

Thorns To Sit Upon.

Many people gather thorns by failing to heed the warning sent out by diseased kidneys—coated tongue—parched skin—feverishness—dull dragging pain—general feeling of weariness—is sure evidence of kidney and bladder trouble. Take Utah Kidney Beans at once—they will cure you—they have cured thousands of others. THE TURNERS OF PHILADELPHIA make Utah Kidney Beans. E. B. Samuel, County Clerk of Hickman County, Clinch, Kentucky, testifies that he suffered for years with horrible pains in the back, kidneys and bladder—was treated by many physicians—they gave him no relief—he got so that he could hardly stand alone—Utah Kidney Beans, he says, completely cured him. He gladly recommends them to all sufferers. Hueston Pharmacy, Northville Agent.

IN OUR GREAT STATE.

THE HAPPENINGS IN MICHIGAN BRIEFLY RELATED.

A Terrible Crime Frustrated at Battle Creek by One of the Plotters Turning State's Evidence—Outcome of a Feud of Long Standing.

A Plot of Kidnap and Murder Foiled.
The most blood-curdling tragedy ever enacted was not more sensational than the dastardly plot which has been unearthed at Battle Creek by the weakening of one of the plotters, and which resulted in the arrest of Lawyer Charles R. Mains and Ed. Murphy on the charge of attempting to kidnap and murder Lawyer Stephen S. Hulbert. The plot is the outgrowth of a legal feud of long standing between Mains and Hulbert.

Mains is charged with offering a man known as "Moss" McGuire, $300 to sandbag Hulbert and deliver him in a carriage to him at the Union Street bridge. McGuire revealed the plot to the officers. Detective Hamilton was dressed up in Hulbert's clothes and was taken by McGuire to a carriage and delivered to Mains at the place designated. There the officers were waiting and arrested Mains. Upon Mains person was found a revolver, 30 feet of rope and a letter purporting to have been written by Hulbert to his friend, E. C. Nichols, in which the letter stated that Mains was innocent and that he was guilty and that his friends should help him. It is expected that this letter would be mailed after the deed had been done. Near the place was found a secreted "Wait-Eyed" Murphy, an accomplice, who was to accompany Mains the rest of the journey. Murphy was confused and told the officers to go back where he was in hiding and there they found a "spade." A posse went to the place and found a piano cover in which was wrapped a spade and a hatchet. Hulbert was to have been killed with the hatchet and buried near Homer.

The entire conversation between McGuire and Mains was listened to by Detective Hamilton, who was supposed to be the invisible Hulbert in the carriage, and by Deputy Sheriff Shoup and Constable Moore, who were in hiding nearby. McGuire was paid $20 on the spot by Mains with a promise of the rest later.

Destructive Fire at Detroit.

The new Case Power building on Congress street west, Detroit, was destroyed by fire at an early morning hour. It was but recently erected on the spot where a previous large fire had occurred. The blaze started on the fourth floor at 2:45 a.m. and an hour later the structure was a mass of ruins, the walls having all fallen in. The building was valued at $90,000 and was insured for $60,000. The losses of the numerous tenants—small manufacturers and business offices—brings the total damage up to about $150,000.

The flames spread on either side and across the street, and the Scott office building, the Wayne County Savings Bank building, the Detroit Gas Co.'s building and old St. Paul's church were badly damaged.

Five firemen were badly injured in various ways while fighting the flames.

Dracaboo Convention at Detroit.

At the opening session of the great camp R. O. T. M. Great Commander Boynton reported that the order is in a prosperous condition. He recommended the giving of larger powers to the executive committee in the employment of district deputies. He also advocated the division of the state into districts for the selection of delegates to the great camp, thus to reduce the number of delegates and lessen the expense of the conventions.

Great Record Keeper Watson reported the total of life benefit members admitted during 1898 as 7,025, for whom certificates were issued amounting to $9,195,000; social members admitted, 1,065. The number of life benefit members admitted during 1897 was 9,448, for whom certificates were issued amounting to $11,434,000; social members, 1,373. The net gain in endowment membership for the 1898-7 term is 8,347, while the social membership decreased by 344, leaving a net increase of 8,003. During the term the number of deaths in the order was 738, or a death rate of 5.94 per year per 1,000 members; and the total amount of death benefits paid was $1,030,300.50. In addition to death benefits, total and permanent disability and old age benefits were paid to the amount of $75,141.50, making a total amount paid during the term of $1,105,442. The total amount paid in death and disability benefits, since the organization of the order is $3,330,834.06. The number of new tests organized during the term was 42-23 in 1896, and 13 in 1897—with a total charter membership of 1,201.

Great Finance Keeper Whaley recapitulated the endowment and disability and general funds for the past two years as follows: Total balance on hand Dec. 31, 1895, $27,930.48; total receipts, $1,403,541.47; total paid out, $1,336,779.56; total balance on hand Dec. 31, 1897, $124,742.49. The sick, funeral and accident benefit funds had a balance on hand Dec. 31, 1895, of $705.52; receipts, $1,397.87; paid out, $7,103.30; balance on hand Dec. 31, 1897, $1.00.

The election of officers of the great camp stirred up a little excitement, but not as much as was expected. De Vere Hall, who had been put forward to run for great commander, against "Daddy" Boynton, backed out at the last hour and Mr. Boynton had a clear track. There was a close contest on the election of a great medical examiner and Dr. Jas. A. Fraser, of Gaylord, was chosen to succeed Dr. Eaton. The officers elected are as follows: Great commander, N. S. Boynton, Port Huron; great lieutenant commander, Dr. Vere Hall, Bay City; great record keeper, Thos. Watson, Port Huron; great finance keeper, Robt. J. Whaley, of Flint; great medical examiner, Jas. A. Fraser, M. D., Gaylord; great chaplain, Edwin Reese, Sault Ste. Marie; great sergeant, W. T. Brans, Port Huron; great first master of guards, Gen. Lutz, Ann Arbor; second, Lester Clark, Marquette; great sentinel, J. E. McQuinn, Coldwater; great picket, W. M. Binney, Big Rapids; member executive committee, Fred Cutler, Ionia.

The Ladies of the Macabees opened their session with 625 delegates present. Great Commander Frances E. Burns delivered her biennial review of the great five's work, which, with the reports of Great Record Keeper Emma B. Bower and Great Finance Keeper Susie S. Graves, showed the number of endowment members to be 26,380; social members, 9,132; total membership, 35,512. Increase since 1895, endowment, 5,031; social, 2,481; total, 5,512. Total number lives, Dec. 31, 1897, 727; lives instituted during term, 124; total charter members, 3,767; death claims paid during term, 277, amounting to $250,350; certificates in force amount to over $24,600,000. Since 1890, date of organization, the great five has paid $57,250 in death claims, and $7,775 to disabled members.

The great five officers were tendered a splendid reception at Light Guard armory.

The great five elected the following officers: Great commander, Frances E. Burns, St. Louis; great lieutenant commander, Rachael A. Bailey, Hastings; great record keeper, Emma E. Bower, Ann Arbor; great finance keeper, Susie S. Graves, Port Huron; great medical examiner, Dr. Emma D. Cook, Detroit; great chaplain, Anna E. Coffin, Bay City; great sergeant, Lena Burch, Midland; great mistress-at-arms, Anna Holthe, Muskegon; great sentinel, Alice Daniels, New Buffalo; great picket, Louisa Harger, Kalamazoo.

The extreme heat of the past week, followed by the severe storms have done great damage to the fruit and crops in the southwestern Michigan.

It is now as good as settled that Brig. Gen. Duffield's command will consist of the 33d and 34th Michigan and Seventh Ohio regiments. The latter is substituted for the Ninth Massachusetts at the particular request of President McKinley. The Seventh Ohio is from the President's home town and this request is certainly a compliment to Gen. Duffield and to the Michigan boys. It is quite certain that Gen. Duffield's brigade will be with the Porto Rico expedition.

State Treasurer Steel is advertising a second issue of war loan bonds. Subscriptions will be received until June 20, for $700,000 of 3 per cent bonds. The bonds will be dated July 1, and the interest will be payable semi-annually of each year, but the state may buy the bonds back at any time after May 1, 1903. The bonds will be in denominations of $100 and $1,000. The issue will be delivered to purchasers July 1, and the treasurer reserves the right to reject any bids.

Petoskey will be bonded for $16,000 to secure a commercial electric lighting plant.

FIGHT LIKE SAVAGES.

SPANISH MAKE NIGHT ATTACKS ON AMERICAN MARINES.

Guerrillas Creep Through the Bush and Shoot the Pickets at Camp McCalla on Guantanamo Bay—Marines Fight With Great Bravery.

The invasion of Cuba by the American forces began with 500 marines pitched their tents about the smoking ruins of the outer fortifications of Guantanamo, and the stars and stripes for the first time flew from a Spanish flagstaff in Cuba. To Capt. Clark and the battleship Oregon belongs the honor of accomplishing the first successful landing of the war. Forty marines from the battleship went ashore and occupied the left entrance of the bay, until the troopship Panther arrived with 500 marines. These, under the command of Lieut. Col. R. W. Huntington, arrived at 2 o'clock, and within half an hour they had burned the buildings of the Spanish camp and had set fire to the miserable little village which crouched on the beach under the hilltop of Guantanamo.

Lieut. Col. R. W. Huntington's battalion of marines, which landed from the transport Panther and encamped on this hill guarding the abandoned cable station at the entrance to the harbor of Guantanamo, was engaged in beating off a bush attack by Spanish guerrillas and regulars the second day and night after they landed. The fighting was almost continuous for 13 hours, until 6 o'clock in the morning, when reinforcements were landed from the battleship. Four of our men were killed and one wounded and the advance pickets under Lieut. Neville and Shaw are unaccounted for. Among the killed is Assistant Surgeon John Blair Gibbs, son of Maj. Gibbs, of the regular army, who fell in the "Custer massacre." He was a very popular officer. The others killed are Sergt. Charles H. Smith, Private William Dunphy, and Private James McColligan. Corporal Glass was accidentally wounded in the head. The Spanish loss is unknown but it was probably considerable. The splashes of blood found at daylight at the positions the Spaniards occupied indicate fatalities, but their comrades carried off the killed and wounded. The Spanish horribly mutilated three of the dead marines who were shot while on picket duty.

The Fighting Continued.

Later reports from Camp McCalla, where the marines are encamped, say that shortly after daylight Lieut. Shaw and Neville with 30 men of Co. D, who had been doing advance picket duty for 48 hours, returned to camp safely. About 9 a. m. the Spaniards attacked the camp at a mile range, but they were soon driven into the bush. Desultory firing continued throughout the day and several of the marines were wounded. It is known at least 30 Spaniards were killed. The battleship Texas arrived at Guantanamo bay and sent ashore 40 marines and two automatic Colt guns as reinforcements. The battleship also sent an additional small detachment.

It was decided by Lieut. Col. Huntington to abandon the position first occupied as a camp, as it was known that a force of Spaniards six times more numerous than the marine battalion was in the vicinity. Therefore the crest of the hill was given up to batteries and rifle pits and the tents were pitched on the side of the hill near the harbor, which is protected by the warships.

Lieut. Neville, was sent out on scout duty as on the day previous, and he attacked a small stone fort. A hot fight followed and the Spaniards were driven off with loss. During the fight Privates Wallace and Tauman fell over the cliff. The latter was instantly killed and Wallace had one leg fractured. Fifteen dead Spaniards, including one lieutenant, were found in the fort. During the attack several shots struck the ships in the harbor, one penetrating the pilothouse of the Associated Press dispatch boat Bandy, but no one was injured.

When night had again settled down the Spaniards again crept forward through the bush like Indians and made the pickets on the crest of the hill their special targets. The marines bravely stood their ground and, supported by the warships in the bay, poured a constant fire into the surrounding bush. The Spaniards began firing at 8 o'clock and the last shot was fired by them at about 3 o'clock in the morning, and during the fighting Sergt. Maj. Goode, of the marines, was shot through the right breast and instantly killed, and six others were wounded.

Thus far the marines have had the best of the contest but the situation is grave and they are exhausted with repelling almost constant attacks. They have little chance to rest sleep. Were it not for the protecting guns of the war vessels the gallant little band would be annihilated.

Estimates vary as to the Spanish attacking force, and the figures run as high as 3,000.

Lieut. Col. Huntington and Maj. Cookrell gave high praise to the nerve and steadiness of officers and men, especially the young ones, as the engagement was a baptism of fire for a large majority. The men were in darkness and in a strange land, but they stood to their posts with courage and fortitude and there was no symptom of panic. The marines, though much exhausted, were eager for more fighting, promising to inflict heavy punishment. The next day the amplest precautions were taken, and reinforcements were landed from the battleship.

MANILA HAS FALLEN.

Insurgents Pressed the Spaniards Too Hard and Won Brilliant Victories.

Hong Kong: A report has reached here that Manila has fallen. It is said to be now occupied by the Philippine insurgents, commanded by Gen. Aguinaldo. The rebel junta and wealthy Philippine islanders resident here are jubilant over the news.

The American consul at Hong Kong, Mr. Wildman, has been the recipient of hundreds of congratulations, for the junta gives him almost as much credit for the reported capture of Manila as they give to Gen. Aguinaldo himself, since Mr. Wildman has been their unwavering champion and has advised in all their plans. Consul Wildman does not credit the report that Manila has been actually occupied yet, but he believes that it will be very soon. The Spaniards have been fighting desperately, but their marksmanship is poor and they have lost heavily.

Porto Rico the Next Point of Invasion.

Maj. Gen. John J. Coppinger is in command of the troops left at Tampa, and it is believed will command the next expedition to sail, the destination of which will be Porto Rico. The war department is proceeding with the utmost expedition to prepare the Porto Rican army of invasion to start for San Juan as soon as some of the transports and their convoys of warships, which have gone to Santiago, shall return. The nucleus of the Porto Rico army, already assembled at Tampa and Jacksonville, will be the regiments which were detached from the Santiago expedition.

It will be necessary to utilize some of the transports ships which have been engaged in the Santiago expedition, as the 15 ships now remaining at Tampa are not sufficient to carry the troops who are to form the Porto Rican army of invasion. Either the same warships that are now doing convoy duty will be called back to take the transports to Porto Rico, or they will relieve some vessels on the Havana blockade, which will be assigned to perform that service. By the time Gen. Coppinger is ready to start it is expected that ample supplies necessary for a campaign in the tropics will have been issued to him. He will go prepared to make a long stay in Porto Rico. Even if an armistice should be negotiated with Spain within the next 30 to 60 days it would be necessary to retain the army in Porto Rico for some time thereafter. The operations against Porto Rico will not depend upon what is to occur at Santiago.

British Steamer Taken With Spanish Coal.

The British steamer Twickenham, with 3,200 tons of coal for the Spanish fleet, has been captured by the auxiliary cruiser St. Louis and sent to Key West as a prize. The captured collier is a London steamer which went first to Martinique a month ago expecting to effect a junction with Admiral Cervera's squadron at that island, but arrived too late. Word was sent to Admiral Sampson a few days ago that the Twickenham had left Martinique, and the St. Louis was immediately dispatched to intercept her. The St. Louis succeeded in meeting the Britisher off the coast of the coast of Jamaica, on her northward course toward Guantanamo, where she hoped to be able to find some means of getting her coal to Admiral Cervera's ships in the harbor of Santiago. Coming into close range, the St. Louis surprised the collier by sending a shot across her bows. The Twickenham, instead of stopping put on full steam and tried to get away. Quickly overhauling the Englishman, the St. Louis fired again. The captain of the collier, seeing flight was impossible, hove to and was boarded by a boat's crew from the St. Louis.

That Cadiz Fleet Again.

A special from Cadiz, Spain, says that the reserve fleet, consisting of two ironclads, one cruiser, 20 torpedo boats, three torpedo boat destroyers, with seven auxiliary cruisers and 3,500 troops, is under steam, ready to depart at any moment. There was, however, an accident on board the Alfonso XIII whose torpedo tubes proved defective, and she was compelled to return to the arsenal. This, it is said, causes the delay, but it is believed that the alleged accident is simply an excuse to keep the fleet at Cadiz.

Blanco Short of Supplies.

Madrid: Gen. Blanco having again telegraphed that in case the blockade becomes stricter it will be urgent to send war stores, as his supply is running short, the government has taken steps to dispatch abundant supplies by fast vessels from Spanish and foreign ports. The more important supplies from Spain will be strongly conveyed and will be sent immediately.

THE WAR SITUATION.

Spain's efforts to secure a foreign loan proved a failure.

The movement upon Havana has been postponed until the Santiago and Porto Rico expeditions accomplish their objects.

Secretary Long has practically promised that if Lieut. Hobson and the other heroes of the Merrimac ever escape from Spanish hands the department will advance them as a reward for their deed. Hobson will probably be made a lieutenant commander.

Lieut. Hobson and the other Merrimac heroes have been transferred by Admiral Cervera to the military authorities at Santiago under orders of Blanco, which will delay their exchange. Admiral Sampson has notified Corra and Gen. Linares that he will hold them personally responsible for the lives of the heroic Americans.

A BIG FLEET SAILED.

MAJ. GEN. SHAFTER HEADS THE FIRST CUBAN EXPEDITION.

Big Fleet of Warships Convey the Troops on the Way to Santiago—Only Two Regiments of Infantry Volunteers—Roosevelt's Rough Riders.

Delay after delay in starting the transports with U. S. troops from Port Tampa for Cuba had caused so many disappointments that the troops scarcely believed they were going when they had really started. They had been aboard the transports several days with all arms, ammunition and supplies, but each day had brought forth a further delay, and only the day before the expedition actually sailed. Maj. Gen. Shafter and his staff had boarded the transport Segura and given orders to hoist anchors, when a dispatch was received from Washington saying "Delay expedition until further orders." Two of the transports had already started, however, and it required a hot chase on the part of dispatch boat Castine to overtake them with orders to return. It was learned later that plans had not been fully completed for warships to convey the transports. This was arranged after a lengthy conference between the war and navy officials at Washington and the first expedition sailed the next day at daylight.

Maj. Gen. Shafter, who commands this expedition, has with him a force of 773 officers and 14,584 enlisted men. The U. S. regular troops make up the greater part of the force, there being but three volunteer organizations on the ships. These are the 71st New York infantry volunteers, the Second Massachusetts infantry volunteers and two dismounted squadrons of four troops each, from the First U. S. volunteer cavalry, the regiment which Col. Wood commands and of which Theodore Roosevelt is a lieutenant colonel.

It was difficult to prevail upon the mounted riflemen to leave their mounts behind, but this was a matter of necessity, it is said, owing to the lack of accommodations for the horses on shipboard.

The full list of the troops that make up this expedition as reported to the war department by Gen. Shafter, is as follows:

Infantry regiment—First, Second, Third, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, all U. S. regulars; 71st New York volunteers, Second Massachusetts volunteers—Total infantry, 561 officers and 10,709 enlisted men.

Cavalry—Two dismounted squadrons of four troops each from the Third, Sixth, Ninth, First and 10th cavalry, and two dismounted squadrons of four troops each from the First U. S. volunteer cavalry. Total dismounted cavalry, 159 officers, 2,875 enlisted men; mounted cavalry, one squadron of the Second, 9 officers and 250 enlisted men.

Artillery—Light batteries B and K, First artillery; A and F, Second artillery, 14 officers and 323 enlisted men; batteries G and H, Fourth heavy siege artillery, 4 officers and 135 enlisted men.

Engineers—Cos. C and E, 9 officers and 200 enlisted men.

Signal corps—One detachment, 2 officers and 45 enlisted men.

Aside from the men and officers making up the expedition the boats carried a vast quantity of supplies, ammunition and war equipments, necessary to maintain an organization of this size for at least 60 days. Every detail for the landing of this party has been worked out by the engineer corps of the army. It will be a laborious process at best, and will take a full day or more. The point of landing has been so chosen that there is little danger of an interruption from the Spanish forces, but should they attempt to make trouble, Admiral Sampson's ships will insure ample protection until the troops can care for themselves.

The expedition should arrive off Santiago within five days at the latest, barring storms or accident, and the landing probably will take place on the afternoon of the day of arrival or the day following, as Admiral Sampson is extremely anxious to reinforce the small body of marines now ashore at Guantanamo bay.

Capt. Taylor, of the battleship Indiana, was in command of the naval convoy fleet which accompanied the transport ships. The make-up of the convoy fleet is still withheld by the navy department. Besides the Indiana, one other battleship and a first-class cruiser accompanied the fleet. The other ships are lesser cruisers, gunboats and auxiliary craft. Five of the war vessels first went to Port Tampa while 11 remained off Key West. When the five warships and the 32 transports reached Key West they were joined by the 11 others and the combined fleet of 43 vessels made a magnificent spectacle as they sailed to carry freedom's banner to the oppressed "Gem of the Antilles." The procession was several miles in length.

Many of the Spanish newspapers advocate the keeping at home of Admiral Camara's fleet for the purpose of defending the coast.

Some villain has been poisoning the fish in Berrien lake, near Niles.

Maj. Gen. Brooke, in command at Chicomanga, has received orders from the war department that 15 of the best equipped regiments be designated for movement to Porto Rico.

Key West: Persistent rumors, credited by some naval officers of high rank, are in circulation here to the effect that three Spanish warships have succeeded in forcing their way into the harbor of Havana. One report says that a Spanish battleship and two cruisers have entered the harbor.

ANOTHER BOMBARDMENT.

American Warships Drive Spaniards from Caimanera; 40 Miles From Santiago.

Five American warships at 3:30 a. m. began to shell the fortifications of Caimanera, on the bay of Guantanamo, which cuts into the southern coast of Santiago de Cuba; east of the city of Santiago. The Americans' fire was most effective, driving the Spanish gunners in consternation from the defense of their works and then from the town of Caimanera, in which they took refuge. The inhabitants of the place also joined in the rout. The vessels which took part in the bombardment were the cruisers Marblehead, the auxiliary cruisers St. Louis and Yankee and two gunboats. The latter, however, paid little attention to the Spanish forts, directing their efforts to cutting the cables which run out of Caimanera, three of which were cut.

The fire from the cruisers was rapid and well directed and was replied to with vigor by the Spanish. All the men on board the warships worked with enthusiasm, the New York Naval Reserves on board the Yankee earning their share of laurels at the guns. As the walls of the fortifications began to tumble upon them the Spanish gunners deserted their posts of duty and ran to the town, which was in a state of high excitement. A great panic fell upon the residents of Caimanera, who feared the Americans would complete their work by destroying the town and there was a general movement to places of safety. Many shells from the American guns exploded in close proximity to houses on the outskirts of Caimanera.

After the cessation of firing from the forts the fleet concentrated its fire upon the block house, at which the cables of the French Cable and Telegraph Company, and specially demolished it.

The shelling of Caimanera was followed by the American vessels taking complete possession of Guantanamo bay. The Spaniards made but slight defense and their batteries were silenced by the Marblehead in a few minutes firing at 4,000 yards. A small Spanish gunboat ran away. The Oregon, Marblehead and Yankee now hold the harbor, waiting to land marines and troops when they arrive. The harbor is a fine base for land and sea operations. It is capacious and has 40 feet of water. The low-lying hills can be easily crossed with trains of siege guns and there are level roads to Santiago, 33 miles distant, where a few mountain batteries will be taken to an eminence commanding the city and the Spanish ships. Guantanamo has six miles of water harbor and will be of great value to the United States as a navy and army supply station, coaling depot and cable terminus.

The navy now awaits the army. The fighting ships of Rear Admiral Sampson and Commodore Spoley have battered down the coast defenses of southern Cuba, have sealed up Admiral Cervera's fleet in the harbor, have cut the Havana and Jamaica cables, and now hold 35 miles of the coast east of Santiago, including Guantanamo harbor. Under the cover of the guns of the fleet eastern Cuba may be safely invested by land and sea. Admiral Cervera's fleet annihilated and the entire province and its towns and harbors seized and held after a short campaign.

$200,000,000 War Bonds Authorized.

The war revenue bill just passed by congress provides for the issue of $200,000,000 3 per cent bonds. The subscription for these bonds is now open at the treasury department and will close July 14. It is intended to make this loan a popular one and for this reason congress provided that the smallest subscriptions shall be first allotted and the allotments made inversely in accordance with the size of the subscriptions. All individual subscriptions must be allotted first, and therefore subscriptions from corporations and associations other than individuals will only receive an allotment in the event that the individual subscriptions fall short of the $200,000,000 which are at present offered.

While there has been no authentic news to that effect the Washington authorities are inclined to place some credence in the reports that Manila has surrendered either to Dewey or the insurgents. The latter have won several victories over the Spaniards in the country about Manila; they have killed over 1,000 Spaniards, taken 1,500 prisoners and secured 8,000 to 10,000 rifles with ammunition and supplies. It is said that Gen. Aguinaldo, the insurgent leader, is anxious to establish a government, with himself at the head, under a United States protectorate.

ANN ARBOR SPEAKS.

Contractor Woolley, of Ann Arbor, Makes a Public Statement.

Mr. Edwin Woolley, contractor and carpenter of Ann Arbor, adds his voice to that of the army of Michigan people who endorse the little conqueror. Our representative found him at his place of residence, No. 618 Fountain St. Mr. Woolley appreciates "a good thing" as do most of our readers, and he does not hesitate to tell his experience for the benefit of others. Endorsement of this kind has made Doan's Kidney Pills a household word throughout the state. The good they have done has won them many a title and such worthy names among people as the "little conqueror of kidney ills," "little enemies to backache," "modern wonder-workers," etc. Mr. Woolley says:

"I was subject for years to attacks of backache or pains through the loins and kidneys, generally of a dull, heavy, aching nature, but when the weather changed, or when I moved awkwardly they became sharp twinges of pain. As I was doing work which required stooping it was very painful, exceedingly so, if I caught cold, which, as a rule, settled in my loins. I tried various remedies but was never successful in obtaining any permanent benefit until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. At the time my back was troubling me a great deal but shortly after I began the treatment the aching abated and when I had finished it I was cured. This is months ago and up to date there has been no recurrence of the trouble."

Among the many expenses borne by railroad companies the ice bill figures quite prominently. For instance, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad it is expected it will take over 50,000 tons of ice this year to meet the requirements of the service. The greater portion is used in connection with shipment of perishable goods; the balance in the passenger train service. A great deal of this ice is put up by the company in its own ice houses, but as the past winter has been so warm a very large proportion will have to be purchased.

WOMEN IN BUSINESS.

(From the Free Press, Detroit, Mich.)

A prominent business man recently expressed the opinion that there is one thing that will prevent women from completely filling man's place in the business world—they can't be depended upon because they are too often. This is refuted by Mrs. C. W. Marshall, a business woman of 33 Farrar St., Detroit, Mich., who says:

"A complication of female ailments kept me awake nights and worried me. I could get no relief from medicine and hops was slipping away from me. A young lady in my employ gave me a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I took them and was able to rest at night for the first time in months. I bought more and took them and they cured me as they also cured several other people to my knowledge. I think that if you should ask any of the druggists of Detroit who are the best buyers of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills they would say the same thing. These pills certainly build up the nervous system and many a young woman owes her life to them."

"As a business woman I am pleased to recommend them as they did more for me than any physician, and I can give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People credit for my general good health to-day."

No discovery of modern times has done so much to enable women to take their proper places in life by safeguarding their health as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Acting directly on the blood and nerves, invigorating the body, regulating the functions, they restore the strength and health to the exhausted woman when every effort of the physician proves unavailing.

For the growing girl they are of the greatest benefit, for no mother is indispensable for every woman invaluable. For paralysis, locomotor ataxia, and other diseases long supposed incurable, these pills have proved their efficacy in thousands of cases.

"About three years ago, my head became full of dandruff, which caused great annoyance; after a time the hair began falling out. The use of Dr. J. C. Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped the hair from falling out, and made the scalp clean and healthy."—Mrs. C. M. Ayres, Mount Airy, Ga.

There is no shame in gray hair, but there may be some sadness, because it is untimely, and out of season. Gray hairs are a crown of honor to the aged, but to the young they are a stigma. There is no need to be gray in youth. Grayness comes from a deficiency of the coloring matter which gives the hair its natural tint. This coloring matter can be supplied artificially and is so supplied by Dr. J. C. Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is by supplying the lacking pigment that Dr. Ayer's Hair Vigor restores gray or faded hair to its original color. Beyond this it makes the hair grow faster, gives it gloss and softness, stops it from falling, removes dandruff, and cleanses the scalp. Mrs. C. M. Ayres, Mount Airy, Ga., writes:

"As long as I can recollect, my mother's hair has been gray. About twelve years ago, my hair began to show signs of turning, and I resolved to try Ayer's Hair Vigor, and after using it only a few times my hair was restored to its natural color. I still use this dressing occasionally, a bottle lasting me quite a while; and though over forty years of age, my hair retains its youthful color and fullness. To all who have faded and gray hair, I would heartily recommend Dr. Ayer's Hair Vigor."—Mrs. Maggie Fickett, Canton, Ga.

THE DOGS OF WAR.

How European Military Men Propose to Use Them in Field Operations.—Dogs for Ambulance Service.

At the time Shakespeare penned that immortal line, "Let slip the dogs of war," he could have had no idea that his words would one day be used literally. Yet such will be the case, for there is little doubt that in the next great European war the words written so many years ago by the great poet and dramatist will be the very ones used by the officer in charge of the war dogs to set his pack of ferocious canines on the enemy.

In the armies of almost every European country, except Great Britain, says a writer in the Rambler, dogs are trained either as spies, messengers, or to render help and assistance to the wounded. Germany, France, Russia, Austria and Italy, all have their bands of trained dogs, although it is in the able to make the dogs march without frisking about and to avoid barking. It is strange that the dogs give notice of their approach by a low growl, or by pointing.

The aversion which the dogs feel for certain uniforms is inculcated into them by some German soldier putting on French or Russian uniforms. They then tease or maltreat the dog, while the other men caress and pet him. In this manner the dog very soon learns to distinguish between friend and foe.

So intense is this hatred in some of the dogs for men habited in any uniform other than that of the regiment to which they belong, that they will attack a postman. In order, however, that they shall not do any injury when first named country, that they are made the most use of.

Since 1858 Prussia has employed various kinds of dogs for this purpose, including short-haired German pointers, spaniels, and sheep dogs. Two dogs are appointed to each company, each being under the command of a sergeant, while a lieutenant has the command of the whole of the "handlers."

Almost the whole of the time of these men is given up to the training of the dogs under their care. They teach them to carry dispatches and deliver cartridges to the fighting line, to search for wounded or fallen soldiers, and when they have found them, to bark until assistance arrives.

If they cannot attract any attention by barking they carry back the wounded man's cap or tear off a piece of his clothing and carry it to the hospital, when the attendants return with them to the wounded soldier and convey him to the hospital.

Another clever trick of theirs is to give an alarm at the approach of an enemy, a German being dressed up in the clothes of a foreign soldier for the purpose. In the early part of their education they are taken out with an old dog who thoroughly understands the work. The young dog is first of all taught to find lost articles, this constituting the beginning of the delivery of dispatches.

One of the handlers, as the soldiers who train and look after the dogs are called, takes the young dog away, puts a dummy dispatch into the small leather pocket in the dog's collar, and starts him off to find his master. Most of the dogs are exceedingly fond of this kind of work, which can be readily understood by all who possess dogs and have noted the eagerness they display to carry home a walking stick or a basket, or take it to any particular person ordered by its master.

Another important part of the work of a war dog is bringing up ammunition during a fight. When the battle has commenced, the handler takes up a stand near the ammunition wagon with the dog. As soon as he sees ammunition is wanted, he loads the animal with 150 cartridges, carried in a double saddle bag, half of the cartridges on either side.

Thus loaded, the intelligent beast does his best to reach the line of sharpshooters, and, if successful, returns immediately, and so continues the work until the battle is over, or, as would be certain to happen sometimes, he himself is killed. It has been proved that if a dog is wounded while carrying out his duties, he can seldom be induced to again venture near the place where he has been shot.

However, the faithfulness of the dogs as a rule is wonderful, and, when loaded with ammunition they will never allow the cartridges to be taken from them by soldiers of another battalion, and sometimes only by those of their own company, so well are the dogs taught to know the division to which they belong.

The Germans find that the best trainers for the dogs are the men of the Jager regiments. These men are on the march, the dogs are held by the soldiers in a leash.

Work Best at Night.

The dogs have been found by experience to do their work in a much more satisfactory manner at night than in the daytime, when they will sometimes play with other dogs, or chase wild game if possible. It is a great temptation to the best behaved dog to see a rabbit or wild fowl dash out from somewhere and be unable to give chase to it. The dogs run little risk of being captured, as in addition to being very swift, they are exceedingly ferocious.

As regards their feeding, the dog that does his work well gets a good dinner and kind treatment, but the unfortunate brute that does otherwise gets very little dinner, but a plentiful dose of stick or strap.

In the French army the chief dogs used are barbetts and Pyrenean sheep dogs. The former are used because of their great intelligence. Their training as a war dog commences when they are eight months old, and it is nearly a year before they are proficient.

The sheep dogs are chosen chiefly because of their strength; one of them being able to carry 500 rifle cartridges. However, they are very difficult to break to fire.

The barbetts are used chiefly to carry messages, and during the French maneuvers last year experiments were made to ascertain the relative speed with which cavalry, cyclists, pigeons and dogs could deliver messages. The whole five were given a message and started off at the same time, but, alas, the dogs came in last, the pigeons coming in first with the greatest ease. It was interesting to know that the horsemen and cyclists ran a dead heat.

The Russian dogs are chiefly trained to assist the medical corps in their work, and to help in the humane task of bringing aid as rapidly as possible to the wounded soldier. Big, strong dogs are selected for this purpose, St. Bernards by preference, as being the most intelligent when left to their own devices, and also the most faithful.

Attached to the collar around their necks is a small flask containing brandy, or sometimes a strong, nourishing broth. A little roll of bandages, of which the wounded may avail themselves, is also tied around their necks.

The dogs are especially trained to seek out wounded men lying in out of the way places, where it is possible they may be overlooked by the regular staff attached to the medical branch of the Russian army.

If they discover wounded men lying in ditches or behind bushes, they allow them to help themselves to the brandy, and bark incessantly to attract attention and bring help. They are sometimes used to pull a small cart on which a couple of wounded men can be carried off the field of battle.

These war dogs have been tried in actual warfare, and the French, in their wars in Tunis and Algiers, used them to advantage. The soldiers of the Great White Czar also used them during the war between Turkey and Russia. In savage warfare, too, they have been found extremely useful in preventing the stealthy savages stealing up and stabbing or shooting the sentry. Without the dog's timely warning, the enemy would have crept up close enough to have silently murdered the man. The Dutch used dogs for this purpose in Acheen. Italy uses dogs to accompany sentinels on the lonely Alpine stations.

As regards the kind of dogs chosen to undergo this warlike training, no special breed is selected. Scotch collies are perhaps more widely used than any other, because of their wonderful intelligence, and in most cases cross breeds are preferred. All the dogs go through such an elaborate course that, when their training is completed, they carry out their duties almost automatically.

It is admitted now that the best sort of employment for these dogs is outpost duty, conveying ammunition to the fighting line, delivering messages and searching for wounded soldiers in battle. This has been recognized after several years of practice with them, and although they have efficiently carried out every other duty they have been put to slow work, such as drawing wagons, etc., is not, as has been proved, quite suitable.

The wagons in which wounded soldiers are conveyed off the field, and which are drawn by the dogs, require attendants, and it is claimed with reason that the attendants might just as well carry off the wounded men themselves.

In discovering the wounded on a field of battle, the dogs are at their best. The qualities required for this work are inherent in the St. Bernard, the breed mostly employed for this special duty.

What better dog than a trained bloodhound or bulldog, too, could a soldier have to accompany him when on duty at a lonely outpost, and to give him timely warning of the approach of an enemy? Both breeds, properly trained, as is well known, make the best watch dogs in the world.

RACCOON RITES.

Their Immersion of Infant Coons and Their Washing of Food Before Eating.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer: You have missed a couple of mighty singular events if you never saw a coon christening or coon food cleansing out at the Zoo. The coon home at the Zoo consists simply of a plot of ground about as large as a barn door of extra generous size would cover. This is surrounded by a wire fence four feet high, topped with a broad, up-curving tin rail, which prevents the little clown-like creatures from escaping. In the center of this yard is a tree twenty feet high and having many and heavy limbs. Near the base of the tree is a several foot square pool of water. This pool marks two very exclusive, very notable characteristics that distinguish the coon from any other animal. The pool is the coon's christening and food-cleansing place. When a coon gives birth to young almost the first thing she does is to take her babies one by one in her mouth and, accompanied by the father coon, proceeds slowly and solemnly to the pool. Arriving at its brink, and while the dad coon stands thoughtfully by, the mother baptizes the little one beneath the wave with all the decorum and solicitude that a Baptist clergyman immerses a candidate for church membership. After lowering it gently down beneath the surface and lifting it up again, Mrs. Coon and her husband wend their way back again to their family corner of the yard. This service, solemn and staid, is continued by Mr. and Mrs. Coon until every mother's son of their just arrived offspring has been duly christened. Viewed soberly, it is really one of the most unique, impressive pre-consecration performances imaginable. But the indescribable drollness of the picture made by the wee husband and wife as they go through with the performance is inimitable, and smiles, if not laughter, come to almost every one who witnesses the serio-comic bit of drama. Almost any hour any day in the year you can find a group of people tossing bits of goodies to the coons. Upon picking up one of these Mr. or Mrs. Coon instantly, with the "goodby" held daintily in its teeth, trots over to the pool and swashes the morsel back and forth in the water two or three times. Then returning to its favorite corner, or up to its favorite perch in the tree, the little chap sets to devouring it in a way so dainty and sedate as to put food-gulping humans to the blush. But of course you wouldn't blush at Coon's etiquette. There is so much original comedy in every move he makes in this food-cleansing and eating process that you laugh in spite of yourself. His very appearance, particularly in motion, his judge-like sedateness, and his display of extreme neatness, his exquisiteness in all things, form a subtle and sure-tickler for anybody's laugh spot. It beats the funniest man the stage can show.

A Complacent View.

From the Chicago News: Jennie, aged 4, had been poking at the grate fire and burned a hole in her dress. "You must not do that, Jennie," said her mother, "or you'll catch fire and burn up, and there will be nothing left of you but a little pile of ashes. Then what would mamma do?" "Oh," replied Jennie, "I suppose you would call Bridget and tell her to sweep up the ashes."

Fired.

"Won't they let you stop at our boarding-house any more?" asked the Circassian. "No," answered the living skeleton. "It isn't my fault, either. The last time I was there one of the boarders told the landlady I looked like he felt after one of her breakfasts."

A FAMILY FAILING.

The struggle with Heredity. The Right Side of the Color Line.

To heredity, to the transmission of traits from sire to son, we owe most of the possibilities of growth and development. If each newly born being started out anew, without the force of heredity the level of life might be expected to be that of the digger Indian or Bushman. Naturally bad traits descend like the good. Peculiarities of feature, eccentricities of speech and manner, birth marks, etc., are handed down just as surely as manual dexterity, physical beauty, mathematical ability, and the mental and moral qualities in general. A curious example of this descent of family traits is furnished by Mrs. Maggie Fickett, Canton, Ga., in whose family gray hair was hereditary. She writes:

"Gray hair is hereditary in our family. As long as I can recollect, my mother's hair has been gray. About twelve years ago, my hair began to show signs of turning, and I resolved to try Ayer's Hair Vigor, and after using it only a few times my hair was restored to its natural color. I still use this dressing occasionally, a bottle lasting me quite a while; and though over forty years of age, my hair retains its youthful color and fullness. To all who have faded and gray hair, I would heartily recommend Dr. Ayer's Hair Vigor."—Mrs. Maggie Fickett, Canton, Ga.
