JOHN WILLITS' MURDER RECALLED.

ONE OF MOST BRUTAL IN HISTORY OF DETROIT.

Henry Steward Now Asks to be Pardoned.

The following from a recent issue of the Detroit Free Press will be of interest to Northville people in that Mrs. Willits is a daughter of the late Chas. Waterman of this place and a sister of Mrs. P. E. White of this place and for a number of years she has resided in and about Northville.

The pages of Detroit's criminal history record no more deliberate murder than was that of William John Willits, who, on the night of September 16, 1899, was stabbed to death in his own home on what was then known as Limburg street, by Henry Steward, alias P. J. O'Maney whose case will be brought before the pardon board in Lansing this week. Steward is serving a life sentence, having pleaded guilty to his horrible crime.

At the time of the murder the residents of Detroit were aroused by a succession of bold burglaries. The police were making every effort at the time to locate the midnight intruders but all attempts failed. The papers at that time daily recorded daring robberies. On the night of the murder the burglaries began in the vicinity of the Cass farm about 10.00 o'clock.

It was about the hour of midnight that Mrs. Willits was startled by a noise in her home. During the day she had a premonition that something was going to befall her husband, and, strangely enough, he had taken out a life insurance policy for $5,000 without her knowledge. Upon hearing the noise Mrs. Willits called her husband, and in another moment she saw two forms rolling on the floor.

Not a word was spoken. In the darkness the men struggled and fought. Suddenly one of them jumped up. Mrs. Willits saw her husband lying in a pool of blood, and her screams aroused the neighborhood. An examination showed that he was stabbed seven times and his life went quickly out. It is recorded that before Murderer Steward left he rushed at the wife with his bloody weapon, but her screams saved her and brought assistance.

"The murderer ran but Detective Sullivan covered him with a revolver and he was taken to police headquarters. There he gave his name as Steward and the name P. J. O'Maney was found tattooed upon his arm. He was then 19 years of age but a more cold blooded individual never came into the tolls of the police. So aroused were the people of the city that an indignation meeting was held at Grand Circus park with a view of having a lynching bee and the prisoner had to be spirited away from the central station to avoid such trouble.

"October 6, of the same year, Steward pleaded guilty to his dastardly deed and exonerated two others who were arrested along with him at the time Judge Swift sentenced him to life imprisonment."

Mrs. Willits never fully recovered from the shock.

SAVED HER $500.

Did the New Way of Making Out the Tax Rolls in Buhrer's Office.

County Treasurer Buhrer's new system of tax rolls has saved Mrs. Mary McKand, of Pontiac, $499.80. By the parallel column showing back taxes due, it appeared that the taxes for 1896 on 75 lots in F. William's subdivision, amounting to $124.50, had not been paid. Mrs. McKand wrote in for the amount of her '99 taxes, and in Mr. Buhrer's reply he informed her of the back taxes due. Before the letter reached her she appeared at the treasurer's office in person. When told of the back taxes due, she declared she had delivered the money to an agent to pay them with and had supposed everything O. K. She wouldn't have been apprised of the true state of affairs but for Mr. Buhrer's new system. Had she not been, she would have been compelled to pay to any man obtaining a tax title on the property, double the original amount of the $124.50 tax, plus a penalty of $5 for each delinquency, amounting to $375, or a grand total of $624.60.

The All-Important Day.

Plymouth has a kindergarten which like all similar institutions, often furnishes opportunity for observing the proclivity of original means that the infant brain is capable of formulating, and which in their expression often than not hit the nail of truth square on the head with unexpected force and directness. The other day the teacher of this particular school asked the assembled babies the question, "What is the most important day?" After some slight hesitancy while the little folks probably weighed the relative merits of the respective great days they could recall, up went the hand of four-year old Marguerite, the daughter of Station Agent Ed. Pelton. "Well," said the teacher, "which do you think is the most important day?" "Pay day!" replied the tot promptly, with an innate recognition of a self-evident, although unacknowledged, truth as broad as human nature's extent.

As a cure for rheumatism Chamberlain's Pain Balm is gaining a wide reputation. D. B. Johnson of Richmond, Ind., has been troubled with that ailment since 1882. In speaking of it he says: "I never found anything that would relieve me until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It acts like magic with me. My foot was swollen and pained me very much, but one good application of Pain Balm relieved me. For sale by Geo. Hueston Druggist.

TWO MORE INDICTMENTS

WERE RETURNED BY THE GRAND JURY TUESDAY.

NAMES SUPPRESSED AND IDENTITY IS A MYSTERY.

SPEAKER ADAMS DID NOT APPEAR FOR ARRANGING.

Lansing, Nov. 29.—The grand jury sprang another surprise late Tuesday afternoon by finding indictments against two persons, whose names were suppressed pending the serving of warrants. It was expected that there might be a single indictment in connection with the investigation of the anti-trust bill, but even those who are following closely the work of the grand jury were at a loss to understand the character of the second one.

There seems to be no question but that one indictment is against some member of the legislature in connection with the anti-trust bill but the second one is likely to remain a mystery until the person named in it appears for arraignment.

The jury announced its readiness to communicate with the court a few minutes before 5 o'clock and the formalities of presenting the indictments were disposed of in short order. Judge Peterson took his seat as soon as the jury had filed into the court room. The man named in the indictment, to the clerk and the prosecutor asked that the names be suppressed until the warrants had been served, which request was granted.

Amos Musselman, a well known wholesale grocer of Grand Rapids, was the first witness called, and he remained in the jury room for some time. Mr. Musselman knew about the telegram being sent to a member of the legislature regarding the price demanded to vote against the anti-trust bill, and it is also said that he had the answer telegraphed by the member, who refused to vote for one cent less than $500. The telegrams are not now in existence as far as is known, but the witness was able to authenticate the contents beyond any question.

State Accountant Humphrey was next called and his presence seemed to indicate that the prosecutor had decided to lay the basis for the investigation of the military board.

The last witness of the day was George H. Kuhns and his presence gave rise to the rumor that the jury was going into an entirely new matter. For several years Kuhns was employed in the attorney-general's office, but he recently became private secretary for Justice Grant. It is significant that shortly after he was dismissed the jury was ready to report. This makes six indictments that the jury has returned.

The jury will adjourn this evening until Monday afternoon, when the investigation of the military board will be taken up. There seems to be no question that the jury will have to adjourn at the end of the week at which time it will have to report.

time Judge Peterson goes out of office.

Speaker Adams did not appear in court Tuesday with his bondsmen. He was seen in Grand Rapids and said that he had not been notified to appear. It was supposed that those indicted would understand their position and appear without being notified but hereafter warrants will be issued in each case, which will leave no misunderstanding.

Swallowed Carbolic Acid.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 29.—Frank Amann, aged 24, was found dead in bed at his parents' home, 231 Concord avenue. He was an amiable and though harmless, and to be constantly watched. Last night he obtained a bottle partly filled with carbolic acid which his sister had recently purchased to cure her toothache. The poor unfortunate drank the contents. His terribly burned tongue and mouth indicated the intensity of his pain. Dr. Coroner Hoffman decided that an inquest was not necessary.

STATE SPECIALS.

Diphtheria is epidemic in the vicinity of Camden, just over the Ohio line. Many persons were exposed before the nature of the disease was known.

New Michigan postmasters, Hubert Thos. H. McCutcheon, vice John M. Gilman, at lead River, and Mrs. Lillian McCutcheon, vice Mrs. Hester T. Leavitt, tested.

Thomas C. Hines & Son, founders and managers of Kalamazoo, announce that they will at once double the capacity of their foundry by the erection of two new buildings, made necessary by the rush of work.

Deputy Game Warden Bennett and Atkinson seized a quantity of venison at the Michigan Central depot at Bay City Monday. Shipped from the north without a license tag attached. It was consigned to Plymouth and Oxford.

The 2-year-old daughter of Mrs. Elmer Wilson of Addison, was burned to death by her clothing coming in contact with the stove. The mother had left the house on an errand to a neighbor's, and the little one was alone for a short time.

The farmers around South Haven who raised near beets are disappointed because of the late season the season the beets did not amount to more than a third of a crop. A good many would not harvest their crops at all as the beets were so small. Very small acreage will be put in this community next season.

Fred Downs, a conductor on the Port Huron electric railway, was assaulted Monday night by Charles Ross and William Doe. The men refused to pay fare, and being intoxicated at the time, became boisterous. While Doe was being put on, Ross struck Downs, telling him to get on the ground and kicking him. The men have slipped.

Valuable Box Captured.

Menomonee, Mich., Nov. 28.—The box captured from Long by one of the safe-crackers, arrested at Marinette has been captured at Omaha by direction of the prosecuting attorney of this county. The package was sent by express and marked glass. It was addressed to John Lally and the receipt was found on one of the men giving his name as Murphy. The chief of police of Omaha gives a description of the contents of the box, which consisted of old coins, beaded bracelets and breast-pins also a lady's solid gold watch with the inscription, Maggie Klayser, July 2, 1888, on the case. The articles were wrapped in a silk handkerchief bearing the name of William Hiersog. It is believed that these valuables were taken from William Neumann's safe at Hermanville about a month ago, together with $2,500 in money.

We take the lead in all we do.
In "ads," in verse, in business, too
We never follow, no indeed,
We always take and hold the lead

We take the lead and know of course
A bell upon a leading horse
Is music to the donkey's ear
That always follows in the rear

We take the lead in "ads" to please.
We take the lead in groceries
We never follow, no indeed,
Nor imitate, we take the lead.

Experience teaches that it pays
To take the lead in business ways
And when we fail to take the lead,
We'll quit the business, yes indeed!

Mrs. Jane Cady is visiting in Ypsilanti. Mrs. Cady has reached the remarkable old age of eighty-seven years and past and the trip to Ypsilanti is her first ride on an electric railway. She is well preserved and enjoys as good health for a lady of her years and except for an affliction of deafness appears as young and active as many who are a score of years younger. Her daughter, Mrs. Jennie Bovee, of Ypsilanti who has been visiting here for a time returned with her.

A large number of Wayne and Plymouth young people attended the 100th ball reception last Friday night at the IOOF hall, Northville. The reception, which was very unique, was tendered by the members of the High-school. The programme was original and interesting. The "Judge" made by the young ladies disappeared like dew before the sun. There were over one hundred present, and after a cake-walk, the last number on the programme, the guests left on the 10:15 car, praising Northvillean hospitality. —Mail

Lyceum—Detroit.

"A Man of Mystery" at the Whitney Opera House this week. The play is a good one and the scenic and mechanical effects novel and startling.

Next week the Whitney will offer something new. It is a lively musical comedy, "The Katzenjammer Kids," and the celebrated Biondells head the company. The performance is said to be one long laugh from start to finish. Matinees daily except Wednesday.

At the Lyceum this week Primrose and Dockstader's Minstrels are testing the capacity of the theatre. This is easily the leading musical organization of the country. Matinees, Wednesday, Thursday (Thanksgiving day) and Saturday. It is not often that Detroit is favored with a production at once so magnificent and successful as "Under the Red Robe" so soon after triumph in New York City. This, however, will be the attraction at the Lyceum next week. This thrilling and exciting play will give this admirable New York organization the greatest opportunity for romantic and heroic acting it has yet had. Mr. Paul Caeneuve, who is so well and favorably known, carries the roll of Gil de Berault the swash-buckling swordsman of the Richelieu cavaliers. Matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

Quick Results.
The most pleasing thing about Athlo-phos is the quickness of its results. It is a permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago and Sciatica. Write that the first few doses, or the first half of the bottle or the first bottle, produced immediate and marked relief of the symptoms. Often the worst symptoms disappear in a very quick time. The human race is extremely practical, and demands results immediately. Athlo-phos answers this test. Why don't you try it? At least send for our free Pamphlet.

Suburban News.

South Lyon's new Presbyterian church was dedicated last Sunday. The peach buds are certainly killed as usual and there are to be no strawberries next year either.

The youngest bride on record is an Oakland county lady whose age was given in the Pontiac Post's marriage license list last week as "3."

An Oxford man trimmed his mousetraps the other day with a new kind of "raiser." He used a match and an "empty" gasoline can, and it did the business.

Mrs. Schrader of Holly valued her husband—who got drunk and therefore got killed by the cars—at $10,000 for which amount she has sued the D., G. H. & M. company.

"Geo. Collins is somewhat on the mend," says an exchange. "That's no monopoly, so are lots of other people. The umbrella man and the plumber and the mother of a family for instance."

Delray folks had a "donkey social" this week. And bray vat is do?—Northville Record. Any jass as ought to know that. Delray Times.

Perhaps, but because the Times man knew, its no sign we should be expected to.

Dr. G. G. Davis of Milford was fatally injured last week Sunday by a kick from his horse. He died Monday evening. He had been a resident of Milford 24 of the 56 years of his life.

A "stamp banquet" is the latest thing in the church supper line. Plymouth Presbyterians had one last week. We have not heard whether the hobo profession was well represented or not.

A Milford man is nursing a broken collar bone as the result of trying to carry an iron pump rod and ride a bicycle at the same time. If he had spared the rod at least he wouldn't have spoiled his collar bone.

The good roads sentiment is being practically expressed at and near Milford by the graving of the road between that town and New Hudson. The work is donated by the farmers and the material purchased by cash contributions.

They have some sort of a function out at Orion which the Review calls a "fifty cent for a dime supper." Should think folks would hate to let go of a half dollar for a ten cent supper. What cheek to ask 'em to do so? We shan't go near such a robber's rendezvous.

The southeastern part of Oakland county is so infested with poultry thieves that a vigilance committee is to be organized which will mean business to the extent of shooting suspicious prowlers on sight. Probably chicken-pie suppliers will show a decided diminution.

Owosso has another enterprise. It is a cemetery, owned by Detroit parties. As an investment it is a dead end.—Fenton Independent.

That is not a matter to joke about but some of these newspaper folks are so shockingly unscrupulous that they would just even over their own beer.

A number of the Record's exchanges who "loomed" the Record or the Free Press item (both being printed from this office) last week regarding the Redford farmer who helped a peddler steal his (the farmer's) own horse, and which was headed "Colossal Nerve" had about the same amount of nerve in using the matter without any credit as did the peddler.

Oxford is going to have clean sidewalks next winter in spite of those people who won't use snow shovels for the benefit of the public. The contract for cleaning the village walks during the winter is to be let to the lowest bidder and the taxpayers will foot the bill. If there doesn't happen to be any snow the contractor will have a snap, but that's snow one's business.

A story is going the rounds again that an old church member died, of whose goodness there was some doubt, but who was regarded as a pillar by his pastor, who pasted on the church window a notice in these words: "Brother Johnson departed for Heaven at 4:30 this a. m." and then announced the funeral. Underneath this a newspaper man tacked a telegram blank, with these words: "Heaven 9:40 p. m.—Johnson not arrived. Great anxiety."

The theory that the world is growing worse all the time received a decided set-back at the office of the Rochester Era the other day when a letter came inquiring the amount of a printing bill contracted by a traveling phonograph company nine years ago, and which said company had failed to pay as they had to leave town in a "busted" condition. The books were examined, the account found and sent to the inquirer who promptly remitted the amount. The editor will recover with proper care.

Sanford Babcock came in contact Sunday with a sided freight car near the power house, upsetting himself and the load of ties which he was engaged in hauling. The load, in falling, completely buried him, and when his associates pulled him out it was found that three ribs were fractured.

The Detroit & Northwestern Railway placed a temporary running card into effect this week for the accommodation of the visitors over the holiday. Four cars arrived from Cleveland this week to be placed on the route until the completion of the large cars. After the first of the month cars will run from the toll gate via Sand Hill but with no degree of regularity as the condition of the road bed and lack of proper turnouts will not permit it.

Funny how in this age of education and advancement, men will gradually, yet steadily persist in taking the downward slide. How seldom a C. White selling his paper at Perry, to enter college at Albion with a view of entering into the ministry. Next thing we know he will be a lawyer or else endeavor to go to the Michigan legislature on congress. Yet he has the results of such ambition before him. Better have continued to be a man of letters, and earned an occasional ticket to a show, and had other high recognition given him.

Life Growing Longer.

Prof. Mansfield Meriman, studying the United States census reports since 1850, has discovered a marked and steady increase in the length of human life in our country during the last half century. His statistics, which were presented at the recent meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, show that in 1850 the median age of the entire population was 19 3/4 years, while in 1890 it had risen to 21 1/4 years. In 1900 he anticipates, it will be 22 1/2 years. By "median age" is meant that which divides the population equally, one-half being above and the other half below the median.

Washtenaw county real estate is assessed 87 per cent of its real value as shown by the transfers. Great Scott! Here's Lenawee assessed as much as Washtenaw, yet not assessed over 50 per cent of its selling figure. Is it possible Old Lenawee is so much richer? Well that's about the size of it.—Adrian Press.

Mrs. L. J. Austin, delegate from Congregational church to the state Sabbath school convention held at Rattle Creek a week ago, gave a full and interesting report at the church last Sabbath evening. The fulness in which she gave all the proceedings proved that Mrs. Austin was a faithful representative of the church.

A SURE CURE FOR CROUP.

Twenty-five Years' Constant Use without a Failure.

The first indication of croup is hoarseness, and in a child subject to that disease it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is used in many thousands of homes in this broad land, and never disappoints the anxious mother. We have yet to learn of a single instance in which it is not proved effective. No other preparation can show such a record—twenty five years' constant use without a failure. For sale by Geo. Hueston Druggist.

Beer Lozengers.

One of the latest German inventions, report tells us seriously, is beer lozenges. These are made of the powder and contain all the ingredients of this popular beverage. The only needful thing to turn them into a sparkling ale is to dissolve them in water in which some carbonic acid gas has been added.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart failure etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system and that's all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Sample bottles at Mudock Bros.
