GOT THEIR SHEEPSKINS

The Class of '98 Did at the Opera House Last Night.

MID FLOWERS, BUNTING, FLAGS, AND WITH HAPPY FACES.

The Big Class of Graduates Presented With Their Diplomas.

The Baccalaureate Sermon Sunday Evening Was a Hummer

A large audience assembled in the Presbyterian church last Sunday to listen to the baccalaureate sermon by Rev. J. H. Herbenet. The class came in a body with Prof. Bliss and Miss Daniels at the head, young lady members of the class of '99 acting as ushers and occupied the seats immediately in front of the platform. A selection from the greatest of text books was read and prayer offered by Rev. W. M. Ward. We would be glad, if space permitted us, to favor the readers of the Record with a full report of the masterly handling of the chosen text "What is your life" (James 1:4). From beginning to end it was replete with logical, far-reaching, helpful thought, presented in the impressive manner characteristic of the speaker, and could not possibly fail—with all due deference to the contrary opinion of its author—to leave a lasting impression upon those who heard it with receptive ears. It would be a manifest injustice to the sermon in its entirety to attempt a synopsis.

As was expected the opera house was filled to the doors last evening on the occasion of the commencement exercises of the High-school class of '98. The stage was handsomely decorated with the class colors, blue and yellow, and the pillars of the gallery with the national colors, while the handsome foliage of the oak intermingling its green leaves with the brilliant hues on every side made a pleasing and artistic setting for the bright, earnest faces of the band of young students gathered together for the final duties which signalized the close of their school life in Northville. The absent member of the class was not forgotten, as evidenced by the vacant chair on the stage, draped with the colors to which he holds allegiance so far from those with whom he but lately marched along the paths of knowledge. Four of the "boys of '99" acted as ushers and a like number of junior girls served in the capacity of flower carriers.

Comment upon the music with which the audience was favored is superfluous. The names upon the program were sufficient to insure the excellence of that part of the entertainment, and it goes without saying that there was no disappointment in the rendering of any of the numbers assigned.

The diplomas were presented, with a few brief but well chosen remarks, in behalf of the school board by Mrs. Ida Joslin.

We give below the names of the graduates and short synopses of their essays in their order.

VIRGIL MCINT
As salutator Mr. McInt in behalf of the class extended a hearty welcome to the large audience. He emphasized the importance of education, and said that the graduates claimed no honor from this. Their future is yet before them and upon the training which

SECRETARY OF STATE.

FRED M. WARNER OF OAKLAND IS A LEADING CANDIDATE.

People of Southern Michigan Highly Pleased With the Outlook.

The republicans, and we might almost say the people instead of republicans, of this vicinity, and what may be said of this vicinity will apply to this (Wayne) and neighboring counties as well, are highly gratified to learn that the candidacy of Fred M. Warner of Oakland for Secretary of State is growing more and more popular and his chances stronger and stronger, as each day goes by.

It is safe to say that there are few if any men in the state enjoying such a wide range of acquaintanceship as does Mr. Warner, who are so popular with all classes of people, and he is just in the prime of life, thirty-three, when activity and energy count for so much in the management of business affairs. Having gained a practical business education by years of successful engagement in the mercantile trade and manufacturing, the republicans of this section believe that he would, because of such an education, make all the more valuable an officer of the great state of Michigan.

Another important matter in Mr. Warner's nomination, if elected, which is being taken into consideration by the people of southern Michigan, and especially Wayne county, is that it will give them a representative on the State Board of Auditors, which, in consideration of their not having had any for some years, is no small factor in Mr. Warner's strength.

Mr. Warner is a genial, whole-souled fellow, loved alike by the rich and the poor, the manufacturer and the mechanic, the merchant and the laborer. He is noted for his integrity, industry and perseverance. He has served two terms in the state senate and no man represented his district or his state with more loyalty and zeal for all that was for right and its betterment, than he.

The editor of this paper has been honored with Mr. Warner's personal acquaintance for a number of years and it has been of such a nature that it is a great pleasure to add this brief testimony of his worth, though wherever he is known no mere words are needed to further his already deserved popularity. There appears to be no question but what Mr. Warner will have among others, the solid Wayne county republican delegation.

Mr. Warner's only opponent is J. S. Stearns the millionaire lumberman of Ludington. A Detroit paper has intimated that Mr. Warner was slated for Land Commissioner but this is not so. He is cut for Secretary of State and for that office only.

TO KILL HIMSELF.

Walter A. Wood of Detroit Endeavored to Do It Last Week.

GOT INTO A BATH TUB AND PUT THE PISTOL IN HIS MOUTH.

He Formerly Lived in Northville—Will Recover.

Walter A. Wood, a Detroit restaurateur on Woodward avenue, made an unsuccessful attempt on his life last week Friday morning. Mr. Wood, with his family were for some years residents of Northville, occupying the house next south of P. E. White's on Center street, and Mr. Wood manufactured cigars. The following from Friday's News is an account of the affair.

"Walter A. Wood made an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide Friday morning. About 4 a. m. Patrolman Arberlin heard a shot in the upper story of Wood's restaurant, and a moment later Miss Wood ran out and told him that her father had shot himself.

"Arberlin ran upstairs and found Wood lying in a bathtub with a revolver in his right hand. He had got out of his bed quietly without disturbing his wife, got a 32-caliber revolver out of his drawer and lam down in the bathtub with the intention of blowing his brains out. Putting the muzzle of the revolver into his mouth, he closed his teeth on the barrel and pulled the trigger. The bullet entered the neck at the root of the tongue, passed through the tongue to the left of the epiglottis and the vertebral column, and buried itself in the neck.

"Mrs. Wood rushed to the bathroom and found the door locked. She forced it open and found her husband lying in the tub, almost unconscious. Drs. J. B. Wright and Sloan were called and dressed the wound, and pronounced Wood in no danger. His escape from instant death was marvelous, considering the number of vital points that the bullet grazed.

"Mr. Wood is a veteran, and has two grown-up daughters."

Suburban News.

A class of 14 members was graduated from the M. M. A. last week with appropriate observances.

The Pontiac Post last week gave its readers an excellent picture of the graduating class of the High-school, 25 in number.

Dr. H. S. Chapman of Pontiac is in the free distribution business under protest. Two overcoats have been stolen from him within the last few months.

The office foreman of the St. Johns News has four hens which he has named Mrs. Dewey, Mrs. Sampson, Mrs. Schley and Mrs. Miles, respectively. This patriotic nomenclature is the result of a recent battle in which the four biddies attacked, and after a severe fight, killed an enormous rat which was trespassing on their territory. The breed of the fowls is not stated but it may be cackled that they are not Spanish.

The Pontiac Post's "Man about Town" says, among lots of other good things, that "the present war has already justified its estimated outlay of $700,000,000 as a business advertisement for the flag." It is also worth twice that to get relief from the everlasting slurs of those hide bound moss backs who were always trying to prove that a certain affair at Appomattox thirty odd years ago was only a farce.

Following letter of interest is from Chas. Thornton, now located in Scranton, Pa.:

Editor Record: Scranton is a very pretty place. It is situated in a valley and there are mountains in every direction. Some of the town is built up on the sides of them so it is very pretty. It is a great mining town, in fact. Scranton is built on pillars they having mined coal from under the whole city. The weather has been very warm the last two weeks and is awful dusty. It rains hard the dust will be flying again in four hours. I was very careful to notice all the way here and I failed to see a town that comes up to our pretty little village of Northville. Chas. Senor du Bose presented Spain's side of the case to a large and influential public audience in Toronto with such effect that Senor Tejada of the New York Junta, was sent to the same place to tell the true story. He, too, made a great impression, but when, at the close of the meeting, a vote of thanks was moved, Rev. C. O. Johnson took occasion to score Du Bose for playing golf on Sunday. This precipitated a heated discussion, in which Tejada, the war and all else were forgotten.

Oxford Baptist ladies have started a new industry for church and work—the making and selling of sunbonnets. Their success has been so great that the Oxford Review says they will have to import more Baptist ladies to enable them to fill orders.

The mad dog industry at Oxford is just now having another revival, the second installment of bitten animals having commenced developing the deadly disease. Several dogs have again been bitten, thus insuring another chance to perpetuate the trouble.

It is reported that Cerviera is getting a very tired feeling at Santiago, and wants to leave. The chances are that he will be much more badly "bored" if he gets into the company of that man with the muscular cogmenomen who is supposed to be rather in the vicinity.

An exchange wants us to pronounce it "Cooba" because that's the Spanish way. We shan't do it. Our Noah W. says the ordinary pronunciation is the proper angloized version and that's good enough for Americans. Any old way is better than anything Spanish. We would even object to having Spanish flies on us.

An exchange says that "the money bags of New York have worried this country into a malady which may be called 'Bonditis'." This suggests the thought that every precaution had to be taken by Dr. Hobson and his assistants to prevent the Cerviera fleet from having Yankee sight-uns. An obstruction in the neck is said to be a dangerous preventive, although the application of it is attended with great danger and is not strictly agreeable to the patient.

The mean insinuation embodied in the following is the work of the Ponton Independent.

We meant particularly those big clumsy ones that come bumping along, always promptly on the very first evening of June, and if they happen to blunder into a person's cerebral covering are about as easy to remove as a barn. But then some folks never can understand anything scientific. Insomnia, indeed!

Grand Rapids Sunday Excursions July 3d for The German Turn-Fest.

Do you know what a turn-fest is? If not we will explain that it is an annual festival of the "Turners," a German society composed of men and women whose athletic exercises of various kinds form the principal attraction of the day, aside from the usual picnic features of German gatherings. The exercises on this occasion will be held on the West Michigan Fair Grounds, just north of the city, and will be participated in by several hundred "turners" from Chicago and from various Michigan cities. Other attractions, including base-ball between Grand Rapids and New Castle clubs at Recreation Park, entertainment in the Park and at Grand Lake will make the day an enjoyable one for visitors. To enable everybody to go the F. & P. M. Ry. will run a special excursion train leaving Plymouth at 7:45 a m and arriving at Grand Rapids at 12 noon. Return train will leave at 6:30 p m. Round trip rate $1.75.
The "Fest" will commence July 2nd and continue over the 1st.
Tickets will be sold at all stations on the 2nd, 3rd and 4th at one fare for round trip good until the 5th.

A new proposition in regard to Alaska's prohibition law is that in the list of occupations taxed to secure revenue, "restaurants" be included, every place that sells "refreshments" being taxed $700, but with no permission for the sale of anything illegal, although it is considered probable that the "refreshments" will often include illegal liquors until public sentiment in all or parts of the country has been so developed that the prohibitory law will not be taken up, like a neglected sword, and wielded. Such a disposition of the case in the pending law will not make it any the less the duty of the secretary of the treasury to enforce prohibition. It will leave upon all liquor sellers the brand of outlaws, with no rights in the courts. The new government tax is, no doubt, objectionable in that it presupposes, though it does not permit, liquor selling, less directly, however, than the internal revenue tax.

INDIGESTION-DYSPEPSIA.

The Results of the New Cure for Indigestion and Nervous Dyspepsia.

Duke's Dyspepsia Cure & Nerve Restorer, a wellspring of life, is pouring into thousands of homes today; stubborn cases that have baffled all other remedies yield to the efficacy of this marvelous treatment, and permanent cures are the inevitable results from its use. For sale by Geo. C. Hueston, Northville, Mich.

A book on Stomach and Nerve troubles, their symptoms and cure, will be given free for the asking at above mentioned drug store. Read following statement:

To whom it may concern: To those suffering from nervous and nerve troubles, I wish to commend Duke's Dyspepsia Cure and Nerve Restorer. About 20 years ago I began to be troubled with my stomach. It gradually grew worse, even under treatment, and it became difficult for me to eat any kind of food with comfort. For the past few years I have been able to eat very little food of the simplest nature long enough to direct it. Seldom during this time have I enjoyed a good meal. I have been obliged to leave my home in quest of a stomach and nerve cure. I have been to many places, and to be due to the inefficiency of the medicine of the mistresses, I was treated by physicians, and tried nearly every known remedy in order to find my troubles with no lasting benefit, and usually not even temporary relief. On the 15th of January, 1898, I purchased a package of Duke's Dyspepsia Cure and Nerve Restorer, and I wish every dyspeptic to know how much I have improved from its use. My food does not distress me now, and I have no need of it retaining it. I sleep well and feel refreshed therefrom, and although I have used only one package of the medicine, I can safely say that I am 75 per cent better than I have been during the past 20 years. Yours Respectfully,
MRS. GIDDY STODARD,

WILLIAM YERKES, ROBERT YERKES, Commissioners.

GREAT BIG BATTLE!

Jud Lanning Looks and Feels As if He'd Been in One.

HE WAS IN A RUNAWAY WRECK TUESDAY.

Elbow Dislocated, and Arm and Nose Broken.

Jud Lanning was in a runaway wreck just east of North Tuesday afternoon which nearly cost him his life. With Geo. Kidd and Jas. Selden on Nov. 11 in the rig, the three started for Farmington. When the horse landed them into a telephone pole a mile east of town it was going at a break-neck speed and the wagon went up the pole like a red hot bullet. Jud's left elbow was dislocated, his forearm and nose broken and a three inch right side gash was cut from the nose across the forehead. Selden had a long gash cut to the bone under the chin but Kidd, who was thrown over the fence in the field, was unharmed. Dr. Marshall put the injured men together and brought Mr. Lanning home Wednesday and though his arm may be somewhat stiff for a long time and his face remains discolored the doctor thinks he will be able to be out of doors again next week.

FITTING FAREWELL.

ONE TENDERED TO MR. AND MRS. BLISS FRIDAY NIGHT.

Presented With a Beautiful Silver Piece as a Climax.

The public reception and farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Bliss held in the Methodist church last week Friday night was a decidedly pleasant affair. The edifice was filled to overflowing with friends of the professor and his wife, and the good things said of them in response to the toasts were enough to turn the heads of less staid people. F. R. Beal responded to our school Miss Daniels, to the teachers Miss Welch to the alumni Mr. Daniels to Good Citizenship, W. H. Hutton to the YMCA, Mr. Ward to the Church, Mr. N. A. to the Press, and P. H. Beal to the town. At the conclusion and as a happy climax Mr. Deffen in behalf of the friends presented Mr. and Mrs. Bliss with a beautiful silver bowl which on the side was tastefully engraved with. Presented to Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Bliss by Northville friends June 17, 1908. In attempting to sing to the words and presentation, the professor for once was "all broke up" and when he returned to the high school which has been the apple of his eye, he was obliged to take his seat among with the people an impression unequalled to words.

IN OUR GREAT STATE.

THE HAPPENINGS IN MICHIGAN BRIEFLY RELATED.

Michigan G. A. R. Encampment at Port Huron Selected a Detroit Man as Department Commander—W. H. C. and S. of V. Conventions.

Port Huron had the honor of entertaining the Grand Army of the Republic, department of Michigan, at its 20th annual encampment, and right well did the city act the part of host for the veterans, and at the same time took good care of the Women's Relief Corps and the Sons of Veterans' conventions, which were held simultaneously with the G. A. R. encampment.

The grand review parade, which is always a feature of the encampments, was witnessed by several thousand people and various portions were enthusiastically cheered.

The business sessions of the G. A. R. were held in the Auditorium. Department Commander Bliss in his annual address rebuked the slanders of the pensioners and characterized it as a despicable attempt to poison the public mind against the veterans. He advised the G. A. R. to advance the interests of the S. of V. and complimented the work done by the W. H. C. in its support of the grand army. The report of Adj. Gen. Pond, showed a membership June 30, 1907, of 16,096 in the department of Michigan and a membership at present of 15,831, in 353 posts. The death loss during the year was 338 while the net loss was but 205, indicating a gain in members of 73. Relief was furnished amounting to $2,739.54. The total assets of all the posts of this state is given as exceeding $85,000. The receipts of the department during the year were $3,396.51 and the expenditures $4,662.43; present cash assets $1,061.54, of which $335.49 is in the Alger fund. During the year 1,000 headstones were placed over the graves of veterans.

The contest for the department commander promised to be quite animated. With Alex. Patrick and Maj. R. W. Jackson, of Detroit, Commander and Judge of the Soldiers' Home; Judge R. R. Peeler, of Three Rivers, and ex-Labor Commissioner Charles R. Morse, of Detroit county, as candidates, but on the first ballot Commander Patrick received 279 out of a total of 478 votes. Charles H. Morse 45, Capt. Judge J. M. Jackson, 17, scattering, 4.

For the other officers there was very little contest and ballots were taken in only a few instances. The result was as follows: Senior vice-commander, Moses F. Calkton, Port Huron, junior vice-commander, David C. Speers, Azula, medical director, Dr. Oscar Palmer Grayling, chaplain, D. Burnham Tracy, Detroit, assistant adjutant-general, C. V. R. Pond, Lansing, council of administration, Ren. Barker, Port City, Thomas Keyes, Ionia, H. S. F. Romeo, Oden Tomlinson, Hannell J. C. Hontela, Petoskey.

A telegram of greeting and commendation was sent to Gen. Alger on his arrival in the city of the war department.

Port Huron was chosen as the place for holding next year's encampment. The other business transacted was of routine character. The veterans, their wives and sons were given a ride on Lake Huron on the steamers O. D. Gen. and H. H. H. H. H.

The Women's Relief Corps held their sessions in the Congregational church with nearly 60 delegates in attendance. The reports of officers showed the organization to be in a very flourishing condition. During the past year there was a gain of 508 members in 111 corps, making the present membership in Michigan 9,060, and total number of corps 24. Over $100 was paid in relief during the year and the amount on hand is $17,711. The following officers were elected: Department president, Mrs. Mary A. Condit, Flint, senior vice, Clara F. Torrey, Rochester, junior vice, Josephine A. Post, Port Huron; chaplain, Mary Van Doran, Flint, treasurer, Emma Chamberlin, Holly, secretary, Eunice May, Flint; inspectors, Mrs. Rose A. Dix, chief of staff, Mrs. Eliza A. Barker. A new secret work was experienced.

Sons of Veterans.

The 15th annual camp of the Michigan Sons of Veterans was pitched in Pine Grove park, with 200 delegates present. The reports of officers showed the organization to have passed a very prosperous year. The present membership is 2,053, with 77 camps; 24 new camps having been instituted during the year. A greeting was sent to the Sons of Veterans company of the 33d Michigan regiment, encamped at Camp Alger. The following officers were selected: Commander Geo. E. Cogswell, Grand Rapids, senior vice, S. A. Crane, Grand Rapids, junior vice, Fred W. Sherwin, Port Huron, adjutant, P. D. Hall, Grand Rapids; quartermaster, C. J. Post, Grand Rapids; mustering officer, Capt. E. D. Bennett, Nancelona; doctor, Louis Kautz, Muskegon; judge advocate, Capt. C. S. Guile, Beloit. Past Commander Cowden was inducted with a sword and belt.

Men Drowned in a Diving Bell.

In search for the cargo of the lost steamer Pexwale off Alpena has resulted in the death of two more divers. The steamer Root, which has been working on the wreck with the Smith diving bell, reports that George G. (unclear), superintendent of the expedition, and a diver named a sailor, have been seen drowned in the bell. While the divers were working in the bell of the steamer Root, the bell was forced to the surface and the two men were killed. The bell had been through one of the windows

PINGREE AT CHICKAMAUGA.

Michigan's Governor Receives a Welcome at Camp Thomas.

Gov. Pingree accompanied by Inspector-General Case, quickly entered the camp of the 31st Michigan regiment at Chickamauga, just a day ahead of the time he was expected. It was the intention of Col. Gardener to meet the governor at the depot with an army wagon, drawn by four mules and have the band ready to welcome him upon his arrival at camp, but the first notice the regiment had of his arrival, was when he got out of an old carry-all, driven by a Negro and was recognized by a scuffle at the guard house. The news spread quickly through the camp and every one turned out to give him a hearty welcome. The men had just returned from battalion drill and they ran to greet him. They crowded around him to shake his hand until Capt. Baxter, officer of the day, had them form in two lines, and the governor passed between them, shaking hands as he passed. "Cheer after cheer" was given. His excellency was then conducted to Col. Gardener's tent. He inspected the hospital and cook's tents and after dinner accompanied Col. Gardener to call upon Maj. Gen. Brooke, Brig. Gen. Poland and Q. M. Gen. Lee.

Gov. Pingree was visited later by officers and privates from regiments of other states and he was well pleased with the condition of affairs. A regimental drill was given in honor of the governor.

The 35th Michigan Volunteers. Having received positive assurance that Michigan would be permitted to furnish another regiment of volunteers under the President's second call, Gov. Pingree and the state military board went to work and by the time the formal order had been received from the war department the outline of the organization of the 35th Michigan volunteer regiment had been almost completed.

Adj. Gen. E. M. Irish of the Michigan National Guard, was chosen as colonel of the new regiment, partially in recognition of his services at Camp Deton. Quartermaster-General Wm. F. White of Grand Rapids was named for lieutenant-colonel. Majors, Lieut. H. H. Baudholtz, Lansing, Geo. Coons, Detroit, three not decided upon, a Lieutenant E. S. Roos, Kalamazoo, quartermaster, W. B. McDonald, Ionia, surgeon with rank of major, Dr. O. P. Barber, Saginaw, assistant surgeons with rank of lieutenant, Dr. H. A. Grube, Coldwater, and Dr. L. B. Sanfill, Au Sable.

It was announced that the companies would be taken from districts not already represented. Companies will be drawn from the regions surrounding Alpena, Charlotte, Detroit, Wyandotte, Howell, Petoskey, Pontiac and Sanilac and possibly from other communities. Then there will be one company of Sons of Veterans, who will probably be from all parts of the state. The officers will probably be picked out by Col. Irish. Men who may have been elected officers of independent companies will not stand any particular show. So far three captains have been practically settled upon. They are M. A. Prince of Alpena, A. E. McCabe of Petoskey and R. S. Lockton of Charlotte. The officers of the S. of V. company will probably be men who are prominent in that organization.

Charlotte. The local military company recently organized by Sgt. Anness, of Ft. Wayne, Detroit, are in open revolt because of the action of the state military board in rejecting Anness as captain and appointing R. S. Lockton, a well-known politician of Marshall.

Michigan Naval Reserves Lose a Prize.

Kingston Jamaica. The captain and officers of the auxiliary cruiser Yosemite, which is manned by the Michigan Naval Reserves, feel foolish and are thoroughly vexed. As the Yosemite approached Port Royal she passed a large steamer going out. No attempt was made to ascertain her name, but on arriving here the Yosemite captain learned that it was the Spanish steamer Purisma Concepcion. The Yosemite with other American cruisers had been especially warned about this Spanish steamer as she would be a rich prize. She is said to have $100,000 in gold on board. Her cargo of food and medicine is destined ultimately for Cienfuegos and Havana. Capt. Emery, who is an old navy officer, is responsible for the error of not stopping her.

A dispatch from Manzanillo province of Santiago de Cuba, announces the arrival there of the Spanish steamer Purisma Concepcion with food and medicines for the Spanish troops and carrying, it is said, $100,000 in gold.

Michigan Boys to Reinforce Shafter.

It is now said that the brigade commanded by Brig. Gen. Henry M. Duffield, of Michigan, gets the honor in the first expedition against the Spanish made up purely of volunteers. His brigade will be the first to be moved to Santiago to reinforce Gen. Shafter. The Yale and the Harvard are to carry this expedition which will consist of about 5,000 volunteers in all. Each ship can carry 2,000 soldiers and their equipments. Gen. Duffield's brigade consists of the 34th and 35th Michigan and the Seventh Ohio. They will sail from Newport News, Va., before Sunday.

Another report says that Gen. Duffield's brigade will go to Fernandina, Fla., and embark with the Porto Rico expedition.

Elevator Fire at Byron.

The elevator and wood warehouse of E. E. Close & Co. at Byron, was totally destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $20,000, insurance $15,000. An Ann Arbor freight car loaded with beans also burned.

The Yosemite has been sent to Cienfuegos to intercept supplies being sent to Havana by way of the south coast of Cuba.

REACH SANTIAGO.

AMERICAN TROOPS ARRIVE AT THEIR DESTINATION.

Admiral Sampson and Maj. Gen. Shafter Hold a Lengthy Conference and Visit the Insurgent General Garcia—Hostilities Expected.

The United States army for the invasion of Cuba, about 16,000 strong, commanded by Maj. Gen. Shafter, arrived off Santiago de Cuba, after a six days' uneventful journey from Port Tampa. The voyage throughout was tedious and uninteresting. The weather was excellent, and consequently there was little suffering from seasickness. But 11 cases of typhoid fever, and some measles developed, the former being especially on the boats which carried horses and mules. Surgeons, however, say the health of the men is unexpectedly good. The heat and long confinement in the holds of the transports have told very severely on the horses and mules, and many of them died.

The first sight of land was obtained in the vicinity of Santiago de Cuba, and when the topmasts of the blockading ships were seen they sent a thrill of enthusiasm through the soldiers. When the fleet of 37 transports swept up the southern coast and slowed up within sight of the doomed city of Santiago de Cuba, the soldiers were greeted with ringing cheers, which faintly echoed to the transports from the decks of the blockading warships far inshore, and were answered by the troops most heartily. An order from the admiral stopped the advance of the transports about 15 miles to the southeast and, escorted by the Gloucester, Gen. Shafter went forward on the Segura to confer with the admiral. The transports lay on the smooth sea while the plans were discussed by the leaders on board the flagship.

After Admiral Sampson and Gen. Shafter had finished their first consultation they boarded the Segura and went to Acerraderos, about 17 miles west of Santiago, and near which place Gen. Calixto Garcia is encamped with 4,000 Cuban soldiers. Gen. Shafter and his staff and Admiral Sampson went ashore and proceeded to Gen. Garcia's headquarters, about a mile inland where they spent several hours in consultation with the Cuban general.

At the conclusion of the conference Gen. Shafter and other officers had little or nothing to say regarding the plans for landing the American troops or for the co-operation of the Cubans. The best information obtainable was that there would be no attempt to make a general landing for two or three days, but small bodies of troops will be put ashore in the meantime at several points, both east and west of Santiago, to ascertain the best place for a general landing. Wherever the landing may take place the operations and the information of the last 10 days show conclusively that better work is ahead for Gen. Shafter's men before the Spanish flag comes down from Morro's wall. The Spanish infantry, cavalry and guerrilla forces, estimated by Admiral Sampson to number from 10,000 to 15,000 men are stretched from Guantanamo to Cabañas, a distance of 50 miles, ready to concentrate at the point of attack.

Reinforcements for Shafter.

Washington. The President has determined to send heavy reinforcements to Gen. Shafter at Santiago at once. To this end the first expedition was ordered to leave Newport News, carrying Brig. Gen. Duffield's brigade, consisting of the 33d and 34th Michigan, Ninth Massachusetts and Third Virginia regiments, about 1,000 men.

Cadiz Fleet Has Sailed.

Washington. The state department has received the following dispatch from its agent at Gibraltar: "The Spanish ships Carlos V, Pelayo, Rapido, Patriota, Audaz, Osado, Prosperina, Gualda, Pre-ago Colon with the minister of marine, Capt. Anson on board, Alonzo Doce, Canadonga, Antonio Lopez, Isla Pinos, Buenos and San Francisco have left Cadiz. The first eleven passed the Rock bound for Carthage for orders, the last three have troops on board."

Madrid. There are a number of rumors in circulation as to the destination of Admiral Canaris's fleet. One has it that the Spanish warships are now heading for Boston Mass. with the intention of bombarding New England towns, and another report sets forth that the Spanish reserve fleet is going to the Philippines. The fleet said to consist of over 20 vessels is reported to have proceeded to different destinations. It has an enormous quantity of war material on board, including a mysterious new explosive.

NOTES ON THE WAR SITUATION.

Secretary Alger says an ample supply of good water has been secured at Camp Alger by new wells.

Germany has notified the state department that she has no intention of making an issue in the Philippines.

Admiral Sampson cables that he is well satisfied with the assistance given by the Cuban forces about Santiago and Guantanamo.

During the recent bombardment of Santiago's forts one of the 11-inch guns on the battleship Massachusetts was disabled by a shell from the forts.

Santiago is on the verge of starvation. All the food has been seized for the army and navy and the troops and sailors are on half rations.

A dispatch from Cadiz via Gibraltar, says there is great excitement here owing to fears of the American fleet coming to Spain. It has been decided to send further reinforcements to the Balearic islands, the Canaries and Ceuta.

SPANISH ROUTED.

Marines and Cubans Win a Signal Victory Near Guantanamo.

In a bold dash against the Spanish guerrillas and regulars, who harassed them for four days, the American forces encamped on Crust Heights at the entrance to Guantanamo bay, gained a notable victory, having a band of Cubans as allies. They drove the Spaniards from their base of supplies, four miles from Camp McCalla, killed over half a hundred of the enemy, and took 18 prisoners. The only losses were two Cubans killed. Four other insurgents were wounded, as were two of the American marines. Twenty-three machines were overcome by the heat during the engagement.

The victory put the command in high spirits. The little black Cuban warriors waved their machetes and howled curses at the Spanish in savage fashion. Their firing had been wild throughout but they all displayed the utmost contempt for the Spanish bullets, apparently being absolutely without fear. The marines did not reach the American camp until nightfall, and as they had been without food since early morning, they were thoroughly exhausted. Col. Huntington believes the destruction of the Spanish camp and well will seriously cripple their bushwhacking operations.

Lieut. Francis Batista, one corporal and 16 privates were taken prisoners by the Americans and were placed on the warships in the harbor. From the prisoners it has been learned that the Spanish forces consisted of six companies of regulars with two companies of guerrillas, armed with Mauser and new Remington rifles. The captured lieutenant said he knew 68 Spaniards were killed and 200 wounded in the day's fighting, and he thought the total might be two or three times that. He also said that the sergeant and three privates who crept up and killed Private McColgan and Dunphy, while they were on picket duty a few nights before, had been killed in the fight on the ridge.

Washington. The news from Admiral Sampson that the Spaniards had been repulsed by the marines and insurgents came as a great relief to army and navy officials, who thought that the position held was very precarious. The fullest credit is given to the insurgents for their timely work. The occupation of Acerraderos by the insurgent general, Rabi, is looked upon as a fine military stroke. The town is only eight miles from Santiago and the large iron wharves afford good facilities for the unloading of the heavy artillery. The achievement of Gen. Rabi in making a forced march from Bayamo, 100 miles northwest of Santiago, is characteristic of the dash and military genius of that officer. In occupying Acerraderos Gen. Rabi had with him about 1,000 men, while Garcia is coming up with 5,000 to 6,000 more Cubans. The march of Rabi can hardly be appreciated by anyone not familiar with the mountainous swamps and tangled tropical vegetation through which he pushed his way. In making this march Rabi crossed the line of communication between the Spanish commander Gen. Pando at Holguin and the Spanish forces at Santiago. This fact makes it clear that Santiago is not likely to get reinforcements from Gen. Pando. In a brief report around Santiago to General Acerraderos, Rabi is believed to have also shown that as a fact that the lines of communication and relief to Santiago are interrupted and practically cut off in all directions.

SHELLED SANTIAGO FORTS.

Sampson This Time Reduces the Outer Fortifications, Except Morro.

Rear Admiral Sampson's fleet has bombarded the batteries at Santiago de Cuba for the third time. For an hour the ships pounded the batteries at the right and left of the entrance only sparing Morro, where Lieut. Hobson and his companions of the Merrimack are in prison. The western batteries, against which the main assault was directed, were badly wrecked. One was utterly destroyed. In other many guns were dismounted. At first the Spaniards replied passionately and wildly but impotently. Then most of the guns were deserted. Not a ship was struck, not a man injured on the American side. It is believed that the Spanish loss of life was heavy.

As a preliminary the dynamite cruiser Vesuvius was given another chance. Three 250-pound charges of gun cotton were sent over the fortifications at the entrance. The design was to drop them in the bay back of the eminence on which Morro is situated where it is known that the Spanish torpedo boat destroyers were lying. Two charges went through, as no reports were heard—a peculiarity of the explosion of gun cotton in the water. Whether the destroyers were demolished is not known, but the destructive area of gun cotton is large and it would not be surprising if it is subsequently ascertained that one or both are destroyed. The third charge exploded with terrific violence on Cayo Smith.

Madrid: Admiral Cervera cables that a shell from an American warship at a high elevation struck the Vivaya but that owing to her excellent armor the Spanish cruiser is not damaged.

The Spanish reserve fleet is reported to have again returned to Cadiz.

Mrs. J. Addison Porter, wife of President McKinley's private secretary, has joined the Red Cross society and gone to Key West as the assistant and adviser of Miss Clara Barton, the president of the society.

After the defeat of the Spanish at their base of operations near Camp McCalla by the marines and Cubans the Oregon Marblehead and Suwanee carefully picked their way through the channel several miles above Camp McCalla and fired upon a large Spanish force at Hicacal point. A Cuban scouting party soon after found 18 dead Spaniards.

FALL OF MANILA.

IT IS EXPECTED AT ANY TIME—SPANIARDS HOPELESS.

First Fleet of American Transports Arrives—Insurgents Win Many Victories—Aguinaldo Wants the Philippines to be a Republic or an American Colony.

While the Washington authorities have received no official news of the arrival of the American transports at Manila, there is no disposition to discredit the private reports of their reaching their destination with 3,000 soldiers to assist Admiral Dewey in taking the city. It is questioned whether with this force to back him Dewey will feel justified in assaulting Manila, or even accepting its surrender. Either course would involve heavy responsibilities for the admiral, and it is extremely desirable that no protest be afforded jealous European powers for intervention at Manila under guise of protecting the interests of their subjects. Therefore it may be that the admiral will wait for another 10 days until the second installment of troops reaches Cavite. In this case he probably will land the troops that arrive in the town of Cavite, which is now completely under the control of himself and the insurgents, and employ the time in accustoming them to Manila methods and climate.

The latest dispatches from Admiral Dewey and other sources say that the insurgents are daily gaining victories over the Spaniards. They have captured 5,000 prisoners, including 3,000 regulars, the prominent generals, Garcia and Cordoba, and the governors of the provinces of Cavite, Balacan and Bataan. They have also captured 2,000,000 rounds of ammunition in the fortified cathedral at old Cavite, whose large garrison surrendered, giving the insurgents the entire bar store. They also captured on June 14, the town of Olanegan, the place next in importance to Manila on the bay, and now control the Manila waterworks. The insurgents on land and the American squadron on the water completely surround Manila. All foreigners have fled to the ships in the harbor, while the Spaniards have placed the women, children and priests in the forts for safety. The family of Gov. Gen. Augustus fled to the interior for safety. Owing to their lack of field guns the insurgents are unable to take Manila even if Admiral Dewey permitted when he will not do.

Gen. Nieto, coming southward with 3,000 troops from Balacan, 30 miles north of Manila, found the railway line blocked and was attacked by insurgents in ambush. Fierce fighting ensued for three days, during which Nieto was killed. The native troops joined the insurgents and the Spaniards were left, about 500 surrounded. This is but a sample of the victories won by the insurgents.

Gen. Filipo, military leader of the insurgents, officially proclaimed a provisional government in old Cavite. There were great demonstrations and a declaration of independence was read renouncing Spanish authority. Gen. Aguinaldo was elected president. He has informed U. S. Consul Williams of the formation of a provisional government merely for cohesive purposes and notified him of the desire of the insurgents that the Philippine Islands become an American colony and also declaring that if this cannot be he will insist upon a republic being formed. If any other country than the United States wants to secure possession of the Philippines it will have to fight for it. The insurgents now have 10,500 rifles and eight field pieces. Some correspondents think that Aguinaldo will become intoxicated by his success and will become intolerant of American control. The insurgents are however keeping their pledges to Admiral Dewey.

A Madrid dispatch says Capt. Gen. Augustus telegraphs that he has gone into the valley city and that he will be unable to communicate further with the government. The belief is expressed in government circles that Capt. Gen. Augustus will ask the foreign warships to land detachments to occupy Manila on the ground that he is no longer able to resist the insurgents. All the papers say the government is satisfied with the prospect of Capt. Gen. Augustus being able to act in concert with the commanders of the two ocean war vessels for a joint occupation of Manila.

Third Philippine Expedition.

Maj. Gen. Merritt has issued an order to Maj. Gen. Otis, designating the troops that are to compose the third Philippine expedition, which will be commanded by Brig. Gen. King. They will comprise the 17th Minnesota, and Seventh California regiments, two North Dakota battalions, one Wyoming battalion, all volunteer infantry, and two batteries Third U. S. artillery. They will sail on the steamers Ohio, Indiana, City of Paris, Valencia and Morgan City as soon as possible. Gen. Merritt and staff expect to sail on the City of Paris. The fourth expedition will sail about July 1 and will carry the remainder of the 11,700 infantry, troops and 1,500 artillerymen stationed at San Francisco, under command of Maj. Gen. Otis.

New Camps Selected.

The special board of the war department to investigate available sites for additional camps for concentration of troops have reported favorably on Jacksonville and Fernandina, Fla., and Savannah, Ga., all of which have splendid camping and embarkation facilities. This report gave rise to the rumor that more troops were to be called for a once, but the war department announces that the principal object is to prepare camps for reception of troops in case contagious diseases should break out in those already established.

WE TAKE HAWAII IN.

House Adopts the Annexation Resolutions—Will Pass the Senate.

By a vote of 209 to 91 the House of Representatives adopted the Newlands resolutions, providing for the annexation of Hawaii. The debate, which continued without interruption for four days was one of the most notable of this congress, the proposed annexation being considered of great commercial and strategic importance by its advocates and being looked upon by its opponents as involving a radical departure from the long-established policy of the country and likely to be followed by the inauguration of a pronounced policy of colonization, the abandonment of the Monroe doctrine and participation in international wrangles. More than 50 members participated in the debate. From a party standpoint the result was awaited with the keenest interest. The Republicans presented practically a unanimous support to the resolutions, but three Republican members voting in opposition. In the Democratic rank the division upon the question was more marked, 18 Democratic members voting for annexation. The vote in support of the resolutions was made up of 179 Republicans, 18 Democrats, eight Populists and four fusionists; the vote against annexation comprised 77 Democrats, three Republicans, seven Populists and four fusionists. The last day of the debate the discussion continued seven hours. Notable speeches were made by Messrs. W. A. Smith (Rep., Mich.), Berry (Dem., Ky.) and Hepburn (Rep., Ia.), for and by Messrs. Johnson (Rep., Ind.) and Williams (Dem., Miss.) against the pending measure. Prior to announcing the vote, Mr. Dalzell, who in the absence of Mr. Reed, was presiding, said: "The speaker of the House is absent on account of illness, I am requested by him to say that, were he present, on this proposition, he would vote 'no.' The announcement was applauded by the opposition to annexation. Mr. Dalzell then announced the vote: Yeas, 209; nays, 91; present, 5, as follows:

The resolutions adopted, in a preamble relate the offer of the Hawaiian republic to cede all of its sovereignty, and absolute title to the government and crown lands, and then by resolution accept the cession and declare the islands annexed. The resolutions provide for a commission of five, two of whom shall be resident Hawaiians, to recommend to congress such legislation as they may deem advisable. The public debt of Hawaii, not to exceed $4,000,000, is assumed. Chinese immigration is prohibited, all treaties with other powers are declared null and it is provided that until congress shall provide for the government of the islands all civil, judicial and military powers now exercised by the officers of the existing government shall be exercised in such manner as to the President of the United States shall direct, and he is given power to appoint persons to put in effect a provisional government for the islands.

Second Philippine Fleet Sailed.

The second expedition of U. S. troops has sailed from San Francisco to reinforce Admiral Dewey at Manila. It consisted of 4,500 soldiers on the steamers China, Colon, Zealandia and Sena. The troops were under the immediate command of Brig. Gen. F. V. Greene and comprised the following: First Colorado volunteer infantry, 10th Nebraska volunteer infantry, 10th Pennsylvania volunteer infantry, two batteries Utah volunteer light artillery, 15th U. S. regulars and U. S. regulars. The third expedition will sail about July 1.

Sampson Secures a Cable.

Washington. The war department has received information that its officials have secured an end of one of the cables running out from Cuba, and which, when properly connected will give Admiral Sampson direct communication with the department at Washington.

The brick fort and earthworks at Camanera at the entrance of Guantanamo bay and opposite Camp McCalla where the U. S. marines are encamped, and also at the end of the railroad leading to the city of Guantanamo, have been demolished by the bombardment of the Texas Marblehead and Suwanee. The bombardment lasted an hour and a half.

In spite of strong protests on the part of the colonels of the volunteer regiments at the front the war department insists on doing away with regimental hospital staffs and creating division hospitals.

BLOCKADE RUNNING

An Exciting and Dangerous Game for High Stakes—How It Is Played.

In the absence of news of engagements with the Spanish squadron, public attention has been largely occupied with stories of the blockade established off Cuba. The dispatches have told of the capture of blockade runners, of the excitement attending the chase and the methods employed, of the character and value of the prizes, of the sleepless vigilance observed on the blockade ships, of the all but impossibility of escape of incoming or outgoing vessels engaged in the service of the enemy.

The creation of a blockade is an initial measure in naval warfare; it was the first undertaken by the administration in 1861, and by President McKinley in the present war. The conditions as they existed then, and now, are totally different. There is an impassable wall along the Cuban waters maintained by a sufficient force of cruisers and various craft, fully equipped for any emergency. But in 1861 the federal government entered upon the task of capturing or blockading the South Atlantic coast, with four small vessels, carrying in all twenty-five guns. This was what it had at its immediate disposal in home ports as a barrier to commerce along 3,000 miles of coast. In the Gulf of Mexico were eight more ships; in the Mediterranean three; seven were on the coast of Africa; two on that of Brazil, three in the East Indies, and eight in the Pacific—scattered far and wide. These had to be collected to exclude England and France that a perfect blockade could be established according to the rule affecting it in the declaration of Paris. They were of the opinion that it was impossible, yet, in less than a year, the governments of the world acknowledged that it was the great feat of the war. England regarded this country—or the North, at least—with feelings somewhat different to those that move it now on account of its industrial interest in the cotton raised exclusively in the South. But all its skill and capital could not keep this blockade open, though they did at times succeed in getting vessels into southern ports to supply the confederate armies with the means of carrying on the war. Many English vessels were captured, the coasts of the South were strewn with the wrecks of English clipper steamers which were chased on shore in calm and in storm by officers who seldom slept, who scanned the horizon night and day for the sight of an incoming blockade runner. An effective blockade with such an inadequate force as that at the beginning of the war was unprecedented, even in the operations of the foremost naval powers of the world. It looked like an attempt to revive the cabinet blockades of half a century before, when England and France laid an embargo upon each other's coasts and captured all vessels at sea whose destination was within the prescribed limits, when Spain interdicted commerce with the northern colonies in South America, and, as a matter of form, kept a brig cruising in the Caribbean sea. Although the United States was not a party to the declaration of Paris, it was prepared to stand by its provisions, it understood its responsibilities, and prepared to meet them. It did meet them the result opened the eyes of foreign governments, and drew them with a keener, steadier gaze on American warfare; in recent operations against the Spanish it has opened them again—and the end is not yet.

Unsuccessesful Runs. As liability for breach of blockade begins with the mere act of sailing for the blockaded port the distance of this port from the point of departure becomes an important consideration to the blockade runner. The longer the distance to be traversed the greater the risk; some method of breaking the voyage must be devised, so that as much of it as possible may be technically innocent. The principal trade of the South, during the war, was with England, and it became an object to evade liability during the long transatlantic passage. For this purpose all the available neutral ports in the neighborhood of the coast were made entrepôts for covering the illegal traffic. There were four principal points which served as intermediaries for the neutral trade with the South, Bermuda, Nassau, Havana, and Matamoros. Of these, Nassau was the most prominent. Situated on the island of New Providence in the Bahamas, it was only about 180 miles in a straight line from the coast of Florida. Florida, however, was not the objective point of the leading blockade runners. The chief seats of commerce on the eastern coast were Savannah, Charleston and Wilmington. The run to these points from Nassau was from 500 to 600 miles, or three days, allowing for the usual delays of the passage. For such trips, small quantities of coal were needed which gave great room for the storage of cargo.

When the advantage of neutral destination was fully understood, it became the practice for all the blockade runners to clear for one or the other of these points, and upon their arrival to wait for a favorable opportunity to run over to their real destination. No one was deceived by this pretense of an innocent voyage, and the courts, looking only at the final destination, condemned the vessels when there was evidence of an ultimate intention to break the blockade. This decision rested upon an old principle of the English prize courts, known as the doctrine of continuous voyages, according to which the mere touching at an intermediate port of a vessel engaged in an illegal voyage could not break the continuity of the voyage, or remove the taint of illegality. Hence, if a vessel cleared from Liverpool with the intention of merely touching at Nassau, thence proceeding to Charleston, and if this intention could be proven from the papers, the character of the cargo, and the examination of persons on board, the two voyages were held to be one, and the condemnation followed.

Another course pursued by the blockade running merchants was to send their cargoes to Nassau, and there transship them, sometimes directly from vessel to vessel in the harbor, sometimes after being landed on the wharf, and then transported in a new conveyance to the blockaded port. Return cargoes were transshipped in the same way. This course had a double advantage. It made continuity of transaction much more difficult of proof, and enabled those engaged in the trade to employ two different classes of vessels for service for which each was specially adapted. But the expedient was transparent, and any such vessels that were caught were condemned by the court.

As a last resort, a bold and an original plan was adopted. As cargoes from Liverpool to Nassau ran a risk of capture the voyage was broken again. This time not by a neutral destination, but by one in the country of the very belligerent whom the trade was to injure. Goods were shipped to New York by the regular steamship lines to be carried thence to Nassau, and so to find their way to the blockaded territory. It was supposed that the United States would not interfere with commerce between its own ports and those of a neutral. This expectation, however, was not well founded. As soon as it was discovered at New York that the trade with Nassau and Bermuda was assuming large proportions instructions were issued to collectors of customs in the United States to refuse clearance to vessels which, whatever their ostensible destination, were believed to be intended for southern ports, or whose cargoes were in imminent danger of falling into the hands of the enemy, and if there was merely ground for apprehension that cargoes were destined for the enemy's use, the owners were to be required to give ample security.

Necessity of the Blockade.

As a military measure the blockade is of vital importance. It has been commonly said with regard to the civil conflict that without it hostilities would have been protracted much longer, and would have been far more bitter and bloody than they were. Its peculiar importance lay in the isolation of the southern states, and in their dependence upon the outside world for the necessities of life. The only neutral frontier was along the Rio Grande, and the country for many miles on both sides of the boundary offered few facilities for trade or transportation. All supplies had to come from the seaboard, and the peculiarly agricultural character of the southern industry made supplies from abroad a necessity.

During the early part of the war blockade running was carried on from the capes of the Chesapeake to the mouth of the Rio Grande. Vessels of all sorts and sizes were engaged in it, but the most successful were the steamers that had belonged to the southern coasting lines which found themselves thrown out of employment when war broke out.

Familiarity with the coast was almost essential to successful blockade running, more especially when dark, moonless night were usually selected for the task. A sharp lookout had to be kept for cruisers on the outside blockade, and the blockade runner, by keeping at a distance, could generally pass them unobserved. If by accident or carelessness he came very close, he would press on all steam and take to his heels, trusting to speed to get away. He never hoisted a flag, for it was usually as hard to hit him as to overtake him. The run past the inshore squadron was always a critical moment for the latter. It was no easy matter on a dark night to hit, much less to stop, a small and obscure vessel running at 15 knots whose only object was to pass by. The service called into action all the faculties of the blockade runner. It required a cool head, strong nerve, superb courage and ready resource. It was a combat of skill and pluck against force and vigilance. The excitement of fighting only was wanting. If a blockade runner should fire a shot he would constitute himself a pirate and be liable to death if captured. The blockade is in every way at a disadvantage. He has no objective point save the blockade runner, and he never knows when he is coming. He can choose nothing, but must take the circumstances as they happen to come, and they are pretty sure to be unfavorable. He is compelled to wait in the worst of all situations—incessant watchfulness combined with prolonged inaction. He spends days and nights of anxious waiting with expectation of a capture, the vessel is called a prize, and the money it yields, according to the rule during the civil war, is divided between the naval pension fund and those who had participated in the chase. #### THE REAL MANGO TRICK.

It Is to Eat the Fruit without Necessitating a Bath Afterward.

Some people take to olives, caviare, and complicated cheese without any preliminary training, by a sort of instinct. They are so very few that they serve only as a hinted proof of the doctrines of heredity and atavism. The mango of the tropics falls in the same class, a fact which Gen. Merritt's army of occupation is going to discover for itself as soon as it begins the soldier's soulful investigation of the indigenous commissariat of the Philippines. The mango is of the size of a large apple and something the shape of a pear that has turned a somersault and has landed on the stem big end to. Its color is a rich and dark green with a black C salmon on one side. It is impossible to bite into it as one would into a pear for two reasons: the skin is too tough and the stone is fully half as large as the whole fruit. The only way is to nibble off the skin, for it is too juicy to be pared, gnaw the skin off one side until a considerable portion is exposed of the red flesh. Then suck in the juices and the meat together until the stone presents itself. The next feat is to get the stone and the other side of the fruit into the mouth while leaving the remainder of the skin outside and clear of the meat. In this ungraceful operation one speedily learns that the mango belongs to the natural order of clingstones. The remainder of the process is to eject the stone, which is an uncomfortably large, mouthful. When one has eaten all the mangos he

A FATALITY AVOIDED.

(From the Democrat, Goshen, Ind.)

When neuralgia is accompanied by a dull, heavy pain near the heart, frequently becoming intense, it generally terminates fatally. Mrs. Nancy Flynn, who lives near Goshen, Indiana, survived such an attack and her advice is worth heeding.

"In the fall of '92," she said, "I began to have trouble with my heart. There was a sharp pain in my breast which became rapidly worse. The doctor was puzzled and put me under the influence of opiates. These sharp attacks followed one another at intervals, and I became weak and had a haggard look. I was constantly in pain, seldom slept and had no appetite.

At the end of two years I was confined to my couch most of the time and the doctors agreed that my death was only a matter of a short time.

"One day I noticed in a newspaper an item about a man having been cured of neuralgia by the heart by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and I concluded to try them.

"I had tried one box I noticed an improvement in my condition, my condition, and when I had taken twelve boxes I was completely cured. 'Those pills have done for you what we could not do,' said one of my physicians. 'They have saved your life.' That was two years ago and my heart has not troubled me since. I believe I owe my life to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and I take pleasure in telling others about them."

Among the many forms of neuralgia are headache, nervousness, paralysis, apoplexy and locomotor ataxia. Some of these were considered incurable until Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were formulated. Today thousands testify to having been cured of such diseases by these pills. Doctors frequently prescribe them and all druggists sell them.

Value in Old Newspapers.

From the Woman's Home Companion: Old newspapers form an important item in domestic economy, and are useful for polishing window-glasses, for cleaning lamp-chimneys, for testing and cleaning flatirons, and for a dozen other things, you will also need heaps of them when you come to pack away the winter clothing. The clothes-moth, like other evil-doers, has an aversion to printer's ink. An excellent moth-proof bag, second only to the expensive tar paper, and costing nothing, may be made of two thicknesses of newspaper, with the edges folded as if for an inch wide hem, and securely pasted. Bags of the same kind are about the best thing you can use for keeping seeds and dried herbs. They are dust and insect proof, and can be labeled and hung in the storeroom until needed.

A MATTER OF FAITH.

Many of the Clergy in Michigan Endorse the Little Conqueror.

Our religious opinions are as a whole, a matter of faith. Whichever denomination or sect we follow we put our faith on the words and teachings of our pastor. His sincerity is never doubted, that he thoroughly believes his adopted creed is unquestioned. The opinions of the clergy on any subject carry well-deserved weight with all classes of people. Many reverend gentlemen in Michigan are testifying for the little conqueror. Their praise is not given lightly and only after personal experience. Gratitude and a desire to promote the welfare of the public brings forth such testimony as follows:

The Rev. F. A. Smith, of 829 First street, Kalamazoo, Mich., says: "When I procured Doan's Kidney Pills, I was, at the time, and had been considerably troubled with my kidneys. Backache was quite pronounced, being especially severe when I sat or stood in a stooping position for any length of time. Other symptoms usually attending disordered kidneys plainly indicated what caused the difficulty. Doan's Kidney Pills corrected the annoyance in a very short time and I have not noticed, up to date, any indication of a recurrence. As I took no other medicine there can be no doubt but Doan's Kidney Pills were the direct means of curing me. I am most favorably impressed with them."

A certain elderly gentleman living some distance from Novi recently came to pay a visit to a well known single lady noted from this place. In some way he failed to securely fasten his horse and the animal, evidently concluding he had stayed long enough, quietly departed for home leaving the owner enjoying his visit in blissful unconsciousness. The flight of time and conveyance, however, the couple were fully equal to the emergency when it was made manifest as the lady promptly supplied a conveyance for the home and journey of her friend, who as promptly accepted the necessary means of locomotion. The occurrence was carefully kept quiet, supposedly, but there's no use trying to keep a joke that's "too good to keep."

GIBSON-BROWN NUPTIALS.

One of Novi's Fairest Daughters Wedded Last Week.

Novi, Mich., June 21, 1898—Special.—On the afternoon of June 15, at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Almond Brown, their youngest daughter Alma was married to Mr. James Gibson of Wixom, in the presence of about sixty guests, relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride and groom. Rev. W. M. Ward of Northville was the officiating clergyman. The bride's dress was white organdy with pale green trimmings. A large number of beautiful and useful gifts, and a dainty supper were of course features of the occasion. Mrs. Gibson is one of the finest girls Novi ever produced, which is saying a good deal, but which will be fully endorsed by a very large circle of warm friends who have known her all her life, and who realize that her removal to another home means the loss of one of the most useful and beloved members of the society of this vicinity. Wixom people are to be congratulated upon the addition to their number. The fortunate young man who has merited the approbation of his friends here who all unite congratulations and best wishes for the success and happiness of the new union.

Does Baby Thrive?

If your baby is delicate, and sickly and its food does not nourish it, put fifteen or twenty drops of Scott's Emulsion in its bottle three or four times a day and you will see a marked change.

We have had abundant proof that they will thrive on this emulsion when other food fails to nourish them.

It is the same with larger children that are delicate. Scott's Emulsion is to be the element lacking in their food. Do not fail to try it if your children do not thrive. It is as useful for them in summer as in winter.

Ask your doctor if this is not true. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.
